Conrad said although the élections committee had not thought through every scenario, he said he believed if the results of the primary election were contested, general elections would take place as planned with the original results from the primary election. Student Senate would make a decision on whether or not to nullify the election after the general election.

Ali Karimi, presidential candidate said he will not file a complaint, but he might work on a bill to change the elections regulations code used in Student Governing Association elections, calling the present code outdated.

Conrad said he apologized on behalf of the iballot.com, assuring candidates there would be discussion with the vendor on the issue.

"It's the committee's responsibility to provide a clean, efficient and well-run election," Conrad said. "To a certain extent, I don't feel like that's happened, and I will say that it's beyond our control. It's an error on the vendor's side.

COOK

Continued from page 1

Kohman also said the pair had a lot of hard work ahead of them in preparing for the general election.

"We'll need to motivate everyone.

to come out and vote for us again." Kohman said. Cook said the pair needed to make certain that students are informed on the issues before they vote in the general election March 5 and 6,

"Students need to know the top priorities on each ticket and how they benefit the university." Cook said. Cook and Kohman both said they would be back on the campaign trail immediately. "There are 20,000 students out vet." Cook said Cook said his competitor, Wolters, is qualified for the job of president, there, and we didn't get to all of them but urged students to look at Wolter's platform issues.

"Look at what he's proposing to do over the next year and decide if that is what will benefit the university most,"

Kohman said although Wolters and Achilles had a lot of support, he felt the issues on his and Cook's ticket were more realistic and achievable.

Neither Cook nor Kohman said they felt the problem with write-in candidates appearing on the online

Once in a Lifetime ements and weddings

Sharing your engagement and wedding announcements in the Collegian the first Friday of every month.

Your engagement and wedding are special moments in your life and the Kansas State Collegian wants to help you share the news with family and friends. This semester you can put your announcement with a picture in the Collegian's "Once in a Lifetime" special section for FREE

"Once in a Lifetime" runs the first Friday of every month

To publish your announcement, please complete the form and take it to Student Publications, Kedzie 103 (east of the K-State Student Union). The deadline for getting your announcement in the paper will be the Wednesday preceding the publication date.

> To place a FREE engagement or wedding announcement in the Collegian, complete and submit the following form with a vertical photo to Kedzie 103.

Address ___ City, state, zip_ Telephone number_

o I wish to place an engagement announcement

o I wish to place a wedding announcement

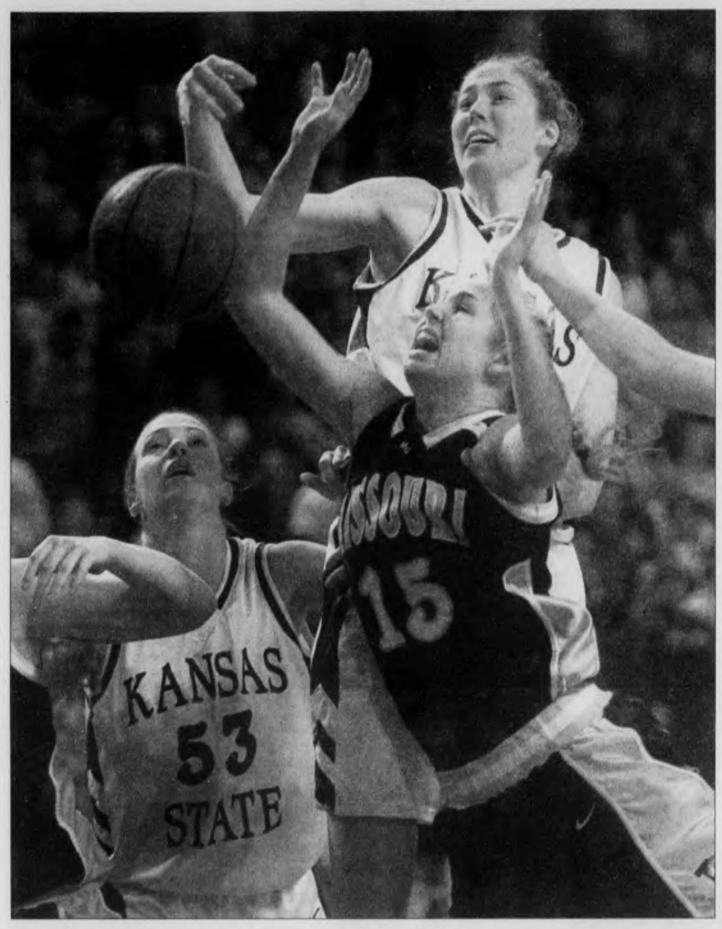

o I also want to include a photo (must be vertical)

Announcement Information

Groom's	name:
Year in s	chool
Major:_
Bride's n	ame:
	chool:
Major:_
	arents:
	le:
Groom's	parents:
	te:
	g date:
Location	(city/state):
	include information below for wedding announcements
Wedding	g Attendants:

OUT ON A GOOD NOTE

K-State secures bye, locks up 3rd-place tie with win over Tigers

BY MICHAEL NOLL

Kansas State Collegion

All K-State wanted to do Wednesday against Missouri was forget the team's lopsided loss at Colorado four days earlier.

K-State's 74-55 victory over the Tigers — which sealed up a tie for third in the conference and a first-round bye in the Big 12 Tournament — should have accomplished it.

Freshman Laurie Koehn scored 27 points, and senior Kristin Rethman tallied 15. In all, K-State's (23-6, 11-5) perimeter players shot down every chance Missouri (14-13, 5-11) had to make the game close.

In the meantime, freshman Kendra Wecker added 12 points and mopped up the boards, grabbing 15 rebounds. The performance was especially pleasing after the CU loss.

"After these last couple days we've had in practice, especially after the Colorado game, I really tried to regain my focus and concentrate on the things I need to do to help this basketball team."

Wecker said.

"The coaches were on my rear end this last week in practice, and I really needed that. I just had to bring everything I had to the court tonight and let it all out."

The rest of the team took the same mentality, too. K-State outscored, outrebounded and outpassed (19-16 assists) the Tigers.

Even the players who didn't have big games, like sophomore Nicole Ohlde, who scored just eight points, came up big somehow.

For Ohlde, that chance came with a dunk attempt off a baseline Big 12 Conference Women's Standings

	Big 12	Overall
1. Oklahoma	14-2	24-3
2. Baylor	12-4	24-4
3. Colorado	11-5	21-8
4. K-State	11-5	23-6
5. Texas	10-6	19-8
6. Iowa State	9-7	22-7
7. Texas Tech	8-8	17-10
8. Oklahoma State	7-9	14-14
9. Texas A&M	5-11	13-15
10. Missouri	5-11	14-13
11. Nebraska	4-12	14-15
12, Kansas -	0-16	5-24

drive with :08 left in the game. The ball bounced off the rim, but the effect was made — the crowd came to its feet, the K-State bench erupted and the team proved that, despite recent struggles, it wasn't down, Patterson said.

"I was so thrilled that she had the audacity in front of a major crowd like that to do that on the run. That was really courageous and fun, and I think fun is important in the equation," Patterson said.

"I think her teammates played tonight like the game was fun. I think they really grabbed a hold of who they were and what they had achieved all season long."

And K-State's achievements this season were great. Patterson stressed. The Cats' four losses in the last six games were not a sign of any demise.

"If you end the season in second or third place in this league, you have succeeded at the highest level of the game," Patterson said. The same could be said for ne same could be said for

See WOMEN on PAGE 10

Nicole Ohide, top, blocks the shot of Kerensa Barr (15) during the first half of K-State's victory over Missouri on Wednesday night. Ohide finished the night with 10 points while freshman Laurie Koehn had a game-high 27.

Photo by Matt Stamey/Collegian

Senior guard lights up MU with long-range shots in final contest at Bramlage

BY DAN SMITH

Kanası State Collegian

Kristin Rethman wasn't tense prior to her final game at Bramlage Coliseum on Wednesday night.

In fact, the thought of playing for the last time in the Purple Palace barely entered the Corning, Kan., product's mind beforehand.

"I don't think I was very nervous before the game," Rethman said. "I knew we were going to get announced, but I was more ready to get all the hype over with"

But the hype was only beginning for Less than four minutes elapsed before the senior got her first look at the basket — a three-pointer from the top of the key — and from then on, Rethman's final night in the purple and white went off without a hitch. "You couldn't have scripted it any better than to see Kristin Rethman spotting up, getting the penetration kicklooks and knocking down those threes," Coach Deb Patterson said.

Rethman's five treys tied her season-high, and the tally was one short of her career mark.

"It was classic Kristin Rethman at her best," Patterson said. "And a lot of that happened because of the rhythm that her teammates established."

Most, if not all, of Rethman's seven attempts came without a hand in her face — something K-State had worked on in practice after getting off only nine attempts in the teams' first meeting Feb.

"We put in some more plays since the game in Columbia and the coaches have taught us how to get open a little better," Rethman's backcourt teammate Laurie Koehn said. The two Wildcat guards hit just 2 of 7 attempts against Mizzou in the first goround, but this time, K-State's game plan worked to perfection.

"We were playing loose and having fun again," Rethman said. "We weren't thinking as much, so everything just kind of clicked."

Koehn finished with a game-high 27 points and added six more three-pointers for the Cats, but on Senior Night, it was Rethman who had the spotlight.

"We were aggressive. We put pressure on the lane and on the rim, and when you do that, it creates opportunities for your spot-up shooters," Patterson said.

"Kristin Rethman was ice tonight. She was not going to be denied, she had great focus, and it truly couldn't have been scripted any better than for her to have gotten those touches and for her to drop them down in that fashion. It really was special."

Senior guard Shalondra Booker celebrates after K-State's victory over Missouri. Bramlage Coliseum bid farewell to seniors Booker and Kristin Rethman on Wednesday night. The game ball was awarded to Booker.

Matt Stamey/ Collegian

Wildcats blown out by Jayhawks in Lawrence

BY DEREK BOSS

Kumana Statu Collegian

LAWRENCE — K-State's starting five walked onto the court at Allen Fieldhouse and looked around for a moment.

They saw the massive crowd of 16,300 and the same big K at center court, but something was different as Wednesday night's game was about to begin.

No Drew Gooden. No Kirk Hinrich. Not even Nick Collison or Aaron Miles.

Senior Jeff Boschee was the only regular starter on the floor, joined by the five others who were playing their final home games in a Hawk uniform. The referees didn't let KU play with six, but it didn't seem to matter, as No. 1 Kansas (26-2, 15-0) forced 28 turnovers and rolled to a 103-68 victory over K-State (11-15, 5-10).

"You've got to take care of the ball, you've got to score the ball against these guys, and you have to do it consistently because they've got so many weapons on the floor," Coach Jim Wooldridge said.

"Their skill level is the highest that I personally have coached against in college basketball, and with that skill comes a lot of ways to beat you on the offensive end. So you've got to match them on that end."

K-State did match the Hawks in field-goal percentage (46.9) and rebounding (36), but the purple's turnover-fest gave KU 30 more shot attempts in the game. That, coupled with Kansas' 42-4 edge in points off turnovers and 23-2 difference in fast break points, proved the difference.

"I think we all would admit that there's something special about the way they play here," Wooldridge said of Allen Fieldhouse. "They're awfully good on the road, as they've proven, but there's an added dimension to them when they come in here."

A floor full of primarily reserves to begin the game — with four making their first career starts — displayed that. The Hawks jumped out to a 7-0 lead before Kansas' usual starters even entered the contest, and K-State committed a turnover on each of its first five possessions. "We just shot ourselves in the foot, right

"We just shot ourselves in the foot, right from the get-go," junior Matt Siebrandt said. "You can't play the No. I team in the nation and expect to hang with them or even try and attempt to get a victory when you've got five turnovers in your first five possessions."

The Cats clawed back to within one. though, as a Larry Reid drive made it 17-16, but a 13-0 KU run spanning less than four minutes put the Hawks in command for good.

"Kansas just really dismantled us early on," Wooldridge said. "Obviously, the biggest part of our problem was the turnovers that were generating points in the open floor and lay-ups on the other end. We never could really get this thing back into a competitive level."

In fact, a 14-3 Kansas spurt later in the half pushed the margin to 20 at 48-28, and the Hawks led 50-30 at the break. K-State finished the first half with 17 turnovers, surrendering 26 KU points.

"They scored so many points off turnovers in the first half," junior Matt Siebrandt said. "That was the ball game right there."

Kansas led by as many as 42 in the second half, and five Jayhawks finished in double-figures, highlighted by Hinrich's 24 and Boschee's 22. Center Pervis Pasco paced K-State with 20 points and 11

Siebrandt said it was difficult coming out of the locker room after the Cats dug such a hole in the first 20 minutes.

"You've just got to have pride," he said.
"You're not going to just lay down and let them whoop you by 50 or 60. You've got to keep playing the whole 40 minutes and I think our team did that."

The KU loss was K-State's last hope at a road win this season, as the purple dropped to 0-8 in the Big 12 and 0-10 overall away from Bramlage Coliseum. It marks the first time the Cats have failed to

See MEN on PAGE 10

ACROSS  ACROSS  44 Lap 1 Curly's parts 1 West of brother 46 "The Hollywood 21 Anythin but that that composer 3 Lift 22 Risqué 23 Sugar quantity opulenci day castoff 15 Party piping" eater's animal? 15 Party piping" eater's animal? 27 Pipers 6 Fruit 30 Babe refrain 52 "Pipers 6 Fruit 30 Babe refr		200	ce		O.F				r .			7/	cc.
1 Curly's brother 46 "The Hollywood 21 Anythine Hollywood 42 Hollywood 21 Anythine Hollywood 42 Hollywood 21 Anythine Hollywood 42 Hollywood 21 Anythine Hollywood 22 Anythine Hollywood 21 Anythine Hollywood 22 Anythine Hollywood 22 Anythine Hollywood 23 Angor 24 Hollywood 23 Angor 24 H	_	_	-				_		-	gen	-
Drother   46 "The   Hollywood   21 Anythin			_	44			,
4 Trading				40
center 8 Occupied 12 Have a 50 Ms. 4 Angora bug Gardner fabric quantity 13 Taft 51 Slender wood- understerritory wood- undergrain 52 "Pipers 6 Fruit piping" eater's animal? 15 Party animal? 56 Prevaridation of the piping of th				40						oou			inte
8 Occupied 12 Have a bug Gardner fabric 13 Taft 51 Slender 5 "Now I territory wood- underself fabric 14 Yuletide wind stand" opulend opulend stand" opulend stand" animal? 15 Party piping" eater's day castoff 17 Finished 56 Prevaridate at the piping of the partner opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend stand opulend stand opulend opulend opulend opulend stand opulend opulend opulend opulend opulend opulend opulend opulend stand opulend opul					-
12 Have a bug Gardner fabric Gardner fabric 13 Taft 51 Slender 5 "Now I territory wood- undergreling fabric 14 Yuletide wind standl" opulend opulend standl" refrain 52 "Pipers 6 Fruit 30 Babe—15 Party animal? 52 "Pipers 6 Fruit 30 Babe—15 Party animal? 56 Prevariday castoff 17 Finished 57 Existed 8 Destruction 35 Fate 31 Afternow affairs 33 Phone-book data 19 Banishes 57 Existed 8 Destruction 35 Fate 35 Photog's 10 Yurt, for word choice one 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort 59 Photog's 10 Yurt, for word choice one 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort 62 Massage 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort 62 Massage 80 Photog's 10 Yurt, for writer 40 Not bearded 43 Makes beer 45 "— had it!" 48 Bug 10 L AD E P I AN O AN							D.F	-	-				ıń
bug Gardner fabric 13 Taft 51 Slender 5 "Now I territory wood- understand!" stand!" opulend stand." opulend stand. opu				50	The second secon
13 Tatt			a	50						a territory 14 Yuletide refrain 15 Party piping" eater's animal? 17 Finished farming animal? 17 Finished farming animal? 18 Through cator emblem book data 18 Through cator emblem book data 18 Through cator emblem book data 19 Banishes 15 Pervari- 7 Clan castoff affairs 33 Phone-book data 33 Phone-book data 33 Phone-book data 35 Fate 36 Prevari- 7 Clan castoff affairs 36 Prevari- 7 Clan castoff affairs 37 Phone-book data 38 The partner 9 Indigent show data 38 The Raven' writer 39 Photog's 10 Yurt, for one choice one data 38 The Raven' writer 40 Not bearded 41 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort sort sold it!" 40 Not bearded 43 Makes beer 45 "— had it!" 46 Bun data 47 Stage award 48 React in pain 48 React in pain 48 React in pain 49 Merriment stall in the long of the pain 41 LAX info data 41 LAX info data 41 LAX info data 45 6 7 8 9 10 11  18 19 20				E4
14 Yuletide refrain         wind stand!"         opulence opu	100	777		31	-	-		7			77.7		_
Tefrain   15 Party					2000			75.0	-		-
15 Party		,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,		69
animal? day castoff 17 Finished 56 Prevarious cator emblem 58 Prevarious 21 Dire 58 Bill's tion partner 9 Indigent 35 Fate 35 Fate 24 Miss partner 9 Indigent Piggy's 59 Photog's 10 Yurt, for word choice one writer 40 Not bearded 25 Porkpie, e.g. Penn bravos 26 Massage 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly ma'am sort moving 32 PC symbol 34 Crony 36 Collagist's need 37 Flapjack enhancement 39 Two, in Tijuana Falin NI EMALE ALDA RONE LADE PI I ANO 48 React in pain ment 39 Two, in Tijuana Falin NI EMALE ALDA ABUG LIMN RIM 49 Merriment 39 Two, in Tijuana Falin NI EMALE ALDA ABUG LIMN RIM ALDA ABUG LIMN RIM ALDA Stat 54 AAA jot 42 Unruly bunch Yesterday's answer 2-28 18 19 20 19 10 11 15 16 16 17 17 18 19 20				32				-			777
17 Finished   18 Through   19 Banishes   57 Existed   8 Destruction   35 Fate   35 Fate   24 Miss   partner   9 Indigent   38 "The   Piggy's   59 Photog's   10 Yurt, for word   choice   one writer   40 Not   bearded   28 Not   ma'am   sort   sort   moving   32 PC   Symbol   34 Crony   36 Collagist's   need   37 Flapjack   enhancement   39 Two, in   Tijuana   Flank   1 El   3   1 El   3 Miss													,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,
18 Through         cator         emblem         book data           19 Banishes         57 Existed         8 Destruction         35 Fate           24 Miss         partner         9 Indigent         36 "The           Piggy's         59 Photog's         10 Yurt, for one         writer           25 Porkpie, e.g.         60 Actor one         11 Bullring one         40 Not one           26 Massage         61 Ram's         16 Slovenly one         43 Makes           28 Not ma'am         sort         43 Makes           32 PC         Solution time: 27 mins.         45 "— had it!"           34 Crony         36 Collagist's need         ROIN EL ALINEMALY NEED FLAR         48 React in pain           37 Flapjack enhancement         LADE PI ANO         48 React in pain           MALYFIRST EGON         ARIC LON         49 Merriment           39 Two, in Tijuana         TILEGS MELTORME         AHA           41 LAX info         ABUG LIMM RIM         49 Merriment           42 Unruly bunch         DENY SAPS DOIE         55 Garden ing tool           1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11         16 10 11           1 5 6 7 8 9 10 11         10 11           1 6 16 17         17 10 11				-					-
19 Banishes   57 Existed   8 Destruction   35 Fate   35 Fate   24 Miss   partner   9 Indigent   9 Photogram   10 Yurt, for word   25 Porkpie, e.g.   Penn   bravos   26 Massage   61 Ram's   16 Slovenly ma'am   sort   43 Makes   beer worden   27 mins.   32 PC   Solution time: 27 mins.   36 Collagist's need   37 Flapjack   enhancement   Solution time: 27 mins.   46 Bun   47 Stage   award   47 Stage   award   48 React   10 October				30				3	-	m
21 Dire   58 Bill's   10   35 Fate   24 Miss   partner   9 Indigent   38 "The Raven" word   choice   one				E7	-	-		- 750
24 Miss Piggy's word         partner 59 Indigent 10 Yurt, for one choice one one choice         38 "The Raven" writer writer           25 Porkpie, e.g. 9. Go Actor 11 Bullring e.g. Penn bravos         40 Not bearded 43 Makes beer 43 Makes beer 43 Makes beer 45 "— had it!"           26 Massage 28 Not moving 32 PC symbol 34 Crony 36 Collagist's need 37 Flapjack enhancement Tijuana 41 LAX info 42 Unruly bunch         BOW PIODS FEAR ARD ARD ARD ARD ARD ARD ARD ARD ARD A									G.
Piggy's word			30	-	7				nt.
Word   Choice   One   Writer	-		de	80							-		m"
25 Porkpie, 8.g. Penn bravos 26 Massage 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly 30 Makes beer 43 Makes beer 44 Makes beer 45 "— had it!"  26 Massage 61 Ram's 16 Slovenly 43 Makes beer 45 "— had it!"  27 Symbol 34 Crony 36 Collagist's need 37 Flapjack enhancement 39 Two, in Tijuana Falin NITE MALE AHA ABUG LIMN RIM 53 Mound 542 Unruly bunch 72 Martin Male AHA ABUG LIMN RIM 54 AAA jot 55 Garden ing tool 12 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 13 14 15 16 16 17			S	98			,			)1
e.g. Penn bravos 16 Slovenly 30 Makes beer 43 Makes beer 43 Makes beer 43 Makes beer 45 "— had it!"  Solution time: 27 mins. 46 Bun 47 Stage award 48 React in pain 49 Merriment 53 Mound 51 El Al NI E MAL TO A MEL TO NE MEL TO			al-	en							360000
26 Massage	man in the contract of the con		60						ur.			lad
28 Not
moving 32 PC symbol 34 Crony 36 Collagist's need 37 Flapjack enhancement 39 Two, in Tijuana 41 LAX info 42 Unruly bunch 18 19 20 45 "— had it!" 46 Bun 47 Stage award 48 React in pain 49 Merri-ment 53 Me L T O R Me KN I T S S L AW 56 A A A A jot 56 A A A A jot 56 A A B U G L I MN R I M 54 AAA jot 55 Garden ing tool			age	01						пу	Am Village or
Solution time: 27 mins.   itl"		7000			ma	am		20	316
Symbol   34 Crony   36 Collagist's need   10   11   11   12   18   18   19   20   20   46 Bun   47 Stage award   48 React is			ng	S	olut	ion t	ime	: 27	min	5.			au
36 Collagist's need 37 Flapjack enhance ment 39 Two, in Tijuana 41 LAX info 42 Unruly bunch  18 19 20  award 48 React in pain 49 Merri-ment 53 Mound 54 AAA jot 42 Unruly bunch  18 19 20		-	al la	(6)	Owl	DI/	SIDI	9	elet	ID		**
36 Collagist's need 37 Flapjack enhance ment 39 Two, in Tijuana 41 LAX info 42 Unruly bunch  18 19 20  award 48 React in pain 49 Merri-ment 53 Mound 54 AAA jot 42 Unruly bunch  18 19 20						R	N		ALI	A
N   G   V   D   A   R				B	ON	E	LA	IN	EMI	Y
18   19   20   20   3   37   58   58   58   58   58   58   58   5	7.70			N	EG	EV		PA	3
enhancement 39 Two, in Tijuana 41 LAX info 42 Unruly bunch Yesterday's answer 2-28 18 19 19 20 49 Merriment 53 Mound stat 55 Garden ing tool						LAI	DE	P	I A	10			4 11
Tijuana							15		300	심음			-
39 Two, in Tijuana  41 LAX info 42 Unruly bunch  1				1	EG		AE		DIR	THE		-
Tijuana 41 LAX info ABIUG LIMN RIM 54 AAA jot 42 Unruly bunch Yesterday's answer 2-28  1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 17 15 16 17 8 9 10 11				K	NII	TIS	-181	LIAN	N	-
41 LAX info   ABIUG L I MN R I M   54 AAA jot   42 Unruly   54 PS   DOIE   55 Garden   19   10   11   12   13   14   15   16   17   18   19   20   19   20   10   11   12   18   19   20   10   11   10   10   10   10   10						IKI		M	ELL	N			ILL
42 Unruly bunch         DEINY SAPS DOE yesterday's answer 2-28         55 Garden ing tool ing tool           1         2         3         4         5° 6         7         8         9         10         11           12         13         14         17         17         18         19         20													int bunch         Yesterday's answer 2-28         ing tool           1         2         3         4         5° 6         7         8         9         10         11           12         13         14         14         17         17         17           15         16         19         20         20         18         19         20         10         11         12         13         14         17         14         15         16         17         16         17         18         19         20         10         12         12         13         14         15         16         16         17         16         17         16         16         17         16         17         16         16         16         17         16         17         16         17         16         17         17         16         17         16         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         17         18         17         18         17         18         1
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 17 15 16 19 20				[2]
12 13 14 17 15 16 17 17 18 19 20	1	12	13		4						9	110	111
15 16 17 17 18 19 20 19 20 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19		-	-		_	-	-	1			-	100	1
18 19 20					13								1
 	15			16				1		17
21   22   23   24			18				19		20
	21	22	-	-	-	23		24	-	-			-

STUMPED?

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-68731 99c per minute, loud tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

2-28

CRYPTOQUIP

TIE TBU KDSIH OBUFOBNN YQFBHFX? DU DH OFYBGUF

O B H U L A H H L U N F F A

X G Q D K S H I F X B E ?

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE SCIENTIST THREW A THERMOMETER OUT THE WINDOW TO

A THERMOMETER OUT THE WINDOW
WATCH THE TEMPERATURE DROP.
Today's Cryptoquip Clue: O equals B

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 21 Send $4.50 (check/m.c.) to CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, Ft. 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"We are what we pretend to be, so we should be careful what we pretend to be."

- Kurt Vonnegut, novelist

MIX MASTERS

WHO Roger McAllister, Little Apple Brewing Co.

MCALLISTER

Roger McAllister has been a bartender at Little Apple Brewing Co. for four years.

DRINK Indian Summer Shot

Equal parts of each of the following: Vodka Kahlua

ONLINE

Pineapple Juice

Learn to make this drink from the master. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for exclusive video footage.

Life lessons

Photos by Drew Rose/Collegian

Tim Adams, Junior in theater, shares a joke with Nathan Jackson, senior in theater, during rehearsal in the Purple Masque Theatre on Tuesday night.

Play focuses on important aspects of life

BY JJ DUNCAN

Konsas State Collegian

Set in innet-city Washin

Set in inner-city Washington, D.C., Javon Johnson's "A Crying Shame" takes a look at the hardships life has to offer.

Presented by Ebony Theatre, the play opens at 8 tonight at the Purple Masque Theatre. The play is about three black men who run numbers out of a locally owned convenience store and the trials they experience in everyday life.

Director Tiffany Lee, senior in theater and business, said the play doesn't follow the traditional story-telling technique of setting up a protagonist and antagonist, but instead shows the characters living the life they have and trying to make it work. The play is different from some of the other productions because it doesn't focus on black oppression, Lee said.

"I chose this play because it doesn't perpetuate any stereotypes," she said. "It's hard to find a play about African-Americans that doesn't go on and on about being oppressed. This is a play about black people that deals with other issues."

The shop owner, Tucker, played by Nathan Jackson, senior in theater, likes to be the level-headed guy who gets things figured out, but it's his own life he needs to focus on, Jackson said. Tucker has cares about his friends and tries to help them Matinee with their lives, but he realizes he needs to fix his own problems, lackson said.

Ebony Theatre presents Javon Johnson's "A Crying Shame" at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a 2 p.m. matinee Saturday at the Purple Masque Theatre. Tickets are available at McCain Box Office, 532-6428.

headed character," he said. "He likes to be in control. And in the end, he doesn't know how to handle his own life."

"He appears to be the cool level-

Tucker isn't the only complex character. Many of the characters are difficult because they have so many sides to them, Lee said.

"It's a challenge for the actors because the characters are elaborate and extremely layered," she said.

Beanie Man, played by Mark Hanson, sophomore in theater, is a mysterious character who only counts to three. Beanie Man always hangs around the little shop and is helped occasionally by Tucker, but no one knows where he comes from or why he's there, Hanson said.

"I had a lot of help because this is a weird character to play," he said. "He knows what he wants to say, but he can't get it out. He says words out of sequence. He's a person who no one else in the play gets."

Hanson said he enjoyed the

Tyler Wood, Junior in music education, and Nathan Jackson, senior in theater, rehearse their lines for "A Crying Shame," an Ebony Theatre production that opens tonight.

character because, though he's strange, he is central to the piot development of the story. Beanie Man pulls the play together, Hanson said.

The cast was assisted by the writer himself when Johnson visited the campus to workshop the play, one of his stipulations for granting the rights for the play to be performed, Lee said.

Lee said she met Johnson while at a workshop in North Carolina and decided she wanted to put it on at K-State because it fit the casting pool available to her.

When Johnson visited with the cast. Lee said it forced them to take the play more seriously, and he helped them understand the play.

For instance, no one knew what the ticket books — where the gambling records are kept — should look like. Johnson helped them understand that aspect because that's what Tucker's business is based around, Lee said.

Lee said she hopes people take meaning from "A Crying Shame."

"I want them to be able to look at their own relationships," she said. "This play is about letting friends be there for you when you need them and living life right."

WEB SITES TO WATCH By JJ Duncan

KILLFROG.COM

www.killfrog.com

These are some of the funniest cartoons on the Web dealing with evil piggies, lame cyber zombies and a cat that gets killed in lots of mean ways. Do yourself a favor and spend some time on this site.

NEO PETS

www.neopets.co

If you really need something to waste your life away and don't feel like buying any online role playing games, this is the site for you. Raise pets, make them fight if you like, and play lots of games.

CoulVohane

SoulXchange www.soutxchange.com

This is a highly amusing game where you promote your own soul to up its value and buy other souls owned by other people. It's like the stock market of soul buying. Have fun being your own personal Beelzebub.

LORD OF THE RINGS: Breadbox edition www.famfiction.net/read.php?storyId=534018

E-mail it to the A&E editor at arts@spub.ksu.edu

This is a hilarious alternate script for the popular "Lord of the Rings" movie. If you're a Tolkien freak, you'll truly appreciate the witty humor of this parody. If not, you'll probably laugh anyway.

misdirection

Lorraine Bayard de Volo, assistant professor of political science and women's studies at the University of Kansas spoke in Leasure Hall on Wednesday. The title of

Speaker: U.S. needs to focus on women in war

BY JESSICA PITTS Kanssa State Collegian

War tends to breed violence, especially against women, a speaker said Wednesday after-

"A fallout of war is an increase in domestic violence and rape." said Lorraine Bayard de Volo, assistant professor of political science and women's studies at the University of Kansas.

"After war, combatants come home and have trouble inserting themselves back into society. The army teaches them to be violent, to kill others and then they have to come back and fit into the mainstream.'

Bayard de Volo's speech, 'Women, War and Afghanistan," was part of the KSU/Community Fourum on the Current Crisis.

Although Bayard de Volo's expertise is on the political revolutionary in Nicaragua, she said that devastating, horrible things have been happening for more than 20 years in Afghanistan.

"Taken into context, despite really good feminist attempts, the world, especially the U.S., was not paying attention to these events until recently," she said. "And it is still questionable if the concerns are being reached."

Bayard de Volo referred to the announcement made by the United States that said "there will be no civil society in Afghanistan without full participation from the Afghanistan women.

"I have to be cynical of Bush's administration," she said. "Women's rights are artificial with this statement. It is a means to other ends. It was used to generate public support for the bombing campaign against Taliban.

She said her hope is that the United States would continue to focus on the statement and not just use it as a personal vendetta against the Taliban.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

532-6555

"I hope they also use is as an attempt to fight on behalf of women's rights - to give a higher meaning to the purpose of the bombing campaign.

However, Bayard de Volo said it seems the United States is losing interest in the Afghanistan women as fast as they gained interest "In October, November and December, there were tons of articles," she said. "So many I couldn't keep up. It has dropped off now and become increasingly scarce. I no longer have trouble keeping up. Instead. I have trouble finding it.

"The world has seemingly forgotten these women overnight.

Lyman Baker, board member for Manhattan Alliance for Peace and Justice, a sponsoring organization, said bringing in speakers like Bayard de Volo is important in keeping awareness alive.

103 Kedzie

'We hear a lot of news, but not in depth from people with expertise," Baker said. "It is useful for people to have opportunity to set back and reflect and be a part of a public discussion that deals with such important

Bayard de Volo received a doctorate in political science from the University of Michigan along with a graduate certificate in women's studies

The KSU/Community Forum on the Current Crisis is an ongoing series of discussions sponsored by The KSU Chapter of Amnesty International, The Cultural Studies Program of the Department of English, KSU Greens, KSU Socialists, Manhattan Alliance for Peace and Justice, and Ordinary the Open Market section!

KATS fee to be dropped

BY LINDSAY FETTERMAN

Inneas State Collegian

The KATS enrollment fee will be dropped April 1.

K-State officials chose to drop the fee now because they wanted it dropped before enrollment started for summer and fall, Gunille DeVault, associate registrar, said.

When restructuring tuition for the fall, the cost for enrolling on KATS was figured into tuition costs, John Streeter, director of information systems, said.

The fee was used to pay for the purchase and maintenance of KATS, DeVault said.

Many people refused to pay the fee or couldn't afford to pay it. Streeter said. Now, without the fee, there are no restrictions for students.

"Dropping the fee is exciting because it takes away anyone's barrier to use it," Streeter said.

About 90 percent of students use this service to enroll.

Streeter expects this figure to increase to close to 100 percent once the fee is dropped. When enrollment on KATS was first available, 30 to 40 percent of students enrolled using the

The idea for KATS was proposed in 1995, Streeter said.

"The university wanted to provide more services for students using current technology and current systems," DeVault said.

Already existing software was purchased to start KATS. It took about two years to get this software running, and in December 1997, some services were available to students.

Enrollment services were added in October 1998, and officials instituted a fee of $4.

"Acceptance by students was really great," Streeter said.

Students can avoid long lines and save time by enrolling on KATS, Streeter said.

"It's a more efficient way of enrolling. It's self-service enrolling," Streeter said.

There are many features on KATS other than enrolling. Students can check their grades, buy athletic tickets and parking passes and run DARS reports. In the future, university officials hope to add an unofficial transcript that looks more like anofficial transcript than a DARS report, Streeter said.

We will continue to put things in KATS to make it more useful to students," Streeter said.

Stuff

Sell your stuff to Collegian readers by placing an ad in the classified section. Anything and everything goes!

> KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

MANHATTAN'S OLDIES, COUNTRY, SPORTS BAR NIGHT CLUB

Friday

9 P.M. THUNDER HEART

FREE APPETIZER BAR 5-9 P.M. ALMOST LIVE KARAOKE

Saturday 9 P.M.

THUNDER

HEART R.C. McGraws

776-9588 * 2317 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Blue Hills Shopping Center

drinks

$2 2 year yr. Anniversary T-shirts_ Anniversary

ACATIONS

EACH NIGHT

4 FREE

toss 'em?

103 Kedzie

Buy-Sell-Trade

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Sure. They're ACUVUE, so you wear them for up to a week then replace them with a fresh, new pair. And at only $19.95 a six pack you won't even shed a tear as you wave goodbye!

* 6 lens disposable Contact Lens Multi-Pak. Exam & fitting fees not included in price

DR.S PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH *A AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118 3012 Anderson - Manhattan

Look for our money-saving coupon in your Southwestern Bell Yellow Pages.

Southwestern Bell

When you're looking for a bargain, check out the Collegian Classifieds.

you need, advertise in the Open Market section

532-6555

110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

AVAILABLE AUGUST. We have several duplexes and apartments close to cam-pus. Some brand new, some less than three years old. All appliances included. Washer/ dryer at most loca-tions. Some with off-street parking Call for details, no

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO campus one two, three-bedroom houses apartments. Central air. parking, free washer/ dryer Available August.

(785)537-7050. NEXT TO KSU apartment for August Deluxe two-bedroom apartment, 1230 Cla across from Ford Hall 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice, large one-bedroom apart-ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, laundromat, $340, (785)539-2482

For Rent-Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496.

ONE, THREE, four, or fivebedroom apartments/ houses. Central heat/ air-condi tioning; washer/ dryer; no pets. Close to campus (785)587-9460

ONE. TWO and three-bedroom apartments and hous es. No pets. Call (785)539 1975 or (785)776-4901.

TWO. THREE, four rooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry fanear campus. (785)537-1746.

For Rent-Houses 1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all

For Rent-Houses

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

three-bedroom homes avail-

central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage

disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

these beautiful, spacious

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for

close to campus. $265/

Need a roommate?

Advertise.

It Works.

Kedzie 103 • 532-6555

Call (785)323-0990.

nmer, NICE HOUSE

150 ▮

Sublease

occupancy

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments and houses. n and price is NOW

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE one block from KSU Stadi-um, Bramlage, baseball. Washer/ dryer, central air, Washer/ dryer central air, huge backyard Great condition. $1200. (785)776-

FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO bath Very clean Close to campus. No pets. June lease. 1310 N 10th. $1100. (785)336-6286, if no answer (785)770-0062

MALE ROOMMATES want ed to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washer dryer provided, free offstreet parking and furnished rooms. No smoking or drinkng in house. Low utilities Cable, phone, Ethernet in each room. Call Matt (785)532-9909.

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable tour, five, six and eight-bed room houses. Also one and two-bedroom apartments. June and August leases

For Sale-Mobile Homes

1994 SKYLINE three-bedroom, two bathroom. Many new features, washer/ dryer. nice deck Lot number 544 Colonial Gardens, $16,500 negotiable, available May. (785)776-3928.

145 88 Roommate Wanted

FEMALE wanted $150 a month plus 2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and one-half utilities. (785)565-0742. Leave message if no able, one double-wide home Homes all come with answer

ROOMMATE Available now. Rent $225 ble and electric. Se room available in May. Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at kib4949@ksu.edu.

Sublease

ONE-BEDROOM NICE. apartment for rent. June 1 lease or sublease for sumbedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Water/ trash paid. (785)565-

SUMMER APARTMENT one and one-half bath, close (785)323-0608 (913)681-2480.

service

220 ■

Weight Loss & /

Nutrition

HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss Increased Energy- Immediate Results I can teach you the secret/ Local Distributor (785)776-1936.

SPRING BREAK is near Loose that extra 10 pounds and keep it off. Increased Energy-Immediate Decide START TODAY! (785)776-

255

Other.

Services INCOME TAXES Easy! 59.95 Form 1040A $14.95. File DIRECT and ONLINE the same business that as-sisted many KSU students in filing their tax returns last fice FAST, SECURE,

www.etile4u.com employment/

opportunities

IF YOU'LL be close to Kanlot of $5, consider working for College Pro Painters. You'll have fun working out-Grant at (785)341-1108 For more information including www.collegepro.com! $250/ DAY potential/ bar tanding. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

son equal opportunity in securing and holding emsex, military status, disanational origin or ances reported to the Director of fy the financial potential of dvertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any uch employment oppor tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, KS 66607-1190.

$1500 WEEKLY potential mailing our circulars. For intion call (203)977-1720.

Assistant, $8.50/ hour (possibility of one, two, or three nights a week). After school classes on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays (3:30-5:30pm) for grades 1- 6 during April. Qualified persons in upper-level physical education or nutrition degree programs. Contact

Help Wanted

Help Wanted ACCOUNTING CLERK. Part-time Temporary. We are seeking a dependable person to perform account-ing work approximately 20 hours per week. Duties in-clude processing cash receipts, opening mail and other departmental duties as needed. Must be available to work four hours each morning on Monday and Wednesday, some flexibility exists for the other hours. Requires basic accounting/ bookkeeping knowledge, ex-cellent telephone demeanor, proficiency with various computer software and 10calculator skills. Pay is $8.89 per hour. This need is expected to last through ril. Interested and quali fied candidates should respond promptly and reference Job #S5, Kansas Farm man Resources, 2627 KFB Plaza, Manhattan, KS 66503; fax is (785)587pgoc@kfbs.com. We are an

and encourage diversity AFTER SCHOOL program assistant. $8.50/ hour. (Possibility of 1, 2, or 3 nights a week). After school classes on Monday, Tuesdays and Thursdays (3:30- 5:30pm) for grades 1- 6 during April. alified persons in upperlevel physical education or nutrition degree programs.

ARE YOU a computer geek? No, but seriously, I need a Web Designer to help me with my web page! For more details, you can e-AM1775@hotmail.com lease leave your name and contact number.) BARTENDERS NEEDED!

Earn up to $250/ day. Will train No experience neces-

BOCKERS II Catering Part-time wait staff, $6.25/ hour. Apply Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:30- 12:00 at 1108 Laramie: (785)539-9431.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Photographers.

Designers

CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Seasonal or year round Call (941)329-

EARN $1000- $3000 in poster fundraiser. This fundraiser does not involve apfrom any computer. No soft-ware to purchase. We are portunities are filling quickly, so call today! Contact us at 1-877-801-3149 or helpers needed for upcommall. Thursday- Sunday, afavailable. Call 539-1550

FRATERNITIES. SORORI-TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Camsfundraiser.com hour fundraising event. Does not involve credit card Fundraising call today! Contact Campus-3238, or visit www.campus-

KAW VALLEY Greenhouses is looking for part-time applints. Must be able to work 20 hours/ week. Available or 12:30-4:30 Monday- Fri-Pick up application at 8:00am to 4:30pm (for direc-

KAW VALLEY Greenhouses cants. Some positions require travel (housing, transportation, and meal allow plication at 360 Zeandale Road from 8:00am to 4:30pm (for directions call KAW VALLEY Greenhouses is looking for drivers. Day, evening, late night, and weekend hours available. sired. Must have good drivtion at 360 Zeandale Road from 8:00am to 4:30pm (for directions call (785)776-

LIVE AND WORK IN COLovernight camp in the mountains southwest of Denver. General counselors and program specialists (hiking, out-door skills, crafts, nature, sports, challenge course, dance and drama). June 1early August. MAKE A DIF-FERENCE. Competitive salary, room, meals, health in-Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281 ne, evening and week end help. If interested, call (785)587-1886.

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Comes 2388's and New Automatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li-cense. Provide room and board and excellent salaryl Call (785)689-4660.

mental education, rifles, trap, archery, canoes, crafts RIDE HORSES IN COLO-RADO! Be part of the westem riding staff at Girl Scout overnight camp southwest Springs offers a monthly sal-Rock Springs is a nationally recognized camp and con-2002 ference center serving ap-proximately 27,000 youth (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or rhondam@gsmhc.org. SALES. LOCAL Company is looking for a money-mot vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance inment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more. E. mail resume in Microsoft Word or text format to mor-

SEASONAL WORKERS Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal Contact Man Starnes at applications for seasonal (785)485-4056 Deadline is workers Several positions are available in the Public Works and Parks Departments. Valid Class C driv er's license and the ability to lift 70 pounds required Ex perience in construction concrete work, aspha concrete work, asphall maintenance, traffic flagnance, and mowing hour work week at $7,45 pe hour. Applications are available by contacting the Department of Administrative Call (866)291-1884 Services, Division of Human Resources located at 115 N 4th Street, 3rd Floor, Man-hattan KS 66502 For more information call (785)565 or e-mail

> County is an Equal Opportu-Receptionist to begin May Must be computer literate well versed WordPerfect, Word, Excel Wanted to Buy USED AQUARIUMS All March ments and a variety of other sizes, water-proofed. Con-office duties. Looking for a fact. Chelsoa. (785)537-WANTED TO buy bunk bed

> > sage if no answer

Items for Sale

Please visit fittp://

If chungwang tripod.com

sage_(785)456-9804

435

Computers

(785)770-3506

Sporting

Equipment

(785)539-5449.

Electronic

Equipment

460 I

510

455

FOR SALE King-size water bed, complete with new mattress. $100 Leave mes-

WEDDING DRESS simple but elegant one of a kind

Jennifer at (785)537-2063

GATEWAY LAPTOP com

Lexmark color printer with new cartridge, $850 for both, call in evenings,

SNOWBOARD. ROSSI

GNOL with Burton bindings

Great condition $200. Call

JVC FIVE-SPEAKER sur

round sound system with receiver, $250. Call Kevin for transportation

President for Institut commensurate with ence. Deadline for subr

sion of application is Friday, March 8, 4:00 p.m. SUMMER BABYSITTER BOOK: Anthology of Chi-Needed! Care for nine, sev run. Call (785)689-4660 SUMMER CAMP counse

Will travel with us on harvest lors and Adventure Staff Wanted. Friendly Pines Camp, in the cool mountains of northern Arizona, is hinng staff for the 2002 season. May 26- July 28. Program offers horseback riding, water-ski, rock climbing, fish-ing, crafts, sports, and more Competitive salary and trav el allowance ho campus interviews March 5 For application/ informatio call (928)445-2128 or email info@friendlypines.com our web site! www.friendlypines.com.

SUMMER CAMP COUNSE-LORS ON CAMPUS IN-TERVIEWS FOR PREMIER CAMPS IN MASSACHU-SETTS. Positions available for talented, energetic, and fun loving students as counselors in all team sports in-cluding Roller Hockey and sports such as Tennis and Golf, Waterfront and Pool activities, and specialty ac tivities including art, dance theater, gymnastics, paper, rocketry and radio GREAT SALARIES, room board, travel and United to be unforgettable. Apply MAH-KEE-NAC (785)776-0736 1-800-753-9118; DANBEE

www.campdanbee.com (Girls): 1-800-392-3572. Monday, April-8, 2002 10am

WANTED: through the Rocky Moun come work for the tains. largest horse operation in North America. website to us at 3300 Airport Road.

510 Help Wanted

building, horses, environary and room and board.

south of Junction City, Kan-sas on K-157 Highway. For mation you can contact me

ter. C/O Summer Jobs, 5405 West Highway K-157, Junction City, KS 66441, (785)257-3221, jfarr@rock-springs.net A representative from Rock Springs will be in the Union on February

WILDWOOD- RESIDEN-

TIAL camp south of Kansa

City seeks qualified counse

recreational activities June-

330

Rock Springs 4-H Cen-

Automobiles

Center is seeking applicants for 40-50 summer staff pomatic. Very clean. Red, 95K, $4,050. negotiable. 1994 tiful Maine. Counselors to sitions. Applicants must be Mitsubishi Galant ES, autograduating high school seleather, niors or college students. Positions are recreation in-$3,550. (785)770-9218 structors, including team erol1421@ksu.edu

1995 MITSUBISHI Edipse, silver GS Coupe. Five-speed, CD, sliding sunroof. and lifeguards. We also have several positions in food service, maintenance and custodial departments 6601. Excellent condition. Internships are available for those who qualify. Rock and adults each year, most during the summer. Rock Springs is located 14 miles HONDAS FROM $500! Police impound For listings (800)719-3001

1997 HONDA Civic EX Five-speed, four-door CD, 87K, $7895, (785)776-1275 2001 CHEVY Cavalier, fourdoor, dark green, graphite (785)539-7210.

530 ■

Motorcycles 1999 YAMAHA R6, 8,000 miles, red- white- black, laid

August $1700 plus room and board. (913)757-4500 630 ■ wildwood@peoplestelecom

A FREE Spring Break! Hottest Destinations/ Parties Lowest Prices Guaranteed Booze/ Food! Two Free Trips on 15 Sales. Earn Cash! Group Discounts! Book online. www.suns. plashtours com 1(800)426-7710

Daytona Beach, March 21

mann@ruraltel.net. SPRING BREAK with STS. Americas #1 Student Tour per Person.

SPRINGBREAK (TITECH)

AAA Travel Agency River City travel 785-843-0900

30 - "

BEACH'A'SKI•TRIPS PRINCIBREAK

www.sunchase.com 1.800.SUNCHASE stuff? RID

in the

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie

532-6555

pets. (785)776-2102.

appliances. Three four-bed-room Two bathroom. Please no pets Available

June (785)539-1177.

nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

assay in Commons" Now Leasing for Announcements LEARN TO FLY!" K-State Flying Club has five air e795, www.ksu.edu/ks/c *Washer/Dryer ACADEMY OF BARTEND

30 an hour. Day, evening Job placement assis $199 with student ID

board

BOOLBARTEND. vw.bartendingcollege.com NEWELL'S BARBER Shop has reopened at 1921 Pills bury Dr. South end of Kast

177 South, Haircute $8 POUSEQUEST COM REL TATIONSHIPS just got eas

Lost and Found

●020 ■

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days. ckert Hall. Call (785)537

OST SIAMESE gray and alle neutered male cat ar with silver bell, lost east Manhattan Call 785)395-4500

2030 Personals

Ture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

040 _Meetings/

Events CALL FOR DANCERS. Am osia Dance Company is rs who specialize in modve to dance, then call to set

> housing/ real estate

$105 M For Rent-Apts. Furnished

anhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in mousing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, militastatus, disability, reli-on, age, color, national rigin or ancestry. Viola-ons should be reported the Director of Human lesources at City Hall, 1785)587-2440. MEED TO RENT. As soon wo-bedroom, 1832 Claffin artment 8. Close to cam us. $499 per month. Wa-er included. Call Matt at 785)341-4404

Pomeroy $330 deposit Water and trash paid. (785)456-

2812. No pets. Class All The

2002-2003! •Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom *Alarm System *Swimming Pool

*Computer Lab *Fitness Center *Permit Parking *Tennis Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-5, Sat. 10-4 539-0500

INIVERSITY *COMMONS*

APARTMENTS For Rent-

Unturnished Two blocks east of campus 1010 Keamey, Quiet street. Quality student living. Large L-shaped kitchen Dishwasher, air-condition-ing. Sound-proofed, well-insulated, low utilities Lauridry room. No pets. Lease

June 1 through May $520. Call (785)539-2536. $385, two blocks to campus. vailable June 1 Cornerplace apartments Daily showings at 4.30 p.m. Short and long-term leases. Call (785)539-1713.

ACROSS FROM Aggievill next to campus, 1112 Blue-mont. Two-bedroom, off street parking, trash paid, low utilities. Available August 1. (785)776-0683. AVAILABLE AUGUST, Two. three, four, five, and six-bedrooms. Close to campus No Pets Year lease (785)539-2551 AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Onebedroom. Near campus. Air ditioning Carport 537-

AVAILABLE NOW, summe and fall very nice one, two, three, four, six-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017. www.bewww.beloose.com/linwood FOUR-BEDROOMS 1806

North 11th. Two-bedroom 928 Leavenworth, 426 Vatti-er, 1620 Fairview. No pets, no smoking. (785)539-0590. LEASING FOR ALL. Two room, one block from camtion, condition, (785)776-closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks ONE BEDROOM, close to

ONE. TWO and three-bedes. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901.

110

For Rent-Unfurnished bedroom apartments at various locations. All within walking distance to campus.

Great character with unique features. No pets. (785)313-4812 bedrooms available for next bedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Mannattan Apart-ments (785)776-3683 (24-Hours), One-half mile from KSU at the comer of Col-lege and Ctaffin, Manhattan. ONE-BEDROOM $405, Avenue One-bedroom stu-dic furnished, 1219 Clattin of stadium. No smoking/ $330. [785]456-2812. No drinking/ pets. (785)539-pets. and August, three-bedroom

1126 Bluemont. Not pets. ONE BEDROOM, close to Water and trast $380/ month. Call ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets smokers. 1523 Pierre $285.00 plus utilities. gust lease. (785)776-4805

ONE-BEDROOM, WASH-ER/DRYER, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier. $305.00 plus utilities gust lease (785)776-4805. OPEN HOUSES SUNDAY MARCH 3. 514 N. 9th 1room. June 1 lease, $440 in cluding trash, water, elec-tricity No smoking, pets. 1628 Fairview 3:30-1628 Fairview 3:30-4:30pm: Quiet one bedroom near campus. $410 includ ing gas, water, trash, ga rage June 1 No smoking pets Quiet studio $385 in cluding gas, water, trash, garage, June 1. No smoking, pets. (785)537-7431

PARK PLACE APART MENTS Cable paid. One Three-bedrooms (785)539-2951. THREE AND Four-bed-

ter and trash paid. (785)537 THREE-BEDROOM. pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities June lease. (785)776-4805

TWO-BEDROOM, NO pets

or smokers. 624 Bluemont

$500.00 plus utilities. Avail able immediately (785)776-Now Leasing 1 BR From $470

2 BR From $570 3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Rooms

Available ONE, TWO, three and four ONE: FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up Pets okay, short-term leases. Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138

For Rent-Houses TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING room, dining room with hardwood floors Study, family room. One-car garage close to downtown. Three-bedroom, east of KSU, THREE-BEDROOM. 1225 Claffin. Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan

> FIVE-REDROOM TWO bath duplex with washer/ dryer furnished. Central air, off-street parking, 713 Moro.

No pets. (785)313-4812 FOR RENT 1709 Vaughr three-bedroom plus study June 1 $875. Call Jack (785)776-1214

August 1 $875 Call Jack 9am 5pm FOUR AND five-bedroe houses Spacious washer dryer, off-street parking Available June 1. (785)537 to campus, no pets, centra dryer_$1040 (785)537-7597 FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO available June Close to Campus. Very nice. Central air several locations FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO

FOUR-BEDROOM, CLOSE

Thurston, $1,200 plus utilitles. June lease. (785)776-FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO air, appliances, washer/ dryer. off-street parking August 1, $1200.

SIX-BEDROOM.

baths, two kitchens, two fireplaces, washer/ dryer, central air, two-car garage. For June 1. No pets. 556-6501 THREE AND four bedroom brick houses with washer/ dryer furnished for August se. No pets. (785)313-

THREE-BEDROOM DU-

PLEX, campus area. June lease. Central air, washer/ dryer hook-ups. No pets. (785)539-5627. THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier. $900 plus utilities. lease. (785)776-4805.

THREE-BEDROOM

1523

125 For Sale-Houses

THREE, FOUR, five and six edroom houses for sale Close to campus. Better renting. For complete list of homes near campus call Larry at (785)317-7713 Century 21 Knight Real Es-

Help Wanted SSSS SUMMER JOBS $555

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every perployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, bility, religion, age, color, nan Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

(785)232-0454.

Starnes at (785)485-4055. Deadline is Tuesday, March 5. 2002.

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE THE ROCK Springs 4-H 1995 FORD Probe, FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beaucoach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, water-front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive salary, room, meals, travel allowance Late May- early gan@civicplus.com. EOE.

dean@co.riley.ks.us Riley

STUDENT SECRETARY 20, 2002 for training Regular schedule to begin sum mer with 30-40 hours con-tinuing through Fall and Spring working 20-25 hours. Must be willing to work school breaks and sur and and Windows. Responsibilities include telephone an swering, word processing filing, scheduling appointments and a variety of other EASTER BUNNIES and tail-oriented For an applicaer in the Office of the Vice evening shifts Advancement, 122 Ander

ORADO! Be a CAMP States summer work visa. COUNSELOR at Girl Scout June 19-August 16. Enjoy a ion, Room 209. LOOKING FOR part-time Cowgirls and couples to babysitter for children in my guide tourists and horses

> ADVERTISE CLASSIFIEDS + 532-6555

Business Opportunities The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

(785)456-9804. Leave mes-(800)648-4849

800-648-4849 www.ststravel.com

Got old

Automobiles 1985 FORD LTD Crown Vic toria. Power steering/ power

DiSwisher@dce.ksu.edu 1998 GMC Z-71 pickup. Red, automatic, third door $16,000. (785)587-9844.

$875, AM/ FM, tilt, V-8.

(785)323-0438, or

Alicia Keys, 'O Brother' each grab 5 Grammys

BY NEKESA MUMBI MOODY The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES - Alicia Keys, whose classically influenced soul debut was one of last year's biggest albums, and the bluegrass soundtrack to "O Brother, Where Art Thou?" each won five Grammys Wednesday

The Irish rock band U2, whose inspirational music struck a new chord after Sept. 11, took four awards and denied Keys the chance to set a record for most Grammys ever by a female artist.

Keys' song "Fallin"' won song of the year, and she was named best new artist. She also won three awards in rhythm 'n' blues categories, tying Lauryn Hill's 1999 record of five awards.

"I'd like to dedicate this to just thinking outside the box and not being afraid of who you are no matter what you do," the 21-yearold Keys said.

U2's record of the year award for "Walk On" marked the second straight year they won that top category. Last year, it was for "Beautiful Day."

"The songs do change their meaning. Music changes shape to fit the predicament it finds itself," U2's lead singer Bono said. "This year the predicament was a very different America We've always loved coming here. But this year I've rediscovered my love of America, the great idea as opposed to the great country."

The "O Brother, Where Art Thou?" soundtrack won album of the year. The album of country roots music and bluegrass was shunned by country music radio and beat out U2 and Bob Dylan for

"We are filled with gratitude not only that you have chosen to honor this work in this way, but also because we were afforded the chance to make it in the first place," said producer T Bone Burnett. "And, for the great joy that making it was."

Another artist who had a chance to break Hill's record was India. Arie. The alternative soul artist whose debut "Acoustic Soul" was nominated for seven awards but won none.

Host Jon Stewart poked fun at the show's increased security, pretending to set off a metal detector while walking on stage, and poignantly reminded the audience of how the world had changed since the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. Two large guards stripped him and left the comedian in his boxer shorts.

ESPN.com's Rookie of the Year

Continued from page 6

WOMEN

Koehn, who finished the regular season with an impressive honor of her own. She was named win a road game since 1942-43 under then-Coach Chili Cochrane.

■ Continued from page 6

"It is frustrating, but if you put yourself in my position, we can only go forward," Wooldridge said after

Pregnancy

TESTING CENTER

"Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption."

39-3338

Free pregnancy testing lotally confidential service > same day results Call for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villa

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

earlier Wednesday afternoon.

"It's a really nice honor, and I feel really honored," Koehn said, as always without a smile, "but it's a team sport, so we'll just keep plugging away at our season and hopefully go into the Big 12 the game. "We're certainly not going to make an issue of that tomorrow or Friday. It's kind of like, what's done is K-State now prepares for Nebraska Saturday, with a win putting the Cats in position for a possible seventh place finish in the league.

"I wish we could've made a better Tournament and get some wins and keep this thing going."

However, with a berth in the NCAA Tournament wrapped up, Koehn and the rest of the team have plenty to smile about, Wecker said.

"This girl needs to smile and loosen up out there," she said.

game of it. I wish a lot of things," Wooldridge said of the KU loss. "I wish we would've shown that we can handle the ball better, and control our own destiny a little bit on the offensive end. and we didn't do that.

"But the game's over, so we've got to find a way to move on and get prepared to play another game on

Blue Key Scholarship Applications

are available in: Student Activities & Services and Office of Leadership Studies at 914 N. Manhattan

More than 18 Scholarships Criteria:

scholarship • leadership service • 3.0 GPA

Due March 1 at Office of Leadership Studies & Programs by 4 p.m.

Questions? E-mail Jared Rose at jar2574@ksu.edu

#30 AMENDS

Make amends today.

Apologize to someone you may have hurt and mean your apology sincerely.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

1122 Laramie Manhattan Ks 66502 537-2141

HURRY ALL OFFERS END SOON

New Client Special

Some Restrictions Apply Limit 1 Per customer

Early turnovers, crowd noise hurt K-State against Jayhawks

BY SEAN PURCELL

Konsus State Collegian

Six Kansas seniors final game at Allen Field House turned out to be just another win over K-State.

K-State players, on the other hand, just wanted to get out of town after the 103-68 loss.

And with a season-high 28 turnovers, that was understand-

"By far the biggest part of our problem was the turnovers," Coach Jim Wooldridge said. For the game, KU scored 42 points off Wildcat turnovers. But the game could have been forecasted after K-State's first five possessions. K-State gave in to the crowd noise to begin the contest, allowing the Jayhawks to score the Cat turnovers. "We got off to as bad of a start as you can get." Wooldridge said. "That was not where we wanted to be against this team.

game's first 10 points - all off five

Poor offensive production and turnovers doomed K-State from the opening tip.

With those five to start the contest, K-State's fight was going to be that much more of an uphill battle for the entire game.

"At the beginning we just panicked and committed those turnovers," Matt Siebrandt said. "There was so much pressure applied and with the crowd playing a big factor it really got to some of us - got us out of whack, and we turned turned the ball over needlessly.

That attempt at perfection was out the door right away, which gave the KU fans fuel that would last throughout the night

An intense feeling of the crowd on his back was there the entire game, Siebrandt said. No matter what the Cats did against the KU defense, the Jayhawks were able to return the favor on the other end. And then some.

With half of K-State's players visiting Allen Field House for the first time ever, the crowd's role proved to be an eye-opening experience.

"Returning players know what to expect but this was the first time for a lot of these guys and I think the emotion got to them," Siebrandt said.

One thing the Wildcats did establish against Kansas, however, was a strong inside presence.

Junior Pervis Pasco recorded his eighth double-double of the year, scoring 20 and grabbing 11

"Pervis was going right at them, I was very pleased with what he was doing out there," Siebrandt said. "He just went right at him and did a good job of playing his

But K-State's inside attack had to make up for Larry Reid's quiet night. The senior finished with eight points, matching his turnover total.

"We were running too fast trying to get into the offense," Reid said. "You can't do that against this

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzle 532-6555

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Fat's Bar & Grill THURSDAY $2.50 Fishbowls $3 Pitchers FRIDAY

$2 Bottles $4.50 Fishbowls

Daily -16" Pizzas - $6 25¢ each additional topping

APARTMENT NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p

*Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p

*Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM 1001 Bluemont # 3

Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Clawing for position

Candidates say committee mishandled election

SGA

ELECTIONS

General elections will be

March 5 and 6

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansus Sinte Collegias

Two former presidential tickets have filed formal complaints against the election committee, citing the major reason as the committee's handling of problems with the online voting vendor,

Former presidential candidate Ali Karimi and former vice presidential candidate Jon Krasnoff said the committee should have thrown out Wednesday's primary after learning about the errors that were made.

Both candidates specifically cited the problem with write-in candidates being included on the online ballots. According to election regulations, to be included on the ballot, candidates must register their campaign with the Office of Student Activities and Services.

Krasnoff said that while it might not have significantly affected numbers, it affected the morale of the candidates and voters. People might have logged on, seen all the candidates and decided not to vote, he said.

> "There's an emotional and psychological impact for those who vote. It discredits the vote," Krasnoff said. "It's disheartening to see 30 names on the ballot. Write-ins were included on the ballot until about 1:10 p.m. Tuesday before the vendor fixed the problem.

Write-ins received 89 votes - more than Krasnoff and former presidential candidate Mike Day. However, only a few write-ins received more than one or two Karimi and Krasnoff also complained that candidates did not get to view the ballot beforehand, which Student Governing Association is required to do.

However, Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said the ballot was available before the election in the OSAS, and no one requested them.

Karimi also alleged that some candi-

See ELECTION on PAGE 5

Locked up

Photos by Zach Long/Collegian Tiffany Lee, senior in business and theater, sits on her wheel-locked car Thursday in the upper parking lot of the K-State Student Union. Lee was talking to Parking Services to find out how to get the lock removed Tiffany Lee displays the three parking tickets she received Thursday In the Union parking lot to her friend Courtney Pralle, senior in psychology, as Praile arrived to pick her up. Lee had to call for a ride after her car was wheel locked. Her brother, Calvin Lee, 13, of Junction City, right, was walting with her.

Parking Services punishes violators with wheel locks

BY PETE ELSASSER

Kansay State Collegian

arking Services and students with cars meet head-on with the harshest punishment of parking taboos: the wheel lock. David Pruente, sophomore in public relations, didn't think he could get a wheel lock just for parking illegally in the same spot twice in one day.

He tried his luck and was wrong.

Pruente said he parked in a reserved parking stall at the K-State Student Union. He said he thought he would only get one fine and nothing else.

After he received one fine, he parked in the same

Unlocked

The cost for wheel lock removal is $20 in addition to the late or outstanding arking ticket fines. To get a wheel lock removed, go to Parking Services in spot again because he didn't think Parking Services would give him another ticket. Instead, when he returned to his car, he had two more tickets and a wheel lock all at one time.

"I was really shocked and surprised that I got all of that in one day," Pruente said, "I guess the people who reserve the spots can have those cars wheel-locked if they want.' Darwin Abbott, director of Parking Services, said wheel locks are necessary to force drivers to pay attention to parking regulations.

"We put wheel locks on cars in order to elicit a response from drivers," Abbott said. "We're hoping to change a certain behavior."

Abbott said Parking Services puts about one or two wheel locks a day on cars. However, Parking Services does not apply them at night because paid fines might not have processed yet.

"Putting the wheel lock on forces the student to come to Parking Services so we can discuss the problem," Abbott said.

"It guarantees that some sort of communication will take place."

Abbott said he understands the amount of cars is at or near capacity on campus every day.

"Even when we weren't at capacity five years ago, we still put on wheel locks," he said. "Even then, students tried to find more desirable and convenient parking spots. That's what happens."

Tony Thompson, senior in management, said he had two wheel locks his freshman year.

"I had to laugh at myself when I saw the locks because I knew I deserved them," Thompson said. "I must have had 100 unpaid tickets my freshman

Thompson said it was inconvenient to have the wheel lock removed.

"You have to find someone to give you a ride to Parking Services and then plop down a credit card to pay it off all at once," he said.

"Then you wait and hope they take care of it

Thompson said he thought it would be easier if Parking Services and K-State increased fines or blocked people from enrolling. He said he thought alternatives to wheel locks could be used and would

SHO WHEEL LOCK ON PAGE 8

University considers fee waivers

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kunsan State Collegian

Certain K-State students could receive fee waivers for tuition in the next five

The university is considering implementing waivers for K-State employees. dependents of employees and graduate students, Vice President of Finance Tom Rawson said.

However, the only waivers that most likely will be presented to the Kansas Board of Regents in April will be based on need. Other waivers aren't as likely to appear for a while, Rawson said.

The purpose of the upcoming tuition increase is to build up the university's operating budget, Rawson said. Officials said they would like to do that before offering more waivers.

"It's a matter of priority," Rawson said. K-State is considering tuition hikes from 3 to 27 percent to keep up with costs of running a university. The increase will go into effect this fall and last for five

With the increases, need-based waivers will become important to the university, Faculty Senate President Cia Verschelden said. Officials estimated that 20 percent of the additional dollars will have to be kept back for financial aid.

"This university is committed to keeping its socio-economic make-up," Verschelden said. "That's not negotiable."

Faculty Senate has supported waivers for several years. Salaries at K-State are comparatively low at K-State, Verschelden said, and providing other benefits to faculty and staff would boost recruitment and retainment.

Before anything is implemented. Senate might form a committee to evaluate costs, how many people would be eligible for waivers and how many would take advantage of them. Verschelden said.

Graduate teaching and research assistants also could be eligible for waivers. K-State doesn't offer very competitive packages compared to other universities and often loses the best graduate students, Verschelden said. Those waivers will most

Sam WAIVERS on PAGE 8

WIBW claims K-State broke 1969 agreement

BY AMBER KOEHN

Kamasa State Collegian

K-State and Morris Communications

On March 29, in Riley County District Court, the two will debate radio station WIBW-AM 580's rights to broadcast K-State football games.

WIBW-AM, which is owned by Morris, is claiming that a 1969 agreement between the station and K-State gives them the right to broadcast the games, even though K-State signed a deal in December 2001 with a Wichita radio station, giving that station exclusive broadcasting rights.

K-State's deal with Mid-America Ag Network is expected to go into effect once K-State's current five-year football broadcast contract with WIBW-AM expires in

The 1969 agreement between K-State and WIBW-AM states how the university's radio station, KKSU-AM, and WIBW-AM are to share the 580 AM radio frequency, and that KKSU-AM 580 only can use the frequency from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays.

WIBW-AM officials said it has broadcast the football games since the 1950s, and because of the 1969 agreement, it can continue to do so, regardless of the new deal with the Wichita station.

The university disagreed, however, stating the agreement says nothing about WIBW-AM 580's rights to broadcast K-State football games, and that WIBW-AM should honor the agreement K-State made with

See BROADCAST on PAGE 8

"Monty Python's Meaning of Life" will play at 7 and 9:30 tonight in Forum Hall. Admission is

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the

III A dining etiquette workshop taught students how to conduct themselves in business eating situations Thursday night. www.kstatecollegian.com

LOCAL IN BRIEF

RCPD makes 3 arrests in connection with burglaries

A local thrift shop was used as a scapegoat to cover up local burglaries by three individuals. Four search warrants were issued by the Riley County Police Department on Wednesday to three different residences and one to a thrift shop.

Capt. Gary Grubbs said the warrants were issued due to an on-going investigation of past burglaries committed in the Manhattan and Riley County areas. He said the individuals involved in this burglary were using the thrift shop as a way to cover their criminal actions.

Charles Fleeker, thrift store owner. was arrested and charged with two counts of theft. His bond was set at $2,000. The warrant was executed at Fleeker's residence, 607 Pottawatomie Ave.

Two more search warrants were later executed at his thrift shop, 707 S. 10th, and at 619 Pottawatomie Ave., a residence owned by Fleeker.

Grubbs alleged that Fleeker was using the store to sell items he allegedly had stolen.

The RCPD also executed a search warrant at 1104 Yuma, Apt. B, where both Jerry Jones and Patricia Foy were arrested. Both were charged with possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia. Bond was set at $2,000 for each of them.

STATE IN BRIEF

Senate rejects bill limiting teen drivers' passengers

TOPEKA - Teens are safe for now in cruising around Kansas with a carload of friends.

The Senate rejected a bill Wednesday to restrict how many people can ride with young drivers.

The 21-8 vote against giving the bill first-round approval drops it to the bottom of the debate calendar, and it is unlikely to be reconsidered.

Under the bill, drivers aged 16 and 17 could have only one other minor passenger who is not a brother or sister unless they are going to school or school activities.

Senate tentatively approves school spending

TOPEKA - Senators on Thursday approved an increase in education spending, despite concerns that the state tacks the $12 million to pay for it.

The vote was 31-7. The proposed $20 per-pupil increase in state aid for public schools, to $3,890 a year, went to the

Gov. Bill Graves proposed the increase in January and fied it to his plan for $228 million in (ax increases. The Senate Education Committee endorsed the bill without specifying a source for the extra money.

During a debate on the bill, the Senate rejected a motion to return the bill to committee until the state's revenue forecast is updated March 8.

NATION IN BRIEF

Hindus set fire to Muslim neighborhood, kill at least 58

AHMADABAD, India - Angry Hindus set fire to homes in a Muslim neighborhood Thursday and then kept firefighters away for hours, dragging out one former lawmaker and burning him alive. At least 58 people died in revenge attacks triggered by a Muslim assault on a Police in the western Gujarat state appeared outnumbered or unwilling to act to quell what appeared to be the worst rioting to hit the country in nearly a decade.

The officers stood in bunches, watching as groups of Hindus, wielding iron rods and cans of gasoline or kerosene, roamed Ahmadabad attacking Muslims in their homes, shops and vehicles.

The government promised to send the army to Ahmadabad, the region's main city, to end the rampage, But there were fears the violence would spread Friday, when Hindu nationalists called for a nationwide strike.

Palestinian death toll over 1,000 in fighting with Israel

BALATA REFUGEE CAMP West Bank - The Israeli military attacked two West Bank refugee camps with helicopter gunships, tanks and paratroopers Thursday in a high stakes attempt to break strongholds of Palestinian militants. An Israeli soldier and 11 Palestinians were killed pushing the Palestinian toll past 1,000 in 17 months of fighting.

It was the first time Israeli troops have stormed refugee camps in the current Mideast conflict.

SHE said / HE said

Q: I drank to much last night and slept with a good friend. Things are weird now. How do I get back to normal? - Drunken Idiot

Dear Drunken Idiot:

Once you cross that fine line between friendship and sex, it's hard to go back.

Letting a person see you naked is a great deal of self-disclosure even when it's not a good friend. You obviously care about the friendship, so I would get the facts out in the open.

Talk about the night it happened. Discuss details such as how much you drank and how you ended up scrumping with each other.

Getting the act of passion out in the open should clear the air. Tell your friend how much the friendship means to you and that you want to continue as friends.

You can't expect everything to be normal right away. This person has seen you in your purist form. In time, the two of you will be buds again maybe not like before - but buds all the same.

Who knows your mistake could end up making you closer in the long run. Sarah is a junior in electronic journalism. hard to remain friends after the escapade. You can pretend it didn't happen, but it did. The nature of your friendship has now changed forever. There are only two options for your sexual history.

Dear Drunken Idiot:

with it.

Stuff like this happens all the time.

It is better this happened to you someone you barely know. The world people before you sleep with them, so knowing the person beforehand allows

You must remember that it will be we live in today requires us to boil

you to be more familiar with their

Now, it has happened to you. Deal with a friend rather than with consideration. The first option is to become drunken playmates. This allows all the benefits of a girlfriend without the headaches. The second option is to eradicate > this person from your life and forget they exist. These are the only two options. Pick one.

Derek is a senior in milling science.

Sarah Holladay

Derek Dietz

"He said, she said" is an advice column that will answer readers" questions about anything from relationships to advising. The column will be printed every Friday as a feature on page 2. Send your questions to advice@spub.ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of teed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run

■ The Apostolic Campus Ministry will meet at 7 p.m., March 4 at the Collegiate 4-H will meet at 7:30 p.m. March 4 at Waters 137. The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Doreen Comerford at 2:45 p.m. today in Bluemont 449.

■ Gold Key National Honor Society Executive Board will meet at 5:45 p.m. Sunday in Union 202.

KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301.

Applications for the 2002 Student Homecoming Committee are now available in the Office of Student Activities and Services or at the KSU State Alumni Association fourth Floor. Applications are due by March B. All students are welcomed to apply.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor. traffic rielations because of space

Riley County Wednesday, Feb. 27

At 11:11 a.m., Brandon Berry, Junction City, was arrested for criminal threat. Bond was set at $5,000

At 1:49 p.m., Nathan Herrick, 6258 Pidgeon Lane, was arrested for probation violation. No bond was set. At 2:46 p.m., Melissa Hargis, 1031 Pierre, was arrested for three counts of forgery. No bond was set. at 5:45 p.m., Melvin Barry, St. George, was arrested for battery. Bond was set at $1,500. At 11:43 p.m., Cna Edward Robinson, Fort Riley, was arrested for two counts of disorderly conduct. No bond was set.

Thursday, Feb. 28

At 12:07 a.m., Matthew Jones, 3000 Tuttle Creek Blvd, Apt. 333, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at

 ■ At 12:21 a.m., Jerry Jones, 1104 Yuma St., Apt. B, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance, possession of opiates or narcotics and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. III At 12:30 a.m., Charles Fleeker, 607 Pottawatomie Ave., was arrested for two counts of theft. No bond was

m At 1:05 a.m., Patricia Foy, 430 Moro St., was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance, possession of opiates or narcotics and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. At 2:10 a.m., Joshua Moyer, Hutchinson, was arrested for DUI. No bond was set. At 2:20 a.m., Christopher Harold 2008 Morningdale, was arrested for DUI, possession of simulated controlled substance and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set.

■ At 2:30 a.m., Walter Gray, 500 Sunset Ave., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. ■ At 2:30 a.m., Jennifer Tubbs, Fort Riley, was arrested for obstruction of the legal process. Bond was set at

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz

April Middleton

Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Zach Long Phata Director

Nicole Donnert

Dana Strongin

Paul Restivo

Katie Lane Presentation Editor Nancy Hull

Newsroom

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

ABE Editor

Sports Editor

Projects Editor

Alissa Duncan

Micah Hawkinson

532-6556

Jodi Fagerquist

Manager

CONTACT US BY PHONE

Kansas State Collegian

Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedsie 165 Manhattan Kan 56506 The Collegian is published weekshire storing the actual year and on Wednesdays during the samming Perturbed postage is part at Manhattan, Kan. 16002: PUSTMASTER Soul address charges to Kersen State Unifergues, excedition desk.

Kedzie 173, Manhietali, Kan, 66506-7167 C Kamas State Collegian, 2002

Display advertising

532-6560 Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints 532-6304

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

LET'S HELP OUR LOCAL CHARITIES.

Please consider a contribution to support our local charities.

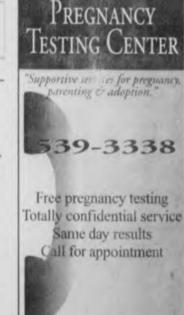

THINK GLOBALLY. ACT LOCALLY.

1800 Claflin Road

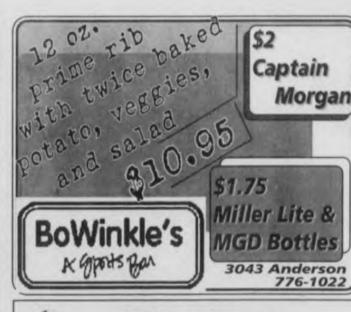

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Located across from compus in Anderson Village

Blue Key Scholarship Applications

are available in: Student Activities & Services and Office of Leadership Studies at 914 N. Manhattan

More than 18 Scholarships Criteria:

scholarship • leadership

+ jar2574@ksu.edu

service • 3.0 GPA Due March 1 at Office of Leadership Studies & Programs by 4 p.m. Questions? E-mail Jared Rose at ou didn't expect it. You didn't plan on it. You didn't even mean for it to happen. But stever your plan was, it didn't include being arrested. Sometimes, a lapse in adgment or the lack of planning can land you in jail. Then comes the question,"What now?" We can help by first getting you out, then working with you on your next step. If someone you know and care about finds life has just handed them a lemon, call us: Otherwise, save the grief and costs and plan for a Designated Driver if you are going to

AMERICAN EAGLE BAIL BONDS

Call Dan Bayes at 770-3164

www.counciltravel.com 1-800-2COUNCIL

Presidential candidates utilize space in Union to campaign

SGA

ELECTIONS

General elections will be

March 5 and 6.

"BY TARA PATTY

Kansas State Collegian

The end of the primary election Wednesday signaled the beginning of another round of campaigning for Matt Wolters and Zac Cook, the remaining student body presidential candidates.

The two now are focusing their attention on next week's general election.

Presidential and vice-presidential candidates had the opportunity to set up tables in the K-State Student Union on Thursday so they could interact with more students before the general elections. Candidates also may campaign at tables in the Union today and Monday.

"Our goal in the next five days is to talk to as many different students in as many different places as we can," Wolters said,

He said having the table in the Union goes along with their campaign goals.

"We want to share what we want to do with as many students as we can," Wolters said, "Setting up that table in the Union is an excellent opportunity."

Wolters said the interaction will help students put a face with a name and help increase understanding of the Wolters-Achilles platform beyond what students might read in the newspaper.

Cook set up a table in the Union Feb. 21, 22 and 25.

"Todd and I will be there Monday most of the time and hopefully students will get to meet us and know who we are," Cook said.

He said the effectiveness of the tables as a medium to reach students is limited because tables usually are used for solicita-

"Students are used to solicitors and so they walk by really fast and don't look," Cook said.

Cook said on a peak day, approximately 17,000 students walk through the Union. However, he said, usually they are on their way to class or some other destination and don't have time to stop and talk.

"I've found that the best way to reach students is to go to their place of residence," Cook said.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said the tables definitely attract the attention of students, especially those going into the Union Food Court.

However, he said many students already are informed about the upcoming election. He said the tables serve more to draw attention to the candidates

Student Body President Kyle Barker said that talking to students in the Union right before last year's general election helped him spread the word about his campaign.

"I got a chance to talk to students and be present in the Union," Barker

He said setting up a table also gave him the opportunity to remind students of the election in progress and express to students the importance and, in some cases, the procedure of voting.

Wolters said a presence in the Union could help with voter turnout. Voter turnout was low in the primary election, he said.

Sitting in the Union and talking to as many students as possible and getting those students to vote, he said, ideally will help elevate low numbers in the polls for the Cook said he thinks tables in the Union are unsatisfactory in motivating students to vote, and a more direct method such as a university-wide e-mail might be more effective.

"What encourages people to vote is hearing what candidates are proposing," Conrad said.

Candidates can communicate these issues in several ways, he said, and one of those is by being available to the public and being able to answer questions face to face with students.

"We talk to people, and I'm sure Matt does too, every day who don't even know the election is going on," Cook said.

PLACE TO CALL

MOORE Property Management 2002-2003 leases Close to Campus

1, 2, 3 and 4 bedroom apartments/ houses available. June and July leases available

30 & July 30. For more info call through May

537-0205

All Apartments within Walking Distance to Campus

ONE BEDROOMS

1022-1026 Sunset $345-385 1212 Thurston $440-460

1950-1960 Hunting $440-460

1837 College Heights $385

TWO BEDROOMS

1825-1829 College Hts. $600-700 Aggieville Penthouse Apts.

3 & 4 BEDROOMS

$610-750

1841 College Heights $780-980

kstatecollegian.com

Fat's Grill FRIDAY

$2.00 Bottles $4.50 Fishbowls SATURDAY

$2 Wells $2 Bottles SUNDAY

1/2 PRICE DRINKS

Call Today for an Appointment DIAMOND 1109 Hylton Heights 537-7701 Manhattan, KS 66502 WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY and NOW ON FRIDAYS

Season for Monviolence

*31 PRAISING

Appreciation helps people to grow.

Offer praise to at least three people today for their personal qualities, achievements, or helpful service.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

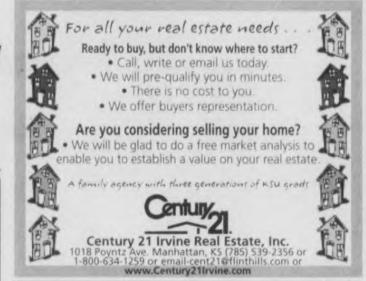

64 days 64 ways

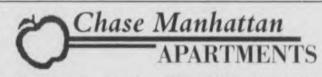

Kansas State University's Ebony Theatre

A Crying Shame by Javon Johnson

Tickets at McCain Box Office 785-532-6428

Thurs., Feb 28 and Fri., March 1 at 8 p.m. Sat., March 2 at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m.

is Now Leasing for the 2002-2003 School Year!

Apartments start at $490 per month

All Apartments Include:

·Microwave, Dishwasher, Garbage Disposal, Refrigerator and Stove • 24 Hour Fitness Facility and Laundry Care Center 24 Hour Emergency On-Call Maintenance On-Site Management • 1,2,3, and 4 Bedrooms Available

Call Chase Manhattan Apartments (785) 776-3663 (24 hours)

Park Place Apartments Cable Paid 1.2 & 3 Bedrooms 539-2951

Leasing Now For August

- Cambridge Square
- ·Sandstone Apts.
- •1114 Fremont •2000 College Hgts.
- •519 Osage
- •Fireplaces •Carports
- •Pool •Private Deck ·Laundry Facilities
- ·Large 2-bedroom

Units CALL NOW

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

Saturdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p

*Starting at $415

*Starting at $475 411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Students should not shift blame of own actions

You are having a bad day. You just failed a test, and now you're late to an appointment. You run to your car to find the last thing you wanted to see: a wheel lock.

The wheel lock is a sort of icon among K-State students. Most people

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official written after a majority opinion is

Jessica Pitts April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Nancy Huli

Dan Smith Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert Micah Hawkinson

hate them. The yellow devices are yelled at and kicked regularly, and this is understandable.

This does not mean Parking Services employees deserve the same treatment.

The folks who write tickets and call for wheel locks are not at fault. They are just doing their jobs. It's rude and childish to yell or harass them in any way.

If anyone is at fault, chances are it's the driver. We might or might not agree with parking regulations, but they exist, and we know about them. Anyone who really wants to avoid fines should walk or park in a permissible spot.

If you really feel the wheel lock was unfounded or you were excessively ticketed, it's right to speak with Parking Services. But the issue belongs to the management, not employees working in the lots.

Wheel locks are inconvenient and expensive, but don't bother people who are just trying to do their jobs.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions on topics relevant to the publication.

All that is required for evil to triumph is that good people do nothing. Journalist Daniel Pearl was a person who was trying to throw some light on evil and trying to do his part to prevent a triumph. He was not poking his nose in other people's business or other countries' business. Because in the world we live in today, it's all our business.

I agree with Sarah Coats. Who's editing the Fourum, and where's their mind?

To the guy on campus on the skateboard being towed by the truck - Marty McFly, man.

The janitor in Seaton is really hot. All the girls think so, and most of the guys

To Sarah R. Coats - thank you, thank you, thank you for saying a lot of things that many of us have silently been grumbling about for quite some time.

Bring back the mullet.

Pat Bosco, will you marry me?

I agree with Sarah Coats. What this paper and this country needs is more censorship.

Yeah, you just know when the world is just not right when QVC doesn't sell Mr. T necklaces. I mean, come on.

This is in response to the person who said it was OK to kill Daniel Pearl. First it was the U.S.'s business because he was investigating the terrorist connection. Second, so does that mean that it is OK for any country to kill someone if they are not a citizen or if they don't belong there?

Will you dorks from the dorms stop calling in and telling us about your pathetic dorm lives?

Mating Rituals

Library might be effective 'pickup' location

ood morning, class. It's Friday, so we're going to have a quick pop

Here's the question: What is the best place on campus to meet members of the opposite sex?

Time's up. Most of you probably guessed the K-State Student Union, the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex or one of the dining centers. If so, you're dead wrong. The answer is Hale Library.

That's right, go ahead and take notes. This is the most important thing you will have heard all week.

You know the library is a great place to study and do research. More importantly, it's the best place on campus to pick up hot chicks or (insert offensive sexist term for males here, if desired).

Wait a minute, you say? The library is boring, you say?

Au contraire, my mistaken friend. I was chilling there the other day, and I can confirm that it is indeed the "dopest joint" on campus. That place totally rocks. What with computers, microfilm, books and photocopiers, it's a wonder that the partying ever stops there.

It's a little-known fact that knowledge is an intoxicant. Imbibing a little bit of somethin'-somethin' from old Sophia's font is a lot like having more than 0-5 drinks when you party.

Knowledge gets rid of inhibitions and kills brain cells. The good part is that you've already paid for the use of the library via student fees. In other words, it's even cheaper than Natty Light, which is nothing to sneeze at.

This kind of party atmosphere is ideal for hitting on unsuspecting persons. They'll be much more likely to respond positively in the library than they would be in someplace like a bar. Most people go to bars just to be social, which is a real relationship-stifler.

If you need someone especially receptive, look for people reading books written by David Humethey'll be more wasted than our nation's precious natural resources. Hume's work has about the same effect on the average mind as a cocktail of Micah Hawkinson LSD, heroin and poor-quality erack cocaine

Use the library-induced lack of inhibitions to your advantage. In this altered state of consciousness, people often agree to things they would never think about outside of the den of wanton revelry that is Hale Library. Like going out with me, for instance.

Of course, that hasn't quite happened yet. I guess you can't get rid of all inhibitions. even with the intoxicating fumes of knowledge. But enough about me.

Here are some tips to ensure the success of your library hunting trip:

Use clever lines

view

A good pickup line is vital in obtaining a date.

For use in the library, many common lines require a little bit of custom tailoring to fit the environment. For example, it's advisable to change, "May I have your telephone number?" to, "May I have the ISBN of the book you are reading, or is it a pre-1970 edition? Ho bo, I have made a funny."

People in the library love hilarious jokes

Another good line is, "So is it just me, or is Hegel's reasoning circular... or should I say cyclical?"

Wow, that's witty. I don't see how it could possibly fail.

Look intelligent

People in libraries aren't always the smartest, but they generally like to think so. Looking smart is therefore a major advantage for date hunters in the library.

The best way to look smart is to get glasses. Whether you need them or not, they are a vital accessory. For added intelligence, put masking tape on them. Duct tape makes you look even more studious, but it's also harder to get the residue off your frames.

You should also neglect any personal hygienic habits you might have acquired, or at least do them in a less tidy manner. You can use the following equation to determine how intelligent you look: Slovenly=Smart.

Never make eye contact

If you do, your target will know you're in the library just to get dates. He or she will then commence to avoid you like a homeschooled kid at a keg party.

Following these suggestions will not necessarily get you any dates. If you're lucky, though, you might provide me with some much-needed amusement, which is better than any number of dates. Right? Of course

Micah is a junior in English and history. You can e-mail him at mph7686@ksu.edu.

SGA candidates campaign for wrong reasons

I hate sidewalk chalk

It makes our campus look like an trailer park, and for elections it only serves to give name recognition to candidates.

Vote for (insert candidate name here). Why?

To tell the truth, that really isn't important. They can say they're going to work on the parking problem or slow the tuition increase.

They aren't. In fact, if the candidates for student senate wanted to be truthful, they would just write "Vote for me because I want to put it on my résumé."

I would vote for that person in a heartbeat, just because I'd appreciate the honesty.

Having served on Student Senate myself, I can say from experience that a normal meeting consists of five people who care and about 60 people who are there only to put it on their résumés. These 60 people simply are waiting for the meeting to adjourn, so they can do better things with their evenings. For me, the better thing was drinking.

And even the people who care aren't really getting anything done.

Parking has been a problem at K-State since I came here four years ago. Every student body president and every student senator has said they want to be elected to help solve our parking quandary Four years later, there is still a problem.

Nothing has changed. We might have had a couple of surveys or studies, but the predicament still exists. The parking situation is going to be solved by one group of people - the K-State administration, not SGA.

That is the problem with student government. They promise solutions to problems Kyle Brownback they can't control.

Past student body presidents like Jake Worcester, Jason Heinrich and even Kyle Barker were great faces for the university. As far as accomplishing goals goes, I am really not sure. But nevertheless, when people thought about the K-State student body, they saw these people as their presidents. We only can hope that future student body presidents will do the same.

What about student senators?

After serving on Student Senate, I came to a great conclusion: There are much better ways to put things on your résumé than sitting through senate meetings. Personally, I suggest opinion writing. It gives you the opportunity to make a fool out of yourself in front of a much larger audience than senate ever could.

Volunteering for Big Brother-Big Sisters or the Manhattan Breadbasket is another way to get a better sense of self-worth than voting on an allocation to the KSU Aikido club will.

This isn't meant to discourage people from voting in the student elections next

Vote for candidates for the right reasons. Don't vote on the issues - vote for your friends or the people who are going to need to put it on their résumés.

I suggest voting for people majoring in political science or pre-law (both if applicable). These people are going to need résumé fillers the most.

The same thing should be said for student body presidential tickets. Don't vote on the issues. Vote for the cool ticket.

Other than that, you shouldn't expect much else.

So next week, when all of you are casting your ballots for student senators, go ahead and forget about where they stand on the issues, and just ask yourself this: Would this person have anything else better to do with their time?

Kyle is a senior in biochemistry and premedicine. You can e-mail him at krb4706@ksu.edu.

ELECTION

■ Continued from page 1

posters, banners and chalking. He also cited the distance rule, which states that no candidate can campaign inside or within 20 feet of the K-State Student Union or university computing labs on election day. He declined to say which candidates he thought were in violation.

An open hearing has been scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Monday in the OSAS to examine the complaints.

Conrad said he expected there to be some complaints after the committee decided to proceed with the election despite the write-in problem.

"We had anticipated this," he said. "It was clear that candidates were pretty upset by this issue." However, Conrad said he stands behind the committee's decision. "The committee feels pretty confident that the committee itself didn't do anything wrong," he said. "I do apologize on the behalf of the Karimi said he does not expect the election committee to completely throw out the election, but he would like an admission of

"I would like to see the truth be told that this election was run dirty and sloppily," he said. "I just feel like there's a lot of shady stuff going on in that office."

In Krasnoff's complaint, he said the ballots were not secure. Iballot.com allowed voters to change their votes and required them to use separate log-in identification numbers, he said.

Conrad said he did ask the vendor to remove that option, but the vendor said he could not comply.

Krasnoff, who attended Student Senate on Thursday to address these issues, said he wants the election thrown out.

"I want a full investigation of what happened," he said. "It's not an official election by any means. I'd like to see this whole thing redone and revoted."

He was concerned that election committee members ruling on complaints made against them was a conflict of interest.

"That's not objective at all," he said. "We need a third party to overlook it."

After listening to the complaints Monday, the committee will decide whether to make a recommendation to Student Senate or throw out the complaints entirely and proceed with the general election March 5 and 6.

If Karimi and Krasnoff disagree with the outcome of that meeting, they can appeal the decision to the campus tribunal.

Student Body President Kyle Barker, a member of the elections committee, said the committee would be objective.

"Let's take a step back and see the big picture and not blame the elections committee for something that has not been their fault," he said. "Let's not let things get out of hand.

"I know the committee is going to be fair and impartial."

Presidential candidate Matt Wolters, Wednesday's highest votegetter, said the election's results should stand.

"It's every person's right to file a complaint if they feel that at some point they were hurt by something during the election," he said. "It's very unfortunate that it happened, but when you examine it, it didn't help nor hurt anyone involved.

"For those reasons, the election was perfectly legitimate."

Candidate Zac Cook, who will face Wolters on Wednesday, agreed that the integrity of the election was not compromised.

"There's always some people who don't take the election seriously," he said, "But I don't think there needs to be another election.

Cook said he thinks iballot.com should reimburse some of SGA's

The remaining three tickets have until 5 p.m. Friday to contest the election.

www.kstatecollegian.com

FRIDAY • LENT SPECIAL 10¢ Shrimp $2.50 Catfish Sandwiches $4.50 Catfish Dinners 32 Margaritas

$2.50 Coronas 10¢ Shrimp WildcatTea

Wondering if you might be pregnant?

Stop by Birthright for a pregnancy test that is free, accurate, reliable, and confidential.

No appointment needed.

5 irthright of Manhattan inc.

206 S. 5th (785) 539-2555

eason for nviolence

#32 PATIENCE

According to Caesar Chavez, "Nonviolence is not inaction ... It is hard work ... It is the patience to win."

When your plans seemed delayed, choose to be patient by identifying at least three ways that you can constructively use this time to support your goal.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera

GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

MANHATTAN'S OLDIES. COUNTRY, SPORTS BAR NIGHT CLUB

2 year Anniversary

Friday 9 P.M.

THUNDER

HEART

FREE APPETIZER BAR 5-9 P.M. ALMOST LIVE KARAOKE

532-1279

Saturday

9 P.M. THUNDER HEART R.C. McGraws 2 yr. Anniversary T-shirts_ 4 FREE VACATIONS

2-year Anniversary drinks

Prize Giveaway starts at 7:00

EACH NIGHT

776-9588 • 2317 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Blue Hills Shopping Center

PERFORMA rchestra

program - Prokofiev's "Classical" Symphony: Stravinsky's "Song of the Nightingale" and Shostakovich's Fifth Symphony. The Philharmonic premiered eight of Shostakovich's symphonies, including the Fifth, and gave concerts without interruption even as its home city Leningrad was being evacuated during World War II. Recognized as having few peers among the world's outstanding symphonic ensembles, the St. Petersburg Philharmonic has a listinctive sound due in part to seating the first violins on the left; the seconds, on the right. Its concerts in Europe, North and South America, and the Far East have won it highest critical acclaim. leading the orchestra is Nikolai Alexeev, the orchestra's associate principal conductor and principal guest conductor of the Bolshoi Opera,

Sponsored by

MERCY HEALTH and CENTER

Performance preview presented in room 204 McCain at 6 p.m. by Dr. David Littrell

London City Opera The Merry Widow

Sunday, March 10 @ 7 p.m.

The plot is a zany as a Marx Brothers movie- to keep his tiny country from going bankrupt, the Pontevedrian ambassador to Paris must find a way to keep the wealthiest woman in the land from marrying a foreigner. Set in the city of lights in the late 1880's the "Merry Widow" caputres Paris at its gaiest - with champagne, can-can girls, secret rendevous and the fabled Maxim's. Join the London City Opera as it brings to McCain this crowd-pleasing tale of amorous intrigues sung and danced to the delicious melodies of Franz Lehar.

Sponsored by (41) Commerce Bank ice preview presented in room 204 McCain at 6 p.m. by Dr. Jean Sloope Call 785-532-6428 and charge your tickets to TSA, Mastercard, American Express or Discover from noon to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Order tickets online at www.ksu.edu/mccain.

Events, duter and times subject to change Funded & part by the Kuness Arts Commission, a state agency was not for the Arts, a federal agency, and the K-State Plac Arts Fe

JOCKEYING FOR POSITION

K-State's Larry Reid, right, tries to cut off Kansas' Aaron Miles on his way to the basket during the Wildcats' loss to the Jayhawks on Feb. 4 at Bramiage Collseum. K-State will close out the regular season at home against Nebraska on Saturday.

Wildcats battle for 7th in contest with Nebraska

Kansas State Callenia

Saturday's matchup with Nebraska won't determine an NIT or NCAA bid for K-State.

Even a .500 record for the Wildcats (11-15, 5-10) is out of the question at this point.

But the purple's regular-season finale just might decide how difficult K-State's road through the Big 12 Tournament could be.

"We still have a chance to finish in seventh place, and I think that would note a sense of accomplishment," Coach Jim Wooldridge said. . frustrating, but we've got to move on,"

Not only a sense of achievement, but a detour from facing No. 1 Kansas. A seventh seed in the tourney would put

K-State against the 10th seed, with the winner facing second-seed Oklahoma. Conversely, if the Cats landed an eighth or ninth seed, the winner of that game would face the top-seed layhawks. "Whoever plays them is in for a handful," Wooldridge said. And K-State's sure had enough of KU. The Hawks handily overpowered the purple in both meetings this year by an average of 31 points.

"In every area of the game, they're so strong," junior Matt Siebrandt said. "There's not too many teams that can say that. They're going to make some noise in March."

Kansas led by as many as 42 in its 101-68 romp of the Cats on Wednesday night at Allen Fieldhouse, as K-State committed 28 turnovers - 17 in the first half - and was

Saturday showdown

Nebraska (13-13, 6-9) at K-State (11-15, 5-10) When: 7:05 p.m. Saturday Where: Bramlage Collseum (13,340) Radio: Wildcat Radio Network (WIBW-AM 580) edged 23-2 in fast break points. KU also held a 38-point differential in points off turnovers.

"It's frustrating. There's no question it's Wooldridge said after the game. "We've got to get to Nebraska on Saturday, and we're playing. for something on Saturday. We've said all along we're trying to chip away in this league.

"We played the best team in the league tonight, and we were no match for them. So we've got to move on to Thursday and Friday and get ready for Nebraska on Saturday."

A win over Nebraska would put the Cats in position for the seventh-seed if a few other things occurred.

Colorado must lose to the Sooners in Boulder, and either Oklahoma State must defeat Texas A&M on Saturday as expected or Texas Tech must fall to Baylor. The Aggies are on an eight-game losing skid, while Oklahoma has won four straight.

Wooldridge said it's essential for his players to understand what's at stake this weekend against the Cornhuskers.

"They've got to know what's on the line for them," he said. "It's a very significant game."

Big 12 postseason tournament seedings hard nut to crack

You should have seen me Thursday

There I was, trying to slouch in my plastic office chair at work - you know, Conference. I was concentrating on one breaking ties in seeding for the postseason league tournament, which will take place

those out, considering there's a four-way tie for third place, and ties for eighth and Now, it's a good thing somebody wrote area in particular - the procedure for March 7-10 in Kansas City, Mo.

ninth positions as well.

the kind built to emphasize sifting through posture - rules and regulations

the Big 12

mandated by

Derek Boss

But after looking at this information. I thought up the great idea that - in addition to my story previewing the K-State/Nebraska game this weekend -I'd write up a graphic to give my faithful readers a breakdown of the men's seeding possibilities for the Big 12 tournament.

Two Gincoba pills - which apparently help you concentrate, I was told - and three hours later, I had second thoughts.

This stuff is whack, man.

I know the tie-breaker rules the conference issued are meant to make things easier, but all they did was melt my medulla oblongata.

So I took a deep breath. No. I wouldn't quit. My loyal fans were depending on this information.

OK, more like a couple people might read it, and the rest will look dumbfounded at the massive list of possi bilities and blurt out, 'Have you seen my baseball?

Yet, somehow I got through it, and I'm actually pretty confident my scenarios are legit. So check it out, and see if they match up after this weekend's games play out.

I know one thing for sure, though. I learned my lesson.

Leave this kind of stuff to retired old sports freaks (which I might just be one day down the road, I'll admit). But then again, that might be an aneurysm waiting to happen.

To heck with it.

Just pull the names out of a hat.

Derek is a junior in print and electronic journalism. You can e-mail him at dnb8765@ksu.edu.

Men's Big 12 Standings heading into Saturday's games

These are the conference standings with one league game remaining for each team. Five of the six contests left take place Saturday, while the Kansas/Missouri game is set for Sunday.

Results from these games will almost entire determine the field for this year's March 7-10 Big 12 Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., as only two and Oklahoma - No. 2.

1. Kansas	15-0
<ol><li>Oklahoma</li></ol>	12-3
3. Missouri	9-6
4. Oklahoma State	9-6
5. Texas Tech	9-6
6. Texas	9-6
7. Nebraska	6-9
8. Colorado	5-10
9. K-State	5-10
10. Iowa State	4-11
A.R. Bardin	4 4 4

K-State will finish seventh in the Big 12 if these three events occur:

a) The Wildcats defeat Nebraska Saturday b) Oklahoma tops Colorado in Boulder c) Oklahoma State downs Texas A&M; OR the Cowboys lose but Texas Tech also falls to Baylor

a) K-State defeats Nebraska, but Oklahoma State loses to A&M and Texas Tech defeats Baylor b) K-State downs the Huskers, but Colorado tops OU c) The Cats fall to Nebraska, and both lowa State and Baylor lose this weekend

a) The Wildcats lose to the Huskers, and Iowa State or Baylor - but not both teams - win Saturda

The Wildcats could drop as low as an 11th seed if: a) K-State is beaten by the Comhuskers, and both Iowa State and Baylor win its games

Golf to see ranked teams in Texas A&M tournament

Kannas State Collegion

K-State women's golf will see some of the toughest teams in the league this weekend in the Texas A&M Verizon Memorial Tournament.

"College golf is becoming more competitive," Coach Kristi Knight said. "The Big 12 and Big 10 are both major conferences and both appear even stronger than last year."

The No. 60 Wildcats also will see top 20 teams Ohio State (No. 6), Northwestern (No. 12) and Michigan State (No. 15). The Big 12 fills out the majority of the 18-team field, though with eight schools making the trip to Bryan, Texas.

The Cats got a glimpse of many of those teams during fall play, though, affording them a preview of the spring competition.

"We were able to see many of the Big 12 teams in the fall, so it will be exciting to see them again," sophomore Christine Boucher said. "We want to make an impact since we are hosting the Big 12 tournament this

Knight weighs the fact that the fall season counts as heavy as spring play, but admits it has an affect on how the team

"We put ourselves in a good position last fall," Knight said. "We need to follow up and play well because our schedule puts us up against the best teams in the region."

After a disappointment last weekend in Corpus Christi, Texas, Boucher and Knight are optimistic about the team's upcoming tournament.

"Last weekend was disappointing because we did not play as well as we are capable of playing" Knight said. "We need to use that as a motivating factor this weekend."

Boucher said she's focused on hitting the ball hard and playing a good game

"I don't know what to expect this weekend," she said. "I just hope I am hitting the ball well and hitting the green."

The Cats are carrying over confidence gained from last spring after the team made it to regionals for the first time.

'We are a great team if we all play well." Boucher said. "We are all expecting to win a tournament this season."

Knight acknowledges last year's success as a big step for the team and the program, but prefers to focus on upcoming tourna-

"Last year is last year," she said. "It brought us great confidence, but we can't sit back and bask in the success of last year.

More than anything, Knight said she's ready to get down to business.

"We have to go out this spring and get it done," Knight said. "I hope our past experiences will help the team."

Knight also stresses the importance of individual play. Each player must play for themselves and not worry about the other teams," she said. "We cannot control what other teams

The team goes into Sunday with strong strategies in mind while seeing Sunday as an opportunity to make up for last weekend's play.

"If they use their confidence and make good decisions in their game, we'll be fine," Knight said. "K-State has to take care of K-State."

Cats hope to end defensive woes over weekend

BY BEN FEHR

Kansan State Collegian

Weather has been a little stormy for the K-State baseball team lately.

The Wildcats have given up 35 runs in their last four games, losing three of four in last weekend's Homestead Challenge in Homestead, Fla.

As the Cats look toward the Wiregrass Classic in Dothan, Ala., this weekend, there will be an emphasis on fundamentals and defense.

Coach Mike Clark said his team needs to identify its position players and continue to improve fundamentally to get things where they need to

"Our problem is defense right now," Clark said. "We have to find people to take charge and claim positions. With as many new people as we have, it shouldn't be a shock we are struggling there, but we need to get it fixed."

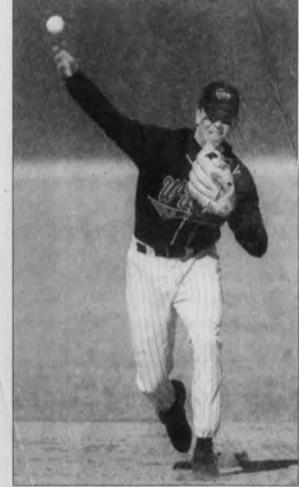

Clark also said the season is young. "It's early," he said.

"This is like spring training, but we still want to win every ballgame. The defense has been letting us down, but we are going to get that corrected and, hopefully, become a better defensive club by this weekend.'

But improvement on defense will be tough against the teams the Wildcats stand to see this weekend, Clark said.

'Kent State has a lot of power," Clark said. "Troy state will have 14 games under their belt when we play them, and Washington State is coming off of winning the Texas A&M invitational.

"These are all good teams." Coach Clark said beating these teams will mean relying on a pitching staff K-State has been able to fall back on all season long.

K-State.

"Pitching-wise I think we are putting the ball in the strike zone, and we have guys who are coming in with Hitting also has been very solid for showing the depth we thought we would have," Clark said. "We are the ability to snuff out rallies."

Brett Williams throws to first base during a game against Southern Nazarene at Tointon Family Stadium.

Kelly Glasscock/

Clark said improved patience at the plate will improve the Cats' ability to score runs. "Hitting-wise, we have the potential to be a very strong lineup," Clark said. "We are getting runners on, and we just need to do a better job of hitting them

See BASEBALL on PAGE 8

Invitations, thank-you notes vary with individual style

BY KAREN MIKOLS

Mansas State Collegian

If you ask them, they will come. Invitations are a vital part of planning one's wedding. They announce when the big day will be to friends and family.

Saving money is the foremost thing on many people's minds when choosing invitations, Inge Wilson, store manager of Copy Co.,

Engaged students said they agree.

"The price was the main consideration," said Amy Baughan, senior in nutrition and exercise science. "We learned that it was cheaper to put reception information in the corner of the card instead of having a separate reception card printed up.'

Baughan said that tactic saved about $100. An additional $50 to $60 was saved by not getting thank-you cards that matched the invitations.

"The thank-you cards from the store are nice and match the invitations but are not necessary," she said. "I guess if you were totally in love with your invitations, but we could do without them.

Another way to save a few dollars is for the couple to decide what they want on the cards and lay it out on a computer, Wilson said, and then taking the design to a printing shop and have the lettering put onto better paper.

"What I have noticed in the past year or so is that couples like to do a lot of stuff themselves so that they have a hand in it," Wilson sald. "They look for a special way to lay it out and conserve some money along the way.

"One couple had handwritten invitations. It was fun for them, and they saved money."

Janice Von Riesen from Campbell's China and Gifts said students are looking to save cash. but having individualistic invitations is trendy.

"Girls want to select something that reflects them," she said.

Time is another element that many couples take into considera-

Invitations usually are sent out four to six weeks prior to the ceremony, depending on whether guests will have to come in from out of town to attend the service, Von Riesen said.

Printing invitations can take anywhere from one day, if the couple is getting them copied from a design they made onto paper, to several weeks, if the invitation is complex.

"We were surprised how quickly the invitations came in," Baughan said. "They came in less than a week." Baughan said that with an August wedding date, she and her flancé wanted plenty of time to make sure the invitations were mistake free.

See INVITATIONS on PAGE 8

Blackburn - Dinkel

Tyson Blackburn, junior in accounting, and Karen Dinkel, junior in nutrition and exercise science, wish to announce their Tyson is the son of Warner and Rhnae Blackburn of Emporia, Kan., and Karen is the daughter of Ron and Vickie Dinkel of Empona, Kan.

The couple are planning an Aug. 10 wedding in Emporia, Kan.

Meek - Baughan

Marshall Meek, senior in public relations, and Amy Baughan, senior in nutrition and exercise science, wish to announce

Marshall is the son of Dr. Palmer and Marti Meek of Manhattan, Kan., and Amy is the daughter of Kirk and Laura Baughan of Greeley, Colo

The couple are planning an Aug. 9 wedding in Manhattan.

Lattimer - Williams

James Lattimer, senior in animal science and industry, and Heather Williams, senior in agricultural economics, wish to announce their engagement.

James is the son of Jim and Debbie Lattimer of Newton, Kan., and Heather is the daughter of Jay and Robin Williams of Mulvane, Kan

The couple are planning a May 25 wedding in Wichita, Kan.

Gaskill - Vollertsen

Trevor Gaskill, K-State graduate, and Shelly Vollertsen, senior in early childhood education, wish to announce their engage-

Trevor is the son of Rick and Susan Gaskill of Wichita, Kan., and Shelly is the daughter of Steve and Randa Vollertsen of Norton, Kan

The couple are planning a July 27 wedding in Manhattan.

Johnson - Zenger

Andy Johnson, senior in math education, and Becky Zenger, senior in agricultural communication and journalism, wish to announce their engage Andy is the son of Vaughan and Debbie Johnson of McPherson, Kan., and Becky is the daughter of Rex and Mitzi Zenger of Haddam, Kan.

The couple are planning a May 11 wedding in Manhattan.

Mady - Stallbaumer

Matthew Mady, senior in management, and Jill Stallbaumer, junior in nursing at the Baker School of Nursing, wish to announce Matthew is the son of Robert and Robin Mady of Overland Park, Kan., and Jill is the daughter of Jerry and Janet Stallbaumer of Seneca, Kan.

The couple are planning a June 1 wedding in St. Benedict, Kan.

Bernard - Whipple

Shay Bernard, senior in electrical engineering, and Andrea Whipple, senior in inestology, wish to announce their engage-

Shay is the son of William and Jenny Prichard of Topeka, Kan., and Lany and Julie Bernard of Russell, Kan. Andrea is the daughter of Sam and Carolyn Woltje of Wright, Kan., and Randy and Beverly Whipple of Dighton, Kan.

The couple are planning a May 31 wedding in Dodge City, Kan.

Lewis - Wootton

Wesley Lewis, junior in music education, and Deborah Wootton, senior in music education, wish to announce their engage

Wesley is the son of Wes and Elaine Lewis of Spring Lake, N.C., and Deborah is the daughter of Richard and Karen Wootton of Manhattan, Kan

The couple are planning a May 25 wedding in Manhattan, Kan.

Jansson - Volmer

Todd Jansson, junior in secondary education, history and political science, and Katie Volmer, junior in elementary education, with to announce their engagement.

Todd is the son of Jack and Mary Jo Jansson of Shawnee, Kan., and Katie is the daughter of Phil and Nancy Volmer of

The couple are planning an Aug. 10 wedding in Overland Park, Kan.

Millington - Herman

Bradli Millington and Robin Herman, senior in social science, wish to announce Bradli is the son of Dale and Jonni Millington of Burdett, Kan., and Robin is the daughter of Larry and Rose Herman of Topeka, Kan.

The couple are planning an August wedding in Topeka, Kan.

Gabel - Harwood

Greg Gabel, K-State graduate, and Ellen Harwood, senior in marketing and international business, wish to announce their

Greg is the son of Leroy and Sydney Gabel of Huntley, Mont., and Ellen is the daughter of Robert and Susan Harwood of

The couple are planning a July 20 wedding in Chanute, Kan.

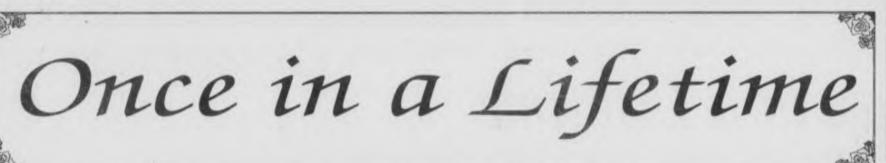

Oehme - Spangenberg

Kevin Dehme, senior in math education, and Nicole Spangenberg, senior in nursing at the University of Kansas Medical Center, wish to announce their engagement

Kevin is the son of Neil and Cathy Dehme of Liberal, Kan., and Nicole is the daughter of Edward and Janet Spangenberg of El Dorado, Kan.

The couple are planning a July 20 wedding in El Dorado, Kan.

TUXEDOS 7995 ANY Oscar de la Renta * After 6 Christian Dior

Spring Bridal Special

30% Off

Wedding Invitations Announcements

Let us help you choose china-crystal-flatware and gifts for your wedding attendants

Use our Bridal Registry

785)776-9067 5th & Poyntz Manhattan

In the past decade, 8135 customers have trusted Complete Music to entertain their guests, why not discover for yourself...

"It's the DJ that Makes the Difference!" TM

Locally serving all of Kansas! 800-755-3535

Check us out on-line at www.cmusic.com Visit our Kansas Regional Office at 8501 E. Hwy 24, Manhattan

Celebrations Budals 4th Heart 401 Poyntz Avenue Manhattan, KS 66502 785,587,1830 Duredo Rental For the special memories in life

Congratulations on the marriages of

Amber Jean and Nick Boos, Andrea Baier and David Byers - Feb. 2 Sherri Fisher and Chad Bosse - Feb. 9 Jenica Loether and Joel Schoonover - Feb. 16 Marcia Berggren and Jason Kahrs - Feb. 22 D.C. Auman and Jeremiah Hackerott - Feb. 27

FREEZE DRIED WEDDING BOUQUETS BY

FLOWER MARKET

4070 FT. RILEY BLVD. MANHATTAN (ACROSS FROM STAGG HILL GOLF COURSE)

CALL 776-9778 TO SET UP A FREE WEDDING CONSULTATION

WE FREEZE DRY FRESH BOUQUETS TOO

Wedding Invitations 30% Off

Full line of bridal jewelry and engraved attendants' gifts. Napkin printing available.

776-7547 * 318 Poyntz * Manhattan M-TH 9:30-8 p.m. • F-SAT 9:30-6 p.m. SUN noon-5 p.m.

Ketterl - Williams

Jason Ketterl, senior in agricultural education, and Megan Williams, senior in family studies and human services, wish to announce their engagement.

Jason is the son of Vernon and Kan Ketterl of Herndon, Kan., and Megan is the daughter of Marcia and Kent Williams of

The couple are planning an Aug. 3 wedding in Topeka.

INVITATIONS

■ Continued from page 7

"If there is a problem, there was

When having invitations printed,

it is essential to know the time, date and place, Wilson said. It also is important to be sure that all of the facts are correct, the right time and plenty of time to get it fixed," she

Rippel - Pantelleria

Brian Rippel, senior in construction science management, and Laura Pantelleria, senior in mechanical engineering, wish to announce their engagement. Brian is the son of Stan and Susie Rippel of Belle Plaine, Kan., and Laura is the daughter of Joe and Linda Pantelleria of Overland Park, Kan, The couple are planning a June 1 wedding in Overland Park, Kan.

Other considerations, such as important to take into account. Von type style and color of ink, are

Zerger - Stohs

Nell Zerger, senior in kinesiology, and Ginny Stohs, K-State graduate, wish to announce their engagement. Neil is the son of Joe and Bev Zerger of McPherson, Kan., and Ginny is the daughter of Kenneth and Jeanne Stohs of Hanover,

The couple are planning a May 25 wedding in Hanover, Kan.

There also are specific ways, Von

The final part of the invitations are the thank-you notes. Von Riesen said they are an important part of

"It's very necessary that you send

Riesen said. "Also be sure to order plenty of invitations the first time so you don't have to reorder," she said.

Many couples send reception and response cards in the invitation. If a large number of out-of-town guests. will be coming, Wilson said, it would be a good idea to include a small map of where the wedding is along with a list of possible accommodation places.

Riesen said to stuff the envelopes when they are ready to be mailed. If the couple is unsure, they should check with where they purchased the cards from or ask at a bridal shop.

wedding.

thank you notes," she said. "You must do it as soon as possible. Don't put it off. You need to indicate to your guests that you're very pleased."

BASEBALL

names spelled correctly.

said.

Continued from page 6

where they're not and being more patient at the plate."

One Wildcat hitting them where they are not is junior Gabe Luttrell. Luttrell went four for five last weekend against Florida International and is carrying a

.433 batting average. "Confidence is up even though we had some tough losses last weekend," Luttrell said. "We just need to eliminate the small errors we've been making."

Friday's starting pitcher Brock Smith agrees and said the little mistakes have been costing K-State.

"It's time to clean things up," Smith said. "Once we get the right nine out ther, we're going to be a tough team to beat. We just have to start making the routine

"We have been getting some runs put up against us, but this weekend, pitching is going to quiet the storm."

K-STATE'S

Friday, March 1 - 2:30 p.m #35 LHP Brock Smith (1-0, 2.08 ERA, 8.2 IP, 8 Strikeouts)

#13 RHP Kevin Melche (1-1, 7.27 ERA, 8.2 IP, 7 Strikeouts)

Sunday, March 3 - 11 a.m.

Saturday, March 2 - 1 p.m.

PROJECTED

(0-1, 3.14 ERA, 14.1 IP, 17 Strikeouts)

WHEEL LOCK

Continued from page 1

be just as effective.

"It just seems like there should be something easier than wheel locks," he said.

Abbott said wheel locks are preferable to towings because towing cars is more expensive and inconve-

"Towing cars take cars to another location that's out of our hands," he said. "At least a wheel lock is a recoverable thing."

Abbott said students are eligible for wheel locks if they have 3 late tickets or five outstanding tickets. He said a police officer is present when wheel locks are implemented to avoid physical harm to Parking Service workers because students understandably get irritated.

Thompson said he's noticed some frustration from students

Zach Long/

Tiffany Lee, senior in business and theater, tries to find a phone number on a sticker notifying her that a wheel lock has been placed on the vehicle. Lee's brother, Calvin Lee, 13, of Junction City, waits in the car.

complaining about fines and wheel

"I've noticed some people say some not very nice things to the workers," he said. "But they don't even respond." Thompson said in order to avoid getting fines and wheel locks in the future, he's adjusted his driving routine.

"I don't even deal with it anymore," he said. "I just park at the Union or car pool with my friends. It's a lot easier that way.'

WAIVERS

Continued from page 1

likely be put into effect before faculty's, she said. Brett Randall, graduate student in mechanical engineering, has taught and researched at K-State. He said he supports the waivers, especially for students who teach.

"You're working in the department, and it's nice for the university to show its appreciation besides just a paycheck," he said. "You're helping them out, and they should return the favor."

Randall said it would probably increase enrollment.

"Especially for out-of-state students, it would definitely provide increased incentive to come here," he said. "It would have a positive impact on enrollment."

Also on the table is offering dependents of employees reduced

Verschelden said she supports that and would like to see a regentwide system implemented. So, if her son wants to leave home and attend the University of Kansas, he could receive the same waivers.

However, Regent Bill Docking said universities should proceed with caution.

"We should go really slow in that area. We need to be very careful in granting tuition waivers to people who are not directly affiliated with the university." he said. "I personally view that skeptically.

Emporia State University and Pittsburg State University have both discussed offering waivers to students from contiguous counties, or border counties. Rawson said K-State is not considering this.

Docking said the board wants each university to come up with a plan that meets its needs. Whatever waivers they offer should benefit their students.

"We would like the campuses to look at their situation locally. Our campuses are very different," he said. "An overall tuition policy needs to be developed and then a waiver system. Not the other way around."

BROADCAST

Continued from page 1

the Wichita station.

University attorney Richard Seaton said the 1969 time-share agreement is the main issue.

"The central issue in the case is how to interpret the agreement," he said. "The FCC required the agreement because both stations are on the time-share aspect, only on the rights to broadcast sporting

"They're claiming they have the right to broadcast the games, but the agreement doesn't give them any sports broadcasting rights at all," Seaton said. "The agreement just divides up time on the frequency."

Seaton said WIBW was out-bid by Mid-America, and that if the station would have won the bidding process, things would be different.

"They didn't submit the winning this," Seaton said. "If they had succeeded, we wouldn't be doing any litigating."

Sources indicate K-State's deal with Mid-America is worth close to $1.2 million per year, or $6 million for the entire five years. WIBW's bid was close to $600,000 a year, which was twice what it had been paying for rights.

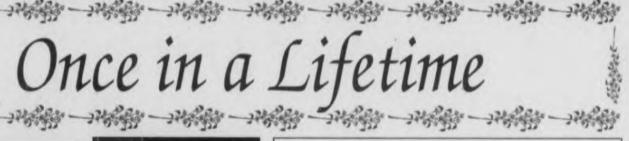

"If the judge in the hearing rules in our favor, we will proceed with our arrangement with Mid-America, and also continue the time-share agreement we have with WIBW," Seaton said.

got memories? licensed to the 580 AM frequency." Seaton said WIBW's interpretation of the agreement didn't focus bid, and that is the reason for all

First, Check the Collegian Classifieds.

103 Kedzie Hall • 532-6555

Give us yeur epinien. Campus F9urum: 395-4444

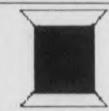

Lace or smooth Backless 32-40 (A-D) Detachable Garters Patricia s

Lingerie BRIDAL REGISTRY

M-Th 10-7 Pri-Sai 10-5

COME IN TO SEE OUR EXPANSIO 407 Poyntz Ave • 537-7677 • Mon-Fri 10-6, Sat 10-5 • Toll free #886-763-2001

FEOMETRICS

Perfect Stitches Tailoring

Alterations and Dry Cleaning

219 S. 4th Manhattan, KS (785) 776-6912 Susan Pickett

www.kstatecollegian.com

IDEAL CLEANERS

Wedding Attire Specialists in Leather Cleaning and Repair

BILL ANDERSON

1206 / Moro Manhattan, Kansas 66502

It's Kistner's Flowers on your special day.

when quality, experience and professional service are so important.

FREE WEDDING CONSULTATIONS 28 Years Experience

Kistner's

Flowers and Greenhouse 1 mile south of the Mall on Highway 177 South 776-7989 776-7044

You have a ring and a date. All that's missing is a timeless portrait from that will capture your love forever.

Reflections Photography

Call 539-1550 before March 15th and save the session of your choice.

50% off

lighting?

16 Especially 55 Tray

15 Hr. portion

18 Prior

20 Track

22- up down night

19"Beat the Clock" challenge

(excited)

23 Poor part of town

27 Commercials

29 Dull

31 Com 34 Avid

35 Secret

climber 38 Hammer-

head part

STUMPED?

37 Wall

Joplin's

contents squares

56 Trivial

57 Type

58 Allow

DOWN

1 "Daisy

Miller

writer

10 Parking

11 Away from

17 Golden

Rule

word

21 Director

Elia

Solution time: 28 mins.

23 Goes no further

WSW

space?

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

33 Lemieux

milieu

LaSalle

measure

40 Accustom

42 Intriguing

43 Enter-

44 Correct

45 Hinge

46 Work

units

48 Kreskin's claim

model

your

head

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 992 per minute, touch tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

F W W L N 11Z B F Q O J Z .

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: WHY WAS NIGHT BASEBALL CREATED? IS IT BECAUSE BATS OPT

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: W equals D

CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 538475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, if will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 11 Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to

JB

TO SLEEP DURING THE DAY

BPNULN

DPW UOKMLW. OY TPQ

TDOID

49 Jaguar

37 Tailor's

36 Actor

41 "Lion King" 2 Kicking Different sounds 1 Mayo partner baddie holder 45 Wash 3 Actress 4 Horned 26 Mal Zellweger 47 Parisian viper 7 Jonah's 28 Cozy 48 State hideaway 5 Fractions room 30 Ms. Sills, 12 Milwaukee 6 Resenttreasury 52 Wiretap product ment intimates 13 Sundial 53 Toaster's 7 Be patient notation 8 "48 word 14 Bad 54 Scott 9 Thus

Oregon band combines punk, country music

BY CASSIDY HILL Knnsas State Collegian

ggieville will sound a little like the west coast when the Oregon band, Richmond Fontaine jazzes up Auntie Mae's Parlor.

The band, Richmond Fontaine, will perform around 10 p.m. Sunday at Auntie

Rhonda Kay Lyne, graduate student in grain science, said Auntie Mae's is charging a $1 cover charge. Lyne said she thinks K-State students will enjoy the group because the band's music resembles the works of Uncle

"Richmond Fontaine's music combines punk with country and folk singing," Lyne said. "Their newest compact disc release, which is titled, 'Winnemucca,' is a little more slower than their previous release.

"Whiskey, Painkillers and Speed" is the title of the group's second most recent release, and it contains slightly harder music than "Winnemucca." "Whiskey, Painkillers and Speed" was released in 2000, and "Winnemucca" will be available to buy on March 5, Lyne said.

She said she believes the group will play mostly their faster songs at Auntie Mae's, but they also will include some of their slower new

The band consists of four performers: Paul Brainard, pedal steel and vocals; Dave Harding, bass; Sean Oldham, drums; and Willy Vlautin, lead singer.

As part of a five-week tour, the members of Richmond Fontaine are traveling to Kansas to perform in both Manhattan and Lawrence. The band members are touring down to Austin, Texas, before heading back to their hometown of Portland, Ore., band publicist Jesse Emerson

Emerson said this five-week tour is the biggest tour they have done, and said the group is off to a good start.

"Richmond Fontaine just started their tour on Friday in San Francisco," Emerson said. "The concert sold out, and the band had to turn some fans away."

Emerson said the group plays at music renues and clubs in Oregon and is liked by many local fans, but he is unsure about what the rest of the country will think. "It is a lot easier to schedule a tour that is going to the east or west coast because there are bigger cities than in the middle of the country," Emerson said.

Matt Pemberton, bartender at Auntie Mae's, has never seen Richmond Fontaine play live but said the band has a reputation for energetic shows. "They are a rock and roll band for the most part, but they also have pedal and country sound," Pemberton said.

"I really like their music, and I think that if students like progressive country then they will definitely like this group."

Performance time

Richmond Fontaine will perform around 10 p.m. Sunday at Annie Mae's. Their new album, "Winnemucca" is for sale at www.richmondfontaine.com for $13.

MOVIE TIMES

"The mass of men live thier lives in quiet desperation."

SETH CHILDS CINEMAS

"We Were Soldiers" 4 p.m., 7 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Quote of the day

"Collateral Damage"

"Queen of the Damned" 4:35 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 9:45 p.m.

"Dragon Fly" 4:20 p.m., 7:15 p.m. and 9:35 p.m.

"In the Bedroom" 4:10 p.m., 7:05 p.m. and 9:55 p.m. 4:45 p.m., 7:10 p.m. and 9 p.m.

4:10 p.m., 7 p.m. and 9:45 p.m. "Count of Monte Cristo"

"Hart's War"

- Henry David Thoreau, writer

"Crossroads" 4:30 p.m., 7:10 p.m. and 9:25 p.m.

"Black Hawk Down' 4 p.m., 7 p.m. and 10 p.m.

"John-Q" 4:10 p.m., 7:05 p.m. and 9:40 p.m.

4:25 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and

Movies at Seth Childs Cinemas are $4.50 for matmees and $7 for evening shows.

Russian orchestra to perform in McCain

Kansas State Collegian

Russia's oldest symphony orchestra, the St. Petersburg Philharmonic Orchestra, will perform at 7 p.m. Sunday in McCain Auditorium. The orchestra, which began in 1882, is internationally recognized as one of the world's premier symphonic

"I've been waiting for 15 years to get an orchestra like this to come to McCain," Richard Martin, director of McCain Auditorium, said. "This is a world-class orchestra.'

Martin, who lived in Russia for a little more than two years, has heard the orchestra many times and said there is something different about their sound.

"This is absolute artistic excellence," Martin said. "Any good orchestra, at this level, can play anything, but there's something

Tickets to the show

The St. Petersburg Philharmonic Orchestra will perform at 7 p.m. Sunday at McCain Auditorium. Tickets are $18-$20 for students and children and $36-$40 for the general public and are available at the McCain Box Office, 532-6428 different about the way. they play."

The ensemble has toured in Europe, Japan, the United States and South America. February marked the first time the ensemble played in the United States since 1998.

Martin stressed the importance of tradition to the ensemble's success. He said having the same conductor, Evgeny Mravinsky, for 50 years made all the difference in the world. Plus, Mravinsky was succeeded by his assistant, who carried on the tradition.

That strong sense of tradition, coupled with the fact that St. Petersburg is the home of the Rimskyconservatory that has a long history of educating musicians, has led to the orchestra's success, Martin said.

"The most talented students out of the conservatory want to play for St. Petersburg," Martin said. "They will attract the best.

The orchestra's conductor, Nikolai Alexeev, is a product of the conservatory. Alexeev began his training at the conservatory when he was 7 years old. This was the start of a career that led to countless awards and appointments to conduct orchestras that perform all over the world. David Littrell, distinguished professor of music and conductor of the K-State Orchestra, will give the pre-performance lecture at 6 p.m. in McCain 204. Littrell will discuss the orchestra in general, preview the pieces they will perform and give background information about the Littrell said that the ensemble will the 20th century, and he agrees with Martin that attending this concert is an extraordinary opportunity for K-State students.

"This is a tremendous opportunity," Littrell said. "Here in Manhattan, you don't get to hear something like this very often."

Martin said he would urge students to get out and take advantage of this opportunity.

"It's an aesthetic experience and it's soul satisfying," Martin said. "The opportunity is here for you. It's part of experiencing a wealth of intellectual opportunity and that's what college is all about."

Additionally, Martin said be believes that entertainment of this quality doesn't come around very

"This one is really something," Martin said. "We're not going to see these guys here again. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity."

isdirection

BUT, WHEN I PICKED IT UP, THE THINK STARTED PECKIN FLESH OFF MY HAND, TURNS NT IT WASH'T DEAD AFTER AL

Kansas State Collegian

A long-standing tradition of the Department of Animal Sciences and Industry continues today with the 89th Annual K-State Cattlemen's Day.

The department sponsors this event each year to provide updated information on research and education in the agricultural industry.

"This makes known to producers in the state of the latest findings that can be employed to use in beef production," said Miles Mckee, professor in the Department of Animal Sciences and Industry.

McKee said over the years, the department has learned new things that have provided for more efficient beef production.

Feature speakers will talk about several topics ranging from diseases and security, tools and technologies and even fly control. Sen. Pat Roberts will discuss biosecurity and food safety issues for cattlemen.

Mike 4th Annual Graduate Student Poster Competition. The students will be judged on their

Cattlemen

Cattlemen's Day will begin at 8 a.m. and the final event will be the Special "K" Bull & Heifer Sale at 4:30 p.m. For more information, look online at www.oznet.ksu.edu/pr_cattleday/.

ability to present their research to cattle producers.

One of the 16 student committees from the Livestock Sales Management class is in charge of sharing information and encouraging people to attend the Special "K" Bull and Heifer Sale.

Students from the Livestock Sales Management class are responsible for conducting the sale with the guidance of faculty members.

They organize the sale, arrange advertising and prepare the animals and arena. The only part of the sale not completed by students is the auction.

"It's a learning experience for the students," said Kenton McKee, junior in animal sciences and industry.

This year's sale has 75 performance-tested yearling Angus, Hereford and Simmental bulls and a group of selected heifer prospects. The animals being sold are university-raised. All money collected from the sale goes back to the department.

Gerry Kuhl, extension feed lot specialist, said he invites anyone interested to attend. He said the event will offer detailed information on specific topics and opportunities to observe and do handson activities.

"Students have worked hard for the last couple of weeks," said Schlickau, "We have been ironing out the details to make the sale a success.

Give us your opinion.

Campus Fourum: 395-4444

Religion Directory

First Bap ist Church Sunday Worship 11 a.m.

Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within city limits, call the church. Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd.

539-8691 An American Baptist Congregation

ST. MARY MAGDALENE ORTHODOX CHRISTIAN MISSION

ECM Bldg. 1021 Denison, 2 South 539-3440 Services: Divine Liturgy 9:30 AM Saturdays in the ECM Nave Visit the K-State OCF webpage at www.ksu.edu/orthodox

College Bible Study

Varney's Book Store - Upstairs

"Keys for Successful Living" Led by Joe McGraw

Sunday 9:30 a.m.

Horticultural

* Services

ECM Christian Explorers

> Overnight Retreat Starting Saturday Noon

No Food, Fun, & Fellowship this week Bible Study Monday, 8 p.m.

OR Wednesday, 4 p.m. 1021 Denison Ave.

FIRST UNITED

METHODIST CHURCH

612 Poyntz • 776-8821

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m.

Church School all ages 9:45 a.m.

Pastors: Jim Reed, Jan Todd.

Ken Wills, & Mitch Todd

fumc@flinthills.com

www.flinthills.com/~fume

St. Luke's

Lutheran

330 Sunset Avenue

Traditional Worship 6:00 p.m.

Traditional Worship 8:30 a.m.

College Bible Study 9:45 a.m.

Campus Pastor - Eric Wood

Contemporary Worship 11:00 a.m.

Email: campusmn@flinthills.com

M-Sat 9-6

Sun 12-6

Church

(785) 539-2604

Open House

March 2 & 3

Lots of Displays - Expert Advice

Statuary 15% off (some exclusions)

Selected Houseplants 20-25% off

Candles 15% off

Other In Store Specials!

32nd Year 2 mi E. of Manhattan on Hwy. 24

Now Leasing for August • Save this ad to check out your next Apartment Model showings * 3/4/02 - 3/7/02

Premium Cypress Mulch 3 cu.ft. S4.99

Garden | Center 776-5764

Spring

Saturday

Sunday-

Tuesday-Thursday 10:00 p.m. Friday 12:10 p.m. Saturday 5 p.m. Sunday 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. Sun. 4:30 p.m., 6 p.m.

711 Denison 539-7496

MASS SCHEDULE

Father Keith Weber, Chaplain

Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan

481 Zeundale Road, (South on K-17) across viaduct, left on K-18 1/2 mile Program each Storday at 111.45 a.m. Religiou education classes for youth Day care for todiffers The Rev David Grion ation call (785) 537-2349

Lutheran Campus

Ministry at Luther House 1745 Anderson Sunday Evening Worship

7:00 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel

www.ksu.edu/lcm-elca Pastor Jayne Thompson pastorj@ksu.edu) 539-4451 Open to All

FIRST LUTHERAN

10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship

Sat. 5:30 p.m., Sun. 8:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

JOIN THE DIRECTORY. YOUR CHURCH COULD BE HERE.

Call Alissa at 532-6560

CALVARY CHAPEL OF MANUATTAN

Sunday Service - 10:00 a.m. 1961 Strong Ave.

Come Just As You Are Contemporary Worship Very Casual Atmosphere Solid Verse By Verse Bible Teaching

> Pastor Dade Ronar 785-539-366 ccofmanhattan a kscable con

Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church Missouri Synod 776-2227

9 a.m. Sunday School & Bible Class

10:30 a.m. Divine Worship Service

KSU - DANFORTH CHAPEL christluth.@networksplus.net

Grace

Baptist Church

2901 Dickens - 2 blks, E. of Seth Child

♦ Sunday ♦ Morning Worship 8:15 & 10:45 a.m.

Bible Classes For All Ages 9:30 a.m. evening Service or Care Cells 6 p.m. 776-0424

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday Worships 9:45, 11:00 $ 12:15

College Minister Natalie Holdren College Bible Study & Free Food Sunday 7:30-9:00 p.m. 776-5440 Blue Valley

Memorial UMC 835 Church St. 539 - 8790 Worship: Sat. 5:30 p.m/Sun. 10:30 a.m. Free food first Sun. of the month.

e-mail: revs2@flinthills.com Rev: Dr. E. Carolyn Wills Manhattan Baptist Church

Independent Services Sunday

10 a.m. Bible Study 11 a.m. Morning Service 6:30 p.m. Evening Service Wednesday

7 p.m. Evening Service 510 Tuttle Street 776-9069

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH

College and Young Married Couples: Sunday School @ 9:30 & 11:00AM

Youth Ministry Opportunities College Pastor: David Kinnan

> Senior Pastor: David Thoma 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

NIOL THE DIRECTORY

Call 532-6560

First Presbyterian Church

Sunday Schedule

Worship at 9:15 a.m. Sunday School for all at 9:15 a.m.

Worship 10:30 a.m. Nursery provided all morning www.firstpresmanhattan.com 801 Leavenworth St. + 537-0518

Mt. Zion Church of God in Christ

Service Times

Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:30 a.m. Wednesday Bible Study 7:30 p.m. Friday Joy Night 7:30 p.m.

916 Yuma Street Supt. Caleb J. Weathersby, Pastor 785-587-9140

You are welcome at

First Assembly of God

Weekly Schedule of Services

Sunday

Wednesday

Sunday School 9:00 a.m. Worship Services 10:00 a.m. Children's Church 10:00 a.m. Worship Choir 4.00 p.m. Evening Warship 6:00 p.m.

All ministries begin at 7:00 p.m. . Prayer Meeting Youth Group (grades 7-12) Royal Rangers (Boys Club)

Chi Alpha 8:00 p.m. Christian Fellowship for College Students (KSU Little Theater)

Nursery Provided for All Services

Rev. Todd Weston, Pastor 2310 Candlewood Dr. Manhattan, KS (785) 537-7633 www.manhattanag.org

ATTENTION

their Annual New Members Meeting

Monday, March 4, 9:00pm

Union Room 207

· Men and women of all skill levels welcome

Looking to fill Varsity spots

• Formation of the KSU Wakeboard Team at the meeting for more information, e-mail nrh8695@ksu.edu

QUITTING BUSINESS

Leather  $oldsymbol{D}$ irect & the sports stop

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER (Sears Wing) SALE DOORS ARE NOW OPEN MON.-SAT. 10-9 SUN. 12-6

FINAL DAYS!

Now everything Storewide

40-90% off

TOO MANY DEALS TO EVEN BEGIN TO LIST. Every item in the store marked down for immediate sale. WHEN IT'S GONE, IT'S GONE!

55th Anniversary Alpha Chi Omega Alumni Formal

The women of Alpha Chi Omega are celebrating their 55th year of being part of the Greek system at Kansas State. This event will take place on March 2, 2002, at the Wareham on Poyntz. Actives and Alumni will gather together to share in the important occasion. The Alumni have continued to give support to the Gamma Zeta chapter of Alpha Chi Omega even

We would like to thank them and welcome them home.

The Women of Kappa Delta would like to invite the following guests to Emerald Ball Formal

Eric Anaya Brad Bauer Tom Bauer Joe Bond Ponald Bratton Sheldon Buck Andrew Burger Tanner Clagget Ross Clurman Cody Cox

Pustin Ehrlich

Russel Jelineth Mike Jensen Colby Kooser Ryan LeCluyse Paul Levine Heath Mallicoat Jordan Martincia Chris McKinng ben Mitchel Mike Morris Jeremy Oborny

Brent Rugan Casey Hertzenberg B.J. Sandmann Ryan Jasperson Chad Schamberger Seth Schmedemann Ryan Schoonover Chad Simmons Jon Smajda Matt Spangler Pustin Stevens

Brandon Sullivan Tara Townsleigh Cody Tubbs Taco Wallace Nathan Whitney Ben Williams

Brandon Wilson Travis Wymer Ben York

B.C. Elliott Andy Gill Kyle Ginavan Chris Graham Cy Grindle

Ryan Platt

Loren Hammond

Bedroom 526 N. 14th MOORE Mon. 3/4 3:00-4:30 p.m. #4 Property Wed. 3/6 5:00-6:30 p.m. #15 Management Sat. 3/9 11:30-12:30 p.m. #1 2 Bedroom 526 N. 14th

All locations close to campus. Trash & water paid.

Full time maintenance Electric Central Heat & Air

For more info call 537-0205 Fri. 3/8 4:30-5:30 p.m. #6 Sat. 3/9 1:30-2:30 p.m. #3 1010 Thurston Tue. 3/5 2:00-3:30 p.m. #9 Thur. 3/7 3:30-5:00 p.m. #8 Fri. 3/8 1:30-2:30 p.m. #5 Sat. 3/9 3:00-4:00 p.m. #11 1215 Bertrand Tue. 3/5 4:00-5:30 p.m. #9 Thur. 3/7 1:30-3:00 p.m. #10 Fri. 3/8 3:00-4:00 pm. #5 Sat. 3/9 4:30-5:30 p.m. #2

Mon. 3/4 5:00-6:30 p.m. #3

Wed. 3/6 3:00-4:30 p.m. #4

Clayton Abbott Scott Hass Nick Renner Lance Hein Michael Roush

Chad Herman Chase Pavis Tad Prescher Cameron Duong

Brandon Owsten Sol Pettit-Scott Mike Phillips Wes Pike

after their days on this campus have ended.

105

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

NEED TO RENT. As soon as possible, by April 1. Two-bedroom, 1832 Claffin Apartment 8. Close to campus. $490 per month. Call Matt at

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

AVAILABLE LEASES now four-bedrooms close campus. Alliance (785)539-4357 Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO campus one apartments. Central air, Available August

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August Deluxe two-bed-room apartment, 1230 Cla-350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice. large one-bedroom apart-ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, faundromat, $340. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid, $545- $585/ month, (785)341-4496.

010

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

or weekend classes availa-

www.bartendingcollege.

25 years experience

ehuckharper@msn.com

177 South Haircuts $8.

Lost and Found

020

(785)395-4500

Personals

ing a personal.

MAKEOVER

ture ID (KSU, driver's li-

MODELS

030

SPOUSEQUEST COM RE-

LATIONSHIPS just got eas-

Charles W. (Chuck) Harp

(785)539-8100

bulletin

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

ONE. THREE, four, or fivebedroom apartments/ hous es. Central heat/ air-conditioning, washer/ dryer, no pets. Close to campus. (785)587-9460 room apartments and be pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901.

TWO, THREE, four bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry facampus (785)537-1746.

Rooms Available

THREE BEDROOMS close to campus. June or August lease, 911 N., 11th, $220 Wilsher Trash/ water paid. One-lifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake

120

For Rent-Houses

1909 AND 1733 Kerimar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-Two bathroom Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

For Rent-Houses

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments and houses. selection and price is NOW. (785)341-6091.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1 4-5 bedroom house Located 824 Laramie Dishwasher, central air, washer/ dryer, yard $265/ each plus utilities and deposit (785)539-

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE one block from KSU Stadi-um, Bramlage, baseball. Washer/ dryer, central air, huge backyard Great condition. $1200. (785)776-

MALE ROOMMATES wanted to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washer/ dryer provided, free offstreet parking and furnished rooms No smoking or drink-ing in house. Low utilities. Cable, phone, Ethernel in each room. Call Matt. (785)532-9909

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bed-room houses. Also one and June and August leases.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

1994 SKYLINE three-bedroom, two bathroom. Many new features, washer/ dryer, nice deck Lot number 544 Colonial Gardens, $16,500 legotiable, available May 145

Roommate Wanted

Available now. (785)565-0742

150

Roommate

ROOMMATE WANTED. Close to campus. ust lease, 911 N. 11th. $220/ month. Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake (785)539-4904.

Wanted

Sublease

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

three-bedroom homes avail-

home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer,

dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

these beautiful, spacious

one double-wide

SUBLEASERS NEEDED to the summer NICE HOUSE, close to campus. $265 Call (785)323-0990.

785)776-3928

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed $155 a month.

ROOMMATE Available now Rent $225 per month plus one-third cable and electric. room available in May. Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu

Sublease

ONE-BEDROOM NICE. apartment for rent June 1 lease or sublease for sum bedroom, new carpet, extra ter/ trash paid (785)565-

SUMMER APARTMENT sublease. Two bedroom, one and one-half bath, close (785)323-0608. (913)681-2480

service directory

220

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss Increased Energy- Immediate Results I can teach you the secret! Local Distrib-

SPRING BREAK is near! Loose that extra 10 pounds nd keep it off. Increased energy- Immediate Hesuns START TODAY! (785)776-

employment/ opportunities

TWO

Help Wanted

SSSS SUMMER JOBS $555 IF YOU'LL be close to Kansas City this summer and with the potential to make a lot of $5, consider working for College Pro Painters side and with your friends. It interested, please contact Grant at (785)341-1108, For $250/ DAY potential/ bar (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding emwork or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race. sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-Violations should be reported to the Director Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Emcation. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportact the Better Business KS 56607-1190.

$1500 WEEKLY potential nailing our circulars. For information call (203)977-

Part-time Temporary.

are seeking a dependable person to perform accounting work approximately 20 hours per week. Duties include processing cash re-ceipts, opening mail and other departmental duties as to work four hours each Wednesday, some flexibility exists for the other hours. Requires basic accounting okkeeping knowledge, ex

e-mail pgoc@klbs.com. We are an Help Wanted

AFTER SCHOOL program assistant, $8.50/ hour, (Possibility of 1, 2, or 3 nights a week). After school classes on Monday, Tuesdays and Thursdays (3:30- 5:30pm) for grades 1- 6 during April. Qualified persons in uppernutrition degree programs. Contact Mari Starnes at (785)485-4055. Deadline is Tuesday, March 5, 2002.

AM1775@hotmail.com (Please leave your name and contact number.) BARTENDERS NEEDED! Earn up to $250/ day Will train No experience neces-

BOCKERS II Catering. Parttime wait staff. $6.25/ hour. Apply Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10:30- 12:00 at 1108 Laramie. (785)539-9431.

Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Models, Photographers,

CRUISE LINE entry level on board positions available. great benefits. Seasonal or year round. Call (941)329-

1-877-801-3149

EASTER BUNNIES helpers needed for upcom ing Easter photos at the mall Thursday-Sunday, af-ternoon and evening shifts available Call 539-1550 looking for a cleaning fanatic. This part-time position will be 3 hours a day (pref-erably from 5-8pm) Monday-Friday. Previous occupational cleaning experience re-quired. Start immediately $6.50 per hour with the op raise after 90 days. We offer a great work environment-apply today at 520 McCall Road, Manhattan, KS, 6502 is looking for part-time applicants. Must be able to work. shifts: Day shift 8- 12 and/ or 12:30- 4:30 Monday- Fri-Saturday availability a 360 Zeandale Road from KAW VALLEY Greenhouses cants. Some positions require travel (housing, transportation, and meal allow ance provided). Pick up application at 360 Zeandale Road from 8:00am to 4.30pm (for directions call KAW VALLEY Greenhouses is looking for drivers. Day, late night, ing record. Pick up applicafrom 8:00am to 4:30pm (for directions call (785)776

KAW VALLEY Greenhouses

LIVE AND WORK IN COL COUNSELOR at Girl Scout overnight camp in the moun tains southwest of Denver sports, challenge course, dance and draearly August, MAKE A DIF ary, room, meals, health incaution. The Collegian Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281

> NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com bines 2388's and New Auto Need Commercial Drivers tain Commercial Drivers Liboard and excellent salary

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau coach all sports. baseball, basketball, water front, rock climbing, golf. biking, archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or

RIDE HORSES IN COLOexperience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive salary, room, meals, travel allowance. Late May-early (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or rhondam@gsmhc.org SUMMER BABYSITTER Needed! Care for nine, seven, and two- year- old girls. Will travel with us on harvest

Help Wanted

AFTER SCHOOL Program Assistant, $8.50/ hour (possibility of one, two, or three nights a week). After school classes on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays (3:30-5:30pm) for grades 1- 6 dur-ing April Qualified persons upper-level physical education or nutrition degree programs. Contact Mari Starnes at (785)485-4055. Deadline is Tuesday, March 5, 2002 swering, word processing, filing, scheduling appoint-

SALES. LOCAL Company vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance including quota over achieve-ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more. Email resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com. EOE.

SEASONAL WORKERS Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal workers. Several positions are available in the Public Works and Parks Depart-ments. Valid Class C driver's license and the ability to lift 70 pounds required Experience in construction concrete work, asphal concrete work, asphalt maintenance, traffic flag-ging, tree and turl maintenance, and mowing. Forty-hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by contacting the Department of Administrative Services, Division of Human Resources located at 115 N. 4th Street, 3rd Floor, Manhattan KS 66502. For more information call (785)565 6464. idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley

County is an Equal Opportunity Employer. SPRING/ SUMMER SEA-SONAL. Starting Salaries: various (seasonal positions Oaks Sports Complex is looking for umpires, score keepers, and concession workers. Theater positions: music director, stage man-agers, choreographer, costumer, piano accompanist, instructor aides. Little Ap-KS 66607-1190. (785)232ple Day Camp counselors, Fun in the Sun Special Pop-0454. ulations Day Camp coordi nator and counselors, and youth arts and crafts instruc-CONCESSION 405 ■ Starting tors among others. Closing Date: Applications will be ccepted until positi STAND AND GIFT SHOP ATTENDANTS. Salary: $5.15/ (seasonal part-time, benefit eligible). Special Requirements: Must be able evenings and holidays in cluding Memorial Weekend and Labor Day (weekend tember- November and da hours May- August). Position Requirements: Appli going and motivated self accounting skills. Prior food helpful. Closing Date: Ap STAND GIFT SHOP MANAGER Starting Salary $5.70/ hour. (seasonal part-time non-benefit eligible). Spe-cial Requirements: Must be able to work 20-30 hours week including weekends including Memorial Weekend and Labor Day (week-end hours March- May and eptember- November and Position Requirements: Responsible for managing § gift shop attendants Appli going and motivated, self starters with fundamental accounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience helpful Closing Date: Applicants will be accepted un-til positions are filled. Gate Attendant. Starting salary $5.30/ hour (part-time). Po sition Requirements: Collect ors and answer phone Shift Schedule: Must be able to work a flexible Mon day-Friday shift plus hofl-days, weekends and evenings. Closing date: 03/14/02 To be considered ust complete a City of Manhattan application and return it to us by 5 p.m. on the closing date. For applicants or more information www.ci.manhaftan.ks.us/hr/ obs.asp at (785)587-2446 - e-mail jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us or Ave. Equal opportunity em-

SUMMER CAMP counse fors and Adventure Staff Wanted. Friendly Pines Camp, in the cool mountains of northern Arizona, is hiring May 26- July 28. Program offers horseback riding, water-ski, rock climbing, fish-ing, crafts, sports, and more. Competitive salary and trav-el allowance, holding oncampus interviews March 5. call (928)445-2128 or email into@friendlypines.com Download an application at our web site! www.friendly-and Windows. Responsibilities include telephone an with initiative and is very detail-oriented. For an applica tion, contact Tami Breymey-er in the Office of the Vice President for Institutional Advancement, 122 Ander son Hall. Starting salary commensurate with experience. Deadline for submission of application is Friday, March 8, 4:00 p.m.

WANTED:

North America.

Boulder, CO 80301.

City seeks qualified counse-

wildwood @ peoplestelecom

website

330

Business

Opportunities

STUDENT SECRETARY/ 1985 FORD LTD Crown Vic Receptionist to begin May toria. Power steering/ power 20, 2002 for training. Regular schedule to begin sum- $875, AM/ FM, tilt, V-8. lar schedule to begin sum-mer with 30-40 hours con-785)323-0438 oc tinuing through Fall and DjSwisher@dce.ksu.edu Spring working 20-25 hours Must be willing to work school breaks and summer. Must be computer literate and well versed in WordPerfect, Word, Excel erol1421@ksu.edu 1995 MITSUBISHI Edipse ments and a variety of other office duties. Looking for a silver GS Coupe Five speed, CD, sliding sunroa person who is self-motivated aluminum rims, guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains, come work for the largest horse operation in Police impound. For list call (800)719-3001 7536 www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road.

$6,500. 6601. Excellent condition. 1997 HONDA Civic EX Five-speed, lour-door, CD 87K, $7895 (785)776-1275

2001 CHEVY Cavaller, four door, dark green, graphite interior.

WILDWOOD- RESIDEN-Motorcycles lors to lead educational and recreational activities. June-miles, red- white- black, laid August $1700 plus room $6,250 and board (913)757-4500 for Josh travel

Spring

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportuni ty with reasonable cau tion. The Collegian urge our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka

open

USED AQUARIUMS AII Chelsea (785)537

in good condition. Call (785)456-9804. Leave message if no answer

Items for Sale BOOK: Anthology of Chi-

Literary Essays ated to English) Please visit http:// i_chungwang.tripod.com

FOR SALE. King-size water bed, complete mattress $100 Leave mes sage. (785)456-9804. WEDDING DRESS simple but elegant one of perfect condition $250 call nnifer at (785)537-2063.

Computers

puter. New, 56K modem Lexmark color printer with call in evenings (785)770-3506.

450 ■ Pets and

Supplies

AKC REGISTERED We old, silver gray has basic $250 call (785)341-0306.

Sporting Equipment

GNOL with Burton bindin Great condition, $200, Cal (785)539-5449

Electronic

JVC FIVE-SPEAKER sur-

(785)776-0736.

transportation

Automobiles

1995 FORD Probe, auto-matic Very clean Red, 95K, $4,050, negotiable, 1994 Mitsubishi Galant ES, autoleather. 7851770-9218

1998 GMC Z-71 pickup Red, automatic, third door 96K, loaded, brush guard, $16,000, (785)587-9844.

Cowgirls and couples to HONDAS FROM $500!

530

1999 YAMAHA R6, 8,000

SPRING BREAK Cancun & Jamaica 40 hrs FREE Drinks! 429 South Padre 149 LOWEST PRICE K-STATE ON SPRING BREAK!!

1-800-234-7007

per Person

Acapulco Cancun amaica Bahama Florida 785-776-3131 785-843-0900 30-STLDENT TRAVEL SERVICES

800-648-4849

BEACH'& SKITTRIPS www.sunchase.com

1.800.SUNCHASE ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY 20 words or less $7.50 each word over 20

20¢ per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less $8.80

each word over 20 25c per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less $10.35

each word over 20 30¢ per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less

$11.45 each word over 20 35¢ per word 5 DAYS

20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20 40¢ per word ( consecutive day rate )

at City Hall,

nished, 1219 Claflin/ 1218 ter and trash paid. (785)456-

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

board A ONE or two-bedroom $385, two blocks to campus Available June 1. apartments. Daily showings at 4:30 pm Short and long-term leases Call Flying Club tras five air-planes, lowest rates. For in-formation, call (785)456-ACROSS FROM Aggieville, next to campus. 1112 Blue-Two-bedroom, street parking, trash paid low utilities. Available August 1, (785)776-0683. ACADEMY OF BARTEND-AGGIEVILLE LIVING. four ey, meet people. Earn $15-$30 an hour. Day, evening bedroom apartment. One available June 1 and one three, four, five, and six NEWELL'S BARBER Shop pus. No Pets. Year lease has reopened at 1921 Pills-South end of Kist-AVAILABLE JUNE 1, One bedroom. Near campus. Air

Three-bedroom

> AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017

www.beloose.com/linwood

onditioning. Carport. 537

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAILA BLE August 1, 1215 Be trand. Call (785)537-0205 Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days. aramie, 1124 Ratone, 316 LOST SIAMESE gray and

LEASING FOR ALL. Two lar with silver bell, lost east bedroom and three-bed-room, one block from camtion, condition (785)776 closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks Three-bedroom ter and trash paid. Central electric heat and air. $750 per month Call (785)537wanted- cuts, colors, and ONE BEDROOM, close to npus (June). (785)539

> ONE. TWO and three-bedroom apartments and houses. No pets. Call (785)539 1975 or (785)776-4901. ONE, TWO, three and four bedroom apartments at various locations. All within walking distance to campus Great character with unique features. No pels. (785)313-ONE. TWO, three and fourbedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-Hours). One-half mile from ONE-BEDROOM $405.

Avenue. One-bedroom studio furnished, 1219 Claffin

$330. (785)456-2812. No

ONE-BEDROOM FOR June and August, three-bedroom for August, all bills paid (785)313-4812.

For Rent-Apt.

Unfurnished ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid, $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810.

ONE-BEDROOM, WASH-ER/DRYER, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier. gust lease. (785)776-4805. OPEN HOUSES SUNDAY, MARCH 3. 514 N. 9th 1-2pm: Remodeled, Iwo-bed-

Fairview near campus. $410 includcluding gas, water, trash, ing, pets. (785)537-7431.

ter and trash paid. (785)537-THREE-BEDROOM. pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities August lease (785)776-

THREE AND Four-bed-

TWO-BEDROOM AVAILA BLE August 1 Close to downtown $500 per month Trash and water included TWO-BEDROOM BASE

MENT apartment, close to campus, newly remodeled. trash and cable paid, $420. TWO-REDROOM, NO pets

r smokers. 624 Bluemont.

$500 00 plus utilities. Avail able immediately. (785)776-

115 Rooms

Available FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term leases Call Century 21

Knight, (785)565-0138.

For Rent-Houses

TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study, family room. One-car ga rage close to downtown THREE-BEDROOM KSU Three-bedroom, west of stadium. No smoking/ drinking/ pets. (785)539-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. 4-5 824 Laramie. Dishwasher, central air, washer/ dryer, yard, $265/ each plus utilites and deposit. (785)539-

FIVE-BEDROOM. bath duplex with washer dryer furnished. Central air off-street parking 713 Moro. No pets. (785)313-4812. FOR RENT: 1709 Vaughn

FOUR AND five-bedroom houses Spacious, washerd dryer, off-street parking. Available June 1. (785)537 FOUR-BEDROOM. bath, available June 1. Close to Campus. Very nice

ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets FOUR REDROOM TWO or smokers 1523 I $285.00 plus utilities bath, washer/ dryer hookup no pets or smokers, 1016 Thurston, $1,200 plus utilit ies. June lease. (785)776-> washer/ dryer, off-street parking August 1 $1200. Call (785)537-8420 FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO street parking. Washer, dry-er, dishwasher, central heat. 3:30air. No pets. $890/ month.

Central air, appliances

Fremont Water and trash SIX-BEDROOM. baths, two kitchens, two fire-

ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX

brick houses with washer/ dryer furnished for August lease. No pets. (785)313-THREE-BEDROOM lease. Central air, washer

THREE-BEDROOM Washer/ dryer included

$900 plus Utilities. lease. (785)776-4805. THREE-BEDROOM no pets or smokers. Pierre $840 plus utilities August lease (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

bath, washer/ dryer, no pets

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available August 1. Fremont. Water and trash paid. $600 per month. Call TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX.

dryer included. $725 per

One car garage.

Call (785)537-0205.

For Rent-

Houses bedroom houses for sale. Close to campus. Better than renting. For complete list of homes near campus call Larry at (785)317-7713 Century 21 Knight Real Es-

Mobile Homes TWO-BEDROOM AVAILA-BLE August 1. 210 Redbud Washer/ dryer 6165; Estate. hook-ups. Trash, water, ba-sic cable included. $475 per cellent telephone demeanor, proficiency with various computer software and 10-$8.89 per hour. This need is April. Interested and qualified candidates should respond promptly and refer-Bureau Services, c/o an Resources, 2627 KFB laza, Manhattan, KS 66503; fax is (785)587-

ARE YOU a computer geek? No, but senously, need a Web Designer help me with my web page! For more details, you can e-

Help Wanted

Call (866)291-1884

BUDWEISER WOMEN of

EARN $1000- $3000 three weeks with the easy poster fundraiser. This fundraiser does not involve ap-plications. Fundraising Opportunities are filling quickly, so call today! Contact us at

IT'S GREEK TO ME, Inc. I

e-mail (Lindsay@igtm.com, Equal apply www.campcedar.com RADO! Be part of the west-em riding staff at Girl Scoul staff for the 2002 season

Equipment

June 1 $875. Call Jack Ryan, 9am- 5pm at equal opportunity employer month. Call (785)537-0205. (785)776-1214. run. Call (785)689-4660. and encourage diversity.

105 For Rent-Apts. Furnished

housing

real estate

4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, militagion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported

Rec Report

www.recservices.ksu.edu

Recreational Services Office Located in Peters Recreation Complex

When K-State students, alumni and faculty/staff want to take an outdoor adventure, the Outdoor Rental Center is the place to go. Recreational Services operates the Outdoor Rental Center, which provides equipment for camping, canoeing, and other outdoor-related activities. The Outdoor Rental Center is located near the Rec Complex. The driveway is west of the tennis courts and the entrance is between the outdoor handball courts and the tennis courts. Some of the items the Outdoor Rental Center carries includes: tents (all different sizes), sleeping bags, water coolers, ice chests, fire grills, and canoes & life vests. Backpacks and frames are also available for hiking and biking. Anyone with a valid K-State ID or facility use card is eligible to rent equipment. Rental rates vary from $1-$15 per day. This is a great place to come and get all your gear for a weekend enjoying the great outdoors. Start out the spring months the right way by visiting the Outdoor Rental Center.

Working It Out

The Outdoor Rental Center is open Sunday-Friday, 4:00 pm to 6:00 pm, and Saturday, 11:00 am to 1:00 pm. For a complete list of items, visit the Rec Services web site at www.recservices.ksu.edu or call the Outdoor Rental Center at 532-6894.

My Favorite Workout

When Michelle Borne, a sophomore in accounting, started coming to the Rec, it was only for intramural activities. Since this summer, she has been coming almost every day and she can feel the difference. "I can feel it on the days I do not go," said Borne. "I know that if I go just about everyday, I will be in shape." Borne, an El Dorado, Kansas native, likes to come to the Rec because it is something good for her and she has met many new people. "I always meet new people when I am working out," said Borne. Borne usually has a set workout for each day. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, she lifts, alternating between upper and lower body. On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, she does a cardio workout. Sundays are just a mixture of everything; it usually depends on what she feels like doing that day. Although Borne does all of these exercises, the rowing machine is her favorite. That is why when she comes to the Rec, she usually comes alone. But, sometimes she meets a friend to lift weights with her. When asked what kind of advice she would give other Rec goers, Borne replied, "Make it fun! When it is not fun, it becomes harder to get yourself to go." Borne added, "Along with making your workout enjoyable, focus 110% of your energy in every exercise that you do, because you get out of your workout what you put into it."

Who's Who at the Rec

Garrett Gorges, a junior in accounting and MIS, has worked at the Rec since last September. Gorges, a Garden Plain, Kansas native, is an employee at the Outdoor Rental Center. Gorges picked the job for many reasons. "The job has a very relaxed atmosphere," said Gorges. "You get to be your own boss, plus it was available at the time that I was looking for a job." Besides the relaxed atmosphere, Gorges likes the fact that after he is finished with his job at. the end of the day, he will not have to leave to go work out. One of Gorges favorite things about being an employee at the Outdoor Rental Center is that he gets to rent equipment for free. He also enjoys working with the people. "This job is flexible with my hours, and the people have been pretty nice," said Gorges. Gorges plans to graduate in May 2003. He would like to get a good job and move some place warm. Since he has worked at the Rec, he has learned about how a business works. "I have improved my people skills," said Gorges. "I have also learned good phone etiquette and behind the scenes of how a business operates."

Words of Wellness

Using "please" and "thanks" will take you far.

Fitness Facts

Physical activity is a great way to enjoy life. It also brings great health benefits. Being physically active reduces your risk of heart disease. In fact, physical inactivity may be just as dangerous as the other controllable risk factors for heart attack - smoking, high cholesterol and high blood pressure. By being active, you're also less likely to develop diabetes, osteoporosis or colon cancer, or become overweight. Still reluctant to get moving? Then consider that each year up to 250,000 American deaths are attributed to a lack of regular physical activity. Reducing your risk of disease is an important benefit, but by being physically active, you'll feel better too. You'll have more energy; better blood circulation; stronger muscles; bones & joints; lower blood pressure; and greater self-esteem. Physical activity can also help you look better, lose excess weight, have more energy for keeping up with your family, spend less time watching television and begin an active hobby. If you're not already active, maybe it's time to get in on the action! Note: If you are interested in attending the aerobics classes offered by Recreational Services, but are not sure which one is best for your needs, check the aerobics announcement board or monthly calendar for class descriptions. In addition, you may call Amanda Durner, Graduate Assistant in Fitness and Wellness, at 532-0455 for more information regarding times, formats, and intensity levels of each aerobics session.

Intramural Mania_

Event IM Entries / Softball & Ind Sports

Officials Clinic for Softball begins Cpt/Mgr Meeting for Softball Officials Clinic for Softball continues

Time Location 8 am-5 pm Administrative Office, 5 pm Recreation Complex, 5 pm Recreation Complex, 6:30 pm Recreation Complex

Administrative Office, Recreation Complex Recreation Complex Recreation Complex, Small Gym Recreation Complex

Make a splash with your workout

Pool Action

11-14

25

26

Due to lack of attendance, the Tuesday/Thursday 6:30 a.m. water aerobics class will be cancelled as of February 25th. Other water aerobics and deep water jogging sessions are scheduled as follows:

Water Aerobics

11:30 am / Tues, Thurs 12:00 pm / Mon, Wed, Fri 7:30 pm / Mon, Wed 8:30 pm / Mon

Deep Water Jogging 7:30 pm / Tues & Thurs 8:30 pm / Wed

Maalthful Mint

March Dates

Nutrition Notes

Getting ready to take off for spring break or just a weekend getaway? Traveling can throw healthful eating and exercise habits off track, but it's easy to maintain control. The following tips can help you stay in charge:

- Eat only at mealtimes, not every time food is served.

  Balance high and low cal meals throughout the day.
- Balance high and low cal meals throughout the day.
   Carry foods with you if you'll be traveling long times or through meals.
- Avoid eating while driving.
- Walk the beach or go to a mall for exercise.
- Enjoy restaurant meals by planning ahead.

Remember, a one-week vacation won't ruin a healthful lifestyle if you think about the foods you choose before eating. And when the vacation is over, get right back to your previous routine.

Softball Officials Wanted

be hiring and training Softball Officials for the upcoming season. Pay starts at $6.50/hr. Training sessions will be held March 25 at 5 p.m. and March 26 at 6:30 p.m. at the Rec Complex. Attendance is required at both sessions. You do not have to be experienced in softball officiating. We will train and prepare you to be the best official you can be. Come on out and give it a try!

Wellness Resource Center

Fitness consultants offer many helpful services at the Wellness Resource Center in the Recreation Complex. These services include body fat testing, submax VO2 testing, strength & flexibility testing, blood pressure readings, nutritional assessments, goal setting and workout planning. Fitness consultants are available by appointment to assist you in developing a personalized exercise program. Let the Wellness Resource Center be your key to safe, enjoyable and effective exercise. For an appointment, call 532-0456.

Plan to attend the spring workshop "Core Strength and Training: What it is, How to do it, and Why you need it" on Sunday, March 10, at noon in the Wellness Resource Center. Presented by the WRC Fitness Consultants and free to all Rec users!

Entry Policies:

Facility users must be affiliated with KSU — student, faculty/staff or alumni association member.

Cards are not sold to the general public.

 Call the Recreational Services office at 532-6980 for details. P = Pools at Metalorium

March 2002

Recreational Services Activity Calendar

Pool use on Tuesdays and Thursdays, $:00 PM - 8:00 PM, is shared with the Department of Kinesiclogy. Participation is restricted to adult, fitness swimming and water jogging only.				RC 6 SEAM - ASSTRUCTOR P 6 SEAM - 7 SEAM - 10 SEAM -	2 SIC STREAM - SOURPA F TOWNS - SOURPA F TOWNS - SOURPA
3 BC MODEL LIBERROUTY P LINENA - 18 MIPA	SC GIBLAN - MEDINIZITY F GIBLAN - PIRAZI F I SINAM - 2 JUPA F I SIN'S - 16 HERM	5 NC GORAGO - NATIONESSEY P. G. GORAGO - P. GORAGO P. L. GORAGO - G. GORAGO	G S. DELAN - MEDINERY P BRIDAN - TSIALS P 12 TALAN - 2 TRIPM P 1 TRIPM - 10 ORDA	7 RC 6/RAM - NECHICUIT P 6-RAM - 7 SHAM P 11 SAM - 2 SHING P 5-RAM - 6-RAM P 5-RAM - 10-RAM	8 N° S GRAM - AGENDERY F 4 BRAM - T SAMP F 7 SEPA - SHEPM F 7 SEPA - ULUSHM	9 DC STRAM - COTREPA P 100PM - 100PM P 100PM - 1000PM
10 BC HOXBY - SABINGUIPT F 1 000% - 1 000% F 2 000%	SC L GRADE - MEDINICATY P GRIBARS - 7 HEARS P 11 WASH - 1 NOTHAL P 2 HEARS - 10 NOTHAL ST ELECTRIC Stage Sufficient South-Mouth Space Sufficient	7.2 SC 6.00444 - NOTWORKEY 7.50044 - 7.0044 7.50044 - 2.0044 7.50044 - 3.0044 7.50044 - 3.0044	13 60 4 MANA - MERNICHTY PARRAM - 2 JOHN P 2 JOHN - 2 JOHN P 2 JOHN - 3 JOHN P 2 JOHN - 3 JOHN	SC 4000-AM - IMEDICATY F STRAIN - PROMI F 1 STRAIN - SURFAL F 1 STRAIN - SURFAL F 1 SURFAL - 4 SURFAL F 1 SURFAL - 10 SURFAL STRAIN - 10 SURFAL	15 nc a stead - resting p a stead - resting p 1 is stead - resting p 1 resting - resting p 1 resting - resting	16 ac omass - comps r cores - cores r cores - cores
17 BC NOON - HOMPLE P 2 OWNL - BOWNL P 2 OWNL - OR OWNL	18 SC 6.06646 - 10 MPM F 6 06646 - 10 MPM F 1.06446 - 10 MPM F 1.06746 - 10 MPM	19 AC ARRADA - ADMIRINA P 4 MINAM - P. DANIM P 11 MINAM - P. DANIM P 2 SAPIM - 10 MINAM	20 RC GURAN - HUNDA F RESEAU - TORAN P 16.50AM - 2.50PM P 2.50PM - COMPA	21 80 808AM - 1800FM P 1138AM - 230FM P 138FM - 1830FM	22 RC 606AM - 10 HEPM P 4 90AM - 2 HEM P 13 90AM - 2 HEM P 7 XIPM - 10 00PM	23 80 5.00554 - 10.0054 9 1.0054 - 10.0054 9 1.0054 - 10.0054
	SPRING BREAK				3
24 SC HOCH - MENIGHT F 1 00PM - 10 00PM F 1 00PM - 10 00PM	25 60 00000 MERICUPT P 60000 - 70000 P 11.0000 - 30000 P 70000 - 300000	26 SC 400AM - MITTHOUTT P-600AM - 7 200AM P-1 200AM - 7 200AM P-5007M - 4 4007M P-5007M - 4007M IM-6007M today Special Begin M-500MM Com May solored	27 RC GRAM - MEDICAL P GRAMA - STRAM P 10 MANA - STRAM P 20 MANA - STRAM P 20 MANA - STRAM IM Sufficiell Hegina	28 RC 6-19484 - MERRICHT P-6-19444 - 7-20484 P-1-20474 - 3-2044 P-7-204764 - 19-2044 P-7-204764 - 19-2044	29 BC SORANE - METHOCHTY PARRAM - TIMAN P 11 SONA - CISTAN P 3 SONA - UNIONPLA	30 SC 9986AM - PODOPNA F 1986PM - SOSEPM F 1986PM - SOSEPM
31 6C NOORE - MERINGENT 7 LORDIN - 10 GATIN	IM Softball Officials Clinic March 26, 2002 March 25, 5PM IM Captains' (Managers' Meeting, Rec Complex Stendamore required at both meetings 5:00PM

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

SGA

ELECTIONS

March 4, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 107 www.kstatecollegian.com

Wildcats take out Huskers

Polls open Tuesday to vote, voice opinions on SafeRide

General election polls open Tuesday; no problems expected with write-in votes

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas State Collegian

General election polls will open Tuesday morning with the presidential ticket, Student Senate, college council seats and university-wide positions on the line.

Students will vote with the same procedure as the primary election. Students should log on to KATS where they will click on an election link. Then, they will be given a personal identification number and password and a link to the elections Web site. After entering that information, the ballot corresponding with the student's major should appear.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said he does not anticipate any of the problems of the primary election to reoccur, such as the option of write-in candidates.

"The vendor corrected that problem, and he assures us that everything is working," Conrad said.

He said he had a discussion with the vendor concerning the need for a smooth process.

"I don't anticipate any General elections will be problems," he said. "We had a Tuesday and Wednesday. very candid conversation with the vendor and made it clear to him that this election Tuesday and Wednesday needs to be of his utmost importance."

The elections committee has increased advertising efforts in hopes of attracting more voters.

"We have an ad on the K-State home page, ads running in the Collegian and we are sending out e-mails to ListServs and greek presidents," he said.

Gayle Spencer, student activities coordinator, said she expects a turnout similar to last year's general election.

"I would expect about the same as last year," she said. 'An online election doesn't increase voter turnout at all." Conrad said he anticipates more voters than the primary since additional positions are being decided. The polls will open at 8 a.m. Tuesday and close at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The results will be announced on KSU Channel 8, University Programming. Conrad said.

The results should be aired slightly after 8 p.m. Wednesday.

SafeRide plebiscite vote to be part of elections

BY SARAH RICE

Mansas Statu Collegian

Once students vote online in Tuesday and Wednesday's general election for student senators, college council members and student body president, voters will have the opportunity to voice their opinion on the possibility of establishing a SafeRide program at K-State.

The student survey on the ballot is called a plebiscite vote.

"Plebiscite is almost directly translated as vote among the people," Barker said. "It is not binding to SGA, but it gives students a good opportunity to get their opinion out."

The last plebiscite vote was seen on the ballot in 1997 polling students

See SAFERIDE un PAGE 10

Candidate withdraws complaints

BY SARAH BAHARI Kansas State Collegian

Former presidential candidate Ali Karimi withdrew his complaints against the elections committee Friday. In return, the committee has agreed to work with Karimi to revise the elections code.

"These codes are old and unenforceable," Karimi said. "But they're taking measures to fix errors more aggressively Karimi had filed a complaint against the committee citing the problems with the online voting vendor, iballot.com. Write-in candidates accidentally were included on the ballot until about 1:10 p.m. Tuesday. According to election regulations, candidates must register their campaign with the Office of Student Activities and Services to be included on the ballot.

In his complaint, Karimi also mentioned the security of the elections and the option to change your vote. He said some candidates broke rules regulating posters, banners and chalking. Karimi also cited the distance rule, which states that candidates cannot campaign inside or within 20 feet of the K-State Student Union or university computing labs on election day.

Karimi said online voting has led to See COMPLAINTS on PAGE 10

Dream to reality

Zach Long/Collegian

Sara Strothman is the owner of Zotcis Attire in Aggieville. Strothman, a December graduate of K-State, developed the idea for the women's apparel store from a business class during her final semester.

Casualties prove war dangerous

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Fresh U.S. combat casualties show the continuing danger five months into the anti-terror campaign in Afghanistan even as the Pentagon prepares to expand it to other

In one of the largest joint operations of the war, a U.S.-led force of 1,500 Afghan allies, U.S. special forces and troops from the Army's 101st Airborne assault troops assembled for a battle that began Friday night against regrouping Taliban and al-Qaeda, a U.S. defense official said Saturday.

The Pentagon said one American and two Afghans allies were killed, and that an unspecified number from each country were wounded. Afghan fighters interviewed in Gardez, in eastern Afghanistan, said Americans told them there were about 4,000 al-Qaeda and Taliban warriors holed up in the

For the first time, warplanes dropped newly developed bombs designed to send suffocating blasts through cave complexes, military officials said. The "thermobaric" bombs were tested in December and officials said in January that they would be rushed to the region for the war.

See CASUALTIES on PAGE 10

K-State graduate opens clothing store in Aggieville

BY CHELSEA SCHMIDT Kansas State Collegian

lifelong dream became a reality Friday. Sara Strothman, December 2000 graduate in apparel and textile marketing, always knew she wanted to open and run her own boutique. After enrolling in and completing Apparel and Textile Store Operations at K-State, she turned a project into a dream come true.

Zotcis Attire, a women's clothing store targeting college students, opened Friday at 1203 Moro in Aggieville. The store offers modern fashion wear featuring trendy outfits for the dating and bar scene.

"I wanted to bring something to Manhattan that is fun, unique and that the girls can have to wear out," Strothman said.

Zotcis offers clothing from a variety of name brands including Betsey Johnson, Bisou Bisou, Max Studio, Guess, Espirit and Clue. Strothman said she also hopes to get market from New York and Los Angeles after her store takes root in Manhattan.

"I cannot stand that Kansas is the last place to get that stuff," she said. One key thing Strothman hopes will make her store appealing is her limited size runs of each item. Zotcis carries only two size runs, or two of each size, of each item. Strothman said this will make her clothing more unique and appealing to college students.

"I can't stand it when girls buy something and everyone else is wearing it," she said.

Zotcis began as a final project in Melody LeHew's apparel and textile store operations class. The project focused on designing and developing a business plan for a new apparel retail store. Students were assigned to research trends and needs and develop a store that would meet these needs.

"I tried to create a project that would simulate the real world in developing a business plan for a new retail store," LeHew said. "I placed emphasis on finding a farget market and finding the market you felt the needs were being unmet."

LeHew said Strothman took the project and ran with it.

"She was so excited about this project," LeHew said. "I just hope people will be half as excited as her. She decided that when she graduated, this is what she was going to do. "

Much time, planning and frustration has gone into the opening of Zotcis. Developing the business plan in class was only the beginning for

Hours of operation

Zotcis Attire is located on 1203 Moro. These hours are subject to change 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. 1 to 5 p.m.

Strothman. Since then she has dealt with loan officers, went to market for retail items, leased a building, created logos and even chosen the colors that will accent the sign on her new store.

"You have to have a lot of energy to do it because it's kind of hectic," Strothman said.

Not only does Zotcis provide clothing for students and the Manhattan community, it also will be a place for students to display what they've been working on in their classes. "I thought it would be fun to incorporate the apparel marketing class," Strothman said. "We'll display stuff from K-State students, and if they want to sell it, we can put a price tag on it."

Strothman said she also hopes to offer internships for students, but said this only will happen after her store earns revenue.

sure everything is ready for opening day. And, despite the amount of stress she's been under, she said she is not very nervous about owning her own store.

"I should be nervous about my loans, but I'm not because I've wanted to do this all my life," she said. "The scariest thing is not having any customers. My worst nightmare is no one will want to buy anything."

Tracy Gorman, senior in apparel and textile marketing, said she thinks Strothman's store will thrive in Manhattan.

"I think she's very excited," Gorman said. "With that motivation, I think she has a real chance of making it."

LeHew said she also is excited, and a little nervous, for Strothman.

"Aggieville has a history of stores coming in and out, and I'm just so hopeful that this will be a success for her," she said.

"I'm excited for her because she's targeting college students and really thinking about meeting their needs for going out. '

As for Strothman, she said she is just ready to open the store. "It's just tons of fun," she said. "It's a lot of work, but it's tons of fun. I wouldn't trade it for the world."

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

February revenue figures better than predicted

TOPEKA - Legislators finally received some positive news about the state budget with better-thanexpected February revenue collections, but some members are skeptical it means much.

The state collected $212.4 million in taxes in February, about $9.8 million more than had been predicted, according to preliminary Department of Revenue figures.

But even with the February numbers, the state has taken in $82.9 million less than expected so far in fiscal 2002, which began July 1, 2001, The state has now received about $2.52 billion out of the $4.4 billion it expects to collect before the fiscal year ends June 30.

Still, the February figures were welcomed by legislators trying to close a projected $426 million gap between expected revenue and required spending in fiscal 2003.

Legislators look to balance terrorism bill, civil rights

TOPEKA - Legislators are finding it relatively easy to erect barricades and post additional guards in the name of state security.

Giving authorities more tools to detect, investigate and prosecute terrorists is proving tougher. Critics of a far-ranging bill pending in a House committee warn that equipping police with expanded powers may trample on citizens' constitutional rights.

"It is easier to restrict freedoms now than to restore them when the threat has passed," said attorney Jim Bush of Hiawatha, president of the Kansas Bar Association.

ON RECORD

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie

116 and fill out a form or e-mail bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

two days before it is to run.

the news editor at

be published up to three times.

CAMPUS

WORLD IN BRIEF

Earthquake rattles parts of Central, South Asia Sunday

KABUL, Afghanistan - A strong quake shook a wide area of South and Central Asia on Sunday, killing at least one person, injuring several more, damaging buildings in the Afghan capital and sending people scrambling into the streets in five

At least a dozen people were hospitalized with injuries and 26 houses in the capital of Kabul were badly damaged or destroyed, Kabul television reported.

In Pakistan, the government news agency said four people, including three children, were injured in the Peshawar area near the Afghan border.

The U.S. Geological Survey in Golden, Colo., measured the quake at magnitude 7.2 - enough to cause severe damage

Astronauts catch telescope, watch in relief as wings roll

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - Space shuttle Columbia's astronauts latched onto the Hubble Space Telescope on Sunday and watched in relief as its 40-foot-long solar wings neatly rolled up like window shades.

The crew will replace the electricity-producing wings with a smaller yet stronger pair beginning Monday with the first of five demanding spacewalks to enhance NASA was unsure whether Hubble's solar panels would retract properly, given eight years of harsh space exposure.

The astronauts were prepared to toss them overboard if they got stuck

"It was quite cool to watch the solar arrays retract so smoothly on the big screen down here," Mission Control told the crew, adding that it was a good start to the week.

Applications are now available in the Association. Applications are due by 5

Reports are taken directly from police departments' daily logs. We traffic violations because of space

do not list wheel locks or minor

Office of Student Activities and p.m. Friday.

constraints

Riley County

Thursday, Feb. 28

m At 12:16 p.m., Robert-French,

Services or at the K-State Alumni

POLICE REPORTS

the K-State and Riley County

III The Apostolic Campus Ministry

will meet at 7 tonight in Union 202.

KSU Aikido will meet at 7 tonight

Habitat for Humanity will meet at KSU Motorsports will be at 7 p.m.

Tuesday in Union State Room 3.

p.m. Tuesday in Union 207.

Tuesday in Thompson 213.

Homecoming Committee

Pre-Nursing Club will meet at 7

III Department of Geology will have a seminar by Dr. Mike Blum at 4 p.m.

This is the last week to submit an application for the 2002 Student

9 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Big 12 tonight in Waters 137.

sate 4-H will meet at 7:30

COI

Man in serious condition after mistakenly shot by FBI

PASADENA, Md. - A 20-year-old man riding in a car with his girlfriend was mistakenly shot in the face by an FBI agent who was seeking a bank robber.

Joseph Charles Schultz was in serious but stable condition Sunday at a Baltimore hospital.

Schultz, who works for a medical company, has no connection to the bank robbery, FBI officials said.

Schultz and his girlfriend, 16-yearold Krissy Harkum, were pulled over in Pasadena late Friday, authorities

FBI agents were attempting to serve an arrest warrant based on the description of a bank robber, The Washington Post reported Sunday.

There was no immediate word where or when the bank robbery occurred.

FBI and Anne Arundel County officials did not return calls Sunday from The Associated Press.

9 hijackers singled out before boarding planes

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Nine of the 19 hijackers on Sept. 11 were singled out for increased scrutiny but still were allowed to board the planes that later smashed into the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and a field in Pennsylvania.

A government official confirmed that six hijackers were flagged by a computerized airline passenger profiling system.

Two others were singled out because of questions with their identification, and a third because he was traveling with one of the passengers with questionable ID, said the official, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Under the security procedures in place at the time, passengers flagged for greater scrutiny would have their checked luggage inspected for explosives, either by hand or by machine. The passengers and the bags they carry on already are screened for

Junction City, was arrested for leaving the scene of an accident. Bond was

M At 3 p.m., Andrew Sinn, Ogden, was arrested for two counts of failure to 1101 N. 5th, was arrested for battery

At 10:49 p.m., Ryan Morris, 525

Kearney, was arrested for DUI. Bond appear. Bond was set at $1,000.

At 10:18 p.m., Teena Hinman,

Bond was set at $500.

K-State Police

III No reports of note were made.

KSU Pre Physical Therapy Club

Guest speaker Candy Bahner

President of KS Physical Therapy Association

Thursday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m.

was set at $750.

set at $750.

Going once...

Drew Rose/Collegian

Haven Alford, senior in architectural engineering, and Jason Eichenberger, sophomore in civil engineering, are auctioned off by Jason Baldridge, senior in park management, Thursday night at Goodnow Hall. The auction raised money for Manhattan Women's Crisis Center.

K-STATE NEWSMAKERS

Student awarded national leadership award

DRESCHER

Tad Drescher enfor in industrial engineering and into school the past few years has paid off," he said.

Tad Drescher, fifth-year senior in industrial engineering, has been awarded one of 39 national $2,500 Kappa Sigma Scholarship-Leadership

"I was humbled when I found out I won," Drescher said. "I thought I had a shot at winning something, but I didn't think I'd win the big one." In his chapter, Drescher has served as president and recruitment chairman. He also was chairman of the Blue Key Honorary Society and recruitment chairman for Chimes Jr. Honorary Society.

The Kappa Sigma Endowment Fund awards scholarships based on academic performance, campus leadership and fraternity involve "My fraternity really pushes campus involvement," he said. Dreacher said his fraternity offered numerous opportunities for involve-ment. He said he plans to graduate in May, and then attend law school. "Being in a fraternity has been a pivotal part of my college career," he said. "I've just tried to meet new people and stay involved."

"It's nice to know that all of the work I've put in as chapter president

If you know of anyone who you think is deserving of recognition in our Newsmakers box each Wednesday, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at collegn@ksu.edu.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Editor in Chief

April Middleton

Alyson Raletz City/Gov Editor

Dana Strongin

Managing Editor Nancy Foster

Campus Editor Paul Restivo

News Editor Zach Long

Copy Chief

Nicole Donnert Photo Director Asst. Photo

A&E Editor Katie Lane

Newsroom

Display advertising

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

Sports Editor

Presentation Editor

Alissa Duncan Asst. Ad

Micah Hawkinson

Jodi Fagerquist

Ad Manager

eCollegian Editor

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

(USPS 29) (20), a soulent newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications liv., Kedan 103, Manhautair, Kan. 00506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer. Perrodical postage is paid at Manhattan. Kan-66502 PUSTMASTER Send address-changes to Karsas Star Collegian, virculation desk.

O Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints

532-6556

532-6560

Corrections and clarifications appear in

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Varney's Book Store

Is Now Your Dry Cleaning Drop-Off

Convenient

Lowest Prices in Aggieville

24 Hr. Service On Items Received By 6 p.m. Monday-Thursday

Service Provided By Dry Clean City

623 N. Manhattan Ave. • 539 0511 • varneys@varneys.com

Schools celebrate nationwide program

Kannas State Collegian

Children everywhere have grown up on these colorful words of Theodor Geisel, better known as Dr. Seuss. Children across America honored reading and the late Dr. Seuss on his 98th birthday by sampling green eggs and ham and reading their favorite books and participated in "Read Across America.'

"Read Across America" is a nationwide program that encourages children to read.

Natalie Blick said "The Cat in the Hat," "Oh, The Places You'll Go," and "Green Eggs and Ham." are books that children still read

Blick is a senior in elementary education and an intern at Frank Bergman Elementary School.

The books are still pretty popular," she said. "The children like the silly words and his bright

Finding their favorite nook in the school library, Blick's first graders curled up with a box of books and read for 30 minutes. Blick said reading is very important and her students read for 30

Christine Yang, 7, said "Green Eggs and Ham" is her favorite Dr. Seuss book. She said she likes when Sam I Am was asked why he did not like green eggs and ham.

Agreeing with Sam, Yang said she also did not think she would like to eat green eggs and ham, whether it was with a fox, in a box, on a boat or with a goat.

"I like to eat eggs," Yang said, "but I just don't know about the color.

She said her favorite place to read is at home with her pillow. When it gets dark, she said she uses a flashlight and keeps on

Most of the time, she said, she reads by herself, but if it's a harder book, her mom helps her.

Third-grade students at Eugene Field Elementary School also celebrated Dr. Seuss' birthday with "A Dr. Seuss Sampler," where the students prepared skits to perform for other classes.

Christina Smith, 9, read "The Cat in the Hat' aloud to the class while two of her classmates acted out the parts of the cat and a fish. The children in the book were stuck indoors. They could not go outside to play because it was raining that day.

The third-grade actor playing the cat hopped on one foot atop a pretend ball to entertain the bored children. But nevertheless, when he was piled high with stuff in his balancing act, the cat came crashing down just like in the

"My favorite part is when the cat in the hat falls on his head," Smith said.

She said her class really likes Dr. Seuss books, and she said she had a lot of fun reading and watching her classmates read and perform the books. She was glad they got a chance to celebrate Seuss' birthday.

Drama students at Manhattan High School's East Campus also celebrated Dr. Seuss' birthday. Drama students spent their Friday morning class acting out scenes from their favorite Seuss book.

Amanda Frey, ninth-grade drama student, said she grew up on Dr. Seuss books: She said her favorite book was, "I Wish I Had Duck Feet," a tale of a small boy who goes through different stages and wishes for different things like duck feet and horns like a deer.

but then he realizes it's better to be himself after all.

"When I was little, I thought it was the funniest book in the world," Frey said.

She said it is important for children to read. There are a lot of children who don't read enough or at all these days.

She said Dr. Seuss books are fun, and they encourage young children to read.

Linda Uthoff, drama director, said part of the drama curriculum is learning to be vocally expressive. She said young children react better to expressive voices.

"If you have young children in your life, this is one of the most important things you can do for them. Read as only drama students can read - with voices and expression." Uthoff said to her students. "Give me energy."

She said reading is important for everyone, and Dr. Seuss can get them reading again.

"These kids have powerful memories of Dr. Seuss books. This event gets them reading again," Uthoff said. "Students today watch TV and movies. This helps them realize there is something else out

DNA from terrorists could produce profiles

This Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - U.S. authorities have been taking samples from suspected terrorists captured in Afghanistan that could produce DNA profiles, but it remains unclear what use they will be able to make of the material.

Including an analysis of the samples in a federal DNA database apparently would require congressional approval because of existing limits on what can be placed in the database.

Until last year, that had been limited to DNA from someone convicted of a sex offense, from crime scenes and from missing persons cases.

Congress expanded that in last year's anti-terrorism law to allow inclusion of DNA from anyone convicted of any violent crime as well as conviction on some terrorism-related offenses.

The New York Times reported in a story on its Web site prepared for Sunday print editions that the FBI is seeking permission to place in the database DNA from prisoners captured in Afghanistan.

Candlewood

FBI officials disclosed in January that they were collecting hairs that could yield DNA samples from prisoners as they were being processed in Kandahar, Afghanistan.

Some of the prisoners subsequently were sent to the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Nearly 500 terror suspects are in U.S. custody, 300 at Guantanamo Bay and the rest at two locations in Afghanistan. Thousands more are being held by Afghan forces and in Pakistan.

David Carle, spokesman for Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., said Saturday the panel's staff had not been informed of any FBI proposal to gather blood samples from the prisoners and include them in the database.

Blood is the most reliable method of obtaining DNA samples, although if a sample comes from a complete hair follicle it can be of the same quality as blood.

Representatives for the FBI and the Justice Department did not return calls for comment Saturday.

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-0555

Season for Monviolence

#34 LOVE

Gandhi wrote, "Nonviolence is based on the assumption that human nature ... unfailingly responds to the advances of love."

Today, focus on what you appreciate most about the person you like the least.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

AMERICAN FAMILY INSURANCE AUTO HOME BUSINESS HEALTH LIFE Tim L. Engle Inc. 539-9200 FREE Haircut w/Hilite Foil Weave w/color $40 to $50 by Kelly & Denise TINAZ

THE SGA GENERAL ELECTIONS ARE HERE

VOTE ONLINE TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY!

http://kats.ksu.edu

Online voting will be available 24 hours a day from when polls open at 8 a.m. Tuesday, March 5 until they close at 6 p.m. Wednesday, March 6.

12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

Valid Sunday-Wednesday

11a.m.-11p.m. only

Toppings Extra

or Two 21.99

Innocence lost

Society forces children to grow up before they are ready

ast Thursday was a bear, and the best thing about it was that the day on campus ended. A late-night edition of SportsCenter became my chance to relax, but as I watched, a deeper-than-usual thought

An ESPN profile on 12-year-old Michelle Wie must have triggered a

Nick Bratkovic

synapse in my brain or something because I couldn't help but think that kids should just be The story talked about how she had qualified for a women's golf tournament on the LPGA tour. She said her goal was just to make the cut in the tournament. I guess that is what she wanted, but at 12 years old, is she really that driven? I doubt it. It probably goes back to pressure from her parents. I think we have an identity crisis with youth in America. Thrusting them into the spotlight at a young age is unfair.

This young golfer is going to get eaten up by a press that always needs an answer and a tour that's more accommodating for a 25-year-old.

She doesn't belong on tour. She belongs in school with the chance to

It is sad to think that there are childhoods robbed by the spotlight all too soon. I sometimes wish I could go back to being 12 - a time of future dreams, playing sports, watching television and growing up. This isn't just the case with phenom 12-year-old golfers — it happens in music, movies

I can't help but wonder if they ever get the chance to play, laugh and have fun with childhood friends. Or did they have the opportunity to pursue

Sure, society is built around individuals and the ability to make choices, but society needs to let kids be kids.

Parents really need to think about the pros and cons before they put their children on the first tee of an LPGA event or on a TV show.

Sure, they have the cash. It makes them happy, they claim, but in the case of the Olsen twins, should a pair of precocious twins really grow up on my TV set like it's some real life version of the Truman Show?

Sure. I would have wanted to be a professional athlete, but kids should

As much as they all enjoy working, did they ever really get a childhood? Did they ever get to sit in a high school class and be thoroughly in tune to a teacher who could shape the rest of their lives?

Britney Spears — as wonderful as she is — perhaps would have had a more formidable persona had she been a couple of years older when she became a sex symbol. If she was given the chance to grow outside the spotlight, perhaps she would be a better actress. OK, bad example. But I just look at these kids, and they deserve childhoods. Now, I write this at 1:12 on a Friday morning, and a part of me wishes I could go back to those days when hard work was what your father did. You wanted to emulate him, and bedtime was 11 p.m. Those days are gone, but regardless, kids should be kids. I am glad I had the chance to grow up.

I realize this is all relative. I cannot help but think what someone who is

The stories of their childhood might tell different stories. But I think we all would agree that 12 is a young age to start being an adult. The responsibility shouldn't be that high for a pre-teenager wanting to Society needs to allow kids to be kids. In the long run, they will thank you

Nick Bratkovic is a senior in print journalism and public relations. You can e-mail him at neb8030@ksu.edu.

Jamle Shelk/Collegian play in a golf tournament. 30 would say to me, or what someone who is 50 would say about the current struggles college students face. What would they say about adolescence and the struggles that we now for allowing them to be young and grow.

Senate makes best decision by rejecting bill

Last week, the Kansas Senate rejected a bill that would make it harder to obtain a divorce.

The bill dictated that couples with dependent children living at home could not divorce unless there is fault.

Therefore, only couples with no in-home children could

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the editorial board and

formed, OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

II Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

April Middleton

opinion.

divorce without fault like mental illness.

The Senate did the right thing by rejecting the bill. The government should not interfere in marriages at such a deep level.

If two people want a divorce, they should be allowed to do so whether or not they have children.

It is not the government's place to pass judgment on this decision to separate.

It is a personal, intimate issue that belongs to two

Some might say the bill could help keep families together, but it would not. Forcing parents to stay together will not benefit the children. The household will only be full of tension and disagreement.

Couples should work to keep their marriages together.

But it should be a personal decision, not a forced decree, to do so.

Senate did the right thing by rejecting the bill.

Press leaves questions unanswered

t gives me a warm fuzzy feeling when I'm channel surfing the tube, and I get the growing impression that we're on a countdown to Armageddon. A man no one elected has free reign to

Paul White

de-stabilize the world. creating enemies to make sure the military industrial-complex and the energy industry stay fed, while the public's attention is elsewhere in the la-la land of the pseudo-patriotic.

A disturbing current event was the recent Gallup polls from December 2001 to January 2002, polling 9,294 men from nine Muslim countries who make up half the world's Muslim population. It found that even though 67 percent believed the Sept. 11 attacks were morally unjustifiable, 66 percent did not believe Arabs were even responsible for the attacks, deeming the U.S. "ruthless, arrogant" (www.cnn.com/2002/US/02/26/gallup.musl ims/index.html).

Not to say the official story of Sept. 11 is a farce, but there are legitimate questions that arise among those who follow both foreign and domestic press, which have gone overlooked.

A sad fact is that the Bush administration showed the Arab world, the United States and the majority of Congress no evidence we had against bin Laden or al-Qaeda. All of it was faith based.

The Taliban offered repeatedly to turn over bin Laden to a third party if the United States showed them an inkling of proof.

Three times the United States' response was no evidence, "no negotiations.

Prime Minister Tony Blair's case before British Parliament offered a little evidence, even though it had the disclaimer that "this document does not purport to provide a prosecutable case against Osama bin Laden in a court of Does a couple hours of flight simulator courses and guerrilla training. in deserts and caves enable groups to hijack and maneuver gigantic commercial airliners, going 400 to 500 mph into precise locations?

This is a complexity that is unparalleled by any other terrorist act in world

They did this somehow without the pilots on four planes ever flipping the hijacking transponders, spending hours in the air, straying from their federally designated flight paths near the nation's capital, which had at least 30 surrounding air and naval bases minutes away. Within 48 hours of the attacks, the FBI was miraculously able to positively identify and profile 19 hijackers, 15 of which were linked back to Saudi Arabia. Egypt and the United Arab Emirates.

Nine of the 19 hijackers were specifically targeted by airport security and screened prior to their flights that

And now the FAA is investigating the use of a firearm by a hijacker on Flight 11 - passenger Daniel Lewin, "a former Israeli special forces officer." (Washington Post 03/02/02)

Five of these hijackers were proved to be alive and well, living in Saudi Arabia and Morocco, according to the Saudi Arabian foreign minister Saud Al-Faisal.

Two more already had been dead for years. It was a case of identity theft that the FBI has yet to rebut. (Washington Post, 10/05/01)

Nineteen were using social security cards, and many had phony driver's

Katherine Smith, the woman who sold IDs to five of the hijackers was recently smothered with gasoline and "firebombed" in her car one day before she was scheduled to testify. (Kansas City Star, 02/16/02)

Two of the D.C. hijackers had been under FBI and CIA watch since August after being linked to the U.S.S. Cole attacks in Yemen. [Newsweek, 09/24/01] (www.ireland.com/special/usattack/eviden Five of the suspected hijackers were trained at U.S. secure naval bases in Florida, Texas and Alabama. (www.msnbc.com/news/629529.asp)

> Some had lived here for five years, and our 25 U.S. intelligence agencies failed to intercept anything.

Why did the administration ignore warnings from May until early September from Israel, Russia. Germany and Egypt's President Murbarak of attacks on U.S. soil involving commercial aircraft?

None of the full passenger lists, radar data or flight box recorder data has ever been released. (NY Times, 02/23/02)

Coincidentally, the FBI's former deputy director/counter-terrorism expert on bin Laden and al-Qaeda, John O'Neill, had resigned from the bureau in late August, claiming that difficulties with Bush administration and "U.S. corporate oil interests" roadblocked his investigation of bin Laden.

(www.ireland.com/newspaper/world/2001/ 1119/wor8.htm)

O'Neill was one of the 3,000 victims who lost their lives on Sept. 11. He was working his first day on the job as head of security at the WTC. (www.cnn.com/2001/US/09/12/victim.wtc.s

So, to Congress, when you find time between investigating the largest bankruptcy in U.S. history (Enron) or being put on the run because a lone individual within the "U.S. biowarfare program" is mailing weapons of mass distraction, I would encourage thorough. transparent and transcontinental investigations into why the nightmarish scenario of Sept. 11 was allowed to Without trying to suggest any bizarre theories, these are just the dots that are out in the foreign and domestic press. It's you who must connect them.

Paul is a junior in political science and mass communications. E-mail Paul at pew9898@ksu.edu.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions on topics relevant to the publication.

I'm from Wichita, and I'd just like to say it's a really dumb idea to raise tuition when half the people's parents from Wichita are getting laid off at the aircraft companies.

Why the hell is gas $1.15 again?

This is to the guy who was trying to grow pot in his dorm room in Marlatt Hall that was really dumb.

I wish life was Grand Theft Auto 3.

This is to Sarah Coats. The great thing about being a woman in the 21st century is that we can make our own decisions about what we wear, what we read and what we laugh at. You shouldn't generalize all women of being of your narrowminded sensibilities because it's feminists like you who make feminists like me sick.

Those of you who were in the election and lost - you need to come to grips with the fact that people didn't like you.

That's why you lost. It had nothing to do with the voting process. They just didn't like you.

Being a dairy farmer evokes pride. What other lifestyle can you get up at 4 a.m. on a Sunday morning in 10-degreesbelow-zero weather and have to go milk

My heart will not rest until the swamp donkeys have been justified.

ONLINE

Not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See the complete version at www.kstatecollegian.com

Candidates debate on radio

Kansas State Collagian

Presidential candidates Matt Wolters and Zac Cook went on the air at KXBZ-FM 104.7 on Sunday night to end the last couple of days of what Wolters referred to as the Battle of Western Kansas. Both western Kansas candidates initially spoke on the same point - getting more students to vote.

The radio broadcast allowed them to introduce themselves and their running mates and tell students what they have to offer.

Cook, senior in biological and agricultural engineering, said the reason he and his running mate Todd Kohman is running is twofold. He said he feels that he can adequately represent all K-State students whether they are from Kansas or they come from California, New Jersey or across the sea in Europe.

"The issue is also directly tied to that - that's the internationalization of campus," he said. I feel everyone should have the opportunity I had last spring with the chance to study abroad and gain the experience that will be valuable for a lifetime."

SGA

General elections will be

He said a lot of students are unaware of the possibility to study abroad, and he doesn't want them to miss out.

"Through an awareness campaign and also pushing for some increased funding from the tuition increase and restructuring of the international programs office, I

ELECTIONS think it would be Tuesday and Wednesday. feasible next year to start down the road to having more K-State graduates getting some sort of cultural experience on their resume."

Wolters, senior in agricultural education, said he is running because he has a lot to offer K-State as a leader. He said he wants to give down-to-earth leadership and find out what is good for K-State.

He said voting is easy and students should definitely log onto their computer to vote.

All you have to do is find a computer anywhere that is connected to the World Wide Web. Get onto your KATS account at kats.ksu.edu, log in and click on the election link at the bottom of the page.

"The most important thing is to get out and vote," Wolters said. "It's always discouraging when we only have 15 or 20 percent of the 20,000 student university that takes the time.'

Lightening things up, disc jockey Chris Reed asked Wolters what the chances would be, if he were elected, to get Country Music Television or Comedy Central installed in the classroom so if he was bored he wouldn't have to listen to the teacher.

"That's a heck of an idea. I know if you're taking Intermediate Macro at 8:30 in the morning, having some Country Music Television or some Comedy Central would be entertaining and something to occupy your time while you're sitting there in the class, but I'll tell you what, I don't know if it would be a good idea, because the students who go to class are there to learn."

From 7 to 8 p.m., there will be a discussion on KSDB-FM 91.9 between the two candidates. Cook said he wants it to be a "What's in your closet?" debate.

"We could talk for an hour and then students would know more about the candidates personally," he said. "We would discuss whether the candidate has a gold fish at home or or who their favorite football team is.

Senate rejects bill to limit no-fault divorces in families with children

Kansas State Collegias

The state of Kansas has made an effort to strengthen the sanction of marriage

On Wednesday, the House and the Senate approved bills opposing common law marriages

On Thursday, the Senate rejected a bill that would have limited no-fault divorces.*

Kansas legalized common law marriages in 1886

In 1913, the law made it legal for 14-year-old boys and 12-year-old girls to unite in a common law marriage without the consent of their parents or guardians.

"I can't imagine that 14-and 12-year-olds can make such a decision on a relationship," said Nancy O'Connor, K-State clinical director in the Department of Family Studies

Senate proposed to eliminate common law marriages, but the House is trying to move the age up to 18,

The House doesn't want to eliminate common law marriages because it believes the law protects the property rights of Senate also rejected the bill that would limit no-fault marriages 15-25.

As of now, the courts administer no-fault divorces on incompatibility grounds, but if the bill had passed, no-fault divorces only would be permitted to couples without dependent children living at home.

Only one spouse has to consent to the divorce for it to be legalized.

Some supporters of the bill said it would strengthen marriages, but critics said the state should stay out of marriages with troubled circum-

O'Connor said limiting nofault divorces could cause more harm than good. She said if violence is involved for those trying to get a divorce it could be dangerous, particularly to the children. The only struggles I would have are in situations that concern domestic violence," O'Conner said.

"If someone seeks a divorce, and we put obstacles in the way, it may not be in the best interest of children."

Tony lurich, professor in the Department of Family Studies and Human Services, said he feels no-fault divorces are reasonable and shouldn't be controlled by the government.

"It is not the solution," Jurich said. "But the law should mandate mandatory counseling before marriage."

Kansas State Collegian Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Fat's Bar & Grill

MONDAY

$1.50 BOTTLES

TUESDAY

50¢ Draws 75¢ Pints $1.50 Big Beers

Daily -16" Pizzas - $6 25¢ each additional topping

RELIGION

DEBATE

CHRISTIANITY VS. SECULAR HUMANISM

GREG BOYD

CHI-ALPHA CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

MASSIMO PIGLIUCCI INDIVIDUALS FOR FREETHOUGHT

SAT. MARCH 9,

7:00 P.M. - McCAIN

FREE TO THE PUBLIC

Sleep well.

Everything will be clear

tomorrow.

Some of our patients go to bed at night

knowing the next day will be clear and bright, thanks to a procedure called Corneal Molding.

They simply put in special contact lenses

before going to bed... and wake up to clear vision that lasts all day. Its non-invasive and about half the cost of lasik.

Are you tired of your CD collection? Are you tired of the same old radio stations? is the answer. Audio Junction has IT!

XM Satellite Radio The Next Generation of Radio

100 Channels of Music, News, Sports and Entertainment

Over 70 Music Channels

Over 30 Channels 100% Commercial Free 100 Channels. 100 New Choices. CONTRACTOR ONLY

Digital-Quality Sound

Coast-To-Coast Coverage

Only $9.99 Monthly Subscription

Available for Car and Home

Add an XM Adapter to any Car Stereo

Layaway Available www.audioj.com

307 Ft. Riley Blvd.

Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m. MONING CONT VISA CONCENTRAL CONTRAL CO

We're not like every other high-tech company. We're hiring.

No one told you the hardest part of being an engineer would be finding your first job. Of course, it's still possible to get the high-tech work you want by joining the U.S. Air Force. You can leverage your degree immediately and get hands-on experience with some of the most sophisticated technology on earth. To find out how to get your career off the ground, call 1-800-423-USAF or visit our Web site at airforce.com.

We'd like to tell you more about it.

DRS. PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH PA AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118 3012 Anderson - Manhattan

Huskers handled

K-State locks up 7th seed with win over Nebraska

BY SEAN PURCELL Kunsas State Collegian

For a Nebraska team that lives and dies by the three. Saturday's 67-58 loss to K-State was very painful.

The Wildcats held Nebraska to just four three-pointers all night, a change of pace for a team that is used to hitting nearly 10 a contest.

Nebraska was 0-for-8 in the first half, and with the exception of two treys midway through the second half, the Huskers never found a rhythm offensively.

"That was one of the main focal points - to not get them going from the outside," guard Larry Reid said. "That's where they live at, and we did a good job at guarding that."

Reid finished with 14 points in his last game at Bramlage Coliseum. Pervis Pasco led the Cats, though, scoring 16 points and grabbing 12 rebounds.

The center led the scoring attack for K-State, which featured four Cats in double figures.

But it was the Cats' defensive effort that disallowed Nebraska ever to get out of K-State's grasp.

"We did a great job at defending the three-point shot tonight." Coach Jim Wooldridge said. "Nebraska is a very skilled team. They can score the ball at all five spots. We told our guys they have averaged 80 points in their last six games, so we knew that if you don't defend hard you can't beat these

It was apparent from the opening tip that K-State was going to improve on its earlier defensive showing against Nebraska.

The Cats surrendered 99 points to the Huskers in their first meeting, prompting a challenge from Wooldridge.

K-State's general seemed a little more pleased with this go-round.

"It was just a great effort, particularly in the first half, by our guys," Wooldridge

"We were able to do what we wanted offensively on the inside in that half, and then we were able to hang on from there."

The Wildcats led most of the way, but a 17-3 Husker run gave NU the lead, 42-41, with 12:09 to go. But Pasco wouldn't let Nebraska's lead

The junior scored a dunk off a K-State set play to put the Cats back up by one.

K-State never trailed after that. Nebraska forward John Turek tried to rally the team for a comeback, scoring a career-high 20 points in the losing effort, but big K-State rebounds never gave NU a second chance. "We are a lot bigger than they are, so they knew they would have to come out and do some bumping to try and get us,"

"We were just more aggressive than they were tonight. It was a big game, and we played well."

In the opening half, it was all K-State, as the Cats led 34-23 going into the locker

K-State sizzled on 48.3-percent shooting, led by Nick Williams, who scored eight first-half points for the Cats. The Cat defense forced 10 turnovers in the opening frame, scoring seven points off the Husker miscues. Again, it was the play of K-State's big men who forced nearly half of those turnovers. "It was more physical than we expected, but that is how the Big 12 is," senior forward Ivan Sulic said.

"Guys like (Brian) Conklin can shoot the ball from the outside, so we were ready for that, but it was more physical inside than anticipated, so we stepped up to defend that."

Wooldridge said he was pleased with the play of his inside guys, especially Pasco. Three rebounds by the junior college transfer down the stretch gave the Cats control of the tempo and the clock.

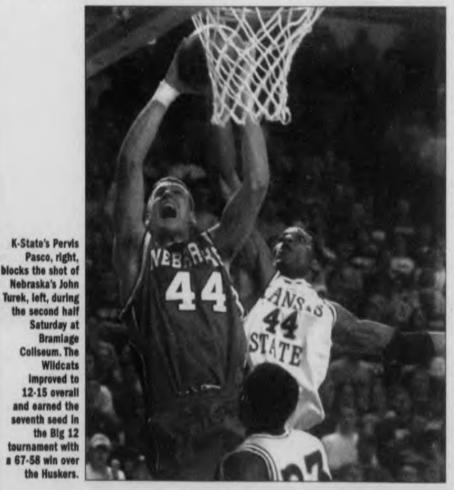

"He's a true competitor. He is using his natural ability to play - never really looking for rest or time on the bench. Wooldridge said. "Pervis is playing well lately for this team, and this is back-toback performances for us. You just have to look at him and say, 'That's a good

Photos by Zach Long/Collegian

K-State's Nick Williams (24) blocks the shot of Nebraska's Brennon Clemmons, bottom, during the first half Saturday at Bramlage Collseum. The Wildcats clinched the seventh seed for the Big 12 tournament with a win over the Huskers.

Seniors close career on high note with win

Kanson State Collegian

To say Saturday night was special to K-State's seniors would be an understatement.

Not only were the Cats looking to score a win to finish the regular season at Bramlage Coliseum, but with a win over Nebraska, K-State would secure seventh place in the Big 12.

These were all motivators for seniors Larry Reid, Phineas Atchison and Ivan Sulic in their last contest in front of the home fans.

In fact, losing was never an option. "That didn't ever cross my mind at any time," Reid said. "I didn't want to go out on a losing note, and if I had to take the game into my own hands I would have."

Reid never lost faith in his teammates, though.

The senior's 14 points complemented junior Pervis Pasco's 16 and freshman Nick William's 14. K-State's balanced attack allowed the seniors to leave on a winning note.

Prior to Saturday's 67-58 win over NU, the three seniors were honored with a plaque containing their jersey. Reid said the night was going to be emotional from the beginning.

"It was emotional because my parents were in the crowd," Reid said. "It was my last game in this gym, so I was feeling a little teary-eyed, but I never let it go.'

Tradition has been that Wildcat seniors start their last game at home. But this season, K-State's situation was a little different than in year's past.

With the win, the Cats would lock up the seventh seed in the Big 12 tournament. Sulic, who averages just 6.9 minutes per contest, knew this would be big for the team, so the question of starting was in the air.

"I know it is kind of like tradition for seniors to start," the Croatian native said.

"But knowing Coach Wooldridge, he is very business-like, and it was very important for him to win this game, so I felt very good that he gave me the chance to start, and I think I did a good job out there. I tried to give it my best."

Sulic played 11 minutes in his final home game as a Wildcat.

He also dished out two assists, one of those coming on the first K-State basket of the game - a three pointer by

See BASKETBALL on PAGE 10

POWERCAT STATS

K-STATE

POINTS BY HALF 23 35 - 58 34 33 - 67

K-STATE 42.6 23-54 3-point pe 3PT-3PTA 29.4 5-17 72.7

NEBRASKA SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS)

Turek (8-12-20), Cochran (5-9-13), Robinson (4-14-9), Conklin (2-4-6), Muhlheisen (3-13-6), Thomas (1-2-2), Clemmons (1-3-2)

K-STATE SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS)

Pasco (5-8-16), Reid (5-12-14), Williams (5-7-14), Siebrandt (3-9-11), Atchison (2-9-6), Buchanan (2-2-4), DeJesus (1-5-2).

ATTENDANCE - 8,028

Final Big 12 Men's Basketball Standings

Kansas	16-0	27-2
Oklahoma	13-3	24-4
Texas	10-6	19-10
Oklahoma State	10-6	23-7
Texas Tech	10-6	21-7
Missouri	9-7	20-10
K-State	6-10	12-15
Nebraska	6-10	13-14
Colorado	5-11	15-14
Baylor	4-12	14-15
Iowa State	4-12	12-18
Texas A&M	3-13	9-21

Big 12 Tournament Pairings and Schedule Kemper Arena - Kansas City, Mo.

Thursday, March 7

No. 9 Colorado vs. No. 8 Nebraska Game 2 - 2:20 p.m. No. 12 Texas A&M vs. No. 5 Texas Tech Game 3 - 6 p.m. No. 10 Baylor vs. No. 7 K-State Game 4 - 8:20 p.m. No. 11 Iowa State vs. No. 6 Missouri

Friday, March 8

Game 5 - Noon Winner Game 1 vs. No. 1 Kansas Game 6 - 2:20 p.m. Winner Game 2 vs. No. 4 Oklahoma State Game 7 - 6 p.m. Winner Game 3 vs. No. 2 Oklahoma Game 8 - 8:20 p.m. Winner Game 4 vs. No. 3 Texas

Saturday, March 9 Game 9 - 1 p.m. Winner Game 5 vs. Winner Game 6 Game 10 - 3:20 p.m. Winner Game 7 vs. Winner Game 8

Sunday, March 10 Game 11 - 2 p.m. Winner Game 9 vs. Winner Game 10

March Madness begins

Three teams earn automatic bids The Big 12 tournament doesn't get underway until Thursday of this week, but several teams already have secured spots in the NCAA tournament. Below are the teams who already have earned automatic bids:

Attantic Sun Conference Florida Atlantic beat Georgia State 76-75.

Big South Conference Winthrop beat High Point 70-48.

Ohio Valley Conference Murray State beat Tennessee Tech 70-69.

Wildcats win 1, rain washes out 2 games at Georgia tournament

BY DAN SMITH

Kansas State Collegian

K-State didn't get what it expected this weekend in Dothan, Ala.

The Wildcats (5-3) were scheduled to play three games in the Wiregrass Baseball Classic, but due to a steady rain in Dothan, the purple played just one.

K-State made the most of its opportunity, though, snapping a two-game losing streak with a 9-4 win over Kent State (0-1) on Friday. The Wildcats outhit the Golden Flashes 12-11 and held Kent State to seven scoreless innings in the contest.

"Kent State is a very good team. They went to a regional last year, so this is a good win for this team," Coach Mike Clark said.

Clark got solid performances both from the plate and off the mound, as Pat Maloney went 4-for-4 with a career-high five RBI and two home runs and starter Brock Smith struck out seven in 4.1 innings to lead the

"We came out and set the tempo early and that was very important," Clark said.

Maloney had a hand in all of K-State's first

The junior knocked in shortstop Osmar Castillo and scored on Ty Soto's double in the first, collected a two-run single in the third and led off the fifth with a home run to left field to build a 5-0 lead going into the bottom half of the inning.

"I just saw the ball really well all day," Maloney said. "I wish I could see the ball that well every day. I just wanted to go out and put five quality at-bats together, and I think I did

K-State's defense sputtered in the fifth, as Smith gave up three runs on an error and three hits - one a home run by Kent State's Pat O'Brien - to close the gap to two, but Wildcat reliever Mitch Walter (1-0) quieted the rally and got his first win at K-State by striking out four in the game's final three

"I thought pitching-wise, Brock did an excellent job. He just ran into some trouble in the fifth inning," Clark said, "Mitch, I thought, threw the ball exceptionally."

K-State's final two games of the tournament against Troy State and Washington State were postponed and then canceled due to poor field conditions.

Following the Cats' momentum-building win over Kent State, Clark's club is ready to return home for its Saturday matchup at Tointon Family Stadium against Western

'We continue to get better every day," he

- K-State Sports Information contributed to

Telefund raises $1.36 million

BY LINDSAY FETTERMAN Kansas State Collegian

K-State's Telefund 2002 made $1.36 million dollars after ending Thursday night, passing last year's total of $1.33 million dollars.

Gordon Dowell, director of annual giving, said he was very impressed with the amount donated, even though they did not meet their $1.4 million goal.

Dowell said these records are perhaps more significant than any other year in the Telefund's 23-year

"In light of everything going on, the records are incredible," Dowell said. "They speak volumes of K-State alumni and the enthusiasm of the students.

Nearly 1,700 students from the different colleges and clubs across campus volunteered to receive 22,189 pledges. These two figures helped break two of Telefund's three goals of 1,600 student volunteers and 22,000 pledges. These two numbers also exceeded last year's numbers of 1,561 student volunteers and 21,818 pledges.

The College of Arts and Sciences took the No. 1 ranking for overall college pledge total of $304,352, just surpassing the College of Engineering with $303,532 in pledges.

The money raised from Telefund goes back to each of the colleges, and then each college decides what to do with the money, Dowell said.

"Predominately, the money goes towards providing scholarships," Dowell said.

Some of the money raised goes to the Parents Telefund Scholarship Program, which provides $250 scholarships to randomly selected student callers, Dowell said.

The average student caller raises $800 to $900 per night. With more student callers, they could have reached their goal, Dowell said.

Dusty Killian, senior in park and resource management, raised more than $5,000, which made him the top fundraiser in the College of Agriculture. This was Killian's second year volunteering. He participated in Telefund for the competition and fun environment.

"It helps you meet new people, and it's really fun," Killian said.

The prizes also are a big incentive, Killian said, after he won a month's worth of food from the event.

Besides the prizes, Dowell said, volunteering is beneficial to students for future employment opportunities, even possible summer jobs. It also teaches them how to talk on the phone, which is a part of many students' future jobs, Dowell said.

Killian agreed, saying that calling people to donate money is similar to an interview.

"Instead of trying to get a job, you are trying to get a donation," Killian said.

Dowell sees Telefund as a good experience for students.

Telefund teaches students how to be better potential employees, while doing something good for their school," Dowell said.

21 Israelis killed in 2-day attack

BY GREG MYRE

JERUSALEM — Taking aim from a hilltop, a sniper killed 10 soldiers and civilians at a checkpoint Sunday in the deadliest of a two-day string of Palestinian attacks that killed 21 Israelis.

Israel sent tanks and helicopters on retaliatory raids that hit several Palestinian Authority security targets, killing four Palestinian policemen, while Prime Minister Ariel Sharon and his cabinet weighed additional military action.

Following the weekend bloodletting, Sharon huddled with senior government ministers and security officials and his office issued a statement just before midnight saying that the inner security cabinet had approved military plans for ongoing attacks on Palestinian targets.

"Ministers approved an operational program presented by the army to apply constant military pressure on the Palestinian Authority and the Palestinian terror organizations," the statement said. "Its object is to halt Palestinian terror." It gave no further details.

Recent days have seen some of During the incursions, 23

the worst carnage in months, and bitter comments by both sides pointed to further confrontations.

There is no alternative but to put an end to (Palestinian leader Yasser) Arafat's rule," Israeli Cabinet Minister Dan Naveh said in remarks that are expressed with increasing frequency in Israel.

Speaking during an official visit to Mexico, Israeli President Moshe Katsav also denounced Arafat and called on Palestinians to question his leadership.

"The Palestinian people should ask which achievement their president brought to them in the last 18 months," Katsav said in Mexico City. "He must, he should do something to stop the violence.

The Al Aqsa Martyrs Brigades, a militia linked to Arafat's Fatah movement, claimed responsibility for three of the four lethal attacks carried out in a 12-hour period from Saturday night to Sunday morning, including the checkpoint shooting.

Militants had vowed to strike after Israeli forces pushed into two Palestinian refugee camps in the West Bank last Thursday in search of militants believed responsible for earlier violence

Palestinians were killed in three days, including gunmen, policemen and civilians.

"The Palestinian leadership considers the recent Israeli escalation ... to be aimed at destroying peace and security in the whole region," the Palestinian Authority said in a statement.

The Sunday morning shooting occurred at the military roadblock near the Palestinian village of Silwad. The army described it as an ambush carried out by a single

The gunman had a clear view from a hill overlooking the check-

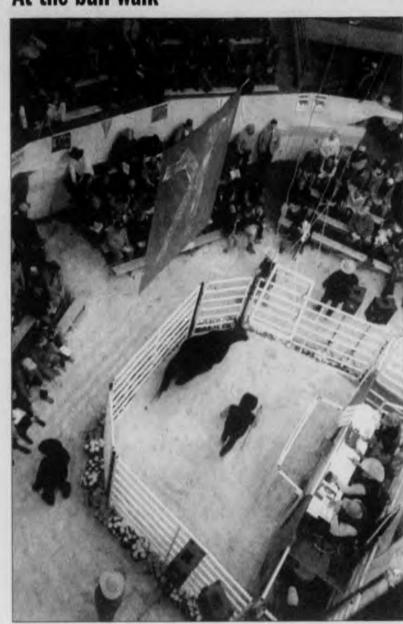

After the first Israeli was struck by gunfire, soldiers began climbing the steep hill toward the gunman and more were hit, witnesses said.

An army helicopter soon reached the area, but the assailant had escaped, said Hezi Tsur, a paramedic at the scene.

The dead included seven soldiers and three civilians. Six people were injured, the army and rescue services said.

The Al Agsa Martyrs Brigades circulated a leaflet saying the shooting was in response to Israeli army actions in the two refugee camps.

At the bull walk

A black angus bull walks through the showcase at the K-State bull sale Friday at Weber Arena.

Jenny Braniff/

*33 ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Tell someone today what a difference he or she has made in your life. Acknowledge that person for being there for you.

Make this a day when you don't take people for granted.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

March Birthdays

Dr. Seuss Mar. 2 - 1904 Elizabeth Barrett Browning Mar. 6-1806 Albert Einstein Mar. 14 - 1879 John Updike Mar. 18 - 1932 Robert Frost Mar. 26 - 1874

Claflin 1814 Claffin Road Books and Copies 17851 776 377 independent books for independent minds

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. March 15 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions,

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

89th annual Cattlemen's Day draws crowds, bids

Kensee State Collegion

There are not many places where one person can spend a few thousand dollars in a just a few minutes, but that's what happened at Weber Arena on Friday afternoon. Men, women and children took part in K-State's 89th annual Cattlemen's Day. The day was filled with several events and ended with the bull and heifer sale.

K-State students put on the sale as part of a Livestock Sales Management course. The sale featured Angus, Hereford and Simmental bulls. Students care for the bulls until they are I year old and ready to be sold.

Before the sale began, potential buyers went from pen to pen searching for the right bull. Appearance was only one among several factors buyers considered. Buyers were given a booklet that listed a complete profile of each Miles McKee, professor in animal sciences and industry, said the information most buyers are interested in is the birthing weight of the bulls.

"Most people are looking for a low birth weight because they have had problems with calves being too big during birth," McKee said.

David Munson, K-State alumnus, has attended the sale for many years. Munson was looking for a low birth weight, but that was not his only concern.

Modern Electronics

"I look at the numbers, but you also want to see the bulls," he said.

Munson's family has been in the ranching business for 64 years. He has purchased Angus bulls from K-State before and has been very satisfied with the results.

"I have always had real good luck at the sale. The bulls are always nice and worth the money," Munson said.

Prior to the sale, potential buyers gave their names and addresses in exchange for a number. If they wanted to buy a bull they would raise their number to bid. The cost of the bulls ranged from $1,800 to $3,100. Angus bulls tend to bring the most money out of all the breeds, Munson said. Angus cattle tend to get fatter with less feed faster than other types of cattle.

Part of the cost of the bulls results from the fact that some are part of an embryo transfer. This involves taking a high performance cow and stimulating her to produce 18 to 20 eggs. The eggs then are made into embryos and inserted into carrier cows. This system allows one super to produce several calves, McKee said.

Technology has had other effects on the cattle industry. Many ranchers have started using artificial insemination.

McKee said the use of artificial insemination has affected the sale but has not hurt it very much. The sale also had a cloned cow on $\mathsf{BROKE}?$ Find a job under the help wanted section.

Leasing Now For August

- Cambridge Square
- Sandstone Apts.
- •1114 Fremont
- 2000 College Hgts.
  - •519 Osage
- •Fireplaces •Carports
- •Pool •Private Deck
- ·Laundry Facilities •Large 2-bedroom

Units

CALL NOW 537-9064

Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Stanley Stout, an auctioneer, declares a Black Angus bull sold during the K-State Bull Sale on Friday at Weber Arena. Stout travels nationwide to auctioneer at livestock sales.

Jenny Braniff/ Collegian

re a large Cheese Pizza a price equal to the time on

2 VISTA COMBOS

VISTA COMBO Includes 1/4 lb ALL BEEF VISTA BURGER, Regular Fries & 16 oz. Pepsi

1911 Tuttle Creek er. Not valid in combin

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

*Starting at $370

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development 2700 Amherst Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Radio Shack Associate Store 539-6151 2609 Anderson Must present coupon

50% off reg.

price on any

toy or R/C car

Varney's Book Store Graduation Fair Order now for all your graduation needs.

Mon., Tues. & Wed./March 4, 5 & 6 Representatives will be available from noon - 8 p.m.

> Graduation starts at BOOK STORE IN AGGIEVILLI

1 Moonshine vessel

tive

12 Simile

14 Yalie

15 Crystal

name

17 Took off

18 Addressee

19 Serviette orders steve dore's

work

26 Wield a needle

28 Gazelle's cousin

31 Lounge

about

milieu

35 Luminary

Ernie

15

36 Llama

33 Cousteau's

25 Past

21 Bar

24 Do a

4 Authorita-decrees

13 More than what's deserved

9 Predica-

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer 40 Preceding 59 "Ulalume"

DOWN

Mandible

Team logo

Dream

3 Hood's weapon

4 Prevailing

6 Hullabaloo

7 Goes

8 Tran-

10 Jai -

Solution time: 21 mlns

11 Lake

Wobe

sour

quilize

9 Small and quite out-of-the-way

crazes

20 Office

21 Tra trail

22 Literary

23 1964

conflict

27 Itsy-bitsy

29 Basilica

30 Sketched

34 Tree-lined walkway

soundly?

pilterer

sandbox

45 Erstwhile

bigwig

46 Crosby's ground game

50 Play-

51 High

52 Overly

provider

Persian

32 Ogler's

look

37 Braked

39 Sleeps

42 Tarts candidate seekers.

period Wunnerbandleader

brother

43 Charles

45 Stone or

Miss

Piggy's

word

super-scandal

56 Depressed

woman

58 Ballerina

48 Stolen

54 Gorilla

55 Duck

57 That

49 D.C.

UNDER THE RUG

Morissette's new album accomplishes maturity, deals with relationships

"UNDER RUG SWEPT"

MOVIE REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN

Following the progression of Alanis Morissette's music, "Under Rug Swept" proves the growth that she has gone through and comes off as a mature album of self-realization.

Alanis fully admits her own faults and vulnerability while retaining the cynical edge that has always marked her music on her third album. The result is an excellent album that is sure to impress old fans as well as younger crowds that have realized there isn't any substance in most pop music.

One of the most impressive aspects of "Under Rug Swept" is in the credits

All of the music on the album was written and produced solely by Alanis, with her keyboard and guitar work appearing as well as her vocals. Her lyrical and musical talents only have grown since "Jagged Little Pill" exposed her to the world in 1995.

An impressive, yet unobtrusive cast of guest appearances appear in the music, such as Flea of the Red Hot Chili Peppers. Dean DeLeo of Stone Temple Pilots adds the distorted guitar hooks of "21 Things I Want in a Lover.'

The first single, "Hands Clean," already has begun to flood radio waves. Anyone similiar at all with Morissette's work won't hear anything new in the song, which sounds familiar to popular singles like "Head Over Feet" and "Thank You." Overall, the album sounds quite a bit like her other two albums.

Still, she seems more willing to take risks with "Under Rug Swept." "Precious Illusions" takes on an almost Tori Amos quality as she sings "You'll rescue me right? / In the exact same way they never did / I'll be happy right? / When your healing powers kick in."

In possibly the most lush selection from the album, That Particular Time," Alanis sounds like she took a few vocal lessons from Jane Sibbery as her voice breaks occasionally into a soaring falsetto. The song deals with the realization that a relationship isn't working. "At that particular time love encouraged me to leave / At that particular moment I knew staying with you meant deserting me / That particular month was harder than you'd believe / But I still left."

"Under Rug Swept" doesn't deal with politics or the hardships of fame or outright anger at the world.

This is Alanis on the subject she does best — relationships. The result is likely one of the strongest solo albums that will be released in 2002.

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 99c per minute, toucl tone/rotary phones (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. Anne Rice's novel

SIMITVI LVKTQ

CRYPTOQUIP

FPQNM-XVMMPKD? Saturday's Cryptoquip: IF A TREE IS THIRSTY, YOU'D THINK THAT ITS DRINK OF CHOICE SHOULD BE ROOT BEER.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: M equals N

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 11 Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW RELEASES

MOVIES DVD (*also on VHS)

Jet Li's "The One"* "A.I. - Artificial Intelligence"* "The Last Castle"* "All the Right Moves" "Eat Drink Man Woman" "Everybody's Famous" "Field of Dreams" "Immortal" "Lawnmower Man" "Less than Zero" "Say Anything"

MUSIC

Billy Bragg And The Blokes "England, Half English" The Catheters Static Delusions And Stone-Natalie Imbruglia "White Lilies Island" Local H. "Here Comes The Zoo" Zakk Wylde's Black Label Society '1919 Eternal' Brandy "Full Moon" Soundtrack "Six Feet Under"

destroyed on screen Pillage an Anne Rice novel for the three chapters you like. Cast attractive yet horrible actors. Throw in music that aggressive, angst-ridden teenagers who want to be vampires will like. What do you have? A damned horrible movie.

Brent Engstrom/Collegian

"Queen of the Damned" tries unsuccessfully to pick up where the movie version of "Interview With a Vampire" left off. The difference is that "Interview" was a tasteful abridgement of the book that retained the grand touch of Anne Rice, but "Queen of the Damned" is a music video version that plays like the book was chopped with a meat cleaver.

cavity and vomit on the floor after half

For those looking for a vampire rock star movie with little substance and lots of hard rock, the movie will be thoroughly pleasing. After all, Korn's Ionathan Davis is Lestat's singing voice.

Just remember that no matter what screenplay writer Scott Abbott would to do with goth.

The movie uses very little of the book and highlights only a few chapters. It is expected with Anne Rice novels that plots must be shortened and characters

The Vampire Lestat, (newcomer Stuart Townsend) "QUEEN OF THE DAMNED" characters and has risen from a *** long slumber.

MOVIE REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN attracted by modern music, to become a rock star. Of course, he becomes phenomenally successful while telling all the old vampire secrets in his songs, titillating teens and pissing off blood-suckers everywhere. His music wakes up Queen Akasha, the mother of all vampires, (Aaliyah, "Romeo Must Die"), and she decides he would make a good companion while she destroys the world. That's pretty much the plot of the book as well, which is pretty weak as far as Anne Rice povels go. It's obvious that this book was chosen because it was easier to market to the mass of nu-metal fans than any of the others.

What that means is that anyone who enjoys reading Anne Rice for her intellectual horror fiction is going to want to shove three fingers down their oral an hour of this movie.

have you believe, nu-metal has nothing must be left out since there are so many subplots within her books. The cuts wouldn't be so bad if they had focused on parts that retained the same feel Anne

Rice gave it. In this respect, "Interview" was a much better example of how to abridge Anne Rice for the big screen. The cheesy special effects of "Queen" also hurt the

The acting was equally horrendous. Stuart Townsend's motivation as Lestat seems to be to look good and be evil most of the time. Aaliyah's 10 minutes on the screen were mostly her trying to walk like an Egyptian and setting things

"Queen of the Damned" is one of the worst horror movies you'll see, which is just made worse by the fact that it comes from a series of books so revered by horror fans.

Oscar favorite lacks originality, suspense

The fragility of the American family and its volatile nature when disturbed is the focus of one of this year's Oscar favorites.

"In the Bedroom" tells the story of a New England family and a tragic summer that changes their lives completely. Frank Fowler (Nick Stahl, "Disturbing Behavior") has come back to coastal Maine to live with his parents and work on a lobster boat before he starts architectural graduate school in the fall.

While at home, Frank becomes involved with Natalie (Marisa Tomei, "My Cousin Vinny"), an "IN THE BEDROOM" older woman who has two boys and an abusive husband that she hasn't officially divorced. Frank's parents are apprehensive of Frank and Natalie's relationship, but don't vocalize their disapproval. Frank's family is well established and respected in their town.

*** MOVIE REVIEW BY ADAM LEE

Frank's father (Tom Wilkinson, "The Full Monty") accepts Frank's interest in Natalie because he is more concerned with his son's happiness than any resulting social stigmatisms. His mother (Sissy Spacek, "The Straight Story") is more skeptical. She forsees their relationship becoming dangerous to Frank's future and his health.

"In the Bedroom" is a visually stunning film. Director Todd Field's interpretation of New England is vivid, rich and seems as if it could just as easily be a Polocommercial as an American family tragedy. There is a noticeable emphasis on telling the Fowlers' story through pictures. While this makes the movie interesting to watch, it ends up weakening the development of both plot and characters.

Tomei, Spacek and Wilkinson are very convincing in their roles, but their characters seem incomplete and lack the ability to truly provoke empathy. Even in some of the most dramatic scenes, the dialogue becomes dull and borders on trite.

After the first 40 minutes, the movie seems to channel itself toward its resolution. The problem with this is that it makes it possible for the audience to predict the film's course and desti-

But not all aspects of the movie are obvious. When the movie reaches its conclusion, there is no clear message or feeling for the audience to absorb. "In the Bedroom" has a lot of the elements of a great film, but not all of them.

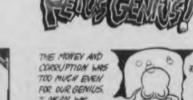

Though the movie has been nominated for five Academy Awards, it seems to be filling the space of "American Beauty" by

misdirection

COMPLAINTS

Continued from page 1

problems with security. He said he would like to implement a rule where, if the committee cannot find a vendor that meets its requirements, then the university would revert back to paper ballots.

Karimi said he also wants the committee to look into Internet voting only in secure polling places, like the Union, residence halls and university computing labs.

"We shouldn't be sacrificing the integrity of the elections for easy access to voting," he said.

The university is required by the state to seek the vendor with the lowest bid every year. Elections committee chair Ted Conrad said changing vendors so often does pose some problems.

"I will say that switching vendors every year and recoordinating between our computer guys and their system is a very complicated process, and since that's the case, there will be some consideration as to whether it's worth continuing this rat race," he said.

Conrad said reviewing the document would be helpful. especially in certain areas. The code still mentions runoff elections, which were eliminated last year. Nailing down some timeline issues, like when candidate expense reports are due and when they are made public, would be beneficial, he said.

"There are definitely improvements that can be made," he said.

Former vice presidential candidate Jon Krasnoff also filed a complaint against the committee for many of the same reasons as Karimi. His open hearing will be at 8:30 tonight in the Office of Student Activities and Services.

Krasnoff said students deserve to know the full story.

"People have a right to know why things were done a certain way." he said. "When these sort of things happen, answers have to be known. I feel I'm obligated to do

The elections committee will preside over Monday's hearing. Krasnoff said he is concerned with the members' objectivity.

"It's like they're the judiciary and the defendant," he said. "There needs to be a third party to oversee it."

He said if he feels the committee does not take his complaints seriously, he will appeal the decision to the campus tribunal.

However, Conrad said the committee will be impartial and is looking forward to hearing his complaints.

"I have yet to see specific details how the committee violated codes," he said. "The committee is anticipating hearing those details."

BASKETBALL

Continued from page 6

Wooldridge said although starting Sulic was not a sure thing, talking to teammates persuaded him to decide otherwise,

"We just changed our mind," Wooldridge said. "I think Ivan is one of those guys that deserved that. His mother and sister came over to see him play in his last college game, so that was the reasoning behind that.

"I got to say that it was Matt Siebrandt who brought it to our attention to do that, and it was important to Ivan, so we decided to do that for him."

K-State's other senior, Atchison, didn't turn in his usual performance; but cashed two three's to boost his team-high mark to 41.

But for Reid, being able to have his teammate on the floor with him was something to remember.

"He is a great guy," Reid said. "We've been together through it all, and when he is the on the floor, it is special, especially since he can hit the three and take some

Drew Rose/Collegian

K-State's Matt Slebrandt, bottom, tries to regain his balance while under the pressure of Nebraska's Ross Buckendahl (23) and Brennon Clemmons (32) during the second half Saturday at Bramlage Collseum. The Wildcats will enter the Big 12 tournament as the seventh seed and play No.10 seed Baylor Thursday.

pressure off me.

"The games we won and the things we did well - I will remember all of them. There are so many things that I can't even name - I'll take everything from this experience and remember them A for the rest of my life."

SAFERIDE

Continued from page 1

to see if they thought student fees should be optional. Three votes were proposed, but two were vetoed by the student body presi-

Barker and Brandon Kauffman, vice president, worked on SafeRide issues throughout their administration. After first being elected, they conducted research during the summer along with informal student surveys.

"We did our own surveys and the majority had a positive response," Barker said. "Now, we just want to have complete legiti-

Ryan Walker, Student Senate vice chair, said he had concerns with the vote.

"I think there's going to be questions by students of what it all means," he said.

Barker said the reason he decided to consider student opinions before introducing legislation was the involvement of the privilege fee increase.

"It is unfair for students not to have a chance to vote on an issue like that," he said.

Barker said he waited to

SafeRide survey

Students can voice their opinion on a potential SafeRode program when they vote online Tuesday and Wednesday at www.kats.ksu.edu during the SGA general election.

Question 1: Would K-State students benefit from a mandated SafeRide program?

Question 2: Would you utilize the SaleRide program?

Question 3: Would you pay $2 per semester to fund the SafeRide program?

request the plebiscite vote until after the privilege fee committee had decided whether to grant the K-State Student Union's fund request. When it was determined that those requests would be funded, Barker said he saw the need for the students' voices to be considered.

Walker said he agreed the vote was being used correctly.

"I think this is very appropriate for privilege fee," he said. "It's a good reason to use it."

Once the results are tabulated, Barker said he will decide his next course of action.

"I am hoping for an extremely positive vote, especially on the question about using student fees to promote SafeRide." he said. "If that happens, we have legislation prepared."

Barker said he is expecting to see a 75-percent approval of the program and a 65-percent approval of using fees to pay for SafeRide, which were the results of the independent survey earlier this year

Barker said he has several forms of legislation prepared depending on which questions receive the most positive responses.

"More than likely," he said, "we will see legislation that will ensure the structure of a group to formulate a SafeRide program."

Barker and Kauffman have been talking to student groups to encourage support of the program.

"We have been out to talk to student groups to tell them how important of a program this is," he said. "We tell them it won't affect their student fees that much."

CASUALTIES

Continued from page 1

The battle was yet another example of how hard it is to stamp out the terrorists and their supporters in Alghanistan, months after the Taliban abandoned their stronghold of Kandahar and at-Queda fighters were pushed from Tora Bora - what at that time was called their last stronghold.

"We've said all along that it is not over," Pentagon spokeswoman Victoria Clarke said hours before the bombing began.

More than a week of bombing to destroy caves and ammunition was needed in lanuary at a huge cave complex at Zawar Kili - also after the discovery that enemy figures had been regrouping there. President Bush learned of the combat death of the American soldier from Condoleezza Rice, his national security adviser, while at Camp David, the presidential retreat in western Maryland, a White House spokesman said. The new assault at Gardez came officials said Bush was planning to send troops to Yemen and the former Soviet Republic of Georgia, expanding the number of countries into which special forces are training local militaries to fight terrorism.

at the end of a week in which U.S.

Administration officials said Friday that Bush had given the goahead to dispatch U.S. troops to Yemen. A Yemeni official said Saturday that he expects 100 Americans to arrive soon to train 2,000 Yemeni military personnel at a coast guard training center to be built in Aden.

Give us your opinion.

Washington has been pushing Yemen for greater cooperation against terrorism since the suicide bombing, which like the Sept. 11 attacks on America, was blamed on Osama bin Laden's al-Qaeda nerwork.

Officials said last week that as many as 200 Americans would deploy to help train the military in Georgia, arnid sketchy reports terror; ists have taken refuge in the Pankisi Gorge near Georgia's border with Russia's breakaway region of Chechnya.

Last month, 160 special forces troops, were sent to the Philippines to help train local armed forces battling the Muslim extremist Abu Sayyaf group, which has been loosely linked to al-Qaeda.

Shape the Future of Health Care

- ✓ If you want to achieve the financial success a Doctor of Chiropractic.
- ✓ If you want to establish your position in the community as a highly respected Doctor of Chiropractic...

career in chiropractic. Contact Logan College of Chiropractic today!

Logan
College of Chiropractic

www.logan.edu A loganadm@logan.edu

1851 Schoettler Rd, Chesterfield, MO 63017

An Equal Opportunity Institution of Higher Education

as a Doctor of Chiropractic ✓ If you want to help people get well and stay well... If you want to work independently as a self-employed chiropractic physician...

commensurate with your professional standing as

Then you are ready for a challenging and rewarding

1-800-533-9210

Great

Prizes

Men's

Bracket

Women's Bracket

Get mad, Royal Purple Style Free To Enter Weekly Updates $5 RP Coupons

during the 2002 NCAA Men's and Women's Basketball Championships.

For brackets and official rules check out royalpurple.ksu.edu or look for us in the Estate Student Union March 12-14 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

For Rent-

(785)341-4404

For Rent-Unfurnished

AVAILABLE JUNE, Twobedroom duplexes, some with washer and dryer some off-street basements. arking. One-half block from KSU campus. Call 556-6899

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close campus. Alliance (785)539-Evenings and is (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two bedroom apartment, 1230 Claffin across from Ford Hall. 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice, large one-bedroom apart-ment. Heat/ water/ trash twothirds paid, laundromat, $340. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496

D10

ACADEMY

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

Flying Club has five airplanes, lowest rates. For information, call (785)456

BARTENDING. Have fun.

make money, meet people. Earn $15-$30 an hour. Day, evening or weekend classes available. Job placement

www.bartendingcollege.com

Charles W. (Chuck) Harpe

25 years experience, 400

NEWELL'S BARBER Short

Pilisbury Dr South end of Kistner's Flowers on

SPOUSEQUEST.COM

Lost and Found

Call (785)341-4846

Personals

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

LOST ON Sunday February reopened at

chuckharper@msn.com

(785)539-8100

177 South

assistance, $199

1(800)BARTEND.

ATTORNEY

Haircuts $8.

For Rent-

ONE. TWO and three bedroom apartments and houses. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901.

ONE-BEDROOM TWO apartments. 1030 Kearney No pets. Available now. Call Aaron at (816)847-7195.

TWO. THREE. bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry campus. (785)537-1746

Rooms Available

THREE BEDROOMS close to campus. June or August lease. 911 N. 11th, $220/ month Washer/ dryer. Trash/ water paid One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake (785)539-4904.

For Rent-

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bedroom. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

For Rent-

145

Roommate

Close to campus.

(785)539-4904.

Sublease

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and

three-bedroom homes avail-

Homes all come with central

Call (785)776-4274 to view

ROOMMATE WANTED.

August lease 911 N. 11th $220/ month. Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for

the summer. NICE HOUSE, close to campus. $265/ month plus some utilities.

ADVERTISE

CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

Call (785)323-0990.

occupancy.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four five bedroom house Located 824 Laramie washer/ dryer, yard. $265/ each plus utilities and deposit. (785)539-3672.

FOR RENT: Available August 1. 815 Kearney, Three-bedroom. $775. Call (785)776-7706 or (785)776-

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE block from KSU Bramlage baseball. Washer/ dryer central air, huge backyard. Great condition. $1200. (785)776-4166.

ROOMMATES wanted to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washer dryer provided, free off street parking and furnished rooms. No smoking or drinking in house. Low utili ties. Cable, phone, Etherner in each room. Call Matt (785)532-9909.

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bedroom houses. Also one and two-bedroom apart-ments. June and August leases. No pets. (785)539 available August 1. 1026 Fremont. Water and trash paid $400 per month. Call (785)537-0205.

For Rent-Houses

SIX-BEDROOM. fireplaces, washer/ dryer. central air, two-car garage. For June 1. No pets. 556-

THREE-BEDROOM June lease. Central air, pets. (785)539-5627 air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE available August 1. Washeri dryer included. Carport. screened porch. 2018 Anderson Call (785)537 these beautiful, spacious THREE-BEDROOM TWO > or smokers. 515 Vattier. $900 plus utilities. August August lease. (785)776-4805. THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers, 1523

> Pierre. $840 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available August 1, 1026 Fremont, Water and trash

> TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX Laramie, avan Laramie, avan 1 Central air, washer/ dryer included. $725 per month. One car garage. Call (785)537-0205.

Houses

125

(785)537-0205

THREE, FOUR, five and six bedroom houses for sale. Close to campus. Better than 130

For Rent-Mobile Homes

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE August 1. 210 Redbud Estate. Washer/ water, basic cable included. month. (785)537-0205.

135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

, nice deck Lot number Colonial Gardens, able May. (785)776-3928. 145

Roommate

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed. $155 a month. ROOMMATE (785)565-0742.

ROOMMATE WANTED Available now. per month plus one-third room available in May. Callmail at klb4949@ksu.edu.

ONE-BEDROOM apartment for rent. June 1 summer. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony Water/ trash paid (785)565-0117.

per month. Water and trash included Laundry facilities included 1524 Humboldt. Call Fedra (785)537-4292.

SUMMER sublease. Two bedroom, one and one-half bath, close at (913)681-2480. SUMMER SUBLEASE for service directory

Nutrition

Help Wanted

ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX $$$$ SUMMER JOBS $$$$ NEED SUMMER Harvest IF YOU'LL be close to Kansas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make lot of $$, consider working Drivers License and we will College Pro Painters. You'll have fun working Drivers License. outside and with your friends. If interested, please 1108. For more information including job descriptions, visit www.collegepro.com!

Help Wanted

DAY potential/ ding. Training ovided. (800)293-3985 ext.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial poten-tial of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are urges our readers contact the Be $600 per month. Call 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

information call (203)977-ACCOUNTING

Part-time Temporary We are seeking a dependable person to perform accounting work approxiperform mately 20 hours per week. Duties include processing cash receipts, opening mail and other departmental renting. For complete list of duties as needed. Must be homes near campus call available to work four hours Larry at (785)317-7713 each morning on Monday Century 21 Knight Real and Wednesday, some flexibility exists for the other Requires accounting/ bookkeeping Responsibilities excellent telephone answer telephone demeanor, profi-ciency with various computer software and 10- key calculator skills. Pay is $8.89 per hour. This need is expected last through Interested and qualified candidates should respond promptly and reference Job #S5. Kansas Farm Bureau

Services. sources, 2627 KFB Plaza, Manhattan, KS 66503; fax is and encourage diversity. AFTER SCHOOL program assistant. $8.50/ hour.

(Possibility of 1, 2, or 3 Needed! Tuesdays and Thursdays (3:30- 5:30pm) for grades 1-6 during April. Qualified in upper-level physical education or nutrition degree programs. Contact Mari Starnes at 785)485-4055. Deadline is Tuesday, March 5, 2002.

BARTENDERS NEEDED 288 Program offers h Earn up to $250/ day. Will back riding, water-ski, train. No experience necesions of the company of th Call (866)291-1884 sports.

BOCKERS II Catering. Partime wait staff, $6.25/ hour, Friday 10:30- 12:00 at 1108 Laramie. (785)539-9431.

Big12 Swimsuit Calendar ines.com Photographers

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions available, great benefits. Seasonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com.

EARN $1000 FOR YOUR jewelry). GROUP. Work on campus to raise money for your student group or organization. Make your own schedule and earn weeks with the easy poster piano accomfundraiser. This fundraiser pioneering/ camp ontact us at 1-877-801www.poster-upcoming Easter photos at design and secretaries. the mall. Thursday- Sunday. Camp Vega For Girls! Come afternoon and evening shifts see FRATERNITIES + email

SORORITIES. TUDENT GROUPS Earn call us for more information $1000 -$2000 with the easy three hour fundraising event. The matter and to accept as cations from 10am-3pm, applications. Fundraising fates are filling quickly, so today! Contact Loose that extra 10 pounds Campusfundraiser.com at and keep it off. Increased (888)923-3238, or visit mpusfundraiser.com at appointment necessary.

Manhattan Country Club, website 1531 N. 10th. Some food www.son

City

330

Help! Run New Case Combines 2388's and New Automatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercia help obtain Commercial Provide lent salary! Call (785)689-

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beautiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis. baseball, basketball, water biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com

AFTER SCHOOL Program Assistant, $8.50/ hour (possibility of one, two, or three nights a week). After school classes on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays (3:30-5:30pm) for grades 1-6 during April. Qualified persons in upper-level physical education or nutrition degree programs. Contact Mari Starnes at (785)485-4055 Deadline Tuesday, March 5, 2002.

such employment oppor-tunity with reasonable person with a proven history urges our readers SALES. LOCAL Company is to including quota over ter achievement. Applicants Business Bureau, 501 SE must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the $1500 WEEKLY potential Base plus commission mailing our circulars. For equals $50,000/ year or ability to work independently more. E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com. EOE

STUDENT SECRETARY Receptionist to begin May 2002 for training summer with 30-40 hours continuing through Fall and Spring working 20-25 hours school breaks and summer Must be computer literate and well versed WordPerfect, Word, Excel and Windows telephone answering word processing, filing, scheduling appointments and a variety Looking for a person who is self-motivated with initiative and is very detail-oriented. For an application, contact Tami Breymeyer in the Office of the Vice President Institutional Anderson Hall. Starting e-mail salary commensurate with pgoc@klbs.com. We are an experience. Deadline for SUMMER BABYSITTER $55. Care for nine, nights a week). After school seven, and two- year- old classes on Monday, girls. Will travel with us on harvest run. Call (785)689-SUMMER counselors and Adventure Staff Wanted.

Pines Camp, in the cool mountains of northern Arizona, is hiring staff for the basic obedience 2002 season, May 26- July 28. Program offers horseclimbing, fishing, crafts. Competitive salary and travel allowance. hol campus interviews March 5. BUDWEISER WOMEN of our web site! www.friendlyp-SUMMER JOBS Female Maine Top Salary, room, board, laundry, clott travel provided. Must love children and have skill in one ar more of the following (ceramics, stained glass, basketball canoeing, kayaking, rowing (crew), dance (tap, pointe, jazz), field hockey. figure skating, ice hockey horseback riding/ English hunt seat, lacrosse, digital EARN $1000-$3000 in three photography, videographer does not involve applica-tions. Fundraising stations, sailing, soccer, Opportunities are filling softball, tennis, theatre (technicians, set design, costumer), volleyball, water skiing (slalom, trick barefoot, jumping) W.S.I./

> www.campvega.com CLUBS. camp_vega@yahoo.com State Student Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains. Come work for Cross certified. Apply in the largest horse operation person before March 18 to in North America. Visit our

Help Wanted

Automobiles WILDWOOD- RESIDEN-HONDAS FROM $500!

TIAL camp south of Kansas (800)719-3001 counselors to lead educational and recreational activ ties. June- August $1700 plus room and board. 530 (913)757-4500 or wildwood@peoplest:

Motorcycles 1999 YAMAHA R6, 8,000 miles, red- white- black, laid

630

Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville, for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in (785)539-7479 or email kadean@kscable.com

SPRING BREAK Cancun & Jamaica "14 FREE Moals" 429 anama City 149 LOWEST PRICE Leaders' Training K NOW! SPACE IS LIMITED 1-800-234-7007

$6,250. (785)537-1722 ask

Daytona Beach. March 21 imann@ruraltel.net.

BEACH'& SKITTRIPS www.sunchase.com 1.800.SUNCHASE

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY 20 words or less

$7.50 each word over 20 20¢ per word Excellent condition

2 DAYS 20 words or less

$8.80 each word over 20 25¢ per word 3 DAYS

20 words or less $10.35 each word over 20 30¢ per word 4 DAYS

20 words or less $11,45 each word over 20 35¢ per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20 40¢ per word ( consecutive day rate )

TO PLACE AN AD Go to Kedzie 103

(across from the K-State Student Union). Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student

1995 MITSUBISHI Eclipse. $6,500,

Publications Inc.

Cash, check. MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad.

FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three

NEED TO RENT. As soon ONE, THREE, four, or fiveas possible, by April 1. Two-bedroom apartments/bedroom, 1832 Claffin houses, Central heat/ air-Apartment 8. Close to conditioning; washer/ dryer; campus, $490 per month, no pets, Close to campus. Water included. Call Matt at (785)587-9460.

WO-BEDROOM

BASEMENT apartment, 500 block of Bluemont, new washer/ dryer included, August 1 start, no pets, $450 plus utilities. (785)776-9573 after six, or leave message.

LEASING FOR ALL. Two (785)776-4166

NEXT TO campus- one. two, three-bedroom houses apartments. Central air parking, free washer/ dryer No pets. Available August. (785)537-7050.

available June 1, 2002 Water and trash paid per month. (785)537-0205.

bedroom apartments and houses. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901

College and Claffin.

Manhattan rom KSU at the corner

ONE-BEDROOM $405 $550, 1320 N. Manhattar Avenue. furnished.

ONE-BEDROOM. WASHER/DRYER, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier $305.00 plus

(785)539-2951. THREE AND Year lease

THREE-BEDROOM, Fremont. $780.00 plus util ties. August lease. (785)776-4805. and fall very nice one, two,

> Call (785)537-0205. TWO-BEDROOM Central BASEMENT apartment close to campus, newly water, trash and cable

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO full street parking. Washer dryer, dishwasher, central heat/ air. No pets. $890/ month. Begins June 1. Call (785)841-2503. immediately.

For Rent-

Now Leasing 1 BR From $470 2 BR From $570 3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Available FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up Pets okay, short-term leases. Call Century 21

Houses 1219 family room. One-car garage 2812: close to downtown. Three campus, Water and trash KSU Three-bedroom, wes paid. $390/ month. Call of stadium. No smoking > AVAILABLE JUNE 1. fourfive bedroom Located 824 Dishwasher, central washer/ dryer, yard $265, each plus utilities and deposit. (785)539-3672.

FOR RENT: 1709 Vaughn three-bedroom plus study. June 1 $875, Call Jack campus. (785)539-4641. FOUR-BEDROOM. to Campus Very nice. ntral air several locations

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO

bath, washer/ dryer hookup

539-0939

air, appliances washer/ dryer, off-street parking. August 1, $1200.

ROOM SUBLEASE $275

Weight Loss & / SPRING BREAK is near!

$5 per application. Please call (800)808-7450.

EASTER BUNNIES and

www.campusfundraiser.com HEAD LIFEGUARD needed for 2002 season to assist the pool manager. Must be Red windsurfing, also opportuni-ties for nurses, HTML/ web at 1(800)993-VEGA. We will be on your campus for infor-Union Building, Room 203. No

510 H

Rocky www.sombrero.com or write

Course U.S. Army Officer Summer Internship Enroll in Army

ROTC and attend the Leaders' Training Course for 4 weeks this summer. You'll get paid to experience adventure, learn eadership skills, and learn more about army officer opportunities.

open

Items for Sale

785-532-5177

BOOK: (Translated to English) Il chungwang tripod.com pgoc@kfbs.com. We are an submission of application submission of application is Friday, March 8, 4:00 KENMORE WASHER $45 and dryer $50, Amana

> 450 M Pets and Supplies Weimaraner months old, silver gray has

0306. 455 Sporting Equipment

> Electronic Equipment FIVE-SPEAKER receiver, $250. Call Kevin for

SNOWBOARD

(785)776-0736

Automobiles

DiSwisher@dce.ksu.edu 1989 MERCURY Cougar Looks good, runs good. 128,000 miles, $1,500 Call (785)587-0560

Victoria. Power steering

192K, $875, AM/ FM, tilt, V

1995 FORD $4,050. automatic, leather, 122K

6601. Excellent condition. 1997 HONDA Civic EX

87K, $7895. (785)776-1275. 1998 GMC Z-71 pickup. Red, automatic, third door, and beverage responsibili- to us at 3300 Airport Road, 96K, loaded, brush guard.

days free of charge.

We require a form of bedroom apartment. picture ID (KSU, driver's available June 1 and license or other) when available August 1. placing a personal MODELS MAKEOVER rms, contact Hair Expert's housing real estate 105

4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, familial status, litary status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should eported to the Director of man Resources at City

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

assen in Class At The Commons" Now Leasing for 2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom *Alarm System *Swimming Pool *Washer/Dryer *Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

 Tennis/Volleyball Courts *Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-5 Sat. 10-4

*COMMONS*

APARTMENTS

539-0500

UNIVERSITY

2215 COLLEGE AVE 1101 For Rent-

Unturnished ONE or two-bedroom $385, two blocks to campus. Available June 1. 1026 Bluemont. Cornerplace apartments. Daily showings at 4:30 p.m. Short and long-term leases. Call (785)539-1713.

ACROSS FROM Aggieville next to campus. 11 Bluemont. Two-bedroo off-street parking, trash paid, low utilities. Available August AGGIEVILLE LIVING. four

(785)537-0205. AVAILABLE AUGUST Three-bedroom Hunting. Call (785)537-

AVAILABLE AUGUST

o-bedroom, air-condi-ing, washer and dryer. Two-bedroom. AVAILABLE AUGUST, Two three, four, five, and sixbedrooms. Close to campus

AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Onebedroom. Near campus. Airning. Carport. 537-AVAILABLE NOW, summer

three, four, five, six-bedroom apartments. Close to apartments. to with great prices. (785)537-6017 FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE August 1. 1215 Bertrand. Call (785)537-

FOUR-BEDROOMS: 1806 Laramie, 1124 Ratone, 316 $330 928 Leavenworth, 426 or smokers. 624 Bluemont trash Vattler, 1620 Fairview. No $500.00 plus utilities. (785)456-2812. No pets, no smoking. (785)539- Available 0590. (785)776-

For Rent-Unfurnished

bedroom and three-bedroom, one block from campus, laundry. Excellent condition closear@kansas.net 2/bluestem/

NEXT TO KSU at 1810 Hunting Three-bedroom

ONE BEDROOM, close to campus (June). (785)539 TWO and three

ONE, TWO, three and four school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apartments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile

One-bedroom Claffin $330. (785)456-2812. No pets.

ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre August lease. (785)776-

August lease. (785)776-PLACE APART-MENTS Cable paid. One, Two, Three-bedrooms bedrooms close to campus and trash paid.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE August 1 downtown. $500 per month. Trash and water included

TWO-BEDROOM, NO pets (785)776-4805.

Unfurnished

Knight, (785)565-0138. 120 ■ For Rent-

TWO-BEDROOM LIVING room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study bedroom, east of KSUTHREE-BEDROOM ONE-BEDROOM, close to COULD be four, west of campus. Water and trash KSU. Three-bedroom, west nking/ pets (785)539-

FOUR AND Five bedrooms

ties. June lease. (785)776-FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO

Newer home

Call (785)537-8420.

START TODAY! (785)776-

employment/

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS

GOIN' TO KANSAS CITY

March Madness kicks off tomorrow with the 2002 Big 12 Women's Basketball Tournament at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo. Below is a breakdown of the first two rounds.

No. 9 Texas A&M vs. No. 8 Oklahoma State

Head to head this season: Feb. 5 — Oklahoma State, 65 at Texas A&M, 70 Feb. 27 — Texas A&M, 49 at Oklahoma State, 62

The Skinny: Oklahoma State reached the .500 mark with a 62-49 win over A&M on the final night of the regular season. The Aggies (13-15, 5-11) have gone 1-5 since beating OSU (15-14, 7-9) in the teams' first meeting.

Collegian Pick: Oklahoma State, barely.

No. 12 Kansas vs. No. 5 Texas When: 2:30 p.m. Tuesday Head to head this season: Feb. 26 - Texas, 61 at Kansas, 46

Kansas is winless in the Big 12 this season. Texas, on the other hand, came within one win of a firstround bye in the tournament. Instead, the Longhoms (19-8, 10-6) get the next best thing a tuneup with the terrible Jayhawks (5-24, 0-16). Collegian Picic Texas-sized blowout.

No. 10 Missouri vs. No. 7 Texas Tech m: 6 p.m. Tuesday Head to head this season:

Feb. 5 - Texas Tech, 71 at Missouri, 82 This could be the most exciting first-round contest. The Tigers (14-13, 5-11) owned the paint against the Lady Raiders (17-10, 8-8) in their first meeting, but Tech has recovered with wins over Texas and then-No. 19 Wisconsin in February. Collegian Pick: Texas Tech in a squeaker.

Game 4 No. 11 Nebraska vs. No. 6 Iowa State

Head to head this season: Jan. 5 - Iowa State, 88 at Nebraska, 54 Jan. 26 - Nebraska, 71 at Iowa State, 82 When: 8:30 p.m. Tuesday The Skinny:

lowa State got the game it wanted. The Cyclones (21-7, 9-7) will meet a Nebraska team on a four-game losing streak. In fact, the Huskers (14-15, 4-12) haven't won since Feb. 13, when they edged out winless Kansas, 77-70. Collegian Pick: Iowa State by plenty.

Winner Game 1 vs. No. 1 Oklahoma When: noon Wednesday

Oklahoma has proved why it's a Final Four contender. The Sooners (24-3, 14-2) have survived nearly every challenge in the Big 12, and lost only one non-conference game - to No. 1 Connecticut. That's why OU is the easy favorite to win it all. Oklahoma likely will get Oklahoma State - a team the Sooners beat by an average of 17.5 points in two previous meetings this season.

Winner Game 2 vs. No. 4 K-State When: 2:30 p.m. Wednesday

K-State was picked to finish in the bottom fourth of the league by Big 12 coaches in the preseason, Instead, the Cats (23-6, 11-5) are the surprise team of the year. K-State fans turned out in record numbers all season, and now the Cats enter the postseason eyeing a host-site for the NCAA's first two rounds. K-State could face Texas in the second round, a team the Cats beat 80-76.

Game 7 Winner Game 3 vs. No. 2 Baylor When: 6 p.m. Wednesday

The Skirny: Baylor entered conference play Jan. 5, 12-0. K-State ended that streak, upsetting the Bears (24-4,12-4) by 14 in Manhattan. After losing two more games in January, Baylor won 11 of its final 12 games. The Bears have shown they can win the big game with victories over Colorado, and Texas twice. Baylor will see either Texas Tech or Missouri in the second round, and could have the easiest path to the conference semifinals.

Winner Game 4 vs. No. 3 Colorado When: 8:30 p.m. Wednesday The Skinny:

Colorado won nine league games by 10 or more points this season and locked up third place by beating K-State by 21 on Feb. 23 in Boulder. The Buffs (21-8, 11-5) enter the tournament winners of 11 of their last 13. CU will see either Nebraska or lowa State in round two. The Buffaloes are 3-1 against the Huskers and Cyclones this year.

K-State's road to the Big 12 tournament wasn't easy. The conference is considered the best in the country by many, with seven teams in the Top 17. Nevertheless, the Cats finished 23-6 overall and 11-5 in the league to earn a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Here are the highlights:

Nov. 16 - K-State 74, Georgia Tech 70

K-State set the stage for the rest of the season by knocking off a more experienced Yellowjacket team, 74-70. Georgia Tech was receiving votes in the Top 25 at the time. Freshman guard Laurie Koehn scored 27 points and made seven three-pointers - the most by any Wildcat since Kim Woodlee in 1998.

Jan. 2 – K-State 69, Iowa State 63

K-State proved its nine consecutive wins were no fluke. The Cats knocked off their first ranked team - a Big 12 opponent on the road, Setting a trend for the rest of the season. Patterson used just six players - one of which played just one minute. Freshman forward Kendra Wecker led four Wildcats in double-digits with 19 points.

Jan. 9 - K-State 75, Colorado 52

After finishing the previous season 2-14 in conference play, one win over a ranked team would have been sweet in itself. Two would have been great. Three consecutive would have been unbelievable Against Colorado, though, K-State made believers out of 6,532 fans at Bramlage Coliseum. It was the first time K-State had beaten three ranked teams in one season since the 1980-81 season.

Jan. 12 — K-State 85, Nebraska 71 More fans than available seats showed up to Bramlage on this

Zach Long/Collegian

Though the announced attendance - 13,466 fans - was 44 short of a full house, fans were turned away at the doors. People crowded the concourse and stood in the doorways. Oh, yeah, the team won, too. "I looked at our arena, and I thought there is not a place anywhere in women's basketball any better than what this crowd is right here tonight," Patterson said.

Jan. 19 — K-State 60, Oklahoma State 68 Zach Long/Collegian

After winning 14 games in a row, K-State had to lose a game eventually. The Cats entered the game ranked ninth in the country, their highest-ever ranking, but struggled to establish any

The Cowgirls clamped down on Koehn and stalled the Cats' attack. On a positive note, of the 2,255 fans in attendance, more than half wore purple.

Jan. 30 - K-State 80, Texas 76

Three times was a charm for K-State in Austin. After finishing regulation and the first overtime period tied, K-State finally pulled out a victory in the second overtime. It was the Cats' first double-overtime game since 1979. Wecker grabbed 10 rebounds, but none were bigger than her last. Texas pulled within two points but missed a last-second jumper. Wecker grabbed the board and sealed the Cat win

Feb. 13 — K-State 68, Oklahoma 76 K-State lost the game but gained some confidence. OU started four seniors and one junior, compared to three freshmen, a sophomore and one senior for K-State.

"We competed extremely well with that group considering who we are at this point in our careers," Patterson said.

Feb. 17 - K-State 65, Kansas 40

It took K-State two hours to defeat Kansas, but for the fans, the result might have been a foregone conclusion.

Of the 11,858 fans in attendance, nearly two-thirds were K-State supporters. One man even brought a trumpet to play "Wildcat Victory" when the Cats took the court. During the game, K-State gave the fans plenty to cheer about, jumping out on KU early at Bramlage East.

Feb. 23 — K-State 58, Colorado 79

Just as K-State killed Kansas early, so did Colorado do to the Cats. K-State ran into the Buffalo Senior-Night buzzsaw and trailed 40-12 after the first half. Patterson pulled her entire starting lineup for several minutes "They came out and jammed it down our throats, and we weren't ready for them," Koehn said. "That was our fault for not being focused."

Feb. 27 — K-State 74, Missouri 55

K-State finished up the regular season in a tie for third in the Big 12 and wrapped up a first-round bye in the Big 12 Tournament

The Cats did so by hitting 11 three-point shots, led by Koehn, who scored 27 points the same day she was named ESPN.com's Rookie of the Year.

Illustration by Jamle Shelk/Collegian

- Compiled by Michael Noll

Zach Long/Collegian

K-State sophomore center Nicole Ohide (3) attempts a layup in the Wildcats' 67-52 loss to Nebraska on Feb 11. K-State has a bye in the first round of the Big 12 tournament.

Cats play role of favorite in conference tournament

BY DAN SMITH

Kannas State Collegias

With Selection Sunday less than a week away, there's still plenty to be decided in the world of women's basket-

And the Big 12 is no exception. With seven teams — namely Oklahoma, Baylor, Colorado, Texas, Iowa State, Texas Tech and K-State - all entertaining hopes to play the first two rounds in next week's NCAA tournament at home, focus this week shifts to the conference tournament in Kansas City, Mo.

*We're approaching the Big 12 tournament strictly from the standpoint of this is our next opportunity to play, and to play well, in preparation for the NCAA Tournament," K-State coach Deb Patterson said.

With seven teams ranked in the top 16 entering the week, Patterson said the conference tournament should have the same feeling as the NCAA field.

"The reality is when you look at Wednesday's pairings, it's like looking at pairings for a Sweet 16 NCAA tournament bracket," she said.

"Every team has the potential to be a ranked team, and every team has some phenomenal individual players if the brackets hold true to the lower seeds advancing."

The Sooners, Bears, Buffaloes and Wildcats all will be spectators when the tournament begins at noon Tuesday at Municipal Auditorium, but Patterson said her team would be watching one team particularly close.

"Assuming Texas plays true to the seeding, and we line up against Texas. they are just such an athletic basketball team - so quick to the ball and such a dominant rebounding team," Patterson said, predicting the Longhorns will survive Kansas in the first round.

Considering the lavhawks haven't won a conference game all season, Patterson's pick seems likely. That means a rematch of the double-overtime contest between the Cats and Horns on Jan. 30.

One thing's for certain, though. Regardless of the opponent, K-State will enter Wednesday's second-round as the favorite - a part the Cats haven't played in a conference tournament for a long time.

"The last two years we've gone into the tournament with the attitude of in order to make the NCAA, we've got to play well and advance all the way through," Patterson said.

This year, our approach is somewhat different. We're comfortable with the quality of basketball we've played over the season. We've learned a lot about onegame scenarios."

K-State's young guns

Laurie Koehn point guard

#10 5-8 Freshman 17.6 ppg, 2.5 apg

Laurie Koehn is the Cats' long-range threat. Though she has managed the point position for K-State this season, her greatest contribution to Coach Patterson's club comes from behind the three point line. The ESPN.com

TATE Rookie of the Year finished with 105 treys - tops in the NCAA.

#12 5-9 Senior Corning, Kan. 7.6 ppg. .472 3PT%

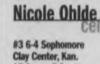

Kristin Rethman is K-State's source for reteran leadership. After surviving three difficult years with a struggling program, the senior finally will make an NCAA tournament run. Rethman ranks second on the team with 53 three-pointers

Kendra Wecker power forward

#53 5-11 Freshman Marysville, Kan. 16.3 ppg, 8.2 rpg

Kendra Wecker is K-State's swing player. The freshman is a banger inside and a shooter outside. Wecker leads the team in rebounds-per-game and hit 21 threepointers this season for the Wildcats.

18.2 ppg, 8.0 rpg

Last year's Big 12 Freshman of the Year, Nicole Ohlde, only got better this season. The sophomore gives K-State a dominant scoring threat in the post and balance in Patterson's

Megan Mahoney Small forward

#34 6-0 Freshman Black Hawk, S.D.

9.1 ppg, 4.7 apg The lone member of K-State's lineup not from Kansas, Megan Mahoney is K-State's assist leader. The freshman also is second on the team in steals with 45. Mahoney's contagious enthusiasm has carried over to the rest of the Wildcats this

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 5, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 107 www.kstatecollegian.com

Elections begin

see Voter's Guide

SGA ELECTIONS

Campaign supporters mirror candidates

BY NANCY HULL

Kansas State Collegia:

Campaign contributors for the two presidential election pairs have characteristics similar to the candidates they're supporting

A Collegian demographic analysis found a high percentage of the pairs' contributors are in the same colleges and greek houses as the candidates.

For the Zac Cook/Todd Kohman ticket, about 28 percent of supporters are business majors and 18 percent are engineering majors. Kohman is a senior in marketing and international business, and Cook is a senior agricultural and biological engineering major.

Approximately 30 percent of Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles' contributors are agriculture majors. Wolters is a senior in agriculture education, and Achilles is a sophomore in mass communications.

More than half of the contributors for both tickets are greek. About 59 percent of Wolters' and Achilles' contributors are greek, compared with 69 percent of their competitors' contributors. Of that 69 percent, Cook and Kohman's fraternity — Delta Chi - makes up about 40 percent. During a chapter meeting, Delta Chi members unanimously voted to have all 80-plus members donate to the campaign, Kohman said.

The greek organization with the most contributors to the Wolters/Achilles ticket is Achilles' sorority, Alpha Delta Pi, whose members make up about 18 percent of the contributors. Wolters' fraternity, Beta Sigma Psi, and Alpha Gamma Rho each make up about 12 percent.

Twenty-six members of Student Governing Association contributed to the pairs' funds. Fifteen members contributed to the Wolters/Achilles ticket, and 11 members gave to the Cook/Kohman ticket, including student body president and vice president, Kyle Barker and Brandon Kauffman.

Upperclassmen made up more than 50 percent of contributors for both tickets, and more males than females were listed.

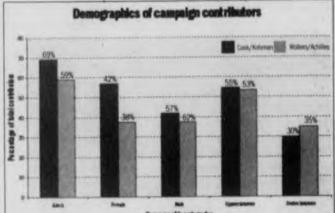

Both pairs say they looked to their friends for financial support.

Wolters said that about two weeks ago, he and Achilles started telling their friends about their campaign platform and asked them if they wanted

"Then they spread the word and talked to their friends," he said.

The pair sold T-shirts for $5 and also asked contributors if they wanted to give an additional $5, Wolters said.

See EXPENSES on PAGE 10

The percentages are based on expense reports that were due before the primary election. Sources: Campaign expense reports, spring 2002 greek telephone directory, K-State electronic white pages. Twenty-eight Cook/Kohman contributors and 31 Wolters/Achilles contributors didn't have white page records.

April Middleton/Collegian

Last impression

Photos by Zach Long/Collegian

Matt Wolters, right, responds to a question from Zac Cook, left, during the final student government presidential debate Monday at the KSDB-FM 91.9 studio in McCain Auditorium. Wolters and Cook had one last chance during the hour-long program to inform voters about their issues before the general election. The polis are open for voters today and Wednesday.

Candidates debate, answer voters' final questions

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas Store Collegian

residential candidates Zac Cook and Matt Wolters answered voters' final questions - ranging from underwear preferences to parking garages - during the final debate aired on KSDB-FM 91.9 Monday evening.

Cook, with a grin on his face, asked Wolters whether he was a boxers or briefs man "It just depends on what mood strikes me when I wake up in the morning," Wolters said. "I have a supply of both in my top

Listeners also learned the candidates' favorite movie actors and buildings on

However, the debate centered around more serious platform issues, including a solution to the parking problem.

"As sad as it may be, parking is an issue that won't be solved in the next year." Wolters said

He said that he and his running mate, Mandy Achilles, support the building of a parking garage, which could be seen in the next three to five years.

"We feel that students at K-State have an expectation to park as close as we can," he said. "A parking garage is the way to go. Students will have to pay for it, but as we talk to students, that's what we hear."

Matt Wolters, student government presidential candidate, speaks during the final debate Monday at the KSDB-FM 91.9 studio in McCain Auditorium.

Cook said that although he supports the master plan, which includes the building of a garage, he thinks there are other solutions.

"When you talk about a parking garage, you have to realize that someone has to pay for that," he said. "It is going to take a change of mind."

Cook's solutions included car-pooling and using other modes of transportation to get to class.

"Right now, we need to think about riding bikes and walking, even if it's cold,"

The pair also argued about the development of a tuition student advisory

"There are massive changes going on with tuition." Wolters said.

He said the committee would meet on a regular basis with the administration to see that additional money is being spent in the best interest of the students.

"It formalizes the process," Wolters said. "The administration knows the students will be coming in and they will get student input no matter what."

Cook said he thinks the committee is not

"I feel like it's not necessary," Cook said. "I think it's the job of the student body president to represent the students."

Cook contended that the president already would have a working relationship with the administration and the Kansas Board of Regents, so they would be more equipped to give input.

Wolters explained the issue unique to his campaign - establishing the Wildcat March tradition.

"Mandy and I sat down and thought, what can we give and what can we provide," Wolters said. "It has the potential to be a truly awesome event.

The Wildcat March would begin with

San DEBATE on PAGE 10

Committee dismisses Krasnoff's complaints

BY SARAH BAHARI Kunsus Statu Callegian

The elections committee threw out complaints filed by former vice presidential candidate fon Krasnoff on Monday. After deliberating for about 30 minutes in a closed session, elections chair Ted Conrad said the committee did not find grounds to support any violations.

Conrad declined to comment on specifics of the deliberations. He only said the committee reached a mutual decision.

"I think the decision speaks for itself," he said.

Krasnoff said he might appeal the decision to the campus tribunal because he did not feel like he was treated fairly by the committee members

"The objectivity was thrown out the window the minute we walked in the door," he said. "It was like we were on trial, and we were the ones who were filing the complaint. He said he will most likely decide by the end of today whether to appeal. Krasnoff filed complaints against the committee, citing the major reason as vendor, iballot.com. Write-in candidates were accidentally included on the ballot until about 1:10 p.m. on the first day of the the problems with the online voting primaries. Krasnoff, who received 82 votes, said that while it might not have affected the numerical outcome of the election, it affected the mindset of the candidates and voters. "There was significant psychological and emotional damage to the voting public," he said.

This however, cannot be measured in data." In Krasnoff's complaint, he also said the committee did not provide the candidates with a copy of the ballot before the election and failed to maintain an orderly election and the security of the ballot. However, Conrad said the ballot was available in the Office of Student Activities and Services. Former presidential candidate Ali Karimi also attended the complaint hearing. He, too, filed complaints against the committee, but withdrew them after the committee agreed to work with him to revise the elections code.

Karimi said he didn't think the committee showed a commitment to fair elections.

"This is dirty," he said. "Students were scammed tonight terribly."

Voting for Student Governing Association positions will begin at 8 a.m. today. Log onto kats.ksu.edu to vote.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

CAMPUS IN BRIEF

Magazine ranks Collegian among top papers in nation

Teen People magazine has selected the Collegian as one of the top 17 college and high school newspapers in the country.

Tabitha Sukhai, Teen People editorial assistant, said the magazine conducted extensive research in order to choose the top publications.

"We are now looking for elite trendsetters of a high caliber in order to strengthen the relationship with our readers," she said.

Teen People chose the Collegian because of its exceptional writing, awards and high quality Electronic Collegian, she said.

"We do a lot of online research, and normally, online publications usually just put fluff on their online sites," Snkhai said. "We found the eCollegian to be really strong, so we wanted to see a paper version of the Collegian."

STATE IN BRIEF

Democrats savor victory on vo-tech scholarship bill

TOPEKA - House Democrats are savoring a legislative victory in the progress of a proposal to set up a loan program for Kansans who want new job skills.

A bill before the Senate Commerce Committee would create work-force development loans for students at the state's community colleges and area vocational-technical schools.

It would set aside $1 million in federal funds to start the program.

Kansas focuses on looking for signs of bioterrorism

WICHITA - A computer software developer is working with Kansas health officials to develop a computer program that would track things like cough syrup sales and school absences in an effort to detect a possible bioterrorism attack.

When people are sick, they first reach for over-the-counter drugs, such as cough syrup, said Pete Kitch, a Wichitabased health information specialist and computer software developer.

Early surveillance is one of several programs that public health officials hope to start this spring as the federal government pours $1.1 billion into fighting bioterrorism nationally.

NATION IN BRIEF

Astronauts install new solar wing on Hubble telescope

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - Two shuttle astronauts ventured out on as spacewalk Monday and successfully installed the first of two new. powerful solar wings on the Hubble Space Telescope

"Hello, Mr. Hubble, the telescope," lead spacewalker John Grunsfeld said as he emerged from space shuttle Columbia. "We're here to give you more power to see the planets, stars and the universe.

Monday morning's 350-mile-high tuneup was the first of five planned this week to enhance Hubble, not just electrically, but scientifically. The shuttle had linked up with the telescope on Sunday.

Victim shot by FBI agent still in serious condition

BALTIMORE - A 20-year-old man mistakenly shot by an FBI agent might have been reaching for his seat belt, the victim's lawyer said Monday.

Joseph Schultz remained hospitalized Monday in serious condition with a shattered jaw, said his attorney,

Psychiatric test ordered for accused law school student

GRUNDY, Va. - A judge on Monday ordered a psychiatric evaluation for a former law student accused of murdering three people in a shooting rampage at the Appalachian School of Law.

Judge Patrick Johnson issued the ruling after a lawyer for 43-year-old Peter Odighizuwa said he "shows some distorted perception of reality."

On Jan. 16, one day after school officials told Odighizuwa they were flunking him out of school, Odighizuwa allegedly shot and killed the school's dean, a professor and a student. Prosecutors have said they will seek the death penalty.

Alumnus plans career change after managing golf course

BY MICHAEL LAWRENCE Kansas State Collegian

Where they are now

aving just graduated in December, Andy Liebolt, golf course management alumnus, said he enjoys his recently acquired job at the Aspen Glen Club in Glenwood Springs Colo. where he manages a golf course.

However, he said he does not plan to stay there.

"I enjoy it, but it's not something I would do my entire life," Liebolt said.

Liebolt said he was hired in mid November, and he only plans to keep it for two years. He said he then will shift focus on something different.

Liebolt said he hopes to eventually work in university campus Christian programs.

Liebolt said he doubts his life calling is golf course management. "I doubt God has me here to work on the golf course," he said. He said his time working for a golf course will help him prepare for his upcoming career, which he said he is anxiously awaiting to begin.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

"I'm excited for the future," Liebolt said. He said he wants to work for university Christian programs because he thinks he can help develop college students' spiritual life. He said he has a desire to work with students.

'My passion is to be around people," he said.

While he waits for the future, he said he will remain at the Aspen Glen Club. Liebolt said, however, that he has not been able to do much because the golf course has been covered with snow.

Liebolt said he enjoys his job so far, but he has a hard time adjusting to his new community.

'It's a different lifestyle," he said. There's a lot of things I still have to learn up here."

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can he published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. tico days before it is to run activity. To place an item in the Jardine Apartments is having a Severe Weather program at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Frith Community

KSU Motorsports will be at 7 tonight in Union State Room 3. Pre-Nursing Club will meet at 7 tonight in Union 207.

Department of Geology will have a seminar by Dr. Mike Blum at 4 p.m. today in Thompson 213.

Exercise Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in Holtz Hall. Call 532-6506 for reservations. Sigma lota Rho International Relations Honorary will have a free showing of "The Inner Circle," a movie about Russia under Stalin, at 6 p.m. Wednesday in Eisenhower 15.

ELeadership Studies students who intend to graduate with the minor this May must fill out an application for graduation from the Leadership Students and Programs main office, 918 N. Manhattan Ave.

Education Council will meet at 7 tonight in Bluemont 106. E Students for Environmental Action will meet at 7 tonight in Union

ECLA will meet at 6 tonight at the Luther House for supper and Bible study.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Friday, March 1

IIII At 10 a.m., Reginald Saxton, Fort

Ogden, was arrested for violation of a protective order. Bond was set at

■ At 2:16 a.m., Melissa Hargis, 1031 Pierre, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $3,000. At 2:48 p.m., Amber Luckeroth, failure to appear. Bond was set at

III At 4:01 p.m., Tera Weisbender, 1451 East Lane, was arrested for m At 4:25 p.m., Ron Duncan, 618 N. 11th, was arrested for two counts of probation violation. Bond was set at

Saturday, March 2

set at $5,000.

Riley, was arrested for two counts of probation violation. Bond was set at # At 1:40 p.m., Sam Maiorana, 300 N. Fifth, Apt. 6F, was arrested for aggravated battery. Bond was set at

At 12:41 a.m., Brian Moniger, Junction City, was arrested for two counts of failure to appear. Bond was ■ At 1:13 a.m., Charles McKee, 402 Mariatt Hall, was arrested for DUI.

Bond was set at $750.

At 1:52 a.m., Timothy Stewart, 521 Vattier, was arrested for reckless. driving and DUI. No bond was set. At 9:45 a.m., Richard Patterson, 1704 Fair Lane, was arrested for failure to appear. No bond was set. At 8:28 p.m., Raymond Taylor, 925 Colorado St., was arrested for driving on a suspended license and DUI. No bond was set.

Sunday, March 3

■ At 12:39 p.m., Cordell Black, 1022 Gardenway, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at

At 1:53 a.m., John Runnebaum, 1612 Stewart, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. m At 2:09 a.m., Tracey Hull, 3116 Winston Place, Apt. 9, was arrested for DUI, Bond was set at $750. At 2:22 a.m., Joshua James, Olathe, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance, unlawful possession of depressant and DUI. No bond was set. At 2:45 a.m., Brandi

Cathcard, 1030 Thurston, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at

K-State Police III No reports of note were made. Editor in Chief City/Gov Editor April Middleton Dana Strongin aging Editor Nancy Foster

Jessica Pitts

Zach Long Photo Director Paul Restivo

Alyson Raletz

Nicole Donnert Asst. Photo Director

ABE Editor Amber Koehn

Katie Lane Presentation Editor

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

Sports Editor

Nancy Hull Projects Editor Micah Hawkinson

eCollegiun Editor Jodi Fagerquist

Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

ABOUT US

BY PHONE Newsroom Display advertising Classified advertising/Delivery Problems Photo reprints

532-6560

532-6555 532-6304

(USPS 261 020), a stadent newspaper at Kansan State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kerkis 103 Manhattan, Kan. 66560. The Collegion is published weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays throng the sommer Periodical prostage is paid at Manhartan, Kan OCCU. PUSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas Stat Collegues, circulation desk,

© Kamsas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

M& Little Caesars

TUESDAY SPECIAL!

18" GIANT PIZZA WITH 1 TOPPING PLUS AN 8 PIECE ORDER OF CRAZY BREAD

RN, LPN, or Experienced Medical Professional

Where your heart and mind go to work. Be a link in our chain of giving. We are currently hiring in our Donor Services department in the Manhattan and surrounding areas. This is a rewarding and fast paced job working with volunteers and donors. These employees will work at blood drives drawing blood and conducting health histories. Also responsible for setting up and breaking down the blood drive equipment. Must be flexible, hours will vary each day. Full time. M-F and occasional weekends and holidays. Some overnight travel. Must be able to bend and stoop and lift 40 lb. on a regular basis. Salary commensurate with experience. Pay also includes overnight differential. GREAT benefits! Send resumes or call for an application: American Red Cross Services, 707 N. Main, Wichita,

KS 67203 Phone(316) 268-9040 Fax (316) 268-0864 e-mail moveria@usa.redcross.org EOE M/F/D/V Drug Free Workplace ou didn't expect it. You didn't plan on it. You didn't even mean for it to happen. Bu whatever your plan was, it didn't include being arrested. Sometimes, a lapse in judgment or the lack of planning can land you in jail. Then comes the question,"What We can help by first gening you out, then working with you on your next step. If someone you know and care about finds life has just handed them a lemon, call us Otherwise, save the grief and costs and plan for a Designated Driver if you are going to

AMERICAN EAGLE BAIL BONDS

Call Dan Bayes at 770-3164

When you REALLY don't want to spend the night!

Pet Health Alert

Have you had your dog tested for heartworms this year?

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY VETERINARY MEDICAL TEACHING HOSPITAL recommends annual testing of all dogs over 6 months of age.

The KSU-VMTH Heartworm Clinic will be March [1-16, by appointment Call now, 532-5690

**Dogs must be at least 3 1/2 months old to be tested

RELIGION DEBATE

GREG BOYD CHI-ALPHA CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

CHRISTIANITY VS. SECULAR HUMANISM

MASSIMO PIGLIUCCI INDIVIDUALS FOR FREETHOUGHT

SAT. MARCH 9, 7:00 P.M. - McCAIN

FREE TO THE PUBLIC

Overtime

Emily Schissler, Junior In art education, uses time outside of class to work on a ceramics project in West Stadium on Monday evening.

Kansas State Collegain Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Fat's

TUESDAY

50¢ Draws 75¢ Pints $1.50 Big Beers

WEDWESDAY

$2 Everything Live: Kade & Trevor

Daily -16" Pizzas - $6 25¢ each additional topping

NASA funds to continue professors' research

BY EDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegian

Two K-State professors have received funding from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to continue their work on growing plants in zero gravity conditions.

Gerard Kluitenberg, professor of agronomy, and Lakshimi Reddi. head of the Department of Civil Engineering, will receive $200,000 for each of the next three years from NASA.

The two men are one of five research teams in the nation studying the potential to grow plants in zerogravity or microgravity environments.

Both said the majority of the funding would go toward hiring post-doctoral research associates for the next three years.

Reddi said money for his research also will go toward doing experiments on a shake table. which simulates the vibration that takes place during a launch.

Each of the five research teams is focusing on a different problem with growing plants in space. Kluitenberg and Reddi are working with the soil aspect.

Kluitenberg's research focuses on heat transfer in soil, while Reddi's research is more focused on predicting how water and oxygen will be distributed in soil in a zero gravity environment.

NASA approached both men after reading about past individual. research they conducted.

Kluitenberg's past research included the creation of thermal sensors, which shoot a pulse of heat through a soil sample and then record the temperature of the

The main objective of the thermal sensors is to help measurewater content in soil because there is a direct relationship between the thermal properties of soil and its water content.

Reddi's past research also started eight years ago. Reddi published research he had done while working on an environmental problem indicating how oil and water co-exist in soil.

After reading his work and hearing a presentation given by Reddi, NASA felt his findings were similar to how water and air exist in space. "I was really excited when they said my work would be very applicable to what they wanted to do," Reddi said.

"The most exciting thing was that they saw the importance of my Kluitenberg also said he was excited when he heard of the funding NASA was providing.

"It's a really neat opportunity to do some science in space," Kluitenberg said. "I think all of us involved had some attraction growing up for what NASA does, and this opportunity to participate in that is very

KSU Pre Physical Therapy Club

Guest speaker Candy Bahner

President of KS Physical Therapy Association

Thursday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m.

Union Room 208

Also information on upcoming elections in April

Kluitenberg said he will contribute three things to the overall project of growing plants in

The first is to evaluate thermal sensors in general.

He said the challenging part of his research is creating zerogravity environments with which to experi-

Kluitenberg also will work to better understand the effects of gravity on heat transfer in soil. He said it is apparent that the understanding of water, oxygen and heat in soil has its shortcomings.

Lastly, Kluitenberg will be focusing in on the design of various experiments to evaluate the results of all the teams' work.

Kluitenberg said since doing experiments in space is very expensive, the research he and his colleagues are doing now is basically to help design, plan and test possible experiments.

Reddi's research has to do with how water and air exists as bubbles

In his research, Reddi uses a soil-shaking table to simulate the shaking that would take place during a launch situation.

Reddi puts a sample of soil in a small chamber and injects a liquid that doesn't mix with water to simulate air bubbles and vibrates it in the same way a launch would.

He then uses a powerful camera to see if and where the drops shake

After changing the variables and making a number of observations, Reddi enters the results into a

He then uses mathematical equations to predict the locations of water and air in soil.

Reddi said research on growing plants in space is important to NASA because they are interested in finding ways life can be sustained in outer space.

"They want to know and understand the principle of growing plants in space so it can be used in the future, when planetary exploration takes place," Reddi said.

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER (Sears Wing) SALE DOORS ARE NOW OPEN MON.-SAT. 10-9 SUN. 12-6

FINAL DAYS!

Now everything Storewide

40-90% off

TOO MANY DEALS TO EVEN BEGIN TO LIST. Every item in the store marked down for immediate sale.

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 1 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p

Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p 5un 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

6-38 http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

ANNOUNCEMENTS

C-B Graduation Announcements SAN SAN

Varney's Book Store Graduation Fair Order now for all your graduation needs. Tues. & Wed./March 5 & 6 Representatives will be available from noon - 8 p.m.

> Graduation starts at BOOK STORE IN AGGIEVILLE

Students should voice opinions in SGA election

General elections begin today and end Wednesday, at 6 p.m., and all students should vote.

Approximately 14 percent of the campus voted last week in the primary elections. More people should vote this time because even more positions are on the ballot.

► OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

majorily opinion is

formed OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

icritten after a

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Paul Restivo

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Katie Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

April Middleton

Voting is important because the many positions greatly affect the university. Students can vote not only for student body president, but also for senators, college council members. Union Governing Board members and students for the Board of Student Publications. These leaders will increase communication within the university.

The ballot also will feature a plebiscite vote for the SafeRide program. Voters can voice their opinions about whether they approve of a university-run designated-driving system. This is a great opportunity to vote about spending student money on such a program.

Voting in the general elections should he a part of your day. For more information on candidates, read the Voter's Guide section in today's Collegian.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions on topics relevant to the publication.

The only people who say it is better to have loved and lost than never have loved at all have never lost and never been left, or never really loved at all.

To Paul White - There's no need for the U.S. to provide evidence that bin Laden is involved in the attacks when he does it for us in his videos and brags about it.

The greatest trick the Devil ever pulled was convincing the world he didn't exist.

My roommate's dress: $100. Shoes that I have yet to wear: $30. Leaving my suitcase in the B-2 parking lot five hours before formal in Kansas City: priceless.

To the person that found that suitcase in B-2, if you turn it in to the campus police and leave your name and number, I will give you $100.

How is a dog's mouth cleaner than a human's? I watch my dog lick her own butt repeatedly day in and day out, and she never brushes afterwards.

Hey, Paul White, are you going to think for yourself, or just continue to plagiarize off anti-Bush Web sites?

Yeah, I think all the candidates who lost are just whiny little girls who can't take losing. Gosh ... darn it ... you guys suck!

You post the Internet sites I get, but you won't post any of my Fourum messages.

I think it's shady that people keep calling in to the Fourum. It's doing it for me. I'm tired of hearing about the squirrels. They're doing it for me. This is shady.

So, are we going to do this or what?

lot enough Fourum in today's Collegian? www.kstatecollegian.com.

WEDNESDAY

Amber Koehn thinks the Kansas Legislature should take action soon regarding the Judicial Branch's budget crisis. Zach Long provides a guest column about rude pep band members at the women's basketball

Overdose

Prescription drugs become American obsession

i, my name is Dana, and I am a drug addict. Every morning, I wake up feeling the need for a fix. I roll out of bed and shuffle to a worn green bag stuffed with all my paraphernalia. I gaze into the mirror as I pop two fat pills and move on to inhaling and sniffing the strong stuff. All for a minor asthma problem. The United States is no longer the Prozac Nation: It is the Viagra-Zoloft-Allegra-Paxil Nation, and prescription medications are too widely used and too easily acquired. Americans have an obsession with health. It's been great to watch them find new ways to eat right and get fit, but the drugs are overkill. Too many people are taking drugs they don't even need. They could cut down on medications and dosages and still enjoy the benefits drugs

Take me, for instance. I am at a point where I inhale medicine so potent that it makes me feel nauseated unless I rinse my mouth. I sniff allergy drugs that on cold, crisp mornings make my nostrils feel like battery acid is burning through

It makes me wonder how many drugs truly ill people are on right now.

Prescription medications aren't just to remind us of it with their clandestine commercials.

It's understandable that companies want to sell view their products for profit. But it's simply disconcerting to watch commer

Dana Strongin

full of laughing people running though sunflower fields and eating picnics in their lush backyards when all you hear is an announcer saying, 'Ask your doctor if (insert drug name here) is right for you."

Uh, shouldn't my doctor be telling me if (insert drug name here) is right for me on her own accord? Why should I have to ask her about this miracle chemical concoction? If I really did ask about Viagra, for instance, I think she would

At least we know the drugged-up smiling people in the commercials are experiencing side effects. They are probably having problems with sexual dysfunction and diarrhea among other embarrassing and uncomfortable bodily dysfunctions.

The scariest drugs are the ones that soothe people's vanity. Rogaine is the perfect example. Balding sucks, but why would you take something that pregnant women can't touch? If it harms a fetus, it can't be so great for you either. Just accept things as they are. You can always resort to the comb-over.

I am not against prescription drug companies. Recently developed medications have not only improved, but possibly prolonged lives. At real fault are the consumers because we have become so focused on ourselves.

The anthrax scare perfectly exemplifies our overwhelming desires to save our own asses. Right now, empty bottles of Cipro are gathering dust in medicine cabinets all over the nation. Yet so many people who needed the drug for other reasons couldn't find it anywhere. Why do we feel this need to protect ourselves? It's a growing desire in our society to take every step possible to assure our own safety and happiness. Nothing makes us feel better than regular doses of legal drugs. We have reached the limit when we are hurting others by using too much of one medication. We also hurt ourselves by taking drugs we often don't need, like taking antibiotics for a viral infection.

It's time to relax a little. I have asthma, you have social anxiety and dog hair makes your sister swell up like a ripe fruit. In the end, we all have our health problems, but we need to monitor the number and dosages of the drugs we

Mo-ped adventure illustrates need for leisure time

ometimes, life lessons arrive in mysterious ways. Walking home from class last week I heard the thunderous rumble of a lawn mower engine.

Thinking nothing of it, I continued my journey with thoughts of homework assignments, meetings and summer internship applications clouding my head.

As these worries swirled throughout my consciousness, I once again took notice of

Jared Wiesner

moped.

the rambling engine noise.

It was getting closer. Slowly turning my head toward the direction of the sound, I bore witness to a sight of comical proportions.

Cruising down Claffin Street on a beat up mo-ped was my friend Sterling. But this was no ordinary mo-ped, and this was no ordinary guy. Bright orange with a huge banana seat, the bike spurned images of decades

Old-fashioned handlebars, an attached milk crate, a squeaky horn and a broken speedometer all added to the mystique of this beast of a vehicle.

What completed the image, however, was the driver. Standing all of 6 feet 4 inches tall. Sterling's lanky frame was compacted to the tiny confinements of the mo-ped.

Knee caps jutting out at 45 degree angles, he casually pulled the bike onto the sidewalk beside > "Hop on Weeze," he suavely spouted, "this Hog seats two." Not in the mood to walk the rest of the way home, I slung my leg over the rear of the seat and settled into the soft cushion. Two people, 400 pounds and homework a rank little Something was bound to give. In one swooping motion, Sterling kick-started the glorified bicycle into gear and snapped his dishwater-white helmet strap across his chin. I was in the presence of a professional.

Scurrying off the sidewalk, we began the slow ascent beside Throckmorton Hall toward Stopped at the red light, a curious crowd of students gawked from the corner.

"What am I doing?" I thought. "I must look like a complete idiot."

Then I remembered what my parents and friends have been telling me since I was a small child: I am an idiot

Cracking a smile for the first time on the ride, I carelessly let out rolling laughter.

Amid the heckles of the patronizing crowd, I found a confident peace known only in my earliest youth.

As we rode down Claflin, I allowed the warm breeze to sift through my hair. It was a beautiful day, and I was meetings unmer internship applications soaking all of it up. Weaving in and out of traffic, I began to let go of the worries and responsibilities eating at my mind.

> I questioned the need to feel bogged down by schoolwork and activities. After all, college isn't the real world, and it isn't supposed to be. Sure, we come here to go to class and learn from our professors. But more than that, college is about meeting new world of books, papers and tests. It didn't matter, though. Because for a entire world made sense.

brief moment atop a rickety mo-ped the people, developing certain social skills and

In all honesty, we live in a fantasy land.

On this four-year vacation from reality, we are provided the opportunity to learn and grow in an atmosphere of knowledge and how busy we might become, we must not days at K-State and remember how easy

they were, just like I do with high school

now. We owe it to ourselves to stop caring.

so much about certain trivial responsibili-

As we pulled into the driveway, I began to refocus on the day at hand. There were a lot of hoops left to jump through, but they didn't seem quite as ominous as they once

Snatching my literature book from the milk crate, I jumped off the mo-ped with a hop in my step. It was time to re-enter the College is not the real world. No matter

In several years, I will look back on my Sometimes I forget that.

having fun.

forget this.

Jared is a sophomore in political science. You can e-mail him at jsw7333@ksu.edu.

Consortium plays vital role in development

BY JAMES HURLA Kansas State Collegian

Imagine a desperate man has taken hostages and has them holed up in a small room. He has covered all possible points of entry and is prepared for anything.

He has eliminated the possibilities of police officers crashing through the door, a sniper watching the window or a SWAT team coming through the heating duct.

But then, a small object slides under the door. It looks innocent enough, but before long, the room fills with a horrendous stench.

The captor cannot stand it any longer. The smell burns his nostrils, and he finally bursts from the room to escape the treacherous smell emanating throughout the room.

The U.S. Department of Defense is working on developing non-lethal weapons for use in peacekeeping and low-intensity conflicts, and K-State is playing a key role in making sure the products are environmentally safe, said Blase Leven, program manager for National Environmental Evaluation and Remediation, or NEER, Consortium.

The NEER Consortium involves graduate students and faculty from K-State, as well as from other universities around the nation.

The focus of the consortium is on environmental evaluation of products and making sure the products do not have negative effects on the environment.

If they do harm the environment, members suggest alternatives to eliminate the risks, NEER director Larry Erickson said. "The environmental side is quite important," Erickson said. The consortium received a grant from the Department of Defense to research possible environmental dangers behind certain non-lethal weapons.

Non-lethal weapons under development include a malodorant that would cause such a horrid odor that it would force people out of an area, and an anti-traction material that would cause surfaces to be slippery enough to prevent walking or driving across the surface.

The consortium originally was created because of an earlier center, the Environmental Protection Agency's Hazardous Substance Center, Erickson said.

The consortium is made up of a partnership of both universities and independent corporations.

The Great Plains/Rocky Mountain Hazardous Substance
Research Center, a collection of 14 universities was created by the Environmental Protection Agency, as well as M2 Technologies Inc.
and Nanoscale Materials Inc. are important participants in the consortium.

Erickson said the consortium encompasses many departments and divisions at K-State, including areas in chemistry, biology, toxicology, biological, civil, and chemical engineering.

Robert Jarret, from the Army's Environmental Policy Institute, will speak at 7 p.m. Thursday in Rathbone 152.

Erickson said Jarret's speech, which is open to the public, is a good opportunity for students to learn more about the consortium's involvement with the government.

"It's good for K-State to interact with the Army Environmental Policy Institute," Erickson said.

"My general thinking is that when there are others working on related activities, it's good to communicate and to know what's going on instead of just working in your own little corner. It's good for us as taxpayers to know that our tax money is being used efficiently."

Passenger jet engine failure forces emergency landing

The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Engine failure forced an American Airlines passenger jet to make an emergency landing Monday shortly after taking off from Los Angeles International Airport.

The airport also was hit with another security screening scare Monday morning.

The Boeing 767 landed safely at 8:50 a.m., about 10 minutes after it left the airport. American flight No. 76 was en route to Washington-Dulles Airport, according to American Airlines.

"It had engine failure and landed without incident," Federal Aviation Administration operations officer Larri Dillard said.

A Los Angeles city fire official, Battalion Chief Robert Franco, said airport officials were given about three minutes' notice that the jetliner needed to return.

"This thing just came in spur of the moment," Franco said.

Fire personnel inspected the plane after it landed and escorted it to the terminal, where it was connected to the jetway. It wasn't immediately clear whether passengers were being allowed off the plane.

allowed off the plane. The twin-engine, wide-bodied jet, like all jetliners, is designed to fly safely even if an engine goes out.

The emergency landing came several hours after hundreds of passengers in an LAX ticketing area were evacuated when security screeners saw the outline of a grenade inside a passenger's bag. The item turned out to be a gag gift, according to a government source in Washington who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Hundreds of passengers were stranded outside Terminals 2 and 3 for more than 3 1/2 hours. Passengers were let back into the terminals about 9:30 a.m.

"It's just another day in America," laughed Flemuel Brown, a Philadelphia music producer on his way home from last week's Grammys. "I'm just glad everybody is all right."

The affected terminals serve Alaska, American, Horizon, TWA, Air China, Air Canada, Hawaiian Air and Northwest airlines, among others.

Pregnancy Testing Center

"Supportive services for pregnance parenting & adoption."

39-3338

Free pregnancy testing
Totally confidential service
Same day results
Call for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Villas Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

SWIMSUITS! The best bikinis are at

Patricia's UDEACOVEA
Lingerie

1224 Moro Aggleville Mon.-Thurs. 10-7 Fri.-Sat. 10-5

Leasing Now For August

- •Cambridge Square
- •Sandstone Apts.
- •1114 Fremont
- •2000 College Hgts. •519 Osage
- Fireplaces Carports
   Pool Private Deck
- •Laundry Facilities
- •Large 2-bedroom

Units

537-9064

Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Campus Fourum: 395-4444

Good Luck, Wildcats!

Most K-State Students Know How to Party Safely!

- Most use designated drivers -

- Most drink moderately, if at all -

- Most party with friends they know and trust -

1 drink = one bottle of beer, one glass of wine, one wine cooler, or one shot of liquor Based on a 2001 campus-wide classroom survey of 1375 KSU students.

Playing for Pride

K-State enters Big 12 tournament with confidence

BY SEAN PURCELL Kansas State Collegian

n NCAA or NTT title run - or even a bid to the tournament - might be out the door for K-State this season. But don't tell the Wildcats that. Words like pride, honor and resilience stuck out when discussing the Big 12 tournament with players after Saturday's 67-58 win over Nebraska.

This team still is focused on ending its season on a strong note.

"It was a good confidence booster after losing to KU," Larry Reid said.

"All of our guys wanted to come out and play real tough, and this win taking us into the Big 12 tournament is going to help a lot because we are playing better together.'

The 35-point shellacking at the hands of the Jayhawks on Feb. 27 proved to be a demoralizing defeat for K-State. The Cats surrendered 28 turnovers — their largest number of the season.

But postseason implications were still significant if the Cats could win one more, and the Cats exhibited pride as they scored a win over conference-foe Nebraska on the last day of the regular season.

"We just went ahead and put that game behind us - we had to focus on our last game," Reid said. "It was a big game with big implications, so we just had the mindset of getting the win."

K-State did get the win and secured the seventh seed in the Big 12 tournament in the

Now the focus shifts to getting a win over Baylor, then trying to move deeper into the tournament against an Oklahoma team looking for a No. 1 seed in the NCAA tournament.

For Coach Jim Wooldridge, the team's character and poise has allowed them to play with confidence throughout the year.

"We've been able to be resilient this year and come back from a lot of things," he said. "You've got to compliment this team. At certain points this year they had opportunities to break, but I think this team has done a great job of

"At certain points this year they had opportunities to break, but I think this team has done a great job of sticking together and working together as a unit looking to win and knowing they can win."

Coach Jim Wooldridge

sticking together and working together as a unit looking to win and knowing they can win.

"They're not the best team in the league, and no one said they would be. But you look at where they are at in this conference, and you look back at the beginning of January, and I would compliment this team and say that's a

The Cats dropped three straight games to open January and the Big 12 season.

But K-State came back and posted upsets over Texas and Oklahoma State later in the month. Wooldridge said confidence was at an all-time high

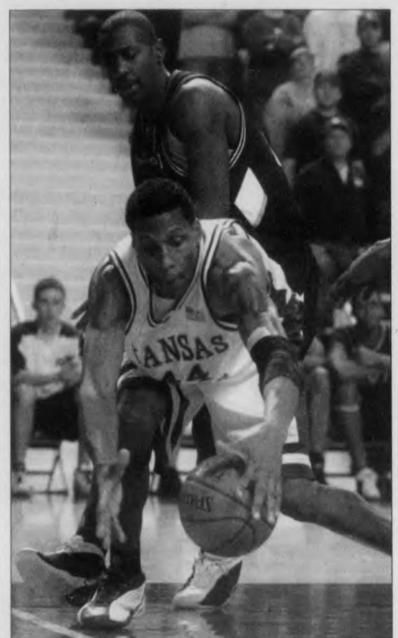

"I think that it says that those were huge wins in a big stretch for us," Wooldridge said. "I think if we don't get those wins, the year is very different for us - you're in a dogfight to keep your guys' confidence at a level that keeps them thinking they can win games."

K-State, however, continued to win and continued to gain confidence.

At one point, K-State was the fifth-hottest team in the Big 12.

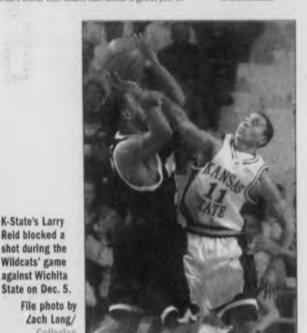

But a win over the Huskers to end the regular season could have been the biggest for the Cats. With a positive mentality of playing for pride going into the Big 12 tournament, K-State takes resilience into the first round.

"This was a big win not only for us, because it moved us to seventh in the Big 12," Ivan Sulic said. "We are very positive right now, so we will see what happens and what we can do in the

Zach Long/Collegian

K-State's Pervis Pasco goes after a loose ball during the Wildcats' game against Oklahoma State on Feb. 2.

KSU's big man earns newcomer honor; Reid named to league's underrated team

The K-State men's basketball team received three awards from the Big 12 Conference office on Tuesday.

Pervis Pasco was tabbed the Big 12 Newcomer of the Week for the second time this season and also earned a spot on the All-Newcomer team. Larry Reid, meanwhile, was chosen to the All-Under-rated squad. The teams were selected by a panel of sportswriters who regularly cover Big 12 basketball.

Pasco, who was selected as the league newcomer for the week of Feb. 4, becomes the Wildcats' fifth selection to the All-Newcomer team in the six-year history of the league (Larry Reid, 2001; Cortez Groves and Tony Kitt, 1999; Duane Davis, 1998).

Pasco averaged 18 points, 11.5 rebounds and 1.5

blocks in the Wildcats' two games last week. He also connected on 57.9 percent (11-of-19 FGs) of his fieldgoal attempts and 73.7 percent (14-of-19 FTs) from the line in those two contests.

The junior from Clearwater, Fla., who collected his eighth and ninth double-doubles of the season (tied for fifth in the Big 12) last week, is averaging 12.1 points per game on the season and a team-high 8.4 rebounds.

He is the only Wildcat to start all 27 games this season. The Wildcats' leader in scoring (14.4 ppg), assists (5.4 pg), free-throw shooting (81.9 percent), steals (1.5 pg) and minutes played (35.0 pg), Reid garnered his second Big 12 specialty award in as many seasons.

The senior from Midwest City, Okla., was named to

San AWARDS on PAGE 8

Severe weather cancels golf, Cats prepare for trip out west

BY DAN SMITH Kansay State Collagian

Rain and snow stamped out several Wildcat teams hoping to get competition experience last weekend.

K-State's men's golf team, which was scheduled to appear in the LSU Spring Invitational in Baton Rouge, La., Friday through Sunday, was one team affected by the inclement weather.

The Cats got through one round of competition before the weather forced K-State to return to Manhattan.

"I feel bad for all those teams who had to travel so far for just one round of golf," LSU coach Greg Jones said. "It was just miserable out there for those guys. It is just Coach Tim Norris' club finished tied for 14th with South Florida and Arkansas State at the par-72, 7,274-yard University Club course in Baton Rouge.

Senior Bryan Milberger shot a 72 to finish tied for 27th at the 18-hole event leading the Wildcats.

Saturday's play counted as the first and only round after rainy conditions throughout Louisiana forced tournament officials to postpone play Friday. Snow, temperatures below 30 degrees, and a wind chill of 21 degrees Sunday meant the cancellation of any further rounds.

Norris said his team was ready to make a move in the final rounds and even felt comfortable in the chilly climate.

"We are definitely in a position right now where we can move up, and we had a pretty solid round today," following Saturday's round. "The forecast calls for some Kansas-like weather tomorrow, and that should help us out as well."

The weather turned out to be too much like the Wildcats' home state, as the frigid temperatures kept K-State from finishing any better than 16 shots behind the host

Sophomore Aaron Watkins shot a 1over-par 73 to tie for 44th, senior Matt Williams tied for 52nd with a 74, sophomore A.J. Elgert finished with a 76 to tie for 70th and sophomore Bryan Schweizer rounded at the Cats' individual scores with a 6-over 78 to finish 88th.

K-State again will travel away from Manhattan in two weeks to practice in California during spring break before competing in the Stevinson Ranch Invitational at the Stevinson Ranch Golf Course, hosted by the University of Colorado, March 25-26.

- K-State Sports Information contributed to this article.

Wildcat tennis wins at Tech, starts 2-0 in Big 12 play

K-State Sports Information

The K-State tennis team won its second consecutive Big 12 match of the season Sunday with a 5-2 victory over Texas Tech in Lubbock, Texas. With the win, K-State now has started its Big 12 season 2-0 for the third straight year.

The Wildcats won two of the three doubles matches to win the doubles point, then swept four of the six singles matches, including No. 1 through No. 4.

Junior Petra Sedlmajerova continued her seven-match winning streak with a 7-6 (5), 6-3 victory over Alenka Ovin at No. 3 singles. SedImajerova now is 11-6 overall and 2-0 in the Big 12. She last lost on Jan. 25.

Similarly, freshman Maria Rosenberg won her fourth consecutive match of the year with a 6-2, 6-2 win over Barbara Schraml at No. 4 singles. The Manhattan High School graduate is 12-3 overall and 2-0 in league play.

Senior Alena Jecminkova won her first Big 12 match of the season with a 7-5, 4-6, 6-1 win over Irina Terescheko at No. 1 singles. Jecminkova is now 8-9 overall and 1-1 in league play.

At No. 2 singles, senior Kathy Chuda beat Beverly Dawson, 6-2, 6-2 to run her record to 10-7 overall and 1-1 in Big 12 action.

Sophomore Paulina Castillejos and Andrea Cooper both lost their matches. Castillejos fell in three sets, 7-6 (3), 5-7, (10-7) at No. 5 and Cooper lost 7-5, 6-2 at No. 6. Castillejos is 6-7 overall and 1-1 in the Big 12 while Cooper is 4-6 overall and 1-1 in the

In doubles, Jecminkova and Cooper beat Terescheko and Dawson, 9-8 (7-4) at No. I to move to 13-9 overall and 1-1 in the Big 12. Chuda and Sedlmajerova are 13-6 overall and 2-0 in the league after beating Schraml and Ruiz, 8-3 at No. 2. Castillejos and Rosenberg lost their first league match, 8-6, at No. 3 to Ovin and Brooks. They are now 7-6 overall and 1-1 in the Big 12.

K-State returns to action when it plays host to Oklahoma at 11 a.m. Saturday and Oklahoma State on Sunday at Ahearn Field House.

Tourney offers fans excitement

Buzzer-beaters, cinderella stories, dreams realized, hopes dashed, cheerleaders, and food and drink specials galore - it just doesn't get much better for sports

Welcome to March Madness. Bar none, my favorite time of the year. 63 games in 10 days.

Brackets are due out next Sunday, so it's time to start thinking about who is in, why they are in and how long they'll stick around.

In the interest of fair play, I'd like to let everyone in on some safe plays as far as setting up a bracket that will compete in office pools and classrooms the nation over.

First things first, listen to the guys who deal with these matters as a profession. No, I don't mean me. I'm talking about the NCAA tournament selection committee.

Take it from veteran basketball analyst Billy Packer. "The committee handicaps the entire tournament for you," Packer said. "Use it."

In other words, play the odds.

In the '90s, 10 national champions were either number one or two seeds. The 2001 Final Four featured two No. 1 seeds, a No. 2, and a No. 3, with a one versus two national championship.

If the odds say bet on the top-ranked teams, don't bet against the ACC. The conference is stacked.

Anybody who watches college basketball can tell you there isn't another conference in the country that comes close in competition.

Eleven of the ACC's last 20 conference champions have gone to the Final Four. In 2001, six ACC teams made the tournament, two of them made the Final Four, and one of them is now the defending national

The ACC is always strong, but there are a number of other conferences with teams capable of going deep this year.

The Big 10 is solid.

Indiana is coming off its first Big 10 title since 1993, but is sharing the honor with the surprise Buckeyes from Ohio State. Illinois struggled at times this season, but features one of the best backcourts in the country and will be dangerous come tournament time.

The Big 10 also will send Wisconsin, Michigan State and maybe Minnesota.

The Pac 10 is for real. Oregon, USC, UCLA, Arizona, Cal and Stanford all will go to the dance, and all can play with anybody in the country. If you're looking for a four or five seed to make the sweet 16, take a look at the Pac

The Big 12 looks good on paper and likely will get six teams in with Kansas, Texas, Texas Tech, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Missouri, which all boast strong regular season showings.

But don't look for any one of these teams to make it deep. Kansas is easily the most over-rated team in the nation, and if you think Kirk Hinrich and Jeff Boschee are leading KU to the Final Four, you are in for a rude awakening. The Hawks will be done early.

In fact, picking any team from the Big 12 to finish well this March might not be such a good idea. Last year, six Big 12 teams danced and four lost in the first round. Hey, we're a football conference.

If you want a strong bracket, look at conferences and know the teams you are betting for and against. Look at records and consider the strength of the conference a given team plays in. See how your team did in close games and in overtime

If a team choked with the game on the line in the regular season, peg them to do the same in March.

Maybe the most solid tip I can give you is to pick No. 12 seeds over five seeds.

At least one 12 seed has upset a five seed in 11 of the past 12 years. Last year, two of four 12 seeds sent No. 5 packing, so definitely look at these match-ups.

Pay attention to these tips and you might become the sports-knowledge idol of your peers and co-workers. Heck, you might even get rich.

You might also end up looking like a total loser and become an easy target for abrasive jeers and horrid pranks of all

Either way, have a nice time.

Ben is a senior in print journalism. You can e-mail him at blf5883@ksu.edu.

Dow soars more than 200 points in 2nd-straight rally on Wall Street

BY LISA SINGHANIA

The Associated Press

NEW YORK - Showing a determination to buy not seen in months, investors bid stocks sharply higher Monday with a broad advance that propelled the Dow lones industrials up more than 200 points for a second straight session.

The rally reflected a growing consensus among investors that an economic recovery is begin-

Blue chip and technology stocks soared despite an earnings warning from tech bellwether Oracle.

But analysts remained cautious.

Today there's no denying that the sentiment in the market is that a recovery is at hand, and that investors are willing to put money to work," said Charles White, portfolio manager at Avatar Associates. "The danger is that . we're not as strong as people believe."

The Dow closed up 217.96, or 2.1 percent, at 10,586.82, its best finish since July 19, when the average was 10,610.00.

The Dow has advanced 479.93 since Friday, its biggest twosession point gain since December

Broader stock indicators also advanced. The tech-focused Nasdaq composite index gained 56.58, or 3.1 percent, to 1,859.32, recouping much of its recent losses but still below where it started the year.

The Standard & Poor's 500 index advanced 22.06, or nearly 2.0 percent, to 1,153.84, barely above its 2002 debut.

It was the second-straight rally on momentum created by a barrage of good economic news last week, including strengthening manufacturing numbers and positive comments from Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan.

Analysts also say Wall Street's mood is improving. Investors are looking for reasons to buy rather than to sell, as had been in the case in previous weeks amid accounting scandals at Enron and other companies.

Among blue chips, J.P. Morgan rose $2.84 to $32.50. General Motors advanced $3.73 to $58.70.

Transportation stocks surged on better-than-expected revenue and traffic numbers from several airlines whose performances and stock prices lagged following the Sept. 11 terror attacks.

Continental Airlines rose $2.10 to $34.80, while American Airlines' parent company, AMR, climbed $1.80 to $29.05.

The Dow Jones transportation average, which tracks the broader sector, soared 152.83, or 5.3 percent, to 3,049.96.

The tech sector also benefited from Wall Street's inclination to Networks soared $1.90, or 19.3

after Merrill Lynch reduced its rating on the stock from buy to the software maker's announcement Friday it was reducing estimates for its third-quarter

$16.26, while rival Juniper percent, to $11.73.

neutral.

results.

for the market.

spend. Cisco Systems rose $1.26 to Still. Oracle slid $2.32 to $13.67

The announcement followed

Analysts say Oracle's warning should be a reminder to investors that there are still obstacles ahead

With more earnings warnings

They also note that stocks are expected in coming weeks, prudence might be a good idea.

still likely to move up incrementally and that investors, who have still more inclined to take profits expected to be rather subdued.

unlike the explosive growth that '90s. That means profits might not "Investors' nerves will likely be the market enjoyed in the late rise as much as hoped - and tested again, but for long-term investors, there's no need to sit on the sidelines," said Alan Skrainka, chief market strategist at Edward some stock prices might be overvalued.

Jones of St. Louis.

rather than risk losing them.

watched previous rallies fizzle, are

The economic recovery also is Getting started

Jenny Braniff/Callegian

Scott Laswell helps teach his 1-year-old son, Jack, to swim in the Infant/Toddler swimming class at the K-State Natatorium on Monday. Children enjoy the time in the water and parents enjoy the quality time with their children.

BY PAM EASTON

The Associated France

HOUSTON - The psychiatrist who decided to take Andrea Yates off her anti-psychotic medication testified Monday that he saw no evidence she was psychotic when he examined her two days before she drowned her five children.

Yates' husband, Russell, has contended his wife didn't receive adequate medical care during two extended stays at the Devereux Texas Treatment Network, where Mohammad Saeed was a unit medical director. He has said his children might be alive if his wife had received proper care.

Doctor didn't see psychotic signs in Yates

Saeed said Monday he decided June 4 to gradually take Andrea Yates off her medication because he thought it was hindering her progress. He said he saw no evidence of psychosis at the time, and did not see Yates again until June 18.

"I cannot find any evidence that psychosis was playing any important role," Dr. Mohammad Saeed testified.

Yates, 37, who has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity, faces murder charges in the drownings of 7-year-old Noah, 5-year-old John and 6-month-old Mary. Charges could be filed later in the deaths of Paul, 3, and Luke, 2. She faces life in prison or the death penalty if convicted.

Earlier Monday, a psychiatrist who admitted Yates to Devereux on March 31, testified that Yates was just a "shell" and a threat to her own safety and that of others.

"When I walked in the room and saw her, I pretty much knew this was someone who needed to be in the hospital," psychiatrist Ellen Allbritton said. "She looked mentally

Just a Reminder -- Spring is Here --Is your mower ready?

We will clean and repair your mower so it will be ready for summer! Agricultural Technology Management Club of Kansas State University

Who: 17th Annual Lawn Mower Clinic What:

When: Friday, March 8th

Saturday, March 9th

Where: Seaton Hall Courtyard

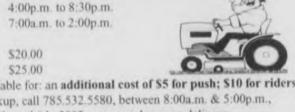

Push Mower

Riding Mower

Pickup and Delivery Service Available for: an additional cost of $5 for push; $10 for riders. To schedule your pickup, call 785.532.5580, between 8:00a.m. & 5:00p.m.,

March 4th, 5th, and 6th, 2002, payment due upon delivery. Pickup Dates: March 6th, 7th, and 8th, 5:30p.m. to 7:00p.m. Delivery schedule: March 10th, 1:00p.m. to 4:00p.m. or March 11th, 10:00a.m. to 5:00p.m.

Proceeds benefit the ATM Club of KSU.

lonviolence

"35 UNDERSTANDING

Thich Nhat Hanh says, "When you understand, you cannot help but love...practice looking at all living beings with the eyes of compassion.'

Send a silent thought of love to ten people today. Share your experience with

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence. Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

*********** Wildcat Variety Show Alpha Tau Omega March 7, 2002 7:00 pm McCain Auditorium That 80's Show Public Welcome $4 at the door All proceeds go to: Dream Factory, Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, & Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts. Sponsored by: Miller-Stauch Construction Co., The Purple Pig, Subs N Such, Rusty's Last Chance, Pizza Shuttle,

Little Caesar's, Kansas Basement & Foundation Repair, Chipotle, Walson Ink, McCain Auditorium

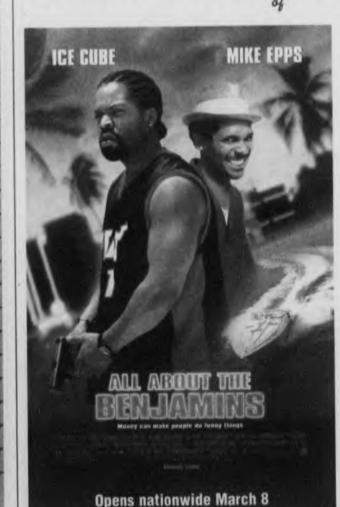

NEW LINE CINEMA An AOL Time Warner Company

Presents a

FREE ADVANCE SCREENING

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY @ Forum Hall 8:00 PM Wednesday March 6, 2002

FREE ADMISSION while passes last*

INFO?: call 532-6571

* Passes available at the UPC office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union. K-State ID required.

Passes required. Seating is limited and not guaranteed. Please arrive early. ID required. No one under the age of 17 will be admitted without parent or legal guardian. Presented in association with Union Program Council

9 Americans killed by enemy fire in Afghan war

BY PAULINE JELINEK

The Associated Press WASHINGTON, D.C. - As many as nine American soldiers died in a U.S.-led assault in Afghanistan - most killed when troops from two helicopters took enemy fire in the largest offensive of the five-month war against terrorists, Pentagon officials said Monday.

Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld said enemy forces had sustained "much larger numbers of killed and wounded, and there will be many more." He said the assault would continue. Another Pentagon official estimated at least 100 al-Qaeda or Taliban fighters had died, possibly many more.

Gen. Richard B. Myers, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said al-Qaeda fighters were in the mountains of eastern Afghanistan, well dug-in, wellfortified and with lots of weapons.

"We knew that al-Qaeda would have two choices, to run or stay and fight," Myers said. "It seems they have chosen to stay and fight to the last, and we hope to accommodate them.'

Gen. Tommy Franks, commander of U.S. Central Command, said eight or nine

Americans were killed in the engagements - the exact number was not yet clear. "The fog of war will persist until we are able to have discussions with people who have been involved in this fight,"

He said the allied force of about 2,000 soldiers - close to half of them Afghans, the rest U.S. and coalition soldiers - was "making good progress as we speak."

the All-Newcomer team last year. Reid, an honorable mention All-Big 12 performer in 2000-01, ranks eighth on the K-State career assists chart (250) and tied for 12th on the career steals list (72).

Reid is the Wildcats' first-ever selection to the Big 12 All-Underrated team. In addition, K-State has had at least two members on the league specialty teams four of the last five years. In addition to Reid, last season Travis Reynolds and Phineas Atchison were named to the All-Reserve team. The Wildcats had two representatives in 1999 (Groves and Kitt) and in 1998 (Davis and Manny Dies, All-Improved Team).

Michelob Lite Pitchers

Boots, Hats, Jeans, Belts, Shirts, and much more.

BOTTLES

Bud & Bud Light

Taco Bar

8424 E. Hwy 24 21/2 miles East of Manhattan

(785) 776-6715

Mon.-Sat. 10-6, Sun. 1-5

RECEIVE A TICKET FOR A DRAWING SAT NITE FOR THE BUDWEISER CONVERTIBLE vednesday 50 Pitchers

thursday 10¢hicken

WITH EVERY MICHELOB LITE, BUD, BUD LIGHT, & BACARDI SILVER PURCHASE THIS WEEK

Bud Light Oc Wings 4-9pm nuggets 4-9pm bottles

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera

GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

Love shipwrecked in suburbia! ... Inspired by JAZZ and the American musical

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate

Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

350 600 1,000 75 150 250 500 1,500 1,500 500 1,500 1,500

Add additional lines for just $20

1.BOO.CELL.ONE WWW.CELLULARONEWEST.COM

785-537-4648 * 800-467-7858 Ask for Brett, Fich or Will.

Cellular One 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mike

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

THE SGA GENERAL ELECTIONS ARE HERE

VOTE ONLINE TODAY!

http://kats.ksu.edu

Online voting will be available 24 hours a day from when polls open at 8 a.m. Tuesday, March 5 until they close at 6 p.m. Wednesday, March 6.

Get mad, Royal Purple Style

Great Prizes

Men's Bracket

Women's Bracket

Free To Enter

Weekly Updates

$5 RP Coupons

during the 2002 NCAA Men's and Women's Basketball Championships.

For brackets and official rules check out royalpurple.ksu.edu or look for us in the lestate Student Union March 12-14 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Nail Special $35 Full Set $20 Fill $14 Manicure with Jess

Free Haircut, Free Styling with Highlight Color Cap $40 Shades or Shades Above $36 Foil Hair Color $50

Call Jess & Melissa & mention this ad.

Candlewood Shopping Center 3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632 Tues. - Sat. Evening by appointment

FAST FREE DELIVERY!

******

HOURS: (D) (D)

11a.m. - 2a.m. *Mon. - Wed.* 11a.m. - 2:30a.m *Thurs. - Sat. * 11a.m. - 3:30a.m.

Valid Carry Out Only

PICK UP SPECIAL:

$5.99

VISA TOUS AND Accepted With Proper 1.D

MONDAY MANIA

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra

Mondays Only SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.991 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday

11a.m.-11p.m. only

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

HE BIG ASS

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

19 Church

21 Scottish

king 24 Largest of 25 Settled

down

26 It's easily untied

31 Rabbits'

Gardner

33 Lumber

35 So be it

STUMPED?

Quote of the day

WHO: Andy Wright

Opera singer

36 Circle

32 Ms.

key, e.g.

the seven

53 Semester 20 Knight's

Solution time: 23 mins.

backup

- Arthur

born artist

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 99s per minute, touch tone/rotary phones. {18+ only.} A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

KDRB

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DO YOU WONDER IF, EVERY TWO HUNDRED YEARS, BUFFALO HERDS OBSERVE A BISON-TENNIAL?

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: Q equals T

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 2! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"The refusal to rest content, the willingness to risk excess on behalf of one's obsessions, is what distinguishes artists from entertainers, and what makes some artists adventurers on behalf of us all."

LOCAL TALENT

Andy Wright, junior in life science, plays the role of Simone

"An Evening of Opera," presented by K-State Theatre, will be in "Gianni Schicchi," a one-act opera in "An Evening of Opera."

at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Nichols Theatre.

ublic, and are available at the McCain Box Office, 532-6428.

of a group who are all expecting benefits from Buoso Donati's in Italian, but will be performed in English.

To prepare for the role, Wright said he listened to the compact disc, studied the score and attended many music will but don't receive any. The comic opera originally was written

Wright said in "Gianni Schicchi" he plays an older member the timing, Wright said.

arsals. The difficulties of the role lie in "Knowing when to come in was the est difficult part," he said.

Wright, who has been singing since grade school, said he thinks the two one-act operas will appeal to a wider range of because of the upbeat feel people than most opera

WRIGHT

Tickets are $8 for students and seniors, $12 for the gen

The second one-act opera will be "Trouble in Tahiti."

21 Moolah

22 Chester

23 Barcelona-ender

1 Back talk

2 Here (Fr.)

DOWN

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 37 Portents 4 Short 24 "Be-Bop 1 Bart's sis 38 Household study 5 Calista's 26 Burned a 5 In olden 41 Grand days 27 Appel-8 Piglets N.S. 6 Moo goo 42 Hertz - pan 12PC competitor 7 Antithesis 28 Micro 43 Ace. 8 Oil target symbol wave 29 Catches 13 Once 9 Yours ideally around 48 Present and mine, 14 Witticism 31 Old woman's 15 Termina Abner 50 Stash 10 Broad home? tion notice 17 Asian 51 Neighbor-11 Boot 34 End of a attach-Heminglanguage 18 Powell 52 Today's ment way title 16"Help!" 35 "Coccoon" co-star evidence

Oscar

winner

37 Cinnabar, comment square

the mud

40 Stick in

41 Entreaty

44 Possess

46 Vitamin

47 Rep.'s

45 -- en-Provence

39 From

GRADUATE CREATIONS

Art exhibit draws attention from convention

BY BETSY STVERAK

Kansas State Collegian

Ceramic objects are the latest scene on display in the Union art gallery.

The Kemper Art Gallery in the K-State Student Union will be displaying a ceramics convention exhibit until March 20. Yoshiro Ikeda, who helped to put the exhibit together, said it is a collection of graduate student work.

Ikeda, professor of art, said the reason the ceramics department decided to have this exhibit is to make the department more known.

'We are trying to show how good we are," he said. "This ceramics department is one of the top 20 schools in the nation and we don't get respect from other departments."

Ikeda said he also is contributing to the National Council on Education for Ceramic Arts Convention in Kansas City, Mo., as well as this one.

"I will have two different galleries

Photos by Jenny Braniff/ Collegian TOP: Sculptures by Anna Calluori Holcombe line the back wall of Kemper Art Gallery In the K-State

ABOVE: A sculpture by Yoshi Ikeda titled "Spring" is on display in Kemper Art Gallery In the K-State Student Union.

in that convention," he said. "The gallery invited me because I sell pieces from Kansas City.

Anna Calluori Holcombe. professor of art, said she contributed a piece from a series of her work.

"It's an installation piece called Vasi-Arrangement IV," she said. "Vasi means vase. It's a series of objected vase forms in a different setting, objective and border."

Calluori Holcombe said she has had her work displayed in the Union before. The pieces were similar to this show but there were different arrangements, she said. Calluori Holcombe said that with the Kansas City Ceramics Convention happening. the ceramics department decided the Union show was a good way to draw atten tion to the gallery.

The exhibit piggy backs on that convention since people are driving to Kansas City, they might stop along the way to look at K-State art, she said.

Calluori Holcombe said she thinks ceramics is an amazing art because it has a very rich history.

"It is one of the oldest art forms out there. There is so much history and it's a very active and alive field,"

Calluori Holcombe said she believes this will catch students' attention because it is a showing of past students' work.

wonderful work of students who have come and gone," she said.

"It has a nice variety of work and the quality is very high.

Gilligan's creates K-State version of dating game

BY CASSIDY HILL

Kanyas State Collegian

Instead of stumbling upon the typical bar scene at Gilligan's on Thursday nights, some people tried to find love in the dating game, 'Wildcat Love Connection.'

The object of the game was for the celebrity, (the person choosing his or her date), to choose between three unseen contestants.

During the game, the three contestants hid behind a banner so the celebrity couldn't identify or see them. The celebrity asked a series of questions of each of the contestants to learn a little about their personalities. After the questioning was finished, the celebrities chose their date based on the contestants' responses.

Jeremy LaFaver, senior in advertising and cocoordinator of "Wildcat Love Connection", said Gilligan's sent the new couple to Harry's Uptown and a movie. LaFaver also said on the following Thursday, the previous couples returned to Gilligan's and described the date before the next round of new contestants.

"I had a great time on the date," said Carri Glanville, junior in advertising, who went on a date a month ago. "I entered in the contest for

Throughout the contest, questions were asked to reveal information about the contestant's personality.

The celebrity asked the contestants between 10 and 15 behavioral and physical questions," LaFaver said. "We provided some questions for the celebrity and the rest came from the audience.

'Wildcat Love Connection" only lasted four weeks and Nick Hess, senior in construction science and co-coordinator of "Wildcat Love Connection", said the love game went well.

"This game gave us the opportunity to do something different, since there was nothing like this in Manhattan," Hess said.

Anyone interested in participating in the love game filled out applications at Gilligan's. There was no cost to enter, and Gilligan's called applicants for games.

While the contestants answered questions, disc jockey and master of ceremonies Cliff Martin played music. Martin, who is known as DJ Cam,

"My role in Love Connection was to arrange couples and get questions from the audience,"

Martin said. Before the start of "Wildcat Love Connection", the previous couple talked briefly about their date. One month ago, Glanville received numerous questions from celebrity Brian Wiley, junior in accounting. Glanville said she was selected as a contestant at the last minute.

"A contestant backed out at the last minute, so Hess called me to participate," Glanville said. "I got the questions ahead of time so I could think of the answers and not be put on the spot."

While Glanville and two other contestants answered questions Wiley said he had a great time as a celebrity.

"I just sat back laughing at all of the contestants' answers," Wiley said.

Following Glanville and Wiley's date description, the next round began. After all the questions had been asked - most of which were sexual and answered, the audience screamed for the contestant they thought should win.

Ryan Cornett, junior in political science and modern languages, said this was the first time he saw Love Connection because he had never heard of it until last week.

"I think Love Connection could have become very popular at K-State," Cornett said. "However, since Love Connection was still new, it would be more popular if it were advertised more."

Lindsey Clark, junior in advertising, said she had seen "Wildcat Love Connection" three times. Clark mentioned she had a good time watching the love contest, but that the questions were deceiving.

"I think Love Connection is a good idea and" something new for Manhattan," Clark said. "But I think the questions deceive the celebrity because the contestants don't answer the questions about their real personalities. The answers are more geared towards friends in the audience and for a great time rather than to benefit the celebrity."

Love Connection was a fun contest that got people to laugh at a bar, said Martin.

'The contest went really good," Martin said. "It provided students with a new atmosphere and provided entertainment for different people."

misdirection

BY JOE ELKINTON - GANGSTAHONKY@HOTMAIL.COM

BY BRENT ENGSTROM - MONKEYBOYCOMIC@HOTMAIL.COM

EXPENSES

Continued from page 1

Cook and Kohman said friends and students who believed in their ideas gave funding, and from there it was by word of mouth

"Most of their friends knew us, too and said, 'I'll give, too,' Kohman said. Cook said people he didn't know contacted him and wanted to contribute.

Campaign rules limit individual student contributions to $15. Each pair can contribute

The Cook/Kohman ticket had 205 contributors listed in their primary election expense report who gave between $10 and $15. For the general election expenses, the pair added 48 more contribu-

The pair spent $2,593.67 in the primary. For the general election, they spent an additional $934.57, bumping their total to $3,528.24.

Wolters and Achilles had 253 students contribute between $5 and $15 before the primary, and their total expenses came to $2,599.88.

Their general election expense report says they've now spent a total of $2,920.08.

Expense breakdown

Matt Wolters/Mandy Achilles: T-shirts — $2,230.00

Posters - $235.12 Buttons - $212.09 Banner - $150.00 Platform cards - $43.29 Chalk - $20.86 String - $13.72

Rope - $10.00

Signs - $266.27

Register as a student group — $5.00 Total — $2,920.08 Zac Cook/Todd Kohman: T-shirts - $2,261.39

Hyper Gel Pens - $897.96

Chalk - $66.01 Fliers - $36.61 Total - $3,528.24

DEBATE

■ Continued from page 1

students congregating at Memorial Stadium before every home football game and marching down Anderson Avenue to KSU Stadium.

Cook said he and his running mate, Todd Kohman, focused on the enhancement of international programs at K-State as their top campaign issue.

"I would like to go outside the realm of K-State," Cook said. "I'd like to educate students and administration to make sure they all know how you can get away from K-State for a semester or a year, whether that be an internship, study abroad or a mission trip with your church group.

Both Cook and Wolters said they were happy with the outcome of the

"It gives students a chance to call in and ask questions," Wolters said. "One of our goals was to make it a little more light-hearted and let the voters find out about candidates as students and as people."

Cook said he hopes the debate will increase voter participation.

"I'm tired of the apathy, and I hope that everyone listening will get out there and vote," he said.

Kansas State Collegian

Josh Wells, news and sports director for Wildcat 91.9, said he was happy with the debate as well.

This debate is easier because there are just two candidates and it allows people to get more contact," Wells said. "It's a time for these guys to put down their guard and enjoy the friendly competition."

On sale at Kedzie 103

Give us your opinion.

Campus Fourum: 395-4444

Need a roommate? Advertise.

Kedzie 103 • 532-6555

It works.

favorites from our bookshelf

Tishomingo Blues -Elmore Leonard

A professional stunt diver inadvertently witnesses a murder resulting in his involvement with a local crime boss and a Civil War re-enactment. A tightly voven tale that will keep you intrigued until the end

Claflin Books and Copies

UESDAY BUFFET

Sunday 2 p.m. Mini-Bingo 1:15 p.m. Tuesday 1:30 p.m. Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Mini-Bingo 6:45 p.m. "Progressive Bingo" Sundays & Wednesdays

114 McCall Rd.

- Win Big Bucks -

Campus Special Med 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday

Open the

Latest

424 Houston

Tuesday Nite Special

taco hut

"Where good friends get together since 1969" TUESDAY SPECIALS

3 Tacos - 1.55

Chili Burrito - $2.75 FRI. 10:30 A.M. + 11:00 RM SAT. 11:00 A.M. = 11:00 RM

2809 CLAFLIN

Applications are available at the Student Activities office in the Union or at Lafene, Room 3, or can be printed from http://www.ksu.edu/lafene/shac_app.pdf.

Student Health Advisory Committee

Application deadline is 5 p.m. March 8 at the Student Activities office in the Union

539-7444

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor Copy Editor • Staff Writers Photojournalist • Marketing Director

- Section Editors * Student Life
  - Organizations
  - * Sports
  - * Academics

· People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Managing Editors News Editors* Desk Editors Reporters * Copy Editors

Designers Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists Online Journalists Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

2002 Principal/Counselor/Student Conference Kansas State University

Wednesday, March 6th 10:45am-12:15pm

LIST OF HIGH SCHOOL LOCATIONS:

Abilene-Union Big 12 B Andover-Union 202 Atchinson-County-Union Courtyard 5 B & B-Union Courtyard 6 Baldwin-Union Courtyard 7 Bennington-Union Courtyard 8

Blue Valley-Randolph-Union Courtyard 9 Blue Valley N-Overland Park-Union Big 12 A Blue Valley NW-Overland Park-Ahearn 70 Bluestem-Ahearn 64 Bonner Springs-Union 203 Buhler-Union Courtyard 10 Burlingame-CANCELED

Cair Parvel Latin School-Union 206B Centralia-CANCELED Chapman-Union 207B

Chase County-Cottonwood Falls-Union 208 Chase HS-Chase-Union Courtyard 12 Cimarron-Union 209 Clay Center-Union 212A

Clifton Clyde-Union 212B De Soto-Union 212C Derby-Ahearn I Dighton-Ahearn 2 Eastern Heights-Ahearn 3 El Dorado-Ahearn 78

Ellinwood-Ahearn 4 Ell-Saline-Ahearn 5 Ellsworth-Ahearn 6 Emporia-Union 212D Eureka-Ahearn 7 Flint Hills Christian-Ahearn 8

Fredonia-Ahearn 9 Golden Plains-Ahearn 65 Great Bend-Ahearn 12 Greensburg-Ahearn 13 Haven-Ahearn 14

Herndon/Morland-Ahearn 76 Hesston-Ahearn 67 Hiawatha-Ahearn 16 Highland Park-Ahearn 80

Haviland-Ahearn 10

Hoisington-Ahearn 17 Holton-Union 204 Hoxie-Union Courtyard 2 Hutchinson-Union 205 Immaculata-Ahearn 74

Iola-Ahern 19 J.C. Harmon-Ahearn 75 Jackson Heights-Ahearn 20 Jefferson County North-Ahearn 21 Jefferson West-Ahearn 22

Junction City-Ahearn 71 Kingman-Ahearn 23 Labette County-Ahearn 24 Lansing-Ahearn 25 Little River-CANCELED Lyndon-Ahearn 26

Lyons-CANCELED

(All assignments in Ahearn are table numbers not room numbers) Maize-Ahearn 28 Manhattan-Union Council Chamber McLouth-Ahearn 29 Medicine Lodge-Ahearn 30 Mill Valley-Shawnee-Ahearn 31 Minneapolis-Union Courtyard 4 Moundridge-Ahearn 11 Mulvane-Ahearn 66 Neodesha-Ahearn 15 Newton-Ahearn 32 Nickerson-Ahearn 33 North Central-Morrowville-Ahearn 34 Northern Valley-Ahearn 35 Norton-Ahearn 36 Olathe East-Union Forum Hall Main A Olathe North-Union Forum Hall Main B Olathe South-Ahearn 72 Onaga-Union Courtyard 3 Osage City-Ahearn 38 Osawatomie-Ahearn 81 Osborne-Ahearn 39 Oskaloosa-Aheam 79 Oxford-Ahearn 40 Paola-Ahearn 18 Pawnee Heights-Ahearn 41 Phillipsburg-Ahearn 42

Plainville-Ahearn 43 Pleasant Ridge-CANCELED Pretty Prairie-Ahearn 45 Quinter-Ahearn 46 Riley County-Ahearn 47 Rock Creek-Ahearn 48 Rossville-Ahearn 49 Royal Valley-Ahearn 50 Sacred Heart-Salina-Ahearn 51 Santa Fe Trail-Ahearn 82 St. John-Ahearn 52 St. Marys-Ahearn 68 St. Thomas Aquinas-Ahearn 73 Scott Community-Ahearn 53 Seaman-Union 206A Shawnee Mission West-Ahearn 54 Smith Center-Union Courtyard 1 Southeast of Saline-Union 213 Stockton-Ahearn 55 Sumner Academy-Ahearn 56 Thomas More Prep-Ahearn 69 Tonganoxie-CANCELED Trinity Academy-Ahearn 58 Victoria-Ahearn 59 Wabaunsee-Ahearn 60 Washington-Washington-Ahearn 61 Wellsville-Ahearn 62 Wetmore-Ahearn 63

Wichita Heights-CANCELED Wichita Northwest-Union Room S Wichita South-Union Big 12 C Wyandotte-Ahearn 84

Classifieds

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

NEED TO RENT. As soon ONE, TWO and three-bedas possible, by April 1, room apartments cross as possible, by April 1, room apartments cross to a Two-bedroom, 1832 Claffin campus. June and August Two-bedroom, 1832 Claffin campus. No pets. Call pus. $490 per month. Water included. Call Matt at (785)341-4404

For Rent-Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM, Recent remodel. Washer/ dryer hook-up, central air, 1836 Elaine $475. (785)336-6286

AVAILABLE JUNE. Twobedroom duplexes. with washer and dryer hookups, some with basements off-street parking One-half block from KSU campus Call 556-6899 or 776-4827

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment, 1230 Claflin across from Ford Hall. 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice. large one-bedroom apart-ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, laundromat $340. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496

ONE, THREE, four, or five bedroom apartments' houses. Central heat/ air-conditioning: washer/ dryer, no pets. Close to campus. (785)587-9460

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

(785)539-1975 or (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT, close to campus, June lease. Water 1975 or (785)313-8296.

ONE-BEDROOM apartments, 1030 Keamey No pets. Available now. Call Aaron at (816)847-7195. TWO, THREE, four bed rooms, one and one-half campus. (785)537-1746.

Rooms Available

ROOM FURNISHED or un furnished. Four blocks college $175/ MONTH. (785)770-3190. 930 Fremont, Manhattan. THREE BEDROOMS close to campus, June or August lease, 911 N. 11th, $220/ Washer/ dryer Trash/ water paid. One-lifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake (785)539-4904

For Rent-Houses

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available

For Rent-Houses

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments and houses. Best selection and price is NOW. (785)341-6091

For Rent-

Hon. (785)539-7394

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

central air, washer, dryer,

disposal. They are available for immediate occupancy.

Call (785)776-4274 to view

145

Roommate

elw3838@ksu.edu

150

Sublease

close to campus

Call (785)323-0990.

these beautiful, spacious

wanted one block off cam

$220/ month Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake dishwasher and garbage

For Rent-

Houses

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, fourfive bedroom house. Located 824 Laramie. Dishwashcentral air, washer/ dry-yard. $265/ each plus and deposit (785)539-3672.

FOR RENT: 1709 Vaughr three-bedroom plus study. June 1 $875. Call Jack 5pm (785)776-1214 or (785)776-7706.

FOR RENT: Available August 1. 815 Kearney Three-bedroom $775. Call (785)776-7706 or (785)776- homes

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE central air, off-street park-ing, three blocks from campus and Aggieville. Great condition $1120. (785)776-

MALE ROOMMATES want ed to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washen dryer provided. street parking and furnished rooms. No smoking or drinking in house Low utilities. Cable, phone, Ethernet in Call Matt

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bed-room houses. Also one and two-bedroom June and August leases No pets. (785)539-0549

THREE-, FOUR-, five-bed to campus, with dryer, off-street parking, air condi-tioned Available June and

For Rent-Houses

FOUR-BEDROOM. Close to Campus. Very nice. Central air several locations 539-0939.

FOUR-BEDROOM. air, laundry hook-ups. No nets, June lease, 1131 lease. Kearney $1100. (785)556-

FOUR-BEDROOM, bath, dishwasher, air, laun-THREE-BEDROOM dry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1605 Leavenworth. HOUSE and three-bedroom duplex available June 1st and August 1st. Nice condi-$1100. (785)556-5668.

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer hookup no pets or smokers. 1016 Thurston, $1,200 plus utilit-June lease, (785)776-

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO full baths. Newer home, offstreet parking. Washer, dryer, dishwasher, central heat/ No pets. $890/ month. sixteen-feet wide, two and June 1, Call 1936.

able, one double-wide (785)841-2503.

home. Homes all come with ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX available August 1 1026 Fremont Water and trash $400 per month. Call (785)537-0205.

SIX-BEDROOM. THREE baths, two kitchens, two fireplaces, washer/ dryer, central air, two-car garage. Fo June 1. No pets. 556-6501 THREE-BEDROOM DU-PLEX, campus area. June. lease. Central air, washer/ hook-ups. No pets. ROOMMATE (785)539-5627.

THREE-BEDROOM pus, $250 plus one-third util-HOUSE available August 1. ities. Contact Ericka at (785)776-0997 or e-mail at Washer/ dryer included Carport, screened porch. Anderson. Call THREE-BEDROOM, TWO > bath, washer/ dryer, no pets or smokers. 515 $900 plus utilities August gepro.com! ease (785)776-4805. THREE-BEDROOM, TWO athroom. Dishwasher, cenair, laundry hook-ups No pets. June lease, 1921 College Heights $250/ bed-room (785)556-5668.

THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers. 1523 SUBLEASERS NEEDED for the summer. NICE HOUSE, Pierre $840 plus utilities. August lease (785)776-

> TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX Water and trash $600 per month. Call 785)537-0205.

TWO BEDROOM DUPLEX gust t. Central air, washer/ dryer included. $725 per month. One car garage. Call (785)537-0205.

125

For Sale-Houses

THREE, FOUR, five and six Close to campus. Better list of homes near campus or smokers 624 Bluemont, $500 00 plus utilities. Avail-Century 21 Knight Real Es-

130

For Rent-Mobile Homes

TWO-BEDROOM AVAILA-BLE August 1, 210 Redbud Washer/ dryer hook-ups. Trash, water, basic cable included. $475 per month. Call (785)537-0205.

135

For Sale-Mobile Homes

1994 SKYLINE three-bedroom, two bathroom. Many new features, washer/ drye nice deck Lot number Colonial Gardens, $16,500 negotiable, available May. (785)776-3928.

Roommate Wanted

145

ROOMMATE needed. $155 a month. (785)565-0742

ROOMMATE Available now. Rent $225 er month plus one-third cable and electric. Second Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu.

Sublease

150

NICE TWO year old, four bedroom/ two bath duplex finals through July. Nice lo-cation, washer and dryer. Rent negotiable. (785)323

ONE-BEDROOM apartment for rent. June 1. lease or sublease for summer. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Watrash paid. (785)565-

Close to Call Fedra (785)537-4292. Help Wanted

TWO SUMMER APARTMENT EASTER BUNNIES and craft, ropes (challenge sublease. Two bedroom, one and one-half bath, close (785)323-0608,

Sublease

(913)681-2480.

TWO SUMMER SUBLEASE for one-bedroom $250/ month. Please call

> service directory

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

220 1

SPRING BREAK is near Loose that extra 10 pounds and keep it off, Increased START TODAY! (785)776-

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted

$$$$ SUMMER JOBS $$$$ IF YOU'LL be close to Kan-sas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters. You'll have fun working out-side and with your friends. If interested, please call (888)CPP-97US. For more information including job de-

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Hall, (785)587-2441.

The Collegian cannot verity the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifi-Readers are advised to approach any such employment opporcaution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977

ACCOUNTING Part-time Temporary. We are seeking a dependable clude processing cash re-ceipts, opening mail and other departmental dulies as needed. Must be available to work four hours each morning on Monday and Wednesday, some flexibility exists for the other hours. Requires basic accounting bookkeeping knowledge, excellent telephone demeanor, proficiency with various computer software and 10-$8.89 per hour. This need is April. Interested and quali spond promptly and refer Bureau Services, c/o Human Resources, 2627 KFB Plaza, Manhattan, KS 66503; fax is (785)587-6165 pgoc@kfbs.com. We are an equal opportunity employer and encourage diversity. BARTENDERS NEEDED!

Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No experience ne Call (866)291-1884 ext. 160.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of models, Photographers Designers Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Wanted. (785)830-0367

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Counselors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4. Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 800-352-6133 extension extension or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions availa-ble, great benefits. Seasonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com.

plications. Fundraising Op-portunities are filling quickly, so call today! Contact us at helpers needed for upcom- course) 25 stations, sailing, Easter photos at the mall. Thursday- Sunday, af-

FRATERNITIES. SORORI-CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Cam pustundraiser.com three fundraising event. Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campusfundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campus-

HEAD LIFEGUARD needed for 2002 season to assist the pool manager. Must be Red Cross certified. Apply in person before March 18 to Manhattan Country Club, 1531 N. 10th. Some food and beverage responsibili-

fundraiser.com

HOW TO make $5000 per week for the rest of your life. Learn how. For tree informa-tion, send self addressed stamped envelope to: JAdel ardt, 1228 Westloop PMB 187, Manhattan, KS 66502. NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Combines 2388's and New Auto matic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help ob-

PART TIME student posi-Prefer freshmen or sophomore. Prefer program knowledge or experience. Six hours/ week for Spring 2002. More hours in 2002. Apply at Education Supportive Services, 201 scriptions, visit www.collesition, prefer freshman sophomore, peer-mentoring helping experience. Work study a plus 10 hours/ week, Spring 02 More hours Fall 02 Apply at Educational Supportive Serv-

> SALES, LOCAL Compa Word or text format to mor-nist to begin May 20, 2002 for training. Regular schedule to begin su mer with 30-40 hours con tinuing through Fall and Spring working 20-25 hours ing work approximately 20 Must be willing to work hours per week. Duties in-school breaks and summer Must be computer literate and well versed WordPerfect, Word, Excel and Windows. Responsibil ities include telephone an swering, word processing filing, scheduling appoint-ments and a variety of other office duties. Looking for a person who is self-motivated with initiative and is very de tail-oriented. For an application, contact Tami Breymey-er in the Office of the Vice President for Institutional son Hall. Starting salary commensurate with experience. Deadline for submis day, March 8, 4:00 p.m.

Needed! Care for nine, sev-

WANTED: Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains. Come work for the tains. largest horse operation in North America. Visit our website

City seeks qualified counse lors to lead educational and recreational activities. June-August $1700 plus room and board (913)757-4500 wildwood@peoplestelecom.

SUMMER JOBS Female and male counsels needed Maine. Top Salary, room, board, laundry, clothing and travel provided. Must love Help Wanted

Deadlines

you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run... Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

Daytona Beach. March 21

BEACHASKITRIPS www.sunchase.com 1-800-SUNCHASE -

1 DAY

20 words or less $7,50 each word over 20

2 DAYS 20 words or less $8.80 each word over 20

3 DAYS 20 words or less $10.35

25¢ per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45

each word over 20 35¢ per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less -$12.50 each word over 20

TO PLACE AN AD

Go to Kedzie 103 (across from the Office hours are Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student Publications Inc. Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa areaccepted. There is a : $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly days free of charge.

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

If you sell your item

before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us before noon the day before the ad is to be

Announcements "LEARN TO FLY!" K-State Flying Club has five air-planes, lowest rates. For information, call (785)456-

2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc ACADEMY OF BARTEND ING. Have fun, make m ey, meet people. Eam $15-$30 an hour. Day, evening weekend classes availble Job placement assis

1(800)BARTEND. www.bartendingcollege.com ATTORNEY AT Charles W. (Chuck) Harpe 25 years experience

Poyntz (785)539-8100 chuckharper@msn.com SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days. LOST ON Sunday February 24. Black lacrosse helme

Personals

030

We require a form of pic ture ID (KSU, driver's IIing a personal.

MODELS MAKEOVER perms, contact Hair Expert's

housing real estate

105 For Rent-Apts. Furnished

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in housing without distinc-tion on account of race, sex, familial status, milita-ry status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human at City Hall, nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218 Pomeroy. $330 deposit. Water and trash paid. (785)456-2812. No pets.

astery in Class Al The Commons"

- Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom
- *Alarm System Swimming Pool ·Washer Dryer
- *Computer Lab *Fitness Center *Permit Parking ·Tennis/Volleyball Court Individual Leases

2215 COLLEGE AVE

Office Hours: M-F 9-5, Sat. 10-4 539-0500

INIVERSITY · COMMONS · LATIONSHIPS just got eas-020 APARTMENTS

For Rent-Unfurnished Call (785)341-4846. ONE or two-bedroom $385, two blocks to campus. Available June 1 1026 Comerplace apartments. Daily showings at 4:30 p.m. Short and at 4:30 p.m. Short and long-term leases. Call (785)539-1713. ACROSS FROM Aggieville next to campus, 1112 Blue Two-bedroom, offstreet parking, trash paid > gust 1. (785)776-0683. AGGIEVILLE LIVING, lour One bedroom apartment. available June 1 and one available August 1. Call (785)537-0205. *

Three-bedroom at Call (785)537-AVAILABLE AUGUST 1 Two-bedroom, air-condit

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1

washer and dryer. $475. (785)537-8055. AVAILABLE AUGUST. Two, three, four, five, and six-bedrooms. Close to cam-pus. No Pets. Year lease. (785)539-2551. AVAILABLE NOW, summe and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017. www.beloose.com/linwood THREE-BEDROOM pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-FOUR-BEDROOM AVAILAmont. $780.00 plus utilities BLE August 1. 1215 Ber-trand. Call (785)537-0205. August lease. (785)776-

Unfurnished

110

For Rent-

no smoking. (785)539-0590. LEASING FOR ALL. Two pus, laundry. Excellent loca-tion, condition (785)776-closear @ kansas net http://www.angelfire.com/ks NEXT TO campus one. two, three-bedroom houses Central air parking, free washer/ dryer Available August NEXT TO KSU at 1810 Hunting Three-bed available June 1, 2002 Three-bedroor ter and trash paid. Central per month. Call (785)537 ONE BEDROOM, close to campus (June) (785)539-ONE, TWO and three-bedcampus. June and August (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, three and four-bedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-ments (785)776-3663 (24 Hours), One-half mile from lege and Claffin, Manhattan ONE-BEDROOM $405. 1225 Claflin. Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan ONE-BEDROOM Avenue. One-bedroom stu-dio furnished, 1219 Claffin

$330. (785)456-2812. No. ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX no pets. (785)539-5627 ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810." ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. gust lease. (785)776-4805.

ONE-BEDROOM, WASH-ER/DRYER, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier, $305.00 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-4805. PARK PLACE APART-MENTS Cable paid. One.

Three-bedrooms

THREE AND Four-bedrooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537

110 For Rent-Unturnished

FOUR-BEDROOMS, 1806 TWO-BEDROOM AVAILA-Laramie, 1124 Ratone, 316 BLE August 1 Close to North 11th. Two-bedroom: downlown $500 per month.

campus, newly remodeled trash and cable paid, $420 (785)776-9590.

TWO-BEDROOM NO pets

able immediately. (785)776 Now Leasing

1 BR From $470 2 BR From $570 3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Rooms

Available FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term leases. Call Century 21

Knight, (785)565-0138.

For Rent-

Houses

TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study, rage close to downtown Three-bedroom, THREE-BEDROOM, COULD be four, west of KSU. Three-bedroom, west drinking/ pets. (785)539-five bedroom house. Located 824 Laramie. Dishwasher, central air, washer/ dry- ter/ er, yard. $265/ each plus 0117. and deposit. (785)539-3672. FOUR AND Five bedrooms

campus (785)539-4641.

available June 1.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four-

ROOM SUBLEASE. $275 per month. Water and trash included. Laundry facilities included, 1524 Humboldt.

EARN $1000- $3000 in three weeks with the easy poster fundraliser. This fund-www.posterfundraisers.com.

ternoon and evening shifts sign, costumer), volleyball, available. Call 539-1550 water-skiing (slalom, trick, tain Commercial Drivers Li- KS 6 cense Provide room and 0454. Call (785)689-4660

Supportive Holton Hall PART-TIME STUDENT po

ices, 201 Holton Hall. PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beautiful Maine Counselors to coach all sports. baseball, basketball, water-front, rock climbing, golf. biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com is looking for a money-moti vated inside salespersor with a proven history of strong sales performance in-cluding quota over achieve-ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian skills as well as the ability to $50,000/ year or more E-mail resume in Microsoft > gan@civicplus.com. STUDENT

SUMMER BABYSITTER en, and two- year- old girls. Will travel with us on harvest run. Call (785)689-4660.

www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road, Boulder, CO 80301. WILDWOOD- RESIDEN-TIAL camp south of Kansas children and have skill in one or more of the following activities: archery, arts (ce ramics, stained glass, jewel ry), basketball, canceing kayaking, rowing (crew), dance (tap, pointe, jazz), field hockey, golf, gymnas-tics (instructors), figure skating, ice hockey, horseback riding/ English hunt seat, la-crosse, digital photography, videographer, plano accompanist, pioneering/ camp

Break barefoot, jumping) W.S.I./ swim instructors, windsurfing, also opportunities for nurses, HTML/ web design and secretaries. Camp Vega For Girls! Come see us at www.campvega.com or email us at camp_vega@yahoo.com or call us for more information at 1(800)993-VEGA. We will be on your campus for information and to accept applications from

10am-3pm, on Monday March 11th in the K-State

Student Union Building, Room 203. No appointment fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Em-

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville

for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in Kansas. For portfolio call (785)539-7479 or email ka-

Leaders' Training

Course

U.S. Army Officer

Summer Internship

Enroll in Army

ROTC and attend

Training Course for 4 weeks this summer. You'll get paid to experience

adventure, learn eadership skills, and learn more about

army officer

opportunities.

785-532-5177

Items for Sale

BOOK Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays (Translated to English) Please visit http://

KENMORE WASHER $45

AKC REGISTERED Wei

maraner female, 10 months old, silver gray has basic

transportation

1989 MERCURY Cougar

Looks good, runs good. 128,000 miles, $1,500. Call matic. Very clean. Red, 95K, $4,050, negotiable. 1994 Mitsubishi Galant ES, autoleather,

785)770-9218

1995 MITSUBISHI Eclipse

peed, CD, sliding sunrou

6601. Excellent condition

rims.

1997 HONDA CIVIC EX

87K, $7895. (785)776-1275.

HONDAS FROM $500!

1999 YAMAHA R6, 8,000

over on right side, asking

(800)719-3001 ext

(785)341

Automobiles

(785)587-0560

1995 FORD Probe,

erol1421@ksu.edu

silver GS Coupe.

aluminum rimi miles, $6,500,

Motorcycles

i_chungwang tripod.com.

and dryer $50, Amana

(785)539-0180.

condition

450 ■

Pets and

Supplies

the Leaders'

dean@kscable.com.

soccer, softball, tennis, the atre (technicians, set de 330 Business Opportunities mann@ruraltel.net.

ClassifiedRATES

20¢ per word

each word over 20 30¢ per word

40¢ per word ( consecutive day rafe ).

K-State Student Union).

FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we' run found ads for three -

classify any ad.

CORRECTIONS

CANCELLATIONS

published.

BASKETBALI TOURNAMENT

2001-02 ROSTER

00 Andrea Armstrong = 11 Shalondra Booker = 22 Chelsea Domenico 45 Amy Dutmer = 21 Kari Hanson = 35 Danielle Hutton = 10 Laurie Koehn 42 Brie Madden = 34 Megan Mahoney = 04 Kimmery Newsom = 03 Nicole Ohlde 12 Kristin Rethman = 53 Kendra Wecker

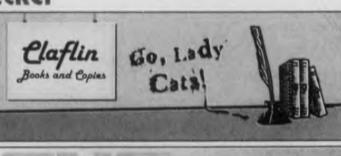

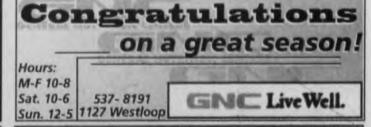

Agape Family Church Sterling Hudgins - Pastor 116 S. 4th Downtown Manhattan Monday Nite Lite - College Fellowship meets Mondays 9 p.m. Sheila Burrell, Leader (785)539-3570

BATTLE FOR IT ALL

Two nights only

Student government presidential seat on the line!

> MATT WOLTERS

ZAC COOK

Wolters, Cook say platform issues set them apart

BY SARAH BAHARI Kansas State Collegian

the platforms," she said. "If they look the university's recycling, increasing

See ELECTION on PAGE 8

THE PLATFORMS

ZAC COOK / TODD KOHMAN

Zac Cook and Todd Kohman, candidates for student body president and vice president, want to look at the issues, and change

K-State needs. They have four main issues on their platform.

> The international ization of the K-State campus is the biggest issue on the pair's platform.

Kohman said they believe all graduates need to have cultural knowledge to work effectively with others in a diverse setting. They intend to do several things to accomplish this, including increasing the amount of scholarships for students to gain international experience. They also plan to integrate international content into the undergraduate programs in every college on the K-State

Cook and

Secondly, Cook and

Kohman want to increase voter registration in Manhattan. They believe it is necessary for students to take a more active stance in the Manhattan community.

Cook and Kohman said they intend to incorporate voter registration into the freshman and transfer student orientation process. They also will set up booths in the K-State Student Union where students can register to vote in Riley County.

Cook and Kohman also would like to expand recycling on the K-State campus,

They say this is an issue to them because they realize resources are not unlimited, and believe the university should take a leading role in improving on-campus recycling.

The fourth issue on the pair's platform is to incorporate an open-door policy at K-State.

Cook and Kohman say they would like to create an environment where students would not feel intimidated voicing their

They also said they would like to work with student concerns and represent them to the best of their ability.

MATT WOLTERS / MANDY ACHILLES

Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles say they know everyone's K-State experience is different. And that's how the presidential ticket decided on a platform.

They said they wanted to improve different areas of campus, including academics, student life and tradition. Everything on their agenda can be accomplished in one year. they said.

The primary issue on their platform is tuition. While an increase is inevitable. Wolters said, students need a voice in how their money is spent. The tuition advisory committee would do just that.

It would provide students with an opportunity to get more back for their money, through maintaining small class sizes, increasing class availability and whatever else students might find important, Wolters said.

The candidates said they would form the committee by the end of this semester.

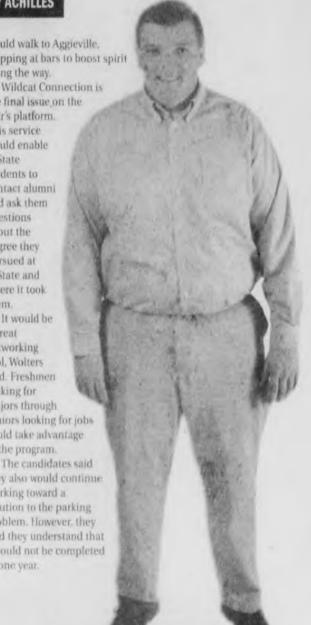

The second platform issue -Wildcat March - touches on student life and tradition. Fans, the marching band and cheerleaders would gather at Memorial Stadium on Fridays before home football games for a pep rally. Afterwards the group would walk to Aggieville. stopping at bars to boost spirit along the way.

the final issue on the pair's platform. This service would enable K-State students to contact alumni and ask them questions about the degree they pursued at K-State and where it took them.

It would be a great networking tool, Wolters said. Freshmen looking for majors through seniors looking for jobs could take advantage of the program.

The candidates said they also would continue working toward a solution to the parking problem. However, they said they understand that it could not be completed in one year.

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?
 Our experience, down-to-earth leadership and commitment to making K-State an even greater university makes us the right combination. Implement a Tuition Advisory Committee, make "The Wildcat March" a K-State tradition, and establish the Wildcat Connection alumni mentoring

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Changes in tuition will affect all K-State students. Tuition increases

In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your We want to make K-State the multicultural leader of the Big 12, improve recycling and voter registration, and keep ar 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Every K-State student needs an opportunity to gain international experience. Todd and I will make that opportunity an immediate reality.

State needs to maintain a focus on the future and ensure that gradu

Online election ballot provides convenience, causes glitches

Karous State Call

The Student Governing Association initially saw online voting as a means to increase voter turnout and ease of voting for students, an SGA member said.

Bill Muir, Student Senate faculty representative, said that prior to online voting, paper ballots were set up in certain locations such as in the K-State Student Union and in Derby Dining Muir said online voting makes voting easy for students by allowing them to sit at their computers at home and vote.

Ryan Walker, vice-chairman of student senate said the process aimed at making voting more appealing for students because they would not have to walk all the way to the Union to vote.

The idea for this newer process, Muir said, came from various conferences and practices at other campuses who used this system of voting.

"Online voting sounded like a pretty good thing to do," he said.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said initially the switch was made to increase voter turnout, assuming that it would be easier for students to vote we

As a result, he said, students would be more apt to participate in elections.

This is the third year for online voting, he said, although SGA faces several difficulties every year with the different online vendors. Still, he said, the system works. Muir said this week's election will be the telling story as far as online voting's effects on voter turnout, though he said voting patterns change yearly.

For the most part, Conrad said there have been minor increases in voter turnout each year for the past three years, including this one.

A comparison of voting in the primary this year to the runoff election last year shows a small increase, he said.

Muir said SGA is hoping eventually to be able to handle online voting internally through Computer Information

The goal in the long run is to handle it ourselves and not have to go through someone in California," Muir said.

Conrad said most campuses who offer online voting have their own systems through their individual computing departments, like CIS at K-State.

"Our computing department has said

How to vote

The voting process has changed this year. Students are now required to vote online. Here are a few steps to get you on your way.

1. Log on to KATS at kats.ksu.edu

2. Click on SGA elections link

3. Record user name and password

4. Proceed to next window and enter user name and password

5. Vote

it is not willing to do that," Conrad said. SGA officials potentially go through a new vendor yearly and essentially. Conrad said, have to start over at ground

Conrad said this is because the stateregulated bidding process which requires SGA constantly to chase the lowest bid.

SGA first submits a request for a certain service, in this case an online voting vendor, he said. Then, any company who is interested may in turn place a bid.

Once all bids have been submitted, he said, the university is obligated by state regulations to select and use the cheapest company who submitted a bid.

This process can create problems when desirable qualities of a vendor superceed cost.

Walker said inconsistencies with different vendors have plagued elections committees from an administrative aspect, but the process has been a welcome one for students.

"It's been good for us overall, so we're going to stick with it," Walker said.

PRESIDENT/VICE PRESIDENT

The student body president serves as the chief executive for the Student Governing Association.

The president's responsibilities include voicing problems and concerns of the K-State student body to Faculty Senate, the Kansas Board of Regents and the

The president meets with the regents once a month in Topeka.

Other presidential duties include traveling, attending speaking engagements, participating in fund-raisers, attending administrative meetings and functions, appointing students to different committees and attending various

The vice president has the secondhighest position in Student Senate.

The vice president serves as chief executive of SGA if the president is unable to fulfill his or her duties, whether because of illness or resignation. The vice president also is the chair of the Educational Opportunity Fund Committee.

The vice president oversees and coordinates special SGA projects and programs, assists the president in appointing cabinet members and serves as liaison between the vice president of institutional advancement and SGA.

BOARD OF STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The Board of Student Publications oversees the policies and issues of all student publications. Five elected members, two faculty members, the director of the A.Q. Miller School of Journalism and Mass Communications, and representatives from the Royal Purple, the Collegian and the Student Publications Advertising Department make up the board. The board hires editors in chief for the Collegian and for the Royal Purple. They also hire the advertising sales manager for both publications on a semester basis.

The board also manages finances for the Collegian and Royal Purple and approves the budget.

STUDENT SENATE

Student Senate is the legislative body and voice for K-State students.

Senate consists of 60 representatives, and each person represents each individual

Two faculty members also serve on Student Senate, while three students serve on Faculty Senate. Standing committees are also a part of Student Senate. Committees include the Operations Committee, which tallies senator absences and makes sure Senate runs smoothly; the Academic Affairs and Social Services Committee, which deals with issues pertaining to student life, student representation and services; the Governmental Relations Committee, which lobbies state and local governments to address student concerns; and the Communications Committee, which serves as a Senate public relations group. They allocate funds to student groups and services, such as Lafene Health Center and the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex, through the privilege fees.

Student Senate writes legislation, looks over recommendations and maintains contact with the Kansas Board of Regents.

Senators also enact policies for the student body, charter college councils and committees of Student Senate and define and establish the Student Conduct Code,

UNION GOVERNING BOARD

The Union Governing Board focuses on issues that concern the K-State Student

UGB has 15 voting members. It is composed of 12 students and three faculty members. Five of the positions are up for election. Non-elected members are appointed by the student body president, Student Alumni Board, Student Senate and other organizations.

UGB decides whether something follows policy or goes against it. It deals with overall things occurring at the Union. Fiscal issues also are handled by UGB and reviewed annually.

FINE ARTS COUNCIL

The Fine Arts Council gives money to fine arts departments when they need or request funds.

It also allocates money to fine arts student groups such as the Potter's Guild. Each semester student groups must submit an application in order to receive

There is a set budget for the recipients, which include the departments of Music; Art; Speech Communication, Theater and Dance; and English, as well as McCain

Nine students serve on the council, five of whom are elected by the student body, and eight faculty members represent the departments. Four of the students are appointed by Senate and two are appointed by the student body president. The appointed members serve on the council for one year. Two of the elected members serve two-year terms, while the other three elected to the council serve one-year terms.

Where to vote

All general election voting will take place

Voters can use their home computers or university computer labs.

Students have the opportunity to vote for:

■ Student body president/vice preside ■ Board of Student Publications

College Councils

Fine Arts Council

Union Governing Board

Online voting began at 8 this morning and will be available 24 hours a day through 6 p.m.

Election results will be announced at 8 p.m. on Channel 8 Wednesday. Results also will be posted on the Student Governing Association

Web site at www.ksu.edu/osas/sga Also, check the eCollegian at www.kstatecollegian.com for election updates.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

■ Each candidate was asked to fill out a survey concerning their goals and ideas for the positions for which they are running. A "no response" answer indicates they did not return their survey to the Collegian. Answers were cut off after the 20-word limit.

Jonathan Mitchell Publications (1-year term)

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? My involvement in K-State and community projects has helped me gain the experience necessary to become a good leader. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

I would like to see more interaction between student government and the students they represent. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

The biggest issue facing our college is money management. This is apparent through the recent budget crunch

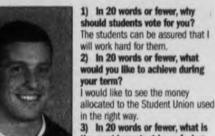

Al Gard Union Governing Board (1-year term)

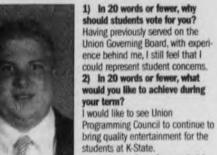

Tanner Klingzell Union Governing Board (1-year term)

the most important issue facing your college or organization? feel that we need to get more students involved on campus.

Todd Kohman Union Governing Board (2-year term)

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The most important issue facing the Union would be the possible outsourcing of Union Bookstore.

Joshua Sturgis Union Governing Board (2-year term)

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Because I look like Randy Quaid. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

turning, I would like to expedite the process of outsourcing the bookstore. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?
The consistent deficit budget of the

Damian Lair (1-year term)

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? If elected, I will represent our students' needs and devote to this position the time and effort that it

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

No response

your term?

No response.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? aim to support the continuation of Fine Arts programming at K-State.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? We need to maintain the quality of our Fine Arts programming and continue to build upon it.

Alicia Dale Agriculture Council Activities Director

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I'm an energetic and experienced leader that loves the College of Agriculture and would do an excellent 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Increase awareness of Ag Fest, Watermelon Feed and Open House to bring students and faculty together while starting new traditions.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Enrollment. We need to promote the uniqueness of the College of Agriculture to keep current students and recruit prospective ones.

Kyle Olson Agriculture Council Activities Director

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a self-motivated individual who has experience in organizing large-

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

Open House being one of our big recruiting tools, I would like to increase the number of prospectives that participate. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Agriculture is always changing. If elected, I would make sure that we use our existing activities to inform

Jill Wenger Agriculture Council Activities Director

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Having served on Ag Council and as an Ag Senator, I am now seeking to do more within our college. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during organizing Council activities and to sponsor more events throughout the

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?
The most important issue facing Ag Council is student involvement. We need more participation in campus organizations and activities.

Lori Alexander Agriculture Council Public Relations

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Great things happen in the College of Agriculture and I can use my dedication and communication skills to publicize them. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during I'd like to help "Pickups" cover more student activities and provide more useful information. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The entire university needs to be aware of the incredible students and activities of the College of Agriculture.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

I am an outgoing, enthusiastic leader with a strong vision for the College of plan to strengthen current traditions

such as Ag Fest while encouraging

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

your term?

Ben Winsor Agriculture Council Public Relations

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am an Ag communications major who is anxious to represent the College of Agriculture to the student body.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during would be interested in increasing intercollege awareness and sustaining a high level of diversity. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The communication between the clubs and organizations is one of the weakest pares of the college of ag.

your college or organization?

A line needs to be determined

Kyle Nichols Agriculture Council President.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I honestly want vice president. Vote for my friend Josh Roe. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during Provide Ag Council with as much support as I can along with guest 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Main issue is to keep support strong at Ag Council events throughout the

Josh Roe Agriculture Council President

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will be an effective leader due to my previous Ag Council experience and dedication towards the College of Agriculture.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see increased univer sity-wide participation and attendance at college of ag events. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing Increasing communication between clubs in the College of Agriculture.

Denise George Agriculture Council Secretary

new activities to involve and unite our students. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing Improving the college's image is our biggest issue. Portraying the changing face of agriculture accurately will

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

2) In 20 words or fewer, what

your term?

No response

No response.

would you like to achieve during

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

increase enrollment and opportunities.

Brandon New Agriculture Council Secretary between privileges and needs

Tim Pralle Agriculture Council Secretary

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Through my past leadership expenences I will be able to effectively serve the College of Agriculture. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Perform my duties in an effective manner, while working to increase membership in the College of 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing

The most important issue facing the College of Agriculture is definitely the future tuition increase. This must be

Philip Weltmer Treasurer

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will bring an open mind and a strong leadership background to Ag 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to continue the College of Agriculture's strong presence on campus by working with all the clubs. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Continuing to maintain the College of Agriculture's reputation and strong backing on campus and in the

Thom Allen Architecture Council

Erin Arneson

your college or organization?

Architecture Council and will tackle issues fellow students believe are most important. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing As technology and the world changes, College Architecture, Planning, Design students must remain employable and prepared for the job market.

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing

No response

your term?

Stephanie Conrad

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I feel that I am a responsible and dedicated candidate that will represent the views of the college, 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Mainly, I hope to help raise student awareness of the importance of the relationship between student and scholarship donor.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The issue of financial aid and controlling where money is allotted in the college are very important.

Kyle Fitzgerald

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I believe I can represent the younger students of the Architectural depart-2) In 20 words or fewer, what I want to stimulate the growth of the architectural clubs and competitive design projects. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Studio spaces need to be improved and enlarged in Seaton Hall for would you like to achieve during

your term?

Jennifer McFarland

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

your college or organization? No response.

Kristy Morse

Brian G. Pelcak Architecture Council

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Dedicated to improvement of existing conditions, with determination and persistence to follow through. I believe communication is important between both

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during Target at least three substantial areas for improvement, ultimately for a positive outcome for students. Improve communication to students

3) in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Working so our current resources are retained and improved, that we may continue to offer a curriculum with substantial national

Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am interested in improving the College of Arts and Sciences by bringing new ideas and opinions to the council. 2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during would like to improve communications between the council and the organizations in arts and sciences. 3) in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

I believe it is important for council to play an active role in the organizations and activities within the college.

Seth Bridge Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? My experience as a student senator, member of the Educational Opportunity Fund and Senate intern have prepared me to serve students. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to financially support a sive and reach toward members of our colleg 3) in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The council must fund organizations that reach out to students. If you have further concerns, please contact me at stb3344@ksu.edu.

variety of organizations that are inclu-

Nasrina Burnett Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because I am dedicated to serving their best interests and those of K-State. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Increased communication with the student body, especially with regards to resource distribution.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Course availability, funding, and communication.

Matthew John Arts and Sciences Council

 in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?
 in an age of political cynicism, students need to know they will be represented by someone they can genuinely trust

2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to see an open dialogue addressing the various solutions to parking and housing problems 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

right to be more informed about these increases.

Tuition increases are an important issue this year, and students have a

Erin Kessinger Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I'm currently on council and have experience with its operations and I'm dedicated to achieving the goals set within council.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see council become more involved and get a bigger name within the College of Arts and

 In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Funding and students taking advantage of the quality programs some of our organizations are putting on.

Jonathan Mitchell Arts and Sciences Council

No response.

Jessica Morton

Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am just an average college student, so I know what is happening on 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to look into creating uniform wait lists and also allowing more students' voices to be heard. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? I think that not enough students' opinions are being expressed and considered.

Tammy Jo Osborn

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? As a current member of the council, the experience I have will propel the council to accomplish projects begun

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

To bring more attention to the council and the new scholarship it offers to arts and sciences students. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Recognition and action.

Laurie Quaife Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you'r I have served in Segate for the last two years so I have experience and know how the process works. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see K-State have a shuttle and spend money wisely so privilege fees aren't increased.

In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The College of Arts and Sciences needs to work on providing quality advising for all majors within the college.

Abbie Rondeau Arts and Sciences Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

2) In 20 words or fewer, what uld you like to achieve during your term? No response.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Heath A. Starr

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? As a student council member, I will be committed to our college and my fellow students.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

Anything and everything the powers of this office will allow me to in order to further its abilities and achievements. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

What to do with our degrees. I want to get alumni more actively involved in providing internships through our college.

Travis Weigel

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

3) in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

No response.

Andrea Zimmer Arts and Sciences Council

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am easy to talk to, and I will listen to the concerns and requests of my

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

want to make sure all students are informed about the issues on campus and ensure their opinions are heard.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? believe that ensuring that the voice of the student body is accurately represented is a major issue.

Logan Andrews

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I think that students should vote for me because my overall plan consists of three things, one of which is 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would do a good job! 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Courtney Dunlap Business Adr Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am currently secretary of Business Council, so if I get elected, I can bring in experience.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

I would like to get club's finances allocated efficiently and effectively and have a great CBA Open House. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Robbie Elliott

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Matt Fellows Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Mike Hart Business Administration Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Tiffany Howard Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am currently the Business Council Treasurer so I would have the neces-

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would make sure each business sary experience.

organization will receive the necessary allocations and make the Open House an exciting event. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? I think that some business organizations do not receive sufficient funds.

Kenton Meyer Business Administration

Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I feel I am responsible and devoted enough to fulfill the position. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during business department.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Tuition increase and the availability of classes in the department.

To have a positive effect on the

Jared Parker Business Administration

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response: 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Greg Prieb Business Administration

Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

No response.

Danielle Tanguay Business Administ Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I feel I am a qualified candidate to represent the College of Business and determined to accomplish many 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like fellow business students to be more educated in activities and speakers the college offers during the

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Lack of sections for required classes and low student involvement in clubs and organization are issues needed

Maggie Trambly Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Because I will be dedicated to making the CBA the best college on

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during would like to make the CBA more efficient in several areas including enrollment and advising.

 in 20 words or fewor, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Enrollment. Students can't get into needed classes because the professor population hasn't increased in comparison to the number of

Jennifer Cavallaro Education Council

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I would be a good, honest, and reliable representative for students involved in the college.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

Contribute and get involved in a way that would allow me to give back to the College of Education. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Making sure we train our future teachers well so they feel comfortable to go out there and make a

Kelsie B. Crist Education Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a very dedicated and organized student. I am committed to continuing the success of the education

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? want to inform younger students about all the opportunities available in the College of Education. To encourage and grow!

 In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? to inform education students early on about every opportunity the College of Education offers so that involvement continues to increase.

Christyn Murdock

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am dependable, organized and a good listener, I am easily approachable and I value others' opinions. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would achieve many goals as a council member, possibly by holding an office, to improve the College of

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?
I believe the College of Education needs more publicity and recognition in the Collegian and around campus.

Jennifer Beach Engineering Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have served as vice president of the organization and have had two years of experience in ESC, plus I 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? To increase involvement, have short, efficient meetings, and continue to make it a worthwhile organization to

3) in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? In the college: tuition increases. In ESC: increased participation in ESC

Engineering Council Vice President External

Kelli Simmelink

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? served as assistant treasurer and took part in several activities that ESC sponsors. Plus, I'm running 2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? want to increase involvement of college organizations with the council and coordinate all outside communi-

 in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Tuition increases in the college are significant issues presently. Within ESC active participation of its members, is needed.

Kim Bartak Engineering Council Vice President Internal

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have served as the director of publicity this past year and participated in several activities. Plus, I'm running unopposed. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Increase membership in ESC and provide community service opportunities for the organization. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Within ESC, there should be more active participation in our events

1) In 20 words or fewer, why ould students vote for you? I am a responsible and trustworthy person that values others' opinions. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would work on increasing student involvement in the college and increase relations with human ecology alumni. 3) in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? An important issue facing human ecology is the lack of awareness of the different organizations and programs available for students.

Tiffany Bullard Human Ecology Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I'm a hard-working student who is dedicated to spreading the news that the possibilities the future holds are

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to have a part in College of Human Ecology. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The most important issue is the low number of students who are involved and what human ecology is all about.

increasing student involvement in the

Tracy Carpenter

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

Students should vote for me because I am an organized and responsible person. I also enjoy being a leader.
2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? As a member of the Human Ecology College Council, I would like to increase student involvement in the most important issue facing your college or organization? An important issue facing human ecology is students awareness of what the Human Ecology College Council accomplishes for our college.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is human ecology.

Amber Lafferty Human Ecology Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have experience with Student Government through being an intern this year. Also, I believe in striving for obtainable goals.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

would like to expand on a program that educates teachers on being more interactive in the classroom 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? would want to work on diversity in the college through recruitment, outreach programs to high school students and orientation.

Nikki McClure Human Ecology Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will keep students aware of what is happening in our college. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to increase awareness of issues facing our college. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Not enough students are involved. I would like to get opinions from more students in our college before making

Darla Orth Human Ecology Council

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I'm a caring, open-minded leader with the best interests of students in

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Providing more timely information to students about what is going on so it's easier to stay involved.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? How to deal with the current budget shortfalls without compromising our quality education.

Lori Alexander

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? My leadership experiences combined with my dedication and enthusiasm make me a worthy senate candidate. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? want to help inform every student of SGA activities so they can make an impact.

 In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Higher tuition will affect everyone Students need to know where and how those dollars are being used.

Chad Bontrager

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will dedicate myself to providing the highest quality representation possible for the students of the College of Agriculture. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see that commonsense is used in all decision making. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? seeing that the clubs within the activity fee funds necessary to be

Nicholas Bowser

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will make sure that we do not let a problem, like our Union being $431,000 in the hole, go 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? So far for so long. I hope to cut stupid spending, and put agriculture students' money to work in a 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Manner that will benefit them the most, I hope to connect and help develop our student organizations.

Tyler Breeden

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because I will listen to concerns and represent them to the best of my ability. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during As a senator, I would want to make decisions that influence and improve the College of Agriculture. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The College of Agriculture needs advanced technology available in classrooms. Understanding and implementing technology is crucial for future agricultural success.

Michael Burns

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I'm a very dedicated person who wants to dedicate my time to benefit you, the students of K-State. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

As a K-State senator, I want to ensure that students on campus enjoy their experience academically, traditionally, and socially.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? With technology changing consistently, the College of Agriculture must stay on top of technology to keep educating students properly.

Ryan Conway

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am very qualified to hold the position of Ag Senate. I approach all situations with an open mind. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? will strive to make K-State a more student friendly campus and to help improve K-State's budget plan. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The tuition increase, and how these funds will be appropriately dispersed throughout K-State and the College

Jacob Fry

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I plan to work hard on my position for the students and meet the issues that need to be talked

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to see that money is given out to those clubs and activities that need it.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? All the issues in the college of ag are important and they need to be talked

Ryan Garrett

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Because I care about how people perceive the College of Agriculture and only want the best for its students.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? After I discover a cure for AIDS and all forms of cancer I'll attempt to solve the parking problem. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Enrollment and promotion of the college. With tuition rising, we need to increase promotion because our competition is getting stronger.

Delvin Higginson

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Serving as a senator for the past year has made me more informed and aware of student issues. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Continued efforts to improve facilities and update technology, ensuring students get the most for their money and K-State remains competitive. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing costs of tuition and living.

your college or organization? Maintaining enrollment despite rising

Grayson Magner

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a reasonable, logical thinker who will remain unbiased on all issues facing K-State.
2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? hope to be a redeeming asset to K-State and serve to the best of my

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The possible increase in tuition is a concern of mine that I hope to make fair for all students.

Brandon Roenbaugh

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because I will stand for what students want. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to maintain enrollment numbers, despite rising tuition. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Maintaining and promoting interest and enrollment in the College of Agriculture, despite the continually declining ag sector.

Lisa Solomon

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will work hard for the students and be a voice of reason in SGA. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

would work in parking issues, tuition, and utilization of the campus television station. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? There are two: lack of diversity and decreased enrollment.

Jed Strnad

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have had leadership experience in the past, and would like to be a representative voice for my college. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to promote life, liberty and the pursuit of a good time for all. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Doing away with Thursday morning classes. It's tough for those that spend the night in Aggieville.

Lindsay Bathel

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a hardworking and motivated person. I also have experience from two previous terms in Senate 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? will listen to students and work to expand opportunities for students to enhance their college experience. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? will work to ensure that the College of Architecture receives funding to run all student organizations within the

Brad Kingsley

My experience holding leadership roles in the College of Architecture through ASAB and academic affairs committee makes me a qualified 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

1) In 20 words or fewer, wtry

should students vote for you?

Keeping the students informed with the happenings of SGA. Also, bring more recognition to CAPD through big name lectures.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Financial aid for students and funding for programs that are enriching to our education. Feel free to contact me bdk6666@ksu.edu.

Christine Baker Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a responsible person. I'm not afraid to voice opinions and I have great communication skills. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? will increase communications between SGA and students. I will address a&s students' concerns and give them a voice.

the most important issue facing your college or organization? A&S is a diverse college. Our students can enrich our environment by sharing their cultures with the help of

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is

Seth Bridge Arts and Sciences Senator should students vote for you? My experience as a student senator, member of the Educational Opportunity Fund, and Senate intern have prepared me to serve students. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Most importantly, I want to see student input on the amount, placement, and time frame of the impending tuition increase. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

The financial situation at K-State is a concern. What matters most is your concerns. Don't hesitate to contact me, stb3344@ksu.edu.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why

Amy Buller Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am very approachable when you have concerns and also very dedicated to getting things achieved. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to achieve a better understanding for the students of what changes occur in the College of Arts and Sciences. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Being advised by the faculty that is most compatible with your major as well as the career you're seeking.

Nasrina Burnett

should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because I am dedicated to serving their best interests and those of K-State. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Increased funding for the arts, enhanced focus on diversity education, and opportunities for campus to connect with the outside world. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Course availability, funding, and

1) In 20 words or fewer, why

In 20 words or fewer, what is communication.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why

Danny Callahan

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Previous experience in Student Senate and as your Faculty Senate representative. I'm outgoing, persis-tent, easy to talk with. "Just Danny." 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Increase need-based financial aid to students, Improve communication between faculty, students and administration. Continue improving advising where needed.

 In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Tuition increases and the necessity for more need-based financial aid. Will affect quality of education, diversity of students and enrollment.

Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? After serving as Senate intern and senator, I am familiar with SGA and know which issues are important. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I hope to accurately represent arts and sciences students by listening to

 In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Maintaining and then improving the quality of our faculty by working salary increases into our budget their concerns and sharing those with the Senate

Kim Freed Arts and Sciences Senator

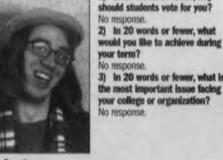

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a hardworking, energetic individual whose goal is to represent K-State in a fun yet professional

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during would like to increase the activities on campus for students and spark more student interest in SGA in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The issue of student advisers being more helpful needs to be addressed because it is essential in helping students succeed.

Al Gard Arts and Sciences Senator

Andrew Hayhurst

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Experience and service. For over two years I have served K-State in both SGA and the Honor Council. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during would like to increase the levels of activity within the College of Arts and Sciences, and K-State. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? fuition increases. It is going to happen, and students need to be involved in the decision making process.

Eric Hoopingarner

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? It's time to break the monotony of K-State and start making changes that will benefit all of the student

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to set up an online book exchange to help students save money and time each semester. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? In journalism, using the TU stations to help educate and teach students, while also allowing them to be student operated.

Ali Karimi Arts and Sciences Senator

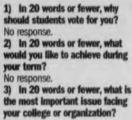

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? As a student senator, I know the headaches associated with trying to get things done. I'm ready for another

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Keep an open dialog with all students and hear their concerns. From MSO's to greeks and everyone

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Average students at K-State seems to be very apathetic. It's time to empower students and educate them. about their surroundings.

Kris Kellim

No response.

Emily King Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? As a past intern, committee chair, and senator, I am extremely familiar with SGA and I listen to student 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I plan to encourage and support legislation that promotes diversity on campus via speakers, activities, and

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Diversity is an incredibly important issue. We need to incorporate much more diversity in all aspects of

Jon Krasnoff Arts and Sciences Senator

No response

Kari L. Krier

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have Senate experience and want to continue trying to improve student life and academic quality here at

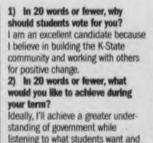

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I'd like to change aspects of the current curriculum offered and keep students better informed of current issues affecting them. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? It's difficult to obtain and distribute sufficient funding for the diverse activities, programs, and organizations within my college.

Victoria Lowdon

working toward our combined goals. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? we need to promote strong student/advisor communication, increase awareness of available opportunities, and increase resources to faculty and students.

Bill Mahan Arts and Sciences Senator

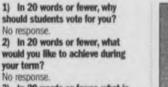

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? We need someone we can actually talk to, not some pretentious suit that doesn't make good on their

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I am going to do everything I want to do. In the words of Tom Jones: It's not

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? It's a secret I can't tell you. Vote Monster Raving Loony Party. Vote Bill-Arts & Sciences Senate

Renee McDaniel

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Glen McMurry

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? My work ethic is something I pride myself on. I take on something, and I see that it's finished. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

My goals are to keep students more informed and increase their academic opportunities within the department.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Access to academic assistance is a very important issue. Increases in resources and information would boost assistance to students

Emily Meissen

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am dependable, passionate, enthusiastic and dedicated to working endlessly in the pursuit of a better university experience for all. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I want to increase student involve ment and communicate desires and concerns of students in order to achieve total university enhancement. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? To produce successful, competitive graduates by maintaining and exceeding high educational standards that promote well-rounded students and lifetime achievers.

Jonathan Mitchell Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response

Jessica Morton Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am just an average college student, so I know what is happening on

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during would like to look into creating uniform wait lists and also allowing more students' voices to be heard 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing

your college or organization? think that not enough students' opinions are being expressed and considered.

Tammy Jo Osborn

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? The experience I have gained through the Student Health Advisory Committee and Arts and Sciences Council make me a great 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? will address health issues and how to make campus a more friendly atmosphere for the international

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Accountability and communication between students and senators are extremely important, especially in light of recent tuition hikes.

Ben Procter Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? After serving as a KSU SGA intern since last fall, I've learned a great deal about students' priorities and 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

I'd like to see more senators use their votes to represent their constituents and not as a rubber stamp. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? I believe more concern for under represented populations on campus is vital to fair governance and a more responsive SGA.

Laurie Quaife

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have served in Senate for the last two years, so I have experience and know how the process works. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to see K-State have a shuttle system and spend money wisely so privilege fees aren't In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The College of Arts and Sciences needs to work on providing quality advising for all majors within the college.

Abbie Rondeau Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have the experience and motivation to acquire the knowledge to make the right decisions for each issue. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? The College of Arts and Sciences needs a program to better assist your college or organization? Class size and priority enrollment are

Erin Slattery

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? You've got a friend in me. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

World domination ultimately, but I think I would start with increasing communication between Senate and students.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Although the campus squirrel problem is on the front of everyone's mind, tuition increases are the real

Sarah Sourk Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will continue to stay informed of issues that affect students and use my previous knowledge to implement

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Make decisions that positively impact K-State and make improvements within the College of Arts and Sciences

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The increase of tuition and the quality of education that we receive.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why

Heath A. Starr Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? As a student senator, I will be committed to this university and my fellow students. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Furthering campus recycling initiatives, and developing more K-State outreach/involvement programs to the community of Manhattan, to

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? What to do with our degrees, I want to get alumni more actively involved in providing internships through our college.

Spencer Stelljes

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? My work ethic, willingness to learn, experience with Senate, love for K-State and willingness to listen to students' concerns 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

wish to promote communication between my college and campus, promote unity and fairly voice student two issues that need to become more efficient.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The three most important issues facing us are communication, academic advising and wait listing.

Jeremy Stohs Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why ould students vote for you? My past involvement as a senator, down-to-earth attitude, and desire to succeed will help me make the right. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Making certain students have a voice in where their tuition dollars go, and contributing to K-State's representation within Kansas.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? We need to ensure that the College of Arts and Sciences and its students receive the appropriate resources to excel.

James Stoutenborough Arts and Sciences Se

Leslie VanNordstrand Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have an understanding of the college and issues that students could be facing regarding their specialized majors.

2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see more classes opening up for the expanding number of students enrolled, while utilizing 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? I feel that there is a definite lack of resources and availability of classes that students could use concerning

No response.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why ould students vote for you? 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? No response.

Andrea Zimmer Arts and Sciences Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am an approachable person, and I will listen to the concerns and requests of my fellow students. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? want to make sure all students are campus and ensure their opinions 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? believe that ensuring that the voice of the student body is accurately represented is a major issue.

informed about the issues on

Suzanne Blakely Business Admi

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a motivated and responsible person. I feel that I am very qualified to represent the college in Senate. 2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to build on all of the opportunities we have at K-State, and try to improve students' experiences. in 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? want to make certain that the college of business obtains all of the resources it needs to run effectively

No response.

your term?

No response.

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing

your college or organization?

Sheldon Bucl Business Adm Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I understand how Senate operations work and bring knowledge and experience to the position. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to see the business department hire additional quality instructors and be able to offer additional classes. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The cost of a quality education is rising. We need to address the business department's proposed increase in tuition.

Vy Bui siness Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am responsible, outgoing, dedicated, dependable, and I know what it takes to get the job done

2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? To voice my opinion 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Robbie Elliott Business Administration Senator

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

I am looking for the chance to work hard for K-State and voting for me would give me that chance.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to take an active part in Student Senate. My goal would be, just do a good job.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The new tuition increase, students need to know and help decide where the money goes.

Matt Fellows Business Administration

Chris Greene Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? My integrity and determination make me an excellent leader willing to stand up for the students.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

I want to make quality changes and noticeable differences on campus with minimal costs to the students. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The most important issue facing any student is the tuition increase and what their money will be used for.

Essence Halliburton Business Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will represent all students at K-State by keeping an open mind and welcoming positive change in our K-State community.
2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to change the current business orientation classes structure to better benefit the students. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Availability of upper level courses to younger students; we need to reduce the size of the waitlist for these classes.

Mike Hart siness Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Experience. This year I have served on the Allocations Committee which gave me the experience needed to serve

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see more organizations receive funding for their various activities and events the most important issue facing your college or organization? I think the most important issue facing K-State is the proposed tuition increase for in and out of state

Andrew Joiner Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because I want to bring a real student body voice to Student Senate. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to find a short-term solution to the parking problem, while we wait for a permanent

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? I think the most important issue this university is facing is tuition increases and how that money will be spent.

Tanner Klingzell Business Adm Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I had the opportunity to serve on Senate the past semester and feel I can make a difference.

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see our tuition benefit the students more. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Having enough classes available to meet the demand of the students.

Damian Lair Business Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? If re-elected, I will contribute to represent my constituents' needs and devote to this position the effort that

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? My goal is to effectively represent the College of Business, its students, and their concerns, interests and

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Our college is growing and we need to make available enough sections of the core courses to meet students'

Kenton Meyer Business Adm

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will listen to students' views and present them before Senate. Also, I am responsible enough to fulfill the

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? To have a positive effect on the Student Senate. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

Corbin Navis Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because I bring a fresh perspective to the

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? My top priority is to serve the best interests of the students in the College of Business. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? he most important issue is that the additional money students pay for tuition increases the quality of their

John O'Hara Business Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am dedicated to representing and listening to my constituents. In addition, I have experience as a business student senator.

would you like to achieve during your term? would like to take concerns from business students to the Dean's Advisory Council to help improve the

2) In 20 words or fewer, what

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? I believe the CBA needs to make sure they're expanding their faculty and technology as the enrollment continues to increase.

Greg Prieb Business Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? No response. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Thomas Roth Business Administration

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Some people see the world how it should be as opposed to how it really is; they run into trees. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? To stop wasteful spending, otherwise I don't set unattainable goals. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? There are organizations that are not in the best interest of Business money.

Robert Sumners Senator

Business Administration

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have the ability to listen to others and act effectively on their opinions. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? want to focus on achieving realistic goals and making SGA more representative of the student body,

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important Issue facing your college or organization? We must keep the quality of our professors, facilities and student current tuition fees.

Lisa Tirrell Business Administration Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Currently I'm an intern and a voting member of the privilege fee committee. Through this I've gained 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to be a good representative of K-State students, and vote according to their wants and needs 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Class availability is an important issue. Students should be able to enroll in classes when they need

Maggie Trambly

senting CBA. your term?

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I'm familiar with senate proceedings from my experience as a SGA intern, and will dedicate myself to repre-2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during I will focus on the concerns of CBA students and will make the CBA more efficient in advising and enrolli

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Enrolling. The professor populace hasn't increased enough in comparison to the student populace making it difficult to get into classes.

Hayley Urkevich

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The biggest issue facing our college is money management. This is apparent through the recent budget crunch and tuition increases.

Matt Beavon Education Senator

K-State and refuse to be coerced by special interests. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? Provide a common sense solution to the most important problems at K-State: costs, student-teacher ratio,

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you?

will act in the best interests of parking and class selection. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The student-teacher ratio is a problem that plagues all departments. Bigger classes typically mean lower quality of education.

MaryElizabeth Kasper Education Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will keep communication open and frequent. I will be dedicated to represent the College of Education. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to continue my work on the wait list and advising problems. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

The College of Education is under represented and needs to be more prominent on the K-State campus.

Travis Smith

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I care more about other people than myself and I want to help solve problems that plague students. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? I would like to see more interaction. When my term ends, I want to look back and see I've accomplished more than just running for this

In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Tuition cost. One way or another, it affects every decision we make.

Layne Stafford

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have a true desire to help K-State students receive the most positive experiences at K-State. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? This sizable increase of tuition will need to be reduced, and I hope that we can solve this problem.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Student involvement in the College of Education is lacking. Therefore, I hope to influence and motivate others to become involved.

Katherine Carter Board of Student Publications

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a good representative of the general engineering population and will fight for what they want. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to make dead week really "dead," no projects, tests, or papers

Adam Childs Engineering Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will continue to work for the good of the College of Engineering as well as the K-State student body. 2) in 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? It is important to increase support for student activities, including competitive groups, club teams and Union Program Council events. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Teacher salaries. The inadequate faculty budget is the root cause of perpetual waiting list status.

Engineering Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Z-to engineerzay 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing

John Godfrey Engineering Senato

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am the contemporary voice of reason and logic for the students. I am your stewa 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? will work on parking, tuition costs. book buy-back, and your other ideas that you present to me. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Diversity... I will work on the attainment of more women engineers.

Erin Green Engineering Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Currently a senator. Active in engineering, campus. Creative ideas. Will speak out. Dedicated. Listens. Environmentally conscious. Engineers rule. Vote Green. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during Equitable distribution of privilege fees. Increased participation and knowledge of campus events. Organized, funded recycling program which better serves students. In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Retention of quality professors (and underclassmen) engineers.

Engineering science and required electives are confusing and conflict with UGE. Tuition increases.

your term?

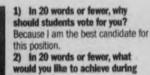

Simon Harkins

1) in 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization?

your term? I want to learn the inner workings of student government to effectively represent K-State students in the

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? With ongoing budget cuts, I want to ensure the College of Engineering sacrifices nothing vital to our

Sam Meier

 In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am familiar with the workings of Student Senate, and I will work hard to perform my duties well. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during Ensure the responsible use of student funds in a manner that benefits the student body as a whole. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? It's imperative that students' opinions, especially engineering students, be heard concerning any new tuition changes.

Lucas Miller

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? No response.

Tim Newlin

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Contacts and experiences gained the past two years in Senate will allow me to jump right into work already

z) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during vour term?

I will endeavor to finish an analysis of the general education requirements, ensuring options and expediency in our K-State experience. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Higher tuition promises to improve the value of our engineering experience. It is my responsibility to see

Lindsey Porter

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I will maintain a strong voice on behalf of the engineering department and provide leadership to the student body government. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during I would like to bring in more employers throughout the year to improve post-graduation employ-3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? feel an important issue in the College of Engineering is help and tutoring for higher-level classes.

Julie Quackenbush

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I hope my service as a senator and intern has demonstrated my commitment, organization, diligence, listening skills and purple blood. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? will work to increase communication between senators and engineering students and promote student involvement in Senate legis-

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? With tuition hikes guaranteed, I will work to make sure costs remain as low as possible and equitable

Kristine Sheedy Engineering Senato

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a self-motivated person that puts my whole effort into everything I

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to see better communication between the departments and

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Poor class structuring because it has caused problems for many students, and I would like to see that change.

Travis Stryker

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I feel my past experience as an Engineering Senator will allow me to better inform my peers of current

2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

I would like to keep my peers informed about issues discussed in Senate and get their opinions on

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? The need for all engineering students to realize the benefits of the engineering equipment fee.

Ross Stutterheim

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I am a responsible, hard working, and honest individual. I care deeply about the concerns of my peers. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to represent the College of Engineering and the students in it to the best of my abilities.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Providing information to students so that they might get involved in organizations in the college.

Eleri Griffin Human Ecology Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have prior Senate experience as an intern and am interested in accurately representing the students of my 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? support the implementation of a SafeRide system for students, expanded study abroad opportunities and an efficient K-State recycling 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Keeping the cost of tuition affordable to students, while maintaining a standard of excellence in education.

Amber Lafferty Human Ecology Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? I have experience with student government through being an intern this year, Also, I believe in striving for obtainable goals. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term?

would like to expand on a program that educates teachers on being more interactive in the classroom 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? would want to work on diversity in the college through recruitment,

students and orientation

outreach programs to high school

Haley Prophet

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Choose me because I've experienced being an intern, I'm confident in making positive decisions, and I know how Senate works. 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? would like to strengthen the gaps between committees, students, faculty, and administrators to ensure the best environment for everyone. 3) In 20 words or fewer, what is the most important issue facing your college or organization? Nothing too pending at the time Everyone is obviously talking about the possible student tuition raises and teacher-student ratio.

Erica Smith Human Ecology Senator

1) In 20 words or fewer, why should students vote for you? Students should vote for me because will truly try to represent all 2) In 20 words or fewer, what would you like to achieve during your term? In 2002-2003. I would like the Student Senate to pass more legislation for under-represented organizations on campus.

3) In 20 words or fewer, what is nportant issue i your college or organization? The most important issue facing our college is student involvement. We need more students' voices heard throughout campus.

Student input encouraged for SafeRide program

Kansaa State Collegian

The Student Governing Association wants to find out how much student support there is for a SafeRide program, which would provide nightly transportation for students who have been drinking at the bars or who are on campus late at

Today and Wednesday students can fill out the online survey for or against the SafeRide program when they vote for SGA representatives.

Student Body President Kyle Barker said SafeRide would probably cost students $2 each year if passed. He said keeping students safe is well worth the money

"We're looking forward to the vote. We want to see a high voter turnout and high favorable. This is a program that can save lives if it is passed," Barker said. Barker said a taxi-style service would be the most feasible way to implement-SafeRide in K-State's situation. He said without a working program, it would be too hard to get a license and vehicles for the program.

"Once the program gets some legs under it, it may be better to use a volunteer organization. We can't get grant money without a working program. We have to show that people benefit from it," he said.

Barker said the SafeRide idea has been around for awhile. When Tracy Mann, student body president in 1997, investigated the program, arguments stemmed from students and senators for the same reason K-State sees today - increasing privilege fees.

SafeRide was voted down in 1997 40-10 because students didn't want to pay for the program, Barker said. Things could be different this year.

Barker said allowing students to voice their opinion for or against SafeRide on the general election would be the best way to see if students want it.

"That is the way it should be," he said. "Students will be the ones paying for it."

If SafeRide gets favorable results during the general election, a bidding process would begin to implement the program. Barker said three area taxi services have been contacted to gauge their interest in providing the service. Bell Taxi Service of Junction City, is one of those taxi services.

Glen Puett, president of Bell Taxi Service, said he is very interested in working with K-State on a SafeRide program. "It would keep people out of trouble and keep them from getting hurt," Puett said. "My only question is why they would want to limit it to three nights a week. It should be run every night - it could save Puett said this is not the first time he's heard about implementing a SafeRide program at K-State. It has been talked about for 15 years, but nothing has ever materialized.

a person's life who might die on a Sunday."

He said he has heard thoughts this year of paying an hourly wage for cab drivers, but he said that is not the way the program should be run. He said that would be too expensive because students would pay the same hourly wage, which would be about $25 an hour, whether it was a slow night in Aggieville or not.

He said he would offer to take any

SafeRide options

Today and tomorrow students have a chance to voice whether or not they support SafeRide. These are some of the options SGA would examine if there is enough student support.

There are three options being discussed to implement the program shuttle system volunteer organization service -taxi service where students call in and get a ride by presenting their student ID

Three-year plan for estimated use of SafeRide: 1st year/2nd year - 25 rides a night, running the program three nights a week 3rd year - 50 rides a night, running the program

Opinions of presidential candidates
Zac Cook — Would like to see how much the money

K-State student anywhere in town for $4 a ride, which would be paid for by the $2 student privilege fee that all students would pay for.

"I am more than interested in this program, but this is the only way it would be feasible. It's not feasible to keep a cabby on the clock. I don't want to take money if we're not helping," he said.

Puett said the taxi drivers would keep a logbook of the number of rides and report that back to K-state. That way the privilege fee committee would know how many rides are being used. He said the program might or might not cost the $75,000 raised through student privilege

He said K-State could then use the number of rides the program provides to adjust its privilege fees.

the program would cost students. He said he is in favor of the program's idea, but students who don't use the program should not pay as much.

He said he would like to see students who ride home from Aggieville pay a little extra money when they get in the cab. That way students who don't use it would get safety with some cost.

Matt Wolters - He said he is happy that such a large number of students would get the chance to vote for SafeRide on the election ballot. If the students want the program, he said he would work to get them the program.

He said it is not possible to get the program running for fall 2002 because privilege fees already have passed in Student Senate. However, that would give K-State time to implement the best

Puett said if Bell Taxi Service was used to implement the service, the taxi driver probably would be required to record the student identification number to make sure the program is only used for students.

Experience has shown him that the cab driver should not ask students to get in the car and sign something, he said. People get too defensive when they've been drinking.

"Students should just show the driver their K-State ID and tell the driver where they want to go," Puett said.

Puett said he realizes that some students who are underage still drink. He said the taxi drivers would not ask ages.

"We're not there to police that, "he said. "If students are intoxicated, they need a ride."

ELECTION

■ Continued from page 1

to represent the student body," Wolters said.

Wolters and Achilles have different majors, different involvements on campus and are in different greek houses. Wolters will be a fifth-year senior, and Achilles is a sophomore.

Cook said he and Kohman come into contact with a variety of people, which has taught them a

"We are able to communicate with students," he said. "When I approach a problem. I come at it from different ways."

Cook and Kohman have different majors and different involvements on campus. They are in the same greek house and will both be fifth-year seniors.

If not elected, Wolters said he is still committed to implementing the Wildcat Connection, a service that would enable student to contact alumni and ask them questions about the degree they pursued at K-State and where it took them. "We've heard a lot of positive feedback," he said. "Regardless of what happens, I'm interested in putting in the time to get this started. Cook said if he is not elected, he will continue spending time on the internationalization of K-State. "I don't want to hear from one person that they didn't think they had the time to do this before they graduated," he said. "I don't want to hear from one person that they didn't think they had the money or couldn't fit it into their curriculum."

This election comes down to the platforms, Cook said.

"May the best issues win." he Vote today at kats.ksu.edu.

Sub. Exp. Date: --/-Kansas State Historical Society Newspaper Section
PO Box 3585
Topeka KS 66601

Effects differ with genders

see page 12

SGA ELECTIONS

Campaign costs highest recorded

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas State Collegian

With total campaign expenses reaching more than $3,500, presidential ticket Zac Cook and Todd Kohman have spent the most money on a presidential campaign recorded in the Student Governing Association's history.

Two years ago, there was a total expense cap of $3,000. However, that was eliminated and current regulations only limit the candidates' personal contributions to $500 as a pair and individual student donations to $15.

Bobby Allison-Gallimore, Senate operations committee chair, said the cap was lifted to encourage more voter participation.

"We removed the cap to encourage candidates to solicit more student support," he said. "The feeling is when you contribute, you are more involved in the process."

Although Cook is the highest spender recorded, Allison-Gallimore said in the past candidates were not always required to record all expenditures and Items such as T-shirts were excluded from reports.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said he doesn't see excess spending as an

"They can spend money on campaign to get the word out that they are running and encourage students to vote in the elections," Conrad said. "The regulations are the same for everybody."

Cook said his total expense was a positive reflection of his campaign.

"I had more contact with students than any of the other candidates," he said. Cook's opponent, Matt Wolters, said money is just a means of gathering support.

"It's not so much about the money, it's about spreading the word," he said. Wolters said T-shirts were his and running mate Mandy Achilles' largest expense. Wolters and Achilles campaign expenses totaled $2,920.08 — $608.16 less than their opponents.

March 6, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 109 www.kstatecollegian.com

Cook said he and Kohman spent their money on items students could use.

"We spent all of our money on something students could use after the election," he said. "I don't believe in buying buttons and banners that are worthless tomorrow. Everything else we bought can be recycled."

Cook said he chose purple, longsleeved T-shirts to advertise with so that students would want to wear the shirts to show school spirit.

"I know I wouldn't have been able to push white two-screen color shirts," Cook said.

Cook and Kohman also spent close to $900 on gel pens sporting their campaign logo.

Wolters said each candidate is allowed the same opportunity to rally support and funds from students, therefore total expense limits are unnecessary.

San EXPENSES on PAGE 10

Students have problems with online ballot again

BY SARAH RICE

Kansus State Collegian

Difficulties with an online vendor once again have plagued the Student Governing Association election process.

Many students attempting to vote Tuesday got their ballots kicked right back to them, Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said.

"When there is nobody running, some people aren't clicking abstain or write-in," Conrad said.

Conrad said in order to vote successfully, students must click a choice in each category despite the fact that no candidates are in the running.

However, if students attempt to revote again, the names are randomized again, but the checked boxes stay in place.

"Some people have been confused that they have people checked they didn't intend to vote for," Conrad said.

Conrad said most of the problems have been out of his control. "These problems have been

"These problems have been completely out of the election committee's hands," Conrad said. "We told the vendor they are responsible for making sure ballots aren't screwed up and everything is secure."

Presidential candidate Matt Wolters said he thinks the voting difficulties

Sed RESULTS ON PAGE 10

Governor vetoes state district bill

BY MICHAEL LAWRENCE Kansas State Collagina

by any committee.

The proposed bill to redraw state Senate districts was vetoed by Gov. Bill Graves on Tuesday. Graves said the bill was not publicly displayed or reviewed

State Senate districts must be redrawn because of the state's population redistribution.

Graves said the bill did not go through the proper steps it needed to go through.

Graves said the proposal breached tradition.

Even though the proposal's development was questionable, coalition members said this proposal was fair to conservative Republicans and Democrats.

Critics, however, said this claim is not true. They said this proposal would unfairly help conservatives in Johnson County.

Another controversy over the matter is that Sen. Janis Lee, D-Kensington, would be placed in a district that would be more difficult for her to get elected.

The 10 Democrat Senate members, among 30 conservatives, said it gives this Democrat an unfair political barrier.

In response to the veto, Sen.
Majority Leader Lana Oleen,
R-Manhattan, said she agrees with Graves' stance. She said the process by which this bill was proposed was hasty and unfair.

"This map was hot off the presses," she said. "Some did not see the map ahead of time."

Oleen said she expects the governor to soon propose a map of his own. Whatever map the Senate approves, it will be fair, she said.

"The end product will be a better and fairer map," she said.

Oleen said K-State students have little to worry about. They most likely will remain in District 22.

"It doesn't have a great impact on the K-State campus," she said.

Kansas House member Jeff Peterson, R-Manhattan, said Graves' veto came rather unexpectedly.

"I think it caught a lot of people by surprise," he said. "There was a lot of speculation that the governor would not veto."

Peterson said he supported the bill because he thought it was a fair compromise between all parties in conflict.

Whether all parties are appeased, Peterson said, a new map will have to be agreed upon soon.

"We have to pass another map of some sort," he said.

— The Associated Press contributed to this story.

Examining evidence

Zach Long/Collegian Shepherd and Gregoire

Detective Marc Shepherd, center, of the Riley County Police Department relays information about an item to Detective Steven D. Gregoire, right, who catalogs it into a laptop. Shepherd and Gregoire were two of six detectives working on Friday to catalog a room full of evidence seized by the RCPD in connection with a theft ring.

Police sort confiscated property, search for owners

BY JESSICA PITTS
Racene State Collegian

Police are making progress in efforts to locate owners of items seized as stolen property last Wednesday.

"We are starting to match the property to the victims," Riley County Police Department Capt. Gary Grubbs said. "It is hard to say how long it will take to complete — at least two weeks."

Almost four moving-van loads of items were seized after police issued search warrants for three different residences and one thrift shop on Feb. 27.

The warrants were issued as part of an on going investigation into past burglaries committed in Manhattan and Riley County areas, Grubbs said.

The warrants resulted in three arrests including:

■ Charles R. Fleeker, 58, 607

Pottawatomie, for two counts of theft. He was released on $2,000 bond.

■ Jerry L. Jones, 52, 1104 Yuma Apt. B, for possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia. He was released on a $2,000 bond.

■ Patricia B. Foy, 36, 1104 Yuma Apt. B, for possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia. She was released on a $2,000 bond.

Grubbs said the suspects allegedly committed vehicle, residential and construction site burglaries and then would take the items to the thrift shop and sell them to Fleeker.

Fleeker knew the items were stolen when he purchased them, Grubbs said.

The thrift shop, located at 707 S. 10th, was open to the public and had been for about two years when the premises was searched.

All properties searched, including the thrift shop, 1104 Yuma Apt. B, 607 and 619 Pottawatomie, were owned by Fleeker. Grubbs said.

Foy and Jones were living in one of the residents, and the others were rental property that also were used for storage of the stolen property, Grubbs said.

Foy and Jones only were arrested for drug-related offenses, but more charges are expected against them.

"They are suspects, as are others," Grubbs said. "We do anticipate more arrests."

Grubbs said items taken in vehicular burglaries since September total about $65,000. However, he said that estimate doesn't do the case justice.

Various items line the walls of a room filled with products confiscated by the Riley County Police Department in connection with a theft ring.

"That is not to say things were taken that are not on this estimate," he said. "Plus, that number is only the value since September." Police are using past filed reports to match the stolen property with its owner. At this time, four detectives are assigned to the RCPD is asking victims to wait for detectives to contact them.

AROUND CAMPUS

Today is the last day to vote for Student Governing Association positions. Go to kats.ksu.edu and cast your vote before 6

> News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

WORLD IN BRIEF

Coalition forces close in on al-Qaeda in freezing terrain

GARDEZ, Afghanistan - Hundreds of Taliban and al-Qaeda fighters were killed in fierce fighting Tuesday as U.S.led coalition forces pressed their offensive in the rugged mountains of eastern Afghanistan, the American commander said.

U.S.-led forces continued inching up the snow-covered mountains, meanwhile, trying to reach hideouts still believed to contain hundreds more al-Qaeda and Taliban fighters. Some forces entered at least one cave complex, uncovering weapons caches.

Allied jets flew high over Paktia province, dropping bombs and decoy flares to ward off heat-seeking missiles defensive measures after two U.S. helicopters were hit Monday, which left seven U.S. soldiers dead.

Bush calls for Palestine to stop Middle East attacks

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Bush and Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak searched Tuesday for solutions to the spiraling violence in the Middle East, with Bush emphasizing the need to stop Palestinian attacks on Israelis while Mubarak demanded that Israel ease up on the Arabs.

Bush said peace in the Middle East is only possible if there is a maximum. effort to end violence throughout the region, starting with Palestinian efforts to stop attacks on Israelis.

Mubarak, for his part, called for an end to forceful Israeli military tactics such as demolishing Palestinian homes and closing roads.

Bush also spoke favorably of a Saudi Arabian proposal, which would offer Israel peace, trade and security in exchange for the land the Arabs lost in war, and of Mubarak's offer to be the host for talks between Arafat and Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon.

Officials file more charges against crematory operator

LaFAYETTE, Ga. - Authorities filed 56 additional charges Tuesday against a crematory operator accused of discarding hundreds of corpses he was paid to cremate.

The new charges bring 174 the number of theft-by-deception counts against Ray Brent Marsh, who remains in Walker County Jail. A magistrate denied Marsh bond Monday, noting that investigators were likely to file further charges.

So fat, 339 rotting corpses have been discovered dumped in pits, left in sheds and stacked in vaults at the Tri-State Crematory.

Hubble Telescope prepped for riskiest surgery yet

CAPÉ CANAVERAL, Fla.-Astronauts prepped the Hubble Space Telescope on Tuesday for its riskiest surgery yet: a power-unit replacement.

If the operation fails, the $2 billionplus telescope could be crippled or rendered useless.

NASA said it had little choice but to replace Hubble's original power control unit, a long, narrow box with 36 connectors jammed together.

The 12-year-old unit has a loose screw that is hampering its ability to circulate electricity through the

Doctor says Yates felt she had to kill her 5 children

HOUSTON - A psychiatrist testifying for the defense Tuesday said that a psychotic Andrea Yates believed she had no choice but to drown her five children to save them from "eternal damnation."

Yates, 37, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity and could get the death penalty if convicted.

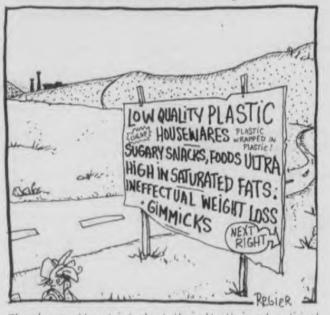

Under cross-examination Tuesday, psychiatrist Phillip Resnick agreed with prosecutor Joe Owmby that Yates knew she was legally wrong when she killed her children in the bathtub on June 20. But Resnick said Yates believed she had no choice.

Yates believed she was sacrificing her life in this world and eternity to spare her children from hellfire, Resnick testified.

ATTACK DEVELOPMENTS

- Seven American servicemen killed. in Afghanistan were honored in Germany before their flag-draped caskets were flown back to the United States.
- Attorney General John Ashcroft said the law covering collection of DNA should be expanded to permit the indexing of samples from people taken into custody in the war against terrorism.
- The passage of six months since the World Trade Center attack will be observed in New York with a bronze sculpture damaged on Sept. 11 and with twin columns of light beamed skyward from a spot near ground
- Arming pilots will not be one of the steps taken by the Transportation Department to upgrade airline security, Secretary Norman Y. Mineta

THE GONGFARMER'S Traveloque

They're pretty strict about their 'truth in advertising' laws here in Swellhaven. In Kansas, this billboard would just say "Wal-Mart." I think this is a better system.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP? K-State professional describes basics of degree program

Architecture

1. How many hours are required to graduate? 165 hours. It's a five-year program

2. What careers could I pursue with this degree?

One could go into working for an architecture firm or office, work for their own clients, for suppliers or the government. This degree can be a springboard for

3. What are the advantages/disadvantages of this major? This major gives you training to enter into your profession with an accredited degree. In most states, you must have an accredited degree to be registered as an architect. The training is a good background for many jobs.

4. What is the average starting solary of a graduate in this major?
The hiring rate is 100 percent in recent years. In the past, because of the strong economy students had jobs secured the semester before they were to graduate. With the economy like it is now, the hiring rate may be slightly lower. Usually, K-State graduates are highly demanded and easily find jobs.

David Sachs, associate professor and associate department head for the College of Architecture, Planning and Design If you are interested in learning more about a particular major, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at colegn@spub.ksu.edu

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. space constraints but are guaranleed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

I Jardine Apartments is having a Severe Weather program at 7 tonight in the Frith Community Center. III Lou Douglas Lecture Series Internship information meeting is at 3 p.m. Thursday in the second conference room at UFM Community Learning Center. III Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m. today in Holtz Hall. Call 532-6506 for Sigma lota Rho International Relations Honorary will have a free showing of "The Inner Circle," a movie about Russia under Stalin, at 6 tonight in Eisenhower 15. Student Health Advisory Committee is accepting applications, which are available in the OSAS. Applications are due by 5 p.m. Friday. KSU Aikido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301.

This is the last week to submit an application for the 2002 Student Homecoming Committee. Applications are now available in the

OSAS or at the KSU Alumni Association. Applications are due by 5 KSDB-FM 91.9's Sportstalk program will give away tickets to the Tournament from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7

Big 12 Women's Basketball to 8 tonight.

the K-State and Riley County do not list wheel locks or minor constraints

Riley County Monday, March 4

At 8:45 a.m., Jeremy Page, Riley, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at

At 9:21 a.m., Jesse Hewins, 2005 Gladiola Court, was arrested for obstruction of the legal process and driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at $750. At 11 a.m., Ethel Mitchell, 1224

Pomeroy, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $750. At 2:55 p.m., William Kurtz, 3017 an suspended license. Bond was set

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from police departments' daily logs. We traffic violations because of space

Sunnyside, was arrested for driving on

at $1,500.

m At 4:30 p.m., Jesse Jackson, 910 Gardenway, was arrested for unlawful possession of depressants. Bond was set at $500. At 7:10 p.m., Derek Pfitzenmaier, 730 Allen Road, Lot 151, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at $750. At 9 p.m., Robert Williamson, Ogden, was arrested for four counts of aggravated indecent liberties with a child. Bond was set at $20,000. M At 10:41 p.m., Stephanie Miller, Topeka, was arrested for theft. Bond was set at $1,000. At 11:05 p.m., Justin Estes, 1103 Pierre, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at $750.

M At 11:59 p.m., Lance Ward, St. George, was arrested for three counts of probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000.

K-State Police

M No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz Editor in Chief City/Gov Editor

April Middleton Dana Strongin

Managing Editor

Compus Editor

Nancy Foster Paul Restivo

Copy Chief News Editor

Zach Long Asst. Photo Director Photo Director

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

Nicole Donnert

JJ Duncan A&E Editor Amber Koehn

Sports Editor

Opinion Editor

Dan Smith

Katie Lane Presentation

regrets this error.

Ad Manager Asst. Ad

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

eCollegian Editor

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

Jodi Fagerquist

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103

Manhattan, KS 66506 ABOUT US

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

105, Manhattan, Kan 105506. The Collegian is published werkdays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer. Periodical periode is paid at Manhattan, Kon-56502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kursus State Kedzie 103, Manhartan, Kan. 56506-7167

6 Kansas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

There was an error in Tuesday's Voter Guide. Katherine Carter is running for Engineering Senator. The Collegian

Open the Latest 770-3333 Campus Special Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $55.99. Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6,99 Large 14" Rokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

Core Strength & Training What it is, How to do it, and Why you need it!

Sunday, March 10, at noon Wellness Resource Center Peters Recreation Complex

A free presentation by Rec Services Fitness Consultants. For more information, call 532-0456.

> INTRODUCING ONE OF OUR MOST VALUABLE NEW COMMODITIES! JANELLE ROSKAMP

ADM is proud to welcome one of our newest Commodities trading members, Janelle Roskamp. graduating senior in Agronomy, Janelle will begin her promising career at one of the largest grain and food processing companies in the world. Congratulations Janelle! We look forward to the opportunities that await you as we work together to unlock your potential.

ADM is an equal opportunity employer.

Hair Experts Design Team GRAND RE-OPENING!

New owners - Debble & Ty McCullough invite you to join them throughout the month of March -

Buy 3 retail products, get 15% offf and Sign up to win one of four gift baskets Valued at $50.00 each!

1323 Anderson Ave. - Manhattan 776-4455

Cultural symposium addresses effects of globalization

Kansas State Collegian

Globalization and understanding how individuals and cultures relate in a global environment is the focus of this year's Cultural Studies Symposium on

The event, organized by the Department of English, is in its 11th year at K-State.

"Ours is the longest running cultural studies conference in the country," said Michele Janette. assistant professor of English and event organizer. "This conference is always one of the highlights of the

Janette said the conference accomplishes three things: it brings the work that professors do into the public arena, it gives scholars an opportunity to address important issues in our culture and it showcases K-State as a national leader in the English field. "Sometimes academia can seem like an ivory tower," Janette said. "Conferences like this, where people get together to present and debate ideas, help make intellectual life a part of community life."

Janette said the conference is open to the public and will cover a variety of subjects, including a roundtable discussion of Sept. 11 and its subsequent events to wrap up the week.

Phil Nel, assistant professor of English and one of the symposium presenters, said the event will inform people about the effects of globalization and that everyone should take advantage of the opportunity to attend.

"Globalization affects you whether you're aware of it or not," he said. "This symposium will make people aware of those effects."

Nel, who is presenting parts of a book he's writing about Dr. Suess, said businesses influence people in ways they wouldn't ordinarily imagine, and people should attend to gain knowledge of those influ-

"You never know when you could become interested in something you've never thought about before," he said.

Lectures from both instructors and graduate students as well as guest speakers comprise the symposium, and K-State has five presenters involved.

"The speakers are really going to blow your mind," said Erin Downey Howerton, graduate student in English. "These people are very engaged in speaking and writing about the changes in world society, and it is exciting to hear how others interpret things you've observed personally."

Howerton is presenting a lecture on how Greece's transition from orality to literacy initiated a shift in people's understanding of themselves and the world. She will talk about how people are experiencing a similar shift today with the electronic culture of the Internet.

"So much is happening socially and globally in the 'information age' that bears directly on our lives today," Howerton said. "It's something I really want to be conscious of."

Shawna Dulan, graduate student in English who is also presenting at the symposium, said her topic deals with race and the portrayal of black characters in the novels of contemporary author Don DeLillo.

"I found an opportunity to explore a topic that is new and perhaps even a bit controversial," Dulan said.

Regular conference events require a registration fee of $20 for K-State faculty, staff, graduate students and alumni, but undergraduates can attend for free. A schedule of events and additional information can be found on the symposium Web site at www.ksu.edu/english/symposium.

RN, LPN, or Experienced Medical Professional

Where your heart and mind go to work. Be a link in our chain of giving. We are currently hiring in our Donor Services department in the Manhattan and surrounding areas. This is a rewarding and fast paced job working with volunteers and donors. These employees will work at blood drives drawing blood and conducting health histories. Also responsible for setting up and breaking down the blood drive equipment. Must be flexible, hours will vary each day. Full time. M-F and occasional weekends and holidays. Some overnight travel. Must be able to bend and stoop and lift 40 lb. on a regular basis. Salary commensurate with experience. Pay also includes overnight differential.

American Red Cross Services, 707 N. Main, Wichita, KS 67203 Phone(316) 268-9040 Fax (316) 268-0864 e-mail moveria@usa.redcross.org EOE M/F/D/V Drug Free Workplace

GREAT benefits! Send resumes or call for an application:

"Recognizing Achievement"

Serving All Sports and Events

- * Awards
- * Medals
  - * Name Badges & Plates

* Ribbons

* Plaques

* Trophies

785-539-5775

www.artechpromotions.com

411 North 3rd Street

RELIGION DEBATE

CHRISTIANITY VS. SECULAR HUMANISM

GREG BOYD CHI-ALPHA CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

MASSIMO PIGLIUCCI INDIVIDUALS FOR FREETHOUGHT

SAT. MARCH 9, 7:00 P.M. - McCAIN FREE TO THE PUBLIC

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera

GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

Love shipwrecked in suburbia!

... Inspired by JAZZ and the American musical

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

Featuring the Meal includes: T' Individual pizza (cheese, pepperoni or sausage), 1/2 order of breadsticks (your choice of

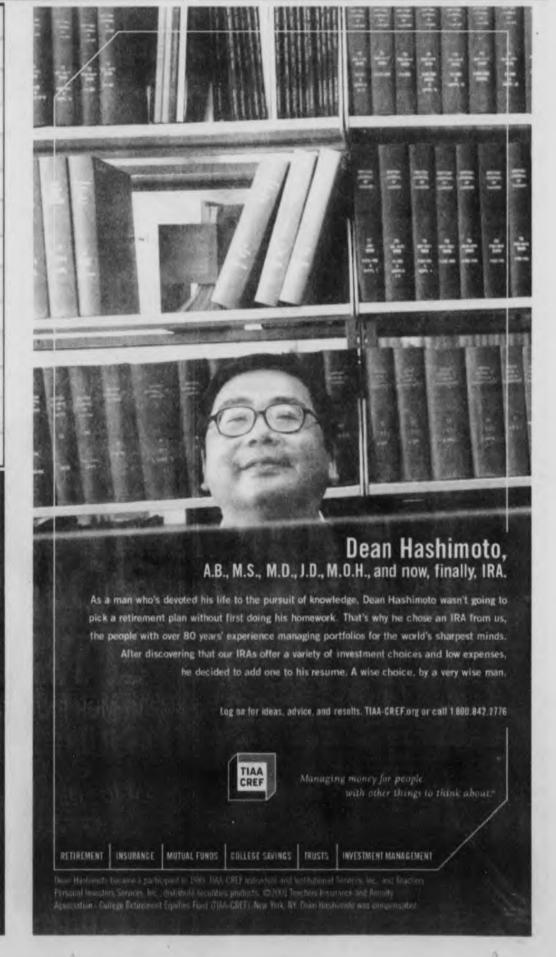

K-State Student Union

THE SGA GENERAL ELECTIONS ARE HERE

VOTE ONLINE TODAY!

http://kats.ksu.edu

Online voting will be available 24 hours a day from when polls open at 8 a.m. Tuesday, March 5 until they close at 6 p.m. Wednesday, March 6.

view

Amber Koehn

FALLING BEHIND

Legislative budget cuts might force lower employee wages

f you live in Kansas, chances are you've heard about the serious budget obstacles the state is trying to overcome.

Unless, of course, you've been living in a hole the past six years or so.

Yes, the budget has fallen and it can't get up. Hiring freezes and the lack of sufficient staffing at public schools and universities have Kansas lawmakers struggling to improve the increasingly dismal circumstances.

Understaffing in the Senate is no exception, especially in the judicial branch.

County clerk offices all over the state are running on limited hours and staff, just so they can stay within their budgets.

The clerks cannot keep up with the demands of businesses, and tasks are not getting accomplished as quickly as they should be.

In January, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce rated each state's court system on reasonableness and fairness from a business perspective. According to judicial branch's ability to preserve high standards in the courtrooms will be drastically jeopardized.

The Kansas economy needs a high-quality court system. Without effective court operations, cases will not receive the prompt attention and

That could be costly to Kansas businesses and straining on the state's economy.

Unfortunately, the judicial branch's budget issues don't seem to be improving. The Office of Judicial Administration estimates a $600,000 shortfall for this year's payroll and a $3.6 million shortfall for next year's existing payroll. This means a lot of hard-working people will either have to take a serious payout or be laid off.

Without supplemental funding, the judicial branch will be forced to implement a minimum of three furlough days, and an entire branch of government could be shut down. If this is the case, the judicial branch is left with the difficult choice of taking action, or waiting to see if pay in each of the last three pay periods remaining in the year after the Legislature adjourns.

Leaving the decision until the final days of the legislative session will not be good for the employees.

Prompt action needs to be taken. If the $3.6 million deficit stands, it will force furlough weeks instead of furlough days. This will have an enormous effect on the income of the judicial branch employees, mainly on the workers who can't afford it.

Without the necessary funding levels, Kansas courts will be unable to provide the services required by the Kansas Constitution and Kansas statutes.

However, the state is not left with many options because the budget is 97 percent salaries and wages. It either has the funds to meet the payroll demands, or it does not.

to avoid a shutdown of its court system, and I think Senate Bill 49 is good place to start.

SB 49 will abolish the Director of the Budget's authority to review and make recommendations for changes to the judicial branch budget. Any amount requested by the judicial branch not approved by the legislature can be spent on other items or remain in the state's general fund.

With SB 49, legislators won't have to reduce funding for other programs to finance the judicial

And they won't have to be responsible for reducing the paycheck amounts of many hardworking Kansans.

Amber is a senior in print journalism. You can e-mail

Women deserve fan support in 2nd-round play

Today marks the second round of the 2002 Big 12 Women's Basketball Tournament and the first day of play for K-State's team.

The women, who are ranked No. 4, will play at 2:30 today at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo.

This is an important tournament for not only the team, but also the entire university

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the editorial board and written after a majority opinion is formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

II Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

April Middleton

Graduates will be more interested in the school because of the tournament. The KSU Alumni Association can expect increased interest and perhaps increased donations as well.

Also, the Wildcats might host for the NCAA's first two rounds. This will bring sports fans and monetary support straight to Manhattan businesses.

This tournament should increase school spirit as a whole

Going to cheer on the Wildcats would be a simple and inexpensive excursion. The drive to Kansas City is short - about two hours. Admission is cheap, and tickets are available at Municipal Auditorium's doors.

If you don't have a lot to do, go cheer on the women's basketball team as they take on the Big 12 Tournament.

THURSDAY

ul Restivo reflects on love lost and provides advice on how to keep that special someone Susan Powell weighs the pros and cons of gastro bypass surgery.

Actions of some pep band members overshadows group's purpose, game

ollege basketball offers one of the most distinctive and intriguing atmospheres of athletic competition.

There are unmistakable elements that exist within the stages of collegiate competition: the smell of the arena, seeing your favorite team pull out a lastsecond win over a conference rival, and the sensation of goose bumps

Zach Long crawling across the back of your neck as the pep band blares the school fight song, while ignorant trumpet players berate game officials and players in a successful attempt to make complete asses of themselves.

The majority of the comments coming out of certain individuals' mouths are so uneducated and narrow-minded that I just have to laugh.

If you are going to run your mouth, you should gain a certain knowledge of the rules of basketball first.

As for yelling at players, that does absolutely no good. They ignore the comments for the most part and do what they were given scholarships to do - play the game.

Their efforts are hindered, however, when loud-mouthed band members, sitting very close to the floor, shout obscenities because they think they know more about the game than the referees.

The band is placed where they are to add to the college basketball experi-

Unfortunately, certain individuals in the band mistake yelling dim-witted, ignorant ramblings as part of that experience.

Well, it is not.

I am absolutely amazed at the stupid comments pep band members spill out of their over-run mouths during the course of a game.

It is a whole new realm of unwritten rules and standards. In the case of the pep band, it is disgusting.

They are representatives of K-State, and their responsibility is to make us. my look good, not take view part in the sometimes unruly behavior of the fans. Their responsibili-

HARRY

POTTER.

HARRY

POTTER.

ties do not include yelling at officials or

C'MON

REF.

SUCK!

LEFT ...

RIGHT ..

LEFT ...

RIGHT ...

SIT DOWN!

YOU

players. In the press world, committing this act is grounds for being fired immediately.

And rightfully so.

A few band members are jeopardizing the hard work of the other members who are there to be positive elements.

Members of the band that love to attend the games and use their talents to entertain the crowd should be insulted by the actions of some of their so-called bandmates.

And the leaders of the band should recognize the serious nature of this situation and deal with > it immediately. After the Oklahoma game Feb. 13, Sooner guard Rosalind Ross was asked by the Daily Oklahoman what made her hit a string of 3-pointers which helped erase a 15-2 K-State > > Ross said she just wanted to shut the crowd up because they were annoying. Really.

Enough is enough.

lead.

For the sake of your bandmates, the true fans, the university and most importantly, yourself, do us all a favor and shut up.

Spare us your idiocy by using your mouth to play your instrument.

Zach is a sophomore in prejournalism. You can e-mail him at zal5555@ksu.edu.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions on topics relevant to the publication.

OK. This is where I say something clever to get into the Fourum, but I can't think of anything clever.

Um, to the person who found the green suitcase in B-2 on Saturday, please turn it in to campus police because I really miss my makeup and underwear.

I'm pretty tired of calling the Collegian and not getting in.

Is it just me, or does anybody else think that Paul White looks like the band camp girl from 'American Pie?'

Why is it that all the attractive girls never get noticed, but unattractive, slutty girls get picked up all the time? Aren't you guys looking for better than that?

I don't care what anybody says about swamp monkeys. They're the best friends a guy could have.

Since you guys never print anything that I ever seem to call in and say, I figured I'd go along with what everybody else says to see if I could get in: squirrels ... sex ... that's all.

I forgot what I was going to say.

My E.T. action figure talks to me during the night.

Not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See the complete version at www.kstatecollegian.com. Also,Lorena Barboza talks about her life as a young

Show to air election coverage

BY TARA PATTY

sau State Collagian

A program tonight on Cox cable Channel 8 will monitor the presidential elections, presenting viewers with ongoing election coverage and supplementary inter-

The Educational Communications Center will air live coverage of the elections starting at 8 p.m. and culminate with an interview of the 2002-03 Student Governing Association president said Traci Taylor. marketing director of the ECC. The show will be aired from the ECC located in Dole Hall, Taylor said. Journalism and mass communication students will work both behind the scenes and in front of the camera to deliver the program.

This is the third year for the show, said Jim Mock, manager of production services for ECC, which is done as a service to SGA and K-State students.

Brian Doll, senior in mass communications, will be directing this year's program.

Jennifer Sherry, senior in mass communications, is hosting the hour-long event and additional students will conduct interviews with both SGA President Kyle Barker and Vice President Brandon Kauffman. Interviews with Ali Karimi and Eric Hoopingarner, who lost in the primary amid disputes about the legitimacy of the election ballot, also are scheduled to address campaign events, Sherry said.

"We're going to talk about issues that have gone on throughout the campaign." Sherry said. "We're going to touch on the validity of the ballots and voting and also talk about what the president actually does."

The show should run 45 minutes to an hour depending on content, she said, and will address issues as hard news. The program may run over if the situation

"I hope it goes well and looks professional," Sherry said.

Mock said winners of all SGA positions will be announced twice on the air, but only the presidential ticket winners will be invited to the studio for interviews.

Sherry's involvement in the program stemmed from her regular course work as a student of Mock. Other students offered to help with the show on a voluntary basis, she said, and many aspects of the program will be student-run. "It's a good experience for us,"

Mock said he tries not to dictate to students what they have to do, although he said the format of the show is straightforward and somewhat mechanical.

"Creativity comes in filling in for time when information is not there. That is what live television is all about," he said. "Thinking on your feet and being prepared at the same time."

. For many of the students, Mock said, this is the first time any have been on live television which makes the show a unique opportunity to gain experience.

Forensics team finishes season strong

BY RYAN DONAHUE

Kansas State Collegian

Speech Unlimited, a K-State forensics team, finished its regular competitive season last weekend at the University of Oklahoma.

"We qualified 11 people for the national competition," Craig Brown, director of individual events, said.

Brown said he believes this season has been one of the team's best in recent history.

"We finished first in the sweeps competition at three events this year. We also placed second at the spring competition at Bradley University. It was a very proud moment for the team," Brown

The forensics team took the first place sweeps trophy during three of their competitions this season: the University of Oklahoma, the University of Nebraska and the Kansas champi-

"The team has grown a lot this year, not necessarily in size, but in the quality of our team. People have improved in their individual events. There have been a lot of improvements in the squad as a whole," said Erin O'Dell, team president and senior in speech communications.

O'Dell attributes part of the team's success to the support generated by K-State.

"We are one of the best-funded teams, and this university, like President Wefald, has backed and supported us a lot," O'Dell said.

O'Dell is one of the 11 qualified team members who will be competing at the American Forensics Association's national competition April 5-6 at Bradley University in Peoria, Ill.

Cortney Moriarty, junior in speech and political science, is in her third year as a member of Speech Unlimited. "We have done really well this year. I think we are going to grow even more next year. Some of our old members are returning, and we have a large high school recruiting program," Moriarty said.

Moriarty said Speech Unlimited does not cut anyone who wants to be a member. Moriarty also said the team mostly is made of high school forensics participants who want to continue using their talents in college. But Moriarty does not want to discourage anyone from trying out for K-State's forensics teams.

"Most of us did it in high school, but we have had people who are just interested in it walk onto the team," Moriarty said.

This year's event will mark the 25th anniversary of the American Forensics Association's national competition. Brown said K-State has been involved with the event since it began.

"We are one of five schools that started it, and we are one of only five schools who have been every year," Brown said.

"I think this has been a great year for us."

$25 TODAY Get Paid to Study!

additional bonuses.

ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Blomedical Center

785-776-9177

Call or stop by No appointment needed. www.zlb.com

Donate your life-saving

blood plasma and earn cash. Bring a friend and qualify for Fees apply to new donors.

1130 Gardenway

*36 MINDFULNESS

If we just act in each moment, with composure and mindfulness, each minute of our life is a work of art.

Be aware of the motivation behind your action, the intention behind your words, and the needs and experiences of other people. By doing so, you are making life more beautiful for others.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence. Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

K-State Women's Basketball NCAA Watch Party & Pep Rally Bramlage Coliseum this Sunday at 3 p.m.

Join the 'Cats as they learn where and who they play in the NCAA Tournament!

3:00- 3:30 Player/Coach Autographs on the West Concourse Other action to include: Willie the Wildcat, FREE giveaway items, K-State Cheerleaders and Cat Band! "First chance to buy NCAA tickets!"

Check out these vendors

Balfour Announcements® Commerce Bank Willsie Cap & Gown Artcarved® Framed Memories KSU Student Foundation K-State Alumni Association KSSU Recreation Royal Purple Recreation Peace Corp KSSU Food Service Apple Computer KSSU Copy Center Crimpers Too Styling

Located in the Union Courtyard March 7-8 10am-4pm & March 9 10am-1pm

save $22 with our

Grad-to-Go Package $74.95

personalized announcements, cap, gown, tassel, powercat note cards, mortarboard seals & souvenir tassel

Leasing Now For August

- ·Cambridge Square
- Sandstone Apts. •1114 Fremont
- •2000 College Hgts.
- •519 Osage
- •Fireplaces •Carports •Pool •Private Deck
- Laundry Facilities
- •Large 2-bedroom Units

CALL NOW 537-9064

> Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

> Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor

CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor Copy Editor • Staff Writers Photojournalist • Marketing Director

- Section Editors · Student Life
  - Organizations Sports
  - Academics · People
- Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Managing Editors News Editors Desk Editors Reporters * Copy Editors Designers

Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists

Online Journalists Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

READY FOR THE RUN

K-State Coach Deb Patterson speaks to her team after the Wildcats' win over Colorado on Jan. 9 at Bramlage Collseum. K-State will open the Big 12 Tournament at 2:30 p.m. today against Texas.

Zach Long/Collegian

Wildcats draw rematch contest against Longhorns

BY DAN SMITH

If there's one thing the K-State women's basketball team will understand entering today's 2:30 tip with Texas, it's that the regular season is over.

"It's March and it's time to lace it up tight and just play your game - have a respect and a gameplan relative to your opponent, but play your game," Coach Deb Patterson said.

The Wildcats (26-6) capped off their first 23-win season since 1983-84 with a 74-55 win over Missouri on Feb. 27, and will get their first taste of the postseason today with a Big 12 Tournament second-round rematch against the streaking

"There is no such thing as a game where one team is strongly in an advantage over the team they're going to play."

Coach Jody Conradt's Texas club is on a four-game winning streak, and if the teams' first meeting is any indication, Patterson's assessment is right on the money.

K-State and Texas played through regulation and one overtime on Jan. 30 before a winner was decided. The Longhorns shot just 1-for-8 in the second extra frame, as K-State outlasted UT 80-76 in Austin.

Patterson said the rematch will be at least as tough as the

"I think you have to go into that game with a great preoccupation about doing the job on the defensive boards. They also run the ball extremely well, and of course all running games start with rebounding" Patterson said. "We have to have an answer for those two strengths that they bring to the floor.

K-State was out-rebounded in the first contest 66-40, and grabbed just four more defensive boards than Texas did offenMidweek matchup

K-State (23-6) vs. Texas (20-8) When: 2:30 p.m. Wednesday Where: Municipal Auditorium - Kansas City, Mo. Radio: Wildcat Sports Network: WIBW-AM 580 TV: Fox Sports Net

sively (32-28). The Longhorns also forced 19 Wildcat turnovers, two above K-State's current average

"I'm hopeful that over the course of the last two games, our team has learned a little bit more about how to answer the demands that an individual opponent and situation and environment places on their plate," Patterson said.

The battle figures to be won in the paint. Texas' attack features Big 12 Freshman of the Year forward Heather Schreiber, who averages 14.4 points for the Longhorns. Schreiber's frontcourt teammate, sophomore forward Stacy Stephens, leads UT in scoring at a 14.7-per game clip.

But statistics aside, K-State freshman guard Laurie Koehn said Texas' biggest motivator coming into Wednesday's contest

"They're just a great team," Koehn said. "They're gonna come out ready to go. They're gonna want the game bad just like we do. We just have to do the things the coaches tell us, rely on our system - defend and rebound - and we should Win or lose, Patterson said her team's goal Wednesday is to come out and put together 40 minutes of complete basketball and the rest will take care of itself.

"You want to walk off that floor saying, 'We played a good quality game on both ends of the floor," she said. "I'm saying, 'let's go in there and give it our our very best shot. Let's be ready that day."

Matt Stamey/Collegian K-State's Nicole Ohide (3) and Oklahoma's Jamie Talbert (45) go after a rebound during their game Feb. 13 at Bramlage Collseum. The Wildcats are on the same side of the bracket as the Sooners, and the two will face each other should they advance to the semi-finals of the Big 12 Tournament.

Tournament means early break, trip home

Dan Smith

The Big 12 Conference isn't interested in grade for example. The "Big O" was higher education.

That's the only explanation I could come up with Tuesday as I scrambled to finish my homework and recheck my schedule so I could make the trip to Kansas City, Mo. to cover K-State's conferencetournament run.

Why else would the powers that be schedule the tournament during one of the busiest academic weeks of my college

As I sat at a blank computer screen in the Collegian newsroom less than an hour from my original departure time, three reasons came to mind:

1) Dan Smith works best under

I learned at a very young age that my best work is produced under deadline as a result of procrastination.

Take my "Odyssey Project" in ninth supposed to be an extensive research project that demonstrated our most thorough research skills and creative talent.

Despite the allotted month-and-a-half preparation time to create the masterpiece, my project - complete with 25 pages of typed text and one piece of original artwork (colored pencil by necessity, not by choice) - was completed in less than nine hours and was delivered on Final grade - A.

Even the oral class presentation was an improvised success.

It was then that I knew I was cut out for

NOTE: To the teachers grading the homework I'm turning in in advance -The preceding statement does not refer to

2) Dan Smith can now drive. Anyone who enjoyed last year's rant on why racewalking is a sport knows I'm not a big fan of the two-legged transportation option.

So after losing my license last spring due to a well-deserved encounter with the law, both the Big 12 and I were counting the days until my license would be restored to its former glory. That beautiful day came two weeks ago, and after a nerve-racking written driving exam, which I squeaked by on with much guesswork, I had a driver's license in hand and a car on the road.

For the record, I want to thank everyone who gave me lifts around town during that time and curse those who wouldn't.

3) Dan Smith gets an early Spring

What college student wouldn't welcome the chance to break out of the routine with a good road trip?

Kansas City is home for me, so two weeks before the rest of the student body heads off for fun and sun, the Big 12 Tournament gives me an opportunity to get some laundry done (thanks mom) and eat some good home-cooked food for a change (thanks mom, again) before heading out to Chicago for the traditional festivities.

So actually, the more I think about it, the tournament couldn't come at a better

See ya on Sunday.

Dan Smith is a senior in print journalism. You can e-mail him at djs4444@ksu.edu.

TOURNAMENT SUMMARY

set up a second-round match with third-seeded Colorado Wednesday. Tech took a 39-24 lead into the

- Compiled by Dan Smith

BASKETBALL IN BRIEF

Activities announced for KSU fans at Big 12 Tournament

The KSU Alumni Association will provide activities for Wildcat fans making the trip to Kansas City, Mo., this week for the Big 12 Women's Basketball

Willie the Wildcat, K-State cheerleaders and the university's pep band will all be on hand from 4 to 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Conference Center directly south of Municipal Auditorium for a pep rally to support the Cats in their second-round matchup against the Texas Longhorns.

Dry snacks and a cash bar will be available at the rally, and donations to the Alumni Association are welcome.

"This is a great opportunity for K Staters to get together to show their support for women's basketball," said Jodi McGatlin, director of programs for the Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association also will be host to Fan Fest from 3 to 11 p.m. on Thursday and Saturday at Barney Allis Plaza, north of Municipal Auditorium. Admission is free to the public.

"Fan Fest will provide fans with a place to meet, watch tournament games on bigscreen televisions, enjoy food and beverages, watch live entertainment and participate in alumni-sponsored pep rallies," McGatlin said.

For more information on the Alumni Association's activities, contact McGatlin at 532-6260 or check out www.k-state.com.

Supporters invited to attend watch party with team, coach

Fans wanting to celebrate K-State's 2002 NCAA Tournament bid are invited to attend a watch party with the Wildcat women's basketball team at 3 p.m. Sunday at Bramlage Players, coaches, Willie the Wildcat and several spirit groups will be on the west side of Bramlage from 3 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday to sign autographs and visit with fans before the show begins.

Blank tournament brackets will be given to fans to fill out when the show starts inside

K-State earned its first NCAA Tournament bid since 1997 this year, and will learn Sunday if it will host the first two rounds at Bramlage. The last time the Wildcats hosted an NCAA

Regardless of where K-State plays, tickets will go on sale following the watch party at the Bramlage Coliseum Ticket Office.

- K-State Sports Information contributed to this article.

ONLINE

Tournament game was 1983.

Get your blank K-State Collegian NCAA Tournament Bracket online now at www.kstatecollegian.com. After the selection show this Sunday, a bracket with all first-round matchups will be available.

University to receive $144,000 from city

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Kansas State Cellegian

K-State received $144,000 from the City of Manhattan Tuesday to pay for the continuation of K-State's recycling program, improvements to Memorial Stadium, sidewalk and lighting improvements, and the purchase of butterflies.

The City Commission voted 4-1 to authorize the agreement of the City/University funds, generated from sales taxes and franchise fees on campus, to pay for projects of mutual benefit to K-State and the community.

Commissioner Brad Everett said he is a true K-State fan and would like to see these improvements on campus, but he said he has heard

Rep. Kent Glasscock say Kansas is close to a depression.

"I can't, with clear conscious, say we need to build the stadium or buy butterflies when they would be dying in two weeks when the state is scrambling for dollars," Everett said.

The butterflies would be bought from Costa Rica, the Philippines and in the United States to put on the Butterfly Conservatory and Insect Zoo located north of Throckmorton Plant Sciences Center.

Commissioner Mark Taussig said Memorial Stadium would be a project that would benefit many people.

He said it would give K-State and community teams a place to practice and compete, and the rubberized track would be open to anyone to

"This will be highly utilized," Taussig said.

"Between the university marching band practice and club sports, this will get a lot of use."

The cost of stadium improvements is $70,000.

This is the second year of the twoyear project to improve the stadium.

These costs would pay for an irrigation system, grading, seeding. fencing, storm drainage and design services.

Also approved with City/University funds is the construction of a new sidewalk along the south side of Vattier Street, from North Manhattan Avenue to All Faiths Chapel. The cost is $20,000.

During public comments,

Manhattan resident Ruby Jones said she is against city dollars paying for improvements at the university.

She said she realized that tonight's meeting discussed using City/University funds, but she wanted to let the commissioners know that there are areas in Manhattan that need attention also.

"It's a disgrace when you go west on Poyntz, get to 17th Street and start up the hill to the high school," Jones said.

"This area needs help with streets and sidewalks. The college is getting enough money to take care of itself."

Mayor Bruce Snead said City Hall would be more than happy to take suggestions for where the City's priorities should be for improvements for streets and sidewalks.

Top officials briefed on contingency government

BY JIM ABRAMS

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The White House briefed top members of Congress on Tuesday about a shadow government set up in the wake of the September terrorist attacks, seeking to quell criticism it had ignored lawmakers in planning for a catastrophic attack on Washington, D.C.

White House officials also disputed Democratic claims that they acted without the knowledge of Congress, saying the secretary of the Senate and the Senate sergeant at arms were briefed on the contingency plans last September.

Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle, D-S.D., who attended the White House meeting with Republican leader Trent Lott, R-Miss., said he was ready to call a cease-fire in the dispute over who should have been informed of the White House contingency plans.

"I don't think the job was done adequately at all," Daschle told reporters, "But I don't want to complicate these plans any more by going on and on about who was informed.'

The White House also planned to send Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld to Capitol Hill on Wednesday to brief senators on the course of the war against terrorism in Afghanistan and elsewhere.

The White House sought to avoid another possible rift by inviting House Democratic leader Dick Gephardt to a private briefing Wednesday morning.

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 P 103 Kedzie

Bring in your favorite Mug and we will fill it for just $1.00 (up to 32 oz.)

Valid with any food purchase for Dine In only please.

Fries, Burgers, Tota Calls, Onion Rings pecialty Bottles NOW OPEN AT 4:00 $1 OLD STYLE PINTS

10% Student Discount with Student ID

At Sirloin Stockade we are proud of the reputation we have earned by serving up quality & offering our customers excellent service in a down home atmosphere.

325 E. Poyntz

Season for Nonviolence Film Series this week:

POLISH SOLIDARITY

MOVEMENT

Wed, 3/6 | 11:30am

Little Theatre, 1st Floor KSSU

a Multicultural co-sponsorship

wed 3/6 @ 7pm union courtyard

THE ROYAL ENEW TWO FRI 3/8, SAT 3/9 | 7PM, 9:30PM $1.75

MON 3/11 AT 7:00PM FORUM HALL

SUN 3/10 | 8PM ONLY $1.00

www.ksu.edu/upc | 532 6572

a forums debate sat 3/9 | 7pm mccain auditorium

Come Join Us At the 19th Annual

CASINO NIGHT

At Union Station of the KSU Student Union

From 8:00 to 11:00pm

Play Poker, Blackjack, Craps, and Roulette

TONS OF PRIZES TO BE AUCTIONED!!!

Also bring canned food for additional gambling money ($100/can, limit 5) All food goes to the Manhattan Breadbasket

FREE ADMISSION, OPEN TO PUBLIC

Event organized by Marlatt and West Halls. This ad paid for by

Bring this coupon to Casino Night, and get an extra $100 to gamble with

Please limit one coupon per person

2002 Principal/Counselor/Student Conference Kansas State University

Wednesday, March 6th 10:45am-12:15pm

Maize-Ahearn 28

LIST OF HIGH SCHOOL LOCATIONS:

(All assignments in Ahearn are table numbers not room numbers) Abilene-Union Big 12 B Andover-Union 202 Atchinson-County-Union Courtyard 5 B & B-Union Courtyard 6 Baldwin-Union Courtyard 7 Bennington-Union Courtyard 8 Blue Valley-Randolph-Union Courtyard 9 Blue Valley N-Overland Park-Union Big 12 A Blue Valley NW-Overland Park-Ahearn 70 Bluestem-CANCELED Bonner Springs-Union 203 Buhler-Union Courtyard 10 Burlingame-CANCELED
Cair Parvel Latin School-Union 2068
Centralia-CANCELED Chapman-Union 207B Chase County-Cottonwood Falls-Union 208 Chase HS-Chase-Union Courtyard 12 Cimarron-Union 209 Clay Center-Union 212A Cliffon Clyde-Union 212B De Soto-Union 212C Derby-Ahearn 1 Dighton-Ahearn 2 Eastern Heights-Ahearn 3 El Dorado-CANCELED Ellinwood-Ahearn 4 Ell-Saline-Ahearn 5 Ellsworth-Ahearn 6 Emporia-Union 212D Eureka-Ahearn 7
Flint Hills Christian-Ahearn 8
Fredonia-Ahearn 9
Golden Plains-Ahearn 65
Great Bend-Ahearn 12

Greensburg-Ahearn 13 Haven-Ahearn 14 Haviland-Ahearn 10 Herndon/Morland-Ahearn 76 Hesston-Ahearn 67 Hiawatha-Ahearn 16 Highland Park-Ahearn 80 Hoisington-Ahearn 17 Holton-Union 204 Hoxie-Union Courtyard 2 Hutchinson-Union 205 Immaculata-Ahearn 74 Iola-Ahern 19 J.C. Harmon-Ahearn 75

Jackson Heights-Ahearn 20 Jefferson County North-Ahearn 21 Jefferson West-Ahearn 22 Junction City-Ahearn 71 Kingman-Ahearn 23 Labette County-Ahearn 24 Lansing-Ahearn 25 Little River-CANCELED Lyndon-Ahearn 26

Lyons-CANCELED

Manhattan-Union Council Chamber McLouth-Ahearn 29 Medicine Lodge-Ahearn 30 Mill Valley-Shawnee-Ahearn 31 Minneapolis-Union Courtyard 4 Moundridge-Ahearn 11 Mulvane-Ahearn 66 Neodesha-Ahearn 15 Newton-Ahearn 32 Nickerson-Ahearn 33 North Central-Morrowville-Ahearn 34 Northern Valley-Ahearn 35 Norton-Ahearn 36 Olathe East-Union Forum Hall Main A Olathe North-Union Forum Hall Main B Olathe South-Ahearn 72 Onaga-Union Courtyard 3 Osage City-Ahearn 38 Osawatomie-Ahearn 81 Osborne-Ahearn 39 Oskaloosa-Ahearn 79 Oxford-Ahearn 40 Paola-Ahearn 18 Pawnee Heights-Ahearn 41 Phillipsburg-Ahearn 42 Plainville-Ahearn 43 Pleasant Ridge-CANCELED Pretty Prairie-Ahearn 45 Quinter-Ahearn 46 Riley County-Ahearn 47 Rock Creek-Ahearn 48 Rossville-Ahearn 49 Royal Valley-Ahearn 50 Sacred Heart-Salina-Ahearn 51 Santa Fe Trail-Ahearn 82 St. John-Ahearn 52 St. Marys-Ahearn 68 St. Thomas Aquinas-Ahearn 73 Scott Community-Ahearn 53 Seaman-Union 206A Shawnee Mission West-Ahearn 54 Smith Center-Union Courtyard 1 Southeast of Saline-Union 213 Stockton-Ahearn 55 Sumner Academy-Ahearn 56 Thomas More Prep-Ahearn 69 Tonganoxie-CANCELED Trinity Academy-Ahearn 58 Victoria-Ahearn 59 Wabaunsee-Ahearn 60 Washington-Washington-Ahearn 61 Wellsville-Ahearn 62 Wetmore-Ahearn 63

Wichita Heights-CANCELED Wichita Northwest-Union Room S Wichita South-Union Big 12 C

Wyandotte-Ahearn 84

K-State, KU discuss election procedures

Ransas State Collegian

Voting online or in a booth -Noter turnout depends on getting Deople interested, Ted Conrad, elections committee chairman, said.

Conrad said moving K-State's elections online has not helped Increase voter turnout. He said *X-State needs quality candidates with quality issues to drive them to . vote.

"It all depends on how much students care about the issues,' Conrad said.

Conrad said to get more students to care enough to vote, there needs to be a requirement for who runs.

He said K-State should consider following KU's lead and implement new rules and regulations to weed through the field of candidates.

"I'm not the judge of who is serious about running, but I think we should limit who runs for student body president and vice president," he said. "Non-serious candidates have been a little bit of a problem. Every year there are only three or four serious candidates.

What does KU do?

Just to get on the ballot at KU, ach presidential ticket has to get 500 signatures to endorse the ticket being added to the ballot. "It sets a fairly substantial bar to jump over," KU Elections Commissioner David Mitchell said. "You have to have some organized effort before you're placed on the ballot, but it's not too substantial to where it keeps people from running who want to run.'

Conrad said it has not been talked about at all, but getting candidates to obtain signatures to get on the ballot definitely would be

"We've always left it so open," he said. "After this is done, we'll be making extensive changes to the regulations like timeframes working out the glitches with primary elections.

Another aspect of the KU. Student Senate elections are coalitions that support each ticket. These coalitions work like political parties, and the coalitions also have to register with Student Senate to be recognized.

"Coalitions definitely provide a nice umbrella to show voters where voters stand on certain issues." Mitchell said. "Independents who do not run with a coalition often have trouble getting their names

Mitchell said voting depends on the issues and the people who are running. Coalitions really help voice those issues. He said running with the Delta Force Coalition, the nongreek coalition, really helped get him elected.

"If there are not charismatic people on the ballot, students don't want to vote," he said.

Conrad said he sees benefits of the coalition system, but he alsosees benefits in the way K-State elects the president and vice presi-

"Our system allows students who are new to the university to have the same chance of getting elected as those students who can network," he said.

What changes will be made?

There has been a slight increase in voter turnout during the last three years at K-State, but Conrad said the Student Governing Association still has not seen the expected turnout since moving the election online.

That is why Conrad said it does not matter whether voting is done online or in a voting booth. It depends on the issues.

He said online elections would continue, but the kinks with election programs would be worked out.

The best solution would be to have our Computer Network Services staff, the people who do K-State servers and KATS, do the Conrad said that would eliminate the election changing hands as K-State accepts a new, lowest vendor for each election. He said changing vendors causes a lot of problems.

"We've never worked with the vendor before. Each year it's a big jackpot. We don't know what we'll be getting until we get it." he said.

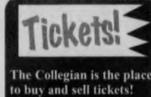

Mitchell said a task force at KU would be working on a survey to see how students feel about moving KU's student body elections online. The Student Senate hopes this year's election in April would be the last one where students cast votes in

"I wouldn't say the current system isn't working, but that has always been a big gripe - low voter turnout," Mitchell said.

Last year, about 18 percent of about 25,000 KU students voted in the student body president, vice presidential election. Results usually range from 15 to 20 percent.

Conrad and Mitchell both said they want to make changes that would elect the best candidates.

"When we've made changes in the past, we look to Big 12 schools," Mitchell said. "We're always looking outward."

Just call 532-6555 to place your ad!

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 KEDZIE 532-6555

Sell your nearly nev clothes, that comfortable old couch, and the tie Aunt Martha gave you for your 16th birthday.

Advertise your garage or yard sale in the Collegian Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Students

Serious

Discounts

for

www.counciltravel.com 1-800-2COUNCIL

Pet Health Alert

Have you had your dog tested for heartworms this year?

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

VETERINARY MEDICAL TEACHING HOSPITAL recommends annual testing of all dogs over 6 months of age.

The KSU-VMTH Heartworm Clinic will be March

Marie's Costumes

COSTUMES + ACCESSORIES SHOES . PROPS . MASKS WIGS . HATS

THEATRICAL MAKEUP

539-5200

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Pregnancy TESTING CENTER

"Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption." 39-3338

Free pregnancy testing

Totally confidential service

ame day results

Il for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villay

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Now serving evening buffet...Sun.-Thurs. 5-8 p.m. Pizza, salad, dessert & drink only $5.99!!

ORIGINAL FRENCH CRUST

3033 Anderson Ave. Manhattan 537-5080 by Alco

$1.00 off w/ student ID and this ad!!

Ed Major . . . Become your favorite teacher! Join the Kansas City, Kansas Public Schools!

Our district is focused on . . .

- INNOVATION: We are nationally recognized for our First Things First initiative that incorporates small learning communities into every school and has seen remarkable gains in student achievement.
- DEVELOPMENT: We invest two hours every week for in-service training and provide all firstyear teachers with a mentor teacher.
- SUCCESS: We are looking for talented teachers to be a part of our district's continuing success story.

Interested?

Visit our table at the Teacher Fair on 3/11/02. Contact the Kansas City, KS Public Schools at (913) 279-2091 or e-mail us at cbonin@tntp.org. Visit our web site at www.kckps.k12.ks.us/teachers and complete an application. We are an equal opportunity employer M/F/D/V.

**Dogs must be at least 5 1/2 months old to be tested Sun: 1pm-6pm APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $370

*Starting at $415 1119 Laramie #4

M & W 6p-8p

Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475 411 N. 17th

By Appointment only *Starting at $400 700 Fremont

By Appointment only *Starting at $400

W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420 1858 Claflin #7

925 Denison #9

T 2p-4p

M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

1722 Laramie

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

76-3804 http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development

Get mad, Royal Purple Style

during the 2002 NCAA Men's and Women's Basketball Championships.

For brackets and official rules check out royalpurple.ksu.edu or look for us in the Kastate Student Union March 12-14 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

help you?" 56 Served perfectly

McClurg

58 Command

to Fido

59 Walkman

maker

DOWN

1 Treaty

57 Adams or 15 Poison ivy aid

17 Benevolent fraternity

18 Singer

19 Flog

Lopez

21 Quahog

24 Recede

need

28 Bulk

30 Hole tool

25 "Monopoly

making

33 George's brother

34 Cries in

sties

35 Get a

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer COMIC RELIEF ACROSS 37 Con 2 Culture 22 Infamous 1 Cushions 38 Lean-to medium Ugandan 39 Volcanic 3 Sandwich 5 Occupa-23 Devilfish outflow 25 Leave shop 8 Alkali neu- 41 SEATO 4 Rap no stone tralizer unturned session? 12 "A Death 43 School 26 Dander in the territory alai 27 Sauld 6 Personal Family' 46 Little 29 Aspen author 50 Mr. Sharif 7 Borscht Comedian incorporates stories into comedy act Bairn's 13 Great 51 Region of ingredient astonish-Italy 8 Bitterly descrip-54 Morass ment severe tion 14 "How -55 Khan title 9 Gourd 32 Started

BY COURTNEY DUFFIELD

Kansas State Collegian

Comedian

Comedian Vargus

Mason will perform at 7 p.m. Thursday in Union Station in

tudent Union

Admission is free.

the K-State

34 Diamond

Head

locale

38 Ballroom

40 Bender

42 "This

43 Arrive

45 Wound

47 Not cover

pizzicato

48 Mortgage

49 Woman

52 Census

53 Trail

statistic

44 Sur-

favorites

stickup!

rounded

type

10 Calligra-pher's supply

prize, for short

Myra

11 Antenna

type

16 Regis

20 Dame

Solution time: 27 mins

Comedian Vargus Mason will deliver a performance filled with stories people can relate to Thursday evening.

The event is sponsored by the Arts and Entertainment Committee of the Union Program Council, Megan Hughes, arts and entertainment chair, said.

Mason grew up in Colorado and moved out to California a year and a half ago to try to make it as a comedian. He became interested > in a career in comedy when he won the Colorado State Youngest Comedian Contest at the age of

"He is just new and getting into the college touring scene," agent Joey Edmunds said.

Edmunds said Mason's act would appeal to all ages. He also said that Mason's routine is more than just jokes. It incorporates stories, and people can see themselves in some of the stories.

The comedian's material is filled with stories that people can relate to, Edmunds said. They can hear them and remember times when they were growing up and in similar situations, and that makes his stories more real to the audience, Edmunds

Melissa Thompson said she likes that style of comedy.

"I like comedy that I can relate to, that I can listen to and say, hey, I did that once," Thompson said.

"It really is for everybody, the college age up to the fifties are really going to enjoy it," Edmunds said.

A junior in animal sciences and industry, Thompson said she is looking forward to the performance because she really enjoys comedy shows.

"After a stressful day of tests and homework, it is nice to go somewhere with friends and be able to laugh," she

Edmunds said that something different about Mason's act is the dancing. He said Mason toured with a dance company and incorporates some of his dance moves into his act. Mason danced for former President Clinton a couple of years ago on Martin Luther King Jr. Day.

Most of Mason's routine deals with family. He tells stories about growing up in a manner that people can relate to, no matter what their ethnic background, Edmunds said.

"He will go through his parents, brothers, sisters, and grandparents. A lot of his routine has to do with his family, but what he does with it is different," Edmunds said,

He said Mason mixes up his adding in extra stuff as he goes along. "Every comic has a not like a play because the order is mixed up each time," Edmunds routine a lot and is great at

CRYPTOQUIP

For enswers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873I 99s per minute, touch-tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

ZFAZYGV KDE YOF'I VDZ TOV JI'T

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THAT LADY MUST USE GUNPOWDER FOR TOOTHPASTE. SHE IS ALWAYS SHOOTING HER MOUTH OFF. Today's Cryptoquip Clue: E equals G

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error. © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

AROUND THE TOWN

Campus

"All About the Benjamins" will show at 8 tonight in the K-State Student Union Forum Hall. Tickets are free and illable at the UPC office on the third floor of the m "An Evening of Opera" will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Nichols Theatre, Tickets are $8 for students and seniors, $12 for the general public, and are available at McCain Box Office, 532-6428, "Merry Widow" will be at 7 p.m. Sunday in McCain Auditorium. Tickets are $18-20 for students and children, $36-40 for the general public, and are available at McCain Box Office, 532-6428.

Manhattan

The Mathematics will perform at 9 p.m. Thursday at Out of

The K-State Latin Combo will perform at 8 p.m. Friday at the Manhattan Arts Center as part of the Swing City Jazz concert series. Tickets are $5 for students, $10 for the eneral public, and are available at the arts center, Claffin books and the Dusty Bookshelf.

The Samite Trio will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Manhattan Arts Center as part of the BirdHouse concert series. Tickets are $12 for students, $15 for the general public, and are available at the arts center, Claffin Books and the Dusty Bookshelf.

If you know of upcoming events in and around Manhattan, e-mail them to arts@spub.ksu.edu

Students create clay masks at workshop

BY CASSIDY HILL

Kansav State Collogian

Emotions will be expressed in handcrafted clay masks during an art workshop at the Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art.

A hands-on workshop will offer the public the chance to mold and decorate clay masks while learning to think threedimensionally, said Kathrine Schlageck, education and public services supervisor.

This workshop will help people understand ceramics in hands-on experience," Schlageck said. "Making something out of clay will allow people to better understand the art of ceramics."

In conjunction with the community educational programs, the workshop will try to bring about the hidden self in participants, allowing artists' emotions to be expressed through the masks, Schlageck said.

Kathryn Hanson, third-year graduate student in ceramics said she will be helping the participants on three demensionality and on expressing their inner-

"During the hands-on workshop, we will use self-hardening clay that will harden without being heated in a kerm," Hanson said. "After molding the clay, we will give the masks emotion, decorate them and paint them."

Since the workshop will only last a couple of hours, this will not allow the clay masks to dry completely. Instead of actually painting on the masks during the workshop, participants will work on designing their mask by collecting objects.

Schlageck said pictures from different cultures will be shown to give the participants ideas on what to use on their mask

"Some cultures make masks by using whatever materials are available to them," Schlageck said. "We will provide a variety of resources for them to look at. such as African and Greek Theater masks.

Schlageck speculates that the workshop will be fun and well-balanced since there are both adults and children already registered. "I think it will be a neat workshop because we have a good group of people and a good mix of ages, Schlageck said. "It is really fun to watch both the children and the adults." In addition to the art workshop, the museum organizes biweekly art lectures, workshops and drama lectures that are designed for the public, campus and community on Thursdays. There is normally no charge for the lectures, but

Workshop

A clay mask workshop will be at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art. The cost is $5 to cover the charge for clay and supplies.

the workshops charge a supply fee to cover the cost of the art supplies.

This is the first time the museum has organized a workshop to create clay masks, and spaces for the workshop are still available. The art workshop correlates with the art exhibit Clay Body Rhetoric Ceramic Figures of Speech at the museum. Dr. Glen Brown, art historian in the art department and curator for this exhibit, recommended Hanson to the museum; "The museum wanted to do something with the community and clay."

Hanson's works are sculpture vessels that deal with spirituality and are influenced by her trips to Mexico and

misdirection

EXPENSES

Continued from page 1

"It's not like our folks cut us a check and said 'Go buy yourself an election," he said.

Cook agreed, saying a cap would interfere with the campaign process.

"I did notice Matt and Mandy spent $250 each. I don't agree with that," he said. "Todd and I don't plan on contributing more than $15 each."

However, according to expense reports turned in March 1, Cook and Kohman were spending about $430 of their own money.

"It's hard to make the books balance five days before the election," Cook said.

He said that as of Monday morning, he and Kohman were each $200 in the hole and expect to make up the rest of the money before the election.

Cook said he is in support of limiting candidates' personal contributions to $100 and possibly lowering individual student contributions to $10.

"If we lower personal contributions, you have to have people believe in what you believe in," he said.

"You can't buy the election."

RESULTS

Continued from page 1

will have an effect on the outcome of the election. "I think it will have an overall

"I think it will have an overall effect on voter turnout," he said. "It makes it really hard to vote."

Vice presidential candidate Todd Kohman, who is running with Zac Cook, said he wasn't sure of the effect.

"I was disappointed to hear that students were having problems voting," Kohman said. "I will be curious to hear the results Wednesday night."

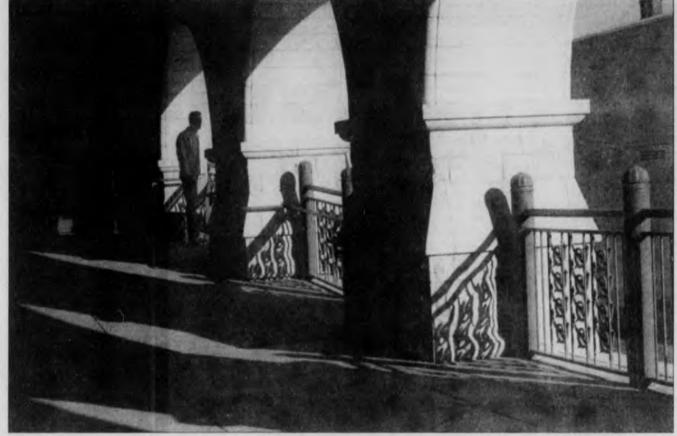

The results will be announced around 8:15 tonight on KSU Channel 8. Kohman said he isn't sure what the outcome of the election will be.

"I think it's going to be really close," he said. "The separation will be a couple hundred votes or even less than a hundred."

Wolters said that although he and running mate. Mandy Achilles are confident he expects a tight race as well.

"We've been out there working hard and we are confident that we have done a good job," he said. "But I think we would be lying to ourselves if we weren't thinking it was going to be close."

Warmth regained

Matt Stamey/Collegian

Mehdl Kabbage, graduate student in plant pathology, takes a break from studying in Hale Library on Tuesday afternoon to smoke a cigarette.

Kansas State Collegian Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

got memories?

get yours.

103 kedzie hall • 532-6555 • royalpurple.ksu.edu

HOT & READY

LARGE
14" PIZZA
WITH PEPPERONI
4:00 PM - 8:00 PM

$ 500

PO PICE OF ORLY

NO COURS NACESSATY

No Couson Recessary
Valid only at participating locations. 02001 L.C.E., Inc.

KSU Pre Physical Therapy Club

Guest speaker Candy Bahner
President of KS Physical Therapy Association

Thursday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m. Union Room 208

Also information on upcoming elections in April

Show your se xpertise!

March 26th, 8:00 PM - 105 Umberger

Sexpert (sek' spert) n. one who possesses knowledge regarding sexual health and responsible decision making.

Sexpertise (sek sper tez') n. the skill or knowledge of a sexpert.

Battle of the Sexperts!

Sponsored by S.H.A.P.E. and Lafene Health Center

Call for info 532-6595 or go online at www.ksu.edu/lafene/battle.htm

All University Event Free Prizes—T-shirts

Applications due March 11th

THE THE TAKE

HOURS: OO

•Sunday•
11a.m. - 2a.m.
•Mon. - Wed.•
11a.m. - 2:30a.m.
•Thurs. - Sat.•
11a.m. - 3:30a.m. ay•

2a.m.
Wed.•
:30a.m.
- Sat.•
:30a.m.

GULLEY Pizza 770 - 3333

ORDER ON LINE
www.ordergumbys.com

FAST FREE DELIVERY!

702 N. 11th Street • Aggieville

PICK UP SPECIAL:

Medium 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 2 Topping Pizza $6.99 X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza $7.99

14" Large Pokey Stix $6.99 6 Pepperoni Rolls $6.99

Valid Carry Out Only

VISA

Personal Checks And Credit Cards

Accepted With Proper I.D.

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Mondays Only

A STIX IT TO ME TUESPAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99
4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99
10 Wings $3.99
12" Cheese Pizza $3.99
add on to any regular food purchase

THE BIO ASS

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

Olson's Birkenstock

Specializing in Quality Shoe & Boot Repair Since 1913

Free Polishing with Men's and Ladies' Heels and Soles. Authorized Birkenstock Repair, Hundling & Backpack Sewing.

AGGIEVILLE 1214 B Moro moon

GILLIGAN'S

$2.50
Pitchers 100
Wings 4-9

With every Bud, Bud Light, Michelob Lite & Bacardi Silver purchase this week, receive a ticket for a drawing Saturday Night for the Budweiser convertible!

Varney's Book Store

Is Now Your Dry Cleaning Drop-Off

Convenient

Lowest Prices in Aggieville

24 Hr. Service On Items Received By 6 p.m. Monday-Thursday

Service Provided By Dry Clean City

623 N. Manhattan Ave. • 539-0511 • varneys@varneys.com Open 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. Monday - Saturday 11 a.m. - 7 p.m. Sunday

GRADUATION

Varney's Book Store Graduation Fair
Order now for all your graduation needs.
Wednesday, March 6
Representatives will be available from noon - 8 p.m.

Graduation starts at

BOOK STORE
IN AGGIEVILLE

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date CALL 532-6555

Items for Sale

105

as possible, by April 1. bedroom apartments/ nous and four-bedroom apartments/ nous and four-bedroom apartment 8. Close to cambiant tioning: washer/ dryer; no ments and houses. Best selection and price is NOW. (785)341-6091 (785)341-4404.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM, Recent remodel. Washer/ dryer hook-up, central air, 1836 Elaine. $475. (785)336-6286

ACROSS FROM Mariatt Hall. One and two bedroom apartments. Private parking Available April or May. Also une and August leases. No pets

AVAILABLE JUNE. Two with washer and dryer hook off-street parking. One-half block from KSU campus. Call 556-6899 or 776-4827.

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539 4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939 Visit

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedflin across from Ford Hall. Hall, $530 up. Also nice. ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, laundromat, $340. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/

board

month (785)341-4496.

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

Flying Club has five airplanes, lowest rates. For in-formation, call (785)456-

2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc.

1(800)BARTEND

www.bartendingcollege.com

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

LOST: FIVE pound Yorkie

Terrier, black and gold. Last seen near Ratone street

(785)539-5256.

Personals

ing a personal

105

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

One-bedroom studio fur-nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

ter and trash paid. (785)456

ADVERTISE

"Gizmo".

NEED TO RENT. As soon ONE, THREE, four, or five-

1975 or (785)313-8296.

ONE-BEDROOM apartments, 1030 Kearney

TWO, THREE, four bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry tacampus. (785)537-1746.

Rooms

ROOM FURNISHED or unfurnished. Four blocks to college, $175/ MONTH.

THREE BEDROOMS close lease 911 N. 11th; $220/ month. Washer/ dryer, Trash/ water paid. One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake (785)539-4904

120

For Rent-Houses

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bedroom. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS!

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. foured 824 Laramie Dishwash central air, washer/ dry-yard, $265/ each plus deposit.

FOR RENT: 1709 Vaugh three-bedroom plus study June 1 $875. Call Jack 785)776-1214 or (785)776-7706.

FOR RENT: Available August 1. 815 Kearney. Three-bedroom. $775. Call (785)776-7706 or (785)776 1214.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE ing, three blocks from campus and Aggieville ondition $1120_ (785)776-

MALE ROOMMATES want ed to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washer/ dryer provided, street parking and furnished rooms. No smoking or drinking in house. Low utilities. Cable, phone. Ethernet in Call Matt (785)532-9909

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bed-room houses. Also one and June and August leases No pets. (785)539-0549 room houses for rent close to campus with dryer, offstreet parking air condi-tioned Available June and August. Call (785)456-790) Call (785)323-0990.

For Rent-Houses

ROOMMATES anted to share a five-bedroom, two and one-half bath townhouse, very nice, partly furnished, central air, washer and dryer provided, no pets, no smoking, $212/ month plus one-fifth of low utilities. Call 785-336-2313 after 5 p.m.

FOUR AND Five bedrooms available June 1. Close to campus. (785)539-4641.

THREE-BEDROOM

duplex available June 1st and August 1st Nice condi-

HOUSE and three-bedro

tion. (785)539-7394.

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

ixteen-feet wide, two and ome Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage

sposal They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

vanted one block off cam pus, $250 plus one-third util-

ROOMMATE WANTED.

$220/ month Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. One-lifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for

close to campus, $265

Contact Ericka at 145

Wanted

FEMALE

Roommate

elw3838@ksu.edu

(785)539-4904.

Sublease

one double-wide

ROOMMATE

For Rent-

FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO air, laundry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1131 Keamey, $1100, (785)556-bath, dishwasher, air, laundry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1805 Leavenworth. $1100. (785)556-5668 FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer hookup.

FOUR-BEDROOM.

Thurston, $1,200 plus utilities. June lease. (785)776-4805. THREE-BEDROOM PLEX, campus area. June lease Central air, washer dryer hook-ups. No pets. (785)539-5627. these beautiful, spacious THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE for rent two blocks from the college. $750 a month... 1112 Thurston.

> THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier $900 plus utilities. Augus August lease (785)776-4805.

(913)829-0985

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bathroom. Dishwasher, cen tral air, laundry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1921 College Heights. $250/ bed-room. (785)556-5668.

THREE-BEDROOM, WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. $840 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-4805.

125

For Sale-Houses

THREE, FOUR, five and six bedroom houses for sale. Close to campus Better than renting. For complete list of homes near campus call Larry at (785)317-7713 Century 21 Knight Real Es-

135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

negotiable, available May. (785)776-3928

Roommate Wanted

NEAT, NON-SMOKING Iemale looking for roommate for two-bedroom apartment. need to contact as soon as possible (620)341-4563 ashley harbison@hotmail.c

Available now. Rent $225 per month plus one-third cable and electric Second room available in May. Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu.

Sublease

FEMALE SUBLEASER, one furnished room in furnished apartment as soon as possi-(785)341-4588

NICE TWO year old, fouravailable for sublease after finals through July. Nice location, washer and dryer Rent negotiable (785)323-

NICE. ONE-BEDROOM apartment for rent. June 1 lease or sublease for summer. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Water/ trash paid. (785)565-

ROOM SUBLEASE $215 per month, Electricity and trash included Laundry fa-cilities included 1524 Humboldt. Call Fedra (785)537-4292.

SUBLEASE NEEDED for room apartment close to campus. $520/ month, price negotiable. Please call (785)539-7735. APARTMENT one and one-half bath, to campus. (785)323-0608, (913)681-2480. SUMMER SUBLEASE for one-bedroom apartment. $250/ month. Please call (785)770-3167.

Weight Loss & /

Loose that extra 10 pounds and keep it off. Increased START TODAY! (785)776-1936.

Nutrition

opportunities

Help Wanted

SSSS SUMMER JOBS SSSS IF YOU'LL be close to Kansas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters. side and with your friends. If scriptions, visit www.colle-

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-(800)293-3985 ext. 548. Manhattan City Ordinance

4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race. sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian rges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

$1500 WEEKLY potential mailing our circulars. formation call (203)977-

BARTENDERS NEEDED Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No experience naces-Call (866)291-1884

BLUEVILLE NURSERY IS accepting applications for part-time and full-time temporary employees to work at the garden store. Must have plant knowledge, retail ex-perience and be available at room, two bathroom. Many least 20 hours per week new features, washer/ dryer, Monday- Friday, 8:00 am-nice deck Lot number 544 6:00 pm and all day Saturleast 20 hours per week Monday- Friday, 8:00 am-Blueville Nursery, Inc., 4539 Anderson. EOE.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Photographers. Designers (785)830-0367

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Counselors and many other positions. June 1 August 4. Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 1 800-352-6133 extension 800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions available, great benefits, Sea-sonal or year round, Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com.

FARM HELP wanted. Experience necessary. Summer Spring and Fall. Call (785)457-3452 or (785)457-3713.

FRATERNITIES. SORORI-TIES+ CLUBS+ STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 -$2000 with the easy Campusfundraiser.com three hour fundraising event. Does not involve credit card Fundraising applications. dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campus-fundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

HEAD LIFEGUARD needed for 2002 season to assist the pool manager. Must be Red Cross certified. Apply in person before March 18 to Manhattan Country Club, 1531 N. 10th Some food and beverage responsibili-

HORIZON CAMPS. Are you a dynamic, energetic, com-passionate, motivated individual looking for the EXPE-RIENCE OF A LIFETIME? If so, then Horizon Camps is the place for you. Horizon Camps is made up of five OUTSTANDING co-ed mer camps, seeking AMAZ-ING staff to work with IN-CREDIBLE kids ranging in age from 7 to 15. Located in New York, Pennsylvania. Maine and West Virgin positions are available in the reas of group leading, athletics, theatre-arts, water sports, outdoor education and so much more. For inHelp Wanted

SPRING BREAK is near! HOW TO make $5000 per week for the rest of your life. Learn how. For free information, send self addressed stamped envelope to: JAdelhardt, 1228 Westloop PMB 187, Manhattan, KS 66502.

> INSTRUCTORS NEEDED Summer and Fall in all science disciplines, espeat the Highland Comunity College center Warnego, Kansas. 18 grad-uate hours in subject area required. Request applicarequired. Headest applica-tion packet: HCC Human Resources, 606 W. Main, Highland, KS 66035; (7 8 5 ) 4 4 2 - 6 0 1 0 ; egronnig@highland.cc.ks.us Equal Opportunity Employ-

IT'S GREEK TO ME, Inc. is looking for a cleaning fanat-ic. This part-time position will be 3 hours a day (pref-erably from 5-8pm) Mondayinterested, please call Friday Previous occupation-(888)CPP-97US. For more at cleaning experience required. Start immediately $6.50 per hour with the opportunity for a performance raise after 90 days. We ofter a great work environmentapply today at 520 McCall Road, Manhattan, KS 6502 KLindsay@igtm.com Equal helpful. Closing Date: Ap-Opportunity Employer.

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Combines 2388's and New Auto-matic Tandem Grain Trucks Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li-cense. Provide room and Call (785)689-4660

PART TIME student positions. Prefer freshmen or sophomore. Prefer program knowledge or experience. 2002. More hours in Fall 2002. Apply at Education Supportive Services, 201

PART-TIME STUDENT DO sition, prefer treshman/ helping experience Work study a plus. 10 hours/ helpful. Closing Date: week, Spring 02. More plicants will be accepted hours Fall 02. Apply at Edu- til positions are filled. C cational Supportive Servces, 201 Holton Hall

FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beautiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis. baseball, basketball, water front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com SALES. LOCAL Company is looking for a money-moti-return it to us by 5 p.m. on vated inside salesperson the closing date. For appliwith a proven history of cants or more information, strong sales performance including quota over achievement Applicants must have at (785)587-2446 · e-mail a proven history of phone jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us or prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more. Email resume in Microsoft

Needed! Care for nine, se Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com. EOE. SUMMER JOBS Female for top summer camp in Top Salary, room board, laundry, clothing and travel provided. Must love children and have skill in > activities: archery, arts (ce ramics, stained glass, jewelry), basketball, canoeing, kayaking, rowing (crew), dance (tap, pointe, jazz), field hockey, golf, gymnas-tics (instructors), figure skating, ice hockey, horseback riding/ English hunt seat, lacrosse, digital photography, videographer, piano accompanist, pioneering/ camp craft, ropes (challenge course) 25 stations, sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theatre (technicians, set design, costumer), volleyball, water-skiing (slalom, trick, barefoot, jumping) W.S.I./ swim instructors, windsurf-ing, also opportunities for rses. HTML/ web design and secretaries. Camp Vega For Girls! Come see us at www.campvega.com email us at camp_vega@ya-hoo.com or call us for more information at 1(800)993-VEGA. We will be on your campus for information and accept applications from 10am-3pm, on Monday March 11th in the K-State Student Union Building, Room 203. No appointment necessary

WANTED: Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains. Come work for the largest horse operation in North America. Visit our website www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road, Boulder, CO 80301.

WILDWOOD- RESIDEN-TIAL camp south of Kansas

Childcare and light house-keeping for suburban Chica-

Help Wanted

Literary Essays ated to English) SONAL. Starting Salaries: Translated various (seasonal positio Please visit http:// Oaks Sports Complex is li chungwang tripod.com KENMORE WASHER $45 and dryer $50. Amana win workers. Theater positions: music director, stage man-(785)539-0180: Excellent agers, choreographer, costumer, piano accompa instructor aides. Little Ap-450 ple Day Camp counselors. Fun in the Sun Special Populations Day Camp coordi-

SPRING/ SUMMER SEA- BOOK: Anthology of Chi-

Pets and Supplies

AKC REGISTERED Well maraner female, 10 months old, silver gray has basic obedience and all shots. $250 call (785)341-0306.

transportation

Automobiles

1989 MERCURY Cougar Looks good, runs good. 128,000 miles, $1,500. Call. (785)587-0560.

1993 FORD Probe GI brakes. 67K, sunroof, excelbest offer. (785)323-0011. 1994 RANGER extended cab 4x2, red and Automatic, 98K miles sell, $9000, Call (785)770-8810

1995 FORD Probe, auto matic. Very clean. Red. 95K $4,050, negotiable, 1994 Mitsubishi Galari ES, autoleather $3,550 negotiable ( 7 8 5 ) 7 7 0 - 9 2 1 8

HONDAS FROM $500 (800)719-3001 til positions are filled. Gate 7536

> 1994 KX 125 on display at rocket. (785)539-8942

> 1999 YAMAHA R6, 8,000 miles, red- white- black, laid

SUMMER BABYSITTER

TWENTY-THIRTY HOURS

per week, evenings and weekends. Horticultural and/ or retail experience preferred Pick up applica-tion at Eastside or Westside one or more of the following 330

Attendant. Starting salary

Shift Schedule: Must

Closing

Business Opportunities

fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in Kansas, For portfolio call (785)539-7479 or email kadean@kscable.com.

Leaders' Training

Course

U.S. Army Officer Summer Internship Enroll in Army ROTC and attend the Leaders' Training Course for 4 weeks this summer. You'll get paid to experience adventure, learn eadership skills, and learn more about army officer opportunities.

> open market

For Rent-For Rent-For Rent-Apts. Furnished Unfurnished Houses Houses

> ONE, TWO and three-bedroom apartments close to campus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM (785)539-3672 APARTMENT, close to campus, June lease. Water. trash, gas paid (785)539-

No pets. Available now. Aaron at (816)847-7195.

mont, Manhattan.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

to the Director of Human

ACADEMY OF BARTEND ostay in ING. Have fun, make mon-ey, meet people. Earn $15-$30 an hour. Day, evening or weekend classes availa-Commons" ble. Job placement assis-tance, $199 with student ID.

ATTORNEY AT LAW Charles W. (Chuck) Harper *2 & 4 Bedroom 25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100 ·Alarm System ·Swimming Pool

*Washer Dryer •Computer Lab *Fitness Center *Permit Parking

Tennis/Volleyball Courts *Individual Leases

JNIVERSITY *COMMONS* APARTMENTS

2215 COLLEGE AVE

We require a form of pic-For Rentture ID (KSU, driver's IIcense or other) when plac-Unfurnished

MAKEOVER MODELS wanted- cuts, colors, and apartments. Daily showings at 4:30 p.m. Short and at 4:30 p.m. Short and long-term leases. Call (785)539-1713.

> ACROSS FROM Aggieville, next to campus. 1112 Bluehousing Two-bedroom. street parking, trash paid, low utilities. Available Au-gust 1 (785)776-0683.

> > 785)537-8055. AVAILABLE AUGUST, Two, three, four, five, and six-bedrooms. Close to cam-pus. No Pets. Year lease.

gust lease. (785)776-4805.

housing without distinction on account of race. sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age. color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported

Resources at City Hall, class At The

> Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished

Office Hours: M-F 9-5. Sat. 10-4

539-0500

ONE or two-bedroom $385, two blocks to campus. Available June 1, 1026 Bluemont. Cornerplace

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1. Two-bedroom, air-condition washer and dryer. $475.

ONE-BEDROOM. WASH- THREE-BEDROOM. ER/DRYER, no pets or pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-amokers. 515 Vattler mont $780.00 plus utilities. $305.00 plus utilities. Au-

For Rent-Apt Unfurnished

Manhattan City Ordinance AVAILABLE NOW, summer 4814 assures every per- and fall very nice one two. MENT apartment close to son equal opportunity in three, four five, six-bed, campus, newly remodeled, campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

CLEAN ONE-BEDROOM apartment two blocks from campus $250 a month 1112 Thurston (913)829-

FOUR-BEDROOMS: 1806 Laramie 1124 Ratone, 316 North 11th Two-bedroom. 928 Leavenworth 426 Vattier, 1620 Fairview, No pets. no smoking. (785)539 0590. LEASING FOR ALL. Two

pus, laundry. Excellent loca-tion, condition. (785)776-4166 closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks 2/bluestern/

NEXT TO campus- one two, three-bedroom houses, apartments Central air. parking, free washer/ dryer Available August.

ONE BEDROOM, close to campus (June). (785)539-ONE, TWO and three-bedcampus. June and August leases. No pets Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, three and four school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apartnents (785)776-3663 (24lours). One-half mile from KSU at the comer of College and Claffin, Manhattan ONE-BEDROOM $405 1225 Ciaflin Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan

$330. (785)456-2812. No ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX, campus area. June lease, no pets. (785)539-5627. ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash

Avenue. One-bedroom stu-

dio furnished, 1219 Claffin

paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810. ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. $285.00 plus utilities. gust lease. (785)776-4805. PARK PLACE APART-MENTS Cable paid One, (785)539-2951.

THREE AND Four-bed-

rooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537-

mont. $780.00 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-4805

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM BASE 1994 SKYLINE three-bedno empking or pets, water trash and cable paid, $420. (785)776-9590

TWO-BEDROOM, NO pets $500.00 plus utilities. Available immediately. (785)776-

Now Leasing 1 BR From $470 2 BR From $570 3 BR From $744

Rooms

Available FOUR-BEDROOM ONErentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term leases Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138.

Across from KSU stadium

For Rent-Houses TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study. family room. One-car ga-rage close to downtown Three-bedroom THREE-BEDROOM, COULD be four, west of KSU Three-bedroom, west of stadium. No smoking

drinking/ pets. (785)539

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. foured 824 Laramie. Dishwasher, central air, washer/ dry-er, yard $265/ each plus utilities and deposit. (785)539-3672. AVAILABLE NOW: two-bedroom apartment 1113 Ber-trand #1. $550/ month.

Close to KSU, water and trash paid, laundry facilities.

(785)776-3804.

Call MDI.

service

an application please concamps.com.

www.horizon-m. (800)544-go families. Responsible, loving, non-smoker. Call Northfield Nannies. (847)501-5354.

nator and counselors, and youth arts and crafts ins tors among others. Closing Date: Applications will accepted until positions

STAND AND GIFT SHOP Salary: $5.15/ hour. (seasonal part-time, non-benefit alloible) benefit eligible). Special Requirements: Must be able to work weekends, some evenings and holidays including Memorial Weekend and Labor Day (weekend hours March- May and September- November and daily hours May- August). Position Requirements: Appli cants must be friendly, out going and motivated, self-starters with fundamental accounting skills. Prior food plicants will be accepted un GIFT SHOP MANAGER. Starting Salary hour. (seasonal part-time non-benefit eligible). Spe cial Requirements: Must be able to work 20-30 hours/ good condition, 84K, (785)776-1195. week, including weekends some evenings and holidays 1995 DODGE Ham including Memorial Week-end and Labor Day (weekend hours March- May and September- November and daily hours May- August). Position Requirements:

Responsible for managing 9 seasonal concessions and gift shop attendants Applicants must be friendly, outgoing and motivated, selfaccounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience erol1421@ksu.edu helpful Closing Date: Ap-

530 ■ $5.30/ hour (part-time). Po-sition Requirements: Collect admission fees, operate cash register, welcome visi-Motorcycles able to work a flexible Mon-day-Friday shift plus holi-Synder's Honda. Will sell or days, weekends and eve-03/14/02. To be considered for an available position, you must complete a City of

> SPRING BREAK Cancun & Jamaica

> 14 FREE Meals 40 hrs FREE Drinks! 429 Panama City 149 LOWEST PRIC South Padre 149 GUARANTEED K-STATE ON SPRING BREAKTY ASTA A BOOK NOW! SPACE IS LIMITED

1-800-234-7007

SPRINGBREAK (direct) 800.367.1252 BEACH'& SKITRIPS

www.sunchase.com 1.800.SUNCHASE Need Some Help?

Advertise it in the Collegian.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGES 103 Kestzie 532-6555

sublease. Two bedroom, City seeks qualified counse-lors to lead educational and recreational activities. June-August $1700 plus room and board. (913)757-4500 wildwood@peoplestelecom. SUMMER IN CHICAGO

785-532-5177

5 oz. of table wine: 100 calories 5 oz. of sweet (dessert) wine: 225 calories

1 12 oz. bottle of light beer: 100 calories 1 12 oz. bottle of regular beer: 150 calories

1.5 oz. of an 80 proof distilled spirit, which means 1 shot of vodka, rum, etc.: 100 calories

SOBRIETY Check

Photo Illustration by Jeanel Drake/Collegian

Alcohol consumption affects females quicker than males

BY NANCY HULL

Kanuas State Collegian

adies, don't try to drink your guy friends under the table. Not only will you be tipsy much sooner, but you could end up in a world of hurt in the long run.

Even if a female has the same height, weight and drinking experience as a male, alcohol will have a more profound affect on her. This difference is due to a few reasons.

Women have a higher fat-to-water ratio than men, which means that alcohol concentrations in the water portion are going to be

Since women have more fat than lean muscle tissue, they don't metabolize alcohol as quickly. Women also metabolize alcohol less efficiently than men do because they have less of the stomach enzyme that begins breaking down the alcohol before it reaches the liver.

"A woman might have one or two wine coolers and be flushed, giggling and having a good time, and the guy over there who's been drinking will think, 'what's going on?'" said Bill Arck, director of alcohol and other drug educa-

Drinking alcohol also is linked to breast cancer and fetal alcohol syndrome. A higher percentage of women alcoholics than men die from circulatory disorders and cirrhosis of the liver.

Arck said that 15 years ago, studies on alcohol's effects only were done on men, so the consequences for women were unknown.

Since then, the gap between how frequent men drink compared to women continues to

This is largely due to increasing social acceptance of women drinking, Arck said.

"It used to be and still is pretty OK for men to drink in public. But it used to be that if you're a woman out in Aggieville, you were frowned upon."

Another reason, Arck said, is that women have more stress in the workplace than they

"Even for my daughter, who's a senior in high school, there's more stress to succeed,"

Sharon Morcos, Basic Nutrition instructor, said that while it's hard to tell just how much alcohol K-State women drink, a 1996 survey from her 400-student class showed a higher percentage of drinkers than a national survey did. The class had more females than males.

Morcos said recent studies that show males and females are drinking at earlier ages particularly concern her, especially since they don't show much of a gap between male and female

"I don't know if it's an idea of keeping up with the boys or what," she said. "They need to ask 'what can I do now to promote a healthy future?"

Burning calories

To lose weight, you need to burn more calories than you're taking in. To maintain weight, intake and burn should be equal. If you consume 2,000 calories a day, you burn 200 of them by just digesting the food. Anywhere from 15 to 40 percent of the calories you burn comes from all of the various activities you do throughout a day.

Walking on campus for 10 minutes: based on a pace of 3 mph

120 Rs. - 42 calories

150 lbs. — 53 calories 180 lbs. — 64 calories

bs. - 73 calories 240 lbs. - 83 calories

A 10-minute jog from Aggieville to your house: based on a pace of 5 mph 120 lbs. – 88 calories 150 lbs. – 100 calories

bs. - 132 calories

■ Having sex for 10 minutes burns approximately 28

A 30-minute sex session burns 85 calories.

■ Line dancing burns about 192 calories in 30 minutes.

■ Stair-stepping burns about 206 calories in 30

■ Tennis burns about 204 calories in 30 minutes.

■ In-line skating burns about 192 calories in 30

Cleaning burns about 114 calories in 30 minutes. Swimming burns about 237 calories in 30 minutes.

- Compiled by Nancy Hull

Women and alcohol

the premenstrual stage of their cycle, women have a slower rate of alcohol metabolism (because of hormones), and the effects of alcohol are significantly increased.

■ Taking the pill (oral contraceptives) lowers the rate at which women eliminate (metabolize) alcohol and causes them to remain intoxicated

■ Women tend to weigh less than men, therefore they have less water available to oxidize alcohol. Body water content: 55 percent in women, 68 percent in men.

■ Women tend to be more at risk for polydrug use (alcohol and another drug).

One in three alcoholics is female. Two out of three women now being treated for alcoholism are under 35 years old, and there is a higher number of women drinking today than ever alcohol as effectively as a man's (diminished activity of the enzyme alcohol dehydrogenase). ■ A greater percentage of female alcoholics than male alcoholics die from suicide, alcohol-related accidents, circulatory disorders and cirrhosis of

A woman's stomach does not break down

Drinking alcohol (as few as three drinks per week) might be associated with an increased risk for breast cancer.

 Intentional alcohol poisoning of females continues to be a problem, as well as a doublestandard about the acceptance of public drunk-

 Alcohol consumption during pregnancy might cause fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS).

Childhood sexual abuse is now emerging as a major factor in women developing alcoholism. For women, alcohol problems often are diagnosed by physicians as depressions (70 percent of psychoactive drugs are prescribed for Women alcoholics risk developing liver disease at an earlier age, after a shorter period of drinking, with lower levels of drinking, and appear to have a higher risk of dying once the liver is damaged (50 to 100 percent higher rate than

Heavy alcohol use is implicated as a factor in some miscarriages, infertility and still births.

Research indicated that lesbian women have a higher rate of alcohol problems, due to factors including isolation, fear and alienation.

Divorced and separated women have a higher incidence of heavier and problem drinking. Based on various recent surveys, approxi

60 percent of women who became infected with an STD were, at the time of intercourse,

67 percent of women who had an unplanned pregnancy were, at the time of intercourse, intoxi-

85 percent of women who had unplanned sex were intoxicated at the time of intercourse.

Source: KSU Alcohol and other Drug Education Service

SGA ELECTIONS

Wolters edges Cook

Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles respond as the results of the student government presidential and vice presidential race are announced on television. Wolters and Achilles defeated Zac Cook and Todd Kohman by 59 votes to gain the office.

Wolters, Achilles ready to begin term; unconcerned about outcome's close results

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansas State Collegian

Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles didn't even care that there was only a 58-vote margin.

They had won.

"Oh my God," said Achilles, K-State's next vice president. "I'm ecstatic."

Wolters echoed that statement "Happy, Excited," he said.

Once the results were announced, the two candidates, their parents and about 150 supporters - most clad in Matt and Mandy T-shirts - were on their feet at Bobby T's.

Scott Achilles, Mandy's dad, said his daughter deserved to win.

"Proud. Very proud," he said. "Obviously we're very happy. She's put a lot of effort and work into this."

Wolters said he is ready to start his

The pair plans to start on their platform. which includes a tuition advisory committee, Wildcat March and Wildcat Connection, as soon as possible.

"We've had a great experience here," Achilles said. "We want to make sure everyone else does, too."

Wolters said he would like to implement the advisory committee by the end of this semester to deal with this fall's tuition hike.

The rest of their platform touches on tradition, student life, picking the right major and finding a job, they said. "We've got our plan and goals and

Winner declared; results disputed

BY SARAH RICE

Kunson State Collegian

In possibly the closest election in K-State history, Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles were declared winners over Zac Cook and Todd Kohman in the presidential race.

"We are just excited that we won," Wolters said immediately following the announcement of the results. "We are ready to get to work. As far as we are concerned, the job starts tomorrow."

Wolters and Achilles received 1,793 votes, while Cook and Kohman fell 58 votes short with 1,735. Abstentions reached 246 votes. The number of students voted totaled 3,774 or 19.4 percent of the main campus student body population.

Achilles said she was so excited she couldn't even think.

"It was so awesome to see everyone there and all of our supporters," she

Cook said he was upset with the outcome, especially with the voting totals being so close.

vision that we're ready to get started on, and we've got our job to represent the been plagued with voting problems,

"It wouldn't surprise me if it was the race with the same disadvantages."

contested," he said. "But everyone entered

Achilles said she didn't know what to

"I just knew it was going to be really

Wolters said the results are valid.

that job starts right now."

close," she said.

students," he said. "As far as I'm concerned,

Despite an election that some say has

"I am disappointed," he said after hearing the results. "I worked so hard for it and we lost by less than 2 percent."

However, Cook is contesting the results citing sections from the elections regulations code.

Cook said the code states that presidential candidates must receive a majority of the votes, while all other positions only require a plurality.

Joseph Unekis, political science professor, said a majority vote means getting more than 50 percent, while a plurality requires receiving more votes than any other candidate. With abstentions included, Wolters without abstentions, he received 50.8 Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said abstentions do not count as received 47 percent of the votes and

"An abstain is no vote," Conrad said. "If there's two candidates, then someone would have to be declared

See ELECTION on PAGE 10

The candidates said they were most thankful for the help they received with campaigning and getting the word out to You've been here for three or four years, and you make these friends," Wolters said. "It's been so awesome to see how willing they are to give time and help out

"You call them at 11 or 12 at night to come out and chalk, and they're willing to

Wolters said they are now prepared to serve students.

"We want to do the best job we can do."

Cook upset with results, procedures

BY EDIE HALL Kansas State Collegion

The high spirits and laughter filling Joe's Tap Room on Wednesday evening halted with three words: "Matt and Mandy."

Presidential candidate Zac Cook and running mate Todd Kohman fought to hold back emotions after hearing they had lost the general student body president and vice president election.

"I don't know why we lost," Cook said. "If students feel that a march and a connection are more important than international opportunities, I hope they feel they cast the right vote."

Soon after most of their supporters had left, Cook and Kohman received news from former presidential candidate Ali Karimi that they had lost

Phrases such as "This isn't over," and "You've got to fight this," filled the air.

Cook and Kohman stayed close together, listening to the advice of their supporters who were surrounding them, not certain what to do next.

After leaving Joe's and examining the election regulations codes, Cook quoted a section that states a presidential candidate must receive a majority vote.

"You have to get over 50 percent of the vote, and they didn't," Cook said.

Cook said the high percentage of abstentions should be eliminated. If they were eliminated, officials can find who received the majority. Abstentions made up 6.5 percent of total votes.

Wolters and Achilles received 1.5 percent more votes than Cook and Kohman.

"The number of abstentions was over four times the difference between the candidates, Cook said. "If you throw out the abstentions, you throw out votes that could decide the election four times over."

The group was looking into the number of people who were denied the opportunity to vote.

"It's something that won't show up statistically," Cook said. "There were people who wanted to vote but quit because of the ballot."

Gayle Spencer, student services coordinator. said anytime an election is close, it is understandable for a candidate pair to consider contesting the results.

Sae COOK on PAGE 10

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Todd Kohman, Zac Cook and Mary Hoke stand together as they hear the final results of the presidential elections Wednesday night at Joe's Tap Room in Aggleville.

Complaints against SGA tickets won't affect results

BY MICHAEL WATSON neas State Collegian

Complaints have been filed against presidential candidates Zac Cook and Matt Wolters Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said complaints usually result in fines or are thrown out. The committee meets tonight to discuss the complaints.

"Every year there's routinely half a dozen violations. Usually they are unintentional," Conrad said.

At this point, the fine is a standard procedure, but Conrad said he couldn't comment on what could happen to address the complaints. However, the decision made by the Elections Committee to fine the candidates or disregard the complaints would not effect the election results. The complaint filed against Wolters and his running mate Mandy Achilles was for an e-mail that promoted the Wolters-Achilles campaign.

According to campaign regulations, email campaigns can only be sent to persons known by the sender.

Mark Dilts, sophomore in milling science, said he does not know how he could have gotten on the Wolters-Achilles campaign e-mail list, but he does not like getting "junk mail" that clog his inbox. "I want everyone to have an equal playing field in elections," he said. "I felt it was my duty to turn in the complaint."

Wolters said the e-mail being sent to Dilts was a mistake. "I know his older brother. When we went threw the thousands of names in the K-State student directory, their names were probably right next to one another. I inadvertently highlighted them both," Wolters said.

There were also two complaints filed against Zac Cook by two students in Fred Smith's accounting and business operations class.

According to regulations, campaign activities are not permitted to disturb or interrupt classes.

The complaints said Cook interrupted the class by handing out campaign information and announcing the ticket's platform issues while the class was working on their accounting assignment.

Cook said he does not think he violated any campaign provisions.

"I got permission from Fred Smith, the ABO coordinator, to be there," he

"My interpretation is that you can't run into a class, but I had permission to be there at that time."

- Bryan Scribner contributed to this

Krasnoff appeals decision

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansas State Collegian

Former vice presidential candidate Jon Krasnoff appealed the election committee's decision to dismiss his complaints regarding problems with the online voting vendor. iballot.com.

Krasnoff said he decided to appeal the decision to the student tribunal because of the response he has received.

"I can't describe how many people came up to me and said they had trouble voting," he said. "I received three or four e-mails complaining how screwed up it was and how they supported me." Krasnoff filed complaints after last week's presidential primary, mostly in response to problems with voting. Write-ins were accidentally included on the ballot until about 1:10 p.m. Tuesday, the first day of the primaries.

In his complaint, he also said the committee failed to maintain the security of the ballot.

Elections chair Ted Conrad said the committee did not find grounds to support any evidence of violations. He declined to comment on specifics of the deliberations.

Krasnoff's appeal trial has not yet been scheduled. Attorney General Tara Hull said the committee has five to 10 days to meet, but because the results of the election are being challenged, the date could be rushed. Whether that meeting is open or closed has yet to be determined, she said. If Krasnoff wants it to be open, he has to submit written statements from himself and witnesses. No new information can be introduced during an appeal. The board's adviser, its chancellor and Hull determine the pertinence of the paperwork, and based on that, decide if the hearing is open or closed. Hearings are usually closed to the public, Hull said.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the

A speaker addressed the quality of living for apparel workers in India on Tuesday, Read more on the eCollegian,

Read about the Wednesday evening Manhattan-Ogden USD 383 Board of Education meeting on the eCollegian. www.kstatecollegian.com

Redistricting process starts over after veto by Graves

TOPEKA - A coalition that pushed a redistricting plan through the Senate expects to offer another proposal in the wake of a veto from Gov. Bill Graves.

Democrats and Republicans in the coalition said some small changes could be made to improve the bill, which redrew the 40 Senate districts. Graves' veto was Tuesday.

However, Democrats backed off a promise that the coalition would send Graves the same map he rejected.

Drafted by the Senate's 10 Democrats and 11 of its Republicans, the redistricting map was presented as debate was under way in the chamber on a version endorsed by the Senate Reapportionment

The coalition pushed its plan to passage on a 21-19 vote over the objections of top Senate Republicans. including President Dave Kerr, R-Hutchinson. The House approved it last week, sending it to Graves.

Robinson's lawyers want evidence from farm search

OLATHE - Evidence found during the search that turned up the bodies of two women in barrels on John Robinson Sr.'s Kansas farm should be thrown out, his lawyers say.

The evidence found June 3, 2000, was conducted under an illegally obtained search warrant, the defense asserts in a motion filed Monday in Johnson County District Court.

Robinson, 58, is charged with capital murder of the two women found in the barrels on his Linn County farm, and with killing another woman, whose body has never been found, in Johnson County. Prosecutors in Cass County. Mo., also have charged Robinson in the deaths of three women whose bodies were found in barrels there.

The motion said the Johnson County judge who issued the warrant did not have jurisdiction in Linn County, and neither he nor police had probable cause for the search.

NATION IN BRIEF

U.S., Afghan allies deploy more troops for offensive

GARDEZ, Afghanistan - Fierce fighting raged for a lifth day as the United States deployed hundreds of reinforcements Wednesday and gathered 5,000 Afghan troops for an offensive aimed at finishing off al-

The U.S.-led coalition mounted punishing, round-the-clock airstrikes above the rugged terrain in eastern Afghanistan and some U.S. officers predicted the operation could be wrapped up in days.

In Kabul, five peacekeepers - two Germans and three Danes - were killed in an explosion while trying to defuse anti-

The Pentagon said opposition fighters were still putting up stiff resistance after five days of battle, some of it above 10,000 feet in snow-covered mountains. As fighter jets and bombers hit targets, more attack helicopters were called in to boost the firepower in the largest U.S.-led offensive of the 5-month-old war.

The al-Qaida and Taliban forces are armed mainly with motars, cannons, rocket-propelled grenades, shoulderfired anti-aircraft missiles and AK-47 automatic rifles.

ATTACK DEVELOPMENTS

- After five days of air and ground operations, U.S. officials said Wednesday that about half the al-Qaeda and Taliban holdouts believed to be hunkered down in the Shah-e-Kot mountain range had been killed by bombing and ground fire. Deaths were estimated in the hundreds.
- The remains of seven U.S. servicemen killed in Afghanistan arrived early Wednesday at Dover Air Force Base.
- The U.S. military committed more aircraft to the battle with al-Oaeda and Taliban holdouts, sending in five Marine AH-1W Cobra attack helicopters after enemy fire damaged Army helicopters.
- The United States and key allies might double the 4,500-strong international force in Afghanistan and deploy troops outside the nation's capital
- The Transportation Security Administration ordered more machines to detect explosives in airline baggage. InVision Technologies of Newark, Calif., said the security agency had placed a $169.8 million order for 100 machines and parts for 300 others.

Zach Long/Collegian

Lori Hamilton is a graduate teaching assistant in the food science department at

GTA enjoys guiding students in making career choices

BY SHANNON HARTENSTEIN

rom the farm to the grocery store shelves, the way food reaches consumers fascinates one K-State graduate student. Lori Hamilton, graduate student in food science, said she's always wanted to be involved in the food industry. And she's off to a good start. She completed her bachelor degree in science in dietetics under the coordinated program at K-State and obtained a registered dietitian license. She spent two years working in a hospital as a registered dietitian in Phoenix, Ariz.

With her practical experience in dietetics and interest in food and nutrition systems. Hamilton decided to return to K-State to continue her education. She will graduate in December 2002. with a master's degree in food science.

Graduate school will better prepare her to enter the work force, she said.

"I want to learn as much as I can in the short amount of time that I'm here so I can be ready for my career," she said.

As a teaching assistant in Introduction to Food Science, a class in the Department of Animal Sciences and Industry, Hamilton said she enjoys helping students find career paths.

Being a teaching assistant is funbecause there's a lot of interaction with undergraduates," she said. "I get to help steer students toward careers in food science."

Hamilton also has been involved on the K-State product development team. The team recently submitted their research on the national level and will find out later this semester if they will go on to compete in Anaheim, Calif.

With her experience on the team, Hamilton said she hopes to find a career where she can work with new products and people and is eager to gain experience in all aspects of the food science industry.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin bound service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calcudar, stop by Kedzie. 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at balletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

Future Financial Planners will meet at 5:30 p.m. today in Union

III Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m. March 14 in Holtz Hall, Call 532-Fractice DAT, MCAT or OAT

Stateroom 1 and 2.

sessions for those who have registered will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday in Rathbone 169 for the DAT and OAT, and room 173 for the MCAT. M Alpha Kappa Psi will have a pledge meeting at 6 tonight in Calvin College of Education Ambassador applications are due at 5 p.m. Friday in Bluemont 13.

Pre-Veterinary Medicine Club will meet at 7:30 tonight at Trotter 201. Alpha Kappa Psl will meet at 7 Student Health Advisory Committee is accepting applications, which are available in the OSAS. Applications are due by 5 p.m. Saturday.

III "Core strength and training what it is, how to do it" will be presented at noon March 10 at Recreational Services.

■ Lou Douglas Lecture Series Internship information meeting at 3 p.m. today in the second conference room at UFM Community Learning

This is the last week to submit an application for the 2002 Student Homecoming Committee.

Applications are now available in the Office of Student Activities, ground floor of the Student Union or at the KSU Alumni Association, 2323 Anderson Avenue, Fourth Floor. Applications are due by 5 p.m. Saturday. All students are welcome to

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Tuesday, March 5

At 10:06 a.m., Timothy Moynahan, 410 Edgerton, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $1,500. At 1:30 p.m., William Jeter, 422 N. 11th, Apt. 5, was arrested for contributing to child misconduct and theft. No bond was set. ■ At 6:47 p.m., Dana Robb, 1019 Yuma St., was arrested for worthle check. Bond was set at $261.78. At 7:45 p.m., John Daniels, Emporia, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $1,000. At 10:47 p.m., Michael Martin,

Belgium, was arrested for traffic violations Rond was set at $245 Wednesday, March 6

m At 1:39 a.m., Leslie Jones, 1312 Yuma St., was arrested for disorderly conduct. Bond was set at $500. At 2:24 a.m., Michael McCollums, Fort Riley, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz

Editor in Chief April Middleton

Managing Editor Nancy Foster

News Editor

Zach Long Photo Director

Dana Strongin Campus Editor Paul Restivo

Copy Chief Nicole Donnert Asst. Photo Director

Sports Editor JJ Duncan ABE Editor

Dan Smith

Amber Koehn

Opinion Editor Katie Lane

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

eCollegian Editor Jodi Fagerquist Aci Manager

Alissa Duncan

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

Asst. Ad Manager

532-6560

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

University, is published by Stuckent Publications has Keeling weekslays during the school year and in Weshasslays throng the automor. Permalical prestage in paid at Mindratian, Kan-9002 POSTMASTER Send address charges to Kausay Sta

© Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Photo reprints 532-6304

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

THURSDAY 50¢ 120z. DRAWS

1219 Bluemont Ave 537-9090

$10° Large Two Topping Pizza Add breadsticks $199

RN, LPN, or Experienced Medical Professional

Where your heart and mind go to work. Be a link in our chain of giving. We are currently hiring in our Donor Services department in the Manhattan and surrounding areas. This is a rewarding and fast paced job working with volunteers and donors. These employees will work at blood drives drawing blood and conducting health histories. Also responsible for setting up and breaking down the blood drive equipment. Must be flexible, hours will vary each day. Full time. M-F and occasional weekends and holidays. Some overnight travel. Must be able to bend and stoop and lift 40 lb. on a regular basis. Salary commensurate with experience. Pay also includes overnight differential. GREAT benefits! Send resumes or call for an application: American Red Cross Services, 707 N. Main, Wichita, KS 67203 Phone(316) 268-9040 Fax (316) 268-0864 e-mail moveria@usa.redcross.org EOE M/F/D/V

Drug Free Workplace

KSU Pre Physical Therapy Club

Guest speaker Candy Bahner President of KS Physical Therapy Association

Thursday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m. Union Room 208

Also information on upcoming elections in April

$52,000 or more Receive up to

The cost of college is going up, up, up. A regular paycheck and educational incentives can help you pay your way. Best of all, you work part-time. So, you can go to college and keep your social life while you serve your community and country. Call us now to see if you're eligible at 861-4295 or toll free 1-800-435-5149 or

www.goang.com

Located in Topeka, KS.

Fuel Your Future Air National Guard KANSAS

MUCH MORE LIVE MUSIC $5.95 SIRLOIN WITH TEXAS TOAST, CHOICE OF POTATO, AND SALAD

Pot Health Mort

Have you had your dog tested for heartworms this year?

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY VETERINARY MEDICAL TEACHING HOSPITAL recommends annual testing of all dogs over 6 months of age.

The KSU-VMTH Heartworm Clinic will be March 11-16, by appointment. Call new: 532-5690.

**Dogs must be at least 5 1/2 months old to be tested

2002 SGA elections results

President/Vice President Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles Zac Cook and Todd Kohman

College of Agriculture

AGRICULTURE COLLEGE COUNCIL Total Write Ins STUDENT SENATE, AGRICULTURE Lori Alexander Tyler Breeden Ryan "Puffy" Garrett Ryan Conway Nick Bowser Delvin Higgins Chad Bontrager Brandon Roenbaugh Michael Burns Jed Stmad Jacob Fry Grayson Magne

Total Write Ins

College of Architecture, Planning and Design

COLLEGE COUNCIL ARCHITECTURE Brian Pelcak Kyle Fitzgerald Jennifer McFarland Stephanie Conrad Thom Allen Abstain STUDENT SENATE, ARCHITECTURE Brad Kingsley Lindsay Bathel

College of Arts and Sciences

ARTS AND SCIENCES COLLEGE COUNCIL Abble Rondeau Erin Kessinger Laurie Qualfe Tamniy Jo Osborn

Jessica N. Mortor 1735 Heath A. Starr Matthew John Travis Weigel Nasrina Evenstar Burnett STUDENT SENATE, ARTS AND SCIENCES Eric "Hoop" Hoopingarner Vicki Conner 75 Ben Procter Ali Karimi Abble Ronde Tammy Jo Osborn 210 Sarah Sourk Laurle Quaife 206 184 Emily Melssen 173 Andrea Zimme 170 166 Jeremy Stohs Seth Bridge Emily King Nasrina Evenstar Burnett Karl L Krier 118 Leslie VanNordstrand 105 Travis Weigel Renee McDaniel Army Butler Andrew Hayhurst Christine Baker Heath A Starr Kim Freed Jonathan Mitchell Jon Krasnoff Jessica Morton Al Gard Erin Slattery Victoria Lowdon Glen McMurry Kris Kellim Write Ins 88 Abstain James Stoutenborough 69 Bill Mahan College of Business Administration BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION COLLEGE COUNCIL Maggie Trambly Tiffany Howard

Danielle Tanguay STUDENT SENATE, BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION 303 John O'Hara 302 Maggle Trambly 302 Sheldon Buci 292 Lisa Tirrell 288 Suzanne Blakely 281 Damian Lair Hayley Urkevich Tanner Klingzell Essence Halfiburton 265 263 Mike Hart Corbin Navis 262 Robert A. Summers 257 Matt Fellows 250 Greg Prieb 248 240 Kenton Meyer 239 Abstain Andrews James Joiner 232 221 Vy Bui Robbie Elliott 221 Thomas "tombone" Toth 221 221 218 College of Education 207 200 EDUCATION COLLEGE COUNCIL Christyn Murdock 194 Jennifer Cavallaro 189 Kelsie B. Crist STUDENT SENATE, EDUCATION MaryElizabeth Kasper Layne Stafford Travis W. Smith Matt Beaven Abstain College of Engineering STUDENT SENATE, ENGINEERING Zac Cook Erin Green

Fine Arts Council (1-year) Damian Lair 1957 Abstain 1509 Total Write Ins 116 220 217 Fine Arts Council (2-year) 276 Total Write Ins 186 3206 185 164 Graduate School 135 132 STUDENT SENATE, GRADUATE SCHOOL 120 No candidates 0 100 College of Human Ecology HUMAN ECOLOGY COLLEGE COUNCIL Rebecca Brigger 158 Darta Orth 157 Amber Lafferty 155 Nikki McClure 152 Tiffany Bullard 148 0 Write Ins 167 STUDENT SENATE, HUMAN ECOLOGY 164 164 178 Erica Smith 162 175 Amber Lafferty 155 159 Abstain 153 Write Ins Board of Student Publications (1-year) Jonathan Mitchell 1980 Ahstain 1797 Total Write Ins. 282 244 221 Board of Student Publications 178 (2-year) 172 168 3165 160 Tota Write Ins Union Governing Board (1-year) Tanner Klingzell 1871 New 2002 ELECTIONS OF PAGE 10

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR

Courtney Dunlap

Jared Parker

Kenton Meyer

Logan Andrews

Matt Fellows

Greg Prieb

advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

353

351

350

245

244

243

243

Julie Quackenbush

Lindsey Porter

Kristine Sheedy

Ross Stutterhein

Lucas "Pops" Miller

Travis Stryker

Sam Meler Katherine Carter

Tim Newlin

Adam Childs

John Godfrey

Nicholas Hess

Simon Harkins

Abstain

Write: Ins

NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

$2.50 Fishbowls

$3 Pitchers

FRIDAY

$2 Bottles $4.50 Fishbowls

Daily -16" Pizzas - $6 25¢ each additional topping

Pregnancy TESTING CENTER

"Supportive services for pregnancy. parenting & adoption."

539-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ame day results Call for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

BEDROOM 2 BEDROOM 1941 College Heights #9 926 Bluemont #4 M 3p-5p

W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370 1005 Bluemont #8 Sat 11a-1p.

W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T. W & Th 3p-5p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p 5at 11a-1p

*Starting at $580

*Starting at $575

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

776-3804

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Manhattan's Oldies, Country, Night Club

Thursday, 9-1

50¢ TACOS hard or soft

1 $1.99 Island Oasis Margaritas

776-9588 • 2317 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Blue Hills Shopping Center

No tears over tears.

Hey... everybody tears a lens now and then. Or loses one. Besides ... disposable contacts aren't supposed to last forever! And at just $19.95 a six pack at The EyeDoctors, you can wear your ACUVUE disposables and toss 'em after a week. And shed no tears over tears.

* 6 lens disposable Contact Lens Multi-Pak. Exam & fitting fees not included in price

DRS. PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH PA AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118 3012 Anderson - Manhattan

Original site of university should be sold

K-State is considering selling a section of land where the original K-State, Bluemont College, used to

Some are upset because selling the land, which is located on the corner of College Avenue and Claffin, erodes the

OUR VOICE

and debated by the uritten after a

Jessica Pitts

April Middleton Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

editorial board and

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official university's tradition. Officials from the College of Agriculture argue that they need the money for pasture land.

The land should be sold because we need the money, and because it is not being used properly right now.

We are not treating the land as a respected area now. Instead of treating it as a historic site, the university is using it as place to collect and process bull semen at the Kansas

Artificial Breeding Service Unit.

The unit should be relocated to a different on-campus site. The College of Agriculture could use the money to purchase pasture land for beef and dairy service and research.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

I love my graham cracker.

I'd just like to say congratulations to whoever it was that put the picture of the man swimming with his baby above the kids, Great going.

Duct tape is like the force: it has a dark side and a light side, and it holds the universe together.

I think it's really mean when you care about somebody so much, and they just quit talking to you.

I had a dream last night that a hamburger was eating me.

Dude, for the last time, I'm not getting a Dell. I'm getting an i-Mac

I don't know what they're growing in the K-State greenhouses, but I know what they should be growing.

Nobody cares about the news. All everybody cares about is the Fourum.

I noticed that the Campus Fourum was really small yesterday. I guess the writers had something real to say this week.

Paul White, I'm not going to let those cornholes make fun of you. You're a genius.

Last Saturday night, my girlfriend got hit on by a sophomore in high school. I'm not sure what to think about that.

To the guy who quoted 'The Usual Suspects,' I applaud you

No one hits me in the forehead with Tupperware and gets away with it. Oh, yes, there will be revenge.

Dude, the Simpsons are hot!

Show me your muscles.

Yes, um, we need greek Junkyard Wars.

ONLINE

Not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See the complete version at www.kstatecollegian.com

FRIDAY

Micah Hawkinson reveals the real truth about the wealth of the world Kyle Brownback reflects on the mishaps of his former baseball years.

Quick fix

Americans look to surgery for effortless weight loss utting corners: it's the American way.

From Cliff's Notes to the Abtronic, Americans search tirelessly for the quickest self-improvement schemes. The more time they spend procrastinating and the less time they spend on improving themselves, the better.

An emerging trend for Americans is the "get thin quick" mentality. They're bombarded daily by commercials for Shim Fast and Dexatrim, but what alarms me is the growing phenomenon of gastric bypass

Susan Powell

This operation reduces a person's stomach to the size of a shot glass, and reconnects the smaller pouch to the small intestines.

The operation is painful, and,

unlike pills and powders, it's permanent,

Talk about cutting corners

But I'm not saying this procedure isn't effective. Most patients lose their desired amount of weight and gain the confidence and self-esteem they had buried under the

Since Carnie Wilson's operation was broadcast live on www.adoctorinyourhouse.com. gastro bypass surgery has been widely publicized. Wilson discussed her battle with obesity and her dramatic weight loss after surgery on www.spotlighthealth.com.

However, watching these TV specials or reading of Wilson's success makes me wonder what the cost is of this surgery in Most doctors tell you losing more than two to four pounds a week isn't healthy. For Americans who are morbidly obese, this doesn't apply

Their real danger is obesity, and the more weight they lose, the healthier they are, right?

To a certain extent.

Spotlighthealth.com is very candid about the physical and mental dangers of this surgery. In an article on the site, a new compulsion is discussed: the shift from desiring a healthy body to desiring a thin one.

Some women lose 150 pounds or more, still longing to be a size 6. They ignore their body's frame, structure and begin to covet the emaciated frames of models and celebrities.

For those patients who can't wait a whole year to lose 100 pounds, there is a modification of the normal procedure called distal gastric bypass. This procedure moves the connection of the new stomach pouch further down the intestine so there is less opportunity for the absorption of nutrients

Not surprisingly, many patients subsequently are malnourished.

Vitamins and exercise are recommended to these patients, as they are to all Americans. However, a person who has gastric bypass surgery cannot cut corners concerning their nutritional needs the way an average American can.

Since patients' stomachs cannot hold the same amounts of food, they must pay careful attention to what they eat. It is detrimental to a gastric bypass patient to skip meals because they cannot absorb nutrients or hold them as long.

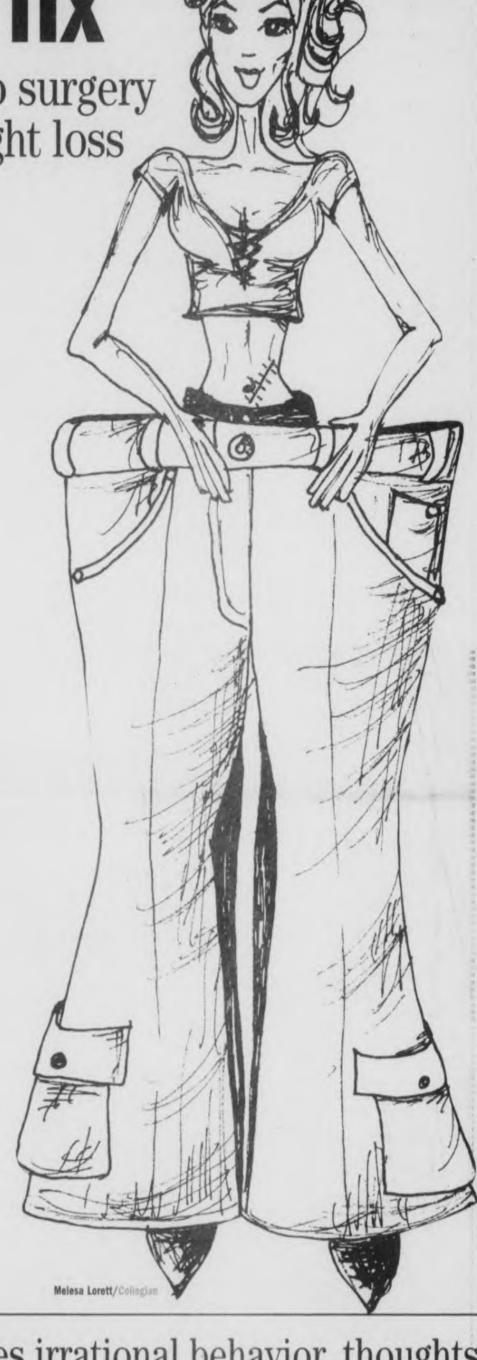

There can be complications and no guarantees of effectiveness. Once patients lose the initial weight, they must maintain their weight and pay careful attention to their nutrient intake every year.

The procedure itself is a quick fix, Its lasting results are not. A gastric bypass patient must resort to the antiquated methods of diet and exercise if they expect to remain at their target weight.

For those who have tried every fathomable method of weight loss, I do not ridicule your decision to better yourself through surgery. I just imagine all the slightly overweight girls across the nation thinking this is their answer.

Cutting corners is tempting, but don't tempt your health.

Susan is a junior in English. You can e-mail her at sjp8478@ksu.edu.

Past relationship causes irrational behavior, thoughts

There, I said it. Here's why. I had dated a girl for four and a half years. Things were wonderful. She called me pumpkin. I called her squash. She called me sweetie pie. I called her Eskimo pie. It was disgustingly cute.

Then I moved to Manhattan and left her in Kansas City. Absence makes the heart grow fonder, right?

Well, I always thought so. I tried going home every weekend, then every other weekend, then whenever I could make it. The nightly calls turned into every-othernight calls.

I sensed the spice of our relationship starting to dwindle, so I planned a getaway

We went to St. Louis, ate spaghetti. went to the arch, had a picnic. It was picturesque.

Well, she broke the news to me Feb. 4. "You're not here for me. We're just headed in two separate directions."

Four and a half years - seven years of friendship - came to a halt in a matter of seconds. My princess turned into a creature that could ride away into the night on the end of a broomstick.

> So here I am, March 7, 2002, going through the many break-up stages.

I was in the I-hate-all-ofhumanity stage for quite some time. I took it out on my copy-editing staff, threatening them with termination and pay cuts. I even considered sending a valentine to my ex on Valentine's Day, but the only card I liked said, "Be mine ... or I'll cut you." Then came the I-just-need-to-findanother-girl stage. I tried going to parties, hanging around the newsroom to flirt with my copy editors, and - using Micah Hawkinson's advice - picking up a nice piece of wool at the library.

That didn't work, Girls there were too smart. They saw right through me.

Then there was the I-just-need-to-hiton-every-woman-in-sight stage. It started with my copy editors. Then it escalated to Melesa Lorett/Collegian the managing editor and editor in chief, who, I must add. have boyfriends.

After the managing editor threatened me with sexual harassment charges - I simply humped a trash can, no big whoop - that stage came to an end.

Now, I'm in the leaveme-alone-Ijust-want-to-bedepressed stage. Music. especially country, has helped this a lot. Some of my favorite songs include "Long Goodbye," "She Used to be Mine," "You're Still the One," and

"Somehody Kill Me, Please."

Good stuff. So, what am I trying to say?

Guys, unless you want to end up like me, be there for your girlfriends. If they want you to hug them and kiss them every 10 minutes, even in public, do it. If they want to go see a movie with you Friday night, even though you'd rather spend the evening in a drunken stupor with your fraternity brothers, choose the movie.

I urge you to not ignore your girlfriends as much as I did my ex, or assume that everything is fine. I've learned from my mistakes. If only she could see me Now step aside sweetie, that trash can looks like it's in heat.

Paul is a sophomore in secondary education. You can e-mail him at pjr6464@ksu.edu.

University considers selling historic land

BY SARAH RICE Kansaa Stata Collegian

An 11-acre area of land where Bluemont College, which eventually became K-State, once stood, most likely will be sold within the coming year.

Marc Johnson, dean of the College of Agriculture, said the college is in need of funds, and the land, which is at the corner of College Avenue and Claflin, is a valuable asset.

"We look at it as a resource, and there is always a lot of money tied up in land," Johnson said. "It will allow us to sell the land to generate the cash necessary to allow us to renovate units of beef and dairy services and contribute to the buying of pasture land.

Johnson said the college lost a lot of pasture land when Colbert Hills Golf Course was built, and they are in need of additional pastures.

The land now houses the Kansas Artificial Breeding Service Unit, which has been in place since 1950.

"They primarily do custom collecting, processing, storing and shipping of bull semen," said Jack Riley, professor of animal sciences and industry. "It's for uses of artificial insemination in beef and dairy cattle. It's definitely a service to the Kansas cattle industry.

Johnson said the services will be relocated to other sites on campus that have not yet been determined. The request to sell the land has been approved by the Kansas House of Representatives and Board of Regents.

"We would anticipate Senate approval in the next two weeks," Johnson said. "Then the governor would have to sign it. By the end of April, we should have it approved."

With the go-ahead to sell the land, the College of Agriculture would take about a year to design the units on campus for the breeding units, Johnson said.

He said he does not have any potential buyers in mind.

"It doesn't have to have a specific land use," Johnson said. "I suspect the city would have to zone it, if it were to become private. To the east are apartments, to the west is more state land, and to the south is the big medical complex. It would probably be something in the commercial neighborhood.

Cheryl Collins, head of the Riley County Historical Museum, said the land has historical value.

"It has important historical association," Collins said. "It's an important place in the history of the university."

Riley said he is aware of a stone marker commemorating the history of the site, but the breeding unit has used the land for more than 50 years.

"I am very much aware of the marker, and I would expect that that is going to be taken into consideration," he said.

Johnson said he doesn't have any concerns about using the land for a different purpose, while at the same time preserving the historical value.

"History is an important feature," he said. "If there was an old schoolhouse there I could see more of the historical value than the barn that is currently there. I think the university is using it as a recycling center, which is not really a revered use of the land.

"I think the historical prominence of the place is important, and I hope we can work out a type of sale that will protect the commemorative .

Weather watch

Meteorologist discusses severe storm safety

BY AMY LINK Kansas State Collegian

Their eyes were in a trance, their hearts were beating fast and the only sound was gasps that narrated the scene. Fortunately for the children's sake, the

the TV screen. Bruce Jones, chief meteorologist at KSNT-TV Topeka, and Laurie Harrison of Riley County Emergency Management spoke at tornado could not come through

Thomas J. Frith Community Center on Wednesday night about the importance of weather safety. Part of the lecture included a video of a tornado.

The program was designed to help international students familiarize themselves with Kansas weather. Kevin Wanklyn, assistant coordinator for Wiley Apartments, said many students worry about

'We've had a lot of questions about what to do. We just want to help them get used to what were used to, "Wanklyn said.

Jones had a special connection to the students because he spent his junior high years in Turkey. He was drawn to Kansas because of its weather.

"I have always wanted to live and work in Kansas because of the extreme weather," Jones said. Jones focused on one of the middle of the room, avoiding most severe parts of Kansas weather - the tornado. His main windows. They should sit under a point was the importance of a storm watch and a storm A watch means conditions are right for severe weather to happen. Watches might last several hours, so residents should explained the difference between weather warnings. Jones listen to the radio, Jones said. A warning means severe weather is happening right now and residents should take shelter. Jones said.

When seeking shelter, people should go to the lowest floor in the building and stay in the table to be protected from falling objects, Jones said.

While tornadoes are a concern, Jones was careful to mention that many native Kansans have never seen a tornado.

You could live five lives and never see a tornado," Jones said. Harrison clarified certain necessary safety tasks. For instance, it is important to have a safety plan, review it, exercise it, make changes as needed and repeat the process, Harrison said.

Harrison also talked about the importance of making a survival kit. radar Image that Is likely to contain a wall cloud during a presentation Wednesday at the Thomas J. Frith Community Center at Jardine Terrace Apartments.

Bruce Jones, a meteorologist

from KSNT-TV

Topeka, shows a

Zach Long/

Another part of her lecture included listening for sirens. Harrison said he cleared up some misconceptions people have.

"Many people think they should be able to hear the sirens in their homes. But they are intended as outdoor warnings. People should have other sources inside their homes," Harrison

Harrison stressed the importance of listening to local radio or TV stations, and she said having a weather radio can be very helpful.

Harrison said if anyone has questions they can call the Riley County Emergency Management.

$2encHiladas

Listen to your favorite artists from Oklahoma & Texas all night!

$1 OFF ALL DRINKS

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

600 1,000 350 150 250 75 500 1,500 1,500 500 1,500 1,500

Add additional lines for just $20

1.800 CELL DNE

WWW.CELLULARONEWEST.COM

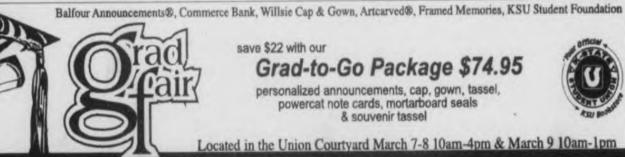

Cellular One

Cellular One Manhattan Town Center Mall 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mike. 1115 Westloop Place 786-537-4646 • 800-467-7858 Ask for Brett, Fich or Will.

Hardt Communications 785-323-1999

785-565-9219

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

Grad-to-Go Package $74.95

personalized announcements, cap, gown, tassel, powercat note cards, mortarboard seals & souvenir tassel

Located in the Union Courtyard March 7-8 10am-4pm & March 9 10am-1pm

K-State Alumni Association, KSSU Recreation, Peace Corp. KSSU Food Service, Apple Computer, KSSU Copy Center, Crimpers Too Styling

Godfather's Pizza.

Dine-In, Carryout, Delivery

Feast It! Add Cheesesticks and Streusel Dessert

Pizza To Any Pizza

Purchase

25¢

Buy Any Large Pizza At Regular Menu Price, Get The 2nd Pizza Of Equal Or Lesser Value For 25¢

Godfather's Pizza

Specialty Pizza

Choose from: Combo,

All Meat Combo, Bacon Cheeseburger, Taco, Vegetarian, Humble Pie or Hot Stuff

Godfather's Pizza

Large

2 For 1999

Medium

2 For 1599

 Medium 1-Topping Pizza Pie

2 Soft Drinks

· Cheesesticks OR Streusel Dessert Pizza

Godfather's Pizza

Medium

2 For 1200

Large $999 2 For 15"

Your Choice Of Topping!

Godfather's Pizza.

Your Choice

$2 Off

Any

Medium

Pizza Pie

Get The Party Started!

Large 2-Topping Only $999

Add A Large 1-Topping Only $499

Godfather's Pizza

... 1118 LARAMIE AGGIEVILLE

$3 Off

Any

Large

Pizza Pie

WE DELIVER-CALL NOW!

First round matchup ideal for Wildcats

It's a good thing K-State won. Even though I was sitting there on press row during Saturday's win over the Huskers, being objective as always, I had to root for the Cats.

I mean, so many things have gone wrong for K-State this year - so many games that could have gone the other way, so many chances to have a better record - but Sean Purcell luck never seemed to be on their side. Oh well, at least the Wildcats won the

With a loss, the Cats would have been in the same side of the bracket as possible Final Four contender Kansas. It would have been a repeat performance of last year. Win one, and then get the hell beat out of you by the Jayhawks.

I don't want to see that again. Instead, K-State is on the other side of the bracket, which favors them a lot more. A first-round game against Baylor is definitely a winable one.

The Cats lost to the Bears by only three in Waco, Texas, but on a neutral court, the results are going to be completely

When looking back at that game, K-State's identity has changed dramatically. The Cats are playing a lot more team basketball, and that triangle offense is looking better by the day.

There are three reasons why the Wildcats will smoke the Bears.

. One, Pervis Pasco is a better player than he was in early January. This is why K-State is a better team. With his presence down low, teams are starting to doubledown on him, forcing them to leave a perimeter player open. Down in Waco, Pasco had just four points. Now he is turning in double-double nights something that should be expected of the junior college transfer.

* Two. Nick Williams has emerged into K-State's swingman. This diaper-dandy has blossomed before everyone's eyes in just one year. Williams is averaging more than 10 points per contest in his last 10 games, so you can expect him to be the difference-maker in this matchup.

. Finally, a game closer to home never hurts. Baylor has never been known to travel well to anything. And why would they? If Baylor was my alma mater, I would question whether to drive eight hours and see my team get their butts slaughtered. But every team needs fans. So come one, come all - support your Bears through thick and thin.

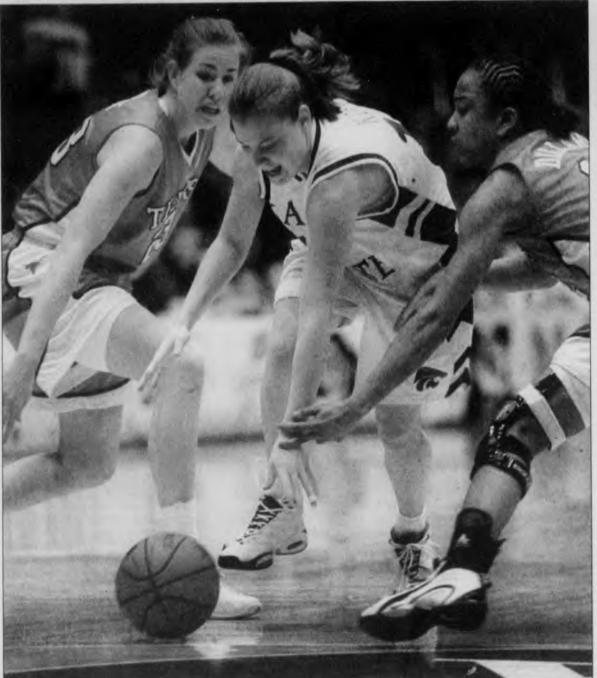

My prediction is that K-State handles Baylor by eight. As long as K-State doesn't spot Baylor 15 turnovers like they did last time, things will be all good.

Now, if the Cats win, a shot with Oklahoma awaits them. Critics are banking on Oklahoma getting the final No. I seed in the NCAA tournament, but I'm not sold on the idea just yet.

K-State can play with the Sooners. Back on Feb. 16, the Cats lost by only 11 in Norman, Oklahoma, a moral victory

See PURCELL on PAGE 10

1 down, Sooners to go Cat women cruise past Texas into Big 12 Semifinals

Kansas State Collegian

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - If K-State's players caught any of Texas' 14-point comeback win over Kansas on Tuesday, they would have known it takes a lot to tame a Longhorn.

The Wildcats' 20-point first half lead turned out to be plenty, as the Wildcats raced to a 79-63 win at Municipal Auditorium on Wednesday to advance to Thursday's semifinal against top-seeded Oklahoma.

K-State did it with scrappy defense and an intense focus on rebounding.

The Cats held the Horns to 35-percent shooting for the game and edged UT, the league's second-ranked rebounding team, in boards 42-34.

"Texas isn't just a good rebounding team — they're a great rebounding team," Coach Deb Patterson said. "It was our number one priority, and I think our team responded very well to that."

Freshman forward Kendra Wecker took it as a personal challenge, leading K-State with 22 points and 13 rebounds. Laurie Koehn added 17, and every other Cat starter scored

WOMEN'S BIG 12 WRAPUP

OKLAHOMA STATE (%)

Big 12 Player of the Year Stacey Dales scored 23 points Wednesday as No. 4 Oklahoma beat Oklahoma State 87-56. The Sooners wasted little time showing y they are the tournament's top seed, racing to ids of 8-0, 19-3 and 32-6 on the way to a 49-21

Kendra Wecker had 22 points, and 13th-ranked K-State took advantage of poor shooting in the first half by No. 12 Texas for a 79-63 victory Wednesday in the second round of the Big 12 Conference Tournament. The Wildcats, who also got 17 points from Laurie Koehn, 11 each from Kristin Rethman and Nicole Ohlde and 10

Sheila Lambert had a season-high 30 points, seven rebounds and seven assists as seventh-ranked Baylor posted a 75-80 victory over No. 17 Texas Tech. Lambert made 13 of 24 shots and also recorded five steals for the Lady Bears as Baylor cruised into the semifinals to face lows State.

The Cyclones stormed back from a nine-point halftime deficit to send the No.3-seeded Buffaloes packing, lowa State advances to play Baylor, a team that handed them a 95-91 loss just over a week ago. The first meeting was in Ames, but the rematch will be on a neutral court with the singer advanced to the 81 23 Tournament.

- Compiled by Sean Purcell

Texas' Tracy Cook and Tai Dillard try to steal the ball away from K-State's Laurie Koehn at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo. K-State won the game 63-79.

Kelly Glasscock/Collegian

in double-digits as well.

Scoring was at a premium for the first five minutes, though, before K-State opened up a 26-7 run, trailing by two, to take a 28-11 lead. Wecker alone had 13 before the Horns matched the same number.

Kendra establishing herself as an aggressive presence early in the basketball game was the most important aspect of us getting the lead," Patterson said.

K-State pushed the lead to 20 with 3:49 left in the half

See WOMEN on PAGE 10

KSU freshmen prove point

Kanada State Collegian

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Oklahoma's Heather Schreiber may have been named the Big 12 Freshman of the Year last week, but on Wednesday, it was K-State's rookies that left the biggest impression.

Kendra Wecker and Laurie Koehn, who finished ahead of Schreiber in many statistical categories used to determine the honor this season, both had great nights. Schreiber, on the other hand, was held to just three points for the evening.

Wecker's statement came in the form of a game-high 22 points and 13 rebounds - her 12th double-double of the season.

"She distributed the ball well, she attacked with the dribble, she was aggressive with her jump shot, and she was defending well." Coach Deb Patterson said.

" I thought she was certainly the most impressive player on the floor over the course of 40 minutes - just another outstanding performance from a very consistent freshman against a very power-laden team," she said.

From the start, Wecker was effective in nearly every aspect of the game.

With the score knotted at four, Wecker pulled the trigger on a three-pointer from the left wing to give the Cats the lead for good. Eleven of K-State's next 26 points came from Wecker, while the freshman's physical

FRESHMEN OF PAGE 10

Megan Mahoney and Kendra Wecker fight for a rebound in the second round of the Big 12 Tournament against Texas.

Kelly Glasscock/

K-State men set to square off against Baylor in opening-round play

BY DEREK BOSS

Baylor coach Dave Bliss didn't hesitate, stutter or take a deep breath to think about it.

He wasn't indecisive or uncertain. He didn't even act surprised at the question, as if he'd been thinking the same thing himself. When asked if K-State was a better team since Jan. 16, when the Bears downed the Wildcats 73-70 in Waco, Texas, Bliss didn't take long to respond. "I think one thing that you see right away is because we played them so early in the the fact that they're much more comfortable, conference season," Bliss said of K-State, who takes on Baylor tonight in the first-round of the Big 12 Tournament.

Tournament

"At that time, I think that was their third loss in the conference, and since then, they've almost played .500 ball. There's no good draws at this time, but they're playing very well." Much better than recent years, at least,

K-State's six conference wins this season match the two previous year totals combined, and the Cats' No. 7 seed in the tournament equals the highest since 1999. In fact, after finishing dead-last in 2000 and 10th in 2001. K-State has jumped five spots on the Big 12 leaderboard in just two years. Only Texas Tech has shown bigger improvement.

But regular-season marks don't mean anything when it comes to March.

Wooldridge and his players know that. "We've always told our guys that we separate the two things - the regular season and the postseason conference tournament," Wooldridge said. "We're playing a new season now with new opportunities, so you just project and hope that you'll take a good positive attitude up there and play well."

K-State is 30-28 all-time at Kemper and will face No. 10-seed Baylor for the first time in Big 12 Tournament action.

Leading the Bears offensively are a pair of true freshmen, forward Lawrence Roberts

(16.4 ppg) and guard John Lucas (13.1 ppg). Roberts' 475 points this season broke the Big 12 freshman scoring record held by Texas A&M's Bernard King

"Most of the time you hear about freshmen hitting the wall," Bliss said, "but it's been remarkable that they've maintained the level of intensity that they have. For freshmen, that's really difficult, and especially for ones that are relied on as much as ours.

"These guys have primary roles, and I'm hoping that they'll play even better Thursday, because that's what it's going to take."

though. Baylor ended the season on a six-game losing skid, defeats that Bliss said shouldn't be looked at superficially, however.

With those new faces came struggles,

"The six straight losses have asterisks on them," Bliss said, "because, with one exception, all of them were against teams that were ranked at one time or another during the year. The reality of it is, we probably had the toughest ending schedule, so the asterisks are understood,"

Not that the Cats would look past Baylor, though, a team that has beaten K-State in five of its last six tries. Iowa State made that mistake last year in Kansas City, Mo. The topranked Cyclones waltzed into the tournament and were stunned, 62-49, by the No. 8-seed Bears in quarterfinal action.

Besides, the Cats' three-point loss to the Bears in mid-January still stings. It was one of many capable road wins K-State saw slip away, as the Cats finished winless away from home for the first time since 1942-43.

Baylor didn't do any better, though. The Bears posted a goose egg on the road as well, and their only two victories outside the Ferrell Center came at neutral sites.

"When you take a young team on the road, they don't even know how to order breakfast,"

Yet, despite K-State's road woes, the team did get it done at home, winning six of its last seven games at Bramlage Coliseum. Overall. the Cats were 5-5 in their last 10 games, too the fifth-best mark in the league during that Senior Larry Reid continues to lead the team, boasting team-bests in scoring (14.4 ppg), assists (5.4 pg), free throw shooting (81.9 percent), steals (1.5 pg) and minutes played (35.0 pg) - numbers that jump out at Bliss. He said Reid, a third-team All-Big 12 selection this year, is one of the top point guards in the conference.

Reid hasn't had to shoulder the squad alone, however.

Pervis Pasco, named to the league's All-Newcomer team Monday, posts over 12 points-per-game and ranks fourth in the Big 12 in rebounding (8.4 pg). Plus, he's been on a tear as of late, averaging 18 points, 11.5 rebounds and 1.5 blocks in the Wildcats' two games last week. He also connected on 57.9 percent of his field-goal attempts and 73.7 percent from the line in those two contests.

And the 6-foot-9 center is ready for his first taste of the conference tourney.

"It would be nice to go in and score a couple upsets," Pasco said. "This being my first year, I want to be able to play well, and see what we can do."

Fraternity's return causes house shifts

Kansas State Collegian

This story of greek house-tag begins with the re-establishment of Acacia fraternity at K-State.

The fraternity was approved by the Interfraternity Council to return to the K-State campus after its closure in 1999

None of the former Acacia members will be part of the frater-

Aaron Rodehorst, senior in finance who is helping re-establish Acacia, said new members were chosen as a result of an interviewing process. A chapter vision was established and presented to IFC, who approved it.

This means Acacia can move back to their old house, which pushes current residents, Phi Delta Theta, out.

Hence, Phi Delts have decided to move in fall 2002 into the old Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority house at 1545 Denison Ave.

The Phi Delts have been moving from house to house since 1998, after an alumni decision to sell their old house to Delta Chi fraternity.

The Phi Delts debated on whether to build a new house or make the purchase on the Tri-Sigma house, and decided it was of best interest to make the purchase.

President Mike Arlesic said this decision will save members from going through numerous fundraising activities.

"We saw the opportunity to go and purchase rather than go fund raising," Arlesic said.

Arlesic said they not only would be saving money, but time as well.

"This was a more cost-effective solution that would allow us to move in immediately," Arlesic said. He added that it was still a tough decision. "It was definitely a hard decision because this is something that we've been talking about for a long time," Arlesic said. Arlesic said everyone is excited to move into the new house.

"It's our house - it's not temporary. It's the house we'll be living in for next year," he said.

He said this house will help with recruitment because incoming freshmen will know exactly where they would be living if they joined the house.

He also said location was a plus.

"It's a great spot on campus within walking distance from campus and the rec. There also is the possibility of being able to walk to the stadium for football games, rather then paying to park there," Arlesic said.

With the Phi Delts moving in, the current residents of the Tri-Sigma house, Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, must find a new place to call home.

The Pikes have been living at the house since fall 2001 after a fire damaged their fraternity in January 2001.

Pike President Matt Wertzberger said it is not feasible to find a new house right now. Instead, all members will live in separate residences until the renovation of their old house is complete in 2003.

Wertzberger said moving out is upsetting because members thought they would be able to live in the same house next year.

"We were planning on having the house for next year, but with the Phi Delts purchase, that is not feasible." Wertzberger said.

Because older members already have experienced being "homeless" after the fire last spring, Wertzberger said they would have an easier transition than new members.

"I think it's disappointing for a lot of the younger guys, but a lot of us are getting bigger houses to live in together," Wertzberger said.

Wertzberger also said he is confident the chapter can continue strongly - house or not.

He said members can keep upto-date on the chapter's events through e-mail and the Pike Web

Chapter meetings will be at the K-State Student Union.

Barb Robel, adviser for Greek Affairs, said it is not unusual to have so many relocations of chapters, but it has not happened recently. "It's a cyclical thing." Robel

"It just kind of depends on who's updating and renovating. We've had this type of activity before, but not for a while."

Make your voice heard!

CampusFourum:

Floating

Lyndon High School's Jamie Schmitz, center, is sent airborne after colliding with Ness City's Wendy Fehrenbach (25) and Stephanie Schuler (15) during the quarterfinals of Class 2A State Tournament on Wednesday at Bramlage Collseum. Bramlage will play host to the girls and boys championships through Saturday.

Bread competition awards Kansas' bakers

BY BRYAN SCRIBNER

Kansas State Callegion

Wheat and yeast take home honors in more than just Aggieville.

More than 400 Kansans, young and old, touted Kansas' prized crop in its more traditional form Wednesday at the 2002 Festival of Breads competition. Sharon Davis, family and consumer sciences educator, helped judge the entries.

"It takes place to recognize the spirit of consumers who want to do for themselves," she said. "That is part of what Kansas is all about."

The competition was sponsored by and took place at Manhattan's Kansas Wheat Commission office on Claffin Road. Entries were accepted from locations across the state.

Cindy Falk, domestic marketing specialist for the commission, said collection sites were strategically located to provide access to any Kansan that wanted to enter. There were 40 sites and 10 routes.

Breads were collected Tuesday and judging took place Wednesday. They were judged on taste and quality, appearance, originality and ease of preparation, and practicality.

Prizes in the competition were awarded in four categories, and each category had a champion, runner-up and various honorable mentions. Champions were awarded $200 cash prizes, runners-up $100, and honorable mentions $25. Contestants also could accumulate an additional $25 for using white whole wheat flour in their recipes.

Entry categories ranged from youth, adult, senior and professional. Falk said the number of bakers doubled from two years ago. She said the increased interest in the competition might be attributed to an online entry form and more youth participa-

The Festival of Breads was first organized in 1990 and has continued every two years. This is its seventh year. Falk said its purpose it to promote the Kansas wheat industry and milling industry. It also is a way to award Kansas' bakers, she said. Most of the bakers sent entries that eye appeal, taste, volume and light-Polish, Swedish, Italian and French were among some of the most impres-ranged from traditional to innovative.

Davis said she judged the breads on sive breads. Davis said contestants deserve recognition for their creations. They have a passion for what they do," she said. "Some of them are very young women who learned from their grandmothers."

Champions included Mary Glazier, Wichita, for her sheepherder's bread in the seniors category; Elaine Wolfe. Macksville, Kan., for her white or wheat bread in the professionals category; Liz Hibbard, Manhattan, for her braided honey wheat bread in the youth category; and Roberta Dent, Salina, for her Povitica in the adults category.

The Kansas Wheat Commission has existed in Manhattan since 1983 and is funded by wheat farmers. Administrator David Frey said wheat research and development domestically and nationally is conducted on behalf of the farmers.

Frey said much of the research takes place at K-State. He said more than three quarters of the wheat planted in Kansas was developed through K-State research.

395-4444 Gilligans 🖁

10¢ chicken nuggets 4-9 p.m. $1.50 Bud, Bud Lite Michelob Lite, S Bacardi Silver Bottles Dave Oakleaf 8-11

Leasing August

- ·Cambridge Square
- ·Sandstone Apts.
- •1114 Fremont •2000 College Hgts.
- •519 Osage
- ·Fireplaces •Carports •Pool •Private Deck
- ·Laundry Facilities
- · Large 2-bedroom

Units .

CALL NOW 537-9064

> Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera

GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

Love shipwrecked in suburbia! ... Inspired by JAZZ and the American musical

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

Students give their high school principals, counselors advice

Kansay State Collegian

High school principals and counselors had the opportunity Wednesday to spend time with their former students who now attend K-State.

This was the 50th year for the event, said Betsy Kelly, admissions representative for south-central

"This is showing high schools in Kansas that K-State is a personal kind of school," Kelly said. "It helps counselors connect on a personal level with K-State students."

Kelly said the chance for administrators to talk to former students benefits both the high schools and K-State.

She said high schools get feedback about how well-prepared students were, and K-State gets feedback about how to make the transition from high school to college easier.

"We like to see how students are doing and why they like it at K-State," said Rudy Louis, principal at Cimarron High School. "Then we can see what we can do better in high school."

Randy Burwell, counselor at Iola High School, said that although he has colleagues across the country, few have the opportunity to meet with students on such a personal level to help make improvements to their schools.

Besides helping to decide the shape of the curriculum, the event also helped give administrators a better understanding of the K-State campus. "I'm not familiar with the K-State experience because I didn't go here," said Bill Lowry, superintendent and principal of Northern Valley High School. "But I get a good idea of it by coming and talking to students. For students, the event served as an opportunity to catch up with their counselors and to help younger students in the transition

"I came to catch up with him

Jeanel Drake/Co

Jancy Davis, senior in elementary education, talks with her former high school principal Tim Wels, from Westmore High School at the High School Principal and Counselor Conference in Ahearn Field House on Wednesday. The conference gave students the opportunity to visit with their high school leaders.

and give input about K-State life to help high school students," said Calista Malek, junior in animal science and pre-veterinary medicine.

Most students said they thought they could make the transition to college easier for high school students.

"My experience and advice can help incoming freshmen," Annie Reimer, junior in biology, said. "I was unsure of my major, and I'm still unsure of my career. I think a program where students shadow a professional for a day would help lots of students decide what they want to do.'

Tim Weis, principal at Wetmore High School, said a main reason the event is so helpful is that college students feel more comfortable talking honestly about their high school education than they did in high school.

"As a principal, I'm maybe not their favorite person in high school," Weis said. "But after they graduate, they realize I'm not such

7 Americans killed, 11 wounded in U.S.-led assault on al-Qaeda

BY MATT KELLEY The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - After a bloody day of combat for American forces in Afghanistan, with seven killed and 11 wounded. Pentagon officials said a U.S.-led force of about 2,000 would continue fighting dug-in al-Qaeda and Taliban fighters until the enemy were either dead or captured.

The latest American casualties in the five-month-old war came Monday during intense fighting at the opponents' snowy eastern Afghanistan mountain hide-out as two twin-rotor troop-carrying helicopters came under attack. Military officials said the opposition force used machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades.

President Bush said the deaths made him more determined to wipe out al-Oaeda.

"We send our prayers and tears to those whose families have lost life," the president told students and educators at Eden Prairie High School near Minneapolis.

"But I want to assure the students who are here and the loved ones of those military (servicemen), defending freedom is a noble cause and it is a just cause," the president said.

Details on the two helicopter battles were sketchy, and officials initially had said eight U.S. troops had died in the attacks. By late Monday the toll stood at seven dead and 11 wounded.

The U.S. assault, code-named Operation Anaconda, began Friday in the rugged mountains near the Afghan city of Gardez.

Instead of letting local Afghan forces take the lead, U.S. Army soldiers were the vanguard force. pursuing fighters of the al-Qaeda terror network and former ruling Taliban militia to heavily fortified caves and other hide-outs. Afghan, Canadian, Australian, German, Danish, Norwegian and French forces backed up the Americans. In all, 40 U.S. soldiers have been wounded since the operation began Friday. On Saturday, Chief Warrant Officer Stanley Harriman, 34, of Wade, N.C., was killed shortly after the United States began its ground offensive.

U.S. commanders said fighting was fierce and could continue for some time. They estimated the fighting killed between 100 and 200 fighters for al-Qaeda and the Tahnan militia that sheltered operation until those al-Qaeda and Taliban who remain are either surrendered or killed. The choice is theirs," Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld told a Pentagon news conference.

"We intend to continue the Troops and pilots were fighting at elevations from 8,000 feet to 11,000 feet.

Temperatures have dipped to about 15 degrees at night in the snowy peaks Army officials said Apache attack helicopters had been hit with extraordinary amounts of small arms fire but continued their assaults.

French attack jets and U.S. bombers and Air Force AC-130 gunships, armed with howitzers and 40mm cannon, served as the ground troops' airborne artillery.

Details on the two helicopter attacks were sketchy, but officials said the second helicopter was on a rescue mission.

A Central Command spokesman, Marine Maj. Ralph Mills, said an MH-47 Chinook helicopter was flying low on a reconnaissance mission when it was hit with a rocket-propelled grenade that knocked a soldier out of the aircraft and caused a hydraulic problem. The first helicopter landed about a half-mile away, Mills said.

A second MH-47 Chinook helicopter was flying in tandem with the first and rescued the downed crew, then returned to the area where the soldier fell out. The second helicopter dropped troops in that area, and six were killed in a firefight, Mills said.

The second helicopter returned and picked up the dead and wounded, he said. He said the wounded were being treated in a hospital in Afghanistan.

Several officials said the details of the battle may change as more information becomes available.

"The fog of war will persist" until more of the soldiers involved are brought back and debriefed, Army Gen. Tommy Franks, commander of the Central Command, told a news conference in Tampa, Fla., where he is based.

Franks said he watched the subsequent rescue operation that he watched unfold from his Tampa headquarters by video Names of the Americans killed Monday were being withheld until relatives could be notified.

The American deaths underscored not only the dangers in pursuing Bush's declared goal of eliminating Osama bin Laden's al-Qaeda but also the difficulty of assaulting what Pentagon officials say are well-armed and wellorganized pockets of al-Qaeda resistance in eastern Afghanistan.

Gen. Richard Myers, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, disputed suggestions that the U.S. force, which numbered 800 to 900 men and included Army special forces soldiers and members of the 101st Airborne and 10th Mountain divisions, had underestimated al-Qaeda resistance.

URBAN DESIGNS

We are pleased to present the exhibit

YOSHI & FRIENDS

Featuring the Work of Yoshiro Ikada Accompanied by Ester Ikeda, Scott Dooley, Mika Negishi & Inae Balch

MARCH 4-30, 2002

Reception with the Artists

FRIDAY, MARCH 8TH, 5-7 PM

AT: 1204 Moro PH: 539-2563 HRS: M-F 9-6 & Sat 10-6

RELIGION DEBATE

GREG BOYD

MASSIMO PIGLIUCCI

SAT. MARCH 9, 7:00 P.M. - McCAIN

CHRISTIANITY VS. SECULAR HUMANISM

CHI-ALPHA CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

INDIVIDUALS FOR FREETHOUGHT

FREE TO THE PUBLIC

Bottles Coors & Coors Light Burgers Coors will be giving away samples of Woody's ice! come see the Woody's girls Bottles Woody's Ice

#37 GRACIOUSNESS

When you are out driving today, be more courteous.

Give others the right of way and stop and let pedestrians cross the street.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the College of Human Ecology and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

March 26th, 8:00 PM - 105 Umberger

Sexpert (sek' spert) n. one who possesses knowledge regarding sexual health and responsible decision making. Sexpertise (sek sper tez') n. the skill or knowledge of a sexpert.

Battle of the Sexperts!

Sponsored by S.H.A.P.E. and Lafene Health Center

Call for info 532-6595 or go online at www.ksu.edu/lafene/battle.htm

All University Event Free Prizes-T-shirts

Applications due March 11th

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-68731 99s per minute, toucl tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. STUMPED?

CRYPTOQUIP

LHLWJUSCJ MGS QZLM XGL

BLZBL G L

U L E S I K Z D S H L W M W S F D G X .

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: IF AN UNLUCKY DOG
CAN'T BARK AND HAS FLEAS, COULD YOU SAY IT'S HOARSE AND BUGGY?

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: L equals E

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 2! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to

Sounds of autonomy

Autonomous Music is a monthly Collegian feature that reviews only bands on independent labels. This feature will run the last Monday of every month and includes information on how to find the latest independent music.

MIX MASTERS

WHO Jessica Gillan Longhorn's

Jessica Gillan, senior in graphic design, has been a bartender at Longhorn's for six months

DRINK The Hawaiian Hooker

Blue Curacao Coconut Rum Peachtree Pineapple Juice

Pour in shot glass.

Learn to make this drink from the master. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for exclusive video footage

The cast of "Gianni Schiccl" reacts to reading the will. The family members and friends were anxious about the money that would be left.

Singing style: Nichols host to evening of opera

BY JJ DUNCAN

Opera

Friday and

Nichols Theatre

Tickets are $8

for students and seniors, $12 for

McCain Box

Office.

A colorful cast of Malioso-type family members contrasted by the beat generation style of Leonard Bernstein will make up "An Evening of

Two one-act operas will be presented in "An Evening of Opera," opening tonight in Nichols Theatre. "Gianni Schicchi," and "Trouble in Tahiti" are pieces that will give the audience two distinct styles of opera, director Reginald Pittman, assis> tant professor of music, said. "The variety the two give in their styles gives students an opportunity to experience "An Evening of different styles that one big Opera" will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, opera couldn't provide." he Puccini and Forzano's Gianni Schicchi," originally was written in Italian and set in Florence in the 1300s. The version being performed was translated to English and Pittman set the story in the 1980s without changing the script. This is done through characterization and costumes.

The opera tells the story of a wealthy man who has died and outraged his family by leaving most of his money to a monastery. The family hires an impostor to pretend to be the man so that he can manipulate the will. Pittman said "Gianni Schiechi" is a popular comic opera that is good for the cast since it's an ensemble show

Becky Dillon, senior in vocal performance, said she based her character. LaCiesca, on Joan Collins in "Dynasty."

The comedy of the show will catch some people off guard, Dillon said.

"I think when a lot of people think of opera. they think of fat women in breast plates, but this is different," she said. "Trouble in Tahiti," written by Leonard

Bernstein. ("West Side Story") is the story of two people who are challenged by the complacency of suburban life in the 1950s, and how their lack of communication leads to divorce:

The one-act combines several aspects of theater that make it unique for opera, Pittman said. "I think the audience will be surprised to see all that's involved with "Trouble in Tahiti," he said. "They don't expect the dancing and the jazz in it."

The youngest member of the cast, Luke Peterson, fifth-grade student at Lee Elementary, said he was asked to be in "Gianni Schicchi" after Pittman saw him in the title role of a Manhattan Arts Center production of "Oliver."

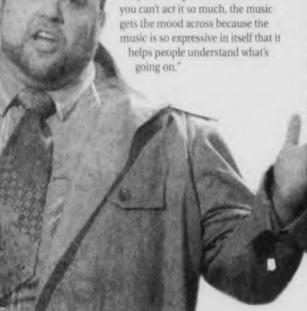

Petersen said he is interested in theater and hopes to pursue it as he grows older.

Petersen said he enjoyed the comedy and the singing involved with the opera, and working with a cast of college students didn't bother him.

"It's fun because I find out about the things that they like, and I learn more from them because they can sing really good," he said. Loren Bunjes, freshman in music education, > said he enjoys opera because he is better at singing than he is acting, so it gives him a chance to express himself through

> > "I love good music, and there are certain things in opera that you'll only find in opera," he said. "Even if you can't act it so much, the music gets the mood across because the

WEB SITES TO WATCH By JJ Duncan

THE SMOKING GUN

www.smokinggun.com

This site offers some of the strangest pieces of news available. Find out everything from what your favorite rock stars require in their dressing rooms to Timothy McVeigh's prison dossier.

THE LANGUAGE MUSEUM

www.language-museum.com

The Language Museum is an archive of 1,200 languages that give samples of each language. The site is a work in progress, and they still need help with some translations.

VIRTUAL PET CEMETERY

www.mycemetery.com/pet/index.html

Consisting of 32 plots so far, this online pet cemetery is the place to go to immortalize your lost pet in cyberspace forever. If you feel like crying, just read through the hundreds of pet remembrances on this site.

THE '80S SERVER

www.80s.com

You think you know the 1980s? Well this site tests your knowledge and offers plenty of interesting facts about the decade of Ronald Reagan, hair bands and Ferris Bueller with games, information and contests.

GOT A FAVORITE WEB SITE?

E-mail it to the A&E editor at arts@spub.ksu.edu

misdirection

FRESHMEN ■ Continued from page 6

-play on defense kept Texas quiet inside.

"I was just trying to be aggressive and just do what the coaches said - box out and rebound and play with intensity," Wecker said.

Rebounding led to more offense. and more offense led to more points for the Cats.

"We just executed and did the things we needed to do on offense to keep putting the ball in the hole and we kept rebounding and playing defense," Wecker said.

When Wecker wasn't scoring. Koehn was.

The redshirt freshman from Hesston, Kan., finished the night with 17 points and extended her NCAA-leading three-point total to 109 with four treys against the

"The posts made some really good passes on in-and-outs, and everyone just set good picks, and we got a lot of the shots we wanted to get," Koehn said. "It was just a matter of executing and doing the things we've been taught to do."

Koehn and Wecker combined for more than 49 percent of the Cats' offense on the night. But when asked if the performance was a result of their postseason-honor snub, the two said it wasn't even a consideration before the contest.

"That might have been in the back of our minds, but it wasn't the priority," Wecker said. "The priority was just to do what we had to do individually to help our team win. That was the primary focus. Koehn agreed.

"I don't think it was really anything that either of us thought about before the game," she said. "We just wanted to come out and play hard and do the things that our team does - get wins and get a chance to play again tomorrow.

ELECTION

Continued from page 1

a winner."

He said the discrepancies do cause some concern, but he believes the outcome is legitimate.

"We are looking into it," he said. "It causes somewhat of a concern, but we are still trying just to confirm the results. We're going to have to look at that as time goes

Bill Muir, Student Senate faculty adviser, said that with only two candidates a winner must be

COOK ■ Continued from page 1

Cook said he and Kohman were both frustrated with the politics of the process of becoming student body president and vice president.

"When someone chooses a running mate to showcase in front of certain student body groups, the process is wrong," Cook said. "Todd and I ran together because we were friends and agreed on the issues. We never had to sit down and decide what our issues were, we think about them all the time."

Cook said he was disappointed in other aspects of Wolters' campaign.

"Matt is qualified, but I am disappointed in his issues." Cook said, Cook said he feels election processes should be handled differently in the future.

He felt the vendor K-State used, iballot.com, was poor.

"The K-State administration, including President Wefald, needs to strive to keep all future election processes in house," Cook said. "We need to run the election through K-State."

Kohman tried to stay positive, thanking his supporters.

"I'm really thankful for all of our supporters." Kohman said.

played scared.

Cats by two.

Well. I am not going to touch any games if the Cats can make it past that. Hopefully I haven't jinxed them enough already. But you have to have confidence in your school.

Following K-State all year, I know what this team is capable of. And I has confidence in themselves right

Sean is a junior in electronic

"There has to be somebody that is certified of being elected tonight," Muir said Wednesday night. "Abstentions are not votes."

Cook, however, said that although abstentions normally are classified as a no vote, in this election, the abstain option was a conscious decision by the voter.

"It was a choice on the ballot," he said. "It's like a third party candidate. They are actual votes. You can't say their votes didn't count."

Cook also said it is not clarified in the elections regulations if abstentions are to be counted as

WOMEN

■ Continued from page 6

and entered the intermission up 40-21.

"I certainly could never have certainly felt comfortable to go in half with that kind of lead, but we weren't at all thinking that Texas wouldn't

"In this league, three or four possessions can change a basketball

But if the Horns were relying on big game in two or three minutes."

second halves from their top two scorers, Heather Schreiber and Stacy

Stephens, they were in for a long wait.

Stephens and Schreiber, who averaged a combined 28 points coming in, finished with just 12.

Stephens especially had a difficult first frame.

time shaking the K-State zone in the

"Whenever one of us would be fronting her, somebody else would be behind her so they couldn't get a lob somebody always put a body into her.

sophomore managed just nine points

"She was definitely a priority

Ohlde said. "She's got the ability to do a lot of things, and what she did to us down in Austin we couldn't let her do

K-State will look for another solid defensive effort tonight against Big 12

Player of the Year Stacey Dales and

Oklahoma. The Cats and Sooners tip

ONE TUX FREE FOR EVERY SIX PAID RENTALS

Marie's

TUXEDOS

7095 ANY

Oscar de la Renta
 After 6

. Christian Dior

defending Big 12 champion

because she's such a great player."

Stephens scored 33 and collected into her," sophomore Nicole Ohlde said. "Whenever a shot went up,

17 rebounds in the teams' Jan. 30 matchup, but on Wednesday the and seven boards.

again tonight.

come right back at us.

expected that," Patteson said, "It

pretation," he said. "We need to see what really needs to be said. There needs to be a clarification drawn."

After hearing of the controversy. Wolters said he believes he won legitimately.

"The code is clarified by inter-

Every individual person had the opportunity to vote for student body president, obviously some chose not to," he said. "We did receive the majority of those who chose to vote.

Achilles pointed out that in order to vote for any position. voters were required to check abstain if they chose not to vote for one of the tickets because of the setup of the ballot.

"If a student didn't want to vote for student body president, they didn't have a choice not to vote for that," she said.

"I think we got the majority for a reason. We have been out talking to students and students believe in what we believe in.' Cook said another concern was the fact that the election code states "appropriate blank spaces shall be included for every office for write-in candidates."

However, write-in candidates were not an option on the general election ballot for president.

Wolters said voters could abstain

if they didn't support the two listed candidates and, therefore, write-inswere not needed.

"That's a legitimate concern," he said.

"Those that cast their ballots could abstain or vote for the two tickets that moved on from the primary.

However, Wolters said the margin of his win should not

"Whether the election is won by less than 1 percent or by a margin greater than that, the students have spoken," he said.

"The majority of students cast their ballots for Matt and Mandy."

2002 elections results continued from page 3

Total Write Ins	264
Abstain	1505

Union Governing Board (2-year) Josha Sturgis Todd Kohman Total Write Ins

Benefit From SafeRide?

No 526 Abstain 447

Utilize SafeRide?

No 1195 Abstain 484

$2 per semester for SafeRide?

No 909 Abstain 459

Agriculture Council Secretary Denise George

Tim Pratte Agriculture Council Treasurer

Total Write Ins Agriculture Council Activities

Director Kyle Olson

Abstain Agriculture Council Public Relations

Ben Winsor

Engineering College Council -President

Jennifer Beach

1477

158

Engineering College Council -External VP

Engineering College Council -

Internal VP

Engineering College Council - VP Finance Office

College Of Vet Medicine STUDENT SENATE, VET MEDICINE

No candidates Abstain Write Ins

374

PURCELL

Continued from page 6

for any team. But more than that, K-State hung with the Sooners for all but five minutes in that game. If it wasn't for Jason Detrick having the game of his life, K-State just might have pulled the upset of the year.

But I will give it to Oklahoma. however. The Sooners are playing much better basketball than they did in mid-February. This would be a tough game to win for K-State.

Don't count out the Cats, though. Oklahoma's trying to play perfect right now, and that has its downfalls. When there's a lot of pressure on a team to perform well in order to get a better seed, they sometimes

K-State knows what it's like to have to play for a better seed. And we saw what happened there. It will be close, but K-State will pull it out by hitting a couple free throws.

know Coach Jim Wooldridge's squad journalism. You can e-mail him at spu5598@ksu.edu.

WINNETONKA MOCCASIN for Men and Women NOW SAVE 25% QUALITY ◆ STYLE ◆ COMFORT ◆ VALUE

MANHATTAN SHOE REPAIR

776-1193 216 S. 4th

8-5:30 M-F 8-1:00 SAT.

Ramblers STEAK HOUSE & SALOON Thursday Night Specials 12 oz. USDA Choice Top Sirloin

Choice of potato, salad and all for $7.99 + tax

"The Couples Special" 8711 E. Hwy. 24

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

Call Matt at (785)587-9460. (785)341-4404.

For Rent-Unfurnished

remodel. Washer/ dryer hook-up, central air, 1836 $475. (785)336-6286 or (785)770-0062

ACROSS FROM Marlatt apartments. Private parking. Available April or May. Also June and August leases. No pets.

(785)539-0549. AVAILABLE JUNE. Twobedroom duplexes, some with washer and dryer hookups, some with basements off-street parking. One-half block from KSU campus.

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bed-room apartment, 1230 Claflin across from Ford Hall. 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice, large one-bedroom apart ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, laundromat. $340 (785)539-2482

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid, $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496.

ONE-BEDROOM apartments, 1030 Keamey

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

NEED TO RENT. As soon ONE, THREE, four, or fiveas possible, by April 1. bedroom apartments/ hous-Two-bedroom, 1832 Claflin es. Central heat/ air-condi-Apartment 8. Close to cam-pus. $490 per month. Wa-pets. Close to campus. selection and price is NOW.

> ONE, TWO and three-bedroom apartments close to campus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

A TWO-BEDROOM, Recent THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT, close to cam-pus, June lease. Water, trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296.

TWO, THREE, four bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry fa-

(785)537-1746. TWO-BEDROOM EAST of University. (785)539-2857.

Rooms Available

ROOM FURNISHED or unturnished. Four blocks to college. $175/ MONTH. (785)770-3190. 930

THREE BEDROOMS close to campus. June or August lease. 911 N. 11th. $220/ Washer/ Trash/ water paid One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake (785)539-4904.

For Rent-Houses

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available Aaron at (816)847-7195 June (785)539-1177

For Rent-

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apart-(785)341-6091

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

dishwasher and garbage

disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

these beautiful, spacious

wanted one block off cam-

(785)776-0997 or e-mail at

ROOMMATE WANTED.

Close to campus. June or

August lease, 911 N. 11th

$220/ month. Washer/ dryer, trast/ water paid One-fifth utilities. Call Jo or Jake

Great second-story apart-ment. Washer/ dryer, trash/water paid Cheap utilities.

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for

the summer. NICE HOUSE,

close to campus. $265/

we kick

ads.

Call (785)323-0990

month Call Matt at

elw3838@ksu.edu

(785)539-4904.

ROOMMATE

(785)587-9882

Sublease

150

ROOMMATE

WANTED.

145

Roommate

Wanted

FEMALE

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four ed 824 Laramie. Dishwash central air, washer/ dry-yard. $265/ each plus and deposit (785)539-3672.

FOR RENT: 1709 Vaughn three-bedroom plus study June 1 $875. Call Jack Ryan, 9am- 5pm al 785)776-1214 or (785)776-

FOR RENT: Available August 1, 815 Kearney. Three bedroom. $775. Cal (785)776-7706 or (785)776-1214. FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE

central air, off-street park-ing, three blocks from campus and Aggieville Gr condition $1120. (785)776-

MALE ROOMMATES want ed to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washer/ dryer provided, free offstreet parking and furnished rooms. No smoking or drinking in house. Low utilities. Cable, phone. Ethernel in Call Matt (785)532-9909

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bed room houses. Also one and two-bedroom apartments June and August leases. No pets. (785)539-0549.

THREE-, FOUR-, five-bedroom houses for rent. close street parking air condi-tioned Available June and August. Call (785)456-7900.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE and three-bedroom duplex available June 1st and August 1st. Nice condiion (785)539-7394

For Rent-

TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING NICE. room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study, family room. One-car garage close to downtown, bedroom, east of THREE-BEDROOM, KSU. KSU. Three-bedroom, west drinking/ pets. (785)539-1554

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four-MOBILE HOME FOR RENT five bedroom house. Locat-ed 824 Laramie. Dishwash-2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and er, central air, washer/ drythree-bedroom homes availyard. $265/ each plus and deposit. home. Homes all come with (785)539-3672. central air, washer, dryer, BRAND NEW four-bedroom two bath with washer/ dryer se to campus. No pets. $1100 per month. June 1 ease, (785)539-2356.

FEMALE ROOMMATES wanted to share a five-bedroom, two and one-half bath townhouse, very nice, partly furnished, central air, washer and dryer provided, no pets, no smoking, $212/ Call Kirsten or month plus one-fifth of low (785)587-9073 utilities. Call 785-336-2313 after 5 p.m. pus, $250 plus one-third util-ities. Contact Ericka at

FOUR-BEDROOM, bath, dishwasher, central laundry hook-ups pets. June lease. Keamey. $1100. (785)556-5668

FOUR-BEDROOM, bath, dishwasher, air, laun dry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1605 Leavenworth $1100. (785)556-5668.

FOUR-BEDROOM TWO bath, washer/ dryer hookup, no pets or smokers. 1016 Thurston, $1,200 plus utilites. June lease. (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM DU-PLEX, campus area. June lease Central air, washer/ dryer hook-ups. No pets. (785)539-5627.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE available August Close to Aggieville. Off-street parking, central air, high speed internet, no pets no smoking. (785)313-6084 THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE for rent two blocks from the college, $750 a month, 1112 Thurston.

(913)829-0985 THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier. August lease (785)776-4805

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bathroom. Dishwasher, central air, laundry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1921 College Heights. $250/ bedroom. (785)556-5668

THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. $840 plus utilities. (785)776-4805

Houses

THREE, FOUR, five and six bedroom houses for sale Close to campus. Better than renting. For complete call Larry at (785)317-7713 Century 21 Knight Real Estate.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

room, two bathroom. Many new features, washer/ dryer, nice deck Lot number 544 Colonial Gardens, $16,500 negotiable, available May

Roommate Wanted

> NEAT, NON-SMOKING temale looking for roommate for two-bedroom apartment. need to contact as soon (620)341-4563 ashley harbison@hotmail.c ext. 160. ROOMMATE WANTED. Rent $225 per month plus one-third ca-Second ble and electric room available in May. Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu. WANTED: ROOMMATE(S) male/ female, to lease bedment. Rent $230/ month Lease until August. Available immediatly. Lovated across from Footbail Stadi-

Sublease

FEMALE SUBLEASER, one furnished room in furnished apartment as soon as possi-Sunday at

NICE TWO year old, fourbedroom/ two bath duplex finals through July, Nice lo-cation, washer and dryer. Rent negotiable. (785)323-

SUMMER SUBLEASE for one-bedroom apartment. $250/ month. Please call (785)770-3167 apartment for rent. June 1 lease or sublease for summer. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Water/ trash paid. (785)565-

Sublease

READY NOW! March paid $240/ month, one-third of utilities. Nice place. Close Call evenings (784)770-8504. SUBLEASE NEEDED for room apartment close to campus. $520/ month, price Please call (785)539-7735. SUMMER APARTMENT sublease. Two bedroom, one and one-half bath, close to campus. (785)323-0608, (913)681-2480 SUMMER SUBLEASERS wanted for nice two-bedroom apartment close to

service directory

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

220 1

SPRING BREAK is near Loose that extra 10 pounds and keep it off. Increased START TODAY! (785)776-

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted

SSSS SUMMER JOBS SSSS YOU'LL be close to Kansas City this summer and with the potential to make a lot of $$, consider working at cleaning experience refor College Pro Painters.
You'll have fun working out: $6.50 per hour with the op-You'll have runside and with your friends. If side and with your friends. If raise after 90 days.

Road, Marhattan, KS. 6502.

e-mail

Equal

$250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per- overnight camp in the moun son equal opportunity in tains southwest of Denver securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which door skills, crafts, nature, he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, dance and drama). June 1 sex, military status, disa-early August. MAKE A DIF sex, military status, disa-bility, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-ary, room, meals, health intry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City or

The Collegian cannot verisuch employment opporcaution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977-

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-Training provided (866)291-1884 extension

BARTENDERS NEEDED! Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No experience neces-sary. Call (866)291-1884

BLUEVILLE NURSERY is accepting applications for FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top part-time and full-time temporary employees to work at tiful Maine. Counselors to the garden store. Must have coach all sports. Tennis, plant knowledge, retail ex-perience and be available at least 20 hours per week biking, archery, and more. Monday- Friday, 8:00 am- Work outdoors, have a great 6:00 pm and all day Satur- summer. 888-844-8080 or 6:00 pm and all day Satur-day. Apply in person at Blueville Nursery, Inc., 4539 Anderson. EOE.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Swimsuit Calendar s, Photographers, Designers

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Counselors and many other positions. June 1- August 4. Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 1-800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

dale, KS. Seeking energetic Summer Camp Counselors. Program Directors, Waterfront and Wrangler staff. (620)273-8641 or

Help Wanted

ONE-BEDROOM CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Seaor year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com

> FARM HELP wanted. Expe rience necessary Summer, Spring and Fall. Call (785)457-3452 or (785)457-3713. FRATERNITIES. SORORI

TIES+ CLUBS+ STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 -$2000 with the easy Cam pusfundraiser.com the summer for two-bedfundraising event Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call todayl Contact Campus-fundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campus fundraiser.com

HEAD LIFEGUARD needed Red Cross certified. Apply in Monday, April 8, 2002 10am person before March 18 to to 4:00pm in the K-State Un-Manhattan Country Club, 1531 N. 10th. Some food campus, $270/ month each. or Julianne at and beverage responsibili-

> HORIZON CAMPS. Are you a dynamic, energetic, com passionate motivated indi-RIENCE OF A LIFETIME? If so, then Horizon Camps is the place for you. Horizon made up of five OUTSTANDING co-ed sum mer camps, seeking AMAZ ING staff to work with IN-CREDIBLE kids ranging in age from 7 to 15. Located in Maine and West Virginia. positions are available in the areas of group leading, athsports, outdoor education formation and to complete an application please con

5448. HOW TO make $5000 per week for the rest of your life Learn how. For free informa tion, send self addressed stamped envelope to: JAdelhardt, 1228 Westloop PMB 187, Manhattan, KS 66502 tact us... www.horizon-

camps.com. (800)544-

IT'S GREEK TO ME. Inc. I looking for a cleaning fanat ic. This part-time position will be 3 hours a day (prefare interested in a great job erably from 5-8pm) Monday-

LIVE AND WORK IN COL ORADO! Be a COUNSELOR at Girl surance. travel allowance

rhondam@gsmhc.org. NEED SUMMER Harvest fy the financial potential of help! Run New Case Com-advertisements in the Em-bines 2388's and New Auto-ployment/Career classifi-matic Tandem Grain Trucks. cation. Readers are ad- Need Commercial Drivers vised to approach any License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li tunity with reasonable cense. Provide room and board and excellent salary

PART TIME student positions Prefer freshmen or knowledge or experience. Six hours/ week for Spring 2002. More hours in Fall 2002. Apply at Educat Supportive Services, 201

PART-TIME STUDENT position, prefer freshman sophomore, peer-mentoring relping experience. study a plus. 10 hours/ week, Spring 02, More hours Fall 02 Apply at Educational Supportive Services, 201 Holton Hall.

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE baseball, basketball, water apply www.campcedar.com

RIDE HORSES IN COLO RADO! Be part of the west em riding staff at Girl Scout overnight camp southwest of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive salary, room, meals, trave allowance. Late May- early 2002. (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or rhondam@gsmhc.org. SALES, LOCAL Company is looking for a money-moti vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance in cluding quota over achieve ment. Applicants must have prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more. Email resume in Microsoft Word or text format to fun loving students as counselors in all team sports in-cluding Roller Hockey and Lacrosse, all individual sports such as Tennis and Golf, Waterfront and Pool activities, and specialty activities including art, dance, theater, gymnastics, news paper, rocketry and radio GREAT SALARIES, room board, travel and United States summer work visa June 19-August 16. Enjoy a great summer that promises to be unforgettable. Apply Now! For more information: MAH-KEE-NAC 1-800-753-9118; DANBEE www.campdanbee.com ion, Room 209. TWENTY THIRTY HOURS Horticultural weekends. and/ or retail experience preferred. Pick up application at Eastside or Westside markets

Help Wanted SUMMER CAMP COUNSE-LORS ON CAMPUS IN-TERVIEWS FOR PREMIER CAMPS IN MASSACHU-SETTS. Positions available

(Girls): 1-800-392-3572. In

WANTED Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Moun-tains. Come work for the largest horse operation in North America. Visit our website to us at 3300 Airport Road

WILDWOOD-TIAL camp south of Kansas City seeks qualified counselors to lead educational and recreational activities. June-August $1700 plus room and board. (913)757-4500

wildwood@peoplestelecom

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifi cation. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportuni tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau 501 SE Jefferson. KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

market

Items for Sale

BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays (Translated to English) Please visit http:// ii_chungwang tripod.com

and dryer $50, Amana (785)539-0180

Automobiles

1989 MERCURY Cougar Looks good, runs good 128,000 miles, $1,500. Call (785)587-0560.

1993 FORD Probe GT brakes. 67K, surroof, excelbest offer. (785)323-0011

1994 RANGER Splash good condition, 84K. Call 1995 DODGE Ram extended cab. 4x2, red and grey. Automatic, 98K miles Must sell. $9000. Cal $9000 Call (785)770-8810 1995 FORD Probe, auto matic. Very clean. Red, 95K, $4,050, negotiable, 1994 Mitsubishi Galant ES, auto matic, leather, (785)770-9218 erol1421@ksu.edu

HONDAS FROM $500! Police impound. For listing

Motorcycles

1994 KX 125 on display at

Synder's Honda. Will sell or rocket. (785)539-8942.

travel

Spring

SPRING BREAK Cancun & Jamaica 40 hrs FREE Drinks! 429 Panama City 149 LOWEST PRIN NOW! SPACE IS LIMITED

ClassifiedRATES

1.800.SUNCHASE

1 DAY 20 words or less $7.50 each word over 20

20c per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less $8.80 each word over 20

25¢ per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less $10.35

each word over 20 30c per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45

35c per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20

40¢ per word

( consecutive day rate )

each word over 20

TO PLACE AN AD

Go to Kedzie 103 (across from the K-State Student Union) Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student Publications Inc. Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly

classify any ad.

FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three

CORRECTIONS

days free of charge.

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us before noon the day before the ad is to be published.

HEADLINES For an extra charge,

we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

Announcements

Flying Club has five airplanes, lowest rates For ACADEMY OF BARTEND-ING. Have fun, make m

ble. Job placement assis lance, $199 with student ID 1/800)BARTEND www.bartendingcollege.com Charles W. (Chuck) Harpe 25 years experience.

(785)539-8100

or weekend classes availa

GRAD FAIR. Take care your graduation needs at the Union Bookstore, Marc 8, 10a.m - 4p.m and irch 9, 10a.m - 1p.m. Come and order your Grad-

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE

chuckharper@msn.com

020 to-Go package.

Lost and Found Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

Terrier, black and gold, Last een near Ratone street.

Gomes to "Gizmo". Call (785)539-5256. 030

Personals We require a form of picture ID (KSU, driver's cense or other) when placing a personal

MODELS

perms, contact Hair Expert's

real estate

Cost something? You can place an ad FREE for three days!

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished tion on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2440. One-bedroom studio fur-nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

Pomeroy. $330 deposit. Water and trash paid. (785)456-2812. No pets. al verse Class all The commons"

> Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished ·2 & 4 Bedroom *Alarm System

*Swimming Pool ·Washer/Dryer Computer Lab *Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

Tennis Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-5, 539-0500

*COMMONS*

APARTMENTS

INIVERSITY

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

ONE or two-bedroom $385, two blocks to campus. Available June 1. 1026 Bluemont. Cornerplace apartments. Daily showings at 4:30 p.m. Short and long-term leases. (785)539-1713.

ACROSS FROM Aggieville, next to campus, 1112 Blue-mont. Two-bedroom, offstreet parking, trash paid, low utilities. Available August 1. (785)776-0683. AVAILABLE AUGUST

Two-bedroom, air-conditi washer and dryer. $475.

No Pets. Year lease.

110 For Rent-

Unfurnished

campus with great prices (785)537-6017 www.beloose.com/linwood CLEAN ONE-BEDROOM apartment two blocks from campus $250 a month.

0985. FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO baths, close to campus. Central air, appliances, washer/ dryer, off-street parking August 1, $1200. Call (785)537-8420.

FOUR-BEDROOMS: 1806 Laramie, 1124 Ratone, 316 North 11th. Two-bedroo 928 Leavenworth 426 Vattier, 1620 Fairview. No pets no smoking. (785)539-0590. LEASING FOR ALL. Two bedroom and three-bed-room, one block from campus, laundry Excellent loca-tion, condition (785)776-4166 or closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks NEXT TO campus- one two, three-bedroom houses, apartments. Central air, parking, free washer/ dryer Available August. (785)537-7050 ONE BEDROOM, close to mpus (June). (785)539 ONE, TWO and three-bedroom apartments. Close to campus. June and August eases. No pets. Call 785)539-1975 or (785)776-bedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apartments (785)776-3663 (24urs). One-half mile from KSU at the comer of College and Claffin, Manhattan ONE-BEDROOM $405. 1225 Claffin Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan dio furnished, 1219 Claffin no pets. (785)539-5627.

ONE-BEDROOM ACROSS rom campus, June 1 lease. $395 per month. Call John. (785)539-2357. ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX.

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810. ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets 1523 Pierre smokers. $285.00 plus utilities gust lease. (785)776-4805 AVAILABLE AUGUST, Two, three, four, five, and six-bedrooms. Close to cam-PARK PLACE APART-MENTS Cable paid. One, Two, Three-bedrooms. (785)539-2951.

1101 For Rent-Unfurnished

Manhattan City Ordinance AVAILABLE NOW, summer ONE-BEDROOM, WASH-4814 assures every per- and fall very nice one, two, ER/ DRYER, no pets or son equal opportunity in three, four, five, six-bed- smokers. 515 Vattler. housing without distinc- room apartments. Close to $305.00 plus utilities. August lease (785)776-4805.

> SPACIOUS TWO and threebedroom, close to campus. Central air, laundry facilities, and August. (785)539-0366. THREE AND Four-bed rooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537-THREE-BEDROOM. pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities. ugust lease (785)776-

TWO-BEDROOM BASE

MENT apartment, close to no smoking or pets, water trash and cable paid, $420 (785)776-9590. TWO-BEDROOM, NO pets smokers. 624 Blue

Now Leasing 1 BR From $470

2 BR From $570

$500.00 plus utilities.

Rooms

Available

For Rent-

Houses

(785)539-2357

FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. okay, short-term s. Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138.

FOUR AND Five bedrooms available June 1. Close to campus. (785)539-4641. FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE, August 1 lease, $1000 per month, no pets. Call John at

CAMP WOOD YMCA, Elm-

campwood@bulldognet.com

morgan@civicplus.com. EOE.

GOIN' TO KANSAS CITY

The 2002 Big 12 Men's Basketball Tournament kicks off today at Kemper Arena in Kansas City, Mo. Below is a breakdown of the first

No. 9 Colorado vs. No. 8 Nebraska When: noon today

Head-to-head this season: Jan. 12 - Colorado, 57 at NU, 65 Feb. 5 - Nebraska, 61 at CU, 84

Colorado (14-13, 5-11) has lost six of its last seven games, with its lone win coming against the Cornhuskers (13-14, 6-10). Meanwhile, NU split its last four contests, and lost the tournament's seventh-seed after losing 67-58 Saturday at K-State. Collegian pick: Buffaloes by three

No. 12 Texas A&M vs. No. 5 Texas Tech

When: 2:20 p.m. today Head-to-head this season Jan. 9 – Tech, 72 at A&M, 70 Feb. 23 – A&M, 53 at Tech, 74

The Skinny: The Big 12 Tournament welcomes Coach Bobby Knight as Texas Tech (21-7, 10-6) faces the worst team in the league in Texas A&M (9-21, 3-13). The Aggies are losers of nine Collegian pick: Tech in a blowout

No. 10 Baylor vs. No. 7 K-State When: 6 tonight Head-to-head this season: Jan. 16 - K-State, 70 at Baylor, 73

K-State (12-15, 6-10) is .500 in its last six games, and Saturday's win over Nebraska clinched its highest Big 12 Tournament seed since 1999. Baylor (14-15, 4-12) hasn't won a game in almost a month, dropping six straight, including a 91-89 loss to Texas Tech on Saturday. Collegian pick: K-State by five

No. 11 Iowa State vs. No. 6

en: 8:20 tonight Head-to-head this season: Jan. 9 — Missouri, 67 at ISU, 71 Feb. 6 - ISU, 73 at Missouri 76 The Skinny:

Mizzou's three-point loss to Kansas on Sunday denied the Tigers (20-10, 9-7) a first-round bye in the tourney, setting up tonight's matchup with lowa State (12-18, 4-12). The Cyclones were top-seeds the past two years, winning the title in 2000. Collegian pick: Mizzou big

Winner Game 1 vs. No. 1 Kansas n: noon Friday

Kansas (27-2, 16-0) rolled through the league this year, becoming the first team in Big 12 history to go undefeated in conference play.

Game 6 Winner Game 2 vs. No. 4 ma State en: 2:20 p.m. Friday The No. 12 Cowboys (23-7, 10-6) getting the final bye in the Big 12

Tournament with a 15-point win over Texas A&M on Saturday.

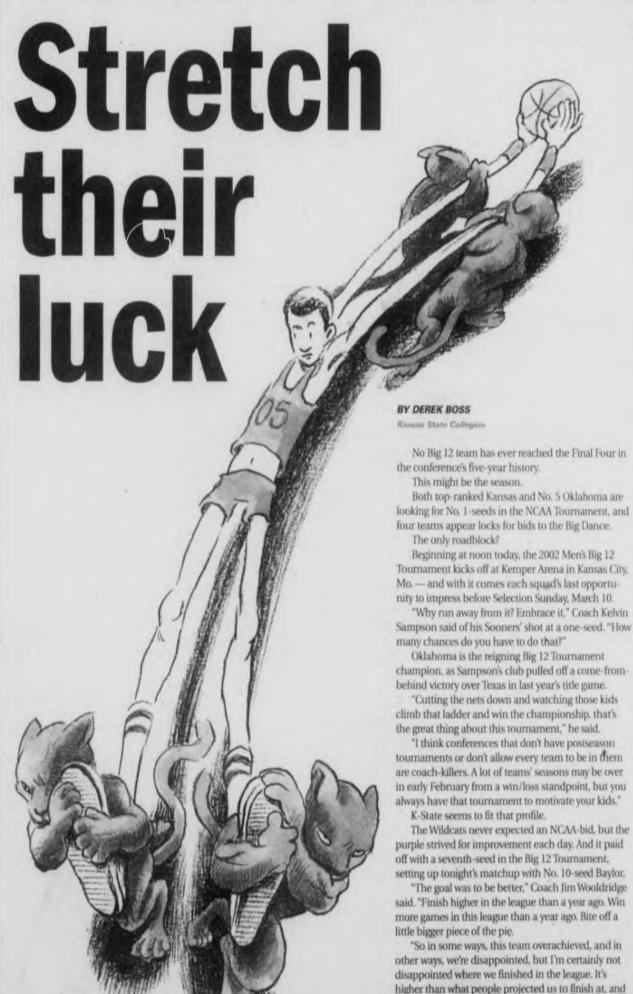

Game 7 Winner Game 3 vs. No. 2 m: 6 p.m. Friday

The Skinny: Last year's Big 12 Tournament champion, No. 5 Oklahoma (24-4, 13-3), was the closest team to Kansas, and the Sooners have won nine of their last 10 games.

per Game 4 vs. No. 3 Texas m: 8:20 p.m. Friday

With a three-point win over lowa State on Saturday, Texas (19-10, 10-6) earned a first-round bye for

If the 12-15 Wildcats hope to compete in the Big 12 Tournament, they might need to

ABOVE: K-State coach Jim Wooldridge was ejected during the Wildcats game against Kansas on Feb. 4 at Bramlage Collseum. TOP OF PAGE: Freshman forward Marcello Da Barrosa stretches for a rebound

Wooldridge's early record shows progress

Kansas State Collegion

Coach Jim Wooldridge's philosophy always has been improvement.

In two years at the helm, K-State's leader has taken the Cats from the cellar of the nation's toughest conference to a seventh place finish, scoring the same number of Big.12 wins in 2001-02 that the Wildcats had in the last two seasons combined. At 23-33 overall and 10-22 in conference after two seasons, Wooldridge has brought in bigger recruits to try and reshape a once-storied program into a squad that can compete with the top teams in the Big 12.

Most of that progress has been made of late.

"I think it is a real credit to these guys," Wooldridge said. "We weren't fighting for the conference title, but we were fighting for a bigger piece of the pie, and the way we've played - we've hopscotched some teams, and it was big for these kids to hang in and finish where they did.

"That's not to say that the goal is to finish in the lower echelon of this league - but we know that this team is not an upper echelon team yet. Everyone knew that. The goal was to be better than last year, finishing higher and win more games in the league. They did that."

Now that K-State has momentum, Wooldridge said the sky could be the limit for this young team.

'Who knows about next year right now,' Wooldridge said. "You would like to think that the guys returning next year will be better and teach new players that this is the level of competition we want.

"We don't want to go down, and I think based on the regular season the players on this team can take an attitude into the spring, summer and fall that we can do more and work towards improving."

Larry Reid

senior

■ 6-0, 170 lbs.

14.4 ppg, 5.4 apg Reid is the cornerstone to the Cats' offense. The saying, "So goes Reid, so goes K-State" has been the case for most of the season. In last year's Big 12 tournament, Reid scored 21 points on 10-of-21 shooting in K-State's win over Nebraska. But in a quarter-final loss to Kansas, Reid was just 4 of 13 from the field as K-State suffered a 94-63 defeat to the No. 9 Jayhawks.

Brent Engstrom/Collegian

Nick Williams

■ 6-4, 180 lbs. ■ 8.5 ppg, 2.7 rpg

K-State's strongest true freshman has been everything Coach Jim Wooldridge could have possibly wanted out of his newcomer from Mansfield, Texas. Williams has scored double figures in five of his last seven games, shooting more than 50 percent in those contests. The freshman has started 23 of 27 games for the Cats this

Phineas

senior ■ 6-1, 170 lbs.

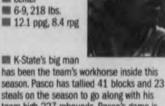

they can win some more games."

Despite starting just three games this year, Atchison has been the Cats' go-to bench player. The senior from Greenville, III., leads the team with 41 three-pointers, shooting 37 percent from behind the arc. Atchison has assumed a sixth-man role ever since his emergence to the Cats in 2000. Atchison and Reid are K-State's biggest threats from long

Pervis

they're still alive, they still believe and they still think

Pasco

has been the team's workhorse inside this season. Pasco has tallied 41 blocks and 23 steals on the season to go along with his team high 227 rebounds. Pasco's game is around the basket, as 92 offensive rebounds have led to several secondchance points for the Wildcats. Pasco is in his first year out of Pensacola Junior

Matt Siebrandt

6-8, 240 lbs. 7.7 ppg, 3.8 rpg

Siebrandt has come alive for the Cats, after a lackluster start to the season. The junior from Reno, Nev., scored double digits in three of his first 13 outings but has since racked up double figures in 10 of his last 14 games. Siebrandt's last 16 games have produced nearly 11 points a contest for K-State on close to a 50 percent shooting clip from the

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 8, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Ka

m. Volume 106, Number 111 www.kstatecollegian.com

Wildcats win in overtime

Alumni to discuss finances of Greek Affairs

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansas State Collegian

Several alumni have accused Greek Affairs of mismanaging its money. including student and chapter dues.

Findings from an agreed-upon procedures report, which is basically a partial audit, are at the center of the conflict. The report, which was prepared by Clubine and Retelle, of Salina, named several internal problems but found no gross mismanagements of funds. It reviewed the years 1997, 1998 and 2000.

Alumni will address their concerns to Greek Affairs officers at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Union Big 12 Room.

The audit is the result of two years of pressure from alumni, who say they wanted an idea of how the office was spending student money. Greek Affairs said its local accounting firm advised officers that it was not necessary and was a waste of money. Eventually, alumni and Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils agreed to split the bill.

The report, which was completed in January, made several recommendations.

One of the most significant is that Greek Affairs form a joint committee of alumni and students to oversee finances. It stated that complex and costly decisions are made by individuals who might not realize the long-term effects of those decisions. Students now run nearly every facet of the office, including the budget.

Adviser Barb Robel said the office does seek accounting help from a local firm.

but it is a student-run operation. Greek Affairs receives only space and phone lines from the university. She said it was up to the students whether they wanted to look into a joint committee.

"Alumni have many other opportunities to be involved in IFC and Panhellenic," she said.

Charlie Hostetler, who has been a major proponent of more alumni involvement, said Greek Affairs needs profes-

"It still should be student-run, but it is obvious from the financial perspective, the students need help," he said. "It hasn't been run properly."

Hostetler is referring to several problems, he said. First, the office's budget is $11,000 in deficit for 2000.

However, Robel said it was a one-time thing that the accounting firm suggested. The office dipped into its reserves to purchase a video on recruitment to show to parents and prospective students. Robel said the office is not in financial

"This simply is not true," she said. "Both councils have very healthy bank accounts."

IFC dues are $17 per fraternity member and $75 per chapter per semester. Panhellenic dues are $16 per sorority member and $65 per sorority chapter per semester. There are 24 fraternities and 11 sororities at K-State. These dues pay for Robel's salary.

GREEK AFFAIRS PAGE 12

Acting out

Josh Siders, senior in biology, and Steve Chudy, freshman in theater, represent 6th annual variety show put on by fraternities and sororities Thursday night.

Drew Rose/

6th Annual Wildcat Variety Show raises money for charities

Kanasa Starn Cullegian

College-aged men wearing white oxford shirts and underwear skidded across the McCain Auditorium stage several times Thursday night at the 6th Annual Wildcat Variety Show. The actors were impersonating Tom Cruise in the 1980s movie "Risky Business"

The variety show is put on each year by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority. This year's theme was "That '80s Show" and featured 11 fraternities and seven sororities.

This year's winners were Chi Omega sorority and FarmHouse fraternity. The winners were chosen by a panel of judges including KSDB-FM 91.9 disc jockey "Big O" and K-State football player Ben Leber.

Each participating house made up a skit that coincided with the theme. They were given a list of movie phrases and songs from the '80s.

To qualify to win the competition. groups were to incorporate at least five of the phrases and one of the songs into their skit.

The variety show raised more than $9,000 this year. All proceeds went to four charities: the American Cancer Society, the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, the Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts, and Dream Factory.

ATO and Pi Phi raised money by charging an entry fee and selling T-shirts. There were also many sponsors of the

"Usually we raise four to $5,000 but it was quite a bit more this year," Sobek

Members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity portray Ghost Busters during the variety show at McCain Auditorium which themed shows of the 1980s.

"We had more sponsors and sold more shirts. We sold close to 1,200 shirts." Prizes included gift certificates to Chipotle and a traveling trophy.

See VARIETY on PAGE 12

Bush asks Israelis, Palestinians to follow 'road map to peace'

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Bush sent Middle East envoy Anthony Zinni back to the region Thursday seeking to halt the spiraling violence but acknowledging there are no assurances the move would lead to a resumption of peace talks.

"That's not going to prevent our government from trying," Bush told reporters in the Rose Garden as he announced the step. "I'm deeply concerned about the tragic loss of life and the escalating violence," he said.

Bush called on Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat to make a "maximum effort to end terrorism against Israel." He also called on Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon and others on Israelis. "to do everything they can" to end the violence.

Bush decided to dispatch Zinni to the troubled region after his national security team advised that more direct U.S. involvement could help break a cycle of Palestinian suicide bombings and Israeli reprisals.

Bush suggested the best path back to diplomacy was for both sides to embrace a truce plan put forth last year by CIA Director George Tenet. Under the proposal, Israel would lift its sweeping travel bans on Palestinians and pull back troops to positions they held before fighting broke out.

The Palestinians would be required to go after suspected militants and prevent attacks

Bush called that plan "a road map to peace."

"Our strategy is a well-thought-out strategy," Bush said. "It's one that reminds both parties there is an obligation to seek

Vice President Dick Chency, who will visit the region next week, joined Bush and said that the rising violence would be "one of the subjects I'll be discussing with my hosts."

He also said he hopes to discuss with leaders in the region a peace initiative being proposed by Saudi Arabia under which the Arab world would offer Israel full diplomatic recognition and peace in exchange for an Israeli withdrawal from lands it occupied in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Bush also commented on the plan, proposed by Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah. "It's an important opening," in part because it recognizes Israel's right to exist, Bush said.

Cheney said that the "peace process is not the only thing on my agenda." He was also expected to brief Arab leaders on the administration's plans for the next phase on the war against terrorism — including U.S. intentions on confronting Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein.

Bush's decision to send Zinni back to the area - he was last there late last year - came just hours after White House press secretary Ari Fleischer said he would not be returning unless there was an "opening where a return by General Zimni would do some good."

Candidate to contest election

Kanana State Collegian

When former presidential candidate Zac Cook found out that only 58 votes separated him and winning candidate Matt Wolters, he knew there was a problem.

"There is something wrong, I just don't know what it is yet." Cook said Thursday.

Cook and running mate Todd Kohman will turn in complaint forms today outlining what they believe to be loopholes in the elections regulations code.

Cook said he is concerned with the abstentions for the category of student body president being thrown out in the tabulation of results.

"If you don't vote, that's passive abstention," he said. "But this was a vote. Somebody wanted their vote to count."

According to the the elections regulations code, the winning candidate for student body president must earn a majority of votes, which is more than 50 percent. With abstentions included in the totals. Wolters and running mate Mandy Achilles received 47 percent of the votes. Since abstentions were not included, however, they received 50.8 percent of the total vote.

Cook also said he believes many of the 246 abstentions were checked by mistake

500 CONTEST on PAGE 12

Deans stress importance of honesty

All 12 K-State deans signed a letter to the Piper school board to emphasize the importance of academic honesty.

Christine Pelton, former biology teacher at Piper, planned to fail 28 of her students who she accused of plagiarizing on their biology

After parents protested, the school board met privately and decided Pelton needed to reduce the penalties. He resigned the next day.

Dennis Law, dean of the College of Architecture, Planning and Design and primary author of the letter, said the entire situation showed an impropriety on the part of the Piper school board.

"We're concerned about the academic standards of the school board and of the precedent it sets for other school boards around the state," Law said.

Terry King, dean of the College of Engineering, said the letters point was not to attack the school board, but to emphasize K-State's stance on ethics. The letter included a copy of K-State's honor code, which King said sent a strong message.

"It's very useful to publicize that K-State has an honor system," King said, "and for them to know what we view as important."

According to the letter, the Piper school board "unwittingly encouraged and rewarded dishonesty." The letter states that the trust in the integrity of the educational system "has been shaken by these reports,'

Scott Jones, assistant dean of student life, said he supported the letters' intent.

"A letter like that, coming from an institution such as K-State and having all 12 college deans sign off on it, is a clear indicator of how important honesty is," Jones said.

Law said he hopes other school boards around the state take notice of K-State's honor code, which was included with the letter, and of the message the letter sends.

"We want to get it out to school boards around the state," Law said, "and for them not to encourage dishonesty."

Law said he spent two weeks writing drafts of the letter and asking the other deans for input and suggestions.

"I think that in the end, we were comfortable with the language," Law said. "The most important thing is that we go on record as being an institution that values integrity."

- The Kansas City Star contributed to this

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

LOCAL IN BRIEF

2 men wanted on assault charges remain at large

A pair of male suspects are wanted on aggravated assault with a knife charges.

At 12:53 a.m. at 522 N. Manhattah and Laramie, the two suspects jumped out of their cars and threatened two other males with a threeto-four-inch silver switchblade knife.

They then forced the victims to the ground. One victim was hit in the face by the suspects and had his hat valued at $20 stolen, Riley County Police Department Sgt. Lynette Woods said.

She said the victims were unable to get a description of the suspects. who fled the scene in an unidentified vehicle.

The suspects remain at large.

Manhattan man sentenced to 6 years for local robbery

Almost a six-year sentence was given to a Manhattan resident Monday who was convicted for robbing Dara's Fast Lane at 1132 Pillsbury Drive on Nov. 15.

Christopher Wood was charged with aggravated assault and aggravated robbery, according to court reports.

Witnesses said Wood pointed a rifle at a Dara's Fast Lane employee with intent to steal property.

Also this week, LaShawn Tony Spiller, who was held in custody for miscellaneous drug charges and unlawfully escaped custody on Sep.

He was convicted for a felony and sentenced to 18 months of probation, in addition to the original 11

STATE IN BRIEF

Pharmacist readies for trial: blood has yet to be located

WICHITA - Just days before a Newton supermarket pharmacist is to face a judge to answer charges that he drew blood from people for a bogus study, investigators still have no idea what he did with the blood taken during the last 11 years.

Pharmacist Corey Penner, 29, was charged last month with 31 misdemeanor counts of battery involving 19 people. He will be arraigned March 15.

If convicted, he could be sentenced to a maximum of six months on each count, Harvey County Attorney Matt Treaster said.

Laid-off aviation workers sign up to substitute teach

WICHITA - An influx of laid-off aviation workers have doubled the pool of people signed up to substitute teach in Wichita schools.

That's making it hard for the usual substitutes - many who have teaching certificates and classroom experience - to find work in the Wichita school district.

The number of available substitutes has ballooned from less than 800 to more than 1,500. Wichita schools have been using around 250 substitutes a day this winter, the district said.

Last fall, the district advertised substitute teaching as an option for thousands of laid-off aviation workers, who could get emergency certification if they had at least 60 hours of college credit.

NATION IN BRIEF

158 still missing following World Trade Center attack

NEW YORK - Six months after the World Trade Center attack, 158 people are still officially classified as missing - some of them almost certainly dead, some perhaps mistakenly on the list, and some possibly trying to fake their deaths.

The missing include firefighters and foreign visitors, bond brokers and illegal immigrants working mostly food-service and maintenance jobs, an Associated Press analysis has found.

In many cases, families have mourned these people and their employers consider them dead, but their remains have not been identified and no one has applied for a death

ATTACK DEVELOPMENTS

- In Kabul, five international peace keepers - two Germans and three Danes - were killed while trying to defuse a Soviet-era missile. Eight others who were injured were flown to Germany on Thursday.
- Nearly six months after terrorists brought down the World Trade Center, the bodies of two police officers were discovered in the rubble.
- The number of Guantanamo detainees on a hunger strike dwindled. Wednesday, with only three men left who have been without food since the protest's initial days, U.S. military officials said.
- In southern Afghanistan, a fire at an ammunition depot sent shrapnel and other ordnance streaming over the heads of coalition troops, killing three U.S.-allied Afghan fighters.

SHE said / HE said

Q: I have a girl "friend" whom I would like to get more serious with. What can I do to change friendship into love?

-Dazed & Confused

Dear Dazed & Confused:

Since the line between friendship and couple hood is so hazy, it's common to want more from your good (opposite sex) friend.

First, make sure the girl you want to be with is single before you go in for the kill. If you try to wreck her relationship you could end up losing the friendship.

As for the plan of attack, I would suggest being subtle in the beginning. This way you won't risk scaring her off. Start spending more time alone and make plans to see movies and other "date" type events. Be extra sweet and start acting interested in what she is saying. Most likely she will notice a difference in your behavior and catch on - women are more intuitive than you might think.

If all else fails, next time you are drunk together, kiss her and see what happens. Don't apologize after the kiss. Use your honest state to your advantage. Just tell her how you feel and go from there.

Sarah is a junior in electronic journalism.

Dear Dazed & Confused:

If you have read my column before, you should know how I feel about this subject.

If not, I think you should both get drunk, then lay your feelings on her. Let the liquor do the talking. If she rejects you, then you can blame it on the booze the next day.

If she doesn't reject you, what better time to take your relationship to the next level? However, it could possibly ruin the friendship completely.

Lay it all out there. She will either love you or hate you. Fiftyfifty odds are pretty good in love's

If you are going for the classic Hollywood "I'm falling in love with you" scene, forget it. Things do not work like that. An option is to watch "Friends" and see how Joey and Rachel are dealing with their situation. Whatever they do on the show, do completely the opposite,

Derek is a senior in milling science.

Sarah Holladay

Derek Dietz

"He said, she said" is an advice column that answers readers' questions about anything from relationships to advising. The column is printed every Friday as a feature on page 2. Send your questions to advice@spub.ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

two days before it is to run.

III KNEA-SP will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Union Forum Hall. Practice DAT, MCAT or OAT for those who have registered will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday in Rathbone 169 for the DAT and OAT, and room 173 for the MCAT.

College of Education Ambassador applications are due at 5 p.m. today at Bluemont 13. KSU Men's Lacrosse will play Nebraska at 10 a.m. Saturday and lowa at 4 p.m. Saturday at Rec Fields.

M American Ethnic Studies its Associ tion will meet from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. today at the Pizza Hut in Aggieville

III Student Health Advisory Committee is accepting applications, which are available in the OSAS. Applications are due by 5 p.m. today. III Recreational Services will present "Core strength and training what it is, how to do it" at noon, March 10 in The Wellness Resource Center at the Rec Complex.

Gold Key National Honor Society Executive Board will meet at 5:45

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch!

(Ask about our monthly specials)

p.m. Sunday in Union 202. KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301.

III This is the last week to submit an application for the 2002 Student Homecoming Committee.

Applications are now available in the Office of Student Activities or at the KSU Alumni Association. Applications are due by 5 p.m. today.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Wednesday, March 6

At 12:23 p.m., Walter Edwards, 422 N. 11th St., Apt. 5, was arrested for a probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000.

■ At 7:27 p.m., Karla McMullen, 813 Moro St., basement Apt. 3, was arrested for failure to appear, Bond was set at $100. m At 8:07 p.m., Patricia Robertson, 1362 Flint Hills Place, was arrested

Thursday, March 7 At 1:50 a.m., Justin Perkins, Fort Riley, was arrested for disorderly for failure to appear. Bond was set at

K-State Police

III No reports of note were made.

conduct. Bond was set at $500.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz Editor in Chief City/Gov Editor

April Middleton Dana Strongin

Managing Editor Campus Editor Nancy Foster

Paul Restivo News Editor

Zach Long

Asst. Photo Director Photo Director

Copy Chief Nicole Donnert  Amber Koehn Opinion Editor

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

Katie Lane Presentation Editor

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

A&E Editor

Sports Editor

Projects Editor Micah Hawkinson eCollegian Editor

Nancy Hull

Jodi Fagerquist

Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

USPS 201 000), a student newspaper at Konsan State (niversity, as published by Student Publications Inc., Kedine 100 Machattan, Kan. 60/60. The Collegua is published weekshays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer. Percedical presage is paid at Manhattan, Kair NAME POSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk,

Kedzis 103 Manhattan, Kan 08006-7167. © Kansas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

Corrections and clarifications appear inthis space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Scholar & One Sad Monkey SATURDAY $2 Wells $2 Bottles SUNDAY

1/2 PRICE DRINKS

WE'VE ENGINEERED

THE PERFECT MATCH:

Archer Daniels Midland's Soy Processing Department is happy to welcome our newest Production Assistant, John Muching, a graduating senior in Chemical Engineering. As the world's leader in agricultural processing, ADM has its designs on the optimum formula for John's successinnovation, opportunity and experience. Together, we'll unlock the potential of nature to improve the quality of life.

ADM is an equal opportunity employer.

"Come see me today!"

Welcome, Melissa Stirrett! Candlewood Shopping Center 3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632

Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

Pet Health Alert

Have you had your dog tested for heartworms this year?

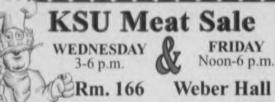

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY VETERINARY MEDICAL TEACHING HOSPITAL recommends annual testing of all dogs over 6 months of age.

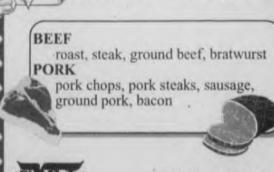

> The KSU-VMTH Heurovogu Chuic will be March 11-16, by appointment. Call now: 532-5690

**Dogs must be at least 5 1/2 months old to be tested

For information call 532-1279

Friday, March 8, 2002

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Kansas State Collegian

Complaints filed against Student Body President-elect Matt Wolters and former presidential candidate Zac Cook have been dropped.

The two complaints filed against Cook stated that he disrupted an accounting class to campaign. The complaint filed against Wolters and vice president elect Mandy Achilles said the ticket sent a campaigning e-mail to an unknown recipient.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said committee members agreed the violations were honest mistakes and should be dropped.

"The e-mail was a mistake, and Zac had permission to speak to the class. There was no disruption." Conrad said. "Both were done unintentionally, so we agree there shouldn't be a violation."

Election committee drops complaints

Jed Strnad, junior in agricultural education, filed one of the two complaints against Cook. He said campaign regulations need to be more clearly defined.

He said Cook violated the campaign provision by disrupting students who wanted to work on their accounting assignment regardless of whether he had permission from the teacher.

"The rules need to be clear either yes you can talk to classes, or no you can't," Strnad said. "It's unfair for candidates to speak in class. We weren't given a choice. He just started talking."

Strnad said he was not upset that the complaint was dropped but the rules need to be more clearly defined to ensure fairness in future elections.

Mark Dilts, sophomore in milling science, also said he was not upset his complaint against Wolters and Achilles was dropped.

"I just wanted there to be an equal playing field," Dilts said. "It was nothing personal." Looking back at the e-mail he received from the ticket, he said the e-mail was not really campaigning. but just informed him how to log onto KATS to vote

After learning how Dilts got put on the Wolters-Achilles e-mail list, he said he doesn't mind that the complaint being dropped.

"It looks like it was an honest mistake," he said.

House breaks months of deadlock, votes to cut business taxes, lengthen benefits

BY CURT ANDERSON

The Associated From

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Ending months of gridlock on recession relief, the House overwhelmingly passed legislation Thursday combining tax cuts intended to spark business growth and a 13week extension of benefits for millions of unemployed people.

Before the 417-3 vote. Senate Democrats said they would not stand in the way, and the White House said President Bush would sign the measure into law.

Three previous economic stimulus bills passed by the Republican-led House that contained much bigger tax cuts have languished in the Senate.

Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle said he hoped to put the measure to a vote quickly. Aldes indicated that could occur as early as Friday assuming no last-minute

"The Senate needs to act and get the bill to my desk, and I look forward to signing it," Bush said at the White House.

"We've had too much nonmovement on this important issue, and it's time to go.

Daschle, D-S.D., said, "I am very pleased they have chosen to follow a path that many of us were suggesting long ago."

Added House Speaker Dennis Hastert, R-III.: "We think this is the right prescription."

The House vote coincided with a Capitol Hill appearance by Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, who gave a more upbeat economic forecast than he had a week earlier. Given the size of the U.S. economy, Greenspan told the Senate Banking Committee, the relatively modest stimulus package would have little impact on recession recovery.

"I doubt very much that the economy, if it didn't get a stimulus, would sag," Greenspan

Proponents, however, said it would aid sectors of the economy that need it, including manufacturing and high-tech companies.

PLACE TO CALL

Park Place Apartments

Cable Paid 1,2 & 3 Bedrooms

2002-2003 leases Close to Campus 1, 2, 3 and 4 bedroom apartments/ houses available. June and July leases available through May 30 & July 30.

MOORE

Property

Management

For more info call 537-0205

kstatecollegian.com

ARGE

A Great Way to Earn $25 Today!

Donate your blood plasma to help save kid's lives.

Earn $25 CASH.

(for approx. 2 hours.) Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway 785-776-9177

Fees & donation time may vary. www.zlb.com

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes

Evening Minutes

Add additional lines for just $20

$35

350

75

$45

150

500 1,500 1,500

500 1,500 1,500

600 1,000

250

WWW.GELLULARONEWEST.COM 1.800 CELL ONE

1115 Westroop Place 785-537-4646 • 800-467-7858 Ask for Brett, Fech or We.

Cellular One Manhattan Town Center Mall 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mke.

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

All Apartments within Walking Distance to Campus

ONE BEDROOMS

1022-1026 Sunset $345-385 1212 Thurston

$440-460 1950-1960 Hunting $440-460 1837 College Heights

$385

537-7701

TWO BEDROOMS

1825-1829 College Hts. $600-700 Aggieville Penthouse Apts.

3 & 4 BEDROOMS

$610-750

1841 College Heights $780-980

Call Today for an Appointment

DIAMOND

1109 Hylton Heights Manhattan, KS 66502

Chase Manhattan APARTMENTS is Now Leasing for the 2002-2003 School Year!

Apartments start at $490 per month

All Apartments Include:

 Microwave, Dishwasher, Garbage Disposal, Refrigerator and Stove • 24 Hour Fitness Facility and Laundry Care Center 24 Hour Emergency On-Call Maintenance

 On-Site Management • 1,2,3, and 4 Bedrooms Available Call Chase Manhattan Apartments

(785) 776-3663 (24 hours)

OPENS FRIDAY, MARCH 8 IN THEATRES EVERYWHERE

Committee uneducated, unprepared for general election results

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the editorial board and written after a majority opinion is formed. OUR VOICE is the Collegian's official

Jessica Pitts April Middleton Nancy Foster Dana Strongin Alyson Raletz Nancy Hull Amber Koehn Dan Smith Paul Restivo Katle Lane JJ Duncan Zach Long Nicole Donnert

Elections blew up a storm, but the dust won't settle for a long time.

That's because they were an absolute mess, and the uneducated and unprepared state of the elections committee didn't help.

The committee members didn't do their homework. They did not know their own rules and regulations, which are stated in the elections handbook.

This became apparent when voters got online and saw the abstain option on the substantial 6.5 percent of voters chose this selection when the only options should have been the two tickets and a write-in. Those who voted under abstain might have voted for one of two tickets.

What was the committee thinking? Why, after the problems with the primaries, did they not bother to ensure the accuracy of the final ballot?

Because of this lax behavior, voters faced a confusing and inaccurate ballot. And candivalidity of the results.

The vendor was poor, but it was chosen because it was the lowest bidder. The committee members, after seeing problems, should have pushed the vendor for accuracy the second time.

Elections are very serious. The president and vice president will run Student Senate for a year. Each candidate spent a lot of time, money and effort on the elections.

Instead, this important and essential

Micah Hawkinson ballot under the presidential ticket options. A dates will lay awake at night questioning the process was treated carelessly. Worlds of wealth

Americans enjoy luxuries, others live in poverty

hat does $1.08 buy? For a big chunk of the world's population, the answer is a day's worth of food - if it's lucky

According to Global Poverty Monitoring statistics, about 1.2 billion people worldwide live at or below the poverty level of $1.08 per day. This means the money you spend on a super value meal is enough to feed a typical impoverished peasant for a week.

By contrast, we live in homes that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. We consider ourselves fortu-Micah Hawkinson nate to find a nice car for a mere $5,000. We think nothing of spending $30 for dinner and a movie. And every weekend, we drink up a small fortune in adult

There's no way around it - we are filthy rich. Even the poorest K-State students have clean water and enough food to be picky about what they eat.

I don't know many people who don't possess at least one TV set, a CD player and a toothbrush. That alone shows our almost obscene wealth.

On top of all that, our society is rife with consumerism. You can't turn on the TV or surf the Web without seeing ads for action figures, or special commemorative plates celebrating the latest cultural phenomenon. For just $19.99, plus $2.99 shipping and handling, you can be the proud owner of all this worthless plastic! Pitches like that make us stumble over ourselves in the race to get the best deal before anyone else can. After all, everything's 10 percent off Meanwhile, halfway across the world, people are starving because they cannot scrape up a lousy buck.

Cities in Asia feature the highest population densities and the lowest per capita earnings in the world. People are literally starving in the streets, just blocks away from the opulence of hotels that cater to American tourists.

Middle-Easterners who don't have a homeland notice the United States is awfully keen on keeping peace and order over there. Never mind that people are starving and war-ravaged - they're disturbing our economy! To heck with their petty quest for a patch of land to grow food.

The United States is just one of a block of nations that forms the world's economic elite. These nations contain 20 percent of the world's population, but possess 80 percent of the world's wealth, according to United Nations Development Program statistics.

These numbers might be very impressive and guilt-inducing, but how do they affect me, the American citizen who doesn't care about all those foreigners? They probably even aren't enlightened enough to know what they're missing, right?

When starving African kids with AIDS see the way Westerners live, you can bet your sweet bippy they notice the disparity.

I am not trying to make you feel guilty. In actuality, there isn't much you can do to remedy the situation. And I'm not suggesting we attempt to probably just make a few unscrupulous people very

I'm suggesting that we become aware of our world. We should realize how blessed we are, and we should try to think of ways to share our blessings with others.

For example, you know those kids you see in the Sally Struthers TV commercials? Get this: they're real. And they're dying. A little of your pocket change could seriously save a life.

Or, you could ignore all them pesky foreigners and go on with your life.

Yeah, go ahead and keep living your neatlypackaged, fast-food existence. If you opt for this route, be sure to get the super size. It's more money, but it also gives you extra calories you'll vainly try to burn later.

Great deal!

Micah is a junior in English and history. You can email him at mph7686@ksu.edu.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Could you tell me which sexual position burns the most calories so I can make efficient use of my time?

Zach Long: the band members are fans, too. They can cheer and boo whenever they want.

You haven't really lived until you've gone commando five days in a row.

Zach Long is majoring in idiocy.

I found the suitcase ...everything fits

Hey, Zach Long: chanting and yelling is what being in the student section is all about. If you don't like it, get out.

My anti-drug: the Fourum.

Randy Regier, please come back.

I hate when people call the Fourum to say they never get stuff in it and then that gets printed.

What's the difference between planned and unplanned sex? Are you supposed to write it down in your agenda every day if you're going to have sex?

Is it just me, or does the woman that's broadcasting the women's games sound like Saturday Night Live's parody of Martha Stewart?

Nanu, nanu.

She doesn't look like J-Lo, she looks like Jell-O.

Trumpets, keep up the good work. You

Yeah, how about these election results taking so long to get back? They must be getting a recount from Florida.

The annals of history must have a really big, dark tunnel.

If you guys keep putting all these pothead quotes in the Fourum, I'm just going to have to keep smoking weed.

Oh my God, they killed Kenny! You bastards!

Hey, Zach Long, I'm going to donate a couple hundred dollars to the K-State pep band in your name. Just thought I'd let you Did anybody else notice the Rec smelled like poo-poo yesterday?

When I open the door for somebody on campus, all I ask is they say, 'Thank you.'

ad as Kyle Brownback reminisces about mily and America's favorite past timebaseball. Also, not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See www.kstatecollegian.com

READERS WRITE

Greek Affairs office should be held accountable for actions

In April 2000, I attended a meeting hosted by Interfraternity Council, PanHellenic Council and the Office of Greek Affairs.

I'm not a member of a fraternity myself, but I was worried when, at the meeting, I learned of the surprising latitude the leaders of IFC and PanHel have in applying their organizations'

Arbitrary rule enforcement also drew the attention of alumni representing several different fraternities and sororities. The alumni were specifically worried about a judicial board decision a that closed the K-State Acacia fraternity. and rush policy waivers, which some believe have figured into the failure of a series of sororities.

Eventually, alumni questions prompted an outside audit of the office's books - the first one in years.

Four weeks ago, a friend of mine requested a copy of the audit. To date, she has received nothing. When they do get around to responding, she told me the office will require her to sign a confidentiality form before they will send her the information.

Her story made me wonder, why all the stalling? What has Greek Affairs got to hide?

I asked around and heard several audit details.

One, I was told both IFC and PanHel are in the red, but they paid an Oregonian $4,000 for a one-hour speech. Also, friends say Barb Robel, Greek Affairs adviser, receives a pay package of more than $75,000.

This is more than the total amount paid to both KU greek advisers combined.

They also say Robel got a 9 percent raise in 2000. Sources also tell me Greek Affairs has not produced receipts for travel expenses, which totals thousands of dollars.

Greek Affairs has an on-campus office, but its salaries and expenses are pald from the dues collected from members of fraternities and sororities.

Some representatives of these organizations become members of the office's executive councils, which are responsible for monitoring the expenditure of funds and the operation of Greek Affairs. However, council members are nong 20 undergraduates whom th office takes on an annual trip to Chicago. These students would seem to have conflicts of interest. A council member who works for invariable application of rush rules or who questions the budget might endanger his or her free vacation. University administrators maintain they are not responsible for Greek Affairs' conduct because the office is not funded by K-State.

Alumni, I'm told, have no official standing relative to the office. So, no one seems to be minding Greek Affairs. Ironically, the responsibility for organizing a new system to oversee the office's operations has been taken up by Robel and her student colleagues - the parties whose actions need to be overseen.

Perhaps the real truth about the audit isn't as unhappy as what I've heard.

But if so, why is Greek Affairs trying to outlast those requesting official informa-

Interested readers might want to attend the Interfraternity Council/PanHellenic meeting with alumni at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Big 12 Room of the K-State Student Union. I hear the audit will be discussed.

> - Gary W. Clift Bachelor of Science in history, 1974 Master of English, 1979

CLASH OF THE COLUMNISTS

MONDAY - Pre-nuptial agreements Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner duke it out over pre-nuptial agreements.

TUESDAY - Diet pills

Jamie Kelley and Susan Powell weigh the pros and cons of diet pills.

WEDNESDAY - Assisted suicide

Tanner Ehmke and Micah Hawkinson justify their claims on physician-assisted suicide. THURSDAY - Electoral college

David McCandless and Lindsey Geisler voice their views on the Electoral College FRIDAY - Premarital cohabitation

Amber Koehn and Peter Morris debate the idea of premarital cohabitation. previous columns in the opinion section of the e-Collegian. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for more.

Kansas State Collegain Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

Order your yearbook. Today.

RELIGION DIRECTO

CC

NIOL THE DIRECTORY

> Call 532-6560

Manhattan Baptist Church

Independent Services Sunday

10 a.m. Bible Study 11 a.m. Morning Service 6:30 p.m. Evening Service Wednesday

7 p.m. Evening Service 510 Tuttle Street 776-9069

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH 8:15, 9:30, 11:00AM & 6:00PM

College and Young Married Couples: Sunday School # 9:30 & 11:00AM

nior Pastor: David Thom

Youth Ministry Opportunities College Pastor David Kinnan

9:00 a.m. - Sunday School 10:15 a.m. - Worship Service 11-30 a.m. - Broadcast Angel 95,3 FM

5th & Humboldt 776-8790

St. Luke's Lutheran Church

330 Sunset Avenue Saturday-Traditional Worship 6:00 p.m.

Sunday-Traditional Worship 8:30 a.m. College Bible Study 9:45 a.m. Contemporary Worship 11:00 a.m. Campus Pastor - Eric Wood

(785) 539-2604 CALVARY CHAPEL OF MANHATTAN

Email: campusmn@flinthills.com

Sunday Service - 10:00 a.m. 1961 Strong Ave.

Come Just As You Are Contemporary Worship Very Casual Atmosphere Solid Verse By Verse Bible Teaching

Pastor Dade Rona ecofmanhattan a kscable con

ST. MARY MAGDALENE ORTHODOX CHRISTIAN MISSION.

ECM Bldg. 1021 Denison, 2 South 539-3440

Services: Divine Liturgy 9:30 AM Saturdays in the ECM Nave Visit the K-State OCF webpage at www.ksu.edu/orthodox

Lutheran Campus Ministry at Luther House 1745 Anderson

Sunday Evening Worship 7:00 p.m.

in the Danforth Chapel www.ksu.edu/lcm-elca

Pastor Jayne Thompson pastorj@ksu.edu) 539-4451 Open to All

College Bible Study

Varney's Book Store - Upstairs

"Keys for Successful Living" Led by Joe McGraw

Sunday 9:30 a.m.

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

MASS SCHEDULE Tuesday-Thursday 10:00 p.m. Friday 12:10 p.m. Saturday 5 p.m. Sunday 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. Sun, 4:30 p.m., 6 p.m. Father Keith Weber, Chaplain 539-7496

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

711 Denison

612 Poyntz * 776-8821 Worship 8:30 s 11 a.m. Church School all ages 9:45 a.m. Pastors: Iim Reed, Ian Todd, Ken Wills, & Mitch Todd fumc@flinthills.com www.flinthills.com/-fame

Grace

Baptist Church

2901 Dickens - 2 blks. E. of Seth Child ♦ Sunday ♦ Morning Worship

Bible Classes For All Ages 9:30 a.m. Evening Service or Care Cells 6 p.m. 776-0424

8:15 & 10:45 a.m.

Sunday Worships 9:45, 11:00 6 12:15 College Minister Natalie Holdren College Bible Study & Free Food Sunday 7:30-9:00 p.m. 776-5440

ECM Christian

Food, Fun, & Fellowship 5:30 Sunday

Bible Study Monday, 8 p.m. OR Wednesday, 4 p.m.

1021 Denison Ave 539-4281 or email at ecm@ksu.ed

Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan

across viaduct, left on K-18 1/2 mile reach Sunday at 10:45 a.m. Heligio education classes for your The Rev David Crimm For information call (785) 537-2346 FIRST LUTHERAN 10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship Sat. 5:30 p.m., Sun. 8:30 & 11 a.m.

Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

First Bap list Church Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m.

For free transportation within city limits, call the church. Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

An American Baptist Congregation

Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church Missouri Synod 776-2227

9 a.m. Sunday School & Bible Class

10:30 a.m. Divine Worship Service

Wednesday

KSU - DANFORTH CHAPEL christluth.@networksplus.net

First Assembly of God

Weekly Schedule of Services

Sunday

Sunday School 9:00 a.m. Worship Services 10:00 a.m. Children's Church 10:00 a.m. Worship Chair 4:00 g m

All ministries begin at 7,00 p.m.
Prayer Meeting
Youth Group (grades 7-12)
Royal Rangers (Boys Club)
Missionettes (Girls Club)
Chi Alpha 8:00 p.m.
Christian Fallowskin to: Children

Christian Fellowship for Colleg Students (KSU Little Theater) Nursery Provided for All Services

Rev. Todd Weston, Pastor 2310 Candlewood Dr. Manhattan, KS (785) 537-7633 www.manhattanag.org

YOUR CHURCH COULD BE HERE.

Call Alissa at 532-6560

First Presbyterian Church

Sunday Schedule

Worship at 9:15 a.m. Sunday School for all at 9:15 a.m.

Worship 10:30 a.m. Nursery provided all morning www.firstpresmanhattan.com

801 Leavenworth St. • 537-0518

Mt. Zion Church of God in Christ

Service Times

Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:30 a.m. Wednesday Bible Study 7:30 p.m. Friday Joy Night 7:30 p.m.

916 Yuma Street Supt. Caleb J. Weathersby, Pastor 785-587-9140

Agape Family Church

An Affiliate of RHEMA Bible Church aka Kenneth Hagin Ministries SUNDAY

unday Broadcast 9:05 a.m. on 95 3 FM School of the Bible 9:30 a.m. Worship Services 10:30 a.m., 7 p.m. Wednesday Service 7:30 p.m. Join us for Easter service.

STERLING HUDGINS-PASTOR 116 S. 4th, Downtown Manhattan

(785) 539-3570

DEBATE

CHRISTIANITY VS. SECULAR HUMANISM

GREG BOYD

CHI-ALPHA CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

MASSIMO PIGLIUCCI INDIVIDUALS FOR FREETHOUGHT

SAT. MARCH 9, 7:00 P.M. - McCAIN FREE TO THE PUBLIC

Leather  $oldsymbol{D}$ irect & the sports stop

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER (Sears Wing) SALE HOURS MON.-SAT. 10-9 SUN. 12-6

FINAL DAYS!

Now everything Storewide

40-90% off

NO REASONABLE OFFER REFUSED ON ANY ITEMS

Every item in the store marked down for immediate sale. INAL DAY MARCH 17 HURRY IN FOR BEST SELECTION Education Majors

Have you thought about the Classrooms in California?

California has committed $53.3 billion to education, and we need you to fulfill our promise to students.

Kindergarten through third grade classes now have 20 or fewer pupils per class. Schools receive financial incentives for reducing class

sizes in other grades, too.

Whether you're seeking your first teaching experience, or a first-class teaching experience, California is your answer. We're seeking graduating and experienced teachers to lead our six million students into the future. And we're hiring in all areas of the state, for many types of teaching positions

California has a uniquely diverse population, and we're looking for teachers who embrace these differences and use them to enhance the learning environment. Because the Classroom Reduction Act of 1996 reduced class sizes to 20 students per teacher in grades K-3, we have a renewed need for teachers in those grades. We also have a great need for teachers who specialize in math, science, ESL/bilingual education and special education at all grade levels.

Bring your teaching degree to California

Our commitment to education translates into real benefits for teachers: Starting salaries of $34,000 to $44,000 for first year teachers; up to $19,000 in grants for education loans; no-money-down mortgages with low interest rates; and other incentives for teachers in areas of high need.

We need you in California. It's easy to get here. For more information, call toll-free 1-888-CalTeach (888-225-8322) or visit our website at www.calteach.com

CalTeach Left Coast. Right Job."

Sports

Big day for basketball closes in

The countdown is two days.

No, no. I'm not talking about the re-release of "E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial" in theaters, you imbecile. That's not until March 22. Get your facts straight. Besides, that movie sucks

But hey - let's not get off track here. I'm talking about NCAA Selection Sunday, Now, I know some of you people out there don't give a rat's tail about this godly event, and frankly, I don't care.

male, and in that case, you might as well follow in Jeff Boschee's Derek Boss footsteps.

Unless you're

OK, that was a little below the belt, but you can see I place this annual event on a pedestal. Call me crazy, but I still like filling out the blank tournament brackets after each team's name appears on the screen. It's fun. I enjoy watching to see what teams get the "easiest" read to the Final

I like guessing what teams will get screwed before they are all released. I've learned to expect the unexpected - but I guess that saying applies to all of sports these days.

Anyway, for those of you hoping I'd share my intellectual expertise on this year's men's bracket, looks like it's your lucky day.

Granted, I'm not Mr. All-knowing or anything, and last time I checked, my name wasn't listed on the NCAA Selections Committee, but I'd like to think I know more than the average Joe. Yes, I understand I left myself wide open here, so if you're coming at me, you better pack a lunch, boy.

Sorry about that outburst. Ever since my Tuesday morning trip to the Riley County Transfer Station and all those trash trucks -I've been a little out of sorts. Let's just not go

But with a little determination, I think I can concentrate for long enough to finish out this column.

Here it goes, my thoughts on this year's field. And just to make things easier, I'll break it down by conference - or at least by the conferences that matter

ACC: Duke, Maryland, N.C. State and Wake Forest are locks in the Big Dance, but Virginia might need to do a little sweet talking. A win over the Blue Devils is nice, but the Cavaliers' 7-9 league record - and the fact they've lost eight of their last 11 conference games - is not. Also, expect Duke to nab the one-seed in the South, and Maryland to be No. I in the East.

■ Big 12: Six teams are shoe-ins, and as for everybody else, hope and pray for an upset and an automatic bid, guys. It's you're only shot. Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Oklahoma State, Texas Tech and Missouri can go ahead and pack their bags, but there's too clear of a division in this league: the top six and the bottom six. KU will get a one-seed in the Midwest, and don't be surprised if Oklahoma sneaks away with No. 1 in the West.

■ Big Ten: Maybe only five teams this year will make it, unless Minnesota gets lucky. Indiana, Ohio State, Illinois, Michigan State and Wisconsin are in, but the Gophers' loss to Illinois Sunday might force them to win the Big Ten tourney to snag a bid. The Illini will likely get the highest seed of any Big Ten at No. 3.

Big East: This is where things get sticky. I'd say five teams are sitting pretty, while another three are knocking on the door. Pittsburgh, UConn, Miami, Notre Dame and St. John's should all go, but the fate of Boston College, Villanova and Syracuse is muddled. I think the Orangemen lost their shot with a first-round Big East tournament loss to the Wildcats, and Boston College should slide in after its victory over Rutgers. Pitt could easily find itself a two-seed in the East, and UConn's best hope is No. 3.

Conference USA: Cincinnati and Marquette are obvious selections each year, but Charlotte and Memphis are making strong cases for themselves. At 17-10, my guess is Charlotte will find its way, while Cincinnati is a sure No. 2 and Marquette a probable four-

■ Pac-10: Six teams will get invitations, end of discussion. Arizona, Oregon, Cal. USC, Stanford and UCLA will go, and most will choke. The regular-season champion Ducks could make some noise if they get two-seed, and other than that, Arizona could string together a couple wins as a No. 4 or 5.

■ SEC: Much like the Pac-10, nominations have been ceased, barring an unexpected

See NCAA on PAGE 10

State track and equestrian teams are n action this weekend. See coverage at www.kstatecollegian.com

ON THE LINE

Photos by Zach Long/

K-State's Nick Williams (24) passes to a teammate under the pressure of Baylor's Greg Davis (32) and Logan Kosmalski (50) during the second half Thursday in the first round of the Big 12 Tournament.

Siebrandt sinks BU, Wildcats advance

Keessay State Collegian

KANSAS CITY, Mo. -Sometimes little things do prove the difference, especially with less than a minute to play.

Matt Siebrandt took a charge with 32 seconds left in overtime, grabbed an offensive rebound on the other end, and hit the gamewinning free-throw with 1.4 ticks remaining as K-State (13-15) downed Baylor 74-73 Thursday night in the first round of the Big 12 Tournament.

"I thought it was a gutty effort." Coach Jim Wooldridge said. "You hear that from coaches, but we found a way to win the game. It wasn't a pretty game, but we found a way to win and made plays down the stretch."

That they did.

A turnaround jumper by forward Lawrence Roberts gave Baylor a 60-58 lead with 23 seconds left in regulation, but K-State didn't panic, After a Wooldridge timeout, guard Larry Reid slashed through the lane, switched to the left hand and laid the ball in with 0:06 on the clock. sending the game to OT.

"I was just trying to get something up on the glass," Reid said. "I knew they would come out in that 1-3-1 zone, and it would be easy for me to penetrate. And it was. I got in the lane and shot an easy lay-up."

Then, in the extra session, Reid hit a shot when the Cats needed one, including a driving leaner off the glass with a minute to play, evening the count at 73. Reid finished with a team-high 21 points, all in the second half.

From there, Siebrandt would take care of the rest.

The K-State forward stepped in front of Baylor guard Wendell Greenleaf on the low block, drawing the offensive foul and giving the purple a chance at the final shot.

With Reid guarded, senior Phineas Atchison drove to the hoop and put up a high-arching shot over Bear defenders. The ball rimmed out, but Siebrandt was there with the offensive board. A quick pump-fake drew the defense, and a R.T. Guinn foul sent Siebrandt to the line.

Not a good place for him based on past experience.

Siebrandt missed late free throws against both Colorado and lowa State this season, and last year as well against Oklahoma. Two of those ended in losses for "Matt has been there several times," Wooldridge said. "In the timeout, it looked like he was energized. I've seen him in those situations before, and I just felt

BASKETBALL OF PAGE 10

Reid sizzles in 2nd half, engineers KSU rally

BY DEREK BOSS

Karsas State Collegen

KANSAS CETY, Mo. - It hasn't been uncommon this season for guard Larry Reid to lead K-State in scoring.

But with 11 minutes left in Thursday night's first round game of the Big 12 Tournament, Reid - who averaged 14.4 points-per-game entering the contest - didn't have a point and had attempted just four shots from the floor.

"I told him at halftime that I was disappointed how he played 20 minutes of basketball," Coach Jim Wooldridge said. "I just thought he lost a lot of confidence and wasn't playing with the kind of energy in doing the things we needed him to

He more than made up for it from that 11-minute mark, though. During the remainder of the second half and overtime - roughly 16 minutes - Reid scored 21 points and shot a perfect 8-of-8 from the floor to lead K-State to a 74-73 victory over Baylor.

You could see as the game went on and we got late into the second half and into overtime, he really kicked it into another gear and made all the plays for us," Wooldridge said.

Although the Cat coach's halftime speech took a little while to sink into Reid's head, the senior guard said he got the message.

"I think that's what kind of woke me up. Coach at halftime kind of cussed me out - or, he gave me some words to think about," Reid said, after a look from Wooldridge in the interview room. "He said it was (potentially) my last game. I should be playing harder." With five minutes remaining in the game, Reid did. He simply took

The Midwest City, Okla., native scored on four of K-State's next five possessions - totalling nine points - to cut the deficit to two, and then 2:58 later, his driving lay in sent the game to overtime.

In the extra frame, Reid opened with a three-pointer, and then later, be would answer every one of Baylor freshman John Lucas' shots. Lucas hit a trey with 1:42 left to give the Bears a three-point lead. Reid answered, Lucas drilled a double-clutch jumper. Reid drove down the right side and put it up and in off the glass to tie it.

It was just a second half that Reid came alive, much like he did in Waco, Texas, this season. In the two teams' earlier meeting, the senior also failed to score in the first half, but finished the game with 14 points.

Freshman Nick Williams said Reid is just so essential to the Cats' offense.

"Toward the end of the second half, we started to get a little worried, but then Larry woke up and started playing," Williams said. "When he started playing, it gave the team a lot of confidence.

K-State's Larry Reid (11) goes up for a shot by Baylor's R.T. Guinn, right. during the second half Thursday at Kemper Arena in Kansas City, Mo.

Cat turnovers lead to Oklahoma points as OU rolls who had eight in the stretch and finished

Karsas State Collegian

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — If giving up the ball counted for points, then K-State's women would have been in good shape during Thursday's semifinal against No. 4 Oklahoma in the Big 12 Tournament. But the only baskets that came off 23

Wildcat turnovers belonged to the Sooners, as OU advanced to Saturday's championship game with a 69-49 win over K-State at Municipal Auditorium.

"Obviously we're a little disappointed with our struggles with turnovers tonight." Coach Deb Patterson said. "That was a major factor in this basketball game and certainly something Oklahoma's quick and aggressive defense caused."

Big 12 Player of the Year Stacey Dales finished with a game-high 19, and three other Sooners scored in double-digits as the Sooners outrebounded (37-27), outshot (60-53) and outhustled (12-7 steals) the Cats to earn their second trip to the conference finals in as many years.

"You gotta give them credit, they stuck to their gameplan and got us rattled," said freshman guard Laurie Koehn, who finished with four turnovers. "It's really frustrating to show the mental weakness and have the mental breakdowns we did."

K-State jumped out to an early 16-10 lead on the back of hot-shooting Kendra Wecker, with a team-high 12 points on the night. But after a timeout at the 14:24 mark, the majority of the offense came from the Crimson and Cream.

"At the timeout, I said, 'hey guys, we're behind and we're not guarding them the way we're supposed to," Oklahoma coach Sheri Coale said. "They responded from that and went on about their business."

And business was good for the Sooners. K-State scored just 12 more points during the half, while OU nearly tripled that mark to take a 45-28 lead into halftime, thanks mostly to Dales, who had 14 at the intermission. But it was another stat from the first frame that spelled the Cats' troubles.

"At halftime, I talked about the fact that K-State only had one offensive rebound," Coale said. "I thought that was huge, because in preparing for them we said, 'They're hard enough to guard the first time. Don't fail to block out and then have to guard them again for 30 more seconds."

With K-State's offense sputtering for much of the night, Oklahoma probably could have even stopped a few more Cat opportu-

"They were very aggressive in the half court and they were denying out on the wing pretty hard, so that did get to us and kind of took us out of our offense," senior guard Kristin Rethman said. "We did some things out of the flow our offense and out of character of how we normally play and we aggressiveness when the first round of the NCAA Tournament begins next weekend.

and Patterson said her team will be better

K-State is likely to see the same sort of just never got that back."

K-State's Laurie Koehn drives around Oklahoma's Lauren Shoush during the Big 12 Tournament at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo., on Thursday night. The Wildcats lost in the third round of the tournament, 49-69.

Kelly Glasscock/Collegian

prepared for it the next time around. "I believe there are answers," she said. "Within the framework of how we play, we can get it done. I don't want to give away any secrets, but I do think there are answers. "We'll be back."

Schools focus on preparing parents, students for changes

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Collegian

In August, many Manhattan elementary school students will be changing schools because of the new school district boundaries and the closing of Eugene Field and Bluemont elementary schools.

All 10 elementary schools in Manhattan-Ogden USD 383 are affected by the new district map that passed 4-3 at the Feb. 20 board meeting.

Mary Stamey, principal of Theodore Roosevelt and Eugene Field, said the schools are doing a lot of little things to prepare students going to new schools.

"Theodore Roosevelt is saying hello to students from Eugene Field, but saying goodbye to some going to Amanda Arnold," Stamey said. "We are having a luau for the children because luau means hello and goodbye.

"The change will be hard, but we're trying to make lemonade out of the lemons."

The school board's new district map is the best response to the school closings, said Michele Jones, district coordinator of communications and public relations. The map moves as few students as possible, keeps all students who live in the same area together and keeps classmates in the same socioeconomic mix.

Stamey said changes would be hard, but many of the schools will be doing things to make students feel comfortable with going to a new school. She said they would not have to make all new friends at the new school.

"On April 19, every student assigned to a new building will go to that school," Stamey said. "Then when they get on the bus, they will see all the faces around them and know who is going to that new school with them."

David Colburn, parent and Bluemont site council president, said he is not happy about the closings, which will send his first-and fifth-grade children to another school next fall. However, he said the school board is doing a good job with the transitions for all schools.

"The children understand," he said. "They aren't bothered by changing schools near as much as the parents are. Things may change. Reality for them doesn't set in until they get on the bus to go to that new school."

Colburn said he probably was madder than anyone when he heard of the redistricting plans, but he wasn't mad at the school board members — he knew it wasn't their fault. He said Kansas Legislature and the lack of funds it provides are the reasons Bluemont and Eugene Field had to close.

While Colburn said he was mad about the changes at first, he now thinks the school board has done a good job talking to students about the changes.

"New schools are already sending out plans to welcome new kids. For the pains it causes, it has been a smooth transition," he said. "I know nobody at Bluemont is happy about the closings, but this is the only feasible plan."

He said not all students would have to change schools because of the new school districts.

Students can apply for a transfer, meaning if the district outlines that the children should attend Lee School, but the children would rather attend Theodore Roosevelt, they can apply to transfer to the school of their choice.

The principal of the receiving school would then decide if there is room for that student.

Colburn said he is going to Topeka to discuss his concerns and issues with education funding at the state capitol next week.

28 percent of Salina students vote

BY TARA PATTY

BY TARA PATTY

Kansas Stats Collegism

Fewer K-State-Salina students voted in Wednesday's general election, but its percentage of voters exceeded the main campus turnout by about 8 percent.

With 266 voters participating in the general election, the turnout also exceeded the K-State-Salina primary election turnout.

Despite vendor complications which marred the Student Governing Association's elections on both campuses, 188 students voted in the primary elections Feb. 26-27. The number was relatively low for the campus, said Mike Higley, K-State-Salina's student body president and elections committee chair.

The number of students who voted in the general election, however, pleased Higley, he said.

"It showed how involved our students really are with the elections," he said.

Higley said the results satisfied everyone and he doesn't foresee any complaints. He said he anticipates full support of the presidential ticket.

Students elected Kevin Gorman and Nick Sulzen as their new student body president and vice president. The ticket also was pleased with voter turnout percentage of 28 percent.

"I don't know who can compete with that," Gorman said. "That is like your campus having 5,000 people vote."

Lynsey Burnett and Betty Piña also campaigned for the presidency of the Salina campus.

"We doubled our votes and I think they doubled their's, too," she said.

Gorman said he thought the election went well and said the race between the presidential candidates revealed strong platforms and campaigning on both sides.

Now that he is elected, Gorman plans to work on campus communication to inform all students of what is going on in terms of events and planned activities. Less than 200 students live in the residence halls on campus, he said, but information about events are mainly directed to these students instead of a more campuswide approach in which he plans to utilize.

Gorman also plans to create a programming committee to organize special events for the campus and relieve Salina's SGA from some of these responsibilities. By separating these duties, he said, SGA will be able to focus more on the business end.

"We talked to several students and made a list of stuff they wanted to see," Gorman said.

Gorman also said the opinions of students were good ideas that should happen on campus.

Burnett said she had a good time and learned some valuable things from participating in the election. Burnett said she will continue to be involved with her clubs and activities on campus.

"We ran a really good campaign and had some really strong people behind us," she said. "I know that Kevin will do a good job."

SWIMSUITS! The best bikinis are at

Patricia's

Lingerie

1224 Moro Aggieville Mon.-Thurs. 10-7 Fri.-Sat. 10-5

Leasing Now For August

- •Cambridge Square
- •Sandstone Apts.
- •1114 Fremont •2000 College Hgts.
- •519 Osage
- •Fireplaces •Carports
- •Pool •Private Deck •Laundry Facilities
- •Large 2-bedroom Units

CALL NOW 537-9064

Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Wondering if you might be pregnant?

We can help!

Stop by Birthright for a pregnancy test that is free, accurate, reliable, and confidential.

No appointment needed.

Girthright of Manhattan inc. 206 S. 5th (785) 539-2555

Israeli continues strikes Palestinian strikes

BY LAURA KING

The Associated Press

JERUSALEM — Israel pressed its campaign of intense strikes throughout the West Bank and Gaza Strip on Thursday, conducting sweeps in refugee camps and killing 12 Palestinians. A Palestinian suicide bomber attacked a West Bank settlement, while a gunman killed four people and wounded 20 in an Israeli settlement.

The attack on the Atzmona settlement came shortly after President Bush announced he planned to send his Mideast envoy back to the region.

A Palestinian gunman infiltrated the Gaza settlement late Thursday and killed four people, before soldiers shot him dead. The attacker wounded 20 paople, five seriously, the Israeli military said.

Israeli military said. two West Bapk refugee camps before dawn and rocketed a police station wing of the militant Hamas organization claimed responsibility. The station said the infiltrator entered the Atzmona settlement from the south, near the Palestinian city of Khan Younis, and threw grenades as well as shooting.

Bush said he was sending Anthony Zinni to the troubled region next week in hopes of halting widening violence and called for both sides to end the fighting.

The president said the Israelis had to show "a vision for peace. There's got to be more than security." Bush said, however, he fully supported Israel's right to defend itself from Palestinian attacks.

He called on Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat to make a "maximum effort to end terrorism against Istael."

Israel."
Israeli troops stormed through two West Bank refugee camps before after nightfall in one of Gaza's most crowded camps, sending Palestinian civilians running for cover. In the biblical West Bank town of Bethlehem, Israeli airstrikes on Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat's local headquarters hit so hard they blew open bolted doors in nearby

Israeli leaders said the campaign was aimed at forcing the Palestinians to stop terror attacks, but there was no sign of that Thursday.

News of Zinni's departure came just hours after White House press secretary Ari Fleischer said the envoy would not be returning unless there was an "opening where a return by General Zinni would do some good."

Raanan Gissin, Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon's spokesman, said he would have no immediate comment on Zinni's return. He said Israel was studying the development.

These should be some of the best years of your life. If something happens to change that, call us and we'll help get you back on track.

AMERICAN EAGLE BAIL BONDS
Call Dan or Don at 770-3174

When you REALLY don't want to spend the night, call us! American Eagle Bail Bonds, we're not the biggest, but you won't find better.

#38 KINDNESS

Sponsored by Hillel Jewish Student Organization and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Every day we hear of random and senseless acts of Participate in the counter-revolution of kindness started by Anne Herbert.

Perform three acts of kindness today.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief
Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager
Applications due 5 p.m. April 5
If we receive only single applications for these positions,
the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor
CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor
Copy Editor • Staff Writers
Photojournalist • Marketing Director
Section Editors

- Student Life
- Organizations
- Sports
   Academics

* People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists Online Journalists

Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS Summer 2002 and Fall 2002

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002
Assistant Advertising Managers
Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives
Summer staff applications due March 29
Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

2003 royal purple

Union vandalism rises again

BY EDIF HALL

Kansus State Collegian

Students will be paying for others' illegal behavior next year.

The raises in K-State Student Union privilege fees recently approved by Student Senate will Include the cost of repairing and replacing vandalized items.

Some of the money raised from the fees will go toward correcting vandalism inflicted upon the Union several weeks ago, said Libby York Stauder, marketing and promotions manager of the Union.

Two umbrella tables in the Union Plaza were damaged during the last several weeks. The poles were bent, causing the umbrellas to lean to the side.

Jack Connaughton, associate director of the Union, said the cost of securing and maintaining areas of the Union Plaza will include reinforcing the umbrella poles with steel pipe and purchasing a surveil-lance camera.

Connaughton said the cost of vandalism would fall under the Union's operations budget, which will be increased by $1,308,808 for The 2002-03 school year and $1,348,072 for the 2003-04 school year and includes a 3 percent inflation rate. The increase will come to about $4.50 per semester for a full-time student.

Money from the Union's operations budget helps support all Union departments, Connaughton said. He said the budget covers many aspects of running the

"The list is pretty long," Connaughton said. "We use it to get ready for the upcoming fall."

Connaughton said it is difficult to estimate how much of the budget will go toward dealing with vandalism because the amount depends on which items are damaged.

Ben Harder, Student Senate privilege fee committee chair, said vandalism was discussed when the committee met with officials from the Union, but he said he didn't feel it was a significant reason for the raise in the Union's privilege fees.

Both Stauder and Connaughton said the raise in the privilege fee was not a direct result of vandalism. Connaughton said that while students will be paying for the vandalism through raised privilege fees, it is not a punishment for vandalism. It is an effect of it.

"Any time we get damage to the Union, it's going to have an effect somewhere," Connaughton said. "It does eventually come out of the students' pockets."

Connaughton said he believes vandalism has risen during the last several years because of Union renovations.

"When you get a remodeled facility, and everything is new, it shows up differently," Connaughton said. "When the building was older we still had some vandalism, but it blended in in some ways."

Connaughton said there have been various incidents of vandalism at the Union. He said art work was stolen or damaged because someone was trying to steal it. He also said the inside of the elevators have been scratched with a sharp object, and many cues in the billiards area have been broken.

Connaughton said he believes there only are a few people who are vandalizing.

"For the most part, a large percentage of the student body cares about the investment they've made in the student union." Connaughton said. "There is just a small percentage who don't."

Connaughton said he wanted students to be aware of the vandalism and know that the cost to repair or replace vandalized items comes from their own pockets. He urged students to report any vandals they see.

"If students see someone tearing up the plaza area, or any other area, they need to let us know," Connaughton said.

Light rain

The art piece "Watershed" by Chad Fonfare is on display in the atrium of Fiedler Hall. The College of Engineering offered the space to the art department to display Individuals' art.

Drew Rose/Collegian

SafeRide legislation expected next week after positive survey results

BY SARAH RICE

tyness State Colleges

With a positive response from yoters on the general election plebiscite vote, the SafeRide program will move forward with expected legislation next week.

According to election results, 72 percent of students said they would benefit from SafeRide, 52 percent would utilize the program, and 60 percent would pay $2 per semester for SafeRide

"I'm excited," Kyle Barker, student body president, said. "I Ihink they mirrored our previous Survey."

Barker and Vice President

Brandon Kauffman conducted an independent survey in fall 2001 to get a sampling of student support for the program. They gathered similar results.

Barker said he hopes to author legislation next week that would form a committee to conduct further SafeRide research.

"We'll be creating a committee with a budget of $75,000 to ensure that there is a SafeRide program at K-State," he said.

The committee will proceed assuming that Student Senate approves a privilege fee of $2 per student per semester.

Kauffman said the committee will need to look at the specifics of the program.

"The task force will look at how much money it will cost, how many nights a week it will run and possibly set up a state bid process," he said.

Barker said that although a shuttle system and volunteer drivers have been ideas thrown around, he anticipates the committee will develop a taxicab program.

"I would imagine they would work toward a taxicab system," he said. "We have contacted cab companies in Topeka and Junction City and they are both very interested. They have both had experience in doing similar programs,"

K-State

In order for the program to succeed, Kauffman said the next student body president and vice president will have to be strong advocates for approval of the program.

"This is something the students want," he said. "The next student body president should support it."

Next year's president, Matt Wolters, said he personally believes in the program.

"I think the idea of SafeRide is a good idea," he said. "We have to figure out how we can make it work so that it is a service

Students speak on SafeRide

Student Senate approved legislation which authorized the inclusion of a plebiscite vote regarding the establishment of a SafeRide program at K-State. The vote is strictly for research purposes and is not binding to Student Governing Association.

	Yes	No	Abstain
Would KSU students benefit from SafeRide?	2506	526	447
Would you utilize SafeRide?	1800	1195	484
Would you pay $2 per semester for SafeRide?	2021	909	459

students can utilize.

However, Wolters said there are many logisities to work out. "All privilege fee agencies have a system of administration," he said. "We have to figure out where on campus we can admin-

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

Women's Basketball
NCAA Watch Party &
Pep Rally
Bramlage
Coliseum this Sunday at 3 p.m.

Join the 'Cats as they learn where and who they play in the NCAA Tournament!

3:00- 3:30 Player/Coach Autographs on the West Concourse
Other action to include: Willie the Wildcat, FREE giveaway items, K-State Cheerleaders and Cat Band!
"First chance to buy NCAA tickets!"

Get mad, Royal Purple Style

Great Prizes

Men's

Bracket

Women's Bracket

Free To Enter

Updates

*Starting at $400
Weekly 1700 N. Manhatta

S RP Coupons

during the 2002 NCAA Men's and Women's Basketball Championships.

For brackets and official rules check out royalpurple.ksu.edu or look for us in the locate Student Union

March 12-14 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! Now leasing for summer and fall!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p

Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $415 1119 Laramie #4

M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p

Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575 1419 Leavenworth #1

M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

776-3804

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development 2700 Amherst Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer 2 Literary 3 Parachute 28 Release 44 "Dies -45 Stirred Sheltered 30 Illustra-9 Bikini part 12 Bracelet 6 "Star 32 Work setting 47 Strip Wars" together 13 Improve, (of) arsenal on the 49 Nimble 7 Malaria cheese-33 Ostrich's wise 52 United symptom 53 Round 8 Apiece 14 Former 9 Groom's 34 Society garment Table 15 Howled at address mate new. the moon 54 Macad-10 Carries comer 16 Last amizes 11 Rep 18 Increment 55 Take a Norton's 20 Paradise 17 Opposworkplace 56 Pompous 21 Will 38 Lehar's Smith portrayal 57 Notions 23 Acoustic 21 Hoopla 39 Ryan of DOWN 22 Sass 24 French 24 Founda-1 Appre-Beverly seaport Hillbillies" 25 Prima 40 Yawned Solution time: 25 mins. 42 Giraffe's donna 27 Capri and shorter-Man necked 29 La Scala cousin perform-5 Bird, to ances 46 "Zounds!" forth 48 "Last 35 Pinnacle one in -37 Whatever 50 Meadow amount 38 County of 51 Double England STUMPED?

LCMF

SEAXSQIP OWEA-VEAXFBWUD SEXDCUM

F B A B X P P C Q Q P X L A .
Yesterday's Cryptoquip: EVERYBODY WHO KNEW THE LOCAL IRONWORKER COULD
SENSE HE WAS BECOMING OVERWROUGHT. Today's Cryptoquip Clue: S equals D

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1/ Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"The principal use of the body is to carry the brain around; and the brain is what we are,"

- Thomas Edison, inventor

MOVIE TIMES

SETH CHILDS CINEMAS

"40 Days and 40 Nights" 4:30 p.m., 7:25 p.m., 9:30 p.m.

"Black Hawk Down" 4 p.m., 7 p.m., and 10 p.m.

"Crossroads" 4:30 p.m., 7:10 p.m. and 9:25 p.m. 4:25 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and

10 p.m. "Big Fat Liar"

"Dragonfly" 4:20 p.m., 7:15 p.m.

'Return to Neverland" 4:45 p.m. and 7:10 p.m. "Godsford Park"

4:15 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. "In the Bedroom"

9 p.m. "We Were Soldiers"

4 p.m., 7 p.m. and 10 p.m.

5:15 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 9:40 p.m. "Queen of the Damned"

4:35 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 9:45 p.m.

9:40 p.m.

Movies at Seth Childs Cinemas are $4.50 for matinees and $7 for

African rhythms

Samite Trio to perform at BirdHouse Saturday

BY COURTNEY DUFFIELD Kansas State Collegian

BirdHouse

The Samite Trio will perform at 8 p.m.

Saturday at the

Manhattan Arts

Center as part of the BirdHouse concert series. Tickets are $12 for students.

public, and are available at the erts

$15 for the general

center, Claffin Books

& Copies and The

Through the hardships of growing up in Uganda under the rule of Idi Amin and living for years as a refugee, Samite brings his. African-influenced music to Manhattan.

The Samite Trio features Samite, a musician, composer and recording artist from Uganda. David Kamerer, co-director of the BirdHouse concert series, said Samite will be accompanied by a percussionist and guitarist.

Kamerer said Samite plays various instruments, including some traditional African instruments, such as the Kalimba (finger piano), Marimba (wooden xylophone) and the Litungu (a seven-stringed Kenyan instrument).

"He is a performer and a teacher," Kamerer said. "He teaches about his culture and experiences."

Samite's lyrics are in Luganda, the native language of Uganda, but Steven Martini, co-director for the BirdHouse concert series. said Samite explains his songs before performing them.

"Thear he is really good at explaining his songs," Martini said. "And with the small concert setting, you get a good feeling for who Kamerer said audiences enjoy the music because it is soothing, and they learn about Samite's African culture and experiences "He has gone through so much, such as his brother being killed." by Idi Amin, but he still finds all this hope." Kamerer said.

Samite first learned to play music in-Uganda by playing the flute. He was then educated in music at the King's Courtyard. which is where the royal musicians play for the King in Uganda.

Kamerer said Samite fled to Kenya as a refugee in 1982, where he started to play music. Then be emigrated to the United States in 1987 and now lives in Ithaca, New York. It was there that he recorded his first album, "Abaana Bakesa (Dance My Children. Dance)" with Shanachie Records. His second album is "Pearl of Africa Reborn," while his third album is titled, "Silina Musango" and was released by Xenophile

Samite's latest album is called "Stars to Share." The album was produced through the Windham Hill's

They really preserve Samite's natural ethnic sound, and merge it with the new age sound." Kamerer said. Samite has played in UNICEF's Day of the African Child in New York City, Woodstock '94, the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival, and the John F. Kennedy Center for Performing Arts Kamerer said he is also the goodwill music ambassador for Uganda. Martini said he is looking forward to Samite's performance because it is not the usual music people hear every day. Mary Wallace, administration assistant for the arts center, said there are still tickets left We usually sell out for Birdhouse concerts, but there are still tickets available for Safurday night," Wallace said. Kamerer said people should attend the concert to enjoy Samite's

"I think people will find a type of music they can't hear anywhere else," Kamerer said. Martini said all the BirdHouse concerts are performed at the arts center because the audience can be closer to the artist and relate better to them. He said that Saturday night with Samite, no one will have a bad seat, because they will basically be within 40 feet of "It is a smaller venue. We have at most 200 seats," Martini said.

"Ours is a little closer atmosphere, and it is a nice venue for them to play. It helps the artist relate to the audience and the audience relate

McCain to feature London City Opera Sunday

Kansan Sinte Callegian

For the first time ever, the London City Opera will perform in McCain Auditorium.

Jean Sloop, professor of music who will be giving a pre-performance lecture at 6 p.m. Sunday in McCain 204, said that "The Merry Widow" is less serious, light-hearted opera. Therefore, it is not as serious and more light hearted, but not necessarily less complicated.

"It's a delightful piece that's been around a long time, and it's very popular," Sloop said.

"The Merry Widow" portrays the life of a young widow who finds herself sitting in a powerful position with a large amount of wealth after her husband's death. The loss of her money would possibly destroy the small

Showtime

"The Merry Widow" will be at 7 p.m. Sunday In McCain Auditorium. Tickets are $18-$20 for students and children, $36-$40 for the general public, and are available at McCain Box Office, 532-6428.

country of Pontevedria if she marries a foreigner.

The original material for this operetta was first performed in 1861. Later, in the early 1900s, Franz Lehar, an unsuccessful composer at that time, was asked to write a newer, lighthearted, more romantic version of the operetta.

Sloop encourages anyone planning to see the performance and who is interested in light opera to attend the pre-performance lecture. It will focus on the plot, author and the group

The London City Opera travels with a full orchestra. This is somewhat unusual because of the difficulty involved in transporting the entire orchestra, said Thom Jackson, McCain director of marketing and development. "We're getting a sweet deal here." lackson said. "This is a very good opera. Jackson said he believes that operais a hot new trend in theater among young adults. He estimates that during the last five-10 years, the number of young adults attending operas has quadrupled. Because of this, the staff in McCain is working to get more productions similar to this one, such as "Rent."

"This performance should be very entertaining for students," Jackson said. "They can learn a whole different style of communication in theater that they don't always get to see."

Jackson said that one reason for bringing this production to K-State is the fact that they're managed by a reputable company, Columbia Artists Management, Inc.

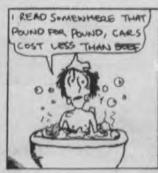

"This is a good, solid company," Jackson said.

The London City Opera, formed eight years ago, focuses on opera and operetta productions of high musical quality. Their tour, which began Jan. 6 . and will end April 4, includes a total of : 69 cities all across the United States, Erin Acheson, Columbia Artists Management Inc., said.

lackson said he encourages students to attend this production because operas rarely come to McCain.

"Each year, only a handful of operas tour," Jackson said. "Out of that, only a . few are worth bringing in. This one is definitely worth bringing in."

misdirection

Students design equine center

BY LINDSAY FETTERMAN

Names State Collegian

Conceptual designs created by architecture students for the proposed Equine Performance Testing and Locomotion Center will be on display in the Veterinary Medicine Complex now through

The new equine center will increase the ability to locate problems in horses regarding -lameness, locomotion, performance issues and house a strong research facility, said Earl Gaughan, professor of equine surgery.

Although there are a few similar Jacilities in the nation, K-State's will have several advantages over "the other centers.

"It is several steps up in what is "already available," Gaughan said. There will be a diagnostic -center with a horse-sized treadmill to help analyze problems in

It will be similar to sports medicine performance for the

"There is no facility like this in North America," Gaughan said. There will be a lot of diagnostic technology available and new ways to evaluate horses."

Lorn Clement, associate

Architecture

The public can view drawings and ask questions about the proposed Equine Performance Testing and Locomotion Center today from 4 to 6 p.m. in the second floor walkway of the Veterinary Medicine Complex.

professor in landscape architecture, agreed.

"There are about three or four clinics like this in the United States." Clement said. "K-State wants to build the best one with the best use of space and current technology and the best place to bring your horse."

Clement proposed the idea that third-year architecture students should make conceptual designs as part of the Bowman Design Forum.

He said the conceptual drawings are not future designs. The drawings will be used to help clarify the programming that professional architects will use to design the final project, Clement

The programming is a description of what the building must do functionally, Clement said.

"Student projects are conceptual solutions that help clarify the program and expand on what is possible for a visual perspective," Clement said.

After doctors who will be using the space are interviewed to fix any flaws in design, the program will be rewritten to make it stronger and give professional architects an idea of what the project will be about, Clement said.

Then Jerry Carter, director and university architect, will finalize the program and send it out to professional architects, Clement said. After this process an architect will be selected.

A date for construction has not yet been set because private funding to build the facility still needs to be raised.

Plans for fundraising ideas are being discussed, Gaughan said. Gaughan expects the center to be completed within five years, but said he hopes it will be sooner.

"My dream would be if it's done within three years," Gaughan said. Clement is also unsure of when the center will be complete but

"It's really exciting," Clement said. "It's really important for K-State. The equine industry in Kansas is very important. It's a big thinks it will be very beneficial.

The center is expected to cost between $2.5 to 4 million and will be located on the east side of the current hospital building in the Veterinary Medicine Complex.

BASKETBALL

Continued from page 6

like he had a different temperament to him there."

Apparently so. Siebrandt stepped up and calmly hit the first charity to put K-State on top by one, and then. according to Wooldridge's instructions, he intentionally missed the second 0:01.4 to play. Only the ball never hit the rim. It slammed off the backboard and back to him.

"I forgot to tell him to hit the rim," Wooldridge admitted. "I came up to Matt after the game and said, 'Matt, you didn't hit the rim,' and he said, 'I tried.' He said, 'I was going to hit the front of it."

But it didn't matter, as Siebrandt redeemed himself by picking off the inbounds pass and securing K-State tonight's quarterfinal matchup with No. 2-seed Oklahoma.

"It was a big sigh of relief." Siebrandt said.

It was evident the game would be tight, though, with seven lead changes in the first eight minutes of action. Neither team led by more than four during that stretch.

An 11-2 run beginning at the 12:15 mark gave K-State a 25-19 edge, but the Bears would end the period on a 9-2 run to knot the score at 30 apiece heading into the locker room.

Freshman guard Nick Williams paced the Cats in the first half with 11 points on 3-for-3 shooting from three-point range, knocking down open looks against the Baylor zone.

"It looked like he was the only guy playing on the perimeter with any level of confidence," Wooldridge said. "He really kept our heads up. Nick was very instrumental in this win. His 16 points we don't win without them."

In the second half, K-State could only muster four points in the first six and a half minutes, and Baylor put together a 10-0 run in the process to take a 43-34 lead.

But the Cats began chipping away, and a Gilson DeJesus threepointer from the left wing with 2:34 to play gave K-State its first lead, 55-54, since 19 seconds into the second half. The game was close the rest of both regulation and overtime, before Siebrandt's heroics sealed the victory.

"We're alive and well today," Wooldridge said after the game. "We're real proud of these kids for what they did tonight, and how they did it, and yet, we know that Oklahoma is one of the strongest teams in the country.

"But we're excited about this opportunity. We wouldn't be much of a competitor if we weren't. But I think our guys will be ready to play. We're still playing for something."

NCAA Continued from page 6

tournament title. Alabama, Florida, Kentucky, Georgia, Mississippi and Mississippi State are locks, and the Crimson Tide should have no trouble getting a No. 2 in the Midwest. Georgia, Florida and Kentucky are no strangers to the tourney, either, and should all grab three- or four-seeds.

As for the rest of the conferences, there's too much excitement. Automatic bids will be the only March tickets for many of these programs, and other than good ol' Gonzaga and its now-famous on-court actor, Dan Dickau, I'm speech-

So there it is, a small peek at who will be providing the action in this year's Madness. Just pull up a chair and grab a cold one.

It's 63 games in 10 days for crying out loud. And don't be a pansy and study, either. Watch 'em all.

Derek is junior in print and electronic journalism. You can e-mail him at dnb8765@ksu.edu.

to order your reprint for only $25, plus s & h.

Season for

#39 DIALOGUE

Nonviolence Marianne Williamson describes a healthy society as one in which "those who disagree can do so with honor and respect for other people's opinions, and an appreciation for our shared humanity."

WildcatTea

Today, speak up but do not enter into the spirit of argument.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by Manhattan Friends Meeting and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

Be supported in what you do.

We're building a unique culture where it's people first, employees second. See it in the high quality of life, the meaningful recognition, the chance to make a difference. and the amazing opportunities.

It's no accident we swept every award in the full-service category of the Nation's Restaurant News Industry of Choice Awards, which recognize companies that champion employee satisfaction. The innovative programs that make Buffets Inc. such a great place to work arose from the ideas and desires of our managers and

·Buffet ·

HOMETOWN

BUFFET_

Country

Management, Internships and Hourly opportunities are available.

- Competitive wages
- Career opportunities ◆ 401(k)
- Excellent benefit options
- Comprehensive training · Early closing times
- Fresh, made-from-scratch food Family-friendly policies

Old ·Buffet ·

We recognize the ProStart® National Certificate of Achievement as a valuable industry credential. ProStart® is a registered trademark of the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation.

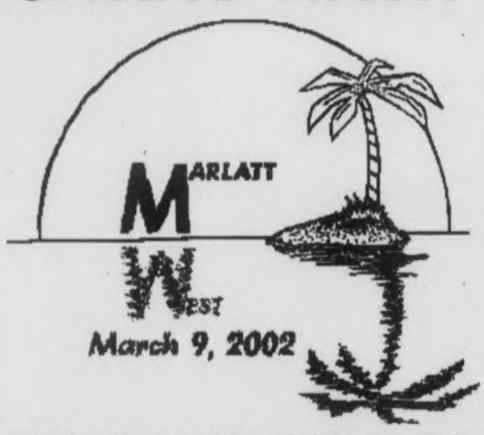

·Buffets, Inc.

To learn about internships and other opportunities at Buffets, Inc. call toll-free at 1-877-7BUFFET or contact us at www.buffet.com

Come Join Us At the 19th Annual

At Union Station of the KSU Student Union From 8:00 to 11:00pm

Play Poker, Blackjack, Craps, and Roulette

TONS OF PRIZES TO BE AUCTIONED!!!

FREE ADMISSION, OPEN TO PUBLIC Also bring canned food for additional gambling money ($100/can, limit 5)

All food goes to the Manhattan Breadbasket Event organized by Marlatt and West Halls. This ad paid for by

Bring this coupon to Casino Night, and get an extra $100 to gamble with

Please limit one coupon per person

*

Classifieds

Friday, March 8, 2002

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

pus. $490 per month. Wa-ter included. Call Matt at

110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apart-June 1, one year lease. 539

ACROSS FROM Marlatt apartments. Private parking Available April or May. Also June and August leases. No pets (785)539-0549.

AVAILABLE JUNE. Two bedroom duplexes, some with washer and dryer hook ups, some with basements. off-street parking. One-half block from KSU campus.

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to mpus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedm apartment, 1230 Cla flin across from Ford Hall. 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice, large one-bedroom apart-ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, laundromat $340. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496.

ONE. THREE, four, or fivees. Central heat/ air-condining; washer/ dryer; no Close to campus

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

4901.

SPACIOUS TWO and threebedroom, close to campus. Central air, laundry facilities, and August (785)539-0866.

THREE-BEDROOM (785)776-9719. pus, June lease. Water, trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296.

ONE-BEDROOM apartments. 1030 Keame No pets. Available now. C Aaron at (816)847-7195.

TWO. THREE, four bed-bath, central air, laundry tacampus. (785)537-1746 TWO-BEDROOM, EAST of one and one-half

University (785)539-2857

Rooms Available

ROOM FURNISHED or un furnished. Four blocks to college, $175/ MONTH. (785)770-3190. 930

For Rent-

Houses

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments and houses selection and price is NOW.

For Rent-

For Rent-

THREE-BEDROOM

HOUSE and three-bedroom duplex available June 1st

tion. (785)539-7394.

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

three-bedroom homes avail

central air, washer, dryer,

beautiful, spacious

ROOMMATE

wanted one block off campus, $250 plus one-third util-

Great second-story apart-ment Washer/ dryer, trash water paid. Cheap utilities. $280/ month. Call Matt at

SUBLEASERS NEEDED to

the summer. NICE HOUSE,

One and two-bedroom

campus.

SUBLEASES.

Contact Ericka

785)776-0997 or e-mail at

For Rent-

Roommate

elw3838@ksu.edu

ROOMMATE

(785)587-9882

Sublease

Call (785)323-0990.

SUMMER

Wanted

FEMALE

NEED TO RENT. As soon ONE, TWO and three-bed- AVAILABLE JUNE 1. fouras possible, by April 1. room apartments close to five bedroom house. Locat-Two-bedroom, 1832 Claflin campus. June and August ed 824 Laramie. Dishwash-Apartment 8. Close to cam-leases. No pets. Call er, central air, washer/ dry-pus. $490 per month. Wa- (785)539-1975 or (785)776- er, yard. $265/ each plus > (785)539-3672. CLOSE TO CAMPUS New central air, washer dryer, dishwasher. No June 1. $1080

FIVE, SIX, and seven-bed-

FOR RENT: 1709 Vaughr June 1 $875, Call Jack (785)776-1214 or (785)776-

FOR RENT: Available August 1, 815 Kearney, Three-bedroom, $775, Call (785)776-7706 or (785)776-

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE central air, off-street park-ing, three blocks from campus and Aggieville. Great condition $1120 (785)776-

MALE ROOMMATES wanted to share very nice six-bedroom house one-half block from campus. Washer/ dryer provided, free off-street parking and furnished rooms. No smoking or drinking in house, Low utilities. Cable, phone, Ethernet in Call Matt (785)532-9909

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bed-room houses. Also one and two-bedroom apartments. June and August leases. No pets. (785)539-0549.

THREE-, FOUR-, five-bedroam houses for rent. close to campus with dryer, offstreet parking, air condi-August. Call (785)456-7900. For Rent-Houses

BRAND NEW four-bedroom two bath with washer/ dryer. Close to campus. No pets. $1100 per month, June 1 lease, (785)539-2356.

FEMALE ROOMMATES room, two and one-half bath townhouse, very nice, partly furnished, central air, wash er and dryer provided, pets, no smoking, $212/ month plus one-fifth of low utilities. Call 785-336-2313

FOUR AND Five bedrooms campus. (785)539-4641.

FOUR-BEDROOM. ONE bath house for rent. June 1. $960/ month. Washer/ dry Vattier. Call (785)539-4949. leave message. FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and air, laundry hook-ups. pets. June lease. 1 double-wide Kearney $1100 (785)556home. Homes all come with FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO dishwasher and garbage bath, dishwasher, air, laundisposal. They are available bath, dishwasher, central dry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1605 Leavenworth. $1100. (785)556-5668. FOUR-REDROOM TWO bath, washer/ dryer hookup no pets or smokers. 1016 Thurston, $1,200 plus utilities. June lease. (785)776-

NICE FOUR-BEDROOM home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets or smoking. June 1 lease. $240/ each plus utilities. Call (785)759-3520.

THREE-BEDROOM PLEX, campus area June lease. Central air, washer/ dryer hook-ups. No pets. (785)539-5627

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE available August 1 Ciose to Aggieville. street parking, central air, high speed internet, no pets, no smoking, (785)313-6084. THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE for rent two blocks from the college. $750 a 1112 Thurston. (913)829-0985.

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer, no pets $900 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-4805. THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bathroom. Dishwasher, central air, laundry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. 1921 College Heights. $250/ bed-room. (785)556-5668.

THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers. 1523 $840 plus utilities lease 4805

135 For Sale-

Mobile Homes

room, two bathroom. Many nice deck Lot number Colonial Gardens, $16,500 negotiable, available May.

Roommate Wanted

NEAT, NON-SMOKING lemale looking for roommate for two-bedroom apartment. need to contact as soon as possible. (620)341-4563 ashley harbison@hotmail.c

ROOMMATE WANTED Available now. Rent $225 per month plus one-third cable and electric room available in May. Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu. WANTED: ROOMMATE(S) male/ female, to lease bedment. Rent $230/ month

ble immediatly Lovated across from Football Stadi-2591 LINDSEY 150 I

FEMALE SUBLEASER, one imished room in furnished apartment as soon as possi-bedroom/ two bath duplex available for sublease after finals through July. Nice lo-cation, washer and dryer. Rent negotiable. (785)323-

ONE-BEDROOM NICE. apartment for rent. June 1 lease or sublease for sumner. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Water/ trash paid. (785)565-

$240/ month, one-third of utilities. Nice place. Close to Call evenings (784)770-8504. SUBLEASE NEEDED for

Help Wanted

SUMMER sublease. Two bedroom, one and one-half bath, close to campus. (785)323-0608, (913)681-2480

Sublease

SUMMER SUBLEASE for one-bedroom apartment. $250/ month. Please call (785)770-3167 SUMMER SUBLEASERS wanted for nice two-bedroom apartment close to campus. $270/ month each. Call Kirsten or Julianne at

service directory

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

SPRING BREAK is near! Loose that extra 10 pounds and keep it off. Increased START TODAY! (785)776-

employment/ opportunities

$$$$ SUMMER JOBS $$$$ IF YOU'LL be close to Kan-sas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a lot of $$, consider working College Pro Painters You'll have fun working outside and with your friends. If interested, please call (888)CPP-97US For more information including job de-scriptions, visit www.collegepro.com

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-(800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race. sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-try. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Emsuch employment oppor

$1500 WEEKLY potential nailing our circulars. For information call (203)977-

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided.

Earn up to $250/ day. Will fains. Come work for the Cail (866)291-1884 North America. Visit our BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Designers Wanted.

(785)830-0367 CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout August $1700 plus summer camps in Northern weekends.

SPRING/ SUMMER SEA-CAMP WOOD YMCA, Elmdale, KS. Seeking energetic Program Directors, Water front and Wrangler staff. (620)273-8641 or campwood@bulldognet.com

(941)329-6434 or FARM HELP wanted. Expeence necessary. Su pring and Fall.

HEAD LIFEGUARD needed for 2002 season to the pool manager. Must be Red Cross certified. Apply in person before March 18 to Manhattan Country Club. 1531 N. 10th. Some food

APARTMENT IT'S GREEK TO ME, Inc. is looking for a cleaning fanatic. This part-time position will be 3 hours a day (preferably from 5-8pm) Monday-Friday. Previous occupational cleaning experience re-quired. Start immediately $6.50 per hour with the op-portunity for a performance raise after 90 days. We offer a great work environment-

LIVE AND WORK IN COL-ORADO! Be a CAMP COUNSELOR at Girl Scout overnight camp in the mountains southwest of Denver. General counselors and program specialists (hiking, outdoor skills, crafts, nature, sports, challenge course, dance and drama). June 1 early August. MAKE A DIF-FERENCE. Competitive salary, room, meals, health in-surance, travel allowance. Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281 e-mail rhondam@gsmhc.org NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com-bines 2388's and New Autonatic Tandem Grain Trucks Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers License. Provide room and board and excellent salary! Call (785)689-4660.

tions. Prefer freshmen or sophomore. Prefer program knowledge or experience. Six hours/ week for Spring 2002. More hours in Fall 2002. Apply at Education Supportive Services, 201 Holton Hall

PART-TIME STUDENT poployer prefer freshman sophomore, peer-mentoring helping experience. Work study a plus, 10 ho Business week, Spring 02. More hours Fall 02. Apply at Educational Supportive Services, 201 Holton Hall. PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE

FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, water front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great mmer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com 0454

RIDE HORSES IN COLO-RADO! Be part of the west-em riding staff at Girl Scoul overnight camp southwest of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive salary, room, meals, travel allowance. Late May- early 2002. (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or is looking for a money-moti with a proven history of prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission $50,000/ year or more. mail resume in Microsoft guide tourists and largest horse operation

www.sombrero.com pr

Looks good, runs good, 128,000 miles, $1,500 Call TIAL camp south of Kansas City seeks qualified counse lors to lead educational and 1993 FORD Probe GT brakes 67K, sunroof, excel and board (913)757-4500 best offer. (785)323-0011 and/ or retail experience preferred. Pick up application at Eastside or Westside > matic. Very clean. Red. 95K $4,050, negotiable. 1994 Mitsubishi Galant ES, auto 785)770-9218 erol1421@ksu.edu HONDAS FROM $500! (800)719-3001 ext 7536.

Motorcycles

Synder's Honda. Will sell or rocket. (785)539-8942.

HONDA SABRE 1984 700cc, V4. Low mileage, excellent condition looks great. Asking $1100. Call (785)341-8054 or (785)776-

630

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

Deadlines

you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

> Spring SPRING BREAK

"14 FREE Meals" 429
40 hrs FREE Drinks! "429
MITTED OFFER - CALL TODAY! " Panama City 149 LOWEST PAN South Padre 149 GUARANTEED

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY 20 words or less $7.50 20¢ per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less $8.80 each word over 20 25¢ per word

20 words or less $10.35 each word over 20 30¢ per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45 each word over 20 35¢ per word

$12.50 each word over 20 40¢ per word ( consecutive day rate )

FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first

CANCELLATIONS If you sell your item before your ad has before noon the day before the ad is to be published.

For an extra charge we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the reader's attention

opportunities

board

Announcements

Flying Club has live air-ACADEMY OF BARTEND ING Have fun, make mon-ey, meet people Earn $15-

$30 an hour. Day, evening ble Job placement assis tance, $199 with student ID. 1(800)BARTEND

www.bartendingcollege.com ATTORNEY AT Charles W. (Chuck) Harper 25 years experience 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100 chuckharper@msn.com

10a m-Come and order your Grad-SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-

LATIONSHIPS just got eas-

GRAD FAIR. Take care of all your graduation needs at the Union Bookstore. March

8. 10a m - 4p.m. and

Lost and Found

placed free for three days. LOST: FIVE pound Yorkie Terrier, black and gold. Last PAIR OF glasses in Nichols claimed in room 129.

030 Personals

MAKEOVER

We require a form of picture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

perms, contact Hair Expert's

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

son equal opportunity in campus. housing without distinc- 1112 Th tion on account of race, 0985. LEARN TO FLY!" K-State origin or ancestry. Viola- Central ns should be reported > (785)587-2440. nished, 1219 Claflin/ 1218 Pomeroy, $330 deposit, Wafer and trash paid. (785)456ostay in class ar the "enemme2

Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom

 Alarm System *Swimming Pool *Washer Dryer *Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

.Permit Parking Tennis/Volleyball Courts ·Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-5,

Sat. 10-4

INIVERSITY *COMMONS*

539-0500

APARTMENTS

For Rent-

Unfurnished ACROSS FROM Aggieville, next to campus. 1112 Blue-Two-bedroom. street parking, trash paid-low utilities. Available Au-

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1.

bedrooms. Close to cam-pus. No Pets. Year lease. AVAILABLE NOW, summer three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

$250 a month June 1 ry status, disability, reli- FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO sage air, appliances, to the Director of Human parking August 1 $1200. Resources at City Hall, Call (785)537-8420. LEASING FOR ALL. Two

> condition. (785)776-4166

http://www.angellire.com/ks 2/bluestem/ NEXT TO campus one. two, three-bedroom houses. apartments. Central air parking, free washer/ dryer No pets. Available August

(785)537-7050 ONE BEDROOM, close campus (June). (785)539-leases No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-ONE, TWO, three and fourschool year. One-bedrooms Chase Manhattan Apartments (785)776-3663 (24-

ONE-BEDROOM $405 1225 Claflin, Two-bedroom $550, 1320 N. Manhattan Avenue. One-bedroom stu dio furnished, 1219 Claffin

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid $390/ month Call (785)537-7810. ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre

$330. (785)456-2812. No

gust lease. (785)776-4805. ONE-BEDROOM, WASH-ER/ DRYER, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier. $305.00 plus utilities. gust lease. (785)776-4805. THREE AND Four-bedrooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath basement apartment, June 1 $720/ month. Washer/ dryer/ air-conditionher/ dryer/ air-condition- er, central air, washer/ dry-709 Bluemont. Call er, yard. $265/ each plus Manhattan City Ordinance CLEAN ONE-BEDROOM THREE-BEDROOM. TWO 4814 assures every per- apartment two blocks from bath main floor apartment. $750/ month Washer/ dryer/ air-condition > trash and cable paid, $420. TWO-BEDROOM, NO pets

Now Leasing 1 BR From $470

Available FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term okay, short-term s. Call Century 21 Pets

Knight. (785)565-0138. For Rent-

room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study, family room. One-car ga close to downtown Three-bedroom. COULD be four, west of KSU. Three-bedroom, west of stadium. No smoking/ drinking/ pets. (785)539

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four five bedroom house. Locat ed 824 Laramie. Dishwash

(785)539-3672

deposit

Sublease

(785)341-4588. NICE TWO year old, four-

3713 READY NOW! March paid for! One-bedroom available.

the summer for two-bed-room apartment close to campus. $520/ month, price Please call (785)539-7735.

785)457-3452 or (785)457-

187, Manhattan, KS 66502.

Help Wanted accounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience Starting Salary :

apply today at 520 McCall Road, Manhattan, KS, 6502 e-mail KLindsay@igtm.com. Equal Opportunity Employer.

PART TIME student posirhondam@gsmhc.org vised to approach any vated inside salesperson BOOK: Anthology of Chitunity with reasonable strong sales performance incaution. The Collegian cluding quota over achievement. Applicants must have a proven history of phone Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, prospecting and closing

> Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com, EOE WANTED:

> Boulder, CO 80301. WILDWOOD- RESIDEN-

wildwood@peoplestelecom.

SONAL. Starting Salaries: various (seasonal positions, Oaks Sports Complex is looking for umpires, score-keepers, and concession music director, stage managers, choreographer, cos tumer, piano accompanist, ple Day Camp counselors, Fun in the Sun Special Populations Day Camp coordi youth arts and crafts instruc ors among others. Closing CONCESSION STAND AND GIFT SHOP ATTENDANTS. Starting Salary: $5.15/ hour. (seasonal part-time, nonbenefit eligible). Special Requirements: Must be able to work weekends, some evenings and holidays including Memorial Weekend and Labor Day (weekend hours March- May and Sep-tember- November and daily hours May- August). Posi-tion Requirements: Applicants must be friendly, out-going and motivated, self-starters with fundamental

Date: Applications will be

Cancun & Jamaica BOOK NOW! SPACE IS LIMITED

each word over 20

3 DAYS

5 DAYS 20 words or less

days free of charge.

wrong insertion.

expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us

HEADLINES

real estate

seen near Ratone street. Comes to "Gizmo" Call (785)539-5256.

gust 1. (785)776-0683.

washer and dryer. $475. AVAILABLE AUGUST. Two. three, four, five, and six-campus with great prices, ing. 709 Bluemont. Call er, yard (785)537-6017. (785)539-4949, leave mes-utilities www.beloose.com/linwood baths, close to campus bedroom and three-bed-room, one block from campus, laundry. Excellent loca-room apartments. Close to campus. June and August start at $490 per month. Call Hours). One-half mile from THREE-BEDROOM, NO 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT apartment, close to campus, newly remodeled

2 BR From $570

3 BR From $744

$500.00 plus utilities. Avail

Rooms

Houses TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING

Help Wanted

Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

BARTENDERS NEEDED! train. No experience neces

Program Staff, Riding Counselors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4. Lease until August Availa-Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 1 800-352-6133 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

> CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Sea-sonal or year round. Call cruisecareers,com > and beverage responsibili-HOW TO make $5000 per week for the rest of your life Learn how. For free informa-tion, send self addressed stamped envelope to: JAdel-hardt, 1228 Westloop PMB helpful. Closing Date: Applicants will be accepted un til positions are filled. CON-CESSION STAND AND GIFT SHOP MANAGER. hour. (seasonal part-time non-benefit eligible). Spe cial Requirements: Must be able to work 20-30 hours/ week, including weekends. including Memorial Week-end and Labor Day (weekend hours March- May and daily hours May- August) Position Requirements Responsible for managing 9 gift shop attendants Applicants must be friendly, outgoing and motivated, selfaccounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience helpful. Closing Date: Applicants will be accepted un-Attendant. Starting salary $5.30/ hour (part-time). Pr sition Requirements: Collect admission fees, operate cash register, welcome visi-tors and answer phone Shift Schedule: Must be able to work a flexible Monday-Friday shift plus holidays, weekends and eve nings. Closing date: 03/14/02. To be considered for an available position, you ust complete a City Manhattan application and return it to us by 5 p.m. on the closing date. For appli-cants or more information, www.ci.manhattan.ks.us/hr/ obs.asp - call the Job Line at (785)587-2446 - e-mail visit City hall, 1101 Poyntz Ave. Equal opportunity em-

Opportunities The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka KS 66607-1190, (785)232

> oper market 410

Items for Sale

condition.

Automobiles

1994 RANGER

good condition, 84K. (785)776-1195.

1995 DODGE Ram.

1995 FORD Probe.

(785)770-8810.

extended cab. 4x2, red and grey. Automatic, 98K miles Must sell. $9000. Cal

leather,

Splash

$9000 Call

1989 MERCURY Couga

nese Literary Essays (Translated to English) (_chungwang.tripod.com. KENMORE WASHER $45 and dryer $50, Amana

GREEK AFFAIRS ■ Continued from page 1

which also has caused some concern among alumni. Robel's salary - $60,048 - is high for someone who only has an undergraduate degree, alumna Doris Miller said.

At the University of Kansas, there is a separate adviser for IFC and Panhellenic. Their combined salaries do not equal Robel's.

However, Robel said she has 27 years of experience, tenure and is considered a department head under Pat Bosco, dean of student life. Other offices also employ more paid assis-

"I do a lot more in my position." Robel said.

Fraternity adviser Tim Lindemuth said Robel is respected nationwide.

"People turn to her for advice. They look at what she does programmatically and try to copy that on their campus," he said. "Barb, in my estimation, is one of the top greek advisers in the nation.'

Lindemuth said he had no concerns with Greek Affairs operations. The awards it receives is proof of how strong the system is, he said.

IFC and Panhellenic councils recently swept every available award at the Mid-American Greek Council Association Conference in Chicago, including the best councils in the Midwest. About 120 schools competed in this category.

But some alumni have questioned the trip itself. Fifteen to 20 students take the annual trip, and IFC and Panhellenic dues pay for their airfare, lodging and conference

The awards are nice, Miller said, but they don't necessarily benefit the students.

"It seems they spend more time doing that than running this office."

Hostetler said he didn't think it was fair for chapter members to have to pay for a few people to take a week-long trip.

However, IFC and Panhellenic officers do not get paid for their work. This is the one perk to their jobs, Robel said.

IFC President Phil Stein said this trip allows officers to learn, take classes and help other schools.

"Nationwide a lot of greek communities are facing a lot of problems," he said. "A lot are heading In the wrong direction, losing numbers

"Here at K-State our greek community is excelling and achieving way beyond the scope of others.

The Chicago trip presents another problem the financial report cited - a lack of receipts and documentation, Members usually pay with credit cards and have failed to keep detailed records of expenses.

According to their financial policies, IFC and Panhellenic officers must keep and present receipts for all reimbursements. The firm said this seldom happens.

Miller said the office needs to be more accountable.

"No one knows where the money is going," she said. "There are no documents."

If the Internal Revenue Service audits Greek Affairs, Miller said she would be concerned if the organization would lose its non-profit status.

Robel said this is not a valid

"We are not in jeopardy of that at all," she said.

Panhellenic Council President Lindsey Vogel said the office is taking steps to improve its record keeping.

"We will obviously address our financial policies," she said. "Every organization has room for improvement.

The audit also said that Robel sometimes writes advances on her

However, she said she only has done this on a few occasions after the state went from giving one to two checks a month.

Alumnus Gary Clift said the bottom line is that the office needs more oversight and internal controls.

"It's what happens when you get a bureaucrat in office for too long," he said. "They build themselves a nice little nest, and then something troublesome happens."

Some alumni had a difficult time obtaining copies of the audit, Hostetler said. He accused the office of stalling and not providing copies in a timely fashion. It should be open to anyone who signs a confidentiality

Robel said everyone who has requested a copy has received it.

Vogel said the councils want to work with alumni, but self-governance is one of the strengths of K-State's greek system.

"Our greek system can pride itself on the leadership that undergraduates hold," she said. "I would hate to take that away.

Hostetler said that is not his goal. "It's just obvious that they need some financial help," he said. Miller said she wants to make one thing clear - alumni are not out to get Robel.

"This is not a witchhunt," she said. "Our commitment to Kansas State is so strong, this really hurts us to see undergraduates be put into this position.

Window walker

Brad Crane, senior in electrical engineering, walks between Hale Library and Seaton Hall on his way to the K-State Student Union on Thursday afternoon.

Nicole Donnert/ Collegian

CONTEST

Continued from page 1

because of complications with the online ballots.

In order to vote successfully, students were required to click a selection in each category even if no candidates were in the running. However, if students attempted to vote again, the names were rerandomnized, but the checked boxes stay in place.

Cook said he also was concerned with the results not adding up correctly.

If all the categories had to be checked in order to send a ballot. he said, then all the category vote totals should add up.

However, the total number of votes cast for student body president including abstentions was 3,774, while votes cast for Board of Student Publications where only abstain and write-in were options, 3,482 votes were cast. In question No. 3 of the SafeRide plebiscite vote, votes totaled 3,389.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said everyone needs to remember the results are unofficial.

"I want to emphasize that the results are unofficial," he said. "We have not yet received a complete tally from the vendor.'

Cook said the election should be redone. Students who gave up after unsuccessful voting attempts were denied the right to vote, he said.

"We are doing something illegal by denying people the right to vote," he said. "You can't even tell how many people there were."

Bill Muir, Student Senate faculty adviser, said the difficulties with the ballots should have affected the candidates equally.

"It affected everything overall." Muir said. "Everyone could vote. If you didn't complete a vote, that was your choice.'

Cook disagreed.

"A lot of students that wanted to vote for us were international students," he said. "It's not in their native language already and they've had trouble understanding."

Cook said his goal in contesting the results will be asking for a new

"If we did revote, it would still be close, but I would feel more comfortable knowing that everyone had the chance to vote," he said. "You can't say what would have happened.

"If Matt believes voters will speak, if he knows people were denied the right to vote, then he should agree to a new election," Cook said.

According to a press release,

Wolters said the votes should

"While voting conditions are not ideal, they did not harm individual candidates," he said in the press release. "The elections were fair and the results were valid. We want to look into the future and get started on a great year in

Cook and Kohman also will consider contesting because no write-in option was available in the student body president category.

"I don't think that all of the people that abstained really wanted to," Cook said. "I know some of those people wanted to vote for Fetus Genius. If 59 people had voted for him, there would be no winner."

Cook suggested an in-house balloting system where K-State officials would control the online voting.

"Iballot.com evidently didn't debug the system," Cook said. "We could have it done in the fall. practice it and make it run smoothly. It should be simpler and easier to vote online."

He said he believes the fault lies with the online vendor and a vague regulations code, not with the elections committee.

"It's nobody's fault until we have the closest election in history," he said. "Now, who do you point the finger at?"

Grad-to-Go Package $74.95

personalized announcements, cap, gown, tassel, powercat note cards, mortarboard seals

& souvenir tassel

Balfour Announcements®, Commerce Bank, Willsie Cap & Gown, Artcarved®, Framed Memories, KSU Student Foundation

save $22 with our

VARIETY

■ Continued from page 1

Both houses were excited about winning.

I'm very excited because we didn't get to do this last year, and we came out and won," Stephany Wall, member of Chi Omega, said.

Chi Omega's skit included several small dance scenes and one wacky dance teacher.

Laniya Deas, member of Chi Omega, said they only worked on their skit for three "It was scary," Deas said.

"We didn't work on it very long. Maybe two to three hours each day we got together." Try Graber, member of FarmHouse fraternity, said his house worked a little longer "We had four practices and one brainstorming session," Graber said. FarmHouse's skit was about Muppets saving Manhaftan from Soviet soldiers. Myles Vulgamore, also a member of FarmHouse, said it felt good to win after all the work his house had put into their skit.

KAPPA OMICRON NU

honor society in the College of Human Ecology, announces it's SPRING INITIATION SUNDAY, MARCH 10, 2002 2:00 p.m. in Hoffman Lounge, Justin Hall

RN, LPN, or Experienced Medical Professional

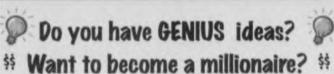

Where your heart and mind go to work. Be a link in our chain of giving. We are currently hiring in our Donor Services department in the Manhattan and surrounding areas. This is a rewarding and fast paced job working with volunteers and donors. These employees will work at blood drives drawing blood and conducting health histories. Also responsible for setting up and breaking down the blood drive equipment. Must be flexible, hours will vary each day. Full time. M-F and occasional weekends and holidays. Some overnight travel. Must be able to bend and stoop and lift 40 lb. on a regular basis. Salary commensurate with experience. Pay also includes overnight differential. GREAT benefits! Send resumes or call for an application:

American Red Cross Services, 707 N. Main, Wichita,
KS 67203 Phone(316) 268-9040 Fax (316) 268-0864 e-mail moveria@usa.redcross.org

EOE M/F/D/V Drug Free Workplace

Located in the Union Courtyard March 7-8 10am-4pm & March 9 10am-1pm K-State Alumni Association, KSSU Recreation, Peace Corp. KSSU Food Service, Apple Computer, KSSU Copy Center, Crimpers Too Styling

Learn how to PATENT your work!

What: Patent Seminar Where: Union Little Theatre When: Wednesday, March 13th 2:00-5:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Food Science Graduate Student Association and the Graduate Student Council

Need Money for College?

Receive up to $52,000 or more

The cost of college is going up, up, up. A regular paycheck and educational incentives can help you pay your way. Best of all, you work part-time. So, you can go to college and keep your social life while you serve your community and country. Call us now to see if you're eligible at 861-4295 or toll free 1-800-435-5149 or www.goang.com

> Fuel Your Future Air National Guard

> > KANSAS

Located in Topeka, KS.

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera

GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

Love shipwrecked in suburbia! ... Inspired by JAZZ and the American musical

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 11, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 112 www.kstatecollegian.com

Ice Cube stars in new film

see page 7

Committee to review Greek Affairs' finances

Kansas State Collegian

Greek Affairs plans to form a joint committee of alumni and undergraduates to develop better financial policies.

About 50 alumni and students addressed concerns Sunday that the office's financial policies are inadequate and without internal

"They're lacking," Interfraternity Council President Phil Stein said. "There's no argument from us that our financial policies are not what they could be."

The committee, which probably will be implemented in April, will be comprised of an equal number of alumni and students. However, financial decisions that require votes still will rest with the students.

IFC and Panhellenic councils, the governing bodies of fraternities and sororities, agreed to form the committee after suggestions made from an agreed-upon procedures report. Clubine and Rettele, of Salina, performed the procedures.

The report, which is basically a partial audit, advised Greek Affairs to create more detailed policies. For example, the office could outline the appropriate documentation required for all expenditures.

Officers need to keep better records and receipts, especially when expenses are paid with credit cards, the report said.

Alumnus Charlie Hostetler said he wants the office to be more accountable for student money. IFC dues are $17 per fraternity member and $75 per chapter per semesier. Panhellenic dues are $16 per sorority member and $65 per chapter per semester. These dues pay for Robel's salary, conferences and any other expenses. The university provides IFC and Panhellenic councils with office space and phone lines.

"Are we going to have receipts in the future so we can determine how our money is being spent?" Hostetler said. "That hasn't been done here before.

Stein said Greek Affairs already has made strides in these areas. Twenty-two IFC and Panhellenic officers recently returned from a conference in Chicago, and every dollar is accounted for, he said.

"There is no excuse for that." Stein said. 'But we've changed it. That's the past." Alumnus Tom Tuggle suggested that Greek Affairs adviser Barb Robel and the office undergo a performance audit. "I don't think Barb is pulling her share of the wagon, and she's the one making $80,000," he said. Robel's annual salary is about $60,000, but her total compensation package, including retirement and a yearly bonus, is about $77,000

Robel has faced criticism from some alumni because of finances, how she handled the Acacia hazing incident and the demise of Sigma Sigma Sorority several years ago.

A tearful Robel replied to those criticisms. "The undergraduates are being put in this position because you guys are out to get me." she said. "Let's be serious - this is a witch

"I have tried to accept all of the criticism with grace and dignity. This has been a very hurtful three years."

Robel pointed out the several awards K-Staie's greek system has won as testament to her dedication. IFC and Panhellenic councils swept every available award at the Mid-American Greek Council Association Conference in Chicago, including best Robel urged alumni to look to the future and keep the students' best interests in mind.

"We have to move on, people," she said. "We have to move on, It's not fair to the students.

Cook calls for revote in election

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas Statu Collegian

Presidential candidates Zac Cook and Todd Kohman have formally contested the results from the general election, which > declared Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles the winners.

In an open letter to the elections committee, Cook and Kohman outlined four sections of the elections regulations code that they feel were violated, and called for a new election.

First, the letter stated that students were denied the right to vote due to a confusing ballot provided by the elections committee through the online vendor, iballot.com.

Second, the elections regulations code states "appropriate blank spaces shall be included for every office for write-in candidates." Cook and Kohman claim the elections committee failed to provide a write-in option for the office of student body president and vice president.

Third, Cook and Kohman accuse the elections committee chair of not providing secure ballots. Due to conflicting numbers in categories where all students were required to vote, ballots were not counted by the online vendor.

Finally, the letter states that a majority of votes was not received by any presidential candidate with the inclusion of the abstentions. Cook and Kohman claim "the choice 'abstain' served as a candidate and would be included in the number of votes

See ELECTION on PAGE 8

Homecourt advantage

Matt Stamey/Collegian

The women's basketball team responds to ESPN's announcement giving K-State a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament on Sunday afternoon in Bramlage Coliseum. Manhattan will be host to first- and second-round games of the tournament with K-State playing 14-seed Kent State on Friday.

K-State earns No. 3 seed, will host NCAA tourney

BY MICHAEL WATSON as State Colli

he women's basketball team and 1,200 fans had their eyes fixed on a big screen at Bramlage Coliseum on Sunday as ESPN announced the 2002 NCAA Tournament seeds.

Bramlage Coliseum grew silent, and then it was announced - K-State, 24-7. earned the No. 3 seed in the Mideast Region. Fans and players jumped from their seats, screaming.

Because K-State is a top-16 team in the nation, Manhattan will be host to three other schools including Arkansas and Clemson and Kent State, which K-State will play in the first round

"I don't know if anyone could have dreamed this, but we're living it," Coach Deb Patterson said. "We're absolutely thrilled. I can truly say after drawing 100,000 fans to our games this year, this is going to be one of the best first rounds in history because our fans will be here to support us."

Tickets for the tournament went on sale immediately after the selection show - $20 for chairbacks and $15 for bench seats. It did not take long before the long line familiar to K-State women's basketball formed outside the Bramlage ticket office.

Patterson said this is exciting. She said she was in college in 1983 - the last time Manhattan was host to a round of the NCAA Tournament.

"In the modern age of women's basketball, earning the spot of a top-16 team is special," she said. "I'm excited for our fans, Manhattan and our players."

Chuck Burton, 1963 K-State graduate, said he and his wife Linda have followed both the men's and women's basketball teams since 1970 as season ticket holders.

"I'm excited about the tournament, and I'm proud of these kids," Burton said. "They are good kids who play hard and are good people - on and off the court. Their attitude is so refreshing. That partly results from good coaching."

Vera Jones, player in the WNBA and co-host of the ESPN Selection Show, said she cannot believe the moves sophomore center Nicole Ohlde can make.

"I think they're going to make some noise in the tournament," Jones said nationally on ESPN

However, she said the University of Connecticut would still be the team to beat in the tournament. One of the reasons UConn is so good is because it starts four seniors.

"I'm excited. K-State will be playing four seniors in three years," Burton said.

Freshman guard Laurie Koehn said she is happy to play for K-State fans.

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Josh Brownell of Clay Center talks to his aunt on his cell phone to tell her to watch ESPN before the 2002 NCAA Tournament seeds were announced at Bramlage Collseum on Sunday afternoon. After the show, fans of all ages were given the opportunity to ask the team and coaches questions.

"You guys are the best fans in the world," she said to the crowd at Bramlage. "Every game we've played this season was so much fun because of you guys."

Senior guard Kristin Rethman said K-State fans are going to give the Wildcats an edge in the first round. She said seeing the long lines outside Bramlage and selling out Bramlage is

Patterson said she is especially happy for Rethman, whom she said has watched K-State basketball since she was a child. Patterson said Rethman is now helping put K-State on the map, gaining national coverage for K-State through ESPN.

The senior will finish out her career with an NCAA Tournament run and the chance to play in front of a home

"We're going dancin'," Rethman said. "We're going dancin'."

House moves food safety lab to Senate

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansas State Collegias

K-State is one step closer to building a $40-million food safety lab. The House approved a bill Friday that would authorize $110 million in bonds for research centers at the state's three largest universities. The 94-25 vote sends the measure to the Senate, where key legislators support the concept.

"We're very pleased that the Legislature has acted." Sue Peterson, assistant to the president, said. "We're looking forward to working with the Senate."

The earliest the Senate will begin debate on the bill is the week of March 18.

The bill includes food safety research at K-State, biomedicine research at the University of Kansas and aviation research at Wichita State University. Federal grants would fund the centers' operations.

Plans call for the state to pay off no more than $50 million in bonds during the next five years. Those payments would begin in fiscal year 2004. To pay off the rest of the bonds and operating expenses, the universities would have to obtain federal grants and private donations.

House members debated the bill Thursday. Opponents pointed out the estimated $675-million budget shortfall.

"We're mortgaging our future," Rep. Bill Feuerborn, D-Garnett said.

Feuerborn argued the state was adding spending obligations for future years when revenues are projected to be tight. However, legislators defeated an attempt to send the bill back to committee by an 87-32 vote.

Others argued that this was an enormous economic development oppor-

"Today is not a day to step backward in the state of Kansas," Rep. Ralph Tanner, R-Baldwin City said.

K-State's food safety lab would have the capabilities to study Level 3 pathogens, just a step below the most dangerous, like ebola, which falls into

See FOOD SAFETY on PAGE 3

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

LOCAL IN BRIEF

RCPD to allow theft victims to look through property

The Riley County Police Department will allow victims of past reported burglaries or thefts involving tools to meet with detectives at Manhattan Fire Department today through Wednesday.

Victims can meet the detectives from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. to view the property if they have reported similar items stolen. Only victims who have filed reports will be allowed to view the property.

The police department advises that victims, prior to arriving, bring a list of items reported stolen.

The types of property in custody are as follows: hand tools, power tools, carpenter tools, construction tools, radios, vacuum cleaners, push lawnmowers and bicycles.

STATE IN BRIEF

'Rights of conscience' bill clears House committee

TOPEKA - Health care providers could not be fired for refusing to perform abortions, fill birth control prescriptions or take part in some other services under a bill that cleared a House committee.

The "Health Care Providers' Rights of Conscience Act" would ban discrimination against doctors, nurses, pharmacists and other health workers who refuse to participate in services to which they object.

Supporters said Thursday that the measure is designed to protect such individuals' jobs, although it prohibits any "adverse action" against them for their refusal to participate.

Senate passes bill to require children to use special seats

TOPEKA - Senators approved a bill requiring more children riding in vehicles to use special seats.

The 23-17 vote Thursday sent the measure to the House, which is considering its own bill.

Proponents contend the bill will protect children from being killed or seriously injured.

But critics said the bill represented unwanted government intrusion into everyday life.

The law requires that children under 4 ride in child passenger safety seats and that children 4 through 13 wear seat belts. Public safety advocates say that seat belts don't provide enough protection for some young children.

However, the bill would require that children 4 through 6 or who weigh 40 to 80 pounds ride in booster seats. Also, children from 7 through 15 would have to wear seat belts.

Wichita teen found guilty in beating-death of gay man

WICHITA - A Wichita teenager has been found guilty of severely beating and helping set a fire that killed a 58year-old man who had made sexual advances toward his friend.

A Sedgwick County jury deliberated about four hours before finding Brandon Boone, 17, guilty of first-degree murder in the death of Marcell Eads. He also was convicted of aggravated arson, aggravated robbery and aggravated burglary.

Boone is the second person convicted in Eads' death. Zacharay Steward, 18, of Wichita, pleaded guilty in November to felony murder and aggravated robbery. Steward is serving a life sentence.

Boone will be sentenced April 30.

NATION IN BRIEF The Associated Press

Officials say America must be prepared to use nukes

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Bush's top foreign-affairs advisers say the United States must be prepared to use nuclear weapons to deter attacks involving weapons of mass destruction. But in an effort to ease alarm overseas, they said there were no plans to do so.

Secretary of State Colin Powell said the United States never has ruled out using nuclear weapons against a nuclear-armed enemy, a policy he said should deter any would-be attacker.

National Security Adviser Condoleezza Rice, Powell and military and congressional leaders were responding to weekend reports that the Pentagon has told Congress it is studying the possible use of nuclear weapons against countries that threaten the United States.

U.S. officials say operations will continue until surrender

BAGRAM, Afghanistan - Exhausted and muddy, hundreds of U.S. soldiers returned from an eight-day battle in the mountains Sunday as the military said the few remaining enemy forces were hunkering down in caves.

Coalition forces cautioned that Operation Anaconda, launched last week to crush al-Qaeda and Taliban forces in the mountains of Paktia province, was not over. U.S. officials said the operation would continue until the last of the enemy troops surrender or

Col. Rick Thomas, a spokesman at Central Command headquarters in Tampa, Fla., said the troops returning to Bagram might be moved to a different part of the battlefield. He said ground fighting had subsided as remaining al-Qaeda and Taliban members hunkered down in remote caves in the Shah-e-Kot mountains.

Tough loss

Zach Long/Collegian

Olpe High School's Jake Cole kneels on the court after the Eagles lost the class 2A state title game in double overtime to Saint Mary's Colgan on Saturday at Bramlage Coliseum. Colgan sank two free throws with two seconds left in double overtime to win the game.

K-STATE NEWSMAKERS Engineering dean receives award for public service

Richard Hayter

associate dean of engineering for external affairs

Richard B. Hayter, associate dean of engineering for external affairs, was awarded the Medal for Distinguished Public Service from the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning in January 2001. Hayter has been involved in the 55,000-member organization for 34 rears and served as the group's international president from 1995 to

The award is given annually to members who have been nominated for excellent public service.

Hayter said he was pleased to learn of his award. "When you do these volunteer things, you don't think about getting an award - you do it because you enjoy being involved," Hayter said.

He has been involved in a variety of community politics, including serving as mayor and city commissioner. He also is a board member for many organizations such as the Manhattan Area Chamber of Commerce and Boy Scout Coronado Area Council.

If you know of anyone who you think is deserving of recognition in our Newsmakers box each Monday, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at collegn@ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

two days before it is to run. ■ The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Bonnie Ginther at 1:30 p.m. today in Bluemont 368. ■ KNEA-SP will meet at 7:30 tonight in Union Forum Hall. ■ GCSA Student chapter meeting will be at 5 p.m. today in Throckmorton

■ The Apostolic Campus Ministry will meet at 7 tonight in Union 202. Future Female Executives will meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in Calvin 209.

Beta Alpha Psi will meet at 7 tonight in the Ramada Landon

■ Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in Holtz Hall. Call 532-6506 for reservations.

The MIS Club will meet at 7 tonight in Calvin 217. Bryan Ritter and Kevin Fink, recent KSU grads and employees of Ernst & Young will speak. Dress is business casual, Pizza and pop will be served. Marican Cancer Society KSU

Relay for Life will have an informational meeting from 7 to 9 tonight in the Union Big 12 Room and from 5 to 6 p.m. Tuesday in Union 212. KSU Aikido will meet at 7 tonight. in Aheam 301.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Thursday, March 7 At 3:52 p.m., Clarissa Hopewell, 803 Fair Lane, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000.

Friday, March 8

At 12:14 a.m., Kariga Pratt, Fort Riley, was arrested for aggravated assault, battery and aggravated battery. Bond was set at $5,000. At 12:14 a.m., Nancy Penn, 1204 Yuma, Apt. 4, was arrested for battery and obstruction of the legal process. Bond was set at $1,000. m At 2:25 a.m., Mark Bigham, Blue Rapids, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. M At 3 a.m., Steven Armstrong, 930 Bertrand, Apt. 2, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz

April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Paul Restivo

Dana Strongin

Nicole Donnert

Amber Koehn

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

Sports Editor

Katie Lane

Jodi Fagerquist

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

Alissa Duncan Manager

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

18Ps 231 (28) a student new quiper at Kassan Stab microsty in published by Studest Public status for , Kedzo 100 Masterney, Kara 80800. The Follogian is published. excitelays during the actions your and on Weshie sdays during the someoner Percedical postage is parel at Manhattan, Kan. 162611. PS STMASTER: Some address charges to Kansas State Kedaw (iii) Madastan, Kan onton 2007

© Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Photo reprints

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

or more OFF

Hours

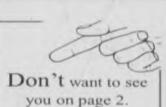

M-F 9 to 8

Sat 9 to 6

Sun 12 to 5

539-6151

40% regular price on

 $\mathbf{BE}$ RESPONSIBLE COUPON-NO TIME LIMIT! SAVE \$1 WATCH BATTERIES

Expertly Installed while you wait regulator clock store 214 S. 4th, Manhattan, 776-6977 FREE parking in front

WANTED:

People to test a new broadband mobile Internet service

Monet Mobile Networks is looking for testers to evaluate a new, broadband wireless Internet service that works with laptop and desktop PCs. Download music, video and access anything on the Internet anywhere in the greater Manhattan area, without a cable or phone

Modern and service are provided at NO COST to those who qualify during the test. You will also be compensated for your feedback.

You must be 18 years or older and have a Windows 98 or 2000 laptop or desktop PC with CD-ROM drive and USB port.

BE ONE OF THE FIRST

▶ Broadband speeds

▶ Mobile access anywhere in Manhattan

▶ Complete Internet experience

Always on

connection

It's Fast. It's Mobile.

monet

CALL 1-866-286-6638 or visit www.monetmobile.com/beta

Mini-Bingo 1:15 p.m. Tuesday 1:30 p.m. Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Mini-Bingo 6:45 p.m. "Progressive Bingo" Sundays & Wednesdays Win Big Bucks -

114 McCall Rd.

Little Caesars

March Specials

$60 Foil Highlights (add another color and haircut for $10) Men's Highlights/Haircut 420. SS OFF Relaxers szo full set

$20 Back Facial 530 Body Polish

Your Career. Takes Hight Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do.

Consider the pessibilities.

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. 1:1 staff/student ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR, SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Salary, $34.585 - $48.628, based on education & experienced Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at docoper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume EFO/IM/E

Spring break allows for relaxation, fun

BY AMY LINK

Kansas State Collegian

It's how many students get through those cold February days. It's the dream of the sun on your face, homework miles away and the only thing to worry about is tan lines . . . and sometimes not even that.

Spring break can serve as a time to rest for some students and a fun getaway for others. There are several places to go, but the most popular seems to be the beach.

Bob Pearson, travel agent for K-State Travel, said most students

Bob Pearson, travel agent for K-State Travel, said most students are booking trips to South Padre Island, Mexico, Florida and areas in the Caribbean.

Pearson said these places usually are the hottest spots every year.

"Students want to go where everybody else is going. That's pretty much the same places," Pearson said.

Pearson said the least expensive place is generally South Padre Island.

The beaches are popular, but some K-State students are finding other places to go.

Chris Weber, sophomore in computer engineering, is going skiing in Colorado.

REAK Whether they're hitting the surf or the slopes, many students are

This is the first in a weeklong series highlighting spring break travel issues and concerns. Read Tuesday's Collegian for a feature on road trips and tips for making last-minute travel little road trip," Golubski said.

Other students are going with their families.

Sept. 11 has increased safety concerns among travelers.

going in groups.

Emily Golubski,

to Myrtle Beach

with her friends.

"We're taking a junior in elementary education, is going

Cathy Hume, travel agent at Creative Travel in Manhattan, said business is down significantly this year. However, she said students do not seem fazed. "Students seem to be more optimistic," Hume said.

For those students taking a trip outside the U.S., www.realcollegelife.com offers the

- following tips:

  Make a copy of your passport and visa.
- Always know where the U.S. embassy is. Always know where your friends are.
- Do not exchange all of your money when you get there to foreign money. Always keep most of your money in U.S. dollars
- Always drink bottled water or other bottled beverages, like soda.

FOOD SAFETY

■ Continued from page 1

Level 4. It also would include the nation's first contained slaughter facility for research into dangerous food production pathogens that could infect plants and animals.

In 1999, K-State proposed an $80 million facility, but scaled it back after the university could not find the funding.

But now, Sept. 11 and the anthrax scare have forced these issues to the forefront. It could provide the bill with the extra push it needs to pass, said Jerry Jaax, associate vice provost of research, especially regarding food safety and aviation research.

"I suspect that most people would not have been as interested in this had Sept. 11 not happened," he said.

"People were aware of that possibility, but many didn't believe that someone would do

"I think most people had that question answered for them."

The Associated Press contributed to this story.

SWIMSUITS! The best bikinis are at

Patricia's UDEACOVER Lingerie

1224 Moro Aggieville Mon.-Thurs. 10-7 Fri.-Sat. 10-5

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch!
(Ask about our monthly specials)

eason for

Open the Latest
770-3333
Campus Special

Med 12" I Topping Pizza 55,99 Large 14" I Topping Pizza 56,99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6,99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

#40 UNITY

Differences give variety to life and are often only on the surface anyway.

Today look for three ways to see beyond outer differences in opinions, appearances, or goals. Find the meeting point of underlying unity that exists in diversity.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by Division of Continuing Education and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

ELECTRICAL & COMPUTER ENGINEERING STUDENTS EARLY ENROLLMENT FOR SUMMER & FALL 2002

Early enrollment will be conducted during the following times only:

CURRENT JUNIORS & SENIORS

Mon. & Tues. March 25 & 26

ALL OTHER STUDENTS:

Mon. April 1, Mon. April 8, Mon. April 15 & Mon. April 22 & Fri. April 25 Ecopm - 4500pm

SIGN-UP SHEETS WILL BE POSTED IN THE EECE OFFICE WEDNESDAY, MARCH B

Kari Krier

Mortar Board National Senior Honor Society

Congratulations to the 2002-2003 Members of Mortar Board

Jayne Christen
Zachary Cook
Stacie Corbin
Danial Creekmore
Kate Evans
Nicole Fischer
Nathan Fosse
Laura Good
Delvin Higginson

Regina Munoz
Ryan Norris
Aaron Platter
La Tasha Pleming
Mindi Russell
Lucas Shivers
Erica Smith
Trevor Stiles
Catherine Verschelden

Tramain Watts

Scholars... Chosen For Leadership... United To Serve New members first meeting: March 12 8:30p.m. Waters 231

Monday Night Movie

Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon

March 11, 2002 K-State Student Union, Forum Hall 7:00 PM

Co-Sponsored by:
Asian American Student Union
and
Union Program Council Multicultural Committee

Decision to form joint committee shows initiative

Greek Affairs' decision to form a joint committee of alumni and students to develop more sound financial policies was long overdue.

The committee, which will consist of an equal number of students and alumni, will be the first group to develop plans

▶ OUR VOICE

is an editorial selected

and debated by the editorial board and written after a

majority opinion is

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

Jessica Pitts April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

that, in turn, will hold Greek Affairs Adviser Barb Robel and the Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils' executive members responsible for expenditures.

Total, greek chapters at K-State pay out more than $60,000 annually, all of which goes to pay for Robel's salary, IFC and Panhellenic travel charges, and other expenditures.

It's the right of students and their alumni chapters to know where their money is being spent. The decision to form the committee shouldn't seem as a threat to Robel and her office. It should, however, be seen as a step to ensure legitimacy and to retain the high-quality standards the K-State greek system has proved to other greek systems throughout the midwest.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Puffy is a Communist.

Sore losers are the worst kind.

Diesel fumes make me horny.

Does anybody know how to get rid of an

I'm glad the Collegian put something worthwhile to read on Wednesday's opinion page to contrast with Zach Long's bitter diatribe.

Capri pants are back. I think I'm going to be sick.

I just wanted to tell you guys I got flowers.

I voted for Fetus Genius. I don't think my vote counted. Way to go, democracy.

To all the geeks who keep calling the Fourum: don't you have anything better to do all day?

Graham crackers suck. Oreos rule!

I would just like to say that whoever's idea it was to put bacon on a Chalupa, it's just plain wrong.

Someone should tell my professor it's homogenous, not homo-genius.

To the guy whose girlfriend got hit on by a sophomore: you owe me a box of corn

I love the shrimp commercials.

Um, can we say Al Gore?

I challenge the basketball team to a game of Horse. I bet I'll win.

OK, right now there's three college basketball games in overtime, and I have to go to the bathroom. What do I do?

I've always wanted to call into the Fourum and leave a one-word message, so here it goes:

Beer.

My dog just ate a Nintendo game, and he's going to die.

Didn't Al Gore teach us anything?

Marital bliss?

view

finger.

Clash of the Columnists

Clash of the Columnists is a rotating

series. Each day, two different colum

nists will write columns taking a stance

on an issue presented to them. Clash

of the Columnists is meant to inform readers about both sides of the issue.

Kyle Brownback

Precautionary measures are insurance for divorce

re-nup: two syllables guaranteed to turn your fiancé into your enemy.

Or are those two syllables marr-iage? Prenuptial agreements have become more common in our culture lately. With divorce rates as high as ever, pre-nups just seem to make sense. So why do couples get so upset when prenuptial agreements are mentioned?

The way I see it, a prenuptial agreement is a lot like an insurance policy: we all have insurance on our cars. When we get a new car, we hope it will run forever, but sometimes that is not the case.

A woman, like a car, costs money for upkeep, weighs about two metric tons and carries children. And, also like a car, they might not

That is why we have pre-nups - not because we plan on having a divorce, but just in case the worst happens.

Precautionary measures like these are used in many other situations, not just relationships. For example, construction workers always wear helmets, but do they ever plan on having things dropped on their heads? Of course not, but accidents happen, as do divorces.

Construction workers' wives don't get angry at them for taking this precautionary measure, so why should anyone complain about a financial precautionary measure?

It just seems like the smart thing to do.

Also, it's not like pre-nups only benefit men. After all, aren't women supposed to be equal? If women have an equal ability to make money and have an equal role in the relationship, then they should get what is equally theirs in a divorce settlement.

They are equal, aren't they?

Of course ... I guess. Anyone who argues against prenuptial agreements is either somehow insecure about his relationship or not planning on making as much money as his spouse.

Take Jared Wiesner, for example. If I ever saw someone looking to mooch off of his spouse, it would be him. He hasn't had a clear thought since the last Phish concert he attended (and even then, his thoughts might have been chemically induced).

If Wiesner is really thinking clearly, he should have no problem with letting his future wife sign a prenuptial agreement. I know there are a lot of people out there who say, "If you're really in love, you shouldn't have to sign a prenuptial agreement."

Hey, I love my mom, but I don't plan on giving her half my salary if we get in a fight.

And there are cases where a prenuptial agreement truly can prove your love for another.Look at Anna Nicole Smith's situation. When she married "Old Man Viagra," everyone thought she didn't really love him, that she was only in it for the money. Had they signed a prenuptial agreement and she still married him, no one would have questioned her love, and his family wouldn't have lost millions of dollars to an overweight playmate. Love is not an excuse for stupidity.

A prenuptial agreement is just the smart thing to do in a relationship because no one says, "I love you Hank, so please don't wear your hard hat anymore when you do construction."

Besides, who are you going to believe - Jared Wiesner or me? I've seen better columns than his sitting at the bottom of the toilet after someone took a Cleveland Steamer and forgot to

Kyle is a senior in biochemistry and pre-medicine. You can e-mail him at krb4706@ksu.edu.

Special thanks to Dr. Lechnet, Ph.D., from the University of New Mexico's Department of Family Relations and Textile Marketing, for his contributions to this article.

Pre-nup causes distrust, destruction in marriages

renuptial agreement: the most un-American thing next to Paul White. Since when did people in this country turn

The United States was founded by those brave men and women not afraid to take a chance.

By people not afraid to give England the middle Jared Wiesner By people not afraid to accept help from France, and then give > them the middle finger. And by people not afraid to dedicate the rest of their lives to a monogamous partner without even considering the possibility of

I'm sorry, but if you are so focused on material possessions that you demand to separate your assets before making an eternal commitment to the one you love, you can go to Canada.

They're all about worthless people up there.

I absolutely hate this new trend of drafting prenuptial agreements before marriage. Have we lost all respect and reverence for this sacred institution?

view

OK, bad question.

But the lessened sanctity of marriage does not excuse the fact that a prenuptial agreement is a self-fulfilling prophesy of destruc-

Did Evel Kneivel sign a "predeath" agreement with God when he jumped over a swimming tank filled with man-eating sharks?

Of course not.

He put his stupidity on the line, just as I do every week in my columns.

Our world has a long, storied history of unhappy marriages sticking together for the sole reason of monetary gain. From royalty in Medieval times to power couples in the 1980s, our rich heritage has been carefully guided by relationships too corrupt to kill.

Understanding this, we should embrace our proud marital tradition of unhappiness.

While I'm thinking about it, if anybody should be against prenuptial agreements, it's Kyle Brownback,

Kyle, my friend, you might be a nice guy, but you are not easy on the

In fact, you are probably the most creatively unattractive person I have ever met.

Although very intelligent and well spoken, your off-centered eyes and narrow-sloping forehead remind me more of a common sewer rat than a virile human being. The ace up your sleeve, however, is future success as a doctor and the hefty paycheck that will come with

Though a woman never will love you for looks and personality, your wealth will ensure there will be

CLASH OF THE COLUMNISTS This is assuming, of course, that they will not have to sign a prenuptial agreement.

I know it doesn't sound fair, but as a societal realist I must resign to the fact that things are not about to change soon. Few people are willing to accept a life sentence in marital hell without cash benefits. In the case of Kyle Brownback, a life also composed of cruel and unusual punishment.

My fellow academics, it is time for us to rise up against this idiotic legal document. It's time America grabbed its tough identity by the horns and practiced what it preaches.

Let's eradicate these debilitating cancers, like prenuptial agreements and Republicans, that are chipping away at our once Besides, who are you going to believe - Kyle Brownback or me?

I've seen better articles than his sitting on top of the Lyndon sewage plant after the locals have finished their annual Cleveland Steamer-eating contest.

Jared is a sophomore in political science. You can e-mail him at jsw7333@ksu.edu.

READERS WRITE Collegian should research

facts before writing editorial

It is remarkable the Collegian editorial board has the ability to write an editorial regarding the "uneducated, unprepared" state of the elections committee and its members, while proving in the same piece that it never lets its own lack of education or preparation get in the way of a good editorial.

Despite the misled claims in the editorial, the final ballot was accurate. An abstention option does not make a ballot inaccurate. In parliamentary law, an abstention is merely a refusal to vote. A refusal to vote means no ballot is cast for that office. When no ballot is cast, obviously it cannot be included in the vote totals.

In past years, those who marked "abstain" on their ballots would have left their ballots blank. Quantification of abstentions does not make a crisis. The committee members are not ignorant. They know and understand the rules and regulations, many of which are quite complicated. It is obvious, however, the Collegian has no clue regarding the same rules and regulations. Let me cite two examples from the editorial.

"The only options [on the ballot] should have been the two tickets and a write-in." Incorrect, There is to be no write-in option on the general election ballot. That opportunity is made available on the primary election

The president and vice president will run Student Senate for a year." No, they won't. The president and vice president are constitutionally separated from the legislative branch of the Student Governing Association. They can suggest things to Senate, but they have no more ability to run Senate than does the Collegian.

The Senate chair, vice chair and other Senate officers are responsible for the administration.

While there are several issues that have to be resolved regarding this year's elections, this process is not aided by the appearance of poorly-written editorials in the Collegian. Once again, an "important and essential process" is "treated carelessly" by the Collegian. - Bobby Allison-Gallimore Chairman, Senate Operations Committee

MONDAY — Pre-nuptial agreements
Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner duke it out over pre-nuptial agreements.

Jamie Kelley and Susan Powell weigh the pros and

Tanner Ehmke and Micah Hawkinson justify their

David McCandless and Lindsey Geisler voice their

Amber Koehn and Peter Morris debate the idea of

See previous columns in the opinion section of the e-Collegian. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for more.

WEDNESDAY - Assisted suicide

claims on physician-assisted suicide.

THURSDAY - Electoral college

FRIDAY - Premarital cohabitation

views on the Electoral College.

premarital cohabitation.

TUESDAY - Diet pills

cons of diet pills.

Team celebration

Matt Stamey/Collegi

Coach Deb Patterson hugs senior Kristin Rethman after finding out that K-State is a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. This will be the first time since 1983 that Manhattan has been host to a NCAA basketball tournament.

SALLERY &

Nail Special $35 Full Set $20 Fill $14 Manicure with Jess

Free Haircut, Free Styling with Highlight Color Cap $40 Shades or Shades Above $36 Foil Hair Color $50 Call Jess & Melissa & mention this ad.

Candlewood Shopping Center 3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632 Tues. - Sat. Evening by appointment

Wife, friends remember Pearl at service

BY ERICA WERNER

The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Slain journalist Daniel Pearl was remembered in a memorial service Sunday as a husband who vowed to remain open to new cultures, a songwriter who believed the world was good, and a man who hoped he could make it better.

Pearl's wife Mariane Pearl said the couple drew up a wedding contract where they promised "to always remain open to new cultures and new people, and to inspire others with our relationship."

"We felt we were really lucky to have met each other," she said. "The more time we spent together, the more we loved each other."

Mariane Pearl, a French freelance journalist who married Pearl in Paris in August 1999 and lived and worker with him in India, said they went everywhere together. She said she doesn't understand why she wasn't with him the night he was kidnapped.

"Even death cannot separate us. I make the commitment to enable him to live throughout me, throughout our son," said Pearl, who is expecting the couple's only child in May Pearl's friends talked about his uncanny ability to talk his way out of predicaments — even once persuading a cab driver to lend him his belt for a job interview.

They said that when he was kidnapped in Pakistan, they hoped he would talk his way out of that as well.

"He knew for sure that no matter how complex the situation, some good fairy would take care of him, and she did for 38 years," Pearl's father, Judea Pearl, said.

There was more laughter than tears as people recounted anecdotes from Pearl's youth in Los Angeles, his college years at Stanford University and his career. They also recalled his musical talent on the fiddle and other instruments.

Members of one of the bands Pearl played in, The Clamp in Washington, D.C., played a song they had composed with Pearl called "The World is Not a Bad Place."

Pearl, 38, South Asia bureau chief for the Journal, was kidnapped while researching links between Pakistani extremists and shoe-bombing suspect Richard C. Reid. A videotape received Feb. 22 by U.S. diplomats in Karachi showed Pearl dead.

His body has not been found.

Get mad, Royal Purple Style

Great Prizes

Men's Bracket

Women's Bracket

Free To Enter

Weekly Updates

$5 RP Coupons

during the 2002 NCAA Men's and Women's Basketball Championships.

For brackets and official rules check out royalpurple.ksu.edu or look for us in the Postate Student Union

March 12-14 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Congratulations KAPPA OMICRON NU Spring Initiates

Brenda Aylward
Rebecca Briggeman
Cassandra Brown
Darci Brownback
Brooklyn Cleveland
Jessica Colson
Lori Fry
Jennifer Hoss
Jama Joy

Shannon Kelley Kimberly Kerschen

Kelsey Kohn

Michelle Molander Lisa Petty Abbey Sanders Andrea Schmidt Bobby Smotherman Tara Solomon Megan Sturges Crystal Thomas Erin Trimble Rebecca Waggoner Erica Wesley Beverly Wilson

፟፟ቝ፟ቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝቝ

IS GOD CALLING YOU AND GETTING A BUSY SIGNAL?

In today's world, it's so easy to lose sight of why we're really here. So perhaps the thought of devoting your entire life to God has never crossed your mind.

Then again maybe it has. Maybe you're the one of the rare women who are being called by God to follow in the footsteps of Jesus. And if you'd only take a moment to really listen to your inner voice, God will get through.

We are the Sisters of St. Joseph, an international order with roots right here in Wichita. And we invite you to come live a life of holiness, in a community where we strive for unity and reconciliation among all people with God and with one another. Ours is a community of prayer and service. Our dedication to God motivates us and is the source of joy for all that we do.

But how can you know if you truly have been called? Do you feel a longing for more in your life? Do you feel a void in your heart? Do you radiate joy? Does love pour out of your smile and do you long to follow Jesus?

If so, you owe it to yourself to answer God's call. To learn more about The Sisters of St. Joseph, call or visit us online. You'll be eternally grateful you did.

Vocation Director St. Mary Ellen Loch 316-686-7171 or 316-689-4070 www.csjwichita.org

Sleep well.

Everything will be clear

tomorrow.

Some of our patients go to bed at night

knowing the next day will be clear and bright, thanks to a procedure called Corneal Molding.

They simply put in special contact lenses before going to bed... and wake up to clear vision that lasts all day.

Its non-invasive and about half the cost of lasik.

We'd like to tell you more about it.

DRS. PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118

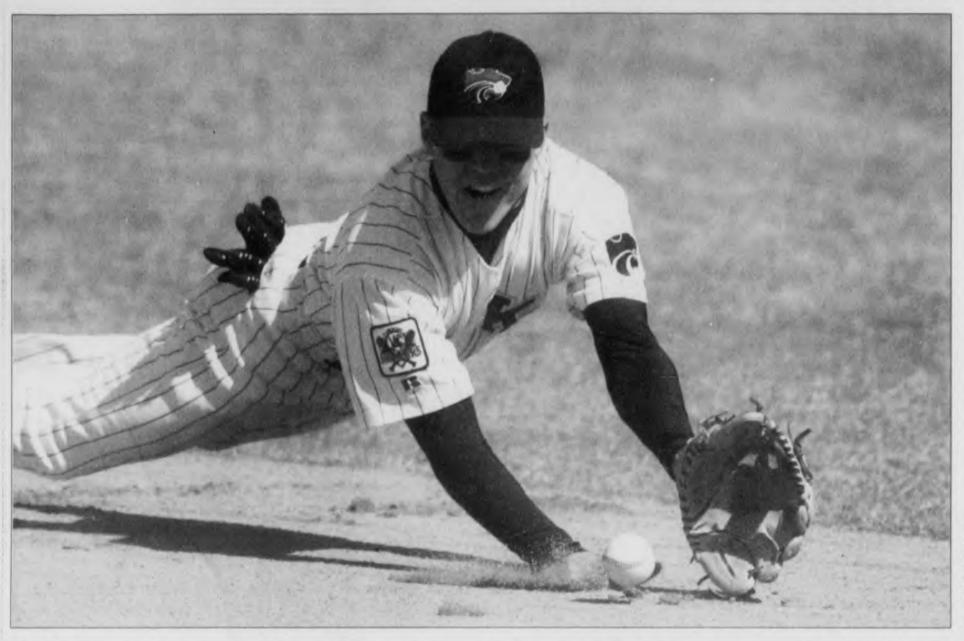

3012 Anderson - Manhattan

SISTERS ST.JOSEPH

due los pour at of your souls?

DOUBLEHEADER DRAMA

Brandon Taylor dives for the ball during K-State's game against Western Illinois at Tointon Family Stadium on Sunday

Kelly Glasscock/Collegian

Wildcat baseball splits twinbill with Western Illinois 3-4, 6-3

was a tale of two offenses for the K-State baseball team Sunday at Tointon Family Stadium.

One offense involved hitting and the other did not as the Wildcats split games with the Western Illinois Leathernecks in a Sunday doubleheader. K-State moved to 6-4 on the season.

Pitching coach Mike Hensley said the first game of the series was a disappointment, but added that the second was a distinct improvement.

"Losing the first game was a tough way to begin this four-game series," Hensley said. "But we were able to battle back the second game.

"I was a lot more satisfied with the effort we got the second time around. Not just the enthusiasm was a lot better."

In the first game, the Cats mustered only six hits, driving in three runs in the 4-3 loss. Western Illinois drew first blood with a run in the fourth and added runs in the fifth and seventh innings as well.

K-State answered back with three runs in the bottom half of the seventh, scoring on doubles by centerfielder Nick Sorensen and catcher Jeremy Rogers.

WIU countered in the top of the ninth and put the Cats away in the bottom half of the inning to capture their first win of the Hensley said the Wildcats' inability to adjust to the Leathernecks' pitching, particularly to the style of first-game starter Brian Lewis, was a key in the game.

"The left hander they threw at us really kept us off balance," Hensley said. "We didn't make the adjustments we needed to until late in the ballgame and their closer finished us off."

The Cats were able to adjust early in the second contest of the afternoon. K-State wasted no time as Tim Doty drove in two runs in the bottom of the first with a 420foot bomb to dead-away center.

Pat Maloney, who saw an eight-game hitting streak come to an end in the first game of the doubleheader, drove in another run in the third with a home run of his own.

The Wildcars added another run in the lifth, two more in the eighth, and took the game 6-3, weathering a 10-hit effort from

Doty said frustrations from the first contest led to his team's focus on getting better pitches to hit in the second. "The first game was pretty bad," Doty said. "We weren't happy with the way we played that game but I think it helped us to adjust in the second game.

"We were more patient in the second game and we didn't chase balls out of the zone. We hit much better in our later at-

Maloney said he agreed that frustration played a part in a better performance in the second matchup with the Leathernecks.

"I didn't play very well in the first game, Maloney said. "I had a couple of decent atbats and I had a couple of really bad at-

"In the second game, I really wanted to go up and have three or four quality at-bats. I was able to do that, so I feel a lot better about the way I played in the second game."

Maloney said the losing effort against WIU helped his team to recognize the necessity of playing well every time out.

Maloney added that an upcoming stretch of 18 games in 22 days will help the Wildcats to establish some needed rhythm.

"That first game was a little bit of a wake-up call for us," Maloney said. "But our defense is starting to be there for us and we are starting to step up the hitting.

"We have a long stretch of games coming up and I know we are going to get better.

Hensley said the upcoming barrage of games is exactly what the doctor is prescribing for the somewhat inexperienced Cats.

"This stretch will go a long ways towards helping us as a club because we have yet to get any type of rhythm at all," Hensley said. "This will be a good opportunity for us to make some adjustments and see what our kids can do.

"I'm looking for good things to happen these next few weeks."

K-State crew rows to 3 wins over Creighton in dual regatta

BY LAURA ROYD

Kansas State Collegian

K-State's crew team kicked off their spring season at home with three wins in a dual regatta against Creighton on Sunday at Tuttle Creek Lake.

"We had a lot of internal goals and standards going into this weekend," Coach Jenny Hale said. "Some of them we met, some we fell short of."

Both varsity eight crews took early leads in their races, making their first 1,000 meters look easy. The boats slowed down in the second half of their races, showing the team their opportunities for improve-

"Varsity one and two both got out quite a ways on Creighton," Hale said. "Creighton doesn't tend to be strong, though, so we kind of expected that."

K-State also took the top two places in novice eight, again beating their competition early in their races.

The only loss the Cats suffered was in the varsity fours after a slow start proved costly for the team.

K-State has seen only seven days of practice on the water this spring due to the cold weather, but this weekend that time was just enough to give them an edge.

Creighton has had to deal with frozen ice and harsher conditions that have left them no time on the water and little

"We haven't had much time on the water," Hale said. "We need water time to develop that quickness that we will need against our competition.'

K-State has been using the practice time given to them for competitive racing within the team. This racing is setting the teams up for the spring while creating an outlook of what the team is up against this season.

"The team has been doing a lot of seat racing, allowing us to look at the margins between races and see what they need to change in future races," Hale said.

Though this weekend was considered

Cox Brandy Sherwood calls strokes to Samantha Allen, Talara Walt, Glenna Yokum, Jill Anderson and Susle Truax during Sunday's match against Creighton. K-State defeated Creighton in three of the four races.

Karen Mikols/Collegian

this week, so for now the team just has to whole race." Ranking starts this weekend for the teams so the pressure is on for their next tournament in two weeks at the University of Texas. The first coaches poll comes out blade work and stay strong throughout the train hard and be ready for what the future holds. "We have to be accountable for ourselves and row hard for every meter,"

Cat tennis team upsets Oklahoma 6-1 at Ahearn to stay undefeated

preseason for the team, the athletes used

"We have to take advantage of other teams and what we learned this weekend,"

Hale said. "We know we need to focus on the competition for a teaching tool for future races.

K-State Sports Information

The No. 47-ranked K-State tennis team remained undefeated in Big 12 Conference play on Saturday with a 6-1 upset victory over No. 37 Oklahoma at Ahearn Field House. The Wildcats won the doubles point and five of the six singles matches to improve to 7-2 overall and 3-0 in league

The Sooners, who came into the match undefeated, fell to 8-1 overall and 0-1 in the Big 12. Senior Kathy Chuda tallied the match-winning point by beating Elena Jirnova at No. 2 singles, 6-2, 6-1. Chuda is now 5-2 this spring and 2-1 in the Big

K-State won the doubles point with senior Alena Jecminkova and freshman

Andrea Cooper winning at No. 1 doubles, 8-2 and Chuda and junior Petra SedImajerova victorious at No. 2, 8-4.

Jecminkova and Cooper are now 6-3 this spring and 2-1 in the league while Chuda and Sedlmajerova move to 8-1 overall and remain undefeated in Big 12 play at 3-0.

The duo is on a seven-match winning streak and has won eight of its last nine matches. Sedlmajerova gave the Wildcats a 2-0 lead in the match with a speedy victory over Annette Bryntesson, 6-0, 6-0 at No. 3. The junior now has won eight consecutive matches and stands at 7-0 this spring and 3-0 in the league. Jecminkova added the third point for K-State with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over

Anda Perianu at No. 1. The two-time NCAA Tournament

qualifier is now 5-4 this spring and 2-1 in the Big 12.

Freshman Maria Rosenberg won her fifth straight match with a 5-7, 6-3 (10-8) come-from-behind victory over Heather Saluri at No. 4. The Manhattan High product stands at 7-2 overall this spring and is undefeated in league action.

Rookie Andrea Cooper picked up her fourth win of the spring season with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Jessica Braver at No. 6. She is 4-3 this spring and 2-1 in the league.

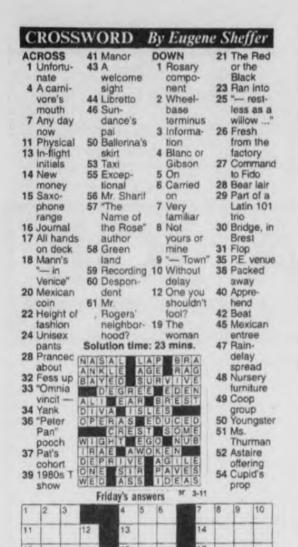

The K-State No. 3 doubles team of sophomore Paulina Castillejos and Rosenberg lost 8-6 and dropped to 4-5 on the season and 1-2 in the league.

Read about the K-State men's Friday loss to Oklahoma in the Big 12 Tournament, see an online photo gallery from the game, read Matt Jolly's assessment of the NCAA fournament field and fill out your men's and women's brackets - all online exclusives at www.kstatecollegian.com.

Castillejos also lost at No. 5 singles, 6-2, 6-4 and falls to 3-4 this spring and 1-2 in Big 12 play.

K-State will be host to No. 24 Oklahoma State at 11 a.m. Sunday in Ahearn Field House.

Stumped?

1-900-454-6873! 99c per minute, touch tone/rotary phones. (18+ pnly.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

EOHE TPHGPR HLP

Z H L S 'U Q H V Z - P E P L M H .

Saturday's Cryptoquip: YOU MIGHT PRESUME
ROBOTS ARE COMPETENT SURGEONS; SINCE THEY OPERATE ON BATTERIES.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: H equals A

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands to another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW RELEASES

MOVIES -

Heist Zoolander Sexy Beast Joy Ride

DVD Heist Zoolander Sexy Beast The Order The Wash

Jin-Roh

Vandaerd Volume II

Hot Rod Circuit "Sorry About Tomorrow"

MUSIC

Indigo Girts Bob Mould "Modulate" Eels The Corrs "VH1 Presents The Corrs Live In

Finch "What It is To Burn" Garrison Starr "Songs From Take-Off To Landing Pat Benetar/Neil Giraldo

Bobby McFerrin stiny's Child

For love or money

Ice Cube stars in mediocre film

unting down diamond thieves in Miami through car chases and speed boat stunts isn't just for "Miami Vice." "All About the Benjamins" turns Ice Cube into Don Johnson for an hour and a half as he puts his spin on the modern action star. With a hiphop soundtrack and a decent cast, the movie isn't as bad as it sounds - even if it does exploit about every Ice Cube ("Friday") plays Bucum Jackson, a bounty hunter who gets a shot at some big money when a diamond heist goes wrong and he ends up in the wrong place at the wrong time.

While tracking down a small time con-man, Reggie Wright (Mike Epps, "Next Friday"), Bucum finds himself in the line of fire as two diamond thieves are making a getaway with what they think are real diamonds. After finding the fakes, the crooks set out to find Reggie and Bucum because they think the two know about the diamonds. Cube and Epps then team up to take on the bad guys.

The movie's fast pace keeps it from getting tedious, and Epps' comic relief is much welcomed. The comic edge to the movie keeps it from being taken too seriously, which is a problem for any campy action

The villains are ridiculously one-dimensional. The scar-faced Scottish Robert Williamson, (Tommy Flanagan, "Gladiator") is the merciless jerk that everyone wants dead by the end of the movie.

Chances are the soundtrack will be as popular as the movie.

incorporating a slew of hip-hop artists to back up the bling bling of Miami's sun, beaches and hard bodies.

As far as action movies of this sort go, "All About the Benjamins" carries its weight but doesn't give much extra for the audience. Ice Cube is a disgruntled bounty chaser who wants more money. He doesn't get along with the real cops. He and his boss get in yelling matches. He makes an unlikely partnership to win the "ALL ABOUT THE BENJAMINS" so on. It's **** predictable MOVIE REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN as movies > come. All things considered, Ice Cube hasn't done a bad job co-writing this cheesy action movie. It's nothing special but at least it's fun

Time Machine' plot average, scenery great

It is a wild trip through time. "Time Machine" takes the audience from an unimaginable place at the beginning to an even more remote epoch when

Along the way, "Time Machine" tackles life's philosophical questions and examines the effect of life-changing

The movie chronicles the life of Alexander (Guy Pearce, "The Count of Monte Cristo"), a professor at Columbia University, who after a life-altering experience dedicates his life to changing the past through time travel. For four years he secludes himself in a laboratory searching for the time-travel formula.

The film is set in New York City, and you have the opportunity to see life 800,000 years into the future. It is a revealing look at what the future might be in America's favorite city. What Alexander finds when he gets there is a New York where two species of people have evolved. Gone is the civilized community of today, and communal living is the norm. It is a lifestyle where one group of people is constantly hunted by the other. and Alexander seeks to change it.

ORANGE

MUSIC REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN

mesmerizing. You feel like you are witnessing the time transformation in person, Audience members will notice the costume design. The design of the

"TIME MACHINE"

****

MOVIE REVIEW BY NICK BRATKOVIC

species are frightening and difficult to look at. Too bad they stand our future.

more than any lines uttered by the film's

From talking with people as they left the theater, it seems like a person's enjoyment of the film depends on how little or Like all movies based on books, viewers likely will recognize some discrepancies. If you are like myself and knew little about "Time Machine," or its past movie versions, it is an interesting movie to "Time Machine" allows audiences to take a break from reality and dream about turning back time. At two hours long, the movie isn't a boring, neverending sci-fi epic. The film makes its point and ends - thankfully.

If you have low expectations, and a love of scenery, the film is worth seeing. Just don't expect greatness and you just might enjoy the film.

Orange's six-song release proves band's worth

Exceeding expectations, Manhattan's Orange makes good on their new six-song EP, "Six."

The sound is big arena rock. The scene is Manhattan. It isn't what you would expect from an area in Kansas where the bands that do the best are power pop acts that take their cues from the likes of Weezer.

On "Six" the cockiest band in Manhattan finally defines the sound they've been looking for, eliminating any notion that they're all talk. Big distorted guitar hooks drive the sound that Orange has found for like Bush and Stone Temple Pilots. Opening with the supercharged "Shield," the band kicks right in with the best track on the EP. Phil Green's guitar work backs up a chorus that makes you want to themselves, drawing influences from mainstream rock

bang your head and hold a lighter in the air. It helps to notice that the disc was produced by Todd and Toby Pipes of Deep Blue Something, who recently have produced albums by Flickerstick and Drowning Pool. Recorded in their Dallas, Texas, studio, the recording quality of the music is excellent.

These six tracks are part of a full-length Orange album that the band will begin recording this summer. That album will be the true test of the band's ability, but for now, this is an impressive release. Orange recently talked about their new EP. "Six," and here's what they had to say: What do you hope to get out of putting out this EP?

Phil Green (guitar): We wanted to put something out because we've never put anything out. There's nothing to be a fan of Orange with. There's no recordings. We don't sell T-shirts. Basically these songs are going to be a basis for a fulllength album that we're probably going to do this

What do you want people to notice about the recording?

Phil: We kind of live in the worst place in the country for local music recording studios, so the first recording we did was in Westend, and that's pretty much as good as it gets around here.

Dustin Keith (drums): There's Red House, but so many people go there that you know when something is

For an expanded interview and an mp3 version of Orange's "Shield" go to www.kstatecollegian.com recorded there. You can hear it.

Phil: And that's not a bad thing, Ed Rose is a hell of a producer. We just wanted something different.

Shawn Harding (bass): We wanted to get away from the Kansas sound I suppose. We wanted to go somewhere else where there's a whole different way of thinking about the way things are put together.

Phil: It's more produced in comparison to a lot of local releases. A lot of bands don't have time to focus on the production, and with these we had time to go back and do some things to the music.

Do you feel like you've accomplished anything?

Phil: We had this idea that we were this band and we were cool, but we didn't do anything about it. We didn't play that many shows. We said a lot of stuff, but we didn't have anything to show for it. With this, we recorded it, and people have taken an interest, and it's motivated us to get going.

misdirection

ELECTION Continued from page 1

cast in the election." With abstentions included, Wolters and Achilles received 47 percent, less than a majority.

Cook and Kohman call for a new election with the revisions made.

"There were several points and areas of concern in our letter of contestment," Kohman said. "We feel like appealing to the elections committee is the just and proper thing to do. We are confident they will hear us with an open mind for us and all of our supporters."

Cook refused to comment.
According to a press release from the elections committee, the committee will meet at 8:30 tonight to discuss the contestation of results and a hearing could come as early as Wednesday. Elections committee members declined to comment.

In a prepared statement released Friday, Wolters and Achilles said their first item of business will be examination of the process to choose an online vendor.

"The quality of service from the vendor was disappointing," Wolters said in a press release. "As president and vice president, we will work to improve the election process for next year." Also in the press release, Wolters said the balloting difficulties did not affect one candidate more than

"While voting conditions may not have been ideal, they did not harm individual candidates," he said in the prepared statement. "The election was fair and the results are valid."

Wolters and Achilles declined to comment further.

Brent Brashear, senior in sociology and criminology, also filed a complaint claiming the election process denied him his right to vote.

"I was unable to vote because of issues with iballot," he said. "It kept kicking back my ballot.

"I went into the student office and there was no alternative voting method."

Brashear said he followed the instructions of Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, and clicked a choice in each category. However, after four tries, he gave up.

"It was a long drawn out hassle," he said. "There are all kinds of improvements that need to be made."

Kyle Barker, student body president, said that although he recognizes the complaints as valid, the problems affected every candidate

"The problem we have with this stems from the vendor," he said. "I do know, either way, everyone was equally hurt. Everyone's supporters were just as hurt as the other one's. As it stands right now, Matt Wolters is the president-elect."

Season for

#41 OPENNESS

A Turkish proverb says, "He who builds himself a fence, fences out more than he fences in."

Today be open to understanding ideas and people that you have previously opposed.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by Jacque E. Gibbons and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

APARTMENT

WWW.SUNKISSED.COM

MODEL SHOWINGS!
NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont
By Appointment only
*Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Star*ing at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

776-3804

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development 2700 Amherst Manhattan, K5 66502 (785) 776-3804

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN Kansas State University Campus Phone Book 2003 royal purple

Kansas State University-Ft. Riley

Class Schedule Term 3-2002

March 25-May 17, 2002

Courses Offered

Monday/Wednesday 1730-	2000
Course Title	Course	Credit	Bldg/ Room
Principles/Microeconomics (P	ECON 120	3	7656/12
Family Relations/ Gender Roles (P)	FSHS 350	3	7656/4
Human Development & Aging (P)	FSHS 510	3	7656/16
College Algebra (P)	MATH 100	3	7656/8

Health Psychology (P) PSYCH 518 3 215/230

Monday/Wednesday 1730–2000

Bus & Econ Stats I (P) STAT 350 3 7656/11

Monday/Wednesday 2000-2230 Accounting for Invest ACCTG 241 3 7656/12 & Finance (P) Intermediate/Macro (P) ECON 510 3 7656/11 General Psychology PSYCH 110 3 7656/8 SOCIO 362 3 7656/16 Police & Society (P) Public Speaking II (P) SPCH 321 7656/4

Business & Econ Stats II (P) STAT 351 3 1984

Tuesday/Thursday 1730-2000

Expository Writing II (P) ENGL 200 3 7604/5

Human Geography GEOG 200 3 7604/7

Plane Trigonometry (P) MATH 150 3 7656/11

Intro to American Music MUSIC 245 3 217/B6

 Intro to American Music
 MUSIC 245
 3
 217/B6

 Intro to Social & Political Philo PHILO 135
 3
 7656/8

 Intro to Political Science
 POLSC 110
 3
 7656/4

 Tuesday/Thursday 2000-2230

 The Short Story
 ENGL 320
 3
 7656/16

 Helping Relationships (P)
 FSHS 301
 3
 7604/7

7604/7 7656/12 The Family (P) FSHS 550 Environ Geol: Water & Air GEOL 115 217/B6 Kansas Polítics & Governme POLSC 321 7656/4 Public Speaking I SPCH 106 7656/8 Intro to Women's Studies WOMST 105 3 7604/5

Monday/Wednesday 1730-2000 & Saturday 0830-1030
Intro. To Info. Tech. CIS 101 1 215/B35
March 26-April 6, 2002
Spreadsheet Applications (P) CIS 102 1 215/B35
April 9-April 20, 2002
Database Applications (P) CIS 103 1 215/B35
April 23-May 4, 2002
Word Processing Applic's (P) CIS 104 1 215/B35
May 7-May 18, 2002

Tuesday/Thursday 1730-2000 & Saturday 1000-1200
Research Methods (P) SOCIO 520 4 7656/16

Tuesday/Thursday 2000-2230 & Saturday 0900-1200 Environmental Geography II (P)GEOG 221 4 7656/11

Civilian enrollments are being held before classes start in order to ensure Fort Riley access for the first night(s) of class. Make sure you include your Driver's License & State on enrollment form!

Enrollment Information

Registration

Military enrollment begins February 19, 2002.
Civilian enrollment will be held March 18-25, 2002.
Civilian online, telephone, or fax enrollment begins on the second day of civilian enrollment. A Privacy Act Statement with an original signature must be received for the enrollment to be official.

 Enrollment after the first week of classes requires instructor/department approval.

requires instructor/department approval.

Military using Tuition Assistance must be enrolled before second class meeting

 Military enrollment includes active duty military, retired military, reserve components, family members, DOD/DAC, ROTC Cadets and Cost $102.00 per undergraduate credit hour.

veterans.

Drop Dates
100% refund if you drop in writing before the second class meeting.

50% refund if you drop in writing on or before April 12, 2002.
Withdrawals after April 12, 2002 will be recorded on your transcript.

If you stop attending class and do not process a drop form you will receive a grade of "F".

No drops after May 3, 2002.

Course/Schedule Notes 0830–1030=8:30 am-10:30 am 0900–1200=9:00 am-12:00 noon 1000–1200=10:00am-12:00 noon 1730–2000=5:30–8:00 pm 2000–2230=8:00–10:30 pm

NOTE: Times shown at left reflect recent schedule changes which supercede any already published in the brochure or prior ads.

PLEASE CHECK WITH OUR OFFICE JUST PRIOR TO CLASSES STARTING FOR POSSIBLE CHANGES IN THE SCHEDULE!!!!!!!

Special Assistance Kansas State University

Kansas State University is dedicated to making academic courses accessible to all persons. Contact the Registration Office at (785)532-5566 or 1-800-432-8222 at least two weeks prior to the beginning of the course if you have a physical or learning disability which would require special accommodations.

For information, call: 239-8246 at Fort Riley, 532-5566 at the Division of Continuing Education in Manhattan, or 1-800-432-8222 in the surrounding area.

This program information, is well as registration information, is available/via the World Wide Web at the following address: http://www.dce.ksu.ndu/doe/fortriley/term3-2002

Classifieds

Deadlines

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY

20 words or less

$7.50

each word over 20 !

20¢ per word

2 DAYS

20 words or less

$8.80

each word over 20

25¢ per word

3 DAYS

20 words or less

$10.35

each word over 20

30¢ per word

4 DAYS

20 words or less

$11.45

each word over 20

35¢ per word

5 DAYS

20 words or less

$12.50

each word over 20%

40c per word

consecutive day rater)

TO PLACE AN AD

Go to Kedzie 103

(across from the

K-State Student Union)

Office hours are

Monday through Friday

from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The office is open

except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless

you have an account

with Student

Publications Inc.

Cash, check.

MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a

$10 service charge on all returned checks.

We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly

classify any ad.

FREE FOUND ADS

As a service to you, we

run found ads for three days free of charge,

CORRECTIONS:

If you find an error in your ad, please call us.

We accept responsibility only for the first

wrong insertion.

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item.

before your ad has expired, we will refund

you for the remaining

days. You must call us

before noon the day

before the ad is to be published.

HEADLINES

For an extra charge,

we'll put a headline

above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

bulletin

housing

directory

opportunities

real estate

105

For Rent Apts, Furnished

ALL UTILITIES paid, one June at $325 June and August three-bedroom for gust three-bedroom 10, $825. No Pets. (785)313-4812

NEED TO RENT As soon as possible, by April 1. Two-bedroom, 1832 Claffin Apartment 8. Close to campus. $490 per month. Water included. Call Matt at (785)341-4404

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apartment, two blocks to ca June 1, one year lease 539 1713

ACROSS FROM Mariatt Hall One and two bedroom Available April or May. Also June and August leases Great price No pets (785)539-0549.

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close campus. Alliance (785)539 4357 Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO campus- one two, three-bedroom houses parking, free washer/ dryer allable August. (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August Deluxe two-bed-room apartment, 1230 Cla flin across from Ford Hall 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 up. Also nice large one-bedroom apart-ment. Heat/ water/ trash two-thirds paid, laundromat $340. (785)539-2482

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496.

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

Flying Club has five air-planes, lowest rates. For in-

ACADEMY OF BARTEND

$30 an hour. Day, evening

or weekend classes availa

ble. Job placement assistance, $199 with student ID

www.bartendingcollege.com

ATTORNEY AT LAV Charles W. (Chuck) Harpe

25 years experience 400

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE

chuckharper@msn.com

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

PAIR OF glasses in Nichols

Hall room 311 and can be claimed in room 129.

ture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when plac-

a form of pic

housing

real estate

020

030

Personals

ing a personal.

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

Pomeroy $330 deposit. Water and trash paid. (785)456-

ADVERTISE

(785)539-8100

meet people, Earn $15

2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc.

ING. Have fun, make

1(800)BARTEND,

For Rent-Unfurnished

ONE, THREE, four, or livebedroom apartments/ houses. Central heat/ air-condi-tioning: washer/ dryer; no pets. Close to campus

TWO and three-bedcampus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901.

ONE, TWO, and Three-Bedroom apartments for June and August. Various locations within walking distance to campus. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups No pels. (785)313-4812.

SPACIOUS TWO and three-Central air, laundry facilities, and August. (785)539-0866

THREE-BEDROOM pus. June lease. Water trash gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296

TWO. THREE, four bed campus. (785)537-1746.

Rooms Available

ROOM FURNISHED or unfurnished Four blocks to college, $175/ MONTH. (785)770-3190. 930 Fre-

Houses

For Rent-

Apts, Furnished

sex, familial status, milita- 4166

ry status, disability, relitions should be reported

Resources at City Hall,

"Stay In

class all The

Commons"

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

+2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

*Washer Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

Tennis/Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-5,

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

INIVERSIT

+COMMONS+

APARTMENTS

2215 COLLEGE AVE

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1.

ing, washer and dryer, $475.

AVAILABLE AUGUST, Two

three, four, five, and six-bedrooms. Close to campus. No Pets. Year lease.

AVAILABLE NOW, summer

and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

www.beloose.com/linwood

Two-bedroom, air-cond

For Rent-

Unfurnished

Apt.

(785)587-2440.

the Director of Human

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, al ppliances. Three, four-bed-om. Two bathroom. Please no pets Available June (785)539-1177

For Rent-

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS Studio, one-, two-, three and four-bedroom apartments and houses. selection and price is NOW

For Rent-

hames.

145

Roommate

Wanted

FEMALE

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

three-bedroom homes avail

central air, washer, dryer

dishwasher and garbage disposal They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

these beautiful, spacious wanted one block off car

elw3838@ksu.edu

ROOMMATE

(785)587-9882

Sublease

starting April (785)537-3662.

SUMMER

For Rent-

Unfurnished

(785)776-9590

no smoking or pets, water trash and cable paid, $420

TWO-BEDROOM, NO pets

r smakers. 624 Bluemont

able immediately. (785)776

Now Leasing

1 BR From $470

2 BR From $570

3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

Cimball & College Aves

Across from KSU stadium

FOUR-BEDROOM

itals $350/ month and up.

TWO-BEDROOM, LIVING room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study, rage close to downtown

COULD be four, west of

KSU. Three-bedroom, west of stadium. No smoking

drinking/ pets. (785)539

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four-five bedroom house. Located 824 Laramie. Dishwash-

THREE-BEDROOM.

Knight, (785)565-0138

okay, short-term is Call Century 21

Rooms

Available

For Rent-

Houses

Apt.

pus. $250 plus one-third utilities. Contact Ericka at (785)776-0997 or e-mail at ment. Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. Cheap utilities. $280/ month. Call Matt at

NICE, LARGE one-bedroom apartment, two blocks south of KSU, sublease starting April 8, $420.

SUBLEASES

ents next to campus

Order your

Royal Purple!

On sale at

Kedzie 103

one double-wide

ROOMMATE

WANTED

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. four er, central air, washer/ dryyard $265/ each plus and deposit. (785)539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE. Two bedroom duplexes, four bedroom main floor, or two ments. Several to choose from. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. All close to KSU with off-street parking. No pets. (785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827

CLOSE TO CAMPUS! New central air, washer dryer, dishwasher. No pets-June 1 $1080 rooms, one and one-half FIVE, SIX, and seven-bed-bath, central air, laundry fa- room houses for rent, near campus. Call 539-1713.

> FOR RENT 1709 Val three-bedroom plus study. June 1 $875. Call Jack Ryan, 9am- 5pm at (785)776-1214 or (785)776-

FOR RENT: Available August 1, 815 Kearney, Three-bedroom $775, Call (785)776-7706 or (785)776-

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bedroom houses. Also one and June and August leases No pets. (785)539-0549.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUS No pets (785)313-4812

For Rent-

Unturnished

Manhattan City Ordinance LEASING FOR ALL, Two- TWO-BEDROOM BASE-

ciosear@kansas.net

ONE. TWO and three-bed-

campus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-bedrooms available for next school year One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-ments (785)776-3663 (24-

KSU at the corner of Col-

ONE-BEDROOM $405

1225 Claffin Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan

Avenue. One-bedroom stu-dio furnished, 1219 Claffin

$330. (785)456-2812. No

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid $390/ month Call (785)537-7810.

ONE-BEDROOM, NO pets

ONE-BEDROOM, WASH-

ER/ DRYER, no pets or gust lease. (785)776-4805.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR FIRST STOP. One, Two,

Three-bedrooms (785)539-

THREE AND Four-bed

rooms close to campus. Wa

ter and trash paid. (785)537-

pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont: $780.00 plus utilities

August lease. (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

bath basement apartment, June 1. $720/ month

Washer/ dryer/ air-conditioning. 709 Bluemont. Call (785)539-4949, leave mes-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

bath main floor apartment.

Washer/ dryer/ air-condition-

$750/ month.

sage.

ONE BEDROOM, close to Ing. 709 Bluemont. Call campus (June). (785)539- (785)539-4949, leave mes-

THREE-BEDROOM,

$285.00 plus utilities

$305.00 plus utilities

1523 Pierre

515 Vattier

Apt.

son equal opportunity in room, one block from carnhousing without distinc- pus, laundry Excellent loca-tion on account of race, tion, condition (785)776-gion, age, color, national http://www.angelfire.com/ks origin or ancestry. Viola-

For Rent-Houses

wanted to share a five-bedroom, two and one-half bath townhouse, very nice, partly furnished, central air, wash er and dryer provided, pets, no smoking, $212/ month plus one-fifth of low utilities. Call 785-336-2313

FOUR-BEDROOM. bath house for rent. June 1 $960/ month. Washer/ dry er/ air-conditioning 900 Vattier Call (785)539-4949, sixteen-feet wide, two and

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer hookup no pets or smokers. 1016 Thurston, $1,200 plus utili les. June lease (785)776

NICE FOUR-BEDROOM home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets o smoking. June 1 lease $240/ each plus utilities. Cal (785)759-3520.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE available August Close to Aggieville. Off street parking, central air high speed internet, no pets no smoking. (785)313-6084 THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, washer/ dryer, no pets or smokers. 515 Vattier. August

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bathroom. Dishwasher cen No pets June lease, 1921

THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook no pets or smokers. 1 Pierre $840 plus utilities August lense (785)776

For Sale-Houses

TWO-BEDROOM. MAIN inished basement and cen (785)336-1017

For Sale-Mobile Homes

1994 SKYLINE three-bednoom, two bathroom. Many new features, washer/ dryer, nice deck Lot number 544 Colonial Gardens, $15,500 negotiable, available May. (785)776-3928

145 =

Roommate

ROOMMATE WANTED. per month plus one-third ca room available in May mail at klb4949@ksu.edu

HOOMMATE WANTED Two-bedroom house fully ished, heated, garage washer/ dryer, wonderful neighborhood. Pets allowed $300/ month plus phone Available now (785)494 amg3553@ksu.edu WANTED: ROOMMATE/SI male/ female, to lease bedplus one-fourth utilities Lease until August. Available immediatly. Lovated across from Football Stadi Please call (785)537

150

Sublease

FEMALE SUBLEASER, one furnished room in furnished Sunday (785)341-4588.

NICE TWO year old, fourfinals through July. Nice lo cation, washer and dryer Rent negotiable, (785)323

NICE. ONE-BEDROOM lease or sublease for sumbedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Wa-ter/ trash paid. (785)565-

READY NOW! March paid for! One-bedroom available $240/ month, one-third of utilities. Nice place. Close to campus Call evenings (784)770-8504.

SUBLEASE NEEDED to the summer for two-bedcampus $520/ month, price Please call (785)539-7735. SUBLEASERS NEEDED for summer. Third floor Univer sity Commons apartment Call er, yard. $265/ each plus ble plus utilities. Please call information 310

Help Wanted

FEMALE ROOMMATES SUMMER APARTMENT HOW TO make $5000 per WANTED: one and one-half bath, close to campus (785)323-0608, (913)681-2480. SUMMER SUBLEASE. One

> JOHNSON COUNTY. Sumplus one-third utilities. Lease ends July 31. (785)770-SUMMER SUBLEASERS wanted for nice two-bedroom apartment close to 150 1

Sublease

service directory

opportunities

employment/

Help Wanted

SSSS SUMMER JOBS SSSS IF YOU'LL be close to Kan-sas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a PART-TIME STUDENT po lot of SS, consider working for College Pro Painters information including job descriptions, visit www.colle- ices, 201 Holton Hall. gepro.com!

$250/ DAY potential bartending. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disanational origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are ad- $50,000/ year or more E-vised to approach any mail resume in Microsoft The Collegian EOE tunity with reasonable urges our readers to con-Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Riley County

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977-

(785)232-0454

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending Training provided (866)291-1884 extension

Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No experience neces-Call (866)291-1884

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Swimsuit Calendar s, Photographers,

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors Program Staff, Riding Coun selors and many other positions. June 1 August 4 Equal Opportunity Employer Call for application 1 800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

CAMP WOOD YMCA, Elm dale, KS. Seeking energetic Program Directors, Water and Wrangler staff (620)273-8641 or custom combining crew Mark at (620)356-4236. Mark Heil Harvesting.

CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Sea-sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com

EARN $1000 FOR YOUR GROUP. Work on campus to raise money for your student group or organization. Make your own schedule and earn $5 per application. Please call (800)808-7450.

FARM HELP wanted. Expe nence necessary. Summer Spring and Fall Call (785)457-3452 or (785)457-week for the rest of your life. Learn how. For free informa-tion, send self addressed stamped envelope to JAdel- tains hardt, 1228 Westloop PMB larger 187, Manhattan, KS 66502.

mer help wanted. General field work growing flowers Boulder, CO 80301 and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. $7/ hour for 40 hour week (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recreation Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5. NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Commatic Tandem Grain Trucks. License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li-cense. Provide room and Call (785)689-4660.

PART TIME student posi-tions. Prefer treshmen or sophomore Prefer program knowledge or experience Six hours/ week for Spring 2002. More hours in Fall 2002. Apply at Education Supportive Services, 201

Holton Hall. sophomore, peer-mentoring You'll have fun working out-side and with your friends. If study a plus. 10 hours/ interested, please call week, Spring 02 More (888)CPP-97US For more hours Fall 02 Apply at Edu-

> FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau tiful Maine. Counselors to baseball, basketball, water front, rack climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great summer 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com

SALES. LOCAL Comp. 1 19 is looking for a money-moti vated inside salespersor with a proven history of strong sales performance in-cluding quota over achievement Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently Base plus commission equals such employment oppor- Word or text formal to tact the Better Business SEASONAL WORKERS. are available in the Public ments. Valid Class C driv lift 70 lbs. required. Experi crete work, asphalt mainte nance, traffic flagging, tree and turf maintenance, and mowing, 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by con-tacting the Department of located at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more in mation call (785)565 6464. dean@co.riley.ks.us Riley nity Employer and male counsels needed board, laundry, clothing and travel provided. Must love children and have skill in one or more of the following activities, archery, arts (ceramics, stained glass, jewelry), basketball, canceing, kayaking, rowing (crew), dance (tap, pointe, jazz), field hockey, golf, gymnastics (instructors), figure skat ing, ice hockey, horseback riding/ English hunt seat, levideographer, piano accom ropes (challenge

SUMMER JOBS Female

Good craft, employment with traveling course) 25 stations, saili soccer, softball, tennis, the preferred. Can help you get sign. costumer), volleyball, Commercial Driver's Li- water-skiing (slalom, trick, water-skiing (slalom, cense You can keep nearly barefoot, jumping) W.S.I./ all your earnings. Fall em- swim instructors, windsurfall your earnings. Fall em- swim instructors, windsurf-ployment possible. Details ing, also opportunities for call Brad at (785)395-5491 nurses, HTML/ web design and secretaries. Camp Vega For Girlst Come see us www.campvega.com email us at camp_vega@ya-hoo.com or call us for more information at 1(800)993-VEGA. We will be on your campus for information accept applications from > March 11th in the K-State Student Union Building Room 203. No appointmen necessary. TWENTY-THIRTY HOURS weekends.

> and/ or retail experience

tion at Eastside or Westside

Help Wanted

Cowgirls and couples to through the Rocky Moun-Come work for the North America.

www.sombrero.com or write

WANTED: SUMMER IN-STRUCTORS. Instruc needed to teach area high technology, and foreign lan-guage. Applicants must be MS/ Grad students or Board mit resume and three letters of references to : Carmen Wright UBMS, 1800 Claffin Suite 1 Interviews begin April 9th

WILDWOOD-TIAL camp south of Kansas City seeks qualified counselors to lead educational and recreational activities. June August $1700 plus room and board (913)757-4500

wildwood@peoplestelecom

330

Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Emcation. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka 66607-1190. (785)232 0454

DEAN, LIQUOR, Aggieville wholesale/ retail stores in

open market

Items for Sale

nese Literary Essays (Translated to English)

transportation

Automobiles

1987 OLDSMOBILE Calais 785)539-5252 m e s s a g e schmitzholly #yahoo.com

1992 KATANA Good shape

1993 FORD Probe GT brakes 67K, surroof, excel 1995 DODGE Ram. SLT

Must sell. $9000 Call (785)770-8810. HONDAS FROM $500!

grey. Automatic, 98K miles

(800)719-3001 ext 530

Motorcycles

Synder's Honda Will sell or trade for downed croch rocket (785)539-8942

SABRE 700cc, V4 Low mileage, ex-Asking $1100, Can (785)341-8054 or (785)776-3589 after 6pm

Spring

BEACH'& SKI*TRIPS www.sunchase.com 1.800.SUNCHASE

AKPsi Business Fraternity Golf Tournament

April 6, 2002 Rolling Meadows Golf Course

$180 per team, 4 players on each team. Includes green Fees, Cart, and Lunch Hole in One Contest- 2-night/3 day trip Other Prizes to be awarded as well Call 776-5180

INTRODUCING ONE OF OUR MOST/VALUABLE NEW COMMODITIES! SHELBLY ROSKAMP

ADM is proud to welcome one of our newest Commodities trading members, Shelbly Roskamp. A graduating senior in Agricultural Economics, Shelbly will begin her promising career at one of the largest grain and food processing companies in the world. Congratulations Shelbly! We look forward to the opportunities that await you as we "Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption."

39-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results Call for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

11a.m. - 2a.m. •Mon. - Wed. •

1a.m. - 2:30a.m.

*Thurs. - Sat. *

14" Cheese Pizza

only $3.99

Toppings Extra

Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5,99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.991

Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99

Valid Sunday-Wednesday

11a.m.-11p.m. only

1a.m. - 3:30a.m. ORDER ON LINE

STIX IT TO ME TUESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIG ASS

PICK UP SPECIAL:

Medium 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99

X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza $7.99

14" Large Pokey Stix

$6.99

6 Pepperoni Rolls $6.99

Valid Carry Out Only VISA DUC MA

2 Topping Pizza $6.99

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

"Come see me today!"

Welcome, Melissa Stirrett!

Candlewood Shopping Center 3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632 Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

Love shipwrecked in suburbia! ... Inspired by JAZZ and the American musical

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

2002 PROGRAM

Fantastic opportunities still available!!

Paderno del Grappa, Italy: Undergraduate Business Majors or Asolo, Italy: MBA Graduate students, Business classes taught by a consortium of professors, including KSU's Dr. Swinder Janda. Cost includes tuition, room and board. $2795. Mama Mial

Aix-en-Marseilles, France: Intensive French on the Riviera from May 28-June 29. 6 credit hours. Cost includes airfare, room and board, tuition. $2400 Que deal!!

Granada, Spain: Intensive Spanish and Culture, led by KSU's Prof. Torrico from May 20-July 2. 8 credit hours. Cost includes airfare, room and board, tuition, $4300. Magnificol

Zacatecas & Cuernavaca, Mexico: Intensive Spanish and Culture from May 23-June 30. 7 credit hours. Cost includes airfare, room and board, tuition. $2900. Caramba, que barratal

Italy: Humanitles studies, led by KSU's Dr. Marcello Sabates from July 10-Aug 2. 3 credit hours. 4 days in Venice, 4 days in Rome, 2 days in Florence and 12 days in Santa Ciara. Cost includes airfare, room and most meals, tuition. $3200. WOW!

Costa Rica: Tropical Agriculture studies, led by KSU's Dr. Robert Cochran from May 19-June 1. 3 credit hours. Cost includes airfare, room and board, tuition. Scholarships available from the College of Agriculture. $2000 inclusive! No Puede creer!!

Intensive Spanish and Culture in Mexico at any of the following ITESM campuses: Ciudad de Mexico, Cuernavaca, estado de Mexico, Guadalajara, Mazatlan, Monterrey, Queretaro, Toluca: June 4-July 17. Cost includes room, board and tuition and possible internship, but not airfare, $1250. Que buenol

Cork, Ireland: Irish Studies led by the Institute for Study Abroad at University College Cork, form June 14-July 12. 6 credit hours. Cost includes room in an apartment, and tuition but not airfare or food. $2100. POT o' GOLD!

Galway, Ireland: Irish Studies led by the Institute for Study Abroad at NIU in Galway, from June 24-July 27. Cost includes room in an apartment, and tuition but not airfare or food. $3200. Leapin' Leprechauns!

FALL 2002

Students must have their applications in by this FRIDAY MARCH 15th. In order to facilitate late comers, we will hold meetings on Fall 2002 Study Abroad sites as follows:

General session on Tuesday 12th, Wednesday 13th, and Thursday 14th, from 11:30-1:30 in 304 Fairchild Hall. Advisors will advise any students wanting to go abroad to a site other than Australia, New Zealand, Ronda or Prague

SPECIAL COUNTRY MEETINGS

Tuesday, March 12 4-5 pm Wednesday, March 13 4-5 pm Thursday, March 14 4-5 pm anyone wanting to go to ANY university in Australia or New Zealand in Fall 2002 anyone wanting to go to Czech Ag, Czech Technical or Charles University in Prague in Fall 2002 anyone wanting to go to Ronda for Summer or Fall 2002

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 12, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 113 www.kstatecollegian.com

Bouncers discuss duties

SGA ELECTIONS

Presidential results still uncertain

BY SARAH RICE Kansas State Collegian

Depending on the Student Tribunal decision tonight, students could be facing a new election for student body president and vice president in the coming weeks.

In a meeting Monday night, the elections committee voted unanimously to recommend to Student Senate that all general election results be certified excluding the results for student body president and vice president. Student body president Kyle Barker will appeal for interpretation by the tribunal.

Before making their decision, elections committee members discussed how voting difficulties might have affected the outcome.

"I had a discussion with iBallot about the difficulties in voting," Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said in the meeting.

Conrad said in the meeting that since students had to check every category to submit a ballot, many ballots were kicked back as invalid. Questions were than re-randomized and students might have voted for candidates they did not intend to.

"They were very convinced that a person could go back through the ballot and catch errors," Conrad said.

Although the vendor said the margin of error would be about 5 percent, Conrad said he could not be confident with the results.

"That sheds quite a bit of doubt on the results of this," he said in the meeting. Gayle Spencer, student activities adviser, said there is no way to know if the difficulties affected the results. "We don't know how many ballots were affected," she said in the meeting.

Conrad also said that when unofficial results were received, the vendor accidentally recorded 231 votes for Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles in one college when the actual total was 213, narrowing the vote difference from 58 to 40.

Spencer said it would be difficult to get money back from iBallot.com.

"There's a state process, and it looks very difficult to get money back," she said in the Kyle Barscewski, elections committee member, said he didn't feel confident certifying the results for the presidential race.

"With only a 40-vote difference, I personally have a hard time saying I certify results of student body president," he said in the

In a press release, Wolters, student body

See ELECTION on PAGE 8

Typo causes wrong ticket to be declared as winner

Kassan State Collegius

Official K-State-Salina election results revealed Monday afternoon that, because of a typo, the wrong student body presidential ticket was announced as the winners in last week's general election.

Mike Higley, K-State-Salina student. body president and elections chair, announced Monday that Lynsey Burnett and Betty Pina were elected as the first allfemale presidential ticket at either campus. Last week, Higley announced that Kevin Gorman and Nick Sulzen had

According to official results, Burnett and Pina beat Kevin Gorman and Nick Sulzen by 29 votes.

Higley said the official iBallot.com results for the Salina presidential race were different from the results given to him on March 6 by the elections committee.

Higley had made the original presidential announcement at the campus election party that night. The unofficial results put the Gorman-Sulzen ticket 42 votes ahead of the Burnett-Pina ticket.

San SALINA on PAGE 10

Tough to take

Ness City High School's Molly Kuhlman (10) cries as teammates Wendy Fehrenbach, center, and Amanda Foster, right, console each other after the Eagles lost the class 2A state title game to Osborne Saturday at Bramlage Collseum. Ness City carried a 24-0 record into the title game before losing to the Buildogs.

Apartment hunters encouraged to look closely, ask questions

Kansas State Collegia:

Robyn Jardine and Jessica Payne were full of questions as they walked around Cara Long's apartment. How many smoke detectors? Do you get a lot of bugs? Is parking a big problem? Are your neighbors nice?

After calling 20 different apartments, Jardine, senior in psychology, and Payne, junior in criminology, began to visit their top living choices. Before their search began, they said they called as many apartments as possible and discussed the situation with their roommates.

Christel Strifler, office manager of Wildcat Properties, said students need to write out their priorities before visiting an apartment.

"They need to work out how much they can afford to spend," Strifler said. "Then, go from there and prioritize what they want in the apartment. They need to be willing to drop off several things."

Marie Noyes, leasing agent for Hill Investments, said preparation before talking to the landlord is essential.

"Take a pen and paper and write down questions before you even get there," Noyes said. "Anything from washer and dryer to number of bedrooms. Anything you can think about - how much deposit you get back, if any money is kept automatically, like for steam cleaning the carpets."

Noyes said to ask every question you have when you are visiting the apartment.

ONLINE

Low vacancy rates affect affordability of housing. For exclusive coverage, visit www.kstatecollegian.com

"Get a copy of the lease so you can read through it before you even think about signing," she said. "Think about any kind of question you would have. I don't care if it comes down to, 'Are the windows doublepaned or not?"

Strifler said the most important thing to do is read the lease carefully.

"We have small variations in our leases from property to property," she said. "Make sure you read the lease thoroughly. I insist that they sit there and read it in front of me."

Strifler said students sometimes come with unrealistic expectations.

"A lot of students want a refrigerator, washer and dryer," she said. "It comes down to cost. They want as many amenities as possible, but some of them have very high expectations."

Noyes said demand is high for parking. laundry and close proximity to campus.

"The biggest thing we get right now is they want a washer and dryer hook up in the apartment," she said.

Payne said she loved Long's apartment because of the close proximity to campus.

"I am very impressed," she said. "Even though it's old, it's cool." Noyes said there are crucial questions that

Drew Rose/Collegian

Jessica Payne, Junior In criminology, and Robyn Jardine, senior in psychology and women's studies, talks with Cara Long, senior in family studies, about leasing an apartment in her complex. Typically, March begins the time when students finalize housing plans for the fall.

students forget to ask.

"Most of the time they won't ask how much a deposit is," she said. "They won't ask if parking is a problem or how much bills average.

Strifler also said more technical questions are the ones that are overlooked.

"They should know the difference between central heat and air," she said. "Ask if it is heated by electricity or gas."

Once students have visited the apartments they are considering, they should write out their likes and dislikes and begin to compare, Noyes said.

"Compare it all to niceness, cheapness and what would be best for you," she said.

Manhattan receives 4th threat this year

BYTINA DEINES

Kansas State Collegian

Manhattan High School received its fourth bomb threat of the school year Monday afternoon.

A female voice called the main office of the west campus at 12:54 p.m. and said that there was a bomb in the school.

The secretary who answered the call immediately contacted the phone company to trace the call.

An announcement was made over the intercom that the school had been put in lock-down and teachers were notified of further instructions by email.

John Winkler, resource officer at MHS, was notified of the situation and contacted the Riley County Police Department, who began an investigation of the case.

Michele Jones, coordinator of communications and public relations for Manhattan-Ogden USD 383, said nothing unusual was found.

Classes resumed approximately 30 minutes after the beginning of the lock-

Jones said that while it is a concern to have four threats in one year, there is not much the district can do to prevent

'It is a concern, and we've been working on some solutions with the Riley County Police Department, but it's sort of one of those things we don't have control over," Jones said.

The administration's main concern with the threats is the loss of school time, Jones said.

"Each time a bomb threat happens, students lose class time, and it disrupts the day," Jones said. "It's almost getting to the point where students are going to have to start making up time at the end

Jones said that while a lock-down is always aggravating, procedures have become routine.

However, she said both staff and students composed themselves well during the procedures. "I think every time it happens you get a little shaken up, but I think everyone handled it nicely," Jones said. She said a variety of things could have contributed to the occurrence threat, such as the six-month anniversary of Sept. 11.

"It could be a number of things," Jones said. "You just never know."

She said the USD 383 administration is concerned that bomb threats will continue to occur as the school year progresses.

"Being that it's spring and the Columbine anniversary is coming up. there is a concern that this is not the last one," Jones said.

K-State Ensembles will perform at 7:30 tonight

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the plans. Find out how spring break procrastinators can still have a good break. www.kstatecollegian.com

STATE IN BRIEF

Kansas City continues to monitor red-light runners

OVERLAND PARK - Cameras have been set up at key intersections in this Kansas City suburb as part of a study to see if they're useful in catching people who run red lights.

Red-light running is blamed for killing more than 800 people and injuring more than 200,000 across the country each year.

More than 40 cities in about 10 states across the country have started to use the cameras to cut down on the Traffic engineer Brian Shields, who monitored video images near one of the city's biggest retail centers recently, said he has hundreds of photos of red-light runners narrowly avoiding accidents near the mall and at another Overland Park inter-

But, he said no traffic tickets or warnings are being issued.

NATION IN BRIEF

Israel ends travel ban, presses military offensive

IERUSALEM - Israel ended Yasser Arafat's three-month confinement in the West Bank town of Ramallah, but expanded its military offensive Monday with two large-scale raids, rounding up about 1,100 Palestinians for interrogation.

Five Palestinians were killed by

With the United States leading an international effort to reduce Mideast tensions, Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon said Arafat could now move around the Palestinian territories, though he still needs Israeli permission to go abroad.

At the same time, Israel's army pressed ahead with sweeps of the Palestinian town of Qalqilya and a Bethlehem refugee camp. handcuffing and blindfolding Palestinian men as it searched for militants in the wake of attacks against Israelis.

Security director urges support of alert system

WASHINGTON, D.C. -Homeland Security Chief Tom Ridge said Monday a multistage alert system will provide "a common vocabulary" of danger to help communities all over the nation respond to threats.

Ridge, speaking to the National League of Cities, sought to bring local officials on board with the proposal, designed to provide more specific guidance when the government determines there is a new threat of terrorism.

The four broad terror alerts issued by the federal government have been criticized by local leaders and law enforcement for raising alarm without providing useful information.

A new five-stage, color-coded system, which Ridge said would be unveiled soon, will identify specific threat levels based on the information the government receives.

Officials investigating Enron's trading for fraud

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The government is investigating whether Enron Corp. committed fraud or manipulated markets through improper trading, the chairman of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission said Monday.

Disclosure of the investigation comes as Enron's longtime auditor. the Arthur Andersen accounting firm, is negotiating with federal prosecutors about whether it can avoid criminal charges in the Enron

Andersen has acknowledged massive shredding by its employees of Enron-related documents.

A Justice Department official indicated Friday that government lawyers were negotiating with representatives of Andersen.

Life after K-State

KSU graduate proves math majors have career options

BY SARAH RICE Ransas Stam Collegina

> math degree does not always lead to a career as a high school math teacher.

K-State alumna Liz O'Brien graduated from K-State with a master's degree in mathematics and now is working in Wichita at Bombardier Aerospace Learjets as a computer programmer.

Along with computer programming and finance analysis, she works with the aftermarket and spare-parts

O'Brien said the math degree helps her thought processes when dealing with computers.

"It's more like a logical thinking process when you are debugging something or writing something new," she said.

"The skills you need to proof a formula are the same kinds of skills you use to do good programming."

O'Brien said she has seen a drastic change in technological advances from the time she was an undergraduate at Benedictine College in Atchison, Kan., to position at Learjets.

When I was at Benedictine, they didn't even have a computer department," she said. "At K-State, if you wanted a report printed out, you had to go up to a window and ask them to do it for you."

O'Brien said the Sept. 11 attacks hit the economy hard, especially the aerospace industry, however, Webbased jobs are opening doors in the job market. "There's a lot more job opportunities since it's brand new and didn't even exist before," she said.

Although O'Brien said she hopes to stay at her job for many years, she said it is a constant game of catch up.

"You always have to plan for training to keep up with stuff that's going on," she said. "I still need to get that training."

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

BAPP Club will meet at 5 p.m. in Calvin 212.

III Future Female Executives will meet at 5:30 p.m. in Calvin 209. III Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in Holtz Hall. Call 532-6506 for reservations, M American Cancer Society KSU

Relay for Life will have an informational meeting from 5 to 6 p.m. in Union 212.

III Lutheran Campus Ministry - ECLA will meet at 6 tonight at the Luther House for supper and Bible study.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space

Riley County Friday, March 8

At 8:20 a.m., Steven Innes, Olsburg, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $1,500. At 10:21 a.m., Joshua Hoover, Fort Riley, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $2,000. At 10:52 a.m., Kelly Stackley, Hope, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $250. m At 12:29 p.m., Aubrey Cumbie, 416 Vattier St., Apt. B. was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at

M At 2:20 a.m., Kathryn Pittman, 3707 Concord Court, was arrested for DUI, duty of driver upon damaging unattended vehicle or other property and duty of driver or occupant to give notice of accident to police authority. Bond was set at $300. At 2:40 p.m., Ronald Demelio, Ogden, was arrested for two counts of probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000. mat 3 p.m., Tyrone Goodridge, 922 Pottawatomie Ave., was arrested for battery and theft. Bond was set at m At 4:25 p.m., Zachary Jackson, 831 Leavenworth, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at

III At 5:31 p.m., Dwayne Bray, 425 Laramie St., was arrested for two counts of battery. No bond was set. At 6:10 p.m., Joseph Woodyard, 709 Dondee, Apt. 12, was arrested for theft. No bond was set. At 11:37 p.m., Thomas Furman, 925 Denison, was arrested for $500.

Saturday, March 9 M At 12:43 a.m., Harry Dean, 1420 Houston St., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. m At 1:36 a.m., Randall Sutton, 6301 N. 52nd, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $1,500. At 1:46 a.m., Russell Radi, 811 Pierre St., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

At 2:48 a.m., Pedro Ramirez, 14th, #500-511, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. m At 6:59 a.m., Michael Hilbert, 500

Sunset Ave., was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance, unlawful possession of depressants and DUI. No bond was m At 1 p.m., Jeremy Baker, 2913 Nelson's, was arrested for two counts of criminal damage to property. Bond was set at $1,000.

Sunday, March 10 At 12:30 a.m., Justin Herman,

Derby, was arrested for disorderly conduct. Bond was set at $500. At 1:17 a.m., Stewart Records, Texas, was arrested for res arrest. Bond was set at $1,000. At 1:17 a.m., Bradley Renfrow, Fort Riley, was arrested for disorderly conduct. Bond was set at $500. At 1:50 a.m., Courtney Smith. 2215 College Ave., R372, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at

At 2:10 a.m., Neftalir Espada, El Dorado, was arrested for disorderly conduct. Bond was set at $500. ■ At 12:15 p.m., William Kurtz, 3017 Sunnyside, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $500. ■ At 10:17 p.m., Angela Hasselman, 1404 Hillcrest Drive, was arrested for

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz Editor in Chief City/Gov Editor

April Middleton

Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Zach Long Photo Director Copy Chief

Nicole Donnert Asst. Photo

Dana Strongin

Paul Restivo

Campus Editor

Dan Smith Sports Editor JJ Duncan

A&E Editor Amber Koehn Opinion Editor

Katie Lane Presentation

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Nancy Hull Projects Editor Micah Hawkinson

Jodl Fagerquist

eCollegian Editor

Alissa Duncan Asst. Ad

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

(USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzo 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer. Periodical postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502, POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kausas State Kedure 100 Saanhattare Kan, 06506-7167.

O Kansas State Collegian, 2001

532-6556 Display advertising 532-6560 Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 532-6304 Photo reprints

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

$1.75 BOTTLES

OPEN MIC NIGHT

w/ Bryson after 10 p.m.

307 Seth Child Rd. - Manhattan, KS - 539-6746

There was an error in Friday's Collegian. The cost of vandalism of the K-State Student Union would fall under the Union's operations budget, which will be increased to $1,308,808 for the 2002-03 school year. The Collegian regrets his error.

ATTENTION STUDENTS SPRING BREAK SPECIAL Earn $30 TODAY* & Help Save Lives!

Bring in your student ID and receive an extra five dollars for your first donation. The week of April 16-22. (New donors

Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway

785-776-9177 *(for approx. 2 hours) Fees & donation time may vary. www.zib.com

Manhattan, KS

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

"Come see me today!" Welcome, Melissa Stirrett! Candlewood Shopping Center 3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632 Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

WANTED:

25¢ WINGS

SPORTS BAR AND GRILL

People to test a new broadband mobile Internet service

evaluate a new, broadband wireless Internet service that works with laptop and desktop PCs. Download music, video and access anything on the Internet anywhere in the greater Manhaltan area, without a cable or phone

Monet Mobile Networks is looking for testers to Modern and service are provided at NO COST to those who qualify during the test. You will also be compensated for your

You must be 18 years or older and have a Windows 98 or 2000 laptop or desktop PC with CD-ROM drive

nonei

BE ONE

OF THE

FIRST

▶ Broadband

► Mobile access anywhere in

Manhattan

experience

connection

speeds

▶ Complete

Internet

Always on

It's Fast. It's Mobile.

CALL 1-866-286-6638 or visit www.monetmobile.com/beta

Pregnancy MOORE Property Testing Center "Supportive services for pregnance parenting & adoption."

9-3338 Free pregnancy testing

Totally confidential service me day results for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Mou.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

537-0205

HEARTSPRING

Aggieville, restaurants prepare for tournament crowd

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Konsas State Collegion

K-State women earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. making Manhattan a host site. An estimated 50,000 fans will be coming to Manhattan.

Players and fans of Clemson, Arkansas, Kent State and K-State come to Manhattan for the open practices that start Thursday. K-State plays Kent State in the first round of play Friday at a time to be announced.

"We're talking about a week's worth of activities for the Little Apple," Michele Dubert, assistant sports information director, said. "There could be people driving here from eight to 10 hours away. Those people need hotels and food."

Terry Wark, owner of O'Malley's Alley, said his bar wasn't open in 1983 - the last time Manhattan hosted the tournament - but he said he doesn't need experience to say this would be great for Manhattan's economy.

$25 TODAY Get Paid to Study!

Donate your life-saving additional bonuses.

ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway

785-776-9177

Call or stop by No appointment needed. www.zlb.com

Open the 770-3333

Campus Special

Med. 12" | Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99

Large 14" Pokey Stix $6,99

Valid Sunday-Wednesday

11a.m.-11p.m. only

Latest

"The estimate I've heard for the number of people who will come to Manhattan is 50,000. That will fill every hotel in Manhattan," he said.

"Those people need food, so restaurants are going to be busy.

Rusty Wilson, owner of Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon, said the tournament experience would be new to him as well. He said he was only a year out of high school the last time Manhattan played host.

"This is very new, and it's something we're very excited about, but it's hard to make projections for it because I've never experienced it," he

This is true for most of the bar

1814 claffin rd 778-3771

www.claftinbooks.com owners in Aggieville.

MANHATTAN

MADNESS

This is the first story in Play begins at 6 p.m.

Friday at Bramlage

a series covering the NCAA's trip to Manhattan.

Coliseum. Tickets are $20

for chairbacks and $15 for bench seats, by calling the Bramlage Coliseum Ticket

Office at 1-800-221-CATS.

Wilson said he expects the NCAA Tournament to be better for Chance and other bars than any other activity.

including Country Stampede

"Country Stampede takes place out at the lake, so it really doesn't affect my business in Aggieville," he said, "but I expect this to affect me, in a good way,

I hope.' Doug Macejewski, local owner of Gumby's, said he also is excited about the business

NCAA fans will bring to Manhattan. He said Gumby's won't staff 23 delivery drivers like it did two years ago, when K-State played Nebraska at home in football, but there definitely will be extra drivers.

Gumby's is having a management meeting soon to make sure they are ready to handle increased customers. Macejewski said delivery drivers would probably be increased from 10 drivers on the Friday night to 12 or Wark said Aggieville should be very busy once the tournament starts. Not only is he looking forward to tournament play, but he said he also is looking forward to St. Patrick's Day activities.

"This weekend is the St. Patty's Day Parade, so we are prepared for that. There's usually about 5,000 to 6,000 people that come to Aggieville." he said.

With the NCAA Tournament going on at the same time, Wark said there likely would be 12,000 people this year — the biggest parade ever.

Dave Garard, owner of Out of Bounds, said he hadn't heard anything about the NCAA Tournament coming to Manhattan, but he said it would do nothing but help bars in Aggieville

He said the extra people wouldn't

"We always have doormen every night," he said, "and the cops down here in Aggieville are great, so there wouldn't be a problem with handling the larger crowd."

Both Garard and Wark said they wouldn't be offering any new specials.

"It'll be just another day at the office," Gerard said. "I'd just hope there are more people.

Wilson said Chance will be fully staffed and ready to go for the tourna-

He said most bars in Aggieville would have the game on TV and be ready for crowds who want to watch the games.

"We're ready to go." Wilson said. "We're going to do what we know how to do best.'

Advertise your tickets to buy or sell in the classifieds.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie

blood plasma and earn cash. Bring a friend and qualify for Fees apply to new donors.

dependable quality service Claflin Books and Copies

These should be some of the best years of your life. If something happens to change that, call us and we'll help get you back on track.

AMERICAN EAGLE BAIL BONDS Call Dan or Don at 770-3174

QUITTING

BUSINESS

When you REALLY don't want to spend the night, call us! American Eagle Bail Bonds, we're not the biggest, but you won't find better.

International Coffee Hour

TACO NUT

"Where good friends get together since 1969"

TUESDAY SPECIALS

3 Tacos - 1.55

Chili Burrito - $2.75

MUSIC AND IMAGES FROM ARGENTINA

ACCEPTANCE OF THE PARTY OF THE

Presenter: Hernan Mouro

Come enjoy Live music from Argentina, meet people from different cultures, taste Argentine food and have fun.

Wed., March 13, 4-5 p.m. International Student Center

EATHER $oldsymbol{D}$ IRECT & THE SPORTS STOP MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER (Sears Wing) SALE HOURS MON.-SAT. 10-9 SUN. 12-6

FINAL DAYS!

Now everything Storewide

40-90% 088

NO REASONABLE OFFER REFUSED ON ANY ITEMS

Every item in the store marked down for immediate sale. INAL DAY MARCH 17 HURRY IN FOR BEST SELECTION

Manhattan Area Technical College

Continuing Education Evening Classes

Computer-Related

Advanced Access Advanced Excel 4/2-4/25 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm 538 Advanced Web Page Design 4/2-4/25 T.TH 6pm-8:30pm $42 Advanced Word 4/2-4/25 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $38

Introduction to Computers 3/26-4/25 T,TH 6pm-9pm 548 Quickbooks 3/26-3/28 T.TH 6pm-8:30pm $35

Drafting Beginning CAD Advanced CAD 3/25-4/24 M,W 6pm-9pm 576

For a complete listing of classes offered please call 587-2800 for more information

Call 587-2800 to enroll today! 3136 Dickens Ave. Manhattan

www.matc.net

Season for

*42 ACCOUNTABILITY

In conflicting situations, personal accountability allows us to take responsibility for how I contribute to the conflict.

Today, take responsibility for how you contribute to a conflict and make a different choice that can lead to a peaceful resolution.

2809 CLAFLIN

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

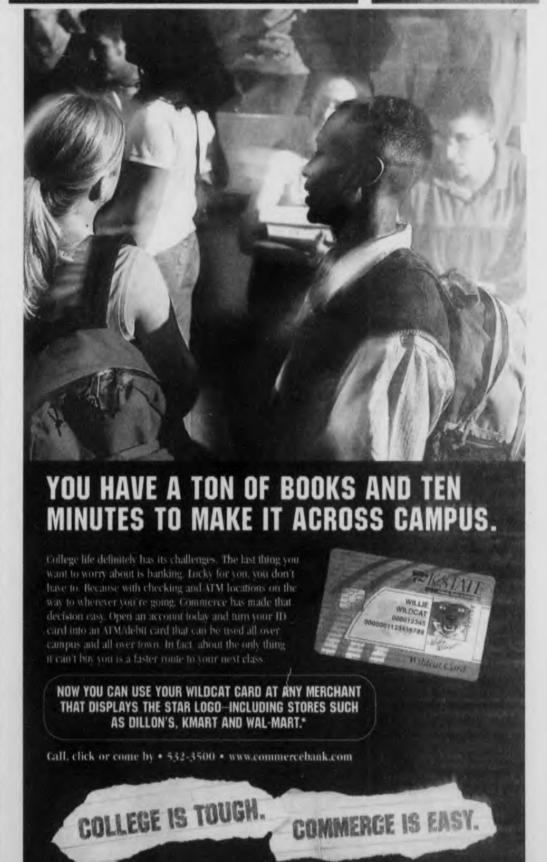

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

(iii) Commerce Bank

Dieting dilemma Ingredients in weight-loss Diet pills no worse than pills have dangerous effects other prescription drugs

ith spring break approaching, many students are scrambling to shed those holiday pounds. Some make a mad dash to the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex, while others might choose to lose weight in a more passive way: diet pills.

The use of products such as Dexatrim and Metabolile is tempting. Just pop a pill and watch the pounds melt away, right?

Susan Powell

Remember Fen-Phen? About six years ago, it was the latest miracle pill concerning weight loss. Its use led to fatal heart valve damage in many cases.

Why should we assume over-the counter diet pills are any safer?

An educated consumer shouldn't. Most diet pills on the market can cause various side effects and possibly death. Popular diet pills like Dexatrim and Acutrim contain phenylpropanolamine (PPA) and caffeine

PPA is a stimulant and can severely effect the central nervous system

Ephedrine, another ingredient found in many common diet pills, might be the most dangerous. It is linked to deaths caused by heart attacks, seizures and strokes.

According to the site www.mirror-mirror.org, other less fatal, but potentially hazardous reactions to diet pills include irregular and rapid heart rates, nausea, diarrhea, dizziness, irritability, headaches and anxiety

Acutrim and Dexatrim are especially dangerous for young women, a recent study on www.healthcentral.com concluded. Women who use such weight loss aids are at a higher risk of bleeding strokes.

Due to the use of PPA, Dexatrim and Acutrim will have to reformulate their product, or, hopefully, disappear altogether.

But what about natural or herbal diet pills? Something natural can't be

It seems many people think so. There are an estimated 12 million users of natural diet pills annually. These products contain the ingredients ma huang (Ephedra) and guarana, which are sources of ephedrine and caffeine Do these ingredients sound familiar?

These pills not only have similar ingredients, but similar side effects. When taken at the recommended dose, the altercations still can be as serious as strokes, heart attacks and severe high blood

Many of us know those who have taken such natural diet aids. I can see my old manager racing around the store, cleaning it from top to bottom. She liked to think she was taking advantage of the natural high a certain herbal diet pill gave her. I was always apprehensive of her possible reactions, besides increased heart rate. When on the pills, she could be as manic as Robin Williams.

These pills can be just as addictive as other drugs, and are often the first warning signs of anorexia.

The alarming reality is that there is no way to tell who will be affected by these pills and how seriously. It's disheartening that such dangers can be overshadowed by promises of a quick fix. So go ahead, pop a pill, and imagine yourself in your new bikini, lounging on some sunny beach. Fact is, you're likely to be too anxious moody or sick to go outside and flaunt your new, "improved" self.

Susan is a junior in English. You can e-mail her at sjp8478@ksu.edu.

Clash of the Columnists

Clash of the Columnists is a rotating series. Each day, two different colum nists will write columns taking a stance on an issue presented to them. Clash of the Columnists is meant to inform readers about both sides of the issue icture this scenario: you exercise every day, you lift weights, you get up for that 6 a.m. aerobics class, and you still haven't lost those last 10 pounds. Sound familiar? What do you do?

If you're having trouble deciding, diet pills might be your answer. You see the numerous ads on television telling you that you can lose so many pounds in only so many days, and you question how safe those pills Well, I wondered the same thing, so I did a little research and found that diet pills aren't as dangerous as people think The reason people think diet pills are so unsafe is because the pills used to contain an ingredient called ephedrine. But, because of some harmful side effects, most diet pills no longer contain this ingredient. People no longer have to be rushed to the hospital because they are experiencing seizures, heart attacks or strokes.

Now, I'm not saying you should go out and take diet pills every day for the rest of your life. There still can be some dangers. High blood pressure is one of the main side effects people still experience.

> And after reading that last sentence, you're probably still thinking how awful diet pills are and that you should stay far, far

Jamie Kelley

But, before you write off diet pills for their inconsistent side effects, take a look at some of the side effects associated with medication you might take every day.

A popular pill women use every day is birth control. The same side effects experienced with birth control occur in diet pills. Blood pressure is raised and women have a higher chance of experiencing heart attacks Prescription weight-loss drugs can have the same side effects as over-the-counter drugs, but all effects are minor, and are prescribed only for the morbidly obese.

All pills have harmful, Rare side effects. You just have to use your

If you weigh 100 pounds and are still taking diet pills, you have a problem. Diet pills are not for people who aren't overweight, and my definition of overweight is compared to that of a doctor's, not that of

Also, you need to read the instructions. No one should take diet pills for longer than three months. The problems and hospital visits occur when the directions are ignored.

I spoke with a dietitian who didn't approve of diet pills, but said if you take the pills no longer than the time specified, you should

All you have to do is use your God-given common sense.

Treat diet pills just like you would any other medication. Make sure you aren't allergic to the ingredients, don't take them for an extended amount of time, and accompany them with exercise and

Diet pills can be a safe way to lose those extra pounds, if you know the proper way to use them.

Jamie is a senior in English. You can e-mail her at jdk7657@ksu.edu.

Students should be responsible during break

Airline tickets are arriving in the mail, and tanning salon phones are busy.

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the editorial board and written after a

majority opinion is

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

April Middleton

formed. OUR VOICE is the Collegian's official

K-State has been hit with an annual, planned epidemic: spring break.

Next week is all about relaxation and having fun. It's way for students to recharge and prepare to finish off the semester.

Amidst all the fun of spring break, we should remember to use caution. Both Sept. 11 and this year's student deaths serve as reminders that we are not untouchable. Road trips and international travel can increase risk of injury or death.

Make sure you keep aware of your surroundings, no matter where you are. Keep others informed of your whereabouts, and keep track of your valuables.

It's time to take a break, but it's not time to give your awareness a rest. Have fun but be cautious next week

READERS WRITE

Elections committee should demand answers from vendor

After 2000's political events, attitudes of average voters became cynical.

And, K-State's election has done nothing but increase that cynicism with blatant discrepancies, most likely resulting from iBallot.com.

The elections committee should take responsibility and demand that iBallot.com account for all discrepancies in this election.

CLASH OF THE COLUMNISTS

Jamie Kelley and Susan Powell weigh the pros and

Tanner Ehmke and Micah Hawkinson justify their

David McCandless and Lindsey Geisler voice their

See previous columns in the opinion section of the e-Collegian. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for more.

WEDNESDAY - Assisted suicide

claims on physician-assisted suicide.

THURSDAY - Electoral college

FRIDAY - Premarital cohabitation Amber Koehn and Peter Morris debate the idea of views on the Electoral College

premarital cohabitation

MONDAY - Pre-nuptial agreements

over pre-nuptial agreements.

TUESDAY - Diet pills

cons of diet pills.

Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner duke it out

If nothing else, university elections should demonstrate to students the importance of

It's a simple math lesson. If everyone has to vote for every office, all votes should sum to the same amount.

So how did 4,229 people vote for board of student publications (1-year) and only 3,774 people vote for president (including

And, there's more than a 20-percent discrepancy between votes counted for fine arts council (2-year) and board of student publications (1-year).

Additionally, engineering students can verify if their votes counted, or in our case, didn't count.

If engineering students abstained or wrote-in for any engineering student council positions, their votes were not counted.

Not a single 'abstain' or 'write-In' was The third discrepancy that needs explanation is how the randomized votes affected the results.

Of the students that received the message that they had not voted for position X, how many realized the program randomized their votes before hitting submit again?

How many couldn't figure out how to change their votes and gave up?

rels. Put me in.

views stink.

twins? They're delicious.

I know Nancy Hull. Plus, I like squir-

Everyone's always talking about the Hey, Paul White, go back to band camp.

Did anyone else notice Paul White's initials spell pew - P.E.W.? No wonder his Note to self: when I have cold hands,

I like beer. Do you like beer? If it wasn't do not milk cows because they kick. That Dillon's twins. What about the yum-yum

Students deserve an explanation of the voting discrepancies resulting from this election.

If iBallot.com is unable to provide sufficient proof these discrepancies did not affect election results, then the university should hold another election - maybe with punch cards this time.

It might be more accurate.

- Erin O'Brien, Dawn Dechand, Neta Scarpari, Tara Hancock, Nick Rodina, Amber Seba, Ali Salazar, Matte Steele, Sabrina Jedlicka, Sarah Fjell, Gabriel Chavecci, Brad Dilts, Joshua Gattis, Daniel Frohberg and Lisa Wilke

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Kyle Brownback, I don't think you need to worry about a pre-nup, because based on your article and your ideas, no woman in her right mind would want to marry

To the jerk who stole my parking spot yesterday morning: you need to wait your turn like everyone else. Didn't your parents teach you any manners?

These days, whenever I hold the door for someone on campus, all I ask is that I don't get slapped.

To the student who said 'someone should tell my professor it's homogeneous, not homo-genius': buy a dictio-

I don't think that owning a toothbrush would qualify me as being filthy rich.

To all the 18-year-olds whining about the possible change in driving privileges: do you vote? If not, stop whining.

Micah, why should we want to keep helping people who don't want to help themselves and hate the U.S.A.?

Big 12 refs suck.

Is it just me, or does everyone at for beer, I couldn't deal with potheads. K-State drink?

Oh, I got the wrong freakin' number. The tribe has spoken. I'm sorry.

morning deserve to die.

Telemarketers who call at 8 in the

What is the world coming to when you can't even wear a foam finger at a basketball game?

If a woman says she's 21 and looks 16, she's 12. If a woman says she's 26 and looks 26, she's damn near 40.

Somebody just gave me the toe.

Jared Wiesner and Kyle Brownback dumb and dumber.

Kyle Brownback is never getting married. But, if he does, I pity the fool.

Jared Wiesner says Kyle Brownback is ugly - talk about the pot calling the kettle black.

Proposed guidelines prohibit smoking 30 feet from buildings

Jolene Roberts sophomore in hotel and restaurant management and Arica Sadowsky Junior In apparel marketing. take a break to smoke outside Hale Library on Monday afternoon. Rose/Collegi Campus smokers might have to kiss their butts goodbye if a new smoking policy is passed.

According to the policy, smoking would be prohibited within 30 feet of any campus building, excluding the residence halls. The new policy would require smokers to pay a $20 fine per violation.

The new smoking guidelines, created by the Campus Environment Health and Safety Committee, will be presented to Faculty Senate at 3:30 p.m. today in the Union Big 12 Room. Committee members plan to implement the guidelines this summer.

Faculty senators can submit a recommendation if they are in favor of the policy, but Provost James Coffman will make the final decision later this spring.

If the new policy is instated, smoking also would be prohibited in any university building or motor pool vehicle.

Steve Galitzer, director of public safety, said the current policy allows smoking in designated areas only. The building authority of each building decides whether the areas in the building are designated smoking areas.

Galitzer said a new smoking policy was considered because a group of students sent a petition requesting that campus buildings be smoke-free

"We've heard from different people that they have to go into a cloud of smoke getting into a building," Galitzer said. "If you are asthmatic or have allergies, this will bring stress onto the person. We are trying to reduce that for people around campus."

FACULTY

SENATE

meets the second

Tuesday of every

p.m. in the Union

welcome to attend.

month at 3:30

Big 12 Room.

Students and faculty are

Erika Meisel, said she enjoys smoking on the steps before classes because it relieves the tension of her classes. She said it is unfair for the university to put restrictions on where students can smoke on campus. "I think it sucks,"

Meisel, freshman in computer engineering, said. "I don't see the reasoning of why they have to make it a rule."

John Lamb, smoker, said he wonders how the university is going to enforce the rule. He said the univer-

a policy and it only will create problems. "It's not going to be able to be enforced," Lamb, freshman in civil sity does not have the staff to enforce engineering, said. "The university should worry about policies that are enforceable and not unattainable ones. The amount of manpower to keep people from smoking is ridicu-

Stephanie Roach, non-smoker, said if they are going to enforce this policy around campus buildings, it should also affect residence halls.

"It is not fair to make people breathe other people's smoke when it is not their choice to smoke at all," Roach, junior in pre-vet, said.

Jesse Loewen, non-smoker, said that prohibiting smoking 30 feet from entrances is a little extreme.

"I'm of the mind set that smoking within campus buildings should definitely be discontinued," Loewen, junior in mechanical engineering. said. " However, moving it 30 feet from the entrances is really a little extreme."

AUTO PROMO

GOODSON AUTO TRIM

Complete Upholstering & Fabric • Custom Made Auto & Truck Seat Covers * Convertible

Tops • Headliners • Boat Upholstery & Covers • Vinyl Tops

776-7679 201 SARBER LN . BETWEEN K-MART & WALMART

AUTOCRAFT COMPLETE AUTO REPAIR & SERVIC

Including Brakes • Tune-Up • Complete Engine Overhauls . Major & Minor Repairs

> ASE Master Certified GM Master Certified Nissan Master

Over 15 years experience in maintenance to keep your car in top running condition.

Open Mon-Fri, 8am-5pm 201-B Service Circle (behind Wal-Mart) 537-5049

Precision Westside Location Automotive 1120 Waters St Inc.

Go Cats!

Complete Car & Truck Service الالت & Repair Center Domestic & Imported Sun Diagnostic Computer

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

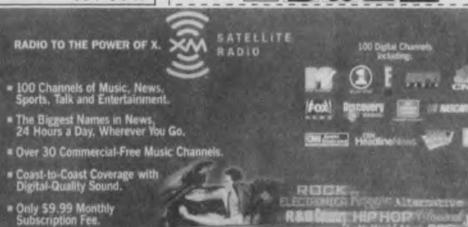

FOURTEEN POINT OIL CHANGE SERVICE

Bring this card to RExpress Lube. We'll take $3 off our Full-service Price. 4th & FT. RILEY BLVD., MANHATTAN, KS 66502 (3 blocks south of Town Center Mall) Prices include the following 14 services...

Chassis Lube • Oil Change • Oil Filter • Check Air Filter Check Tire • Check Differential (first pint free) Check Transmission (first pint free) • Check Wiper Blades Fill Windshield Washer Reservoir (first pint free) Check Brake Fluid (fill-up extra) • Check Power Steering (fill-up extra) Check Battery • Vacuum front seat • Wash outside windshield

No appointment necessary Express Lube feature Havoline i products. I

$30

First 3 months XM service paid by Radio Shack Exclusive Offer by Radio Shack Complete Systems starting under $299

Hours M-F 9 to 8 Sat 9 to 6 Sun 12 to 5

RADIO SHACK Associate Store Modern Electronics, Inc. 2609 Anderson Ave. - Manhattan

539-6151

SPRING

SPECIALS

· Tune-Ups · Brakes

Shocks

OIL CHANGE (Up to 5 qts., plus disposal)

TRANSMISSION Flush

complete fluid exchange

$15.95

$79.95

4 WHEEL COMPUTER ROTATION AND BALANCE $29.95 Includes free brake inspection for cars and light trucks

Exhaust

Coolant Exchange with New Antifreeze

$59.95

MOST CARS Wilbur Hunter-ASE & Ford Certified 42 Years Experience Owner: Bud Valerios

Shocks passenger

4 295 Wiper

Motorcraft* wiper blades.

per pair, installed blades

Motorcraft* brake service

The right

MSRP with exchange Taxes & installation extra.

Wheel alignment

Cabin air filter, installed

FREE Battery test

Visually inspect and test battery rsing Ratunda Micro 490 teste

We service

all makes

& models people. The right parts. Always the right prices.

FREE Car wash

With purchase of any of these services. p for details. Offer saild with Expires 3-31-02

Excludes diesel

Oil Filter Includes Multi-point inspection Up to 5 quarts of oil

We will meet of beat any competitor's advertised price on the name-brand tires we sell!

Complete service. Complete satisfaction.

FDWAR MANHATTAN

East Hwy. 24 - 2 miles east of Mall

776-4004 or 1-800-257-4004

Looking at the bracket,

Bracket proves puzzling

I bet teams are still crying. The NCAA postseason field of 65 was announced Sunday, and as always, there were some questions to be answered.

Sean Purcell

my face lit up with all the possible upsets. I was excited to see who could run the tables this year.

Tournament time was finally here. But then once the excitement began to fade and the challenge of picking a national champion sat in, I realized the field of 65 was a mystery to solve.

On one hand you can look at a team like Connecticut, who got a two seed because of its run through the Big East.

So, it would be easy to assume that the selection committee favored the conference tournaments this year, right?

Wrong.

If conference tournaments meant something, then Oklahoma should have received a No. 1 seed in the west, not Cincinnatti.

Now I know you are saying, "Well, Cincy grabbed the Conference USA title," and you're right. But the Bearcats' only challenge was in the finals against Marquette.

Oklahoma had to make it through Texas and the No. 1 team in the land Kansas, to win a conference that is much tougher than Conference USA ever will hope to be.

Oh, and don't let me forget that Oklahoma had to get through us to get there as well.

So there is one case where I had to ponder whether the selection committee was smoking that green stuff we aren't allowed to talk about. I think Weezer knows the instrument they are using to make these picks. So now let's talk about getting the

Every year there is one team, and this year it is definitely Gonzaga. Now I know they hail from the powerhouse West Coast Conference, but the Zags also are tournament tested. The committee must not have paid attention to the rankings throughout the year because Gonzaga sat near the top 10 all year, and they get a sixth seed in the tournament?

You know, there used to be a study that proved a monkey could pick stocks on the market, and it would do better than the brokers who spent a career on Wall Street.

Maybe we should try the same thing here and see how our furry friends do.

But at least the Zags are in. Butler can't say that.

Here is a team that wins 25 games but loses in the first round of the Horizon League tournament. Big whoop.

Butler also beat the likes of Ball State at the time when the Cardinals were coming off wins over Kansas and Then Butler went on to top an underrated Indiana team who snuck into the field of 65 with 11 losses. Butler just had five all season.

And no one will forget the damage that Butler did on Wake Forest in last year's tournament. That was a buttkicking I will never forget.

I just hope Pepperdine gives Wake another something to cry about.

I feel for you, Butler. I would have picked you against pretty much any other team in the field. Hope to see you next year.

With the exception of those brain farts by the committee, the field looks very open. The west regional definitely will be the toughest, and I think it won't be Oklahoma or Cincinnatti that goes to the Georgia Dome for the Final

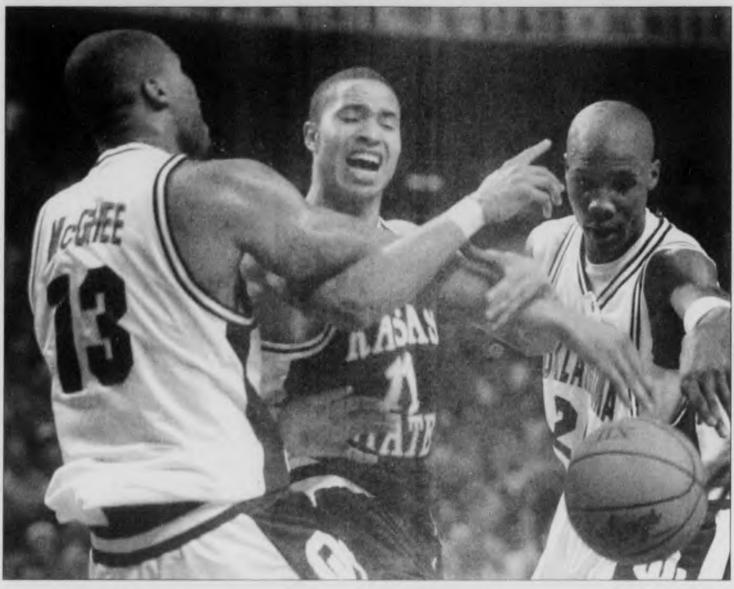

My prediction is, in the land of the upsets, Marquette and Ohio State will Spurcell's final four: Duke, Ohio State, Marquette and Kansas.

And let the Dukies reign atop the college world once again.

Sean is a junior in electronic journalism. You can e-mail him at spu5598@ksu.edu.

BOUNCING BACK

Oklahoma's Aaron McGhee (13) is fouled by K-State's Pervis Pasco (44) as Nick Williams (24) looks on during the first half Friday at Kemper Arena in the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Tournament. The Sooners ended the Wildcats' season with the

Wildcat men turn season around, finish on rise

BY DEREK BOSS Konsus State Collegion

It might be atypical to say one game changed K-State's entire 2001-02 season.

But a 71-70 victory over Texas on Jan. 30 certainly seemed significant. The Wildcats were amid a rough start to the Big 12 season, winning just one of their first six games. Four of those losses were by an average of 16.5

And after an 86-74 loss at then-No. 18 Missouri on Jan. 26, K-State might have been at its season-low, and the purple's predicted 10th-place finish by the preseason media polls looked quite suitable — if not generous.

But K-State wouldn't lie down. "We could have gave up early in the season, but we stayed together," junior Matt

Siebrandt said. They did, and the Cats knocked off the Longhorns at Bramlage Coliseum, a game with six lead changes and five ties in the final six minutes. That victory carried over to Feb. 2, too, as K-State proceeded to shock then-No. 9 Oklahoma State, 70-61, in Manhattan.

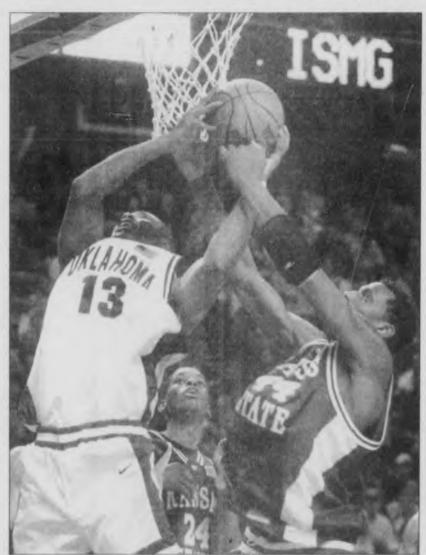

It was the Cats' first win over a national top-10 team since Jan. 17, 1994, when it upset top-ranked Kansas.

Those two victories were the beginning of the Cats' Big 12 turnaround, as Coach Jim Wooldridge's club posted a 5-5 mark in the team's final 10 regular-season games. That resurgence elevated K-State - a squad wallowing near the bottom of the league standings in late January - to a seventhplace finish in the conference, its highest in

"I think it was a good season," senior Larry Reid said. "We showed we can win games in this league, and we kept on fighting."

Then, in the March 7-10 Big 12 Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., the Cats won their first-round game for the second straight year under Wooldridge. His team downed Nebraska by four last season at Kemper Arena, and edged Baylor 74-73 this year before falling to No. 2-seed Oklahoma, 63-52, in the conference quarterfinals.

K-State even led by one at halftime over

Kelly Glasscock/Collegian

K-State's Larry Reid (11) is fouled by Oklahoma's Aaron McGhee (13) as the Sooners' Daryan Selvy, right, goes after the ball Friday during the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Tournament at Kemper Arena.

the Sooners, but an 18-5 OU run to open the second frame proved the difference, along with a near-Big 12 tourney record 54 rebounds by Coach Kelvin Sampson's club --28 coming on the offensive glass. The previous mark was 55 set by Texas in 2000. until Kansas grabbed 56 caroms Saturday against Texas Tech

"That's the mark of good team, though," Sampson said of Oklahoma, whose field-goal percentage (32.3) was an all-time tournament low in a wirming effort. "When you're not

BASKETBALL OF PAGE 10

Season wrap-up

The Cats finished the season at 13-16 overall and 6-10 in Big 12 play, K-State advanced to the second round of the Big 12 Tournament with a 74-73 overtime win over Baylor, but was defeat by Oklahoma 53-42. Here are some of the key moments during the Wildcats' roller-coaster

Dec. 5 vs. Wichita State

K-State rallied from an eight-point halftime deficit to lead by as many as four, but Wichita State used a late 12-0 run and hit its free throws down the stretch to nab a 65-56 win.

Dec. 19 vs. Western Carolina

Western Carolina freshman Kevin Martin scored 29 points, including six three-pointers to lead the Catamounts. Gilson DeJesus scored 18 points but couldn't lead the Cats to a non-conference win, K-State dropped to 5-4 overall.

Cats start 1-5 in Big 12 play
K-State's non-conference woes bled in to its conference play as the Cats stumbled getting out of the gate. The Wildcats' only win during that stretch came against Iowa State 63-52.

Jan. 30 vs. Texas W 71-70

Phineas Atchison's last-second heroics propelled the Cats over Texas for the first time in three years. The win marked a point when K-State's Big 12 play began to improve.

K-State's win over the Cowboys proved the win three days prior wasn't a fluke. The Cats shot a sizzling 54 percent from the field to pull the upset.

March 2 vs. Nebraska

Postseason implications were on the line for K-State, and with the win, the Cats grabbed a seventh seed in the Big 12 tournament instead of a possible 10th seed.

March 7-10 Big 12 Tourna

K-State made it to the second round of the Big 12 Tournament for the second-straight season, but got no further. The Cats squeaked out an win over Baylor, only to be handled by Oklahoma to end K-State's hopes at an NCAA Tou

- Compiled by Sean Purcell

K-State baseball shuts down Western Illinois offense

BY BEN FEHR

Kansas State Collegian

Nine innings, six hits, two walks, six strikeouts and no runs.

Junior transfer Ross Hawley's line told the story of K-State baseball's 14-0 romp over Western Illinois on Monday at Tointon Family

With the win, the Cats moved to 7-4 on the season and scored their second win in three games over the visiting Leathernecks.

Coach Mike Clark said Hawley dominated the game on a number of levels.

"Ross was super," Clark said. "And it wasn't just one pitch either. His slider was devastating and he threw extremely well."

But it wasn't all defense for the Cats on Monday afternoon. K-State was on the board early when Tim Doty's single to right scored lead-off man Gabe Luttrell in the bottom of the first.

The Wildcats added another run on catcher Jeremy Rogers' sacrifice to push the lead to 2-0. Clark said his team was ready to go from

"We were prepared today," Clark said. "For whatever reason, we didn't prepare properly going into the doubleheader yesterday and we dropped one.

"Today we were prepared, we were enthused, you could tell before the game the guys were focused, and we went out and Western Illinois failed to answer in the top of the second and were soon out of striking.

distance when Pat Maloney ripped a grand slam to deep left in K-State's half of the inning.

Maloney, who was two for three with two home runs and five RBIs for the day, said he is comfortable at the plate.

"I am seeing the ball well right now." Maloney said. "I'm comfortable at the plate, and really, that's what it takes."

The Cats added four more in the second to go up 10-0.

Hawley held Western Illinois at bay while K-State small ball produced runs in the third and fourth to stretch the lead to 12.

The Wildcats got going again in the seventh, as singles from Osmar Castillo and Matt Wilson plated two more, and Hawley finished it from there.

Hawley said his teammates made the shutout possible, and added that the win would set the pace for Tuesday's series finale

"I felt good," Hawley said. "I was proud of our offense.

"We needed to come out today and show that team we can dominate them every time."

Coach Clark said his team is making strides in becoming a better ballclub, and is focused on becoming a competitive team at

"We had guys come through for us up and down the lineup today," Clark said. "We really made a step in the right direction for our

"We did a lot of positive things, and hopefully we can build on that and eventually expect to do that every time out."

CROSSWORD

12 "The Music 42 Existed

5 With 23-

Across.

Indian

8 Between

Man"

13 Wish setting

14 Satellite

15 Aromatic

18 Plaything

17 Disposi-

19 Rescue

worker inits.

20 Cameron

Douglas 21 Upper limit

and

22 Journey 23 See 5-

Across 26 Staff's

money

feature

32 Vicinity 33 Plane

30 Culture medium

31 Bath

otherwise

landmark posses.

marginalia

41 Hoosegow

45 Stromboli

46 Obvious

50 Busy with bender

52 Early hrs.

1 Winnow

DOWN

51 Fender

48 Square

37 Make

38 Terse

By Eugene Sheffer

4 Satchel

5 Chaplin portrayal member

8 Newcomer

black to our shores

Make a Deal"

option 10 Stare

11 Tackles

16 Authentic

20 Crucial 2 Matador's 21 "Charade" 23 Navigator's

24 Past

25 Actor

27 Plata

partner 28 Writer

29 Compu

perch

pursuer

stand 35 Album

37 Casual

38 Rosebud.

39 Possess

41 Horner's

42 Ebb

43 Initial

tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

XSVUGHK

ZHGR OUJ

IAHR'GH

IAUWC

VALWH OUTTK.

Quote of the day

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I'M TOLD THAT AFTER BABY COWS ARE WEANED, THEY DINE AT THE FARM'S CALF-ETERIA.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: T equals L

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 2! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box $36475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"Everything has its wonders, even darkness and silence, and I learn,

LOCAL TALENT

Melissa Rohrer, junior in theater and secondary education, plays Diane in this week's Lunchbag Theatre presentation of "The

"The Elopement" was written by K-State graduate Deborah

The one-act play tells the story of Rohrer's character, Diane,

Rohrer said the situation is complicated by the fact that Cindy has been convinced by her boyfriend that Diane is a

Rohrer said she has been involved in

K-State theater for three years, acted in high school and took lessons from the time she because of the similarities between herself and the character, Rohrer

"She's a lot like me," she said. "So I have to separate myself from the character which is hard hen we're so alike. Then I have to get back into her as a was 6. The part of Diane was challenging trying to convince her best friend, Cindy, to leave her boyfnend

Pierce and is directed by Nadya Trytan, graduate student in speech. It will be performed at 11:30 a.m. Thursday in the Purple Masque Theatre, and admission is free.

an and wants her for herself.

whatever state I may be in, therein to be content."

WHO: Melissa Rohrer

Actress

and move away with her.

chip

46 Brotherly address takes the

31 Jerry's

Buscaglia

ON THE JOB

Gary "Bear" Bennett, security director at Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon in Aggleville, has been working in the field for 22 years.

Nicole Donnert/

Aggieville bouncers find job challenging, fun

BY BETSY STVERAK

hey make sure everyone has a safe, good time, but they will bust some heads if they have to. The bouncers that work in the bars of Aggieville have a very entertaining job, but it's not all easy.

Andrew Wiechen, bouncer at Out of Bounds, said he has been working as a bouncer for about two years and really enjoys his job.

"It gives me a social life outside of tudio," he said. "I meet random people that I wouldn't normally meet if I didn't work in the bar.'

Wiechen, second year in interior architecture, said he first became a bouncer because he felt the job was convenient for him.

"I was looking for an evening job that had tips," he said. "I really liked the atmosphere and people at Out of Bounds."

Most people might think bouncers only have one main job, but Wiechen said a bouncer has several duties.

"I card people at the door, stock the bar and change the kegs," he said. "I watch out for people instigating fights and big brawls that might occur."

Wiechen said, he said he has had some rough nights on the job.

"Back when it was Tula's, I would usually throw three or four people out a weekend," he said.

Wiechen said there has been everything from oral sex in the basement to girls stripping on the bar. Halloween and Mardi Gras are some of the most fun times to work since everybody likes to get crazy and let loose, he said.

Although mostly males take up this job, Wiechen said females can make good

"They seem to hold their temper back," he said. "They take care of the women of the bar. I hate to feel like I am manhandling a woman."

One part of being a bouncer is witnessing some incredibly crazy events. Gary Bennett, who goes by Bear, director of security at Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon, said he has been a bouncer for 22 years and has worked with Chance for four years. Bear said he loves his job because he has an amazing time

"The big thing is watching people that come in here. Oh my god, it's endless hours of fun and entertainment. I just can't believe how drunk people can get," he said. "Also, the staff here has good team effort, a damn good crew of guys. Our job is to make sure you don't get Bear said the most difficult part of the job is having to tolerate certain situations.

"You have to have a lot of patience with people, you have to have a good temper for this, he said. "It's so easy to get upset and fly off the handle at dealing with drunk, disruptive people. Nine times out of 10 if you yell louder then them. they'll hush up.

"Also I don't deal with puke, I'll make my own mess. They will puke wherever they can. I had two people puke on each other once."

Bear said that with his 22 years of experience, he has encountered some pretty interesting things. He said one story in particular, that happened at the Aggie Station in the early 1980s, stands out in his mind.

"I had a lady come to the front and tell me this girl's boyfriend was smacking her around on the patio outside. We went back there and just as I see him punch her in the eye, the other guys and I decide to teach him a lesson.

"We threw him out the back door. Well, this guy was so drunk by the time I got back up to the front door to start checking IDs again, this guy came around to the front and asked me to call the police because he got mugged out back. We were the ones that did it," he said.

Bear said he can remember another unforgettable story that also happened at Aggie Station.

"There was a couple of girls, and this guy kept coming up and bothering them, wanting to dance or do whatever. This one girl had those little steel tips on her cowboy boots and the guy said a few choice words to her that she didn't like, well she kicked him so hard that he lost one testicle," he said.

"I have never seen a guy in so much pain. When they carried him out he was in a fetal position. I couldn't believe she did that."

Chris Wald and Jeff Vaughn of Fort Riley pay Jason Stewart a bartender at Joe's Tap. Room in Aggleville for their drinks Tuesday night.

Bear said a big part of the fun in the job is when customers come to the bar on their 21st birthdays.

"They come up here, and they got a big smile on their face, and they're showing their ID. I'll let them in, say happy birthday and then they go all crazy," he said. "You have 10 of your friends, and they're all out just to see how drunk they can get you."

Bear said with having all the fun in his job, he still keeps a keen eye out for

"I look when people are yelling at one another. I even watch people eyeball one another," he said. "You watch the temperament of people. You'll see people, walk by, bump somebody and someone has a problem - that's when my guys and I are right over there.'

Bear said that Chance has many problems with people using fake IDs.

"We get anywhere from five to 15 a week. We always give the person the opportunity to walk away," he said. "Sometimes the IDs are so bad that I can't believe this person thinks I am dumb enough to take this. All my bouncers are experienced."

Another experienced Aggieville bouncer is David Piken. Piken, bouncer at Silverado Saloon, said he's been working at Silverado for about two years and has seen his fair share of crazy things.

One evening, a young man was in the bathroom vomiting and he refused to leave, Piken said. A few minutes later he was still vomiting.

"This time I told him he's got to go, so he still refused, and I began losing my patience. I asked him again, and he broke out in tears.

"I left and a few minutes later he came crawling out of the bathroom towards the front door," he said. "As he's crawling, he's leaving a wet trail. He had not only puked all over himself, he had cut himself, wet himself and he took a crap in his pants. We helped him up and got him outside." Piken said he looks for certain things when he thinks trouble is happening.

"Because it's an 18-and-over bar, we have a lot of problems with underage drinking," he said. "Three people over 21 and one who isn't walk in and they go to sit in the corner booth. One of the guys goes up to the bar and buys a coke, three beers and a shot - that's the most obvious thing, he said.

Piken said bouncers need to possess certain characteristics.

"You have to be willing to give up your weekends somewhat," he said. "You have to be firm and stand behind it, but you also have to be able to interact with people."

Editor's note: This is the first of a two-part story on bouncers. Wednesday's installment tells one woman's story of the difficulties of being a female working in the

misdirection

Travel agent gives tips for safe road trips

Konman State Collegia

The countdown to Spring Break 2002 is almost over. To reach their spring break hot spot, some students will be boarding planes, but for others road trip.

Ryan Weber, sophomore in business administration, said he and six buddies are packing up and driving to South Padre Island, Texas.

Wednesday's Collegian to "Flying would be way too read about airport expensive, and it's only a 16hour drive, so it won't be too bad. It'll probably be a lot of fun. The only thing I'm worried about is the drive back," he said.

Weber said he has been looking forward to the trip since December, when they made their hotel reservations. Saturday morning, five of the head south.

"The van has a VCR, so there will probably be a lot of movies and a lot > said. "One thing is for sure, we're going to be ready to party when we get of sleep," he there." Weber said he is budgeting about $650 for the trip. "That pays for everything - the hotel room.

gas, food and alcohol for all six nights," he said.

This is the second in a highlighting spring break

weeklong series

travel issues and concerns. See

For students taking road trips, David Garvin, owner of Creative Travel, said there are things they need to know to make it a safe, enjoyable trip.

Every student needs to have a credit card if they are taking a trip. Garvin said.

"You never know what's going to happen. You might blow a tire or throw a rod. Students aren't going to have enough money to cover this,"

However, just because students take a credit card, that doesn't mean they should use it, he said. He recommends they use credit cards for emergencies only.

"Don't use them unless it is necessary. You can get in way over your head. Once you start charging and you just pay off the minimum balance, it could take you years to pay it off," he said.

Credit cards or extra money would be helpful if students go over their budget.

Things always cost more than you anticipate," Garvin said. "You can say you'll eat at fast food places. but you see that other place with great seafood. Pretty soon your resolution diminishes."

Even when students say they won't, Garvin said students would always want souvenirs. He said it is crazy what students buy, but there are always those cheap T-shirts that tourists buy for $15 each.

Brooke Barrett, sophomore in public relations, said she usually looks to go to the Caribbean or someplace warm for spring break, but not this year. Barrett and nine friends will be hitting the slopes in Colorado.

She said they are leaving Saturday morning and driving the eight to 10 hours nonstop. She said the long road trip probably will be a lot of fun.

"We're going to have lots and lots of CDs and magazines for the road," she said.

ELECTION

Continued from page 1

president-elect, said he believes the results should be certified.

The election was not perfect, but it was fair," he said in a press release. "Nothing about the election put any one candidate at a greater disadvantage. Any problems with the elections vendor affected all candidates equally, and the results should be certified."

Wolters also said in his prepared statement that the committee made the right decision by sending an appeal to the tribunal.

"Given the appeals, the elections committee is right to send this matter to Student Tribunal," he said in a prepared statement released Monday. "Tomorrow night, before an impanial panel, we are hopeful this process will come to a close and we can begin our work on behalf of K-State students."

The elections committee does not have the authority to call for a new election, so the decision will lie with the tribunal.

"This decision needs to be made not in a political body, but by the judicial branch," said Wolters in the meeting, who now serves as Student Senate chair.

Spencer said the decision needed to be made by the judicial branch. "We talked about what process would be the fastest and cleanest, so we can have an election and move on," she said.

At the tribunal, students who filed complaints and candidates, will present their case to the court.

In order to present evidence to the court, contesters must withdraw their complaints from the elections committee. In a prepared statement, Cook and Kohman said they withdrew all four points that were outlined in their letter to the elections committee filed last Friday.

Kohman said in the press release that the elections committee made the right decision. Cook refused further comment.

Golf Tournament April 6; 2002 Rolling Meadows Golf Course

$180 per team, 4 players on each team. icludes green Fees, Cart, and Lunch Hole in One Contest- 2-night/3 day trip Other Prizes to be awarded as well Call 776-5180

10% Student Discount with Student ID

At Sirloin Stockade we are proud of the reputation we have earned by serving up quality & offering our customers excellent service in a down home atmosphere.

Little Caesars TUESDAY SPECIAL! 18" GIANT PIZZA

WITH 1 TOPPING PLUS AN 8 PIECE ORDER OF CRAZY BREAD

No Coupon Necessary id only at participating locations ©2001 L.C.E., Inc.

The Spring Break Relief Program is only at Pean Liquor in Aggieville.

Dean Liquor is not responsible if you don't have fun.

Discounts do not include taxes and are good on regular and normal sale prices only. Buy, buy, and buy some more. Some restrictions may apply. See store for details

 $\Omega X$

 $KA\Theta$

 $\Delta \Xi A$

ΔΔΔ

KKI

 $K\Delta$

 $\Delta T \Delta$

Z Days Only

ΔΥ ΑΓΡ ΠΚΑ ΚΣ ΤΚΕ ΣΝ ΣΧ ΒΘΠ ΦΓΔ ΛΧ ΣΦΕ Farmhouse

> The Dream Factory, The American Cancer Society, The Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, The Women of Pi Beta Phi and The Men of Alpha Tau Omega would like to thank the following for participating or contributing to the A special thanks to all of the local sponsors & McCain Auditorium and staff.  $A\Delta\Pi$

 $A\Delta\Pi$

Congratulations to Chi Omega

Farmhouse

Thanks,

 $X\Omega$

KAO

AΞΔ

ΔΔΔ

KKI

KΔ

 $\Delta T \Delta$

Women's

Bracket

for winning their divisions

Pi Beta Phi & Alpha Tau Omega

Farmhouse  $\Delta Y$  AFP  $\Pi KA$   $K\Sigma$  TKE  $\Sigma N$   $\Sigma X$   $B\Theta\Pi$   $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$   $\Delta X$   $\Sigma \Phi E$

Get mad, Royal Purple Style

Great Prizes Men's Bracket

Free To Enter

Weekly Updates

> $5 RP Coupons

during the 2002 NCAA Men's and Women's Basketball Championships.

For brackets and official rules check out royalpurple.ksu.edu or look for us in the Pastate Student Union March 12-14 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

If you join SHAPE, you will:

- . Have a chance to attend the national peer education conference in ORLANDO, FL.
- Become an American Red Cross Certified HIV/AIDS Instructor
- . Earn 3 KSU credit hours (use credit
- as leadership minor or elective) Have a BLASTI!!!!

Sponsored by: Lafene Health Center Need more info? Call 532-6595 or email shape@ksu.edu

And so is pre-enrollment. This can only mean one thing...it's time to get in SHAPE!

Don't go to the gym, go to Lafene, room #3 to get your application or print it online at http://www.ksu.edu/lafene/shapeapp.htm

> Sexual Health Awareness Peer Educators

Applications due April 5th

HOURS: (1) (1)

ORDER ON LINE vw.ordergumbys.com

Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 2 Topping Pizza

$6.99 X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza $7.99 14" Large Pokey Stix $6.99

6 Pepperoni Rolls $6.99 Valid Carry Out Only VISA OUC NO

MONDAY MANIA

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

STIX IT TO ME TUESPAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIG ASS

One 20" I Topping Pizza

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

Classifieds

105 Apts. Furnished

ALL UTILITIES paid, one ONE, THREE, four, or fiveblock to campus. Studio for bedroom apartments/ housthree-bedroom $825. No Pets. (785)313-

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apartment, two blocks to campus. June 1, one year lease (785)539-1713

ACROSS FROM Marlatt Hall. One and two bedroom apartments. Private parking. Available April or May. Also June and August leases Great price. No pets (785)539-0549.

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539 4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

NEXT TO campus- one apartments Central air parking, free washer/ dryer Available August.

NEXT TO KSU apartmen room apartment, 1230 Cla 350 N. 16th near Nichols TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/

ADVERTISE

Announcements

Flying Club has five air-planes, lowest rates. For in-

ACADEMY OF BARTEND-

ING. Have fun, make mon

$30 an hour. Day, evening

ble. Job placement assis

www.bartendingcollege.com

ATTORNEY AT LAW Charles W (Chuck) Harper

25 years experience 400 Poyntz (785)539-8100

SPOUSEQUEST COM RELATIONSHIPS just got eas

chuckharper@msn.com

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

black spots and yellow eyes

Call to identify. (785)341

PAIR OF glasses in Nichols

Hall room 311 and can be

We require a form of pic

cense or other) when plac-

housing

real estate

Found something?

You can place

an ad FREE for three days!

ture ID (KSU, driver's

claimed in room 129,

Personals

020

1(800)BARTEND

weekend classes availa ce, $199 with student ID.

meet people. Eam $15-

2795, www ksu edu/ksfc

call (785)456-

For Rent-Unfurnished

tioning; washer/ dryer; no ments and houses.

pets. Close to campus. selection and price is N (785)587-9460. (785)341-6091.

ONE. TWO and three-bed-June and August No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, and Three Bedroom apartments for June and August. Various locations within walking distance to campus. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. No pets. (785)313-4812.

SPACIOUS TWO and three Central air, laundry facilities and August (785)539-0866.

THREE-BEDROOM pus, June lease. Water trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296.

TWO, THREE, four bed rooms, one and one-hall bath, central air, laundry fa-cility campus (785)537-1746.

For Rent-

105

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

4814 assures every per-

sex, familial status, milita origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human

Resources at City Hall,

nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

ter and trash paid. (785)456-

agiay in

Class At The

Commons"

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

*Washer/Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

Tennis/Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-5.

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

UNIVERSITY

*COMMONS*

APARTMENTS

2215 COLLEGE AVE

1628 FAIRVIEW, Open house, Sunday, March 17, 4-5pm. Quiet studio near campus. $385 including gas, water, trash. June 1. No smoking, pets. (785)537-

ng, washer and dryer. $475.

Advertise

AVAILABLE AUGUST

(785)537-8055.

For Rent-

Unfurnished

Apt.

omeroy. $330 deposit. Wa

(785)587-2440.

tion on account of race, (785)539-2551.

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, al appliances Three four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

FIVE, SIX, and seven-bedcampus. Call (785)539

For Rent-

Houses

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one, two, three-and four-bedroom apartselection and price is NOW. (785)341-6091.

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

three-bedroom homes avail-

disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to 145

Roommate

Wanted

150

Sublease

NICE, LARGE one-bed-

SUMMER SUBLEASE

May. Call (785)567-6107.

LET'S RENT SECTION.

One and (785)539-1713.

bedroom, washer/ dryer,

AVAILABLE JUNE. Twobedroom duplexes, four-bedroom main floor, or twoments. Several to choose dryer hook-ups. All close to KSU with off-street parking. No pets. (785)556-6899 o

CLOSE TO CAMPUS! Four-bedroom, two bath New central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher. No petsi smoking. June 1. $1080. (785)776-9719.

three-bedroom plus study. June 1 $875. Call Jack (785)776-1214 or (785)776-

FOR RENT: Available August 1. 815 Kearney. Three bedroom $775. Cal (785)776-7706 or (785)776-1214.

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable four, five, six and eight-bed-room houses. Also one and two-bedroom apartments June and August leases

THREE-BEDROOM block from campus, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, $1125 a month, (785)317-1724 Sor-

THREE-BEDROOM HOUS-ES for June and August Some with washer/ dryer (785)313-4812

For Rent-

Unfurnished

Apt.

For Rent-Houses

room, dining room with hardwood floors. Study. family room. One-car ga close to downtown Three-bedgoom THREE-BEDROOM COULD be four, west of KSU. Three-bedroom, west of stadium. No smoking/ drinking/ pets. (785)539-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Four plus bedrooms. Three bathrooms, near campus Very nice house. (913)963-1498, Keith.

able, one double-wide home Homes all come with FEMALE ROOMMATES wanted to share a five-bedroom, two and one-half bath dishwasher and garbage townhouse, very nice, partly furnished, central air, washer and dryer provided. pets, no smoking, $212/ 3167, month plus one-fifth of low SUM Call 785-336-2313 after 5 p.m.

FOUR-BEDROOM. bath house for rent. June 1 ROOMMATE WANTED, Vattier, Call (785)539-4949, leave message.

ment Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid Cheap utilities. $280/ month. Call Matt at (785)587-9882 home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets or smoking. June 1 lease. $240/ each plus utilities. Call (785)759-3520.

THREE BEDROOM HOUSE available August Close to Aggieville. Off-street parking, central air, high speed internet, no pets, no smoking, (785)313-6084. room apartment, two blocks south of KSU, sublease starting April B. $420. (785)537-3662. HOUSE two blocks from campus. $750/ month. No pets. Open House Thurs-day, March 14, 5 pm- 7 pm, 1112 Thurston. (913)829-0985

SUMMER SUBLEASES. bathroom. One and one-half blocks from campus. Dishwasher, central air, laundry hook-ups. No pets. June lease. $250/ bedroom.

> WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. $840 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-

125 For Sale-

Roommate

(785)336-1017

ROOMMATE WANTED Rent $225 per month plus one-third ca room available in May. Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or e-

ROOMMATE WANTED: Two-bedroom house fully furnished, heated, garage washer/ dryer, wonderful neighborhood Pets allowed! $300/ month plus phone. Available now (785)494

amg3553@ksu.edu

WANTED ROOMMATE(S) male/ female, to lease bed ment. Rent $230/ month Lease until August Available immediatly. Lovated across from Football Stadi-Please call (785)537-2591 LINDSEY

150 Sublease

> FEMALE SUBLEASER, one furnished room in furnished Sunday 785)341-4588.

ONE-BEDROOM apartment for rent. June mer. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Wa-

READY NOW! March paid for! One-bedroom available utilities. Nice place. Close to campus. Call evenings (784)770-8504.

TWO BEDROOM, LIVING SUBLEASE NEEDED for CONSIDER THIS: Good the summer for two-bedroom apartment close to campus. $520/ month, price Please call (785)539-7735 > summer. Third floor Univer sity Commons apartment information (785)770-3140 campus. (785)323-0608 (913)681-2480. SUMMER SUBLEASE, One plus one-third utilities. Lease July 31. (785)770-SUMMER SUBLEASERS

vanted for nice two-bedroom apartment close to campus. $270/ month each Call Kirsten or Julianne at (785)587-9073

service

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted

IF YOU'LL be close to Kan-sas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a lot of $5, consider working for College Pro Painters You'll have fun working out side and with your friends. interested. please cal (888)CPP-97US For more information including job de scriptions, visit www.collegepro.com!

$250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, military status, disa bility, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-try. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441. The Collegian cannot veriadvertisements in the Em cation. Readers are ad vised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jeffers Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

(785)232-0454. $1500 WEEKLY potential mailing our circulars. For information call (203)977-

$250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided (866)291-1884 extension

ACCOUNTING POSITION No experience decessary Flexible hours. Wage based on experience. Déan Liquor. 12th and Laramie. BARTENDERS NEEDED Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No experience ne sary. Call (866)291-1884 ext. 160.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Models, Photographers.

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors Program Staff, Riding Coun-selors and many other positions. June 1- August 4. Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 800-352-6133 extens

303 or apply online www.girlscoutsaz.org/home. CAMP WOOD YMCA, Elm dale, KS. Seeking energetic Summer Camp Counselors Program Directors, Water front and Wrangler staff. (620)273-8641 or ampwood@buildognet.com extension

Help Wanted

employment with traveling custom combining crew. Farm or truck experience preferred. Can help you get Commercial Driver's License. You can keep nearly all your earnings. Fall em-ployment possible. Details call Brad at (785)395-5491 Mark at (620)356-4236 Mark Heil Harvesting.

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions available, great benefits. Sea sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com.

FARM HELP wanted. Experience necessary. Summer Spring and Fall. Cal (785)457-3452 or (785)457-stamped envelope to: JAdelhardt, 1228 Westloop PMB 187, Manhattan, KS 66502.

JOHNSON COUNTY. Sum mer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recreation Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Combines 2388's and New Auto matic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help ob tain Commercial Drivers Li-cense. Provide room and Call (785)689-4660.

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Sports Camp in Bea tiful Maine. Counselots to coach all sports. baseball, basketball, water front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great summer 888-844-8080 or

CivicPlus, a leader in provid-ing local government web services, has an opening for a Microsoft ASP programmer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven programming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL exschmitzholly@yahoo.com perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain 1989 TOYOTA Camry, auto-Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within days of employment. Com-petitive salary plus health, (785)341-4258 401(k) and paid vacation. 1993 FORD Probe GT

Word or text to: jobs@civicplus.com EOE

SALES, LOCAL Compan is looking for a money-motivated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance in-cluding quota over achievement. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more. E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com.

SEASONAL WORKERS. Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal Several position are available in the Public Works and Parks Depart-ments. Valid Class C driver's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs. required. Experience in construction, con-crete work, asphalt maintenance, traffic flagging, tree and turf maintenance, and mowing. 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by con-tacting the Department of Administrative Services. Di-vision of Human Resources located at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhat-

WANTED: COWBOYS. Cowgirls and couples guide tourists and horses rough the Rocky Moun-Come work for the largest horse operation in North America. Visit our idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley

County is an Equal Opportu-

to us at 3300 Airport Road Boulder, CO 80301.

ClassifiedRATES

Deadlines

you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Help Wanted

WANTED: SUMMER IN

STRUCTORS. Instructors

school students in science technology, and foreign lan-guage. Applicants must be of Education certified. Submit resume and three letters

Wright UBMS, 1800 Claffin

April 9th

330

Business

Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportuni-ty with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau

501 SE Jefferson, Topeka

KS 66607-1190. (785)232

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville,

for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in open

Kansas. For portfolio

dean@kscable.com.

Items for Sale

510 #

Automobiles

1987 OLDSMOBILE Calais

140,000 miles, four-wheel drive, needs little work

(785)539-5252 Leave a locks and windows $2300.

ive-speed, new clutch and brakes 67K, sunroof, excel-lent condition, $3,750 or extended cab. 4x2, red and grey. Automatic, 98K miles Must sell. $9000. Call

HONDAS FROM $500!

Police impound. For listings call (800)719-3001 ext

1992 KATANA Good shape

new paint, new tires, runs great. (785)770-8594

1994 KX 125 on display at

Synder's Honda. Will sell or trade for downed croch

HONDA SABRE 1984

700cc, V4. Low mileage, excellent condition looks great.

(785)341-8054 or (785)776

www.sunchase.com

1.800.SUNCHASE

3589 after 6pm.

rocket (785)539-8942.

(785)770-8810.

Motorcycles

best offer. (785)323-0011.

BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays (Translated to English)

Grad students or Board

1. Interviews begin

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

> 1 DAY 20 words or less $7.50 each word over 20

20¢ per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less

$8.80 each word over 20 25¢ per word

3 DAYS 20 words or less $10.35 each word over 20 30¢ per word .

4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45 each word over 20

35¢ per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20

40¢ per word

( consecutive day rate )

TO PLACE AN AD Go to Kedzie 103

(across from the K-State Student Union). Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student Publications Inc.

Cash, check. MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad.

FREE FOUND ADS

As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

CANCELLATIONS If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us before noon the day before the ad is to be published.

HEADLINES For an extra charge

we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

trips

housing/ real estate BEACH'&'SKI•TRIPS

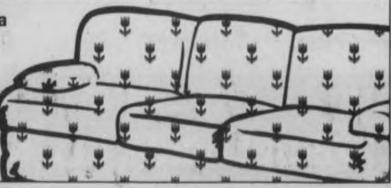

opportunities

market

Don't put that old sofa in the front yard. Sell it.

Advertise in the Collegian classifieds.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 532-6555 103 Kedzie

Would you like to have some creative input in the appearance of ads in the Kansas State Collegian? If you are a graphic design major and would like an on-campus fall 2002 internship for credit, stop by for an

Sublease

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for ble plus utilities. Please call

SUMMER APARTMENT sublease. Two bedroom one and one-half bath, close bedroom in a three-bedroom apartment. $250/ month

NICE FOUR-BEDROOM

THREE BEDROOM SSSS SUMMER JOBS SSSS

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

THREE-BEDROOM.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT apartment near City Park available June 1, $400 plus utilities. No pets. (785)539-1145. Four-bedroom house near City Park. $850 plus utilities. No pets. August (785)539-1145.

TWO-BEDROOM. finished basement and cenconditioning for sa Kearney.

Wanted

mail at kib4949@ksu.edu.

Available

FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up.

kick ads.

110 For Rent-Apt.

Manhattan City Ordinance AVAILABLE AUGUST. Two, 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in bedrooms. Close to cam-housing without distinc-pus. No Pets. Year lease. blocks from (785)336-2784

ry status, disability, reli- AVAILABLE NOW, summer three, four, five, six-bed, pets or smokers, 1021 Fre-room apartments. Close to mont, $780.00 plus utilities campus with great prices August lease. (785)776-(785)537-6017. 4805. www.beloose.com/linwood THREE-BEDROOM, TWO > three and four-bedroom June 1. $720/ month-units. Some close to cam: Washer/dryer/air-condition-pus. All appliances. Some washer/dryer/air-condition-ing, 709 Bluemont. Call with washer/dryer hook: (785)539-4949, leave mesups. Call (785)341-2269 for sage. more information. Carl Den: THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath main floor apartm LEASING FOR ALL. Two-

> ing 709 Bluemoni (785)539-4949, leave meslion, condition. (785)776-TWO-BEDROOM BASE closear@kansas.nel MENT apartment, close > trash and cable paid, $420. campus (June). (785)539- (785)776-9590 Now Leasing

928 Leavenworth, 426 Vattier (785)639-0590. ONE, TWO and three-bedroom apartments. Close to 4 BR From $892 campus June and August-leases. No pets: Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, three and four school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apartments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile from KSU at the corner of College and Claffin, Manhattan.

ONE OR two-bedrooms. Hardwood floors, no pets/

smoking/ waterbeds. June

ONE-BEDROOM $405, 1225 Claffin Two-bedroom, 1320 N. Manhattan Avenue. One-bedroom studio furnished, 1219 Claffin $330 (785)456-2812. No campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call month. Call (785)537-7810. PLACE APART PARK MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR FIRST STOP. One, Two,

Three-bedrooms. (785)539-THREE AND Four-bedrooms close to campus. Wa ter and trash paid. (785)537

Unfurnished

THREE-BEDROOM WALK-OUT basement apartment Central air, washer/ dryer off-street parking. Three blocks from campus

THREE-BEDROOM. FOR RENT, new one, two, bath basement apartment, bedroom and three-bed- Washer/ dryer/ air-condition room, one block from caming 709 Bluemont. Call http://www.angelfire.com/ks campus, newly remodeled. no smoking or pets.

3 BR From $744

Kimball & College Aves Across from KSU stadium

Knight, (785)565-0138

HOW TO make $5000 per Learn how. For free informa-

apply www.campcedar.com

tan, KS 66502. For more in formation call (785)565-nity Employer.

www.sombrero.com or write

application. Prerequisites must be met and instructor's permission is required. Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Graphic Design Internship Advertising Design Art Dept.

> Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information.

Tuesday, March 12, 2002

"When I looked at the official results Monday morning, I realized that there was an error with the totals," Higley said.

The error was with the total votes from a department on the Salina campus.

"A typo in the spread sheet had the pilot departments vote totals flipped," Higley said.

The error altered the close race and illegitimately awarded Gorman and Sulzen the presidency.

Higley had received a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet Wednesday night from Ted Conrad, K-State elections committee chair, via e-mail. Higley said he believes the spreadsheet was a product of cutting and pasting from the crude format of the non-official results from iBallot.com.

"I don't know who or how the information went from iballot to Excel. Ted said they felt a need to put it into a more readable form, Higley said.

According to a press release, Conrad said the unofficial results contained an error in the Aero Department that inverted the vote totals for the Salina SGA presidential race.

He said the election committee regrets any confusion, but reminds involved parties the committee emphasized that the results were subject to change as they became official.

Lynsey Burnett, K-State-Salina student body president-elect, said she and her running mate already had accepted the original results.

"From the beginning, there have been problems. Everyone has been aware of that, but that's life. We were happy with the results and had accepted the original totals," Burnett said.

Burnett and her running mate, Betty Pina, said that they were surprised by the announcement they had won, but said they remain committed to their platform.

"We have been serious all along. We are still committed and looking forward to our terms," Burnett said.

Kevin Gorman, former presidential candidate, said he still has the utmost faith in Burnett and "Numbers are numbers. It comes down to the facts," Gorman said. "We are upset with the apparent screw-up. It has been a week since we were told and that is aggravating."

He said he plans on staying active in some form of campus leadership. He has no immediate plans of contesting the results from the official totals.

He said he wants to see this used as a learning experience for the election committee.

"I want to see us go with a better service, rather than the cheapest. I would rather us go with quality and not a price tag," Gorman said. Higley said this problem was not just the result of complications with iBallot.com. It was a breakdown in communication, he said.

"I feel that this was just a human error. I don't feel that I can point a finger at any one person," he said.

Now For

Conrad refused further comment

BASKETBALL

■ Continued from page 6

making shots, you manufacture your baskets.'

The Cats' loss to OU was the final game for three K-State seniors guards Larry Reid and Phineas Atchison, and forward Ivan Sulic.

Reid was K-State's mainstay at point guard this season, leading the team in scoring (14.4 ppg), assists (5.3 pg), free-throw shooting (80.2 percent), steals (1.5 pg) and minutes played (35.2 pg). He was one of two players in the Big 12 this year to post at least 300 points, 125 assists and 40 steals, joining KU guard Kirk Hinrich.

He started every game he played in his two-year K-State career (56), missing only one contest due to injury - Jan. 6 at Texas Tech. Reid was selected to the Big 12 All-Underrated team in 2002, after being voted to both the Honorable Mention All-Big 12 and Big 12 All-Newcomer squads last year.

Meanwhile, Atchison had to get used to a more reserved role this season, after leading the Cats in scoring (11.7 ppg) as a junior. After a shaky start to the year, the 6-foot-1 guard found his rhythm and averaged 10.9 points - mostly off the bench during the Big 12 regular season. Sulic played in 19 of the Cats' 29 games this season, and the 6-foot-9 Croatian provided much-needed depth inside for Wooldridge.

And as the final buzzer sounded in the Oklahoma game, the look on Reid's face told the story.

"I'm going to miss all these guys, just getting the opportunity to play with them," Reid said after the game. "I played against Matt in juco, and we ended up playing D-1 together. There's a lot of things - just the atmosphere, the town, and playing in the Big 12. I'll miss all that."

The three seniors enjoyed a successful season with the Cats in 2002, Wooldridge said, and why not.

K-State nabbed six conference wins this year - the total number of league victories in 2000 and 2001 combined - and also began chipping away on its overall record, upping it from 11-18 last season to 13-16 in 2001-02.

Moreover, with a 6-10 conference mark and seventh-place finish in the league standings, the Cats have jumped five spots in the Big 12 over the last two years, after finishing 12th in 2000. The improvement was the second biggest in the conference behind Texas Tech (+8).

But perhaps more notably was K-State's resiliency after opening Big 12 play 1-5, Wooldridge said, as well as overcoming difficult non-conference losses early in the year - especially to Wichita State and Western Carolina.

"There's a big picture in mind as we go through this process," Wooldridge said. "Certainly to start 1-5 and losing a couple home games in November and December can make you a little bit off balance, but there is a big picture in mind. The big picture is to get better, and we've said that all year long."

Such a task was feasible thanks to the players' constant commitment to the program, too, Wooldridge said.

"Let me say this, and this might just be coach's speak, but I think the biggest reason that we were able to come out of that spin and accomplish things is because I believe these kids are good kids," he said. "I really do. And I think they learned a little bit more through the year that provided them a better chance to win."

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

KSU Opera Theatre presents...

AN EVENING OF OPERA

Puccini's COMIC opera

GIANNI SCHICCHI

Disquise, intrique, romance and greed...Gangster style!

Leonard Bernstein's MODERN opera

Trouble in

Love shipwrecked in suburbia! ... Inspired by JAZZ and the American musical

March 7-9 & March 12-14 Nichols Theatre 8 P.M. Tickets: McCain Box Office, Noon to 5 p.m. weekdays 532-6428 $8 students/seniors $12 general public

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate

Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

$35 $45 1,000 350 600 250 75 150 1,500 1,500 500 500 1,500 1,500

Add additional lines for just $20

1.800.CELL.ONE WWW.CELLULARONEWEST.COM Cellular One 1115 Westoop Place 785-537-4846 • 800-467-7858 Ask for Brett, Flich or Will. Cellular One hattan Town Center Mali

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

785-776-1414

August Cambridge Square Sandstone Apts. •1114 Fremont 2000 College Hgts. •519 Osage •Fireplaces •Carports *Pool *Private Deck Laundry Facilities *Large 2-bedroom Units CALL NOW Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays

Sun Kissed 1122 Laramie St. 537-2141 8 Tans $25.00 Get Into Bed With The Best

WWW.SUNKISSED.COM

10 a.m. -3 p.m.

Godfather's Pizza Dine-In, Carryout, Delivery

Feast It! Add Cheesesticks and Streusel Dessert

Pizza To Any Pizza Purchase

25¢

Buy Any Large Pizza At Regular Menu Price, Get The 2nd Pizza Of Equal Or Lesser Value For 25¢

Godfather's Pizza

Specialty Pizza

 Medium 1-Topping Pizza Pie

2 Soft Drinks

Cheesesticks OR Streusel Dessert Pizza

Godfather's Pizza

Medium 2 For 1299

Large $999 2 For 1599

Your Choice Of Topping!

Godfather's Pizza

Your Choice

Medium 2 For 1599

Large 2 For 1999

Choose from: Combo, All Meat Combo, Bacon Cheeseburger, Taco, Vegetarian, Humble Pte or Hot Stuff

Any Large Pizza Pie

S3 Off

Any Medium Pizza Pie

S2 Off

Godfather's

Get The Party Started!

Large 2-Topping Only $999

Add A Large 1-Topping Only $499

Godfather's

AGGIEVILLE 1118 LARAMIE WE DELIVER-CALL NOW!

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

n. Volume 106, Number 114 www.kstatecollegian.com

Tips to survive break

see page 14

Spring break travelers should expect heightened security

nsas Sinto Collegian

Spring breakers planning to fly will have to familiarize themselves with a new set of airport security

Those who haven't flown since' Sept. 11 should prepare for longer lines, realize their luggage is likely to be searched and take note of items that can't be carried on, such as pocket knives and metal scissors

"It's a process of relearning what you can and can't do," said Erica Hupp, Kansas City International Airport spokesperson.

Hupp said travelers commonly struggle with the ban on pocket knives.

"It's something where they have them, and they always have them. They say, 'I've flown with this before," she said.

Before Sept. 11, knives longer than four inches weren't allowed, but after terrorists used box cutters to hijack airplanes, all knives must be in checked luggage.

"Basically, anything that can be used as a weapon isn't allowed," Hupp said.

This is the third day in a highlighting spring break travel issues and concerns. See page 5, 14

www.kstatecollegian.com

for additional coverage.

week-long series

While each airline has different rules, metal nail files, scissors, sewing kits and corkscrews are banned for the most part. Some airlines don't allow nail clippers.

Security employees are also questioning more bags that go through the monitors. Hupp said. She said if there is anything they can't identify, they'll do searches.

"If you don't want someone rummaging through your bag, pack items in see-through bags," Hupp said. "When in doubt, pack it in your check-in luggage.

At KCI, bags will be checked one of four ways: explosive detection machine screening, bomb-sniffing dogs, hand searching or matching bags with passengers before luggage goes on the plane. Hupp said bag-matching is the most common procedure. KCI's one explosive detection machine, which is owned by United Airways, is used randomly. The National Guard will also be present at the airport through May to oversee monitor screening.

Sept. 11 has also led airport employees to take all terrorist-related comments seriously.

"People should know not to make any jokes, like 'I have a bomb in my bag," Hupp said. "They might think it's cute, but they won't be going on spring break. They're literally taking them off the planes and arresting Carol Morstorf, branch manager for Topeka's Worldwide Travel, said travelers aren't as fearful of flying as they once were.

"At this time, now that it's six months after, people are more concerned with checking-in time," she said.

When travelers do have questions about security procedures, Morstorf said she tells them to expect bag searches every three to five people, and she advises travelers to arrive 90 minutes to two hours before flight

Airport security

KCI FYI: Satellite parking is $4 per day. Arrive 90 minutes to two hours before your flight time. If your destination is in the United States, bring at least one government-issued photo ID. If you're leaving the country, you need at least two government-issued IDs. To confirm flight information, call the ns prohibited from being carried beyond the Knives of any length, composition or description Cutting instruments of any composition or description, including carpet and box cutters and

Any device with a folding or retractable blade

Ryan Tomlinson, who's going to Orlando, Fla., for spring break, said that since he flew during the Christmas season, he knows to expect tight security.

"They were frisking everyone down, checking bags a lot more, taking sewing scissors away from people," Tomlinson, sophomore in business, said.

He said he doesn't agree with all

■ Straight razors ■ Metal scissors, metal nail files

Corkscrews

Golf clubs, ski poles

Walking canes

■ Nail clippers.

■ Safety razors. Syringes (with documentation of medical need).

Tweezers and eyelash curiers.

security measures.

"I think some stuff is blown out of proportion, like taking nail files from people and tiny other things," he said.

But he said he does agree with the increased scrutiny of electronic equipment

They way security has beefed up, I don't see how anything could get on," he said.

MAGNIFYING METH

Rising number of meth lab busts concerns residents BY NICK BRATKOVIC to be determined. He said there are several possibilities. Kansas State Collegian including bringing in K-9 dogs. Additionally, on It can be made anywhere, the state level, the minimum sentence for consumed anywhere, and manufacturing or a meth lab has increased to it is infiltrating

> Manhattan's streets and surrounding towns like

Wamego. Methamphetamines - a chemically made substance is the latest hot drug, said Kyle Smith, spokesman for the Kansas Bureau of Investigation. "You could have a meth lab next door to you," he said. One floor up or two doors down from you, fire burns, it is not just in bad neighbor-

From 1994 to 2001, Kansas clandestine meth lab seizures - a methamphetamine lab soared. In 1994, there were four lab seizures, and in 2001, there were 844. Last year there were three busts in Riley County, and in Pottawatomie County six labs were busted. Shawnee County led the state with 90 meth lab

So far in 2002, two busts have been made in Manhattan.

Smith said the advances in meth production have eliminated a lot of the chemical smell, which makes it easier to manufacture.

"In the old days it really stunk," he said. "The ackert chemicals smelled, so they cooked it in places where there were no chemicals around."

Now that a lot of the smell is gone, Riley County Police Department officials are trying to make meth arrests.

"What we do is rely on a combination of crime stoppers calls, information, people and personal property, and who may be doing it and attempting to distribute meth," Riley County Police Department captain Gary Grubbs said. The department also works to follow suspects. It has three officers working on a drug unit, which works to arrest and uncover a meth "We have aggressively taken a stance to dispense of meth in our community visa

RCPD received a federal grant recently, but Grubbs said usage of the $500,000 grant is yet

II years, Smith said. He said this is to make the penalties correlate with surrounding states.

The reasoning behind the increased penalties for manufacturing go back to dangers involved in the product. Officials said the drug's manufacturing presents a secondary problem.

We have a drug problem with cocaine, marijuana. LSD seems to be coming back a little bit now, and those are all dangerous," said assistant county attorney Brenda Jordan. "It endangers the entire community around and people who happen to be in the neighborhood or landlords who have tenants that happen to have taken on the meth lab."

Why Manhattan?

There are a variety of factors that determine why Manhattan sees the use of methamphetamines. Grubbs said one reason is that Manhattan is a college town, which increases recreational drug use.

"I think in any college town you see recreational drug usage in certain segments of the students and certain segments of the population," he said.

The types of problems Manhattan is seeing with methamphetamine are similar to the types seen across the state, Smith said.

Additionally, the city's proximity to Interstate 70 plays a role, but Grubbs said it is a situation of basic supply and demand.

Another thing that makes methamphetamine difficult to battle is there isn't a profile for

"There is no real profile. It runs the gamut from young to old, students to non-students,"

Still, Grubbs said Manhattan meth users are typically buyers or sellers, and some people have links to bigger cities. In the arrests made this year there was only one female, and the other six were men.

Still, the battle against methamphetamines is more than legal enforcement.

See METH on PAGE 8

Local officials learning to recognize signals, change policies

narcotics," Grubbs said.

BY NICK BRATKOVIC

sas State Collegian

Two meth lab busts in three months have increased awareness of mehtamphetamines in Manhattan.

RCPD officials have arrested seven individuals in connection with the city's meth lab busts. One meth lab was busted at the Holiday Inn hotel at 530 Richards Drive. The other occurred at an 804

Photo Illustration by

Jeanel Drake/Collegian

The arrests highlight two aspects of the meth problem, which extends to commercial hotels and property values of houses that have been inhabited by methamphetamine users.

Since the February Holiday Inn meth bust, general manager Glen Lasseto said hotel employees are more aware of potential meth lab signals. Desk workers look for suspicious signs, such as large amounts of the chemicals needed to make the drug. Form of payment is another signal. Executive director for the Jackson County Hotel Association, a county that contributes to the makeup of the Kansas City metropolitan area, Tom Holden said it is a problem for a lot of hotels.

"People go through a checklist. If someone wants to pay in cash, then there is the idea that there is a problem," Holden

Lasseto said a lot of hotels have gone to a policy of needing a credit card to reserve a room instead of simply a cash

"The people with meth will not want to do that," he said. Doing so would allow hotels to trace the credit card number. RCPD officials said in the Holiday Inn

Sen LABS on PAGE 10

Jury rejects Yates' claim of insanity

BY PAM EASTON The Associated Press

HOUSTON - Andrea Yates, the 37-yearold housewife who admitted she drowned her five children, was convicted of murder Tuesday by a jury that rejected her claim of insanity in just 3-1/2 hours.

Yates, who could be sentenced to death or to life in prison, showed little reaction as she stood between her attorneys during the verdict. In the audience, her husband Russell muttered "oh, God" and clasped his head with both hands.

The penalty phase begins today. Yates was convicted of two charges of capital murder. The charges cover the deaths of three of her children.

Deliberations began at midday after prosecutors told the jury of eight women and four men that even though Yates is mentally ill, she knew drowning her children was wrong and is thus guilty of murder. "That's the key," prosecutor Kaylynn

Williford said. "Andrea Yates knew right from wrong, and she made a choice on June 20 to kill her children deliberately and with deception." The defense argued that she suffered from postpartum depression so severe that she had lost her ability for rational thought. "We can't permit objective logic to be imposed on the actions of Andrea Yates,' defense attorney George Parnham said, "She was so psychotic on June 20 that she absolutely believed what she was doing was the right thing to do.' Parnham also told the jury in the closely of women's mental health. Make no mistake, the world is watching." After deliberating about 2 1/4 hours, jurors passed a note to District Judge Belinda Hill asking for the definition of insanity. Thirty minutes later, jurors asked for a cassette player. Among items in evidence are audiotapes of Yates' confession and her 911 call to watched case: "This is an opportunity for this jury to make a determination about the status police the day of the drownings. Last year, Yates called her five children into the bathroom one by one and drowned them in the tub, then called 911 to tell authorities what she had done. Police found 7-year-old Noah in the tub; the other children were under a wet sheet on a bed.

According to testimony, Yates was overwhelmed by the responsibilities of raising five children and believed she was a bad mother. She had suffered severe depression and had attempted suicide.

She is on trial for the deaths of Noah, 5year-old John and 6-month-old Mary.

One count listed the killings of Noah and John as two victims killed during the commission of the same crime to qualify for capital punishment.

The second count lists the death of Mary as a child under the age of 6.

By not listing all the children in a single count, prosecutors avoided the possibility that an acquittal could void all the charges.

If necessary, they could file charges later in the deaths of the other two youngsters, Paul, 3, and Luke, 2.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

House rejects 2 tax ideas; unlikey to support increase

TOPEKA — Two tax-raising ideas flunked test votes in the House on Tuesday, as some members said they were unlikely to support any tax increase to close the state's $679 million budget shortfall.

On Monday, the House voted 115-7 against raising $93 million in revenue by increasing the state income tax.

Proposed increases in the estate tax and the property tax levy for schools proved just as unpopular Tuesday.

The chamber is debating and voting on several tax proposals this week.

Sales taxes are to be considered Wednesday, with Thursday devoted to the taxes on cigarettes, beer and alcohol.

House committee expected to endorse redrawn plan

TOPEKA - A new plan for redrawing the state's four congressional districts is expected to win a House committee's endorsement.

The proposal, drafted by Republican leaders and before the House Districting Committee, would split the city of Lawrence between the 2nd and 3rd districts.

Committee members Clay Aurand, R-Courtland, and Troy Findley, D-Lawrence, said the committee should endorse the plan Wednesday and send it to the entire House for a scheduled Friday debate.

KU committee endorses 5-year tuition increase

LAWRENCE - Tuition at the University of Kansas would almost double over five years under a proposal endorsed by a committee of students, faculty and staff.

ON RECORD

The committee's plan would increase tuition and fees from $2,884 per year for an average student to $5,123 by 2006.

Monday's split vote was a response to administrators who say the university's budget is about $50 million less per year than its state-selected peers - the universities of Colorado, Iowa, North-Carolina-Chapel Hill, Oklahoma and Oregon.

Administrators have said they will consider the committee's work when deciding which proposal to present to the Kansas Board of Regents next month. Regents will vote in May.

Judge refuses to move trial location of accused man

OLATHE - Accused serial killer John E. Robinson's trial will stay in Johnson County, a judge ruled Tuesday.

Robinson's lawyers had argued that their client couldn't receive a fair trial in Johnson County because the case has received too much media attention.

District Judge John Anderson III said in his ruling Tuesday that he was "confident" jury selection methods would "result in a fair and impartial jury that will decide the case on the evidence presented in court and on its merits."

He said he would be willing to order a change of venue if it becomes apparent during jury selection that impartial jurors can't be found.

House rejects child passenger safety bill

TOPEKA - A bill requiring more children to use special vehicle seats failed Tuesday in the House, creating an uncertain future for proposals to strengthen Kansas' child passenger safety law.

House members voted 61-45 against giving their bill first-round approval. Measures that fail to receive tentative approval drop often drop to the bottom of the debate calendar and remain there.

The rejected bill would require that booster seats be used by children who are 4 through 7 years old, who weigh less than 80 pounds or who are less than 4 feet, 9 inches tall. Other children, up to 16, would have to wear seat belts.

NATION IN BRIEF

Israelis raid refugee camp killing 31 Palestinians

RAMALLAH, West Bank - Israeli tanks and troops thrust into Palestinian refugee camps and took command of the streets in this key West Bank city Tuesday, killing 31 Palestinians in one of Israel's largest military operations ever in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

Seven Israelis were killed, including six in an ambush just inside the border with Lebanon. The attackers disguised as Israeli soldiers were reportedly Palestinians who slipped across Israel's previously quiet northern frontier raising the prospect of a new front in the current Mideast conflict.

Israel began stepping up its military operations against Palestinian militants two weeks ago after a series of deadly attacks on Israeli civilians. Since then, large numbers of tanks and troops have charged into six Palestinian towns and refugee camps.

ATTACK DEVELOPMENTS

- Hundreds of U.S.-allied Afghan fighters massed in eastern Afghanistan, moving tanks into position Tuesday for what commanders described as a final push to eradicate al-Qaeda fighters, hunkered down for a last stand.
- The last al-Qaeda fighters left inside a battle zone in eastern Afghanistan could be eliminated by the end of the week, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld
- The six-month anniversary of the Sept. 11 attacks was observed Monday with moments of silence and the dedication of a temporary memorial near the World Trade Center complex.
- An estimated 39 million people, or about one-third of the households that had their TV sets on Sunday night. watched the CBS "9-11" documentary that featured video footage from inside the trade center after the terrorist attacks

THE GONGFARMER'S Traveloque

I came into Ubechurass late Sunday night and had a couple of the local beers to unwind. When, strong stuff. I think I had fun. Here's the view from my cell . Wish you were here.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP? K-State professional describes basics of degree program

Biology

1. How many hours are required to graduate?

2. What careers could I pursue with this degree? All the health related fields provide good job opportunities. About half of biology majors are pre-medicine. Industries with pharmaceuticals or food processing also provide job opportunities

3. Is graduate school typically required?

No, about 50 percent of students go straight into the job market.

4. What are the advantages of this major?

There is a lot of opportunity because there are not many science majors. This is a growing job market with a low supply of applicants. Because this is a science degree, it will help students who go into one of the related fields

5. What is the hiring rate in this field? All students find jobs. About 90 percent find jobs within the biology field.

Larry Williams, associate director of division of biology If you are interested in learning more about a particular major, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at colegn@spub.ksu.edu

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

two days before it is to run.

III KSU-Manhattan Chess Club will meet from 6:30 to 10 tonight in Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m.

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral a.m. today at Bluemont 257.

have "Coffee Hour - Music and Images of Argentina" from 4 to 5 p.m. today at the International Student Union 206

■ Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Thursday in Holtz Hall. Call 532-6506 for reservations dissertation of Dennis Franz at 9:30 III International Student Center will KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight in Ahearn 301.

Students interested in Study Abroad to Asia can meet Yuri Chih.

director of the Talwan Consulate in Houston, at 4 p.m. today in Union 202. He has scholarships to offer students who wish to study Chinese or other courses in Talwan. For more info, call Grace Hwang at 2-7582.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Monday, March 11

At 3:30 p.m., Timothy Adams, 1114 Vattier, was arrested for battery. Bond was set at $500. At 4:15 p.m., Robert Kammo, 723 Bluemont Ave., Apt. B, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and unlawful sale of depressants. No bond was set.

K-State Police

M No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Editor in Chief

April Middleton

Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

News Editor

Zach Long

Photo Director Asst. Photo Director

Paul Restivo Copy Chini

Nicole Donnert

Alyson Raletz

Dana Strongin

Campus Editor

City/Gov Editor

Amber Koehn Opinion Editor

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

A&E Editor

Sports Editor

Katie Lane Presentation Editor

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

Nancy Hull Projects Editor Micah Hawkinson

eCollegion Editor Jodi Fagerquist

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzle 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Emversity, is published by Student Patidicultures Inc., Kerkin weekdays during the sehard year and on Weekewayse during the summer Periodical postage is paul at Manhattan, Kan-66502 PERTMANTER Send address changes to Kausan State Collegian, curvalation detail. Redge 100, Manhattan Ran, 60006-7167

D Kansas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Little Caesars WEDNESDAY HOT & READY No Cousen Necessary

Valid only at participating locations. ©2001 L.C.E., Inc.

ATTENTION STUDENTS SPRING BREAK SPECIAL Earn $30 TODAY* & Help Save Lives!

Bring in your student ID and receive an extra five dollars for your first donation. The week of April 16-22. (New donors only.)

Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services I formerly Nabi Biomedical Center

1130 Gardenway

Manhattan, KS 785-776-9177 *(for approx. 2 hours)

Fees & donation time may vary. www.zib.com

Do you have GENIUS ideas? # Want to become a millionaire? #

Learn how to PATENT your work!

What: Patent Seminar Where: Union Little Theatre When: Wednesday, March 13th 2:00-5:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Food Science Graduate Student Association and the Graduate Student Council

People to test a new broadband mobile Internet service

Monet Mobile Networks is looking for testers to evaluate a new, broadband wireless Internet service that works with laptop and desktop PCs. Download music, video and access anything on the Internet anywhere in the greater Manhattan area, without a cable or phone Modern and service are provided at NO COST to those who qualify during the test. You will also be compensated for your feedback. You must be 18 years or older and have a Windows 98 or 2000 laptop or desktop PC with CD-ROM drive and USB port.

BE ONE OF THE FIRST

▶ Broadband

speeds

- ► Mobile access anywhere in Manhattan
- ▶ Complete Internet experience
- Always on connection

CALL 1-866-286-6638 or visit www.monetmobile.com/beta

It's Fast. It's Mobile.

Fries, Burgers, Tota Calls, Onion Rings $1.50 Micro Pinte Specialty Bottles Premiums 00

$1 OLD STYLE PINTS 7 DAYS A WEEK OPEN 11 A.M. ON WEEKENDS

INTRODUCING ONE OF OUR MOST VALUABLE NEW COMMODITIES! SHAWN BLUME

ADM is proud to welcome one of our newest Commodities trading members, Shawn Blume. A graduating senior in Agricultural Economics, Shawn will begin his promising career at one of the largest grain and food processing companies in the world. Congratulations Shawn! We look forward to the opportunities that await you as we work together to unlock your potential

ADM is an equal opportunity employer.

Your Career Takes High

made a difference doing what you love to do. Consider the possibilities.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR. SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Salary $34,585 - $48,628, based on education & experience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at dooper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. ESCIMF

539-3333

Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide instruction SPECIAL EDUCATION FEACHERS – Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. 1:1 staff/student ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Local hotels expect to be full during NCAA 1st, 2nd rounds

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Kansas State Gollogian

Screaming NCAA fans might

Screaming NCAA fans might have more to scream about than basketball this week if they have no place to stay.

Manhattan's eight hotels, totaling 839 rooms, are already close to selling out because of conventions and other events. The 50,000 fans expected in Manhattan might be forced elsewhere for hotel rooms, which means less money for Manhattan.

"Hotels are already close to full because of other scheduled events. If fans want to stay in Manhattan, they'll have to make reservations fast," said Becky Blake, director of the Manhattan Convention and Visitors Bureau.

NCAA play begins at 6 p.m. Friday at Bramlage

for chairbacks and $15

Coliseum Ticket Office at calling the Bramlage

1-800-221-CATS.

Coliseum. Tickets are $20

for bench seats, available by

There are only so many hotel rooms available in Manhattan. Because of the large number of

Your SALE with

Kansas State

Collegian

Classified

Ads

Kansas State Collegian

103 Kedzie • 532-6555

fans expected in Manhattan, they probably would have to start looking in Junction City, Salina or Topeka soon, Blake said.

"That's unfortunate," she said.
"We would like to have all NCAA fans in Manhattan."

Business has been good the last couple of weeks for Manhattan hotels. This is the second week for what Fairfield Inn and other hotels hope to be a sell out, front office manager Tracy

Dubach said.
Every hotel room in Manhattan was booked for the Kansas
2A State Basketball

9, which brought several thousand people to Manhattan.

She said the NCAA Tournament should be much bigger than the four-day state tournament, but there are still rooms available.

"We were sold out yesterday, and we had to turn away some people who called in for rooms," she said, "but the media isn't using quite as many rooms as we expected, so we were able to open up 18 more rooms."

Those rooms are expected to go fast, she said.

Leah Stephen, general manager of Days Inn, said there are 22 rooms booked for Clemson players there, but she said she is nervous because they have received only one reservation for fans.

She said Days Inn has at least 50 rooms of the total 119 available for visitors, so she hopes calls start coming in soon.

Dubach said every hotel in Manhattan should be booked. The town is already really busy, she said, so fans who wait until the last minute might have to look elsewhere.

"We expect people to get on the ball Wednesday. You can imagine things will get a little hectic. I'm sure Friday and Saturday will be booked," she said.

Committee votes against policy

BY JENNIFER FARR

Kannaa State Collenian

The faculty affairs committee presented the intellectual property policy to Faculty Senate members, who decided to vote against it because of wording.

The purpose of the Intellectual Property Policy is to foster the development of useful creations, productions or processes while clarifying individual and institutional rights associated with the ownership and distribution of benefits that may derive from the creation of various types of intellectual property.

Faculty affairs committee chair Vicki Clegg said it is necessary to have an intellectual property policy because K-State is the only regents institute that does not have one.

Clegg said that since November 1998 the Kansas Board of Regents has passed an intellectual policy which had been in effect until a committee was formed in January 1999 which decided that K-State needed guidelines.

She said the draft which is being used needed changes and a committee was formed within the faculty affairs committee in order to review the situation.

Brad Fenwick, professor of diagnostic medicine, said he had problems with the wording of the policy because it would not protect the rights of the individual against the institution.

He said this would affect his department greatly.

"I know it is hard to balance the rights of the individual and the institution, but from my understanding, this policy states that in a typical academic setting you do not have control over your own work.

"This might work in a private sector, but I do not agree with it occurring in an academic institution." Fenwick said

One of Fenwick's other concerns is that under the intellectual property policy all faculty scholarly endeavors would be patentable material for the university.

He said under the regent intellectual policy all money would go to the creator.

"In our policy, it states the faculty is bound by their contract to disclose their information," Fenwick said.

"If we move this policy forward we need something to state what we would or would not disclose."

Fenwick also suggested that the policy be written similar to the University of Kansas' intellectual policy.

Clegg said she understood Fenwick's concerns, but she wished he brought them sooner at the faculty affairs committee meeting in September.

Faculty Senate decided to vote against the intellectual property policy, and it will return to the faculty affairs committee for further discussion.

FACULTY

SENATE

Faculty Senate

meets the second

Tuesday of every

p.m. in the Union

month at 3:30

Big 12 Room.

Students and faculty are welcome to attend.

Season for Nonviolence

64 Days 64 Ways to Practice Nonviolence

January 30 - April 4, 2002

Nonviolence is a powerful way to heal, transform, and empower our lives and our communities.

#43 UNIQUENESS

Dale Carnegie says that the greatest need people have is for love and approval.

Praise, compliment and honor the uniqueness of at least five people today. Notice the positive impact you make by valuing the individuality of each one.

#47 DISARMAMENT

Have a conversation with someone today about what the world would be like if there were no weapons nor any need for them.

Imagine such a world.

#44 COOPERATION

When we work together, we are stronger than when we work alone.

Today, find one significant way that you can cooperate more effectively with the people in your family or workplace, school or community. Do it.

violence, you have to sell part of yourself for that violence. Then you are no

Breathe deeply, silently counting backwards from ten to calm yourself and cool off before you speak or act with impatience or anger. Do this as least once today.

Sponsored by Bob Shoop

"45 MASTERY

longer a master of your own struggle."

*48 ECOLOGY

Value the earth by conserving natural resources and avoiding the purchase of products that deplete rain forests or exploit labor forces.

Practice recycling today by using at least one recycled product or by recycling a

#49 HONOR

Albert Einstein said, "There are only two ways to live your life. One is as though nothing is a miracle. The other is as if everything is."

Before each meal today, stop to honor all the hands that brought it to you and to bless the earth for its bounty.

Sponsored by Leadership Studies & Programs

#50 CHOICE

Be aware today of any jokes or remarks that show disrespect toward ethnic groups, women or men, classes of people, religious groups, gays or lesbians.

Be considerate of every person's dignity, and choose not to participate in disrespectful conversation.

Sponsored by KSU Affirmative Action

#46 COMPASSION

Labor organizer Caesar Chavez teaches, "If you use

Mother Teresa implored us to "find someone who thinks he is alone and let him know that he is not."

Today, do as Mother Teresa suggests.

Have a safe spring break!

Sponsored by the Campaign for Nonviolence • www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner shouldn't worry about prenuptial agreements. Neither of those idiots are going to get married.

That was the worst article I've ever read. Thanks a lot. Kyle Brownback.

You gotta love Manhattan. It's the middle of the afternoon and it smells like

I would like to thank iBallot.com for ruining the Salina elections.

Damn, we're in a tight spot.

To all those sorority girls with your noses stuck up in the air: I can see your Whoever had the idea to take drunk, horny young adults and let them live together with no parents was a very, very, very smart person.

Meow. I'm a cat.

Sorry. My roommate's an idiot.

Bye, Norm.

This is K-State-Salina and we're awfully pissed off at iBallot.com for messing up the election results.

All right, Tupperware boy, you're going down, O'Doyle rules!

Remain calm, put your hands in the air and step away from the Tupperware.

Could somebody please explain to me why there was a baby cow running in the parking lot outside Ford and West? I just want to make sure it wasn't a figment of my imagination.

I think Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner would make a beautiful couple.

Um, everybody needs to quit complaining about capri pants and start complaining about tapered jeans.

You are so not cool unless you have pizza scissors.

Ask me if I'm a cheeseburger. No, I'm not a cheeseburger.

I have dimples in all the wrong places.

Nothing but savages in this town.

Squeezeable grape jelly is the coolest thing ever.

I'm glad they're solving the problem at 3rd and Bluemont by building a Walgreen's.

Kyle Brownback is such a sexist.

Brownback: one, Wiesner: zero.

Star Wars sucks.

ONLINE

Cleveland Steamer, Kyle? I really don't think so.

Kyle Brownback, I want to marry you.

Not enough fourum? See more fourum along with Nick Bratkovic's column on professors sharing some of the same visions as coaches at www.kstatecollegian.com

CLASH OF THE COLUMNISTS

MONDAY - Pre-nuptial agreements Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner duke it out over pre-nuptial agreements

TUESDAY - Diet pills Jamie Kelley and Susan Powell weigh the pros and cons of diet pills.

WEDNESDAY - Assisted suicide Tanner Ehmke and Micah Hawkinson justify their claims on physician-assisted sulcide

THURSDAY - Electoral college David McCandless and Lindsey Geisler voice

their views on the Electoral College. FRIDAY - Premarital cohabitation Amber Koehn and Peter Morris debate the idea of premarital cohabitation.

See previous columns in the opinion section of the e-Collegian. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for

Deciding death

Euthanasia might be best | Physicians shouldn't solution for terminally ill

eciding to die cannot be easy. It's not something anyone wants to face, and it's not something anyone wants to help Nonetheless, it is sometimes the best and hopeless despair is no way to live. That is usually a decision, regardless of any religious doctrine. Living the last few months of life in painful misery punishment inflicted on POWs, prisoners in concentration camps and Micah Hawkinson's girlfriends. We insist on extending the punishment to the terminally ill and those who won a lottery ticket for a life of hopelessness and pain. We also want to make criminals out of those who help end people's perpetual misery. Who is the real criminal - the person helping a victim break free from the chains of anguish, or the government mandating that a person must die a natural, miserable, costly, depressing, undignified and hopeless death?

It didn't take long for me to decide my own beliefs, but others, like Micah, are still confused.

I never have been a fan of bringing religion into a debate. It gives me a headache. But religious doctrine is ubiquitous. So, I decided to ask a question many others are asking: what is the Christian, or humanitarian, thing to do?

I am a Christian, but I am by no means an authority on theology. So, I spoke with one who is - my grandfather, a Lutheran pastor from Lindsborg, Kan.

He put it very plainly - if a person has a very difficult and desperate decision to make, we must honor their decision-making and not be judgmental, whether we agree

God understands our problems more than we do.

Although he said he would not deliberately administer the means of someone's suicide, my grandfather added that with God's grace, we should have the option to help a person in his decision and in discussing alternatives.

Outlawing that would interfere with a physician's option in dealing with a patient in unique conditions, and would eliminate our ability to use judgment.

Oregon has figured it out. It had the guts to do the right thing. The Death with Dignity Law, passed in 1994 by referendum, makes it legal for a doctor - and only a doctor - to help a patient

The person seeking a physician's help in killing himself has to pass six criteria: he must be terminally ill, have six months or less to live, make two oral requests for assistance in dying, make one written request for assistance, convince two physicians he is sincere (that the decision is voluntary) and prove he is not influenced by depression and is informed of the "feasible alternatives including, but not limited to, comfort care, hospice care and pain control.

The patient is then prescribed a lethal amount of a barbiturate, falls into a deep sleep and dies.

Jack Kevorkian and Micah Hawkinson-style suicides are outlawed (i.e. no plastic bags, syringes, or .45 slugs), and so are mercy killings by family members or friends.

Since the passing of the law, about one Oregonian per month has exercised his right to a peaceful, painless death.

Bob Dent, an Australian missionary who chose euthanasia, said it best: "If you disagree with voluntary cuthanasia, then don't use it, but please do not deny the right to me."

It's time for us to adopt Oregon's policy and to respect the wishes and sober, conscious decisions of those in desperate situa-

A peaceful death may be the last act of dignity they have.

Tanner is a graduate student in journalism. You can e-mail him at (ce2225@ksu.edu.

Tanner Ehmke

Clash of the Columnists

Clash of the Columnists is a rotating series. Each day, two different colum nists will write columns taking a stance on an issue chosen by them. Clash of the Columnists is meant to inform readers about both sides of the issue.

assist with murder

ypothetical situation - I'm feeling low because my girlfriend (remember, this is hypothetical) broke up with me.

Suddenly, my life feels useless, without any joy or purpose. I'm thinking seriously of ending it all with a slug from a .45.

Micah Hawkinson I consult a trusted friend, and he proves very understanding. So understanding, in fact, that he even offers to pull the trigger.

I accept, and — bang — I shuffle off this mortal coil. That's physician-assisted suicide in a nutshell.

The only difference between a physician offering a lethal injection and my sharp-shooting friend's offer to put me out of my misery is two letters - M.D.

Doctors who kill their patients are no better than contract. killers. The only difference is that contract killers don't fool themselves into thinking they're on missions of mercy.

The only way suicide ever could be considered merciful is if the victim/killer has no connection with any society, or if he is more useful to humanity dead than alive. Since discerning one's own true worth is impossible for most humans, it cannot be a merciful decision to commit suicide.

Or a moral one at that.

Suicide is a predominantly arrogant action. In one stroke, it denies the existence of any sovereign deity along with all concern for the rest of humanity. It assumes the individual knows best, and there is neither any greater plan nor any reason to live outside of a pleasant, happy existence. People who commit suicide presume they are worthless when, in reality, they could be vital to someone else's existence. They don't realize humanity is more than a mere group of individ-

Please don't misunderstand. I am not condemning people who commit suicide. I'm just saying there's a better way - a way of life and joy and sharing, and refusing to give in to circumstances.

If committing suicide is arrogant, assisting with a suicide is a hundred times worse. I can understand the reasoning behind suicide, although I certainly don't agree with it. It should, however, be a personal decision.

The choice to take one's own life is an extremely serious

For this reason, anyone who encourages someone else to commit suicide is, in effect, guilty of conspiracy to murder. By the same token, anyone who knowingly provides the means to commit suicide has all but committed murder, just as surely as if he had fired a shotgun into a crowd and walked away. Whether someone else has requested to be killed is be better off without him, he should do the deed The worst possible situation would be for someone rrelevant. If the person really thinks the world would to request suicide in a moment of weakness which he later would regret if he were alive to do so. Moreover, the physician's role is to heal and

If it were expanded to killing those too pitiful to kill themselves, it would be a mockery of medicine. Since Hippocrates, doctors have devoted themselves to keeping patients alive, not finishing them off.

Physician-assisted suicide makes a mockery out of the doctor's role in society and detracts from the value of human life.

Bottom line - physician-assisted suicide isn't just wrong, it's the most cowardly kind of murder.

Micah is a junior in English and history. You can e-mail him at mph7686@ksu.edu.

Ben Dolezal/Callegian

Residents need to be aware of rising meth problem in community

OUR VOICE and debated by the editorial board and written after a majority opinion is formed. OUR VOICE is the Collegian's official opinion.

Jessica Pitts April Middleton Nancy Foster Dana Strongin Alyson Raletz Nancy Hull Amber Koehn Dan Smith Paul Restivo Katle Lane II Duncan Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

In this young year, Manhattan has already seen two methamphetamine lab

The presence of these labs demonstrates that meth is around, and it's a problem we need to learn about and Drug education is already a part of school programs and other sources of information.

Most of us have heard about the unhealthy effects and legal concerns of substances like alcohol, tobacco and marijuana.

When ecstasy became more popular. more education about the drug became available because people wanted to know what it was all about.

There should be similar programs educating the public about meth.

Manhattan schools and other community groups need to understand the dangers of meth and educate their students and members.

The least we can do is educate ourselves.

We should know what the signs of a meth lab are, among other aspects of the Meth is a growing problem in Manhattan.

It is on the rise, and labs could be anywhere.

In order to be responsible and educated, we need to work to learn about meth.

READERS WRITE

Students' lack of participation embarrassing to university

Editor,

This letter is not so much in response to something published in the Collegian, but to something that was advertised/discussed in the paper. During this past week K-State held its 11th Annual Cultural Studies Symposium. Despite the pitch given to the symposium in the paper, and I'm sure given by many professors during their classes, there was an embarrassing lack of student participation in the few symposium events I attended.

That is, unless I count the two sorority sisters who showed up a few minutes late for Amitava Kumar's presentation on Saturday - whose ringing cell phones and noisy early departure from the presentation served only to demonstrate a particular uncouth chic I have come to find particularly Kansan.

To quote the flyer, "Amitava Kumar is one of the important, exciting new voices in global cultural studies and postcolo-

An associate professor of literature at Penn State University, Kumar is a poet, literary critic, journalist, filmmaker and photographer."

To attend his talk, or any of the other presentations during this event, was a chance to listen to and interact with some of the most brilliant minds in academia. But the level of academic apathy at K-State amazes me, despite the university being one of the top 10 producers of Rhodes Scholars

It is because of this fact I still have faith in Kansas.

As I finish my time here at K-State, I will remember a lot of the great moments I have shared with my peers, but I will also remember the behavior of those two undergraduates as anything but atypical of the student body in general.

On the six-month anniversary of Sept. 11. I hope at least one person on this campus takes a look inward and realizes that changes in technology are having a deep-rooted influence on culture; that globalization is changing nearly every facet of our society and we should all be making an effort to understand why there is no place like home.

> - Geoffrey Doyle Ph.D. candidate in biological and agricultural engineering

Florida flight school receives approved visas for terrorists

MIAMI - Six months after two terrorists died in the World Trade Center attack, the Florida flight school where they trained has received their student visa approval forms from the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Huffman Aviation received the paperwork Monday acknowledging the INS approvals for Mohamed Atta, 33, of Egypt, and Marwan Al-Shehhi, 23, of the United Arab Emirates.

Atta and Al-Shehhi trained at Huffman in Venice, Fla., in July 2000, and were aboard the separate flights that struck the World Trade Center

The two initially entered the United States on visitor's visas but applied for an M-1 student visa. given to immigrants attending technical schools in the United

A spokesman for the immigration service, Russ Bergeron, said the INS already had notified the men and the school last summer about the approvals.

He described the paperwork .Huffman received this week as "backup notification."

The INS approved Atta's request in July 2001 and Al-Shehhi's request the following month, Bergeron said.

"The important thing to recognize is the decisions to change their status were made ... before Sept. 11, and at the time there was no information made available to INS regarding these people and their link to terrorism," Bergeron said.

Both men were cleared to stay in the United States until Oct. 1, 2001, according to the forms, which were provided to The Associated Press by Rudi Dekkers, owner and president of the flight school.

"When they hit the buildings they were approved to be here," Dekkers said.

Bergeron attributed the embarrassing delay to a backlog of documents at a federal paperwork processing center in London, Ky.

Foreign students generally are allowed to study in the United States as long as they apply for student visas, he said.

But John Convers, the top Democrat on the House Judiciary Committee, said the notification was a sign of the Bush administration's "misguided focus in pursuit of homeland security."

"I am astonished that while the INS is fixated on detaining and rounding up countless Arab-Americans without any justification, it has failed to take basic steps to ensure that visas are not issued to known terrorists," said Conyers, D-

U.S. authorities believe Atta was aboard American Airlines Flight 11, which struck the north tower of the trade center, and that Al-Shehhi was aboard United Airlines Flight 175, which struck the south tower 17 minutes later.

Dekkers said Atta and Al-shehhi completed the paperwork on Aug. 29, 2000, just before they began their six-month flight instruction program at the school

Dekkers, who said he faced scrutiny in the media after the attacks for admitting the students, said the forms showed he had followed the law.

The forms, filled out by an assistant at Huffman, indicated that both men met the English language requirements to study at the school.

Atta listed his nationality as Egyptian, while Al-shehhi said he was from United Arab Emirates.

On the form, Atta's name is spelled "Mohomed." The documents indicated the academic term lasting up to 12 months would cost $27,300.

Both men studied at the Technical University in Hamburg. received pilot training at Huffman and practiced their flying on a Boeing 727 flight simulator in the Miami suburb of Opa-locka.

"Come see

me today!"

Welcome, Melissa Stirrett!

Candlewood Shopping Center

3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632

Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

Packing lightly for trip reaps several benefits

BY MICHAEL LAWRENCE

Kensus State Collegian

Students who plan to go on a spring break trip might be taking too much stuff, said Myra Pearson, travel agent for K-State Travel Service.

She said she urges travelers to resist bringing useless items.

"Don't pack anything you're sure you're not going to use," she said. "Don't go overboard."

Initially, Pearson said travelers often bring too many clothes and not enough money.

"Put your clothes on the bed and put your money on the bed," she said. "Take half of the clothes and twice the money.

Packing lightly is important to any spring break traveler, but Pearson said packing light is essential if the they are planning to fly. When you're flying, you've got to limit yourself," she said. Pearson said travelers should pack their belongings in light suitcases and limit themselves to only one carry-on.

Emily Golubski, junior in elementary education, spent spring break 2001 in Colorado. She said she rolled her clothes tightly in a backpack to save space.

"It's more compact that way,"

Sometimes, Golubski said, a

"Put your clothes on the bed and put your money on the bed. Take half of the clothes and twice the money."

Myra Pearson K-State Travel Service Travel Agent

traveler might not need to bring some items such as towels and "If you stay at a hotel," she said, "you don't need to take some

> On past spring break trips, Golubski said she noticed many of her travel companions brought large bottles of shampoo.

"Everyone brings shampoo," she said.

Everyone does not need to bring their own bottles of shampoo, she said, and simply sharing a bottle would take up much less space.

Jenny Lynn, sophomore in kinesiology, spent last year's spring break in Florida.

During that trip, she said she noticed travelers bulking up their luggage with multiple outfits. Space could be saved, she said, if students packed more durable clothing.

"Bring stuff you can rewear," she

Before Time Runs Out... advertise your sublease in the classifieds Let's Rent special section

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

is the deadline for classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

Give us yeur epinien. Campus Fourum: 395-4444

CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

dependable quality service Claftin Books and Copies

1814 claffin rd 778-3771 www.claflinbooks.com

DID YOU KNOW?

Auto accident insurance usually pays for 100% of your treatment if you are injured? If you've been hurt! Call Today! You make no payments until your claims are settled, and we'll handle the paperwork.

Headache and Pain Center Downtown 5th & Houston

"Come Feel The Difference"

Next to the Purple Pig

Manhattan Area Technical College

Continuing Education

Evening Classes Computer-Related

Advanced Access 4/1-4/24 M,W 6pm-8:30pm $38 Advanced Excel 4/2-4/25 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $38 Advanced Web Page Design 4/2-4/25 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $42 Advanced Word Introduction to Computers 3/26-4/25 T,TH 6pm-9pm $48

3/26-3/28 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $35 Drafting

Quickbooks

Beginning CAD 3/25-4/24 M,W 6pm-9pm $76 Advanced CAD 3/25-4/24 M,W 6pm-9pm $76

For a complete listing of classes offered please call 587-2800 for more information

Call 587-2800 to enroll today!

3136 Dickens Ave. Manhattan see a complete listing of classes at:

www.matc.net

Longhorns Ladies' Night 舒 Bottles

Education Majors

Have you thought about the classrooms in California?

> California has committed $53.3 billion to education, and we need you to fulfill our promise to students.

financial incentives for reducing class

sizes in other

grades, too.

Take home Rosemary Mint, Shampure Kindergarten or Sap Moss Shampoo and Conditioner through third and we'll give you a free experience size styling product. Witch Hazel Hair grade classes Spray awakens fine hair and Confixor now have 20 Conditioning Fixative moisturizes hair and soothes your spirits. or fewer pupils per class. AVEDA. Schools receive Offer good while supplies last.

TRAVEL LIGHT: EXPERIENCE AVEDA

Whether you're seeking your first teaching experience, or a first-class teaching experience, California is your answer. We're seeking graduating and experienced teachers to lead our six million students into the future. And we're hiring in all areas of the state, for many types of teaching positions.

California has a uniquely diverse population, and we're looking for teachers who embrace these differences and use them to enhance the learning environment. Because the Classroom Reduction Act of 1996 reduced class sizes to 20 students per teacher in grades K-3, we have a renewed need for teachers in those grades. We also have a great need for teachers who specialize in math, science, ESL/bilingual education and special education at all grade levels.

Bring your teaching degree to California

Our commitment to education translates into real benefits for teachers: Starting salaries of $34,000 to $44,000 for first year teachers; up to $19,000 in grants for education loans; no-money-down mortgages with low interest rates; and other incentives for teachers in areas of high need.

We need you in California. It's easy to get here. For more information, call toll-free 1-888-CalTeach (888-225-8322) or visit our website at www.calteach.com.

CalTeach Left Coast. Right Job."

Talent not only factor in tourney

Like the birds returning each spring, I'm back in Manhattan. And I promise not to make a mess on the sidewalk this time.

Although my trip to Kansas City for the Big 12 Women's Basketball Tournament ended a little earlier than anticipated, 1 got my fill of Popeye's chicken at the pregame media meal, and I'm ready to talk

Dan Smith

some more women's hoops.

Continuing in the tradition of Collegian columnists this week, I present my analysis of the NCAA Tournament field. Here's hoping both you and I enjoy our annual wanderings into Bracketville. Let's dive right in.

Unlike the men's Tournament, 16 teams will play the first and second rounds in their own backyards. Advantage — home team.

Since the field expanded to 64 in 1992, 92 percent of host seeds have won their first games. That's impressive and makes K-State a likely Sweet 16 team right off the

If the Cats and Mideast No. 2-seed Purdue both see that stat play out true to form, the battle for an Elite 8 appearance should be great.

Senior guard Kelly Komara is the Boilermaker's single-season record holder in steals (106), and led the Big 10 this season with 4.0 per game. That means trouble for Laurie Koehn and a Wildcat backcourt that's had trouble handling the ball this season.

The teams are the spitting (that's right - spitting) image of each other entering the tournament. Consider the similarities:

Both squads have won three of their last five. Both have had trouble winning the big games lately, with No. 1 Purdue falling to fifth-seeded Indiana in the Big 10 semifinals and No. 4 K-State coming up short against top-seeded Oklahoma in the Big 12 Tournament.

And perhaps the most telling similarity both Cats' coach Deb Patterson and Purdue coach Kristy Curry have short, stylish haircuts.

As much as a coach's coif might seem trivial to the casual fan, consider this.

How much time does the average longhaired person spend prepping their do each morning?

Hypothesis — the less hair, the more time basketball coaches (and sports columnists) have to think about the task at hand. Think about it.

Anyway, back to the more traditional line of thinking.

UConn's a lock to make it to the Final Four. As much as I'd like to think the Cinderella slipper comes in royal purple, the Cats just don't stack up against a Huskies team that probably would have been seeded higher than Gonzaga in the men's bracket this season.

Unfortunately, Title IX hasn't demanded co-ed matchups in March yet, but wouldn't that be fun?

I digress vet again.

In the Midwest, Tennessee coach Pat Summit about punched the ESPN camera guy when it was announced her Volunteers would have to settle for a two seed. That means first-round opponent Georgia State will play the role of red-headed stepchild. The Volunteers will turn anger into a Final Four appearance.

Oklahoma's coach, Sheri Coale, scares me, and that's why I pick her Sooners to make the trip to San Antonio out of the

Coale is one of the best-dressed coaches in the league, and that matters -

Don't buy it? Stacey Dales is women's basketball's Drew Gooden, which makes OU the real deal.

I'll admit the East is the hardest to pick, but I'm going to go with Baylor. Sheila Lambert is Allen Iverson in a green and gold uniform, and the Bears are from the

Why not pick Lambert and Danielle Crockrom to give fans down in Waco, Texas, something to cheer about? BU's football and men's basketball teams sure haven't

So it's UConn, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Baylor. The Huskies and Sooners will be the last two teams dancing the Texas two-step, and UConn's gotta lose sometime, right?

Dan is a senior in print journalism. You can e-mail him at djs4444@ksu.edu.

Cats wrap up series with 6-3 win over Western Illinois

BY BEN FEHR

Klesses State Collegion

Eight shutout innings turned out to be enough. K-State baseball took time to catch its breath after a win over Western Illinois in the series finale of a four-game set Tuesday at Tointon Family Stadium.

It was quiet until the bottom of the fourth, when lead-off man Gabe Luttrell sent a 2-1 fastball over the left-field fence.

On the next at-bat, Pat Maloney walked and Tim Doty follwed by connecting on a towering shot over the scoreboard in right field to make the score 3-0. Luttrell, who was hitless in his first nine plate appearances in the series, went 6-for-9 to end the streak and said he was seeing the ball much better after some minor adjustments. "I was struggling the first couple of games," Luttrell said. "I just had to remember to let the ball get into my area so I could put a good swing on it." After the fourth-inning fireworks were over, the Cats got the scoring itch again in the fifth, as Ryan Baldwin led off the inning with a double into the right-field gap.

Mark Montgomery followed suit with a double to score Baldwin as K-State pushed the lead to four.

WIU failed to counter in the top of the sixth, and in the bottom of the inning, the Cats got busy again. Brandon Taylor reached on a fielder's choice and took second when Jason Long was hit by a pitch. Luttrell then moved the runners over with a fielder's choice of his own.

Long and Taylor crossed the plate when WIU second baseman Pete Tronick bobbled Osmar Castillo's slow roller and the Cat's lead stretched to six. But as smooth as things seemed to go for the Cats, in the eighth, things started to get dicey. WIU made things interesting as shortstop Caleb Blodgett scored on an error.

After a Leatherneck single and another Wildcat error, WIU's Jeff Wellwood kept the pressure on with a two-run shot that cut the lead to three.

James Brazeal came on in relief and got the Leathernecks' Troy Shelby to ground into a 4-6-3

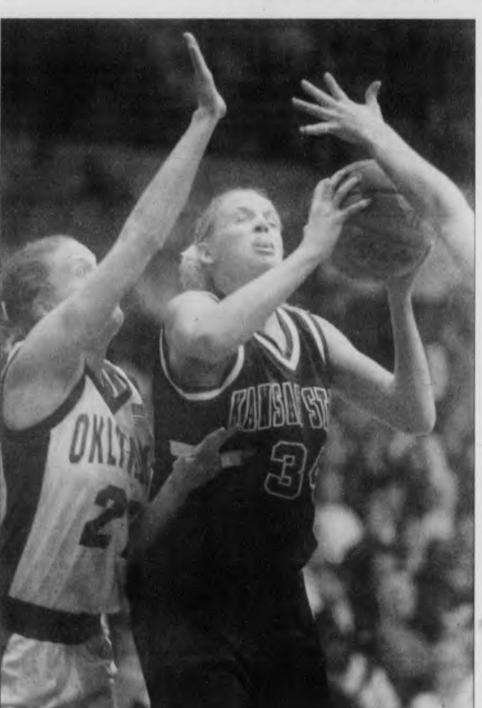

See BASEBALL DE PAGE 7

K-State's James Allen pitches to a Western Illinois batter during the eighth inning of the Wildcats 6-3 victory Tuesday. K-State's Mitch Walter got the save after Allen gave up three runs late in the game.

Matt Stamey/

TOUGH TASK

Kelly Glasscock/Collegian

K-State's Megan Mahoney (34) tries to get a shot up under pressure from Oklahoma's Stacey Dales during the semifinals of the Big 12 Tournament in Kansas City, Mo.

Wildcats take intense approach to practice competed well with some good BY DAN SMITH

MADNESS

p.m. Friday at Bramlage

Coliseum. Tickets are $20

for bench seats, by calling

for chairbacks and $15

the Bramlage Coliseum

Ticket Office at

1-800-221-CATS

Keenes State Gott

Ask K-State sophomore Nicole Ohlde what she thinks about undefeated Connecticut and 2001 NCAA runner-up Purdue being in the same region as the Wildcats, and her tournament inexperience shines through.

"It's interesting that they're in our, you know, bracket thing - our regional," she said with a chuckle. "You can tell I haven't been here

She's not the only

In fact, if any of the Wildcats have been to an NCAA Tournament game, it would have peen as a speciator. That's because none of the Cats have participated in a postseason tournament outside the Big 12, which makes this season's trip to the Big Dance another first for a K-State squad that's gotten used to setting precedents and shrugging away stereotypes

No one knows that better than Coach Deb Patterson.

And despite her team's relative youth, Patterson contends a tough season in what she calls the nation's toughest conference has prepared her club for the NCAA field just fine.

"We've learned how to compete well," Patterson said. "That, to me, is essential to bring to the tourna-

"We've played in a great league. We've defeated some very good basketball teams and we've ones. We bring great experience, from that perspective, into the tournament. Nevertheless, Patterson's not thinking the Cats' path to the Mideast regionals in Milwaukee will be a cakewalk.

"I go in knowing that our aspira!" tions are to line it up and play great basketball each night with the understanding that we're going to be playing great programs," she said. "We'll see where that takes > Fornow though, Patterson's sights are set on getting a win over Kent State in Friday's first round at Bramlage Coliseum. The 14th-seeded Golden Flashes are receiving votes in the polls and come to Manhattan hoping to upset the third-seeded Wildcats.

"Obviously, it gives us an advantage playing at home," senior guard Kristin Rethman said, "but it doesn't guarantee anything. It's March Madness and anything can happen."

Although that mentality might seem obvious, it's one the Wildcats have embraced this week.

And that means practicing with a sense of urgency, Ohlde said. K-State learned the effects of an emotional letdown last week in the Big 12 Tournament.

After beating Texas handily in the first round, the sophomore said

See NCAA on PAGE 10

Big 12 teams ready to face new competition in tournament for any two Big 12 teams to face each

BY SEAN PURCELL

Kunses State Collegian

An NCAA tournament bid means many things to many teams.

But for K-State and the rest of the Big 12 conference, it means not having to play each other for a few games something league teams haven't done since early January.

The Wildcats, for instance, wouldn't have to worry about facing a Big 12 foe unless K-State and Iowa State meet in the Wildcat players and coaches seem to be okay with the change in pace.

"It's always nice to play other teams to get a feel for them and see how they play," Sophomore Nicole Ohlde said. "But it's going to be fun to get the opportunity to play anyone right now."

The Cats and Cyclones are the only Big 12 teams representing the Mideast and Midwest regionals, respectively. The West regional, though, features three Big 12 teams - Oklahoma, Texas Tech and Colorado. The Red Raiders could face the Sooners if both teams advance to the Sweet 16. That would be the first opportunity other.

"I didn't really notice that until later when we were looking down the bracket - we don't have another Big 12 team on our side, and neither does Iowa State," senior Kristin Rethman said.

Despite being one of the toughest conferences in the nation, the Big 12 still managed to get seven teams in the tournament, and all of the league's teams have the advantage of hosting first and second round games. "That was the tournament committee rewarding the league for where the teams have been all year long," Rethman said. "There were seven of us in there pretty consistently in the top 16, so it speaks volumes for our league and how tough it

With seven seeds hosting - by far the most by any conference in this year's field - the Big 12 looks to be the favorite to do the most damage in the tournament.

Seeing that kind of competition during the regular season gives Big 12 teams like K-State an added advantage, freshman Laurie Koehn said.

"It helps a lot playing in a really tough

See BASKETBALL on PAGE 8

K-State's Laurie Koehn (10) goes around Texas' Annissa Hastings during the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Tournament in Kansas City, Mo.

Matt Stamey/Collegian

BASEBALL

■ Continued from page 6

double play to end the eighth-inning. K-State was shut out after that, and two consecutive wild pitches from Brazael put runners on second and third with no outs.

Junior Mitch Walter was able to quell the rally in relief, though, and K-State moved to 8-4 on the season.

"We didn't have the same energy we had yesterday," Coach Mike Clark said. "When we got the lead, we just went through the motions and didn't

"We left too many runners on and we just wasted at-bats. In key situations, when we could have busted things open, we swung at pitches out of the zone and got ourselves out. It almost came around to bite us."

Maloney, who finished 2-for-3, said more wins will help K-State's ability to put opponents away.

"We started well," he said. "We were able to get six runs and then they got three in the eighth and we seemed to get a little down.

"There isn't any reason to be down with a three-run lead, but we should have been up by more. We just need to win some more and have some of the younger guys understand that's what we expect here. If we know we are going to win no matter what the situation is we'll be OK'

Clark said K-State's youth is bound to cause some miscues early in the season and team improvement will be the focus as the year progresses. "We have a lot of young guys on this team, so it's going to take some time," he said. "At this point, above anything else, we have to learn to show up and get better every time we take the field.

Maloney already putting up big numbers for Wildcats.

BY DAN SMITH

Kansas State Collegian

Pat Maloney is turning heads

Literally. With six homeruns in K-State's first 12 games - a tally just five fewer than he hit all of last season - the ball has been jumping off the Wildcat outfielder's bat at an incredible rate.

As a result, fans at Tointon Family Stadium have been seeing more of opposing pitchers' backsides as they watch Maloney's drives leave the ballpark

"I've been working real hard," Maloney said. "But if you would have talked to me probably three months ago, I couldn't have said I'd do this."

That's because an offseason shoulder injury prevented the Wildcat slugger from working on his swing in the fall.

Instead, Maloney doubled what preparation time he did have in the cages to get back into shape in a hurry.

And K-State coach Mike Clark is sure glad he did.

Entering the Cats' four-game set with Western Illinois last Saturday, Maloney led the team in batting average (.500), hits (22), runs (19), RBIs (20), total bases

(45) and walks (8), as well as finished with the Leathernecks on Tuesday, Maloney had pushed his Big 12-leading batting average to .509 and added seven more hits to his team-leading total.

In fact, it's just the type of offensive production that K-State has come to expect from the junior in his time in Manhattan.

Clark said.

"He's hard-nosed, he works himself into one of the best ballplayers in the Big 12."

No kidding.

While it's still early in the season, the junior's hot bat has surprised even himself. But when you see the ball as easily as Maloney does, it's no wonder he's putting up All-Conference numbers alread.

said. "I see the pitcher's arm action and I can read his pitches better. I can see the spin on a curveball and I can see his hand on a changeup.

helps me because I'm able to stay back on a lot of pitches and I homeruns.

By the time the Cats were

But it's no surprise to Clark

"He makes our lineup potent," hard, expects a lot out of himself and his teammates and he's made "It comes a little bit slower," he grand slam.

"When that happens, it really

K-State's Pat Maloney steals second base sliding under the tag of the Western Illinois shortstop Caleb Biodgett Tuesday afternoon at Frank Meyers Field at Tointon Family Stadium. Maloney went 2-3 and leads the Big 12 with a .509 batting know, right now, that I'm not going to get beat with a fastball."

Western Illinois' game-three starter Nate Volk learned that lesson first-hand Monday when Maloney deposited a Volk fastball over the trees in left field for a

To say the least, the Leathernecks took a more conservative approach on Tuesday.

"It was fun today watching them change their whole outlook on how to pitch him, and he still went 2-for-3 seeing offspeed and breaking pitches," Clark said

In order to be successful for the rest of the season, though, Clark said Maloney will need to get used to seeing a lot more of the same. Big 12 play begins next Friday with a three-game series against Oklahoma State at home. "All it means is he's gotten off to a good start right now," Clark said. "What's important is the next 45 ballgames. He's got to continue playing at the level he is at right now. But don't expect all the extra attention to hinder Maloney.

In fact, he's used to the talk, "I don't think it'll affect Pat," Clark said.

"He had a good season last year and was up in the stats and first-team All Conference, so he's been through it before."

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Win Cash for Spring Break! Sign a new lease prior to 3/14 @ 5 p.m. to be entered into a drawing. Drawing held at 2 p.m. on 3/15

For more info call 537-0205

If you join SHAPE, you will:

- . Have a chance to attend the national peer education conference in ORLANDO, FL
- Become an American Red Cross Certified HIV/AIDS Instructor
- . Eam 3 KSU credit hours (use credit as leadership minor or elective)
- . Have a BLAST!!!!!

Sponsored by: Lafene Health Center Need more info? Call 532-6595 or email shapelificsu.edu

Spring Break is almost here! And so is pre-enrollment

This can only mean one thing...it's time to get in SHAPE!

Don't go to the gym, go to Lafene, room #3 to get your application or print it online at http://www.ksu.edu/lafene/shapeapp.htm

> Sexual Health Awareness Peer Educators

Applications due April 5th

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p

*Starting at $370

Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p

*Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-5p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

6-380 http://www.mdi-manhattan.com email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

COMMERCE IS EASY.

YOU HAVE THREE BIG TESTS, TWO HUGE

PAPERS AND ONE LONG NIGHT.

College life definitely has its challenges. The last thing you want to worry about is banking. Lucky for you, you don't have to. Because with checking and AFM locations on the way to wherever you're

Call, click or come by * 532-3500 * www.commercebank.com

COLLEGE IS TOUGH.

METH

■ Continued from page 1

Education and community involvement

Drug education is another component to combating methamphetamines

Mary Beth Reese, counselor at Manhattan high school, said the school mainly concentrates its efforts on alcohol, cigarettes and marijuana. However, she also said that there is an emphasis on meth.

Bill Arck, drug and alcohol counselor for K-State, said the department concentrates on these drugs because they often are gateway drugs to more potent ones like meth

"In general people that try meth tend to have at an early age in life tried cigarettes, then later on they try marijuana, and the next step is the illicit drugs," he said.

"It gets them up, it makes them feel good. It is not the high that is bad but the lows."

Arck said the lows are the reasons people stop using methamphetamines because after the long high wears off, it becomes increasingly apparent that the lulls produced from the drug are getting them behind.

"They end up not going to school and being in bed," he said.

The lows for a meth user can be more than just having a bad trip. Smith said he has seen instances on meth busts where young children have suffered burnings. He also has heard disturbing accounts from neighbors who live close to meth cookers.

"I have been told of cases where a building catches on fire and the person cooking goes in two or three times for the meth supplies, and then takes the child out after that,"

"On the third, he took the kids out. That is what the neighbors told Communities also play a role in keeping methamphetamines from being manufactured. Grubbs said law enforcement officials work with stores to limit the number of meth ingredients sold to an individual.

"They limit the supply they can sell at one time to the customer," he

Sandy Springer, customer service manager at Wal-Mart, said store registers have a lock built in on certain products limiting the number sold.

She said the register will lock on a certain number, and they are unable to sell any more of the product, and it varies from product to product. Such products include cough syrup and various forms of over the counter drugs.

Rehabilitation is another issue. Korri Surgeon, a substance abuse secretary at Pawnee Mental Health, said the center offers a variety of treatment options that include individual therapy, group therapy and an intensive out-patient

The 10-hour per week program treats clients by promoting abstinence and works with influences such as religion and family, Surgeon

BASKETBALL

Continued from page 6

conference like that," she said. "You see a lot of different styles of basketball, and you see tough opponents - people that are ranked in the top 15 in the country. It definitely has to help get us ready for what's out there."

K-State, however, will prepare like they do for any opponent. Records and talk of who-beat-who will be out the window now that teams have the "win or go home" mindset.

"I'm just looking at the very next game. I will confess to being glad that I don't have to play another Big 12 team in the first and second game, because I feel as though we have seen enough of each other for awhile," Coach Deb Patterson said.

"I think everyone in the Big 12 would say, 'Can't we just play someone else now?' It's a long, hard, challenging season, and we all know each other so extremely well at this point. It's nice to just play someone else."

But Patterson doesn't want to take any credit away from the level of competition teams in the Cats' region will bring.

In the NCAA tournament, anything can happen.

"Don't transfer that to mean I don't think an Arkansas or a Clemson or a Kent State are as quality of an opponent — it's more just the familiarity factor." she

"It gets a little redundant at this stage to think of playing another Big 12 opponent."

Got old stuff? in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie 532-6555

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

SPRING

Try the Collegian Classifieds

Kansas State Collegian 103 Kedzie • 532-6555

Color/highlights

Spa Pedicures

Facials . Waxing Haircuts . Perms

Also available:
Full service clinic floor
Artificial Nails • Manieures Classes.

മ

Bright spring comfort.

Olson's Birkenstock AGGIEVILLE 1214 B Moro • 539-857

Men's tipping &

reconstructor

BREAK GUIDE

Spring Break Special

ADVERTINING

Guys & Gals

FREE hair cut w/ highlight

Eyebrow wax $10.00

A $25 Savings!

Bikini wax $20.00

exp. 3-23

Start Your Spring Break Early

FRANZ-WHITE

Liquor - Wholesale & Retail case lot discounts

1130 Westport Road 539-5052

March Specials

560 Foil Highlights (add another color and haircut for $10) Men's Highlight/Haircut $20 $5 OFF Relaxers

Body

BREAK

Do you need to turn electronics, jewelry, sporting goods, music, cameras, guns, DVDs, etc. into cash? We loan or buy any of these at the highest prices in town. We also offer payday loans. ********** March Specials

SPRING BREAK is coming RINGS TOE RINGS ANKLE BRACELETS

Warm it up at 1

Starter Package $30

Includes:

10 - 20 minute tans

tanning lotion

goggles

· mesh carrying bag to keep it all together

Southern Sun 776-8060 3232 Kimball (next to Bobby Ts)

Exp. 3-31-02 offer valid

20% off

bottle of anning lotion

Gear for all of your Outdoor Adventures

The North Face Columbia Oakley Dana Design Kelty

> Asolo Vasque and more!

OUTDOOR EQUIPMENT SPECIALISTS

304 POYNTZ, DOWNTOWN

Enroll now

Check out our new spring fashions

Cruel Girl*Rockies Ginch*Wrangler*and more!

Saddles * Tack * Western Apparel Equine * Pet * Livestock Feed & Supply

> Animal Health Products Home Accents* Gifts

7003 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Manhattan, KS 66503 (785)539-7316

Purina Mills, Inc.

10 Miles Northwest of Manhatttan on Hwy. 24

Flu cases declining as season nears end

BY EDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegian

Influenza cases at K-State are on the decline, and the end of flu season is in sight, officials said.

Earl Reppert, medical director of Lafene Health Center, said Lafene gave about 850 to 900 flu vaccinations during this year's flu

Most of the vaccinations went to students, Reppert said, although some faculty did come in for the shots.

Reppert said the vaccinations are 70 to 90 percent effective, and he saw only a few cases of people who received a flu shot and still got a case of the flu.

According to the Center of Disease Control and Prevention Web site, www.cdc.gov, in the United States the peak of flu season can occur anywhere from late December through March.

Reppert said this year's peak was around the beginning of February.

According to the CDC Web site, each flu season is unique. but normally about 10 to 20 percent of Americans get the flu.

Most people who get the flu will recover in one to two weeks, but some will develop life-threatening complications, like pneumonia, as a result of the flu, according to the CDC Web site.

Each year, an average of 114,000 people are hospitalized for flu-related complications.

Also, on average, about 20,000 Americans die each year from complications of the flu.

According to the CDC Web site, the flu is caused by the influenza virus, which infects the nose, throat and lungs.

It normally spreads from person to person when actions like coughing, sneezing or talking send the virus into the air.

Reppert said some symptoms of the flu are coughing, fever, chills, body aches, a sore throat and headaches.

He said that although some may associate stomach problems such as vomiting or nausea with the flu, these are not actually symptoms.

According to the CDC Web site, the stomach symptoms are caused by other viruses, bacteria or possibly parasites, and are not related to the flu.

Mike Bradshaw, K-State Research and Extension safety specialist, said symptoms people might relate to having a cold are similar to those of a flu.

"Most of the symptoms are really quite similar, but anyone who has had the flu, knows it." Bradshaw said.

"It puts them to bed, and they are a lot sicker."

Reppert said the flu can be treated with anti-viral medication to make it go away more quickly.

Right now, there is no such medicine to get rid of a cold more quickly, but Reppert said it was rumored that a medication of this type may come out next

Carol Kennedy, director of health education at Lafene, said students should stay hydrated and eat healthy foods to ward off both the flu and a cold.

According to the CDC Web site, people who get the flu should rest and avoid using alcohol and tobacco.

Since the flu is a virus, antibiotics are not a cure.

The best way to prevent the flu is to get a flu shot in the fall, before flu season.

Cracking the books

Jim Green, Junior In electrical engineering, studies statistics in a small room on the third floor of Hale Library Tuesday afternoon.

Drew Rose/

Concrete canoe team prepares for competition

BY JILL LANZRATH

Kansus Stree Collegias

To most people, building a canoe out of concrete would sound strange, but not to the members of K-State's Concrete Canoe Team.

The 20 teammates gathered in the basement of Fiedler Hall to pour the framework of what will become their concrete canoe. Since the beginning of the academic year, cochairs Jared Barnhart and Cameron McGown have been planning for the regional contest in April at the University of Oklahoma.

"We actually began getting ideas at regionals last year," McGown, senior in civil engineering, said.

Last year the team placed third in regionals. This year they plan to make minor adjustments to the canoe's concrete and spend more time on the final product, McGown

The competition is sponsored by the American Society of Civil Engineers and Master Builders. They provide the rules of competition and judges, Jared Barnhart, junior in civil engineering, said. Students are required to be engineering students and members of ASCE in order to take part in the team.

"We get to know a lot of people within the department, and it's a lot of fun," McGown said.

The canoe is made of concrete and floats on water with up to four teammates paddling.

One of the requirements for the canoe is that the concrete be less dense than water. To do this, team members change the aggregate, or

ONLINE Read about the extra challenges for K-State-Salina's team online. www.kstatecollegian.com

the contents, of the concrete. Instead of the usual rock and sand, the team uses glass beads, acrylic, latex, water and cement among other chemicals.

The latex and acrylic help make the canoe more flexible and keep water out. The glass beads are microscopic balls full of nitrogen gas, the same that are used on the body panels of Corvettes. This makes the canoe float the same way wood does on water.

Contributions are made to the project by the College of Engineering and outside industries, especially construction, Barnhart

K-State's team will face tough competition at regionals. Oklahoma-State University won regionals last year and went on to place second at national competition. This year, nationals will be in Madison, Wis., in conjunction with the 150th anniversary of ASCE. If K-State's team places second to OSU this year, they also will be sent to nationals

"Because of OSU's high placement last year, two teams will be sent this year," McGown said.

Barnhart said nationals provides several opportunities.

"Basically, it's to promote teamwork within students, and we do research on concrete that we normally wouldn't do," Barnhart

SWIMSUITS! The best bikinis are at

Patricia's UDERCOVER Lingerie

1224 Moro Aggieville Mon.-Thurs. 10-7 Fri.-Sat. 10-5

Zmile enhancement by the professionals

For more information, see our ad in your Manhattan Southwestern Bell Yellow Pages.

Dive on in to UNIVERSITY COMMONS, the coolest off-campus apartments going. And just what you've been looking for: awesome location, affordable and fully furnished apartments with...

- 2 & 4 Bedroom Apartment Homes
   Individual Leases
- Decked-out Kitchens
   Fully Furnished
   Near KSU Stadium
- Computer Lab with Copier & Fax Washers and Dryers in unit
- Tennis, Basketball & Volleyball Courts
   Recreation Room
- Swimming Pool
   Permit Parking
   Exercise Room Monitored Alarm Systems • Roommate matching • Balconies

the place for people like you...

2215 COLLEGE AVENUE / 785-539-0500

www.universitycommons.com

Spring Break Sunglasses Sale

20% off all in stock sunglasses

- Killer Loop
- Ralph Lauren
- Vogue
- · Bolle
- Oakley
- AND MORE

Good through March 31

300 Poyntz Ave.

Wednesday, March 13, 2002

LABS

■ Continued from page 1

bust three arrests were made. The suspects had been under police surveillance when the arrests were made and were apprehended by police as they were entering the room, Lasseto said.

"The way we handle it, it was late at night, so most of our customers didn't even realize that it happened." Lasseto said.

When the bust was made, Robert L. Jones, 31, and Sarah Jones, 25, were charged with conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine. Their bond was set at $25,000 each. Additionally, Michael B. Willis was charged with conspiracy to manufacture methamphetaime, possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. Bond was set at $25,000. A pre-trial hearing is set for I p.m. on March 28.

Lasseto said there was no evidence meth was being manufactured in the room, and no dangerous chemicals were in the air. In this instance, the hotel room was rented out with 48 hours, Lasseto said.

Had cooking been done in the room, it would have taken longer to rid the room of chemicals, he said. No damage was done to the property.

Cleaning consists of searching the room for needles and throwing out toilet paper and towels. He said they do not want to take the chance of any meth-related products being left

Lasseto said meth labs are a liability issue for hotels, and meth poses a tremendous risk to the hotel

"It is very dangerous because it puts other people's lives at risk. It is extremely flammable if not made properly," he said.

Lasseto said the hotel remains alerted to meth.

"We have been on a heightened state of alert because we have had two busts in Manhattan in the last 60 days," he said. "Everyone, even the new people that we hire, know how to report it."

A housing property issue

Nationwide, meth labs in neighborhoods have decreased property

However, the meth lab at 804 Fremont St. didn't drastically affect the property value, said officials associated with the house.

When the meth lab bust occurred, it was on the housing

Realtor Jim Ryan, Jr. said it is a lower-level property, which means it has decreasing value.

"It was a lower range apartment. He had an incentive to buy whether there was a lab or no lab," he said. "He was looking to buy it either way."

However, Ryan said the house's value would have been affected if it had been a single family unit area.

When the house's basement apartment was busted in late January. Ronald Brouhard was arrested and put in jail on $50,000 bond. He was charged with manufacturing meth, possession of ephedrine with intent to manufacture, possession of meth with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana with the intent to distribute, possession of drug paraphemalia, no Kansas drug tax stamp and criminal possession of a firearm.

He awaits trial on April 30 along with Jeff Willis, who was arrested in the bust.

The charges are pending, and Ryan said he was not aware of the illegal activity that allegedly was taking place in the basement apartment. He said the suspect must have masked the lab well.

"I was showing it twice a week, but I had no hint that was occurring," he said.

It is also the first meth house he has ever had to sell. Seymour said the house will be evacuated and remodeled. The bust also has not affected rental value of the property. Richard Seymour, who plans to buy the house, said once renovated, it will be rented to new tenants.

Seymour's business is what he calls recycling homes, a process where he buys homes, renovates and remodels them and rents them out as affordable housing. He said that he has had to clean up other drugs in houses, such as marijuana and cocaine, but this is the first time he has dealt with meth. With the recent busts, many Manhattan residents are dealing with meth for the first time. RCPD Capt. Gary Grubbs said a variety of things that have gone into the recent busts will help combat meth in the future.

"A combination of relying on informants and the public responding to crime stoppers. Those things are logged and watched over time," Grubbs said.

NCAA

■ Continued from page 6

intensity was lacking against top-seeded Oklahoma the next

Now, the Cats face a situation similar in importance but very different in its finality.

We did everything really well against Texas," she said, "and then when we came out against Oklahoma and just didn't do those things. We just have to learn that when you come out, you can't come out not aggressively and not ready to play."

But preparing for K-State's postseason run doesn't lie solely on the shoulders of the players, Ohlde said.

All of the Wildcat coaches will be splitting time, preparing for all four teams in K-State's sub-regional, a tough enough job in its own right.

Ohlde and company are banking on them to guide them in the right direction.

'They'll do a great job of letting us know what we need to do," Ohlde said.

"They put into our minds that it's definitely a big game and it's going to be huge to do the things we need to do to get a win.'

Order your yearbook. Today.

Friday, March 15 6 p.m. - Arkansas vs. Clemson 30 minutes following Game Gree - K-State vs. Kernt State Sunday, March 17 8:30 p.m. - Winners of Friday's games.

Women's Basketball First & Second Rounds in Bramlage Coliseum!

Ticket Information All Session: Student - $10 Bench-$15 Chair Back - $20 Call 1.800.221.CATS or stop by the K-State Athletic Ticket Office!

HOURS: (C) (C)

11a.m. - 2a.m.

•Mon. - Wed. •

11a.m. - 2:30a.m

.Thurs. - Sat. .

11a.m. - 3:30a.m

FAST FREE DELIVERY! 11th Street • Aggieville

ORDER ON LINE

$5.99 Large 14" 2 Topping Pizza $6.99 X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza $7.99

14" Large Pokey Stix $6.99 6 Pepperoni Rolls $6.99

Valid Carry Out Only VISA DUC VER sonal Checks And Credit Co Accepted With Proper I.D.

MONDAY MANIA

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.991 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

STIX IT TO ME TUESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIG ASS

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza

Tanning 1122 Laramie St. 537-2141 8 Tans $25.00 Get Into Bed With The Best WWW.SUNKISSED.COM

Sun Kissed

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications. Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor Copy Editor • Staff Writers Photojournalist * Marketing Director

Section Editors

- Student Life Organizations
- · Sports
- Academics
- · People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Managing Editors News Editors* Desk Editors Reporters • Copy Editors Designers Photojournalists

Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists Online Journalists

Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

ACROSS

1 Freeway

5 Stocky

8 On in years 12 Marty

13 Actress

ahan

14 Porridge

17 Eager,

plus one's

19 Barbershop

21 Kennel

22 Skewer

23 Petrol

26 Band-

28 Stage

31 "Holy mack erel!

15 leader

Brown

supply

access

Feldman

McClan-

preparer? 15 Pet

18 Shows off 56 Prolific

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

DOWN

1 Jazz fragment

oh, what

3 Kasparov

concern 4 Substitute 27 Brillo

5 Refrigerator com-

6 Chic no more

7 "Cheers"

round

9 Old

8 Incredible

French

dances potentate

honorees

10 Eastern

11 Mid-June

16 Honest-

to-gosh

1-900-454-68731 99c per minute,

CRYPTOQUIP

WALGZUJ, ZLS E DXSLDAAO

WIUHUJ SP XDAA GQVUAH

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I THINK UMPIRES MUST HAVE VERY BIG PHONE BILLS. THEY'RE

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: W equals P

CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"The only people for me are the mad ones...the ones who never yawn or say a commonplace thing, burn burn burn like fabulous yellow Roman candles exploding like spiders across the stars and in

Oscar Wilde, writer

the middle you see the blue center light pop and everybody goes,

AROUND THE TOWN

The Campaign for Nonviolence Film Series and Discussion will present "Chilean Opposition to Pinochet" from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in the K-State Student Union Little Lunchbag Theatre presents "The Elopement" at 11:30 a.m.

Thursday in the Purple Masque Theatre. Admission is a A St. Patrick's Day parade will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at 12:30 p.m. at 12th Street and Moro.

If you know of upcoming events in and around

Manhattan, e-mail them to arts@spub.ksu.edu.

the Manhattan City Park and will go through Aggieville on Moro Street. The Shamrock two-mile fun run will begin at

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to

CONSTANTLY MAKING CALLS

Quote of the day

"Aww!" Jack Kerouac, writer

CAMPUS

MANHATTAN

WJUSSQ

partment

2 "Oh, oh,

23 Salon

buy

24 Hereto-

25 Gilbert & rival 29 Memor able period through with

37 Aachen

39 "It's Im-

42 Jellied

44 Hack-

45 Part of

"E=mc2" 46 "- ben

Adhem'

Gershon

49 Grandson of Eve

Parsegh-

50 Faxed

48 Actress

entree article possible'

30 Crimson

32 Means

34 Come

Sullivan aficionado

36 Put on a pedestal 38 Dry, to a vintner 40 Blue

41 Draftable

43 High-arc

shot

45 Big city

bigwigs 47 Pictures

51 Blind as

52 Peacock

54 Ticked

55 Tick off

57 Lather

58 Ford o

59 Make It

author?

Lincoln

through the night

Solution time: 21 mins

In a man's world

Female encounters difficulties working door at local bar.

BY BETSY STVERAK

Gaining respect in a masculine job can be tough for a female working at the door of any Aggieville bar on a

A female working the door is not a typical thing to see at a bar in Aggieville, but one K-State student got first-hand experience about why this job is so difficult for females. Sarah Coats, junior in criminology and women's studies, said that her time working the door at Auntie Mae's Parlor was so difficult she had to

"The reason I quit was because of sexual terrorism," Coats said.

"Auntie Mae's has always advertised itself as a friendly environment - as a gay friendly environment," she said. "I decided that would be the bar that I would want to work in."

Coats said she got the job working the door because her boss, Jeff Denney, thought it would be good public relations to have the only female bouncer in Aggieville. Coats said that people had a hard time believing she worked there.

"Initially, I had a lot of trouble," she said. "Most people didn't think I worked there. They'd walk in and be looking around for someone to give their money to and I am sitting right there in an Auntie Mae's shirt."

there for more than six months, bouncer. Coats was first hired with not a bouncer, Denney said.

looking for a bouncer. I want somebody to be friendly and sit at the door to just greet people and make sure everybody has a good time," he

One night's visit from the K-State Rugby team, sponsored by Auntie Mae's, was the start of the trouble, Coats said. The team felt it was their bar, they had a hard enough time listening to the male bouncers and they weren't going to listen to Coats, she turned around to see a member of the rugby team exposing his buttocks.

Daniel Wacker, former president of K-State rugby team, said he can remember a couple of rugby players hanging out, at Auntie Mae's and the trouble happened when they decided to take a picture and they thought it would be funny to moon the camera while they were getting the picture taken. It was just around their circle of friends." he said. "Coats just happened to be the bouncer that night, and she saw it and got upset about it and told them to leave."

exposed himself left without resistance. Soon after, one of his teammates decided the reason that his friend was thrown out was silly, so he dropped his pants as well.

"Next thing I know, I see two pairs of bare buttocks being pressed up against the window," she said. "I go outside and give them warning

Wacker, senior in public relations, said the guys then left and decided to press their butts up against the window.

"It was simple and harmless," he

"I get into a verbal fight with these guys and they call me a plethora of colorful names," she said.

Sarah Coats, Junior in criminology and women's studies, quit her job at Auntie Mae's Parlor.

said. "It wasn't meant to be interpreted as bad or sexually explicit.

look for help from one of her coco-worker, who was also a rugby worker's but she found no help. One player told her to stop being so sensihappened, guys were in the bar just doing what people do in a bar. They were drunk and somebody shot the moon to somebody else. It's not a big

Coats said that as she returned players with his hand down his pants.

outside, she saw one of the rugby so the told him to leave. Soon two outside with their genitalia exposed,

so she went outside to confront them, female customers walked in and notified her that two guys were

"We had some guys in here just being drunk, silly and normal.

Denney said the night the incident not working in a church."

tive and brush it off.

deal," he said.

Coats said.

They never mooned her specifically.

When you're working in a bar, you're Coats said she went back inside to Angry at having to deal with the situation by herself. Coats said she went to the head bouncer, Jarrod Fritsch, since she wasn't able to reach Denney, who was downstairs. After informing Fritsch of the situation, she called the police and an arrest was Wacker said he next remembers his friend getting put in handcuffs. but that was all he remembered.

"I didn't see them with their privates hanging out," he said.

Denney said he thought the incident wasn't a big deal because it is typical bar behavior.

"Weird stuff happens in bars like that all the time," he said. "If you threw everybody out, you wouldn't have any customers left.'

After returning for work, Coats said she was continually harassed by co-workers and team members until, after a month, she decided to resign.

"I approached my boss about it, but I could not get him to do anythingabout it. He thought it was amusing," she said. "I was told by a lot of my coworkers that I needed to get a thicker skin. That left me without any job support, so I resigned."

Drew Rose/Calley

Wacker said that he doesn't have any problem with Coats.

"We have hung out a bit. She's a very nice girl," he said, "I think she had a bit of a problem with authority, but I have no beef with her at all."

Denney said Coats was the only employee who was offended by the incident and that she wasn't happy with his reaction.

"That kind of started the ball rolling. She thought I didn't do enough to keep those guys from

with her.

coming back," Denney said. Working at Auntie Mae's that night, Fritsch, Coats' roommate, said that he doesn't blame Coats for quitting her job, and walked out the same night

"Sarah was taking hell from some

Sau COATS an PAGE 14

Kansas State Collegia:

Saturday night.

Coats said she first chose to work at Auntie Mae's because of the bar's reputation for fair treatment.

Though she had been working Denney said Coats was not hired as a the responsibilities of a door greeter,

"When I hired her, I said we're not she said. Coats said that one night at work.

"I said hey you know the rules, you got to go," she said.

"They all decided to take a photo

Coats said the team member who number two."

BY BRENT ENGSTROM - MONKEYBOYCOMIC@HOTMAIL.COM

misdirection

BY JOE ELKINTON - GANGSTAHONKY@HOTMAIL.COM

Salina men outnumber women

BY KASEY BROWN

At many universities, the number of women versus men is about equal. This isn't the case at K-State-Salina, where men significantly outnumber women.

A total of 172 females and 626 males attend K-State-Salina for their majors, with an additional 79 females and 48 males who attend for general education classes. Besides the gender gap in class, the living situation on campus also is unbalanced. There are 16 females living in the residence halls compared to 172 males.

However, not all females said they are bothered by the difference in gender population.

There is more of a selection for us to choose from. It's not a major issue for the girls, but it bothers the guys more," Andrea Mikina, freshman student-pilot, said.

Most male students said having a smaller population of girls has its ups and downs.

"I'm able to stay focused a lot better. It's hard enough for a guy to WIGS . HATS THEATRICAL MAKEUP stay on track in class, but it's easier when you don't have anyone to stare at but the teacher. Unfortunately, it doesn't do a lot for the social interaction," Justin Fant, freshman student-pilot, said. Freshman student-pilot Kate Gorton agreed.

"It's hard to socialize sometimes because most guys aren't the social type. It would make it more of a comfortable atmosphere if we had a smaller gap in the ratio," she said.

Besides the lack of a balanced social situation, some on-campus programs that have been maledominated for a long time. The introduction of women into the aviation field is a continuing issue.

"In the flight program more than any other program there is a big gender bias. It was always such a male-dominated field. I don't know if they are OK with women in the program sometimes. There are a lot of stereotypes to be dealt with, such as we are too stupid to fly? Or we are supposed to be burly women?" Mikina said.

Most women students attending Salina are in the aviation field. This, along with a small population, heightens the socialization within the female gender.

"We are all friends. But the girls don't just get together and guy bash. We try to include everyone we can when getting together for a bigger group. Everybody is really nice here," Mikina said.

However, sometimes the smaller population of girls can have its disadvantages within the group, Gorton said.

"There is more competition between the girls because of the smaller ratio. Not just with guys but within activities," Gorton said.

However, Fant said, the women at K-State-Salina have it made. They have it pretty good here.

They are around a ton of guys who are working towards successful careers, and they have the pick of the litter. For the guys, the smaller ratio is disheartening," Fant said.

Diabetes research on animals might help discover treatments for disease

PETE ELSASSER Kansas State Collegian

Diabetes affects more than just humans. Animals, including cats and dogs, can suffer from the effects of diabetes as well.

Conducting diabetes research in animals has offered Thomas Schermerhorn, assistant professor of clinical sciences, the chance to discover treatments for the disease.

Schermerhorn said he is a veterinarian by training, and he practices endocrinology, which is the study of glands, cells and hormones released into the blood to elicit a bodily response. He said he combines the two practices by researching diabetes in animals.

He said some people are surprised when they find out animals get diabetes, especially if they don't have

"It's important to realize that cats and dogs often end up needing insulin," he said. "However, the symptoms are not as long-term because the animals don't live long enough. The problems don't get a chance to develop as long."

Schermerhorn said his research is from the standpoint of the beta cell, which is the cell in the pancreas that secretes insulin.

"What I'm trying to do is learn normal functions of the beta cell," he said. "What we may find could prove important in providing a target for drug therapy."

The fundamental mechanics of insulin production in different species are the same with some small differences, Schermerhorn said.

Schermerhorn said he has another project aimed at how insulin secretion is regulated in the pancreas. He said this research focuses on the physiology of the beta cell and how it specifically works.

"Until you learn what's normal, it's hard to discover what you think is abnormal," he said.

There are several potential problems that can occur in the beta cell. He said the onset of diabetes could occur because of genetics, environmental reasons or other illnesses.

"We want to find out what might go wrong," he said. "But there isn't an easy solution to this right now."

Diabetes is the second most common endocrine problem in older cats, and it's in the top three for dogs.

Schermerhorn said he's working on a project that focuses on an enzyme in cats to help treat diabetes "This is still in its infancy right now," he said. "We just got funding, but hopefully it will look promising."

Although much of the research has potential to be promising, there probably won't be specific therapies for a while, Schermerhorn said.

"The hope is that something we find will be helpful down the road," he

COSTUMES • ACCESSORIES SHOES . PROPS . MASKS

539-5200

 Over 250 units •Fireplaces •Carports •Pool •Private Deck

Laundry Facilities

call Now 537-9064

Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

first 40 people FREE Purple Pig St. Patrick's T-shirt

Office of Student Activities & Services is currently accepting applications for

Consumer & Tenant Affairs Director

Responsibilities include: Provide information on landlord rights & responsibilities, mediate roommate disputes, offer off-campus housing assistance, & aid in resolving consumer complaints on products & services.

Applications due by noon, Friday, April 5th

*Position begins Summer 2002 & goes through May 2003.

*Applications available in the Office of Student Activities & Services, Ground Floor, K-State Union call 532-6541

Softball & Individual Sports

Intramural Entry Deadline Thursday, March 14, at 5 p.m. Recreational Services Office

Softball Official's Clinic

March 25 at 5 p.m. & March 26 at 6:30 p.m. Attendance required at both meetings Earn $6.50 per hour officiating!

IM Captain's/Manager's Meeting

Tuesday, March 26, at 5 p.m. Small Gym, Recreation Complex Softball schedules will be distributed at this meeting only. All captains/managers must attend!

Recreational Services Office 532-6980

Featuring the

Meal includes: 7' individual pizza (cheese, pepperoni or sausage), 1/2 order of breadsticks (your choice of dip) and a 24 oz. soft drink

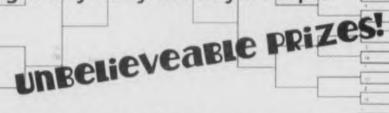

K-State Student Union Food Court

E MADNESS

IS COMING TO K-STATE

Look for me this week on campus and in the Union for entry forms to the largest NCAA Bracket challenge.

Brought to you by the Royal Purple.

men's and women's Brackets!

More information available at royalpurple.ksu.edu

Items for Sale

Literary Essays ated to English)

For Rent-

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS

AVAILABLE JUNE.

bedroom duplexes, four-bedroom main floor, or two-bedroom basement apart-from. Some with washer/dryer hook-ups. All close to KSU with off-street parking.

CLOSE TO CAMPUS!

New central air, washer dryer, dishwasher. No pets/ smoking. June 1 $1080.

FIVE, SIX, and seven-bed room houses for rent, near campus. Call (785)539-

FOR RENT: 1709 Vaughr

three-bedroom plus study

June 1 $875 Call Jack

(785)776-1214 or (785)776-

FOR RENT Available August 1. 815 Kearney, Three-bedroom. $775. Call

(785)776-7706 or (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM

ES for June and August

Some with washer dryer

(785)313-4812

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

assay in

Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

·Washer/Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

*Individual Leases

Sat. 10-4

*COMMONS*

Unfurnished

ONE BEDROOM, close to campus (June). (785)539-

(785)776-4827

(785)556-6899 or

Houses

For Rent-

able.

145

Wanted

(785)587-9882

Sublease

SUMMER

110

For Rent-

Unfurnished

1628 FAIRVIEW Open house, Sunday, March 17. 4- 5pm. Quiet studio near campus $385 including gas, water, trash June 1. No

AVAILABLE AUGUST

Two-bedroom, air-condition

ing, washer and dryer. $475.

three, four, five, and six bedrooms. Close to campus. No Pets. Year lease

AVAILABLE NOW, summer

campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

FOR RENT, new one, two units. Some close to cam

ups. Call (785)341-2269 for more information. Carl Den-

LEASING FOR ALL. TWO bedroom and three-bed room, one block from campus, laundry. Excellent loca-

ONE TWO and three-bed

campus June and August

(785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, three and four bedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apartments (785)776-3663 (24 tours). One-half mile from

KSU at the corner of College and Claffin, Manhattan

225 Claffin. Two-bedroom

$550, 1320 N. Manhattar

dio furnished, 1219 Claffir

$330. (785)456-2812. No

campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities

August lease. (785)776-

ONE-BEDROOM

PARK PLACE

www.beloose.com/linwood

loking, pets. (785)537

(785)539-1713.

NICE, LARGE one-bedroom apartment, two blocks south of KSU, sublease

starting April 8. $420. (785)537-3662.

SUMMER SUBLEASE at bedroom, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, pool. Available May Call (785)567-6107.

SUBLEASES.

and two-bedroom

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

sixteen-feet wide, two and

home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage

disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

ree-bedroom homes avail-

one double-wide

105

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

110 For Rent-Apt Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apartone year lease to July 31. Two, three, and washer/ dryer hook-ups. No four-bedrooms class to pets (785)313-4812. campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

FOUR-BEDROOM APART-MENT next to campus 1324 N. Manhattan Ave. $870/ month, $870 deposit. No pets. Water and trash paid. (785)456-2812.

two, three-bedroom houses, parking, free washer/ dryer. Available August. (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bed room apartment, 1230 Cla-flin across from Ford Hall. 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530. (785)539-2482.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545-$585/ nonth. (785)341-4496.

Announcements

ACADEMY OF BARTEND

AT

1/800)BARTEND

25 years experience,

chuckharper@msn.com

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: CAT. White with

Call to identify, (785)341-

ATTORNEY

bulletin

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

ALL UTILITIES paid, one ONE, THREE, four, or five-June at $325. June and Augest three-bedroom for three-bedroom for $825. No Pets. (785)313- pets. Close to campus. Selection and price is NOW (785)587-9460.

> ONE. TWO and three-bed-June and August (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

TWO, and Three-Bedroom apartments for June and August Various AVAILABLE LEASES now tance to campus. Some with bedroom, close to campus. Central air, laundry facilities,

THREE-BEDROOM pus. June lease Water, trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296.

TWO THREE, four bed-

campus. (785)537-1746. 120

block from campus, washer month. (785)317-1724. Sor-Houses THREE-BEDROOM HOUS

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-Two no pets Available June (785)539-1177

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

THREE-BEDROOM. TWO bath basement apartment Washer/ dryer/ air-condition-ing. 709 Bluemont. Call ing. 709 Bidemon. (785)539-4949, leave mes-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO Washer/ dryer/ air-conditioning. 709 Bluemont. Cal (785)539-4949, leave mes

TWO-BEDROOM MENT apartment, close campus, newly remodeled no smoking or pets, water, trash and cable paid, $420 (785)776-9590.

Now Leasing 3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

ROOMMATE WANTED Great second-story apart ment. Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. Cheap utilities. month. Call Matt at

Rooms

Available

CLEAN, QUIET, private room, and bath, for male. $250/ month. Utilities paid. street parking. Call (785)

FOUR-BEDROOM Pets okay, short-term leases Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138.

120

For Rent-Houses

AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Fourplus bedrooms. Three full bathrooms, near campus Very nice house. (913)963-

AVAILABLE NOW: two-bed room apartment 1113 Bertrand #1. $550/ month. Close to KSU, water and trash paid, laundry facilities. (785)776-3804

FOUR-BEDROOM, bath house for rent. June 1 Vattier. Call (785)539-4949. leave message and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets of smoking. June 1 lease ich plus utilities. Call (785)759-3520

THREE-BEDROOM Close to Aggieville street parking, central air, high speed internet, no pets.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE two blocks from campus. $750/ month. No pets. Open House Thursday. March 14, 5 pm- 7 pm 1112 Thurston (913)829-closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks bathroom. One and one-half Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. June washer, central air, laundry 928 Leavenworth, 1620 hook-ups. No pets. June 426 Vattler bedroom

(785)556-5668 THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook no pets or smokers 1523 Pierre $840 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT apartment near Cit Park available June 1 $400 plus utilities. No pets. (785)539-1145. Four-bedroom house near City Park. $850 plus utilities. No pets. August (785)539-1145.

For Sale Houses

125

TWO-BEDROOM. floor, two bath, house with finished basement and cenconditioning for sale Kearney. Call (785)336-1017.

Roommate

ROOMMATE WANTED-Split utilities. One block from Please call for info (785)

ROOMMATE WANTED per month plus one-third caroom available in May Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu.

310

Two-bedroom house fully furnished, heated, garage, $300/ month plus phone. Available now. (785)494-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1st. Subleaser wanted for three-bed-room apartment. All utilities paid. One block from campus. Call (785)539-0543.

trash paid. (785)565-READY NOW! March paid utilities. Nice place. Close to Call evenings (784)770-8504. SUBLEASERS NEEDED for ble plus utilities. Please call (785)770-3140. APARTMENT

SUMMER SUBLEASE One bedroom in a three-bedroom

SUMMER SUBLEASERS campus, $270/ month each employment/

Help Wanted

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-(800)293-3985 ext. 548

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualisex, military status, disanational origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Hall, (785)587-2441.

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977-

ACCOUNTING POSITION

12th and Laramie. BARTENDERS NEEDED!

Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Designers Wanted. (785)830-0367 available at Girls summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Counfors and many other posi-ns. June 1- August 4. Call for application 1extension 800-352-6133 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home. Help Wanted

ROOMMATE WANTED: CAMP WOOD YMCA, Elmdale, KS. Seeking energetic Summer Camp Counselors. washer/ dryer, wonderful Program Directors, Water-neighborhood. Pets allowed! front and Wrangler staff. (620)273-8641 or campwood@buildognet.com

amg3553@ksu.edu

Sublease

145

Roommate

Wanted

ONE-BEDROOM lease or sublease for sum mer. Close to campus, big bedroom, new carpet, extra storage closet, balcony. Wa-0117 for! One-bedroom available. $240/ month, one-third of sity Commons apartment.

SUMMER sublease Two bedroom, one and one-half bath, close to campus. (785)323-0608, (913)681-2480.

apartment. $250/ month plus one-third utilities. Lease ends July 31. (785)770-3167.

wanted for nice two-bed-room apartment close to Call Kirsten or Julianne at

opportunities

IF YOU'LL be close to Kansas City this st are interested in a great job with the potential to make a lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters You'll have fun working outside and with your friends. If interested, please call (888)CPP-97US. For more information including job descriptions, visit www.collegepro.com!

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are adsuch employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension

No experience necessary. Flexible hours. Wage based

Earn up to $250/ day. Will Call (866)291-1884

CAMP STAFF positions

mployment with traveling custom combining crew Farm or truck experience preferred. Can help you get Commercial Driver's cense. You can keep nearly all your earnings. Fall em-ployment possible. Details call Brad at (785)395-5491 or Mark at (620)356-4236. Mark Heil Harvesting.

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions availa-ble, great benefits. Seasonal or year ro (941)329-6434 or nity Employer. cruisecareers.com.

FRATERNITIES. SORORI-CLUBS* STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Campusfundraiser.com three fundraising event. Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campusfundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

JOHNSON COUNTY Sum ner help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recre-ation Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5.

MASS COMMUNICATIONS Instructor: One semester sabbatical replacement, to teach classes, advise students, supervise production cants must be friendly, outof the student newspaper going and motivated, and perform other duties de-tailed on the job description Qualifications: Masters De-gree in Journalism/ Mass fields of journalism and/ or CESSION STAND AND mass communications GIFT SHOP MANAGER service Communications or related plicants will be accepted un Community college teaching experience desirable, high school or other college teaching experience acceptable. Position available Au-gust 19, 2002. Application week, including weekends, gust 19, 2002. Application week, including weekends, review will begin immediate-ty. Position to remain open including Memorial Week-until filled. Detailed job de-end and Labor Day (week-scription, and scription and application consist of letter of applica-SSSS SUMMER JOBS SSSS tion, resume, transcripts and Responsible for managing 9 names, addresses and tele- seasonal concessions going and motivated, self cation materials will be reaccounting skills. Prior food Dodge City Community Colhelpful. Closing Date: Ap> tfredrick@dccc.cc.ks.us, (620)227-9386. Equal Opportunity Employer

NEED SUMMER Harvest bines 2388's and New Auto-Need Commercial Drivers Provide room

FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau tiful Maine Counselors to at (785)587-2446 - a-mail baseball, basketball, water jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us or biking, archery, and more Ave. Equal opportunity emsummer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com SUMMER IN CHICAGO

CivicPlus, a leader in provid-services, has an opening for mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program ming experience required perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 days of employment Com petitive salary plus health, 401(k) and paid vacation. E-mail resume in Microsoft jobs@civicplus.com EOE. SALES. LOCAL Company is looking for a money-moti vated inside satespersor with a proven history of cluding quota over achieve ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year of more E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com.

STRUCTORS. Instructors needed to teach area high school students in science, technology, and foreign lan-guage. Applicants must be MS/ Grad students or Board of Education certified. Sub mit resume and three letters of references to : Carmen Suite 1. Interviews begin

BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Please visit http:// li_chungwang.tripod.com. TANNING BED WOLFF Series IV- 424SL $3,100, asking price $1,800.

idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley County is an Equal Opportu-Automobiles 987 OLDSMOBILE Calais 140,000 miles, front-wheel drive, needs little work. SPRING/ SUMMER SEA-SONAL. Starting Salaries: $1,200 or best offer. Call various (seasonal positions (785)539-5252. Leave a Oaks Sports Complex is schmitzholly@yahoo.com 1989 TOYOTA Camry, autoworkers. Theater positions matic, four-door, music director, stage manlocks and windows, $2300.

transportation

1995 FIREBIRD 350. NICE. 90K. $7995 or best offer

HONDAS FROM $500! (800)719-3001 7536

530 1

Motorcycles

1992 KATANA, Good shape. great. (785)770-8594

1984 HONDA SABRE 700cc, V4. Low mileage, ex cellent condition looks great. Asking $1100. Call (785)341-8054 or (785)776-

630 Break

www.sunchase.com

ClassifiedRATES

1.800.SUNCHASE

1 DAY 20 words or less

$7.50

each word over 20

20¢ per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less $8.80

each word over 20

25¢ per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less $10.35 each word over 20

30¢ per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45 each word over 20 35¢ per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20 40¢ per word

( consecutive day rate )

TO PLACE AN AD Go to Kedzie 103 (across from the K-State Student Union).

Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly

THREE AND Four-bed Media Practicum coms close to campus. We ter and trash paid. (785)537-THREE-BEDROOM WALK OUT basement apartment Central air, washer/ dryer off-street parking. Three campus (785)336-2784. THREE-BEDROOM.

Application deadline Friday, April 19.

ing a personal LEARN TO FLYN K-State

Flying Club has five air-planes lowest rates For incall (785)456

Apts. Furnished meet people. Eam $15 $30 an hour. Day, even or weekend classes available. Job placement assis-tance, $199 with student ID son equal opportunity www.bartendingcollege.com ry status, disability, LAW Charles W (Chuck) Harpe (785)539-8100 (785)587-2440. SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-LATIONSHIPS just got eas-August 1, $300, 539-3638.

We require a form of pic

cense or other) when plac parking furnished or unfur nished Available June 1

we kick

sex, familial status, milita origin or ancestry. Viola tions should be reported to the Director of Human at City Hall,

Personals

4814 assures every pertion on account of race

Manhattan City Ordinance housing without distincgion, age, color, national

AdvertisE LOST EYEGLASSES in (785)395-4696 Graphic Design Internship

Would you like to have some creative input in the appearance of ads in the Kansas State Collegian? If you are a graphic design major and would like an on-campus fall 2002 internship for credit, stop by for an

is required. Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information.

You can earn class credit for working with the ad design/ production staff on the Kansas State Collegian during fall semester 2002. Limited enrollment. The instructor's permission is required. No prerequisites are necessary.

Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information.

Class Al The Commons" housing real estate

Tennis Volleyball Court

One-bedroom studio fur-nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

Office Hours: M-F 9-5 539-0500 INIVERSITY

APARTMENTS -110 B For Rent-

neroy, $330 deposit. Wa ter and trash paid. (785)456

Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom

Advertising Design

application. Prerequisites must be met and instructor's permission

The experience you gain in the fall could qualify you to apply for a paid, part-time position the following semester.

MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR 145 FIRST STOP. One. Three-bedrooms. (785)539-cial Requirements:

nue, Dodge City, Kansas 6 7 8 0 1

tain Commercial Drivers Li Call (785)689-4660.

PROGRAMMER

BUDWEISER WOMEN of

Help Wanted

SEASONAL WORKERS. Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal workers. Several positions Works and Parks Depart er's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs required. Experience in construction, con-CONSIDER THIS: Good nance, traffic flagging, tree and turf maintenance, and mowing 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by contacting the Department of Administrative Services, Division of Human Resources located at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more information call (785)565-6464, or e-mail to on-benefit eligible).

agers, choreographer, costumer, piano acco instructor aides. Little Apple Day Camp counse Fun in the Sun Special Populations Day Camp coordi nator and counselors, and youth arts and crafts in tors among others. Closing Date: Applications will be accepted until positi STAND AND GIFT SHOP ATTENDANTS. Starting Salary: $5,15/ hour. (seasonal part-lime, non-benefit eligible). Special Requirements: Must be able to work weekends, some evenings and holidays in-cluding Memorial Weekend and Labor Day (weekend hours March- May and September- November and daily hours May- August) Position Requirements: Appli starters with fundamental accounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience helpful. Closing Date: Starting Salary : $5.70 hour. (seasonal part-time non-benefit eligible) Spe end hours March- May and September- November and daily hours May- August) Position Requirements:

ash register, welcome vis Shift Schedule: Must be able to work a flexible Mondays, weekends and eve Closing 03/14/02. To be considered for an available position, yo nust complete a City Manhattan application and return it to us by 5 p.m. on the closing date. For applicants or more information www.ci.manhattan.ks.us/hr/ obs.asp - call the Job Line

Attendant. Starting salary

$5.30/ hour (part-time). Po loving, non-smoker (847)501-5354 WANTED guide tourists and horses rough the Rocky Moun Come work for the North America.

www.sambrero.com or write

Boulder, CO 80301.

Opportunities

Business

0454.

keeping for suburban Chica

Responsible

fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable cauour readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

(785)539-7479 or email kadean@kscable.com

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggiev

for sale. One of the top

Kansas. For portfolio call

marke

Publications Inc.

HOW TO PAY All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student

classify any ad.

Preparation can make break enjoyable

BY MICHAEL LAWRENCE

Kansus State Collegian

Traveling during spring break might be fun, said Clark Peters, assistant manager at the Pathlinder, but there is nothing like misjudging the

Peters said it is important to bring not only summer clothing to a spring break trip, but also winter clothing.

"Weather can go either way, even in Florida," Peters said. "You'll have more fun if you dress appropriately."

Peters said in order to prepare for potential weather mishaps, he advises students to conduct Internet research on the location before travel.

Travis Schram, junior in marketing, said he forgot to check the weather before his trip to Key West, Fla., last year. He said he did not realize how sunny it was going to be and did not take extra precautions.

"I got fried the first day because I didn't put on enough sunscreen." Schram said.

He said all vacationers should use sunscreen or they may suffer from severe weather conditions.

Sunglasses are another safeguard against the sun, Peters said, and they are an absolute must for a spring

While being outdoors is the essence of a good spring break trip. packing smartly will make things even

When packing for the trip, Peters said vacationers can not trust anything except the reliability of a good resealable bag. "Assume anything that can spill, will," he said. "Put it all in a Ziplock bag so it doesn't."

Peters also said bringing a couple of trash bags may prove valuable "You can use them for just about anything," he said. People either can store trash or other items they wish to remain dry, he said, or they can even use them as a poncho. Students planning to fly to their spring break destinations have other things to worry about, Schram said.

Students must take extra precautions, he said, where toothbrushes are concerned.

"Put a toothbrush on carry-on," he said, "because I got bumped off my flight at Key West.

He said putting a toothbrush in checked luggage could be the last time a passenger sees it for a while.

Spring break is a memorable experience, but forgetting to bring a camera, Peters said, might be mistake.

"You may not be able to find one where you're at," he said. "Sometimes a thing like that is hard to find."

Photo Illustration by Nicole Donnert and Drew Rose/Collegian Spring break begins Monday for students at K-State, leaving them various options on where to travel and how to spend their week.

COATS

Continued from page 11

of the customers. When Sarah worked she didn't get respect like a male bouncer," Fritsch, senior in psychology and history, said. "Eventually I was like, 'This is wrong. It's driving her up the wall and starting to drive me up the wall."

Coats was acting within her power and did not do anything that would get her fired, Denney said. However, that doesn't mean that she followed employee

"It's employee policy that if anybody gets thrown out, that whoever's in charge at the time is told," he said. "Although she violated employee policy, I think she would have eventually worked herself into the job. She would have got to know the regulars and everything probably would have been OK.

Fritsch said Denney's reaction to this incident was purely about the business.

Realistically, he treated her unfair, but what I think he was doing was good business practice," he said. "I don't think what he was doing was right, but he was looking out for the business."

The incident with Coats didn't affect Denney's opinion of a female's ability to work the door.

"They can probably do a better job," he said. "Here at Auntie Mae's we don't have many problems. If you just do a good job of greeting people, then usually everyone has a good time."

Even after what happened at Auntie Mae's, Coats said she would still consider working in a

"It's wrong to blame all bars for one experience," she said. "I am willing to believe bars and people in general are good and respectful."

Being a female working the door is difficult because it's shocking to most people. Coats said she would encourage females to take up this sort of

"There's nothing a woman can't do: I think we proved that in the sixties," she said. "However, I do warn any woman that would try to go into that line of work that there is a lot of adversity to deal with and you better be willing to trade that in for the $5.15 an hour."

Kansas State Collegian Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

www.kstatecollegian.com

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

we kick ads.

CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

AKPsi Business Fraternity Golf Tournament April 6, 2002 Rolling Meadows Golf Course

$180 per team, 4 players on each team. Includes green Fees, Cart, and Lunch Hole in One Contest- 2-night/3 day trip Other Prizes to be awarded as well Call 776-5180

Open the Latest 770-3333 Campus Special Med 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5,99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

Choose Your Favorite Mix & Match Separates To Make The Perfect Fitting Swimsuit From Hobie!

> · Each separate is available in sizes Juniors S-L

Dillard's

MANHATTAN

SHOP OUR GREAT SELECTION OF SPRING BREAK SWIMWEAR!

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 14, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 115 www.kstatecollegian.com travel to

Trading turf

Zach Long/Collegian

Wagner Field is being prepared for a new playing surface. Bayer Construction of Manhattan is removing components of the old turf setup. They removed the astro turf and are scraping away the old layers that were under it. Wagner Field will be fitted with a grass-like surface called Field Turf.

Athletic officials replace Wagner Field's turf

BY KETRA SCHONBRUN

hen the 2002 football season starts, KSU Stadium's Wagner Field will be looking like new K-State athletic officials decided to replace the 11-year-old artificial turf with the newest technology in artificial surfaces.

When the K-State football department and the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics sat down to decide what turf was going to replace the old surface, many things were taken into account, said Casey Scott, associate athletic director of opera-

The biggest factor in deciding on FieldTurf, which is made by Nike, was that everyone in the athletic department and the football program had heard only positive things about it, Scott said.

The other option they considered was a very similar turf called AstroPlay, which is what the University of Kansas has on its football field. In the end, the K-State players, coaches and athletic department went with FieldTurf because of all the positive experiences people have had with the turf, Scott said.

According to the FieldTurf Web site, www.FieldTurf.com, the surface is a safe alternative to older surfaces. The blades of grass are made of synthetic fibers, and a sand and rubber infill mixed within the blades helps produce a safe surface for

The technology is safe because it plays like real grass but does not get torn up like

Tuff turf facts	This is a brea	kdown of the field base material.
Maket Branch And Branch Block Balletin	Hybrid fiber	Specially treated to be soft, smooth and strong
	Fleidturf infill	Provides real grass playing qualities
	Geotextile	Helps stop washout in heavy rains
智能通過	Choke stone	A ground-up, smaller size of stone
The state of the	Open graded stone	Larger stone to help with drainage and the second	Natural soil	Good old Kansas dirt

Source: www.fleldturf.com

Renee McDaniel/Collegian

natural grass does over time, according to www.FieldTurf.com. This turf also lets the athletes' cleats to penetrate, rotate and release, reducing motion-related injuries.

The turf replacement project will cost around $800,000, Scott said. The money the university is using is a part of state bonding

The process already has begun, but it's hard to tell if the project will be finished in time to have Spring Game on Wagner Field,

"Our goal is to have the field substantially completed in time to have Spring Game in the stadium on April 27," Scott

He has been working with FieldTurf International Inc., the contractors, and K-State in organizing this project.

The first step in the turf replacement process is to remove the old turf and the crown of the field from 30 to eight inches and installing new drainage tiles will begin. The crown is a little hill that allows water to drain off the field and can help speed up The third step will begin the process of Next, the process of leveling off the asphalt that is directly under the turf.

installing the turf. The layers, in order, will consist of dirt, crushed rock, a sand base and finally the actual turf. The turf will be rolled into strips and sewn together.

Scott said the turf will never have to be painted. The yard-line markings, end zones, the Wildcat at the 50-yard line and other things that would have been painted will be tufted into the turf. Tufting is where each blade is dyed and then sewn into the turf according to the design.

See TURF on PAGE 12

Tribunal orders new presidential election

BY SARAH RICE

Kunsus State Collegian

Student Tribunal decided Tuesday night to hold a new election for the position of student body president and vice president after the elections committee refused to certify the results.

On Monday night.

elections committee members decided they did not feel comfortable certifying the results for the presidential position to send for adoption by Student Senate. Kyle Barker, student body president, and Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, both wrote letters to appeal for interpretation by the tribunal.

In his letter, Barker pointed out that the elections code requires that a write-in option be provided, while another statute requires a majority of votes cast for the winner, or more than 50 percent.

"The statues seem to be in conflict, especially in a very close election for SBP/VP," Barker said in his letter to the tribunal. "If write-ins are allowed for SBP/VP in the general election, there could be a result that the top vote-getter did not receive majority of votes (especially in a very close election), yet there is no provision for a subsequent election to decide a winner."

In his letter of appeal, Conrad expressed his concerns with the general election and requested a new election be ordered.

"Due to online balloting errors, it is unknown whether voters correctly submitted their votes for the race of SBP/VP." Conrad said in his letter.

He also said in his letter that the narrow margin of votes between the candidates increased the probability that there was an error in the results and many students filed complaints indicating they could not submit their

The tribunal directed that the new election be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 27. The only choices on the ballot, which again will be conducted through online vendor iBallot.com, will be Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles, Zac Cook and Todd Kohman, or abstain. Write-in votes will not be an option, Conrad said.

In their testimony to the tribunal. Wolters and Achilles argued the difficulties with the election affected all candidates.

"This analogy explains the situation we are considering," Wolters and Achilles said in a transcript of their testimony. "Both teams knew the rules going in. The day of the game it was raining, the wind was ELECTIONS blowing and the field was muddy. However, both > teams were still on the same field, and both teams played by the rules. The score still counts.

Cook and Kohman presented points outlined in their letter of contestment, but focused on students being denied the right to vote.

"Due to the balloting process provided by the elections committee through the online vendor, a number of

See REVOTE on PAGE 8

Kansas act violated by decision to close meeting

BY SARAH BAHARI Kansas State Collagian

Tuesday's closed student tribunal meeting to decide whether to revote the presidential election violated the Kansas Open Meetings Act, University Attorney Dick Seaton said Wednesday.

"We are of the opinion that it should not have been closed," he said.

Adviser Scott Jones and Attorney General Tara Hull denied a Collegian request to open the meeting to the public, citing the Student Governing Association's constitution. It states that a meeting is closed unless the respondent, the party who the complaint is brought against, requests an open hearing. In this case, the respondent was the election committee.

The constitution also says that "all information regarding the case shall be kept confidential, unless the case has an overriding interest to the university community." However, Jones said that clause did not factor into the decision.

Jones admitted the tribunal was wrong to close the meeting and has provided the Collegian with tapes of the hearing.

"We felt based on experience, procedures and policies, it should have been closed," he said. "It appears now we should have given access. This is the most appropriate thing to do."

According to state law, deliberations were the only part that should have been closed.

See MEETING on PAGE 12

Double roundabout proposed to fix traffic problems at 3rd Street intersection

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansus State Collegian

Would a double roundabout solve parking problems at Manhattan's worst intersection?

A coalition of Third Street business and property owners say

Roundahouts at the intersections of Third Street and Bluemont Avenue, and Tuttle Creek Bouleyard and Bluemont Avenue would solve traffic problems and keep businesses alive, said McDonald's franchise owner Clark Linders. The double roundabout is a response to the original $2.5million proposal that left business owners and residents up in arms four weeks ago because of a median down Bluemont, blocking left-hand turns onto Third Street.

There's no doubt that businesses would suffer if a median cut off access from Bluemont onto Third Street," Linders said. "It would kill us."

"Slower speeds would filter vehicles through the intersection, and it would almost completely eliminate the number of fatalities."

Marty Matthews, KDOT public information officer

The issue was tabled in a City Commission meeting because of concerns about increased traffic on Vattier and Fourth streets and cutting off access to Third Street businesses.

"Ease of access is paramount for all real estate. That is why the double roundabout is a good idea," Linders said.

After hearing the concerns of the business owners, Jack Messer with HWS Consulting came up with the roundabout idea.

He said roundabouts are safer than signal-light intersections, are less expensive and typically handles traffic more efficiently.

HWS Consulting still is working on the proposal, but the estimated cost is $700,000. That would save the City $2 million.

City Engineer Scott Crain said he has seen a sketch of the proposal, but has not been able to take an in-depth look at the proposal.

He said the double roundabout could be the solution to the traffic problems.

"I have a great deal of confidence in Jack Messer, the engineer who set up the proposal," Crain said. "If he says it will work, it should work. We'll have to review it and come to our own conclusion."

benefits of the proposal pitched to City Commission soon. No time frame has been set at Linders said he hopes to see the Marty Matthews, public information officer, said the Kansas Department of Transportation representatives have not seen the double roundabout proposal, but they have heard about it and feel it is worth further investigation.

"We like the median because it offers access control, but roundabouts are also good, reducing crash points in intersections from 96 to eight," Matthews said. "Slower speeds would filter vehicles through the intersection, and it would almost completely eliminate the number of fatalities.

However, roundabouts are not the answer to every situation, he said.

While controversies usually stem when roundabouts are built, Matthews said problems would go away once roundabouts open.

They are as simple as understanding a yield sign, he said.

"Roundabouts may work with this situation, but we can't pass judgment until we've seen the design," Matthews said.

Michael Watson/Collegian

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

House endorses plan for congressional districts

TOPEKA — A redistricting bill that splits Lawrence between two congressional districts won a House committee's endorsement Wednesday.

The proposal was drafted by Republican leaders. It would split Lawrence between the 2nd and 3rd districts.

It would also extend the 1st District to the Missouri border in the north and put North Newton and parts of Harvey County into that district.

The plan would cost the only Democrat in the Kansas congressional delegation, Dennis Moore, of the 3rd, part of his political base.

The Redistricting Committee endorsed the plan on an unrecorded 12-9 vote. It discussed three other maps, including two that kept Lawrence whole, but those maps failed to win enough support.

Parents demand school board rectify situation

PIPER — Teachers and parents angry over a plagiarism controversy at Piper High School demanded Tuesday that school board members do something to rectify the situation.

The Piper Teachers Association and a parents group that organized recently implored the board to apologize, defend the district or resign.

The board is thought to have secretly agreed Dec. 11 to order teacher Christine Pelton to change the failing grades she planned to give 28 students she accused of plagiarism. Superintendent Michael Rooney gave Pelton the order the next day. Pelton immediately resigned.

KU withdraws invitation to author to speak on campus

LAWRENCE — The University of Kansas has withdrawn a speaking invitation to historian and author Doris Kearns Goodwin because she admitted plagiarizing passages from other authors' works.

But the university will proceed with plans to have historian David McCullough speak as part of its new Dole Institute of Politics Presidential Lecture Series, despite allegations that he misquoted Thomas Jefferson in one of his recent books.

Institute Director Richard Norton Smith said Tuesday her appearance was called off because of the controversy involving her book "The Fitzgeralds and the Kennedys."

NATION IN BRIEF

Navy SEAL killed fighting in Afghan awarded medal

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Navy SEAL killed after falling from a helicopter during battle in Afghanistan has been awarded the Bronze Star.

The medal honors the service of Petty Officer 1st Class Neil Roberts, 32. Officials gave the medal to Roberts' widow, Patricia, during a memorial service Monday, said Navy spokeswoman Lt, Cmdr. Dawn Cutler.

Roberts was among a group of special operations troops on a MH-47 Chinook helicopter hit by a rocketpropelled grenade March 4. They were part of Operation Anaconda, a drive to capture or kill al-Qaida and Taliban forces in a 60-square mile area of eastern Afghanistan.

Roberts fell out of the helicopter as it hurriedly left the scene of the grenade attack.

Lab worker infected testing samples in anthrax probe

ATLANTA — A Texas laboratory worker testing specimens from last fall's anthrax attacks contracted the skin form of the disease, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reported Wednesday.

Officials declined to identify the lab worker, but said he is being treated with antibiotics and is recovering from the infection.

"We don't know how this person became infected in the lab," CDC spokesman Tom Skinner said. "It's something that we're continuing to look into. We're sure that he got it in the lab; we just don't know how."

It was the first confirmed case of anthrax infection in the United States since November.

ATTACK DEVELOPMENTS

- U.S. and Afghan troops pursued al-Qaeda fighters Wednesday after seizing control of the Shah-e-Kot valley in a 12-day battle in which coalition forces claimed that hundreds of enemy fighters died.
- Women and children were among 14 people killed in a U.S. airstrike in eastern Afghanistan last week, military officials said Tuesday. Their vehicle was attacked by two U.S. fighter jets on the morning of March 6.
- After days of official silence, the U.S. military confirmed Tuesday it is holding 12 people seized recently in western Afghanistan. The Army said the nationalities of the detainees were unclear.
- Recovery workers pulled the remains of 11 firefighters and two civilians from the wreckage of the World Trade Center on Tuesday.
- Six months after two terrorists died in the World Trade Center attack, the Florida flight school where they trained has received their student visa approval forms from the government.
- Homeland Security chief Tom Ridge announced a color-coded system designed to grade terror warnings. The new system ranks threats by colors, starting with green at the bottom and followed by blue, yellow, orange and red as perceived dangers intensify.

Jodi Stotts, graduate student in nutrition, hopes to continue her education after getting her master's degree.

Drew Rose/Collegian

GTA provides nutritional information with students

BYTINA DEINES

Kansas State Collegian

hat started out as a mere interest in high school turned out to be a career path for graduate teaching assistant Jodi Stotts.

Stotts, who is working on her master's in nutrition, assists instructor Sharon Morcos in her Basic Nutrition class.

With more than 400 students in the class, Stotts said that lecturing sometimes can be a difficult task.

"It's a challenge just learning to present in front of that many people. Also, with that many people, it's hard to figure out if everyone's grasping the concepts," Stotts said.

But, she said, the most important thing she wants to get across to students is how their nutritional habits can affect them.

"My goal is that they understand that their diets can play a part in disease prevention," Stotts said. "If they can understand that, I am satisfied with my work."

She also said she would like to provide information for students that will aid them in making better choices.

"I hope they feel like they have the tools and resources so that they can be intelligent consumers," she said.

Although she said she was apprehensive about becoming a GTA. Stotts said the experience has been positive.

"I would say it's been a wonderful experience for me," she said. "I've grown personally and professionally working with Sharon. I've had a constant mentor there."

She also added that being a GTA has sparked an interest for teaching.

"I never thought that I would like teaching, but now that I've had a chance to get my feet wet with it, I think I'd enjoy having my own classroom," Stotts said.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu.by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

■ KSU Club Softball plays Jamestown College at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. today at Optimist Park in Manhattan.

■ Career and Employment Services will conduct an Experiential Learning Orientation Workshop at 3:30 p.m. today in Holtz Hall. Call 532-6506 for reservations.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel tocks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Calvert K

Claffin

Davies

Demel

Ferran

Hays

Riley County Tuesday, March 12

At 11:10 a.m., Ron Duncan, 831
Leavenworth, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $2,000.

■ At 2:30 p.m., Harry Salt, 3309 Anderson, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $1,500. ■ At 2:40 p.m., Robert Williams, 212

N. Fifth Street, Apt. 5, was arrested for criminal threat. Bond was set at $5,000.

■ At 4:15 p.m., Jai Mathews, 1009 Colorado, was arrested for aggravated battery and criminal threat. Bond was set at $5,000.

Wednesday, March 13

■ At 1:26 a.m., Kristen Baker, 2215
College Ave., was arrested for DUI.
Bond was set at $750.
■ At 1:56 a.m., Michael Duncan, Warnego, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $1,500.
■ At 2:15 a.m., Madoka ito, 2115

At 2:15 a.m., Madoka Ito, 2115

Elm Lane, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at $3,000.

K-State Police

■ No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts

April Middleton

Managing Edi

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Nico Asst

Nicole Donnert
Asst. Photo

Alyson Raletz

Dana Strongin

Paul Restivo

City/Gov Editor

Dan Smith Sports Edit

JJ Duncan A&E Editor

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

Amber Koehn Jodi Fagerquist
Opinion Editor Ad Manager

Opinion Editor Ad Manager

Katie Lane Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

eCollegian Editor

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

CONTACT US

BY MAIL

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

(USPS 201 020), a student newspaper at Kautas State Inoversity, is published by Studern Publications Inc., keetzie 103. Marstattan, Kan. 06500. The Collegian is published weekslays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer Periodical postage is paid at Mantattan, Kan. 18202. PSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian Corrolation sless. Keetzie 1935. Manhattan, Kan. 166005-7107.

© Kansas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Ramblers STEAK HOUSE E SALOON

Thursday Night Specials

12 oz. USDA Choice Top Sirloin Choice of potato, salad and dinner roll all for $7.99 + tax

"The Couples Special"
2 complete dinners for only $14.99 + tax
8711 E. Hwy. 24 539-4989

AEACongratulations Alpha Xi Deltas AEA on your 3.5 or up fall GPAI Andreas Armbrister Bahrier Berry Brownback Calver, J. Ladner AEACongratulations Alpha Xi Deltas AEA McKenzie. D. Margati Morgati Morgati Morgati Robben Robben Robben Ryan Sells

LeGrand

Lieurance

Long

Malone, C. Malone, S.

Mason

McIver

St. Patrick's T-shirt

S GREEN BEER stadium cup

Need Money for College?

Receive up to $52,000 or more

The cost of college is going up, up, up. A regular paycheck and educational incentives can help you pay your way. Best of all, you work part-time. So, you can go to college and keep your social life while you serve your community and country. Call us now to see if you're eligible at 861-4295 or toll free 1-800-435-5149 or

Located in Topeka, KS.

Fuel Your Future

Air National Guard

KANSAS

www.goang.com

Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do.

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS — Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. I. I staffstudent ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR, SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Salary $34,585 — $48,628, based on education & experience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at dcooper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. EFO/fM/E

8700 Bass 29th Surest Note th - Wiches, KS 67226 (800) 835-1041 - har (316) 634-0535 www.hoartspring.org

WANTED:

People to test a new broadband mobile Internet service

Manet Mobile Networks is looking for testers to evaluate a new, broadband wireless Internet service that works with laptop and desktpp PCs. Download music, video and access anything on the Internet anywhere in the greater Manhattan area, without a cable or phone linet

Modern and service are provided at NO

COST to those who qualify during the test. You will also be compensated for your feedback.

You must be 18 years or older and have a Windows 98 or 2000 laptop or desktop PC with CD-ROM drive and USB port. It's Fast, It's Mobile.

BE ONE

OF THE

▶ Broadband

speeds

▶ Complete

Internet

Always on

connection

Mobile access

Manhattan

anywhere in .

experience

CALL 1-866-286-6638
or visit www.monetmobile.com/beta

Residence hall occupants keep variety of pets in rooms

BY KAREN MIKOLS

Kansus State Collegian

Most living creatures in the residence halls have two legs. But some have four. Others have none.

Pets living in a college room can range from small and furry to scaly and exotic.

Some residents wanted to sprout their own wings during college and find a unique animal to keep them

Marlatt Hall multicultural assistant Dominic Gelinas decided to spice up his room with a pet this year. The junior in computer science shopped around, and eventually decided on a ball python named Fury.

"I didn't want any kinds of rodent because they smell," he said. "You can't play with fish, and birds can be noisy. So I was left with reptiles."

One door down from Fury lives Lenny the chameleon.

"Chameleons are different." Ron Finney, sophomore in architecture, said. "Hamsters seem boring to me. You can have a hamster when you're a little kid and live with your parents."

To accommodate Lenny, Finney and his girlfriend built a cage instead of investing in an expensive aquarium.

There are several rules regarding pets in the residence halls, said Derek Jackson, assistant director of housing and dining services in resident's life.

Animals that live in containers are permitted, but they must be noiseless, odorless and disease free.

Roommate approval also is required.

"We can't intervene with pets," said Sisa Olander, resident assistant in Moore Hall. "It's like raising a child you can't tell them what to do."

Exotic animals are fun, but Justin Brewster, freshman in mechanical engineering, said there are setbacks to having Spike, his bearded dragon.

"It costs quite a bit of money to feed him," Brewster said. "I'll spend eight to $10 a week on crickets, plus I had to get a bigger aquarium because he grew.

Pets can add flavor to a room, but they also can create tension.

Erin Wood's roommate had a 6and-a-half-foot, red-tailed boa constrictor in their room in West Hall.

"People on our floor just don't understand," said Wood, freshman in animal science/pre-vet. "They see gory movies and get horrible ideas of snakes and all snakes get the same reputation.

"If they are treated properly, snakes are more docile than cats."

The snake went back to the roommate's home because it needed closer heat regulation and was drawing more attention than the roommates were willing to deal with.

Many pets in the halls are exotic, but some are more traditional.

Cookie is not scaly and does not slither. The Dutch rabbit hops around Heather Stokes' room.

Stokes, senior in marketing, said she gave her pets away before she came to college, only to inherit the rabbit from a friend of a friend.

"I thought it'd be too much trouble to bring my hamsters," she said. "I didn't want to offend my roommate."

Since Stokes has her own room, she decided to adopt Cookie.

She said she enjoys Cookie hopping around but noticed that Cookie makes his own messes. He was shedding and sometimes left pellets on the carpet.

"After I got Cookie, my boyfriend got me a vacuum cleaner," Stokes said. "It isn't a very romantic gift, but it

Ron Finney, sophomore in architecture, holds his chameleon, Lenny. He built a cage for his room so Lenny could live at

Gasoline prices reach 5-month high

BY SHANNON HARTENSTEIN Kansas State Collegian

With spring break on the way and K-State sporting events drawing fans to Manhattan, travelers might find their wallets even emptier after filling up their gas tanks this week. Manhattan gas prices have risen to about $1.25 per gallon for self-serve regular gasoline.

In the last month, AAA reported an increase of 9.5 cents per gallon nationwide to average $1.215 per gallon, the highest price for selfserve regular gasoline since November 8.

Just one month ago, the nationwide average price of self-serve regular gasoline was $1.12 per

Most of the increase occurred in the last two weeks, AAA said.

With the added cost of filling up their tanks, many consumers are left wondering what's to blame, and some said it could change travel plans.

Ray Stone, sophomore in education, said the increased prices could keep some students from fulfilling their spring break

"A couple of us have a trip to Montana planned for the end of spring break. I think the prices could cause major problems for us, especially when it's almost a 19-hour drive," Stone said.

"We don't even know what gas prices will be in Nebraska and

But many local gas station managers said they disagree.

Felicia Zeedyk, Texaco Food Mart manager, said she doesn't see a correlation between rising prices and student travels.

"I don't think it has anything to do with Spring Break," Zeedyk said. "The demand here stays the same all the time. Other speculations include

"All I've heard from the person who's tells us to change them is that it has to do with the war," said Megan Jensen, Wildcat Amoco manager. "I've heard rumors that some refinery was blown up or had threats of being blown up."

AAA said war tension has pushed crude oil prices to about $24 per barrel.

Jensen said Wildcat Amoco's prices have risen to $1.25 for regular unleaded and increase by 10 cents for each grade above. Previous prices ranged in the teens, she said.

Nationwide, AAA said the rebounding economy and industry predictions might have contributed to rapid price increases

Some blends of reformulated gasoline, which aren't required at gas pumps until June 1, might be in short supply this summer, AAA

Fate of Illinois Indian mascot undecided

BY JASON STRAIT

The Associated Press

URBANA, III. - A University of Illinois trustee said Wednesday that supporters and opponents of Chief Illiniwek are so divided over the school's mascot that no compromise between them is possible.

Roger Plummer, the university trustee appointed last May to explore the dispute, presented the findings from his nine-month study to the full Board of Trustees.

The board said the mascot should stay or be retired, but did not offer any recommendation and the board took no action. Plummer said the trustees would discuss the report before making any decision on the mascot's fate.

Plummer said he interviewed both sides and found that any compromise would leave both unhappy.

He said changes could be made to make the mascot less offensive to opponents, but that supporters would not stand for altering the image or eliminating Illiniwek's ceremonial dances.

"The polar opposites could never be reconciled and the dialogue sessions ... have made that fact crystal clear," Plummer

Chief Illiniwek appears on team logos and performs dances at athletic events modeled on ceremonial Indian dances. Many American Indians say the mascot is an offensive caricature of their people and culture, but supporters say the 75-year-old mascot honors the Indians who inhabited Illinois.

The mascot has been booed at athletic events by a handful of protesters and rarely travels with the team because of the controversy. One Illinois fan was arrested for shouting anti-Chief slogans at a basketball game earlier in the Most of the 13 trustees including Plummer - expressed strong support for the mascot at a meeting a year ago, but some called for further study. Two trustees spoke in favor of retiring the chief.

Illiniwek first performed at an Illinois football game in 1926, and trustees made the Chief the official university symbol in 1990.

Monviolence

#51 ADVOCACY

When someone stands up to violence, says Thich Nhat Hanh, "a force for change is released. Every action for peace requires someone to exhibit the courage to challenge violence and inspire love."

Today be an ally. Without blaming or judging others, speak out for those who are

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by The Crisis Center, Inc. and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

Kansas State University-Ft. Riley Class Schedule Term 3-2002 March 25-May 17, 2002

1984

	Course	Credit	Bidg/
Course Title	Number	Hours	Room
Principles/Microeconomics (P)	ECON 120	3	7656/12
Family Relations/ Gender Roles (P)	FSHS 350	3	7656/4
Human Development & Aging (P)	FSHS 510	3	7656/16
College Algebra (P)	MATH 100		7656/8
Health Psychology (P)	PSYCH 518		215/230

Monday/Wednesday 1730-2000 Bus & Econ Stats I (P) STAT 350 3 7656/11

Monday/Wednesday 2000-2230 Accounting for Invest ACCTG 241 3 7656/12 & Finance (P) Intermediate/Macro (P) 7656/11 General Psychology PSYCH 110 3 7656/8 Police & Society (P) SOCIO 362 3 7656/16 SPCH 321 Public Speaking II (P) 7656/4

Business & Econ Stats II (P) STAT 351

Tuesday/Thursday 1730-2000 ENGL 200 3 7604/5 Expository Writing II (P) Human Geography GEOG 200 7604/7 Plane Trigonometry (P) MATH 150 7656/11 MUSIC 245 Intro to American Music 217/B6 Intro to Social & Political Philo PHILO 135 7656/8 Intro to Political Science 7656/4 POLSC 110 3

Tuesday/Thursday 2000-2230 The Short Story

search Methods (P)

ENGL 320 7656/16 Helping Relationships (P) FSHS 301 7604/7 The Family (P) FSHS 550 7656/12 Environ Geol: Water & Air 217/B6 GEOL 115 Kansas Politics & Governme POLSC 321 7656/4 Public Speaking I SPCH 106 7656/8 Intro to Women's Studies WOMST 105 3

Monday/Wednesday 1730-2000 & Saturday 0830-1030 Intro. To Info. Tech. CIS 101 215/B35 March 26-April 6, 2002 Spreadsheet Applications (P) CIS 102 1 215/B35 April 9-April 20, 2002

Database Applications (P) CIS 103 215/B35 April 23-May 4, 2002 Word Processing Applic's (P) CIS 104 1 215/B35 May 7-May 18, 2002

Tuesday/Thursday 2000-2230 & Saturday 0900-1200 Environmental Geography II (P) GEOG 221 4

Tuesday/Thursday 1730-2000 & Saturday 1000-1200

SOCIO 520 4

Civilian enrollments are being held before classes start in order to ensure Fort Riley access for the first night(s) of class. Make sure you include your

Enrollment Information

· Military enrollment begins February 19, 2002. Civilian enrollment will be held March 18-25, 2002. · Civilian online, telephone, or fax enrollment · begins on the second day of civilian enrollment. A Privacy Act Statement with an original signature must be received for the enrollment to be official. . Enrollment after the first week of classes requires instructor/department approval.

· Military using Tuition Assistance must be enrolled before second class meeting. · Military enrollment includes active duty military, retired military, reserve components, family members, DOD/DAC, ROTC Cadets and $102.00 per undergraduate credit hour.

100% refund if you drop in writing before the second class meeting.

50% refund if you drop in writing on or before April Withdrawals after April 12, 2002 will be recorded on your transcript

If you stop attending class and do not process a drop form you will receive a grade of "F".

No drops after May 3, 2002.

Course/Schedule Notes 0830-1030=8:30 am-10:30 am 0900-1200=9:00 am-12:00 noon 1000-1200=10:00am-12:00 noon

1730-2000=5:30-8:00 pm

2000-2230=8:00-10:30 pm NOTE: Times shown at laft reflect recent schedule changes which supercede any already published in the brochure or prior ads.

PLEASE CHECK WITH OUR OFFICE JUST PRIOR TO CLASSES STARTING FOR POSSIBLE CHANGES IN THE SCHEDULE!!!!!!!

Special Assistance

Kansas State University is dedicated to making academic courses accessible to all persons. Contact the Registration Office at (785)532-5566 or 1-800-432-8222 at least two weeks prior to the beginning of the course it you have a physical or learning disability which would require special accommodations

For information, call: 239-8246 at Fort Riley, 532-5566 at the Division of Continuing Education in Manhattan, or 1-800-432-8222 in the surrounding area.

Thursday, March 14, 2002

oul White criticizes the Supreme Court's actions in handling Election 2000. Lorena Barboza points out (in both English and Spanish) the many effects science and technology have on human life. Visit www.kstatecollegian.com

Opinion Editor: Amber Koehn 532-0732 | letters@spub.ksu.edu

Closed meeting, refusal to speak hurts students

he Student Tribunal board, presidential candidates and the elections committee have kept students in the dark since election night. By closing meetings and refusing to speak with the press, they're hurting the student body and leaving them uninformed.

▶ OUR VOICE

is an editorial selected and debated by the editorial board and written after a

majority opinion is

formed_OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

Paul Restivo

April Middleton

For one week after election night, both presidential pairs and the elections committee communicated with the Collegian solely through press releases. These press releases ranged in length - some only being two sentences long. This form of communication was not adequate and did not address all of readers' questions and concerns.

With such a close election, key figures cannot rob the public of knowledge.

On Tuesday night the tribunal board decided to conduct a new election, but readers didn't find this information out until today. By state law, the meeting should have been open to the public, yet tribunal members closed it. These tribunal meetings typically are closed in cases such as harassment. In those cases, it's closed to protect the student. However, in this situation, closing the meeting isn't protecting students - it's hurting them.

According to the SGA constitution bylaws, article VI, section 9M., "all information regarding the case shall be kept confidential unless the case has an overriding interest to the university community'

All meetings that do not fall under one of the exemption categories, which this one did not, violate the law if kept closed.

The Collegian informed the tribunal board and its adviser of both the state law and their bylaw before the meeting. However, they still chose to close the meeting, saying conducting an illegal meeting was a risk they were willing to

SGA's official Web site states that "officials of the Student Governing Association are responsible for voicing the concerns of the student body and serving as an underlying force of cooperation between the faculty, the students, and the colleges of Kansas State University."

How can students voice their concerns when a closed meeting cuts off their access to information? Why would the tribunal board not want students to be informed of this re-election? How is this protecting the students?

On Wednesday, tribunal board adviser Scott Jones acknowledged that the tribunal board was wrong. This was the appropriate action to take, but it still affected readers.

University officials have a moral duty to speak with the press. They also have a duty to know the law and abide by it. The public at least deserves that much.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions on topics relevant to the publication.

I love my marshmallows.

Judge rules: nutterbutter.

Oh, tough call.

Miss Cleo, oh, this isn't the psychic hotline.

Dog, hey dog. Do you see the size of that chicken?

Outdated system?

Electoral system undermines power of American people

e hold these truths to be self evident: that all men are created equal... Those well-known words by Thomas Jefferson were written more than 225 years ago, but the reality is, Tommy and his friends didn't really believe what they were

They trusted the average, uneducated slob about as far as they could throw him, which in the days before power lifting contests.

was not far at all. Because of this, they set up a system of government in which the common person would have relatively little real power. An important part of this system is the Electoral College, but this group contributes to tyranny against the people. The Electoral College is an archaic system, and must be done away with. Here are the facts: at the time the Constitution was written, the only people who could vote were white males over the age of 21 who also owned property (like old, rich white guys today) These people only were allowed to elect someone else to represent them in the House of Representatives (the Senate at that time was elected by state

On top of all this, each state was to appoint electors, who elected the president, leaving the common person with very little real power.

Legislatures)

It is only because of tradition that electors vote as a representative of their state's popular vote. They are not required to do so. In fact, any elector can vote any way he or she wants. This is a system truly designed to take power away from the people.

However, despite all these flaws, the system worked pretty well until 1876 (1824 being a notable exception which was not directly the fault of the Electoral College system)

In 1876; despite gaining 51 percent of the popular vote, Samuel Tilden was denied the office of President of the United States after a heated battle with Rutherford B. Hayes. That year, there had been 20 disputed electoral votes following the election.

A suspect review commission consisting of five Supreme Court Justices, five U.S. Representatives and five Senators was appointed to review the election and decide whom the disputed votes should go.

Instead of basing their judgment on merit and the fact that Tilden won the popular vote, this commission decided to award all 20 votes to Hayes, because he promised to end reconstruction, which would accomplish the political goals of many members of the commission.

Because of this decision, Hayes had a 185-184 majority of electoral votes and was given the office of

Only 12 years after this disservice to democracy, the Electoral College was again surrounded by

In the 1888 elections, Grover Cleveland received 49 percent of the vote to Benjamin Harrison's 48 percent. However, after tallying the electoral votes, Harrison was declared the winner by a 233 to 168

The will of the people had been ignored and George Washington turned in his grave.

These examples, as well as one I won't name (but which many of you might be more familiar with), simply back up my argument that the Electoral College represents a full-scale assault on democ racy and the power of the people.

e-mail him at dlm7676@ksu.edu.

Instead of "one person, one vote," the Electoral College lays out a "one person, a million votes" scandal which none of us should stand for We might as well let Enron stuff our ballot boxes

David is a junior in political science and public relations. You can

Clash of the Columnists

Clash of the Columnists is a rotating

series. Each day, two different colum

nists will write columns taking a stance

ters about both sides of the issue

on an issue presented to them. Clash

of the Columnists is meant to inform

Electoral College not perfect but still remains best option

obody's perfect. That much is clear every time the Fourum comes out with another useless mullet comment.

When setting up our elections system, the founders realized that not everyone is well informed. They knew that not everyone would be able to make intelligent voting decisions. As a result, the founders created this complicated Electoral College to decide who would be president.

Lindsey Geisler

Originally, the Electoral College was a nomination process. Eventually, political parties took over that role, and the Electoral College became the final decision-making body.

The Electoral College is comprised of electors from each state. The number of electors each state is given is determined by that state's representation in Congress (for example, Kansas gets six electoral votes).

As with any system, the Electoral College has its flaws. The most common complaint is that not all votes are weighted equally, making the system fundamentally undemocratic.

It's not a matter of democracy. It's about representation. The founders felt this was necessary to protect the smaller states from being dominated by the larger states. With this system, Kansas gets six votes for president, based on its congressional representation. The larger states also were in favor of the Electoral College because it gave them more influence in the process by giving them more electors. While the Electoral College initially seemed a dream come true, perceptions change as does time.

There are ways of correcting the perceived problems with the Electoral College rather than completely eliminating it.

The district plan, which currently is used in Maine and Nebraska, is quite possibly the best system. Under this system, a state's electoral votes are decided within congressional districts and two votes are given to the overall state

The primary benefit of this proposal is that it gives all individual votes more weight.

Also, the district plan gives third-party candidates a better chance of being recognized at the Electoral College level because they only need to win one congressional district, rather than an entire state, to

According to Schumaker and Loomis's "Choosing a President," voter participation rates also increase with the district plan. Since 1960, voter participation in Maine has been consistently higher than the national average.

I believe the district plan attracts those voters who legitimately feel the Electoral College devalues their vote.

Those who continued to avoid voting would find another excuse should they succeed in abolishing the Electoral College.

So, why not the popular vote?

The one person, one vote principle certainly sounds good, but it is far from acceptable. Using a plurality system always will declare a winner. But, legitimacy suffers because a candidate can get less than 50 percent of the vote and still win. In the end, the Electoral College system we have now still works. Following the 2000 election, cries of disappointment were understand-

However, many of the problems with that election were not the fault of the Electoral College.

Problems arose from antiquated voting machines (we all remember the infamous "chads") and those ridiculous butterfly ballots. The founders anticipated stupid people, but no one could have predicted Florida.

CLASH OF THE COLUMNISTS THURSDAY - Electoral college

David McCandless and Lindsey Geisler voice their views on the Electoral College

FRIDAY - Premarital cohabitation

Amber Koehn and Peter Morns debate the idea of premarital cohabitation

See previous columns in the opinion section of the e Collegian. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for more Lindsey is a senior in public relations and political science. You can e-mail her at lrg3003@ksu.edu.

READERS WRITE Blame for election problems lies with unclear regulations

Having had a hand in rewriting the election regulations code in 1998, I find the current election situation most

The lesson to be learned is not so much how to resolve election differences, but how piecemeal amendment of regulations, particularly the election regulations code, gets everyone into messes such as this.

The ultimate moral of the story is: make it clear, make it clear, make it clear!

When Student Senate overhauled the election regulations in 1998, the intent was to take a jumbled collection of regulations, which had become ineffectual due to years of endless fiddling and revision, and turn it into a cohesive, sensible set of guidelines that could be easily understood. The driving principles were two-fold: eliminate the various inconsistencies and contradictions, and eliminate as many unnecessary regulations as possible.

Melesa Lorett/Colli

Both of these objectives were achieved in 1998. But over time, the first provision has been violated by Student Senate as it proceeded to amend the regulations piecemeal. It is obvious no one spent time to thoroughly consider the effect change would have on various other provisions, such as the Majority Clause (41-0126).

There is no provision, as there should be, which states the majority principle applies only to the general election. So what happens if a candidate pair receives an outright majority in the primary? This is exactly what we tried to eliminate in 1998 by clearly stating such provisions.

As always, the devil is in the details, and this time he's got his pitchfork stuck in

Mr. Allison-Gallimore's letter on Monday. helps illustrate the results of the piecemeal approach to amending regulations. He asserts the Collegian is wrong in stating write-in options should have been available for the president/vice president tickets in the general election, and since there is to be no write-in option on the general election ballot, that opportunity is made available on the primary election

But according to 41-0121(c), appropriate blank spaces shall be included for every office for write-in candidates. This applies to all ballots, general or otherwise.

There's also no provision in the election regulations for an abstention option. If this is not provided for in the section that describes what is to be on the ballot, then why is it on the ballot? Mr. Allison-Gallimore's argument concerning abstentions is correct, but only to the extent that, in a parliamentary setting, an abstention is an intention not to vote. What he fails to note is that in most parliamentary settings, unlike in general elections, there is a limited and pre-defined number of

Thus, we get into an intent discussion, head down the road to Florida, and find ourselves without any good answers. The real problem here is not whether abstentions should or should not be counted in the vote total, or whether the option to abstain should have been placed on the ballot, but the piecemeal methods by which Student Senate does its work.

In the end, there are many fingers to 2 point. Everyone shares a portion of the blame, but it's not the fault of the election committee - it's the fault of the amended election regulations. Therefore, the election committee must quickly and judiciously resolve the question and determine whether a new election is needed or

> Carlton A. Getz. K-State alumnus

Vacationers need to take extra safety precautions during break

BY EDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegion

With spring break approaching, safety might be the last thing on some students' minds. However, there are several safety precautions students planning to travel abroad this spring break can take.

Crissan Zeigler, international education adviser, said most problems students experience are a result of drugs, sex and alcohol.

"Don't take drugs," Zeigler said. "You are there to experience a culture - the sand and the sea. Don't take drugs!'

Zeigler also said that due to American culture, students who are visitors in other countries might give social signals they don't intend.

"Americans are incredibly open," Zeigler said. "They tend to be friendly and smiling. In other countries, that indicates availability or sex.

Zeigler said the United States has the highest sexual assault record in the world. Although unwanted sexual advances might occur because of cultural differences, women have less of a chance to be sexually assaulted in other countries than in the United States, Zeigler said.

Besides watching their body language, students also should be aware of how much alcohol they

"Americans are infamous all over the world for being loud drunks," Zeigler said. "A lot of this is because the drinking age in the United States is higher than anywhere else on earth. So when students get to a place where drink is available, they over-indulge."

Zeigler said the basic rule travelers should follow is to honor their host society by being as polite as possible. This includes obeying the country's clothing and social customs.

EATIO, OTAG

Softball & Individual Sports

Intramural Entry Deadline

Recreational Services Office

Thursday, March 14, at 5 p.m.

"In many cultures, short shorts and tube tops are an embarrassment on the streets," Zeigler said. "It's OK on the beach and in private places, but not for shopping.

Another problem with any type of travel is scams.

According to the Global Online Travel Web site, www.got.com, spring breakers should beware of unsolicited travel offers. When planning to take a trip, it's wise to get everything in writing before buying a travel package, according

Also, travelers always should pay for purchases with a credit card. This is suggested because the Fair Credit Billing Act protects credit card users against fraudu-

The Web site warns against giving personal information such as credit card numbers, Social Security numbers, bank account numbers and frequent flyer numbers to an unsolicited telephone salesperson.

If a traveler is interested in what the salesperson is offering, he or she should ask for the salesperson's phone number, and call back after checking with the Better Business Bureau about the validity of the Zeigler said students also should watch for money scams once they have arrived in the country.

She said if tourists are approached by someone claiming to need help or by someone selling something, the tourist should not engage in the conversation.

"They want money," Zeigler said. "Ignore it if you have to."

Another way travelers can protect their money is by taking a credit card instead of travelers checks or personal checks. Zeigler said that since checks must be cashed at banks, another layer of complication is added to accessing

Kansas State Collegian Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

When using credit cards overseas, travelers should inform their banks of where they are traveling and how long they will be there. This should be done so the bank can expect charges from an unusual place . and continue to receive the charges.

Another thing students should do before leaving on their trip is make a copy of their passport and leave it with their parents. Zeigler said travelers lose their passports more than any other item, and they aren't able to exit the country without it.

If a copy is left with parents, or if the student carries an extra copy. the information can be faxed to the American Embassy in the country the student is visiting and a new passport can be created immediately. Zeigler said students should also consider taking two passportsized photos with them on their

If a student loses a passport, and has no copy of it, he or she should go to the American Embassy and reapply for a passport, which will take more time, Zeigler said.

Along with a credit card and a passport, travelers should have health insurance that covers them while overseas. Zeigler said if students find they don't have this type of coverage, they can buy an international student ID card which provides that kind of insur-

Students can purchase these cards for $22 in the Union Program Council office in the K-State Student Union. The card also provides a toll-free help line for emergencies and a benefit guide for students.

For more information on safety in traveling abroad, students can go to the State Department's travel Web site at www.travel.state.gov.

n up his week!

Softball Official's Clinic

Attendance required at both meetings

Earn $6.50 per hour officiating!

March 25 at 5 p.m. &:

March 26 at 6:30 p.m.

International laws might differ; travelers need to be aware, obey

BY SARAH RICE

Names State Collegian

Students traveling outside the United States for spring break might run into legal situations they are not accustomed to. Crissan Zeigler, adviser for interna-This is the fourth day in tional programs. a weeklong series highlighting spring break said most of the travel issues and unique laws are in Latin American www.kstatecollegian.com for additional coverage.

countries. "I think the biggest law they need to know is that drug use carries the death penalty," she said. "If you are arrested for drug use, you are in big trouble. This can be anything from marijuana on up."

Zeigler said the first thing students should do, if arrested, is to call the local U.S. Embassy.

"They have to contact the American Embassy immediately," she said.

Zeigler said laws are different in neighboring countries, and students should educate themselves before their

"If anybody is traveling to anywhere outside of Western Europe, they need to be especially careful," she said. "In Holland, they sell drugs on the street, and it is perfectly legal. Then, you can go down the road to Turkey and be arrested.

She also said students should be aware of U.S.

"You are usually allowed to bring $400 back into America." she said, "You cannot bring anything alive, any fruit, food unless it's dried as in coffee beans and any flowers," she

According to U.S. customs regulations, travelers may only bring back alcohol products if they are to be used for a gift or personal use. Travelers are required to fill out a declarations form, and if items exceed $400, they will be charged a tax.

Zeigler said students just need to be respectful and everything should be fine.

"How you act with your best behavior at home is how you should behave abroad," she

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p

W 5p-7p

Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p

Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $415 1119 Laramie #4

M & W 6p-8p

Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only

*Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only

*Starting at $400 925 Denison #9

T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p

*Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p 5un 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Small Gym, Recreation Complex Softball schedules will be distributed at this meeting only. All captains/managers must attend! Recreational Services Office 532-6980

Tuesday, March 26, at 5 p.m.

IM Captain's/Manager's Meeting

Congratulations

2002-2003 Blue Key Members

Andrew Bell Tyler Breeden Lucas Bucl Sarah McCaffery Tammy Osborn Breanne Paul

Sol Pettit-Scott Emily Ripple Anna Schweiger Riley Scott Holly Serk Sarah Sourk

FUN SUN

K-State pitcher Ryan Hawley delivers a pitch during the sixth inning Tuesday at Frank Meyers Field at Tolton Family Stadium. The Wildcats defeated Western Illinois 6-3.

Cats return to south Florida for 7-game stretch over spring break

BY BEN FEHR

unshine, palm trees, pretty girls and fastballs. All are waiting for K-State as part of the Wildcats' seven-game spring break trip to Boca Raton, Fla.

The 8-4 Cats get things underway at 6 tonight against the Miami (OH) Redhawks.

The Cats face Wagner at 10 a.m. Friday and play an afternoon contest with Florida Atlantic at 1 p.m.

On Sunday, K-State has another 1 p.m. date with Florida International, a team that handled the Cats 9-3 on Feb. 24.

The Wildcats play Wisconsin-Milwaukee at 7 p.m. Monday, another 7 p.m. contest against Cornell on Tuesday, and finish the trip in a highnoon affair with Rutgers on Wednesday.

K-State will then rest a day before opening conference play with Oklahoma State on March 22.

The Cats will be a busy group in the next couple of weeks, but coach Mike Clark said games are what the Cats need.

'We have 12 or 13 games before we have to concern ourselves with the conference and right now, it's just about us," he said.

"It's about our team preparing and getting better." Playing good, consistent baseball can be tough to do without solid starters at first and third base. K-State has been searching for starters in the infield since the season began. Clark said pitching also will be a focus.

Photos by Matt Stamey/Collegian

K-State's Ty Soto attempts to break up the throw of Western Illinois' Caleb Blodgett during the fifth Inning Tuesday at Frank Meyers Fleld at Tolton Family Stadium. The Wildcats play Miami-Ohio today to start a seven-game road trip.

"Number one, we are going to look at our pitching this trip," he said.

"Number two, we are going to get the situation at the corners straightened out."

K-State will see a number of competitive teams in the next seven days.

Miami is 7-1, while the Wagner College Seahawks, an NCAA Regional team last season, is a team looking for answers at 0-13. The Florida Atlantic Owls are 13-6 on the year and are riding a six-game Florida International is one of the nation's top teams. The Golden Panthers are 16-4 on the year.

Wisconsin-Milwaukee has just three games under its belt on the season and sits at 0-3, Ivy League rep Cornell is 1-6, and Rutgers is Clark said the trip will be important in preparing players for the Big 12 season.

We need everybody ready to go when we come back for Oklahoma State," he said. "It's a fluid situation. We are going to be evaluating all the way through this trip.

"And if some of these guys can't stay mentally focused and put their heart into it every day, then we are going to have to get them out of the lineup for the guys who can stay up for nine innings."

Thursday, March 14 - 6 p.m. #13 RHP Kevin Melcher (2-1, 3.94 ERA, 16.0 IP, 9 Strikeouts)

Friday, March 15 - 10 a.m. (0-0, 0.00 ERA, 2.1 IP, 4 Strikeouts)

Saturday, March 16 - 1 p.m. #39 RHP Ross Hawley (1-1, 1.93 ERA, 23.1 IP, 23 Strikeouts)

Sunday, March 17 - 1 p.m. #35 LHP Brock Smith (1.0, 2.79 ERA, 19.1 IP, 17 Strikeouts)

Monday, March 18 - 7 p.m. (1-0, 4,32 ERA, 8,1 IP, 9 Strikeouts)

Tuesday, March 19 - 7 p.m. #13 RHP Kevin Melcher

Wednesday, March 20 - Noon

Crew heads to Austin for 2nd regatta

BY LAURA BOYD

K-State's crew team will go to the University of Texas next weekend hoping to keep its winning streak alive. The team began the season at home last Sunday against Creighton, beating the Bluelays in three of four races at the dual regatta at Tuttle Creek Reservoir.

The team will spend its spring break in Austin training for the upcoming tournament. In the past, the competition has been held the first weekend before spring break. Moving it back a week will give the team an extra week on the water along with some warmer conditions to practice in.

"It was hard to race at the beginning of that week," Coach Jenny Hale said. "We need that time on the water to work on techniques that we fell short in against Creighton."

With the coach's poll coming out this week, the team feels the pressure to step up in Texas. The Cats will face off against the Longhorns on Friday, the University of Tulsa and Southern Methodist University on Saturday and Clemson on Sunday. Both Clemson and Texas are out to keep top-20 rankings, making them K-State's toughest competition in the tournament.

"Texas has had more time on the water because of the weather there," Hale said. "It is only fair for us to have that time, too."

Until then, Hale plans to use any home practice time they can get as her time to finish the team's selection process. K-State will bring every athlete it can to Austin in hopes of putting as many boats in the water as possible

"The team will train hard this week, while the selection process comes to a close," Hale

The team also will use their week in Texas as a time to rest. Hale said the team's practices will be less intense during the week of spring break, without the volume the team normally sees. "Even though we are getting time on the water, it is a different kind of practice, a kind that does not wear them out," Hale said. K-State also will take what they learned from their win over Creighton and use that in next weeks competition. "Though we didn't meet every one of our goals against Creighton, we were able to see what we need to work on," Hale said. Spending this week with a new focus on blade work and speed on the water, Hale said she feels more confident about going up against top competition.

"We are going to have to step up and train hard," Hale said. "We know we have to skills to go out and perform."

Spring break crystal ball shines clear

BY MICHAEL NOLL Karsses Store Collegia

Spring break is almost here, and many of you are going to exotic locations like South Padre Island, Mazatlan, Cancun and Lyons,

As a result, you might not be able to monitor the sports world closely. So as a public service, I will save everybody the trouble of worrying about sports results and predict them all now. Unlike Miss Cleo, my predictions are guaranteed. ■ Getting spring break off to an early start, 16-seed Siena, the second team with a losing record ever to win an NCAA game, will knock off East No. 1 Maryland on Friday.

Siena's Prosper Karangwa will outscore

Maryland's Lonny Baxter by 30 points. Colorado freshman D.J. Harrison, who talked trash on the Kansas Jayhawks even after they dominated the Buffs twice and said that KU is just another team, will continue his smack. Next week, Harrison will claim that Striche-9 is just another beverage, the moon is just another star and that he is just another idiot. He will be only partially right. ■ Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Byrne announced Monday that starting next fall, cheerleaders will be limited to just cheering.

Flips and pyramids are out. ■ Next week, the Husker administration will force its basketball players to keep one foot on the floor at all times. Quarterbacks for

Patterson: expectations won't affect Wildcats' performance

BY DAN SMITH

Kansas Stare Collegion

Here's an interesting question for the K-State women's basketball team.

What do you have left to prove coming into Friday night's NCAA Tournament opener against Kent State?

The answer, surprisingly, is quite a bit. Even after finishing 2001-02 tied for third in a conference they were picked to finish seventh in by Big 12 coaches in the preseason.

Even after recording upset wins over then-No. 4 Iowa State (69-63) and then-No. 7/8 Baylor (89-75) to open the league schedule in early January.

MANHATTAN MADNESS

NCAA play begins at 6 p.m. Friday at Bramlage Coliseum. Tickets are $20 for chairbacks and $15 for bench seats and can be purchased from Bramlage Coliseum Ticket Office at 1-800-221-CATS. See more coverage on page 10.

Even after jumping out to big leads over No. 2 Oklahoma in both meetings with the Sooners this season.

Even after earning a No. II ranking

ONLINE

Think you know the bracket better than the Collegian? Log on to compare your picks - an online exclusive, only at www.kstatecollegian.com coming into the tournament.

Even after all of that, K-State's women remain the subject of many analysts' rantings this week. The majority of the talk is centered around the Wildcats' youth, and how well Coach Deb Patterson can make her troops forget their age and relative inexperience and earn respect in March.

But the attention hasn't penetrated Bramlage Coliseum yet.

"I don't feel any particular pressure," Coach Deb Patterson said.

"I'm not satisfied to say we're here, and I don't think our team would ever feel that way," she added. "That's why we've been successful. We're here in this tournament to compete hard and to compete well."

In fact, Patterson said, her team is quite confident in the way it has been playing lately and, she added, she wouldn't trade this year's squad for one with more tournament testing for all the national titles in the

"This team has proven they have an ability to play beyond their experience."

Patterson said. "Certainly, when you get through situations, but this group has proven, in spite of a lack of experience, they're very competitive, they're very tough, and they're very coachable.

their plate again.

into tournament play, that challenge is on

"It's always an advantage to have lived shot of Oklahoma's Jamie Talbert (45) during the Wildcats' game Feb. 13 at Bramlage Collseum.

Zach Long/Collegian

K-State's Brie

Madden (42), tries to recover a loose ball

after blocking the

"They compete well and hard, and I'm hopeful that at this point, they will use the experience of these past 31 games as a strong foundation as we head into the tournament."

If K-State is to continue overachieving

See NCAA on PAGE 10

See NOLL on PAGE 10

It can't Break, fall off, or not get put on.

Depo-Provera is 99.7% effective. Birth control you think about just 4 x a year.

Of course, using condoms is the only way to protect yourself against HIV/AIDS or other sexually transmitted diseases, but make sure you're also as protected as possible against pregnancy. That's why more women than ever are choosing Depo-Provera—it's 99.7% effective when administered on time every 3 months.

Depo-Provera doesn't protect you from HIV/AIDS or other sexually transmitted diseases.

Some women using Depo-Provera experience side effects. The most common are irregular periods or spotting. Many women stop having may experience a slight weight gain. You shouldn't use Depo-Provera if you could be pregnant, if you have had any unexplained periods, or if you have a history of breast cancer, blood clots, stroke, or liver disease. When using Depo-Provera, there may be a possible decrease in bone density.

Depo-Provera is not only one of the best ways to protect yourself from pregnancy, it's also one of the simplest. Ask your health care professional if prescription Depo-Provera is right for you.

See what Depo-Provera is all about. Call toll free 1-866-519-DEPO or visit www.depo-provera.com.

Birth control you think about just 4 x a year.

Please see important product information on adjacent page.

REVOTE

Continued from page 1

students were unable to vote," Cook and Kohman said in their letter of contestment. "Therefore, these students were disenfranchised during the Kansas State University Student Governing Association.'

Kohman also said they questioned the validity of the results because of the closeness of the race.

"The election between the candidates was I percent and the margin of error was 5 percent according to technological specialists of iBallot.com," he said.

Jon Krasnoff, former presidential candidate who also testified, said he felt that the tribunal didn't take him very seriously.

"I think the K-State student has been totally mishandled in this situation," he said. "Where does a student go to get an answer?"

Ali Karimi, former presidential candidate, said he testified in order to advocate changes in the elections regulations code. "My number one concern was the security of voting places," he said. "We need definite polling places and poll workers."

Conrad said he believes this next election should run smoothly with the cooperation of iBallot.com, who agreed to run the new election at no cost.

They offered to do it even before there was a decision (by the tribunal)," he said. "I like the idea of an online election. I obviously don't like using iBallot. We are making the best case out of a bad situation."

Presidential candidate Matt Wolters said that although the vendor has caused problems with the last two elections, he is confident this election will be successful.

"I think it's essential they use some sort of electronic source," Wolters said. "Obviously there were some major concerns, but I have full confidence in their ability to conduct this election."

Conrad said he will insist on a test run the day before the election to ensure that everything runs smoothly.

"It will be very straightforward," he said. "It's a very simple process.'

Barker said he is confident that all the kinks have been worked out with the vendor.

"I think we have an understanding," he said. "I hope this goes smoothly and it all goes well. Since we only have one question, we hope it will go smoothly. We will just have to wait and see what happens."

Scott Jones, tribunal adviser, said he felt a paper ballot or an in-house online voting system would take too much time to set up, so iBallot.com was the best

"It gives students appropriate and fair access to casting a ballot within a reasonable amount of time," he said. "They were balancing with time constraints because the election has to be determined soon.

Both candidates said they were concerned with low voter turnout due to only 12 hours of "Voter turnout will undoubtedly be less." Wolters said. "It is two weeks later and students are focused on other things. But every student will still have the opportunity to vote. It's enough

Cook said he is satisfied that no students will be denied the right to vote.

"Todd and I are happy because all K-State students will have a chance to vote." Cook said. "I think voter turnout will go down, somewhere in the vicinity of the primary."

The tribunal's decision also allowed each ticket to spend an additional $100 to campaign beginning Friday.

Cook said with a week break before the election, it will be difficult to campaign.

"It's going to be tough with spring break," he said. "We don't have a definite plan, but we are going back out on the trail."

Wolters said he was confident in the system and was ready to fight for a win again.

"We've come out on top in two elections," he said. "We are ready to do everything to win a Cook said he hopes voters will remember the first campaign and the candidates' platforms.

"I would hope people would remember what the issues were." he said. "Nothing changed with the candidates.

Wolters said, no matter what the outcome, this election will be

"This election will determine the student body president," he said. "We are confident in the system. The process being used will select the student body president.

U.S. military officers default on government credit cards

BY DAVID PACE

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - More than 700 military officers have walked away from debts on their government-issued credit cards, and one Navy employee who charged thousands in personal expenses has been promoted to the office that oversees Army finances.

Testifying Wednesday before a House panel, Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, said those disclosures and the findings of a continuing General Accounting Office investigation show that credit card abuse isn't being taken seriously at the Pentagon.

"DOD credit cards are being taken on a shopping spree and the cardholders think they are immune from punishment. And they are," Grassley told a House Government Reform subcom-

Defense procurement director Deidre A. Lee disputed Grassley's claim. She said the Pentagon has taken significant steps in the past year to tighten controls over credit cards and to better train the employees who use them.

"We are painfully aware of the issues of purchase cards and I am here personally to commit that we will make sure these cards are used appropriately," Lee said.

More than 46,000 Defense Department employees had defaulted on $62 million in official travel expenses charged to the government cards as of last November. The bad debts, which banks that issue the cards have been forced to write off, are growing at the rate of $1 million a month, according to Grassley.

Last year, 1.7 million Pentagon charge cards were used for purchases totaling more than $9 billion. Most of the cards are for official travel and are billed directly to employees, who are responsible for paying the bills and getting reimbursement from the government.

About 200,000 DOD workers have purchase cards which can be used for goods and services up to $2,500. Those are billed directly to the government.

Grassley and Rep. Stephen Horn, R-Calif., chairman of the subcommittee, said they intend to ask Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld to determine what action should be taken against 713 commissioned officers who have defaulted on $1.1 million in charges on their governmentissued travel cards.

"Somebody over in the Pentagon needs to come down hard on the officer scofflaws,' said Grassley, who provided the panel with a confidential list of the officers. "Credit card abuse in the military will never stop until the officers clean up their act."

Grassley said the accounts of the officers have been unpaid for seven months or more and include individual balances of up to $8,000. He said the officers range from lieutenants to colonels and a Navy captain. In one example, Grassley said Tanya Mays charged nearly $12,000 in personal expenses on her government purchase card while working at the Navy Public Works Center in San Diego, and then was promoted to the Army's top financial management office

Mays was never disciplined and has never been asked to repay the government for any of the purchases, which included a computer, a kitchen appliance, gift certificates, clothing and groceries, Grassley said.

in the Pentagon.

"When you put one of these cases under the microscope," he said, "it seems like the whole problem comes into much sharper focus."

Mays did not respond to the requests for comment that were relayed through the Army press

Evidence of unauthorized personal purchases by Mays was cited last summer by GAO investigators auditing the Navy Publics Works Center. The case was referred to the Naval Criminal Investigative Service, but an assistant U.S. attorney in San Diego declined to prosecute.

Mays was promoted to the Army job at the Pentagon in October.

U.S. keeping options open, including nuclear weapons, to defend, protect nation

BY SANDRA SOBIERAJ

WASHINGTON, D.C. -President Bush said Wednesday his administration has all options on the table as the Pentagon reworks its nuclear weapons policy to deter any attack on America - including from nonnuclear states such as Iraq and

"The reason one has a nuclear arsenal is to serve as a deterrence," Bush said at a news conference.

We've got all options on the table because we want to make it very clear to nations that you will not threaten the United States or use weapons of mass destruction against us or our allies or friends."

Bush said he views the nuclear arsenal as a deterrent as a way to say to people who would harm America: 'Don't do

In the White House briefing room, Bush also addressed his administration's embarrassment over the Immigration and Naturalization Service's belated dispatch of student visa approvals for two of the terrorists who slammed hijacked jets into the World Trade Center on Sept.

After reading about the visa notices, which furned up six months after the attacks, Bush said he was "stunned and not happy. ... I was plenty hot."

He called the episode a wakeup call for people who run the INS, an agency he said needs to be reformed.

On the Middle East, where attacks and retaliation have increased, Bush offered his most direct criticism yet of crackdowns on Palestinians by Ariel Sharon's government.

"Frankly, it is not helpful what the Israelis have recently done," Bush said

"I understand somebody trying to defend themselves . but the recent actions are not

He urged both Israelis and Palestinians to "work hard to create conditions for a potential settlement" when U.S. mediator Anthony Zinni returns to the

"The need for us to get involved in the Middle East is to save lives," he said.

With Vice President Dick Cheney in the region this week trying to rally Arab support for a tougher stance against Iraq, Bush said he would not pursue a go-italone strategy.

"One of the things I've said to our friends is that we will consult. ... In regard to Iraq. we're doing just that.

Bush played down the importance of the United States capturing or killing Osama bin Laden, suspected mastermind of the Sept. 11 attacks.

"Deep in my heart I know the man's on the run - if he's alive at all. Who knows if he's hiding in some cave or not?

We haven't heard from him in a long time.

The idea of focusing on one person really indicates to me that people don't understand the scope of the mission. Terrorism is bigger than one person and he's a person who's now been marginalized," Bush said.

"I don't know where he is. I just don't spend that much time on it.... I can assure you I am not going to blink.

Bush called the conference with about three hours notice.

In an opening statement, he scored the Democrat-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee. which is poised to reject one of his nominees for the federal Bush said partisan delays on his judicial nominees have created a vacancy crisis in the judicial branch.

"Too often judicial confirmations are being turned into ideological battles that delay justice and hurt our democracy,"

In a vote scheduled for Thursday, the panel's Democratic majority is expected to defeat U.S. District Court ludge Charles Pickering a conservative whose civil rights record Democrats have criticized.

The president defended his administration's refusal to give Congress records of Chenev's energy task force's consultations with energy company executives who contributed to the Bush including embattled Enron officials.

"I'm not going to let Congress erode the power of the executive branch. We're not going to give them to 'em. These are privileged conversations," Bush said.

Kansas State Collegian Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

Got old stuff?

in the

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

> 103 Kedzie 532-6555

Depo-Provera

Contraceptive Injection medroxyprogesterone acetate injectable suspension

Birth control you think about just 4xa year

This product is intended to prevent pregnancy. It does not protect against HIV infection (AIDS) and other sexually transmitted diseases.

in the First Year of Continuous Use
Method	Lowest Expected	Typica
LEPO-PICIVIRA	0.3	0.1
Impliets (Norplant)	03*	62*
Fernale standardron.	02	DA.
Pule the lighton	(0.7	- 0.15
Oral contracaptive (p.6)		1 2
Conbined	Ø.
Progestages only	0.9
NO.		1
Progestauer	10	1
Copper T 180A	0.8
Cordon (without greeneds)	7	12
Craptinger (with spermode)	6	18
Cerosalisas		16
Wittelfriend	4	18
Viscodic abditions in	1.9	70
Specrocole store		21
Vognik Sporge
used before childbeth	A	1.0
used after chiddrens.	9	28
fail method	85	85

If you have hut carrier of the tireact
If you have that a stroke
If you have on have had blood cots (phlebbig) in your legs
If you have on have had blood cots (phlebbig) in your legs
If you have problems with your less or hele disease
If you are always to DEPCLERIOVERA (medicings) gesterone are fain or any lift is other problems.

other things should I consider before using DEPO-PROVERA ceptive injection?

What if I want to become pregnant after using DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive ne Advised Charges. or OEES_PROVERA may be associated with a decrease in the aniquest of reviews stored in a bones. This could increase year risk of developing bone fractures. The rate of bone reviewal is greated in the early years of DEPO_PROVERA use, but after that it begins to resemble the mal rate of generated shore menoral loss.

consorties by general performance of the same and several and seve that symptoms may signal problems while using DEPO-PROVERA ontraceptive injection?

What are the possible side effects of DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive Injection?

as independing a weight gain while you are using DEPO PROVERA. About their thrift of ware who used DEPO-PROVERA is circus truth reported a weight gain of about 5 pounds, the first year of use 15th only continue to gain weight after the first year. Whomes or one body who used DEPO-PROVERA to 2 years givined an exercise total of 81 pounds or print or approximately 4 pounds per year. Warriers who continued for 4 years pared an exist of 13 th pounds over those 4 years in approximately 13 pounds per year. Women obstruct 50 is years garrierd an average total 14 to 5 pounds to see those 6 years, or matery 175 provide per year.

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 38 Oust 1 Bridge 22 Runway table coup 5 Turned on 41 Less strutter 23 Reed the water 43 Fall like instrument 24 Plead in St. 9 Doctrine dominoes 12 Soccer Louis? 25 Fish 5 Used a delicacy 26 Office 48 Read 13 Hodge loom 51 Tumult squawkpodge 52 Swampy 7 Chart 27 Swing 15 Chat with terrain format 53 Lake bird 8 Beach Barbara blanket 29 Reveren-9 Paristial fear 17 Midafter tattooed based noon plow Devine' 18 Play a 56 - St crime Vincent 35 Give group 19 Occur Millay heave-ho 11 Vegan's 21 Steinem's DOWN 16 "Treasure 37 Pliant 22 Canine's Island' 39 Groom overcarecousin 2 Letterman mono-24 Soft fully 40 Neither's cheese 27 Profes-Solution time: 25 mins. 41 Mongkut's 28 Bridge kingdom 31 A long 43 Adoleschoose to 45 Jaworski 33 Have bills 36 Geese

XNF GZV LF'Q LG QFCXMD JZGWLFLZG

YCIDRZYQD

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I'M A PRETTY GOOD PLUMBER, BUT I ACTUALLY PREFER TO CALL MYSELF A DRAIN SURGEON.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: Y equals R CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 2! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 2, PO. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzie. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error. © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"In wartime, truth is so precious that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies."

- Winston Churchill

MIX MASTERS

WHO Marc (Haji) Anthony,

Marc has been bartending for four years and currently work's at Fat's.

DRINK Crimson Tide

Mix in a glass with ice: 1 count Vodka 2 counts Razzmatazz Splash of pineapple juice and cranberry juice Strain into shot glasses.

ONLINE

Learn to make this drink from the master. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for exclusive video footage

Imitating life

Sculptors create art from memories

Story and photos by Karen Mikols trolling through the engineering complex atrium is like walking through the minds of two K-State sculptors.

K-State art students Chad Fonfara and Matthew Harbstreit are displaying their artwork from now through March 17 at the Rathbone/Fiedler atrium.

Personal experiences and memories from childhood inspire the work, they said.

"A lot of my sculptures have to do with traumatic events," Fonfara, graduate student in sculpture, said.

"Expectations" is a sculpture of a doorway that Fonfara made for a family in Minnesota. While working for them, he developed a close relationship with the family. Six months after he left, he learned one of the daughters died.

"I remember standing at the door that I helped build in their house, not wanting to go in. I wasn't seeing the door. I was focusing on the people inside. Yet at the same time, I noticed all of the little details about the door.

Harbstreit, senior in sculpture, said his sculpting is a therapeutic way for him to release frustrations about events in his life. "Hammered," he said, came about from an encounter with a few drunks.

"I got home at about 3 a.m. and these drunks were going to the bathroom in my front yard," he said. "I got in a fistfight with three guys and it was not a good deal. So I released some energy, made the piece of art, and forgot about it."

Another of his pieces, "Wasted Time," was inspired because of frustrations about school.

"I am not an average student," Harbstreit said. "I'm a little older and my friends have left for jobs. I was feeling that I was spinning my wheels and wasting my time. I built the clock as therapy to help me get through school. The fact that it doesn't work is symbolic of the wasted time and energy. How do you make a living after college with a sculpting

Not all of the art is based on painful memories or experiences, Fonfara said. Several of his pieces are items that many people see every day.

"I'm really interested in seeing objects that are so familiar that you don't even see them as art," he said. Fonfara worked part time as a carpenter for 10 years. Most of his work entailed replacing doors and windows. Doors and windows became his art. Both "Watershed" and "Bay Window" show the nside and outside of a building. Both of these pieces have water that flows down the interior of the window, giving the appearance of rain.

"It's important to focus on the view, not of the window, but what is going on through the window,"

The art is intended to make the viewer think, Daniel Hunt, assistant professor of art, said.

"Chad's work takes everyone somewhere," Hunt said. "It's different for everyone.

'Watershed' was on display in the Union last year and an older couple was looking at it. "I began talking to the man and he said that it reminded him of his youth growing up on the farm," Hunt said. "He said when it rained, they didn't have to go outside and do chores." Having water inside the frame complicates his artwork, Fonfara said. The water's presence changes the temperatures inside the framework and causes the Plexiglas to suction together. "On 'Bay Window', a timing device was necessary because the window would eventually self destruct if it was running all the time," he said. Harbstreit uses familiar objects in his artwork as well. He uses steel, iron and cement. "A lot of it has to do with money because I'm a college student," he said. "Concrete is cheap, so that's one reason I use it. I also like the mass of it. It's a solid object that has a lot of mass and presence. "If the art wasn't in the hall, you could walk through. It being there and being large makes you deal with the objects in the space." Harbstreit's sculptures weigh up to 800 pounds. Since they are heavy, the sculptures are made in several pieces and then placed together when they get to the exhibition area.

"All my pieces come apart," Harbstreit said. "They have to because there's no other way to move them.'

Having sculptures that are larger than the viewers adds another dimension to the art.

TOP: "Wasted Time" by Matthew Harbstrelt Is on display in Durland Hall.

LEFT: "Hammered," by Matthew Harbstrelt, Is made of concrete and steel.

Fonfara said

"Human scale is important," he said. "That is why the sculptures are made life-sized. I want viewers to be able to interact with the pieces. It is important because we use our bodies to measure and our senses to explain.

"I encourage you to sit on it and touch it. I saw some people pull the cushion off of the seat and try to see how it was put together. I was pleased to see on the doorway that there were footprints going

The location of the exhibit might surprise some. but Terry King, dean of engineering, said that the engineering complex is an appropriate place to display the art for several reasons.

"Our students have an interest in things like that," he said. "They like exposure to things outside of their college. They like having technology and there is a lot of interesting material science and engineering that goes into the art that is there now."

The idea to display artwork in the complex came from his graduate days at MIT, he said. Having a collection of art inside the engineering complex helps to bring the two fields together.

"Engineering and science are technical and abstract while art is tangible," King said. "The value for us is that the arts helps our students connect with society.

The art is abstract, but encourages students to think about things around them, he said. While many seem to be excited about it, not all say they understand it.

This is something the artists anticipated, but is irrelevant, Harbstreit said.

"It doesn't matter if people get my art," he said. "I make them for me."

misdirection

Thursday, March 14, 2002

BY DAN SMITH -Kunsas State Collegian

team this year.

Postseason recognition is en vogue for K-State's women's basketball

Sophomore Nicole Ohlde and Coach Deb Patterson were the latest to add to the Cats' collection Tuesday.

Patterson was named the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's District V Coach of the Year on Tuesday, and later in the day Ohlde was named to the Associated Press honorable mention All-America team.

With a win against Kent State in Friday's first round NCAA Tournament game, Patterson will have guided the Cats to their first 25-win season since 1983-84, when K-State finished 25-6 and advanced to the Midwest Regional.

Ohlde's All-America annoucement came on the heels of her selection to the Kodak All-District team earlier this Ohlde also was named to the firstteam All-Conference squad this season prior to the Cats' appearance in the Big 12 Tournament. Last year's Big 12 Rookie of the Year, Ohlde is K-State's leading scorer (17.6 ppg). shot blocker (68) and field-goal shooter (56.8) as well.

Freshmen Laurie Koehn and Kendra Wecker joined Ohlde on the All-Big squad this season, and Koehn was named ESPN.com's Rookie of the Year for 2001-02.

Koehn leads the nation in threepointers (112). Wecker leads the team in rebounding, and is 36th in the nation in free-throw percentage (85.2).

The two rookies headline Patterson's crop of Wildcats making

QUALITY SHOE AND LEATHER REPAIR

Shoes . Boots Luggage • Purses Leather Coats

Back Packs

MANHATTAN SHOE REPAIR 8-5:30 M-F 776-1193 216 S. 4th 8-1:00 SAT.

Manhattan Area Technical College

Continuing Education

Evening Classes

Computer-Related

Advanced Access 4/1-4/24 M.W 6pm-8:30pm $38 Advanced Excel 4/2-4/25 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $38 Advanced Web Page Design 4/2-4/25 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $42 Advanced Word 4/2-4/25 T.TH 6pm-8:30pm 538 Introduction to Computers 3/26-4/25 T.TH 6pm-9pm $48 Quickbooks

Drafting Beginning CAD 3/25-4/24 M,W 6pm-9pm $76 Advanced CAD 3/25-4/24 M,W 6pm-9pm $76

3/26-3/28 T,TH 6pm-8:30pm $35

For a complete listing of classes offered please call 587-2800 for more information

Call 587-2800 to enroll today!

3136 Dickens Ave. Manhattan

www.matc.net

their first appearances in the purple

K-State freshman account for 62.3 percent of the Cats' points and 57.7

Rethman and sophomore Andrea

Armstrong on the 2001-02 Women's Basketball Academic All-Big 12 team

99 Southwest

10¢ Chicken Nuggeta

$2 U-Call Its

Live Music @ 9

DI CAM @ 11

Tough Man 2002

coming soon

sign up today

Sirloin

Ohlde also joined senior Kristin percent of K-State's rebounds.

this season.

and white this season. As a group, the Ohlde, Patterson top honor list

K-State's Nicole Ohlde puts up a shot against Nebraska on Jan. 12 at Bramlage Collseum. Ohlde was included in the all-american honorable mention team this week.

Zach Long/

The announcement marked the first time Ohlde and Armstrong were named to the team, while Rethman added her third appearance this

The honors have kept coming for Ohlde, 100. The Clay Center, Kan., forward also was named to the Verizon Academic All-District team this season.

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villa

No tears over tears.

Hey... everybody tears a lens now and then. Or loses one. Besides ... disposable contacts aren't supposed to last forever! And at just $19.95 a six pack at The EyeDoctors, you can wear your ACUVUE disposables and toss 'em after a week.

And shed no tears over tears. * 6 lens disposable Contact Lens Multi-Pak. Exam & fitting fees not included in price

DRS. PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH PA AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118 3012 Anderson - Manhattan

Women's Basketball First & Second Rounds in Bramlage Coliseum!

Friday, March 15 6 p.m. - Arkansas vs. Clemson 20 minutes fellowing Carrie Cris - K-State vs. Kent State Sunday, March 17 8:30 p.m. - Winners of Friday's games.

rudent-$10 unch-$15 Chair Back - $20 Call 1800.221.CATS or stop by the K-State Athletic Ticket Office!

NCAA

this season, they'll have to find a way to build on the experiences that placed the Cats in their current situation - a three-seed in the Mideast region with expectations of making a Sweet 16 appearance in Milwaukee next week.

But even those projections don't have Patterson's youngsters rattled.

"It's just an awesome opportunity to have the chance to keep playing." ireshman guard Lauric Koehn said.

"It's something that we've really got to grab ahold of and realize. It's kind of like a new beginning for everyone."

Especially for K-State, who returns to the tournament field for the first time since 1997. But for Koehn and the rest of the Wildcats. the team's NCAA appearance marks the culmination of more than a few year's worth of preparation.

"It's something we've all dreamed about and all knew we wanted to have the opportunity to do," Koehn said. "It's just awesome, and I think we're really lucky to have this chance.

"We're going to come in excited and ready to play and hopefully be ready to go and get some wins."

NOLL

■ Continued from page 6

the football team must roll the ball to receivers, and batters in baseball will be called out if they hit a fly ball out of the infield. K-State will make its equestrian riders walk alongside their horses as opposed to riding them.

■ The Washington, D.C., Boxing and Wrestling Commission voted unanimously Tuesday to grant Mike Tyson a license to box in Washington. It is speculated that Tyson will face WBC-IBF champion Lennox Lewis, but Tyson will announce next week that he will face convicted serial killer Charles Manson, Manson, of course, will wear orange shorts.

The Oakland Raiders will follow up their recent hiring of Bill Callahan, the Raiders' former offensive coordinator, as the team's new head coach by also hiring Tommy Callahan. Tommy Boy will be in charge of the Raiders' new brake division.

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Be warned, this is the craziest prediction yet.

■ The Kansas Jayhawks will advance to the Elite Eight. KU fans will demand that Coach Roy Williams resign, saying they didn't really want the team to succeed in March. They just wanted to complain.

■ Finally, I predict that by Saturday afternoon, I will be laying in the sun on the beach in South Padre. I also predict that my spring break will Remember, all my predictions are guaranteed.

Michael is a junior in English and print journalism. You can e-mail him at mtn5855@ksu.edu

MOORE Property Management 2002-2003 leases Close to Campus

Win Cash for Spring Break! Sign a new lease prior to 3/14 @ 5 p.m. to be entered into a drawing. Drawing held at 2 p.m. on 3/15

For more info call

537-0205

on our big screen.

IS COMING TO K-STATE

Look for me this week on campus and in the Union for entry forms to the largest NCAA Bracket challenge.

Brought to you by the Royal Purple.

unbelieveable prizes!

Men's and women's Brackets! FREE to enter!

More information available at royalpurple.ksu.edu

Help Wanted

WANTED: SUMMER IN-

STRUCTORS. Instructors needed to teach area high guage. Applicants must be MS/ Grad students or Board

mit resume and three letters

Interviews begin

open

marke

TANNING BED

WOLFF Series IV- 424SL Bulbs replaced New price

transportation

(800)719-3001 ext

Motorcycles

new paint, new tires, great. (785)770-8594

HONDA SABRE 1984

700cc, V4. Low mileage, ex-ellent condition looks great

785)341-8054 or (785)776

SELL

YOUR

STUFF

IN the

Automobiles

of Education certified.

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

ALL UTILITIES paid, one June at $325. June and August three-bedroom for $825. No Pets. (785)313-

1101 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apartment, two blocks to campus. June 1, one year lease (785)539-1713

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit

CLOSE TO Campus, twodaily. Call for an appointment (785)537-9064

FOUR-BEDROOM APART MENT next to campus, 1324 Manhattan Ave. $870/ month, $870 deposit. No pets. Water and trash paid. (785)456-2812.

NEXT TO campus- one Central air parking, free washer/ dryer Available August (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment. 1230 Cla-rooms, one and one-half flin across from Ford Hall, bath, central air, laundry faroom apartment. 1230 Cla 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530. (785)539-2482

Announcements

LEARN TO FLY! K-State

Flying Club has five air-planes, lowest rates. For information, call (785)456

ACADEMY OF BARTEND

ING. Have fun, make more ey, meet people. Earn $15

or weekend classes availa

ble. Job placement assistance, $199 with student ID.

Charles W. (Chuck) Harper

25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100.

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE

chuckharper@msn.com

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: CAT. White with

Call to identify, (785)341-

LOST EYEGLASSES In

We require a form of picture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when plac-

housing

(785)395-4696.

Personals

105

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

Manhattan City Ordinance

4814 assures every per-found.

call

0201

1(800)BARTEND.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

NICE close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496.

ONE AND Two-bedroom available June 1. No pets $300-$470/ month. Call (785)587-0399.

ONE, THREE, four, or fivebedroom apartments/ houses. Central heat/ air-conditioning: washer/ dryer; no pets. Close to campus.

ONE, TWO and three-bedroom apartments close to campus. June and August eases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901.

ONE, TWO, and Three-Bedroom apartments for June and August Various locations within walking distance to campus. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. No

SPACIOUS TWO and three Central air, laundry facilities, water, and trash paid. June and August. (785)539-0866. THREE-BEDROOM

APARTMENT with study. Utilities paid. Across from campus and Aggieville $900. (913)269-7297. THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT, close to cam-pus, June lease Water, trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296. TWO, THREE, lour bedcampus.

For Rent-

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and

three-bedroom homes avail able, one double-wide home Homes all come with

central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available for immediate occupance

Call (785)776-4274 to view

145

Roommate

Wanted

(785)587-9882

Sublease

(785)537-3662

Rooms

ONE-

120 ■

For Rent-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Four bathrooms, near campus.

Very nice house (913)963

$960/ month. Washer/ dry

Vattier. Call (785)539-4949.

to campus. No pets of smoking. June 1 lease

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

blocks from campus. Dish hook-ups. No pets. June lease. $250/ bedroom.

THREE-BEDROOM

WASHER/ dryer hook-up no pets or smokers, 1523

August lease (785)776 4805.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE

MENT apartment near City Park available June 1, $400

plus utilities. No pets (785)539-1145. Four-bedroom house near City Park. $850 plus utilities No pets

(785)539-1145.

For Sale-

Houses

TWO-BEDROOM.

loor, two bath, house with

Kearney.

finished basement and central air conditioning for sale

125 ▮

August

(785)556-5668.

FOUR-BEDROOM.

Available

FOUR-BEDROOM

150 ■

FOUR-BEDROOM CLOSE NICE. LARGE one-bed-

these beautiful, spacious

ROOMMATE WANTED

Great second-story apart-ment. Washer/ dryer, trash-water paid. Cheap utilities. $280/ month. Call Matt at room apartment, two blocks

south of KSU, sublease

SUMMER SUBLEASE at University Commons, Two-bedroom, washer/ dryer,

May. Call (785)567-6107.

TWO-BEDROOM 1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

> AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments and houses. Best and price is NOW. (785)341-6091.

> AVAILABLE JUNE. Two bedroom duplexes. bedroom basement apart from Some with washer dryer hook-ups. All close to KSU with off-street parking. No pets. (785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827

SIX, and seven-bed room houses for rent, near campus. Call (785)539-

FOR RENT: Available Au gust 1. 815 Kearney. Three bedroom. $775 Cal (785)776-7706 or (785)776-campus. Nice house person (785)537 THREE-BEDROOM

HOUSE, all bills paid. One block from campus, washer/ month. (785)317-1724. Sorry, no pets.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUS-SUMMER SUBLEASES. ES for June and August. Some with washer/ dryer. apartments next to campus (785)539-1713. (785)313-4812.

Roommate Wanted

ROOMMATE WANTED. Rent $225 per month plus one-third caroom available in May. Call Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu.

ROOMMATE WANTED Two-bedroom house fully furnished, heated, garage washer/ dryer, wonderful neighborhood. Pets allowed! $300/ month plus phone amg3553@ksu.edu

150

Sublease

AVAILABLE JUNE 1st. Sub leaser wanted for three-bed-room apartment. All utilities paid. One block from cam-

DESPERATELY SEEKING sublease! One- three-bedroom apartment, large rooms, walk-in closets, swimming pool! Rent nego-tiable. Call (785)770-3834.

NICE TWO-YEAR old, fourbedroom, two bath duplex for sublease after finals through July. Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup. $275, negotiable. May rent one, two, three, or rooms. Call now (785)323-0827.

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for summer. Third floor University Commons apartment. Two-bedroom rent negotiable plus utilities. Please call information (785)770-3140.

SUMMER SUBLEASE. One bedroom in a three-bedroom apartment. $250/ month plus one-third utilities. Lease ends July 31. (785)770-

SUMMER SUBLEASERS wanted for nice two-bedroom apartment close to campus. $270/ month each Call Kirsten or Julianne at

service

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted

SSSS SUMMER JOBS SSSS IF YOU'LL be close to Kanare interested in a great job lot of $5. consider working You'll have fun working outplease call (888)CPP-97US. For more information including job descriptions, visit www.colle-

$250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance NICE FOUR-BEDROOM 4814 assures every perhome on quiet street, close son equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which $240/ each plus utilities. Call he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, HREE-BEDROOM HOUSE two blocks from sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-try. Violations should be pets. Open House Thurs-1112 Thurston (913)829 reported to the Director of uman Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441. The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977-

tending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension

ACCOUNTING POSITION. No experience necessary. Flexible hours. Wage based on experience. Dean Liquor. 12th and Laramie.

lic Relations. Unique nation paid flexible, and rewarding local internship for spring summer. E-mail cover letter ucal@bendnet.com

LIVE AND WORK IN COL-ORADO! Be a CAMP COUNSELOR at Girl Scout vernight camp in the mountains southwest of Denver General counselors and pro-gram specialists (hiking, outprivate bath. $160/ month. door skills, crafts, nature, sports, challenge course. dance and dram rly August. MAKE A DIF FERENCE. Competitive sal-ary, room, meals, health in-Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281

rhondam@gsmhc.org.

support for Morgan Construction, Inc. Attention: Meighan Nettle ton. 2616 Tuttle Creek Bo

BARTENDERS NEEDED Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No expenence neces-Call (866)291-1884

Manhattan,

66502, fax (785)539-6521

available at Girls ummer camps in Northern Arizona Camp Counselors selors and many other posi-tions. Jurie 1: August 4 Equal Opportunity Employ-er. Call for application 1: www.giriscoutsaz.org/home.

CONSIDER THIS: Good employment with traveling Farm or truck experience preferred Can help you get Commercial Driver's Li-Mark at (620)356-4236

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions available, great benefits. Seayear round. Call (941)329-6434 or hour fundraising 3238, or visit www.campus-

JOHNSON COUNTY. field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recre-Resources 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by

Friday, April 5. MASS COMMUNICATIONS Instructor: One semeste sabbatical replacement, to teach classes, advise students, supervise production and perform other duties de-Qualifications: Masters De-Communications or related area with experience in the fields of journalism and/ or Community college teaching experience desirable, high school or other college able. Position available Au gust 19, 2002. Application review will begin immediate until filled. Detailed job de scription and appli materials available upon request. Application materials consist of letter of application, resume, transcripts and names, addresses and tele phone numbers of at least three professional references. Only complete application materials will be reviewed. Human Resources, Dodge City Community Col-

Help Wanted

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Combines 2388's and New Autotechnology, and foreign lan-guage. Applicants must be Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li-Provide room and board and excellent salary! Call (785)689-4660.

of references to Carmen Wright UBMS; 1800 Claffin FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top April 9th Boys Sports Camp in Beau tiful Maine. Counselors to 330 ■ coach all sports. Tennis baseball, basketball, water Business biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great Opportunities summer. 888-844-8080 or The Collegian cannot veri apply www.campcedar.com fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Em-

PROGRAMMER ployment/Career classifi-cation. Readers are ad-CivicPlus, a leader in provid-ing local government web ervices, has an opening for Microsoft ASP programvised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program ming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL exour readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka Microsoft Certified Solution 0454. days of employment Com 401(k) and paid vacation E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text to jobs@civicplus.com EOE

410 RIDE HORSES IN COLO-RADO! Be part of the west-ern riding staff at Girl Scout overnight camp southwest Items for Sale of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teach-BOOK: Anthology of Chiing basic skills. Competitive nese Literary Essays (Translated to English salary, room, meals, travel allowance Late May early August 2002 Call (303)778-0109 ext 281 or li, chungwang tripod.com

rhondam@gsmhc.org

SALES. LOCAL Company is looking for a money-moti-vated inside salesperson with a proven history of cluding quota over achieve ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently Base plus commission equals cense. You can keep nearly 550,000/ year or more. E-all your earnings. Fall em-ployment possible. Details Word or text format to call Brad at (785)395-5491 morgan@civicplus.com. morgan@civicplus.com.

987 OLDSMOBILE Calais SEASONAL WORKERS. 140,000 miles, front-wheel drive, needs little work $1,200 or best offer Call Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal workers. Several positions (785)539-5252. Leave are available in the Public Works and Parks Departm e s s a g e schmitzholly@yahoo.com ments. Valid Class C driv 1989 TOYOTA Camry, autoer's license and the ability to TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT in 70 lbs required Experilocks and windows $2300. crete work, asphalt mainte-nance, traffic flagging, tree (785)341-4258 1991 OLDSMOBILE Cutlass and turf maintenance, and 40 hour work week 1995 FIREBIRD 350. NICE 90K. $7995 or best offer Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more HONDAS FROM $500!

at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by contacting the Department of vision of Human Resources ormation call (785)565idean@co.nley.ks.us Riley ounty is an Equal Opportunity Employer. SUMMER CAMP COUNSE

LORS ON CAMPUS IN-TERVIEWS FOR PREMIER CAMPS IN MASSACHU-SETTS. Positions available fun loving students as coun-selors in all team sports including Roller Hockey and sports such as Tennis and activities, and specialty actheater, gymnastics, news paper, rocketry and radio GREAT SALARIES, room great summer that pron be unforgettable. Apply MAH-KEE-NAC -800-753-9118: DANBEE www.campdanbee.com (Girls): 1-800-392-3572 Interviewer will be on campus Monday, April 8, 2002 10am to 4.00pm in the K-State Union, Room 209 WANTED: COWBOYS Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mounlargest horse operation in website to us at 3300 Airport Road, oulder, CO 80301.

Classifieds

Media Practicum MC 484

production staff on the Kansas State Collegian during fall semester 2002. Limited enrollment. The instructor's permission is required. No prerequisites are necessary.

The experience you gain in the fall could qualify you to apply for a paid, part-time position the following semester.

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY 20 words or less $7.50 each word over 20 20c per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less $8.80

each word over 20 25¢ per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less

$10.35 each word over 20 30c per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45 each word over 20

35c per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20,

40c per word ( consecutive day rate ) TO PLACE AN AD

Go to Kedzie 103 (across from the K-State Student Union) Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open. except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student Publications Inc. Cash, check, accepted. There is a MasterCard or Visa are $10 service charge on all returned checks We reserve the right to edit, reject or property classify any ad.

FREE FOUND ADS

As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge,

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

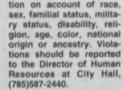

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has: expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call ús before noon the day before the ad is to be published.

HEADLINES For an extra charge we'll put a headling above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

opportunitie

EFFICIENCY APARTMENT one block east of campus Quiet conditions, Available June 1,

One-bedroom studio fur-nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218 ter and trash paid. (785)456-

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

ostay la class At The "Enemmena"

Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom *Alarm System *Swimming Pool

*Computer Lab $30 an hour. Day, evening *Fitness Center *Permit Parking Tennis/Volleyball Courts *Individual Leases

*Washer Dryer

Office Hours: M-F 9-5, Sat. 10-4 539-0500

JNIVERSITY *COMMONS* APARTMENTS

For Rent-

Unfurnished

1628 FAIRVIEW Open house, Sunday, March 17, 4- 5pm. Quiet studio near campus. $385 including gas water, trash. June noking, pets. (785)537-

AVAILABLE AUGUST Two-bedroom, air-con ng, washer and dryer, $475.

(785)537-8055. AVAILABLE AUGUST. Two three, four, five, and six-bedrooms Close to campus. No Pets. Year lease. (785)539-2551.

AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bedcampus with great prices, (785)537-6017. real estate www.beloose.com/linwood FOR RENT, new one, two, three and four-bedroom units. Some close to carr pus. All appliances. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. Call (785)341-2269 for more information. Carl Denning Construction.

son equal opportunity in housing without distinc-LEASING FOR ALL. TW bedroom and three-bed one block from carr tion, condition. (785)776-4166 closear@kansas.net

http://www.angelfire.com/ks ONE BEDROOM, close to ample ONE OR two-bedrooms Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. 928 Leavenworth, 1620 Fairview, 42 (785)539-0590.

ONE-BEDROOM ACROSS Call John at (785)313-7473.

For Rent-

room apartments Close to room, and bath, for male campus, June and August $250/ month. Utilities paid. leases. No pets. Call Adjacent to campus, off-(785)539-1975 or (785)776- street parking. Call (785) 4901. 539-4073 bedrooms available for next rentals $350/ month and up school year. One-bedrooms Pets okay, short-term start at $490 per month. Call leases. Call Century 21 Chase Manhattan Apart- Knight (785)565-0138-ments (785)776-3663 (24-dio furnished, 1219 Claffin $330. (785)456-2812. No. ONE-BEDROOM, close to

FIRST STOP One

THREE AND Four-bedrooms close to campus. Wa-

OUT basement apartment, off-street parking. Three blocks from campus. (785)336-2784.

THREE-BEDROOM. pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities gust lease (785)776

THREE-BEDROOM. TWO bath basement apartment $720/ month Washer/ dryer/ air-condition 709 Bluemont Call

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO floor apartment $750/ month Washer/ dryer/ air-conditioning. 709 Bluemont. Ca

MENT apartment, close to no smoking or pets, water trash and cable paid, $420 (785)776-9590.

Now Leasing 3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Unfurnished ONE, TWO and three-bed- CLEAN, QUIET, private

lege and Claffin, Manhattan ONE-BEDROOM $405

1320 N. Manhattan Avenue. One-bedroom stu-

campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call PARK PLACE APART-MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR

Three-bedrooms (785)539-

and trash paid. (785)537

4805

785)539-4949, leave mes-

(785)539-4949, leave mes-

145 Roommate MALE ROOMMATE, one

(785)336-1017.

ing/ pets. Call David at (785)539-8955. ROOMMATE WANTED-Nice five-bedroom house. Split utilities. One block from Please call for info (785)

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-

MAIN AD SALES/ Marketing/ Pub-

Help Wanted ADMINISTRATIVE ASSIS-TANT Walters-Morgan Construction, Inc. Applicants must be able to work Monday- Wednesday- Friday from 11:30a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday- Thursday and Tuesday- Thursday from 7:30a.m. to 1:00 p.m. during the remainder of the Spring 2002 semester and Full-time over the summer Proficiency in Microsoft Word and Excel necessary chines, copiers, and multi line phone systems also helpful. Duties include typing documents; maintain project files; filing. incoming/outgoing mail function as office reception ist; maintain records; proc-ess regulatory and license filings, provide administrastaff/job sites; perform other required. Business casual and cover letter to Walters or e-mail wmci@waltersmor-

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Models, Photographers Designers (785)830-0367 CAMP STAFF

800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at cruisecareers.com FRATERNITIES. SORORI-GROUPS Eam $1000 $2000 with the easy Campustundraiser.com three event dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campusfundraiser.com at (888)923-

fundraiser.com

teaching experience acce

2501 North 14th Avenue, Dodge City, Kansas fredrick@dccc.cc.ks.us. (620)227-9386, Equal Op

ADVERTISE CLASSIFIEDS · 532-6555

Kansas State Collegian Kedzie 103 · 532 - 6555

You can earn class credit for working with the ad design/

Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information. Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Face lift

Alan Shelton, of Bayer Construction, uses a buildozer to scrape off another layer of Wagner Field Wednesday. Crews are preparing the field for a new playing surface called Field Turf that will resemble grass.

MEETING

Continued from page 1

Seaton said he does not blame an individual party for the oversight. Instead, officials must revise SGA's bylaws to coincide with the Kansas Open Meetings

"The SGA constitution seems to allow for this. It needs a few corrections," he said. "It needs to be tailored and revised so they're consistent with the open meetings

Prior to Tuesday's meeting, Collegian editors requested it be open to the public, citing the Meetings Act. The act states that any meeting that should be open but is closed is illegal, and anything decided during that meeting can be thrown out.

Before the meeting, Jones told the Collegian he was willing to take that chance.

Attorney General Hull did not return several phone calls seeking comment.

The purpose of closed meetings is to protect students, Jones said. Student Tribunal usually hears disciplinary cases, including harassment cases and residence hall violations.

This case was unusual, Jones said, and the tribunal did not immediately know how to respond.

"We relied on what we had always done," he said. "We will, in the future, have provisions that are congruent to the Open Meetings

As far as the "overriding interest to the university community" provision in SGA's constitution, Jones said there are several other factors to take into consideration.

"There's student privacy issues, a whole big scope of things," he said. "It's a complicated consideration to make."

Dean of Student Life Pat Bosco said it is uncertain what would fall into this category.

'I'm an open meetings kind of guy," he said.

"It's difficult for me to take that phrase and place it into the appropriate context.

The tribunal did not intend to hide information from the public, Jones said

"We weren't trying to circumvent our guidelines," he said. "We don't want people to have the idea that we haven't been operating appropriately. We have been operating appropriately.

"This has been an anomaly

Jones said he is looking forward to improving the bylaws.

"This gave us the chance to look at our policy in a way we haven't had the opportunity to do," he said. "It's been a learning experience. We appreciate the opportunity."

The Collegian has 10 days to file a complaint against the tribunal with the county attorney or attorney general's office. Editor in Chief Jessica Pitts said it is under consideration.

Crematory operator to face 30 more charges

The Associated Press

NOBLE, Ga. - Authorities filed 30 more charges Wednesday against the operator of the Tri-State Crematory. where 339 corpses have been discov-

Ray Brent Marsh, 28, now faces a total of 204 charges in Georgia of theft by deception for allegedly dumping the bodies on the crematory grounds rather than cremating them, as he was paid to do.

Marsh has been behind bars since last month.

Authorities in nearby Bradley County, Tenn., filed arrest warrants charging Marsh with six counts of abuse of corpses, but on Tuesday said that, at the request of Georgia investigators, they were holding off asking for an indictment.

Records show at least 250 bodies sent to the crematory since 1998 were from Tennessee, Tri-State also contracted with funeral homes

Family members of people whose bodies were taken to the crematory met with state legislators in Atlanta Wednesday to make suggestions on preventing similar incidents.

Ginger Crawford-Dillard said she received from Tri-State a bag containing what she thought were her favorite uncle's cremains. She said she doesn't know what the bag really contains

"It is imperative that laws with the purpose of safeguarding the dignity of the body of the deceased are passed," Crawford-Dillard said. "We have to keep in mind that the mortal shell is the only tangible aspect of physical nearness that is left behind for the family to pursue."

Audrey Workman of Signal Mountain, Tenn., said that once the state passes new restrictions, independent cremators should check cremains to ensure the standards are

TURF

■ Continued from page 1

"Tufting has only been used by this company for two or three years, and no fading has been reported. If it does fade while under warranty, FieldTurf will handle that," Scott said.

He said several people will look at the turf before it is unrolled and sewn together, just to make sure it is exactly what Coach Bill Snyder and the athletic department

"Coach Snyder helped quite a bit with input, preferences and construction. His big preference was that the look of the field with logos and stuff stayed the same,"

Equipment changes have not yet been determined. Jim Kleinau, head football equipment manager, said he knows that some changes will be needed, but it will come from the players after they get used to the feel of the new turf.

"The biggest change will be with the shoes the players wear. maybe not the style, but the way the turf plays, and getting to know more about it by playing on it everyday." Kleinau said.

For the most part, cleated shoes will be worn as on natural grass, and if there are better choices, they will be made once the players get comfortable.

The biggest change with the new turf that Kleinau sees has nothing to do with equipment.

"It will add a number of things. to the game. This includes a change in the ambiance of Wagner

Say it with a personal.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie • 532-6560

Order your Royal Purple! $29.95

On sale at Kedzie 103

TUXEDOS 7995 ANY Oscar de la Renta . Lord West

ONE TUX FREE FOR EVERY SIX PAID RENTALS Marie's

539-5200

Lunch Buffet $4.95 All you can eat!

Dinner Buffet $6.95 Friday Seafood

$1.00 on Buffet FREE DELIVERY

$7.95

GIVE US YOUR OFINION.

COUPON-NO TIME LIMIT! SAVE $1

WATCH BATTERIES Expertly Installed

regulator clock store 214 S. 4th, Manhattan, 776-6977 FREE parking in front

favorites from our bookshelf

Salt: A World History Mark Kurlansky

Taken for granted in our times, salt has shaped civilization from the very beginning. From influencing the creation of trade routes to serving as a catalyst for ars, salt has been used to pay Roman soldiers and to establish cities.

Claflin Books and Copies

ATTENTION STUDENTS SPRING BREAK SPECIAL Earn $30 TODAY* & Help Save Lives!

Bring in your student ID and receive an extra five dollars for your first donation. The week of April 16-22. (New donors

Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services

formerly Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway Manhattan, KS 785-776-9177 *(for approx. 2 hours)

Fees & donation time may vary. www.zib.com

"Come see me today!"

Welcome, Melissa Stirrett!

Candlewood Shopping Center 3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632 Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

Newly Established

American Red Cross Club of KSU offering

> ON CAMPUS CPR CERTIFICATION

> > April 13, 20, 27 & May 4 ksu.edu/redcross

reaturing RYAN iMMING steak nigut

RC McGraws

Manhattan's Oldies, Country, Night Club

KARAOKE

Texas teast, cueice of perate, and salab

Thursday, 9-1

50¢ TACOS hard or soft

$1.99 Island Oasis Margaritas

776-9588 • 2317 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Blue Hills Shopping Center

got memories?

Leasing Now for Fall

•Over 250 units citywide to choose from

•Fireplaces •Carports •Pool •Private Deck Laundry Facilities

Call Now

537-9064 Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

•Large 2-bedroom Units Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

THURSDAY& open @ 11 am FRIDAY $2.00 BURGERS WELLS & BOTTLES

Leather Direct & the sports stop MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER (Sears Wing)

SUN. MARCH

NO REASONABLE OFFER REFUSED ON ANY ITEMS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 15, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 116 www.kstatecollegian.com

NCAA

Final touches

University of Arkansas coach Garry Blair watches his team workout on Thursday at Bramlage Collseum in Manhattan, Kan. The Razorbacks were preparing for the first round of the NCAA Division I Mideast Regional where they will play Clemson.

Bramlage takes on new look for tournament

BY JESSICA PITTS Kansan State Collegian

Bramlage Coliseum will have a change of appearance when it plays host to the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament this weekend.

"NCAA requires quite a bit more staff, organization and planning than ar season game," said Casey Scott, tournament manager and assistant athletics director for operations. "We have had to alter a few things.

Bramlage will transform into an official NCAA venue, Scott said, with a shipment of logos for court displays, water coolers, water bottles, cups and banners.

"They send us equipment based on typical NCAA stuff to basically transform Bramlage," he said. "It is important to approach it as being an NCAA event that we are just playing host to.'

Scott said any NCAA venues throughout the country consistently have the same look.

"They are all alike. They have a very standard and clean look that let people know NCAA is responsible for this tournament," he said.

Security also will undergo a change from typical basketball games, Scott said. However, he said he is not sure if fans will notice the change.

"There will not be a dramatic change because,

Student Tribunal moves date of presidential inauguration

ELECTIONS

The revote in the presi-

from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

ntial election will be idnesday, March 27,

Zach Long/Collegian

K-State coach Deb Patterson watches her team practice Thursday at Bramlage Collseum. The No. 3-seeded Wildcats will open the NCAA Division I Mideast Regional tonight against No. 14 seed Kent State.

since Sept. 11, we have followed stricter security regulations," he said. "We will just be adding on to

Robert Mellgren, assistant director of campus police, said the department will staff more security

"Things will be a little tighter because NCAA has strict guidelines," Mellgren said. "The main difference is officers will be more visible, and everyone will be subject to search.

Increased security will be especially visible in media areas. Scott said.

"We will check bags and match photos with IDs," he said. "The same policy will apply to all cheerleaders, band members, coaches and athletes. We will check all IDs and all bags and instrument cases. These are the rules.

Additional staff also has been hired for the ticket office because of the increasing workload, Scott said.

"They are swamped," he said, They sold 9,000 tickets in three days. It is quite a bit different in that

Scott said the short window of time to sell tickets and get things in place is a challenge for officials. "It is what I expected, but it is a different thing when you find out you are running the first and second rounds days before you host," he said. "Our staff will handle the operation well, and we enjoy it. It is a great oppor-

MANHATTAN MADNESS

NCAA play begins at 6 p.m. Friday at Bramlage Coliseum. Tickets are $20 for chairbacks and $15 for bench seats. Call the Bramlage Coliseum Ticket Office at 1-800-221-CATS for

See related stones on pages 5 and 6.

Lawmakers threaten to withhold terror funds

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Lawmakers delivered a bipartisan tongue-lashing to Thursday and threatened to withhold funds unless the Bush administration

Budget Director Mitchell Daniels endured repeated angry lectures from members of the House Appropriations between Congress and the White House

"This is a major issue," Rep. Ernest

In his written statement, Istook said,

"I hope that the lack of necessary information does not compel us to withhold funds for the priorities established by over information sharing and the war.

Istook, R-Okla., told Daniels, the only witness at the hearing. "It involves importantly, it involves millions of billions of taxpayer dollars. More the White House budget chief on provides more details about anti-

Committee in the latest flare-up terrorism efforts at home

BY SARAH RICE Ransas State Collegian

Following its decision Tuesday night calling for a revote in the presidential election, the Student Tribunal met Thursday night to determine when the new Student Senate officials will be sworn into office. Student Governing Association by-laws state that student body president and vice president will take office the third Senate meeting following the general election.

In a letter of appeal to the tribunal Student Body President Kyle Barker requested an interpretation because the offices of student body president and vice president are still in question.

"It would seem to me that Student Tribunal can order that all terms of office, including student senator, to begin at a later date, such as April 4, 2002," Barker said in his letter to the tribunal.

The third Senate meeting after the general election would be March 28. With the new SGA election March 27, there would be no time for appeals, certification of the results by the elections committee, and adoption of the results by Senate for the office of president and vice president.

In order to solve the problem, Bill Muir, Senate faculty adviser, said he could cancel a Senate meeting to keep in accordance with the by-laws.

We could call off a Senate meeting

San TRIBUNAL - PAGE 12

He did not read that comment but said afterward that he stood by it. Istook chairs the Appropriations subcommittee that controls the budget for White House operations.

Rep. David Obey of Wisconsin, the committee's top Democrat, said Daniels and other administration officials have "a severe attitude problem."

He cited their refusal to fully brief lawmakers on domestic security, White House criticisms of congressional "earmarks" of money for hometown projects, and the recent firing of a civilian Army official who criticized administration plans for water projects.

This committee has an obligation," said Obey, citing Congress' constitutional power to spend funds. "No information, no money."

Daniels told lawmakers that "we're happy and determined" to provide

See BUSH on PAGE 12

Officials criticize grad plan

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Collegian

K-State administrators criticized the Kansas Board of Regents' plan to increase graduation requirements, saying it would keep students in school longer. The plan approved by the regents in November requires students to complete 54 credit hours of upper-division courses, instead of the current 40 hours.

Faculty Senate presidents met with Regents on Thursday to provide direction on the issue. Most favored keeping the requirements at 40 upper-level credits.

Provost James Coffman, also present at the Board meeting, said the increased requirements would delay graduation for a significant number of K-State students or would require a major curriculum

"It has more of an impact on students in the College of Arts and Sciences because those students don't take as much upper-division course work," Coffman said.

Students in other colleges would still be affected, but Coffman said those students already take higher-level courses and would not see as many effects.

"Community college transfers might see the most significant effects," Coffman said. "In the plan, no more than 64 hours can be transferred from a two-year

Depending on the number of hours taken, some classes would need to be retaken at K-State because of this limit.

As it now stands, the plan to increase requirements would not affect freshman until fall 2003. However, Coffman said this will be an active subject as the Board of Regents filters through comments made by university administrators and decides which action to take.

Most Faculty Senate presidents agreed that the new plan would keep hundreds, if not thousands, of students in school for an extra semester with no real academic

The only dissenting opinion was from the faculty governance of Wichita State University. It chose to support the 54 credit hours of upper-division courses.

Regent Jack Wempe told the Associated Press he would consider changes to reduce requirements back to 40 credit hours.

He said the Board is flexible. It wants to work with the universities and listen to more recommendations before making its final decision.

Faculty members to face trial

BY NANCY HULL Kansas State Collegian

A K-State administrator and a former administrator face drug charges today in a Geary County District Court trial.

Reginland McGowan, assistant vice president of educational and personal development programs, and Renee Freeman, who resigned Jan. 31 from her position as director of GEAR UP II (Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs), are charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

McGowan and Freeman were arrested and charged Aug. 24 in Junction City. Their original Oct. 30 court date was moved to a Jan. 24 suppression hearing, and Freeman resigned the next week.

McGowan's job duties have not changed. Michael Lynch, associate vice president of educational and personal development programs, said in a previous interview that he won't speculate on action the department could take until there's an outcome. Both trials are set for 9 a.m.

Residence halls close for spring break.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the

The Manhattan-Ogden USD 383 school board approved changes to the unexcused absence policy to identify problems in the district's schools. www.kstatecollegian.com

STATE IN BRIEF

Supreme Court imposes emergency fee increases

TOPEKA - The state Supreme Court is imposing "emergency" fee increases, taking the extraordinary step of bypassing the Legislature to raise money the judicial branch says it needs to operate.

The cost of a marriage license will increase by $25, to $75, starting April 1. Most court fees will increase by $5, however, with the cost of filing a civil lawsuit increasing to $106.

The court never has issued such an order before, spokesman Ron Keefover said Thursday. Chief Justice Kay McFarland signed an order Wednesday, making it public Thursday morning.

Markets recover as disease rumors proved to be false

WICHITA - Grain futures rebounded Thursday, reflecting investor relief that the previous day's foot-andmouth rumors were false. But beef futures remained sluggish, dampening cash prices for livestock.

In the aftermath of the scare, Kansas livestock officials are grappling with how poor government communications about routine foot-and-mouth tests set off a selling panic in the commodities market.

"There was money lost yesterday that didn't need to be lost," said Betty Corbin, an Towanda commodities broker and a member of the Governor's Agricultural Advisory Board.

The rumors, whose source remained unknown Thursday, even sparked a selloff Wednesday in company stocks of fast-food hamburger outlets.

Sedgwick County to fight sexual crimes on Internet

WICHITA - The city of Wichita and Sedgwick County are taking steps to protect youth against sexual predators by hiring full-time computer detectives to investigate Internet crimes against children.

The County Commission on Wednesday approved the hire, and the Wichita City Council is expected to follow the county's action and approve a second full-time Internet crime detective for the city and county's exploited and missing children's unit, Lt. Roy Mitchell said.

Last year, the unit investigated about 85 Internet crimes against children. Sheriff Gary Steed said. The cases involved mainly child pomography and so-called "traveler" cases, in which chatroom users attempted to set up sexual liaisons with underage girls.

Detectives catch the travelers by posing online as girls and setting up meetings, Steed said.

NATION IN BRIEF

Congress asks Bush to cite Palestinian groups

WASHINGTON - More than 200 members of Congress wrote President Bush on Thursday asking him to cite Yasser Arafat's security force and two other groups linked to the Palestinian Authority as terrorist organizations.

This would freeze their assets in the United States, and authorize denial of visas to members trying to enter the country and expulsion of those already in the country.

The letter, which drew 230 signatures, commended Bush for his stand against terrorism and for declaring Arafat must be held accountable for Palestinian attacks.

"It's time to take our policy a step forward," said Rep. Henry A. Waxman, D-Calif., who helped organize the effort to condemn the three groups.

Mother pleads for jury to spare Andrea Yate's life

HOUSTON - Sobbing relatives of Andrea Yates pleaded for her life before a jury Thursday, calling her a wonderful mother who should be spared a death sentence for drowning her children in the bathtub.

"I've lost seven people in one year," said Jutta Karin Kennedy, referring to the slaying of her five grandchildren, the death of her husband and the conviction of her daughter in the children's deaths.

"I'm here pleading for her life," she said.

Yates, 37, was convicted Tuesday of two capital murder charges for killing three of the children. She is now in the penalty phase of her trial and could be sentenced to life in prison or death by injection.

Dartmouth, Princeton see hundreds of pink eye cases

CONCORD, N.H. - Pink eye outbreaks have affected hundreds of students at Dartmouth College and Princeton University, and experts fear the infections could spread to other campuses when the students travel during spring break.

More than 250 Princeton students have reported symptoms of conjunctivitis since officials began tracking the infection last month.

At Dartmouth, the number is nearing 500, and another 500 students might have had the infection and not reported it, said Dr. Jack Turco of Dartmouth's student health center.

That number is at least five times higher than usual, and there was no indication of the rate easing as students began leaving this week for spring break, Turco said.

SHE said / HE said

Q: My boyfriend is going to a different spring break location than I am. Is it OK to cheat on him if he's never going to find out? - Alone in Cancun

Dear Alone in Cancun:

Infidelity is abundant at almost any spring break spot. Couples go their separate ways for the week and end up drunk and horny with someone else.

Your question worries me because I don't understand cheating. If you want to be with someone else, then do it, but don't keep your boyfriend in the dark.

Wanting someone else, even if it's only for a night, is an indication your relationship isn't fulfilling your needs. Keep in mind that spring break is only a week, but in that week, you could severely damage your relationship.

Won't you feel guilty when you return? Or would you feel the same if your boyfriend cheated on you?

You say your boyfriend will not find out, but what if you end up on the latest edition of "Girls Gone Wild?"

Spring break is a great time to have fun with your friends. I suggest you not cheat. If a sexy man in Cancun is what you really want, then say good-bye to Mr. K-State before you leave. Sarah is a junior in electronic journalism.

Dear Alone in Cancun:

Oh, he will find out. Without lies and cheating, what would guys talk about? Infidelity is one of the best topics in college.

Ears are everywhere, especially when it comes to sexual matters. It doesn't matter if you are in Cancun or Canada, he would hear about it.

K-State is not that big. Everyone knows everyone here. What would your boyfriend think if you dump him before spring break and then get back together after?

If you do decide to cheat, you will find out who your true friends are. They will talk amongst themselves, then tell only one person. That one person will tell one person, and before you know it, your boyfriend finds out.

You have two options - be faithful, or cheat and tell no one about it - forever. Well, maybe not forever. Wait until you need good ammuni-> up with the poor sap. Derek is a senior in milling science:

Sarah Holladay Derek Dietz

"He said, she said" is an advice column that answers readers' questions about anything from relationships to advising. The column is printed every Friday as a feature on page 2. Send your questions to advice@spub.ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

Kappa Delta PI will meet at 6 p.m.

two days before it is to run.

March 25 in Bluemont 16.

III The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Kumar Shanmukhappa at 2:15 p.m. March 15 at the Hills

III Gold Key National Honor Society Executive Board will meet Sunday at 5:45 p.m. in Union 202. KSU Aikido will meet at 7 tonight.

in Aheam 301.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Wednesday, March 13

M At 10:23 a.m., Daniel Reyes, simulated controlled substance and drug paraphemalia, possession of opiates or narcotics and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond

■ At 2:05 p.m., Terry Meadows, 1826 Anderson Ave., Apt. 10, was arrested for worthless check. Bond was set at $209. At 3 p.m., Kimberly Hodges, Ogden, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $3,500. MA At 4:40 p.m., Michael Edwards, Hudson Circle, was arrested for probation violation. No bond was set. at 10:30 p.m., Christine Best, Kansas City, Kan., was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphernalia and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. ■ At 10:51 p.m., Albert Haynes, 811 failure to appear. Bond was set at

Thursday, March 14

At 2:34 a.m., Christopher Good, 1516 Colorado St., was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphernalia, unlawful possession of depressants and DUI. No bond was set. At 2:38 a.m., Robert Kramer, 914 Bluemont Ave., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

K-State Police

M No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz City/Gov Edito

April Middleton Dana Strongin

Managing Editor Campus Editor

Nancy Foster Paul Restivo

Copy Chief

Zach Long Nicole Donnert

Asst. Photo

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

FRIDAY

Opinion Editor Katie Lane

Amber Koehn

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

Sparts Editor

Alissa Duncan Asst Ad

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

Jodi Fagerquist

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

CONTACT US

BY MAII Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103, Mashaman, Kan, 66506. The Collegian is published weekslays storing the whoot year and on Wednesdays storing 00002 PONTSMASTER Send address charges to Karsus Sun Kerley (0), Manhatray, Kan. 66306-7107

O Kansas State Collegian, 2002

THURSDAY &

$2.00 BURGERS

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

WELLS & BOTTLES

ATTENTION STUDENTS SPRING BREAK SPECIAL Earn $30 TODAY* & Help Save Lives!

Bring in your student ID and receive an extra five dollars for your first donation. The week of April 16-22. (New donors only.) Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Biomedical Center

1130 Gardenway Manhattan, KS 785-776-9177 *(for approx. 2 hours)

Fees & donation time may vary

www.zib.com

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Your Career Takes Flight

Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do. Consider the passibilities.

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. I:1 stn5/student ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR. SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert, K-12. Salary $34.585 – $48.628, based on education & experience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at decoper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. EEO/M/F

MEARTSPRING

8700 East 29th Sirest North - Wichitz, KS 67226 (800) 835-1043 - fax (2.1a) 634-6555

Receive up to

The cost of college is going up, up, up. A regular paycheck and educational incentives can help you pay your way. Best of all, you work part-time. So, you can go to college and keep your social life while you serve your community and country. Call us now to see if you're eligible at 861-4295 or toll free 1-800-435-5149 or

Fuel Your Future

www.goang.com

$52,000 or more

Located in Topeka, KS. Air National Guard

KANSAS

UFM invites local elementary children to tour K-State for 'Kids on Campus'

BY JAMES HURLA

Kansas State Collegian

A typical day off for a college student most likely would consist of sleeping and an occasional snack or trip to the bathroom.

But some area elementary school children spent their day off on K-State's campus, touring different departments and attractions Thursday.

UFM sponsors Kids on Campus as an opportunity for third through sixth-grade students to tour campus on their day off of school.

"I thought this sounded like a really good program and would be fun to do," said Melissa Wiseman, sophomore in elementary education and volunteer for the day.

The students started the day with a tour of the bakery in Derby Dining Center, and throughout the day toured the theater.

"The best trick was the nitro ... I can't say it. the umm ... the really cold stuff. They put balloons in it, and they shrunk down, and then when they took it out, it came back up."

> Gina Deebe third grader at Lee Elementary School football complex, butterfly conservatory and the Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art.

They also watched a chemistry magic show and a presentation by the physics department.

"The magic show was the best part," said Gina Deebe, third grader at Lee Elementary School.

"The best trick was the the nitro ... I can't say it, the umm ... the really cold stuff. They put balloons in it, and they shrunk down, and then when they took it out, it came back up.'

Annie Ramsey, senior in family life and community service, said the children were well-behaved throughout the

"They were excited at first, but then at the theater thing she had them doing all kinds of little activities that wore them down a little bit," she said.

Senior defensive back Jon McGraw and senior center/guard Andy Eby from K-State's football team led the group on a tour of the football complex, including the locker rooms.

Kristen Johnston, event coordinator, said that although they might not have realized it, the children have broadened their horizons by spending a day on campus.

"This gives them experience they never get to have, like the chemistry magic show gets them interested in science. They really thought it was fun and interesting," she Ramsey said the benefits reached beyond experiencing new things.

"The best part was connecting with the kids," she said. "They need someone older to be with, like a mentor.

The children weren't the only ones who benefited, Wiseman said.

"I think the best part was interacting with all the kids," she said. "They're all great and so much fun."

Area elementary school students walk to the Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art on their first day of spring break. They were accompanied by volunteers from UFM during the Klds on Campus program Thursday. Nicole Donnert/

Accounting firm charged with obstruction of justice

BY PETE YOST

WASHINGTON, D. C. - The Arthur Andersen accounting firm was charged with obstruction of justice stemming from its destruction of "tons of paper" on Enron Corp., the first indictment in the company's collapse

The one-count indictment. announced Thursday, was returned last week by a federal grand jury in Houston, where Enron is based, Deputy Attorney General Larry Thompson said.

Andersen had been given a 9 a.m. Thursday deadline to agree to plead guilty. The firm has admitted that some of its employees destroyed Enron documents but that top management at headquarters in Chicago was unaware.

Andersen said criminal proceedings were tantamount to a "death penalty" against the firm, and it accused the Justice Department of "a gross abuse of governmental power."

For a one-month span in October and early November, "Andersen ... did knowingly, intentionally and corruptly persuade" employees to "alter, destroy, mutilate and conceal" documents, the indictment said.

Andersen employees "were instructed by Andersen partners and others to destroy immediately documentation relating to Enron and told to work overtime if necessary to accomplish the destruction," the indictment said.

Andersen employees engaged in "the wholesale destruction" of Enronrelated materials. Thompson said.

The Justice Department brought Andersen under close scrutiny following the accounting firm's admission that it had engaged in massive shredding of Enron-related documents as the energy trading company careened toward bankruptcy last fall. Just before the shredding began, the Securities and Exchange Commission had announced it was conducting an inquiry of Enron

Tons of paper" were destroyed and a shredder was used "virtually constantly" to handle the contents of dozens of large trunks filled with Enron documents, the indictment said.

Andersen was Enron's outside auditor during the years when the Houston-based energy trading company was presenting the public with a bright financial picture that showed billions of dollars in profits. In fact, huge amounts of debt were being kept off Enron's balance sheet through a web of complex partnerships set up

Chicago-based Andersen - one of the Big Five accounting firms blamed employees in its Houston office for shredding Enron-related documents late last October and early in November.

The indictment called the destruc tion an "unparalleled initiative to shred physical documentation and delete computer files.

Pointing to top executives, the indictment said that shortly before the destruction began, Andersen's high-level management held a confer ence call to discuss the SEC inquiry.

The maximum penalty is a fiveyear term of probation and a $500,000

Enron had no comment on the Andersen indictment, company spokesman Eric Thode said.

Andersen has been talking with rivals about selling some or all of its operations, but two firms announced that they were not interested.

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

> Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor Copy Editor • Staff Writers

Photojournalist • Marketing Director

- Section Editors * Student Life
  - * Organizations
  - Sports * Academics
- · People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Managing Editors

News Editors* Desk Editors Reporters * Copy Editors Designers

> Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists

Online Journalists Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

Fall staff applications due April 19

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

Courses Offered Monday/Wednesday 1730-2000 Credit Bldg Course Course Title Number Hours Room

Principles/Microeconomics (P) ECON 120 7656/12 Family Relations/ FSHS 350 7656/4 Gender Roles (P) Human Development FSHS 510 3 7656/16 & Aging (P) College Algebra (P) MATH 100 3 7656/8

Monday/Wednesday 1730-2000 STAT 350 3 7656/11 Bus & Econ Stats I (P)

PSYCH 518 3 215/230

Health Psychology (P)

Monday/Wednesday 2000-2230 ACCTG 241 3 7656/12 Accounting for Invest & Finance (P) ECON 510 3 Intermediate/Macro (P) 7656/11 General Psychology PSYCH 110 3 7656/8

Police & Society (P) SOCIO 362 3 7656/16 Public Speaking II (P) SPCH 321 7656/4 Business & Econ Stats II (P) STAT 351 Tuesday/Thursday 1730-2000 Expository Writing II (P) ENGL 200 3 7604/5

Human Geography GEOG 200 Plane Trigonometry (P) MATH 150 MUSIC 245 Intro to American Music Intro to Social & Political Philo PHILO 135 3. Intro to Political Science POLSC 110 3

Tuesday/Thursday 2000-2230 The Short Story

ENGL 320 7056/16 Helping Relationships (P) 7604/7 FSHS 301 7656/12 The Family (P) FSHS 550 Environ Geol: Water & Air GEOL 115 217/B6 Kansas Politics & Government 7656/4 POLSC 321 Public Speaking I SPCH 106 7656/8 Intro to Women's Studies WOMST 105 3 7604/5

Monday/Wednesday 1730-2000 & Saturday 0830-1030 March 26-April 6, 2002 Spreadsheet Applications (P) CIS 102 215/B35 April 9-April 20, 2002 Database Applications (P) 215/B35 April 23-May 4, 2002 Word Processing Applic's (P) CIS 104 May 7-May 18, 2002

Tuesday/Thursday 1730-2000 & Saturday 1000-1200 SOCIO 520 4

Tuesday/Thursday 2000-2230 & Saturday 0900-1200 Environmental Geography II (P) GEOG 221 4 7656/11

Civilian enrollments are being held before classes start in order to ensure Fort Riley access for the first night(s) of class. Make sure you include your Driver's License & State on enrollment form!

Enrollment Information

Registration . Military enrollment begins February 19, 2002.

 Civilian enrollment will be held March 18-25, 2002 Civilian online, telephone, or fax enrollment begins on the second day of civilian enrollment. A Privacy Act Statement with an original signature must be received for the enrollment to be official. . Enrollment after the first week of classes requires instructor/department approval. . Military using Tuition Assistance must be enrolled before second class meeting.

· Military enrollment includes active duty military. retired military, reserve components, family members, DOD/DAC, ROTC Cadets and

veterans

Kansas State University-Ft. Riley

Class Schedule Term 3-2002

March 25-May 17, 2002

$102.00 per undergraduate credit hour.

7604/7

7656/11

217/B6

7656/8

7656/4

100% refund if you drop in writing before the second class meeting. 50% refund if you drop in writing on or before April

Withdrawals after April 12, 2002 will be recorded on your transcript

If you stop attending class and do not process a drop form you will receive a grade of "F".

No drops after May 3, 2002.

Course/Schedule Notes

0830-1030=8:30 am-10:30 am 0900-1200=9:00 am-12:00 noon 1000-1200=10:00am-12:00 noon 1730-2000=5:30-8:00 pm 2000-2230=8:00-10:30 pm

NOTE: Times shown at left reflect recent schedule changes which supercede any already published in the brochure or prior ads

PLEASE CHECK WITH OUR OFFICE JUST PRIOR TO CLASSES STARTING FOR POSSIBLE CHANGES IN THE SCHEDULE!!!!!!!

Special Assistance

Kansas State University is dedicated to making academic courses accessible to all persons. Contact the Registration Office at (785)532-5566 or 1-800-432-8222 at least two weeks prior to the beginning of the course if you have a physical or learning disability which would require special accommodations

For information, call: 239-8246 at Fort Riley, 532-5566 at the Division of Continuing Education in Manhattan, or 1-800-432-8222 in the surrounding area.

registration information, is svaliable via the World Wide Web at the following address: http://www.doe.ksu.edu/doe/forthiley/term3-2002

view

Peter Morris

Friday, March 15, 2002

Travel, rest top editorial board's plans for break

Spring break: a time to explore foreign lands, trek across country in your friend's old car or visit long-lost relatives. The break is also a time to earn some extra dough or to simply sleep a lot. We thought we'd share our plans and give you a taste of what we will do for a week without newsroom

► OUR VOICE

is an editorial selected

and debated by the

editorial board and

majority opinion is

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

Amber Koehn

April Middleton

Dana Strongin: I'll be in KC, sleeping and lounging. Hey, at least it's free.

Nancy Foster: Decked in a swimsuit and sombrero, I'll be on the beaches of Mazatlan, Mexico.

April Middleton: I will be parked on my couch by day, and strolling through Aggieville by night.

JJ Duncan: I'll be visiting Yoder, Kan. to bring to life the next big money-making reality video -

"Spring Break: Amish Girls Gone Wild." Amber Koehn: Break? We get a break?

So that's what they're calling it. I guess I'm gonna have to watch KU open a can of whoop-ass in the "big dance."

Alyson Raletz: I'm going to be swimming in the gallons of homework that my professors assigned over spring break. Thank you, K-State professors.

Dan Smith: I'll be covering the K-State women's basketball team on their trip to the Final Four. Go Cats!

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an readers to voice their opinions.

Yesterday's Fourum was the weakest I've ever seen

To the janitor at the library: please install the toilet paper so that it rolls over the top, not under. Thank you.

Ah, Sarah Coats. I feel so bad for you.

Actually, there's been a recount. The new score is Wiesner: one, Brownback:

Was that real magnified meth on the front of Wednesday's Collegian?

I think it's very nice that we let the local kindergartners do all the line drawings for the Collegian.

Isn't it funny how you spend the first nine months of your life trying to get out. but you spend the rest of your life trying to get back in?

I don't know why a guy, let alone a woman, would want to work at Auntie Mae's. That place is lame.

ONLINE

Not enough fourum in today's Collegian? See the complete version at www.kstatecollegian.com

CLASH OF THE COLUMNISTS

MONDAY - Pre-nuptial agreements Kyle Brownback and Jared Wiesner duke it out over pre-nuptial agreements.

TUESDAY - Diet pills

Jamie Kelley and Susan Powell weigh the pros and cons of diet pills.

WEDNESDAY - Assisted suicide Tanner Ehmke and Micah Hawkinson justify their

THURSDAY - Electoral college David McCandless and Lindsey Geisler voice

claims on physician-assisted suicide.

their views on the Electoral College. FRIDAY - Premarital cohabitation Amber Koehn and Peter Morris debate the idea

See previous columns in the opinion section of the e-Collegian. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for

SHARING SPACE

view

Clash of the Columnists

Clash of the Columnists is a rotating

series. Each day, two different columnists will write columns taking a stance

on an issue presented to them. Clash

readers about both sides of the issue of the Columnists is meant to inform

Amber Koehn

Living together before getting married has many benefits

saw a bumper sticker the other day that said, 'My vacuum cleaner sucks, but not as much as my roommate,' (You can laugh at the obvious multiple meanings).

After studying the owner of the sticker awhile, I concluded he wasn't living with his girlfriend, if he even had one.

I could not imagine someone thinking his roommate sucked if that roommate was his girlfriend, or fiancé for that matter. After all, taking advantage of the benefits of premarital cohabitation shouldn't be like getting a hemorrhoid - a big pain in the ass.

At least I hope not, anyway. The idea of premarital cohabitation has its pluses, and if anyone is currently 'cohabiting,' or thinking of 'cohabiting,' I think they are smart.

First of all, premarital cohabitation saves both parties involved a ton of money. There is only one rent to pay, one set of bills to pay and only one weekend party to buy beer for, unless they're alcoholics who have to make an appearance at every party in

Why pay two separate sets of expenses if you're constantly enjoying your boyfriend's cable, not your own? Sure, the cable company isn't complaining, but isn't it smarter to pay for something you're actually going to use?

I know I wouldn't want to split the electric bill three ways if I was never around to voice my opinion on how cool or warm the thermostat should be set.

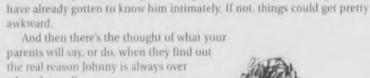

And while I'm on the subject of saving, premarital cohabitation also saves the parties involved from putting a bazillion miles on their car odometers.

If you're living with your girlfriend (or boyfriend), you don't have to constantly drive back and forth to each other's houses. And if you're going to be over at your significant other's place most of the time anyway, why not just move in with him. especially if he lives alone?

It's a matter of convenience.

Now, I guess people who live together before marriage have a higher temptation to engage in sexual congress.

The Bible says that's bad. But, chances are, people have already been there and done that if they're serious enough to consider moving in with each other. I mean, if you're thinking of sharing a bed with someone, you probably when they call Sorry, but if you're old enough to live on your own and provide for yourself. I think you're old enough to decide whether living with your significant other before marriage is right for Once you're on your own parents' roof, you get to make the rules. Your parents might not like those rules, but you're at the point where they can no longer tell you how to live your life.

In fact, you're at the point where no one can tell you how to live your life, except you.

So if you want to reside with your significant other before marriage, go ahead and do it.

It's your party, and you can cohabitate if you want to.

Amber is a senior in print journalism. You can e-mail her at adm9559@ksu.edu.

Cohabiting before marraige centered around sex not love

here are two main reasons people choose to cohabitate before marriage: to test out living with the other person, and the guarantee of a live-in booty call.

It sounds fool proof - you live with someone prior to marriage to see if they have any pesky quirks like stinky feet, obsessions with My Little Ponies, humping trash cans, etc., and also to determine if you want to spend the rest of your life with them. Unfortunately, cold, unbiased statistics point otherwise. More than 75 percent of cohabiting couples break up. Period. Plainly stated, blissful cohabitation holds the same odds as playing Russian roulette with five bullets in the chamber.

Furthermore, those cohabiting with definite plans to marry end up divorcing significantly more than those who do not cohabitate before marriage. With the current divorce rate already above the 50-50 ratio, my advice is to avoid making bets where the odds are not in your favor.

In other words, don't cohabitate, or bet on the men's basketball team for that matter.

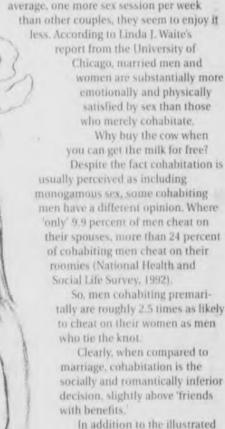

But shouldn't trying premarital cohabitation help your odds?

Negative, Ghostrider. Look at it this way: cohabiting is the same as having roommates. No matter what happens, you have to put up with crap, at least until your lease runs out. All of you with roommates out there, picture living with those roommates (and their three Michael Jordan posters) for the rest of your natural life.

Living together is not easy no matter what the circumstances are, and without the commitment that, come hell or high water, you will be together, the relationship is statistically doomed.

Now comes the part you've all been waiting for: the sex.

Although cohabiting couples have, on points, married individuals make more money, rear better children and are much less likely to be involved in cases of domestic abuse.

If you really love your significant other, make him your spouse, not your 'shacker.'

Peter Morris is a sophomore in open option. You can e-mail him at pdm5999@ksu.edu.

Complaints against greek adviser petty, unwarranted

In response to the article titled "Committee to review Greek Affairs' finances" from March 11, I feel the claims made by some local alumni are petty and unwarranted.

A few alumni claim Greek Affairs is in desperate need of a financial policy

There is little doubt the 'checks and balances' of the system should be examined to ensure financial stability and soundness of the books in the Greek Affairs office.

However, it seems to me there is a hidden agenda among a small group of alumni who claim Barb Robel, campus greek adviser, should "undergo a performance audit."

As a past president of my fraternity, I have watched the development of this "pseudo-problem" since it began early in the spring semester of 2000. In a Collegian article from February 28, 2000, a local alumnus was quoted as saying, "There are numerous local alumni who are concerned with some of Mrs. Robel's decisions."

In the most recent reports made by the Collegian staff, it is this exact same group of alumni who, having not gotten their way in the past, are making poor excuses to scrutinize Mrs. Robel, suggesting that she is "[not] pulling her share of the wagon."

Jenelfer Kimball Collegian

In my four years as a student leader within my fraternity, I was fortunate enough to interact with Barb Robel and many other student leaders on the Interfraternity and PanHellenic

The activities and practices of the councils are honest and worthy.

councils.

Barb made it clear to me and every other organization president that she was there to help me with anything and everything. Barb's open-door policy and that of the Greek Affairs office is proof they are proactive and responsive to the student organizations they serve.

I commend Barb Robel for her hard work and dedication to the greek system at K-State. In addition to Mrs. Robel, I commend the current members of the IFC and PanHel councils for their commitment to K-State and to their fraternal brothers and sisters around

I call on the students and local alumni of greek organizations to support Mrs. Robel.

> John Muehring senior in chemical engineering and former president of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity

Tournament to bring money, attention to Manhattan

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Collegier

Bar owners and hotel managers boasted this week about large crowds in Aggieville and booked rooms. While hosting the tournament will bring visitors, it's time to see where the count stands.

As of Wednesday night, 9,000 all-session tickets had been sold, getting those fans into all three games at Bramlage Coliseum.

Cheryl Sieben, director of the Aggieville Business Association, said the tournament is sure to bring a lot money into the community for hotels, dining and retail, but it is hard to calculate the benefits.

"We don't know what to expect. We've never done this before," Sieben said. "We're already expecting a lot of people for St. Patty's Day, so this could bring even more.

Most, if not all, hotels are about 80 percent full or sold out, but there are still some rooms available.

Lyle Butler, president of the Manhattan Area Chamber of Commerce, said there definitely will be an influx of people in Manhattan.

"Gas stations, restaurants and retail will see a big hit," he said. "Manhattan would usually be quiet this weekend because of spring break, but there will be a lot more activity than usual."

MOORE

Property

Management

2002-2003 leases

Close to Campus

1, 2, 3 and 4

bedroom

apartments/

houses

available.

June and July

leases

available

through May

30 & July 30.

For more info call

537-0205

These games are not televised on cable TV, so fans who want to be a part of the action will need to reserve tickets, order the games pay-per-view at home or go to their favorite sports bar.

is it possible to draw 50,000 fans?

It's hard to look at what the tournament is capable of in the Little Apple because the last time K-State hosted was 1983. However, we can look at Texas Tech, a school of similar size with about 25,000 students.

Chris Cook, assistant athletic director of media relations, said the Red Raiders have sold about 7,000 tickets as of Thursday, and expect to draw 35,000 fans.

Looking at totals and consid-

Ticket availability

Michele Dubert, assistant sports information director, said chairback seats are sold out. However, there are still 4,000 bench seats for $15 each for all-session tickets. Individual game tickets are also on sale today. Prices will be $10 for adults and $6 for students and children. To reserve tickets, call the Bramlage Coliseum Ticket Office at 1-800-221-CATS.

ering what he's heard about Wildcat fans, he said Manhattan could see 50,000 people in Manhattan.

However, when the Wildcats play the Kent State Golden Flashes in first-round play Friday night, Bramlage will have to rely on purple pride for a sell-out crowd. Most Flash fans have traveled to Greenville, N.C. to watch the men beat Oklahoma State in the first round of the men's tourna-

Kent State expects to bring only 25 to 100 people to Manhattan, mostly family. That leaves the other 13,300 Bramlage seats open for Wildcat, Razorback and Tiger fans.

Butler said the tournament will bring a lot of money to Manhattan's economy, but that is not all.

"It puts Manhattan on the map, giving us national attention," Butler said. "That's dollars and cents you can't put a price tag on.

there are PLENTY OF FISH IN the SEQ . . .

SO LOOK ONE with a PERSONAL already!

103 Kedzie 532-6555

Home Sweet Home Park Place Apartments Make This Your First Stop 1,2 & 3 Bedrooms

ONE BEDROOMS

1022-1026 Sunset $345-385 1212 Thurston $440-460 1950-1960 Hunting

$440-460 1837 College Heights $385

TWO BEDROOMS

1825-1829 College Hts. $600-700 Aggieville Penthouse Apts. $610-750

3 & 4 BEDROOMS

1841 College Heights $780-980

Manhattan, KS 66502

Call Today for an Appointment

DIAMOND 1109 Hylton Heights

is Now Leasing for the 2002-2003 School Year!

Apartments start at $490 per month

All Apartments Include:

 Microwave, Dishwasher, Garbage Disposal, Refrigerator and Stove • 24 Hour Fitness Facility and Laundry Care Center 24 Hour Emergency On-Call Maintenance

 On-Site Management • 1,2,3, and 4 Bedrooms Available Call Chase Manhattan Apartments

(785) 776-3663 (24 hours) 409 Chase Place • Manhattan, KS

Century 21 Irvine Real Estate, Inc.

z Ave. Manhattan, KS (785) 539 2356 or 1259 or email-cent21@flinthills.com or www.Century21Irvine.com

Call (785) 532-6304 to order your reprint for only $25, plus s & h.

Pregnancy TESTING CENTER

"Supportive services for pregnancy parenting & adoption." 39-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results Call for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

IN AGGIEVILLE

TRAVEL LIGHT: EXPERIENCE AVEDA

Take home Rosemary Mint, Shampure or Sap Moss Shampoo and Conditioner and we'll give you a free experience size styling product. Witch Hazel Hair Spray awakens fine hair and Confixor Conditioning Fixative moisturizes hair and soothes your spirits.

AVEDA

Offer good while supplies last

*52 EQUALITY

Have you ever noticed the groups of people who are under-represented in your activities and lifestyle?

Find one way to connect with a person from these groups today.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

IS COMING TO K-STATI

Look for me this week on campus and in the Union for entry forms to the largest NCAA Bracket challenge.

Brought to you by the Royal Purple.

unbelieveable prizes!

Men's and wemen's Brackets!

More information available at royalpurple.ksu.edu

Edie Murdoch watches her drive on hole one at Colbert Hills Golf Course. Murdoch is a quiet leader for the Wildcats with her effort during the past four years.

Spring foreward

Murdoch leads Cats on greens, takes on leadership role

BY LAURA BOYD

When we think of great leaders on any team, we think of the outspoken, outgoing athletes. Senior Edie Murdoch proves that a great team leader can be exactly the opposite.

Coming to K-State from New Mexico as a shy freshman golfer, Murdoch quickly proved her ability and established a solid position on the team for herself.

"She was winning everything in high school," Coach Kristi Knight said. "When she

Today, her leadership on the team comes naturally, thanks to her role models on and off the course and her experiences at K-State.

Growing up, Murdoch definitely had some positive influences in the sport. Her brother, Matt Murdoch, played golf for K-State from 1997 to 1998 and has always been a great teacher and mentor to Murdoch. Her father, Bob Murdoch, was her high school golf coach, though she admits that she spent much of her time working with pros.

"My brother and I grew up playing golf said. "We have always competed and he has been a great teacher.'

Coming to K-State five years ago might have been partly her brother's doing, but there was more to it. Murdoch was sold after a recruiting trip to the school, a preview of the team and the talk of a new golf course, now known as Colbert Hills, coming to town.

Now a senior, Murdoch can look back on her five years at K-State and smile. Through injury and struggle, she has become a stronger player than ever before with the a positive note.

Murdoch began this struggle sophomore year after a shoulder injury would not heal. The summer before, she had surgery to correct the injury and chose to take that year to redshirt and recuperate.

"We were concerned that she wouldn't be able to play at her highest level. So taking some time off seemed to be the best solution," Knight said. Knight and Murdoch were both pleasantly following season.

"She came back with the same stamina but a new confidence." Knight said. "She worked hard and came back stronger than

Since then, Murdoch has proved her skills repeatedly, improving her scoring average while modeling her role as a respected leader on the team.

GOLF ... PAGE 12

Pre-tournament practice fun, indicative of future

The NCAA Tournament is in Manhattan, Kan., baby.

Please forgive that pathetic reference to Dick Vitale. I really apologize. But as surprising as it might seem. that's not a misprint, folks. Still, for some reason, I don't know — it just doesn't sound right, but that's probably because it's something new for K-State women's basketball fans.

So it's pretty much new territory for them. And extremely new territory for me. Growing up. I never got a chance to go see an NCAA tournament game, but boy, I wanted to.

I remember years back when a first and second round regional came to the Kansas Coliseum in Wichita. my hometown. I didn't have that kind of cash, but just knowing the game that I was

See BOSS on PAGE 12

Utah next stop for women's tennis

BY ERIKA SAUERWEIN

The tennis team bit a high and a low last

The Wildcats upset No. 37 Oklahoma on Saturday to hand the Sooners their first loss of

But according to coach Steve Bietau, the Wildcats failed to show up against Oklahoma State on Sunday and lost 4-3.

"We played awfully well on Saturday," Bietau said Sunday. "But today was the worst performance in the doubles I have seen all year.

Against Oklahoma, the Wildcats started strong by winning the doubles point and carried the momentum into singles play.

K-State's top three singles players defeated OU easily. Petra Sedlmajerova won 6-0, 6-0 in the No. 3 match-up to continue her eight match win streak. Alena Jecminkova tallied her second Big 12 win with an solid 6-3, 6-1 win over Anda Perianu.

"Our top three singles were outstanding," Bietau said. "I thought they were solid at number one and two, and we won without much trouble.

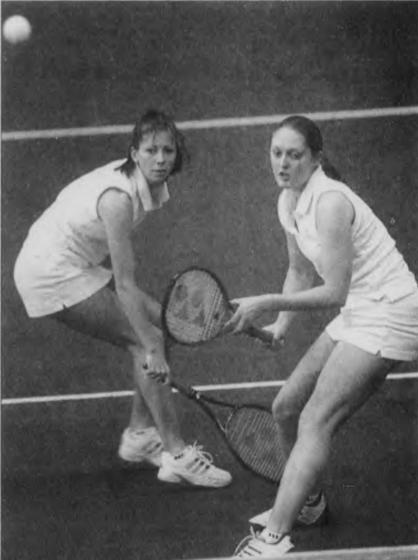

But K-State didn't quite repeat its Saturday performance.

OSU handed K-State its first conference loss Sunday.

By dominating the doubles matches, OSU took an early 1-0 lead going into the singles. All three of K-State doubles teams lost.

"We were not smart," Bietau said. "We were not ready to play today."

Sophomores Paulina Castillejos and Haley McIver lost at No. 3 doubles, 8-4. The No. 2 doubles team of Senior Kathy Chuda and Junior Petra Sedlmajerova had a solid 5-2

Drew Rose/Collegian

K-State's Alena Jecminkova and Andrea Cooper return a serve during a doubles match Saturday against Oklahoma. The duo went on to win the match 8-2.

The Wildcats had never played host to watching on TV was happening less than a NCAA regional - in fact, they hadn't five miles away was enough for me. It been to the Big Dance, period, since 1997.

Derek Boss

Fans to crowd tournament

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kunsun State Collegion

K-State fans have electricity. That's what will bring 50,000 fans to Manhattan for the NCAA Tournament.

Texas Tech should know. The Red Raiders will make their 15th-straight MADNESS NCAA Tournament appearance this year and will host for the secondstraight time. So, how does K-State stack up against schools like Tech and other NCAA host sites? Comparing the two teams, Chris Cook, assistant athletic director of media relations for the Red Raiders, said Manhattan could see a larger crowd than expected in Lubbock, Texas.

"Hosting the tournament is new to K-State, so there should be a lot more enthusiasm," he said. "Fans make all the difference, and I've heard K-State has a tremendous following.

Tech's home court, United Spirit Arena, seats 15,050, so Lubbock expects about 35,000 fans from Boston College, Mississippi State and Stephen F.

Austin this weekend. Every game could sell out, Cook said. but Tech still doesn't expect the same turnout as K-State.

San FANS on PAGE 12

3 nominated for Goldwater Scholarship

BY LINDSAY FETTERMAN

Kansos State University

Three students were nominated for the Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship and will represent the university in national competition. Kara Gray, senior in physics;

Mark Norfleet, junior in mathematics; and Julie Stilson, senior in computer science and mathematics, all earned nominations.

"The scholarship is intended for undergraduate students in math, science and engineering disciplines who intend to pursue careers in research," said Jim Hohenbary, scholarship adviser and Goldwater faculty representative.

The award is $7,500 per year for a student's senior year, or junior and senior year. It also can be used by fourth-year students.

The Goldwater scholarship is different from other awards because it is one of a handful of scholarships that requires institutional endorsement, Hohenbary said.

The nominees agree the award is different.

"It's a good award because it emphasizes research in your field," Stilson said. "It's fairly rare for undergraduates to do any significant research. It's a good building block for graduate work.'

Norfleet said the scholarship helps to recognize students doing scientific research.

"It notifies that you are doing high-quality work as an undergraduate," he said.

More than 2,000 of the nation's public and private universities are allowed to nominate four students each. The selection process at K-State is very competitive, Hohenbary said.

"We only nominate students that can compete on a national level," Hohenbary said.

A committee of distinguished faculty in math, science and engineering helped pick the nominees, Hohenbary said.

STILSON

Meaningful research, a very high grade point average and difficult courses that push the students are the key points when selecting nominees.

Gray, Norfleet and Stilson are involved in several activities and are working on research projects.

Gray is the chief justice for Moore Hall and is involved in Bible study. Her project involves research opportunities in physics. Norfleet participates in band, is president of the Math Club and is treasurer of the KSU-Manhattan Chess Club. His project regards researching the properties of strong divisibility sequence of polynomials.

Stilson volunteers at Bluemont in the HOSTS program and tutors math and computer science classes. She has researched algorithms applied to Bayesian networks for her project.

They all plan to go onto graduate school and earn doctoral degrees in their respective majors.

Since the scholarship's inception in 1986, 43 K-State students have won scholarships.

Each year K-State has won as many or more than other universities, Hohenbary said. Only Princeton, with 45 scholarships, has received more awards than K-State. K-State now is tied for second with Harvard. "Looking at the reputation of the schools we're ahead of is far revealing," Hohenbary said of K-State's rank. "We have 20 more scholarships than Yale and 10 more than Stanford.

Hohenbary said this displays on the large amount of quality undergraduate research at K-State.

"It reflects our very good math, science and engineering departments," Hohenbary said. "It shows K-State is a good place to find opportunity in undergraduate

The national winners of the Goldwater scholarship will be announced in early April.

Kansas Highway Patrol to distribute gun locks

BY JENNIFER FARR Kansas State Collegian

To prevent accidents before they occur, gun safety kits will be distributed in the Wal-Mart parking lot from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

campaign for gun safety in the community. Using the Project HomeSafe initiative, the goal is to distribute 50,000 free cable gun locks to

Sunday to support the statewide locks' retail value is $8 to $10. Gun locks distributed by the Kansas Highway Patrol and Lt. Governor Gary Sherrer are laminated cables with key padlocks that run through the trigger of the gun, making firing

Kansans statewide. The cable

Traveling inside a mobile van, Sherrer and KHP officers also will educate using gun-safety videos.

impossible.

"Many Kansans already have smoke detectors, burglar alarms and other safety devices in their homes. These voluntary and free cable gun locks will provide an additional step in ensuring Kansas homes are safer for our families," Sherrer said.

Col. Don Brownlee, KHP superintendent, said Project HomeSafe not only provides locks that can be easily-used to secure different types of guns, but it provides educational materials to inform owners how to safely handle and store their weapons.

"We are proud to join this cause in promoting a proactive approach to gun safety in our communities, and we hope that we can provide education to the people about gun safety," Brownlee said.

Project HomeSafe is a nationwide program, funded by the National Shooting Sports Foundation and a grant form Bureau of Justice Assistance, that promotes safe firearm handling and storage practices and the distribution of free gun locking devices.

Sherrer said he was first introduced to the program through his work with the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors, which will distribute a total of 3 million cable gun locks nationwide this year.

Happy St. Patrick's Day from the Collegian.

March

s7 per person

St. Patrick's Day Special

Fresh Garden Salad Guinness Glazed Corned Beef & Sautéed Cabbage with Basil Champ Potatoes Bread Pudding with Irish Whiskey Sauce $10.95

Served Saturday and Sunday. March 16th & 17th

776-5909 1641 Anderson Ave. Manhattan, KS

O'Malley's Alley

May the Luck O the Irish be with you!

To show our support, we will be open Saturday to serve the fans.

Bookstore featuring the best in Wildcat clothing & gifts Open 11am - 5pm

Recreation home of rock'it bowling, billiards, games, & the Full Swing Golf Simulator Open Noon - Midnight

> Subway Sandwiches Open Noon - 10:30pm

K-State Student Union

Patriotic colors to join green at Aggieville's St. Patrick's Day parade

BY TARA PATTY

Kansas State Collegian

Manhattan residents will line the streets of Aggieville on Saturday in anticipation of the annual St. Patrick's Day parade sponsored by the Aggieville Business Association.

Director Cheryl Sieben said the parade, now in its 24th year, will feature red, white and blue along with traditional green. The patriotic flavor is a tribute to Korean War veterans and the 50th anniversary of the conflict. The National Anthem will also be sung prior to the parade.

The parade starts at 11 a.m. and should last about an hour, Sieben

Parading

7:30 -10:30 a.m. Blarney Breakfast at Rusty's Next Door, proceeds to the Manhattan Arts Center children's 11:00 a.m. St. Patrick's Day Parade 12:30 p.m. Shamrock 2-mile race

1:15 p.m. St. Pat's 10K road race and 10K runners for their race.

said. She said parade goers should come early to ensure an optimum spot for viewing the parade.

"It's always been a community event set up to be at this time,"

She said fans in town for the women's NCAA tournament should increase this year's crowd.

"I see it as sort of a rite of spring," Sieben said. "It's the first weekend of spring break and the community really supports it."

The parade's grand marshal, Bernie Butler, will wave the Irish flag to declare Aggieville Irish for the day, Sieben said. Thousands of people are expected to attend the parade,

The parade generally showcases about 75 groups, Sieben said. Several scout troops and several walking groups participate in the parade which also has a Spoke 'n Shamrock competition for bike riders.

"It was instituted during spring break to bring the community down to Aggieville," she said.

The parade starts at Manhattan City Park, and then travels north on 11th Street before turning west on Moro Street and re-entering City Park from south Manhattan Avenue.

Awards will be given to the largest group entered in the parade, as well as the entry with the most St. Patrick's Day spirit, Sieben said.

Prior to the parade, there is a Blarney Breakfast from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. at Rusty's Next Door. Proceeds from the breakfast will go to the Manhattan Arts Center's childrens' program.

After the parade, there will be three running events for runners from surrounding areas, Ed Klimek, marketing director for the running events, said. He said approximately 800 people participate in the race annually.

"Certain running events get recognition for being better running events," Klimek said. "This is one of the first races of the new year."

The race draws participants from Nebraska and Missouri. Klimek said he estimates about 25 percent of individuals competing in the races come from outside the Congressman Jim Ryun and former Olympian Frank Shorter have participated in the races, which feature a 10K race in addition to a two-mile fun run and a three-mile walk down Moro Street and through the K-State campus.

"A lot of marathon runners notable on the marathon circuit use the race as a warm up for marathons," Klimek said.

Harvard Townsend, race director, said the 10K course is certified so runners can trust that it really is a 10K race.

"It's challening, but not to an extreme," he said.

Students stay in town for spring break to do homework, make extra money

BYTARA PATTY

Nansas State Collegian

Big projects and empty pockets are two reasons students will be staying in Manhattan during spring break.

Matt Newkirk, freshman in openoption, said he will spend a majority of his break in town working to earn extra money

Newkirk, a Manhattan native, also is looking forward to reconnecting with high school friends who attend the University of Kansas and universi-

"It's not as cool as going somewhere warm, and it's the same old scenery, but you get to save money," he said. He said he probably will travel to Lawrence this weekend to get away and will spend the remainder of break hanging out with friends and working. Ashley Westmeyer, freshman in business marketing, also will be spending her spring break in Manhattan.

anywhere else," she said.

This is the fifth day in a weeklong series

travel issues and

for additional coverage

concerns. See part of her break and relaxing for the rest. She said she also is shopping trip to Spring break in Manhattan is what you make of it, she said. It also will allow her to save money for a possible trip next during spring break when their student employees leave town for distant locations.

Stormy Kennedy, owner of Claffin Books and Copies, said employees who have job interviews take precedence over those who want time off to

"Everyone knows they are working in a retail store and the doors don't close for spring break," she said. "We try to be fair to everyone.

She said students typically stay in town because they have a big project to do, or a project they didn't get accomplished. She said the break usually goes smoothly.

"I recognize that, typically, we all kind of need a break," she said. Kennedy said she is up front with her employees from the beginning concerning working during breaks. Seth Langton, senior in architecture, will be working at Claffin Books and Copies for a portion of his break. Not everyone can get off work all week Langton said, but he is looking forward to having time to work on his studio project while other classes aren't meeting.

"It helps to sit down and just do that straight through for a while,'

Steve Levine, assistant manager of Varney's Bookstore, said the number of students wanting time off is balanced by the number of students who also leave town.

During spring break, the staff department is thinner than usual, he said. This year, there is an added challenge because the start of spring break coincides with St. Patrick's Day, Levine said.

"We usually have some people who want extra hours and work a little longer than they usually would." he said

CRUM'S

512 Poyntz Ave. Manhattan 776-4794 All services performed by students under the supervision of licensed instructors. exp. 3/31/02

Happy St. Pat's Day

come in and see our new spring arrivals, plus... Boyd's Bears Yankee Candles Crabtree & Evelyn Lang Companies Greeting Cards and Easter

COUPON

20% OFF Any Green Item excludes Boyd's Resta expires March 17, 2002

704 N. Manhattan Ave. • In Aggieville • 539-7654 Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:30 • Sat. 8:30-5:30 • Sun. 12:00-5:00 Westmeyer will be working for hoping to take a quick Kansas City or Topeka.

highlighting spring break www.kstatecollegian.com

Employers also face challenges

ፙፙጜ፟ፙጜጜጜፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙፙ Happy St. Patty's From the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

ક્રમુંત કર્યું મૂર્ય કર્યું કર

539-7444 424 Houston

For more information, see our ad in your Manhattan Southwestern Bell Yellow Pages

539-5512

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer ACROSS DOWN 37 Noted 24 Belgian 1 Clampett bell in patriarch 4 Lotion 2 Fix texts London 39 Greek 25 Washing 3 Venetian additive 8 Celebrity Ion, D.C 40 Early bird 4 Bakery 12 Confusing 41 Lower in lures 5 Rotten situation 45 Morning 13 Sauce 6 Away sugar, briefly Show thickener brew 48 New York 8 Play ground fixture follower 15 Bean-50-28 Crooned -triendly spiller 17 Mountain 9 Bill 51 Kazakh-32 Archie's 10 Lemony goat 18 Prepares 11 Mardi Edith sea 52 - de 33 C-shaped clams, Gras 19 Charged 53 Hoodlums' 16 Sir's 35 Cribbage counter arsenal 21 Rotation 54 Captain's piece 36 Pilfers 20 Spindle duration subordi-22 Circus 38 Chicago nates top 55 Ms 26 Homes, to 39 Whodunit Charisse 23 Verifiable 29 Thou 42 Grandsquared 30 Carnival 43 Supporter 31 Astringen 44 Requisite 45 Moon 32 Speck 33 Swear 34 Fled shine 46 Simile Expectations' 49 401(k) 36 Winter forecast 18

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-68731 99e per minute, touch STUMPED? tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King. Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP 3-15 NIVMV AEYKGV EC NVSLU KV WLGGVA WGEIV UNLM UNLNV? Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE RACEHORSE WAS HURT BADLY THE OTHER DAY, BUT NOW IT'S IN Today's Cryptoquip Clue: U equals S CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.c.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, PO Box 539475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cripher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error. © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

STABLE CONDITION

- Moulin Rouge

4:25 p.m., 7:20 p.m. and

"Black Hawk Down"

"Time Machine"

9:40 p.m.

"Ice Age"

"John Q"

'Return to Neverland"

4:45 p.m. and 7:10 p.m.

4 p.m., 7 p.m. and 10 p.m.

5:15 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and

5 p.m., 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

4:10 p.m., 7:05 p.m. and evening shows.

9:45 p.m.

9 p.m.

MOVIE TIMES

SETH CHILDS CINEMAS

"Dragorfly" 4:20 p.m., 7:15 p.m. and 9:35 p.m. "Showtime" 4 p.m., 7:15 p.m. and 9:30 "All About the Benjamins"

4:20 p.m., 7:20 p.m. and 9:50

4:30 p.m., 7:10 p.m. and 9:25 p.m. "Supertroopers" 7:30 p.m. "Queen of the Damned 4:25 p.m. and 10 p.m.

"40 Days and 40 Nights" 9:40 p.m. 4:30 p.m., 7:25 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Movies at Seth Childs Cinemas are $4.50 for matinees and $7 for

The BIG night

This year's picks well deserving

Story by JJ Duncan

Can can can "Monfin Rouge" take on armies of orcs and a schizophrenically genius brain to pull away with the year's best picture? Will Halle Berry be the first black woman to win best actress? Here are some Oscar picks for the big night to look for.

Best Actor Critic's pick: Denzel Washington, "Training Day" Oscar Pick: Russell Crowe, "A Beautiful Mind'

It would be nice to see an action movie get someone an Oscar, and Denzel Washington would be the man to win for his crooked cop in "Training Day." But truth be told, this is Russell Crowe's third Best Actor nomination in as many years, and after winning last year for "Gladiator," this year will probably be a second award. Crowe's schizophrenic John Nash is almost sure to win him the

■ Best Actress

the Bedroom'

Critic's Pick: Nicole Kidman, "Moulin Rouge" Oscar Pick: Sissy Spacek, "In

This is one of the closest races in the Oscar pool, and actresses deserve recognition, but in the end, Sissy Spacek looks like the pick. Her character in the troubling drama is the type of thing the Oscars love. Still, it would be refreshing to see Nicole Kidman win for her free-spirited Satine from "Moulin Rouge" to dash any pretentious award choices.

Best Director

Critic's Pick: Peter Jackson, 'The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" Oscar Pick: Ron Howard, "A Beautiful Mind' The often overlooked Opie looks like he's finally going to win an Oscar for "A Beautiful Mind." There is still a possibility that the Oscar could go to Peter Jackson, who definitely is worthy for bringing one of the most beloved fantasy books to life.

■ Best Picture

Critic's Pick: "Moulin Rouge" Oscar Pick: "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring"

If any underdog has ever deserved to win the best picture award, it's "Moulin Rouge." Baz Luhrman brought to life a fantastical 1900 France that wowed audiences and critics. That does not mean it will win. Many critics are choosing "A Beautiful Mind" for the best picture winner, but take a look at recent winners of this award and it becomes evident that the Oscar committee is not above choosing an audience favorite.

Readers get chance to make, compare their picks for Academy Awards

Cirlce your choices for each category, and see how well you do when the 74th Annual Academy Awards airs March 24 on ABC.

Best Picture "In The Bedroom" "Moulin Rouge" "A Beautiful Mind" "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring' "Gosford Park"

■ Best Actor

Russell Crowe, "A Beautiful Mind" Denzel Washington, "Training Day" Scan Penn, "I Am Sam" Will Smith, "Ali" Tom Wilkinson, "In the Bedroom'

Best Actress Halle Berry, "Monster's Ball" Nicole Kidman, "Moulin Rouge" Sissy Spacek, "In the Bedroom" Judi Dench, "Iris" Renee Zellweger, "Bridger Jones's

■ Best Supporting Actor Ben Kingsley, "Sexy Beast" lim Broadbent, "Iris" Ian McKellen, "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" Jon Voight, "Ali" Ethan Hawke, "Training Day"

■ Best Supporting Actress Jennifer Connelly, "A Beautiful Mind" Maggie Smith, "Gosford Park" Helen Mirren, "Gosford Park" Marisa Tomei, "In the Bedroom" Kate Winslet, "Iris"

■ Best Director Bon Howard, "A Beautiful Mind" David Lynch, "Mulholland Drive" Robert Altman, "Gosford Park" Peter lackson. "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" Ridley Scott, "Black Hawk Down"

■ Writing (Adapted Screenplay) Akiva Goldsman. "A Beautiful Mind" Daniel Clowes & Terry Zwigoff, "Ghost Rob Festinger and Todd Field, "In the Bedroom' Fran Walsh, Philippa Boyens & Peter Jackson, "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" Ted Elliott & Terry Rossio and Joe Stiffman and Roger S.H. Schulman, "Shrek"

■ Writing (Original Screenplay) Guillaume Laurant and Jean-Pierre Jeunet, "Amélie" Julian Fellowes, "Gosford Park" Christopher Nolan & Jonathan Nolan, "Memento" Milo Addica & Will Rokos, "Monster's Wes Anderson & Owen Wilson, "The

■ Animated Feature Film "Jimmy Neutron: Boy Genius" "Monsters, Inc." "Shrek"

Royal Tenenbaums"

Art Direction "Amélie' "Gosford Park" "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" "Moulin Rouge"

■ Cinematogrophy "Amelie" "Black Hawk Down" "The Lord Of The Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" "The Man Who Wasn't There" "Moulin Rouge"

■ Costume Design "The Affair Of The Necklace" "Gosford Park" "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone' "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring"

"Moulin Rouge"

■ Documentary Feature "Children Underground" "LaLee's Kin: The Legacy of Cotton" "Murder on a Sunday Morning" "Promises" "War Photographer"

■ Documentary Short Subject "Artists and Orphans: A True Drama" "Sing!" "Thoth"

Film Editing "A Beautiful Mind" "Black Hawk Down" "The Lord Of The Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" "Memento" "Moulin Rouge"

Foreign Language Film

"Amélie" "Elling" "Lagaan" "No Man's Land" "Son of the Bride"

■ Makeup "A Beautiful Mind" "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" "Moulin Rouge"

■ Music (Score) "A.I. Artificial Intelligence" "A Beautiful Mind" 'Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone' The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" "Monsters, Inc."

■ Music (Song) "Until," for "Kate & Leopold," by Sting "May it Be," for "The Lord Of The Rings: The Fellowship Of The Ring, by Enya "If I Didn't Have You," for "Monsters, Inc.," by Randy Newman "There You'll Be," for "Pearl Harbor," by Diane Warren "Vanilla Sky," for "Vanilla Sky," by Paul 3. McCartney The Contract of the state of th

Short Film (Animated) "Fifty Percent Grey" "For The Birds" "Give Up Yer Aul Sins" "Strange Invaders" "Stubble Trouble"

Short Film (Live Action) "The Accountant" "Copy Shop" "Gregor's Greatest Invention" "A Man Thing (Meska Sprawa)" "Speed For Thespians"

Sound "Amélie" "Black Hawk Down" "The Lord Of The Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring" "Moulin Rouge" "Pearl Harbor"

■ Sound Editing "Monsters, Inc." "Pearl Harbor"

■ Visual Effects "A.I. Artificial Intelligence" "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship Of The Ring" "Pearl Harbor"

misdirection

U.S. envoy arrives in Mideast; Israeli troops still in 2 West Bank towns

The Associated Press

JERUSALEM - U.S. envoy Anthony Zinni launched his third Mideast truce mission Thursday, arriving during the bloodiest period in 18 months of fighting to try to achieve an elusive cease-fire.

After Zinni met Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon in Jerusalem. Israeli troops began withdrawing from the West Bank town of Ramallah. Witnesses said the tanks were leaving from all directions, that a pullout had

Israelis and Palestinians said they are ready to work with the U.S. envoy. but violence persisted. Israeli forces killed five armed Palestinians in gunbattles and two militiamen in a helicopter attack in Gaza, while Palestinian militants set off a bomb under a tank, killing three soldiers.

Each side warned it would continue fighting if the other did not end the violence.

Beginning his peace mission against the backdrop of Israel's largest military operation since the 1982 invasion of Lebanon. Zinni met with Prime Minister Ariel Sharon on Thursday.

"My main effort now is to achieve a cease-fire," Sharon told reporters before the meeting at his Jerusalem residence, across the street from a cafe where a suicide bomber killed 11 people last Saturday.

Palestinian officials said Zinni was to meet with Arafat on Saturday.

As Zinni arrived, Israeli Defense Minister Binyamin Ben-Eliezer ordered a gradual pullback of troops from Ramallah, the Palestinian commercial center in the West Bank that has been occupied by dozens of Israeli tanks since Tuesday.

But the Bush administration said that was not enough.

"We do expect a complete.

withdrawal from Palestiniancontrolled areas, including Ramallah, and the other areas the Israel Defense Force recently entered," State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said. He also called on Arafat "to do more to stop the groups that carry out violence.'

Britain's Foreign Office also contacted Israel's government and urged it to pull out of Ramallah, saying Israel should take "immediate steps to de-escalate" its operations.

The Israeli army chief of staff has said 20,000 soldiers have been deployed in the West Bank and Gaza Strip in response to a string of attacks on Israelis by Palestinians.

In all, 174 people have been killed on the Palestinian side and 62 people have been killed on the Israeli side since the beginning of March. Israeli tanks also seized neighborhoods in Bethlehem, entering the city from all directions in the early morning hours Thursday. Some tanks were parked 300 yards from the Church of the Nativity, traditional site of the birth of Jesus.

Arafat, meanwhile, said he remained completely committed to reaching a peace agreement with Israel, but accused Sharon of abandoning previous accords.

Sharon also faced domestic political turmoil, losing the support of a hawkish partner over his decision to drop a demand for seven days without violence as a precondition for cease-fire talks.

The concession prompted the two Cabinet ministers from the ultranationalist National Union faction to quit the coalition government. The resignations of Tourism Minister Benny Elon and Infrastructure Minister Avigdor Lieberman took effect Thursday. Despite the defections, Sharon's broad-based coalition retains control of 75 seats in the 120member parliament.

Religion Directory

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN A DV E R T I S I N G

118 Kedzie

532-6560

First Bap ist Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within city limits, call the church.

Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

An American Baptist Congregation

Mt. Zion Church of God in Christ

Service Times

Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:30 a.m. Wednesday Bible Study 7:30 p.m. Friday Joy Night 7:30 p.m.

916 Yuma Street Supt. Caleb J. Weathersby, Pastor 785-587-9140

CALVARY CHAPEL OF MANHATTAN Sunday Service - 10:00 a.m.

1961 Strong Ave. Come Just As You Are

Contemporary Worship Very Casual Atmosphere Solid Verse By Verse Bible Teaching

Pastor Dade Ronan confinanhattania kseable.com travel safely over spring break

Claflin Books and Copies

NIOL THE DIRECTORY

> Call 532-6560

College Bible Study

Varney's Book Store - Upstairs

"Keys for Successful Living" Led by Joe McGraw Sunday 9:30 a.m.

Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church Missouri Synod

776-2227 9 a.m. Sunday School & Bible Class

10:30 a.m. Divine Worship Service

KSU - DANFORTH CHAPEL christluth.@networksplus.net

Manhattan Baptist Church

Independent Services Sunday

10 a.m. Bible Study 11 a.m. Morning Service 6:30 p.m. Evening Service Wednesday

7 p.m. Evening Service 510 Tuttle Street 776-9069

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

MASS SCHEDULE Tuesday-Thursday 10:00 p.m. Friday 12:10 p.m. Saturday 5 p.m. Sunday 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m.

Sun. 4:30 p.m., 6 p.m. Father Keith Weber, Chaplain 711 Denison 539-7496

Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan

across sanduct, left on K-18 1/2 mile Program each Sunday at 10:45 a.m. Religious education classes for youth Day care for toddlers The Rev. David Grimn

481 Zeardale Rend (South on K-17

Baptist

Church 2901 Dickens - 2 blks. E. of Seth Child ♦ Sunday ♦

Morning Worship 8:15 & 10:45 a.m.

Bible Classes For All Ages 9:30 a.m. Evening Service or Care Cells 6 p.m. 776-0424

METHODIST CHURCH

612 Payntz • 776-8821 Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Church School all ages 9:45 a.m. Pastors: Jim Reed, Jan Todd Ken Wills, & Mitch Todd fume@flinthills.com www.flinthills.com/-fumc

Palm Sunday - March 24th

Procession of Palms and Choir Cantata

Sunday 9:00 a.m. - Sunday School 10:15 a.m. - Worship Service 11:30 a.m. - Broadcast

Angel 95.3 FM

Easter Sunday sermon 10:15a.m. March 31

5th & Humboldt • 776-8790

*53 ACTION

Season for lonviolence

Each of us can work to change a small portion of events and in the total of all those acts will be written the history of this generation, said Robert Kennedy.

Today, find a way to make one, small change that will contribute to the wellbeing of your home, school, workplace or community.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or całl 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

QUITTING BUSINESS

EATHER  $oldsymbol{D}$ IRECT & THE SPORTS STOP

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER (Sears Wing)

FINAL DAY SUN. MARCH 17

NO REASONABLE OFFER REFUSED THE ANY ITEMS

10904100

Check out our new spring fashions

Cruel Girl*Rockies Cinch*Wrangler*and more!

Saddles * Tack* Western Apparel Equine * Pet * Livestock Feed & Supply

> Animal Health Products Home Accents* Gifts

7003 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Manhattan, KS 66503 (785)539-7316

Purina Mills, Inc.

10 Miles Northwest of Manhatttan on Hwy. 24

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN CHURCH Sunday Worships 9:45, 11:00 $ 12:15

College Minister Natalie Holdren College Bible Study & Free Food Sunday 7:30-9:00 p.m. 776-5440

FIRST LUTHERAN 10th Poyntz 537-8532

DOG

Worship iat. 5:30 p.m., Sun. 8:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

Lutheran Campus Ministry at Luther House 1745 Anderson

Sunday Evening Worship 7:00 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel

www.ksu.edu/lcm-elca Pastor Jayne Thompson pastorj@ksu.edu) 539-4451 Open to All

ST. MARY MAGDALENE ORTHODOX CHRISTIAN MISSION ECM Bldg. 1021 Denison, 2 South

539-3440 Services: Divine Liturgy 9:30 AM Saturdays in the ECM Nave Visit the K-State OCF webpage at www.ksu.edu/orthodox

First Presbyterian Church

Sunday Schedule

Worship at 9:15 a.m. Sunday School for all at 9:15 a.m.

Worship 10:30 a.m. Nursery provided all morning www.firstpresmanhattan.com

801 Leavenworth St. * 537-0518

St. Luke's Lutheran Church

330 Sunset Avenue Saturday-

Traditional Worship 6:00 p.m. Sunday-Traditional Worship 8:30 a.m.

College Bible Study 9:45 a.m. Contemporary Worship 11:00 a.m. Campus Pastor - Eric Wood Email: campusmn a flinthills.com (785) 539-2604

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH

College and Young Married Couples. Sunday School © 9:30 & 11:00AM

Youth Ministry Opportunities College Pastor David Kinnan Semor Pastor David Thomps

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

You are welcome at .

First Assembly of God

Weekly Schedule of Services

Sunday

Worship Services 10:00 a.m. Children's Church 10:00 a.m. Worship Chair 4:00 p.m. Evening Worship 6:00 p.m.

All ministries begin at 7:00 p.m. Prayer Meeting Youth Group (grades 7-12) Royal Rangers (Boys Club) Missionettes (Girls Club) Chi Alpha 8:00 p.m. Christian Fellowship for College Students (KSU Little Theater)

Wednesday

Nursery Provided for All Services

Rev. Todd Weston, Pastor 2310 Candlewood Dr. Manhattan, KS (785) 537-7633 www.manhattanag.org

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate

Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

350 600 1,000 75 150 250 500 1,500 1,500 500 1,500 1,500

Add additional times for just $20

ELLULARONE

1.800.CELL.ONE WWW.CELLULARONEWEST.COM

Cellular One Manhattan Town Center Mail 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mke

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

105 For Rent-Apts. Furnished

ALL UTILITIES paid, one block to campus. Studio for June at $325. June and Authree-bedroom $825. No Pets. (785)313-

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apart ment, two blocks to campus. June 1, one year lease. (785)539-1713

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit

CLOSE TO Campus, two-Call for an appointment. (785)537-9064

FOUR-BEDROOM APART-N. Manhattan Ave. S870 month, $870 deposit Water and trash paid.

(785)456-2812. NEXT TO campus- one apartments. Central air, parking, free washer/ dryer

NEXT TO KSU apartmen

for August. Defuxe two-bed-room apartment, 1230 Claflin across from Ford Hall Hall, $530. (785)539-2482

NICE TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid $545- $585/

Announcements

LEARN TO FLY! K-State

Flying Club has five air-

ACADEMY OF BARTEND

or weekend classes availa

ATTORNEY AT LAW Charles W. (Chuck) Harper

SPOUSEQUEST COM RE-

Lost and Found

ATIONSHIPS just got eas-

1(800)BARTEND

2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc

For Rent-Unfurnished

ONE AND Two-bedroom

available June 1. No pets. $300-$470/ month. Call (785)587-0399. ONE, THREE, four, or five bedroom apartments/ houses. Central heat/ air-conditioning; washer/ dryer; no pets. Close to campus. (785)587-9460

ONE, TWO and three-bed campus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, and Three-Bedroom apartments for June and August. Various locations within walking distance to campus. Some with pets. (785)313-4812.

SPACIOUS TWO and three bedroom, close to campus Central air, laundry facilities water, and trash paid and August. (785)539-0866. THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT with study Utilities paid. Across from campus and Aggieville $900 (913)269-7297 THREE-BEDROOM pus, June lease Water, 1975 or (785)313-8296. THREE, four bed-bath, central air, laundry facampus. (785)537-1746.

TWO-BEDROOM'S trash paid. Washer and dry er, off street parking $375 and $475. (785)539-5821 For Rent-

Houses

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

2002 manufactured home

three-bedroom homes avail-

Call (785)776-4274 to 145

Roommate

$280/ month. Call Matt at

NICE. LARGE one-bed-

room apartment, two blocks

south of KSU, sublease

SUMMER SUBLEASE at

University Commons. Two

bedroom, washer/ dryer,

SUMMER SUBLEASES.

ADVERTISE

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

its next to campus

May. Call (785)567-6107.

April 8 $420

Wanted

(785)587-9882

Sublease

starting April (785)537-3662

(785)539-1713.

1101

Apt.

For Rent-

Unfurnished

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets Available June (785)539-1177.

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments and houses. selection and price is NOW. 785)341-6091.

AVAILABLE JUNE. Two bedroom duplexes, bedroom main floor, or two-bedroom basement apartments. Several to choose from. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. All close to KSU with off-street parking. No pets. (785)556-6899 of room houses for rent, near campus. Call (785)539-

FOR RENT: Available August 1. 815 Kearney Three-bedroom. $775. Call (785)776-7706 or (785)776-

FOUR-BEDROOM CLOSE to campus. Nice house person. (785)537-

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable. Five bedroom houses also one-bedroom apartleases. No pets, no smok-ing. Call (785)539-0549.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE, all bills paid One block from campus, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, $1125 a month. (785)317-1724. Sor-

THREE-BEDROOM HOUS-ES for June and August me with washer/ dryer No pets (785)313-4812

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810. THREE AND Four-bed-

ter and trash paid. (785)537 THREE-BEDROOM WALK

OUT basement apartment off-street parking. Three (785)336-2784.

sixteen-feet wide, two and THREE-BEDROOM, able, one double-wide home. Homes all come with pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus uti central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available August lease. (785)776 4805

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO immediate occupancy bath basement apartment, June 1. $720/ month. these beautiful, spacious Washer/ dryer/ air-conditionng. 709 Bluemont. Can (785)539-4949, leave mes-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath main floor apartment. $750/ Washer! dryer! air-condition-ROOMMATE WANTED. 709 Bluemont. ng. 709 Bluemont. Cal. (785)539-4949, leave mes-Great second-story apart-ment. Washer/ dryer, trash/ water paid. Cheap utilities.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT apartment, close to no smoking or pets, water, trash and cable paid, $420. (785)776-9590

Now Leasing 3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

Kimball & College Aves

Across from KSU stadium

FOUR-REDROOM

Pets okay, short-term leases Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Four

plus bedrooms. Three full bathrooms, near campus.

Very nice house. (913)963-1498, Keith.

FOUR-BEDROOM ONE

bath house for rent. June 1.

$960/ month. Washer/ dry

Vattier. Call (785)539-4949.

NICE FOUR-BEDROOM

home on quief street, close to campus. No pets or smoking. June 1 lease.

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

bathroom. One and one-half blocks from campus Dishwasher, central air, laundry

hook-ups. No pets. June lease. $250/ bedroom.

WASHER/ dryer hook-und pets or smokers. 152

Pierre $840 plus utilities

August lease (785)776-

MENT apartment near City Park available June 1 $400

plus utilities. No pets. (785)539-1145. Four-bedroom house near City Park

$850 plus utilities. No pets.

August

7851556-5668

4805 ich plus utilities. Call

Rooms

120

For Rent-

Houses

1628 FAIRVIEW. Open CLEAN, QUIET, private house, Sunday, March 17, room, and bath, for male, 4-5pm Quiet studio near $250/ month Utilities paid.

campus $385 including gas. Adjacent to campus, off-water, trash. June 1 No street parking. Call (785)

smoking, pets. (785)537- 539-4073

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1

Two-bedroom, air-condition

ing, washer and dryer, $475.

AVAILABLE AUGUST, Two.

bedrooms. Close to cam

AVAILABLE NOW, summe

and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to

FOR RENT, new one, two.

All appliances.

with washer dryer hook ups. Call (785)341-2269 for more information. Carl Den-

K-Rental Mgmt.

Now Leasing

Bills Included

1 BR from $395

2 BR from $500

3 BR from $600

4 BR from $720

539-8401

LEASING FOR ALL. Two

Some close to cam-

(785)539-2551.

No Pets. Year lease.

Available

employment/ opportunities

IF YOU'LL be close to Kan-sas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a Research and Extension lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters. You'll have fun working outside and with your friends. If interested, please call (888)CPP-97US. For more nformation including job decriptions, visit www.collegepro.com!

he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, into livestock management.

The Collegian cannot veri fy the financial potential of LIVE AND WORK IN COL-advertisements in the Em- ORADO! Be a CAMP ployment/Career classifi- COUNSELOR at Girl Scout cation. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable gram specialists (hiking, out-caution. The Collegian door skills, crafts, nature, urges our readers to contact the Better Business dance and drar Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, early August M Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

mailing our circulars. For in formation call (203)977-$250/ DAY potential/ bar

548. AD SALES/ Marketing/ Public Relations. Unique national publisher offering well-

d, flexible, and rewa local internship for spring/ summer. E-mail cover letter SEASONAL WORKERS.

Riley County is accepting workers. Several positions are available in the Public Works and Parks Departments. Valid Class C driv er's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs required. Experience in construction, concrete work, asphalt mainteand turl maintenance, and mowing. 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by contacting the Department of vision of Human Resources cation materials will be reated at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more information call (785)565-Idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley nty is an Equal Opportu-

Help Wanted

incoming/outgoing mail function as office reception ist: maintain records; process regulatory and license filings; provide administrative support for field staff/job sites; perform other attire. Please send resume and cover letter to Walters-

Morgan Construction, Inc. Attention: Meighan Nettle-

ton, 2616 Tuttle Creek Bou levard, Manhattan, KS 66502, fax (785)539-6521

or e-mail wmci@waltersmoi

BUDWEISER WOMEN of

Big12 Swimsuit Calendar

available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona Camp Counselors.

Program Staff, Riding Cour

selors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4. Equal Opportunity Employer Call for application 1-800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

(941)329-6434 or

cruisecareers.com

mer help wanted. General

Resources

with other non-smoking em

(785)889-4514 or (785)889

overnight camp in the moun tains southwest of Denver

General counselors and pro

sports, challenge course

early August MAKE A DIF

FERENCE Competitive sal ary, room, meals, health in-

Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281

of the student newspaper and perform other duties de tailed on the job description Qualifications: Masters Degree in Journalism/ Mass

7161

ORADOL

House prov

Friday, April 5.

Photographers

Wanted.

gan.com.

Designers

(785)830-0367

CAMP STAFF

ROOMMATE WANTED. ADMINISTRATIVE ASSIS-TANT Walters-Morgan Con-struction, Inc. Applicants Rent $225 per month plus one-third cable and electric. Second room available in May. Call must be able to work Mon day- Wednesday- Friday from 11:30a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday- Thursday Kim at (785)539-0348 or email at klb4949@ksu.edu. from 7:30a.m. to 1:00 p.m. ROOMMATE during the remainder of the Spring 2002 semester and Full-time over the summer.

Two-bedroom house fully furnished, heated, garage. washer/ dryer, wonderful neighborhood Pe allowed Proficiency in Microsoft Word and Excel necessary. Experience with fax ma-chines, copiers, and multi-$300/ month plus phone line phone systems also helpful. Duties include typamg3553@ksu.edu ing documents; maintain

Roommate

Wanted

Sublease

AVAILABLE JUNE 1st. Subleaser wanted for three-bed-room apartment. All utilities paid. One block from cam pus. Call (785)539-0543. DESPERATELY SEEKING sublease! One- three-bedroom apartment, large rooms, walk-in closets, swimming pool! Rent negotiable. Call (785)770-3834 NICE TWO-YEAR old, fourbedroom, two bath duplex for sublease after finals through July Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup, $275, negotiable. May rent one, two, three, or (785)323-0827.

SUBLEASERS NEEDED for summer. Third floor Univer-Commons apartment Two-bedroom, rent negotiable plus utilities. Please call information

SUMMER SUBLEASE. One bedroom in a three-bedroom apartment. $250/ month plus one-third utilities. Lease ends July 31. (785)770-

service

Help Wanted

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Manhattan City Ordinance individual to assume full 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in and livestock production securing and holding em- Position responsible for ployment in any field of work or labor for which sex, military status, disa- Great job for personable inbility, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-Violations should be reported to the Director of Salary and benefits negotia Hall, (785)587-2441.

$1500 WEEKLY potential

tending Training provided (866)291-1884 extension

Help! Run New Case Co bines 2388's and New Automatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help ob-tain Commercial Drivers Li-Call (785)689-4660.

er Saturday morning. Ap-proximately 20 hours per week. Please apply at Sor-ell-Iversen Chiropractic, 2815 Anderson Ave., Suite B, Manhattan, KS. PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis. baseball, basketball, water administrative functions as required. Business casual summer, 888-844-8080 apply www.campcedar.com PROGRAMMER

CivicPlus, a leader in provid-ing local government web Earn up to $250/ day, Will train. No experience necesmore years proven program Call (866)291-1884

> RIDE HORSES IN COLO-RADO! Be part of the western riding staff at Girl Scout vernight camp southwest of Denver. Must have recent > experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive allowance. Late May- early (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or rhondam@gsmhc.org. SALES. LOCAL Company

Opportunities valed inside salesperson strong sales performance including quota over achieve-ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more. E mail resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan @ civicplus.com. EOE.

market

nese Literary Essays (Translated to English) Please visit http://

Bulbs replaced. New price (785)456-7069 MAH-KEE-NAC

Suite 1. Interviews begin schmitzholly@yahoo.com 1989 TOYOTA Camry, auto four-door, locks and windows. $2300.

(785)539-5252. Leave a

Supreme Automatic, nev tires and brakes. 134K great, $3,000. Call (785)395-5060

1995 FIREBIRD 350. NICE see to appreciate Call (785)539-4151

Police impound. For listings (800)719-3001 ext

Motorcycles

great. (785)770-8594.

kick ads.

Graphic Design Internship Advertising Design appearance of ads in the Kansas State Collegian? If you are a graphic design major and would like an on-campus fall 2002 internship for credit, stop by for an

Would you like to have some creative input in the application. Prerequisites must be met and instructor's permission is required. Application deadline Friday, April 19. Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

for more information.

You can earn class credit for working with the ad design/ production staff on the Kansas State Collegian during fall semester 2002. Limited enrollment. The instructor's permission is required. No prerequisites are necessary. The experience you gain in the fall could qualify you to apply for a paid, part-time position the following semester. Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information.

Application deadline Friday, April 19.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

ostay in

Class At The

Commons"

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

*Washer/Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

Tennis Volleyball Courts

•Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-5,

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

*COMMONS*

Personals We require a form of pic ture ID (KSU, driver's li-

For Rent-

sex, familial status, milita ry status, disability, reli ne block east of campus August 1, $300, 539-3638.

LOST EYEGLASSES in found, call 812. No pets -Trying to sell your car? Try the Collegian Classifieds

v. meet people. Eam $15-Apts. Furnished ple. Job placement assistance, $199 with student ID. www.bartendingcollege.com at City Hall (785)587-2440.

parking, furnished or unfur-

ter and trash paid (785)456

planes, lowest rates. For information, call (785)456-

030

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race.

nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218

cense or other) when plac-

housing real estate

origin or ancestry. Viola-tions should be reported to the Director of Human placed free for three days.

Apt.

APARTMENTS

For Rent-Unfurnished

ONE BEDROOM, close to mpus (June): (785)539-> bedroom and three-bed-room one block from camous, laundry Excellent locacondition. (785)776closear@kansas.ne!

http://www.angeffire.com/ks 2/bluestem/ ONE OR Iwo-bedrooms. Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. 1. 928 Leavenworth, bedroom house, 316 N. 11th. (785)539-0590.

ONE, TWO and three-bed-leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-ONE. TWO, three and fourschool year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-Hours), One-half mile from

$550, 1320 N. Manhattan Avenue, One-bedroom stu-dio furnished, 1219 Claffin $330. (785)456-2812. No (785)539-8955. ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX

$335/ month, 539-4891.

$405.

ONE-BEDROOM

room apartments. Close to campus. June and August TWO-BEDROOM. finished basement and cen-(785)336-1017.

Roommate

Wanted

(785)539-1145

For Sale-

private bath. $160/ month. one-half utilities, no smok-ing/ pets. Call David at apartment, unfurnished, no Nice five-bedroom house, smoking, no pets, nice- Split utilities. One block from campus. Available June 1 shady yard, central air-con-ditioning, water/ trash paid. Please call for Info (785)

ROOMMATE WANTEDnity Employer.

rhondam@gsmhc.org. MASS COMMUNICATIONS Instructor: One semester sabbatical replacement, to teach classes, advise stu-dents, supervise production area with experience in the mass communications Community college teachi experience desirable, high school or other college teaching experience accept able. Position available August 19, 2002. Application review will begin immediately. Position to remain open until filled. Detailed job de scription and application materials available upon renance, traffic flagging, tree quest. Application materials consist of letter of applica tion, resume, transcripts and names, addresses and tele phone numbers of at least three professional referen > viewed. Human Resources. Dodge City Community Colnue, Dodge City, Kansas tfredrick@dccc.cc.ks.us. portunity Employer.

Help Wanted NEED SUMMER Harvest

cense. Provide room and board and excellent salary! PART-TIME POSITION available for a very special person to join our enthusias-tic and very dedicated team. Hours are mid-afternoon to early evening and every oth-front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great rvices, has an opening for a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or ming experience required. Microsoft ASP and SQL ex-perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 days of employment. Competitive salary plus health, 401(k) and paid vacation E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text to obs@civicplus.com

CONSIDER THIS: Good employment with traveling custom combining crew. Farm or truck experience preferred. Can help you get Commercial Driver's License. You can keep nearly all your earnings. Fall em-ployment possible. Details call Brad at (785)395-5491 or Mark at (620)356-4236. Mark Heil Harvesting. CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Sea-sonal or year round. Call JOHNSON COUNTY Sum-field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State SUMMER CAMP COUNSE-LORS ON CAMPUS IN-Center. Must have own TERVIEWS FOR PREMIER CAMPS IN MASSACHU 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe SETTS Positions available $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 fun loving students as coun-(negotiable). Apply in Horticulture. Forestry and Recrecluding Roller Hockey and Lacrosse, all individual sports such as Tennis and 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by activities, and specialty ac-35 miles northeast of Mantheater, gymnastics, news paper, rocketry and radio GREAT SALARIES, room board, travel and United maintenance and operation June 19-August 16. Enjoy a great summer that promises to be unforgettable. Apply

> 1-800-392-3572. In terviewer will be on campus Monday, April 8, 2002 10am to 4:00pm in the K-State Un ion, Room 209. WANTED: SUMMER IN-STRUCTORS. Instructors needed to teach area high school students in science technology, and foreign lar guage. Applicants must be MS/ Grad students or Board of Education certified. Submit resume and three letters of references to : Carmen Wright UBMS: 1800 Claffin

www.campmkn.com

-800-753-9118: DANBEE

www.campdanbee.com

through the Rocky Moun-Come work for the argest horse operation in North America. Visit our www.sombrero.com or write Boulder, CO 80301. SPRING/ SUMMER SEA SONAL. Starting Salaries: various (seasonal positions non-benefit eligible). Twin Oaks Sports Complex is looking for umpires, score-

Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses

WANTED:

workers. Theater positions agers, choreographer, cosinstructor aides. Little Apple Day Camp counselors Fun in the Sun Special Populations Day Camp coord nator and counselors, and youth arts and crafts instruc tors among others. Closing Date: Applications will be accepted until positions an CONCESSION STAND AND GIFT SHOP ATTENDANTS. Starting Salary: $5.15/ hour. (seasonal part-time, non-benefit eligible). Special Reguirements: Must be able to work weekends, some evenings and holidays inand Labor Day (weekend hours March- May and SepHelp Wanted

tember- November and daily hours May- August). Posi-tion Requirements: Applicants must be friendly, outgoing and motivated, selfstarters with fundamental accounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience helpful. Closing Date: Applicants will be accepted un til positions are filled. CON-CESSION STAND AND GIFT SHOP MANAGER Starting Salary: $5.70/ hour. (seasonal part-time. non-benefit eligible). Spe cial Requirements: Must be able to work 20-30 hours/ week, including weekends some evenings and holidays including Memorial Week end and Labor Day (week end hours March- May and September- November and daily hours May- August) Position Requirements: Responsible for managing 9 seasonal concessions and gift shop attendants Applicants must be friendly, out going and motivated, self-starters with fundamental accounting skills. Prior food services or retail experience helpful. Closing Date: Applicants will be accepted un il positions are filled. Gate Attendant. Starting salary: $5.30/ hour (part-time). Po cash register, welcome visi admission fees, operate Shift Schedule: Must be able to work a flexible Monday-Friday shift plus holi-days, weekends and evenings. Closing date: 03/14/02. To be considered for an available position, you must complete a City of Manhattan application and return it to us by 5 p.m. on the closing date. For appli-cants or more information. www.ci.manhattan.ks.us/hr/j obs.asp - call the Job Line at (785)587-2446 - e-mail jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us or visit City hall, 1101 Poyntz Ave. Equal opportunity em-

330 Business

The Collegian cannot veri-fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach such business opportunition. The Collegian urges Better Business Bureau. KS 66607-1190. (785)232

BOOK: Anthology of Chi-TANNING BED

Items for Sale

Automobiles 1987 OLDSMOBILE Calais drive, needs little work

1991 OLDSMOBILE Cutlass

HONDAS FROM $500!

1992 KATANA. Good shape

■ Continued from page 6

lead, but OSU would rally to win

Jecminkova and Andrea Cooper lost in No. 1 doubles 8-5. Jecminkova said the loss wasn't necessarily due to poor play.

"Unlike our opponents yesterday, they were able to put back the balls that we hit to them," she said. "It wasn't that it was horrible, but it just wasn't enough. We did the same stuff, and we should've done something

K-State lost three of the single matches to lose the match by a

No. 3 singles player Sedlmajerova had her eight-match winning streak broken with a 6-4, 7 5 loss. Kathy Chuda lost her close match 4-6, 6-2, 7-6 (3) at No. 2 singles to drop 5-3 in spring action.

But Freshman Maria Rosenberg, Jecminkova and Castillejos won their singles matches. Rosenberg won her fifth straight match of the spring season with a 6-1, 6-1 victory at No. 4 singles. Jecminkova won her second straight match of the weekend with a 6-1, 6-3 victory at No. 1 singles. The two-time NCAA qualifier is now 3-1 in the Big 12.

"I had to play a different game than I am used to this weekend," Jecminkova said. "I am usually the one to win the points, but that wouldn't have worked this weekend. I had to sit back and make her make the mistakes and it worked.

"We are going to have to forget about this loss and move on. We have to keep fighting because we know what we can do."

K-State plays BYU this weekend in Provo, Utah.

BOSS

Continued from page 6

was pretty sweet.

So it kind of makes sense that I went into sports writing - one of the few fields where you get into all kinds of cool sporting events for free. And they pamper you, too.

Now, I've covered my fair share of "big-time" games since I started writing for the Collegian in fall 1999: K-State's last two bowl games, the 2000 Dr. Pepper Big 12 football Championship, and the last two Big 12 Conference Tournaments at Kemper Arena in Kansas City just to name a few.

But I got my first taste of the NCAA Tournament on Thursday.

That was an experience in itself. I could have done without walking almost all the way around Bramlage just to find the media entrance, but it was worth it once I got inside.

Well, at least after I got past the security guard who checked my bags like I was a convicted felon. The whole Sept. 11 incident really has everything on the up and up these days. 'Just in case' is a frequently heard phase.

After I got past the entourage, I walked down to courtside to watch the team practices. All four squads in the Manhattan regional -Arkansas, Clemson, K-State and Kent State - had allotted practice times Thursday that were open to the public I figured I'd check things out a day early, and probably find a topic to write about in the process. My column ideas were shot. After you've written seemingly 200 of them in the past, it's often tough to think of something new. Plus, the NCAA media hospitality room had finger foods to snack on yes, finger foods. Two kinds of cheese cubes. Crackers. Ham and roast beef croissants. That's what I'm talking about.

So anyway, I was sitting there on press row, watching each team strut its stuff. My assessment of Arkansas and Clemson? They've got some big dudes, or uh, chicks - I think. Regardless, they're both big and athletic, and either one could pose problems for K-State in the second round.

Yes, in case you were wondering, I'm already advancing the Wildcats to round two. Why? Because I watched Kent State practice. Its playmakers are few and far between, and it should be a mop-up for the purple.

Heck, by the way the coaches talked to the Kent State players. nobody's too optimistic for an upset. Its staff would say things like. 'Catch the ball, you know, that big orange thing flying through the air,' and 'Do you want to play in the basket? One more step and you would've been in the net.

Those might not be word-forword, but I'm not sure that kind of motivation works too well.

Either way, I'm looking forward to tonight. After all, when's the next time I'll be able to attend such a prestigious event? I'm already going to miss Sunday's second round game; I'll be well en route to South Padre Island, Texas, by then for spring break.

I do feel a little guilty — just a little — but women in basketball uniforms, or women wearing other things? C'mon, you can't blame me

Derek is a junior in print and electronic journalism. You can email him at dnb8765@ksu.edu.

Practice makes perfect

K-State runs through drills during practice Thursday at Bramlage Collseum. Bramlage will play host to the first and second rounds of the NCAA Division I Mideast Regional today and Sunday.

tribunal

■ Continued from page 1

and shift it up a week, but there's too much work to get done," he

John Graham, tribunal justice, said he thinks the original intention of the by-laws was to allow for an appeals process.

When you look at the code as a whole, it seems to me it's just trying to give it time for a complaint to be filed," Graham said.

Shelly Anderson, tribunal chancellor, said she thought there might be problems if the process was rushed.

"If we do this, they will only have a day to file a complaint," she Graham said he couldn't find any reason not to move the date.

"I am pretty dug in that this would be in the best interest of SGA," he said.

Muir suggested the tribunal move the swearing in of the new senators as well. All SGA positions, then, would change hands on the same date.

The Student Tribunal voted unanimously to have the swearing of both student senators and student body president and vice president at the Senate meeting April 4.

BUSH

■ Continued from page 1

more information faster. And he said he meant no condescension in recent weeks when he described some congressional restrictions as "Lilliputian."

But Daniels would not back away from his frequent criticisms of parochial projects lawmakers win for their districts. And as for last week's firing of Mike Parker, head of the Army Corps of Engineers, Daniels said the course of honor ... if one can't agree with a president's policy is to resign one's post."

With terrorists being pursued overseas and at home, it seems unlikely that lawmakers would cut spending for any such programs.

But symbolic reductions somewhere are possible. Obey said cuts should be aimed at the White House budget office that Daniels heads "if we don't get better cooperation.

The lawmakers' comments underlined growing tensions between the two branches over information sharing that have transcended party lines.

lawsuit by Congress' General Accounting Office seeking the names of business executives who met with Vice President Dick Cheney's energy task force. In addition, some congressional leaders said they did not know some federal officials were secretly working outside Washington in case of a catastrophic attack on the capital.

The latest irritant is homeland security Director Tom Ridge's refusal to testify before congressional committees.

Istook said it violates Congress' constitutional power to defend the United States and regulate the armed forces. Administration officials say Ridge has privately briefed lawmakers but will heed the usual practice in which the president's immediate staff does not testify to Congress.

Daniels has been at odds with many members of Congress' Appropriations committees since the start of the administration last year, when Bush's first budget proposed eliminating thousands of parochial projects. The committee writes the annual spending bills that are home to those projects.

Their relationship soured further last fall when he opposed bipartisan efforts to increase domestic security spending, and when the president's February budget criticized many lawmakers' earmarks.

GOLF

■ Continued from page 6

"She has stayed healthy and competed tough." Knight said. "She has held her position in the top three on this team since then."

As a senior, Murdoch has stepped up and used her abilities to be a great motivator to her teammates. Her strong work ethic and her ability to teach by example overpower Murdoch's quiet demeanor, Murdoch's hard work over the last five years has made her an intricate part of the

"She leads by how she prepares herself, both on the course and in the classroom," Knight said. "She means a lot to the team and its improvement.

a passive leader. She stresses the

EARN $25

TODAY ..

You can earn CASH each week for a few hours of your time. By donating your life-saving blood asma, you help improve the lives of hemophiliacs, burn victims, surgery patients and more!

... $50 THIS

WEEK!

ZLB Plasma Services

785-776-9177

importance of being respected by her teammates over the need to tell them what to, do.

"I prefer to lead by example," she said. "It is more effective to practice extra and work harder. People accept you more if you try hard, and if you try hard, so will

Looking back, Murdoch is actually thankful for that season that she was forced to redshirt. It has given her the opportunity to finish her time as a Wildcat at home this spring with the Big 12 tournament at Colbert Hills. She does admit that after five years here, though she has made many memories, it is going to be hard to leave it behind.

"I would never trade in the opportunities I have had," Murdoch said. "I have met a lot of unique and fun girls come and go, and I can say that my time here was worth it.

Fans

■ Continued from page 6

The two schools are similar in size, 25,573 and 22,396 students respectively, but Lubbock has a population of 201,212 compared to 44,000 people in Manhattan.

So, why is K-State expecting 15,000 more fans?

Bramlage Coliseum bleeds purple on game days. With near sell-out crowds at almost every home game this season, fans are psyched-up for the tournament.

Cook said visiting schools know how excited crowds get wherever they go, making the host school and its excitement level a contributing factor.

If fans know the host site provides an exciting atmosphere.

Catherine Verschelden,

they will travel, he said. Another big factor is visiting fan attendance.

Bramlage seats 13,400, which totals 42,000 fans if all three games sell out. And since every game doesn't have the same fans, 50,000 is reasonable, Cook said.

Kenny Mossman, director of media relations at Oklahoma, said team ranking also contributes to game attendance, as well as other Mossman said high ticket sales in Norman, Okla., would be difficult this year for the same challenges Tech expects with travel, and because of the lowerranked teams coming to the Sooners' sub-regional.

"There aren't any teams that are close geographically, so travel could be a problem," he said. "Teams are traveling from Connecticut, Philadelphia and Malibu in California.'

Not only are the Sooner women in the NCAA Tournament, but Oklahoma also is playing in the first round of the men's tournament in Dallas this weekend.

"Fans will have to make a choice or drive back and forth." Mossman said.

"We're excited the men's game is close, but it might work against us a little bit."

Bramlage also faces the challenge of competing men's games.

Leasing Now for Fall

Brian Deitz, Kent State assistant sports information director, said Manhattan should not expect a big crowd from Kent, Ohio, because of fans heading to Greenville, N.C., for the men's regional against Oklahoma State.

"Expect only 25 to 100 people - not very many," he said.

For first-round play, K-State will have to rely on its own fans to sell out Bramlage and keep the atmosphere in favor of the home

Call Now

537-9064

BE ONE

OF THE

FIRST

▶ Broadband

▶ Mobile access

anywhere in Manhattan

speeds

▶ Complete

Internet

Always on experience

connection

It's Fast. It's Mobile.

Murdoch will admit that she is Mortar Board would like to congratulate the fellowing new

Jayne Christen Zachary Cook Stacie Corbin Daniel Creekmore Kate Evans Nicole Fischer Nathan Fosse Laura Good Essence Halliburton Delvin Higginson Chris Jackson Darcy Kern Crystal Kramer Kari Krier

members: Elizabeth Love Regina Munoz Ethany Nelson

Ryan Norris Aaron Plattner LaTasha Pleming Kim Rogers Mindi Russell Meredith Seitz Lucas Shivers Erica Smith Trevor Stiles Jessica Strecker

> Tramaine Watts SCHOLARS... CHOSEN FOR LEADERSHIP... UNITED TO SERVE

Wondering if you might be pregnant?

Stop by Birthright for a pregnancy test that is free, accurate, reliable, and confidential. No appointment needed.

irthright of Manhattan inc. 206 S. 5th (785) 539-2555

 Laundry Facilities Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Large 2-bedroom Units Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

•Fireplaces •Carports

•Pool •Private Deck

•Over 250 units citywide to choose from

People to test a new broadband mobile Internet service

Monet Mobile Networks is looking for testers to evaluate a new, broadband wireless Internet

service that works with laptop and desktop PCs. Download music, video and access anything on the Internet anywhere in the greater Manhatlan area, without a cable or phone Modern and service are provided at NO COST to those who quality during the test. You will also be compensated for your feedback.

You must be 18 years or older and have a Windows 98 or 2000 laptop or desktop PC with CD-ROM drive and USB port.

monei

CALL 1-866-286-6638 or visit www.monetmobile.com/beta

MARCH MADNESS

LET'S DANCE

File photo by Matt Stamey/Collegian

K-State's postseason NCAA Tournament run begins today at 8:30 p.m. against Kent State at Bramlage Coliseum. Arkansas and Clemson will also be on hand for the Mideast sub-regional, K-State has earned the right to host the tournament by finishing 24-7 overall and 11-5 in the Big 12 this season. The Wildcats enter the tournament ranked 11th in both polls.

Current Wildcats share similar traits with 1983 NCAA Tournament squad

BY SEAN PURCELL

Kansas State Collegian

t's been 19 long years.

That's how long the K-State women's basketball program has had to wait to play host to an NCAA tournament game. Now the wait is over.

"It's kind of like a sigh of relief, just because you never know what could end up happening," freshman Laurie Koehn said. "We knew we had a pretty good shot, but it's just so exciting to now see it in writing and to finalize it a little bit."

The date was March 19, 1983, and K-State was in the midst of a run to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. The tournament has changed since then, expanding from 32 teams

Back then, K-State's current players weren't thinking about their future as Wildcats. Well, almost all of them weren't.

"I don't remember coming to any women's games," senior Kristin Rethman said with a grin on her face. "I do remember coming to men's games in Ahearn with my dad because he went to school here - so going to games there and seeing the fans get loud and rowdy like they are now is what I remember.'

Rethman must have a pretty good memory she was just a little tyke.

"I was four, so (the year 1983) went OK," Rethman said. "I was just working on getting the ball up to the basket."

In fact, during K-State's 1982-83 season, Rethman and her teammates would have been preoccupied with the simpler things in life like crawling.

For the players on that team, however, the glory days were already here.

The Wildcats were atop the Big Eight stand-

So flashback to 1983.

Bubblegum music was rocking the airwaves and big hair and tight-rolled jeans were becoming the in-fashion of the time. Ronald Reagan was President and K-State football earned its first trip to a bowl game.

But it was women's basketball that stole the show that year.

Angie Bonner, a center who brought the same intensity that Nicole Ohlde does, led the Cats in rebounding that year, while also providing a strong scoring presence down low. Bonner tallied 16.3 ppg that season and grabbed 7.4 rebounds a contest.

Like Ohlde, Bonner also scored at a sizzling percentage. Bonner shot nearly 60 percent from the floor, while Ohlde is shooting at a 57percent clip for the Cats, the best on the team.

And despite the absence of a three-point arc, K-State's guards were still putting up big numbers in 1983.

It was senior guard Priscilla Gary, who wore the number 10, that led the Wildcats in scoring, posting 18.3 ppg on 56-percent

Today, Gary's shoes are filled quite nicely by this year's number 10, Laurie Koehn. The redshirt freshman is K-State's best guard, scoring 17.3 ppg on 43-percent shooting from three-point range.

One significant difference between the two programs is the success of their leaders. In 1983, it was legendary coach Lynn Dickey who ran the show for K-State.

Dickey owns the best winning percentage (.762) of any coach in school history and tallied the second-highest win total (125) in just five years at the helm.

Now, Coach Deb Patterson is the mastermind behind K-State's resurgence. Dickey never had to bring a team back from the cellar. The Wildcats were already successful when she took over in 1979.

See NCAA on PAGE 2

Crowds, support keep growing in Manhattan

BY MICHAEL NOLL Kansac State Collegia

K-State has been almost like the movie "Field of Dreams."

It recruited top-notch high school players from the state of Kansas and developed a top-25 program, and the fans came - in droves.

The Jan. 12 Nebraska game was sold out - despite what the official attendance showed. Then, nearly 9,000 fans traveled to Lawrence to give the Cats a home-court advantage. The team practically had to sneak in the back to avoid the crowd.

"As I sit here today, I cannot believe that we had 8 or 9,000 people in KU's gym," Coach Deb Patterson said after the Kansas game. "It was a-home court. It may be one of the most lasting impressions I have at Kansas State."

The question is why. When K-State last went to the NCAA Tournament, in 1997, the team drew just 2,849 fans per game. However, this season, the team has drawn an average of 7.694.

The answer is found in four players - Kristin Rethman, Nicole Ohlde, Laurie Koehn and Kendra Wecker - who all come from small Kansas towns and bring the support of their communities with them.

"We all come from small communities where basketball is pretty much all there is to do. A lot of these fans have grown up following all of us, so being in Manhattan, it's just that much easier to keep following us," she said.

That support is borderline devotion. Fans showed up in Stillwater, Okla., and Lincoln, Neb., on weekends and in Manhattan even on weeknights.

"It's amazing to me, especially the Wednesday night games because a lot of people have families, and Wednesday's a school night, but they're dragging the family and the kids down to the

Sas CROWD on PAGE 2

Members of the Clemson basketball team workout on Thursday at Bramlage Collseum in preparation for the first round of the NCAA Division I Mideast Regional to be played tonight.

Bramlage ready for tourney play; Cats to be host to sub-regionals

BY DAN SMITH

Today marks the halfway point in the calendar's third month.

But for 64 women's basketball teams in the 2002 NCAA Basketball Tournament, March begins today at sub-regional locations around the Bramlage Coliseum is one of 16 sites selected for first- and secondround competition, and along with three other teams, K-State is hoping the Purple Palace is only the first stop on its postseason itinerary.

Arkansas (19-11) and Clemson (17-11) will kick off Manhattan Madness with a 6 p.m. tipoff tonight, and the Wildcats (24-7) will do battle with Kent State (20-9) 30 minutes after the Lady Razorbacks and Tigers are finished.

For K-State coach Deb Patterson, it's the beginning of something big.

"This is a dream come true," she said "This is part of a dream I didn't dream. I could dream of the NCAA Tournament, but I can't say that I dreamed that we'd be a top-16 seed

"It's crazy, but it's great to have and homegrown talent, though, their team, as their own," Patterson said. "Part of that is because so many of these players are from Kansas, but I

It goes beyond the team's success

They have really adopted them as game," Rethman said.

that kind of support."

in the tournament, and yet here we are, living that moment, and it's special.

The Wildcats are hoping they can extend that dream beyond

As the No. 3 seed in the Mideast region, K-State is favored to advance to the Regional Semifinal in Milwaukee, but Patterson said that prediction is anything but a foregone

"There are no guarantees, and this is a very challenging bracket," she said. "We'll take it one game at a

The Cats' first opponent will be a challenge in and of itself.

"They're very, very scrappy and active on defense," senior guard Kristin Rethman said of Kent State. "They have some good shooters from the outside and definitely the big girl on the inside, so they'll come in ready to play."

The Golden Flashes' outside shooter is Kate Miller, who leads the team with 14.7 points-per-contest and K-State's post players will have their hands full with Kent State's center, Andrea Csaszar, who is second on the team in scoring (14.6) and averages a team-high 6.9 rebounds per game.

K-State will counter with a youthful lineup, starting three freshmen, one sophomore and just one senior.

Still, Rethman said she and the rest of Patterson's young team should be ready for the challenge come gametime tonight.

"Our coaches have done a great job of getting the type of players in the gym that we have right now, and they have done a tremendous job this year with their work ethic and their ability to learn and pick things up and to make adjustments," she said.

"Their competitiveness and wanting to win is a large part of it. Everything has come together this year and we've been very fortunate."

Now, Rethman said, comes the time to make the most of the team's opportunity.

That's what it's all about," she said. "We just have to be ready to show up and play our game."

Rethman prepares for final stretch, hopes to complete career on high note

Kanens State Collegia

Kristin Rethman knows how much is riding on this weekend's NCAA Tournament appearance at Bramlage

She also knows that third-seeded K-State is expected to keep playing when the tournament moves to Milwaukee for the Mideast regional semifinals next

Trouble is, she doesn't act like it. "I don't think we're really feeling any pressure."

In fact, the lone senior in Coach Deb Patterson's starting lineup was cool as could be when talking about the team's projection as a Sweet 16 team this Still, Rethman knows that one loss would end K-State's dream season, and that any of 63 teams still playing for the national championship could be the

"It's the NCAA Tournament and teams are going to be ready to play," she said. "I don't think anybody wants their season to end."

Especially Rethman, who could be playing her final game in a Wildcat uniform this weekend. "I couldn't ask for anything more," she said.

"This season has just been incredible. The way this group and coaching staff has come together and all the hours and hard work we've put in at the gym and getting an NCAA Tournament bid and getting to host on top of that is just awesome."

Rethman's role on this year's team has changed a bit, with the emergence of three freshmen starters on the Wildcat roster, but her competitive nature has stayed consistent, Patterson said, even when she wasn't starting for the Cats early.

"We've had great senior leadership from Kristin all year long. That's from a young lady who, as a senior, had to be flexible with her role on this basketball team during the course of the season," she said.

"There were times when we started her, and times when we asked her to come off the bench and be the offensive spark as the sixth player. We've always asked her to lead by example, and there aren't a lot of seniors who would be willing to be flexible with their role." But Rethman is.

Kelly Glasscock/Collegian

K-State's Kristin Rethman goes up for a shot against Nebraska at Bramlage Coliseum earlier this season.

She still plays the same tough defense on every possession that she's come to be known for at K-State and still has everyone in Bramlage Coliseum on their feet with every three-pointer she drains.

More importantly, though, is her willingness to be part of something special for the Cats this season. "Kristin is very selfless." Patterson said.

"She is a very team-oriented, selfless individual with great character. It's been a huge part of the glue that's held this team together. She has the maturity and the wisdom, and she has brought it to the table every day and it's helped make this team good from the inside

NCAA

■ Continued from page 1

In just her sixth season as K-State's floor general, Patterson has brought the Wildcats not only to the NCAA Tournament twice, but also has added a host site for Manhattan this season.

And for K-State's current players, that makes this year's Cinderella run even more special.

"Just how far this program has come speaks so highly of what the coaches have done," Ohlde said.

"Look at the difference from last year to this - the recruiting job they've done and the effort they've put into it and the hard work and determination they've put into this

"Every day we get on the court with them, they try their hardest to make us improve and it's incredible."

Kansas State Collegain Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

Ristorante Marco Polo

Family Owned & Operated Homemade Italian Cuisine PASTA • SEAFOOD • HAND CUT STEAKS International & Daily Specials Broad Selection of Wine•Full Bar•Full Menu Available for Take-Out

Relax in a quiet intimate dining atmosphere.

Gift Certificates Reservations Accepted 785-770-3999 Most Major Credit Cards Accepted

> Open Tuesday through Sunday Lunch 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. Dinner 5 p.m. - 9 p.m. Friday & Saturday until 10 p.m.

> > 12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $3.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food

purchase

director of alumni programs and former K-State basketball player. "I've always thought that women's basketball can be a big draw at Kansas State. I knew when the right group of young ladies was here, they were going to do some very special 708 North Manhattan Ave. Aggieville This is reserved just for you.

think the bigger part of it is that they things," Decker-Heidrick said. "That's represent Kansas State well, They represent character, work ethic, what they've done." Premire County Night Club Mon - Wed: 11am to 9pm Thur - Sat: 11am to 10pm Sun: 1pm-6pm and over

1115 Moro

in Aggieville

2 for $21.99 Toppings Extra

A GLANCE AT THE TEAMS

Kansae State Collegian

Clemson isn't new to the NCAA tournament.

But you couldn't say that 15 years

The women had just one tournament appearance in their first 12 seasons, and had their worst campaign ever (7-21) in 1986-87.

Then Jim Davis stepped on the Davis proceeded to lead the Tigers to a 21-9 mark, a berth in the NCAA tournament and a No. 20 national ranking in his first season.

From there, Clemson made 13 NCAA appearances in the next 14 seasons, including two trips to the Sweet 16 and one to the Elite 8. Quite the turnaround.

"You feel like you could turn the lights out in the gym and he could coach the game," K-State coach Deb Patterson said of Davis. "He's just such a great tactition and a great teacher of the game."

Davis now prepares his team to battle sixth-seeded Arkansas (19-11) at 6 p.m. in Bramlage Coliseum.

Eleventh-seeded Clemson (17-11) has won seven of its last 10 regular-season games, but was knocked out of the conference tournament March 2.

"We were a very inexperienced basketball team at the beginning of the year," Davis said. "They have come a long way."

Much of that is due to Tiger stars Chrissy Floyd and Marcia Glenney. Floyd averaged 17.8 points per game, while the 5-foot-11 Glenney posted 10 points an outing this year. Senior guard Krystal Scott also chips in just over 10 points.

"They bring a very good basketball team into the gym to compete," Patterson said.

As a result, no one wants to play Especially after the Tigers' early exit from the ACC Tournament. "It's motivation for our team to play hard," Glenney said. "It's almost like getting a second chance not to end on a bad note."

Clemson's Marci Glenney drives to the basket Thursday at Bramlage Collseum. Gleeney and the Tigers will take on Arkansas tonight in the first round.

No. 11 CLEMSON TIGERS (17-11)

	GP	MIN	FG	3pt	FT	REB	Avg.	A	S	PTS	Avg.
32 FLOYD	28	33.2	196	32	75	104	3.7	42	53	499	17.8
12 SCOTT	28	29.5	91	21	92	91	3.3	106	36	295	10.5
15 GLENNEY	28	26.0	88	27	76	107	3.8	45	40	279	10.0
30 ADERHOLD	28	25.8	60	25	40	86	3.1	22	17	185	6.6
04 SLOSSER	28	23.2	72	0	35	141	5.0	27	23	179	6.4
22 STOKES	26	13.8	56	11	33	87	3.3	23	22	156	6.0
33 ROPER	28	18.6	50	0	49	137	4.9	25	46	149	5.3
35 SHAFER	25	6.8	18	1	0	43	1.7	2	6	37	1.5
20 QUEEN	27	11.7	10	.0	12	30	1.1	49	10	32	1.2
50 ANDREW	21	11.2	9	0	4	65	3.1	1	11	22	1.0
23 VASILAS	13	2.2	4	2	3	4	0.3	0	1	13	1.0
52 BLACKMON	23	4.4	4	0	2	18	0.8	0	0	10	0.4
TOTALS	28	-	659	120	421	1012	36.1	342	266	1859	66.4
Opponents	28	-	636	138	322	1081	38.6	398	204	1732	61.9

Clemson ready to make comeback Lady 'Backs try to avoid upset bug

BY SEAN PURCELL

nsas State Collegian

Arkansas is tournament-tested. Under Coach Gary Blair, the Lady Razorbacks have been to the postseason seven times.

And when describing this year's squad, Blair says special is a good

"These kids have worked super hard this year," he said. "I've never had a team like this accept the challenge."

Blair is right. Arkansas could not have started off much worse.

The Lady 'Backs were getting beat by big numbers and were struggling to stay afloat early.

But Blair's team rallied and finished as one of the hottest teams in the country, winning 9 of its final 12 games, including a 10-point win over No. 6 Vanderbilt.

Arkansas' success this year, and especially during that stretch, is heavily dependent on the play of senior point guard Amy Wright.

"Without Amy we wouldn't be here right now," Junior India Lewis said. "She's definitely the blue-collar worker. She creates the shot for us."

per game, but leads the Lady Razorbacks with 183 assists. "She does a good job of under-

Wright averages just 6.3 points standing what her role is," she said. Shameka Christon, who averages a team-high 15.9 points and 6.1 rebounds per contest, has gone for more than 20 points five times, including a 40-point game against Vanderbilt.

"Kind of a bad habit that I've formed is that I play to the level of my competition," she said. "It's good when you are playing a good team, but when you aren't, it's not."

Christon won't have to worry about playing against bad competition in the NCAA tournament, Blair

"It will come down to who can play the hardest defense for the longest amount of time," Lewis said. "They're a little smaller than us at the four and five spot, so I'm Arkansas' Shameka Christon puts up a shot during the Razorbacks' practice Thursday at Bramlage Collseum.

No. 6 ARKANSAS LADY RAZORBACKS (19-11)

	GP	MIN	FG	3pt	FT	REB	Avg.	A	S	PTS	Avg.
20 CHRISTON	29	31.1	175	29	83	177	6.1	23	56	462	15.9
21 LEWIS	30	34.3	142	85	56	77	2.6	67	67	425	14.2
22 CHERRY	30	30.1	155	1	91	143	4.8	40	29	402	13.4
03 A. WRIGHT	30	32.0	59	6	65	93	3.1	183	61	189	6.3
44 HARPER	30	17.2	76	0	24	80	2.7	45	35	176	5.9
52 OAKLEY	29	16.2	64	0	25	63	2.2	5	18	153	5.3
35 HARMON	29	10.7	31	21	16	46	1.6	6	13	99	3.4
12 BEARD	30	15.0	37	0	28	158	5.3	13	21	102	3.4
45 NESBY	23	9.8	24	0	15	32	1.4	5	9	63	2.7
14 C. WRIGHT	19	6.6	17	0	15	38	2.0	0	1	49	2.6
11 PETERSON	27	5.9	12	0	9	31	1.2	2	6	33	1.3
31 RHODES	5	3.4	2	1	0	2	0.4	0	1	5	1.5
TOTALS	30	-	794	143	427	1051	35.0	389	317	2158	71.5
Opponents	30	-	682	112	448	1199	40.0	385	192	1924	64.

Kent State out to prove critics wrong

BY DAN SMITH

Kansan State Collegian

Kent State Coach Bob Lindsay is familiar with Manhattan.

On Dec. 20, 1998, Lindsay brought the Golden Flashes (20-10) to town for a mid-season matchup and left with a 63-55 loss.

This time around, there will be a little more at stake, and at least one thing will have changed.

"This is our second time playing in this arena in the last four years and certainly the first time we came here, the number of fans weren't as great as there probably will be tomorrow night," he said.

But the 13,340 fans expected to turn out at Bramlage Coliseum tonight aren't the folks Lindsay is concerned with.

Instead, he'll be trying to get the most out of Andrea Csaszar, Kate Miller and Valerie Zona - the nucleus of his team.

"We're happy to be here," Lindsay said. "It's been an interesting year for us, but as I've told people, in our program we play for championships."

This weekend, the Golden Flashes will be playing for upsets.

As the 14th seed team in Manhattan's sub-regional this weekend, Kent State will have to post two upset wins to get to the Regional Semifinal, but that's not enough to diminish Lindsay's optimism.

"For us, getting to the NCAA Tournament has been a long road," he said. "It's been a very satisfying road for a lot of us, and the opportunity to come out here and play in front of 11, 12 or 13,000 people is the culmination of a lot of hard work."

Kent State got here by capturing its third Mid-American Conference Tournament. The Flashes won their last six games to finish 13-3 in the conference.

Csaszar is second on the team in scoring, posting a 14.6-per-game average and is tops in rebounding (6.9) as well. Guard Kate Miller leads the team in scoring (14.7) and assists

Kent State's Andrea Csaszar (42) goes up for a layup on Thursday at Bramlage Coliseum. Csaszar averages 14.6 points per game for the Golden Flash.

No. 14 KENT STATE GOLDEN FLASHES (20-10)

	GP	MIN	FG	3pt	FT	REB	Avg.	A	S	PTS	Avg.
03 MILLER	30	34.9	141	49	109	73	2.4	78	34	440	14.7
42 CSASZAR	23	27.1	123	0	89	159	6.9	28	8	335	14.6
31 ZONA	30	33.3	121	55	98	85	2.8	130	44	395	13.2
33 KOLLAT	29	21.2	100	0	98	150	5.2	31	27	298	10.3
30 RUBIS	26	21.6	70	10	82	113	4.3	27	27	232	8.9
32 CLARK	30	22.6	78	1	37	175	5.8	41	29	194	6.5
10 SHIBATA	30	32.3	71	32	14	178	5.9	42	50	188	6.3
44 HAGER	1	14.0	0	0	2	3	3.0	0	0	2	2.0
11 KREZECZO.	28	12.6	9	6	18	30	1.1	39	23	42	1.5
21 O'HARA	12	9.8	5	2	4	9	8.0	17	8	16	1.3
04 LEVASSEUR	2	9.5	0	0	0	1	0.5	0	0	0	0.0
23 LOTT	4	0.8	0	0	0	2	0.5	0	0	0	0.0
TOTALS	30	-	718	155	551	1093	36.4	433	250	2142	71.4
Opponents	30	-	677	218	334	1068	35.6	460	288	1906	63.5

Cats hope to advance to Milwaukee

BY DAN SMITH

K-State Coach Deb Patterson is just glad to be in this situation.

"We're thrilled to be part of an extremely competitive and highquality sub-regional," Patterson said Thursday. "We have three of the game's better coaches and we're looking forward to a great challenge in our first-round matchup against Kent

But, perhaps, the best coach in Manhattan this weekend is Patterson herself.

In her sixth season as the Cats' coach, Patterson has turned her program around. After finishing 12-16 last season, including a 2-14 record in the Big 12, Patterson's squad underwent a facelift for the 2001-02 campaign.

Three freshmen, one sophomore and one senior will start for K-State, and all have proven to be effective for the Wildcats.

The Cats are 24-7, and finished tied for third in the conference with Colorado at 11-5, making this weekend another unexpected step.

"It's all about opportunity and possibilities at this point," Patterson said. "I think they've approached this week with a workman-like attitude, but also with a lot of pride too."

Proud because the Cats, seeded third in the Mideast region, are expected to advance past this weekend's play to the Regional Semifinals next weekend in Milwaukee. Leading K-State in scoring is sophomore center Nicole Ohlde, who averages 17.6 points and and 7.7 rebounds per game. Redshirt freshman Laurie Koehn, who leads the nation in three-pointers, also chips in 17.3 points per contest, and freshman forward Kendra Wecker (16.3 ppg, 8.3 rpg) is the team's inside/outside threat.

"It will be tremendous to have the opportunity to play again after such a long layoff," Patterson said. "Our players are anxious and ready to go and so are we as a staff."

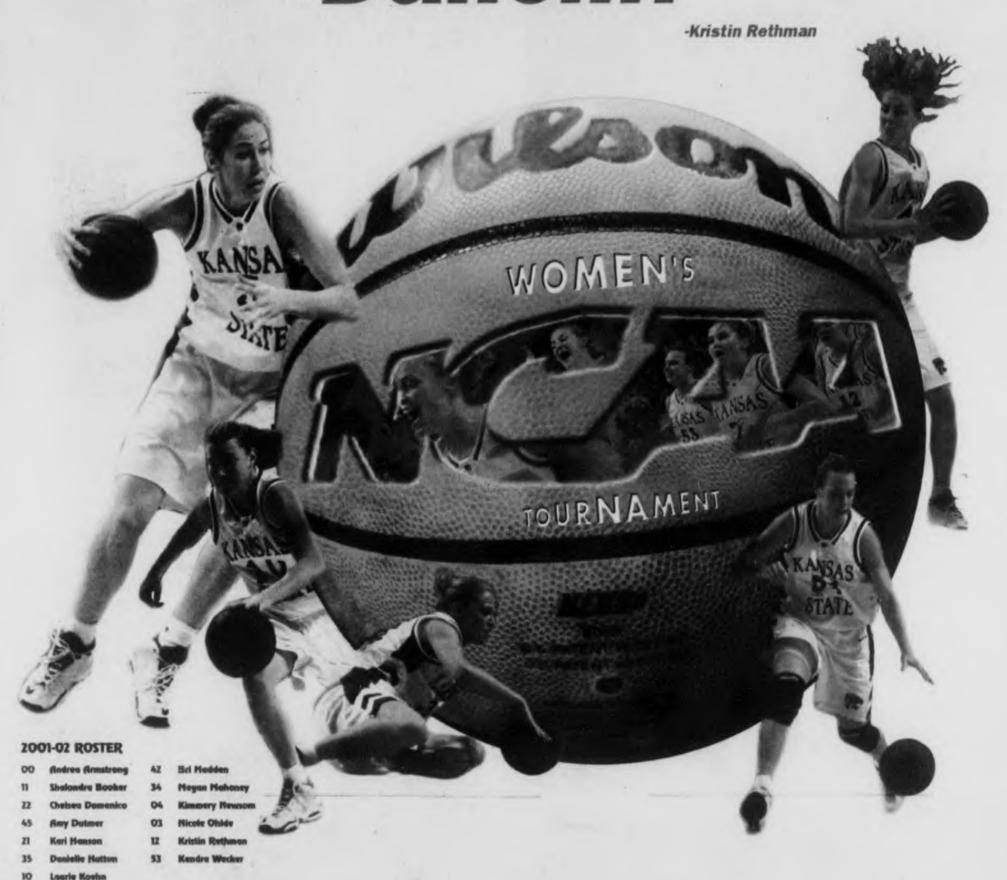

K-State's Laurie Koehn watches a shot during practice Thursday at Bramlage Collseum. Koehn and the Wildcats will play Kent State tonight.

No. 3 K-STATE WILDCATS (24-7)

	GP	MIN	FG	3pt	FT	REB	Avg.	A	S	PTS	Avg.
03 OHLDE	31	34.0	225	0	96	239	7.7	85	46	546	17.6
10 KOEHN	31	36.0	170	112	85	108	3.5	76	33	537	17.3
53 WECKER	31	32.0	202	23	79	256	8.3	91	59	506	16.3
34 MAHONEY	31	31.5	102	25	44	168	5.4	145	47	273	8.8
12 RETHMAN	31	29.3	75	64	28	77	2.5	65	17	242	7.8
21 HANSON	14	15.4	13	6	4	26	1.9	22	2	36	2.6
42 MADDEN	31	8.8	30	0	13	67	2.2	8	9	73	2.4
OO ARMSTRONG	19	7.1	15	0	13	26	1.4	10	2	44	2,3
22 DOMENICO	22	12.8	10	5	3	25	1.1	21	12	28	1.3
04 NEWSOM	9	2.3	3	1	3	0	0.0	0	0	10	1.1
11 BOOKER	27	9.0	7	1	9	20	0.7	22	16	24	0.9
45 DUTMER	12	3.5	5	0	0	11	0.9	1	1	10	0.8
TOTALS	31	sei	857	238	377	1125	36.3	546	244	2329	75.1
Opponents	31	-	740	172	368	1100	35.5	459	272	2020	65.

"We're going Dancin!"

Congratulations

Hours:

M-F 10-8

Sat. 10-6

537-8191

Sun. 12-5 | 1127 Westloop

on a great season!

GNC Live Well.

20" 1-topping pizza for

Go, Lady

Cats

COTTONWOOD RACQUET CLUB

$75 Student Semester Rate (tax included) STUDENT MEMBERSHIP INCLUDES:

Claflin Books and Copies

(West on Claffin at Hudson)

ON THE

GO, LADY CATSI

Go, Lady Wildcats!

Band album

accident claims life of student

BY JENNIFER FARR

Kansus State University

Known as an extremely diligent and hard-working student, Lance Burch, senior in horticulture, died in a car accident March 15

Burch was an excellent student who always worked hard, said Jack Fry, professor in horticulture, forestry and recreation. He said Burch already completed one internship and was driving home to Hays, Kan., in hopes of receiving

"What makes this sad is that someone with such promise and dedication can be taken away," said Fry, who had Burch in Burch graduated from Hays High School in 1998. At K-State, he was a member of the Golf Course Management Club and Future Farmers of America.

Survivors include his father and stepmother, Alan and Janel Burch, Hays; his mother and stepfather, Donetta Thornburg and Dale Slechta, Ellsworth; two brothers, Ted Anderson and Justin Burch, Hays; three stepbrothers, Morgan Remus, Osborne, Nathan Slechta, Ellsworth, Dustin Slechta, Holyrood; two stepsisters, Gina Remus, Hays, and Dawn Slechta, Ellsworth.

Visitation will be from 2 to 8 p.m. Tuesday at the United Christian Church in Osborne, Kan. The service will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the United Christian Church in Osborne. Burial will be in the Osborne Cemetery.

Memorials are suggested to Shady Bend Municipal Golf Course in Osborne.

Officials' case goes to court of appeals

BY NANCY HULL Kansas State Collegian

Attorneys for a K-State administrator and a former administrator who were arrested and charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia in August are claiming the charges stem from an illegal traffic stop.

At a March 15 Geary County District Court trial for Reginland McGowan, assistant vice president of educational and personal development programs, and Renee Freeman, who resigned Jan. 31 from her position as director of GEAR UP II (Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs), defense attorneys motioned to suppress, claiming the two were illegally stopped in Junction City on Aug. 24.

Tony Cruz, Geary County assistant attorney, said he is appealing the suppression.

The case now will go before the Kansas Court of Appeals.

"This will see if they're right or I'm right," said Cruz, a drug task force prose-

McGowan is represented by attorney Steven Opat, and Freeman is represented by attorney Michael McKone.

Freeman resigned a week after the trial was set during a Jan. 24 suppression hearing.

Freeman did not give a reason for her resignation, said Michael Lynch, associate vice president of educational and personal development programs. Freeman had basic program planning duties with GEAR UP, a program that aims to increase the number of lowincome students who are prepared to enter and succeed in post-secondary education.

McGowan's job duties have not changed since the original charges. He supervises grants for programs such as Upward Bound and GEAR UP.

Automobile Candidates begin campaigns for new elections

A revote of the preside tial elections will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday. Students can vote online for the

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas State Collegian

Only two days of campaigning remain before presidential candidates Matt Wolters and Zac Cook face each other for the third time in a revote Wednesday.

After the elections committee refused to certify the results of the presidential election, Student Tribunal ordered a new election for the presidential position.

In a March 12 letter of appeal to the tribunal, Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, expressed concerns with the balloting process and questioned the validity of the presidential results.

"Due to online balloting errors, it is unknown whether voters correctly submitted their votes for the race of SBP/VP" Conrad said in his letter.

He also said in his letter that the narrow margin of votes between the candidates increased the probability that there was an error in the results and many students filed complaints indicating they could not submit their vote

The new election once again will be run by iBallot.com and students can log on using their KATS account. Polls will open at 8 a.m. Wednesday and close at 8

Wolters said he and running mate Mandy Achilles Cook/Kohman ticket or are doing their best to get the the Wolters/Achilles ticket at kats.ksu.edu. word out that there is a new "We think the big challenge is letting people know there is an election," Wolters said. Achilles said they will be encouraging students to get out an vote again. "Our number one goal is to make students aware of the election." Achilles said. "We want to get our names out again.'

Cook's running mate, Todd Kohman, said he is concerned that students are not aware a new election will take place.

"I'm worried our supporters may not realize there's another election," Kohman said.

Cook said he believes students don't know why another election is being held.

"I'm worried that people will feel the re-election was called due to some wish of ours," Cook said.

He pointed to the 5-percent vendor margin of error which exceeded the margin of votes between the candidates of less than 1 percent. Also, he said he believes many students were denied the right to vote due to a complicated balloting process.

Wolters said that although they will be talking to students, he also understands the importance of name recogni-

"We understand the importance of visible publicity on campus," he said. "You'll see a lot more chalk and the few signs we have left."

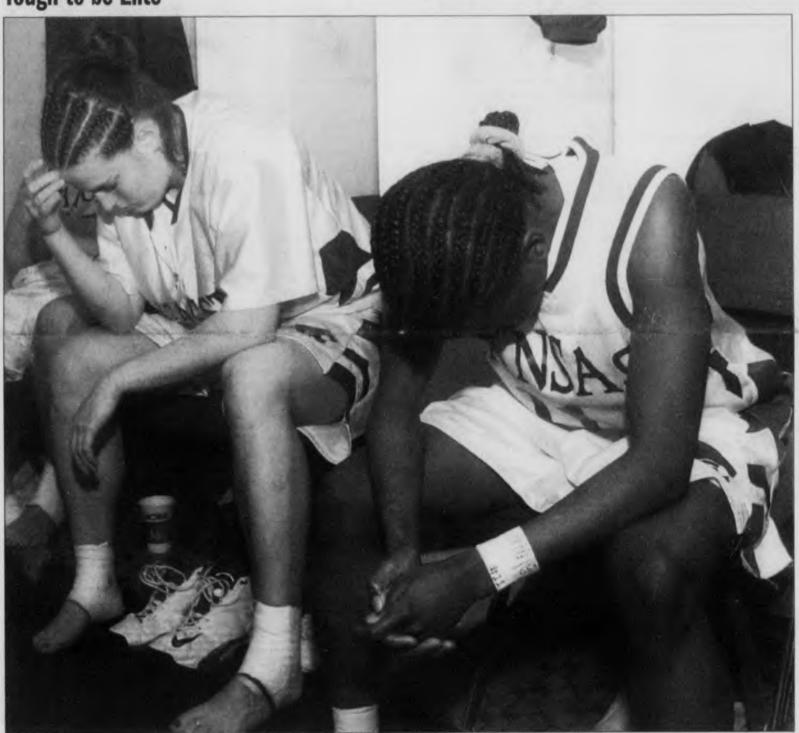

Kohman said he has only one campaign goal: "to win."

Wolters said he wants to remind students in the next few days what the election is really about.

"The student body president election is still about what can be done to make K-State a better place," he said. Achilles said they will be trying their best to win again.

"We've come out on top two times," she said. "We are doing our best and working our hardest to come out on top again."

Tough to be Elite

Zach Long/Collegian

K-State's Shalondra Booker, right, and Andrea Armstrong, left, sit in the locker room after the Wildcats' season-ending loss Saturday in the Mideast regional semifinals of the NCAA tournament at the U.S. Cellular Arena in Milwaukee. It was Booker's final game in a K-State uniform. See more Wildcat coverage on page 6 and at www.kstatecollegian.com.

Cheney says Arafat's actions do not warrant trip for meeting

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Vice President Dick Cheney said Sunday that Yasser Arafat has not taken enough measures to curb Middle East violence to warrant a trip to the region for a meeting with the Palestinian leader.

Cheney spoke as the death toll mounted in the conflict between Israelis and the Palestinians. Representatives from both sides were to hold talks Sunday that were arranged by U.S. envoy Anthony Zinni.

While the outcome of the meeting could determine whether Cheney flies to Egypt to see Arafat before Arab leaders gather this week to discuss the Middle East conflict, administration officials played down that possibility.

Cheney said Arafat had not met a series of conditions for a meeting, including renouncing terrorism and sharing intelligence with the Israelis.

"So far, those (conditions) have not been implemented. That doesn't mean it won't happen. That doesn't mean it will happen," Cheney said on CBS' "Face the Nation."

"We're going to do everything we can to try to bring the bloodshed to an end and get on a political track, but we're not there yet," he added.

Secretary of State Colin Powell, traveling with President Bush in Latin America, said the vice president could go at a later time. "It doesn't have to be right away. The important point is that Chairman Arafat knows we want to engage with him as we move forward," he said.

Cheney framed a possible meeting as just one more piece of the whole proposition toward peacemaking. "I wouldn't overdo it, in the sense that somehow everybody's focused in on this as the be-all and end-all of the process. It's not. It's a part of the process," he said on CNN's "Late

The violence continued Sunday in the Middle East. Israeli troops shot and killed four suspected militants after they fired at Jordanian border guards and then slipped into Israel across the usually quiet frontier, officials in both countries said.

An Israeli woman was fatally shot while traveling on a West Bank road, and Israeli troops killed a Palestinian policeman in a gun battle nearby. Israeli soldiers also shot and killed a Palestinian near a crossing between the Gaza Strip and Israel, Palestinians said.

The violence further complicated Zinni's efforts to forge a cease-fire before Wednesday's start of the Arab League summit in Lebanon that is expected to discuss peace prospects.

Powell said the United States expects that meeting to produce a positive declaration on a peaceful future with Israel that fully includes normalization of Arab-Israeli Zinni was to meet Sunday night in Tel Aviv with the Israelis and Palestinians. Both sides have endorsed in principle a U.S.

cease-fire plan but remain divided on several key issues.

The administration is confident Arafat "is capable of doing much more than he has, but up to now he has not expended the level of effort we think is warranted," Cheney said on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Cheney also said the Arab League meeting would be more productive if Arafat were present. Arafat wants to go, but Israel has not given him permission and may keep him grounded if there is no truce deal.

"If Arafat is not there, the concern is that he will become the focus ... and that you won't have the kind of positive result that might otherwise be possible," Cheney said. Powell said he and Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah have reviewed the draft of an Arab League declaration they hoped will be adopted.

It recognizes the rights of Israel to exist, the creation of a Palestinian state, and the intent of Arab nations to establish relations with Israel, Powell said.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

Graves' plan calls for $364 million in tax increases

TOPEKA - The new budget proposal from Gov. Bill Graves balances higher estate, income and business taxes with lower spending on social services and general government.

Graves' plan would raise taxes $364 million during the fiscal year that begins July 1, and would cut $355 million from spending required under state and federal laws.

Aid to public schools would increase by $12 million, or $20 per pupil to $3,890.

Even with the tax increases, Graves' plan would cut $33 million from programs for the needy while closing five minimum security prisons and eight driver's license exam stations. General spending would be fightened, and the 2003 legislative session would be shortened to 80 days from the traditional 90.

Graves and legislators must close a $700 million gap between expected revenue and spending required under state and federal law over the next 15

Newton pharmacist pleads guilty in blood drawing

NEWTON - A pharmacist who pleaded guilty to fraudulently drawing blood from 16 women has yet to explain why he collected the blood and what he

Corey Penner, 29, entered his guilty plea Friday to 16 counts of misdemeanor battery. Under a plea agreement, 15 of the 31 original charges were dismissed. Penner's attorney, Jim Gillmore, has said Penner can't explain why he took the blood. Harvey County Attorney Matt

Treaster said he'll recommend that Penner serve two years of probation because of the agreement and Penner's previously clean criminal record.

Treaster said he was satisfied with the result, but called it "one of the weirdest cases I've been involved in."

Penner said he drew blood, using packaged syringes, from about 55 people during the past several years, Treaster said. He claimed to be drawing the blood for a medical study, but no study existed.

World in Brief

Bush promises trade as reward to Central America

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador President Bush on Sunday held out the promise of expanded trade to Central American nations, saving countries once racked by civil war now deserve jobs as a reward for the way they have changed old ways and have found new wealth and new freedom."

Bush paid a six-hour visit here his first ever, he said - to discuss the possibilities of a Central American trade pact with Salvadoran President Francisco Flores and other leaders from the region. The sessions closed out a four-day tour of Latin America in which Bush pushed open markets. anti-terrorism efforts and more foreign aid money for developing nations that flush out corruption.

Bush also pledged Sunday to pursue a trade agreement for all the Americas, and promote immigration policies that would establish temporary protective status for some immigrants whose visas have expired.

U.S. military says al-Qaeda still poses terrorism threat

KABUL, Afghanistan - The governor of an eastern Afghan province demanded U.S. Special Forces hand over several rival Afghan allies who allegedly opened fire Sunday on the region's security chief, killing a bodyguard and wounding two others before reportedly fleeing into an American compound.

Afghan authorities said the assailants were believed to have been allies of the United States and took refuge in the Americans' airport compound. There was no confirmation from U.S. forces.

The security chief of Khost province, Sur Gul, escaped injury in the attack, the latest in a series of incidents involving rival Afghan groups, according to Hazratuddin, intelligence chief of Khost, Hazratuddin said the assailants opened fire on Gul because the security chief had tried to disarm them a day earlier in the Khost public market.

William Scholl, creator of wooden sandal, dies at 81

LONDON - William Scholl, who made foot care fashionable during the 1960s and '70s with a contoured wooden sandal designed to exercise the muscles. has died at age 81.

Scholl died March 15 from a rare form of pneumonia at a hospice in Douglas on the Isle of Man, an island off the northwest coast of England, said his wife, Susan. He was a dual citizen of Britain and the United States.

Scholl's "Original Exercise Sandal" known as Dr. Scholl's, the name of his family's foot care company - was worn for nearly two decades by millions of women worldwide.

An orthopedic specialist, Scholl came across a simple wooden sandal during a trip to Germany in the 1950s. He carved it to fit the foot, added a leather strap across the toes and sold it in the United States.

One moves on

Zach Long/Col

K-State coach Deb Patterson, right, walks off the court at U.S. Cellular Arena in Milwaukee, Wis., on Saturday as players from Old Dominion including Monique Coker (23) and Lucienne Berthieu (44) celebrate after the Lady Monarchs defeated the Wildcats in the semifinals of the NCAA's Mideast Regional.

K-STATE NEWSMAKERS Engineering student awarded $10,000 scholarship

McPike

Mason McPike tectural engineering

Mason McPike, junior in architectural engineering, was one of four people nationwide awarded a $10,000 Rueben Trane Scholarship from the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning

Applicants were judged on their potential service to the industry, leadership abilities, academic standing and financial need, McPike

McPike said the scholarship would help him greatly. "It will allow me more time for my studies and extracurricular activities, and I won't have to take out any student loans," McPike said.

If you know of anyone who you think is deserving of recognition in our Newsmakers box each Monday, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at collegn@ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or a mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu.hy 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

■ G.A.M.M.A. will meet at 6 p.m. Tuesday in Union 207. AED (Pre-Health Honors Club) will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Rathbone 152. This meeting is officer elections, so all should attend The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral

BEAT THE CLOCK

MONDAY

Beat the clock from 5-8 and receive a Large Cheese Pizza at a price equal to the time on toppings, $1.29 per topping

the clock (Regular Roration Only) Add dissertation of Bruce McGuire at 10:30 a.m. today inJustin 115. Momination forms for the

Anderson Awards for Outstanding Seniors may be picked up at OSAS, the KSU Alumni Association or www.kstate.com/Programs/AwardPrograms /SeniorAwards.asp. Forms are due to OSAS or the Alumni Association by 5

■ Beta Alpha Psi will meet at 7 tonight at the Union Big 12 Room. Kappa Delta Pi will meet at 6 tonight in Bluemont 16.

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Mui Lin Cheong at 1:30 p.m. today in Shellenberger

M Apostolic Campus Ministry will meet at 7 tonight in Union 202. KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301

Intramural softball officials clinic will be 5 p.m. today and 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Chester E Peters Recreation Complex.

"Hinduism: Religion or Philosophy" will be presented at the International Student Center from 4 to 5 p.m. Wednesday. The Department of Geology will present "Exploration History and Hydrocarbon Potential of Somalia," a seminar by Dr. Michael J. Brady, Harms & Brady Geological Consultants, Inc. at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Thompson 213.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County putice departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Thursday, March 21 At 1:05 p.m., Ronald Evans Mims, Jr., 2430 Woodway, was arrested for failure to appear. No bond was set. At 6:41 p.m., Javier Ismael Villaneuva, 1026 Bluemont Ave., was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substances and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set.

Friday, March 22

At 12:32 a.m., Brenda Nickerson, and driving on a suspended license. No bond was set.

At 2:04 a.m., Timothy Scott Harvey, 1912 Hunting Ave., was arrested for DUI, aggravated assault and driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at $5,000. At 3:27 a.m., Mark Christen Kiel, Junction City, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

K-State Police

III No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Editor in Chief

April Middleton

Manuging Editor Nancy Foster

News Editor

Zach Long

Photo Director

CONTACT US

Paul Restivo

Alyson Raletz

Dana Strongin

Campus Editor

City/Gov Editor

Nicole Donnert

Copy Chief

Opinion Editor Katie Lane

Presentation Editor

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

A&E Editor

Amber Koehn

Sports Editor

Micah Hawkinson eCollegian Editor

Projects Editor

Nancy Hull

Jodi Fagerquist

Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

532-6556

532-6560

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University

Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN ics Mantestan, sinc octor. The Collegian is perioded weekstays thomas the salesed year and on Wednesdays thereo. he minimize Perceival postage to paid at Manhatlan. Kan SENCE DOSTMASTER. Send address always to Kansas State

Kedne 2011, Manhanana Kan 66506-7167. © Kansas State Collegion, 2002

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor

- Academics

Pick up and return nomination forms at the Alumni Association or at the Office of Student Activities and Services. Forms can also be found at http://www.k-state.com/Programs/AwardPrograms/SeniorAwards.asp Nominations are due Monday, April 1st to the OSAS or Alumni Office.

Call Mitzi Frieling at 532-5058 with any questions.

Pregnancy Testing Center

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ame day results Ill for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villa Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Candlewood Shopping Center

3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632

Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

Your Career Takes High

Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do.

Constitut the pressbillings.

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide Instruction SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS – Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, audism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. It staff/student ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR, SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Salary $34,585 - $48,628, based on education & experience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at dooper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. EEO/M/F

6700 East 29th Street Horsts + Wichitta, KS 67226 (800) 815-1043 + fax (316) 634-0556

Anderson Awards for Outstanding Seniors

Nominate a senior you know who shows outstanding:

- Leadership
- Service
- Inspiration

Sponsored by the K-State Alumni Association

JIHAD AND TERRORISM

ARE THEY RELATED

a lecture by:

ABU USAMAH ATTHAHABI

BS.C. IN AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY BS.C. In ARABIC LANGUAGE BS.C. IN ISLAMIC TRADITION AND IDEALOGY

THURSDAY MARCH 28, 2002 7:00 p.m. K-STATE UNION, BIG 12

EVERYONE WELCOME, REFRESHMENTS ARE PROVIDED Sponsored by: Muslim Student Association at K.S.U.

Ball battle

Connecticut's Tamika Williams, left, battles for a loose ball with Penn State's Katrena Carr, right, during the first half of the Huskles' win over the Lady Lions on Saturday in the semifinals of the Mideast Regional at the U.S. Cellular Arena in Milwaukee. Undefeated UConn will play Old Dominion tonight for a spot in the Final Four.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie

Season for Manviolence

*54 GIVING

Practice generosity by sharing time, energy and material resources with those in need.

Clean out your closet, bureau drawers, or garage. Are there things you aren't using that might be of value to someone else? Today give away what you are no longer using.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications.

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

Conference on agriculture bioterrorism begins today

Kansas Statu Collegian

The first Midwest Conference on Agriculture Bioterrorism will begin today and continue through tomorrow in Manhattan.

The Koch Crime Institute and K-State will put on the two-day conference, which is on agroter-

"The conference will focus on new and different threats to ensure that we're prepared for anything brought into the country intentionally or accidentally," said Ronald Trewyn, vice provost for research at

There will be 18 speakers from all over the country, including speakers from K-State, Washington, D.C., and the FBI.

Jerry Jaax, associate vice provost for research compliance at K-State, will open the conference with an overview of biological threats as it relates to bioterrorism.

"I will be talking about what the threat is and why we should be aware of it," Jaax said.

Robert Zeigler, head of the Department of Plant Pathology and conference is very significant for

AGROTERRORISM CONFERENCE

For more information about the conference, view the Koch Crime Institute's Web site at www.kci.org director of the plant biotechnology center, also will be speaking on agricultural bioterrorism as it relates to crops.

Zeigler said he feels this conference will be beneficial in several "It helps to highlight the thinking that's been going on around campus that predates Sept. 11," Zeigler said. Jaax said he feels it will benefit the public because it will educate them on terrorism-related topics.

"It increases the awareness of the issues associated with bioterrorism," Jaax said. "It promotes communication and educates people about issues regarding bioterrorism."

Kansas is an agricultural state, and the subject matter of the the Midwest and other agricultural states, said Jerry Wells, executive director at the Koch Crime Institute in Topeka. Manhattan was chosen primarily because of the university's interest and research on this topic for several years, he said.

"K-State has been a leading light in this subject matter," Wells said. "They also have one of the best agricultural schools and their expertise lends itself to the conference."

K-State is involved in several research projects, including one on agricultural threats, Jaax said. University researchers are doing some work on diseases and looking to find ways to reduce the threat of specific agents that affect agricul-

Researchers are hoping to find vaccines that make certain diseases non-threatening, like the vaccines used for polio and rabies.

Zeigler believes the conference also could help K-State gain support for current research activi-

"Our research will benefit the state even if there is never a bioterrorist attack," Zeigler said.

Kimball Avenue construction to affect K-State football season

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Xanaia State Collegion

The hope is for construction along Kimball Avenue to affect only one football season.

City Commissioners voted 4-1 March 19 to purchase a 21-acre tract of land for $160,113 to widen Kimball from Tuttle Creek Boulevard to just west of North Manhattan Avenue.

Closing Kimball could pose a problem for fans on game days.

"There are two alternatives," Commissioner Roger Reitz said. "The first is to route traffic north to Marlatt Avenue and then bring them back by the fire station on Denison. The other option is to make Kimball one lane."

Reitz said some people say having one-lane open would be the best alternative, but Reitz said he disagrees.

Having only one lane open on game days would cause problems, he said, but that's the call of engineers.

Construction is expected to begin in May, and the $3 million project should be completed in a year and a half, affecting only one football season if the construction crew works hard. Reitz said.

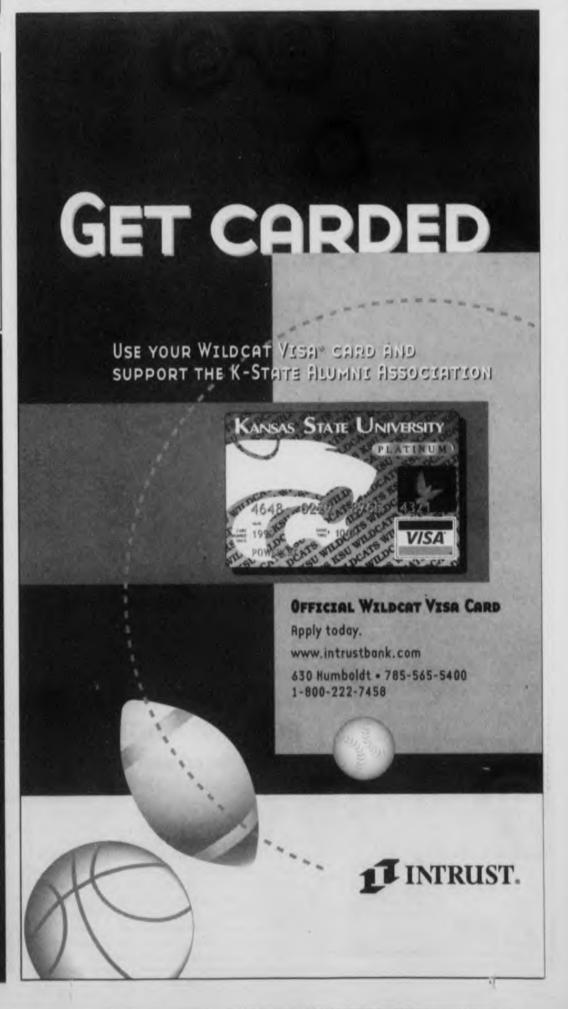

In other business, a long-term obligations policy to establish financial guidelines affecting the allocation of city funds was approved.

The guidelines approved by City Commissioners will require an indepth review by a management committee when bonds, temporary notes and lease purchase agreements are used to pay for city projects.

In addition, the management committee is charged with the responsibility of reporting to City Manager Ron Fehr any problems or discrepancies associated with the issuance of city obligations.

"Should we utilize bonds or pay money for projects, this will help us manage the city's debt appropriately," Mayor Bruce Snead said.

Conference to highlight KSU research, work

Manhattan is playing host to the first Midwest Conference on Agricultural Bioterrorism today and Tuesday. The conference will cover a variety of topics including food safety and biological

Manhattan residents should be proud

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

majority opinion is

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a

Jessica Pitts

April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

Paul Restivo

the city was selected as the host. Also, K-State's co-sponsor status for the event points to the high quality of research on campus.

Speakers include a K-State official and two professors with expertise in different areas related to livestock, plants and food safety. These speakers will help bring attention to all the work and research accomplished through the university.

The conference shows that K-State plays an important role in learning about a serious issue strongly affecting the Midwest. Agroterrorism is something Kansans should be concerned about, especially after Sept. 11.

Faculty, staff and students should be proud of K-State's efforts to understand more about life-threatening topics.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions on topics relevant to the publication.

I am sober on spring break. What the heck is wrong with me?

Fat people just shouldn't wear skimpy,

I've missed my Campus Fourum.

tight-fitting clothes.

Lady Cats, we are proud of you. You had a great season.

Why has the Fourum been so short lately? Come on, us students need our Fourum.

How much wood could a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck could chuck wood?

If Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers, how many pecks of pickled peppers did Peter Piper pick?

I love blue and orange M&Ms yummy!

I think they need to make yellow Gobstoppers. That's it. Just yellow ones.

When writing a police report, does proper syntax, spelling and structure

Just because you got lovelier doesn't mean your boyfriend's not cheating on you.

Spring break airfare to Cancun: $450. Spring break hotel and drinking accommodations: $300.

Staying home in Manhattan over spring break to have sex in Willard Hall: priceless.

I love burritos.

count?

Like cottage cheese and beer, Wiesner is an acquired taste.

KU in the Final Four, baby! Yeah!

Who put the bop in the bop-sha-bopsha-bop?

There's another election?

Nutty news

School officials strip search 3rd graders for stolen $5

t's been a strange week of news. For those of you just getting back from Mexico, or coming down from a weeklong drunk fest and haven't been tuned in to the media, here is a quick synopsis.

Washington legislators finally passed campaign

Nick Bratkovic

lawsuits and how they affect campaigning. A week ago, Andrea Yates' trial ended, finance

future reform. It will be interesting happens with to see what

and she received life in prison. Her cruelty to her own children was unacceptable, and mental illness or not.

she is paying the consequences. But nothing takes the cake for weird news like the Kansas City, Mo., school, Pitcher Academy, which allegedly strip-searched a class of third-grade students. Yes, officials allegedly stripped their students down to their undergarments and searched for a $5 bill.

A $5 bill.

What were they thinking? That amount of money hardly buys a McDonald's value meal.

It might be enough to get you five drinks on $1 night at the local pub, but is the buzz really worth it? I just don't understand why it was so important. It's just five bucks. What I do know is that if these allegations are true, these teachers and administrators erred in their judgment, and they need to consider a career change.

Those defending the teachers will examine constitutional rights and the role teachers should play in the lives of students.

We hear constantly about how teachers have to do more than simply teach, and that families are not doing an adequate job raising children. Still, parents should be able to send children to school without having them strip-searched.

If the previously mentioned argument is true, there are certain values teachers must represent.

They must set an impeccable example for youngsters.

They are the gatekeepers of scholastic information, and there is a certain trust involved in that. Strip-searches violate that trust. If the searches pan out to be true, there is one more issue the Missouri school district must address. Without a trust between the teacher and student, the bonds of learning are harder to create. I can only imagine the lack of credibility those teachers have with their students.

How do you learn fractions from someone who violates your rights?

The incident projects poorly on the entire teaching profession.

In a time when educators are fighting everywhere for funding and quality salaries, this story is stealing headlines from the funding battle.

Dining-room conversations center around teachers' actions when they should be focusing on the budget cuts.

People should be discussing the best way to educate students.

In Kansas City, budget cuts don't even make a dent in the evening news. I guess that's reality, but these alleged actions hamper the cause and take away from educational goals. The drastic measures for $5 signal a need for re-examining classroom priori-

Those involved in the incident need to examine what's important and figure out a better way to educate and trust their students.

Nick is a senior in print journalism and public relations. You can e-mail him

Campus misses opportunities with Fetus Genius' loss

know I'm not the only one who's walked across campus and seen flyers for the most obscure of Student Governing Association presidential candidates or turned to the Collegian's Arts and Leisure page to read about JJ Duncan's commando underwear tactical stylistics.

Underneath it all is an obscure, morphing

Jamle Shelk/Collegian

Paul White

comic strip called Fetus Genius. Or is it Monkeyboy? You know, that comic which is about as hard to forget as the girl last week in Cancun who gave you the rash?

In the primary elections, Fetus Genius heavily carried the write-in vote category. Even though write-ins are required by election law, they were stopped around 1 p.m. the first day of the primary because the category was getting too many votes.

It was then the Genius knew his chances of being student body president were cut short.

Was the initial vote stopped because the Fetus Genius gained the popular vote at speeds faster than Vin Diesel in "The Fast and

Can someone tell me the guarantees we have that iBallot.com, who is handling the third unofficial "official" election, hasn't been infiltrated by ex-Nixonites or by HAL, the insane computer from "2001: A Space Odyssey"?

A list of the Genius' campaign promises included bringing back the Book-It program to campus, daily field trips to Oceans of Fun and more funding for the K-State chapter of SAAC (Students Against Animal Cruelty).

There also were schematics to take over construction of the alumni building and turn it into a giant parking garage statue of himself. We're talking Lady Liberty proportions here.

It's about time the university stop overselling those parking passes and give students what they're actually paying for.

After playing 40 Questions with the candidate, I assembled a list of what could have been, had the student body elected the Fetus

On the rising tuition costs at K-State: "There also was emphasis and dedication coming from this campus to stop the increasing tuition costs. Prices are doubling, tripling, quadrupling, rising faster than sea levels because of polar ice caps melting ... a result of our country's environmental

"I guess the world needs ditch diggers right? There is a mentality behind this 21st century segregation. Unless they're met with resistance, the universities will make it even easier for you to assume a tremendous amount of debt that will weigh you down for the next 10 to 20 years of your life."

On The iBallot.com primary controversy:

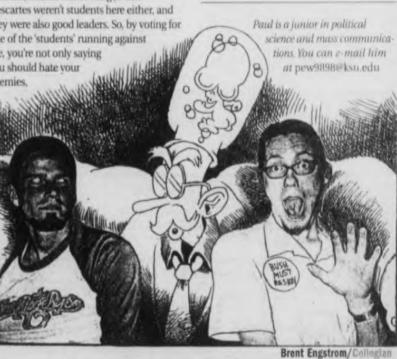

"I wouldn't trust iBallot.com to count the arms and legs on a boa constrictor, let alone declare the Fetus Genius the unofficial winner. But look at your President of the United States - no one voted for him, but he inherited the keys to the mightiest office in the land.

On why the Genius, a cartoon character, is running for student government: "Well, Jesus was not a student here, but he turned out to be a good leader for you people. Albert Einstein, Martin Luther King Jr. and Descartes weren't students here either, and they were also good leaders. So, by voting for one of the 'students' running against me, you're not only saying you should hate your but that it's good to cover your neighbor's oxen, E does not equal MC2, you don't think therefore you are ... you are a racist - a racist against non-students."

The Fetus Genius and its creator, Brent Engstrom (who was brainwashed by the Genius), have stated that by not allowing them a spot on the ballot, it casts a cloud on what they consider to be the legitimacy of this election.

Good-bye democracy. We'll miss you.

READERS WRITE

Parents speak out about recent plagiarism incident

The Kansas City Star, on March 6, reported that all of the deans from K-State wrote a letter to the Piper School Board "standing up for academic integrity."

We applaud you for standing up for academic integrity, but question how you have gone about it.

We are especially concerned you have not considered the consequences for the hundreds of innocent students not involved in this incident.

First, you apparently have not taken the time to research the particular complexities of the incident. You have accepted the media accounts, which are incomplete at Also, by making the letter public, it simply added one more element to the media onslaught so debilitating to our Students recently were harassed at a basketball game when opposing students chanted, "cheaters, cheaters ... At an ACT exam a student was told, "don't cheat," by the testing monitor just because he was identified as a Piper

Also, an employer wrote to the New York Times asking for the names of all the Piper students, so they would know whom not to

The saddest story is when one of the top students in the school, a girl of impeccable integrity and academic achievement, was presented an award at K-State. When she and her high school were announced, she was heckled.

It is sad these innocent students are paying such a price because the public, including you, fueled by the media, are so quick to judge.

Our greatest concern with your letter is the implication that every Piper student is marked as far as K-State is concerned because your trust in the high school had been "shaken."

We believe a much more helpful approach would be for K-State to offer its assistance to the community in assessing this incident and, most importantly, develop policies and procedures that will set Piper out as a model for academic integrity.

We hope you will join us in this effort and make a special effort to assure all of the hard-working, honest students at Piper they are welcome at K-State.

-Parents of Piper Students Dean Katerndahl, Ph.D., Marcia Katerndahl, Relinda Green, Bonita Howard. Kathleen Dickson, Dennis Dickson, Allison Armstrong, Rick Armstrong, Diane Clark. Kelly Kultala, Deb Reynolds, Kelly Reynolds, Rebecca Horvat, Ph.D. and Raymond Horvat

Nationwide nurse shortage allows students to obtain jobs

Kansas State Collegian

A nationwide nursing shortage has left many health care facilities in need of extra help, and several K-Sate students are using this opportunity to gain valuable experience.

Shaquanta Jones, senior in kinesiology, works in the health care unit of Meadowlark Hills Retirement Community as a certified nurse's assistant. Jones took a 6-8 week class for certification as a CNA in order to work at the retirement community.

"It's a really simple class," she said. "It's more common sense, and anybody can take it.'

The class, which is available for people 16 years of age or older, included lectures that taught students the skills necessary for a CNA and concluded with clinicals.

During clinicals, students actually went into health care facilities for hands-on experience. Jones said she paid $120 for her certification class, although if a person goes through a nursing home, the home usually will pay for the class.

"They need so much help it's ridiculous," Jones said.

Jones has been involved in health care for a while, she said. Previously, she worked as a home health aide.

"It's a a great feeling to help these people who can't do for themselves," Jones said. "I just love being around them and making them laugh.

Alisha Krinhop, sophomore in pre-health, works with Jones at Meadowlark Hills as both a CNA and a certified medical aide.

She received her training through Barton County Community College

she said. "People don't think old people are demanding and hard to take care of."

Though going to school and working at such a stressful job is difficult, she said her job is very

Doug Frihart, CEO of St. Joseph's Senior Community, said working in a nursing home is incredibly difficult work both emotionally and physically because health care professionals must take care of frail people with 24-hour needs.

"In long-term care, each individual employee is giving care to someone else eight hours a day," he said. "It's very demanding."

Area health care facilities are constantly advertising for CNAs, Frihart said. Staff involvement in all aspects of the nursing home is vital in retaining employees, Frihart said.

Jones said students who love to help and have outgoing personalities are well-suited for work as a CNA, and creativity is a definite advantage.

Jones said she helps plan several events for the residents, such as watching movies and taking trips to Sonic

You can bring all kinds of things to the table," she said.

Jones said that in order to work in this capacity, students have to want to help, because if they don't they really don't need to be there.

"There are some bad things. believe me, but there's more good than bad," she said.

Krinhop became certified because she is going to school to become a registered nurse and feels that starting at the bottom and working her way up in health care will give her a better perspective on her work you're not going to be able to be a nurse," she said.

She decided to get her CNA training to increase her pay and keep moving up the health care ladder.

Pay is one factor in the inability of nursing homes to retain staff, but for students the job pays better than most available positions, Krinhop said.

Jones said she loves her work and being around the elderly.

"There's a lot of people on their way out, they're dying," she

"They have their good days and bad days. I want to be there

Jones said she doesn't want her patients to die alone. "I want to be there and hold their hand as they slip away," she

Jones said when she knows her patients aren't doing well. she calls the home just to see if they're still there.

Krinhop also came to view death as a beautiful thing as a result of her work, although unexpected deaths can be hard. she said.

She continues to go to work every day because of the rewarding aspects of her job.

"I go back every day because they count on me and depend on me and love me just as much as I love them," she said.

She enjoys hearing that residents missed her when she had a day off and sees her workplace and the people in it as a second family.

She said the families of residents also depend on the staff and frequently call them their angels.

"When it gets too hard for them, we can be there to help them through it," she said.

Unfamiliar face

K-State's Andrea Armstrong, right, and Kimmery Newsom, center, look on during the final moments of the Wildcats' loss Saturday to Old Dominion in the semifinals of the NCAA Mideast Regional at the U.S. Cellular Arena in Milwaukee, Wis

Fires spread through New Mexico

BY PETE HERRERA

Associated Pross

ALTO, N.M. - Strong wind on Sunday spread a grass and timber fire that already had burned through at least 30 homes in southern New Mexico, and a second fire spreading from an Indian reservation forced the evacuation of 200 people.

Wind gusts up to 50 mph were expected Sunday around the fire that had burned through homes in the Kokopelli subdivision, in a heavily forested mountain resort near Ruidoso where homes are worth up to $1 million.

Gov. Gary Johnson said it appeared to be accidental, caused by ashes out of fireplace that got dumped in the back yard."

Firefighters had been able to keep the fire, which was burning in a narrow strip about 4 miles long, to 650 acres, said Jerome MacDonald. chief for firefighting crews of the Southwest Area Incident Management Team.

"It's a very extensive fire and there's a lot of damage," Ruidoso Mayor Leon Eggleston said. 'It just doesn't look good. I'm very concerned for the whole area.

The governor said up to 1,300 people were evacuated in the Ruidoso area. Local fire officials said some 150 homes had been evacuated.

About 20 miles northeast at the town of Hondo, 200 people were told to evacuate as a fire that started on the Mescalero Apache Reservation grew to 16,000 acres overnight and threatened homes, state police said. The state Office of Emergency Services and Security on Sunday estimated damage from that blaze at

One home north of Mescalero was destroyed and several other ranch homes were threatened by the blaze, firefighters said.

The fire traveled some 15 miles southwest of Hondo on Sunday morning, burning grass, pinyon pine and juniper. Strong wind prevented firefighters and aircraft from working on the blaze, firefighters said.

Two much smaller blazes on the Mescalero Apache Reservation - 100 acres and 40 acres - were contained during the night, said Tom Gorman of the state Office of Emergency Services and Security. Another 100-acre blaze continued burning on the reservation Sunday.

Fire season in New Mexico is about two to four weeks ahead of usual. Much of the state is extremely dry with little snow cover.

Kansas State Collegain Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

QUALITY SHOE AND LEATHER REPAIR

Shoes . Boots Luggage • Purses Leather Coats Back Packs

Season for Nonviolence

*55 RESPONSIBILITY

The quality of your community starts with you. Take responsibility for the quality of your community wherever you are.

Today, pick up trash that is not your own, whether at home, at the office, or on the street. Every little bit helps.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $370

*Starting at $415 1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p

Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p

*Starting at $530 1005 Bluemont

By Appointment Only *Starting at $515 1113 Bertrand #4

W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

DOWNED AND OUT

Stories by Dan Smith - Photos by Zach Long

K-State's Nicole Ohlde (3) looks for help after being trapped by Old Dominion's Lucienne Berthieu (44) and Myriah Spence, right, during the first half of the Wildcats' loss Saturday In Milwaukee. The Lady Monarchs move on to play top-ranked UConn tonight for the NCAA Mideast

K-State taken out by ODU; team's dream season ends

OLD DOMINION 88

K-STATE

POINTS BY HALF Old Dominion 45 43 - 88 21 41 - 62

OLD	DOMINION	K-STATE
FG percent	65.5	48.8
FG-FGA	38-58	20-41
3-point percent	44.4	42.9
3PT-3PTA	4-9	9-21
FT percent	57.1	92.9
FT-FTA	8-14	13-14

OLD DOMINION SCORING

(FG-FGA-POINTS) Berthieu (13-18-30), Coker (8-8-16), Francis (5-8-12), Maiga (6-9-12), Howard (2-6-8), Spence (2-3-6), Thompson (1-3-2), Grant (1-2-2).

K-STATE SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS)

Ohlde (7-10-23), Wecker (6-9-17). Koehn (4-13-11), Rethman (2-4-8), Domenico (1-1-3).

ATTENDANCE - 7,123

ILWAUKEE - As great a story as K-State's season was, the ending just didn't seem to fit.

The Wildcats couldn't find an answer for Old

Dominion's punishing post game and made too many mistakes on offense, as the seventh-seeded Lady Monarchs upset third-seeded K-State, 88-62, in a Mideast Regional Semifinal at the U.S. Cellular Arena to end the Cats' storybook tale on a bad note.

"We got intimidated early and never recovered from that emotionally,' K-State coach Deb Patterson said.

K-State trailed by double digits at the 9:48 mark in the first half, and could only chisel the lead to single numbers once more in the contest. At halftime, the Cats trailed by 24.

"We played extremely tight and we were our own worst enemy the first 10 minutes of that game," Patterson said.

Three-time Colonial Athletic Association player of the year Lucienne Berthieu was the sparkplug for ODU, finishing with team highs in points (30) and rebounds (eight).

"You have to credit Berthieu," Patterson said. "She just stepped up in a big-time way to carry that basketball team and give them a lot of breathing

The Lady Monarchs' other forward, sophomore Monique Coker, didn't hurt matters either, adding 16 points and seven boards in the win-

"I thought certainly from the jump

Old Dominion's Lucienne Berthleu (44) goes in for a shot while being pressured by K-State's Nicole Ohide, right, during the Lady Monarchs' win Saturday over the Wildcats in the semifinals of the NCAA Mideast Regional at the U.S. Cellular Arena in Milwaukee.

that some of the difference would hopefully be not only size, but athleticism," ODU coach Wendy Larry said.

"We had athleticism and size," she said, "and I'm not sure if they saw that combination on a regular basis at a lot of different positions."

It didn't look like Patterson's club had seen much physical play at all this season, as Old Dominion scored seemingly at will in the post (52 points in the paint), and connected on 65 percent of its shots. "We knew coming in that they had a great inside game," sophomore Nicole Ohlde said. "They have pretty good height inside and the coaches addressed it and I don't think we really showed up to play the way they wanted us to tonight. And while the Lady Monarchs' athleticism and size might have been key to ODU's offensive output, 21 K-State turnovers made Old Dominion's job a lot easier on defense.

"It killed us," freshman guard Laurie Koehn said. "We weren't executing on offense. We weren't getting to the spots on the floor that we needed to be at, and because of that, we were turning the ball over.

MONARCHS PAGE 8

THE ROAD THERE

Cats roll in 1st round with Kent State

K-State got more of a challenge than it would have liked in the first moments of its first-round matchup with Kent State.

The Golden Flashes kept it close early but fell 93-65 to finish the season at 20-11. With the win, K-State improved to 25-7

After trading baskets with Kent State for nearly seven minutes of the opening half, K-State finally got it rolling at the 12:36 mark.

Senior Wildcat guard Kristin Rethman's three-point attempt rattled out, but freshman Megan Mahoney was there to grab the second of nine K-State offensive rebounds on the Mahoney dumped it to sophomore Nicole Ohlde for an easy layup, and K-State was in business, 18-15.

Ohlde's two-pointer was only the beginning of a 10-2 run that put K-State up for good.

The Cats scored on eight straight possessions to push the lead to 18 at the 4:55 mark and led by as many as 21 in the half.

"I was very pleased with our overall balance across the board tonight in this basketball game," K-State coach Deb Patterson said.

"I thought we shot the ball well, we defended at a high level and I thought we did an adequate job on the boards."

K-State continued its dominating performance in the second half, cooling off from a sizzling 59.4-percent first-frame shooting percentage (19-of-32) to right at 50 percent (18-of-36) in the second.

Three Wildcat starters - Ohlde and freshmen Laurie Koehn and Kendra Wecker finished with 20 or more points, and K-State

"I was very pleased with our overall balance across the board tonight in this basketball game,"

Deb Patterson, K-State coach got 27 points off 21 Kent State turnovers.

"There was a good stretch where we forced a couple turnovers and got a couple easy baskets," Rethman said.

"From then, we were probably pretty pumped and we never let up.'

Kent State, which only used seven players in the game, could have used a break.

With the exception of center Andrea Csaszar's 25-point effort, the Golden Flashes struggled all game long to find any offensive continuity.

"Coming into this game, I told our team that we would have to play an absolutely superb game to stay in this thing and to have the chance to win it," Kent State coach Bob Lindsay said.

Lindsay's club couldn't stop K-State's highoctane scoring trio of Ohlde, Koehn and Wecker, and succumbed to the Wildcats' relentless defensive pressure on possession after possession, he said.

"Against a very good team, you just have to play out of your mind to win," he said, "and we just weren't able to do that.

"We were beaten by a better team. We were beaten by a team that played very, very well tonight, and that's really the story of the

KENT STATE (20-11)

K-STATE (25-7)

POINTS BY HALF 36 - 65

K-State

48 45 - 93

KENT STATE K-STATE 54.4 37-68 FG percent FG-FGA 20-44 3-point percent 3PT-3PTA 38.1 8-21 45.5 5-11

91.7

11-12

FT percent FT-FTA KENT STATE SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS)

Zona (3-10-11), Miller (2-8-7), Rubis (2-6-5), Clark (1-2-4).

K-STATE SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS) Koehn (10-17-27), Ohlde (9-11-22), Wecker (9-14-22), Booker (2-3-4), Madden (2-2-4), Mahoney (1-4-3), Rethman (1-3-3), Armstrong (1-6-2), Hanson (0-2-2), Domenico (1-2-2), ATTENDANCE - 10,573

Wildcats advance to Sweet 16 with 82-68 win over Arkansas

K-State had to fight and scratch for everything it got, and in the end it came down to free throws, as the Wildcats pulled out at an 82-68 win over Arkansas to advance to the Sweet 16 in Milwaukee, Wis.

"This was a tremendously competitive contest between two very, very talented basketball teams," Coach Deb Patterson said.

"I was so proud of our team's ability to stay competitive through the course of the 40 minutes.

"We knew this would be a war." The game was close throughout, with 18 lead changes, 13 of which came in the first half. Arkansas jumped out to a quick 4-0 advantage, but Nicole Ohlde's layup and Kendra Wecker's three-pointer from the right wing gave the Cats their first lead, 5-4, at the 18:10 mark. The Lady 'Backs would storm back, though, and take their largest lead at 11:03, when India Lewis' three made it 21-15.

K-State followed that shot with a 12-7 run to go up 27-25.

K-State finished the first 20 minutes with points on eight of its final 10 possessions to take a 44-42 lead into the locker room.

Arkansas' pressure, which came both in the form of a pesky full-court press and in its physical half-court, man-up

See ARKANSAS on PAGE 8

ARKANSAS

82 K-STATE

POINTS BY HALF 42 26 - 68 44 38 - 82 K-State

ARKANSAS K-STATE FG percent 24-45 26-68 3-point pen 3PT-3PTA 21.1 46.7 4-19 7-15 FT percent FT-FTA 57.1 81.8 27-33

ARKANSAS SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS)

Christon (9-24-19), Lewis (5-17-15). Wright (3-5-14), Cherry (4-10-8), Nesby (3-7-6), Harper (2-4-4), Beard (0-0-2)

K-STATE SCORING (FG-FGA-POINTS) Koehn (8-15-25), Ohlde (4-7-19),

Wecker (4-7-12), Mahoney (2-6-10), Rethman (3-7-10), Madden (3-3-6).

ATTENDANCE - 11,786

CROSSWORD

5 Rock con- 41 That's a

40 Great

Lake

canals

laught

Rock" arm

48 Fun. to

49 Over-

51 Sur-

by

DOWN

1 Badge

elver

earners

2 Grown-up

setting

47 Black Sea

Charlie? publicize rounded

50 Addnl. ph. 10 Taj Mahal

Solution time: 28 mins.

42 'The

ACROSS

uno

8 Some-

12 Pirate

14 Trade mark symbol

15 Scarface

16 Wagon

17 Morning

20 Paris'

aid

25 Guest

28 Muscle

moisture

18 Simoleons

captive

23 Catcher's

24 Tarzan's

cronies

spasm

29 Diamonds

30 Anatom-

in the sky?

ical duct

32 Opportun-

34 Letterman

35 Mad king of drama rival

36 Chain

37 Pele's pastime

12

15

47

STUMPED?

MOVIES

Iron Monkey

On the Line's

Slapshot 2*

Slapshot 1

Original Sin* Life as a House*

Xena: Series Finale

"How to Kill Your Neighbors

"You Are Here"

"Arachnid"

"Deceived"

"Fast Sofa"

*Also on VHS

DVD

K-Pax*

AD DCTCZNAD

701 N. 11th

units

1 Numero

cert need

where out

By Eugene Sheffer

Walesa 23 Abbot's

headdres residence

takes the 25 Wakefield cake

29 Dandling

venue 31 Brillo

27 Status

rival

fellas

actor

36 Burden

37 Bygone

38 Suggest-

39 Butcher-

shop

buy 40 Glaswe

gian, 43 Bagel

44 Edge

46 Letter

1-900-454-6873! 99c per minute, touch

tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

XMOH URV

X J N D V Z O D '

UOWAZNXACD

CRYPTOQUIP

YRWWMAVXV WCD'X YOGAOT

www.ksudigitalshelf.com now online and updated

NEW RELEASES

MUSIC

Mindy McCready

"Mindy McCready"

Marc Anthony

Celine Dion "A New Day Has Come"

Andrew W.K.

'Riviera'

Hatebreed

R. Kelly/Jay-Z

"The Best of Both Worlds"

"Fifty Reasons To Explode"

Down "Down II"

"Move It Like This"

Big Head Todd And The

topping

45 Chartres

chum

London

ing slime

Persian

3 Pouch

tions

edge

6 Chaps

8 "Little

4 Occupa-

5 Acknowl-

7 Hypothe-

Women'

author

9 Paddock

young-writer

13 Tournament

format

19 Elevator man 20 Chapeau

11 "Portnoy's 33 Niche

Complaint" 34 "Good-

Pop-rock new release elevates status of band

Without changing its cinnamon-soaked, party-rock sound, Ultimate Fakebook has released an album that will take it farther than anything else the band has done.

Three years after releasing "This Will Be Laughing Week," Ultimate Fakebook has set out

ULTIMATE FAKEBOOK

****

confined to a Kansas audience.

The album continues the Fakebook tradibackdrop for nearly any teen movie.

You can't help but feel at least a little nostalgic for high school drama, like first love. sitting at the wrong lunch table and steaming up the windows of your parents' car when you listen to this upbeat music. The album is hot. and it's the right kind of music to be making

The reality of that is what might be hard for old fans to accept. Ultimate Fakebook wisely is playing all-ages shows because their music is appealing to a high school audience that recently has been exposed to pop rock like Weezer, Blink-182 and Jimmy Eat World.

younger crowd. They show no signs of abandoning old fans, but the question is whether those fans will have fun going to the shows next to 12-year-old girls who only recently realized there was more to music than the Backstreet Boys.

headaches since before punks stopped waves. Ed Rose's work in the producer's seat really shows on the contrast of "Inside Me, Inside You.'

And nothing could rival the catchiness of "When I'm With You I'm OK." Eric Melin's drums drive the verse right into the unforgettable melody of Bill McShane's voice in the sing-a-long chorus, "When I'm with you I'm OK included this time for all those fans waiting for a chance to sing the words back to the band when they come back to Manhattan.

Independent sounds

feature will run the last Monday of every month and includes information on how to find the latest independent music.

BY JJ DUNCAN Melin, drummer, said.

Ultimate Fakebook will be ready to rock Manhattan at an all-ages CD release party with

"Open Up and Say Awesome,"

Friday in Lawrence, and they at Silverado Saloon.

will continue at 8 p.m. Tuesday

These early dates are the beginning of an extensive tour to support the album in the Midwest, both coasts and a week on the Warned Tour this Still, singer/guitarist Bill

"We're always going to have a special place for Manhattan just because we got our start there,'

Doors will open at 7 p.m.

with the Pembertons starting at

The show is starting earlier than most concerts, so that it can be all-ages because all of the minors have to be out of Silverado by midnight, Eric

McShane said he is looking forward to playing the Little on Tuesday.

summer.

he said

8.

HOT ROD CIRCUIT

***

MUSIC REVIEW BY ADAM LEE

Ruskabank and the Pembertons

The band began celebrating the release of the compact disc,

When we play at a bar, that's our last choice," he said. "Our first choice is always all-

UFB ready to rock Little Apple

If we end up playing a bar. then kids who aren't old enough to get in take it as a personal

The new album, "Open Up and Say Awesome," will be on sale for $12 at the show and also can be found at www.ultimatefakehook.com for $13.

Though the album retains the pop sound the band has always had, the band said this album is more of a rock album. While keeping it catchy McShane said it's more influenced by arena rock.

Melin said the band worked on certain aspects to get that "The mastering is louder, the guitars are stepped up," he said. Everything is stepped up to the point that it's right below ridiculous." Also, Melin said the lyrics, which for the first time will be included with the album, reflect a more aggressive tone, some of which is due to continuing on as a band after leaving Sony

Release Party

Ultimate Fakebook's CD release party will start at 8 p.m. with doors opening at 7 Tuesday at Silverado Saloon, The Pembertons and Ruskabanks will open, and admis sion for the all-ages show is $8 at the door

The band has been receiving more attention than usual, giving several interviews between sound checks and setting up on Friday.

"Everything we've been putting together has been leading up to this one day," he

"We've been building stuff and working on songs and practicing all for this one day, and this is the day everyone has chosen to interview us."

McShane said that with such a long road ahead of the band, Manhattan fans should catch the concert because it will be awhile before they have another chance to see Ultimate

Fakebook live. "This is the first time we've done a headlining tour, so it's nice to do our own tour and not have to wait for another band to tour," he said.

Independent sounds

to rock untold masses by releasing an album

MUSIC REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN

that will elevate them beyond the comfortable but stagnant status they've enjoyed in Kansas and on tour. "Open Up and Say Awesome," is a full-blown pop-rock record that refuses to be

tion of creating music that would be the perfect

Ultimate Fakebook's success might rely on a

Any true fan won't forsake a band because of a new audience, but it has been giving bands listening to Green Day.

The singles really are ready for the radio

/ My skies are blue every day."

The album doesn't disappoint, and lyrics are Independent Sounds is a monthly Collegian feature that reviews only bands on independent labels. This

Album based on blend of lyrical, musical content

Hot Rod Circuit's fourth and latest album, "Sorry About Tomorrow," bases itself on a delicate blend of hooks with sincere lyrical and musical content.

When they get the proportions right, the band's interpretation of indie-pop seems to cause a neurochemical reaction that always will leave you fiending for more.

This is an album of conspicuous contrast, which could focus on loud, ripping guitar on one track, and delicate yet piercing vocals on the next.

The meat of the album is found in the first three songs.

The opening track, "The Pharmacist," a song about breaking up with a drug-stealing girlfriend, pulls you in to the album with fluctuating vocals and classic pop-rock guitar riffs.

Track number two, "At Nature's Mercy," is the strongest song on the album with beautifully pulsating chords and breaks.

The vocals aren't all that complicated ("Trying not to get hooked, hooked on you"), but that just makes it easier when Andy Jackson's shrewd and forceful vocals inspire you to try to sing along in the first listen.

"Radiation Suit" is dominated by some intricate work by guitarist Casey Prestwood. This is the hardest-rocking song on the album, and the energy rushes the song through. The two minutes and forty seconds it occupies in the album seem to flash by in an instant. During the course of the remaining eight songs, the Connecticut quartet's use of variation seems to

This is an album of conspicuous contrast, which could focus on loud, ripping guitar on one track, and delicate yet piercing vocals on the dwindle, and the album becomes rather monotonous.

On songs like "Safely," "Now or Never" and 'Knees" the music becomes sluggish, and vocals come off as belly-aching.

There is still some rock to be found on the album on tracks like "Let's Go Home" and "Consumed By Laziness," but it is much more subdued than at the beginning of the album.

If you like to rock out for a while and then spend some time thinking about how girls have screwed up your life, then "Sorry about Tomorrow" is a must own.

misdirection

BY JOE ELKINTON — GANGSTAHONKY@HOTMAIL.COM

THE DANIDUS PAGE FOR MORE

MONARCHS

Continued from page 6

"They were playing good defense and they got us rattled and that caused us to rush just a little bit.

With the loss, K-State's young team finished one of the most successful seasons in school history at 26-8, but after the game even that fact wasn't enough to allow Koehn and her teammates to see past the performance.

"It's really disappointing," she

"No matter how old you are, it's not the way you want to leave - it's not the way you want to end your season.

You always want to go out playing your best and giving it your best effort, and we didn't do

arkansas

■ Continued from page 6

variety, forced seven Cat turnovers and 12 Lady 'Back points in the first frame and Patterson's squad was outrebounded 16-12.

"At half, we talked a lot about the fact that we had to do a better job on the boards in the second half," Patterson

"We knew we had to defend and board at a higher level."

The Cats did better in both aspects, finishing the game with more rebounds (39-29) than Arkansas and by limiting the Lady Backs offense to only 26 second-half points compared to K-State's 38.

"In the past, when things haven't gone the way we'd

ONLINE Check out the NCAA Tournament online photo gallery and catch up on the Collegian's extended coverage of the Cats' NCAA Tournament available at www.kstatecollegian.com.

like, we got frustrated with ourselves - we'd break down on offense or we'd break down on defense," senior guard Kristin Rethman said.

K-State set the tone in the second half with a 7-1 run that pushed the lead to 62-57, and then scored on seven of its last eight possessions to seal the

During the stretch, the Cats hit nine of 11 free throws to put the game out of reach.

"Tonight, we were mentally

Zach Long/ tough," Rethman said. hoped or the way we would Study finds college binge drinking remains steady

BY GREG SUKIENNIK

The Associatoil Press

BOSTON - More college students are living in substancefree residence halls, and fewer recall drinking to excess while in high school.

Yet binge drinking on college campuses is still as common as it was in the early 1990s, a new Harvard study shows.

The survey by the Harvard School of Public Health found 44 percent of college students admitted binge drinking within the previous two weeks - the same percentage found in a 1993 study. "It's part of the American college culture," said Nicholas Pasquale, 20, a sophomore at Boston University. "I don't know of any college where a large part of the student body isn't drinking on weekends.

However, the survey also found that universities had made efforts during the past decade to change

About 65 percent more college students said they were living in substance-free residence halls and being exposed to alcohol awareness education.

Also, fewer students said they were members of fraternities and sororities, where reported binge drinking rates have been the

A growing number of students said they abstain from drinking altogether - 19.3 percent, up from 16.4 percent eight years ago.

Kelilah Miller, 19, a Boston University freshman, said she doesn't hang around with people who drink and questioned how much of a public health issue binge drinking is: What's society's responsibility to protect people from themselves?" she asked.

The Harvard survey questioned 10,000 students at 119 four-year colleges, and defined binge drinking as four or more drinks in a row for women, or five or more

Out of the traditional college students who drink - 18- to 23year-olds not living with their parents - seven out of 10 said they had met that definition of binge drinking in the past 30 days.

"That's a staggering number," said Henry Wechsler, director of College Alcohol Studies at Harvard School of Public Health and lead investigator on the study.

"Before, we didn't see positive trends at the same time as the continuation of the binge rate. Wechsler said Friday.

"We didn't see this kind of illogical presence of trends that should lead to lower rates and a continuing high rate

"This, to us, indicates very strong forces are continuing to support this level of drinking on campus," he said. "Those factors need to addressed in policies that colleges.

The University of Vermont in Burlington, one of 10 colleges taking part in an American Medical Association-led initiative to curb binge drinking, found when it joined the program in 1997 that 65 percent of all students admitted binge drinking, said Andrew Flewelling, director of the university's program. That number is now at 64 percent.

"Until the environmental factors are tackled, you can't expect any change," Flewelling said from Atlanta, where representatives of the 10 schools met Friday

"Alcohol is similar (to tobacco). in the way it is so firmly entrenched in our society

Another school in the AMA program, Georgia Tech, said its binge drinking rate decreased to 34 percent from 43 percent in

The Atlanta school succeeded by making its policies clearer and easier to enforce and involving students in forming and implementing those policies, said dean of students Gail DiSabatino.

The school also started informing parents when students racked up repeated citations.

'All the data that has come back has shown us students are aware of the policies," DiSabatino

In the survey, students were characterized as binge drinkers if they had the specified number of drinks within the two weeks prior to the survey.

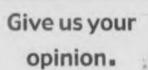

Those who had done so three or more times in the 30 days prior to completing the survey were characterized as frequent binge drinkers.

Of the students surveyed, 22.8 percent characterized themselves as frequent binge drinkers, up from 19.7 percent in 1993.

The researchers also noted an increase in binge drinking at women's colleges, from 24 percent in 1993 to 32 percent in 2001.

"Even though this is a small group, and one that still drinks less as a group, this is a real change," Weehsler said.

Campus Fourum: 395-4444

advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

First, Check the Collegian Classifieds.

The Collegian should be the first place you look when you need something. Whether you want football tickets for the next home game, are looking to buy a good used car, want to find the perfect person to take to your next date. party, or am hoping to find a new place to live... You'll find it in the Classifieds.

103 Kedzie Hall • 532-6555

Little Caesars 14" PIZZA

$60 Foil Hilite $27.50 Brazilian Bikini Wax $5 Brow Wax $20 Full Set $10 Manicure or Pedicure

MONPAY MANIA

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 (Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99) Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

STIX IT TO ME I UESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILDCAT WEDNESDA

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIG ASS

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

Student Body President Election

Wednesday, March 27, 2002 at a computer near you 8:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M.

Re-vote for the office of Student Body President and Vice President by electronic ballot on Wednesday.

Vote Online by logging into KATS

and obtaining your password and User ID

http://www.ksu.edu/elections

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY

20 words or less

$7.50 each word over 20

20c per word

2 DAYS

20 words or less

$8.80

each word over 20

25¢ per word

3 DAYS

20 words or less

$10.35

each word over 20

30¢ per word

4 DAYS

20 words or less

$11.45

each word over 20

35¢ per word

5 DAYS

20 words or less

$12.50

each word over 20

40¢ per word

(consecutive day rate)

TO PLACE AN AD

Go to Kedzie 103

(across from the

K-State Student Union)

Office hours are

Monday through Friday

from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The office is open

except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless

you have an account

with Student

Publications Inc.

Cash, check,

MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a

$10 service charge on all returned checks.

We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly

classify any ad.

FREE FOUND ADS

As a service to you, we

run found ads for three days free of charge.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us.

We accept responsibility only for the first

wrong insertion.

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item

before your ad has

expired, we will refund

you for the remaining

days. You must call us

before noon the day

before the ad is to be published.

HEADLINES

For an extra charge,

we'll put a headline

above your ad to catch

the reader's attention.

11 11 11

310 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

A TWO-BEDROOM apartnt, two blocks to campus one year lease

AVAILABLE LEASES now July 31. Two, three, and lour-bedrooms close 57. Evenings and week-ds (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

FOUR-BEDROOM APART-MENT next to campus. 1324 Manhattan Ave. $870/ month, $870 deposit. No Water and trash paid. (785)456-2812.

NEXT TO campus- one. Wo, three-bedroom houses. Central air parking, free washer/ dryer. Available August. (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedapartment, 350 N. near Nichols Hall, $630. (785)539-2482.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496

For Rent-Unfurnished

ONE, TWO and three-bedcampus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

SPACIOUS TWO and three bedroom, close to campus water, and trash paid THREE-BEDROOM

pus. June lease. Water trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296.

TWO, THREE, four bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry facampus

TWO, TWO-BEDROOM'S one block/ campus. Water trash paid. Washer and dryer, off street parking. $375 and $475. (785)539-5821

Need to sublease?

before it's too late

Kedzie 103 + 537-6555

For Rent-Houses

> 1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

150

FEMALE

4547

One and

Sublease

SUMMER SUBLEASES.

sel

ou

Collegian Advertising

110 #

Apt.

For Rent-

Unfurnished

THREE-BEDROOM.

pets or smokers 1021 Fre-mont $780.00 plus utilities.

Now Leasing

LEASED

3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

537-7007

Rooms

ONE

120 ■

For Rent-

Houses

Available

Kimball & College Aves.

Across from KSU stadium

CLEAN, QUIET, private adjacent to campus,

Knight. (785)565-0138

THREE-BEDROOM DU-

One and one-half bath,

washer and dryer, trash and mowing paid $735 a month.

DU

PLEX available March

THREE-BEDROOM

PLEX available May

One and one-half bath,

washer and dryer, trash,

two-bedroom

FIVE, SIX, and seven-bedroom houses for rent, near campus. Call (785)539-

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable. Five-bedroom houses also one-bedroom nouses also one-bedroom apart-ments. June or August leases. No pets, no smok-ing. Call (785)539-0549

For Rent-Mobile Homes

130 ■

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT sixteen-feet wide, two and three-bedroom homes available, one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available Call (785)776-4274 to view hese beautiful, spacious homes.

For Sale Mobile Homes

14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer. $13600 Call (785)484-

145 1

Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE, one SUBLEASES room available. June lease, private bath. $160/ month, needed. Partially furnished apartment. Great condition. one-half utilities, no smok-ing/ pets. Call David at pool, laundry/ workout facili-ties. June 1-July 31. One half utilities. $240. (785)776ing/ pets. Ca (785)539-8955.

ROOMMATE WANTED-MAY FREE! People desper-ately needed for sublease Split utilities. One block from University Commons Fully furnished, $284/ month. Please call for into (785) Very nice! Call (785)587-9710.

STOP PAYING exorbitant rent in Manhattant One-bedroom available in May sev en miles from K-State $250 includes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dryer in basement. No smoking drinking. Call Brian at (785)494-8299.

150 Sublease

AVAILABLE JUNE 1st. Sub leaser wanted for three-bed-room apartment. All utilities paid. One block from cam-

DESPERATELY SEEKING om apartment, rooms, walk-in wimming pool! Rent n fiable Call (785)770-3834

NICE TWO-YEAR old fourfor sublease after finals. through July Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hockup, $275, negotiable. May rent one, two, three, or all rooms. Call now NO (785)323-0827

> WALK TO Summer school subleasing four-bedroom ouse for June and July Hartford (785)770-3605

220 Weight Loss & /

Nutrition

fass. Increased Energy- Im-mediate Results I can teach you the secretl Local Distrib-ulor (785)776-1936 on board positions availa-ble, great benefits. Sea-

employment/ opportunities

310

Help Wanted

room, and bath, for male $250/ month. Utilities paid SSSS SUMMER JOBS $$$$ IF YOU'LL be close to Kanstreet parking. Call (785) sas City this summer and interested in a great job with the potential to make a FOUR-BEDROOM lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters. rentals $350/ month and up. okay, short-term s Call Century 21 You'll have fun working out-side and with your friends. If interested, please call (888)CPP-97US For more nformation including job de scriptions, visit www.colle-

> $250/ DAY potential/ bar-(800)293-3985 ext. 548

(800)293-3985 ext 548. S7/ hour for 40 hour week, Manhattan City Ordinance May 13 through August 16 son equal opportunity in culture, Forestry and Recreployment in any field work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, disaand mowing paid, $735 a month. (785)341-5287. bility, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

AD SALES/ Marketing/ Public Relations. Unique nationpublisher offering wellpaid, flexible, and rewarding $50,000/ year or more. E-local internship for spring/ mail resume in Microsoft ucal@bendnet.com

Help Wanted

(785)889-4514 or (785)889-

NEED SUMMER Harvest

Help! Run New Case Com

bines 2388's and New Auto

2815 Anderson Ave., Suit

Boys Sports Camp in Beau

apply www.campcedar.com

CivicPtus, a leader in provid services, has an opening fo

a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program

PROGRAMMER

B, Manhattan, KS.

The Collegian cannot veri- LARGE, DIVERSIFIED farm three-bedroom and two fy the financial potential of 35 miles northeast of Man-bath, newer carpet, shower advertisements in the Em-hattan is looking for qualified individual to assume full time responsibilities in crop ployment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any and livestock production such employment oppor- Position responsible to tunity with reasonable maintenance and operation caution. The Collegian of late model equipment. urges our readers to con-tact the Better Business into livestock management. Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Great job for personable in-KS 66607-1190. dividual who enjoys working with other non-smoking em (785)232-0454. $1500 WEEKLY potential Salary and benefits negotia-

> $250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension LOOKING FOR a Korean in terpreter who can speak English. Call evenings formation call (203)977-

mailing our circulars.

Help Wanted

(620)786-3073 ADMINISTRATIVE ASSIS TANT Walters-Morgan Con-MASS COMMUNICATIONS struction, Inc. Applicants Instructor: One semester sabbatical replacement, to st be able to work Mor day- Wednesday- Friday from 11:30a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday- Thursday from 7:30a.m. to 1:00 p.m. teach classes, advise stu-dents, supervise production of the student newspaper during the remainder of the tailed on the job description Spring 2002 semester and tull-time over the summer. Qualifications: Masters gree in Journalism/ Mass Communications or related Proficiency in Microsoft Word and Excel necessary. area with experience in the Experience with fax ma-chines, copiers, and multifields of journalism and/ or mass communications. line phone systems also Community college teaching helpful. Duties include typexperience desirable, high school or other college ing documents; maintain teaching experience acceptable. Position available August 19, 2002. Application incoming/outgoing mail function as office reception ist: maintain records; procreview will begin immediately. Position to remain open ess regulatory and license filings; provide administrauntil filled. Detailed job de support for staff/job sites; perform other administrative functions as scription and application materials available upon request. Application materials required. Business casual consist of letter of applica-tion, resume, transcripts and and cover letter to Walters names, addresses and tele-phone numbers of at least Morgan Construction, Inc., Attention Meighan Nettleton, 2616 Tuttle Creek Bou-leyard, Manhattan, KS ces. Only complete appl cation materials will be re-viewed. Human Resources. 66502, fax (785)539-6521 or e-mail wmc/@waltersmor-Dodge City Community College, 2501 North 14th Ave

BARTENDERS NEEDED! nue, Dodge City, Kansas 6 7 8 0 1 Earn up to $250/ day. Will tfredrick@dccc.cc.ks.us (620)227-9386. Equal Optrain. No experience neces sary. Call (866)291-1884 ext. 160. portunity Employer

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Swimsuit Calendar s, Photographers

natic Tandem Grain Trucks Need Commercial Drivers license and we will help ob-CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Countain Commercial Drivers Li-Provide room board and excellent salary Call (785)689-4660. ors and many other posi PART-TIME available for a very special June 1- August 4. Equal Opportunity Employer Call for application 800-352-6133 extensi tic and very dedicated team Hours are mid-afternoon to 800-352-6133 extension Hours are mid-afternoon to 303 or apply online at early evening and every othwww.girlscoutsaz.org/home. er Saturday morning. Aphtm. proximately 20 hours per week. Please apply at Sor-CRUISE LINE entry level, sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top EARN $1000 FOR YOUR GROUP. Work on campus tiful Maine. Counselors to to raise money for your stubaseball, basketball, water group or organization Make your own schedule biking, archery, and more Please call (800)808-7450. summer. 888-844-8080 or

FRATERNITIES. SORORI TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Carr sfundraiser.com fundraising event Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campusming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL ex-perience preferred. All new fundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campushires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution JOHNSON COUNTY. Sum Developer status within 90 days of employment. Commer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State petitive salary plus health, 401(k) and paid vacation. Research and Extension Center Must have own E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text to: transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. jobs@civicplus.com EOE

PROGRESSIVE IRRIGAT ED/ DRY land crop farming ration. Near McPherson Kansas, Has an opening for (620)241-7270.

SALES. LOCAL Compa WANTED: SUMMER men is looking for a money-moti tors for Upward Bound Math with a proven history of must be at least a sopho more in good academic cluding quota over achievement Applicants must have a proven history of phone standing, and willing to live in a residence hall for the prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to weeks of June 9 through July 29. It is preferred that apwork independently. Base plus commission equals. plicants be seeking majors fields. Please come to: 1800 Shuttle) to fill out an applica tion. Interviews begin April

Have you lost or found a pet?

Let us play detective

for you.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie 532-6555

Help Wanted SUMMER CAMP COUNSE LORS ON CAMPUS IN-TERVIEWS FOR PREMIER CAMPS IN MASSACHU-SETTS Positions available for talented, energetic, and fun loving students as counselors in all team sports in-cluding Roller Hockey and Lacrosse, all individua sports such as Tennis and individual Golf, Waterfront and Pool activities, and specialty ac tivities including art, dance theater, gymnastics, newspaper, rocketry and radio GREAT SALARIES, room board, travel and United States summer work visa. June 19-August 16. Enjoy a to be unforgettable. Apply Now! For more information: Now! For more information: M A H - K E E - N A C www.campmkn.com (Boys): 1-800-753-9118: DANBEE www.campdanbee.com (Girls): 1-800-392-3572. In to 4:00pm in the K-State Union. Room 209. WANTED: Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Moun-tains. Come work for the largest horse operation in terviewer will be on campus

Monday, April 8, 2002 10am

North America. Visit out website www.sombrero.com or wnte to us at 3300 Airport Road, Boulder, CO 80301.

YARDWORK MAINTE NANCE for homeowner Spring cleaning, pruning raking and regular mainte nance through spring and summer Flexible hours, part-time. No mowing required. Some knowledge of preferred (785)537-4613.

Business Opportunities

330

The Collegian cannot veri fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Em ployment/Career classifi cation. Readers are ad vised to approach any such business opportuni ty with reasonable cau tion. The Collegian ur our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville, for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in Kansas. For portfolio cal (785)539-7479 or email kadean@kscable.com

DOES YOUR summer job suck? Check out an opportunity to travel, gain great resume experience make $7000. Call Jay at (785)565-0868.

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE open

market

Items for Sale

BOOK: Anthology of Chi-Literary Essays ated to English) Please visit http:// li_chungwang.tripod.com

transportation

Automobiles HONDAS FROM $500

(800)719-3001

School and work

driving you crazy? Check the Collegian classifieds to find out where you can go to get away from it all.... for the weekend or for a holiday break. You can get away quicker than you think.

103 Kedzie 532-655

opportunities

directory

market

Announcements

010

LEARN TO FLY! K-State Flying Club has five air-planes, lowest rates. For information, call (785)456-

ACADEMY OF BARTEND ING. Have fun, make mor ey, meet people Earn $15-$30 an hour. Day, evening or weekend classes availa-ble. Job placement assistance, $199 with student ID.

www.bartendingcollege.com ATTORNEY AT LAW Charles W. (Chuck) Harper years experience Poyntz (785)539-8100, chuckharper@msn.com

SPOUSEQUEST COM RELATIONSHIPS just got eas-

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days 030

Personals

We require a form of pic ture ID (KSU, driver's cense or other) when plac-

housing real estate

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

105 ■

4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, milita-(785)587-2440.

One-bedroom studio fur-nished, 1219 Claffin/ 1218 Pomeroy, $330 deposit, Wa-ter and trash paid, (785)456. KSU at the corner of Colish paid. (785)456- lege and Claffin, Manhattan. Take a sneak peak at the 2002 Royal Purple yearbook!

105 For Rent-Apts. Furnished

TWO-BEDROOM TOWN HOUSE, one and one-half bath, plus unfinished base ment, central air. Washer dryer hook-ups, no pets (785)539-5627 astay in ent the eeeld Commons. Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished •2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System *Swimming Pool

*Washer/Dryer *Computer Lab *Fitness Center

*Permit Parking *Tennis/Volleyball Courts *Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-5. Sat. 10-4

539-0500 INIVERSITY *COMMONS*

2215 COLLEGE AVE For Rent-Apt.

Unfurnished AVAILABLE AUGUST. Two, three, four, five, and six-bedrooms. Close to cam-

(785)539-2551. AVAILABLE NOW, summer

and fall very nice one, two three, four five, six-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)837-6017. www.beloose.com/linwood

Manhattan City Ordinance FOR RENT, new one, two three and four-bedroom units. Some close to campus. All appliances. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. Call (785)341-2269 for ry status, disability, reli-gion, age, color, national ning Construction. origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, school year One-bedrooms school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call

Take a look at some of the events and faces featured in this year's yearhook.

Order your yearbook in Kedzie 103 • $34.95

Would you like to have some creative input in the appearance of ads in the Kansas State Collegian?

if you are a graphic design major and would like an

is required. Application deadline Friday, April 19

on-campus fall 2002 internship for credit, stop by for an application. Prerequisites must be met and instructor's permission

Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

for more information.

Advertising Design

Graphic Design Internship

Unturnished

For Rent-

K-Rental Mgmt. - Now Leasing -Bills Included 1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500

> 4 BR from $720 539-8401

3 BR from $600

LEASING FOR ALL. Two bedroom and three-bed-room, one block from campus, laundry, Excellent loca-tion, condition, (785)776

closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks NICE, CLEAN, two-bedroom

Close to campus. Fall lease ONE BEDROOM, close to campus (June). (785)539-

ONE OR two-bedrooms Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. June 928 Leavenworth, Four-adroom house, 316 N 11th, (785)539-0590.

ONE TWO and three-bedcampus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-APARTMENTS

ONE-BEDROOM $405. 1225 Claffin. Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan Avenue. One-bedroom stu-dio furnished, 1219 Ciaffin $330. (785)456-2812. No

ONE-BEDROOM ACROSS Call John at (785)313-7473. ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX apartment, unfurnished, no smoking, no pets, nice shady yard, central air-con-ditioning, water/ trash paid.

month. (785)539-ONE-BEDROOM, close to paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR FIRST STOP One. Two. Three-bedrooms. (785)539-rooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537-THREE-BEDROOM WALK OUT basement apartment off-street parking blocks from (785)336-2784

Art Dept.

campus.

Friday, April 5.

production staff on the Kansas State Collegian during fall semester 2002. Limited enrollment. The instructor's permission is required. No prerequisites are necessary.

for a paid, part-time position the following semester.

Media Practicum MC 484

Application deadline Friday, April 19

The experience you gain in the fall could qualify you to apply

Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information.

You can earn class credit for working with the ad design/

Broadbent, Connelly earn Oscars for supporting performances

made a grand entrance from the theater floor in a spoof of Nicole

Kidman's first appearance in best-picture nominee "Moulin Rouge."

Dressed in a gaudy, glittering outfit, Goldberg told the audience, "I am the original sexy beast," referring to "Sexy Beast," the film that earned

Ben Kingsley a supporting-actor

The Oscars returned to 1960. The new site for the 74th awards was the recently opened

Hollywood Boulevard from the hotel

Unlike many years, when a clear favorite such as "Titanic" emerged as likely best-picture winner, two main films dueled for the top Oscar. "A Beautiful Mind," starring Russell scholar John Nash, and the fantasy Fellowship of the Ring" split many

Some Oscar analysts gave "A Beautiful Mind" the edge because it that voters in the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences often favor.

set in 1899 Paris that became the first musical to compete for best picture in 22 years, was a longshot spoiler.

The ensemble satire "Gosford Park" and the dark family drama "In the Bedroom," though widely acclaimed, generally were thought to have little "Fellowship of the Ring" had a Beautiful Mind" and "Moulin Rouge"

Awards season was sullied by rumors of a smear campaign against

"A Beautiful Mind," the subject of news and Internet reports that the elements of Nash's life. Universal

Pictures, which owns domestic rights to "A Beautiful Mind," claimed there against the film, though the studio provided no evidence that any rivals

Kansas State Collegian

film overlooked unflattering

· was an orchestrated campaign were involved.

leading 13 nominations, with "A chance of winning

next with eight apiece.

"Moulin Rouge," a comic tragedy was a more down-to-earth drama epic "The Lord of the Rings: The film honors leading up to the Academy Awards.

Crowe as schizophrenic math

Kodak Theatre, just across where the first Oscars were presented in 1929

Hollywood for the first time since nomination.

ceiling, lowered on a trapeze to the

BY DAVID GERMAIN The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES - Stand-by-yourspouse roles earned Academy Awards for supporting performers Jim Broadbent and Jennifer Connelly on Sunday.

Broadbent took the supportingactor Oscar for his role as the befuddled but doting husband of Alzheimer's-afflicted writer Iris Murdoch in "Iris." Connelly won the supporting-actress honor as the steadfast wife of delusional math genius John Nash in "A Beautiful Mind.

"By some beautiful twist of fate I've landed in this vocation that demands that I feel and helps me to learn," said Connelly, who played the mathematician's wife, Alicia. "I believe in love, that there's nothing more important. Alicia Nash is a true champion of love, and so thank you to her for her example.

The supporting-actress win capped a string of meaty roles for Connelly, known earlier in her career for pretty-face parts that left little room for serious acting. In the two years leading up to "A Beautiful Mind," Connelly gained acclaim in such smaller independent films as "Waking the Dead" and "Requiem for a Dream.

Broadbent thanked Murdoch's husband, John Bayley, "who allowed us to plunder and I'm sure misrepre sent his life with Iris.

"Shrek," the hip twist on cartoon fairy tales that featured the voices of Mike Myers. Eddie Murphy and Cameron Diaz, won the first-ever Oscar for animated feature film.

"Thank you, members of the academy for inviting us to the party by creating this animated category to begin with," said Aron Warner, producer of the computer-animated Best-picture nominee "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring," shot in lush New Zealand. took the cinematography and visual effects Oscars as well as the makeup prize for its painstaking recreation of J.R.R. Tolkien's Middle-earth locations and creatures.

"I got an opportunity to go to the most beautiful country on Earth, in my opinion, work with a genuine fellowship of people, and torture a lot of actors," said Richard Taylor, who shared the makeup honor with collaborator Peter Owen. "I can't thank the academy enough for this.

Other early awards went to "Black Hawk Down" for film editing and sound and "Moulin Rouge" for costume design and art direction, two Oscars shared by Catherine Martin, wife of "Moulin Rouge" director Baz Luhrmann, who was snubbed for a best-directing nomination.

"It was your vision. This is your Oscar, Baz," Martin said to her husband as she accepted the costume-design award. The sound editing Oscar went to Opening the show, Tom Cruise took a moment to mention the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, saying he talked with a friend about whether his work as an actor was important in light of the tragedy.

"What about a night like tonight? Should we celebrate the joy and magic movies bring? Dare I say it? More than ever," Cruise said. drawing enthusiastic applause. "A small scene, a gesture, even a glance between characters can cross lines, break through barriers, melt prejudice or just plain make us laugh."

Viewers were treated to a standup routine by past Oscar winner Woody Allen, who introduced a tribute to films shot in New York City as a way to mark the Sept. 11 attack on the World Trade Center.

When the academy called to invite him, Allen joked he thought officials wanted his Oscars back. "I panicked because the pawnshop has been out of business for ages. I had no way of retrieving anything," Allen said.

The tribute was made by filmmaker Nora Ephron. It began with the opening of Allen's "Manhattan" and included clips from "Taxi Driver," "Working Girl," "Tootsie," "The French Connection," "The Apartment," "On the Waterfront" and other films.

Oscar host Whoopi Goldberg

What once was

Two beams of light representing where the World Trade Center towers once stood shine up from Ground Zero In New York City. The lights were turned on March 11 for the six-month anniversary of the terrorism attacks.

Order your yearbook. Today.

COUPON-NO TIME LIMIT! WATCH BATTERIES

Expertly Installed regulator clock store

214 S. 4th, Manhattan, 776-6977 FREE parking in front

Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

www.kstatecollegian.com

*Over 250 units citywide to choose from •Fireplaces •Carports

•Pool •Private Deck

 Laundry Facilities Large 2-bedroom Units

Call Now 537-9064

Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

770-3333

Campus Special

Med. 12" | Topping Pizza 55,99

Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix 56.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

ELECTRICAL & COMPUTER ENGINEERING STUDENTS EARLY ENROLLMENT FOR SUMMER & FALL 2002

Early enrollment will be conducted during the following times only:

CURRENT JUNIORS & SENIORS:

Mon. & Tues. March 25 & 26

1:00pm - 4:00pm

ALL OTHER STUDENTS:

Mon. April 1, Mon. April 8, Mon, April 15 & Mon. April 22 & Fri. April 26 100pm - 4:00pm

SIGN-UP SHEETS WILL BE POSTED IN THE EECE OFFICE WEDNESDAY, MARCH B

$8 MEN'S HAIRCUTS $15 WOMEN'S HAIRCUTS $5 BROW WAX $10 MANICURE OR PEDICURE

In the K-State Student Union $20 FULL SETS 532-5972

loc Wings 5-9 p.m. $2 Big Beers

Wednesday Jimmie Van Zant Band LIVE Skynrd - Then & Now with special guest

13th Step

Intramurals Softball

Official's Clinic

March 25 at 5 p.m. & March 26 at 6:30 p.m.

Attendance required at both meetings. Earn $6.50 per hour officiating!

Recreational Services Office 532-6980

Fresh Eyes™

Nothing sounds better to contact lens wearers.

Great comfort! Great vision! Great deal!

✓ Complete eye examination!

✓ A new pair of contact lenses every three months! (Four new pairs)

✓ Six month lense evaluation & checkup!

✓ A full year supply of lens solution! Only the EyeDoctors™ bring you FRESH EYES™ our exclusive program with everything you need for a full year... at one affordable price See us soon and experience FRESH EYES.™

DR.S PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH 74 AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118 3012 Anderson - Manhattan

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 26, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 118 www.kstatecollegian.com

Dream season ends

Secret sounds

Photos by Zach Long/Collegian

Larry Jackson is station manager for KKSU-AM 580 located in the basement of McCain Auditorium. The station went on air in December 1924.

servicing the state of Kansas

as a whole. In doing that, we tend to lessen

our identity with the community of K-State and

Manhattan,"

Jackson said.

funded with

KKSU is

Radio station has broadcast from campus for 27 years

BY RYAN DONAHUE

idden in the basement of McCain Auditorium is one of K-State's oldest communication secrets. If you switch your radio to that AM channel and tune in to 580, you will hear the sounds of what was the first educational radio station in Kansas.

Few students walking around the south campus will ever look up and notice two tall historical landmarks at K-State. KKSU-AM 580 built their twin broadcasting towers in 1924 when the station first went on the air.

KKSU signed on the air more than 27 years before Wildcat 91.9 did. The campus station has been broadcasting since 1924 as part of the university's extension program.

Larry Jackson, KKSU station manager, said the AM station is not very well-known on campus because the station doesn't service only students.

Secrets

This is the first in a series of five stories on lesser-known campus locations. Look for next. Tuesday's feature on the Purple Masque extension dollars through the College of Agriculture. The station has a unique arrangement with the Topeka station WIBW-AM 580. The two stations have been sharing the same radio frequency since 1929. "No one was on 24 hours a day back then. There was not enough revenue to do that, and not enough programming. Everything was live back then, so nothing could be rerun during their late night hours," Jackson said.

The windmill radio tower that stands directly south of Calvin Hall is one of two that sends KKSU-AM 580's signal out. The towers have been on the K-State campus since 1924.

The arrangement was created out of convenience for both stations, Jackson said. The current contractual agreement between the two stations is in dispute due to the rights of broadcasting

SGA

K-State football games. Jackson said KKSU stopped broadcasting the football games in the 1980s.

See STATION on PAGE 8

Students have mixed response to re-election

Kansas State Collegian

Polls open Wednesday morning for the re-election of student body president and vice president, and students have mixed response to the controversy surrounding it.

"I haven't decided who is going to benefit from this," Kym Deventhal, senior

Students can vote online at in microbiology, said. "Are they really going to get more voters the second time?"

After moving on from the primary election, Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles were declared the winners over Zac Cook and Todd Kohman with a 40-vote difference between the candidates.

Cook and Kohman contested the results based on four complaints and called for a new election. Their complaints regarded violations of the elections regulations code, including the exclusion of the option for write-in votes for the presidential position.

They referred to the committee's inability to provide secure ballots, evidenced by conflicting vote totals for categories where all students were required to vote, and the failure of the committee to include abstentions in the voting totals. This would have prevented Wolters and Achilles from winning the required majority of votes.

Cook and Kohman's final claim was that students were denied the right to vote because of a confusing voting process provided by the online vendor, iBallot.com. Several students, who said they could not vote, also filed complaints.

Mary Shanahan, sophomore in theater, said supporters of both candidates were affected and a revole is unneces

"The whole thing seems a little ridiculous," Shanahan said. "Like Matt and Mandy said, they have the exact same disadvantage that Cook and Kohman has. It seems unfair to be complaining about it."

Eric Matzke, junior in information systems, said he did not vote in the general election and does not plan to vote on Wednesday.

"Student body has no power," he said. "It seems like the SGA bylaws need to be changed just so there is no ambiguity."

The elections committee met March 10 to discuss the complaints. The committee refused to certify the results of the presidential election.

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, said after a conversation with iBallot.com, several voting problems were realized. If students did not click an option in each category, the ballot was kicked back with the

See RE-ELECTION on PAGE 8

Cook, Kohman prepare for election, remain positive about voter response

BY EDIE HALL Kansas State Collegion

Zac Cook and Todd Kohman said they want students to know they feel positive about the upcoming election, despite problems with the previous election.

COOK Presidential candidates Cook and Kohman said they feel students might attribute the re-election to the pair's complaints. However, elections committee members contested the results.

"Students may not understand that we withdrew our contestation of the election after we found out the elections committee was going to appeal the results," Kohman said. "The coverage of the elections kind of gave us the look of sour grapes."

Cook said it's important for students to know that the upcoming election isn't simply a do-over election.

"The election isn't already decided by what happened previously," Cook said. "We aren't re-doing the election simply because it was so close."

Cook said the pair still felt strongly about their

"Our key issue of diversity and multiculturalism on said. "It's one of the things that needs to be done. The pair's other platform issues campus is vital since Sept. 11," Cook include increasing voter registration among students, expanding a recycling program, and incorporating an open-door policy that would make students feel more comfortable about voicing their concerns to the student body president and vice president.

KOHMAN

Kohman said they were working on contacting supporters that helped them through the primary and general elections. Cook added that they wanted to reach people who didn't get to vote in the first election. He said many international students were confused by the ballot.

"We want to get them straightened out so they can cast their support, and not be frustrated with the process this time," Cook said.

Cook said that for this election, the pair would do some things to increase their name recognition on campus, but wouldn't put an incredible amount of signs or chalk out again.

See COOK on PAGE 8

Wolters, Achilles ready to focus on issues, inform voters of platform

BY SARAH BAHARI Ransus State Collegian

Presidential ticket Matt Wolters

and Mandy Achilles say they're ready to get back to the basics.

That means reminding people what this election is about,

ELECTIONS their platform and why they're the best candidates for the job, they said. "When people go to the polls — even with all the controversy - they should still be casting a ballot to make K-State a better place," Wolters said. "We've got a plan to do that." The pair's campaigning today and Wednesday will include talking to students and spreading the word of the re-election. They also have posted signs they used for the two previous elections and chalked Achilles said she is most concerned that people have forgotten about the election. After spring break, it is not on people's minds, which makes campaigning even more important, she said.

All candidates will fight low voter turnout this election, Wolters said. "Hands down, the turnout will be less than the general election," he

> Because of that, the means of communicating platforms and ideas have changed since the announcement of their candidacy. Wolters said.

"Obviously, everything is not the same as it was in the beginning," Wolters said. "We still have the same philosophy behind what we're doing, but the tactics we're using and what we're doing has changed some." However, what matters hasn't changed, Achilles

"It's always been about the issues. It still is about the issues, and I hope the students are thinking about the issues," she said.

The candidates' platform touches on three areas of the K-State experience, they said. The first point - tuition - is the most important issue students face, Wolters said.

The advisory committee, which Wolters said he

See WOLTERS on PAGE 8

"Chef's Kitchen," a free cooking class, will be from 5 to 7 tonight in the Bluemont Room at the K-State Student Union.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the

A 30-year theory used to explain forces in the universe is flawed. Read more about the elusive neutrino particle online. www.kstatecollegian.com.

LOCAL IN BRIEF

Manhattan juvenile being held on rape allegations

A 16-year-old Manhattan youth is being held at the Geary County juvenile detention center on allegations of rape and indecent liberties with a child.

Police arrested the boy on March 22 at 1001 S. Seth Child Road for two counts of rape, three counts of aggravated criminal sodomy and three counts of indecent liberties with a

- Tara Patty

University receives full accreditation for 10 years

K-State has been an accredited institution since 1916, and recently was reaccredited for another 10 years.

The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools accreditation team sent a notice to President Ion Wefald that K-State had received full accredita tion for the next decade.

Ron Downey, associate provost and director of planning and analysis, said the accreditation process begins about two years before the university is up for reaccreditation.

Downey said that two years prior to reaccreditation the entire university is provided with a self-study document, which covers five criteria the NCA demands from an accredited institution.

The five criteria cover the mission, governing, organization, accomplishment of purposes and integrity of the university.

The self-study materials are provided to the NCA a year before they actually visit the institution for review. The NCA then sends a team to visit K-State's campus for a couple days when the team meets with deans, department heads and faculty.

-Edie Hall

NATION IN BRIEF

North, South Korea to begin talks to address concerns

SEOUL, South Korea - South Korea will send a presidential envoy to North Korea next week for talks that the communist North said will address "the grave situation" between the nations, which share the world's most heavily armed border.

The joint statement Monday marked a resumption of the reconciliation process on the divided peninsula, which stalled last year after President Bush criticized the North's communist regime.

Lim Dong-won, a special adviser to South Korean President Kim Dae-jung for diplomacy and national security, will visit North Korea in the first week of April.

Palestinians, Israelis look at U.S. truce proposals

JERUSALEM - Palestinian and Israeli leaders separately pondered a U.S. truce proposal Monday, while the United States pressed a reluctant Israel to let Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat attend this week's Arab summit in Beirut regardless of whether a cease-fire is reached.

The Israelis and Palestinians had separate consultations late Monday night, with U.S. officials pressing for answers about their ideas to bridge gaps over implementing a truce plan negotiated last June by CIA Director George Tenet.

Because of the consultations, it appeared that a planned three-way meeting would be put off until Tuesday.

Rumsfeld meets with Army Secretary to discuss Enron

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld said Monday he had summoned Army Secretary Thomas White to a meeting and had talked about his relationship with Enron Corp.

Rumsfeld said he and White, a top executive at Enron before taking the Pentagon appointment last May, discussed how the Army secretary would respond to investigations of the company's bankruptcy last year. They also talked over White's removal of himself from any Pentagon business involving his former employer, Rumsfeld said.

Rumsfeld said he is confident White is doing his best to respond to questions from Congress about contacts with former Enron colleagues.

Life after K-State

Alumnus works as partner in Kansas' 1st feed yard

BY JOYCE JENNINGS

C. Brookover is a managing partner for the first commercial feed yard in Kansas. The 1976 agricultural economics alumnus went to work for his family-owned business in Garden City, Kan., immediately following graduation.

BROOKOVER The business just celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2001. Brookover's father, also a graduate of K-State, started the business in 1951. He said he has worked on and off at the Brookover Feed Yard since he was 11.

Even though he graduated in 1976, he said he is still a K-State fan. A sign just outside of the feed yard is painted red and white for University of Nebraska football. Last year it was painted purple and white for K-State football.

Located at the north feed yard, the sign is visible when entering Garden City.

He said he made a bet with his nephew, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, which determines the fate of this sign. Brookover said he and his nephew find that the friendly competition adds extra excitement to the rivalry between the two schools. The team that wins the K-State/Nebraska football game determines what colors the sign is painted, he said. The bet began last

"Hopefully in the future we will see the sign back to my favorite colors, purple and white," Brookover

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar van be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie. 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu.by II a.u., two days before it is to run.

The Department of Geology will have a seminar at 4 p.m. today in

Thompson 213. III International Student Center will have Coffee Hour, "Hinduism: Religion or Philosophy," from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday in the International Student Center. III AED (Pre-Health Honors club) will meet at 7 tonight in Rathbone 152. ■ G.A.M.M.A. will meet at 6 tonight in Union 207. The speaker will be Julie Miller, a registered nurse from Manhattan who will talk about alcohol poisoning.

III Sign ups for Arts and Sciences mock interviews begin Wednesday to Friday. CES registered students can sign up at www.ksu.edu/ces, and non-registered can sign up at Holtz Hall from April 1-3.

III Lutheran Campus Ministry -ECLA will meet at 6 tonight at the Luther House for supper and Bible

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Friday, March 22

m At 3:30 p.m., Jacob Welch, 2100 Laurel Point, was arrested for two counts of rape, three counts of criminal sodomy and three counts of aggravated indecent solicitation of a child. No bond was set. M At 4:36 p.m., Stacy Jackson, 1352. Flinthills Place, was arrested for contempt of court and four counts of failure to appear. Bond was set at $500. III At 6:33 p.m., Dianna Marshall,

410 S. Manhattan Ave., was arrested for obstruction of the legal process, driving on an suspended license and DUI. No bond was set. At 9:22 p.m., Gary McGuire, Fostoria, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500. At 10:45 p.m., Brandon Row, 1837 Cassell Road, was arrested for unlawful possession of depressants.

Saturday, March 23

No bond was set.

M At 1:40 a.m., Jeffrey Myers, Fort Riley, was arrested for disorderly conduct. Bond was set at $500. III At 9:15 a.m., Justin Staley, Ogden, was arrested for misdemeanor theft, obstruction of the legal process, two counts of possession of simulated controlled substance and possession of opiates or narcotics, At 10 a.m., Theresa Ellis, 410 Osage St., was arrested for theft. Bond was set at $2,500. At 5:44 p.m., Jolie Vogelien, Salina, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at $750. At 6:15 p.m., Justin Joseph, 1413 Pierre, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $325.

Sunday, March 24

At 2:04 a.m., Stephen Curtis, 323 N. 15th St., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. At 2:45 a.m., Rafael Salinas, 730 Allen, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

At 2:56 a.m., Tucker Johnson, Fort Riley, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was set at m At 7:10 p.m., Shane Hatch, St. George, was arrested for two counts of abuse of a child. No bond was set. At 7:45 p.m., James Patterson, for criminal threat and violation of a protective order. Bond was set at Monday, March 25 At 12:30 a.m., Tiffany Hemphill, 1027 Pierre St., was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. M At 12:30 a.m., Kaleb Miller, Oregon, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set.

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF Alyson Raletz

Jessica Pitts Editor in Chief

April Middleton

Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Paul Restivo Copy Chief Nicole Donnert

Director

Dan Smith Sports Editor JJ Duncan

A&E Editor

Presentation

Dana Strongin Campus Editor

City/Gov Editor

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Amber Koehn Opinion Editor

Katie Lane

Alissa Duncan

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

Jodi Fagerquist

eCollegian Editor

532-6556

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

ind, Manharran, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published weekdaps during the school year and in Wednesdays during the summer. Periods at postage is paid at Manharton. Kao. 0:302. PCS MASTER Send address changes to Kansas State Kedgie 203, Mardustian, Kar. 06506-7167

O Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Photo reprints

Display advertising 532-6560 Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Sunday 2 p.m. Mini-Bingo 1:15 p.m.

Tuesday 1:30 p.m. Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Mini-Bingo 6:45 p.m. "Progressive Bingo" Sundays & Wednesdays Win Big Bucks

114 McCall Rd.

$1.75 BOTTLES

25¢ WINGS

SPORTS BAR AND GRILL

"Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption." 539-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results Gall for appointment ocated across from campus in Anderson Viltage Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

OPEN MIC NIGHT

307 Seth Child Rd. « Manhattan, KS » 539-6746

Intramural Softball

Softball Official's Meeting March 26-27, 5 p.m. Rec Complex

Captains'/Managers' Meeting Tuesday, March 27, 5 p.m. Small Gym, Rec Complex

Recreational Services Office 532-6980

Your Career Takes Flight

Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do.

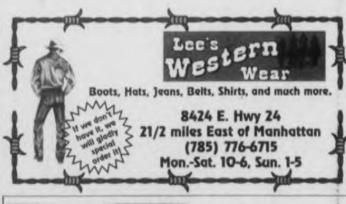

Constitute the possibilities.

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide Instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. I: I staffstudent ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master toacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR, SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Salary $34,585 – $48,628, based on education & experience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at dcooper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. EEO/M/F

HEARTSPRING

8700 East 29th Street North - Withita, KS 67326 (800) 835-1043 - No (316) 634-0555 mentarraying.org

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADERSHIP THROUGH TURBULENT TIMES

Featuring DR, RICK RIGSBY

Life Skills Development Coordinator & Special Assistant to Head Football Coach Texas A&M University

Thursday, March 28, 2002 3:30pm - 4:30pm Union Little Theatre

Free admission. Open to all students.

ponsored by: dership Studies & Programs Ambassadors Student Governing Association thletic Department

K-State, 3 institutions organize discussions

Kansas State University

K-State's Institute of Military History and 20th Century Studies, established in August 2001, will present a symposium titled "From Vietnam to Afghanistan: What Should the American Military Learn from Recent Wars?" today in the Little Theater at the K-State Student Union.

The symposium will include two paneled discussions. The first, "Military Intellectuals/Military Historians: Assessing Recent United States Military Experience," will be from 1:45 p.m. to 3 p.m.

The panel will include Mark Parillo, associate professor of history at K-State; John Guilmartin, 2001-2002 Charles A. Lindbergh Professor of Aerospace History at the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum: Christopher Gabel, professor of military history at the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College; John Kuehn, a commander in the U.S. Navy, and Allan Millet, a former member of the U.S. Marine Corps and specialist in the history of the American armed forces, military policy, military innovation and the nation's 20th century wars.

From 3:15 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. there will be a discussion titled "Citizen Soldiers/Professional Historians: Vietnam Veterans Assess America's Military Legacy."

The panel for the second discussion includes Ron Trewyn, dean of the Graduate School at K-State: Mack Teasley, assistant director of the Dwight D. Eisenhower Presidential Library; Daun van Ee, historical specialist in the manuscript division of the U.S. Library of Congress; David Haight, archivist at the Eisenhower library; and Terry Van Meter, director of the U.S. Cavalry Museum in Fort Riley.

Parillo, who will chair the opening panel, said the symposium will provide a good chance for students to learn more about military structure and how the military does its job.

"It's an important subject to all Americans, as we are presently engaged in what our president has called a war," Parillo said.

"The discussion will provide a great benefit in understanding how the military works."

Holl said the purpose of the symposium is to discuss what can be learned from American involvement in war since the Korean War.

Working in cooperation with the institute are the Eisenhower library in Abilene, Kan, and the Combat Studies Institute of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College in Fort Leavenworth, Holl said the symposium represents the first partnership of the three institutions in terms of an academic program. He said one of the main purposes of the institute is to establish collaborative relationships with the Eisenhower library and General Staff College so the three institutions can more effectively explore key national security issues together.

Holl said K-State students should attend the symposium for the opportunity to hear an assessment of the changing nature of warfare in the 20th century and America's response to it from

"In some ways, I suspect there are few more important issues," Holl said

Experts discuss response to threats

BY MICHAEL WATSON Ruman State Collegion

The economic impact of a bioterrorism attack on Kansas agriculture could be summed up in four words - it would be devastating.

KBI Deputy Director Terry Knowles said if there were an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease, a viral disease caused when livestock inhale or come in contact with the virus, in the United States it would be overwhelming not only for researchers, but also for law enforcement officials.

"Every time there is an outbreak or a suspicion, we would quarantine the area with a radius of six miles," Knowles said. "That is why I don't know if we would be able to handle the challenge."

Knowles is part of the two-day conference featuring national experts on agriculture and biochemical weapons that ends today. Knowles spoke about the responsibility of law enforcement officials toward bioterrorism.

On March 12, the Holton Exchange, a feed lot in northeast Kansas, faced the threat of footAGROTERRORISM CONFERENCE conference, view the Koch Crime Institute's Web site at www.kci.org.

For more information about the and-mouth disease. The tests for the disease were analyzed in New York and came back negative within 36 hours, but it raised a lot of concerns. "Those animals were isolated, but the area was not quarantined. The tests in Holton came back negative, but had they come back positive, emergency response would have been put into effect,"

Knowles said. A positive identification of foot-and-mouth would mean a six-mile quarantine, but that sixmile radius would affect the entire "Foot-and-mouth would be horrendous to the economy. We wouldn't be able to export beef." said Jerry Jaax, university research compliance officer and expert in high-hazard animal care and biocontainment.

He said economists in California have predicted that an outbreak of this size would mean a $13 billion loss to its economy.

"That's certainly more than would happen here, but it would definitely affect the economy," Jaax said.

What would be the role of law enforcement officials?

There are 600 commissioned law enforcement officials in Kansas. Even with that number, the KBI and police officers would still need help from the National Guard if there were an outbreak in Kansas.

As part of a coordinated response to a biological attack on agriculture, law enforcement would provide security and roadblocks for quarantined areas, assist in criminal investigations and provide assistance to state and federal agencies.

"It would be overwhelming trying to respond to the kind of incident like in Holton (Kan.) had it been for real. That's for one incident, and we've heard throughout today's presentations that it only takes one incident." Knowles said.

Not only is foot-and-mouth possible here, but Kansas law enforcement agencies could also have to deal with the virus in other states. Knowles said if an outbreak occurred in Colorado the resolution for action would say to close the Kansas-Colorado border to isolate and protect Kansas.

"What would happen if there is a truck of cattle heading to Holton, Kan., from Colorado where there was just an outbreak?," he said. "Are we going to stop that truck? "You betcha."

Knowles said the KBI and other law enforcement officers would take a proactive role against any threats against Kansas agriculture. He said educating the public and making them aware of threats would be a continuing challenge.

However, Kansas residents are going to have to learn about the concerns of agri-terrorism.

"It's not going to be the KBI or the sheriff who has the golden nugget of information for preventing foot-and-mouth. It's going to come from a citizen." Knowles said.

Sell your stuff to Collegian readers by placing an ad in the classified section. Anything and everything goes! KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie 532-6555

Kansas State Collegian Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

2003 Royal Purple editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief Summer 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. March 15

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to March 25 to encourage applications. Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor Copy Editor • Staff Writers Photojournalist • Marketing Director

- Section Editors
  - . Student Life Organizations
  - * Sports
  - Academics

· People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Managing Editors News Editors* Desk Editors Reporters • Copy Editors Designers

Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists

Online Journalists Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

B | Student Body President Election

Wednesday, March 27, 2002

at a computer near you

8:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M.

Re-vote for the office of Student Body President and Vice President by electronic ballot on Wednesday.

Vote Online by logging into KATS

and obtaining your password and User ID

http://www.ksu.edu/elections

Students should be aware of lesser-known locations on campus

DUR VOICE and debated by the editorial board and written after a majority opinion is

Jessica Pitts April Middleton Nancy Foster Dana Strongin Alyson Raletz Nancy Hull formed. OUR VOICE is Amber Koehn the Collegian's official Dan Smith Paul Restivo Katle Lane JJ Duncan Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

he automobile has encapsulated every notion of freedom ascribed to the United States.

Automobiles allow people to travel freely to far-off destinations, are rites of passage for teenagers, and bring

While this seems to reflect and promote mirrors. The owning of an automobile has transgressed from the exercise of new freedoms to a scary necessity in mobility and a sense of social significance our society's objectives, it does so with the careful use of billowy smoke and twisted to the working class.

Too many students are oblivious towhat goes on around them.

Take for instance KKSU-AM 580, an on-campus radio station that started in today as part of a series that will highlight lesser-known locations on campus. KKSU offers a wide range of

It's time we opened our eyes to all that this university's campus has to offer. Too often students complain about the lack of activities offered in Manhattan. These students are ignoring many events and locations that are right in their insti-

K-State is host to entertaining events that students can enjoy. We should pay more attention to performances at McCain Auditorium and the K-State Student Union houses lunchtime music and other fun diversions.

There are many ways to learn about all the university's offerings. Try searching the Web site at www.ksu.edu or checking flyers posted around campus. Don't hesitate to call the sponsor of an event it you have questions about what it

Boredom is in no way inherent in Manhattan. This campus is a resource in itself. Instead of just being here for classes and going straight home, try to utilize all the events your fees buy.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

the Final Four?"

A Scottish girl with curly, red hair really does fit the profile of a terrorist. Thank you, airport security.

The answer to the woodchuck question is: 42.

Everybody else has their one-word

I can't help but remember a couple weeks ago when a certain columnist from the Collegian said KU was the most overrated team in the nation. What do you have

If olive oil comes from olives, does anybody know where baby oil comes from?

Paul White, uh, stop trying to do Ken search third-graders, too.

K-State was not an upset. They were just flat-out better than we were.

Paul, you're an idiot for two reasons: to My roommate smells so bad that I always have to leave the window open to

I just want to say thanks to the airport security guard who put her thumb in my

For spring break, I went all the way to New York to see Carson Daly, and he was in Cancun.

Pamela Anderson with Hepatitis C?

Hello? My friend, he knows a terrorist. He does. He sat by him on the plane.

You're truly somebody when you finally

I desperately want to make love to a school boy.

Happy Meal.

Today on the eCollegian, columnist Lorena Barboza reflects on the hopes and dreams

What can Brown do for you? Can you say, "Rock, chalk, Jayhawks to What's up with the KU comments in the Fourum? Oh, wait. That's right. They're actually winning their games.

quote in the Fourum, so here's mine:

to say now, buddy?

Wells-type articles, because you just can't pull it off.

OK, iBallot.com, let's try to suck less this

I'm so broke that for $5 I would strip

By the way, Old Dominion beating

Did anyone else notice that almost every single page in yesterday's paper has a picture of the women's basketball team?

say nobody voted for Bush is ignorant, and I believe you mean prejudice, not racist.

air out the room.

underwear.

The best part of spring break was watching my friends get frisked at the Attention: capri pants don't hide cankles.

What a strange, strange world.

get your name in the phone book.

Good god, Mr. Money Bags, she's not a

When you get to my door, tell them Boris sent you.

Sorry, Kyle Brownback, but the tribal council has spoken. You're gone, buddy.

ONLINE

people expected the new millennium to bring. Also, not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See past comments and read Lorena's column at www.kstatecollegian.com.

The Collegian featured the station tution of learning.

educational information in its shows, but few seem to know the station even exists.

Car-free America Automobiles become scary necessity in society

But for a vast amount of people it is nearly impossible to commute to work, school or business appointments without ready access to a vehicle. We have constructed a society wholly dependent on owning two tons of scrap metal and plastic

According to Ivan Illich www.carbusters.org, the average adult male devotes more than 1,600 hours per year to his automobile. In this time he drives 7,500 miles. That is five miles for every one hour he spends on

The rest of the time he is earning money to pay for insurance and monthly installments, searching for his car in the parking lot, working under the hood on mainte-

In effect, we dedicate much of our precious time, energy and creativity to this mechanical beast. Intellectual advancement is lost due to our infatuation with the automobile

The health and welfare of the United States also is greatly affected by these vehicles.

Recently compiled statistics by the Department of Transportation show that in 2000, close to 42,000 people were killed and more than 3.2 million people injured due to automobile accidents in the United States.

Realistically, a city the size of Manhattan dies every year because of car crashes. These unnecessary losses are part of the price paid to our reliance on these insidious

Perhaps the most prominent negative externality of the automobile is found in the environment. Car emissions contain particulate matter and carbon dioxide. which are widely known to cause disease in human

Why is there so much asthma? Why is there so much cancer?

These are questions we must continually ask

A well-known study by the Environment and Forecasting Institute in Heidelberg, Germany, summarizes the effect a single car has on the environ-

. The process of building an automobile includes the extraction of raw materials, manufacturing and disposing of the car. Each step works to dilute the Earth's natural

In Germany, where it must be noted environmental standards are tight, the lifetime of a car produces 59.7 tons of carbon dioxide and 2,040 million cubic meters of polluted air. Sadly, this example only scrapes the surface of the environmental destruction caused by automo-

So, am I a hypocrite for owning a car? Call me what you want, but I, along with our

Our society has built our communities wholly around private transport. Yeah. I own a car, but that doesn't mean I have to like society, am reliant on automobile transportation.

As our communities begin to develop, we should plan for walking/biking accessibility and public

Campus groups could organize local versions of the annual "Car-Free Days" to promote awareness about the negative consequences of automobiles.

The greatest hurdle we face, however, is public attitude. American ideology is so deeply intertwined with the automobile that it seems nearly impossible to defeat public sentiment.

As fossil fuels begin to dry up and our environment continues to degrade, the United States will be forced to take a serious look at the myriad consequences produced by cars.

Perhaps then we shall shed the shackles of the SUV and bludgeon the Beetle in its ugly, yellow bumper. Jared is a sophomore in political science. You can e-mail him at jsw7333@ksu.edu.

Title IX restricts men, keeps them from pursuing dreams

ately, fingers have been pointed at Title IX for the lack of male sports in collegiate athletics.

Male sports have been diminished recently because of Title IX. For a university to have guaranteed Title IX compliance and receive millions of dollars in federal grants, it must meet one of three conditions: the number of female athletes should be proportionate to the undergraduate student body, colleges must constantly improve the facilities/number of programs it has and colleges must adequately meet the demands of females. The second condition is a money pit and is rarely used. The third condition is never used because it is impossible to meet the demands of every half-dozen athletes wanting to put together a Division I cowtipping program. So, the first condition is the one usually chosen.

Peter Morris

unjust quota system. Setting quotas alone does not ensure equality, because numbers alone do not tell the whole story. The sheer number of participants in

If the Department of Education was to demand ratios based upon color, then 80 percent of the football and basketball teams would be mandated to be white.

Although K-State possesses countless talented female athletes, the competitive nature of testosterone makes men want to go out and beat each other.

Numerous women enjoy sports, but in all honesty, a higher percentage of men enjoy competitive sports. This discrepancy makes the proportional system of athletics unjustly detrimental to males. In order to keep the coveted ratios, university administrators are left with two options: cut men's programs to settle the Without Title IX, we would not have equal football offset the proportional facilities for the sports teams, an equal number of competitions, equal access to tutors or equal scholarship funding. However, the fact remains that young their hands of the ordeal.

men are being kept from participating in their dream sports because of bean counters in Washington. In addition to politics, economics also work against male and female sports. Briefly put, men's basketball and football Since they bring in the most money,

Bingrong He/Collegian

difference or open up more female teams.

In the end, it's much simpler for university presidents to cut male programs and wash

I'm not saying Title IX hasn't done wonders for equality, because it has.

are the rainmakers of collegiate athletics. coaches and university officials see to it that those sports receive the bulk of the revenue. Smaller collegiate sports are funded by the pocketbooks of me and you, all to keep our teams up in the arms race of Division 1 athletics

In the past 10 years, the football stadium alone has received more than $22 million in upgrades. Granted, a good portion of that money was invested in the stadium so that the university can get more money out of it in the future. On the other hand, you can't convince invested, we couldn't fund a competitive wrestling team or a women's soccer team. Of course we could have, but no one wanted to take money away from our me that with $3 million of the $22 million precious revenue-generating sports in order to provide opportunities for everyone. The purpose of collegiate athletics is to give all students the opportunity to learn things that could never be experienced in the classroom. It's time we convey those ideals to our Department of Education and the K-State administration.

Peter is a sophomore in open-option. You can e-mail him at pdm5999@ksu.edu.

BY BARRY SCHWEID The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - President Bush urged Arab nations Monday to approve a Saudi peace offer to Israel and asked Prime Minister Ariel Sharon to let Yasser Arafat join an Arab League summit where the U.S.-backed initiative may be considered.

"The president believes it is time for Arab nations in the region to seize the moment, to create a better environment for peace to take root," said White House spokesman Ari Fleischer of the meeting that opens Wednesday in Beirut, Lebanon.

Bush welcomes the proposal by Crown Prince Abdullah, and "he thinks it would be very helpful in the search for peace in the Middle East," Fleischer said.

The Saudi offer to Israel of "full normalization" of relations with Arab governments depends on Israel giving up the West Bank, Gaza and the Golan Heights and accepting a Palestinian state with its capital in Jerusalem.

Leaning on Israel to drop its confinement of Arafat to his West Bank headquarters in Ramallah, Fleischer said "the president believes that Prime Minister Sharon and the Israel government should give serious consideration to allowing Yasser Arafat to attend.

Secretary of State Colin Powell pressed the point in telephone conversations with Sharon Saturday and Sunday, saying also that Arafat should be permitted to go back to the West Bank after the Arab League meeting.

U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan, who has called Israel's hold on the West Bank and Gaza illegal.

also urged Sharon to let Arafat attend the Arab summit.

Annan's spokesman, Fred Eckhard, said at the United Nations that Annan would meet Arafat if the Palestinian leader were to be allowed to go to Beirut.

In Jerusalem, however, Raanan Gissin, an adviser to Sharon, said Israel would not lift its travel ban until the Palestinian leader took decisive steps against militants. Israel will make its decision by Tuesday, the day before the summit, Gissin said.

Sharon proposed his own peace plan Monday, in three stages that would begin with an Israeli-Palestinian cease-fire, move on to a "long-range interim period" with a partial peace arrangement and then to negotiations for permanent peace.

Powell also had a lengthy telephone conversation Monday with Arafat, in which Powell again urged Arafat to give "clear and unambiguous orders to Palestinian security forces to prevent further terror attacks," said State Department spokesman Richard Boucher

Powell called on Arafat to dismantle Hezbollah, a militant group backed by Iran and Syria that has fought a low-level crossborder war with Israel from its sanctuary in Lebanon.

The State Department has listed Hezbollah as a terror group.

Simultaneously, Boucher said Israel "must create an environment that makes real success possible" for American mediator Anthony Zinni's effort to rebuild a cease-fire. In that vein, Boucher said Israeli troops had razed the remains of two buildings in the Brazil refugee camp near Rafah on the West Bank and should halt all demolitions of Palestinian facili-

The Israeli army denied the buildings were razed and said Israeli soldiers were searching for tunnels used for smuggling explo-

Fleischer said Bush would like Arab leaders to agree in Beirut to approve "Abdullah's initiative that recognizes Israel's right to exist."

The White House spokesman did not mention Abdullah's territorial demands. Nor did he say why Bush did not call Sharon directly to make his pitch in behalf of Arafat going to the summit.

Sharon has penned Arafat in his West Bank headquarters in Ramallah in response to persistent Palestinian attacks on Israel.

Meanwhile, mediator Zinni had separate meetings with Israeli and Palestinian officials without indications he was making

"As we progress," Boucher said, "it's important for both sides to create an environment that facilitates progress. That means ending violence and terror, avoiding escalation, ending provocation and incitement, considering the consequences of their actions and ceasing immediately actions that harm civilians.

On a related front, the White House and State Department said there was no evidence to confirm media reports that Arafat aides had forged an alliance with Iran during a visit to Moscow last May to see Russian President Vladimir

According to the reports, this led to Iran's attempt to ship 50 tons of weapons to the Palestinians. Israeli commandos intercepted the ship in the Red

Bush urges approval of peace House prepares to debate deep spending cuts in budget shortfall

Ton Associated Press

TOPEKA — Legislative leaders should know soon how much cutting House members can stomach in trying to close a projected $700 million budget shortfall.

The House scheduled debate Tuesday on a budget plan drafted by its Appropriations Committee. The proposals are designed to eliminate the shortfall - the gap between expected revenues and required spending during the next 15 months - without increasing

But some Republicans, sensing their colleagues would not accept cuts in education and social services, outlined a proposal Monday for preventing some of the committee's proposed reduc-

Their proposal would dip into state reserves for $100 million and count on $83 million in extra federal funds for which there is no guarantee the state will get.

The plans call for taking one time money and plowing it into the budget to finance ongoing expenditures after July 1. That money would dry up after one year, forcing the state to find replacement revenue.

"These are not normal times," Rep. Tony Powell, R-Wichita, told reporters. "We think in the out years, this is going to right itself."

The committee's plan is predicated on cutting state spending, including reducing state aid to public schools by $303 per pupil, to $3,567.

It also includes cuts in higher education and social services, forced unpaid days off for state employees, a one-year suspension of vehicle and furniture purchases and even an 80-day legislative session for 2003, instead of the traditional 90 days.

The alternative outlined by Powell and other GOP legislators is an attempt to avoid some of those tough choices without increasing taxes. Their plan would keep state aid to schools at its present $3,870.

Allies of GOP Gov. Bill Graves do not want to cut programs deeply, particularly aid to public

Many Democrats also do not like the reductions in the Appropriations Committee's plan.

"I would be surprised if that budget passes," said House Minority Leader Jim Garner, D-Coffeyville, on Monday. "There are more than enough things in that budget not to like."

The committee's plan would break promises for extra money for higher education and highway projects made in previous years. Then, it would cut spending for the next fiscal year $439 million to $4.07 billion.

The committee fashioned a plan in keeping with repeated

House votes two weeks ago against raising sales, income, property and estate taxes.

Speaker Kent Glasscock dubbed the tax debates "build your own salad" week and said they were an attempt to test opinions in his chamber. He has said he expects the House to approve a revenue package but pass significant budget cuts as well.

"Ultimately, we are not going to come close to raising enough revenue to close a $700 million budget gap," Glasscock, R-Manhattan, said.

Graves outlined his budget proposal Friday, one balancing spending cuts with $364 million in sales, cigarette, income and estate tax increases.

He and Republican leaders faced the possibility that many of the same House members who wouldn't vote for any tax increases also won't vote for a budget that cuts spending as deeply as the House committee's plan.

Anticipating such a possibility, Graves urged reporters Friday to watch those legislators.

They are the waste and inefficiency in government that we need to get rid of," he said.

But Garner said the tax debates two weeks ago weren't serious for setting policy.

"That whole salad week thing was more an exercise in group therapy for the Republican caucus," he said.

•Over 250 units citywide to choose from

•Pool •Private Deck

Large 2-bedroom Units

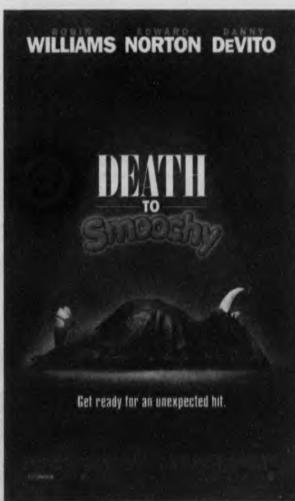

Fireplaces •Carports Laundry Facilities

Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

FREE ADVANCE SCREENING

Want to be a VIP this summer? Apply for an internship working on an episode of Music In High Places, starring Unwritten Law.
Learn how at mastercard.com

MasterCard

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY @ Forum Hall 8:00 PM Wednesday March 27, 2002 FREE ADMISSION

while passes last*

INFO?: call 532-6571

* Passes available at the UPC office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union. K-State ID required.

Passes required. Seating is limited and not guaranteed. Please arrive early. ID required. No one under the age of 17 will be admitted without parent or legal guardian. Presented in association with Union Program Council

BUILDING STEAM

Photos by Matt Stamey/Collegian

K-State's Mark Montgomery (26) gets forced out at second base by Western Illinois' Caleb Blodgett (13) during the fifth inning of the Wildcats' win March 12 at Tolton Family Stadium.

KSU looks to gain momentum in pair against C.W. Post

BY BEN FEHR Kansas State Collegian

State is close to becoming a very good baseball team.
The numbers don't lie. After playing six teams ranked in the top 25, the Cats sit at 12-10 and are one game back of .500 in conference play.

K-State will look to improve this afternoon against visiting C.W. Post, the first in a two-game series. The Pioneers are 5-10-1 on the year.

The Wildcats' most recent accomplishment was taking a game from the visiting No. 20 Oklahoma State Cowboys in a series Coach Mike Clark said K-State could have won.

"You look at our club," Clark said, "and you realize we only have three players who have played a Big 12 series before.

"It took us some time to realize we are as good as Oklahoma State. We know we are that good now, and it should really give us some confidence in the games to come."

OSU pounded K-State for 16 runs in the first game but struggled with the Cats' power game in the second contest, edging K-State 10-9.

The Wildcats came alive in the series finale and finally got the best of the Cowboys, taking the game 10-5.

Junior Pat Maloney said K-State didn't compete well in playing OSU close for three games, an admission that could mean good things for the Cats in the weeks to come.

"We got a game from OSU not playing our best ball," Maloney said. "Really, in all three games we played them close and never got things going.

"If we cut down the errors, we beat the No. 20 team in the country twice in a three-game series, and realizing we are capable of that has helped our confidence a great deal."

Clark said his Wildcat club is a team with a mentality that puts itself in a position to win a lot of games this season. "Our attitude is very good right now," Clark said. "We compete all the way through, and we score a lot of runs in the eighth and ninth innings. Regardless of what the score is, we don't give away at-bats.

"We have gotten into some tough situations and have still been able to score runs and come back on people late in the ballgame. You can't do that without being a mentally tough group."

K-State's James Allen delivers a pitch March 12 against Western Illinois at Tolton Family Stadium.

Clark said his team is a group continuing to improve, a characteristic reflected in a winning record in the thick of one of the nation's toughest schedules.

never won the third one," Clark said. "We took a big step forward by picking up the win against OSU." Senior Brock Smith said competing well for nine innings is Senior Brock Smith said competing well for nine innings is the missing ingredient for an already competitive K-State club. "The one thing holding us back at this point is coming out."

"When we lost the first two games of a series last year, we

"The one thing holding us back at this point is coming out and getting things going early in the ballgame," Smith said. "If we can start playing games the way we finish them, we are going to be tough to stop."

Clark said the series with C.W. Post will be valuable in preparing his improving club for this weekend's important three-game showdown with Big 12 leader Nebraska.

"We have C.W. Post here for a couple of games, and we need to use them to get better," Clark said. "We need to prepare and get ourselves closer to where we need to be to play Nebraska this weekend."

Clark said his club is on the verge of some very good baseball.

"We haven't played our best ball for a good stretch yet."

Clark said. "I believe that is yet to come, and it's exciting because we are winning games and heading into the thick of our conference schedule.

"We are fully capable of winning a lot of ballgames this year. The more we play, the more you are going to see marks going up in the win column."

All-Big 12 final does not help Cat cause

Watching NCAA tournament games is supposed to be the best time of the year for sports.

Unfortunately this season, I have wanted to grab a trash can more times than I have wanted to yell and scream for teams as they try to make it to the Final Four.

My reasoning behind this stems from the play of two teams — Kansas and Oklahoma.

to your school.
And even though the Wildcat men aren't in this

Being a K-Stater means showing loyalty year's tournament, my purple still shows when it comes to rooting against their rivals. My cries at the television screen have not

My cries at the television screen have not been heard loud enough, I guess, because both the Jayhawks and Sooners are poised to meet in the NCAA tournament finals barring an upset, of course.

And by the way things have gone for both schools, the end of the world might as well be approaching.

1988 was the first sign of the apocalypse. Kansas, led by Danny Manning, edged Mookie Blaylock and the Sooners 83-79, as KU captured its second championship. Oklahoma, on the other hand, played the runner-up roll for the second time.

Either way, no team deserved to be there.
Kansas had beaten K-State to get to the Final Four, and Oklahoma had squeaked by a more talented Duke team.

I remember as a kid back in 1988 that although spring was in full swing, the days were staying colder than normal. Was hell starting to freeze over?

OK, maybe I don't remember those days. But it makes a good transition.

But in the next few years, the world regained normalcy. Kansas and Oklahoma would stay out of the spotlight until now.

Sure, three years later Coach Roy Williams would lead the Jayhawks to the finals, but they would be handled by the freight train known as Duke. Williams would get the first of many tastes of disappointment.

As for Oklahoma, they've never again seen the likes of the Final Four until now. Kelvin Sampson has put together a tough squad, but once again, KU still looks a little stronger.

So the story is still the same.

Spring has brought nice days, but the cold still won't stay away. It is almost as though hell's frozen tundra is leaking its cold air to our world.

That leaves this journalist painting his face the color of Maryland and Indiana red. I didn't give the Hoosiers a chance all tourney (out in the first round to Utah), so I will have their backs now.

As for Maryland, it seems they get the reputation of being "That other team from the ACC." Now is their chance to step out of the shadows and prove they are the dominant team, not Duke.

So what about rooting for Big 12 teams you say? To beck with that.

If Missouri would have beaten OU, I would have cheered for the Tigers. There are specific reasons for not backing the Jayhwaks and Sooners.

Jayhawks are from Kansas. Coach Wooldridge already has a tough enough time trying to get kids to not see the lights in Lawrence and come to Manhattan. Kansas winning just sets K-State's program back even further.

For Oklahoma, it's Oklahoma. They've had their share of national championships for a while when Bobby Stoops and the Sooner Nation rolled over everyone two football seasons ago. I didn't like Oklahoma then, and I don't like them now.

The disadvantages of these teams meeting in the finals definitely outweigh the advantages.

More money for our school? Sure.

More respect? Maybe a little. We did only lose to OU by 11 points both times we faced

But to see Aaron McGhee or Drew Gooden cut down the nets in Atlanta might be too much for me to take. No one is giving Maryland or Indiana a chance; they all want to see 1988 all over again.

Do we really want the '80s back? Everyone was so eager to get into the '90s before.

Sean is a junior in electronic journalism.

You can e-mail him at spu5598@ksu.edu.

Let's live in the present. Go Terps. Go Hoosiers.

and respondent to

K-State sets 36-hole school record en route to first win since 1996

K-State Sports Information

TUCSON, Ariz. — The K-State women's golf team, which posted a final round 11-over-par 299 Sunday, held on to secure its first tournament title in six years at the Mountain View Collegiate.

Mountain View Collegiate.

The Wildcats, who posted a two-round total of 21-over-par 597 (298-299) on the 5,934-yard, par-72 Mountain View Golf Course, held off Arizona State, which entered the day four strokes behind first-place K-State. The Sun Devils, who are ranked No. 7 in the nation by Golfstat, also shot a final round 299. No. 29 Baylor finished third, but was 15 shots off the pace at 612 (307-305).

K-State, which matched its best 18-hole score in school history with a 298 on Saturday, last won a tournament at the Northern Iowa Classic on Sept. 22-23, 1996.

Much like Saturday's opening round, the Wildcats received solid performances across the board in the final 18 holes. In the two-day tournament, four Wildcats placed among the top 10 on the individual leaderboard. In addition, the foursome of Christine Boucher, Sarah Heffel, Edie Murdoch and Miranda Smith scorched the par fives, shooting a combined 9-underpar last weekend.

Boucher, who has finished among the top 10 in all three events this spring, posted a 3-over-par 147 (73-74) to secure fourth, while Murdoch, who posted the third-best round of the final day (73), placed fifth at 148 (75-73).

Heffel finished sixth, two shots behind Murdoch with a 150 (76-74), and Smith tied for seventh after carding a 152 (74-78). Elise Carpentier finished at 168 (85-83).

Walailak Satarak of UC-lrvine, who came into Sunday's action one shot off the lead, shot a final-round 72 for the two-stroke win in the individual standings. Marie Louise Juul of Long Beach State, Saturday's leader, and Gaelle Trust of Arizona State tied for second at 2-over-par

The Wildcats, who are ranked No. 61 in the nation, are back in action this week when they travel to San Antonio, Texas, for the San Antonio Shootout.

The three-day tournament begins Wednesday. ACROSS

1 Hasn'l paid

5 Gear for

Alberto

Tomba

9 Sartorial

embar-

13 Skin

14 Historic period 15 "I'm Sorry"

19 Obey a

21 Haste product 24 Sandbox

26 "Shampoo" Oscar winne

30 Oklahoma

31 — Carlo

kicker's

STUMPED?

3-26

18 Emanation 51

rassment 38 Spy 12 Croupier's 40 Macad-

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

33 "Fever

singer 35 Honey comb

ment 36 Daughter

37 1950s

tune

amize

42 Standard

Ballou'

actor

48 Prior

49 "Jane

out of 17 Show-biz 50 Gambling

compart-

52 Collections 16 Soon to corted

1940s word

living

4 Legisla-

6 Caffeine

rich nut

5 Mast

7 Anger

fluid

10 Rainbow

beeps

11 Use a

9 Standardized

tive body

headline

DOWN

20 Melody

21 Gift con-

22 Staffer

23 Reeled

24 Rose of

26 Lounge

28 about

27 Compass

- me

tangere 29 Far (Pref.)

flowered ingredient 35 Store per-for Brutus? 38 Zenith 39 Was philanthropic sonnel

40 Saucy

45 Former

47 Yule

For answers to today's crossword, cal 1-906-454-68731 99c per minute, touc tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

CKQV G NMBVM JQWN EQGZZF

XGR GDSBW NSXQWKOVJ.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: BUDDHISTS DON'T BELIEVE IN NOVOCAIN THEY MUST TRY TO

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: N equals S

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 2! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box 536475, Ottando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe

Independent Sounds is a monthly Collegian feature that reviews only bands on Independent labels. This feature will run the last Monday of

LOCAL TALENT

aries introduced Christianity to them. The symbol originated with the Anglo-Saxons' pagan celebration. The Saxons celebrated the return of spring in their tribes with festivals that included the exchange of Easter eggs.

The Germans brought the idea of an Easter Bunny to the U.S.A., and it began to gain wide acceptance into American

Now the rabbit can be found on wrappers for candy and sitting for pictures with children at malls. It is a mainstream commercial symbol derived from a pagan celebration that is used mostly for an essentially Christian holiday.

Source: wilstar.com/holidays/easter.htm

BUNNY

every month and includes information on how to find the latest give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by that and error. © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

EGONQ G NWOVM

Independent Sounds

independent music.

WHO:

Easter Bunny

Easter Bunny has been helping to celebrate the rites of spring for longer than most people give him credit for.

The Bunny was once the earthly symbol for the fertility goddess, Eastre, who was worshipped by the ancient Anglo-

Saxons since before early mission-culture shortly after the Civil War.

TRANSCEND DENTAL MEDICATION.

COZZ BVRSBDWQRZF

fighter

Storm center

greens 34 Martini

Rozelle

cealer

Mixing it up

Bartenders give drink-making tips

BY CASSIDY HILL Kansas State Collegian

oments before guests arrive at a cocktail party, the host doesn't want to take one last look at the bar and realize making drinks in all the different bar glasses seems overwhelming. Some simple basics will help ease the pressure of making all kinds of drinks in the different bar glasses.

The shot glass, which holds about 1.5 oz of alcohol, is used to shoot hard alcohol. Shots can range from straight alcohol, such as tequila, to complicated mix shots, said Jason Stewart, bartender at Joe's Tap Room.

"When pouring just a single kind of alcohol, we pour it to the top of a shot glass," Stewart said. "To pour mixed shots we use the one count method. Each part of a mixed shot gets one counts worth."

In contrast to the shot glass, the martini glass is taller, with a slender stem and wider rim.

These types of glasses are used for drinks that do not have ice, Stewart said. Another type of glass, the Hi-Ball, is a nice glass used to make drinks with an extra shot of alcohol.

These drinks usually are called doubles, since they have double the amount of alcohol in them, said Chris Stuewe, senior in marketing and co-owner of Gilligan's.

One other type of glass to be familiar with is the strainer.
"A shaker is used to strain alcohol from the ice," Stuewe said.
"They are used to make shots and martinis that are chilled with ice."

Aside from bar glasses, making the drinks is a whole different story. To make Jell-O shots, prepare it the same way as normal Jell-O, but substitute vodka for the water. At Joe's Tap Room, they pour the mixture into small cups that are about the size of a shot glass and then refrigerate them, Stewart said.

Alcoholic fruit is made by cutting a hole or slicing up the desired fruit. Place the cut up fruit in a bowl that is filled with vodka to let the fruit absorb the alcohol, Stuewe said.

A martini is made with vodka and vermouth, which makes the drink dry. Joes' Tap Room also has a punch, which is called a 'fish bowl.' These are made with rum, gin, vodka, pineapple, orange juice, lemonade and sour mix and are served in a 32 oz glass, Stewart said.

There are many different ways to make Sangria, said Jeff Serven, senior in finance and employee at Dean's Liquor.

"Sangria is most commonly made with our pre-mix. It's our favorite," Serven said. "It is usually made with blush wine, white wine and brandy, and garnished with an orange and lemon slices."

Another drink, called Fruit Salad, can be served either as a shot or a drink. "Fruit Salad is .5 oz of Pucker's Cherry Berry, .5 oz of Pucker's

"Fruit Salad is .5 oz of Pucker's Cherry Berry, .5 oz of Pucker's Grape, .5 oz of Peachtree Schapps and a splash of orange juice," Serven said.

With these bar basics, the typical host can take over any party's bar.

Photos by Jenny Braniff/Collegian

Sangria Blush Recipe

Yield: 8 Servings 1 c Orange Juice

- 1/2 c Sugar 1 Bottle (1.5 liters) white Zinfandel wine
- 1/4 c Lime juice 1 Orange [thinly sliced and seeded]
- 1 Lime [thinly sliced and seeded]
- 20 Ice cubes

Combine the orange juice and the sugar in a small pan and cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until sugar is dissolved. Then pour into 2-qt. container with tight fitting lid. Add the fruit wine and lime juice, cover and refrigerate for two hours for the flavors to blend. Place ice cubes in a small punch bowl or large pitcher, and pour the wine mixture over the ice.

Jell-O Shots

- Open a small package of any flavor Jell-O into a bowl.
- Pour in 1 cup boiling water.
   Stir to dissolve.
- Let cool to room temperature.
   Add 1 cup of Vodka.
- Add 1 cup of Vodka.
   Pour into mold or pan.
- Freeze until firm.
   Cut into individual servings.

Tips:

- Use the highest qualify ingredients you can.
   Any clear spirit will work if you don't care to use vodka.
  - Any clear spirit will work if you don't care to use vodka.

    Use different colored Jell-O for various occasions like team colors for a football party.

Web sites

Find mix information on the internet for your next party.

The Webtender

www.webtender.com

This site has a database where you can enter the types of alcohol you have and come up with a list of drinks you can make with those items. It also features a bartender's handbook with some of the tips you need if you plan to tend bar at a party or on the job.

Al's Cocktails

www.acplace.com/drinks/cocktail.htm
Find out how to make fruity summer drinks like daquiris, cocktails and sangria at this site. Mostly consisting of drink recipes, this is the site to visit when it warms up.

bout.com

http://cocktails.about.com/

About com has a comprehensive database that tells how to make many of your favorite drinks and includes detailed recipes.

misdirection

Zach Long/Collegian

A name plate that is attached to the windmill radio tower south of Calvin Hall credits an Illinois company that constructed it in 1924. Since there were no towers being constructed for radio purpose during that time, stations ordered large windmills and converted them to radio needs, as KKSU-AM 580 did on the K-State campus.

STATION

■ Continued from page 1

"The contract with WIBW actually said that they had to broadcast the games in exchange for the rights to Saturdays. At that time, K-State football was not as popular as it is today," Jackson said.

K-State was a pioneer in the field of radio, according to www.oznet.ksu.edu/kksu.The K-State physics department began experiments with radio as early as 1901. In 1912 the physics department installed a 100-watt transmitter on campus. The station broadcasted weather reports over the air in the form of Morse code.

KKSU programming focuses mainly on educating the Kansas

"Our programming is more practical. We try to give information to improve your life. The nature of our programming is informational, not entertainment," Jackson said. "Information to live healthier, raise your kids right, inform and educate

COOK.

■ Continued from page 1

"We don't want to campaign by blasting our name everywhere," Cook said. "That's not why we ran. We just want to get our issues out there.'

Cook and Kohman said they felt positive about the upcoming election.

"I think we have the support and issues to win," Kohman said. "It would be nice to know the feeling of winning opposed to losing by such a small margin. Even if we do lose, it will be by a fair election this time, and I'd say more power to the students and best

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch!

(Ask about our monthly specials)

the people of Kansas."

While KKSU does not service the student body of K-State directly, it is an education tool for students. KKSU also has three to five student interns who help with the production of programming and do on-air work.

Emily O'Connor has been working for the station since May 2001. She is the agricultural intern at

"I feel like it is a good learning experience. I've learned a lot about the field of communication and agriculture," O'Connor said.

O'Connor said the station's main audience demographic is rural Kansas residents. She said that even though some of her audience might not relate to her on the radio as a young woman, she believes she is making a difference.

"I give the station a fresh perspective. Some farmers might not like a female reading the market reports, but I feel I can connect with them. I know my stuff and can relate that well," O'Connor said.

In the past 78 years of operation, KKSU has had some interesting

Both Cook and Kohman encour-

"Students should voice their

Lunch Buffet

Dinner Buffet

Friday Seafood Buffet

$7.95

$1.00 on Buffet

FREE DELIVERY

All you

$4.95 All you can eat!

$6.95

of luck to Matt and Mandy."

aged students to vote in the upcoming election.

Listen in

KKSU broadcasts from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday from their student interns.

"A lot of our interns have gone on to do some great things," Jackson

The most famous intern that KKSU has had behind the mike is Republican Senator Sam Brownback. Brownback worked at the station as a student intern while he was a student at K-State.

"Apparently, Sam had a massive fro. Somewhere floating around is a picture of him." O'Connor said. O'Connor has not seen the photo but is sure that it would make for some interesting stories.

KKSU and its staff have been an integral part of the history of K-State. Its historic tall towers are icons that have stood as symbols of K-State's commitment to education since the early years of the university, and they have become a lasting part of the campus landscape.

opinion for what platform they believe in and which candidates they

the best I can hope for."

feel would represent them the best,"

Kohman said. "If students do that, it's

Little Caesars

TUESDAY SPECIAL!

WITH 1 TOPPING

OF CRAZY BREAD

18" GIANT PIZZA

PLUS AN 8 PIECE ORDER

ng locations @2001 L.C.E., Inc.

Wed. Feb. 27.

4-5 p.m.

International

Student Center

free

RE-ELECTION

■ Continued from page 1

options re-randominized, but checkmarks were left in place. Voters, who were unaware of the change in order, could have voted for a candidate they didn't intend to. Although the vendor said the margin of error would be about 5 percent, Conrad said in the March 10 meeting that he could not be confident with the results,

"That sheds quite a bit of doubt on the results of this," he said in the

Greg Beyrle, senior in milling science, said he believes the possibility of voting for the wrong person validates the need for a new election.

"I agree with Zac Cook that the margin of error was 5 percent and the margin Wolters won by was less than that," he said.

Amy Matlack, senior in music education, said she thinks the balloting difficulties prevented some students from voting in the general election.

"I think it's only fair to have a revote since people weren't able to vote the first time," she said.

After the elections committee failed to certify the results, Student Body President Kyle Barker and Conrad filed appeals of interpretation by the Student Tribunal.

The tribunal decided the results were incomplete, and it directed a new election to take place from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday. The only choices on the ballot, which again will be conducted through online vendor iBallot.com, will be Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles, Zac Cook and Todd Kohman, or abstain. Write-in votes will not be an option, Conrad said.

Brent Hansen, freshman in architecture, said the direction for a new election was a good one.

"I agree a new election should go on because the first election was close," he said.

However, Kathy Anderson. freshman in secondary education, said calling for a new election is

"I think it's dumb," she said. "It's sore losers who don't like how the results came out. They didn't pay attention to the rules until they didn't like the results."

WOLTERS

Continued from page 1

plans to implement by the end of this semester, will ensure student input on where additional dollars are spent.

That could include maintaining small class sizes, making more classes available or whatever else students deem there are

IN the important.

Second on their agenda is Wildcat March. Fans, the marching band and cheerleaders would gather at Memorial Stadium on the Fridays of home football games before making their way through Aggieville.

Wolters and Achilles also want to make a new service available to students, Wildcat Connection, which would enable students to contact alumni who can answer questions about the degree they pursued and where it took them.

Getting back to those issues is key, Wolters said. "With everything that's been going on, it's pretty easy to stray from that." Regardless of the outcome, he said this election will end Wednesday. "This is it. These results are

>is this your first time SO LOOK ONE with a PERSONAL already! 103 Kedzie 532-6555

OPEN FOR LUNCH 537-9090

EARN $25 TODAY...

a few hours of your time. By donating your life-saving blood sma, you help improve the live of hemophiliaes, burn victims surgery patients and more

... $50 THIS WEEK!

Call or stop by ZLB Plasma Services formerly

Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway 785-776-9177 No appointment needed.

Fees & donation time may vary

www.zlb.com

HOURS: (1) (2) (2)

f1a.m. - 2a.m. *Mon. - Wed.*

11a.m. - 2:30a.m

.Thurs. - Sat. .

11a.m. - 3:30a.m

only $3.99

Carry Out or Dine-In Only

Toppings Extra

Mondays Only

>where to go:

greek island hopping

>your first time traveling abroad, that is.

seurope from $55 a day! our textbooks cost more than that, contike your own age, with such a great deal what are you waiting for?!??!!!

has 100 worldwide trips to choose from and you can do it with people

- mediterranean highlights

european getaway

of days from $969. 14 days from $859

simply italy 13 days from $749

see your travel agent call toll-free 1-888-CONTIKI isit www.contiki.com

canada europe

"Come see

International Coffee Hour

Hinduism-Religion or

Philosophy

me today!"

Welcome, Melissa Stirrett!

Candlewood Shopping Center

3266 Kimball Avenue 776-5632

Tues. - Sat. (Evening by appointment)

Presenter: Sweta Kannan

Come explore the essence of Hinduism, meet people from different cultures.

taste Indian food and have fun

Michelob lite pitchers bottles & wells tequila poppers

WIN THE BUD CAR THIS WEEK

Last week to sign up for toughman!

ONE SAD MONKEY-THURSDAY

'56 SELF-SUFFICIENCY

People need the dignity of work and the opportunity to provide for themselves and their families. Economic self-sufficiency is a requirement for a nonviolent world.

Today, create a job for someone or help someone to find employment (examples: help them with a resume or application. Help them make phone calls, dress appropriately, practice interviewing.)

Season for Nonviolence · January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by Torry Dickinson and Robert Schaeffer and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

FAST FREE DELIVERY! 702 N. 11th Street • Aggieville

6 Pepperoni Rolls $6.99 Valid Carry Out Only

VISA DUE AD

$6.99

$6.99 Pizza

at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER PONUS DUYS

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 (Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99) 10 Wings $3.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday add on to any regular food purchase 11a.m.-11p.m. only

16" Cheese Pizza

only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

For Rent-Unfurnished

ment, two blocks to campus. June 1, one year lease one year lease

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit

rent-apm.com BASEMENT APARTMENT MONTHLY. (785)537-4766.

NEXT TO campus- one. two, three-bedroom houses, apartments. Central air, parking, free washer/ dryer. Available August.

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedapartment, 350 N. near Nichols Hall,

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496.

ONE, TWO and three bedrooms for both June and Au Various locations Washer/ dryer in No pets. (785)313-

ONE, TWO and three-bedroom apartments close to campus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE, TWO, three or fourclose to KSU. No pets. Available June 1. (785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827.

ROOMMATE(S) WANTED Call Knsta at (785)776kmisham@Yahoo.com.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

cluded, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-7756 after 5:30.

SPACIOUS TWO and three Central air, laundry facilities and August. (785)539-0866. THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT, close to

pus, June lease. Water, trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296.

one and one-half bath, cen-tral air, laundry facility near campus. (785)537-1746. TWO. TWO-BEDROOM'S one block/ campus. Water trash paid. Washer and dryer, off street parking, $375 and $475. (785)539-5821 TWO-BEDROOM IN quiet four-plex within walking dis-June 1. Very nice. (785)539-

For Rent-

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

ments. Great selection and AVAILABLE JUNE 1. THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of campus at 1501 Harry Rd Central air, washer/ dryer, fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672

For Rent-

(785)539-3638

Apts. Furnished

astay in

edil the seeds

Commons.

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool *Washer/Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

*Permit Parking

Tennis Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-5,

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

JNIVERSITY

*COMMONS*

APARTMENTS

911 SUNSET, four-bed-

1112 Bluemont, one-bed-

AVAILABLE NOW, summer

and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017

www.beloose.com/linwood

FOR RENT, new one, two

units. Some close to cam-

with washer/ dryer hook-

more information. Carl Den-

All appliances. Some

and one-bedroom

For Rent-

Unfurnished

(785)776-0683.

Apt.

For Rent-

Roommate

for Kevin or Chris.

Sublease

needed

ROOMMATE WANTED for house. Washer/ dryer. $200/

ies. Call (785)776-0736, ask pool, laundry/ workout facili-ties. June 1-July 31. One

MAY FREE! People desper-ately needed for sublease.

University Commons. Fully furnished, $284/ month.

bills. $284 per month. Cable

SUMMER SUBLEASES.

One and two-bedroom

Need a babysitter?

ADVERTISE

ed. Tony (913)593-4120

(785)539-1713.

110 #

Apt.

For Rent-

Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM TOWN

Now Leasing

LEASED

3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

Kimball & College Aves.

Across from KSU stadium

CLEAN, QUIET, private room, and bath, for male

$250/ month Utilities paid rentals $350/ month and up.

Knight, (785)565-0138.

campus (785)776-7202.

bath house for rent. June 1

central air. 900 Vattier

(785)539-4949. Leave mes-

home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets or $240/ each plus utilities. Call

FOUR-BEDROOM

FOUR-BEDROOM,

120 ■

For Rent-

Houses

okay, short-term s. Call Century 21

LEGORE Lane $1100/ month. Four-bed-room. August 1. Close to

Washer/ dryer

its next to campus

Or a dogsitter

Wanted

A TWO-BEDROOM apart- ROOMMATES NEEDED for FIVE, SIX, and seven-beda five-bedroom town room houses for rent, near house. Washer/ dryer in- campus. Call (785)539-

> FOUR-BEDROOM. CLOSE HOUSE. (785)565-1748. Available June 1.

FOUR-BEDROOM. Close to campus. Central air, washer/ dryer. Very $1080 (785)539-

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable. Five-bedroom house ties. June 1-July 31. One August lease. Also available half utilities, $240. (785)776-June lease. No pets, no smoking Call (785)539-

NICE FOUR/ five-bedroom two bath house with base-ment. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, off-street parking 908 9710. SUMMER SUBLEASER (785)317-3005.

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE. Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus Rd. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, one year lease, $300/ month plus utilities. Availa-ble June 1. Call (785)539-

For Rent-

Mobile Homes MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

110

For Rent-

2/bluestem/

Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM, WALK to LEASING FOR ALL. Two- THREE-BEDROOM, TWO campus Ample parking quibedroom and three-bed- bath basement apartment et conditions, laundry, fur- room, one block from cam- June 1 3675/ month. Wash-ttp://www.angelfire.com/ks ties Water, trash, cable paid. Laundry facilities. Pool. By Westloop. June

NICE, CLEAN, two-bedroom

ONE OR two-bedrooms

Hardwood floors, no pets

smoking/ waterbeds June 1. 928 Leavenworth, Four

ONE. TWO and three-bed room apartments. Close to campus. June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE. TWO, three and four school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-ments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile from

lege and Claffin, Manhattan

1225 Claffin, Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan

Avenue. One-bedroom stu-

$330. (785)456-2812. No.

ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX

smoking, no pets, nice-

shady yard, central air-con ditioning, water/ trash paid

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid $390/ month. Call

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR FIRST STOP. One, Two,

THREE AND Four-bed

rooms close to campus. Wa-

THREE-BEDROOM WALK-

OUT basement apartment

pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities

off-street parking.

THREE-BEDROOM.

blocks from (785)336-2784.

and trash paid. (785)537

month. (785)539-

ONE-BEDROOM

11th (785)539-0590

316 N

closear@kansas net sage

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and one double-wide central air, washer, dryer dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available Call (785)776-4274 to view

For Rent-Houses

SIX-BEDROOM HOUSE with all amenities. Extremely nice. Close to campus. Call for appointment. (785)539-

THREE-BEDROOM DU-PLEX available March 15. One and one-half bath, washer and dryer, trash and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287

THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available May 15. One and one-half bath washer and dryer, and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287.

THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up no pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. $840 plus utilities August lease. (785)776-

135 E SUBLEASES needed. Partially furnished apartment Great condition, For Sale-Mobile Homes

> 14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre three-bedroom and bath, newer carpet, shower and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer 3141

145 Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE, one private bath $160/ month, one-half utilities, no smoking/ pets. Call David at (785)539-8955.

ROOMMATE WANTED-Nice five-bedroom house. Split utilities. One block from campus. Available June 1. Please call for info (785)

STOP PAYING exorbitant rent in Manhattan! room available in May, sev-en miles from K-State, $250 includes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dryer in basement. No smoking or drinking. Call Brian at (785)494-8299

150

Sublease

AVAILABLE JUNE 1st. Subleaser wanted for three-bedroom apartment. All utilities paid. One block from campus. Call (785)539-0543.

sublease! One- three-bedlarge room apartment, walk-in swimming pool! Rent negotiable. Call (785)770-3834

NICE TWO-YEAR old, four for sublease after finals through July. Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup, $275, negotiable. May rent one, two, three, or Call now (785)323-0827

WALK TO Summer school Subleasing four-bedroom house for June and July $200/ person/ month, 1400 Hartford (785)770-3605.

directory

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

220 ■

HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss. Increased Energymediate Results I can teach utar (785)776-1936.

opportunities

Help Wanted street parking. Call (785)

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548. The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment oppo caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-try. Violations should be reported to the Director of

IF YOU'LL be close to Kan-sas City this summer and are interested in a great job lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters. You'll have fun working outside and with your friends. If interested. call (888)CPP-97US. For more nformation including job descriptions, visit www.colle-

Help Wanted

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977-gepro.com!

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension 548.

ACCEPTING APPLICA-TIONS. Vista Drive In, a lo-cally owned and operated quick service restaurant, is searching for a few good people to add to our team Day, evening and weekend part-time hours available. We have food discounts, flexible hours and promote person at 1911 Tuttle Creek

AD SALES/ Marketing/ Public Relations. Unique nation al publisher offering well-paid, flexible, and rewarding local internship for spring summer. E-mail cover letter ucal@bendnet.com ADMINISTRATIVE ASSIS TANT Walters-Morgan Construction, Inc. Applicants must be able to work Monday- Wednesday- Friday from 11:30a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday- Thursday from 7:30a.m. to 1:00 p.m. during the remainder of the Spring 2002 semester and full-time over the summer. Proficiency in Microsoft Word and Excel necessary. Experience with fax machines, copiers, and multi-line phone systems also helpful. Duties include typ-ing documents; maintain project files: filing: mail: incoming/outgoing mail; function as office reception-ist; maintain records; process regulatory and license filings; provide administrative support for field staff/job sites; perform other administrative functions as required. Business casual attire. Please send resume Morgan Construction. Attention: Meighan Nettle-ton, 2616 Tuttle Creek Bou-Manhattan 66502, fax (785)539-6521, or e-mail wmci@waltersmor

BARTENDERS NEEDED! Call (785)689-4660. Earn up to $250/ day, Will Call (866)291-1884

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Designers

CAMP STAFF available at Girls Scout ummer camps in Norther Arizona Camp Counselors Program Staff, Riding Coun selors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4 Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 1-800-352-6133 extension www.girlscoutsaz.org/home. CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions availa sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or

cruisecareers.com FEMALES WANTED

$7.00/ hour. Call Holly (785) 3 9 5 - 2 7 1 1 had8078@ksu.edu. FRATERNITIES. SORORI TIES+ CLUBS+ STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Cam-pusfundraiser.com fundraiser.com

Manhattan, KS JOHNSON COUNTY, Sum mer help wanted. General and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recre-Resources Office

Help Wanted Help Wanted

$$$$ SUMMER JOBS $$$$ LARGE, DIVERSIFIED farm SEASONAL WORKERS. 35 miles northeast of Man-hattan is looking for qualified applications for seasonal individual to assume full workers. Several positions and livestock production. Position responsible for ments. Valid Class C driv maintenance and operation Oppurtunitites to advance ence in construction, coninto livestock management. Great job for personable individual who enjoys working and turf maintenance, and with other non-smoking emmowing. 40 hour work week ployees. House provided. Salary and benefits negotiable with qualifications. Call 785)889-4514 or (785)889vision of Human Resources located at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhat-

LIFEGUARDS NEEDED for 2002 season. Must be Red Cross certified. Some food and beverage responsibili-ties included. Apply in per-Manhattan Country Club, 1531 N. 10th

terpreter who can speak English. Call evenings (620)786-3073

MASS COMMUNICATIONS Instructor: One semester sabbatical replacement, to teach classes, advise students, supervise production of the student newspaper and perform other duties deailed on the job description. Qualifications: Masters De-gree in Journalism/ Mass Communications or related area with experience in the fields of journalism and/ or Community college teaching experience desirable, high school or other college teaching experience accept-able. Position available August 19, 2002. Application review will begin immediately. Position to remain open until filled. Detailed job description and application materials available upon reguide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mounquest. Application materials consist of letter of application, resume, transcripts and names, addresses and telephone numbers of at least ces. Only complete appli-cation materials will be reviewed. Human Resources Dodge City Community Col-

Boulder, CO 80301 lege, 2501 North 14th Ave-YARDWORK nue, Dodge City, Kansas tfredrick@docc.cc.ks.us, portunity Employer. NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com-bines 2388's and New Automatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help ob-tain Commercial Drivers License. Provide room and Opportunities

(620)227-9386, Equal Op-

PART-TIME ic and very dedicated team. Hours are mid-afternoon to early evening and every othproximately 20 hours per week. Please apply at Sor-ell-Iversen Chiropractic, Anderson Ave., Suite

B. Manhattan, KS. PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, waterfront, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or

401(k) and paid vacation

PROGRESSIVE IRRIGAT-

operation. Near McPherson

strong sales performance including quota over achieve-ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base

plus commission equals

morgan@civicplus.com.

tors for Upward Bound Math and Science. Applicants must be at least a sophomore in good academic standing, and willing to live in a residence hall for the weeks of June 9 through Juposition

Word or text to

PROGRAMMER CivicPlus, a leader in provid-services, has an opening for mer in Manhattan Two or more years proven program KSU girl in wheelchair for Summer 2002. Flexible ming experience required perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 days of employment. Com-hour fundraising event. Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campus-fundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campus-

GREAT SUMMER Income Asbestos Abatement Work ers needed. 40 hours of free training is required. Must attend class May 7-May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm. $11.40 per hour. Work will start May 18. Contact Lastart May 18. Contact La borers' Local 1290, 710 Mo

2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5,

SUMMER wanted. College/ high school student to watch in my home two children, ages 9 and 11. Monday- Friday, 8am- 5pm. Need own trans-portation. $6.50/ hour after

Works and Parks Departer's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs. required. Expericrete work, asphalt mainte-nance, traffic flagging, tree at $7.45 per hour. Applica-tions are available by contacting the Department of tan, KS 66502. For more formation call (785)565-6464 idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley nity Employer.

needed by Mechanical Con-tractor for job sites in Manhattan, Topeka, Lawrence

Salina and Emporia. $10.43/ Shelley at (785)537-2437 to name and phone number er, Male/ Female. WAIT STAFF NEEDED. Must have summer availa ble. Apply in person. Man-hattan Country Club, 1531

> WANTED DRIVER part-time cense for Semi and Mixers. Pre-employment screen. Apply Valley Con-crete, Belvue, Kansas or call (785)458-6499. WANTED: Cowgirls and couples to tains. Come work for the largest horse operation in North America. website www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road.

NANCE for homeowner Spring cleaning, pruning raking and regular mainte nance through spring and summer. Flexible hours, part-time. No mowing required. Some knowledge of

(785)537-4613. Business

POSITION ty the financial potential of ployment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any ty with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau,

501 SE Jefferson, Topeka,

KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville wholesale/ retail stores in dean@kscable.com suck? Check out an oppor experience

(785)565-0868.

market

Items for Sale E-mail resume in Microsoft

> BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays (Translated to English) Please visit http:// li_chungwang.tripod.com.

transportation is looking for a money-moti-vated inside salesperson with a proven history of

Automobiles

Police impound. For list call (800)719-3001 mail resume in Microsoft 7536

Motorcycles

500. 14,000 miles. Black and purple. Nice bike, shaft drive. $1400. Call Mark

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY 20 words or less $7.50

each word over 20 20¢ per word 2 DAYS

20 words or less $8.80 each word over 20

25¢ per word

3 DAYS 20 words or less

$10.35 each word over 20 30¢ per word

4 DAYS

20 words or less $11.45 each word over 20

35¢ per word 5 DAYS

20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20 40¢ per word ( consecutive day rate )

TO PLACE AN AD

Go to Kedzie 103 (across from the K-State Student Union) Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

HOW TO PAY All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an account with Student Publications Inc.

Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly

FREE FOUND ADS

classify any ad.

As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us before noon the day before the ad is to be published.

HEADLINES For an extra charge we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

housing real estate

ACADEMY OF BARTEND ey, meet people. Earn $15-$30 an hour Day, evening ble. Job placement assis www.bartendingcollege.co ATTORNEY AT

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

Flying Club has five air planes, lowest rates For in-

25 years experience 400 (785)539-8100 chuckharper@msn.com SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE

Lost and Found

placed free for three days. FOUND IN Burger King parking lot. in Aggieville

Wednesday, March 13th at 1:30pm. Wine color meta

(785)537-1050 and tell Patty to leave message for Elvira.

Personals

ture ID (KSU, driver's IIcense or other) when plac ing a personal.

housing/

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in housing without distincsex, familial status, milita gion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported

Resources at City Hall,

Now Leasing Bills Included

K-Rental Mgmt.

4 BR from $720

1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500

539-8401

3 BR from $600

Take a sneak peak at the 2002 Royal Purple yearbook !

Take a look at some of the events and faces featured in this year's yearbook. Order your yearbook in Kedzie 103 - $34.95

campus.

NO

Human Resources at City

plicants be seeking majors in math, science or related fields. Please come to: 1800

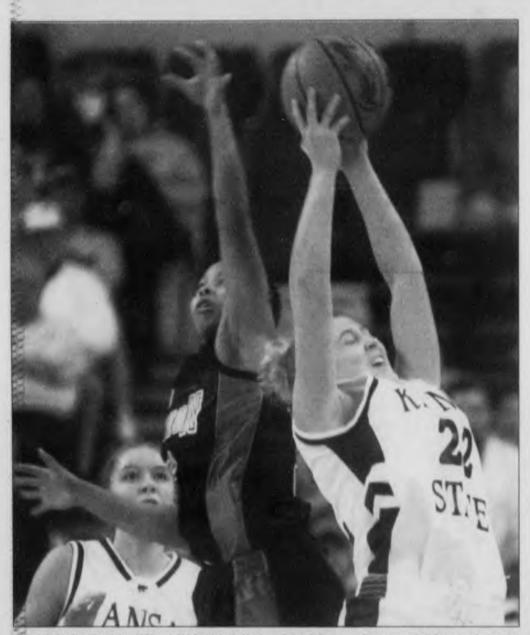

Shuttle) to fill out an applica-

Sports focus Tuesday, March 26, 2002

K-State's Shalondra Booker (11) gets airborne to shoot during the Wildcats' practice session Thursday at the U.S. Cellular Arena In Milwaukee. K-State was preparing for their Sweet 16 matchup with Old Dominion.

Photos by Zach Long/

X-State's Chelsea Dominico (23) and Old Dominion's Monique Coker, left, go up after a loose ball Saturday during the NCAA Mideast Regional semifinal game at the U.S. Cellular Arena in Milwaukee. The Wildcats' Kristin Rethman looks on in the background.

E-State's Laurie Koehn, left, uses the back of teammate Megan Mahoney (34) to sign an autograph for a fan Thursday after the Wildcats' practice for the NCAA Mideast Regional in Milwaukee. The Wildcats took time after the practice session to speak with fans and sign various items.

The loss was

Bitter

the trip was Sweet

K-State still stands

Elite

K-State's Kristin Rethman hugs teammate Megan Mahoney after the Wildcats' season-ending loss to Old Dominion in the semifinals of the Mideast Regional in Milwaukee on Saturday. Rethman closed out her career with K-State.

Show displays talents

Building traditions

Ville evolves through time, stays strong

BY JAMIE BARRETT nas State Collegian

Standing at the corner of North Manhattan Avenue and Anderson Avenue, Anderson Hall is in plain view. The corner

K-State students now know as Triangle Park in Aggieville is bare. There is no Varney's Book Store or Rock-A-Belly Deli across the street. There is no stop light or busy intersection. Kansas State Agricultural College is just a few limestone buildings and a short walk away.

Aggieville-1922

Various businesses line Moro Street in Aggieville. Laundromats, barber shops and grocery stores cater to the college students. The College Bookstore sits at the corner of Moro and Manhattan Avenue. Early model Ford cars are parked along the curb and trolley tracks are embedded in the brick street.

Aggieville-1950

Aggieville is a full-service shopping center. Gas stations, hardware stores, clothing retailers and restaurants make up the hub of Manhattan commerce. The Sosna Theatre sits on the block where Varney's now dominates and Duckwalls provides students with the same needs Wal-Mart meets today. Aggieville-1970's

Bars begin to pop up in between retailers and restaurants. K-State students are attracted to the night life the district provides. Pizza Hut, Hayne's Barber Shop and Varney's Bookstore, businesses still seen in Aggieville today, thrive. Aggieville-Today

K-State students meet in Aggieville to shop, eat and drink. The district, known to most students as the place to go for the bars, has been through many phases throughout the years. Dan Walter, Aggieville historian, said the district has evolved from a full-service shopping center to a place of convenience. Through all the changes, Aggieville has Traffic lines Moro Street outside Woody's Ladles Shop In Aggleville on Tuesday afternoon. Many of the shops and bars in Aggleville are locally owned and operated.

Nicole Donnert/

maintained its reputation as a "city of youth," as a 1923 Manhattan Mercury article stated, and has teamed with the university to provide a cornerstone for K-State students.

Nicknamed for the Kansas State Agricultural College mascot the Aggies, Aggieville has long been a center of convenience for K-State students. In 1890, a KSAC student named Hanson began the first Aggieville business. The business, of the first alley north of Moro or Manhattan Avenue, was a small house that first was a barber shop, then a laundromat for students. The business then began to sell second hand books, pens and pencils.

"Aggieville has always been a place for students," Walter said. "It has always been an asset to the college experience."

Locally owned shops, bars and retailers have made up most of the businesses in Aggieville since the district began, Walter said. One of the things that has attracted people to Aggieville more than the years is that it is a place that doesn't cater to tourists, Walter said.

'Small businesses that are locally owned make people want to come down here," he said. "We don't cater to any tourists like places such as The Plaza does. We just

Walter said in his research he has noticed the different trends Aggieville has gone through. He said Aggieville did not become a place where students came to

San AGGIEVILLE ON PAGE 14

Riley County Historical Society

SGA ELECTIONS

iBallot.com prepared for today's election

Kansas State Collegian

Polls open this morning in the re-election for student body president and vice president and will remain open until 8

Students can vote by logging onto their KATS account and obtaining a user name and password and then connecting to a link for the online vendor iBallot.com.

Tuesday morning, Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, conducted a test-run with iBallot.com to confirm the setup of the ballot

"It went well," he said. "There's not much to it. It was a matter of verifying everything works right."

Conrad said the balloting process should go well since there is only one question.

"There's no way it can be kicked back," he said. "Once you click it, that's it. It should be really straightforward and simple. I'm confident it will go well."

Conrad said the iBallot.com staff will call with the results of the election as soon as possible and he expects results to be announced by 8:30 tonight.

"We are going to call both candidates at the same time," he said. "We will post results on the Web page shortly thereafter."

In order to avoid the controversy surrounding the first general election Student Body President Kyle Barker filed an appeal for interpretation of an elections regulations code section that calls for a majority of votes required for the winner of the presidential election. However, with abstentions included in the final vote, there would be the possibility for neither candidate to receive a majority.

"It is the interpretation of the three mentioned parties (Elections Committee, Senate Operations Committee, Executive Branch) that an abstention is a non-vote and therefore does not constitute counting towards the majority of a candidate," Barker said in his letter.

In a meeting on March 26, tribunal determined that it was in the best interest of SGA that abstentions not be included for

See ELECTIONS on PAGE 12

Officials look at possibility of keeping ballot in-house

BY EDIE HALL

With technology problems occurring in this year's primary and general election, some K-State officials and students are questioning whether K-State can find a way to keep the online ballot in-house.

In this year's primary election, the online ballot, developed by iBallot.com, displayed the names of illegitimate write-in candidates on the official ballot.

Problems with the online ballot also occurred in the general election when the ballot didn't include a space for write-in candidates, which election regulation codes required. After these problems, election officials decided to have a second general election. The vendor, iBallot.com, will be used for this additional election.

After dealing with the issues raised over this year's election, Bill Muir, Student Governing Association faculty

See OUTSOURCING an PAGE 12

How we got here

Here are all the twists and turns that led up to today's new election.

Tuesday, Feb. 12 Seven presidential pairs meet the registration

Wednesday, Feb. 27

The Matt Wolters/Mandy Achilles ticket and the Zac Cook/Todd Kohman ticket move on to the primary election. Wolters/Achilles receive 1,012 votes, and Cook/Kohman receive 810.

Wednesday, March 6

Wolters/Achilles edge Cook/Kohman by a declared 58-vote margin – 1,793 votes to 1,735 votes. Cook says he'll contest the votes because the elections code states presidential candidates must receive a majority of the votes. With abstentions included, Wolters received 47 percent, and without abstentions he received 50.8 percent. Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, says abstentions are not votes

Friday, March 8

Cook and Kohman formally contest election results and call for a new election. In an open letter to the elections committee, the pair outlines four sections of the elections regulations code that they feel were violated and say students were denied the right to vote due to a confusing ballot.

Tuesday, March 12

The Student Tribunal board decides to conduct a new election for the two presidential pairs. Tribunal decides that since there was a write-in option in the primary election, there doesn't need to be one in the general election.

Tuesday, Feb. 26 For two hours during the first day of primary election voting, write-in names appear on the

Tuesday, March 5

In the first day of general election voting, students have trouble with iBallot.com - ballots were kicked back if a choice wasn't selected in each category, and when students attempted to vote again, the names were re-randomnized, but the checked boxes stayed in place.

Thursday, March 7

Cook says many of the 245 abstentions could have been checked by mistake because of complications with the online ballots. Vote totals for different offices don't add up to the same totals.

Monday, March 11 At the K-State Salina campus, a typo led to the announcement of the wrong winner in the presidential election. When iBallot.com results were transferred over to an Excel spreadsheet, result totals from a department were accidentally flipped. The K-State Manhattan presidential vote difference is declared as a 40-vote margin instead of a 58-vote difference. Election committee members vote to recommend to Student Senate that general election results be certified, excluding the presidential results.

Tuesday, March 26 Tribunal decides that abstentions do not count

Nancy Hull and Renee McDaniel/Collegian

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

LOCAL IN BRIEF

It's Greek To Me changes name to reflect market

To better reflect the market it serves, the retail store It's Greek to Me on McCall Avenue has changed its name to GTM Sportswear.

Rob Berard, the chief financial officer, said greek merchandise is a small portion of what the business sells.

"It's Greek To Me is a witty name, but it doesn't fit well," he said. "We're trying to better reflect the markets we sell."

GTM Sportswear still carries all the same K-State, greek and corporate gear as before, it just has a new name. However, the name is not too new to customers. The GTM logo has been used for a while, but it is now official.

Berard said the largest market is students below the college level, providing uniforms and other merchandise to high school, middle school and elementary school students.

There also is a corporate or group market. Employer's can get polos with the corporate logo on them or logo

"Those markets are both larger than the greek market," Berard said. "That's why we decided to change the name." - Michael Watson

STATE IN BRIEF

State House approves bill banning human cloning

TOPEKA - The House approved bills Tuesday banning human cloning and making it a crime to destroy human embryos for research purposes, but some senators are skeptical of the proposals.

The votes were 90-32 on the cloning measure and 78-44 on the embryo research legislation, sending the measures to the Senate.

Senators have yet to debate the issues and at least a few don't view them as important, given a projected $700 million budget shortfall.

The cloning bill would make it a felony to knowingly attempt, participate or perform human cloning, or to ship or knowingly receive the product of human cloning for any purpose. Violators could be fined $100,000 to $250,000.

The other bill would be a felony to intentionally or knowingly conduct destructive research on a human

NATION IN BRIEF

Medicare, Social Security to last longer than expected

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The recession caused no damage to the financial health of Social Security and Medicare, trustees reported Tuesday, but they said Congress still needs to act quickly to shore up the programs before baby boomers reach retirement age.

The projected insolvency date of the Medicare trust fund was extended to 2030 barring changes, a year later than earlier estimates. Social Security is expected to run out of cash by 2041. three years later than previously estimated, trustees said in their report.

Trustees also projected Social Security will begin to dip into its trust funds a year later, in 2017, when it would be paying out more in benefits than collecting in payroll taxes. Medicare's year for dipping into its trust fund stayed

Mideast violence complicates U.S. efforts to fight terrorism

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Bush's ability to aggressively push his anti-terrorism strategy in the Middle East - including possible action against Iraq - may hinge on what happens at an Arab League summit.

Bush hopes the Arab leaders will focus on a Saudi idea for a united Arab push to end Palestinian-Israeli violence, not on their growing anger against Israel and America.

Such hopes dimmed, though, on Tuesday after Israel set tough conditions for Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat to attend and Arafat decided he would not go, and after Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak, a key Arab moderate, decided to stay home.

The violence in the Mideast already is threatening to undermine fragile Islamic support for Bush's antiterrorism war. It has stiffened Arab resistance to U.S. plans in Iraq.

FBI suggests bombing plot in released court papers

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Two men under federal investigation for possible ties to terrorist groups were denied entry to Israel in December after one was carrying a letter that the FBI believes indicated they planned to commit a suicide attack there, according to sworn court papers.

The papers, made public by the U.S. attorney's office in Alexandria, Va., Tuesday, accused one of the two men, Mohammed Osman Idris, 24, of Annandale, Va., of lying to a grand jury. He and his traveling companion, identified as Mohammed El-Yacoubi of Fairfax, Va., were stopped by authorities in New York while trying to fly to Jerusalem, the papers said.

ATTACK DEVELOPMENTS

- A powerful earthquake that shook Afghanistan and northwestern Pakistan killed at least 1,200 people, aid officials said Tuesday. Some 600 bodies had been recovered by early afternoon.
- U.S. troops found traces of anthrax at suspected al-Qaeda biological weapons sites, but the samples are so small they don't prove the terrorist network could use the deadly germ as a weapon, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said.
- Suspected al-Qaeda and Taliban fighters planned to kill international peacekeepers by setting off car bombs in Afghanistan's capital, authorities said. No arrests had been made in the plot.

THE GONGFARMER'S Traveloque

Here's the "What Would Jesus Do" gated theme park in Hapeeville. I asked, but there's no prostitutes to talk to, no crucifixions and you can't wail on any bankers. They sure leave a lot out. Miss you all.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP? K-State professional describes basics of degree program

Psychology

1. How many hours are required to graduate?
120 hours, including 30 in psychology and three in statistics.
2. What careers could I pursue with this degree?
Graduates find jobs just about anywhere. Opportunities include sales, interesting, and many employers want someone with solid liberal arts education and knowledge of how people think. However, some students find the major too flexible because it doesn't provide a specific focus. They find it

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of spuce constraints but are quaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

Sigma lota Rho International Relations Honorary will meet at 5 p.m. Thursday in Waters 230.

Interviews are April 9. Sign up begins today through Friday on the CES Web page, www.ksu.edu/ces for those students registered with Career and Employment Services. For those students not registered, they can sign up in Holtz Hall April 1-3.

III KSU-Manhattan Chess Club will meet from 6:30 to 10 tonight in Union The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Teri C. Davis at 8:30 a.m. today in 368 Bluemont Hall. KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minar traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Monday, March 25

M At 8:30 a.m., Ryan Benda, 3000 Tuttle Creek Blvd., Apt. 138, was arrested for probation violation, Bond was set at $500.

M At 10:05 a.m., Adam Shull, 2225 Northview Drive, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at

> III At 2:22 p.m., Brian Weir, 800 Mimosa, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $750. At 6:05 p.m., Everett Summers, Wamego, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $1,500. at 11:10 p.m., Stephen Robbins, 6030 Tuttle Terrace, Lot 5, was arrested for worthless check. Bond

K-State Police

was set at $250.

No reports of note were made.

marketing, human services, personnel, banks.

3. What are the advantages/disadvantages of this major?

Advantages include the versatility and flexibility of the major. It is inherently somewhat disconcerting.

4. Is graduate school typically required?

The majority of graduates go into the work force immediately after graduation. Graduate school is required in order to work professionally, but only about 25 percent go on to some type of graduate school.

5. What is the hiring rate in this field?

Most of our graduates find jobs. Employers really like psychology majors.

Source: Dr. Stephen Kiefer, head of the Department of Psychology If you are interested in learning more about a particular major, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at collegn@spub.ksu.edu

BY PHONE

Newsroom

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Editor in Chief

Nancy Foster

News Editor

Photo Director

Zach Long

City/Gov Editor April Middleton Dana Strongin Manuging Editor

Campus Editor

Alyson Raletz

Paul Restivo

Copy Chief

Nicole Donnert Asst. Photo Director

Sports Editor JJ Duncan A&E Editor

Dan Smith

Amber Koehn Opinion Editor

Katie Lane

Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

eCollegian Editor

532-6556

Jodi Fagerquist

Ad Manager

Presentation Editor

CONTACT US

BY MAIL Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzle 103

Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

University, a published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie 100 Mardoman Kan 66500. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays iluring the sommer Periodical postage is paid at Manhattan. Kan-00502 POSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation deak.

© Kansas State Collegian, 2002

532-6560 Display advertising Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints 532-6304

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

There was an error in Tuesday's Collegian. KKSU-AM 580 has broadcast from campus for 78 years. The Collegian regrets this error.

Little Caesars WEDNESDAY HOT & READY LARGE 14" PIZZA No Couson Necessary Valid only at participating locations. @2001 L.C.E., Inc.

Are you an active participant in a student organization? If so, you could be eligible for a $500 scholarship!

STUDENT FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS

Presented through the KSU Student Foundation

- Any KSU Undergraduate enrolled for the fall 2002 semester is eligible
- Two students will be selected based on outstanding participation in a student organization
- Selected individuals receive a $500 scholarship · Applications are available in the OSAS Office and
- are due no later than 2:00 p.m. Friday, April 19, 2002

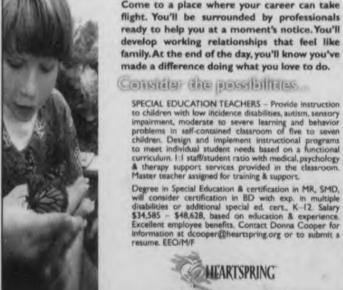

4:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday & Friday nights

For information call

532-1279

Peer pressure might have to enforce smoking policy

Kansas State Collegian

Non-smokers will have to use peer pressure to enforce a new smoking policy that might be put into effect this summer.

The new smoking policy will require all campus buildings to be smoke-free. Smoking also will be prohibited within 30 feet of campus building entrances.

Steve Galitzer, director of public safety, said K-State Police officers will respond to complaints, but will not proactively enforce the policy.

'We do not intend to have people walking around and checking," Galitzer said,

"because we expect people to file complaints if they find that the smoking is too bad. From this, the K-State Police Department will take further action."

Galitzer said the enforcement will be coordinated similarly to the current smoking policy.

He said the $20 fine that will

new. He said the current policy also has this fine.

Assistant director of K-State police Capt. Robert Mellgren said he does not receive many complaints about smoking on campus and does not believe it is much of a problem.

He said no one has ever received a fine for smoking on campus.

Mellgren said there are no plans to have more officers on staff to enforce the new policy, either. The current measures the campus police have taken, he said, have prevented any sort of problem.

The current smoking policy does not permit smoking in any laboratory, elevator, waiting room or building corridor. According to the Kansas State Act, smoking is prohibited in public places unless otherwise posted. Now, smoking in campus buildings is confined in areas designated by a sign or in offices.

Galitzer said the Department of Public Safety plans to inform the student body of the change in smoking policy by posting bulletins, notifying new employees and placing advertisements in the

"What I hope more than anything is that people are smart about smoking and respectful of others," Galitzer said.

"The reason we have these policies on campus is to make it a safer environment for everyone at K-State.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 532-6555 103 Kedzie

Advertise

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN DVERTISING

118 KEDZIE • 532-6560

DELIVERY!

in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

HOURS: (1) (2) (2)

11a.m. - 2a.m. .Mon. - Wed. 1a.m. - 2:30a.m. .Thurs. - Sat. .

1a.m. - 3:30a.m.

2" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 2 Topping Pizza $6.99 X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza $7.99

Large Pokey Stix $6.99 6 Pepperoni Rolls

$6.99 Valid Carry Out Only

VISA OUC NO.

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza

only $5.99

MONDAY MANIA

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

STIX IT TO ME TUESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

Toppings Extra

Carry Out or Dine-In Only Wednesdays Only

THE BIG ASS

One 20" I Topping Pizza

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

MOVING BEYOND STEREOTYPES IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Celebrate Native American Heritage Month

VILMA MANKILLER AUTHOR, ACTIVIST, AND FORMER PRINCIPAL

CHIEF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION

TUESDAY. APRIL 2, 2002 9:30 A.M. FORUM HALL K-STATE STUDENT UNION

American Ethnic Studies BANQUET 12:00 Noon K-State Union Ballroom R.S.V.P. - 532-5738

"People should have a great pride in their history and heritage and use that as a source of strength in making decisions." - Wilma Mankiller

AMERICAN ETHNIC STUDIES PROGRAM OFFICE OF DIVERSITY AND DUAL CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Dive on in to UNIVERSITY COMMONS, the coolest off-campus apartments going. And just what you've been looking for: awesome location, affordable and fully furnished apartments with...

- 2 & 4 Bedroom Apartment Homes Individual Leases Decked-out Kitchens Fully Furnished
- Near KSU Stadium -Computer Lab with Copier & Fax Washers and Dryers in unit
- Tennis, Basketball & Volleyball Courts Recreation Room Swimming Pool
- Permit Parking Exercise Room Monitored Alarm Systems Roommate matching Balconies

the place for people like you...

2215 COLLEGE AVENUE / 785-539-0500 www.universitycommons.com

Students should voice opinion in elections again

You did it once. You did it twice. Now it's time to do it again.

Voting for Student Governing Association president and vice president might be getting tedious, but it's an important way for students to flex their governmental muscles.

OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

majority opinion is

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a

Jessica Pitts

April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

like Jesus.

Nancy Hull

Dan Smlth

is an editorial selected

We don't get many opportunities to tell the university what we want, but this is one of them.

The president acts as a liaison between students, student senators and the rest of the university. These connections will help you get what you want next

This year's election brought a taste of Florida 2000 to our campus. It's tempting to give up amidst all the controversy and confusion.

But the chaos should actually tempt you to vote more. This is your chance to speak out for the ticket you favor.

Vote today at kats.ksu.edu between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. to ensure that your pair has a legitimate leg up in the final battle for president.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Man, I bet that guy with the flamed dirt the chicks.

Go, Maryland! Pluck those 'Hawks!

So, Peter Morris, you know all about competitiveness and women because you are a woman, right?

Is it bad that my biochem lab partners sniff the chemicals?

When did the Fourum become a place where you can call in and say the dumbest crap you can think of instead of voicing your opinion about something?

To all the teachers whose classes I've slept through, fallen asleep in or snored through: I apologize. I'm not always coherent. That being said, the weather makes me sleepy, so I may not be there tomorrow.

K-State's toilet paper is like John Wayne: rough and tough and won't take crap off of anybody.

Way to go, Jared Wiesner. The word "encapsulated." Wow, did you study all spring break to learn how to spell that,

Jell-O shot recipes in the Collegian. What's your next exposé, macaroni and Marquette in the Final Four, huh? Ha,

The Jared Wiesner article about cars sounds like a whiny, castrated Al Gore moaning about SUVs.

Sean Purcell needs to get the facts straight. KU, not Oklahoma, beat Duke in the Final Four in 1988. If he's going to diss on KU and Oklahoma, he needs to get his facts straight.

I want to marry the Long John Silver's

Who put the wham in the wham-a-lama-ding-dong?

shouldn't get post-break apathy in her column online. Also, see more Fourum at www.kstatecollegian.com

Gifts from eart

Orphan girl teaches lesson in unconditional love

know a little girl who will warm your heart. If you let her.

Her name is Brenda, and she has a smile that brightens any

I was blessed to meet this 10-year-old angel at an orphanage in Agua Prieta, Mexico, as part of a spring break alternative trip sponsored by St. Isidore Catholic Student Center.

In less than one week. Brenda showed me what it means to love unconditionally. She gave me something worth more than money, food or any material item - she gave me her heart.

Brenda is one of 30 orphaned girls who found reluge at "La Divina Providencia," a primary project founded and run by Rancho Feliz Charitable Foundation. Each girl comes from a different background. Some have parents who are unable to feed or take care of them. Others have been removed from their homes due to physical and/or sexual abuse.

All are part of a program that strives to educate with the ultimate goal of receiving a college education.

I, along with 19 other college students, left on a mission with the idea we were

Throughout the week, I wrote entries in a journal, telling of different lessons. As I think back on my experiences, I am floored by the love that perpetuated each person going to give. Instead, we returned with something we will never forget - uncondi-

I encountered. I'd like to invite you to share my experiences. March 18, 2002 - I walked into the orphanage today and was immediately greeted by a young 10-year-old girl named Brenda II. (There are two Brenda's in the orphanage, so one goes by Brenda

Chelsea Schmidt

You see, Brenda II doesn't own many material items. And, by constantly offering her dried fruit to me, I knew she was giving everything she had. I wonder if I will ever be able to give a love like hers. In her eyes and through her actions, she taught me what giving was really

March 19, 200: - When you feel the warmth of two tiny arms encircling you, you know you are with God ... She is such a blessing to me. And although she does not have much to give me material-wise, she has already given me more than I could ever ask for. She has given me her heart. How often in life do you ignore the opportunity to lend someone a hand? I know it's something that I struggle with daily. I constantly tell myself, "If only I had more time." ... Brenda taught me the importance of finding time. Even the tiniest good deeds can really make another person smile.

I learned a lot this week about giving. But what I learned most was it doesn't take much to give.

I used to think I had to devote so much time and effort to service work that, as a busy college student, I would never have the necessary time. But through one little girl, I learned it's not time and talent that is needed.

All I need is to give from my heart.

March 21, 2002 - Whether it be smiling at a young child, helping out with service work, taking a few minutes to call someone I've lost touch with, or saying a prayer for someone in need. I now know the definition of service work.

It doesn't take much to make a difference in the world - all it takes is one encounter with someone who gives you love. Now all I must do is allow it to transform me and pass it on to others.

Brenda's lesson seems so simple.

If anyone needs any help discovering the secret of service work, don't forget I know a little girl who will warm your heart.

I and the other by Brenda II.) Brenda II immediately took my hand and began to play with me. She had If you let her. a baggie filled with dried fruit and she consistently offered me raisins and other fruits. I was and still am so floored at the love she radiated Chelsea is a junior in print journalism. You can e-mail her at cls7996@ksu.edu. If only I could be like her ... I would be more

Students need to cease use of hate language students willingly contribute to violence and oppression each

Ben Dolezol/Collegian

These are the students who use negative or derogatory language directed at homosexuals, Hispanics, blacks, women, Jews and anyone else who is not a white, Anglo-Saxon protestant. All of this negativity and violent language led me to question the nature of these actions. Why do people in this community feel the need to engage in the bashing of others?

Every time someone makes a derogatory comment directed at group of people, they give silent consent to all the acts of hate which have been perpetrated on women, gays and other minorities.

When you make a derogatory comment directed at gays, you might as well have been standing in the background and cheering while Matthew Shepard was brutally beaten to death and hung on a fence like an

You also might as well stand next to Fred Phelps and shout obscenities at people as they walk by, because if you're not standing against gaybashing, you are giving consent every time a hate crime is committed.

Every time someone calls into the Fourum with idiotic commentary like, "save a horse, ride a girl," those of us who David McCandless laugh and move on are saying to their friends that comments such as these are OK.

Each time you give consent to a sexist comment, you are adding another bruise to the face of a rape victim. You are sending another battered woman to

And while you might think nothing of it, each time you laugh at an "innocent" joke about "blacks" or "Mexicans," you are part of the lynch mob and the evil tradition of segregation and slavery.

In my brief time at K-State, I have seen more than I ever care to of gay bashing, sexism and racism. Every incident makes all of us in the K-State community look like ignorant, tobacco-chewing, animal-screwing degenerates - an opinion which many outside of our community still have about K-State.

This is not the image we want other people to have of our university and community.

By now, some of you probably are rolling your eyes at what you consider to be the ranting of another politically correct whiner. If so, I feel sorry for you.

As Margaret Thatcher, former British Prime Minister, so well put it, "There is no such thing as politically correct. Something is either right or it is

I challenge all of us, then, to do the right thing. Watch what you say and change how you think.

Success in the world of our new generation will be dependent on a great appreciation and knowledge of diversity of all types.

We simply will not be able to exist in the future if we do not answer this challenge.

Really, it doesn't need to be hard for us. If we all take a stand and commit ourselves to change, we can go a long way toward eliminating hate and violence in

We should start today.

David is a junior in political science and public relations. You can e-mail him at dlm7676@ksu.edu.

Committee report plans to voice election concerns

The Senate Operations Committee voted Tuesday night to prepare a report voicing election concerns for future committees to use when revising elections regulations code.

Bobby Allison-Gallimore, committee chair, said the report will address election concerns from the committee and outside sources.

"I propose we see what happens at the end of this election, prepare a report and pass it on to the future committee," he said.

The report hopefully will help future committees to understand the concerns from this year's election, Allison-Gallimore said.

In other election-related business, the committee decided to hold off their partial approval of the 2002 elections results. The election committee certified the results, excluding presidential elections, but the operations committee decided it needed more information from the elections committee before it made an approval.

In the last business of the meeting. the committee voted to accept an amendment to the SafeRide task force bill, introduced by Student Body President Kyle Barker at last week's Senate meeting. It stated that on March 1, 2003, the bill will be repealed.

The committee agreed that the March 1, 2003 deadline was a feasible time frame for the task force to complete research and create a report about SafeRide.

- Jamie Barrett

House debates budget cuts, rejects employee furloughs

BY JOHN HANNA

The Associated Press

TOPEKA - Besieged by noisy protesters and beset by members' own doubts about deep spending cuts, the House debated proposals Tuesday for eliminating a projected $700 million budget shortfall

One plan, drafted by the House Appropriations Committee, would cover the gap between expected revenues and required spending over the next 15 months without increasing taxes

Also before the chamber was an alternative measure, presented Monday by Republicans, that would avoid some cuts in education and social services by using cash reserves and extra federal

One money-saving proposal forcing state employees to take several unpaid days off - was quickly rejected in favor of requiring agencies to keep unfilled positions vacant longer.

The prospect of spending cuts brought about 100 activists and disabled Kansans to the Statehouse for a protest outside the House chamber.

Their chants punctuated the debate inside and continued after the House recessed for lunch and afternoon committee meetings

On a voice vote, the House tentatively approved a bill making small changes in spending for the current fiscal year, which ends

The bulk of the budget is in a pending bill making appropriations for the next fiscal year.

"All of the choices we're going to have to make this year are going to be bad ones," said Rep. Tony Powell, R-Wichita.

Gov. Bill Graves last week outlined a budget proposal that would balance spending cuts with $364 million worth of increases in sales, cigarette, income and estate

The Appropriations

Committee's no-new-taxes plan depends chiefly on cutting state spending, including a $303 per pupil reduction in state aid to public schools.

It also would cut higher education and social services and suspend state purchases of vehicle and furniture for a year.

Sensing that colleagues wouldn't accept deep cuts in education and social services, Powell and other Republicans offered their alternative Monday.

The plan would take $104 million from the state's cash reserves and count $83 million in extra federal funds, even though the state has no guarantee all that money will arrive during the next fiscal year.

But the plan drew criticism for its proposed use of one-time funds to pay for ongoing government operations.

That money would dry up next year, and opponents suggested legislators would be dealing with a similar financial crisis next

"In the country, we say don't eat your seed corn because you won't have a crop the following year," said Rep. Bill Feuerborn, D-Garnett, an Appropriations Committee member.

Powell replied: "To me, it's the best of bad choices."

Order your yearbook.

•Over 250 units citywide to choose from Fireplaces • Carports •Pool •Private Deck

 Laundry Facilities Large 2-bedroom Units

call Now 537-9064

Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie

Olson's Birkenstock

Specializing in Quality Shoe & Boot Repair Since 1913

Free Polishing with Men's and Ladiev' Heely and Soles. Authorized Birkenstock Repair. Hamibag & Backpack Sewing.

AGGIEVILLE 1214 B Moro

"Recognizing Achievement"

Serving All Sports and Events * Awards * Ribbons

* Medals * Name Badges & Plates

* Plaques * Trophies 785-539-5775

800-362-6160 www.artechpromotions.com

411 North 3rd Street Manhattan, KS 66502

Season for

#57 SERVICE Nonviolence Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said, "Everybody can be great ... because anybody can serve ... You only need a heart full of grace and a soul generated by love." Sign up to volunteer a minimum of two hours this month with an organization of

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Manhattan Mennonite Church, 1000 Fremont Street, and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

your choice. Share your commitment with at least one person.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

JIHAD AND TERRORISM

ARE THEY RELATED

a lecture by:

ABU USAMAH ATTHAHABI

BS.C. in AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY
BS.C. in ARABIC LANGUAGE
BS.C. in ISLAMIC TRADITION AND IDEOLOGY

THURSDAY MARCH 28, 2002 7:00 p.m. K-STATE UNION, BIG 12

EVERYONE WELCOME, REFRESHMENTS ARE PROVIDED Sponsored by: Muslim Student Association at KSU.

Challenging Job Market?

Have you thought about a career in the government or overseas?

Career & Employment Services is offering the following programs to help you explore more options in your job search:

Government Jobs Panel Wednesday, April 3, 3:30 to 5 p.m., Union 212

Nearly 50 percent of federal employees will be eligible for retirement in the next five years...there may be room for you! Come hear the inside tips from a panel of experts with the IRS, ATF, USDA, and EPA...(Internal Revenue Service; Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms; United States Department of Agriculture, and Environmental Protection Agency)

State Jobs Workshop Tuesday, April 9, 3:30 to 5 p.m., Union 213

A representative from the Human Resources Division of the State of Kansas will be on hand to talk about the wide variety of available opportunities to work for the state, including a look at how to apply and benefits.

Overseas Teaching Opportunities Wednesday, April 17, 7 to 9 p.m., Union 212

Have you thought about teaching overseas? Representatives from the Department of Defense, International Private Schools, Peace Corps, and others will discuss how to enter this interesting and rewarding field.

Career & Employment Services - 100 Holtz Hall - 532-6506 www.ksu.edu/ces

Student Body President Election TODAY

at a computer near you

8:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M.

Re-vote for the office of Student Body President and Vice President by electronic ballot on Wednesday.

Vote Online by logging into

KATS

and obtaining your password and User ID

http://www.ksu.edu/elections

Men's golf finishes 3rd in Colorado

BY DAN SMITH

Kansas Statu Collegian

A week of spring practice in California proved to be beneficial for the K-State men's golf team as it competed strong at the Stevinson Ranch Invitational hosted by the University of Colorado.

The Wildcats shot a two-round total of 576 (286-290) to sit in fourth place at the 6,646-yard, par-72 Stevinson Ranch

The Cats stood ahead of top-50 teams Colorado (No. 34), California (No. 46), and Pacific (No. 47).

Sophomore A.J. Elgert led the way for the Cats, shooting a career-best 67 en route to a two-round total of 4-underpar 140 (67-73), tie for third place with Arkansas State's Adam Rauth.

Sophomore Aaron Watkins joined Elgert in the top 20, posting a 1-over-par total of 145 (73-72) to tie for 17th.

Senior Matt Williams tied for 28th with 2-over-par 146, and senior Bryan Milberger tied for 42nd with a 5-over-par Junior Daryn Soldan competed in his first tournament for the Wildcats in the 2001-02 season and tied for 73rd with a Missouri led the field for the day, posting a team total of 11-under-par 565 to claim a 5-stroke lead over Kansas, who sits in second at 570.

Missouri's Mark McBride and Kansas' Casey Harbour are tied for the individual lead at 7-under-par 137.

K-State moved ahead of Arkansas State during Tuesday's final round to finish third overall with a third-round Elgert shot a final round 75 to finish tied for seventh. Aaron Watkins at 11th and Matt Williams at 15th rounded out the Wildcats' individual performances.

Cats score big win over Clemson

K State Sports Information

K-State finished its weekend in strong style Sunday, defeating Clemson in the first varsity eight race on the final day of the Longhorn Invitational rowing event held at Austin's Town Lake.

The Wildcat first varsity eight covered the 2,000-meter course in 7:13.7 to defeat the Tigers by more than four seconds

K-State's first varsity eight had beaten SMU and Tulsa on Saturday.

"This is probably the biggest win we've had in the last six years," K-State coach Jenny Hale said.

"Clemson has been a top-20 program in the last couple years and rowed right with Iowa Saturday.

Iowa has been in the top 10 recently, so it shows that we're right there with some of those programs.

"In the first varsity eight races, we ended up coming out the second-fastest behind Texas.

Hale said the focus in Saturday and Sunday's races was to come out more aggressively in the opening 500 meters, a stretch in which the Wildcats fell behind in a loss to Texas on Friday.

Another adjustment the Wildcats made over the weekend was to put Brandy Sherwood in as the coxswain in the first varsity eight boat.

"We made the adjustment and executed very well," said Hale.

"I couldn't be prouder. We go for the win, we went for the margin, which is important for us right now.

"We have a lot of work to do, but I think everyone's head is in the right place right now. We're excited about doing the work necessary.

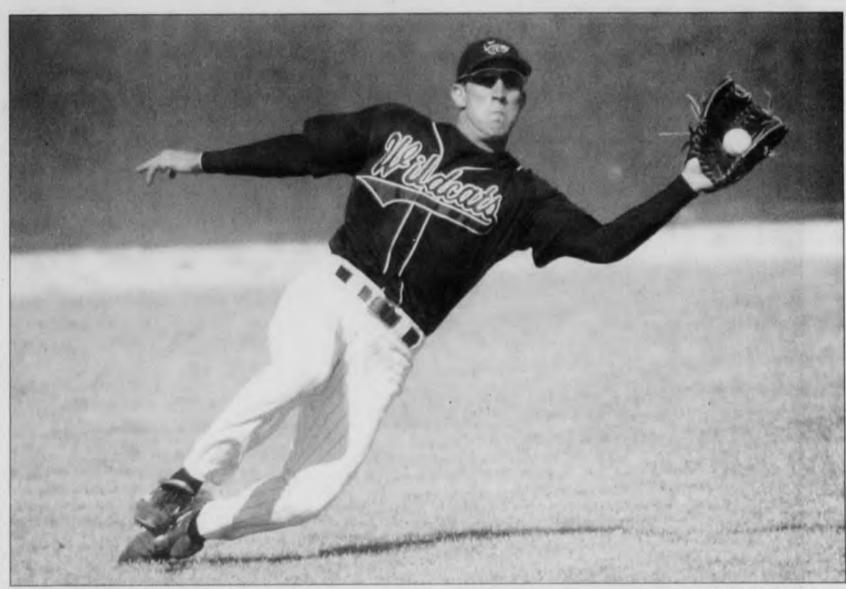

The first varsity eight is as fast as we've been since the inception of the program. We need to keep adding layers of depth below that group."

Clemson won the other three races Sunday, including the first novice eight, the varsity fours and the second varsity

The second varsity eight lost by 10 seconds to the Tigers.

K-State travels to the Hawkeye Invitational next weekend in Iowa City,

POST ROASTING

Photos by Drew Rose/Collegian

K-State centerfielder Gabe Luttrell makes a catch during the Wildcats' game against C.W. Post-Long Island on Tuesday at Tointon Family Stadium.

K-State baseball plays solid game to defeat C.W. Post

BY REN FEHR

ne down, one to go K-State baseball was solid yesterday in their win over C.W. Post at Tointon Family Stadium, using 11 runs on seven hits and no errors to move to 13-10 on the season

The Cats matchup with the Pioneers again today at 2 p.m. and will be looking for the two-game series sweep.

Coach Mike Clark said solid pitching and defense were keys in the win.

"We had some adjustments we needed to make and we made them and got the win," Clark said.

"We played good defense, pitched well, got key hits and that's how you win ballgames.

It was C.W. Post who struck first when first baseman Tim O'Sullivan doubled to left to score Pioneer lead off man Joe Grillo in the top of the first.

K-State answered back in the bottom of the inning when Brett Williams scored Jeremy Rogers on a double to the gap in right.

The Cats moved out to a 4-1 lead in the third when an error on Ryan Baldwin's single to left allowed Pat Maloney, Tim Doty, and Ty Soto to cross.

K-State opened things up in the fourth when second baseman Brandon "Boogie" Taylor ripped a single to center to score Rogers and Williams.

The Wildcats got two more to finish the inning as Gabe Luttrell came home on a throwing error and Pat Maloney scored Taylor on a sacrifice fly to make the score 8-1

The Cats used a run in the fifth and two more in the sixth to counter C.W. Post's two-run sixth and one-run eighth. The final count of 11-4 dropped the Pioneers to 5-11-1 on the year.

Jonathan Gutierrez got the win for the Cats, giving up three runs on four hits with three walks in six innings and striking out six in moving to 2-0 on the

Gutierrez said solid command of his pitches was a factor in Tuesday's perfor-

"I felt good today," Gutierrez said. "I'm just trying to make my pitches and help the team out right now.

"All I try to do when I go out there is keep the runs down, and I was able to do that today.

Ryan Hawley pitched well in relief for the Wildcats, giving up just one run in three innings of work and striking out

Clark said the day's run total was due in large part to a strong outing from his pitchers.

"John really gave us a good opportunity to win the game," Clark said. "We maybe left him in for a little too long but he did a nice job.

K-State shortstop Brett Williams makes a play during the Wildcats' game against C.W. Post-Long Island on Tuesday.

"Ryan Hawley also did a very nice job finishing the game. It was really a step in the right direction for him.

Continuing to move in the right direction - sweeping C.W. Post and finishing the week out well - will be important for the Cats as they prepare for a weekend series with Big 12 leader Nebraska.

"We need to take care of business tomorrow," Clark said. "I'm anxious to see how we play in getting ready for Nebraska this weekend. It's important to stay focused right now."

Vaughn's comments encouraging as baseball season approaches

Ah, the sounds of spring.

Birds chirping, the crack of ball hitting bat to the sweet tune of the stadium organ, the snap of a fastball hitting the catcher's mitt. And of course, what would the 2002 baseball season be without a cursefilled outrage spewed by one of the sport's most controversial celebs?

Guesses as to whom the diatribe came from?

John Rocker? Carl Everett?

Nope, it looks like we'll have to wait at least until opening day for the Texas hothead duo to blow a gasket.

This time the four-letter love song came from the newest New York Met. Mo Vaughn, who took issue with Anaheim Angels' pitcher Troy Percival's comments that Vaughn's absence translates to a hole in the leadership spot in this year's Angels lineup.

Dan Smith

Responding to Percival, who said in Sunday's Los Angeles Times, "We may miss Mo's bat, but we won't miss his leadership," Vaughn cut loose with a well-thought out retort to his former teammate.

"Let me say this: Who the (expletive) is Troy Percival?" Vaughn told the New York Post on Monday

"(Expletive) Troy Percival," he continued. "He aint' done (expletive) to be talking about anybody. And he's a (expletive) pitcher, too.

"You don't even (expletive) play every (expletive) day and you're sitting there talking about position players.

"They ain't got no flags hanging at friggin' Edison Field, so the hell with Big Mo even offered a tale-of-the-tape comparison between him and Percival.

"I got hardware, I got playoff appearances, I got an MVP," Vaughn said. "I've been to the playoffs twice. What the hell has he done?'

Well, he might have a point there. Regardless, both players are 6-footplus and more than 200 pounds, so I'm not taking sides.

Actually, if it came down to a street fight, I'd want Vaughn in my corner. There's something about a guy with a bat that kind of erks me. I guess he just talks a good game with an extensive knowledge of the slang dictionary. By firing off 35 expletives in about 10 minutes while his teammates looked on in startled amazement at Spring Training earlier this week, he proved that. It's actually kind of sad that aside from possible meetings in the All-Star Game or World Series, an on-the-field matchup will have to wait until next year - the Mets and Angels won't play a regular season game in 2002. Still, this is the stuff that makes baseball fans drool.

Remember Rocker's famous trips to meet the Mets after his streak of anti-New York statements encouraged fans at Shea Stadium to hurl batteries and beer into the bullpen? And how about Roger Clemens' chin music to Mike Piazza and famous batthrowing incident in the 2000 World Series?

Here's hoping that as Opening Day 2002 approaches, we'll have plenty more wild and crazy antics on the field to watch, wonder and gossip about this

As for Vaughn, maybe a little criticism will help the Mets bring the title back to New York this year.

Dan is a senior in print journalism. You can e-mail him at djs4444@ksu.edu.

Your Pills are where????

Try the Birth control you think about just 4 x a year.

Depo-Provera is 99.7% effective.

Not only is Depo-Provera 99.7% effective, but you need just one shot on time every 3 months to stay pregnancy-protected. So, unlike the Pill, Depo-Provera isn't your every day birth control.

Depo-Provera doesn't protect you from HIV/AIDS or other sexually transmitted diseases.

Some women using Depo-Provera experience side effects. The most common are irregular periods or spotting. Many women stop having periods altogether after a few months and some may experience a slight weight gain. You shouldn't use Depo-Provera if you could be pregnant, if you have had any unexplained periods, or if you have a history of breast cancer, blood clots, stroke, or liver disease. When using Depo-Provera, there may be a possible decrease in bone density. Ask your health care professional about prescription Depo-Provera.

Birth control you think about just 4 times a year.

See what Depo-Provera is all about. Call toll free 1-866-519-DEPO or visit www.depo-provera.com.

Birth control you think about just 4 x a year.

Please see important product information on adjacent page.

Youth share spotlight during local talent competition

Kamas State Collegian

Sharing the spotlight, the two winners of Manhattan Town Center on Stage displayed different talents. While one sang her way through the competition, the other received laughs for her comedic routine. However, they didn't feel like the competition was a joke.

Kelsey Clark, senior at Chapman High School, said she did not expect to win because she was older than many of the contestants.

"I didn't expect to win because I was afraid the judges would favor the younger kids. And since I am older, I was a bit nervous," she said.

Clark, who sang 'Adore' shared first place with Annie Goodson, sixth grader at Eugene Field Elementary School. Both received a $25 gift certificate from the Manhattan Town Center and qualified for the final competition May 7 to vie for a $500 gift certificate from Town Center.

Goodson said she hoped she would win with her comedic monologue, and she was not nervous at all about performing.

"I really like theater, so I thought if I entered the competition I would get some exposure," she said. "I also. thought the competition was fun."

MTC on Stage is a six-week community talent show for youths kindergarten to 12th grade from March 26 to May 7. Randy Crow, marketing director for MTC on Stage, said they are looking to fill an hour in performances and he estimated a total of 120 youths will participate during the six weeks. .

Crow said the competition is spread throughout six weeks instead of one day is because youths have so many activities and it is hard to accommodate all those who want to participate in the competition.

"What we strive for is a comfortable situation were kids can perform and not worry about winning," Crow said. "There is nothing like watching kids perform. They are cute, fun and they lack fear."

The program, which is part of an ongoing series dedicated to youth music, has been going on for years. However, it was more of a talent show for all ages. Crow said they decided to switch it to a talent show for youths in 1998

This year, the Manhattan Town Center built a new stage, added lights and even changed the name to freshen up the program. Crow said they also have made it more competitive for the youths than it has been in the past.

Complimentary prices are given from sponsors in the food court while the marketing department raised the grand prize money. Crow said no participants will leave without a prize for participating. On Tuesday night, contestants received tokens from Aladdin's Palace. The Manhattan Arts Center will be judging the competition and served as master of ceremonies.

Crow said the competition has become something everyone in the Manhattan community looks forward to, and he hopes people

Cassidy Harper, Manhattan resident, opens an envelope containing tokens to Aladdin's Castle while her grandfather Delbert Zerr looks on and her mother, Debble Harper, far left, reacts to a contestant's performance.

Nicole Donnert/

Collegian

come support those competing. "It's a neat deal to watch kids in particular," Crow said. "This has become a kind of a staple piece which the people love. If they didn't, we wouldn't do it."

Commissioners look to outsource services

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kimisni State Collegia

To save taxpayer's money, city commissioners recommended Tuesday to outsource city services like forestry and road maintenance instead of the city providing the Manhattan already privatizes or shifts functions and responsibilities from the government to the private sector. Privatizing more services would provide better quality services at more competitive prices.

"With the state and revenue stream in its current situation, I would like to know where we can start bringing our belt in." Commissioner Brad Everett said.

He said city funds need to be maintained at a reasonable price to pay for services or the city needs outsource them to competitive

"Let's start saving money where we can," Everett said.

City commissioners set August as the time frame for hearing the report from city administrators on the preliminary evaluation steps.

City administrators will be analyzing the potential for competition from private sector businesses and they will consider public policy that best serve Manhattan residents.

One of the most notable privatized services in Manhattan is the trash service.

Other cities have a municipal trash, but contracting the service provides competition to get the best benefit to the community. Diane Stoddard, assistant city manager, said.

New services commissioners would like city administrators to analyze for privatization include city

in the

KANSAS STATE

COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie

532-6555

AGROTERRORISM CONFERENCE

For more information about the conference, view the Koch Crime Institute's Web site at www.kci.org engineering, vehicle maintenance, park maintenance, forestry and street maintenance.

Some commissioners wanted to analyze fire services and airport operations, but Mayor Bruce Snead said those services should be kept by

Those departments still will be analyzed by city administrators to determine if money can be saved by taking bids from the private sector

City Manager Ron Fehr did not list any services that the city definitely should provide itself, but he said city commissioners would want to be careful what they decide to outsource.

"Once you make the decision to privatize and you sell the equipment and the employees are gone, it's hard to get it back," Fehr said.

Commissioner Ed Klimek said private businesses have been contracting work to outside sources for years. He said this report will be useful to look at cost analysis.

"I think this will be good whether we make a change or not. We might make recommendations on operations to benefit us all by conducting the analysis," he said.

Officials outline future terrorist threats, incidents

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Kansav State College

Destroy the American way of life. Embarrass top officials. Create a psychological effect on

With these goals in mind, terrorists tried to embarrass America on Sept. 11, but failed, FBI-Kansas City Division agent David Cudmore said.

"We have become united stronger than ever," he said. "They will never achieve those goals. They will not embarrass our

However, there are still targets out there. With a focus on preventing and responding to terrorist threats or incidents, Cudmore said information would be key to stopping terrorist

"Our No. 1 goal is to prevent it from happening. We want to prevent another Sept. 11," Cudmore said.

"Any suspicious activity needs to be reported."

Possible targets being monitored by law enforcement officials are major corporations, government officials, the media and venues of critical infrastructure like the Twin Towers that affect the nation socially and economically.

Four possible attack scenarios released by the FBI that use weapons of mass destruction include the following:

- Attacks on major bridges, tunnels, water supplies and nuclear plants.
- Release of chemical or biological toxins in the United States using crop-dusting planes.
- Acquisition of commercial drivers licenses with hazardous
- material endorsements. Attacks on major venues like sporting events, concerts or the Super Bowl.

Maj. Neal Woollen, chief of field operations and training in diagnostic systems of the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute, said detection of infection disease would be a challenge. "There are aerosol detectors out there, but when and where are they used to monitor the air?" he said. "Detection may not happen until you have dead animals."

Woollen said false positive-test results are important.

When he was in the desert in . Kuwait in 1998, he said alarms went off to sound a biological threat in the air.

Although the results came back negative, he said the alarm was important to make sure the concern is addressed.

Similarly, with the March 12

"Our No. 1 goal is to prevent it from happening. We want to prevent another Sept. 11."

> David Cudmore, FBI-Kansas City Division agent

concern of foot-and-mouth disease at the Holton Exchange, a feed lot in northeast Kansas, it is better to get test results when symptoms arise than to let the disease spread, Woollen said.

If the results for bioterrorism return positive, officials will quarantine the area.

When local, state and federal law enforcement and public health officials arrive on a crime scene to manage a crisis, the FBI's role will be to collect data and conduct interviews.

Between August 1999 and the attacks in September 2001, there were 25 cases when the FBI-Kansas City District implemented its Weapons of Mass Destruction Incident Response Plan. All incidents were hoaxes or non-events.

Since the Sept. 11 attacks there have been 45 responses to spected anthrax in Kansas and 15,094 responses nationally. There have been 34 indictments for anthrax hoaxes and three prose-

"We want to prosecute those people who hoax about anthrax. It's like running through a theater and yelling 'fire,'" Cudmore said.

The U.S. Attorney's offices for Kansas have agreed to aggressively pursue prosecution of any weapons of mass destruction hoaxes or threats in addition to actual events. However, if something suspicious is seen, it needs to be reported, Cudmore said. Americans need to become more vigilant and report suspicious activities.

There was an incident on Oct. 11 in Washington state where two liquid chlorine.

They said it was for a pool

When the salesmen asked why they wanted so much chlorine, they ran.

The incident was reported, but there was no intelligence gained.

"We didn't get the license plate information. We didn't get the color of the vehicle. We didn't get the intelligence," he said.

"Getting that information is

First, Check the Collegian Classifieds.

103 Kedzie Hall • 532-6555

Depo-Provera Contraceptive Injection

medroxyprogesterone acetate injectable suspension

This product is intended to prevent pregnancy. It does not protect against HIV infection (AIDS) and other sexually transmitted diseases.

What is DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive Injection? What is DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive Injection?

DEPO-PROVERA Consequence reaction is a form on firstly control that is given as an infrareacular injection (a shot) in the bulbox or upper are none every ill months; if available, to contrace your contraceable protection, you must return for your next expict promptly of the read of ill months; it is seen to the even of ill months; if it is even of it is not not read and in a second and it is even of its produced by your coveres during the visition if you produced the object of the current of your egg cless from ripering. If an egg is not released from the owners during the inventional your egg cless from ripering. If an egg is not released from the owners during your mentitual cycle, clarent become fertilised by speem and require in pregnancy DIPO-INCV/IIA also causes changes in the image of your uterrys that make it less steely for programmy to IPO-INCV/IIA also causes changes in the image of your uterrys that make it less steely for programmy to IPO-INCV/IIA.

How effective is DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive injection?

in the First Year of Continuous Use
Method	Lowes1 Erpected	Туріса
DEPO-FROVERA	0.7	10
ampliers (fidesplant)	0.2*	93*
Female sterilization	0.3	-0.4
Male sterligation	0.1	015
Ciral contraceptive (oil)
Contined	0.1
Progretogen only	0.8:
I,D		1
Progretaver	20
Copper F. 380A	0.1
Cordon (without spermicide).	7.	(2)
Digerage (with sparrough)	4	18.
Cervial cap		1/8
Wildaux	à à	1.0
Persodic abstraction a	1.9	30
Sperrepute stone	1	1 11
Vignal Sponge
used before children.	3	1,0
losed after (field or the	9.	- 28
Account 1	W	- 40

From Numbers' publics ment.
Who should not use DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive Injection?
Not all women should use DEPO PROVERA. You should not use DEPO PROVERA if you have any of the following conditions.

Birth control you think about just 4x a year.

If you have hat Lander of the Irelat
 If you have had a titrake
 If you have had a titrake
 If you have or have had blood dots (prilebits) in your legs
 If you have problems with your her or liver disease
 If you have problems with your her or liver disease
 If you are problems by DEPO PROVERA (medi-reprospectations are tare or lary of its other

other things should I consider before using DEPO-PROVERA ceptive injection?

and have a physical essentration before your doctor precedes DCPO-PROVERA. It is included to let your health-have provided if you have any of the following array history of breast cancer:

This product is intended to prevent pregnancy. It does not protect against transmission of HIV (AIDS) and other sexually transmitted diseases such as chiamydia, genital herpes, genital warts, gonorrhea, hepatitis 8, and ayphilis. What if I want to become pregnant after using DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive

What is swall or become projecting the bis control method it takes some time after your last maction for medical to ever off. Based on the results from a large study done in the United States, for women who stop using DEPD PROMEA in order to become pregnant of it is expected that desult half of those who become pregnant will do so in about 10 months after their last expectors about two thricks of those who become pregnant will do so in about 12 months about 87% of those who become pregnant will do so in about 15 months about 87% of those who become pregnant will do so in about 15 months about 87% of those who become pregnant will do so in about 15 months about 87% of those who become pregnant will do so in about 15 months and after them that rejection. The length of time you use DEPD PROMEA has no effect on box long it takes you to become pregnant after you stop using it. FIG. PROVERS has no effect on how long it takes you to become progrant after you for that are the risks of using DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive injection?

bore Mineral Changes as of DEPO-PROVERA may be associated with a decrease in the amount of mineral stored in air bones. This could ecrease your not of developing bone fractures. The rate of tione mineral is in greated in the early years of DEPO-PROVERA use, but after that it begos to researche the small rate of age-related bone mineral loss.

Allogic Recidents Some women using DEPO-PRIOVERA Contraceptive Injection have reported severe and potentially like threatening allerigic reactions known that anaphylism and anaphylicitisid reactions, symptoms include the sudden criefly of hives on swelling and atching of the skin, breathing officialities and a drop in blood pressure.

symptoms may signal problems while using DEPO-PROVERA ceptive injection? all your health-care provide immediately if any of these problems occur following an ejection DEPO PROVIDEA in the lung.

• Lustins taken heads he or vorsing discrees or funting problems with your eyesight or specify weakings or numbers in an arm or leg (indicating a possible stroke)

• severe pain or seeking in the salf indicating a possible clost in the leg)

• severe pain or tendersep in the lower studiers are severed as the committee of the second or tendersep in the lower studiers are severed or the second or tendersep in the lower studiers are severed or the second or tendersep in the lower studiers are severed or tendersep.

What are the possible side effects of DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive Injection?

Weight Gain from the saveget pain while you are using DEPQ PROVERA. About two thords of the vertices who used DEPQ PROVERA in risks at trials reported a weight gain of about 5 pounds from the first year of use. You may continue to gain weight after the first year of use. You may continue to gain weight after the first year of use. You may continue to gain weight after the first year. Women is one arge study which ower DEPQ PROVERA for 2 years pured an average total of 8 it pounds over those 2 years or approximately 4 pounds pure year. Or approximately 15 months per year Women who continued for 4 years gained are average total of 16.5 pounds over those 6 years, or approximately 2.75 pounds per year.

2.0ther 5 de Effects.

secure during your use of DEPO-PROVERA decus them with your health-see provider problems. Should any precautions be followed during use of DEPO-PROVERA Contraceptive Injection? I find the provider this provider injection? I find the provider injection? During the some your using DEPO-PROVERA for contraception you may sap a period, or your rended may stop complete. If you have been recovering your DEPO-PROVERA expections regularly every 3 months (13) weeks), then you are probably not pregnant. However if you think half you may be pregnant, see your health-care provider. I observably feel interactions you are scheduled for any laboratory tests, tell your health-care provider that you are using JEPO-PROVERA for combateption. Certain blood tests are affected by hormones such as JEPO-PROVERA.

effectiveness of DEPO-PROVIRA of the two drugs are given during the same time.
Although DEPO-PROVIRA can be passed to the harsing infant in the breast misk no harmful effects have been found in these chicken. DEPO-PROVIRA does not prevent the breasts from producing misk, so it can be used by porting mothers. However, to maintain the breasts from producing misk, so it can be used by porting mothers. However, to maintain the breasts from producing misk higher the fellow part of the limit of the first weeks after be th, not should wait unta 6 weeks after higherth helder by the fellow pour better by the proving DEPO-PROVERA for contraception.
How often do I get my shot of DEPO-PROVERA or 150 mg enery. I months (3 weeks) given in a single inframuscular injection in the buttock or upper arm. To make sure that you are not pregnant at the time of the first injection; it is essential that the injection to given OPLY-Chung the first 3 dain of a normal menturual period. If used following the delivery of a chick the first injection in DEPO-PROVERA MUST be given within 5 days after chicker th you are not breast feeding or 6 weeks after delivers, your health-care provider 11 weeks) between injections or longer than 6 weeks after delivers, your health-care provider should determine that you are not pregnant before going you your injection of DEPO-PROVERA.

Pharmaria & Upyohn Company Kalamaroo: MI 49001.USA

Truman scholarship means real opportunities for recipient

Kansas State Collegian

Leslie Small didn't expect K-State President Jon Wefald to be on the other end of the line when her phone rang the Thursday evening before spring break.

She also didn't expect him to tell her that she was selected to be K-State's 25th Truman Scholarship recipient.

"I was so shocked because we weren't supposed to find out for weeks," Small, junior in agricultural economics, said. "I wasn't even nervous yet because I didn't think I was going to find out for a long

Small was one of more than a dozen finalists from Kansas, Arkansas and Missouri who interviewed for the scholarship in March. Valued at more than $30,000, Truman Scholarships are intended for use during the senior year and during graduate school.

The scholarship is given based upon leadership potential, committual strength and analytical ability. James Hohenbary, scholarship adviser, said there are usually 70 to 80 Truman awards per year given around the country. He said Kansas had nine students as finalists this year, which was close to many states with high population density.

Hohenbary said that when he first met Small, he knew she was the kind of student who could win the

"She has a strong interest in international issues," Hohenbary said.

a leader and how to apply that to her own life. She is a compassionate person who genuinely cares about what part she is going to play in the Small said the scholarship was a shock to her because she does not consider herself to be a normal Truman recipient.

"I don't think I am the traditional scholarly type." Small said. "When I was little, I had this idea of what these scholars were like. I don't consider myself incredibly intelligent like I had an idea in my mind of how these people were.'

When a letter was delivered to her parent's home inviting her to apply to be a Truman Scholar, Small said her mother encouraged her to apply. When she got the application, she said she felt as though she had good answers to the questions the application asked.

with what I wanted to do," Small said. "It was not like I always dreamed of being a Truman scholar. I just worked hard."

Small proposed in her application that the United States government increase funding for agriculture research that would benefit lowincome countries.

She said she hopes to go to graduate school for developmental studies so she can find a way to incorporate economics into different variables of the hunger problem.

"So many people in low-income countries depend on agriculture for their income," Small said.

"The kinds of technology there are may not work in their culture or environment, so that hurts their production. When there is no means for them to farm, they have no

Once the application was done, mean something to her.

"Once I put all my goals into words on the application, the charts and graphs I look at in class became people," Small said. "The process gave me a place to apply the economics and make it real and tangible.

"When I finished it, I had a feeling that I had realized my goals. Now whether someone was going to give me the finances to put my goals into place or whether I had to find an alternative way was the question."

David Norman, professor of agricultural economics, said he has only known Small for a few months, but was thrilled when he found out she won the scholarship because of her extensive involvement and dedication.

"She has grown so much in the past few months," Norman said. "She has empathy of people whose lives

Cheapest Night

in the 'Ville

$1.25 domestic bottles, dos

$5 pitchers of bourbon,

equis, coronas, & wells

$3 domestic pitchers

rum, gin, & vodka

10¢ wings and shrimp

$2 jack & coke, jaeger shots

Thursday: One Sad Monkey Friday: Lucas and Bartow commitment to helping them."

Small said now that she has won the scholarship, she is excited to pursue her goals during her final years at K-State and during graduate school, but is the most excited because she feels that it now will be possible for her to help others.

"I have this picture of these starving women that I look at and for them, hunger isn't numbers - it is emotions and real life," she said.

"The thought that I might be able to help them someday is what helps me deal with the depressing and hard issues I look at. This scholarship, for me, is an opportunity to help these people."

AUTOCRAFT Domestic & Import Specialists COMPLETE AUTO REPAIR & SERVICE

Including Brakes . Tune-Up . Complete Engine Overhauls • Major & Minor Repairs

> ASE Master Certified GM Master Certified Nissan Master

Over 15 years experience in maintenance to keep your car in top running condition.

Open Mon-Fri, 8am-5pm 201-B Service Circle (behind Wal-Mart) 537-5049

WILDCAT FAN'S NEWSPAPER OF CHOICE

Order your yearbook. Today.

103 Kedzie Hall • 532-6555 • royalpurple.ksu.edu

For students with temporary or permanent disabilities. On campus only, building to building. For information call

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADERSHIP THROUGH TURBULENT TIMES

Featuring DR, RICK RIGSBY

Life Skills Development Coordinator & Special Assistant to Head Football Coach Texas A&M University

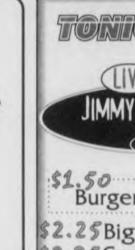

Thursday, March 28, 2002 3:30pm - 4:30pmUnion Little Theatre

Free admission. Open to all students.

Sponsored by: Leadership Studies & Programs Ambassadors Student Governing Association Athletic Department

Please visit us at: www.ksu.edu/bakeclub

JIMMY VAN ZANT BAND ≤SKYNRD-THEN AND

Burger & Fries 5-8 p.m. $2.25 Big Budweisers 21 & over Show starts at 9 with special

Education Majors

Have you thought about the Salaries in California?

> California already has the secondhighest beginning teacher salaries in the nation, and new legislation is pushing salaries even higher.

>your first time traveling abroad, that is.

seurope from $55 a day! our textbooks cost more than that, contike has 100 worldwide trips to choose from and you can do it with people your own age, with such a great deal what are you waiting for 277!!!

>where

greek island hopping 4 days from $969.

mediterranean highlights trá days from $850

european getaway

simply italy

see your travel agent call toll-free 1-888-CONTIKI sit www.contiki.com

Over 85% of California school districts have raised starting teacher salaries to the recommended statewide minimum of $34,000.

California's teachers are treated very well. Last year, the California public school system began implementing a $34,000 statewide minimum salary for beginning teachers - and some districts pay as much as $44,000 for first-year teachers.

Higher salaries are just one of the ways California demonstrates the great respect we have for our teachers. Other support and incentives - inside and outside the classroom - help you develop within the profession, achieve an advanced degree, and even purchase your first home. We're committed to getting you here and keeping you here.

Bring your teaching degree to California

When you consider California's great starting salaries, and then factor in the reasonable cost-of-living in many of our cities, you'll start to realize what a significant financial advantage you'll have when you begin your teaching career in California. Once here, you'll discover that the diversity of our student population, our cultures and our scenery will enrich your life in ways you never imagined.

We need you in California. It's easy to get here. For more information, call toll-free 1-888-CalTeach (888-225-8322) or visit our website at www.calteach.com.

CalTeach Left Coast. Right Job."

Arafat decides not to go to summit, citing Israeli 'blackmail'

The Associated Press

JERUSALEM - Yasser Arafat decided Tuesday not to attend a key Arab summit, and his Cabinet accused Israel of trying to blackmail the Palestinian leader with tough conditions for letting him go. Arafat's absence could undermine Arab being presented in Beirut. Despite calls by the United States that he let Arafat go to the summit, Sharon said "conditions are not ripe" support for a Saudi peace overture

call a cease-fire first and that Washington back any Israeli decision to bar Arafat from returning home if there is violence during his absence.

State Department spokesman Richard Boucher insisted Israel grant a round trip for Arafat to and from the summit, which opens in the

Open the

Latest

770-3333

Campus Special

Med 12." 1 Topping Pizza 55.99

Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99

Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99

Valid Sunday-Wednesday

11a.m.-11p.m. only

He insisted the Palestinian leader

Lebanese capital on Wednesday. Underscoring the incendiary situation on the ground, two observers from an international force in the West Bank were shot and killed. The Israeli military said Palestinians opened fire on their car on a road used mostly by Jewish settlers north of Hebron, where the force is stationed.

The two observers - from Turkey and Switzerland - were the first members of the force to be killed. The monitoring group was created in 1994 as part of an agreement dividing Hebron into Palestinian and Israelicontrolled zones.

Also, two Palestinians from a militia linked to Arafat's Fatah movement drove a bomb-laden car toward Jerusalem's largest mall Tuesday morning, blowing themselves up when they were stopped by police. No Israelis were

U.S. mediator Anthony Zinni made some progress in his efforts to broker a cease-fire deal. Israel grudgingly accepted new compromise proposals, while the Palestinians expressed some reservations.

Still, Sharon said Arafat must "in his own voice, to his people" declare a halt to violence before being allowed to leave the West Bank town of Ramallah, where the Palestinian leader has been trapped by Israeli troops for months.

"Unfortunately, the conditions are not ripe for allowing Arafat to go to Beirut," Sharon said on Israel TV's Arabic-language news, held after Al-Jazeera, the Arab world's leading satellite broadcaster, canceled a planned live interview with him.

Then, in a new condition, Sharon said, "If it is said to Israel by the United States that (Israel) can refuse to allow him to return if there are terror attacks, it will be easier for me

Several hours later, the Palestinian Cabinet announced Arafat's decision to stay home, saying Arafat "won't be blackmailed or accept Israeli conditions and won't take the risk of putting conditions on his return."

Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak also decided not to attend after his government accused Israel of playing games and imposing unacceptable conditions on Arafat's

That left the gathering without two key voices that support the Saudi plan, which calls for Israel to pull out of all the territories it captured in 1967 in exchange for an end to the Israel-Arab conflict.

DID YOU KNOW?

Auto accident insurance usually pays for 100% of your treatment if you are injured? If you've been hurt! Call Today! You make no payments until your claims are settled, and we'll handle the paperwork.

Konza Chiropractic Headache and Pain Center 537-4933

Downtown 5th & Houston Next to the Purple Pig 'Come Feel The Difference"

Palestinian shooting and bombing attacks have killed more than a dozen Israelis over the past week, setting back the U.S. effort to hammer out a formula for implementing a truce plan which was worked out last year by CIA director George Tenet and accepted in principle by both sides.

After Zinni presented bridging proposals that conceded some points to each side, Israeli Defense Minister Binyamin Ben-Eliezer said Tuesday that the government accepted them, but without enthusiasm.

"There are parts where we have to grit our teeth," he told Israel Army Radio, referring to Zinni's ideas.

At a meeting with Zinni in lerusalem on Tuesday, Palestinian

PREGNANCY

TESTING CENTER

Supportive services for pregnancy. parenting & adoption."

539-3338

Free pregnancy testing

Totally confidential service

Same day results

Call for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

security and political officials raised objections of their own. Abed Rabbo has said the Palestinians seek to link

the cease-fire to a plan for peace talks

Palestinian officials said Zinni would be removed only gradually and not immediately, as the Palestinians and reopening Palestinian instituaccepted Israel's position that its closures of the Palestinian areas

tions in Jerusalem.

See Agent: Josh Salmans Town East Shopping Center (By Kmart) 463 East Poyntz Manhattan, KS 66502

785-776-8754 iosh.salmans.ixd4@statefarm.com

Office of Student Activities & Services is currently accepting applications for

Consumer & Tenant Affairs Director

Responsibilities include: Provide information on landlord rights & responsibilities, mediate roommate disputes, offer off-campus housing assistance, & aid in resolving consumer complaints on products & services.

Applications due by noon, Friday, April 5th

Position begins Summer 2002 & goes through May 2003.

*Applications available in the Office of Student Activities & Services, Ground Floor, K-State Union call 532-6541

Community Easter Service

given by pastor Dave Thompson

McCain Auditorium

10 - 11:15 a.m.

Everyone Welcome

sponsored by Westview Community Church

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

$35 350 600 1,000 75 150 250 500 1,500 1,500 500 1,500 1,500

Add additional lines for Just $20

Cellular One

Cellular One Manhattan Town Center Mall 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mike.

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

We're not like every other high-tech company. We're hiring.

No one told you the hardest part of being an engineer would be finding your first job. Of course, it's still possible to get the high-tech work you want by joining the U.S. Air Force. You can leverage your degree immediately and get hands-on experience with some of the most sophisticated technology on earth. To find out how to get your career off the ground, call 1-800-423-USAF or visit our Web site at airforce.com.

U.S. AIR FORCE

Tribute

13th Step

Tap Room.

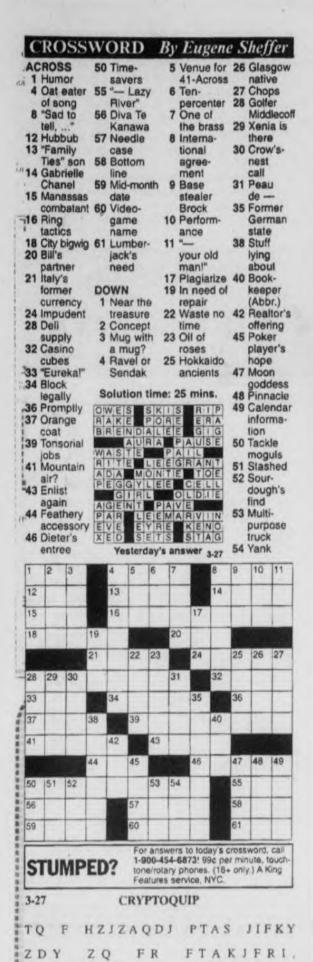

at the door.

opening at 9

tonight at Joe's

Jimmie Van Zant

will perform with

HFJJ1S KFAAZY-YAZZKIA?

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: WHEN A SKUNK GETS REALLY MAD ABOUT SOMETHING, IT WILL

UNDOUBTEDLY RAISE A STINK. Today's Cryptoquip Clue: J equals L

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1/ Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another, If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by Irial and error © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"Singing is a trick to get people to listen to music for longer than they would ordinarily." -David Byrne

AROUND THE TOWN

CAMPUS

The Campaign for Nonviolence Film Series presents a free showing of "Ending Apartheid in South Africa" from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in the K-State Student Union Little

A free sneak preview of "Death to Smoochy" will show at 8 tonight in Forum Hall in the K-State Student Union. Tickets are available in the Union Program Council office

MANHATTAN

■ Orange will perform with Six Year Sophomore starting at 9 tonight at Out of Bounds.

■ One Sad Monkey will perform with Special Guest at 10 p.m. Thursday at Gilligan's to celebrate the release of the band's new album, "Just Another Clown.."

If you know of upcoming events in and around Manhattan, e-mail them to arts@spub.ksu.edu.

Play some Skynyrd

Jimmie Van Zant to pay tribute to Lynyrd Skynyrd

BY JJ DUNCAN

Kansas State Collegian

Play some Skynyrd, man. Jimmie Van Zant will do just that tonight at Joe's Tap

Van Zant, first cousin to the late frontman for Lynyrd Skynyrd, Ronnie Van Zant, has been touring for the past 10 years, paying tribute to the original singer for the southern rock supergroup. Jimmie Van Zant will bring the sound of Skynyrd to Manhattan tonight with the doors opening at 8 p.m., and opening band. 13th Step taking the stage at 9 p.m.

Terry Wark, manager of Joe's Tap Room, said Van Zant performed at the bar last summer and people enjoyed the nostalgic trip of hearing the recreation of Lynyrd Skynyrd.

"They have the sound of Skynyrd," he said. "You just close your eyes and you can hardly tell the difference. It sounds just like the CD."

Wark said the band is just as good or better than the Lynyrd Skynyrd line-up currently playing shows. The sound of big southern rock guitars will bring back those who saw them during the summer, Wark said.

The sound also appeals to younger audiences since so much modern music draws influences from the sound of Lynyrd Skynyrd, Wark said. "A lot of new stuff is reverting back to that old style of music." he said. "It's a music that will always have a place. It will always be around."

13th Step is a blues rock band that has been together for more than two years, and bass player Loren Reiter said he is looking forward to the opportunity to perform in a show with the artist.

"I saw him last time he was here, and it is just an excellent band, and it's good exposure for us," he said.

Reiter said Skynyrd's music has influenced 13th Step's style, and though the band focuses on original material, they sometimes cover songs from the rebel rockers' repertoire. If people like Lynyrd Skynyrd's music, then they'll probably like 13th Step, he said.

Wark said he is excited to have Van Zant back, and happy to give people the

"At Joe's, we try to bring in a little bit bigger acts than the local stuff you usually see in Manhattan, and give a local band the chance to play with them," he said.

K-State professors, students perform for children

Kansas State Collegias

Look. Listen, Learn. Love it. These are the four L's that Susanna Parker teaches her music students about concerts.

The students will put this lesson into action when they attend the Young People's Concert in All Faith's Chapel this morning.

Performances are short 20-25 minute concerts at 9:30 a.m., 10:15 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The concert series runs today, April 8 and April 29.

"It gives children a chance to be in a formal concert setting," said Mary Ellen Titus, chair for the Young People's Concert. "It may be the only time in their life they'll see something like this."

The concert series began 16 years ago when Titus was teaching at Theodore Roosevelt Elementary School.

"I always knew when recitals were going on at night and I'd call and ask if I in the past as well. could bring my students to the rehearsal," she said.

Susanna Parker now is the music teacher at Theodore Roosevelt and Eugene Field Elementary schools. Her students have been attending the concerts for 16 years.

"We practice their concert manners before they go," Parker said. "We'll do active things with music. Then we listen and feel it inside. I show them different ways to feel the beat without bothering others.

Techniques she practices with ber students include tapping their fingers on their knees or tapping their toes softly on the floor.

Parker said she thinks the lessons from concerts carry over to other aspects of the student's lives.

"I have seen an improvement in attentiveness at concerts and then at school assemblies," she said. "They know how to act because they've practiced it."

In addition to better manners, the students are exposed to something that they do not experience every day.

Students from Manhattan-Ogden USD 383, as well as the Manhattan Catholic schools and Flint Hills Christian schools attend the perfor-

Home-schooled children have come

"It fosters interest in attending live musical performances that will stay with them always," Parker said.

Wayne Goins, K-State director of jazz, said he had a similar experience as a child.

They had the same look on their faces as I did when I was little," he said about the March 6 concert. "It's like they're in a trance.

"You have to get on the level of the people you're dealing with," he said. For younger students, you have to get down on the floor with them. If they like to roll around and play, you have to roll around and play." Goins and his jazz combo, The Swing Machine, performed for students March 6 and will take the stage again today at 9:30 a.m., 10:15 a.m. and in the afternoon at 1:30 p.m. The Swing Machine is comprised of K-State students. Since both the performers and audience members are students, Goins said learning goes on at several different levels "The performance made a great impression on the college students," he said. "They said how much fun they had because the kids are so happy and had such a good time. I think they enjoyed it more than the kids." Goins said students are a captive audience, and the innocence and imagination of the kids makes the concerts enjoyable. "I told the kids we were going on a ride and to fasten their seat belts," he said. "I heard all of them clicking their belts into place. Their imaginations are so vivid. "Their body language is like they have seat belts on. When we were done, I told them they could take their seat belts off and they unfastened them."

Paul Hunt, head of the music department, said he has had similar experiences in the past with the concert series

He is performing a narrated trombone piece April 8 and 29 with hisdaughter, Mary. He wrote the musical score and Mary will narrate a story that coincides with the music.

"I try to engage the students with trombone in a story style," Hunt said.

The musical story, "Fairy Tale," was inspired by the play "Into The Woods." It is a rendition of Goldilocks, The Three Pigs and various other fairy tales;

"I wanted to do an original story that is familiar to the audience," he said.

"It's a combination of fairy tales." Hunt said the value of a concert performance might be seeing people perform the music.

"The little ones may not realize that the stuff on the radio and TV is made by real people," he said.

Not all school districts have the luxury of concerts for students. This might be because professionals get too; caught up in the hectic lives they live, Goins said.

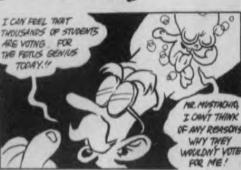

"It's a wonderful thing to create a series that connects the youngest people with the old," he said.

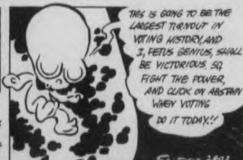

"It's a rare occurrence that those two worlds come together."

misdirection

OUTSOURCING

■ Continued from page 1

-representative, felt K-State should house the online ballot.

"We need to make sure this gets done now," Muir said. "We should be doing this in-house - on campus. That way our people could deal with someone who works next door instead of in Seattle, Wash.

Gayle Spencer, student activities coordinator, said there was a chance K-State could house the online ballot through the Department of Continuing Education.

"When we get through with the controversy surrounding this year's election, we will sit down with them and figure out if this is possible or not." Spencer said.

Muir said a task force was being assembled to look at the possibility of working with DCE to house the ballot for next year's

"It's premature to say 'yeah, we can do it,' but anything could happen." Muir said.

DCE does have a system that can produce a ballot-type instrument, said Elizabeth Unger, vice provost of academic services and technology.

She said this system has a functionality that allows each person to input data.

With this type of function, people can log in and be verified as K-State students. Students could input their vote and the program would then produce a statistic of the data, or votes, that were entered.

The balloting system also could be used for purposes such as taking opinion polls of the student body on various issues, Unger

Unger said as an administrator she was interested in providing as many services to students as possible.

For the last three years, K-State has used an outside vendor for the online balloting system. Previously, students voted on paper ballots located in the K-State Student Union, Muir said.

Some years, the paper ballots also were located in the Veterinary Medicine Complex and in Derby Dining Center.

Muir said because most students had to go to one central place to vote, not as many cast their votes.

Muir said when students were able to vote online, voting increased about 10 to 15 percent.

Spencer said K-State officials discussed housing the ballot three years ago, determined the cost to develop such an application would be too great and decided to rent the software instead.

Renting the software from an outside vendor costs the university a relatively small amount of money compared to what it would cost in time and expenses to purchase the software or develop it from scratch, said John Streeter, director of the information systems office.

"It isn't as simple as it seems," Streeter said. "It isn't rocket science, but it's not trivial either."

Streeter said because K-State rents the software to run the online ballot, the university doesn't have to deal with the expense of maintaining or upgrading the software. Instead, the outside vendor must take care

Unger said she isn't concerned about the cost of maintaining or upgrading the product DCE would use to conduct online ballots, if they decide to do so.

"The product we've created to help professors and students run surveys is very versatile and could easily be a ballot," Unger said. "We will maintain it independent of whether it is used for elections or a candidate's majority. Attorney General Tara Hull said tribunal frequently is asked for interpretations, but hasn't been asked to interpret election decisions in recent years.

ELECTIONS

Continued from page 1

However in the 1993 election, the tribunal was asked to determine if a new runoff election should be held between presidential tickets Ed Skoog/Eric Henry and Fred Wingert/Jeff Peterson. In the runoff election, Skoog/Henry received 13 more votes than their opponents.

Allegations were filed by Mike Ford, a senator-elect, who claimed elections committee members did not give veterinary === medicine students the required two hours to vote, which meant many students did not get to vote. The Collegian reported that polls would be open from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., however a elections official did not arrive on time.

The tribunal ordered an new runoff being held, despite complaints by Skoog. In the new election, Skoog and Henry won again, this time by 289 votes.

COSTUMES * ACCESSORIES SHOES . PROPS . MASKS WIGS . HATS THEATRICAL MAKEUP

539-5200 2011 FT RILEY BLVD . MANHATTAN Newly Established

American Red Cross Club of KSU offering

> ON CAMPUS CPR CERTIFICATION

> > April 13, 20, 27 & May 4 ksu.edu/redcross

Meal includes: 7' Individual pizza (cheese, pepperoni or sausage), 1/2 order of breadsticks (your choice of dip) and a 24 oz. soft drink

K-State Student Union Food Court

FREE ADVANCE SCREENING

WILLIAMS NORTON DEVITO Get ready for an unexpected hit.

MasterCarc

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY @ Forum Hall

8:00 PM Wednesday March 27, 2002

FREE ADMISSION

while passes last* INFO?: call 532-6571

* Passes available at the UPC office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union. K-State ID required.

Passes required. Seating is limited and not guaranteed. Please arrive early. ID required. No one under the age of 17 will be admitted without parent or legal guardian Presented in association with Union

Kansas State University Students:

? LOOKING FOR A GREAT SUMMER JOB IN K.C.?

FUJICOLOR PROCESSING is looking for bright, dependable students who are interested in an exciting summer job in safe, friendly, North Kansas City.

Join your friends from, K-State, MU, CMSU & KU, as well as other area colleges, universities and high schools who earned competitive wages last summer in our bright and shiny new photo lab!

We feature a secure, clean environment and state of the art photo processing equipment.

Earn $8.35 to $9.24/hr. plus $1.00/hr night shift premium (also ask about out $2.00/hr, additional premium for Friday nights)

THIS IS WORTH INVESTIGATING!!

Call FUJI at 816-474-3854 Ext. 214 for details on how you can earn up to $5,600 this summer.

Classifieds

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM apartnent, two blocks to campus. one year lease. (785)539-1713

AVAILABLE LEASES now July 31. Two, three, and r-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539-4327. Evenings and week 7. Evenings and week-nus (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

BASEMENT APARTMENT MONTHLY. (785)537-4766. itable June 1.

NEXT TO campus- one three-bedroom houses. Central air ing, free washer/ dryer, Available August. (755)537-7050.

NEXT TO KSU apartment August. Deluxe two-bedapartment, 350 16th near Nichols Hall, 5500. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ nth. (785)341-4496

TWO and three bed-Various locations No pets (785)313-

4812 TWO and three-bedapartments close to June and August

(785)539-1975 or (785)776-OSE, TWO, three or four lose to KSU No pets

(785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827. ROOMMATE(S) WANTED starting August month plus one-third Call Krista at (785)776-

010

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

planes, lowest rates. For 2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc.

ACADEMY OF BARTEND

ING. Have fun, make mon ey meet people. Earn $15

ortweekend classes availa ble Job placement assis tance, $199 with student ID

www.bartendingcollege.com

Charles W. (Chuck) Harper

25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100.

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE

1/ROOBARTEND

ATTORNEY AT

020

Lost and Found

placed free for three days.

FOUND IN Burger King

parking lot, in Aggieville Wednesday, March 13th at frame glasses. Call (785)537-1050 and tell Patty Teave message for Elvira.

We require a form of pic

cense or other) when plac-ture ID (KSU, driver's

030

Personals

30pm. Wine color metal misham@Yahoo.com.

For Rent-Unfurnished

ROOMMATES NEEDED for a five-bedroom town house. Washer/ dryer intown cluded, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-7756 after 5:30.

SPACIOUS TWO and three Central air, laundry facilities and August. (785)539-0866. THREE-BEDROOM

APARTMENT, close to cam-pus, June lease. Water, trash, gas paid (785)539-1975 or (785)313-8296. TWO AND three-bedrooms, one and one-half bath, cen-tral air, laundry facility near campus. (785)537-1746. TWO, TWO-BEDROOM'S.

one block/ campus. Water, trash paid. Washer and dryand $475. (785)539-5821 TWO-BEDROOM IN quiet four-plex within walking dis-tance to campus. Available

June 1 Very nice (785)539-120

For Rent-

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartprices (785)341-6091

THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of mpus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer/ dryer. fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672.

For Rent-

Houses

FIVE, SIX, and seven-bedroom houses for rent, near campus. Call (785)539Roommate

Three-bedroom

(785)537-1448

Sublease

ROOMMATE WANTED for four-bedroom/ two bathroom house. Washer/ dryer. $200/month plus one-fourth utilit

les. Call (785)776-0736, ask

ROOMMATES WANTED

Available in August Please needed. Partially furnished apartment. Great condition, pool, laundry/ workout facili-ties. June 1-July 31 One half utilities. $240. (785)776-

MAY FREE! People desper

University Commons Fully furnished, $284/ month.

Very nice! Call (785)587-

SUMMER SUBLEASER

ills $284 per month. Cable included, completely furnish-

SUMMER SUBLEASES.

Advertise your sublease

before it's too late

dishwasher plus one-for

ed. Tony (913)593-4120

Need to sublease?

Kedzie 103 · 532-6555

One and (785)539-1713.

9710

SUBLEASES

Wanted

FOUR-BEDROOM, CLOSE

HOUSE. (785)565-1748 FOUR-BEDROOM. bathroom available June 1 Close to campus. Central air, washer/ dryer. Very $1080 (785)539-9582 NEAR CAMPUS, afforda-August lease. Also available one-bedroom apartment.

June lease. No pets, no FEMALE moking. Call (785)539-

0549. two bath house with base-ment. Washer/ dryer hookups, off-street parking, 908 4547. Thurston, Call Doug MAY (785)317-3005

NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE. Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus ups, one year lease $300/ ble June 1 Call (785)539-

130 1

For Rent-Mobile Homes

> MOBILE HOME FOR RENT sixteen-feet wide, two and hree-bedroom homes avail able, one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal They are available Call (785)776-4274 to view

For Rent-Houses

NICE FOUR-BEDROOM home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets or advertisements in the Em-smoking. June 1 lease. ployment/Career classifi-$240/ each plus utilities. Call cation, Readers are ad-

SIX-BEDROOM HOUSE nice. Close to campus. Call for appointment. (785)539-

THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available March 15 One and one-half bath washer and dryer, trash and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287 THREE-BEDROOM

PLEX available May 15. One and one-half bath washer and dryer, trash, and mowing paid $735 a THREE-BEDROOM

WASHER/ dryer hook-up, no pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre, $840 plus utilities. August lease (785)776-1351

For Sale-Mobile Homes

14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre three-bedroom and two bath, newer carpet, shower and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer. $13600. Call - (785)484-

145

Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE, one room available. June lease, private bath $160/ month. one-half utilities, no smok-ing/ pets. Call David at (785)539-8955.

ROOMMATE WANTED-Nice five-bedroom house. Split utilities. One block from Please call for info (785)

STOP PAYING exorbitant room available in May sevincludes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dry-er in basement. No smoking or drinking. C (785)494-8299. Call Brian at

150 Sublease

AVAILABLE JUNE 1st. Sub leaser wanted for three-bedroom apartment. All utilities paid. One block from campus. Call (785)539-0543. DESPERATELY SEEKING subleasel One- three-bedroom apartment, through July. Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup, $275, negotiable May rent one, two, three, or Call now

WALK TO Summer school Subleasing four-bedroom house for June and July Hartford (785)770-3605.

service directory

220 € Weight Loss & / Nutrition

HEALTHY. SAFE weight loss. Increased Energy-Immediate Results I can teach the secret! Local Distributor (785)776-1936.

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of g12 Swimsuit Calendar Photographers, Designers Wanted (785)830-0367

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of vised to approach any such employment oppor tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

Help Wanted

(785)232-0454. Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every son equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

$$$$ SUMMER JOBS $$$$ sas City this summer and are interested in a great job with the potential to make a lot of $$, consider working for College Pro Painters. You'll have fun working out-side and with your friends. If interested, please call (888)CPP-97US. For more information including job de scriptions, visit www.collegepro.com!

$1500 WEEKLY potential formation call (203)977

$250/ DAY potential/ bar 548.

ACCEPTING TIONS. Vista Drive In. a lo cally owned and operated quick service restaurant, is people to add to our team. Day, evening and weekend part-time hours available We have food discount flexible hours and promote person at 1911 Tuttle Creek

AD SALES/ Marketing/ Public Relations. Unique nation al publisher offering well paid, flexible, and rewarding local internship for spring/ summer. E-mail cover letter ucal@bendnet.com

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSIS-TANT Walters-Morgan Construction. Inc. Applicants must be able to work Monday- Wednesday- Friday from 11:30a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday- Thursday from 7:30a.m. to 1:00 p.m. during the remainder of the Spring 2002 semester and full-time over the summer. Proficiency in Microsoft Word and Excel necessary helpful. Duties include typing documents; maintain files:

incoming/outgoing mail; function as office receptioness regulatory and license filings; provide administra support for administrative functions as attire. Please send resume Morgan Construction, Attention: Meighan Nettle-ton, 2616 Tuttle Creek Bou-Manhattan 66502, fax (785)539-6521

BARTENDERS NEEDED! Earn up to $250/ day. Will Call (866)291-1884

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Puero Coun-selors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4. Call for application 800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home.

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions available, great benefits. Sea sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com

FEMALES WANTED KSU girl in wheelchair for Summer 2002. Flexible. $7.00/ hour. Call Holly (785) had8078@ksu.edu

SUMMER wanted. College/ h school student to watch my home two children, ages 9 and 11. Monday- Friday, 8am-5pm. Need own trans taxes. (785) 537-2827.

Help Wanted

FRATERNITIES. SORORI-GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Carr pusfundraiser.com three our fundraising event Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campu fundraiser.com at (888)923-Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

GREAT SUMMER income ers needed. 40 hours of free training is required. Must attend class May 7-May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm $11.40 per hour. Work will start May 18. Contact La-borers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-Manhattan. (785)537-1567, to sign up.

JOHNSON COUNTY, Sum mer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State and Extension Center Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recre-ation Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by LARGE, DIVERSIFIED farm haltan is looking for qualified individual to assume full time responsibilities in crop and livestock production. Position responsible for maintenance and operation of late model equipment. into livestock management. Great job for personable in dividual who enjoys working with other non-smoking employees. House provided Salary and benefits negotia ble with qualifications. Cal (785)889-4514 or (785)889

LIFEGUARDS NEEDED for Cross certified. Some food ties included. Apply in per-son, Manhattan Country son, Manhattan Club, 1531 N. 10th

terpreter who can speak English. Call evenings (620)786-3073

MASS COMMUNICATIONS Instructor: One semester sabbatical replacement, teach classes, advise students, supervise production of the student newspaper and perform other duties detailed on the job description. Qualifications: Masters Degree in Journalism/ Mass Communications or related area with experience in the chines, copiers, and multi-line phone systems also experience desirable, high school or other college teaching experience acceptable. Position available August 19, 2002 Application until filled. Detailed job description and application materials available upon reconsist of letter of applica tion, resume, transcripts and names, addresses and tele phone numbers of al least three professional referen ces. Only complete application materials will be reviewed. Human Resources Dodge City Community College, 2501 North 14th Aveor e-mail wmci@waltersmor nue, Dodge City, Kansas 6 7 8 0 1 tfredrick@dccc.cc.ks.us. (620)227-9386, Equal Opportunity Employer

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com bines 2388's and New Auto-Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Liboard and excellent salary! Call (785)689-4660. PART-TIME POSITION available for a very special person to join our enthusias tic and very dedicated team. Hours are mid-afternoon to early evening and every other Saturday morning. Approximately 20 hours per week Please apply at Sor-ell-Iversen Chiropractic Anderson Ave., Suite B. Manhattan, KS.

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau coach all sports. Tennis baseball, basketball, water-front, rock climbing, golf archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com

Help Wanted

PROGRAMMER CivicPlus, a leader in providing local government web a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program ming experience required. Microsoft ASP and SQL experience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain

Word or text to jobs@civicplus.com

(620)241-7270

PROGRESSIVE IRRIGAT ED/ DRY land crop farming operation. Near McPherson Kansas. Has an opening for a full-time position.

petitive salary plus health

401(k) and paid vacation.

SALES. LOCAL Company vated inside salesperson with a proven history o strong sales performance in cluding quota over achieve ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission $50,000/ year or more E mail resume in Microsoft morgan@civicplus.com. EOE

SEASONAL WORKERS. Riley County is accepting applications for seasons workers. Several position are available in the Public Works and Parks Depart ments. Valid Class C driv er's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs. required. Experi crete work, asphalt mainte nance, traffic flagging, treand turt maintenance, and mowing 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applicans are available by contacting the Department vision of Human Resources located at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more in formation call (785)565

idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley nty is an Equal Opportu nity Employer. needed by Mechanical Con tractor for job sites in Man hattan, Topeka, Lawrence Salina and Emporia. $10.43/ (785)537-2437 to name and phone number Equal Opportunity Employ er, Male/ Female. WAIT STAFF NEEDED

ble. Apply in person.

N. 10th WANTED DRIVER part-time screen. Apply Valley Con-crete, Belvue, Kansas or call (785)458-6499 WANTED:

Cowgirls and couples to quide towists and horses through the Rocky Come work for the largest horse operation in North America www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road, Boulder, CO 80301. WANTED, SUMMER me tors for Upward Bound Math and Science. Applicants fore in good academic standing, and willing to live in a residence half for the weeks of June 9 through Ju ly 29 It is preferred that applicants be seeking majors in math, science or related ( consecutive day rate ) fields. Please come to: 1800

YARDWORK Spring cleaning, pruning nance through spring and summer. Flexible hours. part-time. No mowing re quired. Some knowledge preferred (785)537-4613

Shuttle) to fill out an applica tion. Interviews begin April

Business Opportunities

330 ■

DOES YOUR summer job suck? Check out an oppor tunity to travel, gain great resume experience and make $7000. Call Jay at

Graphic Design Internship

0454

Deadlines

you want your ad to run.

Business Opportunities

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

> The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Emcation. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

E-mail resume in Microsoft for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in Kansas. For portfolio call (785)539-7479 or email kadean@kscable.com.

open market

Items for Sale

BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays (Translated to English) li_chungwang.tripod.com.

510 ■

Automobiles

HONDAS FROM $500! (800)719-3001 ext

530

Motorcycles

1985 HONDA SHADOW and purple. Nice bike, shaft (785)539-3559

travel/

ClassifiedRATES

1 DAY

20 words or less each word over 20 20¢ per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less

$8.80 each word over 20 25¢ per word

3 DAYS 20 words or less $10.35 each word over 20 30¢ per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less $11.45 each word over 20

35¢ per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less $12.50 each word over 20 40¢ per word

TO PLACE AN AD Go to Kedzie 103 (across from the K-State Student Union). Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office is open except on holidays.

CANCELLATIONS If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us before noon the day before the ad is to be published.

Art Dept.

Media Practicum MC 484

You can earn class credit for working with the ad design/ production staff on the Kansas State Collegian during fall semester 2002. Limited enrollment. The instructor's

The experience you gain in the fall could qualify you to apply for a paid, part-time position the following semester. Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information. f you are a graphic design major and would like an on-campus fall 2002 internship for credit, stop by for an application. Prerequisites must be met and instructor's permission is required. Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Would you like to have some creative input in the appearance of ads in the Kansas State Collegian?

from 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

housing/ real estate For Rent-

Apts. Furnished Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinct tion on account of race, sex, familial status, military- status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Viola-tions should be reported to the Director of Human at City Hall,

. CLASSIFIEDS + 532-6555

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

"Stay In

Commons"

Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom *Alarm System *Swimming Pool *Washer/Dryer

*Computer Lab *Fitness Center *Permit Parking Tennis/Volleyball Courts

Sat. 10-4 539-0500

· COMMONS ·

For Rent-

911 SUNSET four-bedrooms and one-bedroom 1112 Bluemont, one-bed-(785)776-9288 or (785)776-0683.

AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

www.beloose.com/linwood FOR RENT, new one, two, and four-bedroom Some close to campus. All appliances. Some with washer/ dryer hookups. Call (785)341-2269 for information. Carl Den-

Now Leasing Bills Included 1 BR from $395

3 BR from $600 4 BR from $720 539-8401

PLACE APART Three-bedrooms. (785)539-

For Rent-Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM, WALK to LEASING FOR ALL. Two-

class At The *Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-5.

INIVERSITY

APARTMENTS 2215 COLLEGE AVE

Unfurnished

THREE AND Four-bed-

ning Construction.

K-Rental Mgmt. 2 BR from $500

MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR bath, plus unfinished base FIRST STOP. One, Two, ment, central air, Washer (785)539-5627 campus. Ample parking, qui-et conditions, laundry, fur-nished or unfurnished, (785)539-3638. tion, condition. (785)776-4166 closear@kansas.net http://www.angelfire.com/ks apartment. Roomy. Low utilpaid. Laundry facilities. Pool. By Westloop. June $460/ (785)587-8310. NICE, CLEAN, two-bedroom Close to campus. Fall lease.

For Rent-

ONE OR two-bedrooms Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. June 928 Leavenworth. bedroom house, 316 N.

ONE. TWO and three-bedroom apartments. Close to campus June and August leases. No pets. Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-ONE, TWO, three and fourbedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-ments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile from ONE-BEDROOM $405. 1225 Claffin. Two-bedroom, $550, 1320 N. Manhattan

Avenue. One-bedroom stu-

dio furnished, 1219 Claffin

$330. (785)456-2812. No ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX apartment, unfurnished, no smoking, no pets, nice-shady yard, central air-conditioning, water/ trash paid.

4891 ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash FOUR-BEDROOM. ONE paid. $390/ month. Call bath house for rent. June 1 785)537-7810.

month. (785)539-

rooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537-THREE-BEDROOM WALK-OUT basement apartment Central air, washer/ dryer, off-street parking. Three off-street parking.

(785)336-2784. THREE-BEDROOM. pets or smokers. 1021 Fremont. $780.00 plus utilities August lease. (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO

June 1. $675/ month. Wash er/ dryer/ window air-condi-tioning. 709 Bluemont.

(785)539-4949, leave mes-TWO-BEDROOM TOWN HOUSE, one and one-hall ment, central air, Washer/ dryer hook-ups, no pets

Unfurnished

Now Leasing LEASEN 3 BR From $744

Across from KSU stadium Please call for an appointmen

Available

CLEAN QUIET, private room, and bath, for male $250/ month. Utilities paid. Adjacent to campus, offstreet parking. Call (785) 539-4073

FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term leases. Call Century 21 short-term Knight, (785)565-0138.

For Rent-Houses 1415 LEGORE Lane $1100/ month. Four-bed-room. August 1. Close to

campus. (785)776-7202

FOUR-BEDROOM.

$960/ month. Washer/ dryer 900 Vattier (785)539-4949. Leave mes-permission is required. No prerequisites are necessary.

Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Advertising Design

for more information.

Come to 113 Kedzie

AGGIEVILLE

Continued from page 1

drink and party until around the 1970's. Before that, Aggieville was more of a full-service area.

"From about the '20s to the '60s, there was grocery stores in Aggieville," Walter said. "A lot of those places catered to the residence halls, fraternities and sororities.

"There was a change in the '70s and '80s when bars began catering to students and the night life emerged."

The change in Aggieville's reputation hasn't hurt its business though, said Cheryl Sieben, director of the Aggieville Business Association.

"People see Aggieville as an entertainment district, but Aggieville has a lot of faces," Sieben said.

Sieben said as long as the Aggieville is located next to the university, it will be a convenient place for students.

"Aggieville is located right between the university and where many people live," she said. "It is obviously convenient for people to come to since it is a concentrated place."

Sieben said Aggieville is a Manhattan trademark and even though it is not a place that caters to tourists, people often hear of Aggieville and visit Manhattan just to experience it.

"Manhattan is lucky to have Aggieville," Sieben said. "Most people hear about Aggieville and want to visit it. We are good city partners. I can't imagine Manhattan without Aggieville."

Mulch matters

Benjamin Wieland, sophomore in horticulture and golf course management, removes mulch from around the trees and dumps it on a truck at Blueville Nursery with Jessica Martin, freshman in horticulture and landscape design.

Times in the 'Ville

1889

Aggieville's first business is started by a KSAC student

Aggieville consists of a few houses and fields outside of Kansas State Agricultural College

The Student Co-operative Association on the comer of Moro Street and

Source: Aggleville 1889-1989: 100 Years of Aggleville Tradition by Dan Walters

built the first brick building in Aggieville

KSAC students formed The Student's Co-operative Association in response to high prices in Manhattan stores

1908-1909 The business district is officially named Aggieville. The name came from either the KSAC sports team the "Aggies" or from a cookie salesman who jokingly called the business district Aggieville in a letter to a 1913 A two-story building is constructed east of The Student Co-operative Store.

A trolley line is installed from the downtown train depot to the KSAC campus.

Renee McDaniel/Collegian

Energy secretary meets with industry leaders

BY H. JOSEF HEBERT

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Energy Secretary Spencer Abraham held at least eight private meetings with industry leaders, including many staunch GOP political contributors, but none with environmentalists as the administration crafted its energy plan, newly released documents

The meetings between Abraham and the energy industry executives were disclosed in thousands of papers related to agency participation in Vice President Dick Cheney's energy task force in early 2001.

The White House on Tuesday defended Abraham and the meetings.

"News flash: it's no surprise to anybody that the secretary of energy meets with energy-related groups," White House press secretary Ari Fleischer told reporters.

Of the three dozen individuals and groups that met with Abraham.

a half dozen of them accounted for nearly $3.3 million in political contributions to Republicans since 1999, almost three times what they gave Democrats, according to the Center for Responsive Politics.

Critics of the administration's energy policies have argued that industry had an open door to toplevel administration policy makers, while those advocating conservation, energy efficiency improvements and renewable energy sources were given largely

Fleischer suggested that environmentalists and those advocating energy conservation or renewable fuels had other avenues of access. "Others in the government routinely, regularly meet with other (outside) officials and all of that gets combined," he said. But the White House has refused to provide a list of people who met directly with the Cheney task force in the months prior to its release of its energy report last May.

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Longherns Bottles Cooder Graw

Live Friday $5 general admission

Presenting the newest members of the

KSU STUDENT FOUNDATION Andrea Bennett_ Leslie Hill

Sarah Fisher Lindsey Hoch Jessica Garcia Kim Gewain

Stephanie Grecian Brian Hall Grant Helmers

Katle Jarmer Abbey Koch Jimmy Kummer Biarica Luna

Curtis Schwieterman Sonder Smith Stephanie Speer John Thompson Katie Verschelden Courtney Wickline Mandy Massullo Dustin Yost

Congratulations!!!

APARTMENT NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p

*Starting at $370

Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p

*Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

2521 Candlecrest Cr.

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

2700 Amherst Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES

MOCK INTERVIEWS

APRIL 9, 200

Sign up begins March 27 to March 29 on the CES webpage (students registered with ces)

www.ksu.edu/ces

April 1-3 you can sign up in Holtz Hall (all students)

TOPEKA CAPITAL JOURNAL

FLEISHMAN-HILLARD COMMUNICATION, INC

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

KANSAS CHILDREN'S SERVICE LEAGUE

TARGET CORPORATION PFIZER, INC

STATE OF KANSAS

SPRINT THE FARM

A 20-MINUTE PROFESSIONAL INTERVIEW WITH A COMPANY REPRESENTATIVE. FOLLOWED BY A TEN-MINUTE CRITIQUE

SPONSORED BY ARTS & SCIENCES AMBASSADORS & CAREER & EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN March 28, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan,

n. Volume 106, Number 120 www.kstatecollegian.com

Cook wins revote

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Zac Cook responds to reading the results while Todd Kohman receives a hug from Josh Sturgls, their campaign manager. The two candidates waited for results from the basement of Cook's house Wednesday night.

Cook, Kohman looking forward to implementing platform issues, changes

BY EDIE HALL

Vice president-elect Todd Kohman had one question.

"This is official, right?" Kohman said, after reading that he and running mate Zac Cook had won the second general election for student body president and vice president Wednesday night.

Cook and Kohman took 51 percent of the vote, leaving opponents Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles with 48 percent.

Hugs, smiles and laughter were all that could be seen and heard in Cook and Kohman's basement where they and their supporters had gathered to hear the results.

"We never gave up. We kept going, kept pushing, went more places," Cook said. "We went 100 percent for a week solid, just letting people know we were still in it."

Cook and Kohman both said they were looking forward to implementing the changes that comprised their platform issues.

"I'm looking forward to making all the changes that I vowed to make, when it looked like we might not come out on top," Cook said. "We've always said that we're going to change K-State for better."

Kohman said the pair had a lot of hard work ahead of them, but he hoped to make permanent changes to the university that will help current students as well as graduates of K-State.

The hard work Kohman mentioned includes the continuation of work on the first step of an open-door policy by increasing communication with K-State-Salina.

Cook said that to work toward this goal, they already had written a bill to move the

Ser COOK on PAGE 9

Wolters, Achilles disappointed, ready to move on

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansas State Callegian

Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles stared at the sheet of paper. Wolters spoke first.

"Zac Cook and Todd Kohman - 1,837. Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles — 1,740," he said.

After the third election facing Cook and Kohman, Wolters said he does not plan to contest the results. The candidates said they were disappointed, but ready to move

"It's done," he said. "I'm going fishing." Wolters, Achilles and supporters met at Alpha Delta Pi sorority house to receive the results.

Despite an election fraught with controversy, Wolters said he was proud of what he and Achilles accomplished.

"From day one, we wanted to share what it is that we wanted to do at K-State," he said. "The waters got a little muddy, but I think we still did that. We're proud of the fact that we did that."

Achilles agreed.

"We fought fair," she said.

Having elections after spring break might have affected voting a little, but Wolters said he was satisfied with the election process. Voter turnout was higher than some Student Governing Association officials predicted, with 3,577 students voting.

"I was fairly impressed with how we started to get back to the real purpose of the student body presidential election," he Thanking their supporters, Wolters and Achilles said they couldn't have done any of this without them. Wolters said this election has given him the opportunity to meet and work with more people.

'That's something I've always enjoyed doing," he said. "From the first time you set foot on this campus, it's about the people."

Wolters wished Cook and Kohman

Saa WOLTERS on PAGE 9

Drew Rose/Collegian

Mandy Achilles hugs Heidi Durflinger, Junior in marketing and president of Alpha Delta Pi, after hearing the results of the election Wednesday night. Wolters and Achilles lost the presidential election by a 97-vote margin.

Difference of 97 votes overturns original election results

Karaju State Collegian

The original results of the general election for president and vice president were overturned in the re-election Wednesday night when Zac Cook and Todd Kohman were declared the winners over Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles with a margin of 97 votes.

"I was surprised," Cook said, "I knew It was going to be close either one."

Ted Conrad, elections committee chair, hand-delivered the results to the candidates. He said he was pleased with the re-election process and results. "I think the voting was very straightforward," he said. "I think everybody who wanted to vote could vote, and I was actually really happy with the turnout."

The total number of student votes came to 3,577 or 18.4 percent of the student body.

"It was an issue everyone was talking about," Conrad said, "I feel like there's been some controversy, and I think people tend to get interested when there is controversy, and get involved. I think it's a testament to both candidates, that they did a good job campaigning.

Kohman said he sympathized with Wolters and Achilles.

"My heart goes out to Matt and Mandy," he said. "I know how hard they worked. They worked just as hard as we Cook said that instead of celebrating, he was thinking of Wolters and Achilles.

"I felt really bad for them," he said. "The worst thing is if you win something and have it taken away from you. I didn't smile. I knew how they were feeling."

Conrad said he felt that the results were legitimate and declared the totals official.

Cook said he initially was concerned that invalid results would once again be announced.

"I pulled Ted aside when he came here," Cook said. "I didn't want any fuzzy math going on. I wanted to make sure this was the straight-up count."

Despite revisions in the online voting process, some students still were unable

ELECTION on PAGE 9

Athletics employee found dead

Kansas State Collegian

K-State's former assistant director of corporate relations for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics was found dead in his home Tuesday.

Steve Mammola, 33, was discovered by a friend at 12:07 p.m., said Gary Grubbs, Riley County Police Department captain.

The RCPD investigated the incident as an unattended death, and Mammola's body underwent an autopsy at 9 a.m. Wednesday morning.

John Bambara, district coroner, said Mammola died of self-inflicted wounds. He said there was no indication of foul play.

Mammola had been at K-State for four years. As an athletic department employee, he was responsible for sponsorships, signage and Before Mammola came to K-State, he was the director of corporate sales at the University of Washington. He also worked in other sales and marketing capacities at other universities.

Mammola earned his bachelor's degree in business management from the University of Vermont in 1991. At K-State, he was a twotime first team all-conference selection in

Doug Dull, sports information director, said Mammola was a positive influence on the athletic department. Dull said his energy will

Pedestrian airlifted after struck by car

BY JAMIE BARRETT Kanssa' State Callegian

A pedestrian crossing north Manhattan Avenue was hit by a vehicle traveling north Wednesday evening.

Yu Da Jung, Manhattan resident, was airlifted to Wichita after she was treated at Mercy Health Center on College Avenue.

Lieutenant Herb Crosby of the Riley County Police Department said in a press release that the police received a call at about 7:49 p.m. reporting the vehicle pedestrian accident.

Jeremy Bambara, junior in agricultural economics, said he saw the car hit Jung as he traveled toward Manhattan Avenue on Claffin Avenue.

"I just saw her fly across the intersection as I was driving," he said.

Bambara said he stopped his car, called the police and an ambulance arrived soon

He said he observed passers-by performing CPR on Jung before the ambulance arrived.

Police are conducting an on-going investigation regarding the accident, Crosby said in a press release.

Palestinian man kills 19 in hotel

BY JASON KEYSER The Associated Press

NETANYA, Israel - A suicide bomber burst into a hotel dining room and blew himself up Wednesday just as Israelis were sitting down to a Seder meal celebrating the Jewish Passover. At least 19 Israelis were killed and more than 120 wounded.

The explosion tore through the ground floor of the Park Hotel in this resort.

"Suddenly it was hell," said one of the guests, Nechama Donenhirsch, 52. "There was the smell of smoke and dust in my mouth and a ringing in my ears."

The Islamic militant group Hamas claimed responsibility for what Israeli government spokesman Gideon Meir called a "Passover massacre." The bomber, a 25-year-old Palestinian, had worked in Netanya hotels.

The bombing in Netanya threatened to derail the latest U.S. truce mission, just hours after President Bush said his envoy to the region had made some progress.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

LOCAL IN BRIEF

RCPD arrests 6 students in possession of marijuana

Six K-State students were arrested late Tuesday night at Top of the World park for possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, according to the Riley County Police Department.

Heather Etzkorn, 428 Ford Hall; Desiree Hannen, 420 Ford Hall; Amber Harrison, 834 Ford Hall; Zachary Rowe, 236 Putnam Hall; Daniel Thellman, 520 Haymaker and Kelly Upp, 902 Haymaker were arrested at the scene at 11:36 p.m.

"It was unusual because there were so many at once," said Lt. Kurt Moldrop of the RCPD.

The students were all in the same car at the park, which was closed, Moldrup said. A police officer encountered the group on a routine patrol, and after checking on the occupants, discovered the controlled substance, he said. The six were released on a $1,000 bond.

- Tara Patty

Student publications selects executive positions

The Board of Student Publications hired executive positions for the summer 2002 Collegian news staff and advertising staff, and 2002-2003 Royal Purple Yearbook Wednesday evening.

Nancy Foster, senior in print journalism and advertising, was hired as the summer 2002 Collegian editor in chief. She said she is excited about the opportunities the paper presents.

"I am ready to tackle all that putting together a good paper entails," Foster

Alissa Duncan, senior in theater, was hired as the summer 2002 advertising manager. Duncan was unavailable for comment.

Lindsay Thorpe, junior in print journalism, was hired as the 2002-2003 Royal Purple editor. She said she is looking forward to working with a talented staff and producing a great yearbook.

"It is a big-time commitment," she said. "I know there are a lot of deadlines and responsibilities. I think I am up to that and am even looking forward to the long nights."

- Jamie Barrett

STATE IN BRIEF

Kansas wheat crop raising fears as conditions worsen

WICHITA - Farmers now have more than just the lingering drought to fear as their winter wheat fields begin greening across Kansas.

U.S. Department of Agriculture pathologist Bob Bowden said Wednesday that stripe rust has survived the winter in Texas, and he puts the risk for Kansas having an infestation as moderately high.

An epidemic of stripe rust last year cut yields on infected winter wheat fields from 25 to 50 percent in Kansas.

NATION IN BRIEF

Death toll nears 600 from Afghanistan earthquake

NAHRIN, Afghanistan - A strong aftershock sent boulders tumbling across mountain roads on Wednesday, blocking efforts to rush relief supplies to tens of thousands of homeless Afghans after a devastating earthquake. Officials said the death toll was in the hundreds, not the thousands originally feared.

The 6.1-magnitude quake struck nearly 80 villages Monday in a mountainous region nine miles in radius, leaving 100,000 people homeless or cut off from food supplies. There were 600 confirmed deaths Wednesday, and the United Nations said the toll was expected to reach 800 to 1,200.

By Afghan standards, aid reached the quake-stricken Hindu Kush region with remarkable speed - assisted by U.S. forces in Afghanistan to battle Taliban and al-Qaeda forces and international peacekeepers whose first job is maintaining security in the capital, Kabul.

Saudi leader offers peace proposal to Israel leader

BEIRUT, Lebanon - Disarray plagued the opening of a summit meant to unite the Arab world Wednesday as Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah laid out his proposal for a comprehensive landfor-peace pact with Israel.

Key players didn't show up for the gathering of Arab leaders in the Lebanese capital; the Palestinians walked out when Yasser Arafat was not allowed to speak; and the No. 2 Saudi delegate suffered a stroke. During a break between sessions, officials tried to keep the Palestinian delegation - said to have collected its passports at the hotel desk - from departing.

Still, Arafat welcomed Abdullah's call for the Arab world to offer Israel "normal relations" and security in return for a full withdrawal from Arab lands captured in 1967, recognition of a Palestinian state with east Jerusalem as a capital and the right of return for Palestinian refugees.

graduate teaching assistant at K-State. He specializes in the research of meat products. Zach Long/Collegian

Graduate student focuses on dissertation, not teaching

BY KETRA SCHONBRUN Kansus State Collegian

southern Texas native has traveled to K-State because of the meat science department.

Ty Lawrence, graduate student in meat science, has been around agriculture for a long time.

He first became interested in meat science after taking a basic meat science class as a freshman at the University of West Texas, where he earned a bachelor's degree in animal science and a master's degree in agriculture.

Lawrence was a graduate student assistant in three meat science classes in fall 2001. This semester, he is taking a break from being an assistant to work on his dissertation for his doctoral degree.

He said a lot of graduate students take a second semester off from being a student assistant to focus on their research and dissertations. The main point of Lawrence's dissertation

See Graduate on PAGE 9

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

Jodi Fagerquist

Ad Manager

eCollegian Editor

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service Hems in the colendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaran teed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calcudar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

Sigma lota Rho International Relations Honorary will meet at 5 p.m. today in Waters 230. The Muslim Student Association will meet from 7 to 9 tonight in the Union Big 12 Room.

III Lutheran and Episcopal Campus Ministry will meet at 9 tonight in the Danforth Chapel.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space

Riley County Tuesday, March 26

At 9:15 a.m., Benjamin Jones, 1208 Pierre, was arrested for probation violation. No bond was set. At 10 a.m., Exxon Brown, 1412 Beechwood Terrace, Apt. 8, was arrested for driving on a suspended license and failure to stop at an intersection. No bond was set. At 11:20 a.m., Robert Cuchy, Ogden, was arrested for failure to appear and probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000. m At 1:45 p.m., Robert Scott, Ogden, was arrested for contempt of court.

Bond was set at $1,000.

possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphemalia and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. M At 11:36 p.m., Desiree Hannen, 420 Ford Hall, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphemalia and unlawful possession of depressants. Bond was set at $1,000. At 11:36 p.m., Amber Harrison 834 Ford Hall, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphernalia and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. ■ At 11:36 p.m., Zachary Rowe, 236 Putnam Hall, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled

At 11:36 p.m., Heather Etzkom,

428 Ford Hall, was arrested for substance and drug paraphemalia and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. At 11:36 p.m., Daniel Theliman, 520 Haymaker Hall, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphemalia and unlawful possession of depressants. No bond was set. m At 11:36 p.m., Kelly Upp, 902 Haymaker Hall, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance and drug paraphemalia and unlawful possession of depressants. Bond was set at $1,000. m At 11:40 p.m., Stephanie Yonning 324 Osage St., Apt. 2, was arrested for theft and vehicular burglary. No bond was set. III At 11:50 p.m., William Dotson, Junction City, was arrested for driving on a suspended license. Bond was #### set at $1.500. Wednesday, March 27

IIII At 1 a.m., Carlos Dukes, Ohio, was arrested for obstruction of the legal process and two counts of failure to appear. Bond was set at $500.

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts

Editor in Chief

April Middleton Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Dana Strongin Campus Editor

Alyson Raletz

City/Gov Editor

Paul Restivo

Copy Chief Nicole Donnert

Asst. Photo Director

Opinion Editor

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Katie Lane

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

A&E Editor

Amber Koehn

Sports Editor

Presentation Editor

Alissa Duncan Asst. Ad

CONTACT US

BY MAIL

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN ersity, is published by Stielent Publications Inc., Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays thring the summer. Periodical postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan. 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State

Kedue 103, Manhattan, Kan. 60506-7167. © Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Display advertising 532-6560 Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

Photo reprints

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS There was an error in

Wednesday's Collegian. Leslie Small was K-State's 25th Truman Scholarship recipient. The Collegian regrets the error.

532-6556

532-6304

Ramblers STEAK HOUSE & SALOON

Night Specials 12 oz. USDA Choice Top Sirloin Choice of potato, salad and dinner roll all for $7.99 + tax

Thursday

"The Couples Special" 2 complete dinners for only $14.99 + tax 8711 E. Hwy. 24

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

early edition restaurant reakfast • Brur 3210 Kimball 539-3255 (Candlewood Shopping Center)

Now open for dinner!

4:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday & Friday nights

Also serving breakfast, brunch, and lunch from 6:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Mon-Fri, 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sat-Sun on our big screen.

Your Career Takes Hight Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do.

> Consider the possibilities... SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide instruction SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS – Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. I:I staff/student ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR, SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Safary $34,585 - $48,628, based on education & superience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at decoper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. EEO/M/F

HEARTSPRING 8700 East 29th Street North + Wiches, KS 67226 (800) 835-(043 + fax (316) 634-0535

Need Money for College?

$52,000 or more Receive up to

The cost of college is going up, up, up. A regular paycheck and educational incentives can help you pay your way. Best of all, you work part-time. So, you can go to college and keep your social life while you serve your community and country. Call us now to see if you're eligible at 861-4295 or toll free 1-800-435-5149 or www.goang.com Located in Topeka, KS. Fuel Your Future Air National Guard KANSAS

Salina fraternity camps out for homeless

BY KASEY BROWN

Kansas State Collaniae

In order to raise awareness for the homeless, K-State-Salina's Phi Delta Theta fraternity will have its annual box village tonight in the Wal-Mart parking lot.

The group will stay in cardboard boxes from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. and will be asking for donations of food, money or clothing for the homeless.

"This activity is a way to show people how the homeless really live and why we need to help them," said Tom Schmieding, fund raising and philanthropy chair for the Phi

"We are trying to live as close as to what they do for one night. The only things we have are a sleeping bag and our clothes. No heaters or any other equipment to stay warm."

This will be the second time the fraternity has had its box village. However, the location has changed from last year when it was on the lawn of the college center at the

"Holding the fundraiser at Wal-Mart this year will make it more visual. More people will be able to see it," Schmieding said.

Phi Delt member Adama Allmond also agreed that this location would be a better set-up, and called Wal-Mart to ask permis-

"Not only do you stand a better chance of people seeing you, but when they are in Wal-Mart they may decide to buy a can of food or piece of clothing and give it to us. It should really affect the amount of donations," Allmond said.

Phi Delt member Kevin Gorman said the box village was only noticed by a select group of people last year also due to the location.

"The only people that saw us last year were students and faculty mostly, so that's where we got the donation from, The Wal-Mart situation should bring about more attention. This activity should be eyeopening, and we hope to really affect people," he said.

changing, the participating fraterweather conditions.

would appreciate any donations research and 3 cents goes to the

The College of Engineering account will receive about a 7.7-raised for diabetes research and a

In both accounts, 50 percent of Sperman said accounts would

5-percent commission for funds raised for Alzheimer's research.

funds will go toward tuition reimbursements. The other 50 percent will go directly to the soon be available for other colleges and departments.

funds are generated.

Statistics will be posted on the G.Y.N.O. Industries Web site as colleges.

percent commission for funds

College of Education.

Students' plan helps charity, decreases tuition

BY SHANNON HARTENSTEIN

Students might never have to pay tuition again with a plan devised by three K-State students.

David Darling, sophomore in social science, James Sperman and Travis Volz, juniors in business administration, formed G.Y.N.O. Industries, Giving Youths New Opportunities. The company creates and develops innovative fund-raising programs for school and community groups.

When supporters purchase products from G.Y.N.O. Industries' partner company, Trek Alliance, a percentage is donated to charity and sales commissions come back to school and community groups.

Trek Alliance offers environmentally-safe and healthconscious products, including toothpaste, hair and skin-care products, nutritional and weight loss supplements, and cleaning products

The G.Y.N.O. Industries team presented their plan to K-State administrators, students and professors, proposing to establish accounts to collect money for colleges. Clubs and organizations would be responsible for promoting sales, but not selling personally Organizations designate a charity to receive funds when enrolling with Trek Alliance. When community supporters order Trek Alliance products, 3 percent of

Raising funds

More information about the K-State plan is available at www.gynoindus-tries.com/1new/KSU_Plan.html each purchase goes to charity and a variable percent commission goes to the organization.

"We're giving people an avenue to make educated buying decisions where they get to see the benefits directly." Darling said. "There's just one simple step. All we're asking people to do is to forward on the message.

"It's as simple as writing e-mail or letter, if students took just a few minutes a day. We're doing all the leg-work for them.

The plan might offer free tuition and tuition reimbursement checks, Sperman said. One goal is to create tuition reimbursements for students that will surpass tuition costs after two years and reach $10,000 per year per student after five years, he said.

However, the feasibility might be questionable, said Larry Moeder, director of admissions and student financial assistance.

"It sounds like it would have to be a pretty aggressive campaign to raise that level of funding to cover full tuition for students," he said. "I don't know how many students they can cover. They need to look at whether the funds are immediately expendable, or will they be raised or invested to be there permanently - to use earnings to generate scholarship dollars."

Moeder said funds generated by the plan could be beneficial. "Any scholarship assistance that can be given to students is wonderful," he said. "There are many bright and financially needy tance. Those are the students the plan aims to help, Darling said.

students that can use the assis-

"When you pay $1,500 to $3,000 per semester for tuition, most students can't afford that and have to take out student loans," he said. "Imagine if they didn't have to have that to pay back when they walked out of college.

The plan is designed to improve the educational system, Sperman said.

"Successful implementation will increase K-State's ability to attract, pay and retain a large faculty and staff comprised of the nation's top educators," he said.

Accounts for the colleges of Education and Engineering have already been established, Sperman said. G.Y.N.O. Industries will manage the accounts until an organization claims responsibility.

The College of Education account will receive about a 5percent commission of the money raised for breast cancer research. So for every dollar spent on Trek Alliance's products by a Breast Cancer research supporter, 40 cents goes to breast cancer

The fraternity hopes to make the box village a continuing tradition at K-State-Salina and would like other groups to join. "We appreciate all the help that comes out, and we are doing this to benefit others," Schmieding said. Although the forecast keeps nity members plan on braving any

"Come rain or shine, we plan on being out there the whole night and that we can get," Allmond said.

Update

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Tim Blackburn, senior in Spanish and an employee at Pat's Blue Ribbon in Aggleville, replaces the letters on a sign overhanging the entrance to the bar Tuesday afternoon.

eason for

*58 CITIZENSHIP

onviolence Robert Muller, former assistant secretary general to the UN, urges, "Use every letter you write, every conversation you have, every meeting you attend, to express your fundamental beliefs and dreams."

Today call or write one of your legislators and register your views.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by The League of Women Voters of Manhattan/Riley County, (For more information 537-7519)

and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

Community Easter Service

given by pastor Dave Thompson McCain Auditorium

10 - 11:15 a.m.

Everyone Welcome

sponsored by Westview Community Church

NOBLE ROMAN'S ANNOUNCES ON-CAMPUS PIZZA DELIVERY

M-F 11am-3pm

NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL! 1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8

*Starting at $370

W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie By Appointment Only *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

APARTMENT

MODEL SHOWINGS!

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1113 Bertrand #4 W 1:30p-3:30p Th 2p-4p Sun. 3:30p-5:30p *Starting at $575

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p 5at 11a-1p *Starting at $580

1524 McCain #2 M & W 11:30a-1:30p Sun 11:30a-1:30p *Starting at $560

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Elections final; campus needs to move forward

No, we're serious this time. It's been three weeks since the elections committee announced that the Wolters/Achilles ticket had defeated Cook and Kohman.

But Wednesday night, the opposite

OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

majority opinion is

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Katle Lane

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Paul Restivo

April Middleton

was true. Cook and Kohman, after contesting the results of the first election, have come out victorious.

And now it's time to move on.

There are many reasons to be thankful, and just as many reasons be upset, but the fact stands that Cook and Kohman will lead our campus during the 2002-03 academic year.

K-State's image Micah Hawkinson can't afford to be tarnished by grudges and hard feelings toward our campus

The student body needs to accept the new winners and stand behind them in their pursuit to improve K-State.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

I was just wondering when the Collegian was going to cover any of the Academy Award winners.

I don't know who the drunk girl was at Auntie Mae's on Monday night that accused me of having her baby. But, I don't think so, and I ain't putting my child support check in the mail, either.

Hi, I've got some ignorant, unsupported opinions about gender and sports. Does that mean I get my own column?

Jared Wiesner, this is the English police. The next time you misuse "careful" you will be arrested and beaten.

You're an idiot, Peter. Women deserve to be equal to men. Title IX is just the thing to ensure that.

The lady that answers the phone when you call the Fourum sounds hot.

The answer to the woodchuck question is: he would cut a quart of connifer if you gave him a quarter for every quarter of a quart he cut.

The flamed dirt bike is for sale, and I do get all the chicks.

I want to marry the girl who wants to marry the Long John Silver's shrimp, because he rocks.

Elections are so fun. Can we please have another one?

Yes, it is bad to sniff the chemicals directly. Instead, you should waft them.

Did those guys ever figure out who let the dogs out?

To all the Jayhawk fans: fear the turtle. Say what you will, but in my heart, KU will always suck.

Oh, yeah. I am the biggest Maryland fan. Go Terrapins!

You know that white speck on chicken poo? It's chicken poo, too.

God bless the man who invented the two-seater toilet ot enough fourum in today's Collegian? www.kstatecollegian.com

Mass marketing

MTV, spring break infect students with lurid behavior

y spring break was quite uneventful. I didn't even leave Kansas.

I took it pretty easy nothing wild or outrageous this year. I went home, saw my family and came back to Manhattan to get some schoolwork

One day, I decided to flip to MTV and see what it was doing for its coverage of Spring Break 2002.

done.

Sadly, I saw exactly what I expected: a bunch of tall, skinny, big-breasted chicks with thongs who looked like they fell into a vat of boiling lard (not to mention the butterfly tattoos on their backs and metal spikes wedged into their mouths and belly buttons).

Hmmm ... is it a coincidence they all fit the MTV stereotype?

The best thing was watching them grind on guys who also all looked the same: no shirts, barbedwire tattoos on their arms, nice hair and fake South Bronx accents.

That got me thinking. Why do all these people look the same? Is this what everyone is actually doing on spring break? I don't remember my vacations ever being that wild.

I can assure you, the chances of me getting on MTV are slim to none. String-bean farm kids probably don't make it past the MTV screening room too often.

Kyle Brownback would even have a better chance than me of getting in.

I have to admit, I rarely watch the TV station geared toward cookie-cutter youth. In fact, the only time I do catch glimpses of it is when I'm flipping past it en route to the Discovery and History channels

I know I'm not in the minority for my age group. Most college students, I hope, have outgrown the teenybopper, rap music shows hosted by Carson Daly.

As seasoned music lovers, we are glued to VH1's "Behind the Music" to find shocking details of how Led Zeppelin got its name, why David Lee Roth was axed from Van Halen and when Boy George was actually a man.

MTV is for lower-life neophytes of music appreciation. Nonetheless, I still find MTV's representation of college students during spring break amusing and worth a few minutes of my time.

The real question is this: why is MTV's control on popular images so powerful?

> It's because they feed back to us what we feed them. We are one huge > > focus group (sound familiar, marketing Tanner Ehmke If we want tasteless music and lurid images, then that's what is mass marketed (only at a higher decibel and sprin-> same images). Ever notice how American Eagle Outfitters, Gap and Tommy Hilfiger commercials all seem the same?

kled with advertising using the

I've noticed there are two shapes of cookie cutters for college students created by MTV, one for both sexes: "Drunk Sorority Sluts Gone Wild" and "Angry Young White Males Rebelling Against Authority.'

The sad thing is, some of us actually give our best efforts to emulate these two images. How many of us have tattoos and body piercings, or listen to shallow music?

Because of this, I came to the conclusion that college students fall prone to the tragic disease TRLS, or "Total Request Live"

TRLS is when you become infected and your speech patterns become altered. You start using words like "dude," "fool," and/or "be-otch."

Phrases common to the afflicted are "Hey, 'sup yo!" and "Ooooooo, girl, for reeeeeal?"

Another less common phrase. is "Yo, peep this, dog. We be down wi dat at my crib.'

The afflicted might wear tight black pants to class

Body piercings, one-sleeved shirts and black turtlenecks are also common.

TRLS also makes people listen to tasteless music like Korn, Limp Bizkit, DMX or la Rule. Severe cases result in the purchasing of Christina Aguilera or Brandy albums.

If you have exhibited any of these symptoms since your return from spring break, you might be infected with TRLS.

Or maybe you just have bad taste. Either way, one thing is certain: The only cure is to stop watching MTV and stop copying their images, and listen to real music with substance, like Pearl Jam, Blind Melon and Bob Dylan.

Peep dat, foo:

Tanner is a graduate student in print journalism. You can e-mail him at tce2225@ksu.edu.

Children don't need added pressure of growing up too soon

his Sunday I awoke to hear a TV anchor man discussing the problem of "sexual deviancy" regarding America's youth. One solution proposed? Starting sexual education classes in elementary school.

I jumped off the couch and leaned closer to the television, making sure I heard him correctly.

Sadly, I did. The idea enraged me, somehow, and I sat perplexed, thinking of the reasons I recollected my own childhood, and how gloriously naive I was. The closest I came to a male's anatomy was when I undressed my Ken doll

Would I have been mentally prepared, as a fourth grader, to watch "The Joy of Birth" with my classmates or to accept condoms and pamphlets concerning STDs and proper birth control?

Was it not awkward enough in middle my

Susan Powell

Although I remember the horror of sex ed I endured as an adolescent, I can't imagine viewing birds-and-thebees-type videos as a

There are natural transitions in one's life, puberty being one of them. It's at this stage in the life cycle the body becomes more adult, as does the mind. Sexuality becomes an issue.

Most children hit puberty between sixth and eighth grade. Doesn't that seem a more appropriate time to introduce "the Why show "The Joy of Birth" to girls

Children are pushed into adulthood more aggressively and sooner with each passing year. Television, music, and other forms of entertainment are exposing children to issues that might be a bit too explicit or adult in content I remember the peer pressure that mounted in junior high - the need to fit in, seem more adult, more experienced than the next adolescent.

I can't imagine what these kids go through today. We adults tend to look back with regret at our misspent youth. We wish we had spent more time riding our bikes around the neighborhood, playing "tag" or "house" with friends. Now we, as

Melesa Lorett/Collegian

adults, are suggesting that not only peers, but the school system should impose adult thought on children.

I'm not suggesting that youngsters be kept in the dark. If a child asks you a question, you should answer it as honestly as possible.

Children are not stupid.

However, their capacity to fully understand the details and consequences of their impending sexuality is not properly developed as a 7-or 10-year-old. The best way to counteract sexual deviancy is to allow children to just be Be open, be supportive, but also know where to draw the line. Don't allow the system to go about solving this the wrong way. Don't rob children of their childhood. A child's proper development and support from his family is the best solution to this societal problem.

Susan in a junior in English. You can e-mail her at sjp8478@ksu.edu.

READERS WRITE

Columnist needs to realize hypocrisy of own comments

I would like respond to David McCandless' article, "Students need to cease use of hate language," from Wednesday's Collegian.

I find many of the points in the article to be well-constructed, but I cannot let a prominent issue of hypocrisy go unaddressed. As a Christian, I find hate dire toward any group offensive. The same upstanding people, who would never say anything to offend a homosexual, often willingly bash conservatives, Christians or any other group deemed politically incorrect. I know some feel people like Fred Phelps are typical of Christianity.

When you get past the ignorant fervor of false religion, you will find the God of the Bible calls people to love, respect and pray for others. In the midst of David's article, he says, "Every incident |of hate speech| makes all of us in the K-State community look like ignorant, tobaccochewing, animal-screwing degenerates." While tobacco and bestiality are not things

I care to practice, they are "lifestyle choices," and my belief system says they are poor choices.

But it is not my responsibility to condemn the people who practice those choices. We can offer these people love. support and therapy without attacking them as individuals. Am I standing up for degenerates? No. The term degenerate equates to "worthless scum."

I am taking a stand for the universal respect of other human beings.

David, you are indeed politically correct. You make loving, tolerant remarks about all the "accepted" groups. At the same time, you contradict yourself and cast a negative light on people different from

I, too, have been guilty of similar hypocrisy in the past. I have laughed at the jokes and even retold them on occasion.

If all of us take a long look in the mirror, we'll see where we have gone wrong. We no longer can break people up into various groups and assign a tolerance ranking to each of them. As K-State students, Americans and people, we must come together. We must be one. It is never too late for a fresh start.

> - Tim Garrett freshman in international studies

Aggieville district offers more than just entertainment

BY JAMIE BARRETT Konsas State Collegian

When thinking of where to open her store, Zotcis Attire owner Sara Strothman couldn't think of any better place than Aggieville.

"I wanted it here because of the K-State traffic," Strothman said.

"My customer base is girls who are out and about in Aggieville. Opening here is the best place for those people to see my store."

Ellie Brent, owner of Woody's Ladies Shop in Aggieville, said she thinks the night traffic of Aggieville adds to her business.

changed in Aggieville. "You can't tell me that with 500 people walking by my store every night that I am not going to get one new customer in the next day," she said.

Aggieville, mostly known as the entertainment district of Manhattan, houses 110 different businesses. About 15 of the businesses are bars.

Aggieville businesses offer everything from fast food, books and clothes to sports equipment, laundry services and beauty shops.

Director of the Aggieville Business Association, Cheryl Sieben, said that although Aggieville is known for its party scene, the business side of Aggieville is just as successful.

"Aggieville has many different faces," she said. "It is much more than just an entertainment district."

Since Aggieville's birth in the late 1800s, the district has served as a service spot for K-State students. During the years, Aggieville has been transformed from a fullservice shopping center to a convenience center.

Dan Walter, Aggieville historian, said the small-business aspect of Aggieville has been what has kept the district going throughout the "Most of the businesses are small and locally owned," Walter said. "That is what people like about it."

Walter said as with any business district, the different businesses in Aggieville have changed during the years. He said that when he first started researching Aggieville in

EXPOSING

AGGIEVILLE

This is the second in a examining the history

tomorrow's Collegian of Aggieville. Read

entertainment has to see how

three-part series

1989, there were about one hundred or so businesses. In 1999, when he looked at which businesses were present in Aggieville, more than half of the shops were gone.

"I realized that not all of those businesses went out of business," Walter said.

"Sometimes business owners get different opportunities. It is a business cycle. Running a small business is labor intensive."

Sieben said one problem she has seen with businesses leaving Aggieville throughout the years is that people seem to think Aggieville is wasting away. In reality, that has never been the case, she said.

"There is a normal transition period around May," Sieben said. "The natural progression of the turnover is for businesses that are leaving to do so at about May. We then usually have new things coming into Aggieville by the next

"What makes us fresh is that when students come back in the fall they cannot wait to see what

Riley County Historical Society Aggleville's business face has seen a dramatic change since the 1950s.

new business Aggieville got over the summer. We all like to see new things." Sieben said that sometimes people see empty corner shops in Aggieville, which are of high visibility, and get discouraged. "When there are empty corner shops that are of high visibility, like Streetside right now, or where Elements of Taste used to be, people notice them more," she

Brent said during the morethan-20 years she has owned Woody's Ladies Shop, she has never felt like empty buildings in Aggieville have had an adverse effect on her business.

"When people are concerned about the empty buildings in Aggieville, it means they care," Brent said. "That is a good thing, but I have never been concerned about it. Aggieville has a life of its Brent said she has observed many different businesses come and go in Aggieville.

"Aggieville has an interesting history," Brent said. "People experiment with the different types of businesses in Aggieville. Some will work, and some will not."

When Strothman opened her store March 1 on Moro Street, she said she was excited to bring something different to Aggieville.

"I have no competition," she said. " No one else sells the type of things I do to the same people."

Variety and convenience have worked for years, Sieben said, and she doesn't see the success of Aggieville coming to an end anytime soon.

"Aggieville is so vibrant," she said. "Anyone can do just about anything. We may lose a few, but there is always something new and different. That is what people like to see.

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Aggleville's business district now features a flavor more geared to the college

Order your yearbook.

Today.

Fresh Eyes™

Nothing sounds better to contact lens wearers.

Great comfort!

Times in the 'Ville

Twenty-three Aggieville business 1915 owners get together to form the The Aggieville Club, later known as the Aggieville Commercial

The Harrison

renamed the Avalon

Ballroom, is built.

1915 Building, later

Source: Aggleville 1889-1989: 100 Years of Aggleville Tradition by Dan Walters

Guy Varney expands 1916 his College Book story brick building that still stands tod widen Moro Street and install Aggieville which was called "The White Way."

1922 a new lighting system in

The first bank, College State Bank, is opened in Aggieville. The bank ded during the Great The Aggieville Club helps to Filling stations are built in Aggieville.

The Miller Theatre, or Varsity Theatre, Sonsa Theatre and Campus Theatre, as it has been renamed throughout

Renee McDaniel/Collegian

>is this your |

>your first time traveling abroad, that is.

>europe from $55 a day! our textbooks cost more than that, contiki has 100 worldwide trips to choose from and you can do it with people

your own age, with such a great deal what are you waiting for?!??!!!

greek Island hopping

14 days from $969

curopean getaway

> mediterranean highlights

14 days from $859

simply italy

see your travel agent

sit www.contiki.com

call toll-free 1-888-CONTIKI

>where

Are you an undergraduate active in a student organization? If so, you could be eligible for a $500 scholarship!

STUDENT FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS

Presented through the KSU Student Foundation

Softball Classic 2002 Alpha Delta Pi

Sunday, April 21st at Twin Oaks Complex

- Double Elimination Tournament
- Entry fee of $100 for one team, $60 for each additional team
- Conact Brianna Gaskill at 395-2320 ext. 133 by April 8

All proceeds benefit the Ronald McDonald House of Topeka

Only the EyeDoctors™ bring you FRESH EYES™ our exclusive program with everything you need for a full year... at one affordable price See us soon and experience FRESH EYES.™

DR.S PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH PA AND ASSOCIATES (785) 537-1118 3012 Anderson - Manhattan

Are you tired of your CD collection? Are you tired of the same old radio stations? is the answer.

Audio Junction has IT!

XM Satellite Radio The Next Generation of Radio

100 Channels of Music, News, Sports and Entertainment

Over 70 Music Channels

Over 30 Channels 100% Commercial Free

Digital-Quality Sound

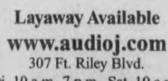

Coast-To-Coast Coverage

Only $9.99 Monthly Subscription

Available for Car and Home

Add an XM Adapter to any Car Stereo

Baseball agreement applies to journalism world as well

This might be my last column in the Collegian for quite some time.

In the interest of readers, I am going to quit writing until I get a new contract that guarantees me 20 times the annual salary of my average reader in exchange for just one good column per month.

It's a hell of a deal for my readers. If that sounds ridiculous, just examine the latest statements by Major League Baseball Players Union Head Donald Fehr. When MLB Commissioner Bud Selig promised Tuesday not to jeopardize this year's World Series by imposing economic rules, Fehr made essentially the same argument as I did.

revenue-sharing plan and a luxury tax on teams with payrolls more than $98 million. Translation: The Yankees won't be assured of a spot in the World Series every year.

The plan sounds reasonable, doesn't it, but Fehr claims that creating more parity in baseball - and consequently capping player salaries - would anger fans.

Because teams would be on more equal financial footing, fans could go see games that would actually be good. Big-market teams wouldn't constantly beat up on small-market teams. Royals fans could see some wins, and the Montreal Expos could be

Fehr thinks this would be the fans'

As a result, Selig and the owners are sure to run into plenty of opposition from the players. After all, one less chauffeured BMW for an average ballplayer would likely keep his kids from getting to school, right? That's why when Selig promised to > delay the inevitable squabbling until after the World Series, Fehr took the players', and the fans', side.

"He thinks what we do not: that the fans can be more easily fooled, fooled into thinking this pledge is a concession of sorts on his part," Fehr told the Associated Press. Fehr apparently has not been outside of his owner's box for his team, the Milwaukee Brewers. Anyone who thinks that people who will skip work at Al's Tire

Shop to pay $25 for a ticket to see a bad team and buy a $5 beer and a $3 hot dog canceled in order to protect outrageous player salaries is an idiot.

Fehr really has no clue about fans. All they want is to watch good teams play good games and root for their favorite players. Any action on the part of the players' union should be toward accomplishing this goal.

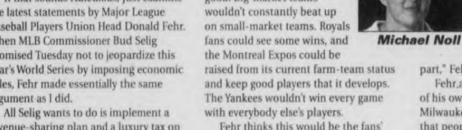

Any economic plan designed by the owners should ensure that all teams have a chance, on paper at least, to reach the playoffs. A salary cap should be designed so that players are rewarded for longterm contracts, thus increasing fan lovalty to teams. A revenue-sharing plan should be developed in which television moneys are split among all teams. That way, small-market teams such as the Royals and Minnesota Twins could survive. In turn, those teams could use some of that shared income to develop

Unfortunately, the players' union will probably fight any such deal to the end, and, as a result, the only way to establish parity might be to break the union. Such a course would be long and painful, but the players must be made to see that if they walk out before October as they did in 1994, there might not be anyone to see them walk back in.

Baseball fans are not unlike newspaper readers. They assume the product will happen every day, and when it doesn't, people get mad.

And so, expect a column from me next

Michael is a junior in English and print journalism. You can e-mail him at worst nightmare.

would like for the World Series to be mtn5855@ksu.edu.

Nailbitten Late rally locks up sweep of C.W. Post BY DAN SMITH Kansus State Collegian Wednesday's 11-10 final translated into just another win, but K-State's comeback effort against C.W. Post at Tointon Family Stadium was anything but mundane. "I'm disappointed we blew a nine-run lead," Coach Mike Clark said, "but I feel good that we came back and found a way to win the ballgame late." K-State (14-10, 1-3) used 14 players in the field and all nine innings to finish the two-game sweep of the Pioneers (5-12-1). But it wasn't a statistic that got the Cats out of trouble when things got tight. "We got lucky in the bottom of the eighth," senior Osmar Castillo said K-State's earlier offensive firepower was pretty helpful Junior outfielder Pat Maloney broke out of a 1-for-12 slump with a towering homerun to left in the bottom of the third, and the Wildcats got two runs off sacrifice hits to push the lead to 3-0 by the end of the fourth. Eric Rollins continued his solid start from the mound in the top of the fifth, striking out Pioneer second baseman Joe Grillo looking to end the inning. K-State exploded with six runs in the bottom half of the frame behind doubles from Gabe Luttrell and Ryan Baldwin to extend the margin to nine. That's when the trouble started. "It appeared that we seemed to be coasting a little bit," outfielder Brad Anzman said. "In D1, you can't be lackadaisical when you're up nine runs because as they showed today, they'll come back real Rollins' shutout bid would end early in the sixth when Anthony Mantonavi's single to right gave Post its first runs. "He threw well," Clark said of Rollins. "He did a good job, but then from the sixth inning on, we were missing our spots horribly, and to their credit, they did a wonderful job of taking advantage of that." Rollins faced seven Pioneer batters in the sixth, but gave up five runs in the inning before giving way to reliever Post added two more in the inning off Black and three in the next two frames to take the lead 10-9 heading to the bottom of the eighth. "I gathered everybody together in the eighth when we fell behind by one run, and I said, 'Hey, we've been doing this all season long. Get somebody on base where we can get something started," Clark said. At least three Wildcats in the huddle were listening. After Luttrell and Baldwin were retired to begin K-State's half of the eighth, centerfielder Nick Sorensen lined a single into right field and advanced to third on a botched pickoff and wild pitch. Anzman was at the plate in an unfamiliar position. The sophomore was just 8-for-27 at the plate all season, but Clark said a substitution was almost impossible. "It's a situation where we had done about all the substituting we could," he said. "We were down to pretty much K-State first baseman Tim Doty moves to make a play against the guys on the field. Brad was ready to go, and we had

Wildcat tennis set to battle Baylor in weekend matches at home

C.W. Post-Long Island on Tuesday at Tolton Family Stad

Drew Rose/Collegian

BY LAURA BOYD Kansas State Collegian

The K-State tennis team will be at home Friday for a four-match stint against No. 27 Baylor University.

The Wildcats are coming off a loss to San Diego State during spring break. The team fell 2-5 to the No. 53 Trojans.

The Cats have not played at home since March 10, when they suffered a close loss to Big 12 rival Oklahoma.

The Sooners were ranked in the top 25 when they pulled a 4-3 win over the Wildcats.

See BASEBALL on PAGE 9

K-State hopes to keep working its way up the ranks in its play against the Bears. The team has done this one win at a time. The Cats came into the spring season ranked at 51, and have since improved that ranking by 11 spots.

Baylor comes into weekend play with a little more experience under its belt, but a comparable record.

The Bears are 11-4 overall, while the No. 40 Wildcats sit at 8-4. Both teams have a 3-1 record in Big 12 competition, tied for fourth place in the conference

Though Baylor leads the series against the Wildcats 5-3, K-State has seen a home-court advantage against Baylor in

K-State has pulled wins in the last two home meetings against the Bears, but the Cats have not beat Baylor since the spring

The Wildcats will look to freshman Maria Rosenburg for strong play on Rosenburg is the only Wildcat to remain undefeated in Big 12 singles play, sitting at 4-0. She'll be playing at the No. 4 spot in singles play, with an overall league record of 8-3.

The Cats No. 1 singles spot remains with senior Alena Jecminkova. She has a 7-5 overall spring record, with a league

K-State's doubles team of senior Kathy Chuda and junior Petra Sedlamerjova are playing at No. 2 on Friday.

Chuda and Sedlamerjova have won eight of their last 10 matches. The two hope for another win to improve both their 9-3 overall record and 3-1 record in the Big 12.

The Bears and Wildcats meet at 3 p.m. Friday at the Washburn Tennis Facility in Manhattan.

CROSSWORD

4 Huck

Finn's transpor 8 Blueprint

12 Calendar

13 Exchange premium

14 Garden-

17 Daven

18 Fix the port's sound good-looking

21 Restrain

track

19 Really sort

24 Mined-

over matter

25 Kanga's

26 Wapiti

34 Newton

36 Call a

37 Flat-topped catcher 32 Grad

28 Cow

er's need abbr.

39 Hudson co-star

42 Tailor's

44 Customer

46 Cement-

50 Periodical for short

51 Abundant

riddles

57 Recording

58 Overseas

agree ment

compo nent

60 Hoose

61 Born

56 Initial and-sand

41 Work with

By Eugene Sheffer

2 Piece of

leam

4 Hoi

6 Ever-

7 Scout

first

10".

name

such -

16 Start to info

Solution time: 27 mins

Kipling

9 Daffy one greens

8 Barnum's

22 Portraval

employee

23 North

27 Jash

29 Caviar

30 Mediocre

31 Admitting clients

strated.

maybe 35 Hiatus

38 Attack

dog's

40 Prattle on

43 Fencing

equip ment

chunk

47 Number

49 Without delay,

terpart

55 "Sprechen

Deutsch?"

in the OR 53 AP counwielders'

45 Spigot

46 Thick

command

Monkey business

Karen Mikols/Collegian File Photo

Tyler Lansdown, senior in theater, kisses Bernadette the guitar of Chance Mullen, Junior in theater. The duo form the band, One Sad Monkey and play mainly acoustic

One Sad Monkey celebrates album release

BY JJ DUNCAN

Special Guest will opening band.

begin the night as the Tyler Lansdown.

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-8873| 99¢ per minute, touch Kannas State Collegian lone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service. NYC.

LWIBEC F CFPZ, LYE'H NBH

HGZ XAZFVGZIN.

CRYPTOQUIP

YHGZISBNZ RYWI VAYHGZN

PFR XZVYPZ SGBHZ.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: IFA COLORFUL BIRD
LEAPT OUT OF AN AIRPLANE, COULD IT BE CALLED A PARROT-TROOPER? Today's Cryptoquip Clue: B equals I

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 2! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, if will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowets. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"All men dream; but not equally. Those who dream by night in the dusty recesses of their minds wake in the day to find that it was vanity: but the dreamers of the day are dangerous men, for they may act their dream with open eyes, to make it possible

MIX MASTERS

-Thomas Edward Lawrence

WHO Linda Kanak,

Linda Kanak, senior in marketing and international business, has been a bartender at the Gin Mill for six months.

DRINK Ninja Turtle

Fill glass with ice, add 1/2 shot Tanqueray Gin 1/2 shot Blue Curacao Fill rest of glass with Orange Juice

Learn to make this drink from the master. Go to www.kstatecollegian.com for exclusive video footage

Tyler: When we play, we rely on what the audience is doing, and we

Is this CD a step in the direction of changing people's image of One Sad Monkey from being the jokesters to being actual singers?

Release party One Sad Monkey will perform with Special Guest at 10 tonight at Gilligan's to celebrate the release of the senior in theater, and Chance Mullen, senior in theater, the two members of One Sad Another Clown. Monkey, sat down to talk about the album. produced by David Brown, senior in engineering. JJ: What do you hope people notice about the CD?

The sadness will invade Gilligan's

One Sad Monkey's CD release party will be at 10 tonight at Gilligan's. The band will have its new album, "Just Another Clown," for sale at the show.

Chance: I think there's a good range in terms of depth.

Tyler: We had to decide, going into the recording process, if we wanted to put funny songs on there or not, and there's some we wanted to. Some of those funny, dirty ditties just don't translate to actual recording though. We haven't given those up, we just didn't want to put them all on this.

Chance: We throw them into concerts, but on an album they may be weird to listen to.

play off of that, and that's tough to do

Tyler: I don't think so.

Chance: I think so. I actually have to disagree. I think the CD takes the music more seriously than sometimes we do in concert.

Tyler: Well I agree with that, But I don't ever want to stop doing funny songs and saying funny things. Chance: On some level, that is part of our music

Tyler: And that still brings a lot of people in. We still really enjoy it... The hardest part is when you write all these funny songs and do all these funny things in concert, and people only expect that from you. I think the scariest thing would be for people not to even give us a chance, and not take us seriously, and maybe that's OK.

Chance: I want people to take it all in. The funny stuff is funny, and the serious stuff is serious.

Tyler: We try to get a good mix of it and see what works together, and most

Do you think having the actual product makes you more of a legitimate act, and not a joke for parties? Chance: I think it feels that way.

Tyler: It does feel that way.

Chance: But I don't think the CD necessarily makes that change happen, I think it's been happening. Periodically through all of our concerts now, especially this year, the funny stuff comes in breaks to lighten the mood, and for the most part it is us just playing music. Of course we still throw in jokes and things like that.

Tyler: I don't think the deliniation needs to be made between funny and serious. This is our act. This is what we do. We have fun with both types of music, and we feel like we're pretty good with both types, so why not throw them in together? It may sound disjointed in concert sometimes, but...

Chance: I don't think it does. That's your thing though isn't it? Being able to pull that off is what you do. Do you always think about that?

Chance: Now we have enough songs that we don't have to think about that as much. Before, when we had a serious song, and we had to figure out where we would put that.

Tyler: During our banter, we had to warn the crowd we were going to do a serious song, so please listen and stick.

Chance: Now we've got almost two hours of stuff, so you're going to hear it all eventually, so it doesn't feel as tough to pull it off.

Tyler: It used to be a real challenge. It used to be totally the opposite way, too. We used to figure out ways to fit our serious songs in.

Chance: And now we figure out ways to not make the comic songs distract from the serious stuff. I say serious, but they aren't really all that serious all the time.

Tyler: I don't ever want people to think we've turned our backs on what really got people to start listening to us. There are some nights I have way more fun doing songs about life experience that mean something to us. But some nights, the funny songs are way more fun. A lot of it depends on the crowd.

Chance: And how much alcohol we've had.

So how does it feel to be a Manhattan band?

Tyler: I've been here for six years now. I've been a fan of local bands for years. I've seen bands get big like Ruskabank and Pomeroy, and Ultimate Fakebook of course. And all these local bands I've just adored watching, and wondered what it took to be a part of that. This makes me feel like a local band, and I'm really glad I'm able to add some music to Manhattan.

Album features sentimental, funny sides of band

Two guys with guitars who have made a name for themselves with dirty songs that are as tongue-in-jokes told cheek as the between them.

One Sad Monkey ***

MUSIC REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN have released a surprisingly sentimental album. One Sad Monkey is not as ridiculous as the name might lead you to believe. "Just Another Clown" mixes truly artistic lyrical talent with minimal guitar to create an album that can be sincerely sentimental, or can get a whole crowd singing along with a chorus, or can make just as many people laugh out loud. The diversity of the album and the ability of the duo to weave the songs into one continuous piece is what separates One Sad Monkey from other acoustic artists.

Lyrically, the two are willing to sing with abandon what other people might be afraid to say, creating an image that is brash and vulnerable at the same time. Chance and Tyler's lyrics can be hilariously offensive or reveal personal weaknesses. The mix let's the listener feel that after the album is over, they know about these two.

"Going Away" is a song about the desire to run away from problems and the pain of leaving a place of comfort, and it shows the songwriting ability these two have as Chance sings, "Give my letters to the ones that I meant to love / Give my love to the ones that I meant to write / Give the right to love to the ones that meant so much to me."

Then they have no qualms about blowing such a serene image with songs like the hidden track, "Sleeping With the Preacher," which would be quoted here if there were any substantial lines that could be printed in this publication.

The guitar work isn't especially amazing. It's the vocals that truly carry this album. The duo's voices compliment each other with surprisingly lush harmonies over the acoustic work.

The album is solid for a nobudget, local recording, and the music holds up live, too.

misdirection

THAT'S A LIE! THINK ABOUT IT! AWYBOOY WHO CLICKED ON ABSTAIN TO WOTE FOR FETUS GENIUS WAS EXERCIZING THER RIGHT NOT TO VOTE SO, ANYBODY WAD DIDN'T WOTE, ACTUALLY WIED FOR THE FETUS GENIUS! THE EST-MATED THAT WE RECENED ATLEAST ONE MILLION MOW. VOTERS!

Deadlines

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Classifieds

For Rent-Unfumished

10K APARTMENTS. Twobedroom apartment in modern complex, two blocks east of campus at 1010 Kearney. Quiet street. Qualistudent living. Large Lshaped kitchen, dishwasher, air-conditioning, proof, well-insulated, low utilities, laundry room, no pets, lease June 1 through May. $520. Call (785)539-2536.

A TWO-BEDROOM apartment, two blocks to ca June 1, one year lease. (785)317-7713

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

BASEMENT APARTMENT MONTHLY, (785)537-4766. Available June 1.

CLOSE TO Campus, twobedroom unit. Models open Call for an appointnent. (785)537-9064.

FOUR, THREE, and onebedroom apartments rent. Electric, gas, water, and trash paid. Across Call Andy (913)269-7297.

NEXT TO campus one, two, three-bedroom houses, apartments. Central air, arking, free washer/ dryer, Available August. (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bed-room apartment, 350 N. Nichols Hall, $530. (785)539-2482.

TWO-BEDROOM NICE close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/ month. (785)341-4496

ONE, TWO and three bed-Various locations. Washer/ dryer in some units. No pets. (785)313-

ONE, TWO, three or four close to KSU. No pets Available June 1. (785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827.

ROOMMATE(S) WANTED starting August 1, $235/ month plus one-third utilites. Call Krista at (785)776kmlsham@Yahoo.com

ROOMMATES NEEDED for house Washer/ dryer included, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-

TWO AND three-bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry facility near campus. (785)537-1746.

For Rent-Unfurnished

SPACIOUS TWO and threebedroom, close to campus. Central air, laundry facilities, water, and trash pa and August. (785)539-0866.

TWO, TWO-BEDROOM'S. one block/ campus. Water trash paid. Washer and dry er, off street parking, $375 and $475. (785)539-5821

TWO-REDROOM IN quiet our-plex within walking disance to campus. Ava June 1. Very nice. (785)539 9582

TWO-BEDROOM $475/ month AVAILABLE JUNE (785)537-6032

Rooms Available

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATEone-third electric and cable Call Kimberly at (785)539-0348 e-mail klb4949@ksu.edu.

For Rent-

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. June (785)539-1177.

SIX- seven-bedroom ee bath house one block to campus, Aggieville, and City Park. Central Air, washer and dryer. (785)317-7713

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments. Great selection prices. (785)341-6091.

AVAILABLE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of mpus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer/ dryer, fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Threebedroom house three blocks west of campus at 1404 Hartford. Central air, wash er/ dryer, fenced yard. $285 per person. 539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two bedroom duplex, two floors at 1007 Houston, $610/ month (785)539-3672 FIVE, SIX, and seven-bedroom houses for rent near campus. Call (785)539-FIVE-BEDROOM.

bath, two kitchens, central air, close to KSU Available June 1. $1250/ month. 776-

For Rent-

Roommate

Wanted

(816)868-3989

for Kevin or Chris.

(785)537-1448.

Sublease

4547

9710.

ROOMMATES WANTED.

Three-bedroom house lo-

Pay one-third of utilities

WANTED: FEMALE room

mate for four-bedroom, two appliances, washer/ dryer included. One-fourth utilities and $265 rent. August to Ju half utilities. $240. (785)776-

MAY FREE! People desperately needed for sublease. University Commons. Fully

Very nice! Call (785)587

NEW SUMMER sublease

$284/

May

needed. Washer/ dryer, dishwasher plus one-fourth bills. $284 per month. Cable or (785)341-6981. Girls on

Advertise.

It works,

Kedzie 103 - 532-6566

a stay in

Class At The

Commons"

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

*Washer/Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

Permit Parking

Tennis/Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-5,

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

INIVERSITY

*COMMONS*

APARTMENTS

2215 COLLEGE AVE

For Rent-

Unfurnished

(785)776-0683.

se May 20- August 7

ed. Tony (913)593-4120.

(785)323-0116.

SUBLEASES

bath, two-story house.

FOUR-BEDROOM lent condition. Close to campus. Central air, large backyards. June. Won't last ong. (785)776-4166.

FOUR-BEDROOM bath, near campus. Excelnt condition. Appliances washer/ dryer, central air off-street parking. Available August $1200. Cal (785)537-8420 or (785)341-

FOUR-BEDROOM, CLOSE campus. Garage. (785)565-1748. Available June 1.

FOUR-BEDROOM, throom available June 1 Close to campus. Centra washer/ dryer. $1080. (785)539-9582.

GREAT HOUSE, three-bedroom very nice. One block west of campus. Available 1. $900/ month. No pets. 537-4766

NEAR CAMPUS, affordable. Five-bedroom house August lease. Also available e-bedroom apartment, ne lease. No pets, no June lease. smoking. Call (785)539-0549.

NICE FOUR/ five-bedroom two bath house with basement. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, off-street parking 908 Call Doug (785)317-3005

NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE. Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus Rd. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, one year lease. $300/ month plus utilities. Availa June 1. Call (785)539-7031.

SMALL HOUSE Appliances furnished June lease. No utilities paid. Big back-Call (785)539-1975 or 785)313-8296

THREE-BEDROOM NEAR dryer, central air, off-street parking, good condition. Available August $900. Call 785)537-8420 or (785)341-

130 For Rent-Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT 2002 manufactured home sixteen-feet wide, two and three-bedroom homes avail able. one double-wide central air, washer, dryer, TWO disposal. They are available Call (785)776-4274 to view

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017. www.beloose.com/linwood

FOR RENT, new one, two, three and four-bedroom units. Some close to cam-pus. All appliances. Some with washer/ dryer hook-AND FEMALE ROOMMATE(S) ups. Call (785)341-2269 for more information. Carl Denfor 2002- 2003 school year, ning Construction.

> FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE, 316 N. 11th, 928 Leave ROOMMATE WANTED for worth, one or two-bed-Hardwood floors house. Washer/ dryer. $200/ no pets/ smoking/ water month plus one-fourth utilit-June 1. (785)539-Call (785)776-0736, ask 0590.

JUNE 1. Four-bedroom, two bathroom duplex. One block campus. No pets. (785)587-0399. able in August. Please Jessie for information

K-Rental Mgmt.

Now Leasing Bills Included

1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500 3 BR from $600 4 BR from $720

539-8401

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM apartments. One and a half baths. Water and trash paid. $450 rent, $450 deposit Available now. needed. Partially furnished apartment. Great condition, (785)776-7362, leave mespool, laundry/ workout facili-les. June 1-July 31. One NICE

TWO-BEDROOM apartment, Roomy, Low util ties Water, trash, cable paid. Laundry facilities. Pool. By Westloop. June lease. $460/ month. (785)587-8310.

NICE, CLEAN, two-bedroom Close to campus. Fall lease.

NOW LEASING. One-bed-One room in three-bedroom Own bathroom, room apartment in quiet six washer/ dryer. Two and plex at 1811 Platt Available one-half blocks west of June 1. Unfurnished, central air, parking, water and trash paid. No pets. $370 per month. Call KSU Foundation KSU. Only one-third utilities. 20th. (785)532-7569 SUMMER SUBLEASER (785)532-7541.

ONE. TWO, three and four bedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-TWO-BEDROOM SUMMER ments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours), One-half mile from KSU at the corner of Col-Call (785)539-0978 lege and Claffin, Manhattan.

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS MAKE THIS YOUR FIRST STOP. One. Three-bedrooms (785)539-

THREE AND Four-bedter and trash paid. (785)537-

THREE-BEDROOM WALK OUT basement apartment intral air, washer/ dryer off-street parking. Three campus (785)336-2784

THREE-BEDROOM, pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-mont. $780.00 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO June 1. $675/ month. Wash er/ dryer/ window air-condi-tioning. 709 Bluemont. (785)539-4949, leave message. TWO BEDROOM TOWN HOUSE, one and one-half ment, central air. Washor/ (785)539-5627

Now Leasing 3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Rooms Available

room, and bath, for male. $250/ month. Utilities paid. Adjacent to campus street parking. Call (785) 539-4073

Knight, (785)565-0138.

LEGORE $1100/ month. Four-bed-room. August 1. Close to campus. (785)776-7202.

For Rent-

Houses

FIVE-BEDROOM HOUSE with all amenities. Extremely nice. Close to campus. Call for appointment. (785)539-FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE close to campus. Washer dryer, off-street parking June or August (785)456-7900. FOUR-BEDROOM, bath house for rent. June $960/ month. Washer/ dryer/ 900 Vattier (785)539-4949. Leave mes-NICE FOUR-BEDROOM ome on quiet street, close to campus. No pets or smoking. June 1 lease. $240/ each plus utilities. Call (785)759-3520.

THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available March 15. One and one-half bath, washer and dryer, trash and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287

THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available May 15. One and one-half bath, washer and dryer, trash, and mowing paid. $735 a THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-u no pets or smokers. Pierre. $840 plus utilities. August lease. (785)776-

For Sale-Mobile Homes

14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre three-bedroom and two bath, newer carpet, shower and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer. Call (785)484-

145 === Roommate Wanted

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fe roommates wanted Great house, washer/ dryer appliances, month plus one-fourth utilit-Call Lisa at (785)537-4483.

ROOMMATE WANTED Nice five-bedroom house. Split utilities. One block from campus. Available June 1 call for info (785) 537-3567

ROOMMATES NEEDED for very nice four-bedroom apartment. Rent $235/ month. Split utilities. Lease Models, (785)539-4751

STOP PAYING exorbitant rent in Manhattani One-bedroom available in May en miles from K-State, $250 ncludes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dry-er in basement. No smoking or drinking, Call Brian at (785)494-8299.

Sublease

DESPERATELY SEEKING ublease! One- three-bedroom apartment, large rooms, walk-in closets swimming pool! Rent nego tiable. Call (785)770-3834.

NEED FEMALE summer subleaser for one bedroom in a four-bedroom apart-$180/ month one-fourth utilities. Walking distance from campus. (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs.

NICE TWO-YEAR old, four bedroom, two bath duplex after through July. Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup, $275, negotiable.

ROOM AVAILABLE June/ July one-half block from campus, garage, rent negotiable, very nice, Great deal, 1837 Anderson Ave. Call Ricky (785)539-0838.

SUMMER SUBLEASES. apartments next to campus. WALK TO Summer school

Subleasing four-bedroom house for June and July. $200/ person/ month. 1403 Hartford (785)770-3605.

220 Weight Loss & / Nutrition

loss. Increased Energy- Immediate Results I can teach utor (785)776-1936.

> employment opportunities

Help Wanted

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifi-cation. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to con-tact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, (785)232-0454.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of man Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

mailing our circulars. For in formation call (203)977-

$250/ DAY potential/ barning provided. (866)291-1884 extension

ACCEPTING APPLICA-TIONS. Vista Drive In, a lo cally owned and operated quick service restaurant, is searching for a few good people to add to our team. Day, evening and weekend part-time hours available. We have food discounts, flexible hours and promote from within. Please apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

ACCOUNTING POSITION No experience necessary Flexible hours. Wage based on experience. Dean Liquor, 12th and Laramie.

AD SALES/ Marketing/ Pubal publisher offering wellpaid, flexible, and rewarding local internship for spring summer. E-mail cover let resume ucal@bendnet.com

BARTENDERS NEEDEDI Earn up to $250/ day, Will train. No experience neces-Call (866)291-1884 ext. 160. BIG DAWG Marina. Week-nd help. Start May 18, end Labor Day, Contact Keith, (785)776-7946, (785)539-KeithEyestone@msn.com.

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or Photographers, Designers

(785)830-0367 CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Counselors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4.

Equal Opportunity Employer. Call for application 1 800-352-6133 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home. CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Sea sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com EMALES WANTED for KSU girl in wheelchair for $7.00/ hour. Call Holly (785) had8078@ksu.edu.

FRATERNITIES. SORORI. TIES+ CLUBS+ STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Cam pusfundraiser.com fundraising Does not involve credit card applications. dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campusall rooms. Call now fundraiser.com at (888)923-(785)323-0827. 3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

> Asbestos Abatement Work-40 hours of free training is required. Must attend class May 7-May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm. $11.40 per hour. start May 18. Contact La-borers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-Manhattan, KS. (785)537-1567, to sign up.

> HELP WANTED for custom harvesting. Combine operators and truck drivers guar anteed pay. Good sur wages. Call (970)-483-7490 evenings.

HELP WANTED. Tempora part-time help wanted 30-40 hours per Painting, mowing grass, swimming pool maintenance and other miscellaneous obs. Apply at 3050 Tuttle

JOHNSON COUNTY. Sumner help wanted. General and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have own 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. $7/ hour for 40 hour we May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horti-culture, Forestry and Recre-Office 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5

Help Wanted

LARGE, DIVERSIFIED farm SUMMER 35 miles northeast of Manhattan is looking for qualified individual to assume full time responsibilities in crop and livestock production Position responsible maintenance and operation of late model equipment Oppurtunitities to advance nto livestock management Great job for personable in-dividual who enjoys working with other non-smoking em ployees. House provided Salary and benefits negotiable with qualifications. Call (785)889-4514 or (785)889-

2002 season. Must be Red Cross certified. Some food and beverage responsibilities included. Apply in per-Manhattan Country

LIVE AND WORK IN COL ORADO! Be a COUNSELOR at Girl Scout overnight camp in the moun-tains southwest of Denver General counselors and prodoor skills, crafts, nature, sports, challenge course dance and drama). June 1 early August. MAKE A DIF-FERENCE. Competitive salary, room, meals, health in-surance, travel allowance. Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281

rhondam@gsmhc.org

LOOKING FOR a Korean in terpreter who can speak Call evenings English. (620)786-0373.

MCCULLOUGH DEVELOP MENT, Inc. is now a applications for SUMMER HELP for an Assistant Property Manager and an Assis-tant Maintenance Technician. These will be full-time positions effective May 20, 2002. Part-time hours are available before this date Interested individuals please till out an employment appli-cation at 2700 Amherst Manhattan, KS.

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com-bines 2388's and New Autonatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers tain Commercial Drivers Li-Provide room and board and excellent salary! Call (785)689-4660.

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more.

PROGRAMMER

OF FINANCE SENTON
COUNTANT Starting Sal ary: $30,056.00/ year (Ell ary: $30,056.00/ year (Ell CivicPlus, a leader in provid ng local government web services, has an opening for a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program-ming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL experience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Developer status within 90 days of employment. Competitive salary plus health, 401(k) and paid vacation. E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or lext to PROGRESSIVE IRRIGAT-ED/ DRY land crop farming operation. Near McPherson Kansas. Has an opening for full-time position. (620)241-7270.

jobs@civicplus.com

RIDE HORSES IN COLO-RADO! Be part of the west-em riding staff at Girl Scout overnight camp southwest of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive salary, room, meals, travel allowance. Late May- early 2002. (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or rhondam@gsmhc.org.

SALES, LOCAL Company is looking for a money-moti vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance including quota over achievement. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base equals $50,000/ year or more. Eresume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com.

Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal are available in the Public Works and Parks Depart-ments. Valid Class C driver's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs. required. Experience in construction, con-crete work, asphalt maintenance, traffic flagging, tree and turf maintenance, and mowing. 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applications are available by con-tacting the Department of Administrative Services, Di-vision of Human Resources located at 115 North Fourth Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more information call (785)565-6464. 10 dean@co.riley.ks.us Riley County is an Equal Opportu-nity Employer.

Help Wanted

CHILDCARE wanted. College/ high school student to watch in my home two children, ages 9 and 11. Monday- Friday 8am-5pm. Need own tran-portation. $6.50/ hour aft hour after taxes. (785) 537-2827 SUMMER LABORERS needed by Mechanical Contractor for job sites in Manhattan, Topeka, Lawrence Salina and Emporia. $10.43/ hour. Call Shelley at (785)537-2437 to leave ame and phone number

Equal Opportunity Employ TECHNICAL WRITER. DPRA Incorporated, a confirm in environmental and regulatory issues, has a full-time position open for a Technical Writer starting im mediately. Candidates must have good written and oral communication skills with a background in editing or proofreading. Word process skills (MSWord WordPerfect) are a must and desktop publishing skills are preferred. The selected applicant can expect to produce high quality on-line documentation of information systems in addition to a variety of writing, editing and proofing assignments. A Bachelor's degree is je-quired and a Master's de-gree is preferred. Potentia d. Potentia $24,000 salary range: $24,000 $27,000 depending on ex-perience and qualifications. Send letter of resume to Director of Human Resources Department TW, DPRA In-corporated, P.O. Box 727, Manhattan, KS 66505; or fax (785)539-5353, e-mail manhattanjobs@dpra.com. phone calls

DPRA Incorporated Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/D/V THE CITY of Manhattan, Kansas. Offering excellent benefits and employment the following position vacan-cies: CITY MANAGER'S OFFICE: AUDIO//ISUAL TECHNICIAN Starting Salary: $9.00/ hour (inter tent work) Experience Required: Graduation from a standard high school or vo cational school. Must pos sess a demonstrated skill and aptitude for performing responsible audio/ visua work; or any combination of training and experience that provides the required knowl Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine. Counselors to tiful Maine. Tennis, sible for the broadcast open-sition provides and is respon-sible for the broadcast open-fice of City Commission Meetings, Special City Con mission Meetings, and other special assignments scheduled. Closing Date

Experience

quired: Baccalaureate of gree in accounting require plus experience that helps provide the required knowledge, skills and ability. Experience in public budg ing, and accounting a pl Experience using spread sheets, word-processing and other software required Position Purpose: This p plementing specialized counting projects and supe vising daily accounting ac ities. The position is responsible for presenting month financial reports for reval and adjustments. The per tion assists in the prep tion of the budget wall sheets, and is responsit for coordinating and assis ing in the payroll and accounts payable function and is responsible for cash audits and other internal control implementation #s control implementation as sues in outlying City offices Closing Date: Open until fil-led. PARKS AND RECREA-TION: JUNIOR ZOO KEEP ER SUPERVISOR Salary: $5.45/ hour. Exper Salary: #E0 Required: school graduate or GED required; Excellent superviso-ry skills, experience working with youth and animal knowledge vital. Must have a valid driver's license and be able to work three or more days each week throughout the summer. Incumbent will supervise and educate several youth volunteers working with basic animal husbandry and inter pretation. Closing Date: 04/10/02 (temporary/ time position), SEASONAL EDUCATION STAFF Start ing Salary: $6.25/ hour. Ex-perience Required: High school graduate or GED required; Excellent supervis ry skills, experience working with youth in an educations SEASONAL WORKERS. setting and curriculum de velopment vital. Basic science skills important. Must have a valid driver's license and be able to work three or more weekdays throughout the summer. Incumbent will develop curriculum and supervise children during s mer clubs. Closing Date: 04/10/02 (temporary/ part position). for an available position, you must complete a City of Manhattan application and closing date. For applicawww.ci.manhattan.ks.us/hr jobs.asp

Job Line at (785)587-2446 m jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us or visit City Hall, 1101 Poyntz Ave. EOE.

bulletin 010 Announcements "LEARN TO FLY!" K-State Flying Club has five airplanes, lowest rates. For in-formation. call (785)456-

ACADEMY OF BARTEND-

ey, meet people, Earn $15-$30 an hour Day, evening

ING. Have fun, make m or weekend classes available. Job placement assis tance, $199 with student ID. 1(800)BARTEND, www.bartendingcollege.com AG FEST 2002: From the April 1- 5. Exciting events every day! This ad sored by Collegiate Agri-

ATTORNEY AT LAW Charles W. (Chuck) Harper 25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100. chuckharper@msn.com SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-LATIONSHIPS just got eas

we kick

ads.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

5804.

Lost and Found

placed free for three days. FOUND IN Burger King parking lot, in Aggieville parking lot, in Aggieville Wednesday, March 13th at glasses. (785)537-1050 and tell Patty to leave message for Elvira.

SILVER SEIKO watch with scription on back 532-ture ID (KSU, driver's IIing a personal.

(785)776-2326.

housing

advertise your classifieds

TWO-BEDROOM, WALK to ampus. Ample parking, qu et conditions, laundry, fur (785)539-3638.

Semester Leases

Leasing Now 4 BR Apartments

Call or Come by Our Office!

For full details on our 4BR, 2 Bath apartments for a Semester Lease Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st! university

2215 COLLEGE AVE

washer/dryer · next to KSU stadium · tennis, volleyball & basketball courts · · individual leases · exercies room · · electronic alarm system · Office Hours:

 fully furnished • swimming pool • 539-0500 Mon.-Fri. 5-6, Sat. 10-4

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

Apts. Furnished Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per son equal opportunity housing without distincsex familial status, milita ry status, disability, relin, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Viola tions should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, FOR RENT: Five-bedroom Brittany Ridge town home Available August 1, oneyear lease $950/ month.

For Rent-

Tim after 6pm at

Before Time Rúns Out...

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, onebedroom apartment, to campus. Located at 193 Anderson, $300/ month, water/ trash paid. No pets. (785)537-9705.

911 SUNSET, four-bed-

1112 Bluemont, one-bed-

and one-bedroom

(785)776-9288

ONE-BEDROOM'S AVAILA-BLE April 1, May 1, and $300- $330. No One-year lease. (785)587-0399

CLEAN, QUIET, private

FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. okay, short-term s. Call Century 21

HEALTHY, SAFE weight

Final results

Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles reflect after reading the results of the student body presidential election. This election was the first time a revote has been called since 1993.

WOLTERS

Continued from page 1

"They've obviously worked hard and gotten their people to go out and vote," he said. "I hope everyone appreciates the time Zac and Todd will put into this."

The student body president, vice president and Student Senate work for the students. Wolters said he hopes this election hasn't made people forget that.

"Regardless of who wins this election, SGA does great things for students," he said.

"Regardless of who the leadership is, there are great people involved in Senate. That's still going to take place."

Trying to sell your car? Try the Collegian Classifieds

532-6555

Manhattan's Oldies, Country, Night Club

Thursday, 9-1

50¢ TACOS

hard or soft

Oasis Margaritas

776-9588 • 2317 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Blue Hills Shopping Center

$1.99 Island

LONELY? Go Ahead. Get a Roommate.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

KARAOKE

995 ANY Oscar de la Renta Christian Dior

ONE TUX FREE FOR EVERY SIX PAID RENTALS

Bridal • Formalwear • Tuxedos 2011 Ft. Riley Blvd., Manhattan 539-5200

COOK

Continued from page 1

Student Senate meeting to the Salina campus in September. Before the end of the semester, the pair will appoint cabinet members.

Cook said they would possibly appoint positions dealing with international and multicultural policies that haven't existed in past cabinets.

They also will work on implementing voter registration for Riley County into the new student orientation process that takes place in June.

Cook and Kohman said that after the controversy surrounding the primary and general election, they hope for changes in the election

GRADUATE

Continued from page 2

involves using different ingredients to find a marinade that will improve the quality of beef sold.

He has four projects that will be the main contributions to his dissertation. Each project involves a different ingredient that might alter the tenderness, color and flavor

les nas snhattan's Downts Sports Bar & Grill

Thursdays

50¢ Tacos Poco Burrito $3.99

Nacho Platter $4.29

DRINK SPECIALS

18 oz. Margarita $2 Corona $2 Mike's Hard Lemonade $2

105 N. 3rd • Manhattan (785) 776-9879

"I really hope all the talk about keeping the ballot system in-house follows through," Kohman said. "I think that's going to be important to avoid problems like this in future."

Cook said he planned to work on forming a committee that would review and update current statutes, including the elections code, to help future elections run more smoothly.

Cook and Kohman both expressed good feelings toward their opponents.

"They had a lot of people supporting them and some great ideas," Kohman said. "It just turned out the way it did. It was a close race - a good race all the way through."

Cook and Kohman thanked all their supporters. Cook especially noted the international community, and Kohman praised his fraternity of beef.

He also is testing how different muscles, like the loin and the eye round, react to the marinade. He said he is hoping to reach the best overall marinade for beef.

Lawrence said he should earn his doctorate in meat science by August, and then he hopes to work in the beef processing industry.

COUPON-NO TIME LIMITE SAVE $1 WATCH BATTERIES Expertly Installed while you wait regulator clock store

214 S. 4th, Manhattan, 776-6977 FREE parking in front

Pregnancy TESTING CENTER

"Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption." 39-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ame day results Il for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

RC McGraws Golden Key National Honor Society

would like to congratulate the 2002 Outstanding GTA of the year

GTA of the Year:

GREG HOLTHAUS

Department of Mechanical & Nuclear Engineering

Nominated by: David Pacey

Department of Mechanical & Nuclear Engineering

The GTA of the Year will be recognized at the Outstanding GTA of the Year Honors Banquet in the KSU Union Ballroom at 6:00 p.m.

Golden key would like to thank all nominated GTA's for their hard work and dedication.

BASEBALL

confidence in him."

■ Continued from page 6

Anzman came through with a line-hugging double to right field that scored Sorensen to knot the game at

"With two outs, I just wanted to put the ball into play," he said. "There were two outs and I wanted to give

there and hopefully get the victory."

the ball in nearly the same spot, this drive in the go-ahead run and secure

Still, for K-State to be challenged this much as close to its weekend time down the third-base line, to series with Nebraska might have

"This was one of those games where we didn't do very many things

well after we got that nine-run lead,"

Clark said. "Luckily, we did enough well to come back and win."

been a good thing.

Castillo came to the plate and hit my team a chance to go back out

ELECTION

Continued from page 1

to vote.

"I think what happens is when someone logs on and uses an incorrect user name and password, it gives them an error," Conrad said. "For some reason, that is retained in the computer's memory even if they logged in correctly, it still gives them an error."

Cook said he believes the difficulties affected each candidate equally.

"I would expect Matt would say it affected the candidates the same way. knowing that people weren't able to vote," he said.

Although the elections are over, Conrad said there is still a lot of work to be done to make sure this kind of mixup does not occur again.

"I think we are going to work on getting this election process taken care of," he said. "If K-State will provide the online election, this should take care of the problems we had."

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

•Over 250 units citywide to choose from Fireplaces • Carports

Pool • Private Deck

Laundry Facilities

Large 2-bedroom Units

Call Now 537-9064

Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

350 600 1,000 75 150 250 1,500 500 1,500

500 1,500 1,500

Add additional lines for just $20

Cellular One

1115 Westloop Place 5-537-4646 • 800-467-7858 Ask for Brett, Rich or Will.

Cellular One Manhattan Town Center Mall 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mice.

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

Deadlines

you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

Classifieds

Help Wanted

WANTED: SUMMER men-Weeks of June 9 through Juwebsite at ly 29. It is preferred that apwww.sombrero.com or write plicants be seeking majors to us at 3300 Airport Road, in math, science or related Boulder, CO 80301. Itelds. Please come to: 1800 Olaflin Suite 1 (next to Pizza Shuttle) to fill out an application. Interviews begin April WANTED DRIVER part-time Spring cleaning, pruning, raking and regular mainted came for Semi and Mixers. Pre-employment drug screen. Apply Valley Concrete, Belvue, Kansas or call (785)458-6499.

YARDWORK MAINTE-NANCE for homeowner. Spring cleaning, pruning, raking and regular mainted hours, part-time. No mowing required. Some knowledge of gardening preferred. (785)537-4613.

Help Wanted

WANTED: from the standing, and willing to live largest horse operation in the Rocky Mouris nation of the Standing, and willing to live largest horse operation in the Rocky Mouris nation of the Standing, and willing to live largest horse operation in the Rocky Mouris nation of the North America. Visit our Control of the Rocky Mouris nation of the North America.

YARDWORK

Help Wanted

COWBOYS, WAIT STAFF NEEDED. tors for Upward Bound Math Cowgirls and couples to Must have summer availa-and Science. Applicants guide tourists and horses ble. Apply in person. Man-must be at least a sopho- through the Rocky Moun-flore in good an

> Center is seeking applicants for 40- 50 summer staff po-sitions. Applicants must be graduating high school se-niors or college students. Positions are recreation in-structors, including team building, horses, environ-mental education, rifles, trap, archery, canoes, crafts and lifeguards. We also have several positions in tood service, maintenance and custodial departments. Internships are available for those who qualify. Rock Springs offers a monthly salary and room and board recognized camp and con-ference center serving ap-proximately 27,000 youth and adults each year, most during the summer. Rock THE ROCK Springs 4-H

Help Wanted

Springs is located 14 miles such business opportuni-south of Junction City, Kan-sas on K-157 Highway. For an application or more infor-our readers to contact the mation you can contact me at: Rock Springs 4-H Cen-ter, C/O Summer Jobs, 5405 West Highway K-157, Junction City, KS 56441. (785)257-3221, jtarr@rocksprings,net.

Opportunitie

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifi-Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

DOES YOUR summer job suck? Check out an opportunity to travel, gain great resume experience and make $7000. Call Jay at

items for Sale

nese Literary Essays (Translated to English) Please visit http:// li_chungwang.tripod.com

HEDGEHOG --ALBINO

Unique petl Easy and inex-pensive to care for. Cage and accessories included. advertise. $50 firm. (785)587-9693.

Automobiles 1985 FORD LTD Crown Vic toria. Power steering/ power windows, automatic, 192K, $750, AM/ FM, tilt, V-8. 785)323-0438, or DiSwisher@dce.ksu.edu HONDAS FROM $500!

(800)719-3001 ext get results.

1985 HONDA SHADOW 500, 14,000 miles. Black and purple. Nice bike, drive. $1400. Call Call Mark (785)539-3559.

Found something You can place an ad FREE for three days!

Trying to make room for your new furniture?

Sell yourold furniture in the Collegian classifieds.

KINSAS STATE COLLEGION 100 Kedzic 532-6955

Zach Long/Collegian Bikram Gill is a university distinguished professor and director of the Wheat Genetics Resource Center at K-State. Gill develops a better understanding of wheat through germ plasma and passes on information to farmers around the world.

Wheat center stores strains for research

Campus wheat center helps conserve strains of wheat from the Middle East that might not survive

BY EDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegian

Somewhere on campus, thousands of wheat strains await a future of contributing to science and feeding the hungry

The Wheat Genetics Resource Center, located in Throckmorton Hall, holds seeds from 11,000 strains of wheat. The seeds come to the center from 15 countries and are used in the creation of new types of wheat.

Birkham Gill, director, said the purpose of the center is to conserve the germ plasm, or hereditary material, of genetic stocks of wild wheat. He said all the strains of wild wheat the center maintains come from the Middle

"We have wheat from Iran, Iraq, Syria, Afghanistan and Israel," Gill said. "That's where the most important germ plasm comes

Gill said the center is extremely important to Kansas and to the world because it conserves wheat strains that might have died due to development of the land it once grew

The center provides germ plasm for 30 or 40 states and several private companies. The germ plasm is freely shared with all, Gill said, because it belongs to everyone and shouldn't be owned by any one person.

Jennifer Croft, senior in biology and sociology and a student research assistant at the center, said the center helped to improve the quality of wheat to help food prices stay reasonable.

According to the center's Web Site, www.ksu.edu/wgrc, the center has three main missions to ensure future advances in wheat breeding.

The first is to collect, conserve and utilize germ plasm in crop improvement for sustainable production by broadening the crop genetic base.

Next, officials hope to create and promote the free exchange of materials, technology and new knowledge in genetics and biotechnology among the world's public and private organizations.

Finally, the center wants to sponsor graduate and postgraduate students and visiting scientists for academic training and advanced research work in the center's laboratories.

The domesticated wheat Kansans use is the result of genetically improved wild wheat. The wild wheat is simply a source of genes for the domestic wheat that is used in agriculture, Gill said.

Wild wheat looks similar to wild grass, and isn't used for agricultural purposes. However, the wild wheat strain has evolved along with diseases and insects over many thousands of

The center has different types of strains found throughout the world. Some strains have adapted to resist certain diseases or insects, and some have adapted to different weather conditions. The genes from these strains are hybridized with food-producing wheat to make stronger wheat plants.

Gill said the center was established in 1985 by the Kansas Board of Regents. He said it is located in Kansas because the state is the largest wheat producer in the United States.

"Kansas produces 15 to 20 percent of the wheat," Gill said. "It's very Genetics Resource important to the Center director economy of wheat."

He said Kansas farmers could stay competitive in the world market by producing wheat with high yields and wheat with builtin resistance to disease.

Gill said the center has the germ plasm for these types of wheat.

Croft said she felt it was an honor for K-State to house the center.

"It's great," Croft said. "It's definitely nationally known. It's good for the university."

House refuses to approve amended budget bill that fails to cover shortfall

BY JOHN HANNA

The Associated Press

TOPEKA - A budget bill that would have protected social services and raised aid to public schools died Wednesday in the House, with members pointing out that it left a nearly $106 million funding gap.

By a 76-46 vote, the House refused to give first-round approval to a heavily amended version of the House Appropriations Committee's budget plan for fiscal 2003, which starts July 1.

The committee's no-new-taxes plan would have made deep cuts in aid to elementary and secondary schools, higher education and social services to cover a projected $700 million gap between expected revenues and required spending.

But through several hours of debate and dozens of amendments over two days, House members repeatedly rejected those cuts and created a final bill costing $106 million more than the state expects to receive in revenue. The committee now must draft a new

"I can't say that I'm proud of this bill," Appropriations Chairman Kenny Wilk, R-Lansing, told colleagues just before the House rejected the finished product. "We can do better - and should do

For aid to public schools, the committee had proposed cutting state aid per pupil by $303 from this year's level

The House on Tuesday voted to spend $175 million to keep the aid unchanged, and on Wednesday voted 120-2 to raise the aid by $10 per pupil, to a total $3,880. The increase will cost $5.7 million.

For social services, the committee would have cut $11.2 million next year - a prospect that drew about 100 chanting protesters to the hall outside the chamber on Tuesday.

But the House chipped away at that proposed reduction in a series of amendments that were approved by huge margins. In their last vote on the issue Wednesday - 101-20 members decided to leave programs that provide in-home and nursing services for the disabled and elderly unchanged.

A cheer went up following that vote from about 30 protesters who remained outside the chamber Wednesday afternoon. Many House members, hearing the noise, responded with their own cheers and applause.

The House did attack some spending Wednesday.

An amendment prohibiting agencies from giving out bonuses in the next fiscal year was approved 117-2. About $11 million worth of bonuses were given out this year, including thousands of dollars to economic development officials, civil engineers and investment officers, according to a list reviewed by members.

"We have wheat from Iran,

Iraq, Syria, Afghanistan and Israel. That's where plasm comes from."

the most important germ

Birkham Gill, Wheat

In addition, the House agreed to cut spending on higher education next year by $41.5 million - about $13 million less than the budget committee proposed to cut but still enough to generate criticism from some members.

But as votes against other proposed cuts mounted, the House moved farther away from bridging the $700 million budget gap - and closer, some said, to increasing

Republicans offered an alternative to the Appropriations Committee's plan. It would have dipped into treasury reserves and set aside extra federal funds to prevent spending cuts while avoiding a tax increase, but only parts of it passed.

One Republican, Rep. Doug Mays, R-Topeka, refused to concede that the House was moving closer to approving tax increases, saying: "We have a long way to go."

The House debated the proposed 2003 budget after approving and sending the Senate a bill making minor changes in the current budget. That vote was

Kansas State Collegain Wildcat fan's newspaper of choice

Manhattan Christian College Pre-enroll for Fall Classes

$100 per credit hour

- ·Survey New Test. Lit.
- Survey Old Test. Lit. I
- •History Amer. Rest. Movement
- •LEADERSHIP
- Public Speaking
- •Intro. to Philosophical Problem
- •General Psychology
- •General Sociology
- Cultural Anthropology
- Western Civilization
- Trends in U.S. Families
- College Algebra

• These courses transfer to KSU (Night Classes Available) For enrollment information call the Admissions Office at 539-3571 1415 Anderson Ave.

For more information visit us @ www.mccks.edu For info about summer classes contact the Registrar's office. Pre-enrollment starts April 15th

JIHAD AND TERRORISM ARE THEY RELATED

a lecture by:

ABU USAMAH ATTHAHABI

BS.C. In AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY BS.C. IN ISLAMIC TRADITION AND IDEALOGY

THURSDAY MARCH 28, 2002 7:00 p.m. K-STATE UNION, BIG 12

EVERYONE WELCOME, REFRESHMENTS ARE PROVIDED ponsored by: Muslim Student Association at K.S.U.

YOUR ROYAL PUPPLE $29.95 Kedzie 103

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS Assistant Editor

CD-ROM Editor * Design Editor Copy Editor • Staff Writers Photojournalist • Marketing Director

Section Editors • Student Life

> Organizations · Sports Academics

· People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Managing Editors News Editors* Desk Editors Reporters * Copy Editors Designers

Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists

Online Journalists Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

March 29, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan Volume 106, Number 121 www.kstatecollegian.com

Student in ICU after accident

BY SARAH RICE

After being struck by a vehicle Wednesday night. Da Jung Yu is listed in surgical intensive care at Wichita's Via Christi Medical Center at the St. Francis campus.

Yu, a full-time student in the English as a Second Language program, was traveling north on North Manhattan Avenue when she was struck by a vehicle.

She was first treated at Mercy Health Center on College Avenue, but then was airlifted to Wichita.

Cheryl May, director of media relations and marketing, said Yu, a native of Seoul, South Korea, has an uncle and brother at K-State who are with her in Wichita.

In a press release, Lieutenant Herbert Crosby of the Riley County Police Department, said Bobby Myers, 18, was the driver of the vehicle, however, no charges have

3-year-old girl causes fire with lighter

BY SARAH RICE Karisas State Collenian

A 3-year-old girl was taken to Mercy Health Center for smoke inhalation after starting a fire with a lighter in her home late Thursday night, officials said.

"We believe it was started by a juvenile playing with a lighter," said Battalion Chief Arlen Loeckel of the Manhattan Fire Department. "The smoke detectors worked and notified the owner of the fire."

Long Hoang, resident of the home located at 2224 Harvey Drive, said he was working on homework in his room when he heard his younger sister screaming.

"My little sister was in the bedroom and somehow got a hold of a lighter," Hoang said. "We usually keep that stuff put away since we have little kids in the house."

Hoang said his sister had locked herself in the smoke-filled room.

"I had to break the door in and as soon as it opened, a gush of smoke came in my face," he said. "I heard coughing and crying and it was my little sister. I grabbed her arm and yanked her out."

Loeckel estimated a minimum of $5,000 in damage

"We had fire damage to the origin room and smoke damage throughout the whole

There were six residents in the house at the time of the fire and all evacuated without harm.

Arab leaders agree on peace plan for nations

BY SUSAN SEVAREID The Associated Presi

BEIRUT, Lebanon - For the first time in the Middle East conflict, the Arab world has come together and agreed on a peace plan that offers Israel normal relations in exchange for a full withdrawal from warwon lands and a Palestinian state.

The overture adopted Thursday by the Arab League set demands long resisted by Israel - including making east Jerusalem the Palestinian capital and finding a "just solution" for refugees. But it represented a major change in the Arabs' approach to Israel, breaking with the mindset of 23 years ago, when Egypt was shunned for signing a peace treaty with Israel.

The United States welcomed the Arab leaders' unanimous endorsement of the Saudi proposal. "We hope other leaders in the region accept the plan as well," White House spokesman Gordon Johndroe said.

See ARAB on PAGE 10

Cook, Kohman begin preparations for term

Kansus State Collegian

After being declared winners in the presidential election revote Wednesday night, Zac Cook and Todd Kohman are looking ahead to the beginning of their term.

Cook and Kohman will be sworn-in at the April 4 Student Senate meeting. They said they plan to begin work before the spring semester ends.

There's a lot of committees and cabinet positions to be filled," Kohman said. "We'll try to get voter registration in the works for new student orientation."

Cook said one of his first items of action will be to implement an airport shuttle system for international students coming to K-State next fall.

"We will be getting ready to bring in one of the largest international groups in the fall," he said. "Instead of having the students lost here by themselves when they get to Kansas City, we want to get K-State undergrads to get vans and welcome them. It would be a cheaper alternative to Roadrunner and also a direct route to Manhattan."

The pair said they plan to introduce multicultural/international bills, a resolution to support voter registration and a bill improving the recycling program.

Cook said he also believes students need to educate themselves on what the student body president actually

SGA

ELECTIONS

"I will represent what people think K-State people need to realize when they vote, the student body president is a reflection of them," he said. "The student body president is the number one ambassador for the student body."

Cook said he and Kohman will emphasize their open-door policy and he encouraged students to voice their opinions.

"Find the Office of Student Activites and Service, first floor of the Union and come visit Zac and Todd," he said. "There will be a couch. That's what I won't change. We might even add another one." Cook said he is excited about the new senators and doesn't anticipate any

"I am really confident in the Senate leadership," he said. "I have worked with a lot of those people the last couple of Kohman said his biggest challenge will be accomplishing his own personal goals.

"I want to represent the students at K-State to the best of my ability," he said. Cook said his biggest challenge will be developing a better relationship with the

"I would like to improve the working relations between student government and the Collegian," he said. "Maybe that's the biggest challenge right now." In addition to their campaign platform

See GOALS on PAGE 9

Nicole Donnert/Collegian Steven Kern, freshman in mechanical engineering, top, and Paul Morizzo, sophomore in public relations, middle, tackle Todd Kohman after finding out the election results

Wednesday night.

After hours in the 'Ville

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Traffic and pedestrians cross the intersection of Moro and 12th streets Thursday night.

Night life attracts students, becomes trademark be hard for a bar to have a plan for underage people

BY JAMIE BARRETT

Konsas State Collegian

att Ostermann has made it to the home stretch.

In less than six months, he will turn 21 year sold and be able to go to the over-21 bars in Aggieville.

Ostermann, sophomore in architectural engineering and construction science, spends a limited amount of time in Aggieville now, but once he turns 21, he plans to visit the bars and clubs with the rest of his older

"I knew when I came here that I would not be able to get in on the action in Aggieville 'til I was 21," Ostermann said. "I shoot pool in Aggieville now, and that is really it."

Most popular with college students for its night life, Aggieville has made many transitions throughout the years. In the 1970s, bars and clubs began to appear in Aggieville, changing the K-State cornerstone from a full-service business district to more of a convenient entertainment district.

Cheryl Sieben, director of the Aggieville Business Association, said Aggieville has two different types of merchants.

"We really have day and night merchants," Sieben said. "After about 10 p.m., Aggieville bars are busy with students. Few Aggieville bars allow underage people into their establishments, something that can be aggravating for underage K-State students, but is at the same time necessary. Terry Wark, general manager of Joe's Tap Room, O'Malley's, O'Malley's Alley and Porter's, said it can evening you would have the problem of underage people trying to get into the bars," he said.

friends, he has come to accept it.

in Aggieville.

"I don't think the fact that most underage people can't go out in Aggieville downplays it," he said. "Overall in Manhattan, there are other opportunities for entertainment."

out in most Aggieville bars with his over 21-year-old

You have to have a good plan," Wark said. "I know

Certain bars in Aggieville offer an 18-and-over age

I don't have a plan for underage people in Aggieville."

limit, but Wark said that when there are options for underage people trying to get into 21-and-over bars.

"There is a market for it in Aggieville, but in the Ostermann said that even though he cannot hang underage nightlife in Aggieville, it can result in

See AGGIEVILLE on PAGE 10

Times in the 'Ville

On July 14, 12 inches of rain from the 1951 previous 12 days cause the Kaw River to flood. Manhattan suffers $32 million dollars worth of damage and many Aggieville businesses are damaged.

1960 Pizza Hut opens in egieville. It now is the oldest Pizza Hut operating at its original location.

This is the final story in examining the history

a three-part series of Aggieville.

1969 Phase I of the The Handi Corner Shopping Village construction is completed. The center now houses 16 separate businesses

Triangle Park becomes a 1989 reality in Aggleville, nearly 20 years after the first discussion of what the and should be used for.

The opening of the K-State Student 1956 Union has an adverse affect on many Aggleville businesses. The pizza parlor becomes popular in Aggi

Ted Varney expands the University Book Store to the lower level of the building it occupied.

Riots occur in Aggleville after the football victories over the University of Source: Aggieville 1889-1989: 100 Years of Aggieville Tradition by Dan Walters

Renee McDaniel/Collegian

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the

The Panhellenic and Interfratemity councils won top national awards for excellence. Read more about it online. www.kstatecollegian.com

LOCAL IN BRIEF

RCPD arrests one of city's most wanted criminals

A Manhattan man is in custody after the Riley County Police Department received a tip off of its Web site that lists Manhattan's most wanted criminals.

Pierre Galloup, 22, was first arrested on six charges, Lt. Kurt Moldurb said. The charges filed included battery. criminal restraint, abuse of a child and intimidation of a victim or witness. Those four charges totaled $50,000 in bond, and two other charges that included passing a worthless check and failure to appear totaled $7,722.

Galloup bonded out on the charges, but was arrested less than three hours later on a separate battery charge at 6621 Tuttle Creek Blvd. He remains confined on the second charge with a $5,000

STATE IN BRIEF

Protesters declare victory, say budget battle isn't over

TOPEKA - Lawmakers often say they should think of the budget in terms of people and not numbers, but when dozens of those people showed up at the Statehouse to protest, some legislators found them difficult to face.

About 50 disabled Kansans and their advocates spent a second day at the Statehouse on Wednesday to protest as the House debated $11 million in proposed cuts in services for the elderly and disabled. The House ultimately rejected the reductions.

Judge closes Robinson hearings to recordings

Video cameras and audio recorders will not be allowed in the courtroom during a hearing to determine whether evidence should be suppressed in the case of accused serial killer John E. Robinson St., a judge ruled Thursday.

Johnson County District Court Judge John Anderson III issued his order regarding the April 1 hearing in Olathe, at which attorneys will argue whether certain evidence should be included when Robinson is tried later this year.

World in Brief

Arafat says he's ready for immediate cease-fire

RAMALLAH, West Bank Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat said Thursday that he is ready to work for an immediate cease-fire with Israel.

Arafat said he told U.S. envoy Anthony Zinni, whose truce efforts are continuing despite Wednesday's suicide bombing that killed 20 people in Israel, that he was ready for a cease-fire "without any conditions."

But he did not say whether the Palestinians now accept Zinni's specific detailed timetable, which they effectively rejected two days ago.

Arafat alluded to reports that Israel is planning a massive military retaliation to Wednesday's affack.

Man charged in Sept. 11 attacks might face death

WASHINGTON , D.C .- The Justice Department told a court Thursday it will seek the death penalty against Zacarias Moussaoui, the only person charged in the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks against New York and Washington D.C..

Moussaoui deserves to die because he helped plot "the largest loss of life resulting from a criminal act in the history of the United States," prosecutors said in a filing with the trial judge in suburban Alexandria, Va.

Moussaoui, 33, a French citizen of Moroccan descent, is charged with conspiring with Osama bin Laden, the hijackers and others to commit the Sept. 11 attacks that killed more than 3,000 people. He trial is scheduled to begin this fall.

Four of the six counts brought against Moussaoui carry a maximum sentence of death.

Man who killed 8 at French city hall jumps to his death

PARIS - The man who killed eight officials at a city council meeting jumped to his death from a police station window Thursday, shocking an already reeling nation and angering those who wanted to see him face trial.

The death of Richard Durn raised questions in France about how such a deeply disturbed man was able to obtain semiautomatic pistols and keep them even after his gun license had expired. The violent deaths jolted a nation trying to grapple with rising crime.

Nineteen people were injured in the shooting rampage early Wednesday after a six-hour budget meeting. On Wednesday, one of the injured was "still between life and death," said Nanterre Mayor Jacqueline Fraysse.

SHE said / HE said

Q: I was involved in a workplace romance that recently fizzled. Now I have to see my ex at work all the time. How should I act when we are working - Regretting Romance

Dear Regretting Romance: Unfortunately, I've been in your situation myself, and it's not a pleasant experience. You can probably see now why so many people have rules about workplace romances.

The way you act from now on depends on whether you want your ex back. If you do want him or her back, then I suggest looking cute at work and initiate friendly conversation with your ex. Your best plan of action is to make them remember how good they once had it and how much they miss your sweet lovin'.

If, however, you don't have any remaining interest in your ex, then you shouldn't care about what they think. Be yourself and feel no pressure to look good or even talk to your ex. If possible, try to work different hours, but if you must work together, try to be mature. Remember: what doesn't kill us only makes us stronger.

Sarah is a junior in electronic journalism.

Dear Regretting Romance: For the first time in my journalistic career, I am rendered speechless. I have absolutely no frame of reference for this situation. Perhaps it is just me, but the places in which I've been employed have never had anyone who even resembled an after-hour's romance possibility.

If your workplace fantasy world has recently crumbled, it is your own fault for getting yourself into that situation. You should have used better judgment and weighed the benefits against the costs.

It also is important to remember the situation is only weird if you make it that way.

You have three options to consider. One, be the bigger person and act as if nothing has happened. Two, quit find another job. Three, drive the other person nuts with sexual innuendoes and other constant reminders of the romance. Hopefully the problem will work itself out.

Derek is a senior in milling science.

Sarah Holladay

Derek Dietz

"He said, she said" is an advice column that answers readers' questions about anything from relationships to advising. The column is printed every Friday as a feature on page 2. Send your questions to advice@spub.ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Hems might not appear because of space constraints but are guaran teed to appear in the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksa.edu by II a.m. two days before it is to run.

I Career and Employment Services will conduct a panel regarding federal government jobs at 3:30 p.m., April 3 in Union 212

III Episcopal and Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet at 12:30, 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. on March 29 for Good Friday worship times.

Episcopal and Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet at 7 p.m. on March 30 for Holy Saturday Great

III Lutheran and Episcopal Campus Ministry will meet at 7 p.m. on March 31 for Easter ever

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of John Watt at 3 p.m. March 29 in Dickens 302.

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Helene Marcoux at 1 p.m. March 29 at Bluemont 368. The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Andrew Moran at 2:30 p.m. March 29 in Eisenhower 227. Gold Key National Honor Society Executive Board will meet Sunday at 5:45 p.m. in Union 202.

KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We traffic violations because of space

Riley County Wednesday, March 27

■ At 9:58 a.m., James Britt, 810 N. Manhattan Ave., Apt. 2, was arrested for registration of offender, Bond was set at $1,000.

III At noon, Joe Hall, Canterbury, No. 1-4, Apt. 2, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $2,500. At 4:44 p.m., Pierre Galloup, 6621 Tuttle Creek Blvd., was arrested for battery, criminal restraint, abuse of a child, intimidation of a victim or witness, worthless check and failure to appear. Bond was set at $57,722. At 7 p.m., Pierre Galloup, 6621 Tuttle Creek Blvd., was arrested for aggravated battery. Bond was set at

■ At 9:45 p.m., Joe Mann, 324 N. was set at $500. At 10:15 p.m., Michael Rincon, Burlington, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $2,000.

Thursday, March 28 At 12:40 a.m., Joshua Siders,

1843 Anderson, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750. m At 1:23 a.m., Thadeus Haston, Kansas City, Mo., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts Alyson Raletz City/Gov Editor

Editor in Chief April Middleton Dana Strongin

Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

News Editor Zach Long

Phato Director

Paul Restivo Copy Chief Nicole Donnert

Aust. Photo Director

Dan Smith Sports Editor JJ Duncan

A&E Editor Campus Editor

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Amber Koehn Opinion Editor

Katie Lane Presentation Editor Nancy Hull Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson eCollegian Editor Jodi Fagerquist

Alissa Duncan Asst. Ad Manager

532-6556

Ad Manager

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

(† SPS 29) (CD), a student newspaper at Kansas Stats University, is published by Student Publications Inc. Kedus weekdays thering the school year and in Wednesdays throug the sommer. Periodical postage is pool at Manhattan, Kan. 0/00E POSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas Star

Kedzie 103, Minhartan, Kini. 66506-7167 © Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Display advertising 532-6560 Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints 532-6304

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Using PEOPLE in YOUR research?

Learn the PROPER methods of testing on HUMAN SUBJECTS!

When: Wednesday, April 3rd Where: Union Little Theater 2:00-3:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Food Science Graduate Student Association, and The Graduate Student Council.

Good Friday worship: March 29 at 12:30, 1:30 or 2:30 p.m. Great Vigil of Holy Saturday: March 30 at 7 p.m. Easter Evening Festival Celebration:

March 31 at 7 pm.

KSU Danforth Chapel All are welcome! Good Friday; hear the story told and sing songs

Great Vigil of Holy Saturday: keep the vigil, pray and sing songs of hope and freedom. Easter Evening Festival Celebration: come celebrate the good news of God's love raised up in remembering the last words of Jesus on the cross.

Episcopal Campus Ministry

1823 Laramie 785-532-9099

Lutheran Campus Ministry 1745 Anderson Avenue 785-539-4451

MA Little Carsans Your Career Takes High

OFFER ENDS

Westloop Center 539-3333

Come to a place where your career can take flight. You'll be surrounded by professionals ready to help you at a moment's notice. You'll develop working relationships that feel like family. At the end of the day, you'll know you've made a difference doing what you love to do.

Consular die possibiliuss. SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide Instruction SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHERS - Provide instruction to children with low incidence disabilities, autism, sensory impairment, moderate to severe learning and behavior problems in self-contained classroom of five to seven children. Design and implement instructional programs to meet individual student needs based on a functional curriculum. I:I staff/student ratio with medical, psychology & therapy support services provided in the classroom. Master teacher assigned for training & support.

Degree in Special Education & certification in MR, SMD, will consider certification in BD with exp. in multiple disabilities or additional special ed. cert., K-12. Salary $34,585 – $48,628, based on education & experience. Excellent employee benefits. Contact Donna Cooper for information at dcooper@heartspring.org or to submit a resume. EEO/M/F

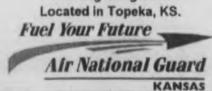

Eass 29th Screen North + Wichita, KS 67226 (800) 835-1042 - fax (316) 634-0555

$52,000 or more Receive up to

The cost of college is going up, up, up. A regular paycheck and educational incentives can help you pay your way. Best of all, you work part-time. So, you can go to college and keep your social life while you serve your community and country. Call us now to see if you're eligible at 861-4295 or toll free 1-800-435-5149 or www.goang.com

SafeRide committee formed

Kausas State Collegian

The overwhelming positive response on the SafeRide plebiscite vote was put into legislative action at Thursday's Student Senate meeting.

Kyle Barker, student body president, told senators he was disappointed that the program could not be imple mented immediately. however, he realized the importance of working out the details. "This isn't the legislation that was originally intended," he said. "This is a committee to do something your peers have demanded you to do. This is something that will help K-State students in the long run."

Barker said the process was slowed down by extensive research. "I think that everyone in our camp wanted to push for action," he said. "We had to research and go through all the initial steps. We

STUDENT

SENATE

Student Senate

meets at 7 p.m.

evening in the Big

12 Room of the

K-State Student

Union, Students

and faculty are

every Thursday

didn't feel confident introducing legislation this late in the game."

The committee will consist of six voting members, but an unlimited number of nonvoting members will be allowed.

They will figure out the cost, hours of operation and route designation of the SafeRide program.

Also at Thursday's meeting, Bill Muir, faculty senator, congratulated the presidential candidates.

It's always a difficult situation where you have highly-motivated people that are seeking the same position," he said. "Through whatever process you use there are complications that have to be ironed out."

Muir said he believes the elections, despite the vendor difficulties, went well because of the behavior of the candidates.

"I think the only culprit in this whole operation was the vendor," he said.

There are no winners and losers when everyone conducts themselves in such a manner. There are only winners.

"Those who are going forward I am sure we wish them the best in their administration. To those who will retire next week, we would express our thanks and congratulations.

In other action, senators allocated funds to the American Red Cross Club to provide mannequins for CPR demonstra-

National gas prices reach 9-month high

BY MICHELLE MORGANTE

The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO - Drivers across the nation are digging deeper into their wallets to cover rising gasoline prices, which have leapt an average of 23 cents per gallon during the last month - the most dramatic change in more than a decade. "It hits the pocket book," 36-year-old Cindy Trujillo said as she pumped gas Thursday in Denver. adding she recently switched from a pickup truck to a fuel-friendly Geo Metro. "$20 to $10 makes a big difference."

The jump to Thursday's national average of $1.35 for unleaded, according to a AAA survey, is fueled by a combination of factors.

Analysts say a recent decision by OPEC and other oil producers to hold down production, and the traditional spring rise in demand as driving time increases with the

Park Place Apartments

Make This Your First Stop

1,2 & 3 Bedrooms

539-2951

Home Sweet Home

warming weather have shaped

The four-week leap is the sharpest seen by the Energy Information Administration, the statistical branch of the Department of Energy, since it began keeping records in 1990.

Part of the reason is that gas prices fell to bargain levels - below $1 a gallon in some areas - in the wake of the Sept. 11 terror attacks, which hampered travel and slowed the economy. Prices still are below the average of March 2001, when it was $1.43 due largely to the thenstrong economy

Crude oil prices have risen to about $25 a gallon since December, when OPEC decided the $20 a barrel they were earning then was too low. said Douglas MacIntyre, senior oil market analyst with the Energy Information Administration in Washington.

Every $1 increase in the price of a barrel of crude oil translates into a per-gallon hike of about 2.5 cents, he said. Based on current trends, motorists should expect to see pergallon prices rise another 5 cents to 15 cents over the next several weeks, Californians, who shoulder the added costs of reformulated gasoline mandated by pollution restrictions, are facing the highest prices in the continental United States. Bay Area motorists have seen average prices rise to $1.68 from $1.42 a month ago.

How far prices will climb is uncertain, said Carol Thorp, spokeswoman for the Auto Club of Southern California. Perhaps Americans who canceled travel last year because of high gas prices or Sept. 11 will feel the urge to hit the highways this year, she noted.

This summer is a question mark at the moment," Thorp said. "Anyone who tells you they can predict that is not correct."

PLACE TO CALL

Place to Call Home" appears every Friday. Call 532-6560 to place an ad

in this section

MOORE Property Management 2002-2003 leases Close to Campus

Win Cash for Spring Break! Sign a new lease prior to 3/14 @ 5 p.m. to be entered into a drawing. Drawing held at 2 p.m. on 3/15

For more info call 537-0205

All Apartments within Walking Distance to Campus

ONE BEDROOMS

1022-1026 Sunset $345-385 1212 Thurston $440-460

1950-1960 Hunting

$440-460 1837 College Heights $385

1825-1829 College Hts. $600-700

> Apts. $610-750

1841 College Heights $780-980

Call Today for an Appointment

DIAMOND

537-7701

TWO BEDROOMS

Aggieville Penthouse

3 & 4 BEDROOMS

1109 Hylton Heights Manhattan, KS 66502

For all your real estate needs .

- Ready to buy, but don't know where to start?
- Call, write or email us today. We will pre-qualify you in minutes.
- There is no cost to you. · We offer buyers representation.

Are you considering selling your home?

• We will be glad to do a free market analysis to enable you to establish a value on your real estate.

a family agency with three generations of KSU grads

Century 21 Irvine Real Estate, Inc. 1018 Poyntz Ave. Manhattan, KS (785) 539-2356 or 1-800-634-1259 or email-cent21@flinthills.com or www.Century21Irvine.com is Now Leasing for the 2002-2003 School Year!

Apartments start at $490 per month

All Apartments Include:

·Microwave, Dishwasher, Garbage Disposal, Refrigerator and Slove • 24 Hour Fitness Facility and Laundry Care Center

 24 Hour Emergency On-Call Maintenance On-Site Management • 1,2,3, and 4 Bedrooms Available

Call Chase Manhattan Apartments

(785) 776-3663 (24 hours)

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 118 Kedzie • 532-6560

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE? Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor Copy Editor * Staff Writers Photojournalist * Marketing Director

- Section Editors · Student Life
  - · Organizations
- · Sports * Academics
- · People Applications due March 29

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS Summer 2002 and Fall 2002

Managing Editors News Editors* Desk Editors Reporters * Copy Editors Designers

Photojournalists Graphic Journalists Graphic Artists

Online Journalists Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

Community Easter Service

given by pastor

Dave Thompson

McCain Auditorium

10 - 11:15 a.m.

Everyone Welcome

sponsored by Westview Community Church

Breakfast with the Easter Bunny

> March 30, 2002 Union Station Ground Floor K-State Student Union 7:30-10:30am per person tax included

Cash & Credit Card Payments Only www.union.ksu.edu/food/bluemont

> Scrambled eggs Bacon

Biscuits with jelly and honey

Safety should remain concern during holidays

Whether to hunt for eggs or to visit family, many K-Staters will be home for Easter this weekend.

Although this weekend is a good time to enjoy family festivities, it's also important to remember safety.

Too often people forget that driving is

OUR VOICE

is an editorial selected and debated by the

formed OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

editorial board and

written after a

Jessica Pitts

dangerous. All it should take to remind them is this year's student deaths. from automobile accidents. This reminds us that thinking, 'It won't happen to me,' is

April Middleton Nancy Foster It could happen to Dana Strongin us, even if we never Alyson Raletz drink and drive. We Nancy Hull often hear about Amber Koehn Dan Smith drunken driving, but Paul Restivo it doesn't take alcohol Katle Lane to cause a crash. JJ Duncan Drowsiness, inatten-Zach Long Nicole Donnert tiveness and other Micah Hawkinson drivers can all lead you off the road.

Go home, fill your baskets and enjoy your family. But don't forget to be safe on the road.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Let's do this.

Nice way to wait for the road to be paved for you, David McCandless.

I was just wondering if the Union Food Court got its trays from a prison or

My friends call me Whiskers because I'm curious like a cat.

The real answer to the woodchuck question is: if a woodchuck could chuck wood, a woodchuck would chuck as much wood as a woodchuck could chuck.

Just when I thought I'd heard it all, my girlfriend breaks up with me because I'm "too nice of a guy."

Let's hope this isn't a repeat performance of Zac Cook's Theta Chi days.

Nelly and N'Sync? What's this world coming to?

Hey, Dave, I'd rather make love to an animal than have sex with another man.

Losing the primary election: $2,500. Losing the general election: more of daddy's money. Winning the third election: a whole lot of cheers and one little, whiny voice.

Poor Zac Cook. Now you won't be able to receive any sympathy hugs.

The girl who answers the Fourum is my

I love animals

Matt and Mandy, we are proud of the way you're handling things.

Ask not what your college can do for you, but who you can do at your college.

Sean Purcell, that is a sad, sad article, and I feel sorry for you, buddy. This is from a K-State/Big 12 fan, and, more than anything else, a KU fan.

There's never a shortage of stupid people in this world. Thanks for proving that, K-State.

Matt and Mandy, at least you still have your dignity.

Is it hard to transfer schools?

Break down

Lending a helping hand can make someone else's day

You'd figure they could at least make it annoying

What a bunch of bleeding-heart liberals. If conservatives had made that phone, you can bet it would be loud enough for everyone to hear, even if they didn't

When I was a lad, our phone was loud enough to wake the dead and make them mumble groggily,

"Hello? Who's this?" They don't make 'em like that anymore, I tell you. That's what you get from eight their merry and sundry ways when I tried to flag

I could blame all the people who continued on

I suppose they were just too busy going to their keg parties (or, if they were engineers, to their enough to wake up just one of the nine people in the house, but no. They had to go and make it gentle to

I could blame the makers of my family's negatory, HQ.

telephone.

the hearing.

agree with it.

years of Clinton.

them down at 1 a.m.

t's 3 a.m., and I'm upset.

I got off work early tonight, ironically enough. Upon reaching my auto, however, 1 met with a distressing problem: my battery, unaccustomed to powering my headlights for periods of 16 hours at a time, had gone completely dead.

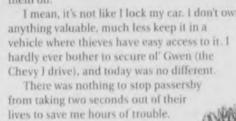

I tried to call my house, but the other members of my family apparently keep fairly normal schedules. The result: the phone's pitiful, emasculated beeps failed to wake them

So here I sit. I have no way to get home and Micah Hawkinson nothing to do until morning

There are any number of people I could blame for my predicament. For instance, I could direct my pointy little finger at all the people who must have seen my lights on and passed by without turning anything valuable, much less keep it in a vehicle where thieves have easy access to it. I hardly ever bother to secure of Gwen (the motorist with no hope of ever getting a date even if he lives to be the oldest man alive.

Not that I'm complaining, mind you.

I could blame the car manufacturers who write in their silly owner's manuals never to give a jump to anyone, anywhere.

Actually, that blame should really go to the putzes who manufacture their silly, effeminate little microchips and put them into cars. Electrical short, schmelectrical short. The car still runs, no?

Really, I deserve all the blame. It's my own stupid fault for leaving my lights on. Be that as it may, I still find myself resenting the people who could have helped, but didn't.

As I contemplate the events of the evening, the world seems to be conspiring against unfortunate motorists. Why on God's green earth should a few volts of electricity pose such an insurmountable challenge to an intelligent, resourceful, street-smart college student?

Or to me, for that matter?

One thing's for sure: I'm going to think twice next time I pass someone in distress on the highway.

Maybe that Jesus guy knew what he was talking about when he told us to do unto others what we would have them do unto us.

The world would probably be a lot nicer if everyone went out of his or her way to help someone else. It's easy to forget that when everything's going well. On nights like this one, though, lack of simple kindness from others feels like getting smacked upside the head with This week, why not try being nice for no > guarantee others will. But what do I know? I'm just a guy without a working car.

Micah is a junior in English and history. You can e-mail mph7686@ksu.edu.

glory days, in the wink of a young girl's

Kyle is a senior in biochemistry and pre-medicine. You can e-mail him at eyes, glory days, glory days."

krb4706@ksu.edu

Fears of real world make graduation hard to face

think we all remember what it was like to be a high school senior. We couldn't wait to graduate.

get away from our parents' loving grasp and stake our claim on college life

"Senioritis" they called it. We had fun in those last couple of days as high school students, because we could look forward and know how much fun college much fun.

Kyle Brownback life would be. If only being a college senior was as

With the job market as bleak as it is, many graduating seniors have no idea where they will go after they graduate. Some fear being forced into a job they don't want. Others fear having to move back home with their parents with a degree and no career.

Others, although they know what their future holds for them, spend their last semester, like me, wondering where all the time went.

It seems like yesterday I moved to Manhattan, ready for my greatest adventure: life as a college boy. Now that this chapter is closing, it seems like a whole new state of mind has set in.

Instead of senioritis, I've got the senior blues. And I know I'm not the only one out there with this dilemma.

Many other soon-to-be-graduates approach me and wonder where all the time went. Remember when we were young.

and we'd go to KJ's or to random house parties on Thurston?

> Things have changed at K-State for us. Gone is the time when > we could do stupid things and not worry about it. Now, since we're older, there is added pressure to be more responsible and mature. Now, we are no longer college kids, but soon-to-be grown-ups. And with each new day, it seems like

I'm spending more time reflecting on all the things I wish I had done in I wish I could have done some undergraduate research in one of K-State's great facilities, studied abroad or maybe even run for student body president. I regret the times when I had to take a test and I wished I would have studied more, and those classes I wish I would have taken and, even more, I regret those classes I wish I wouldn't have been forced to take. There were all of those times when I wish I hadn't drank so much and even more times when I wish I could have drank more.

And then there's all of those girls I wish I would have asked on a date, or not screwed things up with or not gone out with in the first place.

That's the problem with closing a chapter of your life. It seems like you have to think about all of your regrets. Ending college is so much more difficult than closing any other chapter in your life. It will never be as good as

We will never have another time in our lives where we will have so much freedom and so little responsibility again. Taking that big dramatic step into the real world is terrifying-All of a sudden we have a whole lot more problems to deal with. HMOs, 401(K)s and 1040EZs are just a few abbreviations we might be forced to deal with in the very near future.

I can reminisce about my glory days as long as I want, but it isn't going to change anything. I guess this is growing up.

In the words of Bruce Springsteen: "Glory days, well they'll pass you by,

Line Art by Jennifer Kimball/Collegian

"cheating." If someone overheard you READERS WRITE discussing a test they were about to take, or if you turned in the same book report for

K-State honor system needs clear explanation of code

The creation of the honor code at K-State has been a positive step toward founding an atmosphere of academic honesty, and I wish to recognize those who have worked so diligently for its implemen-

However, at a recent presentation, I was startled to learn how few guidelines exist to determine what "unauthorized aid" actually means. The presenter asked our group to determine what constituted two classes, could you be prosecuted as a cheater?

The answer: it depends primarily on the opinions of your specific professor. But is it truly fair to accuse and prosecute students for cheating when no universal definition of "unauthorized aid" exists?

The honor system at K-State has harsh penalties, as it ought to. Cheating is not fair to the cheaters who are robbed of the educational experience of doing one's own work. It's also not fair to those who did not cheat who receive lower grades, though they might have learned and accomplished more.

I propose the honor system publish and distribute an explanation of the words in the honor code to all incoming students, as per the recommendations of faculty

The explanation should provide students with a list of acceptable and unacceptable behaviors, stating perhaps that receiving or giving assistance on any graded assignment violates the honor code, while simply being overheard does not (as that is not a conscious effort by either party to engage in unethical practices). If a particular faculty member wishes to alter the interpretation of the honor code, he/she should do so in class syllabi, allowing faculty to adjust the honor code to their particular needs.

Such an explanation will assist all parties involved. Faculty can maintain better relationships with students because they would know what behaviors to expect from their students. The honor system will better be able to prosecute cheating allegations because hearings will be simplified.

And students will have a detailed summary of what they can and cannot do so they can abide by the honor code, which many students already support.

The honor code is an important aspect of academic life at K-State, and I encourage the honor system to make the code more effective and fair.

> - Brooklyn Lippelmann junior in political science

Republican to deliver 2nd Landon Lecture

BY ANGIE JOHNSON Kansas State Collegias

Oklahoma Republican Rep. J.C. Watts Jr. will present the 125th Landon Lecture Series at K-State.

Congressman Watts, who represents the fourth Congressional District of Oklahoma, will speak at 10:30 a.m. April 26 in McCain Auditorium. Watts' speech will be the second Landon Lecture at K-State this semester.

"I am positive that Watts will give a speech that everyone will enjoy and benefit from," said Charles Reagan, chair of the Landon Lecture Series.

Watts is serving his fourth term in the U.S. House of Representatives. and he was first elected to Congress in 1994. His work has received several honors, including being named one of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Ten Outstanding Young Americans in 1996 and the Jefferson Award for promoting economic prosperity and free enterprise.

"We chose him because he is a prominent, African-American,

Lecture online

Watts' lecture can be heard live on the Web at www.k-state.edu/landon. The Web site is sponsored by K-State's Division of Continuing Education and includes an audio archive of previous Landon Lectures.

Republican representative," Reagan said. "Watts was recommended to K-State and has been involved in a number of important committees."

Watts graduated in 1981 from the University of Oklahoma with a bachelor's degree in journalism. He played quarterback for the Sooners, leading the team to two consecutive Big 8 championships.

Watts has served as both a youth minister and an associate pastor for the Sunnylane Southern Baptist Church in Oklahoma.

"It's always important for students to be exposed to the great leaders of our nation and to hear firsthand about the problems." Reagan said.

Bill advances to give power to local school boards

BY JOHN MILBURN

The Associated Press

TOPEKA - The House tentatively approved a bill Thursday granting local school boards more authority and providing more state aid to districts with declining enrollments

Members advanced the bill to final action on an 84-34 vote, despite a prediction from Education Committee Chairman Ralph Tanner that more local control would spawn a "black hole of mischief."

The bill states that a local board "shall have the power to transact business for the efficient and effective use of district resources in a manner and upon such terms and conditions as the board deems to be in the best interest of the school district."

Current law requires that boards ask legislators for grants of specific powers, such as the authority to enter into agreements with other districts to provide

"We don't know what kind of lawlessness we might unleash," said Tanner, R-Baldwin City.

"We don't know what kind of lawlessness we might unleash."

> Ralph Tanner, R-Baldwin City

The local control provision was added to a bill making it easier for school districts to use contingency funds for general education purposes.

Currently, boards can only use the funds in emergencies with approval from the State Board of Education.

Rep. Larry Campbell offered the provision, saying he had consulted both the Kansas National Education Association and the Kansas Association of School Boards.

"We're still in control," said Campbell, R-Olathe. "The worst case scenario is if somebody does something crazy, we can stop it next year.

Opponents pointed out that school boards are supposed to be accountable to legislators.

Supporters said the same people who vote for school boards also elect House members.

In large school districts, boards represent larger populations than do individual House members.

"If we think they elect people who are incompetent, perhaps we should look at ourselves," said Rep. Dan Williams, R-Olathe

A similar bill passed the Senate earlier this year.

The declining enrollment amendment, approved 82-36, would provide extra state aid to school districts to compensate for loss of students from the previous

The provision would cost the state an additional $17.7 million. Kansas spends approximately $2.3 billion on elementary and secondary education each year. It allocates $3,870 per pupil.

Education officials pointed out that the amendment would create problems if legislators fail to add money to the budget to cover its

The amendment would artificially inflate the student enrollment figures of some districts creating more students statewide

Without extra money, the state would have to cut its per-pupil aid figure by $30.

"In the absence of funding, it's just a shift," said Mark Tallman, lobbyist for the school board association.

Under that scenario, the revenue shift would be beneficial to the Kansas City, Shawnee Mission and Manhattan districts, which have had large drops in enrollment drops in recent years.

Growing districts such as Olathe and Blue Valley, along with some rural districts, would see a decrease in state aid.

About two-thirds of Kansas' 303 school districts are losing enrollment. Rep. John Faber, R-Brewster, offered the amendment, which was similar to language in a bill he introduced.

That bill is still in committee and not expected to advance this session.

The Senate has approved a bill that would add $20 to base state aid at a cost of $12 million.

Gov. Bill Graves, in his revised budget, also adds $12 million to schools through a series of tax increases.

we kick ads.

CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

............

Stay connected...

kstatecollegian.com

. . . . . . . . . . . . FRIDAY

$2.00 Bottles $4.50 Fishbowls

$2 Wells

Live Music SUNDAY

/2 PRICE DRINKS

Open Mic Night season for

Are you an undergraduate active in a student organization? If so, you could be eligible for a $500 scholarship!

STUDENT FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS

Presented through the KSU Student Foundation

nviolence

INTERVENTION

Alcohol and drug abuse is both a consequence and a cause of violence.

Today have the courage to intervene in a caring way with someone who is using alcohol or drugs. Through your honest communication, encourage them to get educated, get help, get sober and free from drugs.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

Email nonviolence@ksu.edu or call 532-6927 to sponsor a way!

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

Give us yeur epinien. Campus Fourum: 395-4444

LET'S HELP OUR LOCAL CHARITIES.

Please consider a contribution to support our local charities.

THINK GLOBALLY. ACT LOCALLY.

Pregnancy TESTING CENTER

Supportive services for pregnancy. parenting & adoption.

39-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results Call for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

A full service copy center.

Color Copies

• Folding Binding

 Laminating B/W Copies

Shipping

Large Format Posters

High Quality!

Mon. - Fri. 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sat. 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. On Time - Every Time!

KSU Meat Sale Noon-6 p.m. Rm. 166 Weber Hall

BEEF

roast, steak, ground beef, bratwurst

pork chops, pork steaks, sausage, ground pork, bacon

For information call 532-1279

LUNCH BUFF NOW AVAILABLE IN AGGIEVILLE

1121 Moro • 539-7666

Also available at Westloop 2931 Claflin • 539-7447 and 3rd & Moro 231 Moro • 776-4334

MONDAY-SUNDAY 11:30-1:00

Easter Dinner Special

Fresh Garden Salad · Sherry Glazed Ham Parsley New Potatoes · Fresh Steamed Asparagus Bread Pudding or Chocolate Chip Mint Pie

$11.95 (Our Full Menu will also be available)

Kids have your photo taken with the Easter Bunny

1641 Anderson Ave. • Manhattan

READY FOR THE BEST

Wildcats face Huskers in weekend 3-game set

Kansas State Collegian

For a K-State baseball team with a goal of competing at the top of the Big 12, a golden opportunity has presented itself.

Well, a red one at least.

The Wildcats are at home for a threegame set with conference-leading Nebraska (16-7). The teams will play at 2 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 1 p.m.

The Cats come in riding a three-game winning streak, a stretch that includes a win over Oklahoma State and a two-game sweep of C.W. Post.

Coach Mike Clark said his team is confident and ready for the challenge.

"Our guys are excited and they feel good about themselves right now," Clark said. "With any challenge you have an opportunity, and our guys want to play well against Nebraska."

Clark said the Huskers' offensive ability presents an interesting defensive challenge for his 14-10 Wildcat club.

'It is important for us to get ahead early in the count," Clark said. "They have a lot of different things they can do offensively. They have a good running game and they play the short game extremely

"One of the things they do a great job with is hitting with two strikes," he said.

"They don't strike out a lot so it's important for us to get strike one and strike two in so they're doing that kind of thing with two strikes on our pitch. We don't want to give them a chance to do a lot of damage.

Still, defense will not be K-State's only focus in this weekend's showdown with the Big 12's top-rated pitching staff.

K-State infielder Tim Doty, ranked econd in individual batting in the Big 12 said his team is eager play at Nebraska and anybody else who comes along.

"We want Nebraska pretty bad," Doty said. "But we want everybody bad. We want to win every game. Nebraska is the defending Big 12 champs, so they're used to having people gun for them. "We want to get people on base and hit them around and play our game. We're going to try and continue to play good baseball and take advantage of their mistakes. Leftfielder Par Maloney, ranked fourth

Saturday, March 30 - 2 p.m. #35 LHP Brock Smith (1-2, 4.82 ERA, 28.0 IP, 25 Strikeouts)

tay, March 31 - 1 p.m. (3-1, 3.37 ERA, 34.2 IP, 30 Strikeouts)

in the conference in hitting, said the Wildcats' mentality at the plate will adjust for Nebraska's talented staff.

"The mindset is going to change a little against Nebraska," Maloney said. "We are going to be looking to take what they give

"If that means hitting a single to move somebody over so someone else can drive him in, that's what needs to be done.

You have to score more than two runs to beat Nebraska. When we get an opportunity, we have to make the most of it," he said. "If we get a guy on second with no outs, we have to find a way to get him home.

K-State will start ace Ross Hawley against the Huskers' No. 1 Shane Komine, an All-American who already has garnered two Big 12 pitcher of the week awards for the Cornhuskers.

But pitcher Brock Smith said Komine will not greatly affect K-State's approach to beating Nebraska.

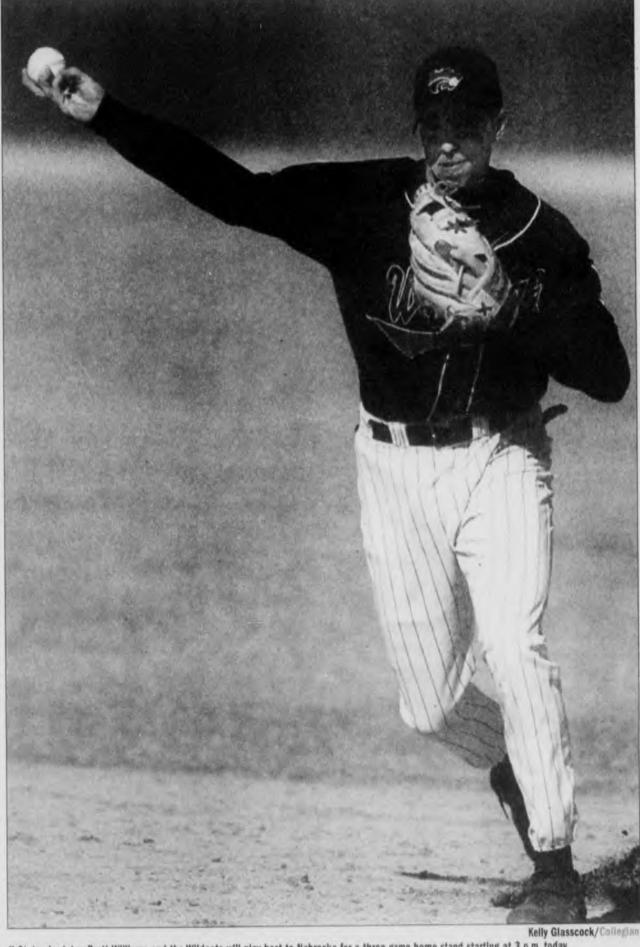

"Everybody is talking about Shane Komine coming to town and all that good stuff, but I've yet to see Shane Komine dominate the Cats," Smith said. "He hasn't beat us yet so I think he knows what he's getting himself into," he said. "If we play our game, we shouldn't have any problems.' Clark said Nebraska has a number of tools to hurt its opposition, but added that his Wildcat squad will be ready to go this weekend. "We've beat Nebraska before and we are going to take the same approach this time around," Clark said. "If we play defense and compete at the plate, we're going to have a good shot.

Really, I think it's going to be a great weekend of baseball."

K-State shortstop Brett Williams and the Wildcats will play host to Nebraska for a three-game home stand starting at 3 p.m. today.

K-State to battle Nebraska's strong pitching staff at plate

Kansas Stite Colle

Coach Mike Clark doesn't need to dive too deep into this weekend's scouting report to know his team is in for a battle at the plate against Nebraska.

"They have the best three starting pitchers in America." Clark said.

He isn't exaggerating either.

Shane Komine (5-0, L.17 ERA), Jaime Rodrigue (4-0, 1.44 ERA) and Aaron Marsden (1-0, 0.86 ERA) make up a Husker rotation that ranks 1-2-3 in the Big 12 in ERA.

"Komine, Rodrigue and (Marsden) — they're quality," Clark said. "The numbers they're putting up against three of the best teams in the Big 12 just absolutely shut them

Thanks in large part to its dominance off the mound, Nebraska has already taken series from No. 13 Texas A&M and No. 22 Texas Tech this season. This weekend against K-State, the Huskers will be relying on more of the same.

"That's what they've been doing good this year," first baseman Tim Doty said. "All three starters are pitching real well right now, and of course Komine is a stud and he's going to fill it up. He strikes a lot of people out."

Doty and teammate Pat Maloney give the Cats their best chance to combat NU's dominant staff.

K-State's offense ranks second in the Big 12 with a .328 batting average, with Maloney topping the hitting charts with a A15 average and seven homeruns. Doty adds a .407 clip and four roundtrippers to Clark's arsenal.

Komine will get the call on the mound in Friday's matchup, but don't expect K-State's approach to hitting to change much against the two-time Big 12 pitcher of the week.

"We're going to have to be aggressive when we get our pitches because he's going to try to go after us and try to shut us down real early," Doty said. "Hopefully we can get on them

Komine isn't alone in the national spotlight either. In fact, every Husker starter the Cats see this weekend has garnered Collegiate Baseball National Pitcher of the Week honors this season for the Big 12's second-ranked pitching staff (2.94 ERA, 1.47 runs per game).

"Hopefully we can create some opportunities and take advantage of the times when we have the potential to score runs and get a couple of breaks along the way." Clark said.

That means reducing the number of runners left on base.

Against C.W. Post on Wednesday, K-State stranded a dozen Wildcats in an 11-10 win.

Still, any comparison between the 5-11-1 Pioneers and 16-7 Huskers doesn't seem fair.

"It's going to be a lot different because they throw a lot harder." Maloney said. "Komine's got the ability to run in the mid-90s at points, and that will be an adjustment. We'll see how quick we make it."

Facing Nebraska isn't a challenge the Cats are going to back down to, though, Doty said. In fact, K-State's club is looking forward to its chance to prove everyone wrong.

"Our confidence is good at the plate." Doty said. "We've been hitting the ball good all year and we like to face the best pitching - it's always good to go against the best."

Bracket upsets prove picks wrong; Oklahoma to win championship

Is it just me, or did everybody else's NCAA men's brackets get viciously mangled this year?

I'm guessing those of you who had Duke winning it all just nodded your head, after clutching your neck with both hands and squeezing profusely, of course. The Blue Devils flat-out choked against Indiana in the Sweet 16, plain and simple. They were the better team - heck, they were the best team in the nation - and I even had the Hoosiers getting knocked out in the first

It's obvious why I picked the Dukies to repeat as NCAA champions this year, and the darn suckers let me down. Of all people in the world, too,

Still, as I sat in my hotel in South Padre Island, Texas - sorry, I had to throw that detail in - I couldn't help but feel the way the Blue Devils lost was all too fitting.

After blowing a 17-or-so-point lead, they didn't deserve to win anyway, but the closing seconds seemed almost predes-

A four-point deficit with ticks remaining usually means a game is out of reach. But Duke had Jason Williams. The star and first-team All-American hit a three-pointer from the top of the circle with a few seconds left, and flopped onto his back to con the officials into calling a foul. Then comes the fitting

As good as Williams might be, he lacks one quality. He sucks at shooting free throws. His 67percent average from the charity stripe this season is way too low for a top-caliber guard, especially one who wants to make it at the next level.

Granted, his late-game attempt against Indiana was his first free throw of the game, but somehow I just knew he'd miss it. The clutch trey and the foul got me off my seat, as the chance to salvage my bracket just got better, but I just had that feeling. And sure enough, Williams' shot dipped halfway in the basket and popped back out, ending his famed career.

Whoops. Bet he wishes he had that one back.

view

Derek Boss

But anyway, Duke wasn't the only team that screwed up my picks this March. Don't ask me what I was on when I filled the stupid thing out, but I just had a feeling there would be some big upsets in this year's field. And I picked some, too. Just the wrong

Instead of foreseeing the 10th-seed Golden Flashes of Kent State and their run to the Elite 8, or the 11th-seed Southern Illinois Salukis' Sweet 16 berth, I made a complete fool of myself.

I chose to take No. 6-seed Texas Tech all the way to the semifinals, but Bobby Knight's boys didn't even win a game. I thought mighty Gonzaga would feel snubbed by its sixth-seed and make another Sweet 16 appearance, but the Bulldogs lost in the first round.

And by far my most ridiculous pick of all, No. 10-seed Pepperdine was my sleeper, and I put them in the Elite 8.

But instead, the Waves went to sleep, and were handled by Wake Forest in the opening round. So after all was said and done, I had dug myself a considerable hole. Oh, well. Sometimes it's more fun the way things turn out. It's been another good tournament from a fan's perspective, and we all should be in for a good Final Four.

The Big 12 not only has a representative for the first time since the conference's inception in 1996, but it has two - Kansas and Oklahoma.

And as much as my red-headed counterpart could banter in his Tuesday Collegian column - talking about how much he hopes to see them lose - he's in for a rude awakening. The Hawks and Sooners will meet for the national championship April 1, no bones about it.

It will be a rematch of the Big 12 Tournament championship, which will undoubtedly give the league a little more credit than it often receives.

As for the winner of that game, I had to think about for a while, but I finally made up my mind. Oklahoma will triumph.

In case you were wondering, it was basically a toss up, but the gorgeous OU girl I met down in Padre gave the Sooners a decisive edge. Go figure.

Derek is a junior in print and electronic journalism. You can e-mail him at dnb8765@ksu.edu.

CROSSWORD

1 Astaire specialty

7 Pinkish

to the soapbox

16 Hammock

19 Dog bane

20 Lemony

ment

23 Boutique

servicewoman 29 Geisha

22 Hostel

27 WWII

31 Juilliard

quaff 35 Explated 37 Round Table 38 Glazier's sheet

weather 41 Difficulty

STUMPED?

Quote of the day

curriculum 34 Thanks-

overuser

1229-Across

accessory 13 From - Z

4 Took cover

45 Farewell brewery product

Man"

song

52 Theater

53 Bizarre

55 Ms.

54 Leading

Gardner

56 Lawyers'

arena

57 Roulette

selection 58 Novelist

ducats

By Eugene Sheffer

24 Scuttle

26"- lavor

28 Blackjack

30 Here (Fr.)

31 Navigator's

32 Actress

Hagen

36 She loved conceal Titanic,

one's hat 37 28-Down's

40 The

42 Birth-

43 Greek salad

46 Second

51 Russian spacecraft

33 Inheritor,

2 On top

Boy's

percent 5 Inclined

6 Donutstressful?

shop order 7 Cygnets'

8 Acapulco

in the ring

amugness

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-68731 99c per minute, touch tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC

PZWAZOZ IXRI

- Albert Einstein, inventor

CRYPTOQUIP

ERDLZDU QXF WAOZ QAIX

XZGU RDZ FEIZG RQRNZGZK

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DURING A GAME. DON'T SIT IN THE BLEACHERS, OTHERWISE YOUR CLOTHES MAY BECOME WHITE.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: R equals A

CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, Fl. 32853-5475

puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by that and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"Too many of us look upon Americans as dollar chasers. This is a cruel libel, even if it is reiterated thoughtlessly by the Americans

MOVIE TIMES

"Blade 2" 4:10, 7:10, 9:50

"Resident Evil"

4:25, 7:20, 9:45

4:00, 7:15, 9:30

4:30, 9:45

7:25

"40 Days and 40 Nights"

"Sorority Boys" 4:25, 7:25, 9:55

*All times

Cinemas are $4,50 for matinees and $7 for

SETH CHILDS CINEMAS

"Death to Smoothy" 4:20, 7:20, 9:55

"Ice Age" 5:00, 7:00, 9:00

4:00, 7:05, 9:50

4:05, 7:10, 9:40

4:15, 7:00, 9:30

"We Were Soldiers" 4:15, 7:00, 9:30

ptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for if you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to

RWRDL HWTHNU

gold 9 Threw

10 Noshed

11 "- Miserables"

17 Quick jerk 21 Cord

1 November 23 Look of Solution time: 28 mins.

4 50

callers

Egg-cellent fun

Easter designs vary in quality, gimmick

Photo Illustration by Nicole Donnert/Collegian

BY JJ DUNCAN

Kunsas State Collegion

Spring is here, and the holiday that rings in the season is officially upon us Sunday. Easter morning can conjure up many images for some people. For some, it's church in the morning, or enough candy to choke a horse, or the Easter Bunny. But many have the memories of dying Easter eggs and then embarking on a hunt for the hard-boiled, colored gems. So, muster up a little hidden artistic talent and a festive spirit, because it's time to get a little messy and dye some

To help you choose the best dye, here are some brands of dyes found at most stores.

The 3-D thing is kind of cool, if for no other reason than the fact that it's just different.

have 3-D designs on them that are viewable with the included 3-D glasses. Just place the plastic around the egg,

Dudley's Deluxe 3-D Extreme Eggs

dunk it in boiling water for a few seconds, then dye the egg. It's easy and the eggs look interesting, though not traditional. The dye isn't vinegar-based and it shows, but the gimmick is fun. The process isn't very messy, so that's a plus. These will have the big and little kids waiting for a turn to look at the designs through the special glasses.

Glitter Eggs, Egg Decorating Kit packages. Glitter is the coolest thing to

The glitter is easy to apply with the plastic bag included, and happen to eggs since the omelette.

doesn't make much of an extra mess. Once the glitter is on, the

The only negative thing

dye doesn't require vinegar so it dissolves enough to color the eggs.

Still, the glitter eggs will impress newsroom is apparently attracted to glittery eggs).

about this package is that the isn't very strong. Make sure warm water is used with the package so that the dye tablet eggs look fabulous.

This is, by far, the best gimmick of any of the

Big Bunny, Egg Decorating Center

This kit came with special paint and sponges to create speckled Easter eggs. It sounds and looks kind of cool, but it's just not.

The dye is weak because it doesn't require vinegar, and the paints used for speckling are nothing but a big hassle. The paints come in little plastic packets like ketchup comes in at a fast-food restaurant, and when they're opened, the paint squirts around and does not come off skin with soap and water.

Then the paint doesn't even look that great when the eggs are speckled. The speckled thing is just lame, and have fun trying to get this stuff off a 6-year-old's fingers.

Paas Eggs-A-Glow

The gimmick for this dye kit is a pack of glow-in-the-dark paints and glow-in-the-dark stickers to decorate Easter eggs with.

These are for all those creepy children who like to hunt Easter eggs at night, I guess. First off, the dve requires vinegar. which is good since vinegar-based dyes invariably have brighter colors.

As far as the package gimmick goes, yeah the paint glows in the dark and it's a neat idea, but it's just not that cool after it's put on the eggs. Another consideration is all the stickers this package comes with. The problem is that eggs don't have a flat surface. This makes applying stickers a somewhat difficult task.

The dye is good, but the glow-in-the-dark paints just make for an extra mess that doesn't actually look that good when it's applied to the egg. It's not very impressive.

anyone from a 3-year-old to a senior in journalism, (every girl in the

Just like it says on the package, this dye is easy, convenient and it doesn't need vinegar.

This package is the ultimate all-inone dye pack for just plain Easter eggs with a little personality. The kit comes with five plastic collapsible cups with which to dye the eggs. And the dye comes out surprisingly vibrant for not using any

Dunk an Egg, Egg Coloring Kit

Once the eggs are dyed, the kit comes with a sheet of stickers to apply. The stickers are of eyes and mouths so that the eggs can have cute little faces.

The problem is that the stickers don't look as good as the box would have people think they should. The problem of placing a sticker on a round surface presents problems. Still, the plastic cups the package comes with make the dye job go quick and easy with minimal mess.

misdirection

I KNOW IN MY HEART. THAT I WON THE ELECTRIN, AND THAT'S ALL THAT MATTERS, SO, FROM NOW ON REFER TO ME AS PRESIDENT FETUS GENIUS! HA! HA! HA!

HIS MIND ANYWAY, MEXT WEEK WE ARE EMMANY THINKS UP AN CHECKING IN ON MOYKEY BOY!!

Classifieds

For Rent-10K APARTMENTS, Two-bedroom apartment in modem complex two blocks Kearney. Quiet street. Quality student living Large Lshaped kitchen, dishwasher, proof, well-insulated, low utilities, laundry room, no pets, lease June 1 through $520. Call (785)539-2536. A TWO-BEDROOM apartment, two blocks to campus. one year lease. AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS

Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments. Great selection and prices. (785)341-6091. AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com BASEMENT APARTMENT $280 0348 MONTHLY. (785)537-4766.

CLOSE TO Campus, twocom unit. Models open Call for an appoint-

FOUR, THREE, and one-rent. Electric, gas. water, and trash paid. Across from campus/ Aggieville. Call Andy (913)269-7297. NEXT TO campus- one apartments. Central air.

parking, tree washer/ dryer. Available August. (785)537-7050 NEXT TO KSU apartment for August Deluxe two-bed-apartment, 350 N near Nichols Hall, $530. (785)539-2482 NICE TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545-$585/

month. (785)341-4496 ONE, TWO and three bed-Various locations Washer/ dryer in some units. No pets (785)313-close to KSU No pets. Available June 1 (785)556-ONE-BEDROOM APART-

ROOMMATE(S) WANTED starting August es. Call Krista at (785)776--81

kmisham@Yahoo.com SPACIOUS TWO and three Central air, laundry facilities, and August. (785)539-0866.

For Rent-Apt Unfurnished

a five-bedroom town house. Washer/ dryer included, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-7756 after 5:30. TWO AND three-bedrooms campus. (785)537-1746. TWO-BEDROOM IN quiet four-plex within walking dis-tance to campus. Available June 1. Very nice. (785)539-9582

one and one-half bath, cen

TWO-BEDROOM. AVAILABLE (785)522 203 (785)537-6032.

115

ROOMS FOR rent: TWO AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Rent $225/ month plus third electric and Call Kimberly at (785)539-

klb4949@ksu.edu For Rent-Houses

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all ble June 1 Call (785)539appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available

June (785)539-1177. A SIX- seven-bedroom (785)313-8296 three bath house one block to campus, Aggieville, and City Park Central Air, wash-THREE-BEDROOM NEAR AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Four plus bedrooms. Three full

AVAILABLE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of campus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer/ dryer, fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672. AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Three

Very nice house (913)963-

west of campus at 1404 ONE. TWO, three or fourer/ dryer, fenced yard, $285 per person. 539-3672. AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Two bedroom duplex, two floors at 1007 Houston. $610/ No pets. Call FIVE, SIX, and seven-bedroom houses for rent, near campus. Call (785)539-FIVE-BEDROOM.

bath, two kitchens, central air, close to KSU. Available

FOUR-BEDROOM, CLOSE campus. Garage NICE DUSE. (785)565-1748 For Rent-

ROOMMATES NEEDED for FOUR-BEDROOM AND FEMALE five-bedroom houses. Excel-lent condition. Close to campus. Central air, large backyards. June. Won't last long. (785)776-4166. FOUR-BEDROOM TWO bedroom/ two bath apart-

Roommate

the street from campus

1. Call (785)587-9600

four-bedroom/ two bath

for Kevin or Chris.

(785)537-1448

Sublease

apartment. Great condition

MAY FREE! People desper

NEW SUMMER sublease

KSU. Only one-third utilities

SUBLEASER

Washer/ dryer

bills. $284 per month. Cable

TWO-BEDROOM SUMMER

sublease May 20- August 7 nice apartment. Nice room or (785)341-6981. Girls on-bath apartment. Very clean bedroom apartment, close to campus. Located at 193 Anderson. $300/ month, wa-

AVAILABLE NOW, summer

and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices.

FOR RENT, new one, two,

three and four-bedroom units. Some close to cam-

with washer/ dryer hook ups. Call (785)341-2269 for more information. Carl Den-

JUNE 1. Four-bedroom, two bathroom duplex. One block from campus. No pets. (785)587-0399.

NOW LEASING. One-bed

June 1. Unfurnished, central air, parking, water and trash

(785)532-7569

NICE, CLEAN, two-bedroom

Close to campus. Fall lease.

pus. All appliances.

ning Construction.

www.beloose.com/linwood

(785)537-6017

paid. No pets.

WANTED: FEMALES

For Rent-

Call (785)539-0978

ed. Tony (913)593-4120

(785)323-0116

ROOMMATE

SUMMER

FEMALE

4547

(816)868-3989.

ROOMMATE

bath, near campus. Excel lent condition. Appliances, washer/ dryer, central air, off-street parking. Available August $1200. Call (785)537-8420 or (785)341-

FOUR-REDROOM TWO bathroom available June 1 Close to campus. Central air, washer/ dryer, Very $1080. (785)539-

GREAT HOUSE, three-bed room very nice. One block west of campus. Available $900/ month. No pets. 537-4766. NICE FOUR/ five-bedroom. two bath house with basement. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, off-street parking, 908

Doug (785)317-3005 NICE THREE-BEDROOM 7158. HOUSE, Walking distance to campus, 1516 Campus Rd. Washer/ dryer hookups, one year lease. $900/ month plus utilities. Availa-

SMALL HOUSE. Appliances furnished June lease. No utilities paid. Big back yard Call (785)539-1975 or campus appliances, washe dryer, central air, off-street parking good condition. Available August $900. Call 125

For Sale-Houses

FIVE-BEDROOMS, THREE baths. Fenced yard. Full fin-ished basement. Beautiful. $115,000. (785)539-8631 or see http://valbehan.hothomepages.com or stop by

For Rent-Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT 2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available these beautiful, spacious Unfurnished

For Rent-

K-Rental Mgmt

Now Leasing Bills Included

1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500

3 BR from $600 4 BR from $720

539-8401 LARGE TWO-BEDROOM

WANTED A very nice twobaths. Water and trash paid ment located right across $450 rent, $450 deposit Available now. $350/ month plus one-half (785)776-7362, leave mesutilities. Lease starts August NICE TWO-BEDROOM FEMALE ROOMMATE(S) apartment. Roomy. Low util-ities. Water, trash, cable wanted to share apartment paid. Laundry facilities. Pool. By Westloop. June for 2002- 2003 school year anytime lease. $460/ month ROOMMATE WANTED for ONE, TWO, three and four house. Washer/ dryer. $200/ school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Cal Chase Manhattan Apartles. Call (785)776-0736, ask ments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours), One-half mile from ROOMMATES WANTED. Three-bedroom house lo-KSU at the corner of Colcated across from campus. Pay one-third of utilities. lege and Claffin, Manhattan. ONE-BEDROOM APART Available in August. Please call Jessie for information MENT for rent, 903 Thurston. No pets. Water and trash paid. $330/ month. WANTED: FEMALE roomin June. Call mate for four-bedroom, two bath, two-story house. All (785)770-2224 ONE-BEDROOM, close to appliances, washer/ dryer included. One-fourth utilities campus. Water and trash and $265 rent. August to July lease. Call (785)537-paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810. ONE-BEDROOM'S AVAILA-BLE April 1, May 1, and June 1, $300- $330. No.

One-year 785)587-0399

ter and trash paid. (785)537 SUBLEASES needed. Partially furnished THREE-BEDROOM WALKpool, laundry/ workout facili-ties. June 1-July 31. One OUT basement apartmen off-street parking. Three blocks from campus. (785)336-2784. THREE-BEDROOM. ately needed for sublease pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-University Commons. Fully furnished, $284/ month. mont. $780.00 plus utilities. 4483. Very nice! Call (785)587-9710.

August lease (785)776-THREE-BEDROOM, TWO One room in three-bedroom bath ba house Own bathroom, June 1.1 bath basement apartment, June 1, $675/ month, Washer/ dryer/ window air-condi-tioning. 709 Bluemont. washer/ dryer. Two and -half blocks west of (785)539-4949, leave mes-

May 20th TWO-BEDROOM TOWN WANTED bath, plus unfinished base Two blocks from Aggieville ment, central air. Washer/ and campus. $225 a month and campus $225 a month. dryer hook-ups, no pets Available in May Rent ne- (785)539-5627. (785)776-

Now Leasing

3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Available

CLEAN, QUIET. room, and bath, for male, $250/ month. Utilities paid. Adjacent to campus, street parking. Call (785) 539-4073

FOUR-BEDROOM entals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term leases. Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138.

For Rent-Houses

with all amenities. Extremely nice. Close to campus. Call for appointment. (785)539-FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE room apartment in quiet six-plex at 1811 Platt. Available close to campus. Washer/ dryer, off-street parking. Available June or August. paid. No pets. $370 per month. Call KSU Foundation (785)456-7900. FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE, One or two 316 N. 11th.

bedroom at 928 Leavenworth. Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. June 1. (785)539-0590.

FOUR-BEDROOM. ONE One and bath house for rent. June 1 $960/ month. Washer/ dryer/ central air. 900 Vattier (785)539-1713. (785)539-4949. Leave mes

NICE FOUR-BEDROOM home on quiet street, close to campus. No pets or smoking. June 1 lease. $240/ each plus utilities. Call 165 (785)759-3520

For Rent-

Houses

sage.

PLEX available March 15. One and one-half bath, washer and dryer, trash and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287 THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available May

THREE-BEDROOM

One and one-half bath. washer and dryer, and mowing paid. $735 a (785)539-0266. month. (785)341-5287. THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up no pets or smokers. 1523

$840 plus utilities

August lease. 4805.

Pierre.

For Sale Mobile Homes 14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre

three-bedroom and two bath, newer carpet, shower and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer. $13600. Call (785)484-

1994 SKYLINE, two and one-half bedroom, two bath room, very well maintained cluding siding. Lot 544 in Colonial Gardens $16,500 or best offer. Call (785)776-

Roommate Wanted

145

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fe Great house, washer/ dryer appliances, $250 month plus one-fourth utilit-Call Lisa at (785)537-

ONE-BEDROOM FOR summer and/ or Fall, Very close o campus, central air. Reni $175 plue one-fourth utilities. Call (785)587-8508.

ROOMMATE WANTED Nice five-bedroom h Split utilities. One block from campus. Available June 1. Please call for info (785)

ROOMMATE WANTED Nice, comfortable. smoking house. Washer/ dryer, fireplace, deck $250/ month plus shared utilities. ROOMMATES NEEDED for very nice four-bedroom apartment. Rent $235 month. Split utilities. Lease August. (785)539-4751 STOP PAYING exorbitant room available in May, sev includes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dry-er in basement. No smoking (785)494-8299. 150 ■

Sublease DESPERATELY SEEKING

sublease! One- three-bedroom apartment, large rooms, walk-in closets, swimming pool! Rent nego tiable. Call (785)770-3834 NEED FEMALE summer in a four-bedroom apart ment. $180/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Walking distance from campus. (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs.

NICE TWO-YEAR old, four bedroom, two bath duplex for sublease after finals through July. Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup, $275, negotiable May rent one, two, three, or Call now (785)323-0827 campus, garage, rent negotiable, very nice, Great deal. 1837 Anderson Ave. Call Ricky (785)539-0838. SLEEP IN OUR ROOM.

ROOM AVAILABLE June

Summer sublease, two-bed room apartment, large living and dining room, very close to campus. H (785)565-9747. Kellie, Kristen SUMMER SUBLEASER.

Female needed to share FULLY furnished, washer/ dryer. Utilities paid including cable. $347

Sublease

SUMMER SUBLEASES. two-bedroom apartments next to campus.

WALK TO Summer school Subleasing four-bedroom house for June and July, $200/ person/ month, 1403 Hartford (785)770-3605

Storage Space

MABERRY RFD, Inc. Mini Self-storage: Multiple units 5x 10 through 10 x30's. Out-door and indoor RV and boat storage. Buy three months and receive a twen-

directory

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

> HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss, Increased Energy- Im-mediate Results I can teach

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548. The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualisex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

$1500 WEEKLY potential mailing our circulars. For inmation call (203)977-

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension

ACCEPTING

cally owned and operated searching for a few good people to add to our team. Day, evening and weekend part-time hours available. We have food discounts, flexible hours and promote from within. Please apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek ACCOUNTING POSITION No experience necessary. Flexible hours. Wage based 12th and Laramie.

LIFEGUARDS NEEDED for 7161

SUMMER

2002 season. Must be Red Cross certified. Some food and beverage responsibilities included. Apply in perHelp Wanted

Help Wanted

LIVE AND WORK IN COL-ORADO! Be a CAMP, COUNSELOR at Girl Scout

overnight camp in the mountains southwest of Denver General counselors and program specialists (hiking, outdoor skills, crafts, nature,

sports, challenge course

FERENCE. Competitive sal

Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281

LOOKING FOR a Korean interpreter who can speak English. Call evenings

NEED SUMMER Harvest

Help! Run New Case Com-bines 2388's and New Automatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers

License and we will help ob-tain Commercial Drivers Li-board and excellent salary

FUN! SAVE MONEY!! Top

Boys Sports Camp in Beau tiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, water-summer. 888-844-8080 or

apply www.campcedar.com

vices, has an opening for a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program ming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL experience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution

Developer status within 90 days of employment. Com-

E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text to:

PROGRESSIVE IRRIGAT

ED/ DRY land crop farming

operation. Near McPherson

Kansas Has an opening for

RIDE HORSES IN COLO-

RADO! Be part of the west-em nding staff at Girl Scout overnight camp southwest of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teach ing basic skills. Competitive allowance. Late May- early August, 2002, Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or

rhondam@gsmhc.org.

401(k) and paid vacation.

jobs@civicplus.com EOE.

(620)241-7270

PROGRAMMER

cense. Provide room

Call (785)689-4660

(620)786-0373.

AD SALES/ Marketing/ Public Relations. Unique national publisher offering well-paid, flexible, and rewarding local internship for spring/ summer. E-mail cover letter resume ta ucal@bendnet.com dance and drama). June 1-early August. MAKE A DIF-BARTENDERS NEEDED! Earn up to $250/ day, Will Call (866)291-1884 ary, room, meals, health inext. 160.

BIG DAWG Marina, Week end help. Start May 18, end rhondam@gsmhc.org. Labor Day. Contact Keith, (785)776-7946, (785)539-

KeithEyestone@msn.com BUDWEISER WOMEN of wodels, Photographers Designers Ucale Big12 Swimsuit Calendar (785)830-0367

CAMP STAFF positions available at Girls Scout summer camps in Northern Arizona. Camp Counselors. Program Staff, Riding Cour selors and many other posi-tions. June 1- August 4. Equal Opportunity Employ-er Call for application 1-800-352-6133 extension 303 or apply online at www.girlscoutsaz.org/home, front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Sea sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or CivicPlus, a leader in provid-ing local government web cruisecareers.com.

FEMALES WANTED KSU girl in wheelchair for Summer 2002 Flexible. $7.00/ hour Call Holly (785) 3 9 5 - 2 7 1 1 had8078@ksu.edu.

GREAT SUMMER income Asbestos Abatement Workers needed 40 hours of ree training is required Must attend class May 7-May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm. $11,40 per hour. Work will start May 18 Contact La-borers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-Manhattan (785)537-1567, to sign up.

harvesting. Combine opera-tors and truck drivers guaranteed pay. Good summer wages. Call (970)-483-7490 HELP WANTED. Part time, job. Apply in person. HELP WANTED Tempora ry, part-time help wanted 30-40 hours per week.

HELP WANTED for custom

Painting. swimming pool maintenance and other miscellaneous jobs Apply at 3050 Tuttle Creek Blvd. JOHNSON COUNTY, Summer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State is looking for a money-mot vated inside salesperson with a proven history of Research and Extension Must have own cluding quota over achieve transportation to field site at ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone $7) hour for 40 hour week prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horti-culture. Forestry and Recrework independently. Base plus commission equals Resources Office. $50,000/ year or more E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text format to ARGE, DIVERSIFIED farm morgan@civicplus.com. EOE 35 miles northeast of Man hattan is looking for qualified WAIT STAFF NEEDED individual to assume full time responsibilities in crop ble Apply in person. Man and livestock production Position responsible for N. 10th maintenance and operation WANTED: Oppurtunitites to advance into livestock management. quide tourists and horses Great job for personable inthrough the Rocky dividual who enjoys working tains. with other non-smoking emtains. Come work for the largest horse operation in House provided. North America. Visit our Salary and benefits negotiable with qualifications. Call www.sombrero.com or write

Boulder CO 80301 CHILDCARE WANTED DRIVER part-time school student to watch in my home two children, ages 9 and 11. Monday- Friday, Pre-employment 8am-5pm. Need own trans-portation. $6.50/ hour after screen. Apply Valley Con-crete, Belvue, Kansas or call

(785)458-6499

Media Practicum

You can earn class credit for working with the ad design/ production staff on the Kansas State Collegian during fall semester 2002. Limited enrollment. The instructor's permission is required. No prerequisites are necessary.

The experience you gain in the fall could qualify you to apply for a paid, part-time position the following semester.

Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for more information. Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Graphic Design Internship

Advertising Design Art Dept.

> Come to 113 Kedzie from 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

Announcements "LEARN TO FLY!" K-State Flying Club has five air planes, lowest rates. For in-2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc. ACADEMY OF BARTEND meet people. Earn $15 $30 an hour. Day, evening or weekend classes availa tance, $199 with student ID.

www.bartendingcollege.com

AG FEST 2002: From the

call (785)456-

barnyard to the board room. April 1- 5. Exciting events every day! This ad sponsored by Collegiate Agri-ATTORNEY AT LAW Charles W. (Chuck) Harpe

25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100. chuckharper@msn.com SPOUSEQUEST COM RE-LATIONSHIPS just got eas-

at and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days.

LOST SILVER SEIKO watch

Personals

ture ID (KSU, driver's liing a personal.

housing real estate

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

105

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in housing without distinc-tion on account of race, sex, familial status, milita ry status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall,

FOR RENT: Five-bedroom Brittany Ridge town home. Available August 1, one-year lease. $950/ month. Call Tim after 6pm at Tim after 6pm at

MAY FREE! One-bedroom at University Commons, completely furnished. Washer/ dryer, pool, workout facilities. Great college atmosphere! $343/ month with ca-TWO-BEDROOM, WALK to campus. Ample perking, qui-et conditions, laundry, fur-nished or unfurnished.

Apts. Furnished

"Stay In Commons"

> *Fitness Center *Permit Parking

539-0500 UNIVERSITY · COMMONS ·

2215 COLLEGE AVE

rooms and one-bedroom. 1112 Bluemont, one-bed-room. (785)776-9288 or (785)776-0683.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Unfurnished AVAILABLE JUNE 1, one-

Class Al The

Now Leasing for 2002-2003! *Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System *Swimming Pool *Washer/Dryer ·Computer Lab

Tennis/Vofleyball Courts *Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-6, Sat. 10-4

APARTMENTS

Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st!

Semester Leases

 fully furnished • swimming pool • · washer/dryer · next to KSU stadium · tennis, volleyball & basketball courts · individual leases · exercies room ·

electronic alarm system •

Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-4

Would you like to have some creative input in the appearance of ads in the Kansas State Collegian? If you are a graphic design major and would like an on-campus fall 2002 internship for credit, stop by for an application. Prerequisites must be met and instructor's permission is required. Application deadline Friday, April 19.

Office Hours:

for more information.

Speaker talks to students about personal strength

Kansas State Collegian

Rick Rigsby's father was a thirdgrade dropout. He quit school to help on the family farm. At the height of his career, he made only $500 per month as a school cook in Texas. He was never late. And he never missed a day of work.

Rick Rigsby's father might have been a third-grade dropout. But Rigsby said he was the wisest man he had ever met in his life.

"You'll move mountains if you can think of something more infinitely interesting than yourself," his father once said.

Rigsby's father taught him the importance of living life according to a set of core values, a message he shared with K-State students Thursday in the Union Little Theater.

Rigsby, a senior lecturer in the Department of Speech Communication, Theater and Dance, and special assistant to the head football coach at Texas A&M. was an obvious choice to speak to

K-State students because of his ability to reach students and relate to issues they face, said Brian Lilley, senior in accounting and leadership studies program ambas-

Rigsby encouraged students to practice leadership with values and excellence in school, work and life. "It's about being your absolute best regardless of your circumstances," he said. "The goal is to realize that you've got one shot to make a difference, to make an impact. It's time for every one of us to look ourselves in the mirror and say, T should expect more out of myself."

Expecting more out of oneself is important in today's society, Rigsby

"Even in a society that is so filled with self, you can still make a difference," he said.

"Tell yourself, no matter who you are, no matter where you come from, with this one life that I have, I want to make a difference, I want to make an impact, not just an impression."

Rigsby said excellence no longer is emphasized in society. It's become a society of just getting by,

"We live in a society that rewards people for finishing - not finishing well - but just finishing," he said.

"Pursuing excellence means pursuing your absolute best, putting forth your maximum effort.

Rigsby quoted Aristotle, "You are what you repeatedly do. Therefore, excellence ought to be a habit, not an act." American culture makes excellence an act. Rigsby said.

"If you don't practice excellence every day, you'll go the way of the world, which says, 'Just show up and go through the motions."

Rigsby offered two challenges he learned from his father.

"People who make an impact pursue excellence on a daily basis. And people who make an impact possess character, a belief in right and wrong, and choose right regardless of the cost," he said.

Character is a foundation of leadership, Rigsby said.

"Your life will be enhanced when you increase the time you tell the truth, think the best of people and do what you say you are going to do," he said. "Those values aren't preached in our society anymore.'

He said he learned values from not only his father, but also from his wife, Trina, who died of breast cancer in 1995.

"It doesn't matter how long I live," she once said. "What matters is how I live."

Trina's words were important as life became more difficult, Rigsby said.

And at her funeral, his father again shared his wisdom when he came to Rigsby, shared scripture and said he must stand through the hard times.

In the past 10 years, he has followed his father's advice and stood strong as he buried his wife. his mother and the father who taught him about life.

Take note from a man who's been through hell and high water," he said. "If you can stand through

You're going to have a lot of great years ahead of you," Rigsby said. "Most days the sun will shine, but there are going to be days when it doesn't. What matters is that you're using the stages of life to reflect your core values.'

the tough times in life, you'll learn to walk again."

Rigsby's message forced students to evaluate what they do with their lives, said Christina Heptig, senior in biology and leadership studies program ambas-

"He's made me think outside the box," Heptig said.

"He made me think more of how I could improve myself, he made me want to improve myself and put more effort into everything

The program was sponsored by K-State Leadership Studies and Program Ambassadors, K-State Student Governing Association and Department on Intercollegiate Athletics .

GOALS

Continued from page 1

issues, Cook said he and Kohman will work to make sure students are confident once again with Student Governing Association elections.

"We will restore (the students') faith by making sure next year's runs flawlessly," Cooksaid. "They will be so surprised, they'll be asking when they can vote again and we will have to say 'Sorry, not this year."

Kohman said he doesn't believe students have lost faith in student government.

"I think the voter turnout spoke for itself," he said. "It's great to see that many people turn out."

Kohman said he does expect some challenges communicating to students who are disgusted with the elections process.

"I realize there's going to be some people who have hard feelings," he said. "It will take a lot of teamwork. You've got to work together with everyone.'

Religion Directory

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH

College and Young Married Couples: Sunday School @ 9:30 & 11:00AM

Youth Ministry Opportunities College Pastor David Kinnan

Senior Pastor: David Thompso 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

Faith Evangelical Free Church

- Worship at 8:00, 10:30, and 12:00
- Sunday School at 9:30 · College Class at 10:30

1921 Barnes Rd

of Kimball

776-2086

Lutheran Campus Ministr at Luther House 1745 Anderson

Easter Evening Worship 7:00 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel

www.ksu.edu/lcm-elca Pastor Jayne Thompson pastorj@ksu.edu) 539-4451 Open to All

St. Luke's Lutheran Church

(785) 539-2604

330 Sunset Avenue

Saturday-Traditional Worship 6:00 p.m.

Traditional Worship 8:30 a.m. College Bible Study 9:45 a.m. Contemporary Worship 11:00 a.m. Campus Pastor - Eric Wood Email: campusmn@flinthills.com

First Bap ist Church Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within city limits, call the church. Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

An American Baptist Congregation

Grace Baptist Church

2901 Dickens - 2 blks. E. of Seth Child

♦ Sunday ◆ Morning Worship 8:15 & 10:45 a.m.

Bible Classes For All Ages 9:30 a.m. Evening Service or Care Cells 6 p.m. 776-0424

> College Bible Study

Varney's Book Store - Upstairs

"Keys for Successful Living"

Led by Joe McGraw Sunday 9:30 a.m.

ECM Christian Explorers

5:30 Sunday Bible Study

Monday, 8 p.m. OR Wednesday, 4 p.m.

1021 Denison Ave

ST. MARY MAGDALENE ORTHODOX CHRISTIAN MISSION

ECM Bldg. 1021 Denison, 2 South. 539-3440

Services: Divine Liturgy 9:30 AM Saturdays in the ECM Nave Visit the K-State OCF webpage at www.ksu.edu/orthodox

METHODIST CHURCH 612 Poyntz • 776-8821

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Church School all ages 9:45 a.m. Pastors: Jim Reed, Jan Todd. Ken Wills, & Mitch Todd fumc@flinthills.com www.flinthills.com/-fame

GOOD FRIDAY - March 29th 12:15-12:45 p.m., Service of Prayer 12:45 p.m. to Midnight, Chain of Prayer

EASTER SUNDAY - March 31st 10:15 a.m., Easter Sunday Sermon

9:00 a.m. - Sunday School 10:15 a.m. - Worship Service 11:30 a.m. - Broadcast + Angel 95.3. FM

5th & Humboldt • 776-8790

Blue Valley Memorial UMC

835 Church St. 539 - 8790 Worship: Sat. 5:30 p.m/Sun.10:30 a.m. Free food first Sun. of the month. e-mail: revs2@flinthills.com Rev. Dr. E. Carolyn Wills

Manhattan Baptist Church

Independent Services Sunday

10 a.m. Bible Study 11 a.m. Morning Service 6:30 p.m. Evening Service

Wednesday 7 p.m. Evening Service 510 Tuttle Street 776-9069

481 Zeandale Road. (South on K-17) across yiaduct, left on K-18 1/2 mile Program each Sunday at 10:45 a.m. Religiou Day care for toddlers The Rev. David Grimm

For information call (785) 537-2349

Agape Family Church

116 S. 4th Downtown Manhattan An Affiliate of RHEMA Bible Church

aka Kenneth Hagin Ministries

· SUNDAY

unday Broadcast 9:05 a.m. on 95.3 FM School of the Bible 9:30 a.m. Worship Service 10:30 a.m. Wednesday Service 7:30 p.m.

STERLING HUDGINS-PASTOR Join us for Easter Service

(785) 539-3570

Sunday Worships College Minister Natalie Holdren College Bible Study & Free Food Sunday 7:30-9:00 p.m. 776-5440

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN CHURCH

FIRST LUTHERAN 10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship

5at. 5:30 p.m., Sun. 8:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

CALVARY CHAPEL OF MANHATTAN Sunday Service - 10:00 a.m. 1961 Strong Ave.

Come Just As You Are Contemporary Worship Very Casual Atmosphere Solid Verse By Verse Bible Teaching

Pastor Dade Ronal ecofmanhattan@kscable.co

9 a.m. Sunday School & Bible Class

10:30 a.m. Divine Worship Service KSU - DANFORTH CHAPEL

christluth.@networksplus.net

First Presbyterian Church

Sunday Schedule

Worship at 9:15 a.m. Sunday School for all at 9:15 a.m. Worship 10:30 a.m. Nursery provided all morning www.firstpresmanhattan.com

801 Leavenworth St. • 537-0518

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

MASS SCHEDULE Tuesday-Thursday 10:00 p.m. Friday 12:10 p.m. Saturday 5 p.m. Sunday 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. Sun. 4:30 p.m., 6 p.m. Father Keith Weber, Chaplain

711 Denison

Mt. Zion Church of God in Christ

539-7496

Service Times

Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:30 a.m. Wednesday Bible Study 7:30 p.m. Friday Joy Night 7:30 p.m

916 Yuma Street Caleb J. Weathersby, Pastor 785-587-9140

First Assembly of God

Weekly Schedule of Services Sunday

Sunday School 9:00 a.m. Worship Services 10:00 a.m. Children's Church 10:00 a.m. Evening Worship 6:00 p.m.

Wednesday

All ministries begin at 7:00 p.m. Prayer Meeting Youth Group (grades 7-12) Royal Rangers (Boys Club) Missionettes (Girls Club) Chi Alpha 8:00 p.m. Christian Fellowship for College Students (KSU Little Theater)

Nursery Provided for All Services

Rev. Todd Weston, Pastor 2310 Candlewood Dr. Manhattan, KS (785) 537-7633 www.manhattanag.org

Deadlines

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Got old

Help Wanted SUMMER INSTRUCTORS to teach high school stuor Biology), Foreign Lan-guage, Computer Explora-tion and Web-Page Design. June 10- July 19, 2002. Pre-ferred Qualifications. MS/ graduate student in related subjects, certified by state at secondary or university level. Submit vita/ resume and three references to: Margaret A. Turner, Associate Director, Upward Bound Program, 1800 Claflin Suite Kansas State University, anhattan, KS 66506. (785)532-6497.

LABORERS needed by Mechanical Contractor for job sites in Man-hattan. Topeka, Lawrence, Salina and Emporia. $10.43/ hour. Call Shelley at (785)537-2437 to leave name and phone number. Equal Opportunity Employ-er, Male/ Female.

Help Wanted

Center is seeking applicants for 40-50 summer staff po-Composition, Laboratory graduating high school se-Science (Chemistry, Physics niors or college students. or Biology), Foreign Lan-Positions are recreation instructors, including team building, horses, environmental education, rifles, trap, archery, canoes, crafts and lifeguards. We also have several positions in Board of Education: 1-3 food service, maintenance years teaching experience and custodial departments. internships are available for those who qualify. Rock Springs offers a monthly sal-ary and room and board Rock Springs is a nationally recognized camp and conference center serving ap-proximately 27,000 youth and adults each year, most during the summer. Rock Springs is located 14 miles south of Junction City, Kan-sas on K-157 Highway. For an application or more infor-mation you can contact me at: Rock Springs 4-H Cen-ter, C/O Summer Jobs, 5405 West Highway K-157, Junction City, KS 66441. (785)257-3221, ||farr@rock-

Help Wanted

THE ROCK Springs 4-H WANTED: SUMMER mentors for Upward Bound Math Science. Applicants must be at least a sophomore in good academic standing, and willing to live in a residence hall for the weeks of June 9 through July 29. It is preferred that apfields. Please come to: 1800 proofreading. Word pro Claffin Suite 1 (next to Pizza ing skills (MSV Shuttle) to fill out an applica-tion. Interviews begin April NANCE for homeowner. Spring cleaning, pruning, gardening (785)537-4613. get results. advertise.

Classifieds

TECHNICAL

plicants be seeking majors communication skills with a in math, science or related background in editing or raking and regular mainte-nance through spring and summer. Flexible hours, variety of writing, editing, and proofing assignments. A Bachelor's degree is required and a Master's degree is preferred. Potential saling, range. 24,000. part-time. No mowing required. Some knowledge of

Help Wanted

WRITER.

tact research and consulting regulatory issues, has a fulltime position open for a Technical Writer starting immediately. Candidates must have good written and oral ing skills (MSWord, WordPerfect) are a must and desktop publishing skills are preferred. The selected applicant can expect to produce high quality on-line documentation of informa-The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of tion systems in addition to a range: $24,000-

$27,000 depending on experience and qualifications.

Send letter of resume to Di-rector of Human Resources,

Help Wanted

Department TW. DPRA Incorporated, P.O. Box 727, Manhattan, KS 66505; or manhattanjobs@dpra.com. No phone calls please. DPRA Incorporated Equal

Business Opportunities

advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach such business opportuni-ty with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454.

Business

Opportunities

DOES YOUR summer job ALBINO suck? Check out an oppor- Unique petl Easy and inextunity to travel, gain great pensive to care for. Cage resume experience and and accessories included. make $7000. Call Jay at $50 firm. (785)587-9693.

open market

Items for Sale BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays Literary Essays lated to English)

Please visit http://

ADVERTISE

Call (785)587-HONDAS FROM $500! Police impound. For listings

Pets and Supplies

HEDGEHOG-

Automobiles

toria. Power steering/ power windows, automatic, 192K, $750, AM/ FM, tilt, V-8. (785)323-0438, or DjSwisher@dce.ksu.edu. 1992 SATURN SL1, automatic, four-door. New tires and CD player. 122K, good school/ work car. $1750 ne-

(800)719-3001

trips SEASONAL

Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal workers. Several position are available in the Public Works and Parks Depart ments. Valid Class C driv-er's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs. required. Experi-ence in construction, concrete work, asphalt mainte-nance, traffic flagging, tree and furt maintenance, and mowing. 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applica-tions are available by contacting the Department of Administrative Services, Division of Human Resources 1985 FORD LTD Crown Vic-Street, Third floor, Manhattan, KS 66502. For more in formation call (785)565-6464, or e-mail to idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley County is an Equal Opportu-

> we kick ads.

in the

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie

Say it with a personal.

Kansas State Collegian 103 Kedzie • 532-6555

AGGIEVILLE

Continued from page 1

In past years, entertainment options such as a movie theater and arcade also were available in Aggreville. Sieben said other entertainment type businesses have looked at Aggieville as a place to

"We hate to see businesses such as the movie theater leave," Sieben said.

Those are corporate decisions though. There are multiplexes now. There was going to be a minigolf course in Aggieville a few years ago and that would have been another draw as well."

Sieben said Aggieville night life is one of the district's lifelines. In Aggieville, it is easy for students to park once and then walk to meet their friends at different night

"Because Aggieville is an entertainment district at night, we really don't have to promote it too much. The students and bars do

Give us your opinion.

Campus

Fourum: 395-4444

OF BOUNDS

Coronas

The McGyvers @ 8 p.m.

$2.50 Catfish Sandwiches

$4.75 Catfish Dinners

$2,56 SMIRROFF VEDICAS

Margaritas

$3 wildcaf Tea

that enough," she said.

Wark said the entertainment scene in Aggieville is unique because bars that last, have their own special trademarks.

"The bars in Aggieville have their own personality," he said. "You have to do things other bars

Keeping a bar alive in Aggieville is a challenge though, Wark said, because of all the competition.

"People think it is easy to open a bar, but it's not easy," he said.

"It is so competitive with around 20 bars in a three-block

As a whole, Aggieville bars and businesses work together to attract a diverse customer base.

"Even though there are two different sides to Aggieville, people from all over are attracted to it," Wark said.

"Before I got involved in Aggieville, I ran Wildcat Amoco. Eight out of 10 people who would stop in for directions would be asking for where Aggieville is. It is a unique place that no other town

•Over 250 units citywide to choose from

•Fireplaces •Carports

•Large 2-bedroom Units

•Pool •Private Deck

Laundry Facilities

3210 Kimball

(Candlewood Shopping Center)

ARAB

Continued from page 1

Israel called the proposal "a very interesting development, something that should be pursued." But Israel has reservations, said Raanan Gissin, an adviser to Prime Minister Ariel Sharon.

Gissin insisted Arab nations must open "direct negotiations with Israel" and underlined Israel's rejection of the return of Palestinian refugees.

Sharon has long ruled out a withdrawal to the country's 1967 borders, though he has not specified what he would offer for peace.

U.S. State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said the peace plan, first drawn up by Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah, "can help shape a more positive environ ment for peacemaking." The United States is trying to forge a cease-fire in 18 months of Israel-Palestinian violence.

Yasser Arafat said Thursday he was ready to work for "an

Call Now

537-9064

Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

539-3255

early editión restaurant

Breakfast · Brunch

Lunch

Now open for dinner!

4:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday & Friday nights

Also serving breakfast, brunch, and lunch from 6:00 a.m.

to 2:30 p.m. Mon-Fri, 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sat-Sun immediate cease-fire" with Israel. But his comments appeared to be short of the direct call for a truce that the United States is pressuring the Palestinian leader to make after a suicide bombing in Israel on Wednesday killed 20 people.

in that attack, a bomber sent by the Islamic militant group Hamas blew himself up in a hotel dining room in Netanya crowded with people getting ready for a Passover Hamas on Thursday rejected the Arab initiative. A Hamas official in Beirut, Osama Hamdan, said "the resistance and the inteladeh (uprising) will continue in all

The Arabs presented their proposal as a challenge to Israel to indicate that it is prepared to compromise on long-held beliefs for peace.

"Now, we have a sharp weapon to influence the international community and pressure Israel," Saudi Foreign Minister Prince Saud al-Faisal told the news conference ending the two-day summit, which was at times clouded by inter-Arab rivalries. "If Israel refuses peace, we will return to violence. We will return to the threat of widening conflict and to instabilities and God knows what happens."

Abdullah, whose country has added clout in the Islamic world because of its role as protector of Islam's boliest sites, first floated a broader version of the Arab proposal last month.

He presented a more detailed plan to the summit Wednesday, which Arab leaders wrangled over through the next day.

The final version calls for a full Israeli withdrawal from Arab land seized in the 1967 Mideast war: the Palestinian territories, east Jerusalem, Syria's Golan Heights and a patch of land claimed by

In return, the Arab states would "consider the Arab-Israeli conflict ended, and enter into a peace agreement with Israel, and provide security for all the states of the region (and) establish normal relations with Israel," according to the official text of the offer.

The Arab League functions on consensus, so adoption of the initiative means hard-liners like Syria and Iraq signed on along with moderates such as Egypt and Jordan.

Israel rejects the return of the 3.5 million Palestinian refugees scattered through the Arab world, saying that it would undermine the Jewish character of the state.

The Arab proposal's reference to a "just solution" to the question could leave room for negotiating compensation rather than resettle-

FAST SCASHS EARN $50 THIS WEEK!

Donate your life-saving blood plasma and help people in your community. Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway 785-776-9177 No appointment needed. Fees & donation time may vary. www.zlb.com

Wondering if you might be pregnant?

Stop by Birthright for a pregnancy test that is free, accurate, reliable, and confidential.

No appointment needed.

Sirthright of Manhattan inc 206 S. 5th (785) 539-2555

10% Student Discount with Student ID

At Sirloin Stockade we are proud of the reputation we have earned by serving up quality & offering our customers excellent service in a down home atmosphere.

Dr. Al Snyder,

Monday April 1, 7 p.m. Forum Hall, KSU Union

Play on April Fool's Day " Jokes on you!

BER 589-84 | 18-53 9/9-15-11 | 18-58 5-58

Sponsored by College of Ag Student Council as a part of Ag Fest

406 SHRIMP

Cooder Graw

$5 General Admission $2 Coors Light Bottles $2 Wells

aviolence

#60 WITNESSING

We are each other's bond, writes poet Gwendolyn Brooks. Those who practice nonviolence cannot close their eyes to injustice or cruelty. We are here to be a witness for justice and compassion.

Today be willing to stand up for Truth by your presence, your words and actions.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by an anonymous donor in honor of Susan Allen, Dor; Lambert, Torry Dickinson, and the Campaign for Nonviolence Committee

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

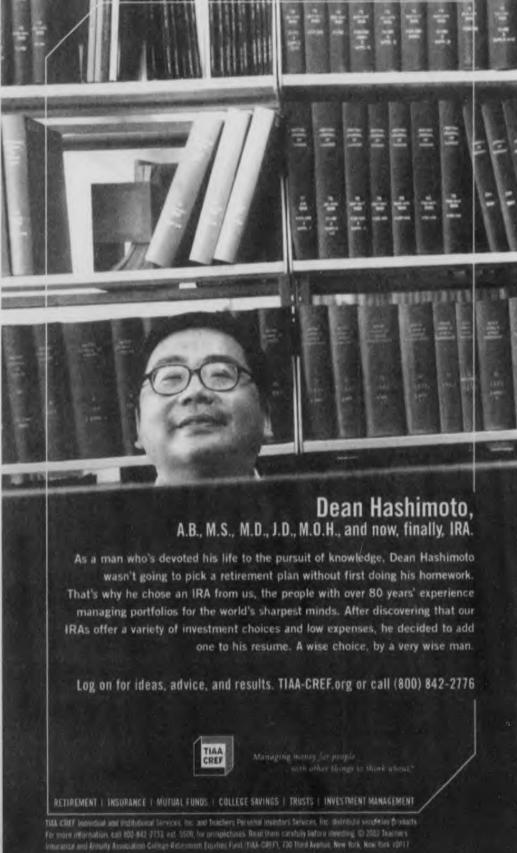

64 days 64 ways

Manhattan Christian College Pre-enroll for Fall Classes $100 per credit hour

- ·Survey New Test. Lit.
- ·Survey Old Test. Lit. I
- •History Amer. Rest. Movement
- •LEADERSHIP
- Public Speaking
- Intro. to Philosophical Problem
- General Psychology
- Cultural Anthropology
- Western Civilization
- •Trends in U.S. Families

• These courses transfer to KSU (Night Classes Available) For enrollment information call the Admissions Office at 539-3571

 General Sociology •College Algebra 1415 Anderson Ave. For more information visit us @ www.mccks.edu For info about summer classes contact the Registrar's office. Pre-enrollment starts April 15th

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

April 1, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Ka N. Volume 106, Number 122 www.kstatecollegian.com

Cats win

Family, friends to remember student's life

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Collegian

Friends and family will gather at 7 p.m. Tuesday in All Faiths Chapel to remember the life of a K-State student who died in a car accident March 15. Lance Burch, senior in horticulture, died during spring break on his way to Hutchinson for a wedding rehearsal.

Jackie McClaskey, assistant dean of agriculture, said many students and faculty did not hear of his death until getting back from spring break, so they did not hear of the funeral.

"This gives those students the chance to pay their respects," she said. "Everyone who knew Lance is encouraged to attend."

The memorial will be a celebration and remembrance of Burch's life, Coordinator of Religious Services Don Fallon said.

"I see it as a time to support one another and find new beginnings and new directions - new life and new hope," Fallon said.

lack Fry, professor in horticulture, forestry and recreation, said Burch was an excellent student who always

"What makes this sad is that someone with such promise and dedication can be taken away," Fry said. Burch graduated from Hays High School in 1998. When he came to K-State, he became an active member of the Golf Course Management Club and Future

McClaskey said horticulture students who knew Burch will be preparing the floral arrangements for Tuesday's memorial.

Because of Burch's love for golf and horticulture, contributions can be sent to Shady Bend Municipal Golf Course, West End of Main Street, Osborne, KS

Respecting the wishes of family and friends, the Collegian will have no coverage of the service.

Resident raped by intruder

BY SARAH BAHARI Kansas State Collegian

A Manhattan woman reported that she was raped by an intruder early Friday morning.

The incident occurred between 4 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. at her northwest Manhattan home. She did not know the man.

The woman described the suspect as being between 5'10" and 6'1" with a stocky build.

County Police Department, said this type of rape is unusual. Most rapes in this area are acquaintance rapes.

Capt. Gary Grubbs, with the Riley

No further information is available at this time. The case is still under investiga-

Grubbs said he could not comment whether the woman was a K-State student.

3 Ft. Riley soldiers die in training

BY TARA PATTY Kansas State Collegian

An explosion killed three Fort Riley soldiers in the early hours of Friday morning in the Mojave Desert during a live training exercise at the National Training Center in Fort Irwin, Calif., Fort Riley officials said.

Sgt. Clifton J. Decklar, 22, of Shelton, Wash.: Spec. Bobby L. Newton, 27, of New Orleans, La.; and Pvt. 2 Oscar Perez-Jimenez, 19, of West Covina, Calif., were killed in the accident at 4:30 a.m. Central time. The three men were firing live ammunition from a M-1064 armored personnel carrier when an 120 mm mortar round exploded, killing the three men in the vehicle, a Fort Riley press release said.

A fourth member of the crew, Pfc. Jamie Weare of Indianapolis, Ind., who was not in the vehicle, was evacuated to Weed Army Community Hospital at Fort Irwin. He was treated for minor cuts and released back to his unit, said Sgt. first class Kimberly Williams, Fort Irwin public affairs non-commissioned officer in charge

The men, who arrived at Fort Irwin in

See SOLDIERS on PAGE 5

Unemployment rate lower than Geary County's

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Kansas State Collegian

Some students will graduate in May and be looking for a career. Other students are looking for internships or summer jobs. But the economy is struggling, and some say that will make it hard to find a job.

However, Kansas has received a dose of good economic news.

The Department of Human Resources reported Thursday that the unemployment rate dropped to 4.7 percent in February, down two-tenths of a percentage point from February 2001.

Manhattan is even lower, boasting a 3.2 percent unemployment rate, which is down from 3.5 percent last year. Riley County's unemployment rate is 3.5 percent.

Mayor Bruce Snead said this fluctuation is normal.

"If the unemployment rate drops down or jumps up by 2 percentage points, that's when you say, 'What is going on?'" he Still, Manhattan has not been hit as hard as other regions by unemployment. The national economy is in turmoil.

See JOBS on PAGE 8

Easter education

Jonathan Crowder, 5, digs for an Easter egg at the annual Eggstravaganza. The event had booths where children could win prizes and learn more about zoo animals. The event was at Sunset Zoo Sunday afternoon.

Drew Rose/Collegian

Sunset Zoo offers alternative holiday celebration

Kansas State Collegias

earning about egg-laying animals is how some children spent their Easter afternoon instead of participating in traditional egg hunts.

Manhattan residents brought their children to Sunset Zoo's Eggstravaganza 2002 where they earned their eggs by answering animal questions correctly.

Eggstravaganza takes place annually in the South American area of the zoo.

Melissa Miller, marketing director for Sunset Zoo, said the Eggstravaganza allows children to learn about egglaying animals by playing educational games at seven volunteer-run booths.

Miller said spring ties in with Easter because Easter is about the celebration of new life, and they are teaching children about the birth of animals. She said the zoo tries to create something other than the usual egg hunt for

"It would be a missed opportunity not to teach the children who come out to the zoo something that would educate them while they are here," Miller said. "Instead of just giving them the egg, we make them think for their

At one of the egg stations, Miranda Wiglesworth, 6, pushes down on an automated alligator's tooth while waiting nervously for its mouth to drop down on her. She said a volunteer told her to press down on its teeth to see how many she could push down before it snapped.

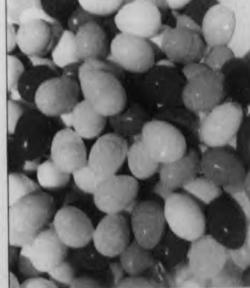

The station teaches children that alligators are very protective of their eggs. When the alligator snapped down on Wiglesworth's fingers, she laughed in surprise and received an Easter egg from a volunteer for her efforts.

Tonya Wiglesworth, Fort Riley resident, said it is a tradition to bring her two children to visit the zoo for the The kids just love it," Wiglesworth said. "On the way here, they were talking about digging for the egg because that is one of their favorite things to do here." Sandra Sedillos, Manhattan resident, said she decided to bring her children because she wanted them to get a picture with Floppy the Easter Bunny. She said it also is a fun way to educate her children. "I think it's a good opportunity for children to learn

See EGGS on PAGE 8

Eggs filled with prizes were used at Eggstravaganza at Sunset Zoo Sunday. Children could learn about various animals from the zoo Staff.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

Suspicious wire on toilet paper holder grounds flight

WICHITA - An America West flight was grounded overnight Sunday because of a suspicious wire that came off a toilet paper holder, an airport spokeswoman said.

After passengers spent the night at a Wichita hotel, the flight was scheduled to take off from Wichita at 12:45 p.m. Central time Sunday, said airport spokeswoman Latricia Harper.

The plane, an Airbus A319, was heading from Washington, D.C., to Phoenix on Saturday when an air marshal found the wire underneath a compartment that holds carbon dioxide, Harper said. The door to the compartment was open.

The flight was diverted to Mid-Continent Airport in Wichita and its 130 passengers were evacuated, Harper said.

The plane landed at 6:45 p.m. but was not brought to the terminal. Wichita Police bomb squad and the Explosive Ordinance Division from McConnell Air Force Base inspected the plane but found nothing other than the original wire. Harper said.

Graves says he'll veto latest Senate redistricting proposal

TOPEKA - Gov. Bill Graves says he will veto the latest Senate redistricting bill unless changes are made, but one of the map's creators says no revisions are planned.

The latest map, like an earlier version vetoed by Graves, was drawn by coalition of conservative Republicans and the Senate's minority Democrats. The Senate Reapportionment Committee endorsed it Thursday.

Graves said Friday that the new map represented progress but that he would not sign it without what he characterized as minor changes.

But Senate Minority Leader Anthony Hensley said the coalition has no plans to amend the latest map because it answers all the concerns cited by Graves in vetoing the earlier

NATION IN BRIEF

Bush pledges he will not relent in Mideast peace

CRAWFORD, Texas - President Bush pledged Sunday that two more suicide bombings in Israel would not discourage his Mideast peacemaking efforts as senators from both parties urged him to get more involved.

"The president condemns these acts of terrorism," White House spokesman Gordon Johndroe said after the second bombing. "The president will not let these latest attacks deter him from the pursuit of peace."

Bush called five world leaders on Saturday, but none on Sunday. The president spoke with national security adviser Condoleezza Rice after the first bombing, just before Bush attended Easter services at church near his-Crawford ranch, Johndroe said.

Anti-Jewish attacks prompt pledge for better security

PARIS - A gunman opened fire on a kosher butcher's shop in southern France - the fourth anti-Semitic attack over the weekend - drawing pledges for increased security at lewish sites and appeals for religious tolerance.

French President Jacques Chirac

added his voice Sunday to the growing condemnation of the violence, calling it "unspeakable" and "inadmissible."

No one was hurt in the attack Saturday evening in the town of l'Union, near Toulouse, regional officials said.

The shooting is part of a wave of anti-Semitic attacks in France coinciding with intensified Israeli-Palestinian violence in the last week.

Queen Mother Elizabeth dies at 101 years old

LONDON - The Queen Mother Elizabeth, a symbol of courage and dignity during a tumultuous century of war, social upheaval and royal scandal, died in her sleep Saturday at Royal Lodge, Windsor, outside London. She was 101 years old.

She was best known to younger generations as the mother of Queen Elizabeth II and grandmother of Prince Charles.

Legislature developments

- School districts learned that half of their state aid payment for April will be late as legislators debated a House budget plan.
- Gov. Bill Graves said he would veto the latest Senate redistricting bill unless changes were made.
- A bill expanding legalized gambling cleared the House Tourism Committee.
- A bill requiring retailers to track buyers of beer kegs went to Graves, who is expected to sign it.
- The House rejected a bill giving school boards more authority and providing more state aid to districts with declining enrollments.
- Senators approved a bill that would increase court filing fees to fund two agencies.

Egg heads

Laetitia Roux, senior in agriculture, tells Dylan Wiglesworth, 6, and Miranda Wiglesworth, 4, about different animal eggs at Eggstravaganza 2002. The event was Sunday afternoon at Sunset Zoo.

K-STATE NEWSMAKERS Student competes for chance to work at College World Series

Carolyn McMannama

MCMANNAMA

had mixed emotions.

When Carolyn McMannama, junior in public relations, heard she was one of 16 finalists in the College World Series Ambassadors program, she The College World Series of Omaha is a non-profit organization and local organizing committee for the annual NCAA Division I Championship Baseball College World Series

McMannama filled out an application and interviewed in order to be eligible. Of the 60 students interviewed, 16 were selected as finalists. A final interview was conducted to determine one of eight ambassadors. Carol Foreman, Ambassador Program Coordinator, said the judges made their decisions off of the candidates' speaking ability, physical appearance and professionalism. The ambassadors were announced last Saturday, however, McMannama did not make the cut. Still, McMannama said she hopes to work in the sports industry. - Arny Link

If you know of anyone who you think is deserving of recognition in our Newsmakers box each Wednesday, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at collegn@ksu.edu.

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

M Ag Council will sponsor a guest hypnotist during Ag Fest at 7 tonight in Union Forum Hall.

Pre-Occupational Therapy Club will meet at 6 p.m. Tuesday in Union 202.

The A.O. Miller School of Journalism and Mass Communications will have a Technology Lab grand opening from 3 to 5 p.m. today in Kedzie 215G. III Habitat for Humanity will meet Tuesday in the Union Big 12 Room.

Society of Women Engineers will have officer elections at 6:30 tonight in Durland 127.

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Yanwen Hou at 10:30 a.m. today in 437

Chemistry/Biochemistry Building. Momination forms for the Anderson Awards for Outstanding

Seniors may be picked up at OSAS, the KSU Alumni Association or www.kstate.com/Programs/AwardPrograms /SeniorAwards.asp. Forms are due to OSAS or the Alumni Association by 5

III KSU Aikido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301.

POLICE REPORTS

the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Thursday, March 28

At 2:10 p.m., Lorraine Hendricks, Ogden, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $100. At 3:25 p.m., Gerald Hendrick, Ogden, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $136. m At 11:28 p.m., Charles McClain, 205 Moro St., was arrested for battery and obstruction of the legal process. Bond was set at $500.

Friday, March 29

IIII At 2:31 a.m., Iran Gutierrez, 710 Humboldt, was arrested for unlawful lants, hallucinogenic drugs or other substances. Bond was set at $1,000 M At 2:52 a.m., Chad Wurtz, 1321 Pierre, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $1,500.

■ At 3:50 a.m., Dustin Yost, 505 Denison, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

M At 4 a.m., Andrew Smith, 1224 Pomeroy, was arrested for battery. Bond was set at $500.

K-State Police

M No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts

Editor in Chief April Middleton

Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Zach Long Photo Director Dana Strongin Campus Editor

Paul Restivo Copy Chies

Alyson Raletz

City/Gov Editor

Nicole Donnert Asst. Photo

Dan Smith Sports Editor JJ Duncan

Amber Koehn

Katie Lane

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems

Presentation

Alissa Duncan Asst. Ad

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

Jodi Fagerquist

eCollegian Editor

532-6556

532-6560

532-6555

532-6304

Kansas State University

Kansas State Collegian Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

CONTACT US

ABOUT US

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103, Manhattim, Kur. 50506. The Collegian is published. weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer Periodical postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan 60502. POSTMANTER: Send address changes to Kansas State

Kedele 103, Manhattan, Kim, 66506-7167 D Kansas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

BEAT THE CLOCK

Beat the clock from 5-8 and receive a Large Cheese Pizza at a price equal to the time on the clock (Regular Rotation Only) Add loppings, $1.29 per topping

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

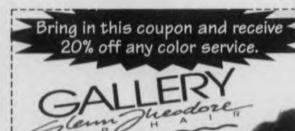

Dr. Al Snyder, ypnotist Show Monday April 1, 7 p.m.

Play on April Fool's Day Jokes on you!

Forum Hall, KSU Union

Sponsored by College of Ag. Student Council as a part of Ag Fest

"Come see me today!"

Welcome, Melissa Stirrett! Candlewood Shopping Center

Back from Break!

If you join SHAPE, you will:

- . Have a chance to attend the national peer education conference in ORLANDO, FL
- Become an American Red Cross Certified HIV/AIDS Instructor . Earn 3 KSU credit hours (use credit
- as leadership minor or elective) Have a BLAST!!!!!

Sponsored by Lafene Health Center Need more info? Call 532-6595 or email shape@ksu.edu

Hope your Spring Break was great!

Now it's time to start thinking about getting in SHAPE!

Sexual Health Awareness Peer Educators

Applications due April 5th

Manhattan Christian College Pre-enroll for Fall Classes

$100 per credit hour

Survey New Test. Lit.

Survey Old Test. Lit. I

 History Amer. Rest. Movement • LEADERSHIP

Public Speaking

•Intro. to Philosophical Problem

General Psychology

General Sociology

 Cultural Anthropology Western Civilization

•Trends in U.S. Families

College Algebra

 These courses transfer to KSU (Night Classes Available) For enrollment information call the Admissions Office at 539-3571

1415 Anderson Ave. For more information visit us @ www.mccks.edu For info about summer classes contact the Registrar's office. Pre-enrollment starts April 15th

Chance to shine

The Classy Cats perform at the men's basketball game vs. Kansas. The team will travel to a dance competition in Daytona Beach, Fla., on Wednesday.

Drew Rose/Collegian

Classy Cats head east to participate in national dance competition

Performance

The Classy Cats will be competitive routine at tonight in the K-State

SEAN PURCELL

Kansas State Collegian

K-State's energetic dance squad, known mostly for its sideline support, will get a chance to show what talents they really have.

On Wednesday, the Classy Cats will travel to Daytona Beach, Fla., to participate in a dance competition featuring 26 of the best dance squads in the nation.

It will be the first time in seven years the Classy Cats will showcase their talents on dance competition's biggest stage.

"I've been doing this for four years, and every year we have thought about trying to go," captain Jessica Brown said. "I don't know what it is about this year's squad, but we are all positive - we're like family."

Brown, senior in elementary education, said the team committed itself to this competition at camp during the summer.

During the year, while also preparing for each home game, the Classy Cats worked on a routine, hiring a choreographer to develop a dance that would bring out the team's natural abilities

"We wanted to do what it took to get to nationals," Brown said. "We set the goal at camp, then worked hard to try and achieve it. Now we set our goals even higher.'

After the decision to go to nationals at camp, the Classy Cats then sent in a preliminary video. which gave them a pre-ranking before the opening round competi-

K-State was ranked fourth out of the 26 squads, an honor that paid for their hotel rooms and a few meals.

"That was real exciting to see," Megan Tibbetts, senior in elementary education, said. "I would like to see the look on KU's face when they saw that."

Kansas' dance team has been known to be one of the best in the Big 12, Tibbetts said. Receiving this kind of recognition might show that K-State is building a top-level program of its own.

"We don't let up now," Tibbetts said. "Being ranked fourth means we have a shot at winning the whole thing. We still have to work on improving and getting better in the few days we have left so that we can give a good performance when we go out there."

In order to catch the judges' eyes in Daytona Beach, the Classy Cats must excel in three areas of their routine: pom, funk and jazz.

Pom is a type of dancing associated more with cheerleading, Tibbetts said.

> This portion of the routine involves sharp, crisp moves. Funk, or hip-hop, can be described as upbeat and up-tempo dancing. This portion of the dance is the most difficult, she said. But for the Classy Cats, the jazz portion of the routine comes naturally because it is what they most often perform. And since the squad is used to this style of dance. they feel confident it's the strongest element of their program.

"We are a strong jazz team, so that makes getting the other styles down a little more difficult for us," Tibbetts said. "But in order to dance at the college level, you have to be able to do all of these styles pretty

With the time and effort the Classy Cats have put into this routine, their captain is pleased with the team's continual effort to get better in each practice.

"All the girls have really shown an amazing work ethic this whole time," Brown said. "We have 16 girls performing in the routine, but everyone keeps showing up for practice, trying to help each other improve.

K-State's routine can be described as a jungle theme, Brown said. The music has a jungle beat to it and the costumes have been designed to fit that same theme.

"It was hard to try and practice for football games during the fall and still try to work on the routine," Brown said. "But all we do now is focus on this."

Tonight, students will get one more chance to see the Classy Cats in action. Tibbetts said this is just one final opportunity to get better before the big show.

"There are a lot of reasons why we decided to do this last performance." Tibbetts said.

"A lot of people just see what we do at sporting events, so this is a chance to see what the other side of dancing is like."

K's Nails 2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd (785) 776-2444 Mon.-Sat. 9:30-7:00 Walk Ins Welcome

GET CARDED USE YOUR WILDCAT VISAP CARD AND SUPPORT THE K-STATE ALUMNE ASSOCIATION KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY OFFICIAL WILDCAT VISA CARD Apply today. www.intrustbank.com 630 Humboldt • 785-565-5400 1-800-222-7458 INTRUST.

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8

*Starting at $370

W 5p-8p Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p

Sat. 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

By Appointment Only *Starting at $410 Wareham- 418 Poyntz

1722 Laramie

By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p

*Starting at $735

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $990

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $840

76-380 http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Volunteer work should be part of summer plans

In seven weeks, this semester's string of exams, projects and reading assignments will end, and students will be left to decide what to do all summer.

While some have plans to attend classes or work full time, others still have unplanned gaps of time to do as they please.

► OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a majority opinion is

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Paul Restivo

Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

April Middleton

Instead of sitting in front of the TV or sleeping, students should consider volunteering. One organization needing summer help is Manhattan's Habitat for Humanity

Habitat representatives said they always have problems finding summer volunteers to help build houses for families.

The organization only builds on Saturdays, so this lack of interest is unreasonable. Those with work-week jobs and weekday classes shouldn't have trouble finding the time to spend one day a week helping others.

Instead of wasting away on the couch. try to help others in your free time. Groups like Habitat for Humanity are the perfect opportunity for fun volunteer activities.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Last time I checked, two out of three is still a win.

Hey Zac, how 'bout best out of three?

To the guy who really liked the Long John Silver's shrimp, go watch "Muppets From Space." It's actually the muppet

I once almost had a psychic girlfriend. Yeah, but she left me before we got together.

Uh, yeah, he's not a shrimp - he's a king prawn.

Amen to the person who sent in the "KU will always suck" thing into the Fourum.

I love all girls that hate KU.

I would just like to say that the quote that reached the Fourum yesterday about, "In my heart, KU will always suck" has got to be the best quote to ever reach the Fourum.

I found a bag of laundry on Anderson... or on Manhattan. Hang on, let me leave another one.

Did somebody lose a bag of laundry on Manhattan Avenue right before spring break? Because if you did, I have it.

After returning to the real world for a week, I realized how much they need us college students out there.

To the girls who brought me home from the bars on Wednesday night, thank you.

Is it just me, or did any one else see a turkey fly out of a pine tree next to Denison Hall this afternoon?

Note to self: if I want to win an election, I'll just whine until I win.

To Tanner, all I have to say is have an open mind. And while you're at it, get some sun and some beer during spring break, foo!

Hi, I was just wondering who is Long John Silver's shrimp, and how much is that flame dirt bike?

Tainted term

Bush's successes stem from war

Paul White

ypothetical question. Without the Sept. 11 tragedy, where would our President George

A man whose legitimacy as leader was at an all-time low needed something of Pearl Harbor proportions to tarnish claims of illegitimacy, muzzle any further public criticism and hide the fact that the filthy and corrupt Enron, a corporation that helped him pay the security deposit on 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, was about to go belly up.

Why not manufacture a war? Let's just look at the last year of our president's successes that make him so

First came the fraudulent Election 2000 in which the Supreme Court, not U.S. voters, catapulted Bush into office, hitting the mute button on the voice of the

It must have been a nuisance for the administration in late August to find out that a 2000 media recount consortium, which was conducted by the nation's major media outlets, showed that Gore was the undisputed winner "under all the scenarios for counting all undervotes and over-votes statewide."

Translation, Bush won only under two scenarios, in which the number of votes he received was irrelevant. He is now president because of the Bush vs. Gore lawsuit he brought against the "exiled leader."

The results, which eventually were published in November for fear of the president's legitimacy during a crisis, were written and framed to make Bush look like undisputed champion, especially for those who read the heading instead of the body of the article.

On Sept. 6, the Bush administration announced that even though it found Microsoft guilty of anti-trust violations and countless other charges, the government would abandon the idea of breaking them

No wonder Microsoft left so many backdoors open with its new XP, for the government to snoop through your files and find out how many visits to paulwhite.com you've made

The U.S. "anti-" Patriot Act that Congress passed without reviewing within minutes of its introduction doesn't make me feel any safer either.

Who's taking away more of my rights? Terrorists in an incident half a year ago, or

LARGEST BANKRUPTCY AND CORPORATE SCANDAL IN

U.S. HISTORY!

INTELLIGENCE FAILURE IN U.S. HISTORY!

LARGEST

"PRESIDENT" GEORGE W. BUSH - YEAR ONE! Photo Illustration by Brent Engstrom/Collegean Photo by Rich Wilking/Liaison our current president?

LARGEST

ELECTION

FRAUD IN

U.S. HISTORY!

On Sept. 10, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld testified before Congress about re-

With cutbacks in spending, lack of an explanation for where $2.3 trillion (25 percent) of the Pentagon's funds went and the threat of multiple bases closing, Rumsfeld declared a war on the "Pentagon's bureaucracy." Something he compared to "a matter of life and death" (CBS News - The War On Waste - 01/29/2002).

Next came Sept. 11, the largest intelligence failure in U.S. history, which international press reports we were warned of months in advance.

There also were reports from Indian press. and BBC News as far back as June about how the United States, Russia, India and others were building a coalition to invade Afghanistan in October 2001.

And who can forget Enron? You know: the

my

view

Nick Bratkovic

Bush administration's largest financial backer from his 1994 Texas governorship up until Election 2000, whose highly unethical looked upon as the largest corporate swindle in U.S. history. They were just waiting for a convenient time

Ken Lay, the former CEO and chairman, not only let Bush use the Enron private plane for his primary and general 2000 election travels, but also hand selected his energy department, full of ex-Enron cronies no less.

Lay worked out of the White House. throughout the summer, side by side with friend and former Texas oil CEO Vice President Chency and others involved in developing the administration's energy

Seven of eight key points Lay recommended were implemented into the Bush energy policy.

Enron appealed to Bush's treasury secretary. White House chief of staff and commerce secretary warning of imminent disaster. They did nothing.

Countless people lost their life savings. Erron's collapse was like a ripple, affecting families in cities across the United States. including Ellsworth, Kan.

And even better, now that Congress is all tied up investigating the largest bankruptcy in U.S. history, which could have been prevented, they can't question why the administration and our intelligence agencies were prepared for Sept. 11.

Is this dejà vu? Hmm, naive Texas president who came to power not by the will of the people, overextending our troops overseas?

Paul White is a junior in political science and mass communications. You can e-mail him at pew9898@ksu.edu.

Holidays illustrate importance of religious freedom

esterday was Easter Sunday, and for Christians, it was the holiest weekend of the year.

Catholics gave up things for Lent, and swore off meat on Fridays, Other religions acknowledged the holiday in their own ways.

As always, there was the commercial aspect and the family aspect.

Little girls got dressed up in Easter dresses and paraded around. Families had Easter-egg hunts and ate luxurious meals.

Churches filled to the gills and parking lots became fuller than K-State lots at 9:30 a.m. on a school

Still, other people did not celebrate the holiday at all. From a purely American perspective, those varying types of celebrations are a beautiful thing. I am glad we have that religious

The choice is the beauty. Need proof? Take a look at the Middle East.

In Israel, people die on a daily basis for their religious beliefs. Israel, a state composed of Palestinians and Jewish people, is in a constant state of war. The two waging parties attack each other daily.

Suicide bombers give their own lives and kill others in the name of

The two parties do not like each other because of what their religions say. They use religion as a reason they cannot live together, and there is a constant struggle for

It is a place few of us can imagine.

Luckily, the constitutional framers of the United States gave us religious freedom. An ideology that preaches tolerance and choice

We don't fall into the bait of religious war. Osama bin Laden and his al-Qaeda operation wanted to make Sept. 11 about religion. They tried to use the differing religious beliefs to weaken the American spirit.

The beauty around Sept. 11 was the unity America had. Religious people from all walks of life came to worship. K-State's McCain Auditorium turned into a multi-religious haven for mourners to worship.

It was beautiful, and a signal that bin Laden had erred in thinking Americans would turn against each other.

Americans didn't let their religious differences tear them apart, but used their diversity to bring them Perhaps the rest of the world might see it as a religious issue, but the United States has done a masterful job of taking the cowardly acts of terrorists and moving them away from religion and more toward terror. In that respect, America is really lucky. We don't get bogged down with religion. That, to me, is one of the great things about our constitution - religious freedom.

I cannot imagine life if we didn't have it. Likewise, I cannot imagine Americans being that impassioned about religion.

Can you?

Yet, across the world, a holy war goes on. Clearly, something has to change.

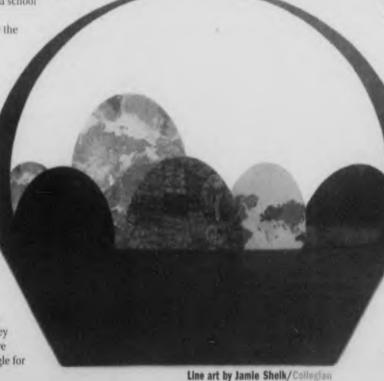

Peace must be achieved. Religious tolerance is something the rest of the world must learn.

On Easter Sunday, Americans celebrated Easter in their own ways. Catholics indulged in what they had given up for Lent (my father had a beer for the first time in 40 days), and others forgot about Easter.

That was fine, too. As a general rule, Americans allowed themselves to think and do what they want. That's the beauty of religious freedom.

Monday, April 1, 2002

Weeklong festivities celebrate agriculture

BY SHANNON HARTENSTEIN

Kansas State Collegian

The College of Agriculture will celebrate April Fools' Day a little differently, beginning with the tricks of hypnotic veterinarian Al Snyder. But that's just the start of weeklong festivities celebrating agriculture and its role in shaping K-State as a landgrant university.

The fourth annual Ag Fest, "From the Barnyard to the Boardroom," runs today through Friday. From Cowboy Olympics to the Kiddie Barnyard, events are planned to help raise agricultural awareness.

"We want not only K-State students, but the surrounding community to fully realize that agriculture is much more than just raising crops and livestock," said Agricultural Student Council Activities director Josh Roe.

Other activities include tours of Colbert Hills and K-State greenhouses, faculty appreciation day and a barbecue hosted by the Alpha Gamma Rho and FarmHouse fraternities.

"Ag Fest's sole purpose is to acquaint the K-State population and citizens of the surrounding area with the agriculture industry on a more personal level," Roe said.

"Through speakers and social events, everyone can mingle and learn more about current events in virtually every sector of the agriculture industry.

Less than I percent of the population is employed in production agriculture, but 25 percent of the population have jobs that are related to agriculture, Roe said.

"Needless to say, the agriculture industry is huge and encompasses every major on campus in some shape or form," he said. "Agriculture is everybody's business, whether we fully realize it or not."

With about 2,000 students, the College of Agriculture makes up about 10 percent of total K-State enrollment, Assistant Dean Kevin Donnelly said.

Schedule of events

■ Monday - Dr. Al Snyder, hypnotist-Union Forum Hall, 7 p.m.

■ Tuesday — Faculty Appreciation Day
Kiddie Barnyard- Weber Arena, 9 a.m. -

■ Wednesday — Roy Crenshaw speech- Umberger Hall, 5:30 p.m., free BBQ following ■ Thursday - Frisbee Golf, afternoon Cowboy Olympics- Weber Arena, 7 p.m.

Friday — Alpha Gamma Rho/FarmHouse BBQ- Weber lawn, 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. ■ Other events — Campuswide scavenger hunt. Pick up clues in Waters 119 every day.
Dealership Management/ATM Tractor

"This is a chance for ag students to show others what we're passionate about and why," Ag Fest co-chair Rebekka Martin said. "It's also a chance for us to celebrate what we do and the great people we work with."

Coordinated by the Agricultural Student Council, Ag Fest depends on support from departmental clubs and organizations, Donnelly said. About 13 clubs, departments and fraternities sponsor activities

"This is a prime opportunity for students to increase their network of people in the industry through personal contact with our corporate sponsors and speakers, while also increasing their network of fellow students and faculty peers," Roe said.

Similar agriculture-related activities have been going on since the 1970s, Donnelly said.

"I think it brings a focus to thinking about the roots of K-State being founded as an ag school, as a land-grant school," Donnelly said.

Committee co-chair Brooke Fields, senior in agricultural journalism, agreed.

"K-State was founded because of agriculture," she said. "It's important that people know the importance of agriculture in our world."

Lonely cow

A cow stands in a K-State research field on Mariatt Road outside the Manhattan city limits late Sunday afternoon.

SOLDIERS Continued from page 1

February along with about 3,500 other Fort Riley soldiers, were taking part in live training in which soldiers fired live ammunition at pop-up targets, Williams said. The unit was comprised of indirect fire infantrymen specially trained to operate the equipment they were

"While loading the weapon something went wrong, and the round exploded," Williams said.

"We're investigating what exactly happened."

The M-1064 fires mortar loaded inside the vehicle and fired through a metal tube that extends through the hatch of the vehicle, said Lt. Colonel Art DeGraf, head of the K-State military science department who has trained at the center. The set-up is similar to a person shooting a Roman candle out of the sunroof of a car, he said. The mortar, which is loaded manually, fires indirectly out of the hatch in an arch trajectory, he said.

Flags at Fort Riley were lowered to half-mast at 3 p.m. Friday to honor the fallen soldiers, according to a Fort Riley press release. A service for the three men will be in Fort Irwin in April, however no further details were available. Williams said the National Training Center at Fort Irwin schools soldiers in desert combat in a simulated battlefield. Soldiers arrive at the facility 10 times a year for training scheduled years in advance, she said. Upon arrival, soldiers train for a week and then take part in force-on-force combat using a complex system of lasers before beginning live ammunition

"It's the world's best simulated hartlefield." DeGraf said.

Training at the center has contributed to the strength of the army in recent years and resulted in fewer deaths in combat, he said.

"Any time we lose a soldier or serviceman in training it's a tragic loss," DeGraf said. "Due to the nature of military combative performance there is an inherent risk."

What the army can't do, he said, is not train realistically. All of the soldiers taking part in training at Fort Irwin will be home by mid-April, Fort Riley spokesperson Deb Skidmore said.

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

Pregnancy Testing Center

"Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption." 39-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results all for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Challenging Job Market?

Have you thought about a career in the government?

Government Jobs Panel Wednesday, April 3, 3:30 to 5 p.m., Union 212

Nearly 50 percent of federal employees will be eligible for retirement in the next five years...there may be room for you! Come hear the inside tips from a panel of experts with the IRS, ATF, USDA, and EPA...(Internal Revenue Service; Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms; United States Department of Agriculture, and Environmental Protection Agency)

Career & Employment Services - 100 Holtz Hall - 532-6506 www.ksu.edu/ces

#61 PEACE

An 11 year old writes, "Peace is a

Today, make a choice to meet each experience with an intention for peace.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by Lou Douglas Lecture Series and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

'The Frank' thrills fans who attend

I love spring.

A deep blue sky, sun shining bright and a light breeze — all part of the experience. The sound of metal versus leather. The pop of the glove after a 90 mph stinger. Hits in the gap. It's finally here — baseball 2002.

Josh Wells

Whether it's the labor arguments or the talk of revenue sharing, it doesn't matter. Maybe I'm just a baseball junky. I could sit and watch a game all afternoon. Just the thought of being at the park and enjoying the atmosphere is enough for me.

What about the price of baseball, though? Does that keep me away?

On a student's modest salary, it has crossed my mind. With the price of baseball tickets on the rise, I'll have to rob a bank just to afford to sit in the triple-upper-deck at Kaufman Stadium in Kansas City.

That leaves baseball at the Frank — Frank Myers Field at Tointon Family Stadium — but we'll just call it the Frank for the sake of this column. The Frank at K-State — my only hope for the spring. It's free with a student ID. You can't beat that.

Let me guess, while reading my references to the Frank you are saying, 'What? Where is that building? Did I have my geography class there?'

Probably not.

K-State baseball calls the Frank home, and what a place to play college baseball. Prior to 2001, the Frank was barely a high school ballpark.

It was a few seats in the crowd — less than a thousand to be exact. Dugouts, but no locker rooms. A scorer's box that didn't rival a janitor's closet.

The only nostalgic thing at the entire facility was Manhattan's own "green monster," and the old-school Boston Red Sox-esque manually operated scoreboard complete with the "wise-crack-shack" where the operators sit.

It's now 2002 — 102 years after K-State first picked up the glove in baseball. It's come a long way, especially in the past few years. Big changes at the Frank have enhanced the atmosphere for K-State baseball.

New grandstand seating with a limestone exterior, five VIP suites, two radio booths and an intimate press accommodation that mirrors some of the finest college baseball facilities in the country. Even new comfort factors were added to the Frank — new dugouts with home and visitor locker room facilities on-site.

It's a fabulous place to spend an after-

So, you ask, what's missing?

Well, I'll tell you — the fans.
Fans at K-State athletic events have been plentiful this year. After a disappointing football season, women's basketball reiterated why it's great to be a Wildcat.

Why should it stop there?

This weekend at the Frank I was ashamed to say I was a Wildcat fan. Not because the talent of K-State's baseball team, but because I was ashamed to be affiliated with Wildcat fans in general.

The hated Nebraska Cornhuskers came south for a three-game series this weekend and the number of curple faithful could have been compared to the number of M&Ms that are in a vending machine bag.

Furthermore, I became sick to my stomach to conduct a less-than-scientific count. The number of ugly reds were in the majority.

I hate red. It's the worst color in the rainbow. I can't think of a worse color. I hate everything red stands for — KU, Oklahoma and worst of all Nebraska. And I had to sit at the Frank and stare at it all weekend!

So, here's my plea.

We have everything at K-State — a topnotch facility for every sport. The only thing missing now are you, the fans.

On Wednesday, another one of my hated colors will come north — the gold of Wichita State. Wichita is ranked in Baseball America's top 10 and boasts a big-time history when it comes to baseball.

I could think of nothing better than to pack the Frank full of purple on a beautiful Kansas afternoon. After all, why go to class?

It's 70 degrees out here. Get up, grab your student ID and come out to the ballpark. I promise a great Wildcat atmosphere.

And please, if nothing else, don't make me look at more gold than purple. It just won't mix.

Josh is the news and sports director for KSDB 91.9. You can e-mail him at jwellsksu@msn.com

Tennis team struggles, falls 6-1 to Baylor at home

BY SEAN PURCELL

Kansas State Collegian

When K-State's women's tennis team squared off against No. 40 Baylor on Friday, a lot was at stake.

The Cats and Bears stood in a tie for fourth place in the Big 12.

K-State also was looking to upend Baylor for the first time in two years. But Baylor had other plans.

The Bears' consistent play was enough to defeat the Wildcats 6-1 Friday afternoon on K-State's home court, the Washburn Tennis Facility.

"We beat ourselves," Coach Steve Bietau said.

Baylor dictated an aggressive style of play early in the match. The Bears picked up the first point with doubles wins by Alison Bradley and Katja Kovac over K-State's Petra Sedlmajerova and Kathy Chuda 8-3, and Barbora Blahutiakova and Whitney Morton edged the Wildcats' Maria Rosenberg and Hayley McIver 8-6.

"We made the matches a little harder than they needed to be," Bietau said. "Baylor was definitely ready to take advantage of that."

Senior Alena Jecminkova and

Freshman Andrea Cooper ended doubles play on a positive note for the Cats, though, defeating Frida Borjesson and Patricia Graf 9-7.

The win snapped a three-match losing streak for the duo.

"They played the first eight points of the game with no errors," Bietau said. "They get up 4-1, and then all of a sudden they are down 5-4. It was a back-and-forth battle, but I'm glad they stayed in it and won it in the end."

In singles action, it was Chuda who earned K-State's only team point of the match. The senior defeated Graf 6-1, 2-6, Chuda breezed through the first set, but hit a roadblock in the second. Chuda said she became mad at the way the match was going and allowed Graf to even the match at one set a piece.

"I wasn't pleased with myself at all," Chuda said. "The first set went well for me, but I got mad at something, and it took me all set to get back in it.

"You realize that you are not the only one out there, and your team needs your match to get a point. That's what helped

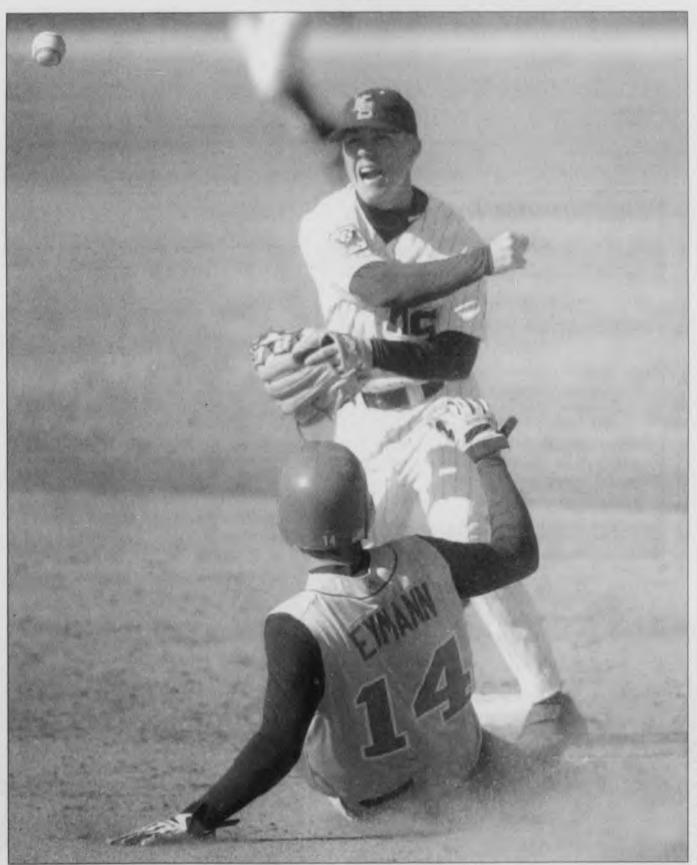

San TENNIS on PAGE 8

Senior Alena
Jecminkova returns the serve of Baylor's Katja Kova during their No. 1 singles match Friday.
Jecminkova lost the match 6-4, 6-4, 7-6 and is now 7-6 overall and 3-2 in the Big 12.

Matt Stamey/Collegian

DEAD RED

K-State's Brandon Taylor completes the first half of a double play as Nebraska's Brandon Eymann slides into second base Friday during the Wildcats' 9-8 win over the Huskers at Tointon Family Stadium.

Zach Long/Collegian

Cats nab weekend series with 3-2 win over Huskers

BY BEN FEHR, DAN SMITH

Hebraska 2 9 1 K-State 3 9 1

Saturday, the Cats got knocked down. Sunday, they got back up.

K-State baseball topped Nebraska in the finale of a three-game weekend series Sunday at Tointon Family Stadium to move to 16-11 on the season.

Nebraska ripped the Wildcats for 22 runs Saturday but could muster only two Sunday as the Huskers' record dropped to 17-9 after the loss.

Coach Mike Clark said his team was eager for another shot at Nebraska after Saturday's rout. "We talked about drawing a line and asking ourselves what we're all about," Clark said. "We knew we had to give a winning effort today. It was the rubber match of a series we wanted badly to win.

"We said that even if we made a mistake, it was going to be a winning one," Clark said.

"We said that if we were going to make a mistake, we were going to turn a double play behind it, we were going to throw a guy out stealing or we were going to pick somebody off — whatever it took to win the ballgame."

A mistake is exactly what the Cats had to deal with early in Sunday's game.

Nebraska leadoff man Jeff Liese scored on a passed ball in the top of the first inning to give the Huskers some room. It was quiet again until the third, when Osmar Castillo led things off with a walk. Boogie Taylor then made Nebraska starter Aaron Marsden pay for a hanging curve ball with a game-tying double to the left field gap.

Castillo gave K-State the lead in the fourth, singling to left to score catcher Jeremy Rogers.

Castillo came through again in the sixth, scoring with a head-first slide on a passed ball to make the count 3-2.

Nebraska came out hot in the ninth as Leise's double to left scored pinch hitter Adam Riddle. Daniel Bruce was then hit by a pitch to load the bases, but catcher Jed Morris' weak roller to first locked things up for the Cats.

Kevin Melcher got the win for K-State. Melcher went 6-2/3 innings, giving up two runs on seven hits and striking out Mitch Walter got the save for K-State, pitching 2-1/3innings of shutout ball and surrendering just two hits for the Wildcats.

Clark said much of the credit for the win deserved to go to his pitchers and added that team toughness was a factor as well.

"Melch gave us a wonderful ball game," Clark said. "Mitch got into a little tough luck there at the end of the game but he did a wonderful job also.

"That was great college baseball. The character it took to win this series is incredible. We didn't play not to make a mistake or not to lose this weekend — We played to win."

See BASEBALL on PAGE 8

Local Habitat for Humanity lacks summer volunteers

BY MICHAEL LAWRENCE

Kansan Styte College

Construction on Manhattan Habitat for Humanity's twelfth and thirteenth houses will be completed whether there are enough K-State student volunteers this summer or not, Emily Ross, volunteer coordinator, said.

Ross said the Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit organization that builds houses and gives them to families who will then pay for the house with a 20-year, interest-free

She said construction on the houses rely fully on volunteer work.

Many volunteers, Ross said are K-State students who typically do not live in Manhattan during the summer months. Because of this, she said, Habitat for Humanity has had trouble finding sufficient volunteers in the

"We really did have problems getting people to come out," she said.

She said she would like to encourage all K-State students who will be taking summer courses in Manhattan to consider volunteering for the organization. The only times construction takes place, she said, are on Saturdays.

"It's a great way to spend a Saturday," she said.

Ross said she actively will be pursuing different groups and churches for assistance when the twelfth and thirteenth houses will bebuilt this summer.

She said the lack of volunteers in the past has been so extreme that she even had to call family and friends to help with the labor.

Ross said people who have volunteered in the past would agree that volunteering is a rewarding experi-

"Starting a house or ending a house is a really exciting time," she

Isaac Madison, development coordinator for Habitat for Humanity. said constructing houses would especially be beneficial to those students who are majoring in architecture or construction.

He said volunteer work for construction is not the only type of work Habitat for Humanity could use. They also could use extra help in the office, he said.

What the volunteers will be dealing with in the office would be beneficial to those studying social

"They can have some hands-on experience," he said. "Habitat for Humanity is definitely a beneficial experience."

John Schamber, sophomore in horticulture and landscape design, said he will be one of the few K-State students who will be volunteering this

He said he enjoys the time he spends with Habitat for Humanity.

"I volunteer whenever I'm available," he said.

He said he volunteers because it makes him feel like he is simply returning what the community gives so much to the college student.

"You get to give time back to the community," he said. "It's nice to give back to them."

Powerful quake jolts Taiwan, kills 4

BY ANNIE HUANG

TAIPEL Taiwan - Cranes and scaffolding at a high-rise building site went crashing to the ground after a powerful earthquake jolted Taiwan on Sunday, killing four construction workers, authorities said.

More than 200 injuries were reported across the island, mostly minor, as the quake started fires, shattered windows and cracked walls. Local officials said it registered magnitude 6.8, but the U.S. Geological Survey estimated it higher, at 7.1

Two cranes fell from the 60th floor of a high-rise building under construction. Television footage showed the cranes tumbling down from the top of the structure, bringing steel beams and chunks of cement down with it.

Police identified the victims as two crane operators and two other construction workers. Dozens of other workers, many of them from Thailand, ran down from the structure safely, witnesses said.

One crane brought down large chunks of scaffolding, witnesses said, The second crane fell down the other side of the building and smashed several cars.

About 10 people were hurt by the falling debris, including a woman whose hand was severed when part of a crane came crashing down on

"I pulled over my car and ran for a few steps before I saw a falling steel beam smashing another car, right in front of me," taxi driver Wang Tien-tse told the TVBS television station.

The building under construction - the Taipei Financial Center - will be Taipei's tallest when completed, towering more than 100 stories high.

Elsewhere in Taipei, the capital, buildings rocked back and forth, cracks appeared in walls and frightened people ran from homes and churches. State radio said that gas leaks started several small fires.

An old four-story building in downtown Taipei partially collapsed and was tilting toward the street.

Flying

Corey Weyand of Manhattan takes a leap off one of the half pipes at CiCo Park's skate facility Sunday

Drew Rose/Collegian

GIVE US YOUR OPINION. Campus Fourum: 395-4444

J.CILL

warehouse sale

April 9-13 MOTIVATED WORKERS NEEDED

> Bramlage Coliseum 1800 College Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

$7.50 PR HR Am/Pm Shifts Available 4-Hour Shifts

CALL (800) 328-2015

Be a spokesperson for K-State in our newest Recruitment Video. We are looking for 4 K-State students who are fun, cool and can act. We plan to shoot in May or June and it should take one or two days of shooting. Email Jim Kinser at jkinser@ksu.edu for an audition script. Auditions are Wednesday, April 3rd, from 1:30-4:30 pm, at Bob Dole Hall. We are looking for a diverse cast, so everyone is encouraged to audition.

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

FAST FREE DELIVERY!

HOURS: (1) (2) (2) 11a.m. - 2a.m. *Mon. - Wed.*

ORDER ON LINE

STIX IT TO ME TUESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix

$5.99 Large 14" 2 Topping Pizza $6.99

VISA OUC WE

MONDAY MANIA

1a.m. - 2:30a.m

*Thurs. - Sat.*

11a.m. - 3:30a.m.

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value

Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.991 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 10 Wings $3.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

12" Pokey Stix $5.99

4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIO ASS

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza

only $11.99 Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

BASFRALL

■ Continued from page 6

Hobruska 22 19 1 K-State 6 16 1

One day after Ross Hawley and Franco Pezely held Nebraska to six hits, four Wildcat pitchers combined to allow 19 in a 22-6 loss Saturday.

"We just couldn't stop them," Coach Mike Clark said. "We were leaving balls out over the plate, getting behind in the count. We weren't making defensive plays, and it was just a snowball, and we're a better ballclub than that."

K-State gave up a Nebraska season-high five homeruns to four different batters.

Starter Brock Smith surrendered the first, a leadoff drive to centerfielder Jeff Liese. After beaning Daniel Bruce on the next at bat, Smith served up his second to designated hitter Jed Morris, and just like that, the Huskers were up

K-State scored four to take its only lead in the second inning, but in the third, Nebraska's offense would start ticking again.

Morris connected on his second homerun to lead off the inning, and two batters later, Smith's day was done.

"It was a shocker," he said.
"Three homeruns, three left-handed hitters today — that's something that's never happened to me before.

"I thought after the first inning, I was going to settle in."

Smith's replacement, Chad Duckers didn't fare much better. The senior charged another run to Smith's line and gave up six runs of his own by the time Ryan Hawley took the mound for the sixth.

"(Pitching) didn't give us a chance," Clark said. "That's the bottom line. Brock was up in the zone, wasn't locating, and good teams will hit that.

"Duck competed good, but we didn't play good defense behind him," he said. "They put a couple good swings on it. You just can't compete like that at this level."

K-State did well at the plate, collecting 16 hits, including seven off starter Jamie Rodrigue. First baseman Brett Williams led the Cats, going 4-for-4 with an RBI and a run scored.

"Offensively, we had the potential to score a lot of runs, but we just couldn't do anything once we got way behind," Clark said. "Our hands were tied."

Defensively, K-State committed five errors to push the season total to 80

"Defense wins ballgames and we've said it all year," Williams said. "That's our philosophy, and today we didn't play defense."

Fans at Tointon Family Stadium probably didn't realize it, but K-State closer Franco Pezely planned on a Nebraska comeback Friday afternoon.

The Wildcats pulled out a 9-8 win, but it's the way in which they did it that had Pezely chuckling afterward.

"In the bullpen, that's all we tease about — give up runs and get it tied up so you can get the win," NES.

Drew Rose/Collegian

K-State second baseman Jason Long tries to bring in the ball during the Wildcats 22-6 loss to Nebraska Saturday at Frank Meyers Field at Tointon Family Stadium.

he said.

Starter Ross Hawley entered the seventh with a 6-4 lead, but after two Huskers reached base to open the frame, Coach Mike Clark called on Pezely to put out the fire.

The Arizona State transfer ran into trouble from the beginning. NU second baseman Jeff Blevins drove a fastball to the rightfield fence, which plated both Husker runners and killed Hawley's chance for the Blevins scored on a wild pitch later in the inning before Pezely struck out two to end the Nebraska charge. After a scoreless K-State half, Pezely gave up another run to extend the Huskers' lead to 8-6.

"I got roughed up in the first couple innings," Pezely said. But the Cats had the Huskers right where they wanted them. In the bottom of the eighth, pinch-hitter Brad Anzman led off with a single to center, then stole

One out later, shortstop Osmar Castillo brought Anzman around with a single to right then advanced to second on a wild pitch from Nebraska reliever Waylon Byers. After Boogie Taylor went down on strikes, it was Pat Maloney's turn at the plate

"They were working me in all day figuring I might not get a chance to get one out." Maloney said. "I'd really have to crush one."

That's exactly what the junior slugger did. With the count full, Maloney's

With the count full, Maloney's two-run drive left no doubt as it cut through the pine trees beyond the leftfield wall.

"I was looking for exactly what I got," Maloney said. "I was looking for it earlier in the day and (Nebraska starter Shane) Komine ran it up a little on me and I kinda got jammed a couple times."

This time, it put K-State up for good.

"The guys just did a great job and we've won the eighth and ninth inning all season long," Clark said.

After pleading his case to Wildcat coaches to stay in the game, Pezely worked a perfect 1-2-3 ninth to finish the dramatic win.

"I saw Coach Hensley getting somebody warmed up in the ninth, and I thought 'I'm going out there. I want to win this," Pezely said.

TENNIS

■ Continued from page 6

me come back."

Another three-set match, one that finished well into the late afternoon, came when Baylor's Kovac stormed back after losing the first set to K-State's Jecminkova to defeat the senior 4-6, 6-4, 7-6.

Jecminkova controlled the match early, but Kovac, ranked No. 59 in the latest tennis rankings, rallied in sets two and three to defeat K-State's No. 1 singles player.

"Alena wasn't able to play as aggressive as she would have liked and get easy points off of serve," Bietau said. "In order for Alena to play well she has to do that.

"Points are long and hard and if you can pick up one or two where you don't have to spend a lot of energy to get them, it makes life a lot easier. She is capable of that, but it just didn't happen for her today."

lay." And for K-State's other four singles players, it didn't really happen either.

Borjesson edged Sedlmajerova 7-6, 6-3 in No. 3 singles while K-State's Rosenberg lost her first singles match in Big 12 play as Baylor's Daria Potapova cruised to a 6-2, 6-2 victory over the freshman.

In the No. 5 slot, K-State's Cooper was ahead after the opening set but let Baylor's Blahutiakova control the match after that as the Bears earned another point with the 1-6, 6-0, 6-3 win. Baylor also picked up a point as Morton defeated K-State's McIver 6-3, 6-3 in No. 6 singles.

K-State continues its fourmatch home stand Wednesday against Kansas. Despite the loss to Baylor, Chuda said the team will continue to focus and try to improve during this critical stretch.

"Baylor is a great team, and we have a lot of respect for them,"

Chuda said.

"This win would have given us some momentum, but I think we'll be all right."

Kansas State Collegian

lildcat fan's newspaper of choice

EGGS

Continued from page 1

about the birth of something on Easter — the day of rebirth," she said.

Miller said animal ambassador programs, organized by permanently trained volunteers, also occurred throughout the day. Docents, or volunteers who are required to fulfill a set amount of hours throughout the year, painted children's faces and helped Floppy take pictures with the children. Both activities cost $2 each.

Sunset Zoo Animal Environment program representatives also demonstrated to the children how they stimulate animals mentally and physically to help them adapt to the zoo's environment while maintaining animal instincts.

Workers showed children an exercise geared toward chimpanzees. Workers placed plastic tubes inside termite mounds filled with ketchup, mustard and honey. The chimpanzees had to use their sticks to get the condiments out of the ground. Miller said this encourages the animals to use their instincts.

Paul Ditmer, volunteer, said he hopes children not only had fun but learned something new.

"Most people come here because of the tradition of the Easter egg, which is the tie to Easter," Ditmer said. "But, I hope that they will take away something else. Although getting candy is fun, I hope they learned something new about the animals around them."

Marjon Gavion, Manhattan resident, said she brought her daughter Alyssa, 2, because it is a family tradition and the family love of animals.

"We have brought out the children over the years, and it really has become a family tradition," Gavion said.

"I like it because it's really familyoriented, but they love it because they love the animals."

JOBS

Continued from page 1

Layoffs, particularly in manufacturing, have been blamed for financial problems leaving Kansas with a projected $700 million budget shortfall.

Out of 105 Kansas counties, Geary County, which includes Junction City, has the fifth highest unemployment rate behind Cherokee, Doniphan, Woodson and Wyandotte counties.

Geary County's 7.1 percent unemployment rate is normal, said Larry Cope, executive director for the economic development commission in Junction

"If you look at the maps, we have a lot of housing with spouses who do volunteer services or raise children at home instead of entering the work force," Cope said.

Geary County also has a lower population than Riley County with 27,947 and about 40,000 respectively, so it doesn't take many unemployed residents to jump the numbers, Cope said.

Manhattan has a larger work force, so it takes a lot more unemployed workers to have 5 percent to 7 percent unemployed, he said. Historically, lanuary has one rates because of seasonal jobs coming to an end.

Cope said a lot of people stop working after Christmas.

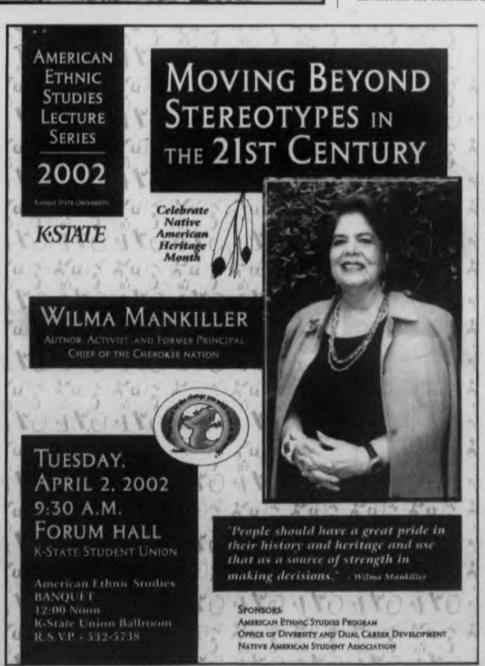

He said the unemployment rate reported last month was 7.7 percent unemployed, so more people are working now.

But the difference between 7.7 percent and the current unemployment rate of 7.1 is only 100 jobs when you look at Geary's population.

But the more jobs there are the better, Cope said, and people in the work force should continue to increase.

"Things will really start heating up in the spring when jobs start opening again," he Give us your

Rightful revenge?

Big-name actors fail to carry ridiculous plot hildren's television has a tendency to frustrate mature audiences with its simplicity, incoherence and under-developed sense of humor. Apparently these attributes are embedded so deeply within the genre that they become dominant features of its ridicule also.

"Death to Smoochy" tells the story of Rainbow Randolph (Robin Williams, "Good Will Hunting"), the hard-drinking, expletive-spitting host of TV's highestrated children's show. Make that former host, as Randolph is fired after being busted by the FBI for accepting bribes from parents who want to see their children on his show.

"DEATH TO SMOOCHY"

*** MOVIE REVIEW BY ADAM LEE

Network bigwigs are determined to find the safest, most virtuous replacement host possible. They find their man in Sheldon Mopes (Edward Norton, "Fight Club"), the creator and persona of a folksinging pink rhinoceros named Smoochy. Mopes is discovered performing for patients at a methadone clinic, but soon his plush alter ego becomes the biggest name in kids' entertainment.

His successor's fame inspires the down-and-out Randolph to devote himself to sabotaging Smoochy.

This is a difficult movie to watch. Not because it chooses to deal with such dismal subjects as greed and jealousy in a setting as innocent as children's television, but because it's just not enjoyable.

Director Danny DeVito has created a world of nauseating colors, strange camera angles and sporadic laughs. There is plenty of talent to be found in the movie, but it is never brought to its full potential.

The clownish role of Randolph gives Williams freedom to engage his trademark spastic humor.

If you are a fan of Williams' stand- up, or of the roles in which he can act like an idiot, his character will provide laughs and maybe make the movie enjoyable.

Edward Norton's character is good. In fact, he is too good. Mopes' rigid morality and cheerfulness provide a contrast to the corrupt Randolph, but his sweetness is only palatable in doses. The love affair between Norton's character and his network executive, played by Catherine Keener ("Being Ion Malkovich"), seems forced and weakens both roles.

Some big names and a relatively fresh plot make "Death to Smoochy" sound promising, but a lack of shock and humor leave it short of a good dark comedy.

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer 40 Computer DOWN ACROSS "Golly! 1 Cowboy's acronym 4 South 41 Felon's significant western flights other rodents 43 Report-2 Inventor terrain 9 High-arc 21 A little card data Whitney 45 April 1862 12 The whole inate 22 "Omnia enchilada 47 Disenvincit -Claus 13 Jellied 4 One could 23 Regis' trio cumber entree 48 A billion of helpers? be a 14"- Got a game bird 27 Wapiti Secret" 49 Candy 5 Its capital 15 Typical gin fizz 30 Shade choice is Tallinn 6 007, e.g. 54 Rushmore way of existence 7 Wasn't up figure providers 17 Adipose to par 8 Panoramic 34 Cub's 18 Environ faith in mentally 56 Have bills 9 "Bay watch' friendly 57 Angeles 37 Salmon 19 Marx col precede persona 58 Have a 10 Squashed 39 Sad, laborator 21 Visit on the 24 Bell noise Seine 11 Puts on 25 Parisian 42 Actress Talia 26 Reason 44 Program to keep playing language 28 Bring 45 Use a abou caulking 31 Hay there 33 Model-46 Vagrant 50 Enjoyment 51 Pledge actress Carol 35 Humpty's 52 Ram's ma'am 36 Releases tone/rotary phones (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP

STUMPED?

WNFJ TXV WOSWMAXJ

JNZAONE WQNJJAV.

A T P S X H Q N N J P Y A A G .
Saturday's Cryptoquip: WHEN A SCIENTIST
GETS A DOG ASSISTANT, AN OBVIOUS CHOICE WOULD BE A LAB RETRIEVER.

Today's Cryptoquip Clue. W equals C

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands to r. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by that and error © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

776-6959 701 N. 11th www.ksudigitalshelf.com now online and updated

NEW RELEASES

MOVIES

DVD (*also on VHS) "Thirteen Ghosts"* "Cannonball Run" "Bull Durham" "Mr. Holland's Opus'

MUSIC

Little Feat 'Waiting for Columbus" Foreigner Foreigner 4° The Apex Theory "Mozart: Piano Concertos" Ashanti

Southern Hummingbird"

Family movie lacks passion, conflict of drama

"The Rookie" is a movie that at times is inspirational, but lacks the real passion or conflict to be a great drama.

It is the story of a science teacher who coaches

baseball

As the head coach of a poorly funded baseball program, Jimmy

Morris (Dennis Quaid), takes a hapless group of baseball players and tries to mold them into winners, not only on the baseball field but in life.

baseball since he was a child, and injuries cost him his shot at the big

"THE ROOKIE"

★★☆☆☆ MOVIE REVIEW BY NICK BRATKOVIC

comes back

His players make a bet with him that if they start winning, he will try out for the major leagues.

However, in this movie, the players leagues.

Somehow, after 18 years away,

arm feels better,

and the speed in his throwing his fastball

Quaid has had a love affair with teach the coach a thing or two.

They start winning, and then it is his turn.

The movie chronicles Morris' success story and tells you the rest. The problem is that the movie moves too slow.

Like Morris' fastball, the whole plot takes awhile to get rolling. Perhaps that is because it is based on a true

The movie has a little bit of "Rudy," a little "Bad News Bears," and a lot of different generic baseball movies mixed in. There were times when you thought this was really going to take off, but it just didn't.

The message was great, but the movie never managed to keep the momentum. Perhaps what hurt it more than anything was the G rating.

They had to take away some of the true gritty drama to get that family feel. Truthfully, the family-slanted extreme works better than the other side of the coin, as in the Bobby Knight story, "A Season on the Brink."

No one could feel comfortable watching that movie with children or Grandma

Still, "The Rookje" feels more like a family movie-of-the-week than a feature film.

Snipes returns as Blade; sequel just as good as original

Fast-paced martial arts, ultra-cool sunglasses, buckets of blood, and not one, but two kinds of vampires make "Blade II" stand right up to the original.

Blade, the Daywalker vampire, is back at hunting down his estranged brethren with lots of fun weapons, but this time they need his help. The vampire nation is under attack by a new breed of blood-suckers, called Reapers, who feed on other vampires.

option but to enlist Blade, (Wesley Snipes, "Demolition Man") to help them take out the Reapers with the Blood Pack, a team of tough vampires trained with the MOVIE REVIEW BY JJ DUNCAN intention of hunting Blade. What ensues is no less than one of

The vampire nation is left no other the most fun blood baths you'll ever see on the big screen.

There's only one word to describe

Snipes in the "Blade" movies - badass. Snipes' martial arts training shows in his films and makes the movie feel much more genuine.

No one else could play Blade like him. Be forewarned, this movie requires the audience to turn off cerebral functions and enjoy the show.

Part action and part horror, the movie will entertain people who love "Die Hard" or "A Nightmare on Elm

The only slight turn off to the "Blade" mythos, based on the Marvel comic book, is that the immortal vampires are so vulnerable.

An automatic gun with silver bullets can wipe out a whole club full of vampires since a nick anywhere on the body with something silver kills them.

It gets a little ridiculous and makes you wonder why a vampire hunter needs to know how to sword fight. Still, "Blade II" is one of the most entertaining movies at the theater.

There's just something fun about watching Snipes walk all over a whole brood of mutant vampires.

misdirection

BY JOE ELKINTON - GANGSTAHONKY@HOTMAIL.COM

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

10K APARTMENTS. Twobedroom apartment in modern complex, two blocks east of campus at 1010 Keamey Quiet street. Quali-ty student living. Large Lshaped kitchen, dishwasher air-conditioning. soundproof. well-insulated. low utilities, laundry room, no pets, lease June 1 through 2536.

KEARNEY, two-bed-617 square feet, lighted off-Shared utilities. NO ust lease. $500. (785)776-8548.

617 KEARNEY. One or two upstairs. square feet. Lighted offstreet parking, shared utilities. NO PETS. August lease. $400. (785)776-8548.

815 RATONE One-bedsquare feet, lighted offstreet parking. Heat, air, wa ter, trash, cable paid. NO PETS. August lease. $400. (785)776-8548.

820 COLORADO, One-bedroom main floor. 730 square feet. Lighted off-street par ing. Shared utilities. NO PETS. August lease. $400 NO (785)776-8548.

820 COLORADO. Two-bed room upstairs 950 square feet. Lighted off-street park shared utilit NO PETS.

lease. $500. (785)776-8548. AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS o, one-, two-, three-four-bedroom apartments. Great selection and

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit

rent-apm.com CLOSE TO Campus, Iwocall for an appoint ment. (785)537-9064 FOUR, THREE, and one bedroom apartments for fent Electric, gas, water, and trash paid Across klb4949@ksu.edu.

Call Andy (913)269-7297. NEAR CAMPUS One-bed paint and carpet. Dishwash central-air, balcony, af-ease. Call (785)539-0549. NEXT TO campus one, two, three-bedroom houses, apartments. Central air, arking, free washer/ dryer Available August. (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bed-room apartment, 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530. (785)539-2482

NICE THREE-BEDROOM house. Available August 1. Central air, washer/ dryer, dishwasher (785)776-6393. close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545-$585/ at 1007 Houston. $610/ month. (785)341-4496. month. (785)539-3672.

Announcements

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State

Flying Club has five air-planes, lowest rates. For in-formation, call (785)456-

ACADEMY OF BARTEND

ING. Have fun, make mon-ey, meet people. Earn $15-

$30 an hour. Day, evening

or weekend classes availa

ble. Job placement assis

nce, $199 with student ID.

www.bartendingcollege.com

AG FEST 2002. From the barnyard to the board room. April 1- 5. Exciting events every day! This ad sponsored by Collegiate Agri

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-

2215 COLLEGE AVE

2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc.

bulletin

board

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

rooms for both June and August. Various locations. Washer/ dryer in some units. No pets. (785)313-4812

ONE, TWO and THREE-BEDROOM apartments. Close to campus. June and August leases, No Pets, Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-4901.

ONE, TWO, three or four close to KSU. No pets Available June 1. (785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827. ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT available.

No pets. Call ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT. Close to campus Off-street parking. No smok-ers, no pets. $350 and share utilities. (785)539-

Kearney

1814. ROOMMATE(S) WANTED starting August 1. $235, month plus one-third utilit-Call Krista at (785)776-9129

kmisham@Yahoo.com. ROOMMATES NEEDED for five-bedroom house. Washer/ dryer in-cluded, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-

SPACIOUS TWO and three bedroom, close to campus Central air, laundry facilities, water, and trash paid. June and August. (785)539-0866.

TWO AND three-bedrooms ne and one-half bath, cen tral air, laundry facility near campus. (785)537-1746.

TWO-BEDROOM, 203 Westwood $475/ month AVAILABLE JUNE 1

(785)537-6032 Rooms

Available ROOMS FOR rent TWO AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Rent $225/ month plus one-third electric and cable Call Kimberly at (785)539-0348 e-mail

For Rent-

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, al appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. June (785)539-1177.

bedroom two bath house Central heat and air, wash er/ dryer. Three blocks to campus. Non-smoking. No king. No pets. (785)587-8316. A SIX- seven-bedroom three bath house one block to campus, Aggieville, and City Park. Central Air, washer and dryer. (785)317-7713 TWO-BEDROOM AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two-

Announcements

Charles W. (Chuck) Harper

25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100.

chuckharper@msn.com

Lost and Found

placed free for three days.

LOST SILVER SEIKO watch

ture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when plac-

ATTORNEY

For Rent-

ONE, TWO and three bed- AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fourplus bedrooms. Three full bathrooms, near campus. Very nice house. (913)963-1498, Keith.

For Rent-

homes.

145 1

Roommate

1. Call (785)587-9600.

(816)868-3989.

FEMALE ROOMMATE(S)

for 2002- 2003 school year

ROOMMATE WANTED for house Washer/ dryer $200/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call (785)776-0736, ask for Kevin or Chris.

WANTED: FEMALE room

bath, two-story house. All appliances, washer/ dryer included. One-fourth utilities and $265 rent. August to Ju-

NEW SUMMER sublease

One room in three-bedroom washer/ dryer Two and one-half blocks west of

KSU. Only one-third utilities

Two blocks from Aggieville and campus. $225 a month Available in May. Rent ne gotiable. Call (785)776-dishwasher plus one-fourth bills. $284 per month. Cable

TWO-BEDROOM SUMMER

sublease May 20- August 7

mates. Call (785)539-0978

ed Tony (913)593-4120

May 20th

SUBLEASER

lease Call (785)537

mate for four-bedroom,

150 ▮

Sublease

(785)323-0116

ROOMMATE

3026.

SUMMER

Wanted

Mobile Homes

AVAILABLE AVAILABLE JUNE 1. THREE-BEDROOM campus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer/ dryer, fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Threewest of campus at 1404 er/ dryer, fenced vard, $285 per person. 539-3672.

FIVE-BEDROOM. bath, two kitchens, air, close to KSU. Available June 1. $1250/ month. 776-5804

FOUR-BEDROOM AND live-bedroom houses. Excellent condition. Close to campus. Central air. backyards. June. Won't last long. (785)776-4166.

FOUR-BEDROOM bath, near campus. Excellent condition. Appliances washer/ dryer, central air off-street parking. Available August $1200. Call (785)537-8420 or (785)341-

5346. GREAT HOUSE, three-bedroom very nice. One block west of campus. Available June 1. $900/ month. No pets. 537-4766.

NICE FOUR/ five-bedroom two bath house with base-ment. Washer/ dryer hook ups, off-street parking. Thurston. Call (785)317-3005 NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE. Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus Washer/ dryer hook ups, one year lease. $900/ month plus utilities. Available June 1 Call (785)539-

Five or six-bedroom house hardwood floors, three bath rooms, fireplace, central-air,

No Pets. (785)539-0549. SMALL HOUSE. Applian ces furnished June lease. No utilities paid Big backyard. Call (785)539-1975 or

(785)313-8296. THREE-BEDROOM NEAR dryer, central air, off-street parking, good condition Available August $900. Cal

(785)537-8420 or (785)341

125 For Sale-

FIVE-BEDROOMS, THREE baths. Fenced yard. Full fin ished basement. Beautiful. $115,000. (785)539-8631 or see http://valbehan.hothomepages.com or stop by

For Rent-Unfurnished

water, trash, June 1

911 SUNSET, four-bedand one-bedroom 1112 Bluemont, one-bed-room. (785)776-9288 or

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, one bedroom apartment MOBILE HOME FOR RENT sixteen-feet wide, two and three-bedroom homes avail able, one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available for immediate occupancy. Call (785)776-4274 to view www.beloose.com/linwood

FOR RENT, new one, two, three and four-bedroom inits. Some close to campus All appliances. Some with washer/ dryer hook-ups. Call (785)341-2269 for more information. Carl Denning Construction

Now Leasing June Lease Cambridge •

August Lease

LEASED +1114 Freemont + 2000 College Heights * Sandstone * Fireplaces

Pool Private Deck Laundry Facilities Large 2 bedroom Units Call Today Going Fast

537-9064 Weddys+830am.5pm. Saturdays+ Dam.-3pm.

athroom duplex. One block

K-Rental Mgmt.

Bills Included

WANTED: FEMALES share four-bedroom, Call (785)323-1103

> we kick ads.

at University Commons, completely furnished Wash-

ble. Call (785)317-0541

astay la

Class At The

Commons"

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

*Washer/Drver

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

1628 FAIRVIEW Open house, Sunday, April 7, 4-5pm. Quiet, studio near campus. $385 including gas, smoking, pets. (785)537-to campus. Located at 193 Anderson. $300/ month, water/ trash paid. No pets. (785)537-9705. AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

WANTED. A very nice two-bedroom/ two bath apartment located right across the street from campus. $350/ month plus one-half utilities. Lease starts August

Now Leasing

1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500 3 BR from $600

4 BR from $720

539-8401

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM $450 rent, $450 deposit now. (785)776-7362, leave mes-

MODERN LIVING at spacious three-bedroom. bath duplex. 1015 Blue-mont, $1100/ month. Washer/ dryer included, trash paid, students welcome, no pets. Call MDI (785)776-

TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Roomy. Low util-Laundry facilities. Pool By Westloop $460/

NICE. TWO-BEDROOM, two story duplex close to campus. Available August, 1431 McCain Lane, $625/ month. Trash paid, no pets A must seel Call MDI (785)776-3804.

NOW LEASING. One-bed room apartment in quiet six-plex at 1811 Ptatt. Available lune 1. Unfurnished, central air, parking, water and trash paid. No pets. $370 per month. Call KSU Foundation (785)532-7569

ONE, TWO, three and fourbedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-ments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile from lege and Claffin, Manhattan. ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT for rent, 903 Thur ston. No pets. Water and trash paid. $330/ month. in June. Call (785)770-2224

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash $390/ month. Call 3141. (785)537-7810 ONE-BEDROOM'S AVAILA-BLE April 1, May 1, and $300- $330. No

AFFORDABLE THREE AND Four-bed-

Two-bedroom basement

SIX-BEDROOM. TWO bath

For Rent-

Unfurnished

QUIET COUNTRY living. apartment. Excellent condition $500/ month, utilities new appliances, $250/ included. Washer/ dryer month plus one-fourth hook-ups. No smoking/ pets. ies. Call Lisa at (785 (785)776-6903. 4483

ns, two living rooms, two ns, and washer/ dryer Free for August, duplex two-(785)537-2289 THREE-BEDROOM WALK

Central air, washer/ dryer. off-street parking. blocks from o campus (785)336-2784 THREE-BEDROOM, pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-mont. $780.00 plus utilities.

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO June 1, $675/ month. Washer/ dryer/ window air-condi-tioning. 709 Bluemont.

sage. TWO-BEDROOM TOWN HOUSE, one and one-half central air Washer dryer hook-ups, no pets (785)539-5627.

(785)539-4949, leave mes-

Now Leasing 3 BR From $744

Rooms

Available FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay short-term leases Call Century 21 Knight. (785)565-0138.

For Rent-Houses

FIVE-BEDROOM HOUSE with all amenities. Extremely nice. Close to campus. Call

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE close to campus Washerd dryer, off-street parking.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE worth. Hardwood floors, June 1 (785)539-0590

$960/ month. Washer/ dryer/ (785)539-4949 Leave mes-FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO

FOUR-BEDROOM.

bath. Close to campus Call John at (785)539-2356 NICE FOUR-BEDROOM to campus. No pets or smoking. June 1 lease. $240/ each plus utilities. Call (785)759-3520. ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX close to campus. Quiet neighborhood, no pets.

(785)539-1711 or (785)341-PLEX available May One and one-half bath. washer and dryer, trash, and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287.

WASHER/ dryer hook-up no pets or smakers. 1523 Pierre. $840 plus utilities August lease. (785)776-

For Sale-Mobile Homes

4805

three-bedroom and two and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer. $13600. Call (785)484-1994 SKYLINE, two and one-half bedroom, two bathroom, very well maintained cluding siding. Lot 544 in Colonial Gardens $16,500 or best offer. Call (785)776-

Roommate

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fe male roommates wanted Great house, washer/ dryer Call Lisa at (785)537-

FEMALE ROOMMATES wanted for a three-bedroo home on Kearney, lea June, washer/ dryer available. $250/ month and utilit ies. Call Rachel anytime at

ONE-BEDROOM FOR sum OUT basement apartment mer and/ or Fall. Very close to campus, central air. Rent $175 plue one-fourth utilities. Call (785)587-8508.

> ROOMMATE WANTED for two-bedroom apartment starting June/ august. Two blocks from campus, offstreet parking, living/ dining furnished. Rent $280, water, trash paid. Call Alison (785)776-8529.

ROOMMATE WANTED Nice, comfortable, non-smoking house. Washer dryer, fireplace, deck. $250/ month plus shared utilities Call (785)565-9136.

ROOMMATES NEEDED for very nice four-bedroom apartment. Rent $235/ month. Split utilities. Lease starts August. (785)539-4751

STOP PAYING exorbitant rent in Manhattani One-bed-room available in May, seven miles from K-State, $250 ncludes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dry-er in basement. No smoking or drinking. Call Brian at

150 E Sublease

DESPERATELY SEEKING sublease! One- three-bed room apartment, large rooms, walk-in closets swimming pool! Rent nego tiable. Call (785)770-3834.

DESPERATELY SEEKING subleasers! Four-bedroom house close to campus bars. Rent negotiable. Call Rachel or Alyssa, (785)776-0612 FEMALE SUBLEASE. Nice apart new washer/ dryer. $180/ Close to campus Late May to early August. NEED FEMALE summer BIG DAWG Marina. Week subleaser for one bedroom ment. $180/ month one-fourth utilities. Walking distance from (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs.

NICE TWO-YEAR old, four bedroom, two bath duplex for sublease after finals through July. Nice location washer and dryer, DSI hookup, $275, negotiable May rent one, two, three, or all rooms. Call (785)323-0827.

ROOM AVAILABLE June July one-half block campus, garage, rent nego hable, very nice, Great deal. 1837 Anderson Ave. Call Ricky (785)539-0838.

SLEEP IN OUR BOOM Summer sublease, two-bed room apartment, large living and dining room, very close Kellie, Kristen

SUBLEASE FOR a great deal summer 2002. University Commons. One or two-bedrooms. Contact Kristy

SUBLEASES NEEDED to large two-bedroom in du-Washer/ dryer hookups. One block from cam pus. Large enough for fou June and home on quiet street, close

SUMMER SUBLEASER. Female needed to share four-bedroom house. FULLY furnished, washer/ dryer. Utilities paid including cable. $347 785)565-0972. SUMMER SUBLEASERS room apartment near cam pus. $270/ month each. Wa ter and trash paid. Call (785)587-9073.

SUMMER SUBLEASES apartments next to campus

Storage

MABERRY RFD. Inc. Mini Self-storage: Multiple units 5x 10 through 10 x30's. Outdoor and indoor RV and boat storage. Buy three months and receive a twen

(785)539-0266. service

Weight Loss & /

HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss, Increased Energymediate Results I can teach opportunitie

Help Wanted $250/ NIGHT potential/ bar-

tending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 623. The Collegian cannot veri-fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Em ployment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment oppor-tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson,

Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

(785)232-0454. Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualf-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, disa-bility, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-try. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441. $1500 WEEKLY potential mailing our circulars formation call (203)977-

Word or text to: $250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548. ACCEPTING APPLICA-TIONS. Vista Drive In, a locally owned and operated searching for a few good people to add to our team. Day, evening and weekend part-time hours available. We have food discounts, flexible hours and promote from within. Please apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek ACCOUNTING POSITION. Flexible hours. Wage based experience. Dean Liquor, 12th and Laramie.

BARTENDERS NEEDED! Earn up to $250/ day. Will train. No experience neces-Call (866)291-1884 ext. 160 end help. Start May 18, end Labor Day. Contact Keith, (785)776-7946, (785)539-KeithEyestone@msn.com. BUDWEISER WOMEN of Street, Third floor, Manhat-Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Photographers, Wanted.

Designers CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Sea sonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com EARN $1000 FOR YOUR GROUP. Work on campus to raise money for your stu-Make your own schedule Please call (800)808-7450.

SUMMER FEMALES WANTED for wanted. KSU girl in wheelchair for Summer 2002. Flexible. school student to watch in my home two children, ages 9 and 11. Monday- Friday $7.00/ hour. Call Holly (785) had8078@ksu.edu. FRATERNITIES* SORORI TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campusfundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com GREAT SUMMER Income Asbestos Abatement Workers needed. 40 hours of free training is required. Must attend class May 7-May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm. $11.40 per hour. Work will start May 18. Contact Laborers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-ro, Manhattan, KS, (785)537-1567, to sign up. HELP WANTED for custom harvesting. Combine opera-tors and truck drivers guaranteed pay. Good summer wages. Call (970)-483-7490 evenings.

HELP WANTED. Part time fun job. Apply in person. Brooks Yamaha. HELP WANTED. Temporary, part-time help wanted 30-40 hours per week. Painting, mowing grass, swimming pool maintenance and other miscellaneous and other miscellaneous jobs. Apply at 3050 Tuttle Creek Blvd. WANTED DRIVER part-time JOHNSON COUNTY, Summer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. 57/ hour for 40 hour week, May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horti-culture, Forestry and Recre-ation Resources Office, 2021 Throbbroston Hell but ation Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5.

terpreter who can speak English. Call evenings

LOOKING FOR Chine translator to translate a book from Mandrian or Shangal-ese to English. Call evenings (785)537-2853. NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com-bines 2388's and New Automatic Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help ob-tain Commercial Drivers Li-Provide room and

Call (785)689-4660. PLAY SPORTSIII HAVE Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, waterfront, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more, Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com PROGRAMMER CivicPlus, a leader in provid ing local government web services, has an opening for a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or ming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL experience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 days of employment. Competitive salary plus health 401(k) and paid vacation. E-mail resume in Microsof jobs@civicplus.com EOE. SALES. LOCAL Company is looking for a money-moti vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance including quota over achieve-ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base $50,000/ year or more. Emorgan @ civicplus.com. EOE. Word or text format to

SEASONAL WORKERS. Riley County is accepting applications for seasonal workers. Several positions are available in the Public Works and Parks Departments. Valid Class C driv er's license and the ability to lift 70 lbs. required. Experience in construction, con crete work, asphalt mainte-nance, traffic flagging, tree and turf maintenance, and mowing. 40 hour work week at $7.45 per hour. Applica-tions are available by contacting the Department of Administrative Services, Di vision of Human Resources located at 115 North Fourth formation call (785)565-6464, or e-mail to idean@co.riley.ks.us Riley County is an Equal Opportunity Employer. STUFF ENVELOPES and process mail for $1000s weekly! Just send a self ad dressed, stamped envelope To: Oneal 601 S. Lasalle St.

938, Chicago, IL 60605 SUBWAY AT K-state Union now hiring for days, evenings, and weekends. Partperson.

College/

8am- 5pm. Need own trans taxes. (785) 537-2827. needed: Instructors needed to teach high school stu-$2000 with the easy Camdents in the areas of English hour fundraising event Does not involve credit card Science (Chemistry, Physics applications. Fundraising or Biology), Foreign Lan-guage, Computer Explora-tion and Web-Page Design June 10- July 19, 2002. Pre-ferred Qualifications: MS/ graduate student in related bjects, certified by state Board of Education: 1-3 years teaching experience at secondary or university level. Submit vita/ resume and three references to: Margaret A. Turner, Associ-ate Director, Upward Bound

Program, 1800 Claffin Suite 1, Kansas State University, Manhattan, KS 66506. (785)532-6497. SUMMER LABORERS needed by Mechanical Conractor for job sites in Manhattan, Topeka, Lawrence, Salina and Emporia. $10.43/ hour. Call Shelley at (785)537-2437 to name and phone number URGENT. SALES promotion work at the upcoming Flint Hills Expo 2002, April 5-7. Must be physically pay, possible future work.

or summer help. Class A Commercial Driver's License for Semi and Mixers. Pre-employment drug screen. Apply Valley Con-crete, Belvue, Kansas or call WANTED: Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains. Come work for the largest horse operation in website

Semester Leases Leasing Now 4 BR Apartments Call or Come by Our Office!

Personals

ing a personal

For full details on our 4BR, 2 Bath apartments for a Semester Lease -Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st!

 tennis, volleyball & basketball courts · individual leases · exercies room · · electronic alarm system · Office Hours: 539-0500 Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-4

· fully furnished · swimming pool · · washer/dryer · next to KSU stadium ·

For Renthousing Apts. Furnished real estate MAY FREE! One-bedroom er/ dryer, pool, workout fa-cilities. Great college atmos-For Rent-Apts. Furnished phere! $343/ month with ca Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per son equal opportunity in housing without distinct tion on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national

105

Resources at City Hall FOR RENT: Five-bedroom Brittany Ridge town home. Available August 1, oneyear lease, $950/ month. Call Tim after 6pm at origin or ancestry. Viola

tions should be reported to the Director of Human

*Permit Parking *Tennis/Volleyball Courts ADVERTISE •Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-6, CLASSIFIEDS + 532-6555 Sat. 10-4

> INIVERSITY COMMONS

APARTMENTS

539-0500

2215 COLLEGE AVE ADVERTISE YOUR SUBLEASE

LET'S RENT SECTION

rooms close to campus. Water and trash paid. (785)537-

One-year lease. PARK PLACE APART-PRICES. One, Two, Threebedrooms. (785)539-2951.

'82 REDMAN 14x 70 threebedroom, two bath. Central heat and air. Must see. Priced to sell (785)770-utor (785)776-1936.

LOOKING FOR a Korean in-

Boulder, CO 80301

Reach more readers

Place your classified ad online. Get more bang for your buck.

www.kstatecollegian.com

Ads scheduled to be printed in the Collegian can be published online for an additional dollar.

Life Week

March 31 - April 6 Sponsored by the Kansas State University Students for the right to life.

In Honor and remembrance of those who have not been given the most precious inalienable right of all -

IMAGINE Yourself AT THE HEART OF Success

STUDENTS? IF SO ...

CALL (816) 418-7747 FOR MORE INFORMATION. www.kcmsd.k12.mo.us/teachers

Are you an undergraduate active in a student organization? If so, you could be eligible for a $500 scholarship!

STUDENT FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS

Presented through the KSU Student Foundation

Check out Claflin services

- √ 5 cent self-serve copies
- ✓ transparencies
- √ binding
- ✓ color copies
- ✓ electronic file submittal
- ✓ printing from disk
- ✓ quality papers

Claflin Copies

1814 Claflin Rd.

Dependable, Quality Service

>your first time traveling abroad, that is.

>europe from $55 a day! our textbooks cost more than that, contiki has 100 worldwide trips to choose from and you can do it with people your own age, with such a great deal what are you waiting for?!??!!!

>where to go:

greek island hopping

- mediterranean highlights
- european getaway
- simply italy

e your travel agent call toll-free 1-888-CONTIKI

Are you tired of your CD collection? re you tired of the same old radio stations?

is the answer. Audio Junction has IT!

XM Satellite Radio The Next Generation of Radio

100 Channels of Music, News, Sports and Entertainment

Over 70 Music Channels

Over 30 Channels 100% Commercial Free ock * Electronica * Reggae - Classic Country y Metal * Blues * Hard Rock • Classic Rock cc * Standards * R&B * Rock en Español Ical * Modern Rock * Hip Hop * Alternative d Music * New Age • Latino * New Country Progressive * Pop * Soul * Rap * Big Band

Digital-Quality Sound

Coast-To-Coast Coverage

Only $9.99 Monthly Subscription

Available for Car and Home

Add an XM Adapter to any Car Stereo

Since 1979 587-4646 JUNCTION, INC.

Layaway Available www.audioj.com 307 Ft. Riley Blvd.

Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m. VISA

Deadlines

you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

Classifieds

WRITER. Bachelor's degree is required and a Master's de-gree is preferred. Potential DPRA incorporated, a contact research and consulting regulatory issues, has a full$27,000 depending on extime position open for a perience and qualifications.
Technical Writer starting imSend letter of resume to Di-Alirm in environmental and have good written and oral communication skills with a corporated, P.O. Brown background in edition background in editing or proofreading. Word processfax (785)539-5353, e-mail ing skills (MSWord, WordPerfect) are a must manhattanjobs@dpra.com. No phone calls please.

DPRA Incorporated Equal and desktop publishing skills are preferred. The selected Employer Opportunity M/F/D/V

Help Wanted

applicant can expect to pro-duce high quality on-line documentation of informa-ADVERTISE tion systems in addition to a variety of writing, editing, and proofing assignments. A CLASSIFIEDS - $32-6555

Help Wanted

Help Wanted

Center is seeking applicants for 40- 50 summer staff positions Applicants must be graduating high school se-Positions are recreation instructors, including team mation you can contact me building, horses, environat Rock Springs 4-H Cenmental education, rifles, ter, C/O Summer Jobs, trap, arctery, canoes, crafts 5405 West Highway K-157, and lifeguards. We also Junction City, KS 66441, have several positions in (785)257-3221, [farr@rockfood service, maintenance and custodial departments.
Internships are available for Internships are available for those who qualify. Rock Springs offers a monthly salary and room and board. Rock Springs is a nationally recognized camp and conference center serving ap-

Help Wanted

THE ROCK Springs 4-H proximately 27,000 youth and adults each year, most ty the financial potential of during the summer. Rock advertisements in the Em-Springs is located 14 miles south of Junction City, Kanniors or college students sas on K-157 Highway. For vised to approach any Positions are recreation in- an application or more infor- such business opportuni-

we kick

ads.

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville, for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in Kansas. For portfolio call (785)539-7479 or email kadean@kscable.com

Opportunities

ployment/Career classifisuch business opportuni-ty with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka,

KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

Items for Sale BOOK: Anthology of Chinese Literary Essays (Translated to English) ease visit http:// (i_chungwang.tripod.com.

Found something?

edzie 103

You can place an ad FREE for three days!

Electronic Equipment PLAYSTATION 2 with three games, two remotes. $250 or best offer. Call (785)537-

Supplies

$50 firm. (785)587-9693

ALBINO HEDGEHOG-Unique petl Easy and inex-pensive to care for. Cage

Automobiles

FOUR MALE Pitt-bull pup-Three black, white chest. One white/ black in brindle. $200. (785)341-1985 FORD LTD Crown Victoria. Power steering/ power windows, automatic, 192K, $750, AM/ FM, tilt, V-8. 7536. (785)323-0438, or

DjSwisher@dce.ksu.edu 1992 SATURN SL1, auto matic, four-door. New tires and CD player. 122K, good school/ work car. $1750 negotiable. Call (785)587-9840.

Automobiles 1999 RED Volkswagen Cabrio Leather, lots of ex-tras, excellent condition.

Please contact Alison at (785)313-4046. HONDAS FROM $500! Po-

(800)719-3001 ext.

Rec Report

www.recservices.ksu.edu

Recreational Services Office Located in Peters Recreation Complex

Rec Complex provides students with

Since spring is just around the corner, why not take your workout outside? The Rec not only offers facilities for indoor workouts, but outdoor workouts, too. Instead of playing racquetball, basketball and volleyball inside, play outside on the courts that are available. There are numerous opportunities for outdoor activities at the Rec. Located on the west side of the Rec Complex is a fitness cluster and running/ walking trail. Horseshoe pits, tennis courts, 3-wall handball/ racquetball courts, and a basketball court are located on the east side of the Rec Complex. Two sand volleyball courts are also available, along with lighted intramural playfields. The outdoor areas are available for open non-reserved use during non-Recreational Services' use times. Play is on a "first come, first serve" basis; however, reservations can be made in advance for the use of these areas. While some outdoor areas are lighted, some are not. The tennis courts, handball/racquetball and sand volleyball lights are on a self-timer and can be set by the participants free of charge. Lights on the playfields are for intramurals and special reservations only. Playfield use will be determined if the area is wet or if it is raining. If there are any doubts, signs are posted on the west and south sides of the fields concerning play status. Since spring is almost here, enjoy the warmer weather and take advantage of the outdoor workout areas at the Rec Complex. They are a great way to enjoy spring and a chance to get over the winter blues!

Who's Who at the Rec

Adam DuBois, a senior from Newton, Kansas, has been a Rec employee for a year and a half. DuBois, a finance/accounting major, holds the position of an Assistant Building Supervisor. Assistant Building Supervisors assist Building Supervisors in facility supervision and management. Some of the responsibilities of this position include: checking student ID's and membership cards for admittance, sports equipment checkout, injury treatment and policy enforcement. DuBios wanted to work at the Rec because he needed a part-time job. The atmosphere was also something that he enjoyed. " I was looking for a parttime job, and the atmosphere here is very appealing," said DuBois. " It is also a good opportunity to enhance my communication skills." DuBois likes the fact that the people who work here are friendly. " I picked this job because the people are friendly and fun to work with," said DuBois. "Plus I have gotten to meet new people." When DuBois comes to work, he knows that this is a place where he can relieve stress. He also knows that working here puts a smile on his face. Dubois plans to graduate in May 2003. He would like to work for one of the big five accounting firms. When asked what working at the Rec has taught him, DuBois replied, "I have learned to adapt to different personalities and how to resolve different situations."

My Favorite Workout

When Damian Mitchell, a senior from McPherson, Kansas, wants to get away from doing homework, he comes to the Rec. Mitchell is a Mechanical Engineering major and comes to the Rec to relieve stress. "I like to take a break from doing my homework in the evening," said Mitchell. "I am also on the Crew team, so I have to get up early in the morning to be at early morning practices. Therefore, I have to get everything done in the evening." Even though Mitchell is a busy student, he still finds time to work out with his friends at the Rec, and that is the time that they get to spend together. For Mitchell's workout, he lifts and plays basketball but the rowing machine is his favorite workout. "The rowing machine is definitely the quickest way to get in shape," said Mitchell. "I am trying to put on some weight, but this exercise makes me lose weight!" Mitchell's motivation to keep training is very clear; he wants to keep in shape for the Crew team. Mitchell has been coming to the Rec for two years now. He usually comes three times a week. When asked if he had any advice for other Rec goers, Mitchell replied, "Always wear deodorant!"

Pool Action

Cool Off With a Pool Workout

Although the warm weather hasn't arrived yet, the pools are still available for you to enjoy lap swimming and water aerobics classes. In March, a new water aerobics instructor,

Mandy Mertes, began offering Deep Water Jogging on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30-8:30 p.m. Mandy is from Conway Springs, KS and has taught water aerobics for 3 years. Stop by the Natatorium and try out Mandy's class or one of the other fun & challenging aqua aerobics sessions during the week. For more information, call Amanda at 532-6980 or call Rec Check at 532-6000 for schedules.

Nutrition Notes

Snacking for Good Nutrition

Did you know that 75% of men and women eat at least one snack a day? Snacking can be a nutritious addition to an eating plan or launch it into chaos. It's really what you choose and how much you eat that counts. Adding healthful snacks to your routine can help you control calories and overeating. Snacks help keep your body fueled so you feel energized and perform at your peak. Opt for carbohydrates such as bagels, popcorn, pretzels, baked tortilla chips & salsa. Fruits and vegetables provide a good source of energy and when consumed in small amounts don't add significant calories. Switch from 3 large meals to 6 smaller meals per day to keep your body fueled without increasing calories. If you haven't tried snacks to control overeating, start by shifting some of your current food choices to between meals. Having a plan makes snacking work.

American Dietetic Association

Working It Out

Spring Into Fitness Around the Rec!

Spring weather is on its way, which means it is time to get outside to exercise. Some great aerobic or "cardio" workouts to do near the Rec Complex are: walking or jogging around the fitness trail (next to the building) or along the outlying streets near the Rec and football complex, playing a few rounds of tennis or basketball on the outdoor courts, or even playing softball or soccer in the grassy fields. After finishing your cardio workout, you can stop in the Rec for your strength workout in the weight room or on the circuit machines. Don't forget to cool down by doing at least 10 minutes of slow, easy stretching! If you need more suggestions on a new, different, or more challenging exercise plan, stop in or call the Wellness Center (532-0456) to schedule an appointment

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament

The Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament will be held at Custer Hill Golf Course on Friday, Apr 26. Entries will be accepted in the Recreational Services business office through Monday, April 22. For further details, contact Steve at 532-6980.

ne Wellness Center (532-0456) to schedule an appointment with one of the trained Fitness Consultants. The Wellness Center staff has an abundance of information and knowledge in exercise programs & nutrition guidelines to help you achieve your fitness & wellness goals.

Amanda Durner Graduate Assistant in Fitness & Wellness

Outdoor Rental Center

The Outdoor Rental Center is open! Hours of operation are Sunday through Friday 4:00 - 6:00 p.m. and Saturday 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. We have a complete line of camping equipment including canoes, tents, sleeping bags, stoves, lanterns, back packs and ice chests. If you are planning a camping trip, please check with us for your equipment needs. Reservations may be made two weeks in advance. Make your plans now for a great spring camping trip!

Entry Policies:

 Facility users must be affiliated with KSU student faculty/staff or alumn student, faculty/staff or alumni association member.

 Cards are not sold to the general public.

 Call the Recreational Services office at 532-6980 for details.

Fitness Facts

Muscle Myths

Building muscle mass is a simple 2-step process. The first step is to work those muscles and the second is to provide the proper type of fuel. You may think protein is the best fuel, but that is a myth. Muscles work on calories, which should be predominately carbohydrates. The remainder of the calories is divided between fat and protein. Too much protein can result in nutrient imbalance, kidney strain, dehydration, and excess body weight. Protein is not stored for future use, so over consumption results in extra calories that are either burned or stored. A good eating plan and a workout that combines aerobics and anaerobic activity on a regular basis are the answer to building muscle mass.

American Dietetic Association

Words of Wellness

"The harder you work, the harder it is to surrender."

-Vince Lombardi

Wellness Resource Center

Fitness consultants offer many helpful services at the Wellness Resource Center in the Recreation Complex. These services include body fat testing, submax VO2 testing, strength & flexibility testing, blood pressure readings, nutritional assessments, goal setting and workout planning. Fitness consultants are available by appointment to assist you in developing a personalized exercise program. Let the Wellness Resource Center by your key to safe, enjoyable and effective exercise. For an appointment, call 532-0456.

Intramural Mania

11

14

20 22

April Dates

Event Home Run Derby Entry Deadline Home Run Derby Contest Entry Deadline for Track Meet and

4-on-4 Co-Rec Sand Volleyball
4-on-4 Co-Rec Sand Volleyball Tourney
Track Meet
Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament Entry Deadline

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament

7 pm assigned times

TBA 9 am assigned times

Location Recreational Services Office Intramural Play Fields Recreational Services Office

Sand Volleyball Courts RV Christian Track Recreational Services Office Custer Hill at Fort Riley

April 2002

Recreational Services Activity Calendar

	The state of the s	A HILL	p-1-14	H-ob	1.4	1000
	TO COURAN - MERCENTY FORMAN - PURMAN F 1950AM - PURMA F 250PM - MORPH EM Ratry Buglios Hanne Han Derby	2 RC 606AM - MEDRORY P BISSAM - T-RAM P 1:3AM - 230M P 1300M - 230M P 1300M - 1000PM	3 BC GOMBA - SECRETORY FARMAN - TORAN F 1:500A - 200A F 1:500A - 10:600A	AC ACRAM - MEDIGERY F A STRAM - PRANC F 11 STRAM - 200704 F 1 STRAM - 200704 F 1 STRAM - 200704 DM REETY DANSELLE HORSE END Durby, fidelying	SCHORAM - MEDICINIT P ORIGINA - TOMAN P 1139AM - 2 MPM P 1399M - CHIMPM	C rocks - seems to come to come - seems to come to come to come to come to come the total
7 P 1 SWPM - 1 SWPM P 7 SWPM - 1 SWPM P 7 SWPM - 10 SWPM	S nc commiss and recognity you maked - reported you maked - restrict you maked - restrict you maked - restrict house - restrict for the recognity for the restrict for the restr	9 R.C. GOMAN - METRICIPY 7 FEBRAS - TRANS 9 1-SHOPA - SERPA 9 T-SHOPA - RESPA 9 T-SHOPA - TO-SHOPA	10 Ar = 1824 - AREMICHT F GORAN - TOWNS F 11-MAN - 2548M F TOWNS - 2548M	DC STRAMA - MEDITIONET P - STRAMA - TRANSA P 1 STRAMA - TRANSA P 1 STRAMA - STRAMA DM Exactive Describing CR d-see - Strama - Valley-brail Transk Mises, 5:000 PM	12 RC BITTAN - MECHINET F ROLLIN - THINAM F TOWNS - CHOOPE F TOWNS - CHOOPE	13 RC BIRGAL - KINSEPIN P T GERMA - LONGEPINA
AC NOON-MEMBERST FORM-MOUNT FORM-MOUNT BE CR 4-m-4 fixed Valleyhold	7.5 AC 4-80A64 - MECHICIET P 6-80A64 - 7-90A6 F 11-90A6 - 2-90FM P 7-90FM - 10-90FM	16 SC SORGAL - MEDIOGRAF F SI MANA - EDIFFI F SISPIL - BUSPIN F SISPIL - BUSPIN F SISPIL - BUSPIN F SISPIL - BUSPIN	8C CORAN - MECHICATY F BIORAN - TOWNS F 11 JOHN - STAMPA F TOWNS - STAMPA	18 Inchesses - There is a second of the seco	19 RC 6-MANA - MICHELINT 9 0-MANA - 1-MANA 9 11-30-NA - 2-30PM 9 1-30PM - 2-30PM	20 BC FORAM - HORPA F I SOUTH - BOUTH IN Truck Most BY Christine Truck
21 SC HOUSE-MEDIFICATE P TORNEL-MINING P TORNEL-MINING	2.2 SC 0-8044 - MEDICARY P 8113044 - PERAL P 10-8044 - FEAR P 10-804 - Gooden Entry Beadline For FA Code, Control FSE, 5-96794	23 NC KINAM - MICHOLINY P ANNAM - TOWN P 1 1000M - 2000M P 1 1000M - 0000M P 1 1000M - 1000M	24 BC HIRAM - MERKEUTY F STRAMA - TIMAM F C STRAMA - JAMPA F T STRAMA - JAMPA F T STRAMA - JAMPA	2.5 SC ADRAGA - INCREDIST P ANNAMA - TOMAN P 1-109AM - S.OTMA P 3-109AM - S.OTMA P 3-109AM - S.OTMA	26 W. Balland - MERHODRIT PROPARE - VIDEAN P 1/19804 - SHERIN P 1/19804 - SHERIN F/S Gelf, Cuetor Billi	27 IIC 0 MARK - 10 MPM P 1 007% - 5 007% P 1 007% - 10 007%
28 ис мосил метикант у гория - конум у гория - конум	29 No - BRAM - MICHERT P - BRAM - STRAM 7 11 JUAN - 20094 9 7 North - Junella	30 N.C. ORIGAN - MEDINGUEST P. BERGAN - 2789AM P. SERVING - GENERAL P. 72009AL - GENERAL P. 72009AL - 10009AL	 Pool use on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 5:00 PM - 8:00 PM, is shared with the Department of Kineslology. Participation is restricted to adult, fitness swimming and water logging only.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN Volume 106, Number 123 www.kstatecollegian.com

April 2, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan

Club instructs

tomado WARNINGS

Funnel clouds and ternadees appear with little to no warning and can be produced by any variety of theoderaterm. This funnel cloud appeared in a span of two minutes in north-wastern Barton County last April.

Students need to prepare for severe weather

BY JESSICA PITTS Kansas State Collegian

ary Knapp could have been a statistic. Knapp, state climatologist at K-State, was driving through Nebraska when she noticed storm systems in the area.

"The visibility was extremely low," she said. "I noticed before there was a tornado watch for the area, so I started listening to the radio and watching for road signs telling me which county I was in."

Resisting the tendency to pop in a CD because of the lack of radio stations in the open country, Knapp was closely monitoring the radio when she heard a tornado warning alert.

"They said it was sighted on the ground," she said. "Then they said the county - the one I was Knapp pulled into an old hotel's parking lot. She said the hotel looked like it wasn't operational, but luckily, it has a storm cellar with the door unlocked.

"I wasn't the only one that pulled over," she said. "A few others, thankfully, had followed the same warning.'

Knapp and the others waited for about 30 minutes until they had indication the storm had

"When I started driving again, two miles down the road I saw evidence of where the tornado had passed," she said. "The area was not heavily populated, but if I would have drove into it, I would have been the statistic."

Knapp says foresight is one of the keys to keeping safe during tornado season.

Two big things to prepare are how to receive the warning and to have a plan in place," she said. "It can literally save your life."

Knapp said it is never too soon to prepare since several tornadoes occur in the early part of March.

"We are definitely in the season now," she said,

Tornado tips:

e tomado-safe room stocked with supplies Get under steady furniture that can block flying

Avoid sitting under large roof expanses.

If driving, pull over and take shelter in a ditch.

"March, April, May and June are the strong months, and then there is a secondary peak in fall.'

The first step residents can take to prepare is knowing what Manhattan uses for warnings, Knapp

"If you are new to town, the method that you used in the past may not work," she said. "Each town has a system, and the resident should be responsible for staying alert."

Riley County heavily relies on the residents to watch for severe weather, said Pat Collins. emergency management director for Riley County

Emergency Management. "We count on people to watch the weather and begin to watch local radio and TV stations," Collins said. "However, if we do receive a watch or a warning from the National Weather Service, we start the process of distributing the information."

See TWISTERS ON PAGE 3

Attorneys select jury for trial of 18-year-old

BY SARAH BAHARI

Kansas State Collegion

The trial of an 18-year-old Manhattan man accused of killing a Fort Riley soldier began Monday.

ALEXANDER

Attorneys quizzed 58 potential jurors in the first-degree murder trial of Skylor Cole Alexander, narrowing the pool to 12. Judge Meryl Wilson, prosecutors Valerie Peterson and Brenda Jordan, and defense attorney Pedro Luis Irigonegaray asked questions ranging from the jurors' beliefs of innocent until proven guilty and their ideas of law and order. Attorneys also asked if they had already made judgments on the case.

The case is expected to last the entire

Alexander was 17 when he was accused of fatally stabbing Pfc. Randall Lindsey, 21, in Aggieville on June 30. However, he is being tried as an adult.

A preliminary trial indicated that Alexander had exchanged words several times that evening with one of Lindsey's friends. A physical confrontation resulted, which led to the stabbing.

Alexander has been in police custody since the incident.

Summer gas prices high; no end near

BY PETE ELSASSER

Kannas State Collegian

What goes up, must come down except when dealing with gas prices heading into summer.

Chris Darrah, owner of Dara's Fast Lane, said the price of gas at his Manhattan stores has gone up 16 cents from March 9 to March 26.

"Right now, there isn't a good reason for the big price jumps," he said. "The prices always go up around spring break and before the summer, but they don't look like they will be going down soon."

Darrah said the conflict in the Middle East might be having an effect on the prices. He said the price of a gallon of gas goes up any time the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries cuts production or increases the cost of a barrel of oil.

"Normally we try to make a dime per gallon of gas," Darrah said. "But we're taking a hit right now because the prices hurt us too.

Darrah said they have had to increase

See GAS on PAGE 3

Committee votes unanimously to certify SGA election results

BY TARA PATTY

Nanous State Collegian

The Elections Committee unanimously certified 2002 Student Governing Association Presidential and Vicepresidential election results Monday night.

The results, naming Zac Cook and Todd Kohman winners of the second SGA election, gave the pair 1,837 votes compared to 1,740 votes garnered by their opponents, Matt Wolters and Mandy Achilles.

Ted Conrad, elections chair, said he was very pleased with the voter turn-out in the election; 3,577 total students voted. The committee then discussed the post-election view, which is a written report submitted annually by the outgoing elections committee.

"It's a complete analysis of the election, including recommendations to improve or otherwise simplify future elections," Conrad said.

Conrad will present the report to the operations committee at a meeting today to discuss possible changes to the elections code. Changes will likely not be made until next year under the new senate, he said. The committee seemed hopeful that if the Department of Continuing Education took control of elections next year, several of the problems incurred by this year's election will be alleviated. Additional areas of the elections regulations were discussed by the committee to add to the ease of the election process for next year's committee.

Conrad said the committee should consider recommending that an elections commissioner be appointed in future years with a supporting board rather than the current set-up.

He said a commissioner would be able to handle complaints faster and more effectively as an individual rather than having to convene an entire committee to settle minor infractions of the elections code.

Hearings or appeals would be brought before the board, he said. "The committee makes things slow and bureaucratic," Conrad said. He said a commissioner would be more efficient, especially if the Department of Continuing Education controls the elections because the set-up would be more straightforward. The commissioner would mainly deal with scheduling meetings with candidates, getting out elections packets and dealing with complaints, he said.

Other issues also were highlighted by the elections committee. Ryan Evans, member of the elections committee, proposed that rules prohibiting mass emails to students be lifted due to difficulty in monitoring such activity and the nature of the Internet in general. "It's impossible to control stuff that goes on," Evans said.

The committee also addressed regulations regarding the removal of campaign materials within 24 hours of the conclusion of elections. Committee members voiced concerns with being able to enforce the rule more effec-Write-ins also made the committee's agenda. Conrad suggested the number of allowable write-ins for each position in the election be limited to one. He also suggested names on the ballot be listed alphabetically by last name.

Cook accepting applications for cabinet positions

BY SARAH RICE Kansas State Collegian

Now that the student body president and vice president have been elected, Zac Cook and Todd Kohman are accepting applications for cabinet appointments. Applications are due April 12 in the Office of Student Activities and Services for the six constitutionally-mandated positions, along with any positions Cook decides to create. Anybody that has a special interest in what one of the positions does can apply, Cook

"We didn't slate anyone when we campaigned," he said. "Everyone is encouraged to apply."

Sas CABINET on PAGE 9

The K-State faculty wind quartet, Konza Prairie Chamber Players, will perform at 7:30 tonight in All Faiths Chapel Auditorium.

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

Today On the

Professional women gathered to share their wisdom with young women interested in political participation, Read more about it on the eCollegian www.kstatecollegian.com.

LOCAL IN BRIEF

President of local radio stations dies of cancer

Daryl Gatza, president and general manager of KJCK-AM 1420, KJCK-FM 94.5 and KOLA-FM 103.5, lost his fight to cancer Saturday. He was 54.

Gatza, a Junction City native. started working with the stations in 1973 and became the general manager

Mark Ediger, operations director of Platinum Broadcasting, said the staff is deeply saddened by the death of Gatza, but they are trying to go about business as they know it.

"We are going to try to continue to put the best radio stations we can on the air." Ediger said. "Daryl wouldn't want us sitting around mourning his death. He'd want us to continue to do our jobs."

Ediger said since Gatza had been sick for several months, the staff had been very professional in knowing their jobs and responsibilities without Gatza being there. He said this professional attitude would continue after Gatza's death.

A memorial service for Gatza will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the First Presbyterian Church in Junction City. Graveside services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at St. John's Cemetery, also in Junction City.

ISTATE IN BRIEF

Budget cuts might cause greater nurse shortages

LAWRENCE - Filling nursing vacancies could become more difficult if state universities trim nursing program faculty because of budget cutbacks.

More than 12 percent of the state's nursing jobs are vacant, slightly higher than the average national rate of 11 percent, according to the Kansas Hospital Association.

Nurses are in such demand that the Kansas Board of Regents offers scholarships that pay most of a prospective nurse's education.

But the tight budget could reduce the number of students accepted each year at the University of Kansas and Wichita State University, two of the state's three largest nursing

NATION IN BRIEF

Car bomb rocks Jerusalem, kills bomber, injures police

JERUSALEM - A car bomb rocked west Jerusalem near the Old City Monday night, killing the attacker and critically wounding a policeman who went to check the car, police said.

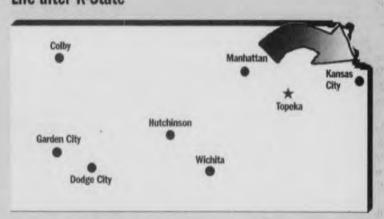

The Al Aqsa Martyrs Brigades, a Palestinian group linked to Yasser Arafat's Fatah movement, claimed responsibility.

The blast - the sixth bombing in six days - blew off the roof of the white four-door car, leaving a twisted hulk of metal in the road, which was not crowded at the time of the explosion.

Legislature developments

- The House again rejected efforts to give local school boards greater authority and provide more state aid to districts with declining enrollments.
- Senators continued to build support for the latest map redrawing the chamber's 40 districts, with debate scheduled for Tuesday.
- The House rejected an amendment that would have increased the state's minimum wage.
- Monday was the 78th calendar day of the 2002 session, out of 90 scheduled.

Life after K-State

Basketball player alumnus moves, still attends games

BY ERIKA NELSON

ark Dobbins is the senior vice president in sales and national sales manager for Cereal Food Processors in Kansas City, Kan.

Dobbins graduated in . 1989, majoring in business with a degree in marketing. After he gradauted from K-State, his wife received a job in Kansas City. He decided to go with her and settled in Kansas City where he began working as a trainee, gradually moving up to being in charge of sales

While Dobbins was a student at K-State, he was a member of the K-State basketball team all four years.

Dobbins played under Coach Jack Hartman for one year and Coach Lon Kruger for three years.

Dobbins said he and his family are still big K-State fans and go to K-State football and basketball games on a regular basis.

"We usually attend three to four basketball games," he said.

"If we miss a football game, it's Dobbins said the different thing about K-State is the work ethic that goes along with good Midwestern

"It is very loyal, and it should be cherished," he said.

Dobbins also said K-State students shouldn't underestimate the value of being a K-Stater.

"It means a lot to me," Dobbins said.

"The K-State family is unique, and if you're not from K-State, then you won't understand."

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Hems might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

two days before it is to run.

Lutheran Campus Ministry - ECLA will meet at 6 tonight at the Luther House for supper and Bible study. Career and Employment Services will conduct a panel regarding federal government Jobs at 3:30 p.m. today in Union 212.

III Pre-Occupational Therapy Club will meet at 6 tonight in Union 202. Habitat for Humanity will meet today in the Union Big 12 Room. ■ Career and Employment Services will have a panel of experts from the IRS, ATF, USDA and EPA to discuss tips on getting jobs with the federal government from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Wednesday in Union 212. Society of Women Engineers will have officer elections at 6:30 tonight in Durland 127.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Friday, March 29

M At 9:02 a.m., Aungoli Marr, 1530 Fair Lane, was arrested for driving on a suspended/canceled license. Bond was set at $1,500. ■ At 11:55 a.m., Jovane Deans, 412 S. 10th, Apt. 1, was arrested for driving on a suspended/canceled license. Bond was set at $760. At 4:08 p.m., Ralph Walters, Junction City, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000.

M At 4:51 p.m., Karmen Bonnette, 2840 Edwards, was arrested for endangering a child and DUI. No bond was set.

At 8:17 p.m., Desie Chatfield, 1031 Colorado St., was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at

M At 8:45 p.m., Damell Dell, 3209 Anderson, was arrested for two counts possession of simulated controlled substance or paraphernalia, two counts unlawful possession of substances and taxation of marijuana and controlled substances. No bond was set

At 10:50 p.m., Schwanda Anderson, 2058 Tecumseh Road, was arrested for battery and criminal damage to property. Bond was set at $1,000

At 11:45 p.m., Adam Mertz, 3800 Boston, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

Saturday, March 30

At 1:53 a.m. Joshua Rathbun. 3108 Claffin Road, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $1,500. M At 2 a.m., Dallas Anthony, 1871 Anderson, was arrested for reckless driving, DUI and fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer. No bond was

At 2:57 a.m., Derek Pfizenmaler, Randolph, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $3,000 At 10:45 a.m., Lucero Dorado. Arkansas, was arrested for theft. No

M At 11:46 a.m., Theresa Wilson, Junction City, was arrested for DUI.

m At 2:51 p.m., Osvaldo Perez, Fort. Riley, was arrested for obstruction of the legal process, disorderly conduct and purchase of alcohol. M At 3:15 p.m., Damon Smith, 1362

Bond was set at $500.

Flinthills, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $10,000. At 10:22 p.m., Peter Edmunds, 360 Zeandale Road, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $750.

DUI. Bond was set at $750.

Sunday, March 31 M At 1 p.m., John Romig, 2011 Seaton, was arrested for obstruction of the legal process. Bond was set at At 2 p.m., Derek Richards, 1001 Sunset Ave., Apt. 310, was arrested for

At 2:30 p.m., Justin Hyde, St. George, was arrested for two counts of aggravated assault and two counts of battery against a law enforcement officer. No bond was set. ## At 6:30 a.m., Anthony Felix, 915 Moro St., was arrested for two counts failure to appear, Bond was set at $3,000.

m At 3:40 p.m., Jason Stewart, Bonner Springs, was arrested for license. Bond was set at $500. At 1:19 p.m., Wilfred Hommertzheim, 2744 S.W. Villa West Drive, Apt. 48, was arrested for DUI and transportation of an open container. Bond was set at $750. M At 2:35 p.m., Kelly Luthi, 1125 Vattier, was arrested for contributing to a child's misconduct. No bond was

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts

April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

BY PRONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

DOBBINS

Paul Restivo

Nicole Donnert

JJ Duncan

Dan Smith

Amber Koehn

Katie Lane

Projects Editor Micah Hawkinson eCollegian Editor

Nancy Hull

Jodi Fagerquist

Alissa Duncan Asst. Ad

532-6556

532-6560

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103

Manhattan, KS 66506 ABOUT US

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN inversity, is published by Sindent Publications Dic., Keskie 181, Manhattan, Kan. 80596. The Collegian is published. the aucurer. Perushcai postage is paid at Mashartas. Kan

Kedzie 101, Mashattan, Kan. 06500-7167 © Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints 532-6304

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ame day results Call for appointment

39-3338

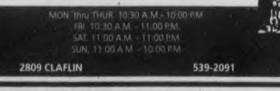

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villa Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

"Where good friends get together since 1969"

TUESDAY SPECIALS

3 Tacos - 1.55 Chili Burrito - $2.75

Having trouble getting your class

Dropped a class?

schedule to work?

Need to add a class?

Barton County Community College offers online college courses.

We offer both 8-week and 16-week sessions. General education courses transfer to Kansas Regents schools.

Find our schedule online! www.bartonline.org

Season for Monviolence

#62 COMMITMENT

Spend five minutes reflecting on your commitment to of your commitment to it. Make your commitment public by sharing it with at

Write down what it means to you and what you are willing to do as a consequence

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 - April 4, 2002

Sponsored by Agricultural Student Council and College of Agriculture and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

Back from Break!

If you join SHAPE, you will: . Have a chance to attend the national peer education conference in ORLANDO, FL Become an American Red Cross Certified HIV/AIDS Instructor

. Earn 3 KSU credit hours (use credit as leadership minor or elective)

Have a BLAST!!!!!

Sponsored by Lafene Health Center Need more info? Call 532-6595 or email shape@ksu.edu

Hope your Spring Break was great!

Now it's time to start thinking about getting in SHAPE!

Don't go to the gym, go to Lafene, room #3 to get your application or print it online at http://www.ksu.edu/lafene/shapeapp.htm

> Sexual Health Awareness Peer Educators

Applications due April 5th

Discussion continues on traffic proposals

BY MICHAEL WATSON

Kansan State Collegian

The discussion about traffic problems at Tuttle Creek Boulevard and Bluemont Avenue continues at 7 tonight at City Hall.

Traffic delays created by the traffic signal at Bluemont and Third Street remain the limiting factor in how well the area functions until improvements are made.

"We will discuss 10 options to improve the area, but there are probably just two that Public Works think are viable, considering traffic and economics," City Engineer Scott Crain said.

The two most viable options are the median project tabled by city commissioners Feb. 19 and the roundabout project proposed by Third Street businesses and HWS Consulting.

widens Bluemont just east of Fifth

■ Continued from page 1

prices to $1.35 a gallon, and they still are not making their profit.

"It's tough for everyone

buy less," he said. "We try to because customers notice it and compensate with prices inside the Patrick Crough, a clerk at the Kwik Shop at 1337 Anderson Ave.,

10 cents the week before spring said the prices at his store jumped

He said prices are dictated by

"We're supposed to match the the company's regional headquar-price of our competition with 6 or 7 blocks and stay 4 or 5 cents above cost," Crough said. "Our supply has decreased, so we have to charge more just for the same ical science, said she thought the

"The prices have gone up so

Kansas State Collegian.

creative and enthusiastic.

increase in gas prices has been

Katie Bartko, freshman in politcost is up right now, and the ters in Hutchinson.

profit.

outrageous.

GAS

Street to five lanes wide. Nearing the intersection of Third and Bluemont, Bluemont widens to include two through-lanes each direction, plus turn lanes.

The proposal also calls for a median to be constructed on Bluemont, Concern is raised from local business owners about the median cutting off access to Third Street businesses.

When commissioners met in February, Brad Everett said he did not want to cause access problems, but said the median proposal would be the intersection of the future.

Crain said not much has changed structurally from the original proposal, but it goes in depth to answer questions requested by city commissioners.

The revamped proposal includes intersections that need a wider turn radius to handle truck traffic and addresses increased traffic flow on residential streets, like Fourth and much that I don't even use the

She said her Pontiac Sunfire

burns gas quickly, and the price

Vattier streets.

There is no need for widening Bluemont with the $700,000 roundabout project, Crain said. The proposal is for two roundabouts to be built - one at Third and Bluemont, and one at Tuttle Creek and Bluemont.

"We haven't seen a final detailed analysis to stand up and support the roundabouts," Crain said.

"We think it's there, but we need numbers."

He said costs of the projects are hard to compare side-to-side. There is no doubt that the roundabouts would be cheaper, but the difference is not $2.5 million to $700,000, because there would be additional modifications to the roundabouts in the future

He said the roundabouts are still more attractive when looking at dollar figures, costing half as much as widening Bluemont and

In his report to city commissioners, Crain said city administrators had only 24 hours to review the double-roundabout proposal. He said commissioners might need more time.

If the double roundabout is seen as a viable option, the commission probably will table the issue again to allow for more information.

When commissioners met in February, the debate lasted three and a half hours.

Mayor Bruce Snead said he does not know how much discussion this will take or if it will be resolved tonight.

He said he would be looking very closely at the roundabout proposal. Although the city has not had much time to look over the proposal, it has been identified as a good option.

"I expect there to be spats about viability of the options, but we will hear all the options and go from there," Snead said.

"Having that plan in place — planning now on where you will seek shelter - can save lives," she know where they can go to get out

Collins said even though Riley of the high buildings. They need

County does not have a strong there are sightings every year.

seriously," he said. "Being prepared is essential."

history of devastating tornadoes,

"This is something to take alternative shelter lined up.

said. "Especially in a dorm or an apartment. Residents need to

2 students named Goldwater scholars

BY LINDSAY FETTERMAN Kansas State Collegio

Two K-State students were awarded the Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship.

Julie Stilson, senior in computer science, and Mark Norfleet, junior in mathematics, were awarded the $7,500 scholarship March 30.

The scholarship is for science, math or engineering majors who will pursue a doctoral degree and intend to go into a career in academia or research, scholarship adviser Jim Hohenbary said. This year there were 1,155 students competing for the scholarship, with 309 students winning the award.

STILSON

NORFLEET

Stilson was one of four computer science majors to win the award. When she heard the results, she said she was surprised, but excited.

"It makes all the research that I've done in the past and all the work seem like it's been worthwhile," she

"It's just a good feeling." She said she hopes the award will help her when applying to graduate schools.

Norfleet said he was very happy to learn he received the award. He feels it will benefit him in the future.

"Winning the scholarship is good for the doors it opens in the future," Norfleet said. "It is a great way for graduate schools to get word of your Norfleet also was very appreciative of the math department in regards to this award.

"It truly reflects how well the KSU math faculty supports undergraduates," Norfleet said. "I can't say enough of the math department's support and encouragement."

Norfleet was one of 24 mathematics majors to win this award. This summer he plans to publish results of his ongoing research project on the strong divisibility of polynomials. In the future, Norfleet plans to pursue his doctoral degree, do research and become a college professor.

Hohenbary said it was good to see the students recognized for all their accomplishments. He said it shows that K-State is a strong place for undergraduate research.

"It indicates that our top students in math, science and engineering rank on the same level as other math, science and engineering students at any school in the country," Hohenbary said.

K-State now ranks third among all universities with 45 total Goldwater winners, just behind Princeton with 47 and Harvard with 46.

The $2.5-million median project constructing a median.

gas.

middle octane gas anymore," she said. "I've switched to the cheap

"I can't imagine having a SUV," she said. "If I had one of those, it would sit in the parking lot and look pretty."

Darrah said the price increases also are part of the supply and demand factors of a college town. He said it's important to look at when students are traveling.

"Prices always go up around spring break and stay up throughout the summer," he said. "I would not anticipate seeing prices fall until October and the end of football season.

Darrah said customers know about the increases from numerous reports in the news.

"We know that customers check the price of gas, and we hate losing customers because of it," he said.

"But mostly they're reacting in terms of 'it happens.' I want people to know that we don't like this either."

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5 If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

COLLEGIAN NEWS STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002

Managing Editors

News Editors* Desk Editors

Reporters * Copy Editors

Designers

Photojournalists

Graphic Journalists

Graphic Artists

Online Journalists

Summer staff applications due March 29

Fall staff applications due April 19

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

ROYAL PURPLE STAFF POSITIONS

Assistant Editor

CD-ROM Editor • Design Editor

Copy Editor • Staff Writers

Photojournalist * Marketing Director

Section Editors

. Student Life

Academics

* Sports

· People

Applications due March 29

* Organizations

Knapp said having a set plan of TWISTERS where to seek shelter before the Continued from page 1 warnings occur is important because of short notices

Riley County Police Department and local media outlets are the first to receive the information from Riley County Emergency Management From there, school districts, nursing homes and hospitals are notified of the weather conditions, Collins

"If we do receive a warning, we will typically use the cable TV override and siren system to get the information out to a vast amount of people quickly," Collins said, "but that would take a weather spotter sighting, dopple image confirmation or information from National Weather Services."

However, Collins said residents should not count on hearing warnings inside.

"They are an outlet for outdoor warning only," he said. "People also need to prepare before the sirens are sounded. They need to keep their eye to the sky and be ready to implement a plan." Order your yearbook. Today.

FAST $CASH$ EARN $50 THIS WEEK!

Donate your life-saving blood plasma and help people in your community. Call or stop by: ZLB Plasma Services formerly Nabi Biomedical Center 1130 Gardenway

785-776-9177 No appointment needed. Fees & donation time may vary. www.zlb.com

Manhattan Christian College

Pre-enroll for Fall Classes $125 per credit hour

·Survey New Test. Lit.

·Survey Old Test. Lit. I

·History Amer. Rest. Movement

•LEADERSHIP

Public Speaking

•Intro. to Philosophical Problem

•General Psychology

•General Sociology

Cultural Anthropology

Western Civilization

•Trends in U.S. Families •College Algebra

 These courses transfer to KSU (Night Classes Available) For enrollment information call the Admissions Office at 539-3571 1415 Anderson Ave. For more information visit us @ www.mccks.edu

For info about summer classes contact the Registrar's office. Pre-enrollment starts April 15th

702 N. 11th Street . Aggieville

FAST FREE DELIVERY! HOURS: (2) (2) (2)

11a.m. - 2a.m. •Mon. - Wed. • 1a.m. - 2:30a.m

*Thurs. - Sat. * 1a.m. - 3:30a.m.

MONPAY MANIA

14" Cheese Pizza

only $3.99

Carry Out or Dine-In Only

Toppings Extra

Mondays Only

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99

Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.991

Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99

Valid Sunday-Wednesday

11a.m.-11p.m. only

PICK UP SPECIAL: Medium 12" 1 Topping Pizza Large 14" 2 Topping Pizza X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza

14" Large Pokey Stix $6.99 6 Pepperoni Rolls $6.99

Valid Carry Out Only

$5.99

$6.99

$7.99

ADVERTISING STAFF POSITIONS

Summer 2002 and Fall 2002 Assistant Advertising Managers Senior Account Representatives Account Representatives Summer staff applications due March 29 Fall staff applications due April 19

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

STIX IT TO ME TUESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILDCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIO ASS

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza only $11.99

Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

Opinion Editor: Amber Koehn 532-0732 | letters@spub.ksu.edu

Spring signals onset of storm season; students must be prepared

▶ OUR VOICE and debated by the editorial board and written after a majority opinion is formed. OUR VOICE is the Collegian's official

April Middleton Nancy Foster Dana Strongin Alyson Raletz Nancy Hull Amber Koehn Dan Smith Paul Restivo Katle Lane JJ Duncan Zach Long Nicole Donnert Micah Hawkinson

Jessica Pitts

Spring officially has begun, but don't let the sunshine deceive you - tornadoseason has begun.

March typically marks the beginning of a four-month peak in tornado activity in the Midwest, according to Mary Knapp, state climatologist at K-State. It's important that we are prepared for these dangerous and potentially fatal storms.

Thousands of K-Staters rent apartments or homes each year. The responsibilities of housekeeping and contractual agreements are often the focus, when safety issues like threatening weather are still imminent.

Too many landlords do not bother to inform tenants about tornado safety precautions. Renterd should find out where to go during watches and warnings.

Not only do we need to know the rules, we need to follow them as well. Too often people decide to watch or ignore storms. Making assumptions about your own safety is no way to live.

Although I might have held different

Why? Because we understood that one spiritual and political beliefs from these belief system does not work perfectly for

As opposed to popular thinking, I embraced the idea that you do not need to find a "correct" faith to find enlighten-to claim so is both arrogant and narrow-

I must stress, however, that I have

There is no absolute right answer, and people, we mutually respected each other's opinions.

everybody.

For example, a tornado hit Hoisington on April 21, 2001, according to the National Weather Service Web site, www.spc.noaa.gov. Large sections of the city were leveled, but only one man died. That man was observing the twister from his porch instead of waiting in shelter.

The best way to ensure storm survival is to find out what measures you can take. The next is taking them. Be prepared and ready to keep tornadoes from taking you by surprise this spring.

salvation is through conformity.

newsroom in Kedzie Hall.

my words.

But, this time I'm going to do it on my Applications for membership into The Mook can be obtained from the Collegian

Feel free to grab one out of my box.

I encourage you to sign up for a lifechanging experience. After all, even if you believe I am wrong, you should still heed

You know, just in case I'm right.

lared is a sophomore in political science.

Cult conformity

Columnist creates cult, questions values, opinions

I have decided to start a cult. It is called the Mookie Blaylock Ornamental Figurine Society, or "The Mook" for short.

I know what you're thinking: "But Jared, the last cult I joined forced me to relinquish all material possessions to the supreme leader and practice only his beliefs. And the food

My cult is not about secrets, so I will admit to you that as the supreme leader I will obtain possession of all your worldly goods.

As an initiated member of the cult, you also will be obliged to consider my words sacred

Each member of The Mook is required to wear the same style of clothing. Traditional garb consists of bright orange flowing robes, plastic shower sandals and beanie hats complete with a mechanical

No underwear is allowed. Our main purpose is to rid the world of

Accepting the abusive relationship mankind has traditionally had with our green enemies, we travel the nation spreading the positive message of concrete,

We usually preach on street corners adjacent to college campuses.

This provides us with an exceptional opportunity to reach out to lonely youth yet to discover the infinite wisdom of my words

It is a very good idea to join my cult, because if you don't, evil things will happen to you when you die.

Your eyes will be gouged out and replaced with Gobstoppers. But these Gobstoppers will not be everlasting, and they will melt, and you will have holes where your eyes used to be

Every Saturday night we have a bonfire. We sing show tunes from the late '20s and make s'mores.

Oh, and don't worry, a well-balanced meal plan is included with membership.

There are currently four members in my cult, including myself.

My friends Trevor, Casey and Zach signed up the other day, and they are reasonably pleased with enlightenment. After hearing all this, I'm sure you are > wondering about my motivation for creating The Mook. An admitted liberal nut, I have always prided myself on tolerating the world views and beliefs of every person. After all, who am I to judge any man or woman's belief system without fully knowing their life experiences and tribu-

I used to believe the meaning of life is to be happy, plain and simple.

Parking service attendants deserve students' respect

The week before spring break, I pulled my car to the front of my residence hall to begin the exciting process of taking home two and a half months of dirty underwear.

As usual, the metered spots were filled with cars whose owners put in their $50 worth of quarters. And, as I parked in an illegal spot, I went through the same thinking process we all go through some time at K-State

I said to myself, "Peter, what are the chances the parking Nazis will get you? You'll only be here for 20

Lo and behold, as I was bringing out my last shipment of Power-Rangers® underwear, the parking Nazis invaded my parking lot at division strength.

My car was sitting there, yellow ticket in wiper, an effect of my own naivete. Seeing the Nazi captain 10 meters away, I began the ancient Shinto technique of persuasion: whining like a 12-year-old girl.

The enemy officer approached me and said, "Oh, you are going home. Here, let me take that [ticket]. I know how difficult it is to load your car when you live in the dorms."

Of course, I passed out from disbelief. But during my cement-induced nap, I had a dream. I envisioned the clouds parting in the sky and a light beam shining upon me and my faded Cutlass.

Then God spoke.

God: Spare this one, my servant, for look upon his face. Has he not suffered enough? Also, be cool, stay in school. Peace out. Peter: Thank you, God, that's a great God: Of course it is. I'm God, you idiot. It was then I realized that parking Nazis

view

Peter Morris

are people, too, with souls, mothers who love them and really gay vests. I learned they are simple pawns in this game of good versus evil, and we should not hold them personally responsible for our own misjudgments.

> Parking Services deserves the respect of other human beings, and the term "Parking Nazis" is unjust. The systematic killing of six million Jews and giving $15 fines for offenses you know you committed aren't exactly in the same moral ballpark, or even the same moral area code. So, ladies and gentlemen, brothers and sisters, let's have a little respect for history and come up with something more appropriate for both casualties of the Third Reich and men and women who constitute K-State Parking Service

Let's try something tactful like "meter maids," "KSU Parking Services (K-SUPS),"

"parking po-po's," or "the nice people in the gay vests."

Peter is a sophomore in open-option. You can e-mail him at pdm5999@ksu.edu.

Line art by Bingrong He/Collegian

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Renting a big-screen TV from Color Time: $90. Invitations for Final Four party: $20. Chips, pop, pizza: $45. Watching two Big 12 teams get booted out of the Final Four: priceless.

Not one, not two, but three key KU players called timeout when they didn't have any. Yeah. KU, that championship is right around the corner.

2002: the year of the Terrapin.

Warning: these grapes are for ammunition purposes only.

The reason I broke up with my boyfriend is not because he's too nice of a guy, it's because he has no personality.

Deal with it, sucker.

My mom laughed when she saw Zac Cook's first order of business.

Paul White, normally I defend your commentaries, but today's comes off as: one, senseless mudslinging of the wellrespected; and two, the impotent rantings of a conspiracy theorist.

1 can't believe you idiots gave "Blade II" four stars.

Cute shirt to go out in: $32. Drinks at the bars: $12. Seeing a drunk idiot steal a stop sign out of the middle of Aggieville: priceless.

Yeah, um, my roommate's a pretty big whiner. What kind of position can he get at K-State?

Ah, the best news of the year: football season began last night.

I fear for the future of this country when dogmatic liberals like Mr. Paul White may obtain respectable degrees and give their one-sided viewpoints the illusion of credi-

I don't know who I hate worse: Terry Bradshaw or Alf. They're both dumb.

Like March winds and melting snow, a sure sign of spring is coach Roy Williams' new speech explaining why the Kansas Jayhawks got knocked out of the NCAA Tournament.

Does it bother anybody else the political science department is turning out people like Paul White, or is it just me?

No Easter next year, boys. I killed the rabbit.

There's no reason to say, "I have a question," before you ask it.

ONLINE

Not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See the complete version at www.kstatecollegian.com.

READERS WRITE

Faculty, students responsible for making honor code clear

Editor,

I'd like to commend Brooklyn Lippelmann for her excellent honor system editorial in Friday's Collegian regarding the distinction between authorized and unauthorized aid on academic work.

The reality is the distinction needs to be made clear by faculty in each class. The further reality is when faculty do not make that distinction clear, students should ask for sufficient clarification. Since human communication is often an inexact and ambiguous exercise, it is important that syllabi and assignments articulate those distinctions, and faculty verbally emphasize those requirements.

Faculty have academic freedom to teach = their classes as they see fit. There is no universal standard for what is authorized aid and what is not; that standard varies from faculty to faculty and discipline to discipline. Faculty need to understand that reality and make those requirements clear: students need to ask for clarification when it is not clear.

> - Phil Anderson Honor System director

Behind the Masque

ABOVE: The Purple Mask Theatre provides a variety of plays and performances throughout the year. The theater is hidden beneath the east side of Memorial Stadium on the K-State campus.

LEFT: David Riffel, sophomore in interior architecture works, studies the light cues for the play during rehearsal at the Purple Masque Theatre on Monday. photos by Drew Rose/Collegian

Student directors, actors use theater for original productions

BY RYAN DONAHUE Maines State Colley

Housed in what used to be a dormitory kitchen, and supposedly haunted by a deceased football player named Nick, the Purple Masque Theatre is one of K-State's hidden treasures.

Built as a secondary black box stage for the Department of Speech Communication, Theatre and Dance, the Purple Masque has become an outlet for original scripts and directorial debuts.

"The Masque is the student theater on campus. All of our student directors use it, as well as our student actors and designers. It has become a very interesting place, with a lot of character," Lewis

> Shelton, associate professor of theater, said. Shelton described a black box theater as a free space that can be rearranged for every production. The Purple Masque is set up as a theater in the round, with audience members on all sides of the small stage.

feature on the Cats' "You can literally Pause Lounge. reach out and touch an audience member. It is very intimate and small." Garrett Gottschalk, senior in theater, said. Student productions like Gottschalk's make up the majority of performances at the Purple Masque, but the theater once served the entire department.

On Jan. 15, 1965, K-State lost the historic auditorium to an accidental fire. McCain Auditorium now sits on the original site of the auditorium. The K-State theater department fell back on the Purple Masque as one of their main stages during the transition time between the auditorium fire and the completion of McCain.

He said 1974 improvements to the theater came with some criticism from the students who liked the dank and dirty atmosphere.

"I don't think that we will ever put a large amount of money into it, but as long as it is kept clean and used properly, it will last," Shelton

During the spring semester the theater is booked solid, Shelton said. Student-run productions, lunchbag theaters and department classes keep the space occupied.

"The Purple Masque is doing very well. Sometimes on Saturday nights we have to turn people away. People will even complain that they cannot get in there to use it," Shelton

Even with its success, the Purple Masque has some special secret aspects that Gottschalk said make the Purple Masque worth keeping.

Gottschalk said walking into the Purple Masque Theatre feels like walking into trouble. Nick the ghost allegedly has been haunting the Purple Masque since the early days of the university.

Shelton said legend holds a young football player was hurt while playing at Memorial Stadium.

The boy apparently died in the cafeteria area of the athletic dorms under the bleachers, where the

"I've never seen anything, but I have heard stories. You can definitely hear the ancient pipes of the stadium creak when you're in there," Gottschalk said.

Shelton also has never seen or heard Nick the ghost, but he has been witness to another unwanted guest at the theater.

"We used to have a cat in the Masque called Nick. There would be times when Nick would decide that it was time for his entrance and he would just walk across stage," Shelton said.

Shelton was not sure what happened to the Purple Masque's alley cat friend, but he believes Nick was taken home by a loving K-Stater.

endless possibilities...endless possibilities...endless possibilities

80th Engineering Open House

Tuesday :: 2 April Vote for St. Pat & St. Patricia

Durland & Seaton Hall

Wednesday :: 3 April

Fr/So Engineering Competition

LEGO Mindstorm Design Contest

7 p.m. Fiedler Library Friday :: 5 April Parade & Opening Ceremonies 1:30 p.m. Union Courtyard

Student & Industrial Displays 5:30 - 9 p.m. Saturday :: 6 April

Student & Industrial Displays 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Social Hour in Cat's Pause Lounge 5:30 p.m. Engineering Awards Banquet

Union Ballroom 7 p.m. Banquet tickets available in RA 142

...endless possibilities...

Organized by Steel Ring

9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

This is the second in a series of five stories on lesser locations. Look for known campus

next Tuesday's orner of 12th and Laramie

to go:

territory & outback reefs & rainforest

beaches & reefs

fiji sailing adventure

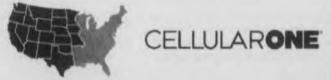

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

Monthly Rate Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes Weekend Minutes

$35 $45 | $75 600 1,000 350 75 150 250 500 1,500 1,500 500 1,500 1,500

Add additional lines for just $20'

1.800.CELL.ONE WWW.CELLULARONEWEST.COM

Cellular One

Cellular One

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

Ynot Wireless 785-323-0944 785-565-9219

Mortimer and Skujyte continue to lead track team

BY JOEL REICHENBERGER

Kansus State Collegian

The K-State track team was stretched thin last weekend as Wildcat studentathletes competed all around the nation. A contingent of K-Staters represented the Cats at Stanford, while other team members were in action at the University of Texas-El Paso.

Eight-time All-American Amy Mortimer led a small team of distance runners in competition at Stanford. Two weeks ago she won the 1,500 meter run with a time of 4:25.50, earning her Women's Track Athlete of the Week honors.

She was able to better that performance by more than seven seconds at Stanford, though, and finished fourth, at Mortimer's mark at the Stanford meet qualified her as an automatic entry into the NCAA Outdoor National Championships in Baton Rouge, La., May 29 to June 1.

While a small contingent was representing the Cats in California, the majority of the team ventured south to compete in the UTEP Springtime Track Invitational.

Mid-distance runner Joseph Lee helped put K-State on the board with his victory in the Men's 800-meter run. Finishing with a time of 1:51.04, Lee edged out the competition, as three runners finished within .8 seconds, including Wildcat teammate Erik Sproll, third at 1:51.84.

Jared MacLeod was able to join Lee in the winner's circle after holding off the competition in the 110-meter hurdles with

The race saw the three runners cross the line within .2 seconds, and K-State's Roberto Carvajal crossed in third place at

On the women's side, it was business as usual for Austra Skuivte.

Skujyte entered the UTEP competition after earning K-State Field Female Athlete of the Week and Big 12 Track Female Athlete of the Week honors, and an automatic qualification into the national

It was more of the same when Skujyte outdistanced the competition in the women's shot put by throwing nine feet farther than any other competitor. The shot traveled 54-6.75 feet, and was again worthy of automatic qualification into the national meet.

Morgan High leapt to an outdoor season-best height of 5-10.75, winning the women's high jump.

The Wildcats will be in action next as they again split paths to make appearances at the Emporia State Relays and the Texas Relays next weekend.

- K-State Sports Information contributed to this article.

Zach Long/Collegian

Austra Skujyte clears the bar in the high jump at the Big 12 indoor track and field championships in Lincoln on Feb. 23. This past weekend Skujyte captured the shot put title at the UTEP Springtime Invitational in El Paso, Texas, with a throw of 54-6.75 feet.

FIGHT CLUB

Wrestling club gains national attention with success

BY DAN SMITH

hey don't have a coach, the university doesn't recognize them as an official sport and they don't even fill out a complete roster at many tournaments.

Regardless, the K-State wrestling club is making a name for itself in a sport where glory is the only goal and the yardstick for success is blood, sweat and tears.

"We try to do the best we can with what we've got," Marques Jackson, junior in elementary education, said.

What they've done this season is emerge as one of the best wrestling squads in the country, with very little funding and no scholarship athletes.

The club placed ninth in its most recent tournament, the National Collegiate Wrestling Association Nationals-an impressive finish considering the eight teams that finished in front of the Cats compete with scholarships and coaches - and nabbed the Southwest Regional title as well this season.

The results speak for themselves, but it's the way they've gotten to that level that makes for the best story.

A coach seems like a necessity when it comes to college athletics. But without that luxury, K-State's wrestling club is taking responsibility, dedication and strong work ethic to a new level every day.

In fact, the absence of a coach is looked at not as a setback, but rather an opportunity, as each athlete takes his individual success, or failure, upon himself.

"You go at each other pretty hard every day," Jackson said. "We give each other a lot of competition, so that helps because nobody wants to get taken down by the other guys. We've got bragging rights and that makes us better every day."

The club's non-traditional training techniques have yielded high results, too. This season, Jackson and Jacob Eisenbise, junior in kinesiology, became the school's first two-time NCWA All-Americans in the

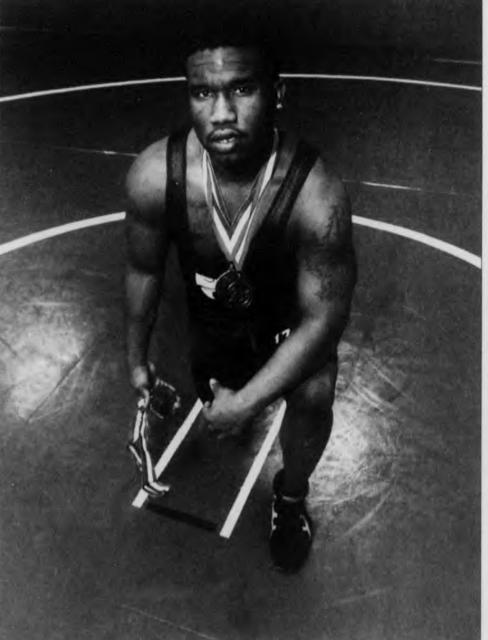

Jackson, who also earned a walk-on spot with the K-State football team last spring, earned the honor with a fourth-place finish in the Association's 197-pound weight class, and Eisenbise finished fifth in the Freshman Justin Bottorff and junior Karl Singer also earned their first All-America awards with good showings at the national tournament in Bottorff, from Lancaster, Kan., joined the club this year hoping the competition could occupy his free time.

"It was kind of a bonus," he said. "I came here for the engineering department, but I've always loved wrestling, so I heard of this program and jumped into it. This program fills a gap. There's no real D1 wrestling

See WRESTLING on PAGE 9

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Marques Jackson, junior in pre-professional secondary education, displays the medals he won this year while participating in the wrestling club. Jackson is one of three southwest regional champions on the team.

K-State crew teams compete, come up with different results

BY ERIKA SAUERWEIN, DAN SMITH Kansas State Collegian

K-State might have lost all five of its races against Iowa Saturday in Iowa City, but the Wildcats kept the No. 10 team in the country on its toes.

In four of the five races, K-State held the lead at some point.

"We controlled the beginning of the varsity race," Coach Jenny Hale said. "We were poised to contend, but you have to finish the race."

K-State led the first varsity race for the first 1,300 meters, but the Hawkeyes rallied to finish 3.7 seconds ahead of the Wildcats. K-State finished in a time of

"It is kind of disappointing in the sense, because we had the potential," Hale said. "We had the talent to win. And we are more experienced this year to know that we should not give back those seats." Hale said a late-race mistake hurt

"We had some steering mistakes and that led to a lack of focus and concentration from the rest of the boat," she said. "With these races that are separated by three or four seconds, that makes all the difference in the world."

K-State's chances.

In the second varsity race, Iowa also had to pull ahead in the latter part race. The Hawkeyes finished with a time of 7:28.3 — four seconds faster than K-State. Hale said the windy conditions were not the only obstacle K-State faced this weekend

"It was also a different race for the girls," she said. "We usually row on courses that are lined with buoys, but Iowa's lake was being drained at the time we were there, so they had to move the race to a new site. The course there was only marked by buoys every 500 meters and that is more challenging."

K-State's two novice teams also struggled. Both teams lost to Iowa by more than 20 seconds.

"The novice team is not real fast," Hale said. "We don't expect to be behind anyone 20 or 30 seconds. The teams have some strengths, but they haven't been able to put them all together. We are going back to the drawing board to see what changes we need to make.'

K-State travels to San Diego this weekend for the San Diego Crew Classic, The Classic will feature more than 3,000 competitors in 87 races.

K-State men capture Sunflower State Rowing Championships

For the fifth consecutive year, K-State's men have captured the Sunflower State Rowing Championships.

The Wildcat men beat state-rival Kansas and matched Colorado's win total at the weekend regatta in Lawrence to capture state bragging rights in the first race of the K-State's varsity eight boat finished in second, just one-tenth of a second ahead of the Jayhawks, and coasted to easy wins over KU in each of the other five races. "It's always an in-state rivalry and it's always on your mind when you compete against them," Tristan Pyle, varsity rower said. "We were very happy with our showing." Colorado, which took the place of Wichita State at this season's Sunflower Championships, took home wins in the varsity lightweight four, novice eight and varsity eight races, but didn't qualify for the state title. K-State brought back wins in the varsity four, novice four and junior varsity eight. With warmer weather forecasted for the next few weeks, the Cats' attention again shifts to practice and improvement. "We just need to get a lot of water time, and work on technique," Pyle said.

Veterans should quit with heads still high

BY SEAN PURCELL

Rickey Henderson used to be one of my favorite players. Back in early '90s when he played for the Oakland Athletics - those were the days. But doesn't it seem like he should have retired five years ago?

Henderson recently signed a major-league

Sean Purcell

deal with the Boston Red Sox, his eighth team in 24 seasons in the league.

I stress the word "major" because it seems all the outfielder can negotiate these days is a spot on the bench of a major league club. Hanging out in the AAA level is not an

At least he has his pride, though. It seems as though Henderson can't let it go. The 43-year-old, who can still fly, is baseball's career leader in runs (2,248), walks

(2,141) and steals (1,395). So what's left to accomplish?

Oh, and by the way, I made sure to check those statistics this time. I wouldn't want to become a regular in the Fourum, now would

But anyway, back to the message at hand. Henderson should just call it quits. The man has done pretty much anything a token fast guy can, including getting a ring. But if he wants another one, he is trying to do it with the wrong team. Boston still can't escape the dreaded "Curse of the Bambino."

If it was me, I would look at teams like the Yankees or the Braves to sign a one-year deal with. You know, teams that at least have been to the World Series in the last decade would be first on my list of options.

But Henderson is a part of a growing number of athletes who feel they should stick around for the love of the game.

Maybe Rickey was inspired by Kevin Costner's performance in the mediocre flick. I. have to admit it, though, Kev sure can portray a terrific ballplayer.

Henderson could save himself the embarrassment, though, and retire with his head held high. Rickey should have taken the hint when Cal Ripken, Tony Gwynn and Wade Boggs bowed out.

These are all guys that are younger than you, Rickey! Didn't you get that memo?

Don't mistake me as saying I don't respect the guy. If I have the motivation to get out and mow the yard at age 43, I'll be pretty happy. Henderson's physical condition is something to strive for, but I'm lazy, so screw it.

It would be sad, though, to see Henderson get injured one of these days - when all he wanted to do was continue to play the game he loves so deeply.

But not quite as sad as it was to see Oklahoma and Kansas choke in the NCAA semifinals.

I had to throw that in for all of you who couldn't wait to call in to the Fourum and scream, "I told you so," if OU and KU were to meet in Monday's college basketball final.

I guess there is always next season, huh? But for now, I told you so.

Sean is a junior in electronic journalism. You can e-mail him at spu5598@ksu.edu.

Taking the plunge

Students teach parachuting class to beginners

BY ASHLEY HUSEMAN

Kansas State Collegian

Get your feet out and stop. Get all the way out and hang. Dot.

All of these commands were unfamiliar to Jason Russell, junior in marketing, before he attended the K-State Parachute Club's first jump class on March 29-30. But by the time his feet hit the ground of the KSUPC drop zone Saturday afternoon, he was thrilled with the rush he experienced.

Class information

K-State Parachute Club hosts another first jump class on April 12-13, followed by a session on April 19-20. The price of the first jump class is $135, and signup for the class can be done online at www.ksu.edu/ksupc.

With all of his faith in his parachute, Russell jumped out of a plane at an altitude of 3500 feet, with wind speeds of 80-90 mph, and steered himself towards the ground.

"It was scary and awesome," Russell said. "It's the most crazy thing ever. When you're out there on the wing of the plane, you just have no choice. Every little step is like the point of no return. I was relieved to hit the ground, but that's the rush.'

About 25 students attended the first jump class, which is a class open to anyone in the community who wants to experience the adrenaline rush of parachuting. Rex Westmeyer, a 1977 graduate of K-State who has been involved with the KSUPC since 1974. instructs the course. Westmeyer, a United States Parachute Association licensed instructor, has logged 1,045

"I was trained as a parachutist in the military, and when I was off duty I got involved in skydiving," Westmeyer said. "It was a good hobby for me."

Westmeyer said once he got out of turned around the KSUPC, which was struggling at the time. Students of the first jump class spent the first evening learning the basics of parachuting. A video was used to explain the safety procedures and equipment used in parachuting. The next morning, the students applied this information at the KSUPC drop zone at the Warnego airport.

Students practiced parachute landing falls, learned the operations of the harness and were introduced to the plane, a Cessna 182 owned by the KSUPC. They also practiced exiting procedures.

Eight USPA certified jumpmasters assisted the class, along with four parachute riggers, certified by the FAA. lumpmasters assisted the students in the plane and helped them with their exiting procedure. Riggers are used to check the parachute pack, or "rig," before the students enter the plane.

When the students had finished the preliminary training, it was time to gear up and board the plane. While some were excited and others were nervous, they were all prepared to take the challenge that awaited them.

"I'm nervous," Suzann Coyan, junior in feed science and management." said "To put it mildly."

Three students, one jumpmaster and the pilot boarded the plane and climbed to an altitude of 3500 feet. The jumpmaster then opened the door and tossed out a wind direction indicator, which resembles a stream of yellow crepe paper, used to determine where the students should exit the plane to commands of the instructor who was on the ground and in radio contact with the student.

'Right turn...stop," Westmeyer said. "Looking good...left turn...stop." Jesse Russell, Leavenworth, said the experience was both nerve-racking and exciting. "It was awesome," Russell said. "The worst part was right as he opens the door, and you have to climb out and hang onto the wing. Once you let go, there's nothing you can do. I was just hoping that my chute opened."

Westmeyer said the KSUPC utilizes the static line progression method of training, in which students are taught to free fall in at least five jumps. The static line is a 12-14 foot line attached to the plane that helps the parachute open.

learning how to maintain a stable body position and practice the ripcord pull. If the student grasps these concepts and shows progression throughout the first five jumps, he or she can advance to free fall, Westmeyer said.

TOP: Jim Hodgson,

stop after his first afternoon at the Wamego Airport.

Kelly Glasscock/

LEFT: David Crippen,

Junior in marketing.

Sydney Wigger, sophomore in open option,

and Jim Hodgson,

agronomy, practice

their form for exiting

the airplane during their parachute class

sophomore in on March 30.

Matt Stamey/

Collegian

The first five jumps are used for

Collegian

ever skydive Saturday

sophomore in agronomy, slides to a

David Hicks, KSUPC president, said the KSUPC is the oldest collegiate club in the United States and the only collegiate club to own their own plane and

He said they train about 200 students every year, and he stressed the fact that anyone from the community, not just K-State students, can attend the first jump class and join the club.

"What we do is train people," Hicks

See JUMP on PAGE 9

By Eugene Sheffer 24 Train the water 5 Poke 5 Athlete 26 Mangled Request 8 Persian works with 42 Racetrack potentate molars 12 Daytime 43 Platypus' with 27 Banana pride eater's offering castoff 13 Columbus feature 49 Canteen Chicks' 14 Legwear "Goodbye 15 Nags 17 Wished 50 Aerobatic maneuver 29 Clumsy 51 Under a undone strain 31 Office 52 Basilica home 53 Grandson 11 Actress 19XXX 16 Prior to 35 Little 20 Cabble DOWN 37 Moo goo 21 Hoodlum 1 Blonde 24 Family 22 Overhead gai pan Island' 2 Adversary 38 November responsi 26 Garbanzo Solution time: 23 mins 39 Eager birthplace 40 Singer 32 Listening 41 Garbage device 35 Make coffee 45 Charged 36 Puts 46 Old card blades 47 CDs' tore

tone/rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC CRYPTOQUIP

STUMPED?

HREDBDUA LODACDAL SUBYDAL

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: IF COWS AN CHICKENS WERE SOMEHOW CROSSED, RECKON WE MIGHT BE EATING ROOST BEEF. Today's Cryptoquip Clue: S equals M

CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

© 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"Destiny is not a matter of chance, it is a matter of choice; it is not a thing to be waited for, it is a thing to be achieved."

- William Jennings Bryan

LOCAL TALENT

WHO: Tara Townsley, ballet dancer

Tara Townsley, junior in apparel design, will perform in two ballet pieces at this year's Spring Dance, opening Friday in McCain Auditorium

Townsley said she started training in ballet when she was 3 years old and has kept at it ever since. Dancing is a good way to exercise and have fun at the same time, so finding motivation to work out isn't that difficult, Townsley said.

Townsley said she will be performing in one romantic ballet and one jazz ballet, titled "My Favorite Things." Jazz ballet is so much different that the only way most people can tell it is still ballet is because it is on point, she said.

The style is difficult since ballet dancers are taught to keep everything centered, but jazz is off-center and off leg. Townsley said she just hopes that the final product is good enough that the audience doesn't think about any of

"I want them to think it's easier than it really is," she said. "I want it to look like a graceful form of art even though it's harder than most people think it is."

TOWNSLEY

misdirection

land in the correct place.

When the timing was right, the jumpmaster opened the door and commanded the first student to put the plane and hung from the wing, flying at a speed of 80-90 mph.

his feet out of the plane and stop. Next, the student climbed all the way out of

As the jumpmaster commanded

"dot," the student looked up at the dot, and let go of the wing, arching his back and holding his arms straight up in the air. After a count of five seconds, the shoulder to ensure that the parachute parachute toward the drop zone, and

The next obstacle was steering the student checked over his right

the student then followed the was opening.

a powercat on the door of the plane.

Deadlines

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

Classifieds

Tuesday, April 2, 2002

For Rent-Unfurnished

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartprices. (785)341-6091.

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and week-ends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

CLOSE TO Campus, two-bedroom unit. Models open daily. Call for an appoint-

FOUR, THREE, and onebedroom apartments for sent. Electric, gas, water, and trash paid. Across Call Andy (913)269-7297.

NEAR CAMPUS. One-bedpaint and carpet. Dishwash er, central-air, balcony, af-fordable. No Pets. June Jesse. Call (785)539-0549.

NEXT TO campus- one wo, three-bedroom houses. apartments. Central air, parking, free washer/ dryer. Available August. (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August Deluxe two-bed-foom apartment, 350 N. near Nichols Hall $530. (785)539-2482.

NICE THREE-BEDROOM house. Available August 1 Central air, washer TWO-BEDROOM close to campus. Water and Trash paid. $545- $585/month. (785)341-4496. ONE, TWO and THREE-BEDROOM apartments Close to campus. June and August leases. No Pets, Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT available 1030 Bearney No pets. Call (816)847-7195

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Close to campus Off-street parking. No smok-ers, no pets. $350 and

ROOMMATES NEEDED for house. Washer/ dryer in-cluded, very nice. Call cluded, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-

SPACIOUS TWO and three bedroom, close to campus. Central air, laundry facilities,

TWO AND three-bedrooms. one and one-half bath, cer tral air, laundry facility near

For Rent-Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM, Westwood $475/ mo AVAILABLE JUNE (785)537-6032.

TWO-BEDROOM, BATH, large living room and kitchen, dishwasher. Across street from Aggleville and campus. Available after finals. (785)565-9175.

Rooms

Available

OOMS FOR re AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Rent $225/ month plus one-third electric and cable Kimberly at (785)539-0348 e-mail klb4949@ksu.edu.

For Rent-

1013 OSAGE three-plus bedroom, one bathroom washer/ dryer. August lease month. (785)539 3206

813 VATTIER nice fivebedroom two bath house Central heat and air, wash-er/ dryer. Three blocks to oking No pets. (785)587-8316.

A SIX- seven-bedroom. three bath house one block to campus, Aggieville, and City Park. Central Air, washer and dryer. (785)317-7713

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Four plus bedrooms. Three full bathrooms, near campus. Very nice house, (913)963-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Onebedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace, washer/ dryer. Located 426 N. 17th $430/ month. (785)

AVAILABLE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of ampus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer dryer, fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Three west of campus at 1404 er/ dryer, fenced yard, $285

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. TWOthree-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at 15 Poyntz. $700/ month. (785) 539-3672

AVAILABLE JUNE 1 Twobedroom duplex, two floors at 1007 Houston, $610/

120 For Rent-

203 FIVE-BEDROOM. bath, two kitchens, central air, close to KSU. Available June 1, $1250/ month. 776-5804.

> FOUR-BEDROOM AND live-bedroom houses. Excellent condition. Close to campus. Central air, large backyards. June. Won't last long. (785)776-4166.

For Rent-

able,

homes.

For Sale-

Roommate

Wanted

Mobile Homes

bath. All appliance up-grades. $28,000 available

WANTED A very nice two-bedroom/ two bath apartment located right across the street from campus

$350/ month plus one-half

FEMALE ROOMMATE(S)

wanted to share apartmen for 2002- 2003 school year

May

Two blocks from Aggieville and campus, $225 a month

Available in May. Rent negotiable. Call (785)776-

or (785)341-6981. Girls on-bath apartment. Very clean, $235 a month for June/ July

WANTED: FEMALES share four-bedroom.

Call (785)323-1103.

Call (785)587-9600.

(816)868-3989

Sublease

(785)323-0116.

ROOMMATE

3026.

150

ROOMMATE

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT.

FOUR-BEDROOM TWO bath, near campus. Excellent condition. Appliances, washer/ dryer, central air, off-street parking. Available August $1200. Call (785)313-5338. Call

GREAT HOUSE, three-bedroom very nice. One block west of campus. Available June 1, $900/ month. No pets. 537-4766.

NEWLY REMODELED park. (785)770-8792. four-bedroom. Two car ga rage, one-half block east of campus, washer/ dryer hook-ups, central air. One-year lease starting August 1. No pets. $800/ month No pets $800/ month. (785)213-2468 or (785)235-

NICE THREE- FOUR-BED-ROOM, two bath house with asement. Washer/ dryer ok-ups, off-street parking. Pierre. Call Doug (785)537-1978

NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE. Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus Rd Washer/ dryer hookups, one year lease. $900/ month plus utilities. Available June 1 Call (785)539-

ONE BLOCK to campus Five or six-bedroom house rooms, fireplace, central-air dishwasher, August lea: No Pets. (785)539-0549.

SMALL HOUSE Applian ces furnished June lease. No utilities paid. Big backyard Gall (785)539-1975 or

THREE-BEDROOM CLOSE (785)537-9425 or

THREE-BEDROOM. TWO tor, washer/ dryer, attached garage, fenced backyard. June 1. $1000 (785)537-9425. (785)532-4424

For Sale-

FIVE-BEDROOMS. THREE baths. Fenced yard. Full fin $115,000 (785)539-8631 or see http://valbehan.hothomepages.com or stop by 1925 Morning Glory.

110 For Rent-Apt. Unturnished

AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017. www.beloose.com/linwood

NOW LEASING June Lease Cambridge

• Sandstone •

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garba disposal. They are available August Lease Call (785)776-4274 to view

LEASED * 1114 Freemont *

2000 College Heights Sandstone * Fireplaces 2000 SCHULTZ Sensation 16'x 80' three-bedroom, two

Pool Private Deck Laundry Facilities Large 2-bedroom Units Call Today! Going Fast!

537-9064 Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

K-Rental Mgmt.

Now Leasing Bills Included

1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500

3 BR from $600 4 BR from $720

539-8401

NEW SUMMER sublease. One room in three-bedroom LARGE house. Own bathroom, washer/ dryer. Two and apartments. One and a half baths. Water and trash paid one-half blocks west of $450 rent. $450 deposit KSU. Only one-third utilities. Available now Call (785)776-7362, leave mes-

NOW LEASING. One-bedair, parking, water and trash paid. No pets $370 per month Call KSU Foundation

ed two-bedroom apartment Dishwasher, full laun-dry facilities. Very nice. bedrooms available for next school year. One-bedrooms start at $490 per month. Call $275/ month. Call (785)537-Chase Manhattan Apartments (785)776-3663 (24-TWO-BEDROOM SUMMER sublease May 20- August 7, nice apartment. Nice room-Hours). One-half mile from Call (785)539-0978 lege and Clafin, Manhattan.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT for rent, 903 Thurston No pets. Water and trash paid. $330/ month

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid $390/ month Call (785)537-7810.

ONE BEDROOMS AVAILA-BLE June 1 $300- $330 No pets. One-year lease.

PARK PLACE AFFORDABLE

PRICES One Two. Thre bedrooms (785)539-2951 QUIET COUNTRY living apartment. Excellent condi-included. Washer/ dryer hook-ups. No smoking/ pets. (785)776-6903 SIX-BEDROOM. TWO bath rooms, two living rooms, two kitchens, and washer/ dryer

Free for August, duplex two-(785)537-2289 THREE AND Four-bed-

ter and trash paid. (785)537-

APARTMENT. With: two bathrooms, washer/ dryer. refingerator/ stove. Your own parking. Close to campus. two houses away! through July 31! Rent $280 pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-(785)539-2547 nont. $780.00 plus utilit August lease. (785)776-

TWO-BEDROOM TOWN bath, plus unfinished base ment, central air. Washer/ hook-ups, no pets MALE ROOMMATE

(785)539-8955. Need a roommate:

to campus, central air. Rent Advertise. II WOPKS.

145 Roommate Wanted

ROOMMATE WANTED for Now Leasing blocks from campus,

> ROOMMATE WANTED. smoking house. Washer/ dryer, fireplace, deck. $250/ month plus shared utilities.

STOP PAYING exorbitant en miles from K-State. $250

Available FOUR-BEDROOM entals $350/ month and up.

Pets okay, short-term leases Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138 120 ■

For Rent-Houses

Rooms

For Rent-

Unfurnished

3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

Kimball & College Aves.

Across from KSU stadium

Please call for an appointmen

Apt.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. One bedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace washer/ dryer. Located 426 N. 17th. $430/ month. (785) 539-3672

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two hree-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer/ dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at 1715 Poyntz. $700/ month (785) 539-3672.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE close to campus. Washen dryer, off-street parking Available June or August (785)456-7900.

FOUR BEDROOM HOUSE bedroom at 928 Leaven worth. Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds

FOUR-BEDROOM. bath. Close to campus Washer/ dryer Furnished ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX close to campus. Quiet neighborhood, no pets (785)539-1711 or (785)341 3493 washer and dryer, trash month (785)341-5287.

THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up. no pets or smokers. 1523 $840 plus uti August lease 4805

135

For Sale-Mobile Homes

14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre bath, newer carpet, shower deck, newer washer/ dryer

1994 SKYLINE, two and one-half bedroom, two bath room, very well maintained cluding siding. Lot 544 in Colonial Gardens $16,500 or best offer Call (785)776-

B2 REDMAN 14x 70 three bedroom, two bath. Central and air. Must Priced to sell. (785)770

145

Roommate Wanted

new appliances, month plus one-fourth les. Call Lisa at (785)537

ROOMMATE bedroom house. campus, quiet neighbor-hood. No smoking. Please call Jennifer or Annie at anted for a three-bedroom home on Kearney, lease June, washer/ dryer availaies. Call Rachel anytime at private bath. $160/ month one-half utilities, no smok-ing/ pets. Call David at ONE-BEDROOM FOR sum-

ROOMMATE WANTED for month plus one-fourth utilittending. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 623.

The Collegian cannot veri-ployment/Career classifi-cation. Readers are ad-urges our readers to conported to the Director of

No experience necessary.

tions/ Marketing Internship

12th and Laramie.

Hall, (785)587-2441.

(785)232-0454.

Help Wanted $250/ NIGHT potential/ bar-

two-bedroom apartment starting June/ august. Two street parking, living/ dining furnished. Rent $280, water trash paid. Call Alison (785)776-8529

Call (785)565-9136.

rent in Manhattan! One-bed-room available in May sevincludes everything except telephone. Pay washer/ dry-er in basement. No smoking or drinking. Call Brian at (785)494-8299. 150

AVAILABLE AFTER finals Female subleaser needed for summer. Live across the

Beth at (785)776-0994 DESPERATELY SEEKING sublease! One- three-bed-room apartment, large $250/ DAY potential/ bar rooms. walk-in closets swimming pool! Rent nego-tiable. Call (785)770-3834.

DESPERATELY SEEKING subleasers! Four-bedroom house close to campus ars. Rent negotiable. Rachel or Alyssa, (785)776-

FEMALE SUBLEASE. Nice new washer/ dryer. $180/ month. Close to campus. Late May to early August.

NEED FEMALE summer in a four-bedroom apart-$180/ month one-fourth utilities. Walking (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs.

bedroom, two bath duplex for sublease after finals through July. Nice location, washer and dryer, DSL hookup, $275, negotiable. May rent one, two, three, or Call now (785)323-0827. ROOM AVAILABLE June

NICE TWO-YEAR old, four-

July one-half block from impus, garage, rent nego tiable, very nice, Great deal. 1837 Anderson Ave. Cali Ricky (785)539-0838. SLEEP IN OUR ROOM

Summer sublease, two-bed-(785)565-9747

SUBLEASE FOR a great deal summer 2002. Univeredrooms. Contact Kristy

SUBLEASES NEEDED for large two-bedroom in duplex. Washer/ dryer hook-ups. One block from campus. Large enough for four people. Available June and July. Call (785)587-9325.

SUMMER SUBLEASE. per cheap May 20- August ies included. (785)776-1420 two SUMMER SUBLEASER. Female needed to share four-bedroom house. FULLY furnished, washer dryer. Utilities paid including cable. $347 785)565-0972. SUMMER SUBLEASERS wanted for nice two-bed pus. $270/ month each. Wa and trash paid. Call (785)587-9073.

SUMMER two-bedroom rtments next to campus (785)539-1713.

165

Self-storage: Multiple units 5x 10 through 10 x30's. Out-door and indoor RV and boat storage. Buy three months and receive a twen discount.

MABERRY RFD, Inc. Min.

service directory

Weight Loss & /

HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss Increased Energy- Immediate Results I can teach you the secret! Local Distributor (785)776-1936.

employment opportunities

Help Wanted

Help Wanted

LOOKING FOR a Korean interpreter who can speak English. Call evenings English. (620)786-0373.

LOOKING FOR Chinese fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Emtranslator to translate a book from Mandrian or Shangaiese to English. Call evenings (785)537-2853. vised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian Help! Run New Case Commatic Tandem Grain Trucks tact the Better Business Need Commercial Drivers Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, License and we will help ob-Topeka, KS 66607-1190. tain Commercial Drivers Li-cense. Provide room and board and excellent salary! Call (785)689-4660. Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beauwork or labor for which tiful Maine. Counselors to he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, coach all sports. front, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com PROGRAMMER CivicPlus, a leader in provid-

$1500 WEEKLY potential ing local government web services, has an opening for formation call (203)977a Microsoft ASP programmer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program-ming experience required. Microsoft ASP and SQL extending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain ACCOUNTING POSITION. Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 Flexible hours. Wage based on experience. Dean Liquor, days of employment. Competitive salary plus health, 401(k) and paid vacation. E-mail resume in Microsoft AD SALES/ Public Rela-

Unique national publisher offering well-paid, flexible, and rewarding local position for spring/ summer. E-mail cover letter and resume to ucal@bendnet.com BARTENDERS NEEDED Earn up to $250/ day Will train. No experience necessary. Call (866)291-1884 ext. 160. BIG DAWG Marina. end help. Start May 18, end Labor Day. Contact Keith, (785)776-7946, (785)539-

KeithEyestone@msn.com. BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Models, Photographers,

(785)830-0367

COMPUTER SCIENCE Research Assistant to assist in the design and development of a large web/ database application. This is a half-time one-year, unclassified appointment at $12,800/ year plus benefits Requirements: MS in Computer Science or vanced project management ble hours, on-campus locacover letter detailed resume. ranscripts and three letters of recommendation by April 12, 2002 to: Will Baldwin, Department of Communications, 211b Umberber Hall, Kansas State University Manhattan, KS 66506-3402 KSU is an equal opportunity

CRUISE LINE entry level, on board positions available, great benefits. Seasonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com

FEMALES WANTED for KSU girl in wheelchair for Summer 2002. Flexible. $7.00/ hour. Call Holly (785) had8078@ksu.edu. FRATERNITIES. SORORI-

TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Eam $1000 $2000 with the easy Campusfundraiser.com hour fundraising event. Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campus undraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

GREAT SUMMER income ers needed. 40 hours of Must attend class May 7 May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm. $11.40 per hour. Work will start May 18. Contact Laborers' Local 1290, 710 Moro, Manhattan, K5 (785)537-1567, to sign up Manhattan

HELP WANTED for custom harvesting. Combine opera-tors and truck drivers guaranteed pay. Good summer wages. Call (970)-483-7490

HELP WANTED. Part time,

evenings.

HELP WANTED. Tempora part-time help wanted Painting, mowing grass, swimming pool maintenance and other miscellaneous

JOHNSON COUNTY, Sum mer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Center. Must have transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. $7/ hour for 40 hour week (negotiable). Apply in Horti-culture, Forestry and Recre-

NEED SUMMER Harvest bines 2388's and New Auto baseball, basketball, water sex, military status, disa-bility, religion, age, color, national origin or ances-try. Violations should be Human Resources at City

> Word or text to jobs@civicplus.com

SALES. LOCAL Company vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance including quota over achieve-ment. Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission $50,000/ year or more. Email resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com.

STUFF ENVELOPES and process mail for $1000s weekly! Just send a self addressed, stamped envelope To: Oneal 601 S. Lasalle St. 938, Chicago, IL.

60605 SUBWAY AT K-state Union now hiring for days, evenings, and weekends. Parttime, flexible hours. Apply in SUMMER EMPLOYMENT mately May 20 to August 23, salary $8.64/ hour. Duties: hand labor such as weeding production fields, moving irrigation pipe, and grounds maintenance. United States Department of Agriculture, Natural Resources Conservation Service. Plant Materi Call (785)539-8761 for inter view. Equal Opportunity Em-

SUMMER INSTRUCTORS employer and actively seeks diversity among its employto teach high school stu nts in the areas of English Composition, Laboratory ience (Chemistry, Physics or Biology), Foreign Lan-guage. Computer Explora-tion and Web-Page Design. June 10- July 19, 2002. Pre-ferred Qualifications: MS/ graduate student in related subjects, certified by state Board of Education years teaching experience at secondary or university level. Submit vita/ resume and three references to Margaret A. Turner, Associ ate Director, Upward Bound Program, 1800 Claffin Suite Kansas State University (785)532-6497

> THE ROCK Springs 4-H Center is seeking applicants for 40-50 summer staff pograduating high school se Positions are recreation in including team structors. building, horses, environmental education. trap, archery, canoes, crafts and lifeguards. We also have several positions in food service, maintenance and custodial departments. Internships are available for those who qualify. Rock Springs offers a monthly sal ary and room and board Rock Springs is a nationally recognized camp and con ference center serving apand adults each year, most during the summer. Rock Springs is located 14 miles sas on K-157 Highway. For an application or more information you can contact me at: Rock Springs 4-H Cen-ter, C/O Summer Jobs 5405 West Highway K-157 Junction City, KS 66441 (785)257-3221, jfarr@rock springs.net URGENT SALES promo Flint Hills Expo 2002, Apri and sales oriented. Good pay, possible future w Call now (785)776-9451.

WANTED DRIVER part-time or summer help. Class A cense for Semi and Mixers Pre-employment drug screen. Apply Valley Con-crete, Belvue, Kansas or call "LEARN TO FLY!" K-State Flying Club has five air planes, lowest rates. For in-2795, www.ksu.edu/kstc. ACADEMY OF BARTENDey, meet people. Earn $15-$30 an hour. Day, evening or weekend classes available. Job placement assis-tance, $199 with student ID. 1(800)BARTEND. www.bartendingcollege.com Charles W. (Chuck) Harper 25 years experience. 400 Poyntz. (785)539-8100.

Announcements

chuckharper@msn.com SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE LATIONSHIPS just got eas

Lost and Found Lost and found ads can be Lost and Found

FOUND: CAMERA off Man-(785)776-1462 to identify LOST SILVER SEIKO watch

Personals We require a form of picture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when placing a personal. housing

Apts. Furnished FOR RENT: Five-bedroom rittany Ridge town home Available August 1, one-year lease $950/ month.

real estate For Rent-

Tim after 6pm at inscription on back ry status, disability, rel

> ble. Call (785)317-0541

ADVERTISE

Semester Leases

Leasing Now 4 BR Apartments

Call or Come by Our Office!

For full details on our 4BR, 2 Bath apartments for a Semester Lease -

Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st! · fully furnished · swimming pool · washer/dryer • next to KSU stadium • tennis, volleyball & basketball courts university

individual leases • exercies room •

· electronic alarm system · 539-0500 Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-4

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in housing without distinc tion on account of race, sex, familial status, milita gion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Hu Resources at City Hall, MAY FREE! One-bedroom cilities. Great college atmos

Collegian Advertising

1628 FAIRVIEW. Open house, Sunday, April 7, 4-5pm. Quiet, studio near 5pm. Quiet, studio near campus. $385 including gas, water, trash. June 1. No smoking, pets. (785)537-

110

For Rent-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, one-

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

ageny in Class Al The Commons" Now Leasing for > *Alarm System *Swimming Pool *Washer Dryer *Computer Lab *Fitness Center *Permit Parking Tennis/Volleyball Courts

> > *Individual Leases

2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

Office Hours: M-F 9-6. Sat. 10-4 539-0500 INIVERSITY · COMMONS · APARTMENTS

Unfurnished TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE (785)539-4641.

bedroom apartment, close to campus. Located at 193 Anderson. $300/ month, water/ trash paid. No pets. (785)597,9705.

Kedzie 103 • 532-6555

ies. Call (785)587-8508.

for Kevin or Chris.

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Resources Office. 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5.

(785)458-6499.

JUMP

■ Continued from page 7

said. "We're not in this to make a profit. We're in this to teach."

Westmeyer said the KSUPC has about a 2-percent keep rate. meaning that only two percent of the students that go through the class actually stick with it and turn parachuting into a hobby.

"We don't expect you all to be here a year from now with 75 jumps because skydiving is not for everybody," Westmeyer said.

Not only does the KSUPC train students, but they also entertain at events in the community. Hicks said they have jumped for the Shrine

TUESDAY

$1.50 Big Beers

WEDWESDAY

$2.00 EVERYTHING

A RENTER'S WORST

NIGHTMARE:

Discovering your landlord's insurance doesn't cover your stuff.

That's why you should give me a co about State Farm renters insurance

Josh Salmans Town East Shopping Center (By Kmart)

463 East Poyntz

Manhattan, KS 66502

785-776-8754

josh.salmans.jxd4@statefarm.com

RENTERS NSURANCE

See Agent:

INSURANCE

Live Music

50¢ Draws

75¢ Pints

Bar & Grill

Bowl, Memorial Day services and Fourth of July activities, in addition to other community celebrations.

As a team, the KSUPC competed against 79 students from 20 universities - including all three military academies - at a national parachute competition during winter break in Lake Wales, Fla.

The KSUPC jumped their way to a seventh-place tie with Ohio. Justin Lowrey, KSUPC vice president, and Hicks finished third and fourth, respectively, in their individual events.

Hicks encourages anyone who is interested to attend the first class.

"I have no idea why I'm doing this," Coyan said. "I'm scared of heights, and I'm claustrophobic, but it's going to be awesome. I'll be screaming the whole time."

KARAOKE

party on the patio

Check out Claflin services

Claflin Copies

√ 5 cent self-serve copies

✓ electronic file submittal

I printing from disk

✓ quality papers

√ transparencies

√ binding

✓ calor copies

50 JACK &

$2 Captains

Matt Stamey/Collegian

Sydney Wigger, sophomore in open option, sits on Jim Hodgson, junior in agronomy, moments before their first-ever skydive. Both said they were nervous before the jump. After they got in the air, they said they started

WRESTLING

■ Continued from page 6

program in Kansas, but there's a lot of guys interested in it." A lot of interest and a lot of work has translated to a successful program, Jackson said. Now K-State hopes to move forward a bit further and keep proving its critics wrong on the

"It means a lot," Jackson said. "Every year, to progress isn't easy to do. Tough matches and tough competition is all there are.

"Wrestling is a glory sport and we deserves some glory and a little bit of respect."

CABINET

■ Continued from page 1

Cook will have the opportunity to mandate positions, but he said he prefers to leave the decision open ___. each year.

"I don't want to mandate them " because that provides each president flexibility in his cabinet," he said.

Cook said he does know that hewill be mandating the position of international coordinator.

Once applications are turned inan interview process will be conducted. The appointments will go to Student Senate for approval.

Applications also are available for university-wide committee and council appointments.

A full service copy center,

- Color Copies
- Laminating
- · Folding • Binding
- B/W Copies

 Shipping Large Format Posters

High Quality!

Mon. -Fri. 9 a.m. -6 p.m On Time - Every Time!

K-State SINGERS AUDITIONS 2002-2003

- * Vocalists
- * Pianist
- * Sound Technician
- * Bass guitarist
- * Percussion

For applications & more information contact Gerald Polich McCain 229

10% Student Discount with Student ID

At Sirloin Stockade we are proud of the reputation we have earned by serving up quality & offering our customers excellent service in a down home atmosphere.

Applications due Monday April 15th. www.ksu.edu/kssingers

LUNCH BUFFET NOW AVAILABLE IN AGGIEVILLE

1121 Moro • 539-7666

Also available at Westloop 2931 Claflin • 539-7447

and 3rd & Moro 231 Moro • 776-4334 MONDAY-SUNDAY 11:30-1:00

Now available at Varneys:

- Pick-up and Drop off for Dry Clean City
- Free Gift Wrapping
- Wolfe's Photography Drop off
- Wedding Invitations
- Duplicate Key Making
- Custom Framing
- UPS

K-STATE vs. Wichita State Wednesday, April 3 @ 2 p.m.

Frank Myers Field at Tainton Family Stadium

Classifieds

Deadlines

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run.

Help Wanted

Cowgirls and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains. Come work for the largest horse operation in (785)539-7479 or e North America. Visit our dean@kscable.com. website www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road, Boulder, CO 80301.

Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

Business

Opportunities

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville. for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in Kansas. For portfolio call (785)539-7479 or email ka-

open market

Items for Sale

nese Literary Essays (Translated to English) Please visit http:// li_chungwang.tripod.com

Pets and

Supplies

FOUR MALE Pitt-bull puppies. Three black, white chest. One white/ black in brindle. $200. (785)341-

Equipment

PLAYSTATION 2 with three

transportation

Automobiles 1995 FIREBIRD, nice, 90K. $6995, or best (785)539-4151.

Automobiles 1985 FORD LTD Crown Victoria. Power steering/ power windows, automatic. 192K, $750, AM/ FM, tilt, V-8. 785)323-0438. pr DjSwisher@dce.ksu.edu. 1992 SATURN SL1, auto-matic, four-door. New tires and CD player 122K, good school/ work car. $1750 negotiable. Call (785)587-9840. 1999 RED Volkswagen Cabrio Leather, lots of ex-

Please contact Alison at (785)313-4046. HONDAS FROM $500! Police impound For listings call (800)719-3001 ext

travel

Positive pairings

Greek Week allows houses to come together for friendly competition

BY FDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegian

-K-State's first Greek Week kicked off Monday night at City Park and will continue through the week, ending Saturday during K-State's Open House.

Phil Stein, president of the Interfraternity Council, said the primary goal of Greek Week is to showcase some of the positive aspects of the greek community at K-State to the Manhattan community and K-State campus.

Greek Week will give chapters an additional opportunity to interact with each other in a noncompetitive way.

"We wanted to do something similar to Homecoming, but which wasn't a competition," Lindsay Vogel, Panhellenic Council president, said.

"We want to promote unity within the greek community."

Each day of the week will bring a different event for greek and non-greek students to attend. Monday was a barbecue and "mocktails" contest at City Park, where chapters later found out the 2002 Homecoming pairings.

The mocktails contest, sponsored by Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol, was a non-alcoholic-drink-mixing competition judged by local bartenders.

During Greek Week, chapters also will get a chance to be in a talent show, do some community service, and participate in a carnival.

In addition to each day's event, two teams made up of 13 members each will be competing in various events for the Sunset Survivor competition. This competition began Monday with a hot dog eating contest, and will end on Friday. All the money raised by this all-greek philanthropy will go

Homecoming 2002 pairings

■ Kappa Alpha Theta/Tau Kappa Epsilon/Delta Tau Delta; ■ Sigma Kappa/Pi Kappa Alpha/Triangie; ■ Delta Delta Delta/FarmHouse/Sigma Alpha Epsilon; ■ Alpha Chi Omega/Delta Upsilon/Acacia; ■ Kappa Kappa Gamma/Beta Theta Pi/Pi Kappa Phi; ■ Alpha Delta Pi/Alpha Gamma Rho/Theta Xi; ■ Alpha Xi Delta/Sigma Chi/Sigma Nu; ■ Chi Omega/Phi Gamma Delta/Phi Kappa Theta; ■ Pi Beta Phi/Delta Chi/Phi Delta Theta; ■ Gamma Phi Beta/Alpha Tau Omega/Delta Sigma Phi; ■ Kappa Delta/Sigma Phi Epsilon/Beta Sigma Phi Epsilon/Beta Sigma Phi

to the Sunset Zoological Park.

"Throughout the week, individual and team events modeled after the survivor show will be held," Stein said.

"The team with the least points will be eliminated on Friday and then individuals will be eliminated throughout that night until there is a winner."

Stein said although the entire week will be fun, the biggest day will be K-State's Open House on Saturday.

To participate in Open House, chapters will set up carnival booths including a dunk tank, a moonwalk, and a climbing wall.

Stein said K-State athletes and other various organizations will be helping the chapters with the booths.

Local bands will donate their time and talent to put on an oncampus concert Saturday as well.

The concert will run from noon until 5 p.m., and feature the bands Lucas and Barlow, Orange, The Rock Bows, Swamp Donkey, Tripwire, Torn and Ruskabank.

Stein said starting Greek Week was the goal of a few of the officers a couple of years ago.

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Mike Trehey, sophomore in pre-professional construction science and management, inhales a hot dog, while Retha Wood, sophomore in apparel and textiles, cheers him on. Trehey was a participant in a hot dog-eating contest at the City Park pavilion Monday for Greek Week.

"We wanted to bring something to campus in the spring that would allow us to have interchapter relations and do community service that would give something back to Manhattan,"

To give back to the community, a large amount of the money raised during Greek Week will be donated to charity.

"There will be a very minimal overhead," Stein said. "Greek Week basically pays for itself, and we will be able to donate a large amount of money — several thousand dollars at least."

Justin Springer, Phi Gamma Delta member and Greek Week coordinator, said at least $2,000 raised during Greek Week will go to the Sunset Zoo, and the rest will be donated to a non-profit organization that will be chosen at the d of the week.

Presidents from each chapter will vote on which organization to donate the extra money to. Stein said the response to go to charity," Stein said.

Greek Week had been very positive. "We've sold over 1,300 shirts

"We've sold over 1,300 shirts and cups — all of those profits will go to charity," Stein said.

"Also, a large number of chapters decided to donate another $50 on top of buying the shirts and putting in time and effort."

Kari Baldonado, member of does is a competition," Baldonado

Delta Delta Delta sorority, said Greek Week is a great idea. "It's great because usually, everything the greek community

"It's nice to have the camaraderie this time."

www.kstatecollegian.com

Be a spokesperson for K-State in our newest Recruitment Video. We are looking for 4 K-State students who are fun, cool and can act. We plan to shoot in May or June and it should take one or two days of shooting. Email Jim Kinser at jkinser@ksu.edu for an audition script. Auditions are Wednesday, April 3rd, from 1:30-4:30 pm, at Bob Dole Hall. We are looking for a diverse cast, so everyone is encouraged to audition.

ECC.

EDUCATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS CENTER

STUDENT GOVERNING ASSOCIATION GET INVOLVED NOW!

Applications available at the Office of Student Activities and Services (OSAS), ground floor, K-State Student Union, or at www.ksu.edu/sga Applications are due in the OSAS
Friday, April 14th, by 4:00 p.m.

Executive Branch Cabinet Positions:

- · Chief of Staff
- Academic Quality Coordinator
- · Adult Student Services Coordinator
- College Council Coordinator
- Environmental Concerns Coordinator
- Governmental Relations Director
- International Affairs Director
- Multicultural Affairs Director
   Off-Campus Housing Coordinator
- On-Campus Housing Coordinator
- Public Relations Director
- Student Life Coordinator
- Technology Coordinator

Judicial Branch Appointments:

- Parking Citations Appeals Board (6 positions available)
- Student Review Board (5 positions available)
- Student Tribunal (5 positions available)

Legislative Branch Appointments:

- Student Senate Parliamentarian
- Student Senate Secretary

Legislative Branch Appointments:

- Academic Affairs/University Relations
- Allocations
- Governmental Relations
- Privilege Fee
- Senate Operations
- Student Affairs and Social Services

University Committee At-Large Positions:

Please come to the Office of Student Activities and Services for a complete listing of University Committees.

NCAA Athletics Certification Self-Study Subcommittee Open Public Forums: NCAA Fiscal Integrity Subcommittee

NCAA Fiscal Integrity Subcommitte Wednesday, April 3, 2:00 - 3:00 p.m. Union, Big XII Room

Academic Integrity Subcommittee Thursday, April 11 4:00 - 5:00 p.m. Union, Room 212

NCAA Governance and Commitment to Rules Compliance Subcommittee Thursday, April 11, 2:30 - 3:30 p.m. Union, Room 207

The purpose of these meetings will be for the public to review the subcommittee drafts so that people become knowledgeable enough to make comments and recommendations to the subcommittee. Copies of the draft report materials will be available at each Public Forum and public comment and input in encouraged.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

April 3, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 124 www.kstatecollegian.com

K-State takes on Shockers

KU takes proactive stance on tuition issue

Kansas State Collegian

K-State and KU are just two different schools. That's how officials explain KU's student activism and K-State's more laid-back approach regarding the upcoming tuition KU has had two on-campus rallies to protest large hikes, and Student Body President Justin Mills said he anticipates more. Student Senate also has appointed a committee to recommend a specific number to the administration and suggest how to spend the additional dollars.

Mills said KU students worry the tuition hike will price students out of an education. K-State and KU both are considering doubledigit increases.

"KU has always had a trend of being active about the issues that affect us," he said. "If we wouldn't have been as involved, we would have had a plan by now that wouldn't have been best for the students."

K-State Student Senate has not appointed a committee to discuss the increase. Student Body President Kyle Barker said the Senate executive committee discussed forming one, but decided against it.

"I don't think we felt it was our part to give a counter offer," Barker said. "That might change with the release of the number, but I don't really see that happening right now."

Student Body President-elect Zac Cook said he does not see the need for a committee. Student Governing Association's role should be to inform students of the increase and why it is taking place, he said.

Cook said he would be hesitant to recommend a number. "We don't know every specific detail and what improvements need to be made," he said. "Students are here for four or five years. The administration is looking down the

In January, university administrators met to discuss those long-term goals. About 25 KU students traveled to Topeka to voice concerns to the Kansas Board of Regents that students were left out of the decision-making Cook said he did not know how effective the protest was. Administrations listen to students, but they sometimes have more to consider, he said.

"I don't know if that was the best way to go about it," he said.

K-State and KU administrations met with college councils to present tuition strategies and answer questions. However, KU students told regents they felt excluded from the

On the other hand, Barker praised the administration for including the students. "We never felt like we were left out of anything," he said. "Students always have the opportunity to get out there and voice concerns."

K-State's more laid-back approach shouldn't hurt students, Cook said.

"Not having a sit-in mentality doesn't hurt us," he said. "We don't have to have sit-ins to get changes done."

In May, universities will present their final numbers, which will go into effect this fall and last for five years.

The announcements previously were scheduled for April, but were pushed back because of the Legislature's looming budget

Fewer students at both universities might not hear about the increase in May, Barker said, but it couldn't be helped.

"Students would have preferred to hear by now," he said. "It would have been ideal, but they're not trying to avoid letting people

Capture of leader seen as victory

BY MATT KELLEY The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The capture of a top al-Qaeda leader is a victory in the war against terrorism that could lead to valuable information about Osama bin Laden's network, U.S. officials said Tuesday.

White House spokesman Ari Fleischer said Abu Zubaydah was a member of bin Laden's inner circle, a top terrorism plotter and recruiter of al-Qaeda operatives.

"He will be interrogated about his knowledge of ongoing plans to conduct terrorist activities," Fleischer said. "This represents a very serious blow to al-Qaeda."

Authorities in Pakistan captured Zubaydah on Thursday and turned him over to U.S. authorities. U.S. officials would

See TERRORISM on PAGE 12

Alexander's trial to last all week

BY EDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegian

The trial of Skylor Cole Alexander, an 18-year-old Manhattan man accused of killing a Fort Riley soldier, continued today in Judge Meryl Wilson's courtroom in the Riley County Courthouse.

ALEXANDER

Alexander is accused of fatally stabbing Pfc. Randall Lindsey, 21, in Aggieville on June 30, 2001. The prosecutors for the case are Valerie Peterson and Brenda Jordan. Pedro Luis Irigonegaray is defending Alexander.

The trial is open for the public to attend, however, persons attending the trial can only enter and leave during a

The trial began Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. and ended at 5 p.m. It is scheduled to continue all week.

Officials cannot comment on the case until a ruling is made.

Union receives bomb threat Monday night

BY AMY LINK Kamus State Collegian

At 9:37 p.m. Monday, a bomb threat was called into the K-State Student Union. The call was made to the recreation center in the Union, who then called K-State Police Department to notify them of the situation. K-State police ordered complete evacuation of the building and conducted a search. Nothing was found.

Due to the shortness of the call, it was not considered to be too threatening. However, procedure was followed to ensure safety of students and others in the Union

Robert Mellgern, assistant director of K-State Police, said false bomb threats have happened before but don't occur often.

'They tend to come in spells. We'll get three or four in a row, and then won't get any for a long time," Mellgern said,

Although the call was taken seriously and was reported, it did not cause chaos, said Terri Eddy, manager at the recreation center. He said employees are trained to handle situations like this in case of an

"There is a procedure we follow of who to notify when something like this happens," Eddy said.

Downtown development

Zach Long/Collegian

The Wareham Opera House is one of the few locations in downtown Manhattan that has a similar look of its past state.

Early settlers credited with success of Little Apple

starting college-level courses.

documents from the Riley County

By the 1870s, Manhattan was a busy, prosperous place, according to historical

Historical Society. There were then four blocks of general stores for food, clothing and farm equipment, banks, and it even had an ice-skating rink and opera house in

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kanaas State Collegian

History shows Manhattan was a

On June 1, 1855, the Steamboat Hartford was making its way from Ohio toward the site that is now Junction City. It ran aground and the site was named Manhattan by settlers who established it to be the "Manhattan of the West," according to the Riley County Historical Society.

According to museum documents, Manhattan does deserve the nickname Little Apple.

Once necessities of food and shelter were set up, new Manhattanites looked to build churches and schools. Pioneer Hall, the northern part of the Congregational Church on Poyntz Avenue, still stands - the oldest church building in Manhattan.

Then general stores started to develop. providing supplies needed by farmers and business owners.

"There was a time that farmers in the country would have to make a long wagon ride to come to Manhattan. When they made that ride, they shopped downtown," said Linda Glasgow, Riley County Historical Museum librarian. "When you look at the investment made in those gorgeous buildings, you can see they had a lot of pride."

After general stores were built, one resident focused on entertainment.

This is the first in a three-day series examining downtown Manhattan's history. Read Thursday's article about downtown's competition.

The Wareham Complex was built in 1893 when H.P. Wareham bought Moore's Opera House at 410 Poyntz. Wareham continued to feature vaudeville and opera house attractions. Wareham became the second theater owner in Kansas to show movies. The first schools in 1857 were above stores in downtown Manhattan or in private homes during years that the number of students surpassed available class space, a problem seen in Manhattan again in the 20th

At that time high school ended in the eighth grade, and students could then end their formal education or continue at K-State Agricultural College, which offered a special preparatory curriculum that students completed before actually downtown Manhattan along Poyntz. After the Kansas River proved too shallow, steamboats were not used much for transportation.

Riley County Historical Society

Railroads started becoming popular in 1867, replacing transportation provided by

See DOWNTOWN on PAGE 12

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

LOCAL IN BRIEF

Police recover food stolen from Rusty's Last Chance

More than $200 in food was taken early Tuesday morning from Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon in Aggieville,

According to Riley County Police Department reports, a 15-pound box of bacon, 30-pound package of pork ribs, two cases of chicken strips and a box of Swiss cheese were taken from one of the bar's coolers.

The food, with the exception of the Swiss cheese, was recovered.

Chance General Manager Pete Anderson declined to discuss the

STATE IN BRIEF

March revenue $27 million less than officials expected

TOPEKA - Budget planners received yet another dose of unwelcome news Tuesday with a report that the state's March revenue collections were $27 million less than expected.

Economists and state officials had estimated March 8 that revenue for the month would total $306 million.

But figures indicate total revenue of $279 million, due mostly to shortfalls of $10.8 million in individual income tax payments and $14.4 million in sales tax collections, according to the Legislative Research Department.

State Budget Director Duane Goossen cautioned the new numbers don't necessarily mean the state's budget gap has grown to $727 million from the $700 million reported in mid-March.

House approves standards for Kansas abortion clinics

TOPEKA - A bill that would establish minimum standards for abortion clinics - and restrict access to the procedure, some critics said - won tentative House approval Tuesday.

The clinic regulation bill would require the secretary of health and environment to set minimum standards for abortion clinics. Those standards would require each clinic to have a licensed physician as a medical director, require that a nurse is present during any examination of a patient and that a nurse or physician assistant monitors patients until they are discharged.

The measure also would require the secretary to impose minimum standards for space for different activities, such as counseling, and that clinics have equipment for reviving patients and life support systems.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Israel takes over Bethlehem; 13 Palestinians die in fight

RAMALLAH, West Bank - Israel seized control of Bethlehem and another West Bank town Tuesday in a day of wild fighting that left at least 13 Palestinians dead. Palestinian gunmen forced their way into the Church of the Nativity, where tradition says Jesus was born, and Israeli tanks and helicopters pounded the headquarters of a Palestinian security

Amid what has become the fiercest Israeli offensive in 18 months of conflict, Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat angrily rejected an Israeli offer to free him from confinement in his compound in the West Bank town of Ramallah — provided he goes into exile. Arafat spent a fifth straight day pinned down by Israeli troops and tanks, his compound now ringed by

U.S. Israel stance winning few friends in Mideast

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The United States' strong support for Israel is drawing little backing from other nations and could hurt the coalition against Egypt and Jordan have distanced themselves from President Bush, worried that anger against Israel could spill over into new protests in their countries. Europeans are pressing for a faster Israeli pullout.

In a written appeal to Bush, President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt urged him to "take an immediate action that will stop - as soon as possible - the violent military campaign undertaken by Israel to occupy Palestinian controlled areas," Egypt's Middle East News agency said.

The United States, the moderate Arab leader said, has an important role as "the international power responsible for the preservation of world peace away from oppression. humiliation, mistreatment and injustice."

LEGISLATURE UPDATE

- A Senate redistricting bill drafted by a bipartisan coalition was approved by the chamber on a 29-11 vote. Gov. Bill Graves withdrew a veto threat.
- Budget planners learned that the state's March revenue collections were $27 million less than expected.
- Four bills pushed by abortion opponents received tentative House approval.
- A bill making it easier to declare people dead if their bodies aren't found after a disaster went to Graves.
- The House advanced a bill creating a "United we stand" license plate to commemorate Sept. 11.
- A Senate committee endorsed a bill amending a 1999 law that reorganized the higher education system.

THE GONGFARMER'S Traveloque

The film industry in Duschläfit has been trying to catch up with Hollywood for years, they've finally done it. This film is almost as bad as a Disney production. Is the alumni country club done yet?

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP? K-State professional describes basics of degree program

Political Science

1. How many hours are required to graduate?

2. What careers could I pursue with this degree? There is no set job. Some examples are journalists, public service, state and federal government, and some pursue law degrees

3. What are the advantages/disadvantages of this major? The advantage is you have a very strong liberal arts background, which enables you to do many things. However, there is no set position, so you don't get the benefit of being specialized for a certain occupation. 4. Is graduate school typically required?

It's not required, but it is recommended for those seeking employment with ernment, because it helps them move up in the ranks much faster. 5. What is the average starting salary of a graduate in this major? There is no set salary because there are so many different jobs that students take with this major. Government tends to pay well, while journalism doesn't

Dan Smith

Sporte Editor

Presentation Editor

Source: Aruna Michie, associate professor of political science If you are interested in learning more about a particular major, e-mail news editor Nancy Foster at collegn@spub.ksu.edu

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m.

two days before it is to run.

III Recreational Services will take entries for the intramural home-run derby until Thursday in the adminis-

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Lianghong Liu at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in Durland 129.

M American Cancer Society's KSU Relay For Life will meet from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Union Big 12 Room

■ Career and Employment Services will have a panel of experts from the IRS, ATF, USDA and EPA to discuss tips on getting jobs with the federal government from 3:30 to 5 p.m. today in Union 212.

KSU-Manhattan Chess Club will meet from 6:30 to 10 tonight in Union 206.

the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs. We do not list wheel locks or minor traffic violations because of space

Riley County

Riley Lane, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance or paraphernalia and unlawful possession of substances. No bond was set.

KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight.

Reports are taken directly from

III At 11:30 a.m., Vanessa Siders, 717

At 1 p.m., Danny Henderson, Missouri, was arrested for battery. Bond was set at $1,500.

POLICE REPORTS

Monday, April 1

m At 2:15 p.m., Michael Rincon, Burlington, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $750.

m At 3:25 p.m., Andrew Sinn, Ogden, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $100. III At 9 p.m., Gabreil Gillespie, 1203 Laramie, was arrested for burglary. No bond was set. ■ At 9:35 p.m., Dana Robb, 1019 Yuma, Apt. 3, was arrested for two ## counts of probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000.

Tuesday, April 2 At 12:55 a.m., Michael Dokken, 801 Greenfield Circle, was arrested for theft. Bond was set at $500.

K-State Police

III No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Editor in Chief April Middleton

Jessica Pitts

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Photo Director

Asst. Photo Director

Paul Restivo

Alyson Raletz

Dana Strongin

City/Gov Editor

Nicole Donnert Katie Lane

JJ Duncan Micah Hawkinson ARE Editor

Jodi Fagerquist Amber Koehn

Alissa Duncan

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Asst. Ad Manager

532-6556

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

102, Manhattan, Kan Golder, The Conteman regulational the stiming. Periodical pentage is paid at Maidiation, Kan. 19802. PERIMANTER Sent address charges to feature Mat. Collegium, experimentos deck. Korlene 1815, Mannatlan, Kan, 10, 100, 7107

O Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Newsroom 532-6560 Display advertising Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch!

(Ask about our monthly specials)

American Legion

Sunday 2 p.m. Mini-Bingo 1:15 p.m. Tuesday 1:30 p.m. Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Mini-Bingo 6:45 p.m. "Progressive Bingo" Sundays & Wednesdays - Win Big Bucks -

114 McCall Rd.

Fresh/Soph Engineering Students

LEGO Mindstorm/Robolab Design Competition

Fiedler Hall Library TODAY :: 3 April, 6:00 p.m.

Teams of up to four students will design a robot to complete an assigned task using only the LEGO Mindstorm Robotic Invention

Kit or ROBOLAB and a PC Awards 1st Place: $175 2nd Place: $150

3rd Place: $100

Further information and rules may be found at www.engg.ksu.edu/STEELRING

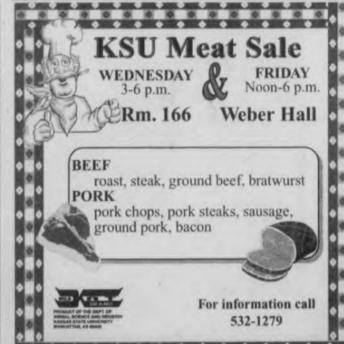

> ...endless possibilities... 80th Engineering Open House Organized by Steel Ring

Intramural Entry Deadline

Thursday, April 4, by 5 p.m. Recreational Services Office

Recreational Services Office 532-6980

K-State SINGERS AUDITIONS 2002-2003

- * Vocalists
- * Pianist
- * Sound Technician
- * Bass guitarist

* Percussion

For applications & more information contact Gerald Polich McCain 229

Applications due Monday April 15th. www.ksu.edu/kssingers

Brownback visits agricultural facilities Mayor honors K-State students at meeting

Konsas State Collegian

U.S. Sen. Sam Brownback toured K-State agriculture facilities Tuesday during his two-week Easter recess.

Agriculture officials met with Brownback on Tuesday to report agriculture and bioterrorism research. and report ideas for future research.

Brownback said homeland protection has been a focus since Sept. 11, and K-State has a good shot at receiving federal funding for bioterforism research, including K-State's Food Safety Lab.

"This is such a clear, potential threat," he said. " You can see them planning a similar threat with bioterrorism."

He said bioterrorism and agriculture research is needed because terrorists are capable of hitting multiple locations.

A terrorist attack on Kansas agriculture would cost the economy millions of dollars and would spread fear into eyes of Americans, he said.

"They are after terror, and that's what this does," Brownback said.

Before Sept. 11, Brownback said there was a potential for terrorism, but after Sept. 11, became "the topic."

"Now that we know terrorism is an issue, we'll have to talk about funding. How high of a priority is this? We're going to have to fight to make sure it's a high priority.

Chuck Alderson, state director in Brownback's office, said the bioterrorism conference at K-State last week

Zach Long/Collegian

U.S. Sen. Sam Brownback takes a moment to converse during his visit to the K-State campus Tuesday. Agriculture officials met with Brownback to report research regarding agriculture and bioterrorism.

was big news regarding the farm bill and energy policies being discussed on Capitol Hill.

"There's certainly a lot of visibility with this issue. The senator is definitely one that doesn't want to see any problems regarding public health or the economy," he said.

Other than bioterrorism research, Brownback said he was excited to hear the accomplishments from K-State research and learning of new capabilities.

Agronomy Department Head David Mengel reported there is a new breed of wheat that has reported 15 percent higher yields than Jagger, the most widely grown wheat variety in

When Brownback asked Mengel why this experimental wheat produces such a higher yield, Mengel said it is because of the wheat's larger

COMMISSION

Read more in-depth

solution to the Third

Street and Bluemont

Avenue intersection

Thursday's Collegian.

coverage on the commission's

Kunsas Statu Collegian

intersection dominated

Commission meeting.

However, Mayor Bruce

Snead devoted a portion of the evening to honor

the efforts of K-State

Students for Environmental Action

importance of recycling.

received one of three Mayor

Sustainability awards for campus and

"I've seen SEA's efforts over the last city efforts aimed toward increasing year on campus and in our community," Snead said. "They've worked hard both on campus and off with innovative projects and just plain

Members of SEA also served on the city recycling task force, Snead said before recognizing the organization for their success in garnering a

$3,000 award as part of their efforts on

Ben Champion, treasurer and

2001 president of SEA, said the mayor notified the organization that they had received the award prior hard work on the mission of expanding recycling.

America Recycles Day.

awareness of the environmental most of Tuesday evening's City

students.

Solutions to traffic congestion at the Bluemont Avenue and Third Street

"Hopefully we can use this to promote the organization and cause people to take more notice," he said. "It will definitely promote the organi> zation's momentum. In other discussion, commissioners reviewed proposed improvements to the Tuttle Creek Boulevard and Bluemont corridor. The agenda item was tabled at the Feb. 19 meeting.

City Engineer Scott Crain outlined 12 possible remedies for traffic congestion and safety concerns at the intersection including the option to do

Crain discussed in detail the initial plan introduced at the Feb. 19 meeting, calling for a widening of Bluemont to seven lanes and constructing a median to control traffic flow in addition to other changes He also discussed a plan introduced by a collective group of Third Street business owners which called for two roundabouts, one at the intersection of Third Street and Bluemont, and another at Bluemont and Tuttle Creek. Both plans were endorsed by the Kansas Department of Transportation and considered the most feasible by Crain. Commissioners had taken no action at the time of publication.

PROGRAM

COMEDY ATURING MICHAEL, JR.

Grocery Market Bingo Board and Card Games Wind Chimes Craft-Making FREE BREAKFAST @ 11pm FREE MOVIE "ROAD TRIP" @ 12am it all starts at 9pm in the K-State Student Union!

UNION PROGRAM COUNCIL presents | DIPENhouse

AITOWN

9am - 2pm Get your picture taken with Willie the Wildoat and K-State sports stars by Photographic Services. Test your abilities on an obstacle course.

11am - 1pm Take your lunch break outside on the K-State Student Union

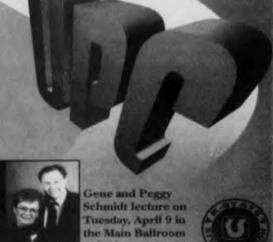

www.ksu.edu/upc | 532 6572

A film director tries to cope with his frantic producer, too-amorous actors, and a disaster-prone crew as he rushes to get his deeply symbolic hockey movie

"Dolores" done in time for the Venice Film Festival MON 4/8 | 7PM FORUM HALL FREE!

for STEPHANIE

Nine months after the brutal rape and murder of their daughter, the Schmidt family changed KS law...

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p

1005 Bluemont #8 Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

*Starting at $370

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p Sat. 11a-1p *Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only *Starting at $400 925 Denison #9

Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420 1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p

*Starting at $400

T 2p-4p

W 5p-7p

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie, #5 Th 5p-7p *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p. *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $580

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p 5at 1p-3p *Starting at $600

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3 Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p 5un 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $700

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $950

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $810

776-3804 http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development

STUDENT GOVERNING ASSOCIATION GET INVOLVED NOW!

Applications available at the Office of Student Activities and Services (OSAS), ground floor, K-State Student Union, or at www.ksu.edu/sga Applications are due in the OSAS Friday, April 12th, by 4:00 p.m.

Executive Branch Cabinet Positions:

Chief of Staff

Academic Quality Coordinator

Adult Student Services Coordinator

College Council Coordinator

Environmental Concerns Coordinator

Governmental Relations Director

International Affairs Director

Multicultural Affairs Director

Off-Campus Housing Coordinator

On-Campus Housing Coordinator

Public Relations Director

Student Life Coordinator

Technology Coordinator

Judicial Branch Appointments:

Parking Citations Appeals Board (6 positions available)

Student Review Board (5 positions available)

Student Tribunal (5 positions available)

Legislative Branch Appointments:

Student Senate Parliamentarian

Student Senate Secretary

Legislative Branch Appointments:

Academic Affairs/University Relations

Allocations

Governmental Relations

Privilege Fee

Senate Operations

Student Affairs and Social Services University Committee At-Large Positions:

Please come to the Office of Student Activities and Services for a complete listing of University Committees.

Senate should follow KU's lead, get involved in tuition proposal

▶ OUR VOICE

and debated by the editorial board and written after a majority opinion is formed. OUR VOICE is the Collegian's official

Jessica Pitts April Middleton Nancy Foster Dana Strongin Alyson Raletz Nancy Hull Amber Koehn Dan Smlth Paul Restivo Katle Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

When discussing responses to tuition proposals, K-State just doesn't compare to

The problem with K-State's response: no response at all.

We can't excuse ourselves by claiming we have no role. KU students created a role by having rallies and visiting the Kansas Board of Regents. They even created a committee to make a specific proposal to the administration.

All this happens, while we, the students, and our elected student officials sit and wait for the numbers to hit.

It is the the role of student senators to represent the students who elected them. They should start promoting student involvement in tuition decisions.

Leading the senators should be our student body president-elect, Zac Cook. Cook, instead of leaving the decision solely to administrators, needs to understand the importance of Senate having a role.

With the encouragement of Cook and student officials, we can take a step toward student activism in the tuition decision.

Tuition will and should increase. K-State cannot remain competitive at the current funding level. The question is how much and in what way it will increase.

It's hard to understand why students and their representatives would passively let the increase wash over us. This apathy only will cause the wave of increases to crash into us at the last minute.

Instead, aggressive involvement is needed. Let's take our chance now to have a say in a matter greatly affecting our ability to obtain a college education.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

Paul White looks like a guitarist from Hanson. That's right, Mmmm Bop.

Hey, Nick Bratkovic, go back to film review school.

Please, somebody put a stop to Paul White's freedom to express his stupidity.

To the person who called in and said KU. will always suck: what did the K-State men's post-season look like this year?

Note to self: do not ask ex-girlfriend to help with current girlfriend problems.

The Collegian lowers its intelligence standards by carrying Paul White's views.

Two of daddy's GMCs: $70,000. Two handicap tags: $140. Two front-row stalls at Goodnow Hall: free. Getting wheel-locked because neither of you are handicapped: priceless. How can you two live with yourselves?

To the women who want to challenge us: Peter Morris and I accept. We will be at the rec Wednesday at 7:30 with our intramural championship T-shirts on.

Hey, Paul White, why don't you go down; to the VFW and tell the veterans about all those wars we've been manufacturing.

Show some school spirit. Vote for the purple M&M.

I would like to thank all the skinny girls running around Manhattan in their sports bras for making me feel fat.

Why are all the good-looking ones always insane?

Yeah, Night Rider could definitely kick Speed Racer's ass.

ONLINE

Not enough Fourum in today's Collegian? See the complete version at www.kstatecollegian.com

READERS WRITE

Columnist's opinions ridiculous; paper must accept more views

As I sit here looking over Monday's editorial page, I am amazed the Collegian would even consider printing anything scribbled out by Paul White.

His rants are about as far from legitimate editorials as one can get, and his opinions are so far left of mainstream that most of what he writes would be absolutely comical if he weren't serious. White obviously has a vendetta against President Bush. He is entitled to every one of his opinions, but most of the time his facts are just plain wrong, misconstrued and paraphrased to help make his case.

In his "Tainted Term" article, White continues to beat a dead horse by bringing up the 2000 election yet again, quoting an unknown source that Gore was the winner.

Sorry, Paul, but CNN.com, not known for being pro-Bush, reported April 4, 2001, that "if a recount of Florida's disputed votes in last year's close presidential election had been allowed to proceed by the U.S. Supreme Court, Rep. George W. Bush still would have won the White House, two newspapers (Miami Herald and USA Today) reported Wednesday."

It's over, Paul. You lost. Get over it. White continues his tirade, bringing Enron into the picture. The fact is there was no political scandal. Democrats practically were foaming at the mouth with news of Enron's collapse. When they realized Enron's downfall was business-related they crawled away with their tails between their legs. White steps over the line when he suggests Bush "manufacture(d) a war" to boost his popularity. The war on terrorism began when planes smashed into the World Trade Center. The subsequent military action was neces-

Having White's articles appear unchallenged week after week gives the distinct impression the Collegian has become a mouthpiece for left-wing extremism, and if his articles are an attempt at "open-mindedness" they are failing miserably.

It would do the paper well to have opposing views of issues that White brings up K-State is a multi-cultural, politically varied school, and it's time the Collegian recognized that and showed students more than one extreme point of view.

> - Jesse Manning freshman in history and political science

In remembrance

King's prophetic words offer timeless message

pril 4 marks 32 years since the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated.

King was shot and killed in Memphis, Tenn., after speaking at a sanitation workers' strike.

In honor of the life of King, I devote my column this week to excerpts from that final speech, "I Have Been to the Mountain Top.

"... We aren't going to let any mace stop us. We are master in our nonviolent movement in disarming police forces. They don't know what to do. I've seen them so often.

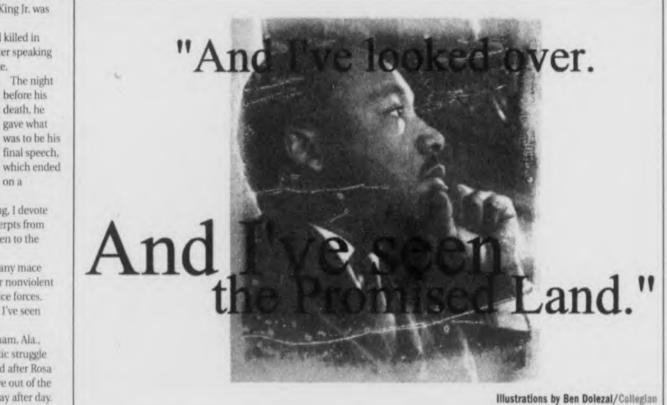

"I remember in Birmingham, Ala., when we were in that majestic struggle there (the bus boycott started after Rosa Parks' arrest), we would move out of the 16th Street Baptist Church day after day. By the hundreds we would move out.

"And Bull Connor (Birmingham Police Chief) would tell them to send the dogs forth, and they did come, but we just went before the dogs singing, 'Ain't gonna let nobody turn me round. "Bull Connor next would say: "Turn the fire hoses on.' And as I said to you the other night, Bull Connor didn't know history. He knew a kind of physics that somehow didn't relate to the transphysics that we knew about. "And that was the fact that there was a certain kind of fire that no water could put out. And we went before the fire hoses. We had known water. If we were Baptist or some other denomination, we had been immersed. If we were Methodist, and some others, we had been sprinkled, but we knew water.

"Water couldn't stop us. "And we just went on before the dogs, and we would look at them. And we'd go on before the water hoses, and we would look at it, and we'd just go on singing

'Over my head I see freedom in the air. "And then we would be thrown in the paddy wagons, and sometimes we were stacked in there like sardines in a can. And they would throw us in, and old Bull would say, 'Take them off,' and they did.

"We would just go in the paddy wagon singing, 'We Shall Overcome.' And every now and then we'd get in the jail, and we'd see the jailers looking through the windows being moved by our prayers, and being moved by our words and our

"And there was a power there which Bull Connor couldn't adjust to, and so we ended up transforming Bull into a steer, and we won our struggle in Birmingham.

"All we say to America is, 'Be true to what you said on paper."

"If I lived in China or even Russia, or any totalitarian country, maybe I could understand the denial of certain basic First Amendment privileges, because they hadn't committed themselves to that over there.

"But somewhere I read of the freedom of assembly.

"Somewhere I read of the freedom of

"Somewhere I read of the freedom of

'Somewhere I read that the greatness of America is the right to protest for right. And so, just as I say, we aren't going to let any injunction turn us around.

"We are going on .

".... I've been to the mountaintop.

"And I don't mind. Like anybody, I would like to live a long life. Longevity has its place. But I'm not concerned about that now. I just want to do God's "He's allowed me to go up to the mountain. And I've looked over. And I've seen the promised land. "I may not get there with you. But I want you to know tonight that we, as a people, will get to the promised land.

"And I'm happy tonight. I'm not a worried about anything. I'm not fearing any man. Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord."

David is a junior in political science and public relations. You can e-mail him at dlm7676@ksu.edu.

Book exposes Jesse Jackson's as 'shakedown artist'

aying lesse Jackson is an honest man is like saying Shawn Kemp and Steve Garvey are the poster boys for good parenting. (For the record, Kemp and Garvey are the fathers of multiple children, all out of wedlock, by several women.)

Kenneth R. Timmerman's book, "Shakedown: Exposing the Real Jesse Jackson," uncovers Jackson deceit, and one who cares only about wielding power and making money for himself and his friends. Jackson is the ultimate "shake-

for who he is - a man

Colby Gordon

down" artist. He tells major corporations that unless they do business with certain companies (which are run by his friends who are trying to get contracts), or unless they hire more minority employees (corporations then surprisingly hire Jackson's friends), he will boycott them.

Once corporations have yielded to Jackson's threats of bad publicity, Jackson and his organizations get huge kick-backs from his friends or the companies he recommends.

Timmerman gives the merger between GTE and Bell Atlantic (now Verizon) as an example

When the merger was first announced, Jackson was strongly against it.

He approached the companies and told them he would make problems for them with the FCC unless they gave some of Jackson's organizations money.

All of a sudden, Jackson's organizations received hundreds of thousands of dollars from GTE and Bell Atlantic, and Jackson changed his position on the African-American publisher Hurley Green said in a May 1988 article from The New Republic, "Any time

Jesse shows up now. it's going to cost you.' Timmerman wrote that Jackson's life of lies started very early, when Jackson claimed to have been the last person on earth to talk to the great Martin Luther King Jr. Jackson said he cradled King's head in his arms after King had been shot.

The truth is, eyewitnesses say Jackson was nowhere near King when shots rang out, but was down in the courtyard while King was on the balcony.

Jackson was not the first person to cradle King's body, but he was the first person to talk to the TV cameras that showed up shortly thereafter.

Jackson saw the opportunity to get into the limelight and took it at the expense of the death of one of this country's greatest civil rights leaders and historical figures.

To compare Jackson to King is a true insult lackson's supposedly "non-profit organization," the Citizenship Education Fund, still has not filed a tax return for 2000. The CEF is the organization that paid Jackson's mistress and mother of his child, Karin Stanford, $35,000 to move away from him. The CEF also collected $12 million during the twoyear period for 1998 and 1999, but spent only $47,000 on education.

However, they spent more than $1.3 million on consulting, but will not say who the consultants are. Another interesting fact about Jackson that Timmerman reveals is how he dropped out of seminary in the late '60s and just recently got his master's of divinity from the Chicago Theological Seminary.

The only thing Jackson had to do to get his master's degree was talk to a faculty member for two hours about abortion and the death penalty.

How does one get his master's degree from a two-hour conversation?

I'm not sure, but one should note that Jesse Jackson, Jr., just happened to be a new member on the Chicago Theological Seminary Board of Trustees.*

I'm not blind to the fact that Jackson has done good things, but his life has been mainly about lies and deception, and it is unfortunate his behavior has reflected that.

Colby is a senior in electronic journalism. You can e-mail him at csg5555@ksu.edu.

Speaker promotes equality among women

Kansas State Callegias

Securing rights for women in Afghanistan is vital if further progress is to be made in rebuilding Afghanistan, a speaker said Tuesday.

Talat Rahman, professor for the Department of Physics, gave a speech, "Impressions from the First All Afghan Women's Jirga held December 2001" in the Ramada Inn ballroom to discuss her experiences and insights about the state of women in Afghanistan.

Rahman was born in India and grew up in Bangladesh and Pakistan. Rahman traveled to Peshwar, Pakistan, in December to attend the first all-women's jirga ¿. A jirga is a council or unity of people where issues are discussed. She said 700 came to the meeting to talk about women's representation in education, health care and civil rights. She said the meeting was overwhelming for some of the

"Some dressed like western women, while others only had their eyes showing," she said. "It was an attempt to cross party, cultural and ethnic lines in order to talk about rights and that we want representation in society.

The idea that Afghanistan has always been backwards is wrong, Rahman said. In 1963, women helped to put together a constitution that guaranteed equal rights. By 1992, women composed 50 percent of the work force, she said.

"There was tremendous progress made in Afghanistan for women's rights," she said. "Look at India and Pakistan for example, you just don't see that."

Guaranteeing equal rights for women in Afghan society is a priority, Rahman said, because women might be scared of retribution for rejoining

"The question right now is what's going to happen with reentry of women into Afghan society with the influence of Islamic fundamentals," she said. "The new government may not be forthcoming in granting

She said international pressure might influence the decisions made by the new interim government.

"Women have suffered so much that they can come out and say what culture and religion is or isn't."

Talat Rahman, professor for the Department of Physics

"However, the idea is that they would like help when needed, but they want to be left alone mostly," Rahman said.

"Most people realize that the government faces gigantic pressure."

Rahman questioned what is in store for the future of Afghan women. She said that even though the Taliban is no longer functioning, there are still numerous cultural clashes between rich and poor, modernists and antimodernists, and theocracy and secular ideals.

"We need to provide women with economic viability," she said. "Women have suffered so much that they can come out and say what culture and religion is or isn't."

Working to eliminate poverty is critical in order to secure more stability, Rahman said. She said most of the women at the jirga represented women at refugee camps with no jobs or money.

She said the people welcome support, but they want to fight the battles for themselves. There have been 23 years of intervention from two superpowers and Pakistan, she

"You're talking about a country that has been invaded for years and years," Rahman said. "How do you bring about transformation?"

Rahman said it was positive that two women were included in the new interim Afghan government, but much more still needs to be done.

She said it is still too early to pass judgment on new interim leader Hamid Karzai after only a few

"Does Karzai have the courage to stand up for changes to improve women's lives?" she said. "There should be no choice but to include

Sign of spring

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

A group of daffodlis stands along the sidewalk near President John Wefald's house late Tuesday afternoon.

Former chief urges others to break stereotypes

BY LINDSEY BURKET

Kánsas State Collegia

The traditions, rituals and history of America's earliest people have gotten lost among negative stereotypes that formed in today's society, Wilma Mankiller told a standing-roomonly crowd Tuesday in her keynote presentation for the American ethnic studies lecture.

She said people need to see through stereotypes by educating themselves about the history and context of American Indians.

Mankiller, an author, activist and former principal chief of the Cherokee Nation, spoke to students and community members as part of K-State's Native American Heritage Month celebration. She was the first woman to serve as principal chief of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma and was re-elected to the position in 1991.

Mankiller has been the recipient of numerous awards and is involved as a trustee and board member for multiple organizations. She also has accumulated honorary doctorates from 13 universities

"Wilma has a lot to teach people about the richness of the Native American history," said Juanita McGowan, director of American Ethnic Studies.

"She's a role model for students with her sense of grace, her sense of leadership, and how she sustains herself through it

A question many people have about American Indians is why the ethnic group has had so many problems throughout the years. Mankiller said the problems are partly due to the social, economic and cultural effect that forced migration has had on them.

"It would be like if foreign people came to K-State, rounded everyone up, and forced them to move to Maine," Mankiller said. "You would then be expected to start the same kind of family and community as you did here in a strange place with few belongings. That is exactly what happened to the Native American people.

While many Americans are naïve about the struggles of American Indians, they also are very uninformed about the way they live today, Mankiller said. She shared the story of how a New York reporter called her and asked if she rode a horse to work.

She went on to tell the reporter she lived in a teepee and her husband hunted for all their food. and the reporter believed every word of it. Of course, Mankiller and her husband live in a normal house, and she drives a car to work like any other person.

But she said the reporter's view of her people is surprisingly the view of many people. It is now important for American Indians to educate the public on exactly who they are. It also is important for everyone else to open their minds and learn about different

"The best thing an individual person can do is simply educate themselves about Native American people, and then share it with their peers," Mankiller said. "If they did that, it would create a lot of discussion, a lot of dialogue and eliminate a lot of misunderstanding."

While many think the American Indian culture is losing its traditions, many are still holding onto their heritage, Mankiller said. They are a people building a better future and trying to put to rest an uneasy past, as she noted one of her favorite phrases from the Mohawk tribe:

You can't see the future with KANSAS STATI COLLEGIAN 103 KLOZO 532 6553 tears in your eyes," she said.

NEED A ROOMMATE? WANT FOOTBALL TICKETS? TRYING TO SELL YOUR CAR?

POS KEDIZIE TRY THE COLLEGIAN. 122-6333

据 Whatever the reason, find a way out of your lease with a classified 雷 ad in the Collegian Housing/Real Estate Category *115 Rooms Available *145 Roommate Wanted *150 Sublease KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie

532-6555

J.CREW

warehouse sale

April 9-13 MOTIVATED WORKERS NEEDED

> Bramlage Coliseum 1800 College Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

$7.50 PR HR Am/Pm Shifts Available 4-Hour Shifts

CALL (800) 329-2015

Office of Student Activities & Services is currently accepting applications for

Consumer & Tenant Affairs Director

Responsibilities include: Provide information on landlord rights & responsibilities, mediate roommate disputes, offer off-campus housing assistance, & aid in resolving consumer complaints on products & services.

Applications due by noon, Friday, April 5th

*Position begins Summer 2002 & goes through May 2003.

*Applications available in the Office of Student Activities & Services, Ground Floor, K-State Union call 532-6541

Cat rival comes to Manhattan

BY SEAN PURCELL

Kansas State Collegian

K-State's tennis team is hoping to end its losing streak today at the Washburn Tennis Facility, while KU is focused on continuing its winning ways.

The Big 12-leading Jayhawks have won eight straight, a streak dating back to early March. The Cats, on the other hand, have dropped two consecutive matches and have fallen back in the league standings.

Despite the troubles, the team still is trying to stay positive. "There are ups and downs with every match," senior Kathy Chuda said. "You have to take those and just keep playing."

Kansas (11-3, 5-0) has a strong hold on the all-time 44-4 series lead with the Wildcats. But K-State claimed a 5-2 win over the Jayhawks in Lawrence last year a victory the team will keep in the back of their mind as they hit the courts today.

"It's a huge homestand for us," Coach Steve Bietau said. "All the teams we will play are good, and we are getting down to the crucial part of the season, so it is important to play well."

K-State (8-5, 3-2) dropped the first match in its four-match homestand March 30 to Baylor. The Wildcats also will play Missouri and Iowa State later in the week.

But for veteran players, the match with Kansas might be the biggest of the week.

"I didn't realize how big a rival KU was when I first got here," Chuda said. "I was like KU, KSU, what's the difference?

"I can start to feel it now, though. The freshmen and sophomores don't really know what we are talking about, but to win against KU will still be big for us."

For Kansas, three players stand undefeated in singles competition. Junior Kim Lorenz is 7-0 in league play, while Aurelie Bejar and Courtney Steinbock are 5-0 and 6-0, respectively.

In order to be successful against the Jayhawks, the Cats will have to combat that with stellar play from their veteran singles players.

Senior Alena Jecminkova is 3-2 in league play and 11-11 overall at No. 1 singles. Chuda, at No. 2 singles, is riding a threematch winning streak going into today's play. She is 8-3 this spring, 3-2 in the Big 12 and 14-8 for the year.

Junior Petra Sedlmajerova also is 3-2 in conference play. Sedlmajerova has won nine of her last 12 matches and is 13-9 overall this year. K-State also will look for a strong performance out of freshman sensation Maria Rosenberg, who leads the Cats with a 4-1 singles record league. She has a 13-9 overall mark at No. 4 singles for the

With just five regular-season matches remaining on the schedule, the Cats know that every match is critical. The homecourt might be an advantage, Chuda said, but winning is always the focal point, whether they're at home or away.

"It's important to get this win while we are at home," she said.

SPRING FEVER

Coach Bill Snyder answers questions at the K-State football press conference on Tuesday. There are still questions concerning where the Wildcats will practice this summer.

Jenny Braniff/

Questions linger as football practice sessions begin

BY DEREK BOSS

State's resurgence starts today. After four consecutive 11win seasons, the Wildcats finished 6-6 in 2001 - the team's first non-winning year since 1992. And the rebound begins this afternoon, when K-State kicks off spring football practice.

Quarterback Ell Roberson said he still K-State's demoralizing 26-3 loss to Syracuse in the Insight.com Bowl.

"To be put in a good situation - in Arizona to play a top-notch team - and to fold like we did, we just didn't get the job done." Roberson said. "It's one of those days that you wish you could get back, but you can't."

No, the Wildcats can't get that one back, but they know what they have to do. Coach Bill Snyder said improvement will continue to be the team's main goal each spring, no matter how the previous season turned out.

"That encompasses everything," he said. "There's a lot of things that probably need to be addressed, and the first thing is personnel you have to replace.

"It's a matter of taking the personnel we have right now, and doing every single thing that we can for 20 days to see that each young guy is able to improve on a regular day-to-day basis."

Only there is one difference this

"We probably won't practice in the sand pile out there." Snyder said.

The re-turfing project at KSU Stadium won't be completed until the first of June, which restricts K-State to indoor and practice-field preparations. Snyder said the team usually spends about 40 percent of its spring practice time on Wagner Field.

But a customary location isn't needed o bring a group together and build needed chemistry. The Cats simply need time to get acquainted, especially with the addition of two new members to the coaching staff: co-defensive coordinators Bobby Elliott and Bret Bielema.

"It's really important for us to get on the field," Snyder said. "It's kind of hard to do through the out-of-season program, so it really becomes significant for both our players and our coaches."

Although improvement might be Snyder's mainstay, he hopes to find answers for several key position needs this

Offensively, K-State returns seven players that made starts last season, while 10 were lost to graduation. The biggest gap is at wide receiver, where no letterwinners are back from a year ago. Plus, the Cats' top three recruits at wide-out - junior college transfers John Cooper, Tony Madison and James Terry - won't be in

"To be put in a good situation - in Arizona to play a top-notch team - and to fold like we did, we just didn't get the job done. It's one of those days that you wish you could get back, but you can't."

Ell Roberson, quarterback

Manhattan for spring ball.

K-State also has the task of replacing star tailback Josh Scobey, who broke the school's single-season rushing record in 2001. Snyder said he isn't planning on taking a runningback-by-committee approach, however. He wants to find a No. 1, which likely will be found in junior Danny Morris, sophomore Darren Sproles or redshirt freshman Carlos Alsup.

Despite Sproles' 5-foot-7, 170-pound stature, Snyder said he feels the Olathe

North product can be a downhill runner. "Based on what I know about Darren at this point in time and what I've seen this past season, I really don't doubt his durability," Snyder said. "If you really scrutinized very carefully what he did in the limited time that he played, you'd see a young guy that does play aggressively, does run aggressively, and can be a physical runner inside.

"And it took place in the ballgames, so I don't lack for confidence in his ability to be the complete package."

Questions also continue to swirl around the quarterback position, which returns both Ell Roberson and Marc Dunn, who split time under center last season. Both will enter the spring at an even keel, though junior Jeff Schwinn is making considerable progress. Snyder said.

"Jeff does have a viable chance, and will be given a viable opportunity to do that. Obviously, he's down in the pecking order, but he's going to be getting some opportunities," Snyder said.

The others, namely Roberson and Dunn, have continued to leave a question mark. In the bowl loss to the Orangemen, Snyder was forced to use the QBs interchangeably because neither could get the offense moving.

But after reviewing tape and analyzing everything. Snyder said the struggles last season shouldn't be solely blamed on one

"Our quarterbacks were not all that we would have liked for them to have been, but they weren't all that they weren't credited with, either," Snyder said. "I think our quarterbacks were probably 10 to 15

See FOOTBALL OF PAGE 8

K-State set to play host to No. 8 Wichita State at Tointon Stadium

Wildcats hope to use momentum from weekend wins over Nebraska against WSU

BY BEN FEHR

Kansas State Collegian

That, following a Wednesday matchup with the No. 8 Wichita State Shockers, will be the number of ranked teams K-State baseball has faced in their last 10 games.

The showdown with 16-6 Wichita State will take place at 2 p.m. within the friendly confines of Tointon Family Stadium.

The schedule has been a trying one for these Cats of late, to say the least.

But at 16-11, K-State is none the worse for wear, taking two of three games from then No. 8 Nebraska and one from then No. 20 Oklahoma State in winning five of their last

The reason for recent success is simple a steady dose of solid hitting. "Our hitters aren't giving away outs,"

Coach Mike Clark said. "Even with two outs, they're still competing and finding a way to put the ball in play.

"We are creating offense and taking advantage of opportunities. We put together a lot of quality at bats, and that's what you have to do to stay competitive."

K-State's .327 team batting average ranks second in the Big 12.

K-State's Osmar Castilio releases a throw during the Wildcats win over Nebraska Friday at Frank Meyers Field at Tointon Family Stadium. The Wildcats will host instate rival and No. 8 ranked Wichita State at 3 p.m. today. The Cats also are the only team in the conference to have four individuals rank among the top 20 in hitting.

Outfielder Pat Maloney leads the league in hitting with a .430 average through 27 games. Designated hitter Tim Doty (.396), third baseman Ty Soto (.389), and shortstop Osmar Castillo (.356) round out the top 20 showing.

Maloney also places among the top five in the Big 12 in eight other offensive categories.

Second baseman Boogie Taylor said offense is great but means nothing without good defense, an area that has been a workin-progress for the Cats this season.

"Early on, we were getting used to each other defensively, so we had some miscues," Taylor said. "It took some time to become a unit, but we're close to that now, and it's

See BASEBALL on PAGE B

Zach Long/Collegian

KSU shortstop earns Big 12 player of the week honors

K-State shortstop Osmar Castillo was named the Phillips 66 Big 12 Player of the Week on Monday.

Castillo earned the honor with a solid .727 batting average in three games against Nebraska in the teams' threegame set last weekend.

"I'm really happy for Osmar," Coach Mike Clark said. "He wasn't 100 percent all weekend, so it's a credit to him as a player that he kept competing when he was not at his best physically.

Castillo was injured while trying to stretch a single to extra bases in the Cats' 22-6 loss to the Huskers on Saturday.

"He has really injected some energy into the lead-off spot," Clark said.

"He was struggling at the beginning of the year, but now he seems to be back and even better than he was at midseason last year."

Castillo finished the week with a .667 average for the week with 10 hlts in 15 plate appearances against C.W. Post

"He has really injected some energy into the leadoff spot."

Mike Clark, coach and Nebraska.

Playing in just one of the two contests against the Pioneers, the Venezuela import went 2-for-4 with a double, two runs and an RBI.

Castillo ranks fourth on the team in batting average, connecting at a .354 clip in 23 starts this season. He also has a career-best nine-game hitting streak heading into today's contest with Wichita State. Four Wildcats rank in the top 20 in individual hitting in the conference, and Castillo leads the Big 12 in conferenceonly average.

- K-State Sports Information contributed to this article.

Cars need preventative care

BY TARA PATTY

Kansas State Collegian

Preventative measures in the spring, when temperatures are just starting to warm up, might save car owners a lot of frustration later, said a local car care specialist.

Mike Conkwright, shop manager for Bud's Auto Service, said that when temperatures begin to rise, owners should prepare for summer's severe conditions.

"If you stay on top of it, you won't get caught in a bad situation," he said.

In extreme temperatures, like in winter and summer, things really start to go wrong, Conkwright said. Parts of the car, like the starter and the battery, perform slower during these times.

"The main concern is the cooling system and air conditioner," said Gregg Flakes, owner and manager of Precision Automotive, Inc. "A lot of times cooling problems won't show

> Sell your nearly new clothes, that comfortable > old couch, and the tie

Aunt Martha gave you for your 16th birthday.

Advertise your garage or yard sale in the Collegian Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

$60 Foil Hilite

$5 Brow Wax

Flakes said it is a good idea to flush the cooling system, if necessary, and make sure hoses are in good condition during spring months. If there are problems with the system, the thermostat in the car might need to be replaced.

Every time the oil is changed. car owners also should check fluid levels in the car, he said.

"Coming in to spring time is a good time to get the air conditioner checked," he said. "Don't wait until the first hot day and then be upset if it doesn't work.'

It is simple to check over the car and make sure hoses are not about to break, said Louis Abernathy, owner of Abernathy Foreign and Domestic Auto Repair.

In addition to inspecting hoses for cracks, it also is important to make sure belts and filters are still functioning properly.

The transmission filter should be replaced every two years, he said, and it also is important to ensure the air filter is is functioning properly.

The Collegian is the place

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 KEDZIE 532-6555

to buy and sell tickets!

Just call 532-6555 to place your ad!

$20 Full Set

or Pedicure

$27.50 Brazilian Bikini Wax

$10 Manicure

He said tire pressure also is really important when the temperature is changing.

"If you don't keep tires properly inflated, you can have premature tire wear." Flakes said.

Conkwright said car owners should have their fluids checked every 3,000 to 4,000 miles during regular service intervals. Most car manuals have specific guidelines that should be followed so drivers can eliminate potential problems. Fluids to monitor include antifreeze, transmission fluid and differential fluids, he said. Also, brake problems are often disguised in winter when it is colder and more difficult to hear sounds the car is making, he said. "Lots of times when it's a little bit colder, you don't hear things as well," Conkwright said.

When the temperature warms up and the windows are down, individuals are more likely to hear a little squeak and might not think anything of it, he said.

"Pretty soon you hear metal on metal, and you need a whole new break job," he said.

City spring clean-up begins this week

BY MICHAEL LAWRENCE

Any Manhattan citizen who has large pieces of furniture collecting dust or has massive mounds of yard waste can easily dispose of them this week without charge, said a public works official.

This week has been declared Manhattan's Spring Clean-Up.

Chuck Williams, assistant director of public works, said every Manhattan resident should have received a pick-up schedule that indicates when trash collectors will be in their neighborhood.

He said there will be two waves. of trash collectors.

One wave is for the large pieces of furniture and the other will be for yard waste.

Anybody who missed their scheduled pick-up time should not worry, he said. This program is repeated annually.

There are some things to be careful of, Williams said. He said they will not accept such things as old fences and decks.

"This is more for cleaning out the garage, shed, and that sort of thing," he said.

Williams said that when setting yard waste on the curb. put it in biodegradable paper bags, which are available for purchase at local retail stores.

Otherwise, he said, the yard waste will not be accepted. Williams said this is a popular program.

"We get a lot of participation each year," he said.

District manager in waste management Betty Book said the workers in the city's waste management department enjoy doing all they can to help the community.

"We donate our time to help with this program," she said. "The haulers are involved trying to help the city."

Williams said eager students cannot volunteer their time to help the community with this program except by participating

"They can only help their neighbors," he said. "Help get their garages cleaned out."

"Recognizing Achievement"

Serving All Sports and Events

* Awards * Medals

* Ribbons

* Plaques

* Name Badges & Plates * Trophies

785-539-5775 800-362-6160 www.artechpromotions.com

CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

411 North 3rd Street Manhattan, KS 66502

Please visit us at: www.ksu.edu/bakeclub

BUY-HIRE-SELL-RENT KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

Using PEOPLE in YOUR research?

Learn the PROPER methods of testing on HUMAN SUBJECTS!

When: Wednesday, April 3rd Where: Union Little Theater 2:00-3:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Food Science Graduate Student Association, and The Graduate Student Council.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY and NOW ON FRIDAYS Fries, Burgers, Total Calls, Onion Rings posialty Botsles SNOW OPEN AT 4:00 $1 OLD STYLE PINTS 7 DAYS A WEEK OPEN 11 A.M. ON WEEKENDS

- Pick-up and Drop off for Dry Clean City
- Free Gift Wrapping
- Wolfe's Photography Drop off

Now available at Varneys:

Best Deal in the Ville

·Sunday•

11a.m. - 2a.m. •Mon. - Wed. •

11a.m. - 2:30a.m

*Thurs. - Sat. *

1a.m. - 3:30a.m

$5.99

ORDER ON LINE ww.ordergumbys.com

* 2 Topping Pizza $6.99

X-Large 16" 2 Topping Pizza $7.99 14" Large Pokey Stix $6.99 6 Pepperoni Rolls

$6.99

Valid Carry Out Only VISA GUENE sonal Checks And Credit Co Accepted With Proper I.D.

14" Cheese Pizza only $3.99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra

SHUTTLE BUSTER

Mondays Only

Med. 12" 1 Topping Pizza $5.99 Large 14" 1 Topping Pizza $6.99 Large 14" Pokey Stix $6.99 Valid Sunday-Wednesday 11a.m.-11p.m. only

STIX IT TO ME TUESDAY

Buy one Pokey Stix at regular price Get one FREE of equal or lesser value Tuesdays Only

BONUS BUYS

12" Pokey Stix $5.99 4 Pepperoni Rolls $4.99 10 Wings $3.99 12" Cheese Pizza $3.99 add on to any regular food purchase

WILPCAT WEDNESDAY

16" Cheese Pizza only $5,99 Carry Out or Dine-In Only Toppings Extra Wednesdays Only

THE BIO ASS

One 20" 1 Topping Pizza

Toppings Extra or Two 21.99

only $11.99

securities products. © 2002 Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association—College Retirement Equities Fund

(TIAA-GREF), New York, NY.

■ Continued from page 6

starting to show.

"Really the biggest thing we need to continue to do is execute," Taylor said. "In all facets. We have to continue to field and pitch well if we're going to keep winning."

Winning is something the Wichita State Shockers have been doing all season long. Coming out on top in six of their last seven, the Shockers slarted the year by winning 10 of 11.

"We just need to keep working end come out with another good ballgame," Clark said. "We are looking at this as a continuation of what we need to do in order to stay successful. "This is another great opponent we have to find a way to play good baseball against."

Taylor said his team is more than ready for what Wichita State brings to the park.

"We are pumped about playing the Shockers," Taylor said. "Any time You get a big name with a tradition the Wichita State coming in to your house, it's exciting. It's going to be fun, and we are ready to compete with them."

FOOTBALL

Continued from page 6

credited with, either," Snyder

"I think our quarterbacks were probably 10 to 15 percent better than we gave them credit for in terms of the passing game.

"Every time those young guys threw incompletions and everyone was pulling their hair out, the end result shouldn't have always fallen in their lap, and more often than not, it did. Still, there's a margin for improvement."

Roberson said he is nearing full-strength after having surgery on his turf-toe about five weeks

The injury was an accumulation of several games last season.

"Hopefully, within a week, I'll be back to my normal self," Roberson said.

Defensively, K-State looks to be in better shape, losing only five starters, including senior free safety Ion McGraw, and returning seven.

"It's like replacing a quarterback on offense," Snyder said.

But the Cats will have six of its seven positions on the defen sive front manned by a returnee, including All-America candidate Terry Pierce at middle linebacker, as K-State works to continue its five-year string of finishing among the top five nationally in total defense. Meanwhile, Thorpe Award semifinalist Terence Newman the only returning defensive back - will have to lead the K-State "Will it be hard? It won't be easy, I'm assured of that," Snyder

"But by the same token, people that do have the opportunity certainly can surprise you and do some very positive things.

Dunn is confident those positives will come.

"You can't really inherit success," Dunn said. "We talk about it a lot with the previous four years' 11-win seasons, but just because you've done it before doesn't mean you're going to do it again. We want to create our own future."

AMERICAN FAMILY

INSURANCE

Piper to pay fee for violating open meetings law, reaffirms decision

BY AMY SHAFER

The Associated Prote

KANSAS CITY, Kan. - The Piper school board on Tuesday publicly reaffirmed its controversial decision to make a science teacher change the grades of students she had failed for plagiarizing a class project.

The seven board members also agreed to pay fines for violating the state's open meetings law. In return, Wyandotte County District Attorney Nick Tomasic will drop his civil action against the board.

The rural district about 20 miles west of Kansas City, Mo., has been in turmoil since late January, when it was revealed that the board, in a closed-door meeting on Dec. 11, reversed Piper High School teacher Christine Pelton's decision to give 28 students zeros on a biology

Pelton had suspected plagiarism after discovering that many papers contained identical material. She students' grades. On Tuesday, in front of more than 100 people including Pelton, the board voted 6-0, with one resigned rather than change the abstention, not to change that decision.

Board member James Swanson said that when the board voted on the issue in December, he was more concerned about giving the 28 students an appeal process to challenge Pelton's decision. He said he also was concerned that the grading controversy occurred so close to end of the semester.

"I in no means ever questioned the teacher's grading. ... My discussion was more so how to salvage the class," Swanson said.

Leigh Vader abstained, saying she believed in standing behind the school district's teachers. She stressed that she didn't think the students who were accused of plagiarism were bad children.

They made a mistake ... but I did feel in my heart that they deserved to suffer the consequences for their mistakes," Vader said.

To settle the civil action filed by Tomasic, each board member will pay a $250 fine, and the entire board will pay $1,238 in court costs. The board said its closed meeting was a "technical and unintentional violation of the Kansas Open Meetings Act."

Smi PIPER on PAGE 12

$1.25 domestic bottles, dos equis, coronas, & wells

$3 domestic pitchers 35 pitchers of bourbon, rum, gin, & vodka

10¢ wings and shrimp $2 jack & coke, jaeger shots

WIN THE BUD CAR THIS WEEK

endless possibilities...endless possibilities...endless possibilities 80th Engineering Open House

Wednesday :: 3 April Fr/So Engineering Competition LEGO Mindstorm Design Contest 7 p.m. Fiedler Library

Friday :: 5 April Parade & Opening Ceremonies 1:30 p.m. Union Courtyard Student & Industrial Displays 5:30 - 9

Saturday :: 6 April Student & Industrial Displays 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Social Hour in Cat's Pause Lounge 5:30 p.m. Engineering Awards Banquet Union Ballroom 7 p.m. Banquet tickets available in RA 142 endless possibilities... Organized by Steel Ring

Little Caesars wednesday HOT & READY LARGE falld only at participating locations. ©2001 L.C.E., Inc. 539-3333

AUTO HOME BUSINESS HEALTH LIFE Tim L. Engle Inc. 539-9200 American Family Mutual Insurance Co. and its Subsidiaries American Standard Insurance Co. of WI + Home Office + Madison WI 53783 + American Standard

BRA SALE

Selected Bras

ALL SWIMSUITS

Patricia's Lingerie

1224 Moro

AGGIEVILLE M-Th 10-7 Fri & Sat 10-5

>tour the world, save big bucks

and get friendly with people your own age, contiki has 100 worldwide trips to choose from, australia from $55 a day! what on earth are you waiting for?!??!!!

territory & outback reefs & rainforest

beaches & reefs

fiji sailing adventure

Season for

#63 RELEASE

A Sufi proverb says, "When the heart weeps for what it has lost, the spirit laughs for what it has found."

Today look back on how far you have come during this 64 day journey. Release the weight of your past, judgments of yourself and others, and the idea that world peace is not possible by acknowledging that you do make a difference.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by the KSU Office of Diversity and Dual Career Development and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence.

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

NCAA Athletics Certification Self-Study Subcommittee Open Public Forums:

NCAA Fiscal Integrity Subcommittee Wednesday, April 3, 2:00 - 3:00 p.m. Union, Big XII Room

Academic Integrity Subcommittee Thursday, April 11 3:30 - 5:00 p.m. Union, Room 212

NCAA Governance and Commitment to Rules Compliance Subcommittee Thursday, April 11, 2:30 - 3:30 p.m. Union, Room 207

The purpose of these meetings will be for the public to review the subcommittee drafts so that people become knowledgeable enough to make comments and recommendations to the subcommittee. Copies of the draft report materials will be available at each Public Forum and public comment and input in encouraged.

24 hr. service on items received by 6 p.m.

Monday-Thursday Service provided by Dry Clean City orders usually completed in a week

excellent quality

reasonable prices

Custom Picture Framing

Wolfe's Photography Drop Off

*All of your precious memories are hand delivered by Varney's directly to Wolfe's.*

-Slides -Video to DVD Conversion Much More

N. Manhattan + 785-539-051 www.shopvarneys.com

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

ACROSS	36 Mai de -	58 Pack	20 Hit
1 Some are	37 Mayberry	away	bottom liberal	moppet	59 On pins	22 Distort
5 Symbol of	38 Say it isn't	and	23 Filler intrigue	50	needles	news
8 Bridge	39 "Wham!"		item
12 Rob	41 Highland	DOWN	25 Predica-during a	hillside	1 Jungfrau	ment
blackout	43 Have an	et al.	26 Citric
13 Candle	inspiration	2 Source	quencher
count	46 Staff	3 Matador's	27 Rock
14 Ace	leaders	foe	containing location	50 Sere-	4 Bar	feldspar
15 Bear	nades the	5 Bankroll	29 AOL
food?	moon	6 Early	customer
17 Neighbor-	51 A portion	bird	31 Diarist
hood	of Iberia	7 Symbol of	Anais
18 Unemo-	54 Concern-	redness	32 Yell
tional	ing	8 Ignominy	34 Monk's
19 Monkey	55 Zsa Zsa's	9 Marine	hood
(with)	sis	- mammal	38 Put one
21 Church	56 Delany or	10 Sheltered	over on array	Carvey	11 Approach	40 Refuges
24 Summer-	57 Emulates	16 Rocks, at	42 Perform-time	Simon	the bar	ance
sign	Sent to the		43 Wading
25 Make fun	Solution tin	ne: 27 mins.	bird of	AFRIO	ABBSHAH	44 Singer
28 Here, to	SOAPO	SUHOSE	Mouskour
José	HENPEC	KIS PIUED	45 Duel
30 Letter-	ORK	THIRTY	tool
head	HALLEC	HIICKPEA	47 "Zounds!"
abbr.		UNKELAR	48 Phyllis
33 Com-		GGPERK	Diller's
motion	MOW		"husband"
34 Pizza	VALISE	SIOB	49 Do in
A11 (1.07m)		SOLLOOP	52 Eventual base	I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I	DIO FIGURE	and the state of t

uskouri

STUMPED?

35 Knightly

CRYPTOQUIP

YNDJIIP JEWXSP NUBE OJLDXEF RZKGJWBL

X O D J I I Z D R U X G O Yesterday's Cryptoquip: AFTER THE OPTICIAN FELL INTO HIS GRINDING MACHINE, HE MADE A SPECTACLE OF HIMSELF

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: I equals L

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.c.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by that and error. © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"Life beats down and crushes the soul and art reminds you that you

- Stella Adler

AROUND THE TOWN

CAMPUS

Spring Dance will be at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in McCain Auditorium. Tickets are $6 for students, $10 for the general public, and are available at McCain Box Office, 532-6428.

Makato Nakura, marimba player, will perform at 8 p.m. Friday in All Faiths Chapel. Tickets are $6 for students and children, $12 for the general public, and are available at McCain Box Office, 532-6428.

The Open House Rock Fest will be from noon to 6 p.m. rday in the Union Plaza of the K-State Student Union. The festival is free and will feature seven local bands.

In Phi Beta Sigma will sponsor a talent show, Blu Apollo 2k, at 7 p.m. Saturday in Forum Hall In the K-State Student

MANHATTAN

■ Full Feature and Lucas & Barlow will perform at 9 p.m. Wednesday at Out of Bounds, and South Pacific Soul at 8 wednesday at Out of Bounds, and South Pacific Soul at 6 p.m. Friday at Out of Bounds.

Tom Prasado will perform as part of the BirdHouse concert series at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Manhattan Arts Center. Tickets are $12 for students, $15 for the general public and are available at the Manhattan Arts Center, Claffin Books and the Dusty Bookshelf.

If you know of upcoming events in and around Manhattan, e-mail them to arts@spub.ksu.edu.

LIVE MUSIC

Country rock band to appear at Auntie Mae's

BY ADAM LEE Russas State Collegian

The process of blending different elements was popular in the music world long before the current rap-rock hysteria. Take, for instance, the Damnations, who have been hybridizing their own style since 1994.

The Damnations, an Austin, Texas, trio, play music that would be best described as alternative country. Their sound combines elements ranging from bluegrass to garage rock. Audiences at Damnations shows can exp covers of songs by honky-tonk singer Dough Sahm and punk pioneers the Minutemen.

The band now is in the process of touring to promote their new album "Where It Lands," which was released at the beginning of March on Joy-Ride Records.

Along with the typical stops at bars and clubs, the Damnations were featured last month at the highly regarded South-by-Southwest and Twangfest music festivals in Texas.

The Damnations will be stopping in Manhattan tonight for a show at Auntie Mae's Parlour with the Kirk Rundstrom Band. Auntie Mae manager Jeff Denney was attracted to the opportunity to feature a couple of nationally recognized acts with a style that is becoming increasingly popular locally. Manhattan's alternative country

Performance

Kirk Rundstrom and the Damnations will be at Auntie Mae's Parlour at 10 tonight. Cover charge is $5 at the door.

scene has shown steady growth recently with bands like the Pembertons playing regularly around town.

"I think that there has always been an interest in combining country and rock. Bands like Uncle Tupelo and Whiskeytown have been around for a long time. It just took awhile to catch on with the general public," Denney said.

The Kirk Rundstrom Band has generated a lot of interest during past trips through Manhattan.

partially due to Rundstrom's affiliation with Wichita's Split Lip Rayfield, said Rhonda Lyne, who does public relations for both bands.

"The first time they played at Auntie Mae's, it was like one in, one out, and the line to get in went from the door all the way to Moro Street," Lyne said.

Lyne and Denney both expect another hig turnout, so Denney said those planning to attend should arrive early. The Kirk Rundstrom Band is scheduled to go on around 10 p.m., followed by The Damnations.

"I think people will definitely enjoy themselves. It's not often that Manhattan gets nationally known acts like these bands," Denney said.

Comedian draws from everyday experiences

Ranses State Collegion

Everyone has at one time or another done something comical. On Thursday night, students will get the chance to laugh at everyday life situations with comedian Michael Jr.

K-State Student Union Program Adviser Gina Kimble said Michael Jr. would perform Thursday night at Union Station and admission is free.

Michael Jr. got his start in the comedy business one afternoon when he went to the movies with a friend. The film broke and his friends dared him to get up and start telling jokes. Years later he is a successful comedian who tours on the college circuit. He also appeared on the Tonight Show last August.

Agent Joey Edmonds said Michael Jr. has a different kind of delivery than most comedians. He is very low-key and does not get as excited as other comedians, Edmonds said.

"He tells stories about people and situations that everyone has been in, but may not have realized how funny they are," Edmonds said. "He makes you see how funny everyday situations arc."

Edmonds said he takes situations

Campus comedian

Michael Jr. will perform a free comedy act at 8 p.m. Thursday at Union Station in the K-State Student Union.

most people would never see as funny and gives them a twist that makes them very comical.

Differences between men and women, black and white people, community college and university life all are parts of the comedy that Michael Jr. uses, Edmonds said.

Michael Jr. has been touring on the college circuit for two years, and Edmonds said he is popular with college campuses.

"The nice thing about college campuses is that there are all different types of comedy, but all of them are perceived well." Edmonds said.

Michael Jr. will spend the rest of this spring doing college shows, and then will go to New York where he will be trying out new material before he tours colleges

Edmonds said like most comedians, Michael Jr. prefers the college scene more than the comedy clubs. He said the difference between comedy clubs and college campuses is that at comedy clubs a lot of people are just there to drink and not listen to comedy shows.

"You have to pay attention to this guy to understand his comedy, and you cannot do that if you are putting the moves on someone," Edmonds said.

Edmonds said he knew Micheal Jr. had talent the first time he saw his act. and that is why he represents him.

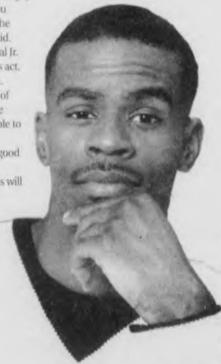

"When I first saw a video tape of him, I said. This guy is going to be good," Edmonds said. "He was able to refine his comedy for a college audience and mature into a very good

Edmonds said college students will like the chance to see a different kind of comedy than they are used to.

"I like to laugh, and I would like to go see a comedian that is different than any other comedian Thave seen," Pam Mosher, sophomore in human ecology, said.

comedian."

"It would be something new and exciting to experience."

Courtesy art

misdirection

BY JOE ELKINTON - GANGSTAHONKY@HOTMAIL.COM

Classifieds

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

815 RATONE, 617 Kearney, 820 Colorado. One-bed ($400), two-bedrooms ($500) Lighted offstreet parking. Shared utilities. No pets. August lease. (785)776-8548

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS tour-bedroom apart-

AVAILABLE LEASES now to July 31. Two, three, and four-bedrooms close to campus. Alliance (785)539-4357. Evenings and weekends (785)539-0939. Visit rent-apm.com

CLOSE TO Campus, twobedroom unit. Models open Call for an appointment. (785)537-9064.

FOUR, THREE, and one bedroom apartments for rent. Electric, gas, water, and trash paid. Across Call Andy (913)269-7297.

FOUR-BEDROOM NEXT to (785)556-6899 or (785)776-4827.

LARGE TWO and three-1215 Poyntz for August 1. pets. Starting at $500. 313-

NEAR CAMPUS, One-bedpaint and carpet. Dishwashfordable. No Pets.

FOUR-BEDROOM Duplex, large bedrooms, two baths, walk in closets, washer/ dryer, close to campus. Call (785)341-8539 or (785)341-4114 apartments. Central air. arking, free washer/ dryer (785)537-7050

NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedapartment, 350 N. Nichols Hall. $530 (785)539-2482

NICE THREE-BEDROOM house Available August 1. Central air, washer/ dryer dishwasher (785)776-6393.

ONE, TWO and THREE-BEDROOM apartments. Close to campus. June and

ONE-BEDROOM APART No pets. Call

ONE-BEDROOM APART

Off-street parking. No smok-ers, no pets. $350 and share utilities. (785)539-ONE-BEDROOM WITH central air and washer/ drver hookups. Aggleville loca-$350. no pets. (785)313-4812 five-bedroom house. Washer/ dryer in (785)539-8834 or (785)336-

Announcements

010

"LEARN TO FLYI" K-State planes, lowest rates. For in-

2795, www.ksu.edu/ksfc. ACADEMY OF BARTEND-

$30 an hour. Day, evening or weekend classes available Job placement assis $199 with student ID. 1(800)BARTEND www.bartendingcollege.com

ATTORNEY AT LAV Charles W. (Chuck) Harpe 25 years experience. 400 (785)539-8100. chuckharper@msn.com

university

LAW

For Rent-Unfurnished

SPACIOUS TWO and three bedroom, close to campus Central air, laundry facilities, and August. (785)539-0866.

TWO AND three-bedroom $490 and $570: 1729 Laramie; available August 1; heat, water, trash paid; year lease; deposit and refe required; (785)539-8052

one and one-half bath, cen campus. (785)537-1746.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT apartment. Really close to KSU. June 1. No (785)556-6899 (785)776-4827

TWO-BEDROOM. Westwood. $475/ month AVAILABLE JUNE 1

TWO-BEDROOM. BATH, large living roo kitchen, dishwasher, Across street from Aggieville campus. Available after finals. (785)565-9175.

Rooms

Houses

ROOMS FOR rent: TWO AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Rent $225/ month plus 1013 OSAGE three-plus bedroom, one bathroom, room apartment Clean new Call Kimberly at (785)539e-mail central-air, balcony, afklb4949@ksu.edu 120 lease Call (785)539-0549. For Rent-

NEXT TO campus one.

washer/ dryer. August lease. $885/ month. (785)539-3206 1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all Available August.

appliances. Three, four-bed-room. Two bathroom. Please no pets. Available June (785)539-1177.

813 VATTIER nice fivebedroom two bath house. Central heat and air, wash-Non-smoking. No (785)313-8296. pets. (785)587-8316.

Available

A SIX- seven-bedroom three bath house one block to campus, Aggieville, and City Park, Central Air, washer and dryer. (785)317-7713 AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Four plus bedrooms. Three full Very nice house (913)963-AVAILABLE JUNE 1. One bedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace, washer/ dryer, Located 426 N. 17th. $430/ month. (785) AVAILABLE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of campus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer/ dryer, fenced yard. $275/ person. (785)539-3672. AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Three-bedroom house three blocks west of campus at 1404 Hartford. Central air, washper person, 539-3672

010

Announcements

SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-LATIONSHIPS just got eas-

Lost and Found

Lost and found ads can be placed free for three days. FOUND: CAMERA off Man-

(785)776-1462 to identify LOST SILVER SEIKO watch inscription on back

Found something? You can place an ad FREE for three days!

For Rent-

Houses

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Twothree-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer/ dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at 1715 Poyntz. $700/ month. (785) 539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two bedroom duplex, two floors Houston, $610/ month. (785)539-3672 FIVE-BEDROOM, bath, two kitchens, central air, close to KSU. Available

June 1. $1250/ month. 776-FOUR-BEDROOM AND five-bedroom houses. Excellent condition. Close to campus. Central air, large backyards. June. Won't last ong. (785)776-4166. FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE near campus. Two bath, airconditioning parking wash-er/ dryer hook-up. Call (785)273-2628.

GREAT HOUSE, three-bed room very nice. One block west of campus. Available $900/ month. No

REMODELED four-bedroom. Two car gacampus, washer/ hook-ups, central air One-year lease starting August 1. No pets. $800/ month. (785)213-2468 or (785)235-

NICE THREE- FOUR-BED ROOM, two bath house with basement Washer/ dryer ook-ups, off-street parking. Call Doug (785)537-1978

NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE. Walking distance to campus 1516 Campus Rd. Washer/ dryer hookups, one year lease $900/ month plus utilities. Available June 1 Call (785)539-

ONE BLOCK to campus Five and six-bedroom house. Hardwood floors, three bathrooms, fireplace, central-air, dishwasher, Au-gust lease. No Pets 785)539-0549. SMALL HOUSE Applian er/ dryer. Three blocks to yard Call (785)539-1975 or house for August 1. Wash er/ dryer and lawn care fur-nished 2409 Hobbs $855. THREE-BEDROOM CLOSE to campus. Stove, refrigera

(785)537-9425 or (785)532-4424. THREE-BEDROOM TWO smooth top range, refrigera-garage, fenced backyard June 1, $1000, (785)537-9425, (785)532-4424

Houses

FIVE-BEDROOMS, THREE baths. Fenced yard. Full fin $115,000 (785)539-8631 or see http://valbehan.hotho mepages.com or stop by

030 Personals

ture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

housing

Apts. Furnished

FOR RENT: Five-bedroom Brittany Ridge town home. Available August 1, one-year lease. $950/ month. Call Tim after 6pm at 7755/776 0206 (785)776-2326.

ADVERTISE CLASSIFIEDS • 532-6555

For Rent-Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT sixteen-feet wide, two and able. one double-wide central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available Call (785)776-4274 to view homes.

135 For Sale-

Mobile Homes 2000 SCHULTZ Sensation 16'x 80' three-bedroom, two bath. All appliance upgrades, $28,000 available June 1. Located in nice park. (785)770-8792

Roommate Wanted

> ROOMMATE WANTED A very nice two-bedroom/ two bath apartthe street from campus $350/ month plus one-half utilities. Lease starts August 1. Call (785)587-9600.

> WANTED FEMALE room male to share three-bed room: townhouse, $400/ of washer/ dryer, no smoking, no pets (785)776-1397 call anytime.

150 ■

Sublease

NEW SUMMER sublease One room in three-bedroom washer/ dryer. Two one-half blocks west of KSU. Only one-third utilities. May

(785)323-0116. ROOMMATE WANTED Two blocks from Aggieville and campus $225 ( Available in May. Rent negotiable. Call (785)776-

3026. SUMMER SUBLEASER needed. through June 30 May rent

SUMMER SUBLEASERS needed. Completely furn ed two-bedroom apart-ment Dishwasher, full laun-dry facilities Very nice. $275/ month. Call (785)537-

WANTED: FEMALES to bath apartment. Very clean.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Viola-tions should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2440.

MAY FREE! One-bedroom University Co completely furnished. Washcilities. Great college atmosohere! $343/ month with cable. Call (785)317-0541. SUMMER LEASE- University ty Commons. Female room nate needed fully furnishedprivate bathroom laundry fa-Clubhouse contact Momen contact Morgen (785)770-8576. TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE

(August)

For Rent-Apt.

ostay la Class Al The "Eacume2 (785)587-8310. Now Leasing for 2002-2003!

NICE,

*Fully Furnished *2 & 4 Bedroom *Alarm System *Swimming Pool ·Washer/Drver ·Computer Lab

*Fitness Center *Permit Parking Tennis/Volleyball Court *Individual Leases Office Hours: M-F 9-6, Sat. 10-4

539-0500

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

1219 KEARNEY. One-bedroom. No pets. Year lease Water and trash paid. $340/ campus. Call (785)539-5136

1219 KEARNEY. room No pets. Year lease. Water and trash paid. $620/ month. Across street from campus. Call (785)539-

FAIRVIEW. house, Sunday, April 7, 4campus. $385 including gas, water trash June 1. No. water, trash. June moking pels (785)537-

911 SUNSET, four-bedand one-bedroom 1112 Bluemont one-bedroom (785)776-9288 or (785)778-0683

AVAILABLE NOW, summer and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

www.beloose.com/linwood NOW LEASING June Lease

August Lease LEASED • 519 Osage • 1114 Fremont 2000 College Heights Sandstone

> Fireplaces Pool Private Deck

Laundry Facilities Large 2-bedroom Units Call Today Going Fast 537-9064

Weekdays • 830 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturdays . 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

K-Rental Mgmt.

Now Leasing Bills Included 1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500 3 BR from $600 4 BR from $720 539-8401

$450 rent, $450 deposit Available now Call Available now Call (785)776-7362, leave message

cious three-bedroom, three mont, $1100/ month. Washpets. Call MDI (785)776Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM ONEapartment Roomy Low util- rentals $350/ ritles. Water, trash, cable Pets okay, paid. Laundry facilities leases. Call Centur Pool. By Westloop. June Knight, (785)565-0138. lease. $460/ month.

campus. Available August, 1431 McCain Lane. $625/ month. Trash paid, no pets. A must see! Call MDI (785)776-3804 NOW LEASING. One-bedroom apartment in quiet six-plex at 1811 Platt. Available air. parking, water and trash paid. No pets. $370 per month. Call KSU Foundation (785)532-7541. ONE, TWO, three and fourbedrooms available for next room apartment 1113 Ber school year. One-bedrooms trand #1 $550/ month start at $490 per month. Call Chase Manhattan Apart-ments (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile from KSU at the corner of Col-

Available in June. Call (785)770-2224. ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT next to campus. Available June 1- July 31

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810.

air, laundry facility near by.

ONE-BEDROOM CLOSE to campus. All bills paid. Washer/ dryer included. $435/ month. Call (785)341-4496

ONE-BEDROOMS AVAILA-BLE June 1. $300-$330. No. (785)587-0399 PARK PLACE

AFFORDABLE PRICES One, Two, Three-QUIET COUNTRY living. Two-bedroom basement apartment Excellent condiclose to campus. Quiet neighborhood, no pets. included Washer/ dryer ook-ups. No smoking/ pets (785)776-6903 SIX-BEDROOM, TWO bath Free for August, duplex two-ce condition (785)537-2289 THREE AND Four-bedter and trash paid. (785)537-

APARTMENT. bathrooms, washer/ dryer, refrigerator/ stove. Your own only two houses away through July 31! Rent $280 person Call (785)243-0660 THREE-BEDROOM. pets or smokers. 1021 Frenont. $780.00 plus util August lease (785)776-THREE-BEDROOM. TWO basement apartment at 709 Bluemont. er/ Dryer/ Airconditioning/ off-street parking. (785)539 TWO-BEDROOM (BASE MENT) near Aggleville provided, $480/ month plus gas and electricity; 1126 Fremont (785)532-7541 TWO-BEDROOM TOWN HOUSE, one and one-half bath, plus unfinished base-dryer hook-ups, no pets (785)539-5627 TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE to campus, newly remoder, $545/ month, (785)341

ment, central air. Washer

Now Leasing LEASED 3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

Across from KSU stadium

APARTMENTS!! 3 & 4 Bedroom

Available for June, July, August Brittnay Ridge Townhomes – starting at $950 Check out our Web pag 1620 McCain - starting at $950 1700 N. Manhattan - starting at $810 www.mdi-manhattan.com

822 Fremont – starting at $700 1611 Laramie – starting at $750 McCullough Development

Rooms Available

FOUR-BEDROOM FEMALE rentals $350/ month and up. Pets okay, short-term Call Century 21

120 TWO-BEDROOM, For Renttwo story duplex close to Houses

> AVAILABLE JUNE 1. One bedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace washer/ dryer. Located 426 N 17th, $430/ month. (785).

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two three-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer/ dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at 1715 Poyntz. $700/ month. (785) 539-3672. AVAILABLE NOW: two-bed-

Close to KSU, water and trash paid, laundry facilities No pets. (785)776-3804 FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE 316 N. 11th. One or twobedroom at 928 Leaven-

MENT for rent, 903 Thur-worth. Hardwood floors, no ston. No pets. Water and pets/ smoking/ waterbeds. trash paid $330/ month. June 1 (785)539-0590. FOUR-BEDROOM, bath house at 900 Valtier. Available June 1 $900/ month. Washer/ dryer/ cen fenced yard.

(785)539-4949 FOUR-BEDROOM. bath. Close to campus. Washer/ dryer. Furnished. LARGE NICE two-bedroom house close to campus. Fall.

lease. (785)762-7191 Beth at (785)776-0994 NICE FOUR-BEDROOM home on quiet street. No. pets or smoking. June 1 lease. $240/ each plus utilities Call (785)759-3520.

ONE-BEDROOM (LARGE)

near Aggieville, available August 1st, laundry provided, $350/ month plus gas and electricity; 1124 Fre-mont; (785)532-7541 (day-DESPERATELY SEEKING ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX

(785)539-1711 or (785)341-3493. THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available May One and one-half bath washer and dryer, and mowing paid. $735 a month. (785)341-5287.

THREE BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up $840 plus utilities. igust lease. (785)776-

For Rent-Mobile Homes

small lot for horses. Three bedroom, stationary mobile few outbuildings. Small lot can board up to three hors-Washer and dryer in led Rural water to household, well water for outdoor watering, small covered shed for one vehicle, Manhattan phones and address, located seven miles mile from Highway 24 $700 a month plus deposits

COUNTRY SETTING and

quired. Call (785)537-8070.

For Sale-Mobile Homes 14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre

three-bedroom and two bath, newer carpet, shower and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer. $13600

one-half bedroom, two bath-with many new features in-

1994 SKYLINE, two

cluding siding. Lot 544 in Colonial Gardens $16,500 or best offer. Call (785)776-82 REDMAN 14x 70 threeheat and air. Must

Priced to sell. (785)770-

145 Roommate

Wanted

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fe male roommates wanted Great house, washer/ dryer appliances, ies. Call Lisa at (785)537-

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed for one of three bedroom house. $220/ month plus utilities. Close to campus, quiet neighbor-hood No smoking Please call Jennifer or Annie at (785)539-2547 duplex. Brand new and rea sonable. Please call Angela wanted for a four-bedroom

Roommate Wanted

(785)587-8508.

ROOMMATE Summer and/ or next year. Very close to campus, central air. Rent $175 plus one FEMALE ROOMMATES wanted for a three-bedroom June, washer/ dryer availa ble. $250/ month and utilities. Call Rachel anytime at (785)565-3359.

MALE ROOMMATE, room available. June lease rivate bath $160/ month one-half utilities, no smok pets. Call David at ing/ pets. Ca (785)539-8955

ROOMMATE WANTED to four-bedroom/ two bathro house. Washer/ dryer. $200/ month plus one-fourth utilitles. Call (785)776-0736. ask ROOMMATE WANTED for starting June/ august. Two blocks from campus, off-street parking, living/ dining furnished. Rent $280, water. trash paid. Call Alison (785)776-8529 ROOMMATE WANTED smoking house. Washer dryer, fireplace, deck $250.

month plus shared utilities

150

Call (785)565-9136

Sublease AVAILABLE AFTER finals Female subleaser needed for summer. Live across the street from Durland half Call

DESPERATELY SEEKING apartment, rooms, walk-in closets swimming pool! Rent negotiable. Call (785)770-3834 house close to campus/ bars Rent negotiable Call Rachel or Alyssa, (785)776-FEMALE SUBLEASE Nice four-bedroom apartment, new washer/ dryer, $180/month. Close to campus. Late May to early August. for spring/ summer. E-mail cover letter and resume to (785)776-9746 NEED FEMALE subleaser for one bedroom in a four-bedroom apartment $180/ month one-fourth utilities. Walking (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs.

Guest.

NICE TWO-YEAR old, four room, two bath duplex for sublease after finals (785)776-7946, (785)539 through July Nice location washer and dryer, hookup. $275, negotiable May rent one, two, three, or Call campus, garage, rent nego-tiable, very nice. Great deal Hicky (785)539-0838. SLEEP IN OUR ROOM

Summer sublease, two-bed-room apartment, large living Kellie, Kristen (785)565-9747. SUBLEASE FOR a great deal summer 2002. Univer-sity Commons. One or two-

SUBLEASES NEEDED for plex Washer/ dryer hook ups. One block from can pus. Large enough for four people. Available June and

SUMMER SUBLEASE, BU-

per cheap. May 20- August Rent negotiable, all utilities included. (785)776-1420 SUMMER SUBLEASER r-bedroom FULLY furnished, washer dryer. Utilities paid including SUMMER SUBLEASERS room apartment near camter and trash paid. Call (785)587-9073.

Storage Space

Self-storage: Multiple units 5x 10 through 10 x30's. Outdoor and indoor RV and months and receive a twen-

Summer 2002, Flexible $7 00/ hour. Call Holly (785) service directory

Weight Loss & / Nutrition

HEALTHY, SAFE weight loss. Increased Energy- Immediate Results I can teach

255 Other

Services WILL DO typing/ spread-cparonto@kansas.net employment. opportunities

Help Wanted

$250/ NIGHT potential/ bartending. Training provided

(800)293-3985 ext. 623. The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifi-cation. Readers are advised to approach any such employment oppor tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson

KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454. Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director Human Resources at City tending Training provided (866)291-1884 extension 548 $250/ DAY potential bar tending. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

Hall, (785)587-2441. $1500 WEEKLY potentia formation call (203)977

Flexible hours. Wage based on experience. Dean Liquor 12th and Laramie. AD SALES/ Public Reta tions/ Marketing Internship offering well paid, flexible and rewarding local position

ACCOUNTING POSITION

summer Collegian Reporters, copy editors, designers, and photographers are all needed. Applications are due April 15 and can be picked up in Kedzie 103. BIG DAWG Marina Week

APPLY NOW to work on the

KethEyestone@msn BUDWEISER WOMEN

CAMP TAKAJO for Boys picturesque lakefront loca-Mid-June thru mid-August Over 100 counselor posi tions in tennis, basebal basketball, lacrosse, golf flag football, roller hockey ing, archery, ceramics, art phy, weight training, wood trooms Contact Kristy course, secretarial Salary room/ board, travel included Call 1-800-250-8252 or sub

> CHILD CARE needed for in fant in my home. Part-time or full-time. Call Sue

COMPUTER SCIENCE Re the design and development of a large web/ database ap-plication. This is a half-time one-year, unclassified ap-pointment at $12,800/ year plus benefits. Requirements MS in Computer Science of closely related field, ad-vanced project management skills. 20 hours/ week flexible hours, on-campus local tion. Applicants should send transcripts and three letters of recommendation by April 12, 2002 to: Will Baldwin Department of Communica-tions, 211b Umberber Hall Manhattan, KS 66506-3402 KSU is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks

CRUISE LINE entry level. on board positions availa ble, great benefits. Sea FEMALES WANTED for

had8078@ksu.edu. FRATERNITIES* SORORIpustundraiser.com fundraising Does not involve credit card applications. Fundraising dates are filling quickly, so fundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

Semester Leases Leasing Now 4 BR Apartments Call or Come by Our Office!

For full details on our 4BR, 2 Bath apartments for a Semester Lease -Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st! · fully furnished · swimming pool · washer/dryer · next to KSU stadium · · tennis, volleyball & basketball courts

539-0500

Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-

individual leases • exercies room •

 electronic alarm system • Office Hours:

Houses & Duplexes - starting at $1000-$1200

776-3804

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted starting in summer. Nice three-bedroom duplex

FEMALE

Close to campus. Washer/ dryer. Two full bathrooms. utor (785)776-1936. Call 770-3309.

$250/ DAY potential bar

ucal@bendnet.com

ROOM AVAILABLE June

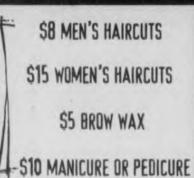

(941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com KSU girl in wheelchair

TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 $2000 with the easy Cam

SPRING SPECIAL -With this coupon exp. date 4/13/0

dependable, quaity service 5¢ self-serve copies Claflin Books and Copies

CMMPers $20 FULL SETS In the K-State 532-5972 Student Union

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results Call for appointment

539-3338

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

2002

"From the Barnyard to the Board Room."

Wednesday, April 3
KSU Greenhouse tours and Colbert Hills tours, 1-3 p.m. (Hort Therapy, Golf Course Mgt.) • Free meal following, to all those in attendance, Weber Arena, sponsored by Roy Crenshaw, Speech, Umberger Hall, 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 3

Premium Standard Farms Frisbee Golf Quadrangle, afternoon (PRM club) Cowboy Olympics, Weber Arena, 7 p.m. (Rodeo, Ag Econ/Agbus) Thursday, April 4

 Council and Club meetings at 6 p.m. riday, April 5 Alpha Gamma Rho/Farmhouse BBQ, Weber lawn, 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Friday, April 5

* Dealership Management/ATM Tractor Display, between KSU Union and Seaton Hall · Arena in case of rain Other Events Throughout the Week Campus-Wide Scavenger Hunt, Ag Ambassadors

in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

118 KEDZIE • 532-6560

ADVERTISING

Help Wanted

GREAT SUMMER Income Asbestos Abatement Work-ers needed. 40 hours of Must attend class May 7 10, 7 00am- 5:30pm $11.40 per hour. Work will start May 18. Contact Laborers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-

(785)537-1567, to sign up HELP WANTED for custom tors and truck drivers guaranteed pay. Good summer wages. Call (970)-483-7490

HELP WANTED. Part time, Brooks Yamaha.

evenings.

HELP WANTED Tempora 30-40 hours per week swimming pool maintenance and other miscellaneous jobs. Apply at 3050 Tuttle

JOHNSON COUNTY Sum field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Hortiulture, Forestry and Recre-tion Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5.

LOOKING FOR a Korean in terpreter who can speak English. Call evenings (620)786-0373

LOOKING FOR Chinese translator to translate a book from Mandrian or Shangai-ese to English, Call everings (785)537-2853

MAKE UP to $1000 per

Help Wanted

MCCULLOUGH DEVELOP- SALES, LOCAL Company

HELP for an Assistant Property Manager and an Assis-

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Com-2388's and New Auto Tandem Grain Trucks. Need Commercial Drivers License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li-cense Provide room and oard and excellent salary!

PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUNII SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beautitul Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, baskelball, waterfront, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more. Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com

PROGRAMMER

CivicPlus, a feader in provid-ing local government web vices, has an opening for mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program ming experience required, Microsoft ASP and SQL experience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 days of employment. Comtitive salary plus health, 401(k) and paid vacation. E-mail resume in Microsoft jobs@civicplus.com EOE SUBWAY AT K-state Union now hiring for days, evenings, and weekends. Parttime, flexible hours. Apply in is looking for a money-moti-vated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance inerry Manager and an Assession strong sales performance in Composition. Laboratory requisitory requisitory requisitory requisitors time position open for a claim. These will be full-time ment. Applicants must have or Biology). Foreign Lan-Technical Writer starting impositions effective May 20, a proven history of phone guage. Computer Exploramentality Candidates must 2002. Part-time hours are prospecting and closing tion and Web-Page Design have good written and oral available before this date, skills as well as the ability to June 10-July 19, 2002. Pre-communication skills with a Interested Individuals please, work independently. Base ferred Qualifications: MS background in editing or fill out an employment appli- plus commission equals cation at 2700 Amnerst $50,000/ year or more E. plus commission equals graduate student in related proofreading Word process-$50,000/ year or more E- subjects, certified by state ing skills (MSWord morgan a civicplus com.

Help Wanted

weekly! Just send a self addressed, stamped envelope To: Oneal 601 S. Lasalle St. 938, Chicago, IL.

SUMMER College/ High School stu-dent to watch in my home two children ages 9 and 13. Monday Friday approxi-mately 11am 4pm, need own car. $6.50/ hour. (785)537-2515. Friday approxi-

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT Laborers needed, approxi mately May 20 to August 23, salary $8.64/ hour. Duties: hand labor such as weeding production fields, moving irrigation pipe, and grounds maintenance. United States Department of Agriculture Natural Resources Conservation Service, Plant Materials Center, Manhattan, KS. Call (785)539-8761 for interview. Equal Opportunity Em-

SUMMER IN CHICAGO Childcare and light house go families. Responsible. ving, non-smoker. Call orthfield Nannies, URGENT, SALES promotion work at the upcoming Flint Hills Expo 2002, April 5-7. Must be physically fit and sales oriented Good pay, possible future work. Call now (785)776-9451.

Help Wanted

SUMMER INSTRUCTORS TECHNICAL needed instructors needed DPRA incorporated, a con-to teach high school stu- tact research and consulting dents in the areas of English Composition. mail resume in Microsoft Board of Education: 1-3 WordPerfect) are a must word or text format to years teaching experience and disking with the mornan words. at secondary or university are preferred. The selected level Submit vital resume applicant can expect to proand three references to duce high quality on-line Margaret A. Turner, Associ- documentation of informaate Director, Upward Bound tion systems in addition to a Program, 1800 Claffin Suite variety of writing editing, 1. Kansas State University, and proofing assignments. A

> THE ROCK Springs 4-H is seeking appl for 40-50 summer staff pograduating high school se-niors or college students. Positions are recreation inbuilding, horses, environmental education, ritles. trap, archery, canoes, crafts trap, archery, canoes, crafts Opportunity and lifeguards. We also M/F/D/V have several positions in food service, maintenance and custodial departments. Internships are available for those who qualify. Rock Springs offers a monthly salary and room and board. Rock Springs is a nationally North America. ference center serving ap-www.sombrero.com or write proximately 27,000 youth to us at 3300 Airport Road, and adults each year, most during the summer, Rock Springs is located 14 miles south of Junction City, Kan-sas on K-157 Highway. For an application or more information you can contact me at: Flock Springs 4-H Center, C/O Summer Jobs,

5405 West Highway K-157, Junction City, KS 66441. (785)257-3221, ||larr@rock-springs.net.

Help Wanted

Laboratory regulatory issues, has a full-Bachelor's degree is re-gured and a Master's degree is preferred. Potential salary range. $24,000-$27,000 depending on ex-perience and qualifications. Send letter of resume to Di-rector of Human Resources.

> DPRA Incorporated Equal WANTED guilde tourists and horses through the Rocky Mountains. Come work for the largest horse operation in website to us at 3300 Airport Road, we kick ads.

Help Wanted

THE CITY of Manhattan, Kansas. Offering excellent benefits and employment CITY MANAGER'S AUDIO/VISUAL

TECHNICIAN Starting Saltent work) Experience Restandard high school or vo-cational school. Must possess a demonstrated skill responsible audio/ visual training and experience that animal husbandry and inter provides the required knowledge, skills and ability. Position Purpose: This posi-tion provides and is responsible for the broadcast operations of City Commission Meetings, Special City Com-mission Meetings, and other special assignments as scheduled Closing Date: 04/12/02 DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE SENIOR AC-Department TW. DPRA In-corporated, P.O. Box 727, COUNTANT Starting Salary: $30,056,00/ year (full Experience Re-

Manhattan, KS 66505; or tax (785)539-5353, gree in accounting required, plus experience that helps manhattanjobs@dpra.com. provide the required knowlperience in public budget-Experience using spreadsheets, word-processing and other software required. Position Purpose: This po-sition is responsible for implementing specialized accounting projects and super vising daily accounting activities. The position is responsible for presenting monthly financial reports for review and adjustments. The post-> audits and other internal control implementation is-sues in outlying City offices. Closing Date: Open until fil-tion of the budget work-sheets, and is responsible for coordinating and assist ing in the payroll and ac-

on the at the K-State Student Union Wednesday

WEATHER PERMITTING

UNCLAIMED SCHOOL MODEL Sew & Serge Sewing Machines

Our Education Department placed orders in anticipation of large school sales. Due to budget cuts they were unsold!

They must be sold!!

All machines offered are the most modern machines in the Singer line. All machines are I brand new. Singer's nationwide guarantee is included.

WHAT IS A SEW & SERGE SEWING MACHINE????

FIRST - IT IS A SOPHISTICATED SEWING MACHINE that does buttonholes (any size), Stretch Stitching, Invisible blind Hems, Monograms, Ribbing, Double Seams, Zippers, Sews on Buttons, Hems, Darning, Appliqué, Zig Zag, Basting, Blanket Stitch, Quilting, and much more. JUST SET THE CONTROL TO SEW MAGIC!

SECOND – IT HAS A SERGING STITCH. This allows you to sew the seam and serge the edge l of the material in one operation. With an optional cutter you can trim the excess material

THIRD - THEY ARE DESIGNED TO SEW ALL FABRICS, such as Denim, Canvas, Upholstery,

Nylon, Stretch Materials, Silk, Percale, Organdy, AND. THEY EVEN SEW LEATHER! Direct from Now you have it all in one machine. Singer Specialty Sales

Without Ad $429.99 CASH, CHECKS, MASTERCARD, VISA, DISCOVER, LAYAWAYS ACCEPTED

Hampton Inn Friday, April 5 501 E. Poyntz Ave. (Hwy 24) Manhattan

Help Wanted

ence

d PARKS AND RECREA

TION: JUNIOR ZOO KEEP-ER SUPERVISOR Starting

Salary: $5.45/ hour. Experischool graduate or GED re-quired. Excellent supervisory skills, experience working with youth and animal knowledge vital Must have a valid driver's license and be able to work three or more days each week throughout the summer. In-educate several youth volunteers working with basic pretation Closing Date: 04/10/02 (temporary/ part-

EDUCATION STAFF Start-

Ing Salary: $6.25/ hour. Ex-perience Required: High ry skills, experience working with youth in an educational setting and curriculum de-velopment vital. Basic science skills important. Must and be able to work three or the summer. Incumbent will pervise children during sur

04/10/02 (temporar

er clubs. Closing Date:

time position). PUBLIC WORKS To be considered

Manhattan application and return it to us by 5pm on the closing date. For applica-www.ci.manhaftan.ks.us/hr/jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us or visit City Hall, 1101

Job Line at a jobs.asp call the

(785)587-2446

for an available position, y must complete a City

SEASONAL

Required:

10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. - No Phone Calls, Please OTHER MODEL

engagements and weddings

To announce your milestone, visit Kedzie 103. To advertise, call 532-6560.

such business opportuni

KS 66607-1190. (785)232-

DEAN LIQUOR, Aggieville

for sale. One of the top wholesale/ retail stores in (785)539-7479 or email ka-

Kansas. For portfolio

dean@kscable.gom.

Items for Sale

BOOK: Anthology of Chi-

ic chungwang tripod.com.

FOUR MALE Pitt-bull pupbrindle, $200, (785)341

Pets and

Supplies

CLASSIFIED ADS

LET THEM WORK FOR YOU

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie • 532-6555

ples. Three black, white chest One white/ black in 0454.

Business

Electronic Opportunities Equipment

The Collegian cannot veri-PLAYSTATION 2 with three fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are ad-

Pay in Full and Take Delivery

of Your Machine

at the Sale!

vised to approach any ty with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka

Automobiles

1992 SATURN SL1, auto matic, four-door. New tires, and CD player. 122K, good school work car $1750 ne gotiable. Call (785)587-

1992 SILVERADO Chevy 4x4 Pick-up, power window open and air-conditioning. Rough condition and needs work, $4,000 or best offer. Phone (785)537-8070.

1994 PONTIAC Firebird Red, V6, 5 speed, custom sound system, alarm, neo tinted bra, cover, 134K, $4750. (785)539-0232, pete3140@hotmail.com nese Literary Essays (Translated to English) 1995 FIREBIRD, nice, 90K. best offer.

1995 MUSTANG, 120K, motor for $4,000. (785)341-3275

1999 RED Volkswagen Cabrio Leather, lots of extras, excellent condition. Please contact Alison at

(785)313-4046. HONDAS FROM $500! Po-(800)719-3001

TERRORISM

Continued from page 1

not say Tuesday where Zubaydah was but said he was not expected in the United States any time soon.

Like other alleged al-Qaeda leaders, Zubaydah could eventually be held at U.S. military detention facilities in Afghanistan, aboard a Navy ship or at the U.S. base in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Pentagon officials said Tuesday that Zubaydah was not in U.S. military custody, however. Zubaydah also could be transferred to a third country where U.S. laws prohibiting mistreatment of prisoners do not apply.

Zubaydah was convicted in absentia on terrorism charges in Jordan in 2000 in connection with a foiled plot to bomb a tourist hotel during the millennium celebrations.

Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld said Tuesday that Zubaydah was in custody and receiving medical care for several wounds that "seem not to be lifethreatening." Rumsfeld described Zubaydah as "a very senior al-Qaeda official who has been intimately involved in a range of activities for the al-Qaeda."

"There is no question but that having an opportunity to visit with him is helpful," Rumsfeld said.

Only a day earlier, after Zubaydah's capture was widely reported by news organizations, Rumsfeld refused to confirm it, saying the less al-Qaeda knew about who had been the captured, the better.

U.S. officials said they believe Zubaydah can identify names, faces and locations of al-Qaeda operatives the world over and may also know where bin Laden is hiding.

Stan Bedlington, a former senior terrorism analyst with the CIA. called Zubaydah's capture "a major, major victory, if not the biggest victory so far."

"He will know the organization of al-Qaeda, if he talks," Bedlington said. "Osama bin Laden is a master planner. He must have made some contingency plans (for a major U.S. military pursuit). If Abu Zubaydah was privy to that planning, then obviously he can tell us a lot, possibly where Osama bin Laden would go."

DOWNTOWN

■ Continued from page 1

steamboats on the Kansas River. The depot, which is now being restored along Fort Riley Boulevard, brought a lot of people to Manhattan.

Glasgow said it is disappointing, but Manhattan is less progressive today than it was in early years.

"Manhattan was especially progressive in transportation. You could get off the train and get on the trolley downtown. Now we don't have either," she said.

When downtown was first built in 1855, parking was for horses and mules. Photographs at the Riley County Historical Museum show a 50/50 split of cars and horse- and mule-drawn carriages until 1920.

Looking at the old photographs, Glasgow said some things downtown have not changed.

The width of the streets has not changed, and there is still angle parking," she said. "There was a time in the 50s where an aluminum facade was used. Now there is a longing for limestone to show downtown's historic character. A lot of the buildings now look similar to those of historic downtown.

Much of the limestone used in old buildings, like the courthouse built in 1906 at the corner of Fifth Street and Poyntz, was quarried locally.

The building heights for downtown shops were staggered. Some stores were taller than others.

Glasgow said this was so taller buildings like the Wareham Hotel would not stick up higher than other buildings, looking different than the rest. It looks more pleasing, she said.

Carrie Ohm, director of Downtown Manhattan, Inc., said Manhattan has invested a lot in downtown Manhattan for specialty shops and the mall. Downtown Manhattan is a group of community members dedicated to the restoration and preservation of downtown streets, buildings and programs.

However, there is still controversy today with the location of the mall because some people said it should be on the outskirts of town away from downtown, and others said it needs to be near downtown

"Retail stores want to be by the mall," Ohm said. "We need to be cautious where we build, because other shops will want to be by new developments. It's important that we protect downtown.

She said Manhattan residents and visitors have always been able to shop downtown.

Ohm said there are a lot of people who shop downtown, but not as many students as before. There are still many new shops where students can buy gifts for their friends or for themselves.

"Just recently, we've got more specialty shops," she said. "Geometrics has fine furniture and gifts. They have futons that students need for their dorm rooms or their apartments. They sell everything from candles to wreaths."

She said students don't shop downtown like they used to. She encouraged everyone to take a walk downtown.

Americans to avoid Israel

BY BARRY SCHWEID

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The State Department, citing a "deteriorating security situation," urged Americans who live in Jerusalem to leave the city on Tuesday and encouraged dependents of American diplomats to return to the United States.

In a new and more pointed travel warning, the department again told Americans to defer travel to Israel, the West Bank and Gaza. This time, it also said U.S. citizens residing in Jerusalem as well as the territories should consider moving to safer locations

Those who live in the city, the target of an escalating string of Palestinian bombings, were told to be particularly careful and to avoid crowds and demonstrations.

"The potential for further terrorist acts remains high," the department statement said. "The situation in Jerusalem, the West Bank and Gaza remains extremely volatile with continuing terrorist attacks, confrontations and clashes."

Warnings to Americans to stay away from Israel were issued in December and January. The statement Tuesday was coupled with an announcement that dependents of U.S. diplomats and other American workers at the U.S. consulate in Ierusalem were authorized to go home at government expense.

The departure of dependents,

Claflin Books and Copies

What can the American Red Cross Club of KSU offer you or your

- * First Aid Station
- * Leadership Opportunities
- * Involvement In Your Community

Visit our website @ www.ksu.edu/redcross

which is not mandatory, was based on the general situation and not on any specific threats against Americans, said a U.S. official. Israel's economy already is reeling under the destruction caused by terror attacks, the expense of a military buildup and a sharp decline in tourists. The new U.S. warning is bound to add to Americans' anxieties about visiting Israel.

The United States, declining to recognize Jerusalem as Israel's capital, maintains its embassy in Tel

The authorized departure of dependents, as it is called, does not apply to the embassy.

Partly for religious reasons, Jerusalem has attracted Jews from around the world for centuries. Many are attached to its Biblical sites, and it was not clear how effective the State Department suggestion to U.S. citizens to consider relocating would be.

Palestinian Americans, for religious and family reasons, also are attracted to Jerusalem. Tel Aviv, too, has suffered bloody attacks, but with less frequency.

An estimated 100 to 150 American dependents are eligible to go home.

Also Tuesday, the University of California said it was arranging travel back to the United States for 27 students enrolled in programs in Israel and putting its fall 2002 academic program in Israel on hold "in view of the dramatically escalating violence in the Middle East.

The school said it was joining the universities of Colorado and Washington in recalling students from Israel. The university noted that 28 of its students in Israel had previously abandoned their studies. there.

President Bush lamented the Mideast impasse, saying Israel has a right to exist and Palestinians have a right to live in their own state one

"There are those who want to destroy that vision" of a peaceful Mideast, Bush said at a political fund-raiser in Philadelphia. "There are those who want to murder to make sure that vision never comes to be."

"The United States of America will stand strong and continue to insist that those who yearn for peace in the Middle East and other regions around the world must do everything they can to stop the terrorist activities all aimed at making sure that peace does not exist," he said.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Colin Powell made another call to Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon. his third since Saturday, and talked also to Prime Minister Ali Abul-Ragheb of Jordan.

Jafar Hassan, who heads the Jordanian Embassy in Washington, said Israel's actions on the West Bank were having "an extremely negative impact" on relations between Israel and Jordan.

■ Continued from page 8

PIPER

The board also promised to form a committee to develop an age-appropriate policy to help students understand and avoid plagiarizing.

The committee would work with students, parents, teachers administrators, the school board and the community to develop the policy.

David Lungren, president of the Piper Teachers Association, hoped Tuesday's actions would allow the district to move forward, with teachers and administrators working with the board.

"I feel very encouraged," he

However, Rebecca Jacobs, who has two children attending Piper High, said she and other infuriated parents would continue their efforts to recall board president Chris McCord, and Swanson and Greg Netzer.

"It's way little, way late," she said of Tuesday's board meeting. "It never should have happened."

Under state law, the parents can seek the recall of only three members of the board.

The group has said it is targeting McCord because of his leadership, and Netzer and Swanson because of their long terms on the board.

Although the board decided to give the students partial credit on the project after hearing from three parents, McCord has said the complaints had no effect on the decision.

On Tuesday, he said he merely wanted to do "what was best for the students in the district."

Principal Mike Adams, who supported Pelton's decision to fail the students, has announced plans to leave at the end of the academic

Adams, who is in his first year at the high school, has refused to say if the plagiarism scandal led to his decision.

The dispute has garnered media attention nationwide. Some scholars have described the board's actions as reflective of a national decline in integrity after corporate accounting scandals and alleged plagiarism by prominent historians.

DID YOU KNOW?

Auto accident and work injury insurance usually pay for 100% of your treatment if you are injured? We understand t wasn't your fault. you've been hurt! Call You make no Today! payments until your claim is settled, and we'll handle the paperwork.

Headache and Pain Center 537-4933 Downtown • 5th & Houston Next to the Purple Pig "Come Feel The Difference"

dependable, quality service

transparencies/

organization?

- CPR/First Aid Classes
- * Disaster Action Teams
- * Blood Services
- * Lots More!!!

Featuring the

Meal includes: 7' individual pizza (cheese, pepperoni or sausage), 1/2 order of breadsticks (your choice of tip) and a 24 oz. soft drink

ETTER PIZZA PEOPLE

K-State Student Union Food Court

GET A JOB AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic. If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie

103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

K-STATE vs. Wichita State

Wednesday, April 3 @ 2 p.m.

Frank Myers Field at Tointan Family Stadium

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIA

April 4, 2002 Kansas State University Manhattan, Kan. Volume 106, Number 125 www.kstatecollegian.com

Cats lose

Student charged with involuntary manslaughter

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas State Collegia:

Matthew Dunn, sophomore in computer science, has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in a Jan. 1 one-vehicle accident that killed Diego Velasquez, sophomore in

The accident was on Interstate 70 as Dunn and Velasquez were returning to Manhattan after attending the Insight.com Bowl.

According to a highway patrol report, the truck, driven by Dunn, went into the median, flipped over and rolled many times before

Velasquez was not wearing his seat belt and died at the scene.

Although the initial cause of the accident was predicted to be a lack of sleep, Dunn now has been charged in Wabunese County with driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol and also the involuntary manslaughter charge in the death of Velasquez,

According to court records, Velasquez. turned himself in Friday and pleaded innocent to the charges. He was released on a $15,000

Dunn said he turned himself in under the advisement of his attorney, but did not think he would be charged.

"I never knew I was going to get charged," he said. "It was in the back of my head."

Dunn said that although it was a letdown, he is confident with his chances of winning

Karen Mikols/Collegian

TOP: Riley County paramedic Tanya Werner shows Brianna Engels (right) and Casey Guthals, kindergartners at Northview Elementary School, how to put a splint on in an ambulance Wednesday morning outside of Mercy Health Center on Sunset and Claffin. The program, Kindergarten Hospital, is put on by auxiliary members of Mercy Health Center. Students from local schools go through and see several different aspects of a hospital and are given the opportunity to ask questions and participate in hands-on activities. ABOVE: Cody McClintick, a kindergartner at Northview Elementary School, practices suctioning a baby's nose.

Young docs

Kindergartners visit local hospital

BY TARA PATTY

Kindergartners discovered what it was like to use crutches, wheelchairs and walkers Wednesday at Mercy Health Center on Sunset

The three-day program, Kindergarten Hospital, was intended to prepare children for what they might encounter during future visits and to make them more comfortable with hospital equipment.

More than 400 children from Manhattan-Ogden USD 383 have attended this year's Kindergarten Hospital. The 20-year program is a collaborated effort of Mercy, the local EMS, the hospital auxiliary and Manhattan Technical College, said Carol Sheehe, president of the hospital auxiliary.

"It's a very valuable program," Sheehe said. "It introduces kids to what our EMS do and our hospitals do and makes them less scared."

Children toured a pediatric hospital room, X-ray room, a doctor's office and a rehabilitation room patients might use if they are going to the hospital for surgery, she said. Students also viewed an ambulance courtesy of the local EMS.

The program also was a good experience for the Manhattan Area Technical College nursing students, she said. The students

See DOCTORS DE PAGE 5

Alexander trial continues; state calls key witnesses

BY SARAH RICE Karraus Stirte Collegian

Randall Lindsey.

The state called witnesses today in the trial of Skylor Alexander, who is charged with firstdegree murder in the June 30 stabbing of Pfc.

Continuing his testimony from Tuesday, Spec. Ryan Good, who was with Lindsey the night of the incident, said he and Lindsey, along with friend Tim Brown, went to Aggieville looking for a fight. "I like to see and participate in violence,"

Defense attorney Pedro Irigonegaray showed jurors the semiautomatic gun Lindsey was carrying at the time of the fight. However, prosecutors claimed the defendant was not aware that Lindsey had the gun.

Irigonegaray challenged Good's claim ALEXANDER that he was 43 feet away from Alexander and Lindsey at the time of the confrontation. Good said he walked closer because he was

See MURDER on PAGE 10

Food safety lab moves through Senate

Kanana Stone Collegian

A bill that would finance the construction of K-State's $42 million food safety lab easily won Senate approval Wednesday.

Passed 37-3, the bill authorizes the Kansas Board of Regents to issue $130 million in bonds for food safety research at K-State, life sciences research at the University of Kansas, and aviation research at Wichita State University.

"We're very pleased. These are very important for the respective universities," President Jon Wefald said. "It's vital for the economic security of our state."

Research Provost Ron Trewyn said this will present enormous opportunities to

K-State and Kansas.

"It's certainly going to expand our ability to compete for state-of-the-art research programs that will help to protect agriculture in the state," he said. "From our perspective, this is critical. K-State first proposed an $80 million food safety lab in 1999, but scaled back the proposal after unsuccessfully searching for

The food safety lab would include laboratories for studying Level 3 pathogens, just a step below the most dangerous, like ebola, which falls into Level 4. It also would include the nation's first contained slaughter facility for research into dangerous food production pathogens that could infect plants and animals. Trewyn said he would like to see construction begin sometime next year. The House passed the bill in March by a 94-25 vote, but limited the bonds to $110 million. If the House does not accept the amended bill, the differences will be worked out by a joint committee.

Plans call for the state to pay off $50 million of the bonds over five years for debt service, beginning in 2004.

While the bill passed by overwhelming majorities in the House and Senate, Wefald said plenty of work went into the initiatives.

See LAB on PAGE 10

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 | news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

Memorial service planned to honor 3 Ft. Riley soldiers

FORT RILEY - Fort Riley has scheduled a memorial service for Thursday afternoon to honor the three soldiers killed during a training accident in California.

The men died early Friday when a 120mm mortar round fired from an armored vehicle exploded prematurely at the National Training Center at Fort Irwin, in the desert east of Los Angeles.

The victims were Pvt. Oscar Perez-Jimenez, 19, of West Covina; Sgt. Clifton J. Decklar, 22, of Shelton, Wash.; and Spec. Bobby L. Newton, 27, of New Orleans. Pfc. Jamie Weare of Indianapolis was injured.

Higher education bill wins unanimous Senate approval

TOPEKA - A bill addressing lingering questions from the state's 1999 reorganization of the higher education system won Senate approval Wednesday.

The measure, passed and sent to the House on a 40-0 vote, defines the Board of Regents' powers in overseeing universities, community colleges and technical schools - and in allocating money to them.

The 1999 law shifted control of community colleges and technical schools from the State Board of Education to the Board of Regents.

The reorganization law was supposed to promote efficiency and accountability by having the regents set goals for individual institutions, then allocate funds based on how well those goals are met.

Some confusion arose as parts of the reorganization were put in place, however.

This year's bill clarifies the regents' role in monitoring whether institutions meet their goals.

Under the measure, each institution would sign an agreement with the regents outlining specific goals, such as increasing graduation rates, to which money would be tied.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Israelis encircle Palestinians at holy site, refugee camp

BETHLEHEM, West Bank - Israeli tanks rolled into the West Bank's largest city, Nablus, on Wednesday and other troops laid siege to a refugee camp in Jenin, battling Palestinians who barricaded entrances and fought back with bombs and guns. Soldiers also encircled hundreds of Palestinian gunmen holed up in the church marking Jesus' birthplace.

Twelve Palestinians and an Israeli soldier were killed on the sixth day of Israel's offensive aimed at crushing Palestinian militias and stopping terror attacks on Israeli civilians.

Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon convened Cabinet ministers to approve the next stage of the open-ended "Operation Protective Wall." Only two major West Bank towns - Hebron and Jericho — were still under Palestinian control late Wednesday.

North Korea to start talks with U.S.-led consortium

SEOUL, South Korea - North Korea said Wednesday that it will resume dialogue with a U.S.-led international consortium currently building two nuclear reactors in the isolated, impoverished country.

It was unclear from the communist North's official Korean Central News Agency's brief English statement whether North Korea also wants to open dialogue with the U.S. government.

U.S. State Department officials, speaking on condition of anonymity. said the statement appears to refer only to the Korean Peninsula Energy Development Organization the consortium set up to construct two light-water nuclear reactors in the country.

1st troops in Afghan army complete basic training

KABUL, Afghanistan - The first 600 troops in the new Afghan army completed six weeks of basic training Wednesday, eagerly performing their skills before Prime Minister Hamid Karzai and other dignitaries.

The men - drawn from every province and ethnic group in Afghanistan - are to be the vanguard of a 68,000-strong army that Karzai says will bring an end to the "warlordism" that has kept the country mired in decades of civil war and destruction.

LEGISLATURE UPDATE

- The House rejected legislation allowing more gambling in Kansas.
- Four bills backed by abortion opponents won House approval.
- A program helping older Kansans pay for prescription drugs would expand dramatically under a proposal outlined by Senate leaders.
- A bill clarifying parts of the 1999 reorganization of the higher education system won Senate approval.
- The House tentatively approved a bill restricting lawsuits against makers and dealers of guns and ammunition.
- The Senate adopted a resolution extending the session beyond a recess that starts April 14.
- Wednesday was the 80th calendar day of the 2002 session, out of 90 scheduled.

Graduate student prepares to showcase ceramic work

BY LINDSAY FETTERMAN

fter a 17-year hiatus, Kathryn Hanson completed her undergraduate degree in studio art at Concordia University in St. Paul,

In May, Hanson will earn her list master's degree in fine arts when she graduates from K-State.

Before graduating, Hanson, a third-year graduate student, will showcase her talent in ceramics with her thesis project, "Common Ground," which will be on display from April 14 to May 12 in the Manhattan Arts Center.

Her project features tea pots that reflect her travels and studies in Mexico and Scotland.

They tend to be spiritual and organic, some are figurative, Hanson said of the tea pots.

"They reflect an art nouveau style."

Hanson became interested in the art nouveau style last fall when she was a guest lecturer/visiting artist at the Glasgow School of Art in Scotland. Glasgow is a center for turn-of-the-century art nouveau, Hanson said.

"I became fascinated with that style and the people," Hanson said.

The people of Mexico also left a lasting impression on Hanson. As an undergraduate, she made four study trips to Mexico to study art and justice issues in Mexico.

"The women I met on the trip were a big influence on me

Drew Rose/Callegian Kathryn L. Hanson, graduate student in art, will be having her MFA thesis exhibition from April 14 to May 12 at the Manhattan Arts Center.

because many were single moms who had very tough lives, but still managed to make good lives for themselves," Hanson said.

Hanson has taught several classes and has also been involved in projects and committees, including "Global Clay," a workshop on campus this spring, the Board for the Friends of the Beach Museum and the Potter's

After graduating, Hanson plans on teaching at a community college or university but has no definite plans of where she will go.

She also is interested in working with community arts for disadvantaged kids.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Items might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

KNEA-SP will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Union Little Theatre Recreational Services will take entries for the intramural home-run derby in the administrative office until today.

Career and Employment Services will have a representative from the Kansas Human Resources Division to talk about opportunities to work for the state, how to apply and job benefits from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday in Union 213. The Gradu the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Iulia Podariu at 10:30 a.m. today in Cardwell 119.

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from the K-State and Riley County police departments' daily logs We do not list wheel lucks or minor traffic violations because of space constraints.

Riley County Tuesday, April 2

m At 9:19 a.m., Dwayne McFadden, 6823 Deer Trail, was arrested for three counts of probation violation. Bond was set at $1,000. At 8:55 n.m., Casey Ma Walnut Drive, was arrested for possession of simulated controlled substance or paraphernalia and unlawful possession of substances. Bond was set at $1,500.

■ At 8:58 p.m., Kahlen Jones, 2115 Walnut Drive, was arrested for two counts of possession of simulated controlled substance or paraphernalia and two counts unlawful possession of substances. No bond

At 9:40 p.m., Jonathan Loftis, 2115 Walnut Drive, was arrested for two counts of possession of simulated controlled substance or paraphemalia, unlawful possession of substance and failure to appear. No bond was set.

Wednesday, April 3

at 1 a.m., Dustin Beam, 2115 Walnut Drive, was arrested for two counts of possession of simulated controlled substance or parapher nalia, unlawful possession of substance. No bond was set. At 1:29 a.m., Timothy Summers, 1110 Pomeroy, was arrested for unlawful possession of substances and driving on a suspended/canceled license. Bond was set at $1,000. ■ At 2:50 a.m., Eric Pryor, 1204 Ratone, was arrested for criminal trespass. Bond was set at $500.

K-State Police

Mo reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF

Jessica Pitts

Alyson Raletz City/Gov Editor

Dana Strongin

Paul Restivo

Copy Chief

Nicole Donnert

April Middleton Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Zach Long

Kansas State Collegian Kedzie 103

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1919. Manharian, Kan 06/505. The Cotheguay is published weer's lays throng the series of year and on Wednesdays during the surrowy Periodical postage is paid of Manhatian. Nos-

© Kansas State Collegian, 2002

Nancy Hull Dan Smith Projects Editor Sports Editor

JJ Duncan Micah Hawkinson

Amber Koehn

Katie Lane

BY PHONE

«Collegian Editor

Jodi Fagerquist

Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

CONTACT US

Kansas State University Manhattan, KS 66506

Collegna, excedition desk Kedine 103 Manhattar, Kan 16506-7167

Newsroom

532-6556 Display advertising 532-6560 Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555 Photo reprints 532-6304

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Corrections and clarifications appear in this space. If you see something that should be corrected, call News Editor Nancy Foster at 532-6556 or e-mail collegn@ksu.edu.

1800 Claflin Road

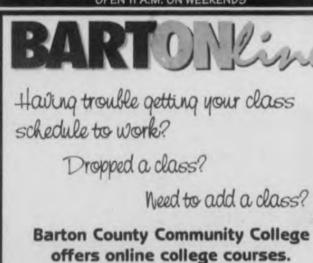

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch! (Ask about our monthly specials)

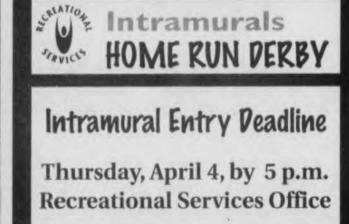

We offer both 8-week and 16-week sessions. General education courses transfer to Kansas Regents schools.

Find our schedule online!

www.bartonline.org

Trying to room for your new furniture?

The Collegian can help.

Get rid of your old furniture

by using the

Collegian

Classified ads.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie

make

Competition not expected to affect downtown

Kansas State Collegian

Wal-Mart and Home Depot are looking to build new stores in Manhattan. How will this affect downtown Manhattan?

Carrie Ohm, director of Downtown

Manhattan Inc., said Manhattan has invested a lot on Poyntz Avenue with specialty shops and the mall. These stores offer different products, so competition should not be a problem.

"Wal-Mart won't affect our retail," she said. "Wal-Mart doesn't sell wedding dresses. People wanting wedding dresses are going to go to a wedding boutique.'

While new stores like Wal-Mart and Home Depot will not add compe tition to retail of downtown businesses, new developments still would have significant effects.

Three or four months ago, a market analysis was done in Manhattan to guide the future of Little Apple businesses.

Ohm said the goal of the analysis was to show what businesses have potential of success in Manhattan and where those businesses should go.

While there is controversy about the location of the mall, the analysis shows that its location offers the most benefits for downtown retail.

"People had the insight to ensure that the mall would be downtown, and that protects Manhattan's investment. New retail stores would want to be by the mall," Ohm said.

That is why the mall's location was beneficial to the community. She said if the mall was constructed on the other side of town, new businesses would develop at that location — detracting business from the downtown area.

"The market analysis said we need to be careful to protect downtown," Ohm said. "We need to get as many 'big box' businesses to develop near downtown instead of elsewhere."

She said big box businesses are inevitable. It will be up to city commissioners to decide whether to accept rezoning proposals. They will have to decide where these businesses go.

There also is a question about how the new Courtyard Marriott

Convention Center being built in Junction City will affect travelers coming to Manhattan.

Brad Everett, general manager of the Fairfield Inn in Manhattan, said he does not feel the new convention center will affect Manhattan.

He said he has reservations that the center will be successful. He said Junction City doesn't offer any activities for visitors.

"You can't have a Cracker Barrel and a Wal-Mart and have people jump off the couch and say, 'Let's go to the Courtyard Marriott in Junction

According to an independent study, a new hotel and convention center would be a challenge even in Manhattan, However, Everett said there is a chance for success with the venues hubbed in the Little Apple.

Everett said the developer of the Junction City convention center gave five reasons for setting up the center in its proposed location: the convention's close proximity to Fort Riley. K-State and Belford Lake, as well as access to Interstate 70 and U.S. Highway 77

"Those five entities are expected to be the windfall for that property, but with nothing else to do - hey, it's not my money," Everett said.

dependable, quality service

✓ color copies

Claflin Books and Copies

Nicole Donnert/Co

A flag flying outside the front entrance to Manhattan Town Center on Wednesday afternoon overlooks the stores along Poyntz Avenue. Lyle Butler, president of the American Red Cross Club of KSU offering

ON CAMPUS CPR

CERTIFICATION

April 4, 19, 27 & May 4 ksu.edu/redcross

Manhattan Area Chamber of Commerce, said the convention center provides more opportunities to bring visitors to downtown Manhattan.

Newly Established

"Visitors will go to Junction City for the convention, but they will come see it as additional visitors downtown.

to Manhattan to visit and shop. We so downtown businesses should not be hurt," Butler said.

@ 10 p.m

DOWNTOWN

IN-DEPTH

This is the second in a three-day series. Read

learn about the Union

Pacific's Depot restora

Friday's Collegian to

Also serving breakfast, brunch, and lunch 6:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Mon-Fri, 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sat-Sun

4:30-9:00 p.m. Thursday & Friday nights

the second time is always more fun.

Kappa Delta Sigma Phi Epsilon Beta Sigma Psi HOMECOMING 2002

VAREHOUSE APRIL 9 - APRIL 12

Tuesday-Friday 10 AM-9 PM

APRIL 13

Saturday 10 AM-7 PM

Fashions from the pages of the J.Crew Catalog up to 70% off!!

Bramlage Coliseum • 1800 College Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

Directions:

Follow I-70 to Exit 313, Hwy. 177 N. Make a left onto Tuttle Creek Blvd. Go about 2 miles and turn left onto Kimble Ave. Turn left onto college Ave. and enter gate 1 of the KSU Sports Complex.

> We accept Visa, Mastercard, American Express, J.Crew Credit Cards, Cash and Check (with proper ID)

Includes Irregulars, Damaged & Customer Returns

Trying to room for vour new furniture?

The Collegian can help.

Get rid of your

old furniture

by using the

Collegian

Classified ads.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie

532-6555

make

Competition not expected to affect downtown

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Collegian

Wal-Mart and Home Depot are looking to build new stores in Manhattan. How will this affect downtown Manhattan?

Carrie Ohm, director of Downtown

Manhattan Inc., said Manhattan has invested a lot on Poyntz Avenue with specialty shops and the mall. These stores offer different products, so competition should not be a problem.

"Wal-Mart won't affect our retail," she said. "Wal-Mart doesn't sell wedding dresses. People wanting wedding dresses are going to go to a wedding boutique." While new stores like Wal-Mart and Home Depot will not add compe tition to retail of downtown businesses, new developments still would have significant effects.

Three or four months ago, a market analysis was done in Manhattan to guide the future of Little Apple businesses

Ohm said the goal of the analysis was to show what businesses have where those businesses should go.

While there is controversy about the location of the mall, the analysis shows that its location offers the most benefits for downtown retail.

"People had the insight to ensure that the mall would be

IN-DEPTH

This is the second in a three-day series. Read

Friday's Collegian to learn about the Union

Pacific's Depot restora-

downtown, and that protects Manhattan's investment. New retail stores would want to be by the mall," Ohm said.

That is why the mall's location was beneficial to the community. She said if the mall was constructed on the other side of town, new businesses would develop at that location - detracting business from the downtown area.

"The market analysis said we need to be careful to protect downtown." Ohm said. "We need to get as many 'big box' businesses to develop near downtown instead of elsewhere.'

She said big box businesses are inevitable. It will be up to city commissioners to decide whether to accept rezoning proposals. They will have to decide where these businesses go.

There also is a question about how the new Courtyard Marriott

When you're looking for a bargain check out the Collegian Classifieds.

If you don't find what

Junction City will affect travelers coming to Manhattan.

Brad Everett, general manager of the Fairfield Inn in Manhattan, said he does not feel the new convention center will affect Manhattan.

He said he has reservations that the center will be successful. He said Junction City doesn't offer any activities for visitors.

"You can't have a Cracker Barrel and a Wal-Mart and have people jump off the couch and say, 'Let's go to the Courtyard Marriott in Junction

According to an independent study, a new hotel and convention center would be a challenge even in Manhattan. However, Everett said there is a chance for success with the venues hubbed in the Little Apple.

Everett said the developer of the Junction City convention center gave five reasons for setting up the center in its proposed location: the convention's close proximity to Fort Riley, K-State and Belford Lake, as well as access to Interstate 70 and U.S. Highway 77.

"Those five entities are expected to be the windfall for that property, but with nothing else to do - hey, it's not my money," Everett said.

dependable, quality service

✓ color copies

Claflin Books and Copies

Nicole Donnert/Call

A flag flying outside the front entrance to Manhattan Town Center on Wednesday afternoon overlooks the stores along Poyntz Avenue.

Lyle Butler, president of the Manhattan Area Chamber of Commerce, said the convention center provides more opportunities to bring visitors to downtown

"Visitors will go to Junction City for the convention, but they will come to Manhattan to visit and shop. We see it as additional visitors downtown, so downtown businesses should not be hurt." Butler said

Newly Established American Red Cross Club of KSU offering ON CAMPUS CPR

> April 4, 19, 27 & May 4 ksu.edu/redcross

CERTIFICATION

@ 10 p.m.

4:30-9:00 p.m. Thursday & Friday nights

Also serving breakfast, brunch, and lunch 6:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Mon-Fri, 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sat-Sun the second time is always more fun. Kappa Delta Sigma Phi Epsilon Beta Sigma Psi HOMECOMING 2002

Beer Loft Miller Lt/MGD 24 pk $15.45 Bud/Bud Lt 24 pk 515,45 Coors Lt 24 pk $15.45 Milwalkee's Best 24 pk $9.50 12 pk $5.10 Keystone $6.75 12 pk 513.15 30 pk Bush/Bush Lt $14.75 Natural Lt 12 pk $5.83 917 N. 3rd, Manhattan U-HAUL • Call for reservation • 539-2827 Ctn. Marlboro $7.95 $7.95 $5.16 $22.89 Camel $22.89 $13.59 Winston Liggett

VAREHOUSE SA

APRIL 9 - APRIL 12

Tuesday-Friday 10 AM-9 PM

APRIL 13

Saturday 10 AM-7 PM

Fashions from the pages of the J.Crew Catalog up to 70% off!!

Bramlage Coliseum • 1800 College Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

Directions:

Follow I-70 to Exit 313, Hwy. 177 N. Make a left onto Tuttle Creek Blvd. Go about 2 miles and turn left onto Kimble Ave. Turn left onto college Ave. and enter gate 1 of the KSU Sports Complex.

> We accept Visa, Mastercard, American Express, J.Crew Credit Cards, Cash and Check (with proper ID)

Includes Irregulars, Damaged & Customer Returns

Experience adds to traditional class lectures

The majority of undergraduate students are at K-State to earn a degree. While they are here, their classes not only should help them meet requirements, but also stimulate learning.

Therefore, some classes need to emphasize hands-on experience over

OUR VOICE

and debated by the

editorial board and

formed. OUR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

written after a

Jessica Pitts April Middleton

Nancy Foster

Dana Strongin

Alyson Raletz

Amber Koehn

Nancy Hull

Dan Smith

Katie Lane

JJ Duncan

Zach Long

Nicole Donnert

Micah Hawkinson

Paul Restivo

lecture and regurgitation. This gives students the chance to learn skills that will help them obtain jobs and internships.

A model example is the industrial engineering class Manufacturing Systems Design Analysis. In the class, students develop a company that produces, promotes and sells a product of their invention.

The class further emulates real business because a passing grade requires a certain amount of sales, which is similar to sales requirements for employees.

Departments with classes like this should be commended for their efforts. Their students are getting the opportunity to learn more about post-graduate life.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

I can't figure out which is worse: the comments in the Fourum, or the illiterate editors who work for the Collegian. Somebody help me out here.

To the crazy girl running around Marlatt the other night: revenge is one thing, insanity is another.

Do you like my hair? I was going for the wind-blown look.

It's a good thing God gave us sarcasm. Otherwise, I'd have to be sincerely rude.

I have the coolest physics teacher ever. He racked himself with a tennis ball the other day in class.

With all the trash people keep talking on KU, they need to realize that K-State didn't even make it into the tournament.

You know, it's really sad when the Collegian gives a brainless film like "Blade II" a better review than an intelligent satire like "Death to Smoochy."

Hey, Paul White, let me guess. You have a hard time finding a girlfriend.

Hey, Jared Wiesner, I'll join your cult if you promise to drink the Kool-Aid first.

I know Kung Fu.

Women think they know what they want. Once they have it, they don't want it. Then they realize what they had is what they want when it's gone. What's up with that?

Paul White, why not manufacture a war? Are you kidding me? Get your head out of the clouds. This isn't "Wag the Dog."

I like my women like I like my worm:

I just saw that "Death to Smoochy" movie, and every other word was ...

Somebody call the INS and tell them we have Paul White.

I am Batman.

No, I am Batman.

Breeding violence

Palestinians must have own nation to achieve peace

ew college students find international issues interesting. Last Saturday in Aggieville, however, some friends and I found the violence between the Israelis and Palestinians the topic of discussion. I realized we, as American college students, talking casually over a few beers through the noise and cigarette smoke, couldn't completely understand the panic in the Middle East.

But we do understand hatred. The 20th century was

What is disconcerting is that the United States is a big. reason for the deaths of innocent Palestinians and Israelis, and for the threat of terrorism here in our own country.

How is that possible? Aren't we waging a war against terrorism?

We are running in circles. Our anti-terrorism policies result in pro-terrorism consequences.

The United States has funded Israel for years. We have supported Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon from the beginning of his term. So, it's right for us to support Sharon in his pursuit to end Palestinian terrorism, right?

That could not be further from the truth. The Palestinians have reason to be angry when the Israeli government has tanks driving through their streets, shooting people who leave their homes and blaming all of them for terrorism.

Palestinians are the victims of a ruling them with fear and domina-

Is that peace? The Israeli government claims to be "cracking down on terrorism." The reason for the terrorism, however, lies within Israel's own government militarism.

diplomacy.

fear and anger among

Sharon, accused of war crimes, is taking advantage of the anti-Muslim sentiment since

Sept. 11 in his march

The

non-Israelis by attempting to force them from Israel. Fear and anger only lead to more violence.

Sharon and other Israeli extremists, who have supported Slobodon Milosovic, are no better than the Taliban. If no one were to stop them, they would pursue a Palestinian Lucky for us, the Palestinians don't have a superpower like the United States backing them up with untold billions of dollars and state-of-the-art military equipment. If they did, Sharon wouldn't be so tough anymore. We also accuse Arafat of being a terrorist, equating him to suicide bombers and Osama bin Laden. Who is the real terrorist, the man hiding in a bunker under siege, or the man pointing his guns at civilians. forcing them from their homes and causing outrage resulting in suicide bombings?

Tanner Ehmke

Sharon is the true terrorist. President Bush said Yasser Arafat "can do a lot more" in stopping terrorist attacks committed by extreme Islamic groups.

How much more can Arafat actually do in such a volatile situation, especially when cornered in a tworoomed bunker with only a cell phone?

Harnas, the militant Islamic faction claiming responsibility for the bombings, works on their own accord. Arafat has no power over people who refuse to listen even to him.

Asking Arafat to back down, or to give into Israel's military conquest, is an insult. There is a better way to end the violence than imposing impossible requests upon Arafat.

If the Israeli government is sincere in its quest against terrorism, it should accept the peace plan offered by Arab leaders: they must withdraw from the disputed territories (the Gaza Strip, Gona Heights and the West Bank) which the Israéli government took in 1967 during the Six-Year War and let the innocent Palestinians live in

In turn, the Arab leaders will recognize them as a sovereign nation and restore diplomatic ties, thus encouraging peace.

We must ask ourselves what we want to achieve. Do we want to exile Palestinians from Israel, or achieve peace in a region beleaguered with generations of

The world has seen enough violence for one century. If the Israelis and Palestinians cannot live together in peace, then they must live separately in peace.

It is time for the Palestinians to have a nation of their own. We must support them like we have supported Israel for so many years.

It is the only true anti-terrorism policy.

Tanner is a graduate student in journalism. You can email him at tce2225@ksu.edu.

New book justifies sexual activity with children

Apparently if you know the meaning of this word, you are old enough to partake in sexual

This opinion stems from Judith Levine's new book, "Harmful to Minors: The Perils of Protecting Children from Sex," says Greg Pierce of the Washington Times

Levine questions "the ideology that it's always harmful for kids to have sexual relationships with adults."

Think of all the Oprah shows you've seen with healthy, happy adults praising those who introduced them to their sexuality as young children. But hey, they had a good vocabulary, so they had it coming.

I cannot (with whatever journalistic integrity this English major has) confirm that Levine supports sexual relations between adults and children since I have not read her book cover to cover.

However, the excerpts available online at www.upress.umn.edwHarmfultoMinors.html do hint at an overall approval of the subject, > as well as those who might approach children sexually. In these excerpts, Levine speaks of the "myths and facts" of pedophiles, with an advocatory tone toward the ex offenders.

Susan Powell "Pedophiles are not generally violent ... perpetrators very rarely use force or cause physical injury in a youngster."

But lasting mental and emotional injury is so much easier to heal, right?

Levine adds that pedophiles bring "themselves down to the maturity level of children rather than trying to drag the child up toward an adult level. Many men who engage in sex with children tend

'hands-off' encounters such as voyeurism and exhibitionism.

Ah. yes. Mutual masturbation is just innocent childhood fun. It ranks up there with flying kites and spinning until you're

Besides pedophiles not being a "violent" threat, Levine counters that parents worry excessively over the idea of their child being molested.

... In a Mayo Clinic study of anxieties reported to pediatricians, three-quarters of parents were afraid their children would be abducted; a third said it was a 'frequent worry,' more frequent than fretting over sports injuries, car accidents or drugs."

Parents cannot control a pedophile's actions or the repercussions in the same way they can tend to broken limbs or discuss drug use.

Of course they should be worried. Levine continues to lambaste the fears of parents by reminding her readers, "[a] child's risk of dying in a car accident is 25 to 75 times greater. Arrests for rape and other sex offenses, including those against children, still constituted only about I percent of all arrests in 1993.

One percent of how many arrests? Is it not obvious that one sex offense against a child is one too many?

Although a few excerpts from a novel cannot tell its entire story, the excerpts offered do nothing to ease the concern caused by the controversial subject

The ideas and the tone in which Levine presents them indicate a conciliatory movement be made between parents and those who choose to target their children. Horrifying. But read (without buying, if possible) the book, and decide for yourself.

Susan is a junior in English. You can e-mail her at sjp8478@ksu.edu.

READERS WRITE

Columnist's choice of words derogatory, stereotypical

I am writing to inform you of the disappointment I incurred while reading Tuesday's opinion section. There is an article titled "Parking service attendants deserve students' respect." My beef isn't directly with the article (as I agree with Peter Morris' view), but with his word choice.

I am a heterosexual male who is extremely adamant about homosexual rights. I don't feel that it is appropriate to publish articles that include the derogatory usage of the word gay. I won't allow my friends to say it. I won't allow strangers to say it. How the heck am I supposed to fight this battle against derogatory stereotypes toward homosexuals when "gay" is permitted to be used in slang terms in our college newspaper?

Had the word appeared in the Fourum I wouldn't have thought twice about it. However, there is an editing process involved with newspaper articles that shouldn't allow words like that through.

What sort of respect would you have for [Insert favorite TV news reporter's name here if he/she said that the UN meeting Friday night was really gay?

I think I have made my point as clear as I can and I hope you respect the rights of on-campus homosexuals enough to do something about it.

> - Drew Siebert freshman in electrical engineering

Depot to go to commission

Kansus State Collegian

The first step toward a proposed Home Depot in Manhattan has been completed.

Eric Cattell, Manhattan's assistant director for planning, said nine conditions of the Urban Area Planning Board were met by Home Depot developers Monday. The board issued these concerns when the development was discussed March 4.

The conditions included irrigation, permit and storage concerns. Cattell said the board also wanted Home Depot planners to improve the exterior appearance of the building.

The proposed Home Depot would utilize land on the east side of Seth Child Road and north of the Riley County Law Enforcement Center, Cattell said. He said it would cover 94,870 sq. ft. and an additional 24,000 sq. ft. for a garden center.

The next step in the development will occur at the city commission meeting April 16. If approved by commissioners. Cattell said Home Depot might start construction in less than three months.

Brad Everett, city commissioner, said commissioners most likely would look positively at development of the store. He said the store would strengthen Manhattan as a regional shopping area.

"It's going to provide another viable alternative for people that are already traveling down I-70," he said.

If zoning is completed by May, Cattell said a final development plan might be finished by late May or early June. Building permits, he said, could the be issued by mid-June.

Although Everett said a Home Depot would benefit Manhattan, he said he is worried about the effect it could have on local hardware stores and lumber yards. He said some stores might remain successful, but those with weak corporate bases might find it tough to compete.

"I'm sensitive to the impact on smaller lumber facilities," he said. "There's going to be some slippage from the market share."

Sheehe said.

pediatrics rotation is a welcome break

"It's quite the experience," Rohr attempted walking with crutches and

Before they left, the kindergartners also received their own hats and operations, syringes without needles masks that doctors wear during walkers and got to ride in a wheel-from her regular schedule, she said.

The kindergartners also

Officials vote to add turning lane on Bluemont to solve traffic problems

RY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Collegian

City administrators presented two viable options to solve traffic problems at Third Street and Bluemont Avenue to commissioners Tuesday - neither passed.

In a nearly five-hour debate, commissioners decided not to support the double roundabout proposal or widening Bluemont and constructing a raised median.

Instead, the commission passed a motion 3-2 to build a left turn lane on Bluemont, study potential traffic signal coordination at the Third-Bluemont intersection and study the plan for the entire Third Street Corridor area.

At this point, Manhattan will not be receiving funding from the Kansas Department of Transportation because the intersection is not high on the priority list. Since taxpayers will be paying the bill, it is important to move forward cautiously. Commissioner Ed Klimek said.

"I think we can lobby and get on KDOT's priority list, but until then, we can't make decisions without knowing the future of Third Street Corridor," he said.

He said there are too many unanswered questions.

Commissioner Mark Taussig agreed that synchronizing the lights would help solve the shortterm problem.

"If you're heading east bound on Bluemont, you might get a green light at Third and Bluemont, but you'll get a red light at Tuttle Creek and Bluemont. What's the deal? Why can't we get two green lights?" Taussig said.

When looking at synchronizing the traffic signals, Chris Huffman, KDOT corridor management administrator, said he has strong reservations against this proposal. He said it might not even be possible.

In order to get good flow of traffic by a series of signals with minimal disruption, Huffman said significant uniform spacing is needed between intersections.

"We can't do that here," he said. "The space is not acceptable for sequencing."

Jerry Petty, director of public works, said there was an attempt to coordinate the two signals 15 to 20 vears ago.

"It failed. Those lights have operated independently ever since," Petty said.

However, there has been no detailed study to synchronize the traffic signals.

Mayor Bruce Snead presented a motion that failed 2-3 to press ahead with concept development to establish whether the roundabout proposal would be a viable short and longterm option.

HWS consultant Jack Messer, developer of the roundabout proposal, said it would address all of the city's goals:

Establish access management

*Promote economic activity *Provide efficient transportation

•Provide safer transportation However, it also would address the goals of Third Street business owners to keep Third Street open.

When the motion to move forward with the proposal failed, Messer said he was disappointed.

"I'm disappointed with our commissioners, who were presented with information to solve a traffic problem. I'm disappointed in their outcome," he said.

Klimek said he did not want to move forward with the roundabout proposal. When commissioners visited intersections with similar roundabouts in Golden, Colo., they found the roundabouts worked. However, when talking with residents, people said they avoided those intersections.

In regards to whether Third Street business owners will continue to fight for the roundabout proposal, Messer did not know. But the group did plan to keep in contact with Messer and each other.

T've been hired by the business owners, so it depends on what they want to do. I think they're in reaction mode now and want to wait and see what happens," Messer said.

The pair talked about the type of food patients can eat in the hospital and how they give baths to patients who can not get out of bed. They also explained each room's function to the questions.

DOCTORS

kindergartners.

Continued from page 1

kindergartners and answered

Kim Rohr and Emily Gunn,

Technical College, explained the nursing students at Manhattan Area pediatric hospital room station to the

CAMPUS FRURUM: 395-4444 Pregnancy

give us your epinien.

Testing Center

"Supportive services for pregnancy, parenting & adoption.

39-3338

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results Call for appointment

ocated across from campus in Anderson Villag Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Season for

and tongue depressors from the Rohr said. hospital, as well as coloring books Gunn said the afternoon classes from the EMS. seem to have more energy than the "Kindergarten is an exciting age," morning groups. However, talking demonstrated how the hospital bed used for babies in the hospital.

opportunity to tell stories or ask questions about the room. One moves and showed students bassinets

The kindergartners then had the kindergartner shared a story of when he had to go to the hospital to get stitches in his thumb, while another described her fearlessness when she

"They tell a lot of funny stories," with kindergartners as part of her received a flu shot.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT WHEN: Saturday, April 27th 10:00am

Around the World 3-ON-3

WHERE: Chester E. Peters Rec Center COST: $20 per team (3 players)

ANY QUESTIONS: Aric Brandt 587 8485 Registration forms also available online at: www.vet.ksu.edu/studentorgs/cvmt/index.htm

Registration forms due by APRIL 10th Tournament proceeds go to sponsor Christian Veterinary Student Missions

MANHATTAN SHOE REPAIR $8 OFF

With Coupon No other discounts

Full soles or Half soles with heels offer ends 4-30-02

MANHATTAN SHOE REPAIR

Hours: M-F + 8-5:30

Gary E. Gordon, prop. Sat. 8-1 p.m. #64 CELEBRATION

Monviolence Margaret Mead said "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful committed citizens can change the world; indeed it is the only thing that ever has.'

Rejoice in the work that you have done. Celebrate the journey that you have made with countless others who believe that every individual can move the world in the direction of peace with their nonviolent choice and action.

Season for Nonviolence • January 30 – April 4, 2002

Sponsored by KSU Women's Center and the Kansas State University Campaign for Nonviolence

View all 64 days 64 ways at www.ksu.edu/nonviolence

64 days 64 ways

GET A JOB

AND SOME GREAT EXPERIENCE!

WANT A JOB WHEN YOU GRADUATE?

Most employers are looking for people who have experience.

Get ahead of the competition and gain some valuable experience at the same time at the Kansas State Collegian.

We're looking for people who are reliable, show initiative, possess writing skills, and are creative and enthusiastic.

If this description fits you, please apply. Pick up an application and job description in Kedzie 103. The following positions are available.

EXECUTIVE POSITIONS

Fall 2002 Collegian editor in chief

Fall 2002 Collegian advertising manager

Applications due 5 p.m. April 5

If we receive only single applications for these positions, the deadline extends automatically to April 12 to encourage applications.

GET THE EXPERIENCE YOU NEED.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Kansas State University Campus Phone Book

royal purple

2002-2003 * Vocalists * Pianist * Sound Technician * Bass guitarist * Percussion For applications & more information contact Gerald Polich McCain 229

K-State SINGERS AUDITIONS

www.ksu.edu/kssingers

Applications due Monday April 15th.

dependable, quality service √ binding Claflin Books and Copies TUXEDOS 7995 ANY · Oscar de la Renta Christian Dior

APARTMENT MODEL SHOWINGS! NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p

W 5p-7p

Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8 W 5p-8p

Th 3p-6p

*Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4

M & W 6p-8p

Sat. 11a-1p

*Starting at $475

411 N. 17th

By Appointment only *Starting at $400

700 Fremont By Appointment only

*Starting at $400 925 Denison #9 T2p-4p

W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p *Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p *Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only *Starting at $420

1722 Laramie, #5 T & Th 5p-7p *Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only

*Starting at $515 1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F 2p-4p Sat 11a-1p

*Starting at $580 700 Fremont By Appointment Only

*Starting at $510 1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p

*Starting at $600

Sat 1p-3p

1001 Bluemont # 3

2 BEDROOM

Tu & W 12p-2p Sat 12p-2p *Starting at $700

1856 Anderson Ave. #18 T & Th 4p-6p Sun 2p-4p *Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd By Appointment Only *Starting at $560

3 BEDROOM

1611 Laramie #4 M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $700

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $950

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $810

776-3804

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

McCullough Development 2700 Amherst Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Hayes, Williams leave vacancy at point

BY DEREK BOSS

Jim Wooldridge's already-thin backcourt just became anemic.

The K-State coach announced Wednesday that freshmen guards Nick Williams and Marcus Hayes have elected to transfer prior to the 2002-03 season.

"Nick and Marcus have chosen to move in another direction," Wooldridge said. "Nick feels it is in his best interest to transfer to another school, while Marcus is looking for an opportunity for more playing time closer to home."

Williams started 25 of the Wildcats' 29 games this season, averaging 9 points and 2.5

assists per game. The 6-foot-4 guard also shot 46 percent from the field and 74.7 percent from the free-throw line in his first year.

The Arlington, Texas, native came alive late in the season. Of his 13 double-digit scoring efforts for the year, five were posted in the final

Williams declined to say what brought about his decision to leave Manhattan. He also did not wish to disclose any possibilities as to where he might transfer.

Meanwhile, Hayes has seen limited playing time this season. After missing much of the preseason with a broken foot, he averaged just 3.3 minutes of action in 11 games, including two Big 12 Conference contests. His only points on the year came on two free throws against Fairleigh Dickinson on Dec. 29.

Hayes announced he will transfer to Lynn University, an NCAA Division-II school in Boca Raton, Fla., closer to his hometown of Oviedo,

"Basically, it was a situation where I needed to be closer to home," Hayes said Wednesday. "I enjoyed my time here at Kansas State, and I learned a lot being in the program this year. It was fun being a part of an up-and-coming

"It was a situation where I had a disappointing year, along with injuries and maybe not getting as much playing time as I wanted. Going through some things this year, I thought maybe I would've been more comfortable at home.

Both departures come at an inopportune time for the Wildcat program, since senior guards Larry Reid and Phineas Atchison will both be lost to graduation. That leaves junior college transfer Gilson DeJesus as the only true backcourt player returning, unless Wooldridge moves Janerio Spurlock from small forward to the No. 2 slot.

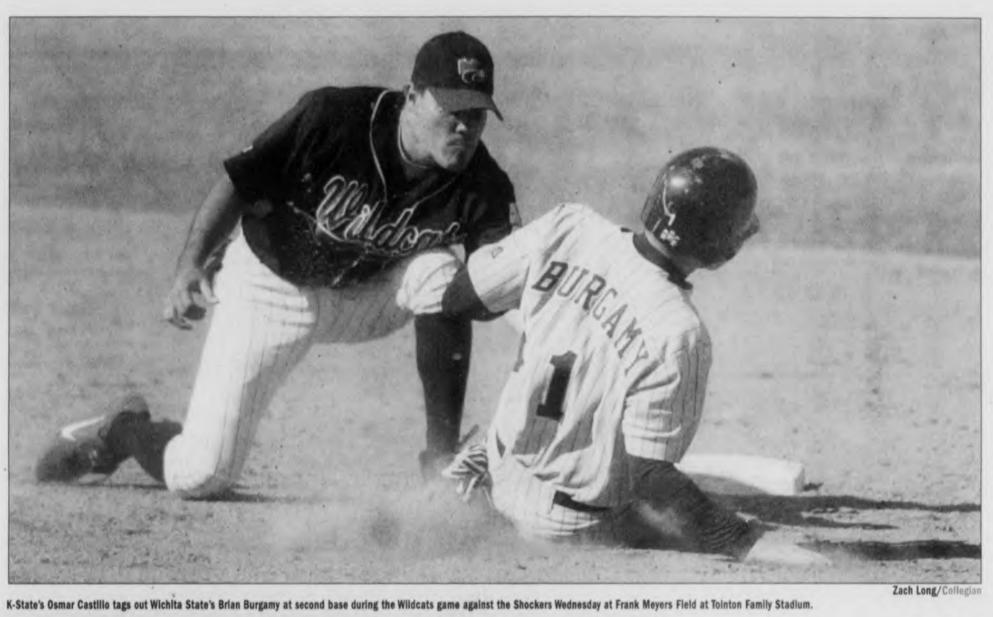

K-State will get some help after signing point guard Frank Richards in the early period last fall. The 6-foot-2, 180-pounder out of Olney Central (Ill.) Community College is considered one of the top juco players in the nation, rated as high as No. 4 among point guards in the country by recruiting analyst Rick Ball. Richards averaged 13.6 points and 3.5 assists for Olney last season.

Nonetheless, Williams' transfer leaves K-State two scholarships below the NCAA maximum of 13. The Wildcats will remain below the sanctioned limit over the next two seasons due to the NCAA's 8-5 rule, which was in effect beginning with the fall 2000 signing period.

This rule mandates that a program cannot sign more than five scholarship players per season, or a total of eight during a two-year

See PLAYERS on PAGE 10

Zach Long/Collegian

K-State's Gabe Luttrell dives and misses a fly ball during the Wildcats 9-5 loss to Wichita State Wednesday at Frank Meyers Field at Tointon Family Stadium.

BY BEN FEHR Kansas State Collegian

In the top of the eighth, Coach Mike Clark got tossed. Clark's gripe with the home plate umpire was over a play that perhaps changed the course of K-State's 9-5 loss to the visiting Wichita State Shockers on Wednesday at Tointon Family

The score was 7-5 Wichita State in the top of the inning. WSU center fielder Randy Walter led off the inning with a bunt single and then stole second.

Shocker third baseman Brandon Green then laced a ball to short that glanced off Ty Soto's mitt and rolled into center.

Nick Sorensen was quick to come up with it and fired to the plate. Walter attempted to slide around catcher Ryan Baldwin and was called safe by the home plate umpire.

Clark said there was only one problem with the call.

"He never touched home plate," Clark said. "He never got there. If there's a cowpie in the middle of a field and there's no footprint in it, then nobody touched it.

"The plate was completely covered in dirt and I'll leave it at that. There was not a mark on it. That's a big play," he said. "We get out of that inning down 7-5 with two more at-bats, and you

Cats lose to WSU;

Shockers retain bragging rights

have a whole different ballgame." Nevertheless, the run counted and the Shockers were able to plate Green in the inning as well.

Though the eighth was a pivotal inning, it wasn't the only one in which scoring took place.

The Shockers got started early, when second baseman Brian Burgamy came home on designated hitter Drew Moffit's sac fly in the top of the first. WSU wasn't done and got another firstinning run when first baseman Logan Sorensen came in on right fleider Mark Johnson's double to center.

Wichita State added runs in the second and third. By that time, the Cats had enough.

In the bottom of the third, Osmar Castillo extended his hitting streak to 10 games with a lead-off double down the rightfield line.

See BASEBALL on PAGE 10

Jayhawk tennis edges K-State 4-3 in duel

BY SEAN PURCELL

Kansas State Collegian

K-State's tennis duel Wednesday came down to the outcome of one match.

Sophomore Paulina Castillejos battled Kansas' Aurelie Bejar to a third set but couldn't hold on, dropping the match 6-4, 6-7, 3-6. With Bejar's win, Kansas turned away K-State's bid at an upset, nipping the Cats 4-3.

"It was a real back-and-forth match," Coach Steve Bietau said. "Paulina had some difficulty sustaining the right game to be effective." One player that was effective on the afternoon was Alena Jecminkova.

Jecminkova breezed to a 6-2, 6-1 win over Kansas' Cheryl Mullaiah. It was the senior's serving that kept her in control of the match.

"I didn't play my best tennis of the year, but I played good enough to win," Jecminkova said. "I felt pretty comfortable the whole match and I was a lot more pleased with my serving than I have been." For K-State's Kathy Chuda, it took a little more effort to get the victory.

The senior clawed back after dropping the opening set, 6-3, to claim a three-set (6-4, 6-1) win over Emily Haylock.

"When it was 4-4 in the second and I won to go to 5-4, I felt like I could come back," Chuda said. "There wasn't any way I was going to lose it."

K-State's third point came from freshman Andrea Cooper, as she handled Kim Lorenz 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. Lorenz battled in the second set to even the match at one a piece, but Cooper's stellar play in the final frame put the match away.

"I played with a lot more confidence than I have been," Cooper said. "There were times when I needed to play aggressive and I did that."

Kansas' first point of the afternoon came in doubles action when the Hawks took two of three matches from the Cats. Jecminkova and Cooper tallied an 8-4 win over Courtney and Kristen Steinbock, but it wasn't enough to give K-State the

The Cats dropped to 8-6 overall, 3-3 in the conference while Kansas improved to 12-3 on the season, and a perfect 6-0 in Big 12 play.

"We were down the whole day after losing the double point," Bietau said. "I was proud for the most part, though, with the way they stuck with it and kept battling."

K-State's Andrea Cooper returns a serve during the doubles match versus Kansas in Ahearn Field House on Wednesday. Cooper and Alena Jecminkova won the match.

39 Historic period 40 Pub order

42 Cotto, e.g.

45 Costume

49 "Oh, woel

50 With 54-

Across,

Guinness

portraval 52 Emanation

53 Pleasant

Across

aircraft

56 Antelope's

57 Commer-

58 Porthos

DOWN

playmate

54 See 50-

55 Soviet

By Eugene Sheffer

24 It does card

century

English poet

28 - shoestring and E

30 Catcher's

place? 31 Fresh

Schwarz-and ham"

purveyor

- Confidential" 42 Chopin's

compan-

Herbert

birthplace

46 Wittleism

47 Incite

51 Awful

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 99¢ per minute, touch

KYVXEF GZWWBLP,

IXDB

CRYPTOQUIP

VXIE WXKB

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I'M AWFULLY UNTIDY WHEN EATING AND SURFING THE NET. MY

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: W equals T

CryptoClassics Book 2, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error. © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 21 Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to 48 Facility

enegger

36 1996

37 "Green

38 Bagel

type ion 43"I cannot

25 Old

26 17th

2 Felipe of

3 Microscope

Con temptible

5 Loyal beyond a doubt

6 Grease

7 Cavort

8 Wedding

venue,

Pacific

Princess

the lawn

at morn emotion

19 "Behold!"

21 Idolater's often

9 The

10 Love

(Lat.) 11 Like

CROSSWORD

1 Funny folks

5 Anderson's "High

8 Dressed

12 A Baldwin

13 Carnival

locale

scotch

14 Hop-

15 "SNL"

Dunn

Danube

17 Acknowledge

18 Go like

Jack and 20 Thin, in a an apple way 22 Go after

23 Internet

24 Role for

27 Advice to the -

32 Court

34 Sailor

35 Parlor

piece 38 Dither

assen

33 One (Pref.)

16 City on

In the spotlight

BirdHouse series features folk artist Saturday

Kansas State Collegian

Award-winning singer and guitarist Tom Prasada-Rao will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday at Manhattan Arts Center as part of BirdHouse's seventh birthday.

Born in Africa and educated in Europe and the United States, Prasada-Rao began his career in the early 1990s and was inspired to play music by his parents, Prasada-Rao

"My parents made me take the violin in the first grade," Prasada-Rao said. "I now hate the violin, but I have been hooked on music ever since."

Prasada-Rao has won several awards, including the Kerriville New Folk Competition in 1993 and songwriter of the year in 1997. He also appeared in an episode of ABC's Touched by An Angel titled one of his favorite songs, "I See Myself In You," Kamerer said.

Kamerer described the music of Prasada-Rao as a combination of folk. classical, acoustic guitar and R&B.

"His music is funky and more soulful. He is just a fantastic musician," Kamerer said. "He sings both personal and topical songs about the homeless."

Prasada-Rao, who normally plays solo, will play in a trio with friends he is bringing. Steve Martini, co-director of BirdHouse, said solo artists are interesting to see, but trios are more fun because it gives the audience more variety.

"Tom's concert should be very good. He is a talented artist that communicates well with the audience," Martini said.

During his years of playing, Prasada-Rao has played in Manhattan before and said BirdHouse has been his best and worst gig all in one.

"The first time I came to Manhattan I had the best gig I can remember. There were over 200 people in the audience," Prasada-Rao said. "The second time I came to Manhattan, the football team lost in overtime to a huge rival 15 minutes before my concert started. Everyone in the audience was so sad. It was like playing in a morgue."

Because the concert is part of the seventh birthday of BirdHouse, members of the audience will get a piece of birthday cake during the concert and have the chance to win prizes, said David Kamerer. co-director of BirdHouse.

"This is a way to say, 'Thank you,' to all of our guests," Kamerer said. "We are really grateful for all of their support."

Jalan Crossland, guitarist from Wyoming, will open for Prasada-Rao.

"We decided to bring Prasada-Rao to Manhattan for our birthday celebration because we love him, and the audience loves him," Kamerer said. "Having him here is like an award for us."

Groov'n guitar Tom Prasada-Rao will perform as part of the BirdHouse concert series at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Manhattan Arts Center. Tickets

Quote of the day

STUMPED?

"Ability is of little account without opportunity."

COMPUTER IS FULL OF CHIPS.

-Napoleon Bonaparte

MIX MASTERS

WHO Kyle Barker, Pat's Blue Rib'n Kyle Barker, senior in political science, has been a bartender at Pat's Blue Rib'n Barbeque for two years.

DRINK Fusion

1/2 can of Red Bull 2 counts each of Smirnoff Rasberry

Fill the rest of the glass with equal parts orange juice and cranberry Juice. Gamish with a lemon.

ONLINE

earn to make this drink from the master. Go to www.kstatecol-gian.com for exclusive video footage,

Marimbist to perform at All Faiths Chapel

Kensas State Collegian

K-State will get a taste of the sounds of a different instrument tomorrow night. Makoto Nakura will perform on the marimba at 8 p.m. Friday at All Faiths Chapel.

Nakura said his performance will focus on him playing several pieces on the marimba.

"It's a mixture of sounds from the marimba," he said. "There will be five solo pieces, and one piece with three percus-Nakura said he first picked up the marimba at a young age and knew that was the instrument for him.

been playing this instrument for nearly 30 years and the main thing I love is the sound. It's a unique and indescribable Marimba magic Makato Nakura, marimba player, will perform at 8 p.m. Friday at All Faiths Chapel.

Tickets are $6 for students and children, $12 for the general public, and are avail s at McCain Box Office.

Nakura has an extensive background in music. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Masashino college in Tokyo, In 2000, Nakura was named sound."

"I encountered it when I was 8. I fell" in love with the sound," he said. "I have an Associate of the Royal of Music and in 1996, Nakura sald he was debuted as a concerto soloist with the New York Chamber Symphony.

With all of his past experience, Nakura said he likes to try and pass on his knowledge to the audience.

"I try to show every different direction of the marimba," he said. "I play anything from old material to new, including Bach. It is very culturally diverse music."

Nakura said he also is teaching the ways of the marimba to local area elementary schools. Nakura will be teaching at Bluemont and Seven Dolors elementary schools.

"I give a lecture to small kids. I have been doing this for many, many years," he said, "It's very important to build up an audience. Music has an impact on everyone."

Thom Jackson, marketing and development officer of McCain Auditorium. said he is excited to bring Nakura to K-State as a part of the young concert series at McCain.

"This concert is being performed with an unusual instrument, it gives a whole different sound and gives the music a whole different life. The marimba isn't traditionally done by itself," he said. "Nakura is a charming young man. He will introduce and talk about each piece he plays."

are $12 for students, $15 for the general public, and are available at the Manhattan Arts Center, Claffin

Books and the Dusty

Bookshelf.

lackson said this isn't Nakura's first visit to K-State.

"He was here two years ago," he

"I know the children really liked him. I wanted to give people who didn't get to listen to him a chance to go."

Nakura said he hopes the audience takes something away from the perfor-

"When people come to my concert I want them to imagine something as I play, like beautiful scenery," he said.

misdirection

For Rent-Unfurnished

815 RATONE, 617 Kearney 820 Colorado. One-bed-($400), two-bedrooms ($500). Lighted offstreet parking. Shared utilities. No pets. August lease. (785)776-8548

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apartments. Great selection and prices. (785)341-6091.

CLOSE TO Campus, twodaily Call for an appointment (785)537-9064.

FOUR-BEDROOM NEXT to (785)556-6899 or (785)776-

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM 1225 Claffin. Water and trash paid. June or August lease. $405/ month. No pets. (785)456-2812. LARGE TWO and three-1215 Poyntz for August 1. Water and trash paid. No pets. Starting at $500. 313-

NEAR CAMPUS. One-bedpaint and carpet Dishwash er, central-air, balcony, af-fordable. No Pets. June

NEW, FOUR-BEDROOM. Duplex, large bedroon two baths, walk in closets. washer/ dryer, close to campus. Call (785)341-

39 or (785)341-4114 NEXT TO campus- one apartments Central air.

Available August (785)537-7050 NEXT TO KSU apartment for August. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment, 350 N. 16th near Nichols Hall, $530 (785)539-2482 NICE THREE-BEDROOM use. Available August 1. TWO and THREE-BEDROOM

Close to campus. June and (785)539-1975 or (785)776-ONE-BEDROOM APART

No pets. Call (816)847-7195. ONE-BEDROOM APART

MENT Close to campus Off-street parking. No smok-ers, no pets $350 and share utilities (785)539-ONE-BEDROOM hookups. Aggieville loca-$350 no pets (785)313-ROOMMATES NEEDED for five-bedroom house. Washer/ dryer included, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-

SPACIOUS TWO and three-Central air, laundry facilities, and August. (785)539-0866.

BATH, two blocks from campus. Newly remodeled. central air/ heat. August (785)776-4166

For Rent-Unfurnished

TWO AND three-bedroom: $490 and $570; 1729 Laramie; available August 1 heat, water, trash paid; year lease; deposit and referen ces required: (785)539-

8052. TWO AND three-bedrooms and one-half bath, cer tral air, laundry facility near campus. (785)537-1746.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT apartment. Re-close to KSU, June 1. (785)556-6899 (785)776-4827.

TWO-BEDROOM. $475/ month AVAILABLE JUNE

TWO-BEDROOM, BATH, large living room and kitchen, dishwasher. Across street from Aggieville and campus. Available after finals. (785)565-9175 TWO-BEDROOM. AVAILA BLE August 1. Very nice Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. Walk to campus. (785)539-9582.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAILA-BLE June 1. Very nice Walking distance to cam-pus. (785)539-9582.

Available

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LV. Rent $225/ month plus ne-third electric and cable Call Kimberly at (785)539klb4949@ksu.edu.

120

For Rent-

3206

Houses 1013 OSAGE, three-plus bedroom, one bathroom month (785)539-

1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-Available SMALL HOUSE Applian-June (785)539-1177.

813 VATTIER nice five-Central heat and air, wash er/ dryer. Three blocks to THREE-BEDROOM BRICK campus. Non-smoking. No house for August 1. Wesh-

A SIX- seven-bedroom ar and dryar. (785)317-7713 AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fourplus bedrooms. Three full (785)532-4424 bathrooms, near campus Very nice house (913)963-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. One N. 17th. $430/ month. (785)

AVAILABLE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of campus at 1501 Harry Rd. $275/ person (785)539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Twobedroom duplex, two floors at 1007 Houston, $610/ month. (785)539-3672.

Announcements

planes, lowest rates.

For Rent-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Threebedroom house three blocks west of campus at 1404 Hartford Central air, washer/ dryer, fenced yard. $285 per person. 539-3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two floors, washer/ dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at 1715 Poyntz. $700/ month.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE near campus. Two bath, air conditioning, parking, washhook-up. Call (785)273-2628.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE one block from KSU Stadi-um/ Bramlage. Central air/ heat, huge backyard, wash-June Lease. (785)776-4166.

NEWLY REMODELED four-bedroom. Two car ga-rage, one-half block east of hook-ups, central air. One year lease starting August 1 No pets. $800/ month 785)213-2468 or (785)235

NEXT TO CAMPUS: Nice conditioned, newly carpeted with security deposit. $800/ month. Availability negotiable. Sorry no dogs or cats Call (785)776-0301 or

(785)537-8186 if interested. NICE THREE- FOUR-BED-ROOM, two bath house with Washer/ dryer ok-ups, off-street parking. 22 Pierre. Call Doug

(785)537-1978 NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus Rd. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, one year lease. $900/ month plus utilities. Avails June 1 Call (785)539-

ONE BLOCK to campus Five and six-bedroom house. Hardwood floors, three bathrooms, fireplace, central-air, dishwasher, Au-gust lease No Pets (785)539-0549.

7031.

ces furnished June lease yard. Call (785)539-1975 or er/ dryer and lawn care fur-nished 2409 Hobbs $855.

THREE-BEDROOM CLOSE lor, washer/ dryer (785)537-9425 or THREE-BEDROOM TWO smooth top range, refigera bedroom duplex, second garage, tended backyard floor, central air, fireplace. June 1, $1000, (785)537-washer/ dryer, Located 426, 9425, (785)532-4424.

Houses

FIVE-BEDROOMS, THREE baths. Fenced yard. Full fin-ished basement. Beautiful. $115,000. (785)539-8631 or see http://valbehan.hothomepages.com or stop by real estate

For Rent-

Apts. Furnished

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every per-son equal opportunity in housing without distinc-tion on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Viola-tions should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2440.

FOR RENT: Five-bedroom. Brittany Ridge town home. Available August 1, one-year lease. $950/ month. Call Tim after 6pm at

MAY FREE! One-bedroom University Com completely furnished. Wash er/ dryer, pool, workout fa-cilities. Great college atmosphere! $343/ month with ca-ble. Call (785)317-0541.

SUMMER LEASE- Universi ty Commons. Female room mate needed fully furnished cilities in apartment. contact Morgen (785)770-8576.

assay in class At The Commons" Now Leasing for 2002-2003!

*Fully Furnished

•2 & 4 Bedroom

*Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

*Washer Dryer

*Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

·Permit Parking

·Tennis Volleyball Courts

*Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-6.

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

INIVERSIT

· COMMONS ·

APARTMENTS

2215 COLLEGE AVE

Water and trash paid. $340/month. Across street from room. No pets. Year lease Water and trash paid. $620

FAIRVIEW.

campus. $385 including gas, water, trash. June 1. No.

smoking, pets (785)537-

rooms and one-bedroom. 1112 Bluemont, one-bed-

AVAILABLE NOW, summer

and fall very nice one, two, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to campus with great prices. (785)537-6017.

www.beloose.com/linwood

(785)776-9288 or

911 SUNSET.

(785)776-0683.

Call (785)539-

For Rent-

Unfurnished

1219 KEARNEY

Apt.

1628

2000 SCHULTZ Sensation 16'x 80' three-bedroom, two bath All appliance upgrades. $28,000 available June 1. Located park. (785)770-8792

145

For Rent-

able.

homes.

135

For Sale-

Mobile Homes

Mobile Homes

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

sixteen-feet wide, two and

three-bedroom homes available, one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage

disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

MOBILE HOME FOR RENT

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer,

dishwasher and garbage

disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

these beautiful, spacious

one double-wide

Roommate Wanted

WANTED A very nice two bedroom/ two bath apart ment located right across the street from campus $350/ month plus one-half utilities. Lease starfs August 1. Call (785)587-9600.

LOOKING FOR roommates December Call (785)770-

WANTED: FEMALE room mate to share three-bed-room townhouse, $400/ month includes utilities, use of washer/ dryer, no s ing, no pets. (785)776-1397 call anytime.

150

Sublease

ROOMMATE WANTED Two blocks from Aggieville and campus. $225 a month gotiable. Call (785)776-

SUBLEASER SUMMER Three-bedroom needed. house available May 20 brough June 30. May rent free washer/ dryer (785)565-

SUMMER SUBLEASERS ed two-bedroom apartment. Dishwasher, full laundry facilities. Very 75/ month. Call (785)537-1907

WANTED: FEMALES to share four-bedroom, two bath apartment. Very clean, $235 a month for June/ July.

ADVERTISE. KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Lost and Found

placed free for three days.

FOUND: CAMERA off Manhattan Avenue Call (785)776-1462 to identify

Now Leasing

3 BR From $744 4 BR From $892

MODERN LIVING at spa cious three-bedroom bath duplex, 1015 Blue-mont, $1100/ month. Washer/ dryer included, trash paid, students welcome, no Call MDI (785)776-

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

IOW LEASING June Lease LEASED

· Sandstone ·

August Lease LEASED • 519 Osage •

1114 Fremont

2000 College Heights Sandstone Fireplaces Pool Private Deck

Laundry Facilities Large 2-bedroom Units Call Today! Going Fastl

> Weekdays • 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m Saturdays • 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

K-Rental Mgmt. Now Leasing

537-9064

Bills Included 1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500

3 BR from $600 4 BR from $720 539-8401

LARGE TWO-BEDROOM apartments. One and a half $450 rent, $450 deposit (785)776-7362, Teave mes-

TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Roomy. Low utilities Water, trash, cable paid Laundry facilities. Pool By Westloop June $460/ month.

TWO-BEDROOM wo story duplex close Available August month. Trash paid, no pets. must seel Call MDI

NOW LEASING. One-bedroom apartment in quiet six-plex at 1811 Plan. Available paid. No pets $370 per month Call KSU Foundation

(785)364-0534 start at $490 per month. Call ments (785)776-3663 (24-FOUR-BEDROOM. bath house at 900 Vattler Available June 1 $900 ONE, TWO, Three-bedroom apartments available June and August Check web site at rent-aprn.com, then call for showings (785)539-4357. ONE-BEDROOM APARTston. No pets. Water and trash paid. $330/ month Available in June. Call (785)770-2224

MENT next to campus Available June 1- July 31 Water/ trash paid. Central laundry facility near by. 7851539-6308 ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid. $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810. ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE to campus. All bills paid. Washer/ dryer included.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-

(785)341-4496 ONE-BEDROOMS AVAILA

PARK PLACE APART AFFORDABLE

PRICES One, Two, Three bedrooms. (785)539-2951. QUIET COUNTRY living Two-bedroom apartment. Excellent condi-tion. $500/ month, utilities August lease. (785)776included Washer/ dryer hook-ups. No smoking/ pets. (785)776-6903 SIX-BEDROOM. TWO bath rooms, two living rooms, two kitchens, and washer/ dryer Free for August, duplex two

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

THREE AND Four-bedrooms close to campus. Wa and trash paid. (785)537-7810.

THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT With: Iwo bathrooms, washer/ dryer, refrigerator/ stove. Your own parking. Close to campus, only two houses away Available immediatel through July 31! Rent $280 person. Call (785)243-0660. THREE-BEDROOM.

pets or smokers. 1021 Fre-mont. $780.00 plus utilities. August lease (785)776-THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath basement apartment at 709 Bluemont Available June 1, $675/ month. Washer/ Dryer/ Airconditioning/ off-street parking. (785)539-

TWO-BEDROOM (BASE MENT) near Aggieville, available June 1st, laundry provided, $480/ month plus gas and electricity; 1126 Fremont. (785)532-7541 (daytime), (785)776-9922

(evenings). TWO-BEDROOM TOWN HOUSE, one and one-half bath, plus unfinished basedryer hook-ups, no pets

TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE (August) to campus (785)539-4641

TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE o campus, newly remod er, $545/ month. (785)341

115

Rooms

Available FOUR-BEDROOM ONEentals $350/ month and up Pets okay, short-term leases Call Century 21 Knight, (785)565-0138.

For Rent-

Houses

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Onebedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace,

539-3672. AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two three-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer/ dryer_central air, fenced yard. Located at 1715 Poyntz. $700/ month. (785) 539-3672.

FOUR AND five+ bedroom call Jennifer or Annie at houses available for June (785)539-2547 and August Check web site at rent-apm.com then call for showings. (785)539 wanted for 2002 2003 school year $198/ month

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE on Hillcrest. Five blocks west of Kansas. Washer/

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE 316 N. 11th One or two bedroom at 928 Leaven worth. Hardwood floors, no pets/ smoking/ waterbeds June 1 (785)539-0590 month. Washer/ dryer/ cen fenced yard (785)539-4949 FOUR-BEDROOM. bath. Close to campus

Call John at (785)539-2356 LARGE NICE two-bedroo ease. (785)762-7191. FOUR-BEDROOM home on quiet street. pets or smoking. June les. Call (785)759-3520. ONE-BEDROOM (LARGE) ed, $350/ month plus gas and electricity; 1124 Fre-mont. (785)532-7541 (day-(785)776-9922 (eve-

ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX close to campus. Quiet (785)539-1711 or (785)341-

BLE June 1, $300- $330. No THREE-BEDROOM PLEX available May One and one-half bath washer and dryer, HREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up.

Found something

$840 plus utilities

You can place an ad FREE for three days!

For Rent-Mobile Homes

COUNTRY SETTING and AVAILABLE AFTER finals small lot for horses. Three-Female subleaser needed bedroom, stationary mobile for summer. Live across the nome with sun-room and a few outbuildings. Small lot Beth at (785)776-0994 can board up to three horses. Washer and dryer in-cluded. Rural water for household, well water for outdoor watering, small cov-ered shed for one vehicle, Manhattan phones and address, located seven miles from campus and one-half mile from Highway 24, $700 a month plus deposits.

Twelve-month contract re quired. Call (785)537-8070.

135 For Sale-

Mobile Homes 14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre three-bedroom and two bath, newer carpet, shower and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer.

$13600. Call (785)484-

1994 SKYLINE, two and room, very well maintained with many new features in-cluding siding. Lot 544 in Colonial Gardens $16,500 or best offer. Call (785)776-

'82 REDMAN 14x 70 threebedroom, two bath Central heat and air. Must see Priced to sell. (785)770

145

3008.

Roommate Wanted

$235 ALL bills paid. Washer, dryer, dishwasher, cable, internet, private bath, private parking, big closet, Small pet maybe. Lease and deposit negotiable. Talk to Chet or Angie (785)587-8747 after 4pm or leave roommate wanted for four-bedroom house at 1410 Houston $285/ month plus AVAILABLE JUNE 1.

Great house, washer/ dryer washer/ dryer Located 426 new appliances, $250. N. 17th. $430/ month. (785) month plus one-fourth utilit es. Call Lisa et (785)537-FEMALE campus, quiet neighbor-hood No smoking Please school year. $198/ month Tracy or Carrie (785)776-1627 FEMALE duplex. Brand new and rea sonable Please call Angela at 395-7606 extension 44. FEMALE ROOMMATE Nice three-bedroom duplex Close to campus Washer dryer. Two full bathrooms FEMALE 2002 Two-bedroom, two baths, washer dryer, dish washer, pool, workout facili-ties (785)313-1195.

FEMALE ROOMMATE ummer and/ or next year tral air. Rent $175 plus one utilities. (785)587-8508. FEMALE ROOMMATES home on Kearney, lease June, washer/ dryer available $250/ month and utilit ies. Call Rachel anytime at MALE ROOMMATE, one private bath. $160/ month

ng/ pets. Call David at 785)539-8955. ROOMMATE WANTED for four-bedroom/ two bathroom house. Washer/ dryer. $200 month plus one-fourth utilit-ies Call (785)776-0736, ask

ROOMMATE WANTED for two-bedroom apart starting June/ august and mowing paid. $735 a blocks from campus, off-month. (785)341-5287. street parking, living/ dining THREE-BEDROOM. furnished. Bent $280, water. (785)776-8529

> ROOMMATE WANTED Nice, comfortable, smoking house Washer dryer, fireplace, deck. $250 nth plus shared utilities

ROOMMATES NEEDED for fall Very nice four-bedroom house. Washer/ dryer, $250

150

Sublease

street from Durland hall. Call

DESPERATELY SEEKING sublease! One- three-bed room apartment, walk-in FEMALE SUBLEASE, Nice four-bedroom apartmen new washer/ dryer. $180/ month. Close to campus.

Late May to early Augusti (785)776-9746. NEED FEMALE summer subleaser for one bedroom in a four-bedroom apart ment. $180/ month plu one-fourth utilities. Walking distance from campus. (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs.

ONE BEDROOM in four bedroom furnished apartament at University Com-mons. One-third May free. June- July $200/ month. Call (785)776-8315.

SLEEP IN OUR ROOM. Summer sublease, two-beds room apartment, large living and dining room, very close Kellie, Kristern

SUBLEASE FOR a great deal summer 2002. University sity Commons. One or two-bedrooms. Contact Kristy (785)776-5492. SUBLEASERS NEEDED After finals- July 31 close walk to campus. $2007

Call Tracy (785)776 SUBLEASERS for one-four-bedrooms in-new duplex. Garage. Fur-nished. Middle May to Au-gust 1. Water/ trash paid. Bent negotiable. (785):587. 9455.

SUBLEASES NEEDED too plex. Washer/ dryer hookups. One block from came pus. Large enough for four people. Available June and July Call (788)587-9325. SUMMER SUBLEASE for room apartment located 1115 N. 12th #5, Call Jen at

SUMMER SUBLEASE, per cheap. May 20- August. 1. Rent negoliable, all utilities included. (785)776-1420 Two-bedrooms one one-half bath, one-half block to Aggieville, one and one-half blocks to campus. Call (785)323-1151

SUMMER SUBLEASER Female needed to share wanted for 2002- 2003 FULLY furnished, washer. dryer Utilities paid including SUMMER SUBLEASERS pus $270/ month each. Wa and trash paid Call (785)587-9073.

165 Storage Space

MABERRY RFD. Inc. Mini Self-storage: Multiple units 5x 10 through 10 x30's. Outboal storage Buy three months and receive a twen-

(785)539-0266. service directory

Weight Loss & /

HEALTHY, SAFE weight mediate Results I can teach utor (785)776-1936.

255

Services WILL DO typing/ spread-sheets. (785)-632-6389 of cparonto@kansas.net

employment opportunities

Help Wanted

The Collegian cannot veri fy the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190,

$250/ DAY potential/ bar-

GET A FUTURE AS BIG AS OUR BURRITOS The gourmet burritos at Chipotle (chi-POAT-lay) are a very hot item in a very cool place. Become a part of one of the hottest restaurant

bulletin

VERTISE

companies in the country. The work is exciting, and the opportunities unburritable. We're looking to immediately fill the following positions for our new location in Manhattan: SHIFT SUPERVISORS

We offer competitive salaries and great benefits. Apply in person Thursday April 4th, from 10am to 6pm, at our new location:

LINE SERVERS . COOKS

(at the corner of N. Manhattan & Laramie St.) Manhattan, KS www.chipotle.com

606 N. Manhattan

SOURCE BURNITUS & TACKS. An Equal Opportunity Employer

Announcements ACADEMY OF BARTEND-ING. Have fun, make mon-ey, meet people Earn $15-Flying Club has five air-$30 an hour. Day, evening > ice, $199 with student ID. 1(800)BARTEND. www.bartendingcollege.com ORNEY AT LAW ides W. (Chuck) Harper ATTORNEY 25 years experience. (785)539-8100. chuckharper@msn.com

ble. Job placement assis-

SPOUSEQUEST.COM REwe

kick ads.

030

Personals We require a form of picture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when plac-

Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st! fully furnished • swimming pool • washer/dryer · next to KSU stadium · individual leases • exercies room • · electronic alarm system · Office Hours:

Semester Leases Leasing Now 4 BR Apartments

· tennis, volleyball & basketball courts ·

APARTMENTS!! & 4 Bedroom Available for June, July, August

Brittnay Ridge Townhomes - starting at $950 Check out

1620 McCain - starting at $950 1700 N. Manhattan – starting at $810 www.mdi-manhattan.com 822 Fremont - starting at $700

1611 Laramie – starting at $750 McCullough Development Houses & Duplexes - starting at $1000-$1200

our Web page

tending Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548.

(785)232-0454.

university COMMONS 2215 COLLEGE AVE

539-0500

Call or Come by Our Office!

For full details on our 4BR, 2 Bath apartments for a Semester Lease -

Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-4

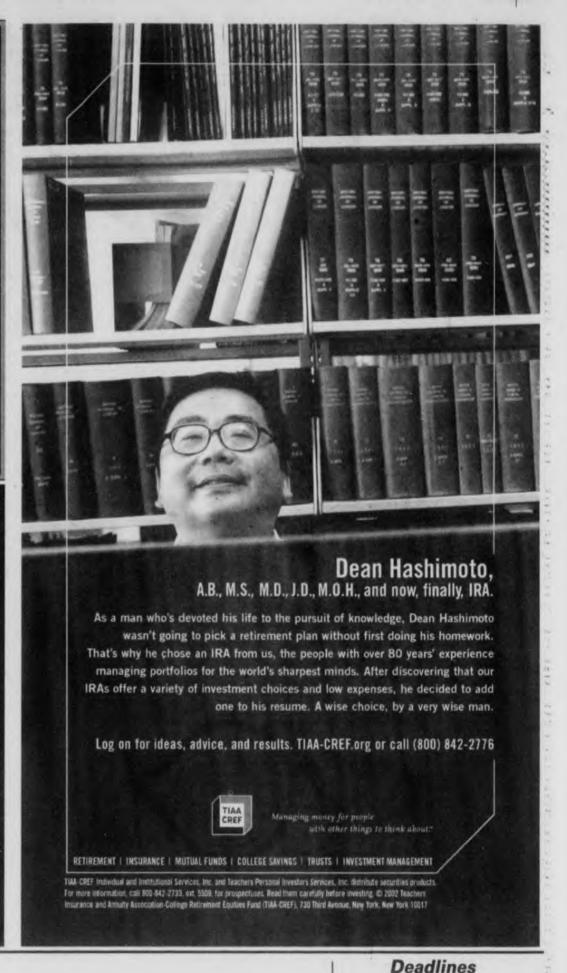

RED UNIVERSITY of Ne braska Rodeo Association Reward offered if found, 925 Across from KSU stadium

Apply to work for the summer Gollegian TODAYS

Reporters; copy editors, designers and photographers are all needed. You will get some great experience and some money in your wallet. Pick up your application in Kedzie 103 now.

Deadline to apply is April 5th. If you have any questions, call 532-6556.

Classifieds

Help Wanted

AD SALES/ Public Relations/ Marketing Internship Unique national publisher and rewarding local position summer Collegian, Report and photographers are all due April 15 and can be cover letter and resume to

BIG DAWG Marina. Week and help. Start May 18, end Labor Day. Contact Keith, (785)776-7946, (785)539

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Photographers, (785)830-0367

CAMP TAKAJO for Boys Naples, Maine Noted for picturesque lakefront loca-Mid-June thru mid-August. basketball, lacrosse, golf, flag football, roller hockey, nming, sailing, water ski ing, archery, ceramics, art camp newspaper, photogra-phy, weight training, woodworking, theater, backpack ing, rock climbing, ropes course, secretarial. Salary, Call 1-800-250-8252 or sub www.takajo.com

CHILD CARE needed for infant in my home. Call Sue (785)770-8644.

COMPUTER SCIENCE Re search Assistant to assist in design and development of a large web/ database ap one-year, unclassified apitment at $12,800/ year plus benefits. Requirements MS in Computer Science or closely related field; ad vanced project management skills. 20 hours/ week; flexible hours, on-campus loca-tion. Applicants should send cover letter detailed resume ranscripts and three letter of recommendation by April 2002 to: Will Baldwin Department of Communica tions, 211b Umberber Hall, Kansas State University, Manhattan, KS 66506-3402 KSU is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its employHelp Wanted

ble, great benefits. Seasonal or year round. Call (941)329-6434 or cruisecareers.com

FEMALES WANTED for Flexible

TIES. CLUBS. STUDENT GROUPS Earn $1000 pustundraiser.com fundraising event Does not involve credit card Fundraising applications. dates are filling quickly, so call today! Contact Campus fundraiser.com at (888)923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

GREAT SUMMER Income Asbestos Abatement Work ers needed 40 hours of free training is required. Must attend class May 7-May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm $11.40 per hour. Work will borers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-

HELP WANTED for custom harvesting. Combine opera-tors and truck drivers guaranteed pay. Good summer wages. Call (970)-483-7490 evenings.

(785)537-1567, to sign up.

HELP WANTED Part time

HELP WANTED, Temporary, part-time help wanted 30-40 hours per week. swimming pool maintenance and other miscellaneous jobs. Apply at 3050 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Cooks Day and night shifts, apply between 2pm-4pm, Monday-Friday at Bowin-kles, 3043 Anderson Ave.

JOHNSON COUNTY. Summer help wanted. General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State and Extension Center. Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe $7/ hour for 40 hour week May 13 through August 16 (negotiable). Apply in Horticulture, Forestry and Recre-ation Resources Office, 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by

CRUISE LINE entry level.

dance and dran had8078@ksu.edu. FRATERNITIES. SORORI

rhondam@gsmhc.org

from Mandrian or Shangaiese to English Call eve-nings (785)537-2853.

MCGULLOUGH DEVELOP-MENT, Inc. is now accept applications for SUMMER HELP for an Assistant Property Manager and an Assis-tant Maintenance Technician. These will be full-time positions effective May 20. 2002. Part-time hours are Interested individuals please till out an employment application at 2700 Amherst

NEED SUMMER Harvest Help! Run New Case Commatic Tandem Grain Trucks License and we will help obtain Commercial Drivers Li-cense. Provide room and Call (785)689-4660.

sponsible person needed for and 11, from June 1 until mid- August. Sense of humor, dependability, reliable transportation, good driving record and references re Pay is $6.00 per hour. Hours are generally 11:30a m until 4:30 p.m.

> PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUN!! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine. Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, water front, rock climbing, golf biking, archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or apply www.campcedar.com

Help Wanted LIVE AND WORK IN COL-tains southwest of Denver gram specialists (hiking, outdoor skills, crafts, nature sports, challenge course early August MAKE A DIF FERENCE Competitive sal-ary, room, meals, health in-

LOOKING FOR a Knrean in terpreter who can speak English. Call evenings

LOOKING FOR Chinese

(303)778-0109 ext. 281 or sion of three boys, ages 10 Please leave a message at

Help Wanted PROGRAMMER

ORADO! Be a CAMP CivicPlue, a leader in provid-COUNSELOR at Girl Scout ing local government web a Microsoft ASP program-mer in Manhattan. Two or more years proven program perience preferred. All new hires are required to obtain Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 e-mail 401(k) and paid vacation. Word or text to: jobs@civicplus.com

RADO! Be part of the west-em riding staff at Girl Scout experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive allowance Late May- early SALES, LOCAL Company vated inside salesperson strong sales performance inment Applicants must have proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals $50,000/ year or more, Email resume in Microsoft Word or text format to morgan@civicplus.com.

STUFF ENVELOPES and weekly! Just send a self ad To: Oneal 601 S. Lasalle St. 938, Chicago, IL.

SUBWAY AT K-state Union now hiring for days, evenings, and weekends. Partne, flexible hours. Apply in

WANTED: MR. FIX IT

Automotive Repair section of the Classifieds. KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

532-6555

Help Wanted

SUMMER CHILDCARE College/ High School stu-dent to watch in my home Monday- Friday approxi-mately 11am- 4pm, need own car. $6.50/ hour. (785)537-2515.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT Laborers needed, approxi-mately May 20 to August 23, salary $8.64/ hour. Duties: hand labor such as weeding production fields, moving it rigation pipe, and grounds maintenance United States Natural Resources Conser als Center, Manhattan, KS. Call (785)539-8761 for inte view Equal Opportunity Em-

SUMMER INSTRUCTORS needed: Instructors needed dents in the areas of English or Biology), Foreign Lan-guage, Computer Exploration and Web-Page Design June 10- July 19, 2002. Preterred Qualifications MS graduate student in related subjects, certified by state Board of Education: 1-3 Flint Hills Expo 2002, A years teaching experience 5-7. Must be physically at secondary or university level Submit vita/ resume and three references to: Margaret A. Tumer, Associate Director, Upward Bound Program, 1800 Claffin Suite Kansas State University (785)532-6497

SPORTS OFFICE: TOP BOYS CAMP IN MAINE! Play and coach sports/ have and individual sports, all water sports, plus: Camp/ hike, and crafts, photography, and secretary's. Top salarallowance. On-line applicawww.campcobbossee.com

WANTED: COWBOYS Cowgirls and couples to special assignments tourists and horses through the Rocky Moun-Come work for the largest horse operation in North America. website or call 1-800-473-6104

to us at 3300 Airport Road, Boulder, CO 80301.

Center is seeking applicants for 40-50 summer staff pograduating high school se-Positions are recreation in structors, including team mental education, rifles.

Help Wanted

trap, archery, canoes, crafts and lifeguards. We also have several positions in food service mantenance those who quality. Rock Springs offers a monthly sal-Rock Springs is a nationally ference center serving approximately 27,000 youth and adults each year, most during the summer. Rock Springs is located 14 miles south of Junction City, Kansas on K-157 Highway For an application or more inforat: Rock Springs 4-H Cen-ter, C/O Summer Jobs, benefits and employment the following po CITY AUDIO/VISUAL TECHNICIAN Starting Salary: $9,00/ hour (inte work) Experience Re bossee positions in: All team quired: Graduation from a standard high school or vo-cational school. Must posrock climbing/ ropes, ice sess a demonstrated skill hockey/ roller hockey, arts and aptitude for performing responsible audio/ visual work; or any combination of ies, excellent facilities, free training and experience that room/ board/ laundry, travel provides the required knowledge, skills and ability. Position Purpose: This posi-tion provides and is responations of City Commission Meetings, Special City Com-mission Meetings, and other 04/12/02 DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE SENIOR AC-COUNTANT Starting Salary: $30,056.00/ year (full Experience gree in accounting required.

URGENT SALES promotion work at the upcoming Flint Hills Expo 2002. April and sales oriented. Good Call now (785)776-9451.

THE ROCK Springs 4-H provide the required knowl Internships are available for and adjustments. The posi-Closing Date: Opi TION: JUNIOR ZOO KEEP Salary: $5.45/ hour. Experi-5405 West Highway K-157 Required: school graduate or GED re-quired, Excellent superviso-Junction City, KS 66441. (785)257-3221. jtarr@rock-

THE CITY of Manhattan. Kansas. Offering excellen

04/10/02 (tempora tions or more information

(785)587-2446 jobs@ci.manhattan.ks.us Poyntz Ave. EOE.

Business Help Wanted Opportunities perience in public budget Expenence using spreadcation. Readers are adsuch business opportuni Position Purpose: This potion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, vising daily accounting activities. The position is respon-501 SE Jefferson, Topeka sible for presenting monthly financial reports for review tion of the budget work for coordinating and assistcounts payable functions and is responsible for cash audits and other internal control implementation is Items for Sale ry skills, experience working with youth and animal knowledge vital. Must have a valid driver's license and be able to work three or more days each week throughout the summer. Incumbent will supervise and educate several youth volunteers working with basic animal husbandry and interpretation D4/10/02 (temporary/ puriod/10/02 (temporary/ puriod/ D4/10/02 ( EDUCATION STAFF Starting Salary: $8.25/ hour. Experience Required: High school graduate or GED required; Excellent supervisory skills, experience working with youth in an educations setting and curriculum development vital. Basic have a valid driver's license more weekdays throughout the summer. Incumbent will develop curriculum and sumer clubs. Closing Date: WORKS To be considered for an available position, you must complete a City of return it to us by 5pm on the www.ci.manhattan.ks.us/hr/ jobs.asp call the Job Line at

you want your ad to run. CALL 532-6555

day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date

Classified ads must be placed by noon the

Automobiles The Collegian cannot veri- 1992 SATURN SL1, auto-fy the financial potential of matic, four-door. New tires advertisements in the Em- and CD player. 122K, good goliable. 9840.

> 1992 SILVERADO Chevy 4x4 Pick-up, power windows condition and needs work $4,000 or best offer. Phone (785)537-8070. 1994 PONTIAC Firebird.

sound system, alarm, neon tinted bra, cover, 134K $4750 (785)539-0232 pete3140@hotmail.com

open

BOOK Anthology of Chi

i chungwang tripod.com

FOUR MALE PITT-bull put pies. Three black, while

TWO SIX week old minia-

PLAYSTATION 2 with three or best offer. Call (785)537-

(785)539-2547, Ask

chest. One white/ black

Please visit http://

450

Pets and Supplies

4768.

460 ■

Electronic

Equipment

nese Literary Essays (Translated to English)

1995 FIREBIRD, nice. 90K. $6995. or best offer (785)539-4151.

1995 MUSTANG: 120K (785)341-3275

1999 RED Volkswagen Cabrio Leather lots of ex-tras excellent condition. Please contact Alison at (785)313-4046.

HONDAS FROM $500! Po-(800)719-3001 ext

ACCOUNTING POSITION. No experience pecessary on experience. Dean Liquor, $250/ NIGHT potential/ bartending. Training provided. (800)293-3985 ext. 623. $1500 WEEKLY potential nailing our circulars. ormation call (203)977-

$250/ DAY potential/ bartending. Training provided. (866)291-1884 extension

Manhattan City Ordinance

transportation 4814 assures every per son equal opportunity in securing and holding em-ployment in any field of work or labor for which ne/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, (785)587-2441.

Thursday, April 4, 2002

MURDER

Continued from page 1

concerned for his friend's safety, but also to see a fight.

"I also wanted to see the two fight," Good said.

Next, the state called forensic pathologist Eric Mitchell who testified that Lindsey died of a stab wound to the lower left abdomen, which severed two major arteries.

"He has two major arteries that were cut and bleed very rapidly." Mitchell said.

He also determined that Lindsey had a blood alcohol content of .03 at the time of his death, meaning he was not legally intoxicated.

The next two witnesses called by prosecutors Brenda Jordan and Valerie Peterson were Brandon Williams and Aaron Devine, friends of Alexander. They were with him the night of the stabbing

Devine admitted to lying in his June 30 police statement, saying he wasn't at the scene of the crime, but later testified to being present.

Williams testified that he, Devine and Alexander were cruising around Aggieville on the night of June 29 when a man in a bright-colored shirt (Lindsey) yelled "fag" at Williams' car. Williams testified that Alexander yelled "what" back; however, Devine festified that Alexander yelled a profanity.

"For someone..to call him a fag, it just ain't right." Williams said.

Williams testified that the three then went to a friend's apartment to

Pet and Supplies

Collegian Classifieds

call friend Dorion Stewart, who was not home. Williams said Alexander was "still mad but not as mad as when they called him a fag.'

As Alexander, Devine and Williams went back to Aggieville, Williams said they saw the three men again.

Williams testified the man in the bright-colored shirt was sitting on the ledge in the alley adjacent to the former Hardees' parking lot, while Devine described the men as walking toward the car as Williams pulled into the lot.

Williams said that as the car came to a stop, Alexander jumped out, while Devine got out with an aluminum baseball bat.

Devine testified that he had the bat "in case they came in my personal space." He said he offered the bat to Alexander, who didn't take it.

'No one wanted to fight him, so we left it at that," Devine said.

Williams said he got out of the car to talk to Stewart, whom they saw in the parking lot.

"I told him he should go over there to help Skylor in case he gets jumped," Williams said.

However, Stewart, who also testified Wednesday, claimed Williams did not talk to him, that it was Alexander.

"If they were going to cause physical harm to Skylor, being my friend, I was going to take the battle for him," Stewart said.

Both Williams and Devine testified repeatedly that Alexander was going to talk to the men and see why they called him rude names, rather than looking for a fight.

Devine said that as Alexander got out of the car, he said he wanted to "see what the problem is." He described Alexander's demeanor as "He was acting normal, like I seen him every day," Devine said.

Williams said that as he was talking to Stewart, Alexander left through an opening in a metal fence toward the group where Brown. Lindsey and Good were standing.

Alexander then returned to the parking lot and said they could go, Williams said. They went back to the apartment, and Skylor paced back and forth in the apartment and was breathing hard, Williams said.

Alexander then told the group that he had stabbed one of the guys who had been pushing him, Williams

"We didn't really believe him," Williams testified. "We thought he was joking."

Williams said Alexander then pulled out a knife with "some watery stuff and a little bit of red" on it.

Later, Stewart came to the apartment and yelled that the guy who was stabbed wasn't breathing, Williams said.

Stewart said he "cussed out" Alexander and told him he needed to

Williams testified that after hearing that, Alexander "started to cry and shake really, really bad."

Alexander and Williams then went to Alexander's grandparents' house to try to sleep, but the police showed up in the early morning hours, Williams

The trial reconvenes at 9 a.m. today and is expected to last through Friday

LANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie • 532-6555

BASEBALL

■ Continued from page 6

Second baseman Boogie Taylor followed with a single to right.

Ty Soto drove home Taylor on a fielder's choice to open scoring for

K-State evened the score when first baseman Brett Williams drove a 2-2 pitch into the gap in left to plate

Williams came through again in the fifth when his sac fly allowed Doty to score another and the Wildcats had their first lead.

WSU tied it back up in the sixth and reclaimed the lead in the seventh when two runs scored on a Johnson single.

The controversial eighth inning led to two more Wichita State runs and the Cats failed to answer back. K-State moved to 16-12 on the year while WSU improved to 17-6. Losing pitcher Franco Pezely said the Cats will rebound from the tough loss. "It would have been nice to get one from Wichita State," Pezely said. They're an in-state rival and it's always big to try and beat the best team in the state. But we'll bounce back.' Fat's Bar & Grill

THURSDAY

$3.00 Pitchers $2.50 Fishbowls

FRIDAY

$2.00 Bottles

LAB

Continued from page 1

Earlier this semester, the Legislature convened outside the Statehouse for the first time in recollected history to hear proposals from the three universities. The meeting, which was at K-State, played a role in the bill's support, Wefald said

"That was a defining moment getting all the legislators here and out of Topeka and having them focus just on these three issues," he said. "It was

Supporters of the bill said longterm thinking is important when faced with a $700 million budget shortfall.

"This is one of the most important

PLAYERS

Continued from page 6

Since Wooldridge signed five in fall 2000 (Williams, DeJesus, Spurlock, Travis Canby and Pervis Pasco), he is allowed only three for next season. Those slots were filled with the acquisitions of Richards and forwards Justin Johnson and Marques Hayden. However, Johnson and Hayden haven't reached academic eligibility yet, and if pieces of legislation we've considered in years," said Steve Morris, chair of the Senate Ways and Means Committee and one of the bill's key Others voiced concerns that the legislators already cannot finance their obligations. It is uncertain that the Legislature will receive funding from Senate Bill 345, which allocates $45 million to state universities.

"I happen to believe this bill is premature," said Senate Minority Leader Anthony Hensley, who still voted for the bill.

Republican Sens. Tim Huelskamp of Fowler, Bob Lyon of Winchester and Kay O'Connor of Olathe voted against

- The Associated Press contributed to this story.

they fail to do so, Wooldridge could seek guard help in their stead.

K-State will be able to replace Hayes with a scholarship player next season. Hayes was a walk-on this season, and was extended a scholarship offer last fall for 2002-03. This could occur because the NCAA allowed a modified 9-5 rule to take place in the policies' early stages to please upset coaches with a bonus recruit. Because Hayes has not used that scholarship yet, Wooldridge can fill the spot with a signee this offseason.

What can the American Red Cross Club of KSU offer you or your organization?

- CPR/First Aid Classes
- Disaster Action Teams
- First Aid Station
- Blood Services
- Leadership Opportunities
- Involvement In Your Community
- Lots More!!!

Visit our website @ www.ksu.edu/redcross

Collegian Cash-In

Large 1-Topping Deep Dish add $1

Available with coupon Must have coupon for special!

776-778

want towork in June 2 PLAY in July

Join the Summer Collegian & Phonebook Advertising Staff during the month of June!

Applications available in Kedzie 103.

Before the landlord finds out that your cat ate his bird sell your pets in the Collegian.

Applications due April 10, 2002. Positions run May 22-June 28.

Get the experience you need!

Rean thatthe

rexas teast, cueice of perate, and salab

RC McGraws

KARAOKE

Thursday, 9-1

50¢ TACOS hard or soft

$1.99 Island Oasis Margaritas

776-9588 • 2317 Tuttle Creek Blvd. Blue Hills Shopping Center

>tour the world, save big bucks

and get friendly with people your own age. contiki has 100 worldwide trips to choose from, australia from $55 a day! what on earth are you waiting for?!??!!!

>where to go: territory & outback > beaches & reefs reefs & rainforest

fiji sailing adventure

call toll-free 1-888-CONTIKE visit www.contikl.com

"Now I don't get hit with extra charges every time I leave my home calling area. Western Advantage saves me a lot."

Western Advantage

$35

Monthly Rate Home Anytime Minutes Regional Roam Minutes Evening Minutes

350 Weekend Minutes

75 250 150 500 1,500 1,500 500 1,500 1,500

600 1,000

Add additional lines for just $20

1.800.CELL.ONE

WWW.CELLULARONEWEST.COM

Cellular One

Cellular One Manhattan Town Center Mail 785-776-1414 Ask for Angela, Scott or Mike

Authorized Cellular One Dealer

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Open house guide

see Special Section

Prosecutors scale back charges

Kansas State Collegian

Prosecutors scaled back charges against 18-year-old Skylor Alexander on Thursday from first degree murder to intentional or unintentional second degree murder.

Alexander, who is on trial for the June 29 stabbing of Fort Riley soldier Randall Lindsey, pleaded innocent to the charge.

The change in charge drops the requirement that the jury finds Alexander acted with premeditation, which is a requirement of a first-degree

The state continued to call witnesses, including friends of Alexander and several Riley County Police Department detectives, while the defense moved for an acquittal based on self-defense. Alexander's friends

ALEXANDER testified that they went to Aggieville on June 29 to cruise and have fun. Previous testimony showed that Lindsey and his friends went out looking for a fight. Alexander's friend Steve Etienne said the soldiers yelled "fag" at them.

Alexander yelled "bitch" back. "Basically, you want trouble if you call someone a faggot - or any name, Etienne said. "It's just disrespect."

Alexander and his friends went to another friend's apartment. Etienne said Alexander was angry, but calmed down some. While at the apartment, Alexander made a phone call but never talked to anyone.

See ALEXANDER on PAGE 11

Health departments to combat bioterrorism

Konsas State Collegian

The effects of the Sept. 11 attacks are hitting close to home as Kansas health departments will begin preparing for prevention of bioterrorism threats.

'We are under a potential threat for a bioterrorism attack, and the country is not adequately prepared for such an attack," said Chuck Murphy, director of the Riley County Health Department.

federal funding to train state and local responders to deal with situations such as anthrax contamination.

Murphy said that although there have not been direct threats to the safety in Riley County, there were some causes for

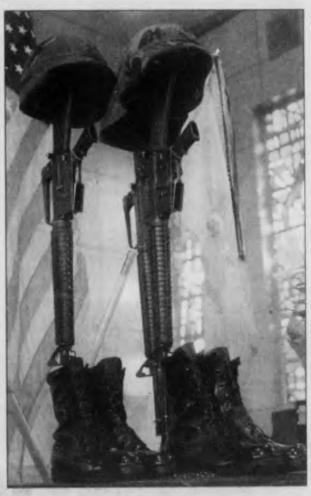

"We've had the anthrax concern," he said. "We did have individuals in this

See BIOTERRORISM .... PAGE 11

An honor guard outside Morris Hill Chapel at Fort Riley performs a 21-gun salute Thursday for the soldiers killed at the National Training Center at Fort Irwin in California. The soldiers were killed by a 120mm mortar round that exploded prematurely.

Two of three pairs of boots, helmets and dog tags are displayed at the front of Morris Hill Chapel at Fort Riley during the memorial service Thursday for the soldiers who were killed during a training accident at the National Training Center outside Los Angeles, Calif.

salute

Fallen Ft. Riley soldiers remembered at service

BY MICHAEL WATSON Kansas State Colleguin

The chapel was camouflaged, but even so, some found it hard to hide the tears. Family, friends and fellow soldiers gathered at Morris Hill Chapel at Fort Riley to mourn the loss and say goodbye to Sgt. Clifton Decklar, Spec. Bobby Newton and Pfc. Oscar Perez-limenez. The three soldiers died Friday during a live-fire training exercise at Fort Irwin, Calif., when a 120mm mortar round fired from an armored vehicle exploded prema-

"All of us know them as great warriors who made the ultimate sacrifice fulfilling the promise we all made for our nation," Lt. Col. George Brinegar said. "They were dutifully accomplishing their mission in preparation for future battles."

He said soldiers have a strong union, but in no way does that lessen the grief of the losses. The healing process will not end today.

"We will always wonder what these men could have brought to our country," Brinegar said. "But they would not want our soldiers to step backwards."

He said these dedicated soldiers would want battalions to move forward. It will be hard to carry on with the mission, but

See SOLDIERS IN PAGE 11

Security Council demands Israeli pullout

BY EDITH M. LEDERER The Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS - The U.N. Security Council on Thursday unanimously endorsed the Mideast mission of Secretary of State Colin Powell and demanded an Israeli withdrawal from Palestinian cities

"without delay." Diplomats said the council resolution would add weight to President Bush's effort to end the Mideast crisis. Secretary-General Kofi Annan urged the international community to persuade Israel and the Palestinians to draw back from violence which is threatening the region. Bush announced Thursday he was sending Powell to the Mideast next week. He urged Israel to halt its military incursions and start pulling its troops and tanks out of West Bank cities it entered in the past week in a search for Palestinian extremists.

The intensified U.S. mediation effort was announced while Security Council members were discussing an Arab-backed resolution demanding an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Palestinian cities, including Ramallah where Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat is surrounded by Israeli Frustrated over Israel's disregard of a council demand on Saturday to pull back its forces, Palestinian supporters demanded a new resolution including the word immediate - which wasn't in Saturday's call for Israel's military withdrawal.

The United States objected to the word "immediate" because it has been pressing for a cease-fire to come ahead of an Israeli troop withdrawal, a position supported by

After Bush announced his new initiative, U.S. Ambassador John Negroponte proposed new language for the Arab-backed draft resolution demanding that Israel pull out its tanks and troops "without delay" and welcoming Powell's Mideast mission. Arab and non-aligned nations agreed to those words. The resolution calls on "both parties to move immediately to a meaningful ceasefire; calls for the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Palestinian cities, including Ramallah; and calls upon the parties to cooperate fully with (U.S.) Special Envoy (Anthony) Zinni" to work to get a cease-fire and start negotiations for a political settlement.

Senate term ends with emotional speeches; new officers sworn in

STUDENT

SENATE

Student Senate

meets at 7 p.m.

evening in the Big

12 Room of the

K-State Student

Union, Students

and faculty are welcome to attend

every Thursday

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas State Collegian

The final meeting of the 2001-02 Student Senate concluded with tears and thank yous for a year of accomplishments.

Student Body Vice President Brandon Kauffman thanked senators and the student body for giving him the opportunity to serve.

"It's an opportunity I will always cherish and never take for granted," Kauffman said.

Student Body President Kyle Barker said although the year started off rough, he is proud of his accomplishments.

"I can't thank you enough, it is an awesome thing to think about," Barker said. "I have done some awesome things that I know > other students don't get to do." Following the meeting, he said he would like to thank the student body for allowing him to experience student government.

"I think we did some great things," Barker said after the meeting. "I can't thank the student body enough. I don't think I would be doing my job if I didn't wish I'd done more in different areas.

San SENATE on PAGE 12

News Editor: Nancy Foster 532-6556 I news@spub.ksu.edu

STATE IN BRIEF

House approves Senate's map, sends it to Graves

TOPEKA - Two days after the Senate broke a legislative logjam by passing a bill redrawing its 40 districts, the House approved the measure and sent it to Gov. Bill Graves.

On a 106-15 vote Thursday, the House passed the Senate's measure unchanged. By tradition, neither chamber tampers with the other's own redistricting plan.

Graves vetoed the earlier Senate map. The second map was a slightly revised version of the first plan, and Graves had threatened to veto it unless changes were made.

However, the governor backed away from his threat when the latest map garnered a veto-proof 29 votes in the Senate

No-call measure to head to conference committee

TOPEKA - Lawmakers who are trying to meet consumer demand for a way to avoid telemarketing calls must now reconcile different versions of an industry-backed proposal.

By a 105-18 vote, the House on Thursday passed a no-call bill and sent it back to the Senate. Several consumer protections were added in the House, so that a version acceptable to both chambers probably will have to be negotiated.

Senate Ways and Means endorses budget proposal

TOPEKA - The Senate Ways and Means Committee has endorsed a proposal for eliminating part of a $700 million budget shortfall while protecting education spending and some social services.

The proposal would dip into the state's rainy day funds, tap extra federal funds - and require higher taxes.

Legislative staff still were reviewing the committee's work Thursday, and the panel's members didn't know exactly how big a tax increase their plan would require, but it was likely to be at least $200 million.

The size of the tax increase would equal the gap between expected revenues and spending that would remain at the end of the next fiscal year. if the committee's plan were enacted. When legislators finish the budget, there must be no projected shortfall.

NATION IN BRIEF

Hundreds arrested in plot against Afghan government

KABUL, Afghanistan - Afghan authorities said Thursday they have uncovered a plot against the fledgling government, arresting hundreds for allegedly planning "terrorism, abduc tions and sabotage," and seizing weapons and documents in sweeps throughout the capital.

The government said the operations against men linked to former Prime Minister Gulbuddin Hekmatyar thwarted the greatest threat yet to Hamid Karzai's interim administration. But the arrests are also likely to inflame tension between Hekmatyar's largely Pashtun followers and the northern alliance, which is dominated by ethnic Tailks and controls key ministries.

Interior Minister Yunus Qanooni said most of those arrested were members of Hekmatyar's Hezb-e-Islami party.

5 U.N. troops injured in scuffle with Hezbollah

BEIRUT, Lebanon - Three unarmed U.N. observers and two armed peacekeepers were hurt in scuffles with Hezbollah forces in southern Lebanon on Thursday, the U.N. peacekeeping force commander said.

Tensions are high in the area along Israel's northern border, the scene of several clashes recently between Hezbollah and Israeli forces. There are fears the area could become a second front in the Middle East violence, in addition to the Israeli-Palestinian confrontation in the West Bank.

Israel, meanwhile, said Hezbollah fired still another volley of rockets at an outpost along the disputed border. There were no reports of injuries.

Andersen discloses deal with rival for U.S. tax partners

CHICAGO - Signaling the breakup of its U.S. operations, Arthur Andersen LLP announced Thursday that a "significant" number of its U.S. tax partners and professionals will join rival Deloitte & Touche. Terms were not disclosed.

Andersen's U.S. operations were jeopardized by the Enron Corp. scandal. The firm hopes to survive as a slimmeddown company focused on auditing.

Former Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker is head of an oversight board trying to reform Andersen and keep it alive as an independent firm.

Andersen's employees, meanwhile, were bracing for what the company has said would be "inevitable" layoffs among its 28,000 U.S. staffers.

SHE said / HE said

Q: My boyfriend is addicted to gambling. He always loses money and is broke all the time. Is there anything I can do to save him from himself?

- The Losing Team

Dear Losing Team:

There is nothing worse than a man with empty pockets, at least in my book. Your boyfriend obviously has forgotten it's his job to provide for you. Asking you for his rent money should be a huge sign to either put him in check or get out while you still have a balance in your bank account.

The part about your question that concerns me is he expects you to help him out of the mess he has made.

Is he your husband? No, I didn't think so. Therefore his bills are his, not yours.

I understand you want to help, but you only will be doing him a disservice. If you help this one time, you can count on it happening again.

I suggest you set the standard now. He needs to get a hold of his problem, and he might have to learn this lesson the hard way.

If the gambling itself really bothers you, on. Life is too short to settle for the wrong man. Sarah is a junior in electronic journalism.

Dear Losing Team:

Gambling odds, as the saying goes, are stacked in favor of the house. But that doesn't stop people from trying.

To answer your question: no, you can't help him. He is going to keep placing bets.

If your boyfriend doesn't have enough sense to pay his bills before he gambles his money away, maybe you should find a new boyfriend. Find a guy who has the sense not to gamble more than he wants to lose.

You do have some options to nurture his problem. One is to encourage him to place parlay bets. They have increased payouts, but they are much harder to win consistently.

Another option is to make him bet larger amounts, and you get to keep a part of the winnings. He makes money, you make money - the perfect partnership.

The last option is to tell him he cannot bet anymore. This will get you a oneway ticket to the street, and he will be looking for a new girlfriend. Derek is a senior in milling science.

Sarah Holladay

Derek Dietz

"He said, she said" is an advice column that answers readers' questions about anything from relationships to advising. The column is printed every Friday as a feature on page 2. Send your questions to advice@spub.ksu.edu.

ON RECORD

CAMPUS BULLETINS

Campus Calendar is the Collegian's campus bulletin board service. Items in the calendar can be published up to three times. Hems might not appear because of space constraints but are guaranteed to appear on the day of the activity. To place an item in the Campus Calendar, stop by Kedzie 116 and fill out a form or e-mail the news editor at bulletins@spub.ksu.edu by 11 a.m. two days before it is to run.

MIS Club will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in Calvin 217. Dress is business casual. Food will be served. KSU Men's Lacrosse will play Truman State at 10 a.m. and Missouri Rolla at 4 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Stadium

m KNEA-SP will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Union Little Theatre. Fhi Beta Sigma Fratemity Inc.,

will meet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the K-State Student Union. III "Issues" will air on KSDB-FM 91.9 FM at 7 p.m. Saturday

The Graduate School announces the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Yunsheng Su at 1:30 p.m. today in Fiedler 2116. Gold Key National Honor Society

Executive Board will meet at 5:45 p.m. Sunday in Union 202 KSU Alkido will meet at 7 tonight in Aheam 301.

Applications are due today at 5 p.m. for the 2002 St Homecoming Committee.

Applications are available in the Office of Student Activities and Services or at the fourth floor of the KSU Alumni Association.

UFM courses are still available. Start up dates are from April through May, and classes last about one month, Register at 1221 Thurston or call 539-8763.

■ The Friends of the KSU Libraries Annual Book Sale will be Saturday through April 10 during regular Hale Library Hours.

londay-Friday

the K-State and Riley County do not list wheel locks or minor constraints.

Riley County Wednesday, April 3

At 1:53 p.m., John Hartley, 504 counts of probation violation. Bond was set at $2,500. M At 2:10 p.m., Martin Gaither, 1140 Village Drive, was arrested for driving on a suspended/canceled license. Bond was set at $1,500. ■ At 3:55 p.m., Johnnie Hook, 4744 Freeman, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at $300. At 4:31 p.m., Shameke Strong,

M At 6:50 p.m., Jeremiah Johnson,

POLICE REPORTS

Reports are taken directly from police departments' daily logs. We truffic violations because of space

Manhattan, was arrested for a worth-

51 Chad, was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $5,000. M At 8:15 p.m., Carlos Dukes, Ohio, was arrested for criminal trespass. Bond was set at $500.

at 8:45 p.m., Benjamin Miller, 620 Osage St., was arrested for battery and criminal restraint, Bond was set at $1,000.

Thursday, April 4

■ At 12:43 a.m., Jason Brew, 6260 Pigeon Lane, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500. = At 2:37 a.m., M 505 Denison, was arrested for unlawful use of a license, refusal to submit breath test and DUI. No bond was set. III At 2:40 a.m., Lacey Keller, 1220

Centennial, was arrested for purchase/consumption of alcohol by a minor and DUI. No bond was set.

K-State Police

No reports of note were made.

SPRING 2002 STAFF Alyson Raletz

Jessica Pitts City/Gov Editor Editor in Chief

April Middleton Managing Editor

Nancy Foster

Photo Director

News Editor Zach Long

Dana Strongin Campus Editor Paul Restivo

Copy Chief Nicole Donnert

Asst. Photo Director

BY PHONE

Newsroom

Display advertising

Photo reprints

Amber Koehn Jodi Fagerquist Opinion Editor

Katle Lane Presentation Editor

Dan Smith

JJ Duncan

A&E Editor

Sports Editor

Ad Manager Alissa Duncan

Asst. Ad Manager

Nancy Hull

Projects Editor

Micah Hawkinson

eCollegian Editor

532-6556

532-6560

532-6304

CONTACT US

Kansas State Collegian Kansas State University

Kedzie 103 Manhattan, KS 66506

ABOUT US KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

(USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie weekdays during the school year and on Wednesdays during the summer. Periodical postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan 19502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

© Kansas State Collegian, 2002

CORRECTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS

Classified advertising/Delivery Problems 532-6555

There was an error in Thursday's Collegian. Matthew Dunn turned himself Into Wabunese County Police Friday. The Collegian regrets this error.

FRIDAY Specials

$2.00 Bottle Miller Lite/MGD $2.00 Miller Lite Big Beers $2.50 Boulevard Big Beers

> FREE BURGERS 100 FREE T-SIRTS

TOMORROW Night Stoli Vanilla Drinks $3 FREE PRIZES NEXT FRIDAY Porters Annual Skip Day

want towork in June & PLAY in July

Join the Summer Collegian & Phonebook Advertising Staff during the month of June!

Applications available in Kedzie 103. Applications due April 10, 2002.

Positions run May 22-June 28. Get the experience you need

Westloop Center 539-3333

Friday, April 5, 2002

K-State Singers looks for new members; freshmen welcome

BY EDIE HALL

Kansas State Collegian

Two credit hours, travel, camaraderie and many memories might not always be easy to find in one place.

These all are part of being in K-State Singers, said Matt Dill, business manager of the group.

Singers is taking applications for preliminary auditions now, and members encourage students to

Erin Jeschke, Singers member, said being in the group has definitely been a positive college experience

"It's just a blast," Jeschke said. "The people are awesome, and I love being on stage and performing. It's a serious time commitment, but it's worth every minute.

The group has been at K-State since 1954. They are the singing ambassadors of the university. performing across Kansas as well as surrounding states.

Singers is comprised of nonmusic majors. Dill said Singers has always had the requirement that its members have majors other than music

"That's the way it was set up in 1954, and that's the way it's always been," Dill said.

Dill said the group performs 30 to 40 times a year on average for various businesses, charitable organizations, community events and K-State events.

"I've loved it." Dill said. "We get to travel - we've sang the national anthem at the KU game for two years in a row. I've made memories and met people all throughout the state. I enjoy those types of things."

Dill said that although he's enjoyed being a part of Singers, it is a big time commitment. Singers

Claflin Books and Copies

1800 Claflin Road

776-5577

We Deliver During Lunch!

don't forget! on sunday set your clocks ahead one hour.

Students interested can get an application off the Singer's website, www.ksu.edu/kssingers or pick up an application in room 229 of McCain Auditorium. The applications should also be turned in at McCain requires two hours of practice scheduled Monday through Friday.

There also is travel time involved, Director of Singers Gerald Polich said. He said the group travels about once every two Dill said that this year, Singers has changed the way they conduct the audition process by allowing incoming K-State students to be in the group.

In previous years, students couldn't audition until their second year at K-State.

The audition process includes two parts. The first part is a preliminary audition held by Polich. Students auditioning will fill out an application and prepare a song to

After hearing students' prepared songs. Polich will have the applicants sing through short pieces that will help him hear their vocal range. Polich will then decide who will go on to the final auditions

Because the group is allowing first-year students to apply, high school seniors are not required to come to K-State for their preliminary audition, but send a video tape instead, which will be viewed by Polich. They will, however, be required to attend the final auditions.

SPRING SPECIAL K's Nails Manicure & Pedicure 530 Brush Wish Air (785) 776-2444 Mon.-Sat. 9:30-7:00 Walk Ins Welcome

For final auditions, students will sing in front of a panel of judges comprised of faculty from the Department of Music and alumni members who were in Singers during their time at K-State.

Finalists also will be required to learn about 30 seconds of choreography and do a dance audition.

"Since we are a show choir, we do both dancing and singing." Dill said. "That's why we require the dance audition."

Traditionally, the group takes 14 vocalists - seven males and seven females, Dill said.

Singers also has one pianist, a bass guitarist, a percussionist and a sound technician.

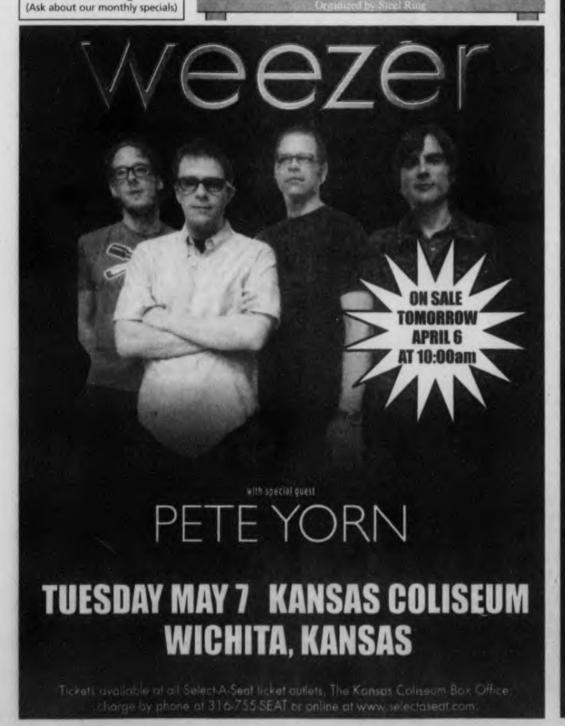

Dill said he would encourage students who are interested in Singers to audition.

"Look into it," Dill said. "It's a big time commitment, but it's worth it. It provides a unique chance experience things and meet people that you couldn't gain anywhere else.

$2 Wells Live Music SUNDAY 1/2 PRICE DRINKS Open Mic Night

Shoe guru to spend 41 months in prison

BY TOM HAYS

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK - Steve Madden, who built a $240 million empire designing chunky shoes, was sentenced Thursday to almost 3 1/2 years in prison for cheating investors in a stock fraud scheme.

The 41-month sentence also includes a $3.1 million restitution.

Madden pleaded guilty last year to two counts of securities fraud and money laundering in cases brought by the U.S. attorneys in Manhattan and Brooklyn. He had been charged with 23 counts.

Under a plea agreement, Madden still faces sentencing in the Brooklyn case but the term will run concurrently with the sentence handed down Thursday.

Madden was arrested in 2000 as the result of an investigation of a scheme to manipulate 23 initial public stock offerings underwritten by the now-defunct companies Stratton Oakmont Inc. and Monroe Parker Securities Inc.

A Securities and Exchange Commission complaint charged Madden with selling 100,000 shares of stock in his company on May 31, 2000, after he already had been advised by federal prosecutors that he was a target of grand jury investi-

Madden, who was ordered to surrender Aug. 15, resigned last year as chief executive of his company, Steve Madden Ltd., and was barred from serving as an officer for seven years. However, he stayed on as creative and design chief, making him eligible for millions of dollars in bonuses, base salary, expense allowances and options.

Park Place Apartments

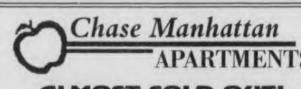

Affordable Prices 1,2 & 3 Bedrooms

MOORE Property Management 2002-2003 leases Close to Campus

Win Cash for Spring Break!

Sign a new lease prior to 3/14 @ 5 p.m. to be entered into a drawing. Drawing held at 2 p.m. on 3/15

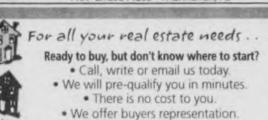

For more info call 537-0205

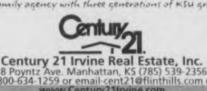

ALMOST SOLD OUT! Apartments starting at $580 per month

Only a few 2 and 4 bedroom apartments left!

> Call Chase Manhattan Apartments • (785) 776-3663 (24 hours) 1409 Chase Place • Manhattan, KS

Are you considering selling your home? We will be glad to do a free market analysis to enable you to establish a value on your real estate

WAREHOUSE SALE

APRIL 9 - APRIL 12

Tuesday-Friday 10 AM-9 PM

APRIL 13 Saturday 10 AM-7 PM

Fashions from the pages of the J.Crew Catalog up to 70% off!!

Bramlage Coliseum 1800 College Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

Directions:

Follow I-70 to Exit 313, Hwy. 177 N. Make a left onto Tuttle Creek Blvd. Go about 2 miles and turn left onto Kimball Ave. Turn left onto college Ave. and enter gate 1 of the KSU Sports Complex.

> We accept Visa, Mastercard, American Express, J.Crew Credit Cards, Cash and Check (with proper ID)

Includes Irregulars, Damaged & Customer Returns

tional stop signs or traffic lights.

of roundabouts.

crashes

In terms of money, maintenance and

A roundabout at north Manhattan and Kimball would save Manhattan more than

Dr. Eugene Russel, one of the faculty at the K-State CTRT, writes that roundabouts also

Here's the bad news: it's too late to Even though modern roundabouts are might be the solution to a couple of Manhattan's

other intersections of evil - Third

Street and

Tuttle Creek

Boulevard and Bluemont Avenue.

eliminate the need to Roundabouts could

$400,000, according to some estimates.

appear to reduce the number of fatal make changes in the plan for North

Manhattan and Kimball traffic flow, the statistics all are on the side

University open house crucial recruiting tool

If your professors excused you from an afternoon class today, remember the K-State's All-University Open House starts at 9 a.m. Saturday and will feature a variety of activities and information sessions for prospective students and other visitors.

► OUR VOICE

and debated by the

written after a

editorial board and majority opinion is formed. OFR VOICE is

the Collegian's official

Open House is not merely a way to get out of class. It deserves our respect as a day that helps make this university a better place.

Saturday's activi-Jessica Pitts ties take planning April Middleton Nancy Foster and work. Students, Dana Strongin faculty and staff must Alyson Raletz come together each Nancy Hull year to ensure the Amber Koehn Dan Smith success of every Paul Restivo competition and Katle Lane presentation. This is II Duncan a great way to bring Zach Long Nicole Donnert these different people Micah Hawkinson together for the good of the university.

Open house also helps K-State gain prospective students. This issue is gaining importance in light of upcoming budget cuts and the strained economy.

Take the time to enjoy a fun activity or free plate of food Saturday. Open house is an integral part of K-State's present and future.

The Collegian's Campus Fourum is an anonymous call-in system that allows readers to voice their opinions.

In response to Jesse Manning's editorial Gore got more votes. How's that for true democracy?

Better left-wing than right-wing.

There's nothing like watching one of your best friends stumble down a hill. bounce off a car and hit her head on the concrete on her 21st birthday. Pow!

I got a comment in the Fourum. Score!

To the people who keep talking about Paul White: shut up. I'm tired of reading about you in the Fourum.

Every now and again, an old couple will come to my fraternity and scavenge my parking lot for beer cans. Is that weird?

I'd just like to thank the skinny girls running around in sports bras for running around in sports bras.

Hey, Peter Morris: I want to see those Power Rangers underwear.

I was wondering if the new football turf had anything to do with my tuition going

If you have electric windows and you have a dog, don't let him step on the buttons and roll his own head up in them.

In other words, KU's Student Senate gives a crap, and ours doesn't.

Hey, teachers; the jerk store called. It's all out of you. -

Enough with the priceless commercials.

I know it's cliché, but can't we all just get along?

Yeah, me and Jesse Jackson used to smoke trees together back in the day, yo.

You got played. Deal with it.

My neighbors are quite possibly the three stupidest people on earth.

Peter Morris is turning out to be everything that is wrong in America.

A roundabout solution

Appropriate solution might fix dangerous intersection

hear the city of Manhattan is one big mistake.

You think I'm kidding, don't you? Well, you're wrong. I couldn't be more serious.

There was a story in the Collegian this week explaining the origin of our fair city. Apparently, a bunch of settlers from New York got stranded on one of the many river banks here in beautiful northeast Kansas and decided not to go any further. Things went downhill from there At least that's the only conclusion I can reach after looking ar some of Manhattan's roads. They appear to have been planned by a bunch of misan thropic monkeys. On crack cocaine Poor-quality crack cocaine, at that Take, for instance, the intersection at north Manhattan and Kimball avenues. No mentally sound person heads north on Manhattan Avenue between the hours of 8-10 a.m. and 4-6 p.m. Everything about that intersection is twisted, It's almost as if the Diabolical One himself was supervising the city planners who dreamed up that threeway disaster area.

One stop sign, poor line of sight and a 40 mph speed limit? Come on, people, that's a sideswipe waiting to

Fortunately, our benevolent and considerate City Council has taken steps to put a stoplight at the intersection, which theoretically solves most

The problem? Bad drivers like me, for instance, of these issues.

My skills at driving standard transmission automobiles are somewhat sub par. In the common vernacular, I pretty much suck.

> I have a hard time concentrating on shifting gears while singing along with the perpetual tape of show tunes in my cassette player. Add to my natural lack of coordination the problem of starting and stopping on a hill. and you have a recipe that yields > > abundant portions of hot and spicy - yet subtly flavored - flaming death for all concerned.

Assuming my driving skills are no worse than those of the bozos who cut me off all the time, a stoplight at the top of that hill on Kimball would present a serious

It would probably cause more collisions than the jogging trail around City Park in the summertime, but with less boobies (if you were offended by that last sentence, or if you are my mother, I apologize profusely).

The best alternative, according to numerous civil engineers (including a number of professors at K-State), would be a modern roundabout. According to the K-State Center for Transportation Research and Training Web site. www.ksu.edu/roundabouts, safer, cheaper and more efficient than traditional intersections, public opinion is against them. The City Commission decided against the proposed roundabout more than a year ago. modern roundabouts can be up to 50 percent Here's the good more efficient news: it looks like than tradiroundabouts Bluemont Avenue and > wait forever and a day for the stupid light to change. They might prevent stupid people from blocking intersections during busy times. They'd be cheaper than another set of traffic lights. I say we should give roundabouts a shot. At the very least, they'd make it so I wouldn't have to watch for the light to change as I croon along with the cast of "Cabaret."

Micah is a junior in English and history. You can e-mail him at mph7686@ksu.edu.

Line art by Jennifer Kimball/Collegian

Columnists says he has earned 'Big Man on Campus' title

For those of you not familiar with the Collegian, I have been a regular fixture on the opinion page.

Whether it's through my own opinions, other columnists' opinions or Campus Fourum comments, my name has been appearing quite a bit recently.

I'd like to thank all of those who've helped contribute to my popularity. I am very flattered.

Which leads me to my point. As of today, I officially declare myself the Big Man on Campus

I have become the Big Man on Campus through many years of hard work and by striving for excellence in every endeavor I have attempted.

Whether it has been through writing in the Collegian, participating in greek events or just chillin', I've shown nearly everyone that I've worked with just who the Big Man on Campus really is. Just listen to what some other students had to say about your Big Man on

"I've had the pleasure to know Kyle for nearly 21 years, and I take a lot of pride knowing he asks for me personally to give him rides to campus or the bars," said Darcie Brownback, sophomore in something not as cool as biochemistry.

Granted, she's my little sister, but I've got to start somewhere

"Kyle is one of the funniest, most attractive people I've ever had the honor to meet. I just wish he knew what my name was," said some girl (maybe named Jenny) I met last weekend. And the list goes on.

view

Kyle Brownback

"If it wasn't for Kyle Brownback, I don't think I would have the will to live," Danny Adrian, junior in graphic design, said.

Whoa Danny, you green-eyed stallion, don't get too emotional on

The Big Man on Campus doesn't

"Kyle is the most popular person I know. If he decides not to pursue a career in medicine, I think he should definitely look into being president of the world," Rachel Crane, senior in advertising, said.

I'd be lying if the idea of being president of the world hadn't crossed my mind, but I'm pretty sure I still want to pursue a career in medicine and be the best breast augmentation doctor I can be. "Big Man on Campus? I don't think Kyle is just that. When I think about our country's great leaders, I think of George George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Kyle Brownback. Did I mention he's super cute, too?" Angela Dikeman, senior in marketing, Hey, I guess if you think that, then it's fine, but I don't want to sound too arrogant here.

As you can plainly see, there is an overwhelming amount of support for my selection as the Big Man on Campus. Unfortunately for some, my selection came at the expense of others. Kyle Barker, former Big Man on Campus, was forced to change positions due to my status as the new Big Man on

He now will be referred to as Kyle Barker, official bartender for the Big Man on Campus.

Not that it's that big of a demotion, although now he might need some consoling knowing that his sole purpose in life is to make my gin and tonic.

So show some respect to your new, official Big Man on Campus. I suggest if you are lucky enough to see me on campus, you greet me with, "Good morning Mr. Big Man on Campus, is there anything I can do to make your life better?"

You might think I'm just some arrogant prick who is way too full of himself.

But just remember one thing: I'm the Big Man on Campus, and you're not.

Kyle is a senior in biochemistry and pre-medicine. You can e-mail him at krb4706@ksu.edu.

READERS WRITE

More coverage should have been given to lecture series

Editor,

I am very disappointed in the way the Collegian covered the American Ethnic Studies Lecture Series on Wednesday featuring Wilma Mankiller.

First of all, there was no photographer present at the event.

When a guest visits our campus who has accomplished the things Wilma Mankiller has, I would think it is expected and mandatory we would honor her by making a prominent article in the Collegian accompanied by a photograph.

Not only that, I would expect the Collegian would not pigeon-hole the article in the middle section of the paper, but put it on the front page where such an article belongs.

I was extremely upset to see the cover story of the Collegian on "Downtown Development" (an article that could be written any time and, I would guess, is of little to no importance to most college students), and to have to search for the article on Mankiller. I think this article, the effort that went into it and its placement in the Collegian is an example of how Native American history and people have been treated in this country: marginalized and minimized.

Not enough credit is given to the American Ethnic Studies program, mainly Patricia Swanigan and Dr. Juanita McGowan, who organized this event in partnership with Jake Hawkins and the Native American Student Association. Without the efforts of the American Ethnic Studies program, we would not have had the opportunity to hear and meet this extraordinary woman in history, as well as many others in previous years.

We need to applaud the American Ethnic Studies program, and thank them and those who support their program for the effort that went into this event.

The K-State campus definitely lacks in diversity programming, and we have an obligation to support and promote those who work hard to bring diverse views to our campus.

- Elsie Lambert President of the American Ethnic Studies: Student Association (AESSA)

Organization continues to restore history of local depot

Kansas State Collegian

Restoration of the Union Pacific depot in downtown Manhattan is an expensive and time consuming process. It's a matter of getting funding.

The Union Pacific depot, just off Fort Riley Boulevard, was popular in the early 1900s. Students attending K-State Agricultural College did not drive from home. Many took the

And Fort Riley soldiers traveling to another army installation to ship out to fight in World Wars I and II didn't fly out of Forbes Field Air Force Base in Topeka, they caught the train. Theodore Roosevelt also traveled through the depot, stopping in Manhattan for a whistlestop campaign during presidential campaign in 1903.

"It's that history we're trying to restore," said Dixie West, president of the Depot Steering Committee.

She said the goal is to make the historic building a public use facility. Because the money to fund the restoration thus far has come from public grant money, West said it only would be right to use the building for public use for a new meeting place, reception space or for history art exhibits.

When the depot was built in 1901, it cost only $10,000 to build. The first two phases to restore the depot already have cost about $450,000, and the building is still not complete.

"Restoration takes a long time," West said.

"It's time consuming and expensive to restore old buildings. but it's worth it. The location and history of the building are associated with the railroad system of America that tied this nation together."

This is the last in a three-part series. Read the eCollegian online at kstatecollegian.com for previous downtown

However, most of the money is not coming from taxpayers. That is part of what makes the renovating process so long.

West said all money is so tight right now, so the rehabilitation and restoration of the building probably will be slowed down.

The first and second phases of restoration stabilized the foundation, repaired masonry, stonework and woodwork, installed a drainage system, added utilities and replaced the damaged roof with new clay tiles.

Most of this money came from the Kansas Department of Transportation for transportation enhancement funds and the Heritage Trust Fund grant from the state of Kansas in 1997

Those two sources totaled about $339,000, or about 80 percent of the project cost. The rest of the money came from city funds - $85,000 - and the Manhattan/Riley County Preservation Alliance, a non-profit group, donated $11,000.

Because the depot is on the Kansas Register, recognizing it as a historic site, significant changes cannot be made to the building. If significant changes deviated from the original building blueprints, it would be taken off the register and would not be eligible for state

In repairing the roof, West said architects have to be careful. They needed to try to find a roofing material similar to the original structure

"When they replaced the clay tiles, the architects found who made the original tiles in 1901. They were able to buy the exact

The Manhattan depot has had restoration work done within the last year, and Union Pacific trains still run on the tracks that are south of it.

same tiles from when it was first built. Isn't that cool?" she said. "We got very lucky."

The next step for the depot is heating and air conditioning for the facility to protect further investment inside the building. West said the shell of the building is now complete, so now it would be a matter of making the building accessible and attractive on the inside

On March 1, the Depot Steering Committee and Preservation Alliance applied for another Heritage Trust Fund grant through the Riley County Historical Society for $25,000. That would be used to install heat and air.

West said access would be a problem in the future. The depot used to be downtown, but because of the new bridge built for Kansas Highway 177, the depot is isolated. That will make it hard to put the depot to use. She said that will be a significant future step to help preserve historic downtown.

Fund raising will be an ongoing process. Watercolor prints of the depot are being sold for $40, painted by Richard Forsyth, a K-State landscape architecture professor, at the Riley County Historical Museum on Claffin

In the near future, Union Depot candle houses also will be available, but the price has not yet been set.

Although it will take a lot of time and effort, it is important to preserve the historic downtown depot. West said. It could take five years or it could take 10 years, but it will be completed, she said.

"That depot was there before we were all born, and it will be there long after we're gone," she said, "It's been a significant part of Manhattan's history. That's why we need to protect it.'

The Union Pacific Railroad emblem is displayed on the Manhattan area depot

GIVE US YOUR OPINION. Campus Fourum: 395-4444

4th Annual Open House Pancake and Sausage Feed

April 6 7 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. 142 Seaton Hall

Drawing for a John Deere die-cast model.

$3.50 adults $3.00 students $1.50 children 5-12

might be pregnant?

Wondering if you

Stop by Birthright for a pregnancy test that is free, accurate, reliable, and confidential.

No appointment needed.

of Manhattan inc 206 S. 5th (785) 539-2555

Apply to work for the summer Gollegian TOP/177

Reporters, copy editors, designers and photographers are all needed. You will get some great experience and some money in your wallet. Pick up your application in Kedzie 103 now.

Deadline to apply is April 5th. If you have any questions, call 532-6556.

K-State Student Chapters of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers and the Agricultural Communicators of Tomorrow

Selected Bras

ALL SWIMSUITS

1224 Moro

AGGIEVILLE

M-Th 10-7 Fri & Sat 10-5

Thank you for supporting the Campaign for Nonviolence and helping bring the Season for Nonviolence to KSU and the Manhattan Community!

Members/Committee for the Campaign for Nonviolence

H.I.P.E.-Believe It? - Honor System Honor Council

KSU Office of Diversity and Dual Career Development

The League of Women Voters of Manhattan & Riley

Agricultural Student Council and College of Agriculture

KSU Commission on the Status of Women

Leadership Studies and Programs

Torry Dickinson and Robert Schaeffer

Supporters & Volunteers Christie Corbin

Sara Fisher

Stone Lamb

Our Ad Co-sponsors

Bob Shoop

Andrea McCluggage

D'Ann Wadsworth

Jack Connaughton

Dave Macfarland

Gambino's Pizza

KSU Affirmative Action

Social Work Program Faculty

Manhattan Mennonite Church

Lou Douglas Lecture Series

KSU Women's Center

Dorinda Lambert

Bob Krause, VP Institutional Advancement Jim Coffman, Provost

Fred Newton James and rest of ad staff at Collegian

Mary Hammel Manhattan Library

Hale Multicultural Library Center

Nicole Copel

Tara Hull Tracy Rohleder

Susan Allen and Kay Garrett Rock-A-Belly Deli Four Winds Therapeutic Massage

Counseling Services Varney's Book Store

Stephen Osborn and Heath Harding Women's Studies

Pat Bosco, Dean of Student Life

College of Human Ecology

The Crisis Center, Inc.

Torry Dickinson

Jane Koger

Hillel Jewish Student Organization Tony Jurich and Olivia Collins

Manhattan Friends Meeting Division of Continuing Education Jacque E. Gibbons

Discussants for the video series A FORCE MORE POWERFUL

Aruna Michie Maarten and Christina Van Swaay Dorothy Farrand Clive Fullager James Butler

Sports

Final Four manufactured by Big Brother-type government

The world is a convoluted mass of corruption and scheming, rotten-to-the-core elitists who are working toward world domination. One must only look to the sports world to see that the cartoonish crusader is correct.

Take the Final Four, for instance. Maryland defeated the people's choice, the Kansas Jayhawks, through sheer underhanded trickery. The point total that showed the Terrapins won was miscounted - during TV timeouts, game officials actually changed the score and bought the crowd's silence. This is just another reminder that we, the people, led by the impostor George W. Bush, faked cannot trust television. The U.S. government, history once with the moon landing, so there is no reason to believe the government won't do it again.

Furthermore, Maryland's star player, Juan Dixon, was actually academically ineligible. The 33 points he scored on the Jayhawks, who most likely were drugged by CIA operatives, should not have counted. One brave reporter from a radio station reported this story over the air Monday, and KU people called in by the dozens asking for more information.

Unfortunately, the people were wronged again when the government shut the station up and forced it to call the story an April Fool's joke.

The people of the United States are

We will not stand idly by as a national championship basketball game is manufactured by the U.S. government. My rights are being violated.

Furthermore, any opposition to the fraudulent KU-Maryland game's conclusion was hushed by secret government agents, who used the live, interactive, online polls developed by television network CBS - another government institution not to be trusted - to identify and capture righteous U.S. citizens who were criticizing the game over the

That's right, folks, the government can come into your home through your computers. My suggestion to all those who don't want their rights trampled upon is to sever all connection to the outside world. The going on around them.

Do not let those subconscious patriotic blindfolds hide the truth from you. Kansas should have defeated Maryland and advanced to the national championship

The government's plan to take over the world doesn't stop with basketball, however, even though that's what they would like you Ever wonder why Michael Jordan keeps retiring and returning to basketball or why he can still dominate players who are nearly half his age? The answer is obvious - the government has been cloning Jordan, easily the finest physical specimen of our time, in order to develop an army that will take over small countries and annex their oil supplies. The government simply has been testing the Jordan clones against other fine athletes in

The real Jordan is kept in a airtight cell in Roswell, N.M.

These are merely a few instances of wrongdoing among a haystack of thousands. I could list more, but my voice of liberty is endangering my life.

It is up to you to find more abuses of justice and fight them with calls to the

You cannot rely on me, Paul White and the Fetus Genius forever. Power to the people.

Michael is a junior in English and print journalism. You can e-mail him at mtn5855@ksu.edu.

Ready for the raid

K-State shortstop Osmar Castillo tries to throw a runner out during the Wildcats' loss to Wichita State on Wednesday at Tointon Family Stadium. K-State will start a three-game series against Texas Tech today in Lubbock.

Raiders, Cats to battle in Lubbock this weekend

BY BEN FEHR

Kansas State Collegian

exas Tech has all the tools a baseball team needs to win. Tech can hit for consistency. Raiders Jon Slack and Willie Durazo lead the Big 12 in hits, respectively. Slack has sprayed 54 hits over 36 games, and Durazo has reached base by a hit 53 times in 35 games. Tech can hit for power.

With 13, Raider senior Nick Blankenship leads the Big 12 in home runs, while Durazo is tied for third in the conference with seven.

Tech can pitch. Senior Steve Rows has five wins on the season, and so does Junior Nathan Fouts Tech also sports Chris Phillips, recipient of the season's first Big 12 Player of the Week award and the good enough for second in the Conference. But the Raiders trail K-State in the Big 12 standings.

owner of 57 Big 12 strikeouts, a mark

To say the least, Tech will be looking to even things up a bit this weekend.

"Tech has good pitching," Coach Mike Clark said. "They also have a tremendous offense. They're a big, power-hitting ballclub."

Clark said the loss to Wichita State on Wednesday calls for a renewed emphasis on his club's focus.

"We are going to have to come out and pitch. We are going to have to play defense, and we are going to have to do a better job at the plate. "We are capable of doing that, but

Friday — 7 p.m. #39 RHP Ross Hawley (1-2, 4.31 ERA, 39.2 IP, 36 Strikeouts)

Saturday - 2 p.m. #35 LHP Brock Smith (1-3, 6.30 ERA, 30.0 IP, 26 Strikeouts)

(4-1, 3.05 ERA, 41.1 IP, 36 Strikeouts)

we need to have more focus. Our attention against Wichita State wasn't where it needed to be," Clark said.

The lack of production against the Shockers hasn't been characteristic of K-State's offense this season. The Cats are second in the Big 12 in overall team batting, a strength

Clark said his team needs to take advantage of earlier in ballgames, and especially against the powerloaded Red Raiders.

'We have been talking about not just showing up and hoping to play well," he said.

"We need to take the game to Texas Tech. We can't show up and let the other team have their way for a little bit before we decide to respond.

Pitcher Frank Pezely, who took the loss against Wichita State, said it will be important for the Cats to continue to pick up wins in the talented Big 12.

"We need to get two out of three from Tech and get things going in the conference again," Pezely said. "And

Drew Rose/Collegian

K-State pitcher Kevin Melcher tries to throw a runner out against Nebraska on March 31 at Tointon Family Stadium. Melcher will start the final game of three at Texas Tech on the pitching staff has to be a big part of that.

Big 12 batting leader Pat Maloney said he is confident his team will be able to bounce back from Wednesday's loss by playing a good series against the Red Raiders. "We want to go to Tech and have a good series," Maloney said. "And if we focus, we'll play good baseball down

Clark said playing good baseball this weekend will have a lot to do with the attitude the Cats bring to the field at the beginning of the series.

"We need to step up and be the aggressor right from the first pitch,"

Track teams split again for weekend competition

BY JOEL REICHENBERGER Kansas State Collegian

The caliber of competition the K-State track team will encounter at this weekend's Clyde Littlefield Texas Relays should leave any aspiring track athlete in a sense of awe.

The four-day event features the best high school, college and professional athletes in the sport, including Sydney gold medal winner and Kansas City native Maurice Green, is in Austin, Texas, this weekend at Mike A. Myers Stadium.

But competing alongside Sydney Olympians and some of the best professional athletes in the sport doesn't look to faze a Wildcat track squad that already has a lot to be proud of.

Austra Skujyte, an Olympian, will lead the nationally ranked, No. 6 women's track team into the competition. Skujyte, who competed in the Olympics for Lithuania, already has qualified to the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the shot put this year.

Skujyte will be looking to better her season-best 55-10.15 mark, which she earned veekends ago at the Unive Arizona's Jim Click Shootout.

Sophomore Morgan High also will compete in Texas for the Wildcats. High was named Female Field Athlete of the Week by K-State coaches after she cleared 5-10.75 and won the high jump competition at the UTEP Spring Invitational last weekend.

High's mark was also good enough to provisionally qualify her for competition in the nationals meet.

"Morgan's jump tied her personal best outdoors," Coach Cliff Rovelto said. "She has

See TRACK on PAGE 12

Cats wrap up homestand with Iowa, Missouri

BY SEAN PURCELL Kursus State Collegator

K-State's tennis squad will wrap up its four-match homestand this weekend when it squares off against Iowa State and Missouri.

The Cats have dropped their first two matches at home, including a 6-1 loss to Baylor, as well as a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Big 12-leading Kansas Jayhawks.

One thing is clear to the Wildcat players, getting at least one win this weekend is critical as they head out on the road for the remainder of the conference season.

"We haven't got many matches left in conference play," freshman Andrea Cooper said.

"It's important to start playing more consistently as a team and get some wins so that our records gets better, and we finish in a good position in the conference."

K-State now stands at 3-3 in conference play and 8-6 on the season. The Cats' previous match went down to the wire, but Kansas came away with a one-point victory.

In the Cats' last two matches, K-State lost the doubles point.

Senior Alena Jecminkova and Cooper have teamed to win their last two doubles matches, but K-State's other doubles teams haven't pulled their weight to get the duel's opening

"Today we played much better as a doubles team," Cooper said after the Kansas

See TENNIS on PAGE 12

Bahner - Roberts

Kari Bahner, senior in microbiology, and Loren Roberts, senior in nuclear option in mechanical engineering, announce their Kari is the daughter of Kim and Candace Bahner, of Belvue, Kan., and Loren is the son of Kenneth and Barbara Roberts, of Mulvane, Kan.

They are planning a July 6 wedding in Manhattan.

Blachly - Wolf

Kara Joy Blachly, K-State graduate, and Corey William Wolf, K-State graduate, announce their engagement

Kara is the daughter of Richard and Cindy Blachly, Olathe, Kan., and Corey is the son of Bruce and Vicky Wolf, Longford, Kan. They are planning a July 13 wedding in Stanley, Kan.

son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Tiffany of Council Grove, Kan., and Verona Scheurmann, Oklahoma City They are planning a July 6 wedding in

Brown - Adams

Megan Brown, senior in interior design, and Charles Adams Jr., senior at Pitt State in wood technology, announce their engage-

Megan is the daughter of Mike and Staphanie Brown, of Overland Park, Kan., and Charles is the son of Chuck and Sue Adams, of Overland Park, Kan.

They wed on March 21 in Eureka

Burrell - Henningson

Jamie Burrell, sophomore in veterinary medicine, and Troy Henningson, K-State graduate, announce their engagement. Jamie is the daughter of Dean and Beth Burrell, Topeka, and Troy is the son of Chris and Audrey Henningson, Roseville, Minn. They are planning a June 8 wedding in Topeka.

Burruss - Redington

Shanna Burruss, graduate student in student personnel services, and Luke Redington, senior in English literature, creative writing and pre-law, announce their engagement.

Shanna is the daughter of John and Rita Moyer of Topeka, Kan., and Kerry and Jane Burruss of Berryton, Kan. Luke is the son of George and Lindell Redington of Ellinwood,

They are planning a June 1 wedding in

Dickman - Dinkel

Devin Dickman, K-State graduate in hotel and restaurant management, and Duane Dinkel, senior in marketing and inter national business, announce their engage-

Devin is the daughter of the late Michael and Dayna Dickman of Oakley, Kan., and Duance is the son of Walt and Terri Dinkel of Oakley, Kan.

They are planning a June 1 wedding in

Gore - Schmidt

Jacey Gore, senior in nutrition and exercise sciences, and Brandon Schmidt, senior in criminology, announce their

Jacey is the daughter of Gregg and Jana Gore, Topeka, and Brandon is the son of Michelle Regier and Ton Schmidt, Lincoln,

They are planning a Sept. 21 wedding in Topeka.

Bredfeldt - Tiffany

Nichole Bredfeldt, senior in anima graduate student in reproductive physiology,

Randy Bredfeldt of Dodge City, Kan., and

Ron Herman of Lindsey, Okla. Steve is the Nichole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

science and industry, and Shawn Tiffany, announce their engagement.

Hankins - Haack

Tenley Hankins, senior in nutritional sciences, and Justin Haack, senior in business administration at the University of Kansas, announce their engagement.

Tenley is the daughter of Kenneth and Ramona Hankins, of McDonald, Kan., and Justin is the son of Roger and Sharon Haack, of Lawrence, Kan.

They are planning a June 8 wedding in Atwood, Kan.

Hedman - Heitman

Bree Hedman, graduate in mechanical engineering, and Jason Heitman, senior in mechanical engineering, announce their Bree is the daughter of Ron and Judy Hedman, of Manhattan, and Jason is the son of Michael and Sharon Heitman, of Aubum, Kan.

They are planning a spring 2003 wedding in Manhattan.

Hendry - Pittenger

Erin Hendry, junior in elementary education, and Travis Pittenger announce their Erin is the daughter of Gary and Joy Edwards, Manhattan, and Travis is the son of Tom and Linda Pittenger, Manhattan. They are planning a June 1 wedding in Manhattan.

Jones - Hendrickson

Chrissy Jones, senior in human resource management and management information systems, and Justin Hendrickson, senior in social science, announce their engagement.

Chrissy is the daughter of Tony and Adree Jones, Jetmore, Kan., and Justin is the son of Marvin and Debbie Hendrickson, Minneapolis, Kan.

They are planning a June 8 wedding in

Lear - Hittle

Audra Lear, senior in family and consumer sciences education, and Kane Hittle, K-State graduate, announce their Audra is the daughter of Roger and Deann Lear, Winfield, Kan., and Kane is the son of Dennis and Connie Hittle, Winfield. They are planning a June 29 wedding in

Loomis - Larson

Laurie Loomis, senior in music education, and David Larson, senior in biology,

Laurie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Loomis of Inman, Kan., and David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Larson, of Tescott,

They are planning a July 20 wedding in Hutchinson, Kan.

Lytle - Peters

Susan Lytle, senior in elementary education, and Ben Peters, senior in elementary education, announce their engagement Susan is the daughter of David and Carol Lytle, Olathe, Kan., and Ben is the son of Rick and Ann Peters, Hays, Kan. They are planning a March 15, 2003, wedding in Leawood, Kan.

Malone - Pool

Tara Malone, junior in nutritional science and pre-dentistry, and Josh Pool, senior in horticulture with an emphasis in landscape design, ennounce their engage-

Tara is the daughter of Mike and Teresa Malone, Great Bend, Kan., and Josh is the son of Thom and Roxanne Pool, Wichita.

They are planning a June 1 wedding in

Haberkorn - McConeghey

Melissa Haberkom, senior in elementary education, and John McConeghey, senior in electrical engineering and pre-medicine announce their engagement.

Melissa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haberkom of Topeka, and John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David McConeghey of Andover, Kan. They are planning an Aug. 10 wedding in

Nieder - Miller

Sarah Nieder, senior in elementary educations, and Brian Miller announce their

Sarah is the daughter of Dean and Martha Nieder, Lawrence, Kan., and Brian is the son of Pam Hardie and Jim Miller, Lawrence, Kan.

They are planning a Dec. 28 wedding in Lawrence.

Let's Celebrate! 2002

Campbell's 49th Anniversary

Saturday, April 6th

Monday, April 8th

The tradition continues ... thanks to you!

In appreciation of your patronage, we are offering a gift of 20% off any purchase of $25.00 or more. Register to win a $49.00 Gift Certificate each day.

10:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. 6 Mon. - Sat. 10:00 a.m. - 6 p.m. Thurs.

Dept. 56 and previously purchased items excluded.

785-776-9067 • 5th & Poyntz • 877-676-9067

Bridal & Gift Registry China Crystal Silver Gifts Collectibles

Wedding Attire Specialists in Leather Cleaning and Repair

BILL ANDERSON

12061/2 Moro Manhattan, Kansas 66502

Perfect Stitches Tailoring

Alterations and Dry Cleaning

219 S. 4th Manhattan, KS (785) 776-6912 Susan Pickett

FREEZE DRIED WEDDING BOUQUETS

FLOWER MARKET

MANHATTAN (ACROSS FROM STAGG HILL GOLF COURSE) CALL 776-9778 TO SET UP A FREE

4070 FT. RILEY BLVD.

WEDDING CONSULTATION WE FREEZE DRY FRESH BOUQUETS TOO

It's Kistner's Flowers on your special day.

when quality, experience and professional service are so important.

Fresh and silk flower wedding designs FREE WEDDING CONSULTATIONS 28 Years Experience

Kistner's

Flowers and Greenhouse 1 mile south of the Mall on Highway 177 South 776-7989 776-7044

Owen - Fugua

Abbie Owen, senior in psychology, and Chad Fuqua announce their engagement Abbie is the daughter of Pat Owen, Manhattan, and Susan James, Chapman, Kan., and Chad is the son of Larry and

They are planning a May 25 wedding in Sheryl Fugua, Hesston, Kan.

Sara Penner, senior in marketing, and Brandon Schwartz, senior in marketing, announce their engagement.

Sara is the daughter of Marlin and Jan Penner, Wichita, and Brandon is the son of Dan and Cindy Schwartz, Overland Park,

They are planning an August 24 wedding

Pelton - Sommers

Shanna Pelton, K-State graduate, and Benjamin Sommers, senior in mechanical engineering, announce their engagement.

Shanna is the daughter of Lynn and Sue Pelton, Burdett, Kan., and Benjamin is the son of John and Jane Sommers, McPherson

They are planning a May 25 wedding in

Piper - Schoshke

Bobbie Piper, senior in sociology, and Heath Schoshke, senior in pre-med, wish to announce their engagement

Bobbie is the daughter of Don and Ladonna Piper, of Manhattan, and Heath is the son of Kenny and Lynnette Schoshke, of Brookville, Kan.

They are planning a Dec. 14 wedding in

Powers - Dearinger

Rachel Powers, senior in print journalism, and Steven Dearinger, K-State graduate, announce their engagement.

Rachel is the daughter of Rod and Mary Powers, of Fort Atkinson, Wis., and Steven is the son of John and Ruth Dearinger, of Montezuma, Kan.

They are planning a Sept. 14 wedding in Canyon, Texas.

Proehl - Wulf

Jennifer Proehl, junior in accounting, and Travis Wulf announce their engagement. Jennifer is the daughter of Steven and DeLoris Poehl, of Cimarron, Kan., and Travis is the son of Wayne and Donna Wulf, of Cimarron, Kan.

They are planning a June 1 wedding in

Sapp - Amershek

Jenni Sapp, graduate in family studies, and Austin Amershek, senior in civil engineering, announce their engagen

Jenni is the daughter of Jon and Priscilla Sapp, of Nairobi, Kenya, and Austin is the son of Frank and Vickie Amershek, of

They are planning an Aug. 2 wedding in

Schaefer - Stawderman

Leslie Schaefer, senior in industrial engineering, and Branson Strawderman announce their engagement. Emily is the daughter of Emily and the late Verlyn Schaefer, Wichita, and Branson is the son of Oather and Cheryl Strawderman, of Wichita

They are planning a June 28 wedding in Wichita.

Scoby - Tramp

Kara Scoby, senior in elementary education and consumer sciences and disorders, and Christian Tramp, graduate in biology at the University of Kansas Medical Center, announce their engagement

Kara is the daughter of Leslie and Gary Scoby, of Sabetha, Kan., and Christian is the son of Duane and Kathie Tramp, of Sabetha. They are planning a June 15 wedding in

Seacat - Sloan

Shelly Seacat, junior in elementary education, and David Sloan announce their

Shelly is the daughter of Roger and Kay Seacat, of Dodge City, Kan., and David is the son of Rick and Terry Sloan, of Dodge City. They are planning a July 6 wedding in

Stevens - Ohmes

Emily Stevens, senior in interior architecture, and Martin Ohmes, senior in electrical and nuclear engineering, announce their

Emily is the daughter of Veri and Betty Stevens, Manhattan, and Martin is the son of Frank and Barbara Ohmes, Hutchinson,

They are planning a June 29 wedding in Manhattan.

Tegtmeyer - Allen

Sarah Tegtmeyer, senior in family life and community service, and Andy Allen, senior in milling science, wish to announce their engagement.

Sarah is the daughter of Cleve and Carol Tegtmeyer, of Florissant, Mo., and Andy is the son of Eric and Barbara Allen, of Hutchinson, Kan.

They are planning an Aug. 3 wedding in

Thompson - Hutchinson

Jenny Thompson, sophomore in elementary education, and Andrew Hutchinson, junior in family studies and human services, announce their engagement. Jenny is the daughter of Stephen and Penny Thompson, of Salina, Kan., and Andrew is the son of Marshall and Hazel Hutchinson, of Salina, Kan.

They are planning a July 20 wedding in

Tice - Faust

Mandy Tice, junior in agriculture, and Branden Faust announce their engagement. Mandy is the daughter of Leroy and Mary Alice Tice, of Haysville, Kan, and Branden is the son of Michael and Barbara Faust, of Wichita. They are planning a Dec. 21 wedding in

Trecek - Jackson

Krista Trecek, graduate student in communication sciences and disorders, and Jared Jackson, senior in business education, wish to announce their engagement.

Krista is the daughter of Tom and Deb Trecek, of Cuba, Kan., and Jared is the son of Jesse and Jan Jackson, of Osborne, Kan. They are planning an Aug. 10 wedding in

Woodard - Gosch

Kristi Woodard, senior in finance/management information systems, and Neil Gosch, K-state graduate, announce

Kristi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stump, of Colwich, Kan., and Neil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gosch, of Mulvane,

They are planning a May 25 wedding in

Woydziak - Jahnke

Kristel Woydziak, junior in animal science, and Eric Jahnke, K-State graduate, announce their engagement.

Kristel is the daughter of Patricia and the late Eugene Woydziak, of Junction City, Kan., and Eric is the son of Samuel and Mary Jahnke, of Junction City, Kan. They are planning a July 12 wedding in Elizabeth Wyrill, graduate student in kinesiology, and Chad Fox announce their Elizabeth is the daughter of John and Katherine Wynll, of Kirwin, Kan., and Chad is the son of Janet Fox, of Phoenixville, Penn., and Barton Fox, of Boyertown, Penn. They are planning a June 1 wedding in Woodston, Kan.

Wyrill - Fox

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE? advertise in the KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Once in a Lifetime

COMPLETE MUSIC

In the past decade, 8135 customers have trusted Complete Music to entertain their guests, why not discover for yourself...

"It's the DJ that Makes the Difference!" TM

Locally serving all of Kansas! 800-755-3535

Check us out on-line at www.cmusic.com Visit our Kansas Regional Office at 8501 E. Hwy 24, Manhattan

4.8 4.8 4.8 4.8 4.8 4.8 4.8 4.8 4.8

We cater to all your wedding needs.

Wedding Invitations 30% Off

Order graduation party supplies now.

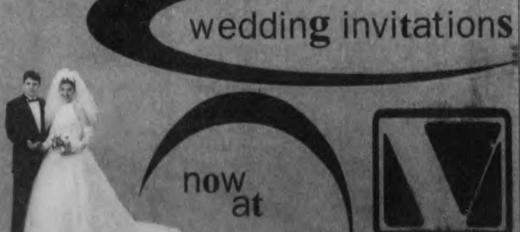

776-7547 • 318 Poyntz • Manhattan M-TH 9:30-8 p.m. • F-SAT 9:30-6 p.m. SUN noon-5 p.m.

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 41 Church DOWN Like mid-1 Ad August, 43 Conden committe need 17 Pictures often sation 2 Ms 6 Vicious of 44 Off base Thurman 19 Volta 3 Fill-inrock 45 Shrew preceder

9 Cistern the-blanks 21 Mound 47 Dessert 12 Muscat stat wine party 49 Carries 22 - Alamos native game 13 Spoon-24 In the env 4 "Bus 52 - out a Stop' 26 Sag bender living Geller play-53 Gymnast's 14 Berlin's Valdez "What'll 5 Muralist for one

54 Secondary Rivera 30 Has per-15 What course of 6 Period of mission 32 Evita moochers study develop-55 Checkers do ment portraye 16 Wisconsin 7 "Dies -33 "Hail. player. Caesar city maybe 8 Accom 18 Pea, e.g. 56 Chart 34 inexperiplished 20 Swamp 9 Stop type enced 21 IVY 57 Breaks 36 Narcotic in on suddenly

10 Worship

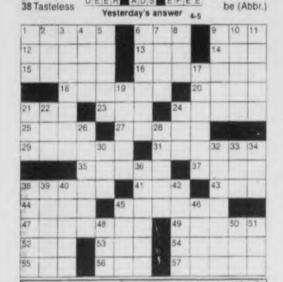

38 Circus

employee

Leaguer

23 Unclose,

in verse 24 Gourmet affected 25 LBJ son 40 Put into in-law cipher 27 Tine 42 Prepares 29 Take for leftovers 45 Faux pas? granted 31 He 46 Profit 48 Rascal cometh 35 Yule ditty 50 Surpass 51 Grads-to 37 Except

CRYPTOQUIP

ZMDJ'N

HJUXMBHJI NTZN TXN LXIR UMHDJLR

JWNMHNHXWR

H ZQCZKR NZQE UMZJEQK.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: 1 ENJOY MAKING
POTTERY, BUT IT ISN'T A BIG PART OF MY LIFE IT'S JUST KILN TIME

Today's Cryptoquip Clue: U equals F

CRYPTOQUIP BOOK 1! Send $4.50 (check/m.o.) to CryptoClassics Book 1, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475 another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error © 2002 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Quote of the day

"If the secret of being a bore is to tell all, the secret of pleasing is to say just enough to be-not understood, but divined."

Remy De Gourmont

"Death to Smoothy" 4:20, 7:20

4:10, 7:10, 9:50

"Sorority Boys"

"The Rookie

"High Crimes

4:10, 7:15, 9:55

"Clockstoppers

4:25, 7:30, 9:45

4:00, 7:05, 9:50

MOVIE TIMES

SETH CHILDS CINEMAS

"National Lampoon's Van 4:30, 9:15, 9:35

4:30, 7:25, 9:50 "Ice Age" 5:00, 7:00, 9:00

"Panic Room 4:05, 7:10, 9:40

4:00, 7:00, 10:00 1:20, 4:00, 7:00,

All times p.m. Movies at Seth Childs Cinemas are $4.50 for matmees and $7 for evening shows.

Art of movement

Amy Hurrelbrink, sophomore in theater, dances in "a fall to climb" during SpringDance.

Students produce, choreograph SpringDance

For the 15th consecutive year, SpringDance is being produced and choreographed by K-State students. Students, both majors and non-majors in dance, have been working since the end of January to prepare SpringDance '02. Joyce Yagerline, production coordinator and professor of dance, said students who are dance majors can receive academic credit for participating in the dance. Still, most just participate for fun. "The dancers really enjoy working to produce SpringDance, whether they are dance majors or not,"

Yagerline said. "This is something they have an interest in.

In January, 25 dancers auditioned for the show's eight different dances. The show is broken into two halves with four dances before and after intermission. Not all dancers participate in every dance, but some are in more than one dance and even in both

There are several types of music and dance steps. including classical, pop. jazz, rock and 20th century.

styles, Yagerline said. "I see the program as a buffet offering a variety of foods to both the audience members and dancers," Yagerline said. "They both can experience different styles that broaden their dance knowledge.

To coordinate with the different dance techniques and music styles, different costumes are worn. For one dance, street clothes are worn, and a more traditional costume is worn for the ballet dance.

David Ollington, professor of dance, said students are in charge of lighting, dancing and editing the dance. Ollington said he enjoyed doing the choreography for one of the dances. "I am looking forward to presenting my work to the audience through the talents of the dancers," Ollington said. Hayley Cherveny, dancer for SpringDance '02 and sophomore in dance, said she heard about the chance to audition through her major. "This is my first year doing SpringDance, but I did WinterDance this past winter," Cherveny said. "The dance is a lot of work, but it is definitely worth it since it is a great opportunity to perform around the audience and other dancers.

Preparing for the dance is time consuming and hard work because of the extensive amounts of rehearsal time, Cherveny said With all of the rehearsals we have done this week, I expect the dance to have a really good turn

Janusz Jaworski, K-State alumnus with a degree in theater, said the program at K-State was helpful and beneficial for his career in New York City.

"In NYC, I dance, design lighting for dance, perform in other's works as well as my own, and occasionally stage manage productions, Jaworski said. "The basics of all these things, I learned

Jenny Braniff/Collegia

Sladana Tepavcevic, graduate student in apparel and textiles, and Lindsey Seidel, freshman in kinesiology dance in "Vocalise" during rehearsal for SpringDance.

The production of SpringDance allows K-State students the opportunity to experience education outside of the classroom, Yagerline said.

"This production is all about the students," she

14 entrants to compete in Blu Apollo talent show

BY JJ DUNCAN

Raman State Colle

Local talent will be the feature of the fourth annual Blu Apollo talent show Saturday in the K-State Student

Blu Apollo, sponsored by Phi Beta Sigma fraternity, will feature 14 entrants with a variety of different talents, JJ Neal, junior in criminology.

"I enjoy seeing the different kinds of talent because it's something you don't normally see," he said. "With people being so busy with school and work, a lot of times they don't realize there is so much talent in the area."

Talent from all over Kansas will be featured in the show with prizes for first, second and third place winners. Neal said. First place will receive $600 a trophy and 10 hours of free studio time. Second place will receive $200 and a trophy, while third will only receive a trophy.

SpringDance

SpringDance will be at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in McCain Auditorium, Tickets are $6 for students, $10 for the general public, and are available at McCain Box

Office, 532-6428

Neal said he hopes the winner puts the prize to good use.

"Hopefully, it will help some local talent to pursue their career if they win the show, and it's also good publicity," he said.

For three years, Blu Apollo executive producer, Maurice Parks has been involved in the event, and he has enjoyed watching it grow, he said. The talent show is getting bigger each year. Parks, senior in marketing, said.

Blu Apollo show

The Blu Apollo talent show will be at 7 p.m. Saturday in Forum Hall in the K-State Student Union. Admission is $7 for the show and $3 for the party afterwards with a ticket stub, in the Union Ballroom.

"It's only getting better," he said. "This is only the fourth year, and it's grown by leaps and bounds. Eventually I'd like to see it get big enough to put it in McCain.

Money also is being donated to charities through the project. Parks, Phi Beta Sigma vice president, said. Among others, the American Cancer Society, the March of Dimes and the Regional AIDS Project will all benefit from the proceeds. Parks said.

Blu Apollo is a chance for people to see Phi Beta Sigma doing something positive, Neal said.

"It's a positive thing for us because a lot of people have a negative perception of black fraternities, and they think we don't give back," he said. "This is a chance we have to feature some local talent and also help out charity organizations.

Blu Apollo might surprise some people with the quality of the acts, Neal. said.

"Sometimes people assume that there's no real talent in Kansas, but people will be surprised at the amount of talent we have around here," he said.

misdirection

110 For Rent-

815 RATONE, 617 Keamey 820 Colorado. One-bed-($400), two-bedrooms ($500). Lighted offstreet parking. Shared utilities. No pets. August lease. (785)776-8548.

AGGIEVILLE / CAMPUS! Studio, one-, two-, three-and four-bedroom apart-ments, Great selection and prices (785)341-6091

CLOSE TO Campus, two-bedroom unit Models open daily. Call for an appoint-

FOUR-BEDROOM NEXT to (785)556-6899 or (785)776-

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM rtment. Next to campus. Claffin. Water trash paid. June or August lease. $405/ month. No pets. (785)456-2812.

LARGE TWO and threebedroom apartments at 1215 Poyntz for August 1. Water and trash paid. No pets. Starting at $500. 313-

LARGE, VERY nice twobedroom apartment in own occupied duplex. Moro Street Washer/ dryer, no pets, seventy-five percent utilities paid. June 1 onth. Robert at (785)539-0299. NEAR CAMPUS One-bed paint and carpet. Dishwash er, central-air, balcony, af-fordable, No Pets. June lease. Call (785)539-0549. FOUR-BEDROOM NEW. Duplex, large bedrooms, two baths, walk in closets. washer/ dryer, close to campus. Call (785)341-8539 or (785)341-4114. NEXT TO campus one. apartments. Central air, arking, free washer/ dryer Available August.

(785)537-7050. THREE-BEDROOM ouse. Available August 1 Central air, washer/ dryer ONE, TWO and THREE-BEDROOM Close to campus. June and August leases. No Pets Call (785)539-1975 or (785)776-

ONE-BEDROOM APART-No pets. Call

(816)847-7195 ONE-BEDROOM central air and washer/ drye hookups. Aggleville loca $350. no pets. (785)313-

4812 ROOMMATES NEEDED for a five-bedroom town house. Washer/ dryer included, very nice. Call (785)539-8834 or (785)336-7756 after 5:30. SPACIOUS TWO and three bedroom, close to campus. Central air, laundry facilities. water, and trash paid. June and August. (785)539-0866. SUBLEASE

TWO-BEDROOM, FULL BATH, large living roo kitchen, dishwasher. Across campus. Available after finals. (785)565-9175. TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT apartment. Really close to KSU. June 1. No (785)556-6899

For Rent-Unturnished

BATH, two blocks from campus. Newly remodeled, central air/ heat. August lease. 1834 Fairchild. (785)776-4166.

TWO AND three-bedroom $490 and $570: 1729 Laraheat, water, trash paid; year ease; deposit and refe ces required: (785)539-

TWO AND three-bedrooms, one and one-half bath, central air, laundry cility near campus. (785)537-1746. TWO-BEDROOM. AVAILA BLE August 1. Very nice. Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. Walk to campus. (785)539-9582.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAILA-BLE June 1, Very nice. Walking distance to campus. (785)539-9582

Rooms Available

ROOMS FOR rent: TWO AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Rent $225/ month plus one-third electric and cable. Call Kimberly at (785)539e-mail klb4949@ksu.edu

120 = For Rent-Houses

1013 OSAGE, three-plus bedroom, one bathroom, $885/ month. (785)539-

3206 1909 AND 1733 Kenmar, all appliances. Three, four-bed-Two Available

June (785)539-1177. 813 VATTIER nice five bedroom two bath house Central heat and air, washer/ dryer. Three blocks to campus Non-smoking No pets. (785)587-8316. A SIX- seven-bedroom three bath house one block to campus, Aggieville, and City Park. Central Air, washer and dryer. (785)317-7713 AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fourbathrooms, near campus. Very nice house. (913)963-

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. One bedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace, washer/ dryer. Located 426 N. 17th. $430/ month. (785)

539-3672. AVAII ARLE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE three blocks west of campus at 1501 Harry Rd. Central air, washer/ dryer, tenced yard. $275/ person.

(785)539-3672. AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Three bedroom house three blocks west of campus at 1404 Hartford Central air, wash er/ dryer, fenced yard. $285 per person. 539-3672. AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Two three-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer/ dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at (785) 539-3672 AVAILABLE JUNE 1. bedroom duplex, two floors at 1007 Houston, $610/ month. (785)539-3672.

For Rent-

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE MOBILE HOME FOR RENT near campus. Two bath, airconditioning, parking, washer/ dryer hook-up. Call (785)273-2628.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE one block from KSU Stadi-um/ Bramlage. Central air/ heat, huge backyard, wash-June Lease. (785)776-4166.

REMODELED homes. four-bedroom. Two car ga rage, one-half block east of campus, washer/ dryer year lease starting August 1. No pets. $800/ month. (785)213-2468 or (785)235-

NEXT TO CAMPUS: Nice four-bedroom, conditioned, newly carpeted house. Twelve-month lease with security deposit. $800/ month. Availability negotia-ble. Sorry no dogs or cats.

(785)776-0301 (785)537-8186 if interested. NICE THREE- FOUR-BED-ROOM, two bath house with basement. Washer/ dryer hook-ups, off-street parking. Pierre. Call Doug

(785)537-1978 NICE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE, Walking distance to campus. 1516 Campus Rd. Washer/ dryer hookups, one year lease. $900/ month plus utilities Available June 1. Call (785)539-

7031. ONE BLOCK to campus. Five and six-bedroom house. Hardwood floors, three bathrooms, fireplace central-air, dishwasher, Au-No Pets. (785)539-0549

SMALL HOUSE. Appliances furnished June lease. No utilities paid. Big backyard. Call (785)539-1975 or 785)313-8296.

THREE-BEDROOM BRICK house for August 1. Washer/ dryer and lawn care furnished 2409 Hobbs $855. No pets. 313-4812.

THREE-BEDROOM CLOSE washer/ dryer (785)537-9425 or

(785)532-4424 THREE-BEDROOM. TWO bath, spacious. Central air, plus bedrooms. Three full garage, fenced backyard bathrooms, near campus. June 1 $1000. (785)537-9425. (785)532-4424

> For Sale-Houses

FIVE-BEDROOMS, THREE baths. Fenced yard. Full finshed basement Beautiful. $115,000. (785)539-8631 or see http://valbehan.hotho-

mepages.com or stop by 1925 Morning Glory

Advertise your services in the 1715 Poyntz $700/ month.

Automotive Repair section of the Classifieds.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie 532-6555

Lost and Found

seen April 1st Manhattan

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

SUMMER LEASE- University Commons. Female room-mate needed fully furnished-okay. Available now, May or private bathroom laundry facilities in apartment. contact Morgen Clubhouse

"Stay In Class At The Commons®

Now Leasing for

2002-2003!

•Fully Furnished

*2 & 4 Bedroom

·Alarm System

*Swimming Pool

·Washer/Dryer

·Computer Lab

*Fitness Center

·Permit Parking

*Individual Leases

Office Hours: M-F 9-6.

Sat. 10-4

539-0500

JNIVERSITY

*COMMONS*

APARTMENTS

2215 COLLEGE AVE

1219 KEARNEY. One-bedroom No pets. June year lease Water and trash paid. $340/ month. Across from campus

1219 KEARNEY. Two-bedroom. No pets. Year lease

water, trash, June 1,

(785)776-0683

(785)537-6017

and one-bedroo

June Lease

Sandstone

August Lease

• 519 Osage •

1114 Fremont

Sandstone .

Fireplaces

Pool

Private Deck

aundry Facilities

Large 2-bedroom Units

Call Today!

Going Fastl

eldays • 830 am -5 p.n

Call (785)539

For Rent-

Unfurnished

(785)539-5136.

campus

1628

Apt.

Tennis/Volleyball Courts

2002 manufactured home, sixteen-feet wide, two and three-bedroom homes as able, one double-wide home. Homes all come with central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available

Call (785)776-4274 to view

beautiful, spacious

For Rent-

Mobile Homes

2002 manufactured home three-bedroom homes availdouble-wide home. Homes all come with dishwasher and garbage disposal. They are available for immediate occupancy Call (785)776-4274 to vid

these beautiful, spacious

135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

2000 SCHULTZ Sensation. 16'x 80' three-bedroom, two bath. All appliance upgrades. $28,000 available Located in nice park. (785)770-8792.

TWO-BEDROOM 14X70, All appliances in Countryside Estates. Take best offer. (316)529-7108

Roommate Wanted

to sign lease from June to December. Call (785)770-8655

WANTED: FEMALE room mate to share three-bedmonth includes utilities, use of washer/ dryer, no smok-ing, no pets. (785)776-1397 call anytime.

Sublease

SUBLEASER NEEDED for one bedroom in two-bed-room apartment at University Commons. Furnished, own bathroom. Rent negotiable, available immediately. Call Renee (785)770-

8016. SUMMER SUBLEASE very nice next to campus. Call (785)539-3060 ask for SUMMER SUBLEASE, Spacious one-bedroom availa-ble mid-May , close to campus. May rent paid, call (785)537-1786. SUMMER SUBLEASER needed. Three-bedroom use available May 20 through June 30. May rent ree washer/ dryer (785)565-0471 SUMMER SUBLEASERS needed. Completely furnish 1907 FEMALES WANTED: $235 a month for June/ July. Call (785)323-1103.

dry facilities. Very nice 75/ month: Call (785)537-ed two-bedroom apart-ment Dishwasher, full launshare four-bedroom, two or Rent-Unfurnished

NICE TWO-BEDROOM. June. (785)313-1957. NOW LEASING. One-bed- 539-3672.

room apartment in quiet six plex at 1811 Platt. Available June 1. Unfurnished, central air, parking, water and trash paid. No pets. $370 per month. Call KSU Foundation (785)532-7569 (785)532-7541.

ONE, TWO, Three-bedroom apartments available June and August. Check web site for showings. (785)539-4357.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-Available June 1- July 31 Water/ trash paid. Central air, laundry facility near by (785)539-6308.

ONE-BEDROOM, close to campus. Water and trash paid $390/ month. Call (785)537-7810

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE to campus. All bills paid. Washer/ dryer included

(785)341-4496. BLE June 1 $300- $330 No. One-year

QUIET COUNTRY Living Two-bedroom apartment. Excellent condition $500/ month, utilities included. Washer/ dryer hook-ups. No smoking/ pets. (785)776-6903.

(785)587-0399

SIX-BEDROOM. TWO bathrooms, two living rooms, two kitchens, and washer/ dryer Free for August, duplex twonice condition.

SPACIOUS TWO-BED ROOM, dishwasher street parking, laundry facili-ties, no pets, $450/ month Water and trash paid $620/ month. Across street from (785)539-2010 or (785)458-

6059 THREE AND Four-bedrooms close to campus. Wa-FAIRVIEW. Open ter and trash paid. (785)537 house, Sunday, April 7, 4-5pm. Quiet, studio near 7810 mpus, $385 including gas, THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENT With: two oking, pets. (785)537bathrooms, washer/ dryer refrigerator/ stove. Your own parking. Close to campus 911 SUNSET, four-bedonly two houses away! Available 1112 Bluemont, one-bedthrough July 31! Rent $280/ (785)776-9288 or person. Call (785)243-0660. THREE-BEDROOM. AVAILABLE NOW, summer pets or smokers. 1021 Freand fall very nice one, two, mont, three, four, five, six-bed-room apartments. Close to 4805. mont. $780.00 plus uti August lease (785)776-with great prices. THREE-BEDROOM TWO 709 Bluemont Available er/ Dryer/ Airconditioning off-street parking. (785)539-4949 TWO AND four-bedrooms rear. One-bedrooms start at

$490 per month. Call Chase Apartments Manhattan (785)776-3663 (24-Hours). One-half mile from KSU at the comer of College and TWO-BEDROOM /BASE

Claffin, Manhattan. MENT) near Aggieville available June 1st, laundr provided, $480/ month plus pas and electricity, 1126 remont. (785)532-7541

(evenings)

er, $545/ month. (785)341 Now Leasing

3 BR From $744

4 BR From $892

1151

ONE-

Pets okay, short-term leases. Call Century 21 short-term Knight, (785)565-0138. APARTMENTS!!

For Rent-

bedroom duplex, second floor, central air, fireplace, washer/ dryer, Located 426 17th. $430/ month. (785)

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Twothree-bedroom duplex, two floors, washer/ dryer, central air, fenced yard. Located at 1715 Poyntz. $700/ month (785) 539-3672.

FOUR AND five+ bedroom houses available for June and August. Check web site at rent-apm.com then call showings. (785)539-4357 FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE on Hillcrest. Five blocks west of Kansas. Washer dryer. July 1 lease. (785)939-4548 or month. (785)364-0534.

FOUR-BEDROOM. ONE bath house at 900 Vattier Available June 1. $900/ month. Washer/ dryer/ cenfenced yard (785)539-4949.

FOUR-BEDROOM. TWO Close to campus Washer/ dryer Furnished Call John at (785)539-2356. LARGE NICE two-bedroom lease. (785)762-7191.

FOUR-BEDROOM NICE home on quiet street. No smoking. June pets or smoking. June 1 lease $240/ each plus utilit-

ONE OR two-bedroom at 928 Leavenworth. wood floors, no pets/ smok-ing/ waterbeds. June 1. Call nings (785)539-0590 ONE-BEDROOM (LARGE) near Aggieville, available August 1st, laundry provided, $350/ month plus gas and electricity, 1124 Fre-mont. (785)532-7541 (daytime), (785)776-9922 (eve-

ONE-BEDROOM DUPLEX close to campus. Quiet neighborhood, no pets (785)539-1711 or (785)341

THREE-BEDROOM DU-PLEX available May One and one-half bath, washer and dryer, trash, and mowing paid. $735 a month (785)341-5287 THREE-BEDROOM WASHER/ dryer hook-up no pets or smokers. 1523 Pierre. $840 plus utilities. (785)776-August lease.

130 . For Rent-

Mobile Homes COUNTRY SETTING and small lot for horses. Three bedroom, stationary mobile home with sun-room and a few outbuildings. Small lot can board up to three horses. Washer and dryer in cluded. Rural water household, well water for outdoor watering, small covered shed for one vehicle, Manhattan phones and address, located seven miles from campus and one mile from Highway 24. $700 a month plus deposits. Twelve-month contract required. Call (785)537-8070.

Mobile Homes (daytime). (785)776-9922 14X70 1993 Skyline Sabre three-bedroom and two bath, newer carpet, shower TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE and tub installation, new deck, newer washer/ dryer

$13600. Call (785)484-

For Sale-

1994 SKYLINE two-bedroom, one bath. Coloni Gardens #203. On Gardens $12,500 call (785)313-1957 1994 SKYLINE, two and one-half bedroom, two bath-room, very well maintained with many new features in-cluding siding. Lot 544 in fenced yard, large tree. Nice area, ten minutes from K-State, pets allowed Deck, shed, lot rent $135. Only $12,000. Call (785)494 8233 or (785)528-8109. 82 REDMAN 14x 70 three bedroom, two bath. Central heat and air. Must see. Priced to sell. (785)770-

Colonial Gardens $16,500

or best offer. Call (785)776-

TWO-BEDROOM

3928.

1994

3008.

Roommate Wanted $235 ALL bills paid. Washer, dryer, dishwasher, cable, parking, big closet. Small pet maybe. Lease and de-FOUR-BEDROOM rentals $350/ month and up. posit negotiable Talk to Chet or Angie (785)587-8747 after 4pm or leave AVAILABLE AUGUST roommate wanted for four bedroom house at 1410

Houston, $285/ month plus internet, private bath, private

Jinny at (785)565-0066. AVAILABLE JUNE 1. Fe male roommates wanted. Great house, washer/ dryer, new appliances, $250/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call Lisa at (785)537-needed for one of three-bedroom house. $220/ month plus utilities. Close to campus, quiet neighbor-hood No smoking. Please call Jennifer or Annie at (785)539-2547

ROOMMATE

ROOMMATE

wanted for 2002- 2003 school year. $198/ month plus one-fifth utilities. Call Tracy or Carrie (785)776-1627 FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted for a four-bedroom duplex. Brand new and reasonable. Please call Angela at 395-7606 extension 44. ROOMMATE FEMALE wanted starting in summer Nice three-bedroom duplex. Close to campus. Washer/ Two full bathrooms. Call 770-3309. FEMALE ROOMMATE

WANTED. A very nice twobedroom/ two bath apart-ment located right across street from campus. $350/ month plus one-half utilities. Lease starts August FEMALE BOOMMATE wanted. Beginning June 1, 2002. Two-bedroom, two baths, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, pool, workout facili-ties. (785)313-1195. FEMALE ROOMMATE Summer and/ or next year

Very close to campus, cen tral air. Rent $175 plus one utilities FEMALE ROOMMATES wanted for a three-bedroom home on Keamey, lease June, washer/ dryer availaies. Call Rachel anytime at (785)565-3359. MALE ROOMMATE, ON room available. June lease private bath. $160/ month one-half utilities, no smok

ble. $250/ month and utilit-

ing/ pets. Call David at (785)539-8955. ROOMMATE NEEDED to lease one-bedroom in Redbud Estates. $185/ month plus bills. Call Nicole

(785)313-8421 or (785)537-ROOMMATE WANTED for four-bedroom/ two bathroom house. Washer/ dryer. $200/ month plus one-fourth utilit

es. Call (785)776-0736, ask for Kevin or Chris ROOMMATE WANTED to two-bedroom apartme blocks from campus, off street parking, living/ dining furnished. Rent $280, water, paid. Call Alison (785)776-8529 ROOMMATE WANTED to vised to approach any

Rocky Ford, own bathroon small dog or cat allowed. $275/ month, no lease, 539

ROOMMATES NEEDED for fall. Very nice four-bedroom house. Washer/ dryer. $250/

AVAILABLE AFTER finals Female subleaser needed for summer. Live across the street from Durland hall. Call

Beth at (785)776-0994

room apartment,

DESPERATELY SEEKING

large

150 ■

rooms, walk-in closets, swimming pool! Rent nego-FEMALE SUBLEASE Nice four-bedroom apartment, new washer/ dryer. $180/ nonth. Close to campus Late May to early August. (785)776-9746 NEED FEMALE summer subleaser for one bedroom in a four-bedroom apartment. $180/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Walking (800)293-3985 ext. 623 distance from (785)776-9746. Ask for Mrs. ONE REDROOM in fourbedroom furnished apartment at University Com-mons. One-third May free.

SUBLEASE FOR a great deal summer 2002. University Commons. One or two-bedrooms. Contact Kristy (785)776-5492 SUBLEASERS NEEDED After finals July 31 close walk to campus. $200/

June-July $200/ month Call

(785)776-8315.

Call Tracy (785)776-1627 SUBLEASERS WANTED for one- four-bedrooms in new duplex. Garage. nished. Middle May to August 1. Water/ trash paid.

Rent negotiable. (785) 587-

9455

month plus one-third utilit-

SUBLEASES NEEDED for large two-bedroom in du-Washer/ dryer hookups. One block from campus. Large enough for four people. Available June and July. Call (785)587-9325.

SUMMER SUBLEASE for one-bedroom of a two-bedapartment located 1115 N. 12th #5. Call Jen at (785)537-4587. SUMMER SUBLEASE, super cheap. May 20- August 1. Rent negotiable, all utilities included. (785)776-1420. picked up in Kedzie 103.

Sublease

Two-bedrooms one and one-half bath, one-half block to Aggieville, one and one-half blocks to campus. Call (785)323-1151. SUMMER SUBLEASER Female needed to share

FULLY furnished, washer dryer. Utilities paid including cable. (785)565-0972 SUMMER SUBLEASERS room apartment near cam

ter and trash paid. Call (785)587-9073.

Storage Space

Self-storage: Multiple units 5x 10 through 10 x30's. Out door and indoor RV and boat storage. Buy three months and receive a twen

(785)539-0266 director

220 Weight Loss & / Nutrition

loss Increased Energy-Immediate Results I can teach you the secret! Local Distributor (785)776-1936

Other

Services

WILL DO typing/ spread-sheets (785)-632-6389 or cparonto@kansas.net

employment/ opportunities

Help Wanted The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are ad-tunity with caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jeffers Topeka, KS 66607-1190 month. Split utilities. Call Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race

sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of

Hall, (785)587-2441

$1500 WEEKLY potential mailing our circulars. For in-formation call (203)977-$250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided (866)291-1884

$250/ DAY potential/ bar tending. Training provided (800)293-3985 ext. 548. $250/ NIGHT potential/ bar

ACCOUNTING ASSIS TANT. DPRA Incorporated. an environmental research and consulting firm has a full-time (32-40 hours/ week) position available for an Ac-counting Assistant. This en-try-level position requires two years college training in accounting or applicable ex-perience. Duties will primanly include preparation of ac-counts payable. Microsoft Office Suite skills desired Send letter and resume to Director of Human Resour-ces, Department A, DPRA Incorporated, P.O. Box 727, Manhattan, KS 66505 or fax (785)539-5353, email man hattanjobs@dpra.com DPRA incorporated Equal Opportunity Employer, Minorities, Females, Disabled,

ACCOUNTING POSITION No experience necessary Flexible hours. Wage based on experience. Dean Liquor 12th and Laramie AD SALES/ Public Rela tions/ Marketing Internship Unique national publisher offering well-paid, flexible and rewarding local pos for spring/ summer. E-mail ucal@bendnet.com APPLY NOW to work on the summer Collegian. Report ers, copy editors, designers and photographers are all needed. Applications are and can be

Veterans

bulletin

"LEARN TO FLY!" K-State Flying Club has five air planes, lowest rates. For in-formation, call (785)456-2795. www.ksu.edu/ksfc. ACADEMY OF BARTEND-

ING. Have fun, make m

or weekend classes availa

tance, $199 with student ID.

www.bartendingcollege.com

university

(800)BARTEND.

Announcements

Announcements

ATTORNEY AT LAW LOST CAT: Orange tabby Charles W. (Chuck) Harper manx (no tail). Neutered 25 years experience. 400 male, 13 years old. Last (785)539-8100. chuckharper@msn.com SPOUSEQUEST.COM RE-LATIONSHIPS just got eas-

Lost and Found ey, meet people. Eam $15- Lost and found ads can be

020 1

Day, evening placed free for three days.

Semester Leases

(785)532-6555.

Personals BIBLE FOUND. Come to

ture ID (KSU, driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

Leasing Now 4 BR Apartments Call or Come by Our Office! For full details on our 4BR, 2 Bath apartments for a Semester Lease -

8968

030

COMMONS 2215 COLLEGE AVE 539-0500

· tennis, volleyball & basketball courts · · individual leases * exercies room · · electronic alarm system · Office Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-4

Individual Leases for Each Bedroom until December 31st! · fully furnished · swimming pool · · washer/dryer - next to KSU stadium -

(785)776-5634 For Rent-RED UNIVERSITY of Ne-Apts. Furnished braska Rodeo Association Reward offered if found, 925 nison Apt. 9. (785)587-

4814 assures every perhousing without distincsex, familial status, milita ry status, disability, reli-

housing real estate

Manhattan City Ordinance son equal opportunity in gion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Viola-

K-Rental Mgmt. Now Leasing

Bills Included 1 BR from $395 2 BR from $500 3 BR from $600

4 BR from $720

539-8401 LARGE TWO-BEDROOM apartments. One and a half baths. Water and trash paid tions should be reported $450 rent, $450 deposit to the Director of Human Available now Call Resources at City Hall, (785)776-7362, leave mes-

3 & 4 Bedroom Available for June, July, August Brittnay Ridge Townhomes - starting at $950 Check out 1620 McCain - starting at $950 1700 N. Manhattan – starting at $810 www.mdi-manhattan.com

822 Fremont - starting at $700 | 1611 Laramie – starting at $750 McCullough Development Houses & Duplexes - starting at $1000-$1200

776-3804

ALEXANDER

Continued from page 1

In a previous statement, Etienne testified that he thought Alexander was calling to "get extra muscle to fight the guys in Aggieville."

 The group returned to Aggieville again, but this time, Alexander took a steak knife from the apartment.

Alexander and Lindsey ran into each other again, and the verbal exchange escalated into a physical altercation.

Statements said Lindsey pushed Alexander into a light pole. Etienne testified that Alexander panicked and stabbed Lindsey in the abdomen.

The men returned to the apartment. Alexander was pacing back and forth, breathing hard and shaking.

He told everyone what had happened, and one of the men went back to check on Lindsey, who was dying. When Alexander learned that Lindsey was dead, Etienne said he lost control.

"He fell on the floor and started bawling uncontrollably, shaking more than he had been before," he said.

Alexander then decided to go to his grandparents and try to sleep, but the police showed up early in the morning.

Police found the steak knife that is believed to be the murder weapon near the dish drainer the next day. Police also collected a sponge that was used to clean off the knife.

Detective Ryan Runyan also was called to testify and admitted that the gun Lindsey was carrying at the time of the fight was, in fact, not admitted as evidence by a RCPD sergeant. Runyan said Alexander was charged at 1:40 p.m. July 2, while the gun was not admitted as evidence until 4:05 p.m. Runyan admitted this to be concealing evidence and an illegal action.

Runyan also testified he found out only one hour before Alexander was charged that Lindsey and his friends. Ryan Good and Tim Brown, had been involved in a plot to "go to Aggieville to find gangbanger-types to beat up."

Runyarr agreed that Lindsey was the aggressor and that his conduct was unlawful.

"It would have been a felony if he would have hit Skylor. he said. At 4:15 p.m., the jury was dismissed. Defense Attorney Pedro Irigonegaray moved for an order of acquittal on the grounds that Alexander acted in self-defense.

"Whatever was going on in Skylor's mind at the time Lindsey intercepted ceased to exist," Irigonegaray said.

"Mr. Lindsey chose to become the aggressor. What killed Lindsey was not anger. What killed Lindsey was fear."

Prosecutors argued that Alexander was headed for friend with a knife in his pocket to get even and have a "good old fashioned fist-fight."

Lindsey's mother left the courtroom in tears when Irigonegaray insisted that he "deserved to die."

"Where is the justice in this office," he said. "(Lindsey) was no choir boy.

"This was a bad hombre. He failed to realize the fear he put in the heart and mind of a 17-year-old boy. And he suffered the consequences."

Despite the defense's arguments, the judge denied the motion of acquittal. The trial will continue at 9:30 a.m. today and might last through the weekend.

BIOTERRORISM

Continued from page 1

community who were in Washington, D.C., at the time when anthrax was released.

We also have people in the community that thought they were contaminated, but we have not isolated any anthrax in Kansas yet, other than the Kansas City post office.'

Health department officials have not taken any specific action because they are waiting for the funding to be awarded, which is expected by July 1.

The first part of the money is to develop the plan, so it has not been finalized yet, but we are in the initial stages," Murphy said.

Mike Heideman, representative of the Kansas Department of Health and Environment, said each county health department will be required to develop a plan of action and a list of needed supplies such as medical equipment or computer software.

"It's up to the individual counties to submit proposals on what they would spend money on," he said. "It could be a wide variety of things."

SOLDIERS

Continued from page 1

soldiers have been trained to be strong and carry on. There are no words that anyone can say to take the pain away from losing a husband, a son, a soldier and a friend, said 1st Lt. Brendan Hupf, platoon leader, Mortar Platoon, 2nd Battalion, 34th Armor.

These three soldiers died doing what they loved doing the most, he said.

Chaplain Daniel Paul said

Claflin Music Charlie Haden The Art of the Song Claflin Books and Copies everyone on base who mourns the loss of the fallen soldiers will go through the process differ-

He said the initial stage is shock, then denial, bargaining, blame, anger, depression and eventually acceptance and hope.

Since everyone goes through those stages differently, some people might get stuck on anger, but he said it is important to go through this process.

"It's natural, and we encourage people to go through that process," Paul said. "At the end, there's hope."

After the closing benediction, three volleys of seven were fired into the skies during a 21-gun salute to honor the fallen soldiers.

Order your yearbook. Today.

Silver Key Sophomore Leadership Honorary Recognizes New Members for 2002/2003

Jack Bauer Carmeline Cessor Coby Cost Becca Davidson Jessica Dillen Erin Elmore

April Eisenhauer Pete Elsasser Cassie Eernzen Stephanie Gredan Erin Grennan

Eleri Griffin Matt Hall Ashley Jensen Jimmy Kummer Mark Kindgren Erin Ludvicek Victoria Luhrs

Emily Meissen Ben Moore Jesse Newton John Nguyen Ken Norton Leah Pence Graham Ripple Ashley Robertson Seth Sanders

Rebakha Schmidtberger Marc Shaffer Kylie Siruta Erin Slattery Kortney Steinhurst Kari Strekheck Rebecca Thrasher Ted Urbanek

Alison Weber

Monday, April 8 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Exhibition Union Courtyard

7:00 p.m.

Tuesday, April 9 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

4:00 p.m. Wednesday, April 10

6:00 p.m. Thursday, April 11

2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Thursday, April 11

6:00 p.m. Friday, April 12 7:00 p.m.

Saturday, April 13 1:00 p.m.

Fajita wraps & Quesadillas Win the Bud Car Saturday Night

99¢ Bud Light Cans

Coronas Monster Tacos

This time we're serious!

$2.25

Week 2002 Sponsored by the International Coordinating Council

International Cultural

Foreign Film 'Ice Rink," A French Comedy Monday, April 8 Forum Hall International Fashion Show

nternational Student Center "Africa's Highest Peaks: A Visual Tour" Wednesday, April 10

International Student Center Panel Discussion 'Living Wih Terrorism' Union Big 12 Room Food Diversity Day

International Student Center Brazilian Capoelra Performance

Union Courtyard International Festival of Talents All Faith's Chapel

International Potluck Picnic Anneberg Park (transportation provided, if needed)

Texts cleaning from $47

SAGER DENTAL ASSOCIATES, P.A.

For more information, see our ad in your Manhattan Southwestern Beil Yellow Pages

Deadlines

Classified ads must be placed by roon the day before you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by

510

Automobiles

1992 SATURN SL1, mulo

matic, four door. New tires and CD player. 122K, good school/ work car $1750 ne gotiable Call (785)587

4x4 Pick-up, power windows and air-conditioning. Rough condition and needs work

1994 PONTIAC Firebird

Red V6, 5 apeed, custom sound system, alarm, neon tinted bra, cover, 134K, $4750, (785)539-0232, pete3140@hotmail.com.

1995 FIREBIRD, nice 90K

$6995, or best offer (785)539-4)51

30K on motor for $4,000 (785)341-3275.

1995 RANGER, air-condi tioning, five-speed, clean Tinted windows $3800 or best offer: 106k, Call

1999 RED Volkswagen

Cabno. Leather, lots of extras, excellent condition.

Please contact Alison at (785)313-4046.

HONDAS FROM $500! Po

(800)719-3001 ext

1995 MUSTANG,

Help Wanted

BIG DAWG Marina Weekend help. Start May 18, end Labor Day. Contact Keith, (785)776-7946. (785)539-

KeithEyestone @ msn.com. BLUEVILLE NURSERY accepting applications for part-time and full-time temporary employees to start immediately Expenence in fawn sprinkler installation. fandscape installation, nursery work an lawn mainte publications, interviewing nance preferred. Must be guests for radio broadcasts available at least 20 hours or TV productions, produc-per week Monday-Friday, in ing stories for various radio full days or full half day programs and working with blocks (8-12 noon) or (1pm-anasoned professionals in-(Spm). Apply in person at ternal and external to the or-Blueville Nursery, Inc., 4539 ganization. There will be Anderson, Equal Opportuni

BUDWEISER WOMEN of Big12 Swimsuit Calendar Photographers. Designers

(785)830-0367 CAMP TAKAJO for Boys. Naples, Maine. Noted for picturesque lakefront location, exceptional facilities. Mid-June thru mid-August. Over 100 counselor posins in tennis, baseball, basketball, lacrosse, golf, flag football, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, water skiing, archery, ceramics, art, camp newspaper, photography, weight training, wood-working, theater, backpacking, rock climbing, ropes-course, secretarial. Salary. foom/ board, travel included. Call 1-800-250-8252 or sub mit application online at

RIDE HORSES IN COLO- (941)329-6434 or RADO! Be part of the west- cruisecareers.co em riding staff at Girl Scout overnight camp southwest of Denver. Must have recent experience riding and teaching basic skills. Competitive salary, room, meals, travel allowance. Late May- early August, 2002. Call August, 2002. (303)778-0109 ext. 281 or

rhondam@gsmhc.org.

Help Wanted

interest in agriculture jour-naism, radio and television production, and who will be at least a junior this fall majoring in a related area. Ascopy for various agriculture in government and business and to network with communications professionals state-wide. Strong writing, editing and inferview skills required. Experience helpful, but we will train if you posses a can-do attitude, professional demeanor, and an espirit de corps. Hours are 10-15 per week; pay is $7.70/ hour and up to three credit hours can be earned Resumes and letter of inter-est should be submitted by April 15th to: Human Resources, c/o Kanas Farm Bureau and Affiliated Servhattan, KS 66503; We are an equal opportunity ployer and encourage diver-on board positions available, great benefits. sonal or year round. Call cruisecareers.com

3 9 5 - 2 7 had8078@ksu.edu.

CRUISE LINE entry level

FEMALES WANTED for KSU girl in wheelchair for Summer 2002. Flexible. $7.00/ hour. Call Holly (785)

LOOKING FOR a Korean in lerpreter who can speak English. Call evenings (620)786-0373. rhondam@gsmhc.org.

Help Wanted

COMMUNICATIONS IN- GREAT SUMMER income TERNSHIP An opportunity Asbestos Abatement Work-exists for a communications ers needed. 40 hours of internship in Kansas Farm free training is required. Bureau for the 2002-2003 Must attend class May 7academic year. We seek May 10, 7:00am- 5:30pm. candidates who possess an $11.40 per hour. Work will start May 18. Contact La-borers' Local 1290, 710 Mo-Manhattan.

(785)537-1567, to sign up. HELP WANTED for custom harvesting. Combine opera-tors and truck drivers guaranleed pay. Good summer wages. Call (970)-483-7490

ry part-time help wanted 30-40 hours per week. Painting, mowing grass, swimming pool maintenance various opportunities to swimming pool maintenance work with influential leaders and other miscellaneous Apply at 3050 Tuttle

HIRING WAITRESSES and Cooks. Day and night shifts apply between 2pm-4pm. Monday- Friday at Bowin-kles 3043 Anderson Ave. JOHNSON COUNTY Summer help wanted General field work growing flowers and vegetables at K-State Research and Extension Research and Extension Center Must have own transportation to field site at 35125 W. 135th St., Olathe. $7/ hour for 40 hour week, May 13 through August 16 (negotiable) Apply in Horti-culture, Forestry and Recre-Office 2021 Throckmorton Hall, by Friday, April 5.

ORADO! Be a CAMP COUNSELOR at Girl Scout overnight camp in the mountains southwest of Denver. General counselors and program specialists (hiking, outdoor skills, crafts, nature, sports, challenge course, dance and drama) June 1-August. MAKE A DIF-FERENCE. Competitive salary, room, meals, health insurance, travel allowance.

Help Wanted

NEED SUMMER Harvest PROGRAMMER Help! Run New Case Combines 2388's and New Auto matic Tandem Grain Trucks License and we will help ob-

PARAEDUCATORS NEED ED for this school year and next. Full time or substituting when your classes allow Please make application to Special Services Cooperative. 510 Highway 24 East. Wamego, Kansas 66547. HELP WANTED. Tempora > sponsible person needed for sion of three boys, ages 10 and 11, from June 1 until mid- August. Sense of hutransportation, good driving record and references required. Pay is $6.00 per

Please leave a message at (785)776-7041 PLAY SPORTS!!! HAVE FUNI! SAVE MONEY!! Top Boys Sports Camp in Beau-tiful Maine Counselors to coach all sports. Tennis, baseball, basketball, waterfront, rock climbing, golf, biking, archery, and more Work outdoors, have a great summer. 888-844-8080 or

LIVE AND WORK IN COLapply www.campcedar.com SUMMER EMPLOYMENT: Laborers needed, approxi-mately May 20 to August 23, salary $8.64/ hour. Duties hand labor such as weeding production fields, moving ir-ngation pipe, and grounds maintenance. United States Department of Agriculture. Natural Resources Conser-vation Service, Plant Materials Center, Manhattan, KS. Call (303)778-0109 ext. 281 Call (785)539-8761 for inter e-mail view, Equal Opportunity Employer

Help Wanted

401(k) and paid vacation

CivicPlus, a leader in provid-ing local government web services, has an opening for a Microsoft ASP programmer in Manhattan Two or more years proven programming experience required. Microsoft ASP and SQL ex-perience preferred. All new Provide room and Call (785)689-4660 Microsoft Certified Solution Developer status within 90 days of employment. Com-petitive salary plus health.

E-mail resume in Microsoft Word or text to: Warnego, Kansas 66547, jobs@civicplus.com 785-456-9195, office hours EOE Monday through Friday 8 to SALES, LOCAL Company s looking for a money-motivated inside salesperson with a proven history of strong sales performance including quota over achieve-hour. Hours are generally 11:30a.m until 4:30 p.m. process mail for $1000s

SUBWAY AT K-state Union Bachelor's degree is renow hiring for days, evenings, and weekends. Partitime, flexible hours. Apply in person.

WANTED: COWBOYS, and protoning assignments. A Bachelor's degree is required and a Master's dequired and a Master's dequired and a Master's degree is preferred. Potential time, flexible hours and protoning assignments. A Bachelor's degree is required in a Master's degree is required and a Master's degree is required in a master of the company of the c www.sombrero.com or write to us at 3300 Airport Road. Boulder, CO 80301.

Help Wanted

dents in the areas of English silions. Applicants must be Composition. Laboratory graduating high school se-Science (Chemistry Physics or Biology) Foreign Language. Computer Explora-structors, including fram-tion and Web-Page Design building, horses, environ-June 10-July 19, 2002. Pre-mental education rifles. ferred Qualifications MS/ trap, archery, canoes, crafts graduate student in related and lifeguards. We also subjects, certified by lifate have several positions in Board of Education 1-3 feoil service, maintenance years teaching experience and custodial department at secondary or university internships are available for level. Submit vita/ resume those who quality. Rock and three references to Springs offers a monthly sall any and room and board of the process o Margarel A. Turner, Associary and room and board ate Director, Upward Bound, Rock Springs is a nationally ment Applicants must have a proven history of phone prospecting and closing skills as well as the ability to work independently. Base plus commission equals plus commission equals nave good written and commail resume in Microsoft communication skills with a Word or text format to background in editing or proofreading. Word process-skills (MSWord, STUFF ENVELOPES and weekly! Just send a self addressed, stamped envelope To: Oneal 601 S. Lasalle St. Ste. 938, Chicago, IL 60605

Cowgiris and couples to guide tourists and horses through the Rocky Mounlargest horse operation in Visit our manhattanjobs@dpra.com. website

DPRA incorporated, a con-tact research and consulting firm in environmental and regulatory issues, has a fulltime position open for a Technical Writer starting iming skills (MSWord, WordPerfect) are a must and desktop publishing skills make money. Camp Cob-are preferred. The selected bossee positions in: All teams applicant can expect to proapplicant can expect to pro-duce high quality on-line ter sports, plus Camp/ fike, documentation of informa rock climbing/ ropes, ice documentation of informa rock climbing/ ropes tion systems in addition to a hockey/ roller hockey. variety of writing, editing, and crafts, photograph, and proofing assignments. A and secretary's Top sala rector of Human Resources Department TW, DPRA In corporated, P.O. Box 727, Manhattan, KS 66505; or fax (785)539-5353, e-mail

DPRA Incorporated Equal

Help Wanted

Program, 1800 Claffin Suite recognized camp and con-1, Kansas State University, forence center serving ap-Manhattan, KS 66506 proximately 27,000 youth (785)532-6497 and adults each year, most during the summer. Hock Springs is located 14 miles south of Junction City, Kan-aas on K-157 Highway. For an application or more info at Rock Springs 4-H Cen-ter, C/O Summer Jobs, 5405 West Highway K-157. Junction City, KS 86441 (785)257-3221, jfart@rock-springs net TOP BOYS CAMP IN MAINE! Play and coach sports/ have fun-make money. Camp Coband individual sports, all waroom/ board/ laundry, travel or call 1-800-473-6104.

ADVERTISE

4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad to run CALL 532 6555

330

Business

Opportunities SUMMER INSTRUCTORS THE ROCK Springs 4-H The Collegian cannot verity the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifi-cation. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau,

> KS 66607-1190. (785)232-0454 open market

501 SE Jefferson, Topeka

Pets and Supplies FOUR MALE Pitt-bull puppies. Three black, white chest. One white/ black in brindle. $200 (785)341-

TWO SIX week old miniature snoszer, very cute, need a loving home. $100 a piece, (785)539-2547. Ask

Electronic Equipment

PLAYSTATION 2 with three games, two remotes $250 travel trips Cost something? You can place an ad FREE for three days!

TRACK

Continued from page 6

shown herself to be a consistent performer on the women's side."

For the K-State men, the team will be anchored by Roberto Carvajal. Named Male Track Athlete of the Week in the Wildcat program, Carvajal earned provisional qualifying status for nationals last week after his performance in the 400meter hurdles. Even though he was nipped at the line last week, the race was still a very important one, Coach Mike Smith said.

"Roberto ran a breakthrough race," he said.

"While not a flawless performance, it is certainly an indication that he can compete at a national level if he can stay consistent.'

While the contingent of Wildcats competes in Texas, the rest of the team will compete Saturday in the Emporia State

The Relays will start Saturday at 10 a.m. with the pole vault, hammer throw, discus and

The pole vault competition will feature a trifecta of K-State pole vaulters. Jim Gruenbacher, Dustin Schmidt and younger brother Dylan Schmidt all took home a share of K-State Men's Field Athlete of the Week award this week for their efforts at UTEP last weekend.

At the UTEP meet, each jumper cleared 16-6.75. The mark was a personal best for all of them and earned them the praise of Coach Rovelto.

"Dustin, Jim and Dylan have been working hard all year, and it showed at the meet this weekend.

They gave us a small peek at what they are capable of achieving. With the Big 12 Conference Championships over seven weeks away, the future looks extremely bright," Rovelto

- K-State Sports Information contributed to this article.

TENNIS

Continued from page 6

match. "It's hard to say how you play better as a team, but everyone can get better by themselves, and that helps the team."

K-State will face Iowa State at noon Saturday at the Washburn Tennis Facility courts in Manhattan. The Cyclones are 1-5 in Big 12 competition this season and have dropped their last three matches to league opponents.

Sunday, the Wildcats will compete against Missouri, a team that is just 1-7 in conference action. The Tigers will take on Kansas on Saturday before facing the Cats at 1

Blue Valley

Memorial UMC

835 Church St. 539 - 8790

Worship: Sat. 5:30 p.m/Sun. 10:30 a.m.

Free food first Sun. of the month.

e-mail: revs2@flinthills.com

Rev. Dr. E. Carolyn Wills

FIRST UNITED

METHODIST CHURCH

012 Payntz . 776-8821

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m.

Church School all ages 9:45 a.m.

Pastors: Jim Reed, Jan Todd,

Ken Wills, & Mitch Todd

fumc@flinthills.com

www.flinthills.com/~fume

Food, Fun, & Fellowship

5:30 Sunday

Bible Study

Monday, 8 p.m.

OR Wednesday, 4 p.m.

1021 Denison Ave.

539-4281 or email at ecm@ksu.edu

ECM Christian

Explorers

p.m. Sunday.

"We need to win these next two matches if we want a shot at nationals," Jecminkova said. "It's going to be tough, but we're playing a lot better."

Coach Steve Bietau said he also is proud of the way the team has competed, despite not getting wins in their first two duels of the home stand. And even though Iowa State and Missouri seem to be teams K-State can defeat easily, he said it will take outstanding play to win both matches.

"We aren't that far from the end of the year," Bietau said. "The one thing that is clear about the conference is that a lot of people are beating a lot of people, so every one of these matches are going to be tough."

ST. MARY MAGDALENE

ORTHODOX CHRISTIAN

MISSION

ECM Bldg. 1021 Denison, 2 South.

539-3440

Services: Divine Liturgy 9:30

AM Saturdays in the ECM Nave

Visit the K-State OCF webpage

at www.ksu.edu/orthodox

Lutheran

Campus

Ministry

at Luther House 1745 Anderson

Sunday Evening Worship

7:00 p.m.

in the Danforth Chapel

www.ksu.edu/lcm-elca

Pastor Jayne Thompson

pastorj@ksu.edu) 539-4451

Open to All

SENATE

Continued from page 1

Senate chair Matt Wolters encouraged new and old senators to continue the dedication they had for their job.

"Always remember to believe in yourself and have that passion," Wolters said. "There are going to be times when things get long. Realize the motions you are voting on and the bills you are taking action on are important."

Once Senate adjourned, the 2002-03 Senate convened with the swearing in of new senators and Student Body President Zac Cook and Vice President Todd Kohman.

Religion Directory

JOIN THE DIRECTORY

Call at 532-6560

Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church Missouri Synod 776-2227

9 a.m. Sunday School & Bible Class

> 10:30 a.m. Divine Worship Service

KSU - DANFORTH CHAPEL christluth.@networksplus.net

Mt. Zion Church of God in Christ

Service Times

Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:30 a.m. Wednesday Bible Study 7:30 p.m. Friday Joy Night 7:30 p.m.

916 Yuma Street Supt. Caleb J. Weathersby, Pastor 785-587-9140

College Bible Study

Varney's Book Store - Upstairs

"Keys for Successful Living"

Led by Joe McGraw Sunday 9:30 a.m.

FIRST LUTHERAN

10th Poyntz 537-8532

Worship Sat. 5:30 p.m., Sun. 8:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

St. Luke's Lutheran Church

330 Sunset Avenue Saturday

Traditional Worship 6:00 p.m. Sunday-

Traditional Worship 8:30 a.m. College Bible Study 9:45 a.m. Contemporary Worship 11:00 a.m. Campus Pastor - Eric Wood Email: campusmn@flinthills.com (785) 539-2604

Manhattan Baptist Church

Independent Services Sunday

10 a.m. Bible Study 11 a.m. Morning Service 6:30 p.m. Evening Service Wednesday

7 p.m. Evening Service 510 Tuttle Street 776-9069

First Bap ist Church Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within city

limits, call the church. Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN CHURCH

College Minister Natalie Holdren College Bible Study & Free Food

Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan

across viaduct, left on K-18 1/2 mile education classes for youth Day care for toddlers The Rev David Grimm. For information call (785) 537-2349 www.flinthills.com/~uufellow

OF MANHATTAN

ccofmanhattan@kscuble.com

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

MASS SCHEDULE Tuesday-Thursday 10:00 p.m. Friday 12:10 p.m. Saturday 5 p.m. Sunday 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. Sun. 4:30 p.m., 6 p.m. Father Keith Weber, Chaplain

711 Denison

539-7496

An American Baptist Congregation

Sunday Worships

Unitarian-

481 Zeandale Road (South on K-177 Program each Sunday at 10:45 a.m. Religiou

CALVARY CHAPEL

Sunday Service - 10:00 a.m. 1961 Strong Ave.

Come Just As You Are Contemporary Worship Very Casual Atmosphere Solid Verse By Verse Bible Teaching

Pastor Dade Ronan

Faith Evangelical Free Church

• Worship at 8:00, 10:30, 12:00

Sunday School at 9:15

College Class at 10:30

1921 Barnes Rd

of Kimball 776-2086

First Presbyterian Church

Sunday Schedule

Worship at 9:15 a.m. Sunday School for all at 9:15 a.m.

Worship 10:30 a.m. Nursery provided all morning www.firstpresmanhattan.com

801 Leavenworth St. • 537-0518

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH

8:15, 9:30, 11:00AM & 6:00PM College and Young Married Couples: Sunday School @ 9:30 & 11:00AM

Youth Ministry Opportunities

College Pastor: David Kinnan

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

Grace Baptist

Church

2901 Dickens - 2 blks. E. of Seth Child ♦ Sunday ♦

Morning Worship 8:15 & 10:45 a.m.

Bible Classes For All Ages 9:30 a.m. Evening Service or Care Cells 6 p.m. 776-0424

You are welcome at . .

First Assembly of God

Weekly Schedule of Services Wednesday

Sunday

Evening Worship 6:00 p.m.

All ministries begin at 7:00 p.m. Sunday School 9:00 a.m. Worship Services 10:00 a.m. Children's Church 10:00 a.m.

Prayer Meeting Youth Group (grades 7-12) Missionettes (Girls Club) Christian Fellowship for College Students (KSU Little Theater)

Nursery Provided for All Services

Rev. Todd Weston, Pastor 2310 Candlewood Dr. Manhattan, KS (785) 537-7633 www.manhattanag.org

Pregnancy TESTING CENTER

Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ime day results I for appointment ocated across from campus in Anderson Vi Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Around the World 3-ON-3 BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

WHEN: Saturday, April 27th 10:00am WHERE: Chester E. Peters Rec Center COST: $20 per team (3 players) ANY QUESTIONS: Aric Brandt 587 8485

Registration forms also available online at:

Registration forms due by APRIL 10th Tournament proceeds go to sponsor Christian Veterinary Student Missions

www.vet.ksu.edu/studentorgs/cvmt/index.htm

Collegian Cas

Available with coupon Must have coupon for special!

776-778

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN ADVERTISING

118 Kedzie • 532-6560

AVAILABLE

Attorney General Chancellor of Student Tribunal

Chair of Student Review Board

Applications can be picked up in the Office of Student Activities and Services, located on the ground floor of the Student Union, and are due Friday, April 12, 2002 by 5 p.m.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Pen House 2002

APRIL 5, 2002

Open house provides opportunity to explore campus, academics

BY SARAH RICE

Konsas State Collegia:

K-State will showcase its best features with activities like ice carving, face painting, live entertainment and food at this year's All-University Open House on Saturday.

The 22nd annual open house will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on both the Manhattan and Salina campuses. Pat Bosco, dean of student life, said open house is an opportunity for a wide variety of people to explore K-State's campuses.

"We want to provide an opportunity for prospective students and their families to see the breadth and scope of the quality of academic programs and a quality of life that is second to none," Bosco said.

Heath Schroeder, senior in finance, serves as the all-university core committee chair and has been working to organize the event. He said a big function of open house is to cater to prospective students.

"It shows a lot of what's expected of them, what student life is like," Schroeder said. "It shows scholastic to social life. I think you have to have both to be successful in Bosco also said current K-State students can have a valuable experience at open house.

"It provides an opportunity for K-State students to experience different majors and help them define where they would like to earn a degree," he said.

Schroeder said open house is especially helpful to open-option majors.

"It allows undecided majors to go out to a college and see what it would be like, more than if you just went to the office," he said.

Bosco said representatives from all academic departments will be available to answer questions.

"All colleges and departments will be on hand to provide information regarding degree requirements," he said. "It's a great opportunity for K-State students to shop around."

Bosco also said open house will be an opportunity for taxpayers to see where their money is going.

Bosco said the atmosphere of open house is what makes the event so effective.

"Open house, which has been a great K-State tradition, gives prospective students a slice of what K-State is all about," he said. "It's a carnival-type atmosphere, with a focus that gives prospective students and their families a chance to learn about our academic programs and our student life."

Seaton's garage door

A reflection of Seaton Hall can be seen in the window of a garage door on the east side of Ahearn Field House.

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Saturday's Open House Events Schedule

Cat Town, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. between Hale Library and Waters Hall. Live music, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Union Plaza. Rock'it bowling, 9 a.m. to 1 a.m., Union Rec Center.

Barbecue, 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Union Plaza Pancake and sausage feed, 7 a.m. to 1 p.m., Seaton142. Cheese and beverage samples, Call Hall.

Doughnuts, fresh bread, cheese puffs, bake sale and flour sale, Shellenberger Hall.

Porkburger lunch, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Mosier Hall.

Agriculture Childrens' pedal tractor pull, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Seaton Hall. Food chemistry and microbiology experiments, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Call Hall. Little American Royal, 1 p.m., Weber Arena.

Architecture, Planning and Design
Advising, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Seaton 113. Computer-aided design demonstrations, Seaton Hall, first floor.

Glass blowing demonstration, 10 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., Union.

Magic shows and electronic design demonstrations, Willard Hall. Physics demonstrations, 12:30 p.m., Cardwell 103.

■ Business Administration

Make your own business card.

Advising sessions and career discussions.

K-State pep band performances, 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., Bluemont Hall. Robotics league competition, 10 a.m. to noon, Bluemont 15. Keyboarding contests, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Bluemont 111.

■ Engineering
Balsa bridge design contest, 9 to 11 a.m., Fielder 86. Steel ring design competition, 9 a.m. to noon, Fielder Auditorium.

Textile magic shows and quiz bowls, Justin Hall. Ice carving demonstrations, Justin Patio.

■ Techonology and Aviation (K-State-Salina) Ongoing chemistry experiments, 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., Science Center.

Speaker Steve Hawley, astronaut, 11 a.m., College Center Conference Room. Phi Delta Fratemity fundralser, 1:30 p.m.

W Veterinary Medicine (events in Mosler Hall, Frick Auditorium)

Search-and-rescue canine unit presentation, 10 a.m. Bio-warfare and agroterrorism lecture, noon. Presidential pets, 1:30 p.m.

got memories?

April Specials

FREE Spa Pedicure (valued at $12) with a paid full or half leg wax service.

Lighten & brighten color foils

Also available: Full service clinic floor Facials . Color

All services performed by students under the supervision of licensed instructors.

Artificial Nails • Manicures Cosmetology & 🔻 Haircuts . Perms _ Manicuring

****

512 Poyntz Ave Manhattan • 776-4794 ADVERTISE

CARRY-OUT SPECIALS

16" 2-Topping $7.99 14" 2-Topping $6.99

FAST FREE DELIVERY, DINE-IN, CARRY OUT

Pizza, Subs (Hot & Cold), Salads, Calzones, Pokey Stix, Pepperoni Rolls, Bread Stix, Wings, Party Subs

THE DESTROYER One 14" Large

1- Topping Pizza

10 Wings

$3.99

Medium Pokey Stix $3.99

4 Pepperoni Rolls

THE BIG ASS

702 N. 11th Street

•Sunday• 11a.m. - 2a.m.

•Mon. - Wed. • 11a.m. - 2:30a.m. *Thurs. - Sat. *

11a.m. - 3:30a.m.

One 20" Massive 1- Topping Pizza

SMALL MEAL DEAL Any 2 for $10.99

- Medium 1 Topping Pizza
- Medium Pokey Stix
- 4 Pepperoni Rolls
- 10 Wings
- 4 32 oz. Sodas

GUMBY VALUE MEAL

1) 14" 2 - Topping Pizza

2) 12" 1 - Topping Pizza & 1 Soda 10" 2 - Topping Pizza & 1 Soda

20 Wings & 1 Soda

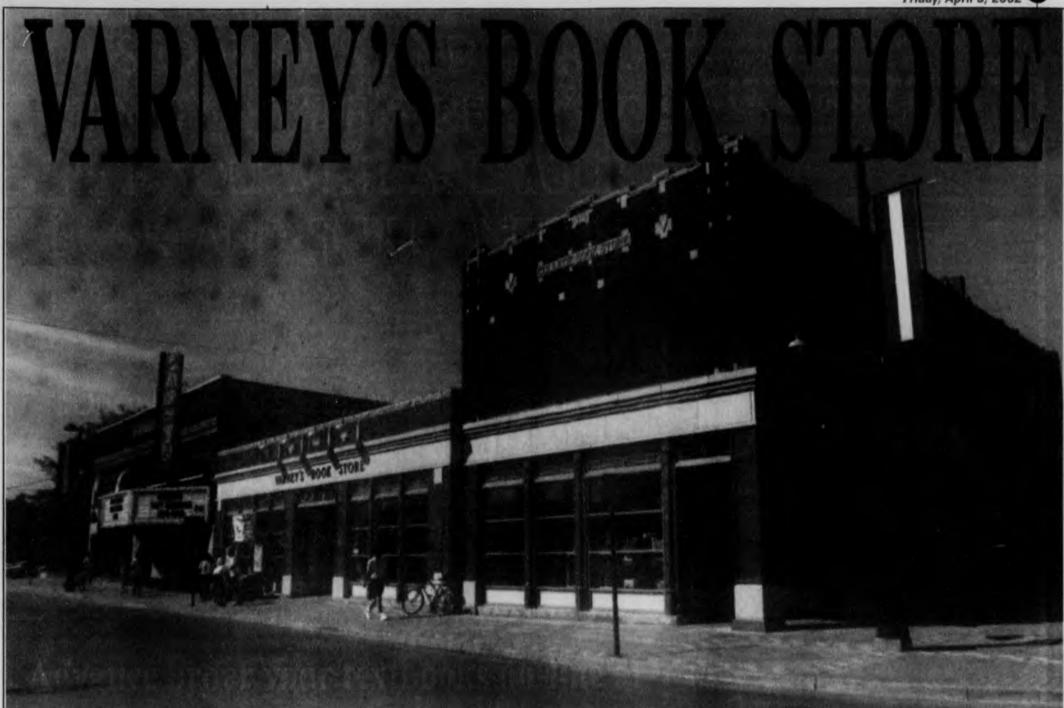

12" Pokey Stix + Soda

10" Cheese Pizza + 5 Wings 10" Pokey Stix + 5 Wings

8) 10" Cheese Pizza + 2 Pepperoni Rolls

9) 5 Pepperoni Rolls + Soda

10) 14" Pokey Stix

K-Stater's Source for Textbooks!

A LARGE SELECTION OF USED BOOKS AND OUR FRIENDLY STAFF IS READY TO HELP YOU WITH ALL YOUR BOOK AND SUPPLY NEEDS.

Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Saturday and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday Phone (785)539-0511 Fax (785)537-2351 Toll Free (800)362-1574

Advance order your textbooks on-line at www.varneys.com

"Serving K-State Students Since 1890"

Save time, energy and money* on your upcoming textbook purchases through

ADVANCED TEXTBOOK ORDERING

*Used textbooks are priced less than new textbooks so ordering used books early while the supply is largest can save you money!

ADVANCE	ORDER	FORM
ADVANCE	UNDER	LOWIN

1. Please fill out the following information: NAME:

Local Address & Phone

Summer Address & Phone (if different):

Please check one:

prefer used books if available____prefer new books only

NEXT SEMESTER CLASS SCHEDUL DEPARTMENT COURSE NUMBER SECTION LETTER

2. Mail, fax, E-mail or drop by the completed form to:

Advance Order Varney's Book Store

623 N. Manhattan Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

3. The staff at Varney's Book Store will reserve the books you need under your name at the green service counter, downstairs in the textbook area!

4. NO DEPOSIT REQUIRED!

5. Books will be available for pickup at least one week before your classes start!

6. Deadline for pickup is the first Tuesday of class.

Strolling along a sunlit path

Students walk past Hale Library minutes after 8:30 a.m. classes are let out Thursday.

Nicole Donnert/Collegian

Rock Fest to provide Union entertainment

Local band lineup

Noon: Lucas and Barlow

12:40 p.m.: Rock Bows

2:00 p.m.: Orange

2:40 p.m.: Tripwire

4:10 p.m.: Ruskabank

3:20 p.m.: Tom

1:20 p.m.: Swamp Donkey

BY EMILY CHERRY

Kansas State Collegian

Saturday will mark an entertainment first for K-State's All-University Open House.

The open house entertainment committee, Union Program Council and the Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils collaborated to create an event that will feature a local band lineup. The free concert, Rock Fest, will be at the Union Plaza from noon to 5 p.m. and is open to the public.

Greek Week co-coordinator Tad Drescher said the concert idea came together as the result of fortunate coincidences.

"We wanted to have a big Greek Week concert to raise money for our charities, but due to a lack of time and funding, we decided to see if UPC could help us out," Drescher, senior in industrial engineering, said

"They just happened to be planning Rock Fest for May and said they could move it up to Greek Week, which also happens to be open house weekend. It couldn't have worked out better."

KSDB-FM 91.9 will be broadcasting throughout the event, and the concert will be following other local entertainment, including a Tae Kwon Do group, a Latino dance group, solo vocalists and Cadence, an a cappella breakout group from the K-State Men's Glee Club.

Lindsey Allen, Rock Fest cocoordinator, said she thinks the event will add a beneficial attraction to the open house schedule.

"I'm excited that this will take open house to the next step," said Allen, senior in marketing and international business.

"This will give potential students and their families something else to do once they've gotten their information from the booths. They can hang out and relax and experience other students' interests and hobbies."

Rock Fest is an event that not only will draw in potential students but also community members and current university students, said Matt Bartlett, open house entertainment committee

"This is an event that we hope will appeal to everybody," said Bartlett, sophomore in animal science and industry. "We think it will add more fun to open house and get different crowds to attend and be involved."

The bands, which are performing on a volunteer basis, will provide a variety of music and an opportunity for people to listen in an alcohol-free environment, Allen said.

"Parents who are concerned with high school students attending concerts at bars can feel comfortable that they can enjoy the bands in this atmosphere," Allen said.

"It's good for the university to sponsor talented students, and music is an outlet that everybody gets into."

culmination of K-State's first Greek Week, Drescher said he is glad open house guests and anyone else from the campus or community will be able to attend.

Although Rock Fest is also the

"This is not strictly for greeks," he said. "I'd like to see this start a collaborative tradition."

Bartlett said he is confident Rock Fest will succeed, and if the concert works well, it is possible that it will become a yearly event.

"I'm sure it will be great entertainment," Bartlett said.

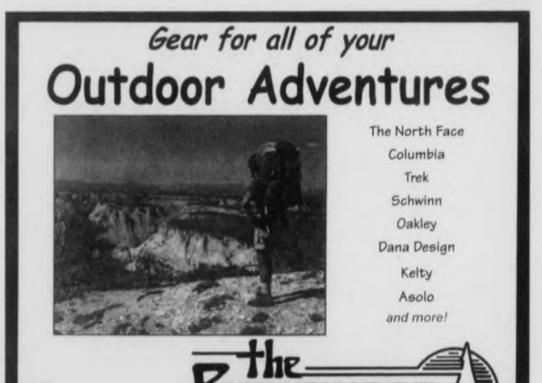

"I hope a lot of people show up.
It will be a way for people to interact with each other, and it will promote K-State and the good times we can have here."

The women of Alpha of Clovia would like to invite you to our OPEN HOUSE on April 6, 2002.

House Open from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. to see our cooperative living arrangement.

Please call 395-4500 with any questions or stop by 1200 Pioneer Lane.

10 Miles Northwest of Manhattan on Hwy. 24

Staying home: Living in parents' house saves money, provides instant support

For many students, college is an exciting new frontier. You don't have to look far to see how much our society celebrates the new freedom students find when they leave home to attend a university.

A simple trip to your local video store will yield some interesting

Virtually every college movie ever made focuses on obtaining freedom from parental authority. Carefree road trips, keg parties and general revelry define our culture's conception of college life.

And then there are college students like me.

I still live with my parents. To some folks, this makes about as much sense as blaming the world's troubles on intangible entities called Thetans (sorry, L. view Ron Hubbard).

Why, you ask, would anyone in her or his right Micah Hawkinson mind do anything so silly? Why throw > away freedom and lack of adult supervision? Am I clinically insane, or just stupid?

There are several reasons for my choice to live at home while getting my education. One of the most important was money. You know - dinero, mammon, filthy

My way of thinking was this: rent for nine months, at least $2,700. Food for nine months: no less than $1,800. Utilities. bathroom tissue and other miscellaneous: more than I want to take the time to count.

It came down to a choice between living at home and scraping together $5,000+ per year. Since I am too lazy to make my own bed, let alone support myself with a job when I could live at home for free, the decision was pretty simple.

Another concern was family. We've always been pretty close, and I really didn't want to move out. I do not get to see my sisters and brothers very much as it is, so I can't imagine how rarely I'd see them if I lived closer to campus.

On top of all that, I really don't understand the whole "freedom from parents" thing very well. From what I've seen, most parents seem to be interested in what's best for their kids.

If they're a little bit strict, that's just because they don't want anything bad to happen to their lives' work. I can hardly blame them for that.

Regardless, my parents always have been very understanding and supportive, so I don't have many problems with them. In fact, I probably have better roommates

My family helps me out when I'm in trouble and provides me with an endless source of entertainment.

I don't need cable TV when I've got a 3-year-old brother who comes into my room every morning wanting to wrestle.

And then there's the wacky hilarity that ensues when my little brothers get hare-brained schemes to build wharves out of our neighbors' stones.

Oh, wait - that's not them, that's Benjamin Franklin. But the principle is the same.

I'm not concerned about socialization.

I've learned a lot from my

Micah is a junior in English and history. You can e-mail him at mph7686@ksu.edu.

classes about the way other people view the world. In addition, I've

the Collegian and in the K-State

Men's Glee Club (whose spring live a fairly normal college life was the best option for me.

while living at home. Sure, it's not for everyone, but I'm convinced it

If this be insanity, put me in a of April 19).

straitjacket.

concert happens to be the evening

Bottom line: I have been able to acquired plenty of new and exciting words from my friends at

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A

Welcome To KSU's Open House and The Lil' Apple

WE HAVE 3 MANHATTAN LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU

AGGIEVILLE "A KSU Tradition since 1960" 1121 MORO 539-7666

• WESTLOOP 2931 CLAFLIN 539-7447

3RD & MORO 231 MORO

This Coupon Good For LARGE PIZZA FOR A

EXPIRES APRIL 30, 2002

*PIZZA HUT - NAMED "#1 PIZZA CHAIN IN AMERICA" BY RESTAURANTS & INSTITUTION "2001 CHOICE IN CHAINS" SURVEY

Boya Putnam Van Zile

Ford Haymaker Moore West

Goodnow Marlatt

Jardine

Smurthwaite

For more information, contact:

K-State Housing and Dining Services 104 Pittman Building Manhattan, KS 66506-4601

Phone: 785-532-6453 Toll Free: 1-888-568-5027 E-mail: housing@k-state.edu

K-State Housing & Dining Services

"UMB" is a registered service mark of UMB Financial Corporation, Member FDIC - Based upon approval

umb.com

529 Humboldt • 785-776-9400

3049 Anderson • 785-537-4006

Open house brings crowds, local businesses get ready

BY SARAH RICE

Kansas State Collegian

With thousands of people flooding the city of Manhattan this weekend for K-State's All-University Open House, businesses are gearing up for an influx of

"It brings a lot of people to Manhattan," said Becky Blake of the Chamber of Commerce. "It's a great way for the community and the university to promote our community and what's happening.

Cheryl Sieben, director of the Aggieville Business Association, said businesses are preparing for the weekend.

"Basically, the merchants are geared up to be busier because we have thousands of more people," she said. "I think it benefits everyone, the Aggieville merchants and the city as a whole."

Sieben said she thinks the open house will bring prospective students and their parents to Aggieville.

'If they are coming to check out the university, they are checking out Aggieville as well," she said. Blake said hotels are beginning she said. "Some of that is due to open house and the influx of people."

Although the extra people in Manhattan create parking challenges, Manhattanites are used to it, Blake said.

"Any time we have these large influxes, it puts a little strain on the facilities and public access," she said. "But people are used to that with all the activities we have."

Sieben said businesses will show their best side to visitors. "We just try to be ready and put our best foot forward for the guests that are visiting us," she said.

Daily duties

Jewell Cutright, a K-State utility worker, wades through the creek that runs through campus to get the water moving and remove the trash. It is one of her weekly task to help keep campus clean.

www.kstatecollegian.com

Stop by during the K-State Open House

(Continuous Tours From 9am - 12pm)

KSU Meat Sale

SATURDAY 9 am -12

Rm. 166 Weber Hall *Saturday ONLY: everything 10% off

BEEF

roast, steak, ground beef, bratwurst

pork chops, pork steaks, sausage, ground pork

Taste of K-State! For information cal

GIFTS, CARDS, BALLOONS AND MORE!!!

At the Palace you will find greeting cards, and gift ideas for anyone or occasion!

Boyd's Bears and Friends Yankee and Colonial Candles Crabtree & Evelyn Scrapbooks and Photo Albums Stickers, Candy...

PLUS...Kansas State and Sorority Merchandise

704 N. Manhattan • Aggieville • 539-7654 Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:30 • Sat. 8:30-5:30 • Sun. 12:00-5:00

Most K-State Students Drink Moderately If At All

- · Have 0-5 drinks when they party
- · Party one or fewer nights per week

m survey of 1,375 KSU students that was representative of the K-State student population with regard to demographics such as gender, class, college, and GPA

- · Have an average of 4 or less drinks per week
- · Have about one drink per hour when they party

Friday, April 5, 2002

Astronaut to visit K-State-Salina

Kansas State Collegian

K-State-Salina will play host to Kansas native and astronaut Steven Hawley on Saturday as part of the festivities for K-State-Salina's All-University Open

Hawley, a Salina native, will speak at 11 a.m. in the College Center-conference room on the Hawley is a five-time space flight veteran of the NASA program. In April 1990, Hawley flew as the mission specialist on the space shuttle Discovery.

The five-day mission included the deployment of the Hubble

"We wanted someone who will attract more people to K-State-Salina," Roger Steinbrock, public relations coordinator, said.

"We wanted a speaker who could talk about aviation and technology."

He has served as the mission specialist for all five of his space flights, logging more than 770 hours in space.

In 1997, Hawley returned to space for the fourth time in the mission to repair and update the Hubble Space Telescope.

After graduating from the University of Kansas in 1973 with a bachelor's of arts degree in physics and astronomy, Hawley went on to earn his doctoral degree in philosophy and astronomy from the University of California.

Hawley will present a video on his work as a NASA astronaut and talk about his time in space.

Hawley also will conduct a question-and-answer session after the presentation.

The event is free to all who wish to attend.

"We have students that are interested in aerospace engineering, and they can have an opportunity to seek information from him," Steinbrock said. "They can ask questions of how to get into the field."

Signs of spring

Flowers mark the Intersection of Denison Avenue and Claffin Road in front of Throckmorton Plant Sciences Center on Thursday. The warmer trend of temperatures has allowed the flowers to bloom in full.

Give us your opinion.

Campus Fourum: 395-4444

Alpha Delta Pi welcomes you to Open House!

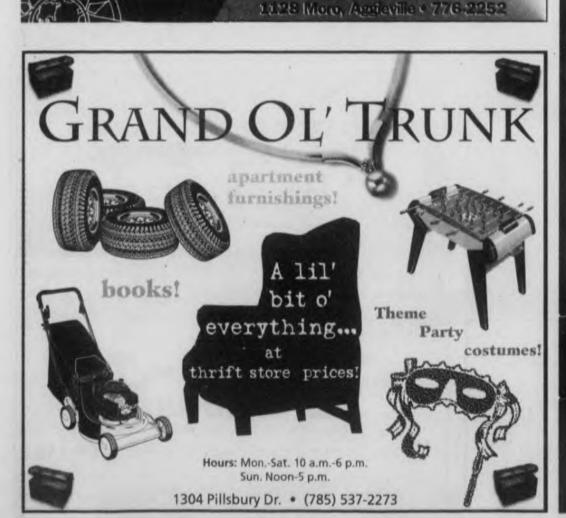

Stop by for a tour Saturday, April 6, 12pm-6pm 518 Sunset

Questions? Call 395-2320

18 & OVER NITECLUB • 1115 MORO • 776-8770

LIVE

Thursday Apri

"The Great Divide"

Friday April

"Stoney Larue"

Saturday April

Finish the weekend with, great drink specials, free food, free T-shirts, & a live DJ Admission for all days --- ONLY 35.

Tickets now available

Students speak:

What's your favorite part of going to K-State?

coming from out of state has been a new experience that's just been a blast."

Ryan Bloom, freshman in architectural engineering

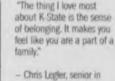

CLAASSEN

LEGLER

marketing and human resource management

FELIN

human resources

Ben Willt, senior in architectural engineering

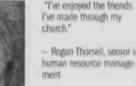

"I've enjoyed the college life - meeting all sorts of people and making new

Russell Shipley, senior in accounting church. Regan Thorsell, senior in

THORSELL

"I came from a small high school, so it's definitely a lot

Joy Claassen, freshman in more diverse here."

open option

BUCHANAN

PEARSON

Because I am a transfer, I like how easy it is to work with different administrativ offices compared to my other school. They are friendlier and more helpful."

- Erica Pearson, senior in life sciences

The best part is the number of good friends I've made. I am a freshman and people out here are so friendly and willing to become friends with you."

- Matthew John, freshman in political science and geography

otential each a New

Join the Kansas State Women's Rowing Program

We welcome any woman who has had previous athletic experience on a high school or collegiate team, is physically fit, and who wishes to take on the challenges and rewards of being part of a Division 1 Varsity sport. No previous rowing experience required.

Seniors: watch your mailboxes for more information.

For more information, please contact Head Coach Jenny Hale at 532-7027 or jhale@ksu.edu. You may also contact Assistant Coach Kevin Harris at 532-7899 or kharris@ksu.edu

PARK PLACE APARTMENTS

OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY APRIL 6TH 10:00-3:00

SMALL PET PERMITTED/CABLE PAID 1 & 2 BEDROOMS 1413 CAMBRIDGE PL. #8 539-2951

Downtown Manhattan

Open 7 days

Sat.

(785)539-7400 • 331 Poyntz Ave. • Manhattan, KS 66502

*Unique KSU jewelry

*One of a kind engagement rings *Custom designed matched wedding sets

537-6884 410 Poyntz Avenue Mon.-Fri. 9-6. Sat. by appointment

Stop by!

A full service copy center. · Folding

Color Copies

 Laminating · B/W Copies · Binding Shipping

 Large Format Posters High Quality!

FURNISHINGS & UNCOMMON GIFTS

407 POYNTZ AVE., MANHATTAN, KS 66502

785-537-7677 Mon.-FRI. 10-6, SAT. 10-5

Unusual & Well Designed

HANDMADE Very Affordable to Splurge

GLASS . METAL . WOOD . STONE GLASS IMPRESSIONS • 329 Poyntz Ave. • Downtown • 539-4610 PUBLIC HOURS: TUE - FRI 11-6 • SAT 10-5

Downtown Manhattan 315 Poyntz Ave (786) 539-ABCD M-F 10-8, Sat 10-6, Sun 12-5

Save $5 Off Any Purchase of $25 or More !!!

Kites, Frisbees, Juggling Sticks, Gripper Footballs, Hello Kitty & More !!!

Boutique & Gallery 327 Poyntz Ave. • 565-0900 Hours: 10 am-6 pm Mon-Fri 10 am-5 pm Sat

Now 20% OFF all Sunglasses

300 Poyntz Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 539-5105 (785) 539-2324

ENGLISH & WESTERN TACK AND SUPPLIES

Hours: 9:30-5:30 Mon.-Sat., until 7:00 Thurs. Sunday 1:00-5:00

317-B Poyntz Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

Counselors: Open house only small part of college selection

BY JENNIFER FARR

Kansus State Collegian

Recruiting high school seniors from Kansas during the All-University Open House requires selling K-State's atmosphere.

However, Kelly Proffitt, admissions representative, said K-State admissions representatives cannot rely only on open house to convince students to attend the university.

Throughout the year, K-State sends seven admissions representatives to visit the 362 Kansas high schools at least two times, she said.

Pat Bosco, dean of student life, said K-State's ability to be the No. 1 choice among high school seniors is based upon being able to sell K-State's comprehensive atmosphere.

While showcasing the opportunities and excitement of K-State during open house, it's easy to want to be here to receive them," Bosco said.

Kansas high schools send about 3,000 students to K-State's freshman class each year.

Bosco said that out of 105 countles in Kansas, the four counties that send the largest amount of students to K-State are Johnson, Riley, Shawnee and Sedgwick.

He said this an interesting fact because K-State was formed as an agricultural school, and now it enrolls more urban students. He said this shows how K-State has grown as a university.

Pat Bordewick, Topeka High School counselor, said many students expressed interest in attending open house because it helps them choose which university they want to attend.

"Choosing a university is a major decision," Bordewick said.

"Maybe one day will not change a student's mind, but it can help them get an overall feel for the university."

Kathy Spicer, Hays High School counselor, said open house is a good idea, but what makes the difference is the recruiting trips

K-State makes to the schools. She said a couple of her students are attending because they are uncertain what university to attend.

university itself."

"It sounds like the open house activities will be fun," Spicer said. "Yet, I would strongly suggest for any student not to make their perceptions on the day, but to visit the university on a regular school day in order to base their impression about the

K-State to host Mathematical Olympiad

BY KETRA SCHONBRUN

Kannas State Collegio

High school students from Kansas and around the country will participate in K-State's sixth annual Mathematical Olympiad on Saturday.

Students in grades five through 12 will compete for prizes during the event, which is a part of K-State's All-University Open House.

"We decided to do it during the open house so people will see it as a part of the festivities," Yan Soibelman, professor of mathematics, said.

Soibelman is the olympiad's chair and played a role in beginning the competition. He launched the Mathematical Olympiad in 1997 and has watched and participated in its growth ever since. Soibelman said he created it in the image of similar contests in Russia and Europe.

He thought the U.S. could benefit from a similar event.

"It has worked well. After all. math is fun and this is, one way of showing it," Soibelman said.

Students get an open invitation to K-State's Mathematics Olympiad, which will run from 9 a.m. until noon.

There is not a test that they have to take beforehand in order to qualify, Soibelman said.

"When teachers receive information about the competition. they tend to misunderstand. They think that it is a test,' Soibelman said.

There are four problems, and the students have three hours to complete them.

It is an individual competition, and the problems are diverse. Soibelman said each student has strong and weak points, and if the problems are diverse, each student will find a familiar problem.

When the tests are completed, they will be graded, and the top three scorers in each category will receive awards.

The students are placed into three categories according to their grade in school.

The groupings are fifth and sixth grades, seventh and eighth grades, and ninth through 12th

The awards will be presented Saturday from 5 to 8 p.m. in Cardwell 101

As the wheel turns

A crowd of students walk between Seaton Hall and the K-State Student Union on Thursday morning.

NEED A ROOMMATE or are you LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO LIVE?

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 532-6555

2 BEDROOM

1001 Bluemont # 3

Tu & W 12p-2p

*Starting at $700

*Starting at $535

2514 Stagg Hill Rd

*Starting at $560

By Appointment Only

3 BEDROOM

1856 Anderson Ave. #18

Sat 12p-2p

T & Th 4p-6p

Sun 2p-4p

got memories?

get yours.

103 kedzie hall • 532-6555 • royalpurple ksu.edu

APARTMENT NOW LEASING FOR SUMMER AND FALL!

1 BEDROOM

1941 College Heights #9 M 3p-5p

W 5p-7p Sun 3p-5p *Starting at $370

1005 Bluemont #8

W 5p-8p

Th 3p-6p *Starting at $415

1119 Laramie #4 M & W 6p-8p

Sat. 11a-1p

*Starting at $475

411 N. 17th By Appointment only

*Starting at $400

700 Fremont

By Appointment only *Starting at $400

925 Denison #9 T 2p-4p

W 5p-7p Sun 11a-1p

*Starting at $420

1858 Claflin #7 M & W 6p-8p Sat 2p-4p

*Starting at $400

1700 N. Manhattan By Appointment Only. *Starting at $420

1 BEDROOM

1722 Laramie, #5 T & Th 5p-7p

*Starting at $410

Wareham- 418 Poyntz

By Appointment Only *Prices vary

2 BEDROOM

926 Bluemont #4 M, W, & Th 2p-4p *Starting at $550

1026 Osage #18 T, W & Th 3p-5p

Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $530

1005 Bluemont By Appointment Only *Starting at $515

1419 Leavenworth #1 M, W, & F2p-4p Sat 11a-1p

700 Fremont By Appointment Only *Starting at $510

*Starting at $580

1115 N. 12th #5 M & W 3p-5p Sat 1p-3p *Starting at $600

M & W 5p-7p Sun 3p-9p *Starting at $750

1611 Laramie #4

822 Fremont #4 M, W & F 12p-3p Sat. 12p-3p *Starting at $700

4 BEDROOM

2521 Candlecrest Cr. M, W, & F 2p-5p Sat 11a-1p *Starting at $950

1620 McCain #9 T, W, & Th 1p-4p *Starting at $950

1700 N. Manhattan #101 M, W, & F 12p-2p Sat 3p-5p *Starting at $810

"Look for us during Open House on the corner of College Heights and Denison (weather permitting). If Saturday showings aren't listed above, please call our office to view apartments on Saturday."

6-3804

http://www.mdi-manhattan.com

email: rentals@mdiproperties.com

Development 2700 Amherst Manhattan, KS 66502 (785) 776-3804

Architecture students to construct buildings with food

Kamuna State Callegian

Interior architecture students and faculty will bring a new meaning to playing with their food during the "DeCANstructing Hunger in Manhattan" challenge

DeCANstructing Hunger in Manhattan is a community service project sponsored by the K-State Interior Architecture Student Council as part of the College of Architecture, Planning House activities.

Five teams of interior architecture students and faculty will construct their food-based buildings from 7 to midnight tonight on the lower level of the Pierce Atrium in the east wing of Seaton Hall. Teams consist of five to six students and one faculty or staff member.

"Any food products, the way they're packaged, become building blocks," Allan Hastings, professor of interior architecture, team with building blocks and rules really makes you think, 'What does your imagination allow you to do?'

The Flint Hills Breadbasket will supply canned, boxed and other packaged foods as building materials.

Materials are not allowed to be altered or damaged in the construction process, Hastings

The completed structures will be on display from 9 a.m. to 3 house. Visitors can vote for their favorite structure in categories like most creative use of labels, structural integrity and public favorite.

"We think it's fun because it's going to involve a collaborative effort between first, second. third, fourth and fifth-year students and a faculty member," said Megan Ebert, fifth-year student in interior architecture and committee chair.

This year's DeCANstructing

first for the department.

"It's been kind of difficult getting stuff started," Ebert said. 'We've worked with Flint Hills Breadbasket from the beginning since we knew we'd need their help and our donations would be going there."

Ebert said plans are being made to coordinate the event with Project Manhattan next year to generate monetary and food donations.

Hastings agreed.

event and bring in more contributions," Hastings said. "Any time we have participation in community projects and awareness, we bring the community together. Our goal is to help those less fortunate."

Campus and community members can donate nonperishable food items. Donations will be collected on the eastern side of the first floor of Seaton Hall and will go to the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

Fashion show to feature students' own designs

BY EDIE HALL

Romas State Colleges

Students in the apparel marketing and design program will put on two fashion shows Saturday as a part of K-State's All-University Open House. The fashion shows will be at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. in

Melody LeHew, assistant professor in the Department of Clothing, Textiles and Interior Design, said each show will last about 30 minutes

This year's shows will differ from what the group did last year because the students involved will receive a credit hour for doing independent study instead of volunteering their time, LeHew said.

"This year is working so much better," LeHew said. "It's an improvement over last year because a larger number of people are giving input and working on the project.

LeHew said 34 students were involved with the fashion show and were broken into five committees.

Each committee is in charge of a different aspect of the shows, including promotion, merchandise selection, selection and training of models, choreography and music, staging and commentary of the

Renee Frazey, junior in apparel marketing and co-coordinator of the event, said all the models are

K-State students, and most of them have previous modeling experi-

"We just picked every kind of K-State student we could find that would fit the sizes we needed."

Frazey said that along with clothes designed by students, the shows also will include clothing from Manhattan retailers.

The overall purpose of the shows is to highlight the apparel marketing and design program to prospective students.

To help do this, LeHew said she was encouraging commentary committee members to talk about the apparel marketing and design program, along with the actual items that are being shown on the runway to inform prospective students

"We want to promote what it is we do in our program so we might attract future students into our major," LeHew said. "The fashion show is a very good tool because it highlights both apparel design students with the outfits they've created and apparel marketing students with the advertising and PR work they have done.'

LeHew said she was very excited about this year's fashion shows.

"I believe all of these students have worked very hard, and I'm hoping that it shows," LeHew said. "I hope the shows are very smooth and professional. I'm fairly certain they will be."

Lunch with a view

Zach Long/Collegian

Sunny Shultz, senior in ceramics, takes a lunch break at Memorial Stadium on Thursday. The alumni center is starting to take a finished form at the south end of the stadlum.

Make your voice heard!

www.kstatecollegian.com

Looking for an ADVENTURE

THE ADVENTURE OF A LIFETIME BEGINS WITH AIR FORCE ROTC

* Scholarship Available

Earn up to $1500 for tuition and $255 for books/semester

Up to $400/month tax free stipend

For those who qualify

Are you a:

Freshman

Sophomore

Junior/Senior with 2 academic years to go starting fall semester

Air Force ROTC is an elective - but it's far more than that. Air Force ROTC is also a program that teaches you to be a leader, develops your management skills, and helps you grow into a well-rounded and self-assured person. For those who qualify, Air Force ROTC can even help pay for college through its scholarship programs. When you graduate, you'll also become an Air Force officer doing exciting, meaningful things alongside other great people in fascinating places around the world. If you're interested, it's not too late to join. There's no obligation -as a matter of fact, you don't have to decide to join the military until your junior year. So go ahead, give it a try - you won't regret it.

> Air Force ROTC at K-State (785) 532-6600 http://www.ksu.edu/usaf

The women of Delta Delta Delta

would like to welcome you to visit our home 1834 Laramie Street Saturday, April 6th from 11:00 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ben Franklin Crafts & Frame Shop

Spring Open House

FREE Spring Print with a purchase of $25 or more Summer Lilacs by Susan Bourdet 8X10 Classic Looking Watercolors

Visit our frame shop for your framing needs Great spring selection of silk flower ribbon, fabric,

& candles

while supplies last "There's always something new"

at Manhattan's Ben Franklin Crafts

Westloop Shopping Center •776-4910° Mon. - Fri. 9-9, Sat. 9-7, Sun 1-6 arrangement and framed matted print · Sign up for April Classes

· Spring floral

Graduate students form robotics league

rsas State Collegian

Students from fifth grade up to seniors in high school will participate in a Kansas Robotics League competition Saturday from 10 a.m.

to noon in Bluemont 15.

The competition is during K-State's All-University Open House, so the students involved can compete in the morning and explore the university in the afternoon, said Kevin Kramer, one of the league's creators.

Kramer and his colleague, William Rust, who are both doctoral degree candidates in curriculum and instruction at K-State, created the league last year for several

"We want to encourage young students to consider education. engineering and science as realistic careers by using a technology tool as a focus," Kramer said.

Rust added they wanted to get students who weren't very connected in their schools involved

"We wanted to give them something to show their parents and their community that they can do some neat stuff," Rust said,

The league uses LEGO MindStorms robotic invention kits. Each kit costs around $200 and is provided by the College of Education.

The robots are about the size of a telephone. They normally have one or two motors, gears, touch sensors, a light sensor, an infrared transmitter, wheels and LEGO bricks. The robots also have a microcomputer unit, which can be programmed using special software

Competitive teams design, build and program robots to perform different tasks required for each competition.

Kramer and Rust let the teams know in advance what their robots must be able to do for the competi-

Rust said there will be five different events of the competition

Saturday. In one event, teams will build robots to run a maze. In another event, the robots will be required to run specific lines on a small-scale basketball court. Whichever robot does the task in the shortest amount of time wins the event. Rust said he and Kramer were hoping for 100 students to compete. He said the students involved were concentrated in towns close to Manhattan such as Wamego, Salina, Rock Creek, Junction City, Topeka and Seneca. However, he said some students also would be coming from Kansas City and Fredonia. Kramer said the league sponsored a demonstration during open house last year, but he's excited to take it to the next level by having the competition this year.

"We hope by getting schools involved in this competition, we encourage students to open their eyes to more possibilities through contact with university students." Kramer said.

Passing by

Nicole Donnert/C

Missy Kenny, senior in public relations, walks by a window Thursday morning in Hale Library that overlooks Eisenhower, Denison and Holtz halls on the K-State campus.

Kappa Alpha Cheta

welcomes you to Open House!

Stop by for a tour Saturday, April 6, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. 1517 McCain Lane

> Any questions? Call Lori Gruenbacher, 395-7606 ext. 21

Specializing in Jewelry

- · Clothing
- · Rings
- · Gifts
- · Sterling Silver
- · Gemstones
- · Soap & Personal Care Products
- · Burt's Bees

708 North

Manhattan Ave.

KRYSTALLOS

Looking for an excuse to get into a new place? Ready for your new lease on life? We've got the perfect place for you, it's UNIVERSITY COMMONS. And what a place it is - ideally located, totally affordable, awesome apartments decked out with...

- 2 & 4 Bedroom Apartment Homes Individual Leases Decked-out Kitchens Fully Furnished
- Near KSU Stadium •Computer Lab with Copier & Fax Washers and Dryers in unit
- Tennis, Basketball & Volleyball Courts Recreation Room Swimming Pool
- Permit Parking
   Exercise Room
   Monitored Alarm Systems
   Roommate matching Balconies

the place for people like you...

2215 COLLEGE AVENUE / 785-539-0500 www.universitycommons.com

Letters today, leaders tomorrow

Why should you consider Greek life? Bid you know nationally that...

Fraternity and sererity membership helps keep students in college

Students who belong to a fraternity or sorority are more likely to stay in college than other students. A study by the Center for Advancement Social Research at the University of Missouri-Columbia found fraternity or sorority membership increased student retention by about 28% as compared with the results that would be expected by "chance."

Alumni members achieve success

College graduates who belong to a fraternity or sorority tend to be more successful financially than other college graduates. After factoring in the effects of parents' education level, the Center found Greek affiliation correlated positively with higher incomes.

Also, a US Department of Education reports that less than 2% of a college student's expenses go to Greek membership dues, so a little cost increase sees later results.

Fraternity and sererity alumni give more to alma maters

Colleges receive more gifts-and in greater amounts-from fraternity and sorority alumni, research shows. In one study, 22% of members from the 1945 and 1955 era eras gave their alma maters $500 to $1,000 in 1996. Four percent of other alumni made comparable gifts. Eleven percent of member alumni gave $1,000 to $5,000 versus 1.4% among non-Greek members.

Sisters and brothers more active in campus, community activities

Student members tend to participate more fully in extracurricular campus activitiesincluding, of course, their membership in their chapter-than do other students. Fraternity and sorority members also nurture their "social capital"-involvement in the community-in later years. A CASR study indicated that 1965-1994 era Greek alumni took part more fully in volunteer organizations, charitable activities and non-profits than did others.

Studies show that 76% of our nation's senators, 71% of the men listed in Who's Who in America, and 85% of the Fortune 500 Executives are fraternity members?

Of the nations 50 largest corporations, greek members head 43 of them?

All but two U.S. Presidents since 1825 have been Greek, and 63% of the U.S. President's cabinet members since 1900 have been Greek?

85% of the U.S. Supreme Court justices since 1910 have been Greek, including the first female and black male justices?

A U.S. government study shows that 71% of fraternity and sorority members persist to graduation, while just over 50% of all non-Greeks graduate?

Greeks comprise 20% of the undergraduate population, yet they hold nearly 65% of the leadership positions on campus?

81% of the K-State chapters have received national awards of excellence, and ten chapters have been named the best in the country?

For the past 20 years, the all-Greek GPA has been above the all-university GPA?

K-State was one of the first campuses to develop an antihazing policy (1957), a dry rush policy (1987), and an alcohol management policy (1990)?

The Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils have consistently been recognized for overall excellence; the latest awards are from the Mid-American Greek Council Association: IFC won the Jellision Award and PHC won the Sutherland Award, both the top awards?

in Greek life?

Then stop by the Greek Affairs booth in the Union during Open House, or just stop by the Greek Affairs office during the week in the second floor of Holton Hall. You can grab a viewbook which tells you about each of the chapters here at K-State. You can contact Greek Affairs at 785-532-5546 or on the web at:

Alpha Gamma Rho 1919 Platt

Alpha Tau Omega

1632 McCain Lane

Beta Sigma Pai 1200 Centennial Beta Theta Pi

500 Sunset Detta Chi 508 Sunset

Delta Sigma Phi 1100 Freemont Delta Tau Delta

1001 Sunset 1425 University Drive

FarmHouse 1830 College Avenue

Kappa Sigma 1930 College Heights

Lambda Chi Alpha

505 Denison

Phi Delta Theta 2005 Hunting

Phi Gamma Delta 1919 Hunting

Phi Kappa Theta

1965 College Heights Pi Kappa Alpha 2021 College Avenue

Pi Kappa Phi 1614 Fairchild

Sigma Alpha Epsilon 1015 Denison

Sigma Chi 1224 Freemont Sigma Nu

513 Sunset Sigma Phi Epsilon 1015 Sunset

Tau Kappa Epsilon 1516 N. Manhattan

Theta Xi 1803 Laramie

Alpha Chi Omega 1835 Todd Road

Alpha Delta Pi 518 Sunset

Alpha Xi Delta 601 Fairchild Terrace Chi Omega

1516 McCain Lane Delta Delta Delta 1834 Laramie

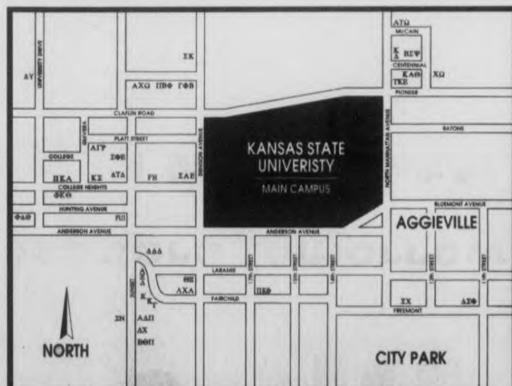

Gamma Phi Beta 1807 Todd Road Kappa Alpha Theta 1517 McCain Lane

Kappa Delta 1220 Centennial Drive Kappa Kappa Gamma

517 Fairchild Terrace

Pi Beta Phi 1819 Todd Road

Sigma Kappa 1525 Denision

If you have any questions about where to find a particular chapter or for directions, please stop by the Greek Affairs booth in the Union during Open House.